The performance of Victor Seastrom as an actor deserves abundant praise, but his handling of the subject matter as director awakens enthusiasm. * * * There is enough of it to show vivid flashes of potential genius. His handling of the spirited and realistic scenes of storm at sea is almost a revelation. "A Man There Was" is a picture of high intensity and tender pathos, a drama of the soul.

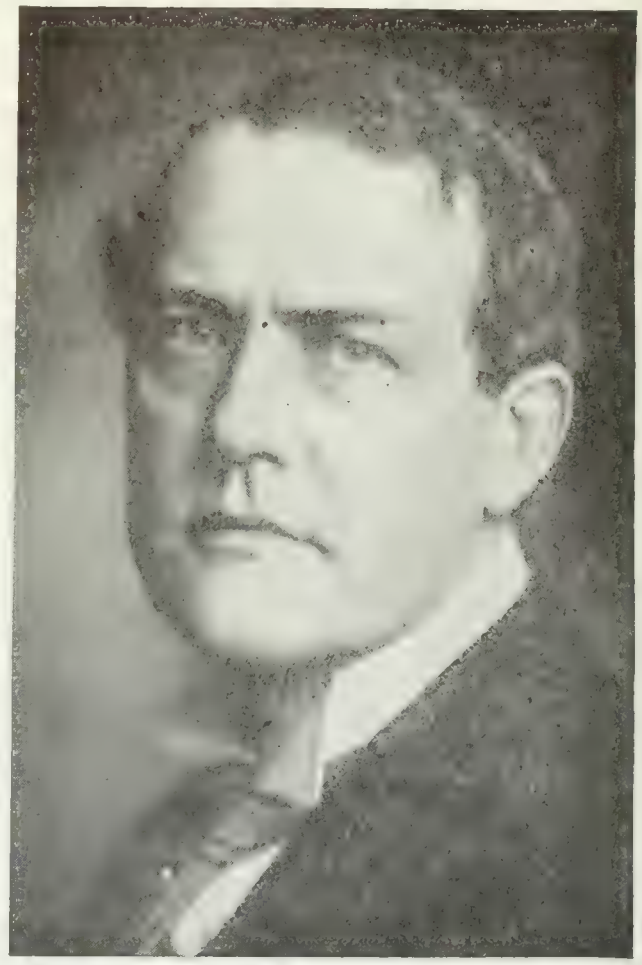
John Morrell in the NEW YORK REVIEW of February 28, 1920.

In looking at "A Man There Was" we cannot think of an American director who could have brought out its psychology or its realistic scope any better—perhaps not so well.

The picture keeps the spectator completely fascinated. In point of picturesqueness, story quality, interpretation and direction, it is an exceptional offering.

The star is Victor Seastrom, who is also the director. Fine as his performance is, his direction is better . The angles he has caught on the wreck are almost like animated conceptions of marine paintings.

As an actor he resembles William Farnum in countenance, but his performance is more finished. It is said that Mr. Seastrom is an American who is recognized in Europe as one of the foremost artists of the cinema. He should come to his native land and teach some of his rivals how to GET INTO CHARACTER.



VICTOR SEASTROM

The Great American Artist Acclaimed in Europe "PRINCE OF THE SCREEN", who overwhelmed the American Press as a Great Actor and a still greater Director.

Lawrence Reid in the MOTION PICTURE NEWS of March 13, 1920

In this picturization of "A Man There Was" there is revealed one of the treats of the season. As intelligent and carefully wrought as is the performance of Victor Seastrom, his direction is even better. His marine views resemble animated masterpieces. His entire work is highly realistic. Presenting as he does, a powerful theme logically worked out, and directed with infinite care and splendidly acted, "A Man There Was" may be called a real achievement.

There is but one fault in this picture. Too much of the drama is told through the sub-titles. Aside from this weakness the feature is above reproach.

Helen Rockwell in the EXHIBITOR'S TRADE REVIEW of March 6, 1920.

"A Man There Was" is presented with such simplicity and realism that its effect is twice as forceful as if moulded of the conventional melodramatic metal. The picture has been beautifully produced with exquisite views of the ocean in its various moods. The camerawork is excellent and the picture worth viewing if only for the marvellous glimpses of the sea, which are shown. Titles—too plentiful, too poetic.

WID'S DAILY—February 29, 1920.

"A Man There Was" as a whole is a very powerful sea story. Direction—has handled the sea scenes wonderfully well and registered the drama effectively Photography—generally very fine. The star renders a powerful characterization.

The drama unfolded is one of strict elementals. All the sequences are handled very dramatically. Viken's attempt to save his boat is pictured with a real thrill. Again, when Viken puts out to the rescue of the yacht which proves to be owned by his enemy, the drama is swift and strong. Certainly no sequence of sea scenes produced in this country has ever equaled in sheer natural force the sequence that leads to the climax of "A Man There Was." The star Victor Seastrom is a splendid character actor and plays the role of Viken with feeling. His physique is admirable and his ability at makeup quite superior.

No telling what fame "A Man There Was" might achieve if properly sub-titled.

Summarizing all, "A Man There Was"—not a moving picture but a moving painting.
Victor Seastrom—not a movie star, but a screen luminary of first magnitude.
And both combined are "the treat of the season."

A Clever Story, Well Handled, That Always Interests

Elaine Hammerstein in
"THE WOMAN GAME"
Selznick—Select

DIRECTOR.....William P. S. Earle
AUTHORS.....Leighton Osmun and Frank T. Dazey.
SCENARIO BY.....C. Marion Burton
CAMERAMAN .....William Wagner
AS A WHOLE.....Interesting but never very dramatic production dealing with naughty society people.
STORY.....Interest well sustained by appreciable handling of rather clever situations.
DIRECTION .....Most satisfactory
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Good
CAMERA WORK .....Commendable
STAR....Registers very pleasingly and brings good appeal to role that has little.
SUPPORT .....Very good
EXTERIORS.....Beautiful lawn and driveway shots taken in Florida.
INTERIORS .....Handsome
DETAIL .....Satisfactory
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Romance of society parasite and successful business man.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,222 feet

"The Woman Game" is one of those pictures that exposes the naughtiness in certain circles of high society and while it never reaches dramatic heights, the interest throughout is very well kept up by careful handling of a rather clever series of situations. In addition the story is set in the beautiful exteriors that Florida affords, and as a result there is something to attract the eye at all times as well as to engage the attention.

Elaine Hammerstein appears as sort of an unwilling social parasite, Amy Terrell, existing on the bounty of her friends to please her tearful old mother who once was wealthy. To a house party in the south which she is attending comes Masters, a very successful business man who prides himself in playing the game straight. For the sake of sport Mrs. Van Trant, the hostess, urges Amy to play the role of a demure little miss to attract Masters' attention. She does. Masters falls in love with her.

Ultimately he finds out the game she's been playing and denounces her. In the meantime Mrs. Van Trant has been having an affair with a British officer, another member of the party. A gossip enters the officer's room while she is there and sees the train of her dress protruding from behind a screen. Later Mrs. Van Trant gives this dress to Amy and thus Amy's reputation is blemished before the scandal-eager guests. It remains for the officer's sense of honor to exonerate Amy. Lately Masters humbly begs her forgiveness as he realizes that Amy is really the sort of a girl she appeared to be all the time.

The story has many fascinating little intricacies and twists and keeps a firm grip on the spectator despite the fact that it adheres to one level practically throughout its duration. The atmosphere of wickedness striven for in depicting the social set dealt with is well achieved and lends an added glamour to the production.

Elaine Hammerstein plays with display of effective expression in the role of Amy, and gives the part an appeal despite its seeming lack of it. Jere Austin as Masters is average, while Florence Billings, James Morrison, Ida Darling, Blanche Davenport, Charles Eldridge, Louis Broughton and Charles Duncan complete the cast.

Good Entertainment and You Ought to Make a Go of It

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While there is nothing tremendously startling about "The Woman Game" it certainly offers satisfactory entertainment, served up in a fashion a little out of the ordinary, and the fact is that you ought to make a very good showing with it. What with the advertising campaigns carried on by the producer and the star's previous pictures, she ought to be quite well recognized by this time and her performance here, perhaps her best, will serve to establish her even more firmly. On the other hand the title and the people with which the story deals offers a good opportunity to get in some alluring advertising. Lines such as "She was merely a social parasite living off the bounty of her friends. What did she do when love came?" "She had played the woman game just as this man had played the business game and yet he condemned her. Why?" will serve descriptively as well as to attract attention.

UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION

OFFERS TO THE MILLIONS OF FUN FANS

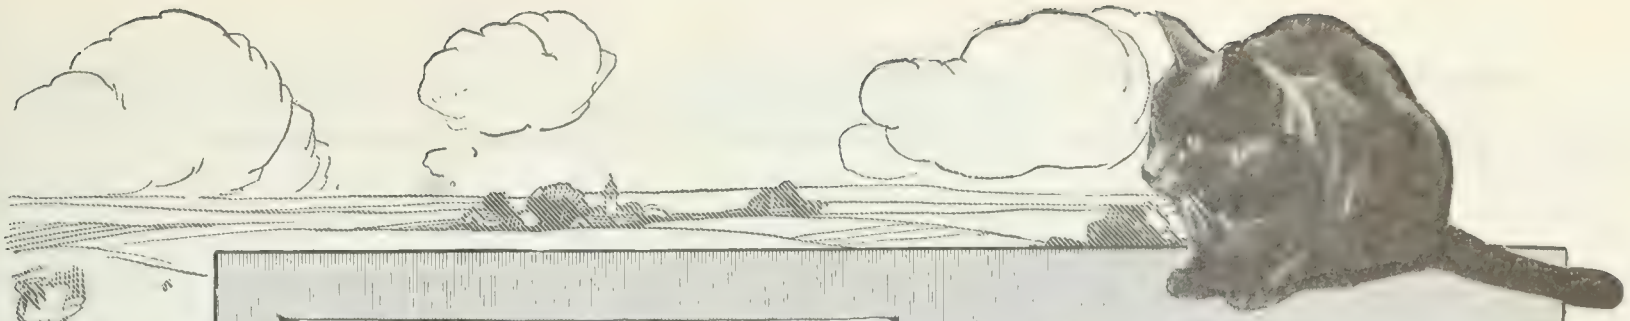
MACK SENNETT'S

NEWEST AND GREATEST COMEDY SENSATION

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

A 5 REEL SPECIAL PRODUCTION

WITH AN ALL STAR SENNETT CAST INCLUDING "TEDDY, THE DOG" "PEPPER, THE CAT" AND THE BABY.



"DOWN ON THE FARM"

UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION

MARY PICKFORD · CHARLIE CHAPLIN
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS · D.W.GRIFFITH

Ordinary Production Involving Old John Barleycorn

"THE VEILED MARRIAGE"
Hallmark

DIRECTOR .....Keanan Buell
AUTHOR .....J. Leslie Burke
SCENARIO BY .....John Glavey
CAMERAMAN .....Louis Simon
AS A WHOLE.....Conventional treatment nothing new in development.
STORY.....Possible perhaps but implausible; gives opportunity for plot complications.
DIRECTION.....Doesn't depart from the ordinary routine.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Fair
LIGHTINGS ..... Not exceptional
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STARS.....Anna Lehr sincere in her part though it doesn't get the sympathy intended; Ralph Kellard suited.
SUPPORT .....Very commonplace acting
INTERIORS ..... Ordinary
EXTERIORS .....Few used
DETAIL.....Players' make-up very bad in close-ups
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Marriage "frame-up" with the bride-groom intoxicated and unaware of the ceremony.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,700 feet

This may even be called a revival or a vision of the past inasmuch as the "gone but not forgotten" John Barleycorn plays one of the principal roles in the picture. This touch of the days that used to be may be an attraction in itself if you're not afraid of creating an awful thirst by showing it. At any rate the story is based on the actions of Mr. Hero as a result of his unsteady habits.

The plot contains all the complications and entanglements that could be worked into its five reels but they are unraveled peacefully at the end after the implausibilities have spent their fury. It is possible that a man might have been drunk enough not to know he was being married, but it is hard to believe that the girl, even though here eyesight was temporarily impaired, could be lead to the deception that is shown in "The Veiled Marriage." There was nothing to indicate that she was deaf and certainly she would have recognized the indistinct responses of a man intoxicated.

Fred Peyton finds his friend Ralph Kellard just getting over the effects of the night before, and after Peyton reminds him that he had persisted in proposing to every women he met the night before, Kellard vows, before the picture of his fiance, never to drink again. Peyton, incidentally, is in love with Lillian who is marrying Ralph for the social prestige which his name will gain for her.

Peyton comes to the assistance of Margaret Fallon, Anna Lehr, who is accosted by a stranger on her way from business college. The chivalrous Fred offers to see the girl home and soon becomes a frequent visitor When Margaret meets with an accident which temporarily impairs her eyesight he plans a scheme whereby he changes the marriage license of Lillian and Ralph inserting the name of Margaret in place of Lillian.

He proposes to Margaret himself and is accepted because she believes she will be permanently blind and goes through the ceremony which marries her to Ralph who is insensible to what is really going on. Lillian breaks her engagement and Ralph devotes his time to his business until he falls in love with his stenographer, Marget Fallon.

Of course neither Ralph nor Margaret know that they are really husband and wife until circumstances force Peyton to confess his duplicity. The arrangement is quite satisfactory to the young couple, and Peyton receives his just deserts at the hands of a girl he had previously jilted.

Good Preachment for Prohibition Fans

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There isn't anything in particular worth talking about in this one so you had better handle it along the lines of an ordinary offering and get a strong supporting program to back it up. The production hasn't been over-carefully produced as far as artistry or technique is concerned and the story is weak.

You may find it worth while to use the names of Anna Lehr and Ralph Kellard although they have never appeared consistently frequent enough to make big names for themselves. Some catchlines could read: "Be glad that you can no longer call John Barleycorn your friend. See Ralph Kellard in 'The Veiled Marriage' and you'll know why." Or, "Don't leave your marriage license lying around loose before you use it. Your best friend may alter it to suit himself. It happened to Ralph Kellard in 'The Veiled Marriage'."

Slight Comedy Plot Built Around Very Timely Subject

Bryant Washburn in
"THE SIX BEST CELLARS"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Donald Crisp
AUTHORS.....Holworthy Hall and Hugh Kahler
SCENARIO BY.....Elmer Harris
CAMERAMAN.....C. Edgar Schoenbaum
AS A WHOLE.....Slight comedy with some real laugh-getting incidents built around timely idea.
STORY.....Doesn't contain much plot but its topic will get it over.
DIRECTION.....Has handled material skillfully and registers a number of very hearty laughs.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Straight
CAMERA WORK .....O. K.
STAR.....Doesn't put much variety into expressions but gets points over.
SUPPORT....Very good; headed by Wanda Hawley
EXTERIORS.....Plain surburban shots
INTERIORS ..... Appropriate
DETAIL ..... Satisfactory
CHARACTER OF STORY.....To drink or not to drink—that's the question.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,822 feet

The "private cellar" idea contained in this comedy certainly is a timely one and rich in humorous possibilities, many of which have been realized here, with the result that the picture ought to register a very big hit if presented and exploited properly. While the picture is not all that it could be as the plot is very slight and the situations rather scarce, it is quite likely that its good-natured kidding of the liquor question and the advertising value of its theme will get it over before all audiences, whether they are "wet" or "dry" in their sympathies.

The title, of course, is a play on the phrase "the six best sellers" used in the book world. In the present instance it means the six best stocked cellars in a little town called Oakmont. The cellar owned by Bryant Washburn and Wanda Hawley is supposed to be the richest because Bryant has done a lot of talking on the subject. In reality his stock is very low.

The time comes when Bryant and his wife are due to dine—and wine— their social set. Just before the date a flock of rare old wine is discovered in the cellar of Bryant's prohibition aunt. That is the discovery as reported. But when he comes to open the bottles before dinner he discovers them all empty. He brazens the affair through, however, by declaring himself off liquor for life after he sees the effect a few cocktails have on a feminine guest. After this he is taken up by the conservative element and promised a seat in Congress. And then his aunt discovers bottles that really contain wine in her cellar. Bryant is in a quandry—whether to take the wine or the congressional, seat, and in despair turns to the audience and puts the question up to them.

This ending is certainly novel and will serve to get the picture talked about a lot. They introduce a lot of comedy into the action regarding the "home brew" made from raisens which so many are supposed to have tried. The corks popping from the bottles of this stuff register a lot of fine comedy.

The star doesn't show much variety of expression but gets all his points over well. Wanda Hawley fills the opposite role well. A large cast which includes Clarence Burton, Jane Wolfe and Julia Faye assists.

Unusual Advertising Value and Popular Topic Make This Valuable

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While in some respects the entertainment offered in "The Six Best Cellars" is disappointing owing to the slightness of the plot, there is enough that is satisfactory in it to put it cleanly over and at the same time it is a wonderful advertising buy. The country is just now discussing the prohibition question a lot and if you play this picture properly you ought to be in for a clean-up.

As has been shown in the picture's presentation at the Rialto in New York an excellent idea is the incorporation in the program of other pictures and features dealing with drinking. Drinking songs are as appropriate as accompaniments as are shorter subjects on the films. Catchlines could read as follows, "Which would you take, a full wine cellar or a seat in Congress, Henry Carpenter had to decide?" "Henry was supposed to have one of the six best stocked cellars in Oakmont. Stocked with what? Oh well—but did he after all?" and "Ever try to make 'home brew'? Better see "The Six Best Cellars" first. Things do pop."

Carl Laemmle
announces the coming
of
Von Stroheim's
MASTER
PICTURE
A Universal-Jewel
Production de Luxe

"The DEVIL'S PASSKEY"

"Beauty and Bills and Bachelors—see how naturally they come together!"

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

IN

A BURLESQUE ON "CARMEN"

HAS BEEN BOOKED BY

THE FAMOUS RIALTO THEATRE

IN NEW YORK

AND

IS PLAYING TO CAPACITY IN THE LEADING PHOTOPLAY HOUSES OF THE COUNTRY

THESE STATE RIGHT BUYERS KNOW

QUALITY FILM CORP
PITTSBURGH, PA.

F. A. P. ENTERPRISES
OMAHA, NEBRASKA

EXHIBITORS' FILM EXCHANGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

MICKEY FILM CORP.
CHICAGO, ILL.

20th CENTURY FILM CO.
PHILADELPHIA, PA.

A. GLASNAPP
NORMAN, NORTH DAKOTA

THOMAS J. McAVOY
CLEVELAND, OHIO

DAVIS AMUSEMENT ENTERPRISES
MONTREAL, CANADA

A. C. BROMBERG
ATLANTA, GA.

HOW ABOUT YOU?

VICTOR KREMER

WILL ANSWER ALL INQUIRIES FOR STATE RIGHTS

AT

1476 BROADWAY - NEW YORK

PHONE, BRYANT - 8352

AFTER FEB. 1ST AT 126-130 W. 46th ST.

offers

VICTOR KREMER

CHARLIE CHAPLIN

IN HIS

FOUR GREATEST COMEDIES

FOR

STATE RIGHT SALE

THE CHAMPION
THE JITNEY ELOPEMENT
WORK
BY THE SEA

THE REASONS

They are Chaplin's funniest comedies.

They have been booked by the Rialto Theatre, N. Y.

They can be booked day and date.

They are backed by a marvelous advertising campaign.

They have been re-edited and re-titled.

They are issued with brand new prints.

They are demanded by all exhibitors.

They are Chaplin's funniest comedies.

THE CHAMPION

A JITNEY ELOPEMENT

WORK

BY THE SEA

FOR STATE RIGHTS

ADDRESS

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES INC.

1476 BROADWAY, N.Y.C. PHONE BRYANT 8352

AFTER FEB 1ST, 126-130 W 46TH ST

Melodrama of Newspaper Life Makes Average Program Feature

Corinne Griffith in
"DEADLINE AT ELEVEN"
Vitagraph

DIRECTOR .....George Fawcett
AUTHOR .....Ruth Byers
SCENARIO BY.....Lucien Hubbard
CAMERAMAN .....Arthur Ross
AS A WHOLE.....Melodrama dealing with newspaper life; slow in starting but will interest to some extent because of theme.
STORY.....Not five reel material but climax builds up fair amount of suspense.
DIRECTION.....Has achieved good atmosphere but players show lack of direction.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS .....Plain
CAMERA WORK.....Straight
STAR.....Is her usual self in role of society girl who becomes newspaper "sob" sister.
SUPPORT .....Fair
EXTERIORS.....City street stuff
INTERIORS.....Newspaper office good
DETAIL .....Satisfactory
CHARACTER OF STORY.....“Sob” sister solves murder mystery and saves reporter she loves from conviction.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,500 feet

"Deadline at Eleven" is a melodrama of a newspaper office and sums up as just an average program feature. Its merits consist of a rather novel little plot climax, which in its development never reveals the manner in which the happy ending is to be arrived at, and the fair face of Corinne Griffith, who assumes the stellar role. Its drawbacks embrace a lengthy and tiresome introduction, practically all of which is mere padding, and reveal the obvious fact that Director George Fawcett must have pursued the Griffith method in permitting his players to work out their own characterizations, with rather unhappy results. Often the members of the cast in endeavoring to register some important point appear quite at sea.

What will help the picture considerably, however, is the realistic and at all times fascinating atmosphere which Fawcett has managed to instill into the newspaper office scenes. He certainly seems to have known what he was about here and this fine atmosphere he has achieved will help the picture a lot. Summed up, "Deadline at Eleven" is just an average program feature.

Miss Griffith appears as Helen, a society girl, who choses to earn her own living. After a lot of business, during which two or three pretty good laughs are registered, she gets a job on a New York paper when Jack Rawson, the star reporter, intervenes for her with the editor. After a while she is given charge of the "Advice to the Love Sick" column and then one night she is sent out on a disappearing girl story.

Jack promises to come after her as soon as he finishes work but the old liquor intervenes and he gets drunk. The girl is found dead with Jack's cap alongside of her. Helen pursues the story and unearths the fact that the girl was killed by her employer when she refused to accompany him south. Helen is aided in arriving at her solution by one of the letters she received at her desk. The climax is particularly well worked out and finishes the picture off in good style.

Miss Griffith is supported by a cast that includes Dodson Mitchell, Frank Thomas and Webster Campbell.

Tell Them It's a Melodrama of Newspaper Life; Should Draw

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

By presenting this as a melodrama of newspaper life you should be able to attract considerable attention inasmuch as this type of story or picture is usually fascinating to the public. While the present work is by no means note-worthy it has enough merit to get it by as a program feature. Miss Griffith should be mentioned as her beauty has attracted many, while the name of George Fawcett should be used also. People will remember him from his rich character work in Griffith pictures and will be interested to see his first work as a director.

Catch lines could read: "How a newspaper 'sob' sister solved a murder mystery through an inconspicuous letter and freed the man she loved,"—"She had more money than she could use but when it came to getting a job on a newspaper she found it needed—brains," "She solved a murder mystery in thirty minutes and saved the man she loved from public condemnation."

AN EXTRAORDINARY OPPORTUNITY

STATE RIGHTS

For

HELEN KELLER

in the motion picture triumph

DELIVERANCE

"A Succession of Wonders".

N. Y. Times.

The remarkable success of Miss Helen Keller in vaudeville today is only paralleled by her achievement in Motion Pictures.

For Details
Write or Wire
GEORGE KLEINE
63 East Adams Street,
Chicago, Illinois.

Tom Mix Chalks Up a Whale of a Thriller

Tom Mix in
"THE DAREDEVIL"
Fox

DIRECTOR .....Tom Mix
AUTHOR .....Tom Mix
SCENARIO BY.....J. Anthony Roach
CAMERAMAN .....Dev Jennings
AS A WHOLE.....Excellent western thriller showing star and support in series of amazing stunts.
STORY.....Nothing elaborate, but it holds all the stunts together remarkably well.
DIRECTION.....Mix directs himself with better results than those achieved by others.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS .....Plain
CAMERA WORK.....Very good; notably in shooting the thrill stuff.
STAR.....Certainly performs stunts enough to satisfy even the most extreme.
SUPPORT.....Entirely acceptable
EXTERIORS .....Most all western INTERIORS .....Few
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero captures outlaw band to save reputation of heroine's father.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

Tom Mix can take credit for conceiving and directing what appears to be his best Fox picture, and not only his best for this company but one which ranks up with the very best western thrillers produced. "The Daredevil" was designed by the star to show all his paces as a stunt man and it certainly fulfills its mission, awarding him a role that lives up to the title in every respect.

Of story there is little, but at the same time the slight plot serves to link the thrilling episodes in remarkably good form. After a rather novel and humorous introduction showing a cowboy's shack shaking and tottering and eventually collapsing the star is introduced as a cowboy who fought all his mates because they refused to permit him to wear pajamas.

Mix then goes back to his father, who desirous of getting rid of him again, sends his to a wild western town where he is to be telegraph operator. They work in some of the always useful stuff here in which the westerners think the hero is a tenderfoot to find out their mistake in great chagrin, and then the love element is introduced between Mix and the daughter of the division superintendent.

Said superintendent has been unable to cope with a band of holdup men and is in danger of losing his psition, so the girl persuades Mix to see what he can do about bringing them to justice. Chief among the thrills are Mix's chase after the bandit's freight train, his liberation of the girl and his driving the villainous band to a cabin which he and his men proceed to ram down with telegraph poles. At the end he takes the girl back to his father and just for a final thrill climbs up the side of the office building to reach his destination.

Then there is the hair-raising episode on the train when Mix is travelling to the western town. He is chased by angry porters, climbs to the roofs of the cars and finally swings off the train on to ticklers hanging overhead. But to enumerate all the thrills is impossible—the picture contains them in abundance and that they are all crackerjack.

The star is well supported by a cast that includes Eva Novak, Charles K. French, L. C. Shumway, Sid Jordon, Lucille Younge, George Hernandez and L. S. McKee.

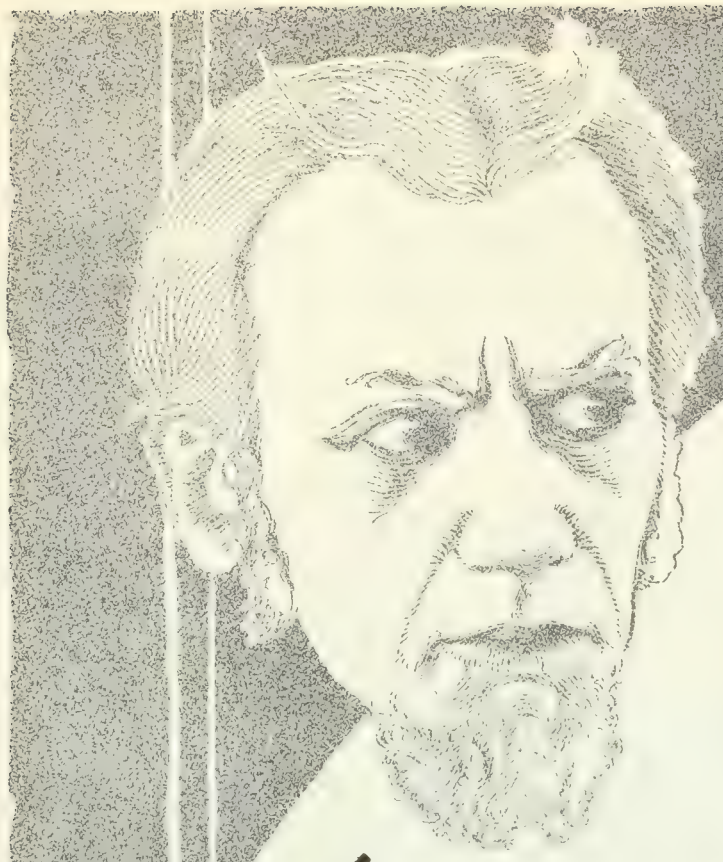
If They Like Thrillers They're Going Crazy Over This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

If your crowd likes thrillers, (and in passing what crowd doesn't like them?) they surely are going to go crazy over this one which is the last word in this sort of entertainment. And the thrills are served up with just the right amount of comedy and romantic dressing. In fact they offer in this one a picture that will register so well that it will delight practically every audience.

And then there is the benefit to be derived from Tom Mix's name and the additional publicity you can derive from the fact that he both wrote and directed the picture. To attract the crowds enumerate some of the thrills and use them in your advertisements and in lobby announcements. Use the old circus style: "See Tom Mix in his greatest thriller, see his leap from the roof of a train to the ticklers; see his ride through the waterfalls; see him shoot out the flames of two candles; see him swing from the roof of a moving train into the car"—and so on.

Off



Independents-

Don't let the film TRUST crush you.
Fortify yourselves now.
We will furnish the ammunition in the form of

SIX BIG SPECIALS

To be produced during 1920.
The first—now ready for showing—is the

B·A·ROLFE
PRODUCTION·

"LOVE WITHOUT QUESTION"

starring

OLIVE TELL

From the popular novel
"The Abandoned Room"
by C. Wadsworth Camp

This story will appear in serial form in the leading newspapers throughout the United States.

Foreign rights controlled by

EXPORT AND IMPORT FILM COMPANY

JANS PICTURES INC
729·SEVENTH
AVE·NEW YORK·N·Y

AIRCRAFT SERVICE INC

Adaptation of Pinero's Novel Has Theme Not New to Screen

Elsie Ferguson in
"HIS HOUSE IN ORDER"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR ..... Hugh Ford
AUTHOR.....Sir Arthur Wing Pinero
SCENARIO BY ..... Hugh Ford
CAMERAMAN ..... Arthur Miller
AS A WHOLE.....Well produced and given adequate presentation which doesn't cover up hackneyed plot situations.
STORY.....Adaptation of Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's well-known stage play; a theme not new to the screen.
DIRECTION.....Permitted the plot development to become exceedingly obvious.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Fair
CAMERA WORK ..... Satisfactory
STAR.....Doesn't appear to good advantage in opening reels.
SUPPORT.....Holmes E. Herbert adequate in his part.
EXTERIORS.....Appropriate; pretty garden shot
INTERIORS.....A home of wealth
DETAIL.....Some poor close-ups of Miss Ferguson
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Troubles of a minister's daughter who becomes a second wife.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,942 feet

Although the story of Miss Ferguson's latest production is based on a well-known and successful stage play by Sir Arthur Wing Pinero, which met with the approval of New York and London audiences in 1906, the theme is not new to photoplay audiences. In fact the idea has been used so often that it might well be indexed under a number and be referred to as such.

Director Ford has exercised considerable care from the production end. The settings and locations show good judgment and Miss Ferguson has been handled to good advantage for the most part. However, there is a continued obviousness throughout that emphasizes the triteness of the plot and warns you what to expect long before the actual occurence. On account of the short comings of the story the characters do not receive the sympathy of the spectator, and several minor events, seriously intended, were greeted with audible chuckles by the audience.

After the death of her father, Nina Graham became the governess of Derek, the young son of Filmer Jessen, a member of Parliament. Annabelle, the wife, is killed in an automobile accident on the night that she had planned to leave her husband to go away with another. Nothing of the secret, however, becomes known at the time so her memory is held sacred by Jessen.

Nina has become very fond of Derek and no one is surprised when she becomes Jessen's wife although she overhears a conversation which comments on her station in life compared to the man she has married. In Paris Nina resolves to give them something to talk about, much to the amazement of the husband who constantly reminds her that "Annabelle would not do that."

Jessen continues his reprovals and finally goes so far to presume to compel Nina to attend the exercises which will dedicate a park to the memory of Annabelle. This is the last straw and she is ready to leave him when evidence of the first wife's faithlessness is disclosed and the house is once more in order.

Miss Ferguson is sincere in her performance and is well assisted by Holmes E. Herbert as Jessen. She does not attain any particular achievement in the part of Nina because of the weakness of the story character. Others in the cast were Vernon Steele, Margaret Linden, Marie Burke and Lawrence Johnson, the child.

Average Program Offering With Star and Title in Its Favor

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"His House In Order" is an adaptation from the pen of the well-known English writer, Sir Arthur Wing Pinero. The fact that the stage play enjoyed considerable success on both the American and London stage, may get a response greater than it might otherwise receive. Although this may serve to get them in you should secure some good short reels to balance up the program otherwise you may have some complaints.

Of course you have the name of Miss Ferguson to work with, and you can count on some business from this end. Also, for the women's benefit say that the star wears some beautiful gowns. Catchlines could read: "Would you marry a man merely to keep his house in order? See the results of such a union in Elsie Ferguson's latest picture." Or, "Her husband thought her a simple little woman but she startled him by her daring in Paris. See the results of her venture in 'His House in Order'."

Despite a great deal of producer and distributor "hokum" and extravagant publicity—

Good pictures, in ninety-nine out of a hundred cases, are known by the first grade first run theatres in which they play.

Measured by this test and standard "The Capitol" is a popular and appealing picture. It is playing the big theatres everywhere.

Arthur F. Beck
presents

LEAH BAIRD

The Picture Girl Beautiful

in The Capitol

From the notable stage success by

AUGUSTUS THOMAS

Directed by GEORGE IRVING

Leah Baird since last April in a series of Augustus Thomas' great stage successes has drawn with increasing power in the best theatres.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated
Foreign Distributor J. Frank Brockliss, Inc 729-7th Ave.

Robert Brunton
presents

J. Warren KERRIGAN

and his own company in $30,000

By H.B. Daniel
Directed by Ernest C. Warde

Charles Chaplin, Douglas Fairbanks, Roscoe Arbuckle and J. Warren Kerrigan:—

Two comedians without rivals, the most popular male star in the world and next to him:

J. Warren Kerrigan.

Mr. Kerrigan is liked and played by more exhibitors, is admired by a larger public and is longer established in public affection than any other dramatic male star except Fairbanks.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

Very Episodic Story Relying Too Heavily on Coincidence

Constance Binney in
"THE STOLEN KISS"
Realart

DIRECTOR .....Kenneth Webb
AUTHOR .....Lucille Van Slyke
SCENARIO BY .....Kathryn Stuart
CAMERAMAN .....George Folsey
AS A WHOLE.....Very episodic, telling story of girl's life; another persistently optimistic and naively philosphic heroine.
STORY.....Seems very unreal and relies too heavily on coincidence in its development.
DIRECTION.....Has played around a lot with star but lack of care prevents the comedy and pathos expected in this type of offering.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTING.....Seems inadequate at times
CAMERA WORK ..... Adequate
STAR.....Plays sincerely in fat part but doesn't get an awful lot over.
SUPPORT.....Never has much to do
EXTERIORS ..... Very few
INTERIORS.....Good atmospheres obtained
DETAIL.....Closeups of star in first reel spoil illusion of extreme youth.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Lovers separated after stolen kiss are eventually reunited.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.. ..About 5,080 feet

"The Stolen Kiss" is one of those very unreal stories of the juvenile heroine in which the chief protagonist of the tale is as persistently optimistic and as naively philosophic as Pollyanna. But the stories of Felecia Day and Pollyanna differ greatly in that the former has none of the coherent or simple truths of the latter. Felecia's attitude is at times very unreal and the plot, adapted from Lucille Van Slyke's "Little Miss By-the-Day," relies altogether too heavily on coincidence and a flock of "convenient" meetings in its development.

Even with these rather flagrant handicaps "The Stolen Kiss" would have registered satisfactorily enough had the director managed to introduce those "dimple and tear" scenes which are a vital element in such a picture. But something seems to have gone amiss in this direction also. Although Kenneth Webb has the star play around in many scenes and closeups he has failed to bring out definitely the elements of comedy and pathos.

The story opens with Felecia as a very young girl enjoying a romance over the garden wall with a choir boy from the church next door. Constance Binney registers as a young kid well enough in the full shots but the director persists in bringing her into bath tub closeups where evidences of her real age destroy the illusion. After her mother's death, the grandfather tells Felecia that she has gone to the "Little House in the Woods" and Felecia swallows this myth for lo, these many years, until finally the house-keeper puts her wise.

Then, with her grandfather's death, Felecia turns to earn her own living with success as a seamstress, working by the day. Eventually she again meets the choir boy whom she kissed over the garden wall, now a full fledged baritone and with this the story ends.

There's a whole volume of incident intervening between the kiss and the final meeting but for the most part it is altogether unreal and relies too much on convenient situations to get across. Felecia goes along meeting everyone that is necessary to her well-being just at the propitious time.

Miss Binney plays very sincerely and seems to have possibilities for comedy and pathos which a more careful director could bring out. Rodney La Rocque is her leading man, while others are George Backus, Bradley Barker, Robert Schable, Richard Carlyle and Edyna Davies.

This Is Best Suited for Children's Matinees

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

On the whole "The Stolen Kiss" seems best suited to be shown at matinees for children rather than before grown-up audiences. Doubtless the picture contains many of the characteristics of the book which are reflected in its original title "Little Miss By-the-Day," and this, incidentally and to prove the point, is not a title that would attract grown-ups.

This type of story when handled properly has a big place on the screen but certainly the manner in which this one is presented leaves many loop-holes for criticism even from the lay mind, while its merits, apparent here and there throughout its length, are not frequent enough to counterbalance its shortcomings.

Japanese Spy Plot Drammer

"WHO'S YOUR SERVANT?"
Robertson-Cole

DIRECTOR ..... Not credited
AUTHOR ..... Julian Johnson
SCENARIO BY ..... Julian Johnson
CAMERAMAN ..... Not credited
AS A WHOLE.....Old Japanese spy melodrama
STORY.....Had the goods in its old-fashioned way but its running isn't smooth.
DIRECTION ..... Commonplace
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Fair
CAMERA WORK ..... Poor
LEADING PLAYERS.....The Jap heavy displays neither force nor polish in his work; others do well.
SUPPORT ..... Satisfactory
EXTERIORS ....Include some good shipyard shots
INTERIORS.....Very small and crowded for the most part.
DETAIL ..... Some twists of action unconvincing
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Heroine makes Jap spy confess to stealing papers by feigning love for him.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,950 feet

This one has earmarks of age, and while there are many ancient plots that get over with new dressings, "Who's Your Servant?" has not been especially well produced and the worn places are much in evidence. The servant in the case is a Japanese man-of-all-work in an admiral's household. There are papers to be sure, and there is a penniless young lieutenant in the navy who loves the admiral's daughter. And when the papers do their time-honored vanishing act suspicion is cast on the lieutenant. But the heroine, by feigning love for the oriental, discovers that he is the thief and by her wit she saves the situation, the hero, and the American navy.

There is no denying the possibilities of such material. Good visualists can build up sequences of gripping power in the development of the business between the girl and the Jap. Here was an opportunity to bring in a climax to rival the time-honored denouement in "The Cheat." But instead of a scene of steady accumulating force is a sequence full of cuts which break up the suspense, while Yukio Aoyama who plays the Jap, never rises above the dignity of a meek servant. It needed an actor of subtle ability of forceful personality to successfully play this part of the picture. And Aoyama possesses neither.

Immediately the Jap is introduced in the opening scenes, receiving rather more attention than is due the ordinary servant, the subsequent action may be in a great sense easily foretold. The plans are missing and the hero is innocent. A slight attempt was made to cast odium on another character, but you know all the time that the Oriental is the culprit.

Some of the turns the action takes are unconvincing. When the marines catch the hero letting himself out of the admiral's office through the window in the dead of night it is hard to figure out why they let him go. And again when the heroine decides to make up to the Jap to get the papers, there is hardly ground for the slightest suspicion on her part that he has them. Of course the audience knows it but the heroine's act doesn't convince.

The picture is set in meagre interiors; shots that look cramped and small. And when it comes to an easy bit of panorama work (following the heroine down the side of the house to the ground) the cameraman surely shows his lack of training. Lois Wilson and William Scott heroine and hero play with sincere effort. Scott gets a lot over despite the inferior direction and production. Others are Andrew Robson, Albert Morrison and Frances Burnham.

May Get Over With Crowds That Like Thrills

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While production flaws are obvious the picture may get over before crowds of the class that is easily thrilled by pictures of the spy type, no matter what flaws they possess. It's the sort of production that used to be blazoned forth by means of a lot of sensational paper in the old days before the war.

The title with its interrogation is hardly sensationally attractive. Servants aren't in every family by any means and the suggestion given in the title to watch all servants will probably strike many as humorous. Advertisements can be framed around the spy angle, and the situation in which the heroine brings a confession from the Jap by feigning love for him.

If every picture was as good as this, every person in your town would make theatre-going an almost daily habit!

Jesse D. Hampton presents

BLANCHE SWEET

in Bayard Veiller's play

THE DEADLIER SEX

A story of the pinelands, rushing streams, tall mountains and the clean, healthy life of the open; of the kidnapping of a Wall Street man in order to teach him humanity.

Pathé
Distributors

Pathé
Distributors
MacDan

"EXCUSE MY DUST!"

The shortest distance between two points might be a straight line, on paper,—but Wallace Reid, covered with dust at the wheel of this Paramount-Artcraft speed picture, will tell you that it's the curves that count!

When the telegraph poles look like the teeth of a comb, when the speedometer is deliriously checking off a mile every thirty seconds or so—then it's sure you're going to win or smash!

If you saw Wallace Reid in "The Roaring Road" or "Double Speed" you have some idea of the pace he hits in "Excuse My Dust", but here there's a girl as well as gasoline, and she doesn't quite like this do-or-die stuff.

Climb aboard anyway—Paramount invites you—and get the genuine sensations from behind that dithering wheel.

Jesse L. Lasky Presents

WALLACE REID
in
"EXCUSE MY DUST"

Adapted from the Saturday Evening Post story
"The Bear Trap", by Byron Morgan

Directed by Sam Wood Scenario by Will M. Ritchey

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORPORATION
ADOLPH ZUKOR Pres. JESSE L. LASKY Vice Pres. CECIL B. DE MILLE Director General
NEW YORK

Paramount Pictures

ARTCRAFT PICTURES

A Paramount Artcraft Picture

This is a reproduction of the full page advertisement which runs in The Saturday Evening Post, March 20th

This Story Would Have Registered Better On a Talking Machine

"THE STREET CALLED STRAIGHT"
Eminent Authors—Goldwyn

DIRECTOR .....Wallace Worsley
AUTHOR.....Basil King
SCENARIO BY.....E. T. Lowe, Jr.
CAMERAMAN .....Robert Newhard
AS A WHOLE.....Production is all talk with hardly any action; becomes tiresome long before finsh.
STORY.....Certainly wasn't the kind of story for the screen.
DIRECTION.....Good but never has a chance to develop any sustaining drama.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS.....Night lighting a bit too dim
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
LEADING PLAYERS....All of them good but story doesn't give them opportunities to register in best style.
SUPPORT.....Lydia Yeamans Titus in character-comedy role individual hit of picture.
EXTERIORS ..... Pretty
INTERIORS.....Very handsome and appropriate
DETAIL.....Not much to comment on except Lawson Butt's palpably false moustache.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Awakening of heroine to love of man she formerly despised.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,896 feet

Basil King's story "The Street Called Straight" certainly wasn't the type of fiction to choose for picture adaptation as, from the finished product, it is easy to discern that the original work concentrated altogether on fine dialogue and left dramatic and physical action out of the running. So here is a picture that is talk, talk, talk and then talk some more and the talky subtitles are illustrated by the character earnestly talking at each other. As an illustrated talk "The Street Called Straight" is A1.

It starts out by presenting the fact that respected Henry Guion has embezzled funds to the amount of four hundred thousand dollars. Peter Davenant, adopted and successful son of Guion's old friends appears and says he wants to do something good with his money so he offers half a million to Guion. Its many subtitles before he takes it because his daughter Olivia who dislikes Peter objects but finally for the sake of her father's reputation and his clients she waves prejudices and accepts his charity.

Then Col. Ashley, an Englishman, engaged to Olivia appears and says that he can never marry Olivia unless she permits him to pay back the money to Peter. They argue about this a long time and eventually Peter, desiring to see Olivia happy, jumps over to her rich aunt in France and tells her the sad tale. Aunty comes to America and doing a little more observing and a little less talk discovers that Olivia is really in love with Peter and that the colonel and another girl are well matched. And this is how the romance concludes.

At the outset the story gives great promise for the characterization is carefully and well handled and there are hints of a plot with a nice lot of complications lurking in the background. But instead the characters go on talking about honor and four hundred thousand for the duration of the picture. Now probably all this made good reading and the producers may say that picture audiences can't appreciate this type of picture fiction but that isn't the case.

Milton Sills and Naomi Childers give sincere performances as in fact do all the rest including Charles Clary, Irene Rich, Alec Francis and Lawson Butt. Lydia Yeamans Titus is the individual hit of the picture. aunt.

You Might Get the People In With This But They'll Hardly Be Entertained

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

They cerainly have dressed this picture up in pretty fine style but the story isn't worth such an elaborate setting. Its lack of all good picture qualities set it down as a piece of entertainment not at all up to the mark. The probability is that a whole lot of people will get tired watching the characters talk at each other and walk out on the picture before the end has come.

There is a slight attempt in a number of scenes to justify the title and there are some lines which say the street is often dark and unlighted but still it's there. They don't get over very well just what they strive for in this respect.

There has been considerable advertising accorded this series of Eminent Authors pictures and there will be some good ones coming later on. But certainly "The Street Called Straight" fails to live up to what may rightfully be expected of it in the way of entertainment.

Crook Play Treated With Good Taste Except in Climax Sequence

Margarita Fisher in
"THE DANGEROUS TALENT"
American—Pathe

DIRECTOR .....George L. Cox
AUTHOR .....Daniel F. Whitcomb
SCENARIO BY.....Lois Zellner
CAMERAMAN .....George Rizard
AS A WHOLE.....Good crook play with unusual twists but climax is spoiled by too much detail.
STORY.....Very plainly "manufactured" but interests because of its many surprise turns.
DIRECTION.....Seems inclined to play up star in closeups too greatly and should have condensed action of the climax.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS.....Mostly straight; few effects commendable.
CAMERA WORK.....Good
STAR .....Registers satisfactorily
SUPPORT ..... Good
EXTERIORS.....Good estate stuff
INTERIORS .....Acceptable
DETAIL.....One closeup of girl's arms shows different clothing than that worn in full shot.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Girl frustrates plans of crooks to rob hero's safe.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,460 feet

"The Dangerous Talent" is a crook picture, very plainly manufactured in that many of its twists are undeniably "convenient," but at the same time these twists produce a number of surprises and for the most part the plot succeeds in retaining the interest after a good fashion. The climax, however, is rather weak from a dramatic sense. It is burdened with a lot of detail and unnecessary closeups of the star that serve to retard its effect in no small measure. Instead of speeding up this sequence they have kept right on handling it as they did the body of the story. The climax thing seems to be bothering a lot of producers these days.

In the beginning they register that Lelia Mead, a stenographer, is very clever in imitating other people's hand-writing. For this she is discharged from her position in the real estate office of Dodge. Unsuccessful in her search for work she forges a letter to Gilbert Ellis, a millionaire bachelor and lands a job as his secretary.

Ellis' butler is a crook and in league with Mildred Shedd, a peculiar character whom Lelia had encountered before. The butler "finds" a baby on the door step and Mildred is summoned to nurse it. Their plan is to rifle the safe. The presence of Lelia upsets them but they decide to go through with their plans and throw suspicion on her. While robbing the safe they are surprised by Ames, a former friend of Ellis', who is in an intoxicated state. They shoot and mortally wound him. Dying, he blames Ellis. Lelia saves him by writing a note to Mildred, purporting to come from the butler saying that he has confessed. In this way they get her confession and so Ellis is saved.

The story contains a lot of talk and some action about Ellis' proposed playground for poor children which is merely introduced to bring the real estate agent back into the action that he may recognize Leila. As the consequences of this recognition are unimportant it seems that much of this detail could have been eliminated with the result that the entire picture would have speeded along at a much better pace.

Margarita Fisher registers satisfactorily in the stellar role although the director has given her too many closeups particularly in the climax sequence. Satisfactory performances are also given by Harry Hilliard, Beatrice Van, Harry Clark, Neil Hardin, George Periolat and May Talbot.

Satisfactory Program Feature

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"The Dangerous Talent" is a satisfactory program feature. It has its faults, but at the same time the story has a number of surprises in its running and the interest is well maintained up to the climax, which, though badly handled, contains more surprise twists.

It is not a feature that you can praise to the skies; rather is it one of those you can slip in quietly and rely on it to give average satisfaction to your people. The star doesn't possess extreme popularity but her work is fairly consistent.

DEMOCRACY

As announced recently in the trade publications, Lester Park and Edward Whiteside, producers of "EMPTY ARMS," have for a long period of time been working on the film

DEMOCRACY

By Dr. Frank Crane

the foremost philosopher of the day whose editorials are read throughout the United States in thousands of newspapers and magazines, has in collaboration with Charles D. Isaacson developed a powerful story and it has been acted by a very celebrated cast under the direction of Frank Reicher. The film takes its inspiration from Dr. Frank Crane's magazine

DEMOCRACY

The popular successor to Elbert Hubbard's magazine, "The Philistine." The circulation is well into the hundreds of thousands and has rendered an important ground work for the exploitation of the film with the various other works of Dr. Crane's which have been before the people for many years.

DEMOCRACY

is owned by Lester Park and Edward Whiteside, Producers of

EMPTY ARMS

Starring GAIL KANE with Thurston Hall
J. Herbert Frank and Irene Blackwell

WRITTEN BY WILLARD KING BRADLEY — EDITORIALS BY DR FRANK CRANE

PERSONALLY SUPERVISED AND DIRECTED BY Frank Reicher

To Mr. Z——

This is to inform you that your territory has been purchased. "EMPTY ARMS" is sold for 25 per cent. more than you offered to pay!

We take this extraordinary means to impart to you this information, because your experience might prove of value to other buyers across the continent.

You remember the first announcement on "EMPTY ARMS." It told how we refused an offer of One Hundred Thousand Dollars guarantee from one of the big distributors. Then we sent you a copy of the Hundred Thousand Dollar Packet which told in detail of the tremendouse box-office possibilities in "EMPTY ARMS."

You remember that you wired us to hold your territory; that you made us an offer which we refused. You remember that you thought the price we quoted too high, but you had the opportunity to see the film and judge for yourself.

Then you saw the film. You said it was a powerful screen drama and ought to prove a great box-office attraction in your territory. But you procrastinated. You sparred for time, thinking we would reduce our price. You remember that we wired you that other buyers in your territory were also interested. You thought we were bluffing.

The picture is now sold in your territory for 25 per cent. more than you bid for it.

However, following "EMPTY ARMS" are three more pictures—"The Scarlet Dragon," "A Good Woman" and Dr. Frank Crane's greatest American epic "DEMOCRACY." You have an opportunity to acquire these pictures for your territory, but we must admit that your competitor who purchased "EMPTY ARMS" has first call. He didn't procrastinate!

BYRON PARK IS IN NEW YORK SHOWING THE FILM "EMPTY ARMS" TO THE BUYERS OF THE TERRITORIES STILL OPEN. DON'T BE LIKE MR. Z. MAKE YOUR APPOINTMENTS WITH MR. PARK AT ONCE.

Photoplay Libraries, Inc.

(Exclusive Selling Agents)

500 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK

Amusing Complications and Star Make This Satisfy

Constance Talmadge in
"IN SEARCH OF A SINNER"
First National

DIRECTOR .....David Kirkman
AUTHOR .....Charlotte Thompson
SCENARIO BY.....John Emerson and Anita Loos
CAMERAMAN ..... Oliver Marsh
AS A WHOLE.....A disappointment in comparison with the preceding releases; good in spots.
STORY.....Could have been used to get in a good deal more fun without overdrawing.
DIRECTION.....Allowed situations to be overdrawn too often in an effort to get over comedy stuff.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Fair
LIGHTINGS.....Not up to the usual standard
CAMERA WORK.....Fair
STAR.....Forgets to be cute very often; slipped up a little on the art of vamping pleasingly.
SUPPORT.....Rockliffe Fellows doesn't match up well with the star; others suitable.
EXTERIORS.....Many shots in Central Park
INTERIORS .....Adequate
DETAIL.....Titles come in for a large share of the laughs.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Butterfly wife tires of her "good" husband and seeks a sinner after his death.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,485 feet

Why do authors, especially photoplay writers, insist upon making their characters so unreal and so untrue to life when there are people in the world who in themselves, naturally and without exaggeration, are just the types they are after? Why not make the characters in their plays real, lifelike folks instead of overdoing it?

Henry Chadbourne could just as well have been a "good" husband without being a freak. He could have been a home man and fond of domestic life and at the same time bore his young life-loving wife without having the added impediment of being a scientific nut who had his wife accompany him to the museum while he studied the geological expressions of the various museum specimens.

The comedy element does not live up to expectations. There are some highly amusing situations brought in by the star's efforts to make a good man wild and her success.

Georgiana Chadbourne goes through the period of mourning uneventfully until she throws off her black and arrives at the home of her brother-in-law Jeffry, in New York, to start her search for a wild man, and to make it more convenient her host and his wife are quarantined for two weeks on Long Island. So Constance carries on her campaign undisturbed.

Strange enough she finds the man she is after in Central Park, only to learn later that he is a very good man from Denver and an old friend of Jeffry's. Nevertheless Georgiana really loves him so decides to reform his good ways by pretending she is Jeffry's wife. He rebels at the thought of betraying his pal but after much strenuous vamping he succumbs and the results come very near turning the tables on poor Constance but Jeff returns from Long Island in time to straighten things out.

There are many good laughs in the production especially in the complications that follow when Constance starts her reforming schedule and some of the titles get over in great style. Those in the cast were Corliss Giles, William Roselle, Marjorie Milton, Evelyn C. Carrington, Lillian Worth, Arnold Lucy, Charles Whittaker, Ned Sparks and William Boshell.

Slightly Weak Material Should Prove No Drawback

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

From the box office angle there is very little doubt but what "In Search of a Sinner" will pack your house if you can judge from the first day's run at the Strand when they were standing them at the last show. Besides having Constance Talmadge for its star and the decided hit made by her two previous pictures, "Two Weeks" and "A Virtuous Vamp," the title will get a good many in of its own accord.

The fact that the story isn't as strong as it might be need not give you great worry by this time, providing you have played the former Talmadge comedies, the star has enough drawing power in her name and what she has already done to overcome this shortcoming.

The title and theme of the story offer almost unlimited possibilities in the way of exploitation and there are many original and helpful suggestions in the press sheets distributed by First National as well as a selected and suitable musical score. You will find many of the current popular songs fit the action delightfully.

JESSE D. HAMPTON

Announces a series of

HENRY KING PRODUCTIONS

ROBERT THORNBY PRODUCTIONS

Each production will combine with recognized directorial ability the literary genius of a celebrated author

Wm. J. Locke

John Galsworthy

Jerome K. Jerome

Robert Hichens

Fredrick S. Isham

Frank H. Spearman

John Hastings Turner

F. Hopkinson Smith

Bayard Vieller

Kenneth B. Clarke

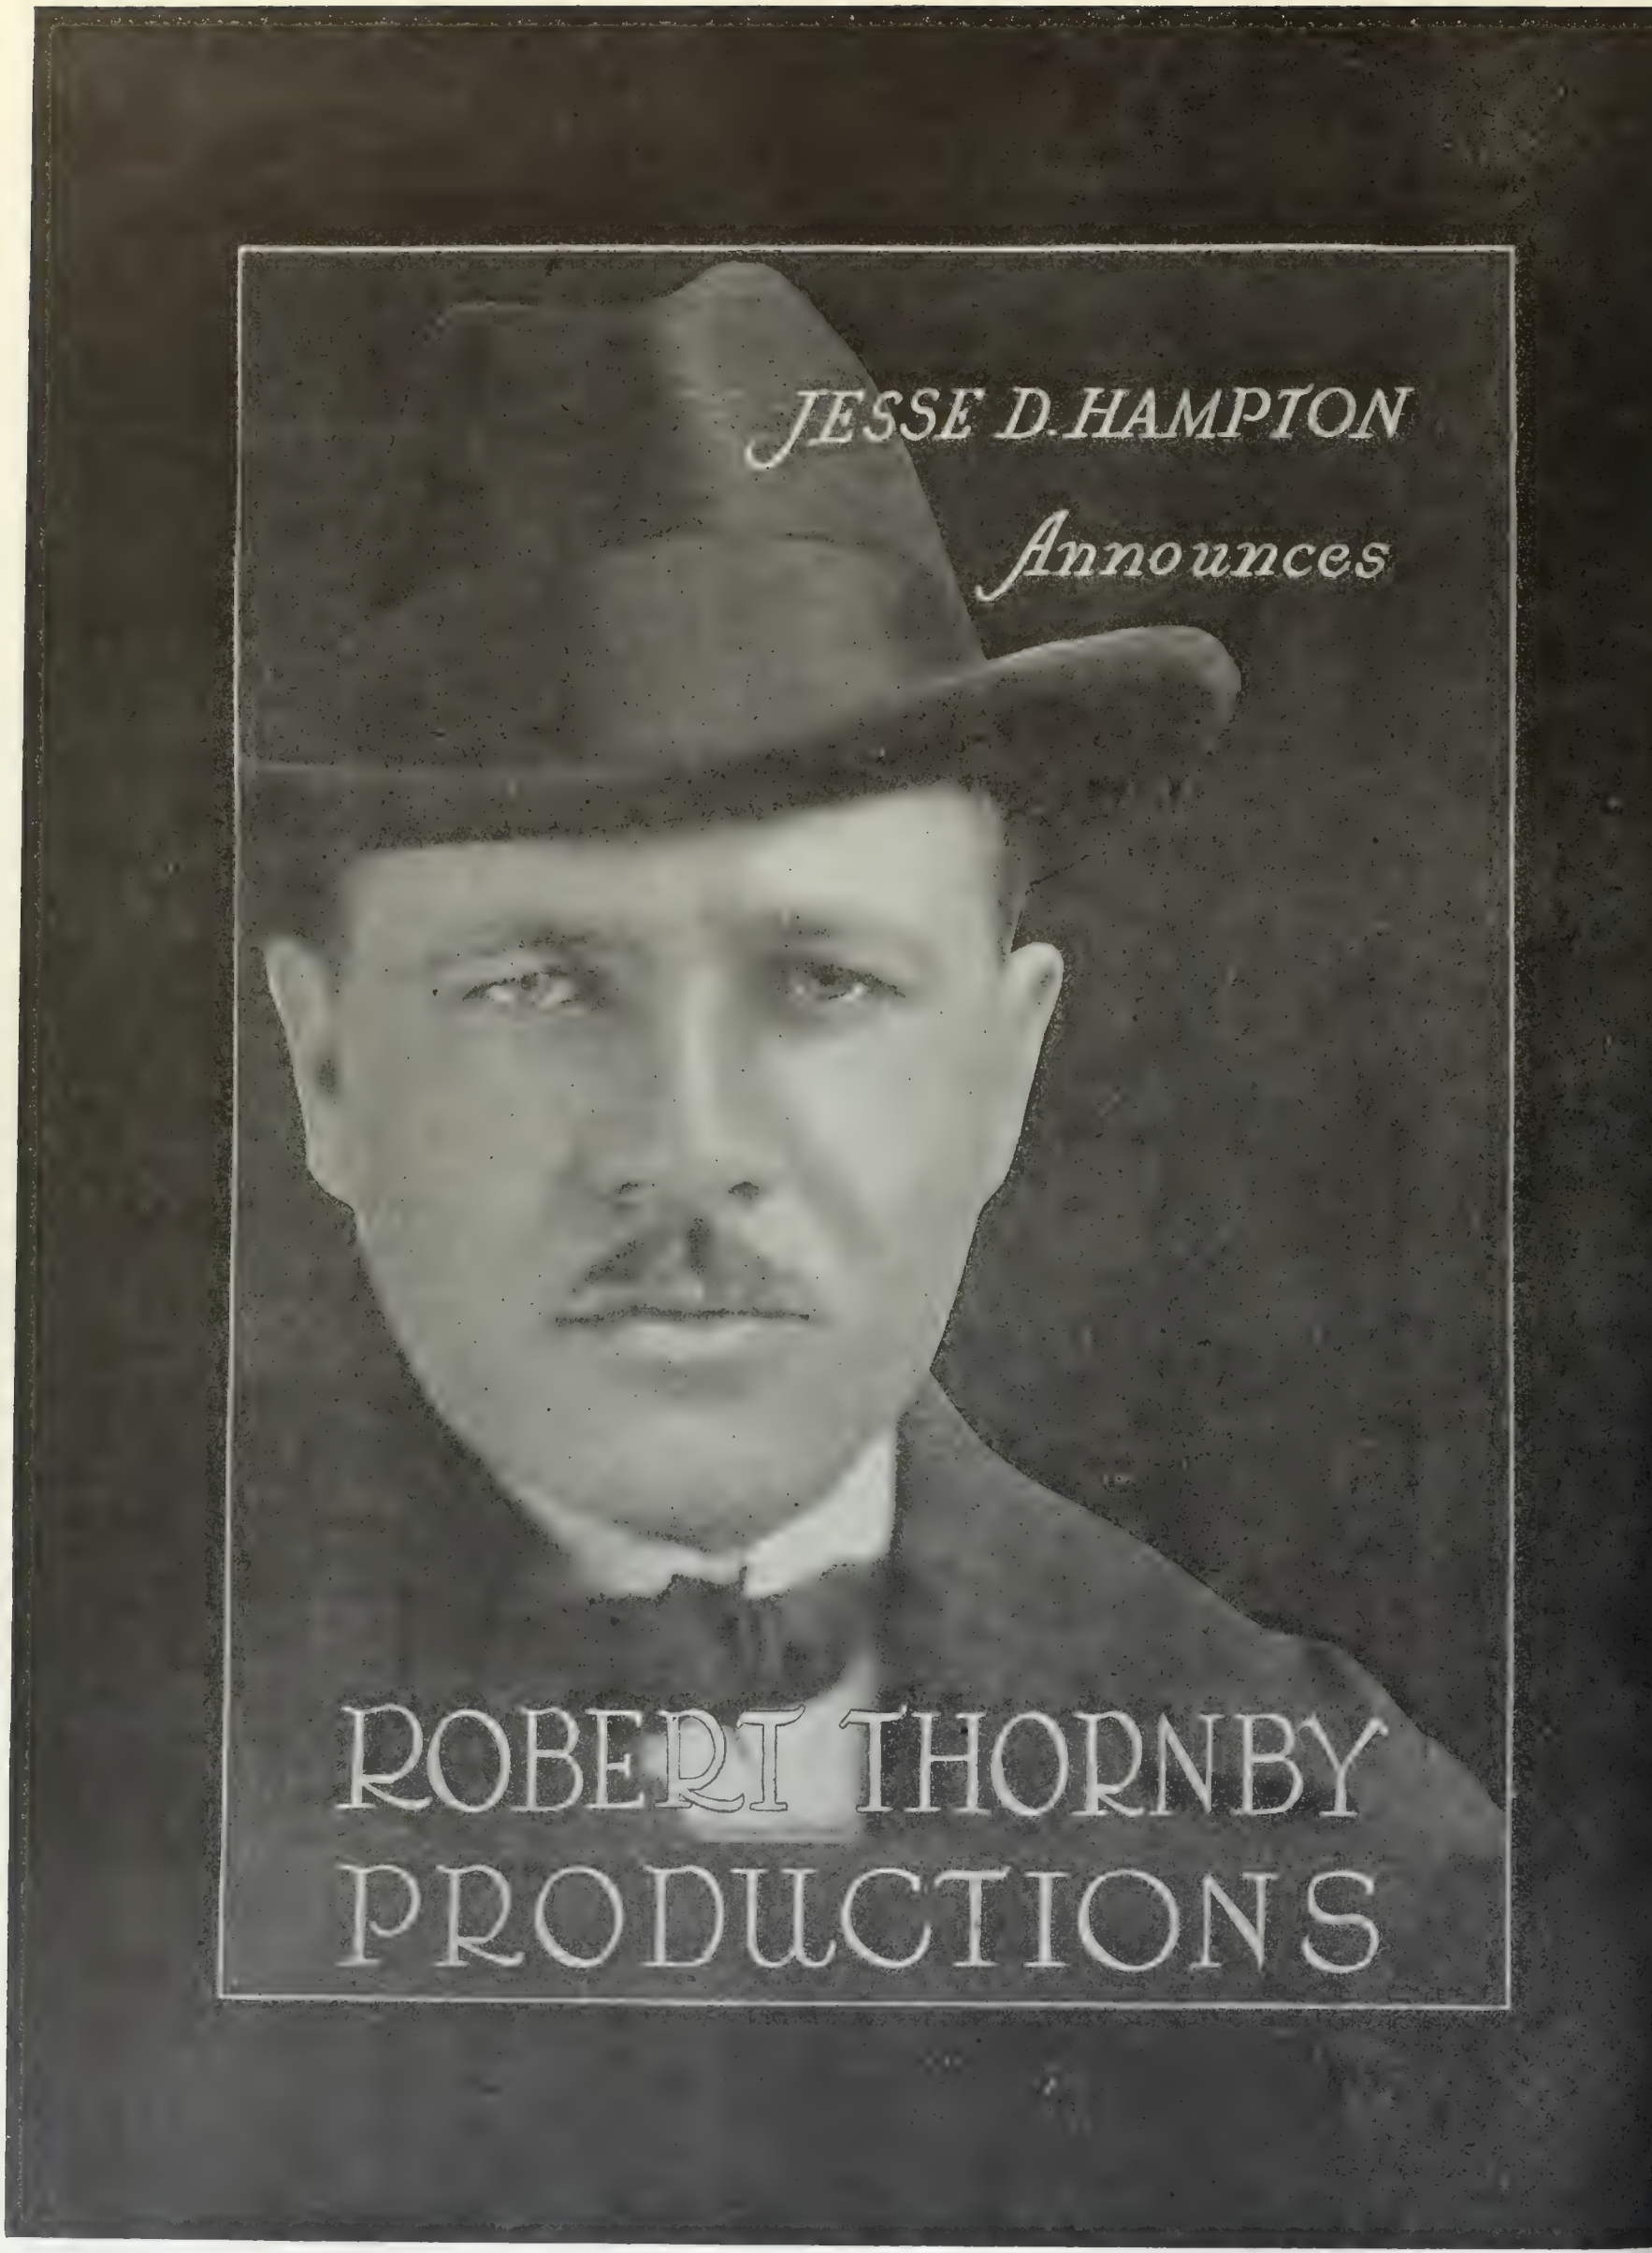
F. Anstey

Bret Harte

others will be announced later—

JESSE D. HAMPTON PRODUCTIONS
Hollywood California

HOWARD E. MORTON Eastern Mgr.
1013 Longacre Bldg. Bdwy & 42nd St New York



JESSE D. HAMPTON
Announces
ROBERT THORNBY
PRODUCTIONS

JESSE D. HAMPTON

Announces

HENRY KING

PRODUCTIONS

Mollie King Returns in Very Well Done Domestic Drama

Mollie King in
"WOMEN MEN FORGET"
United Picture Theaters

DIRECTOR .....John M. Stahl
AUTHOR .....Elaine Sterne
SCENARIO BY.....Paul Bern
CAMERAMAN .....Percy Holbrook
AS A WHOLE.....Domestic drama that holds interest admirably and shows unusual and intense conflict of characters.
STORY.....Very well developed
DIRECTION.....Registers all points naturally and to good effect.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Average
LIGHTINGS .....Mostly plain
CAMERA WORK..... Good
STAR.....Shows considerable emotional ability in this and registers exceedingly well.
SUPPORT.....Edward Langford and Frank Mills both handle big parts expertly.
EXTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
INTERIORS .....Appropriate
DETAIL.....Story helped a lot by subtitles that are practically all spoken.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Wife wins back husband from "other woman" through her understanding.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,600 feet

"Women Men Forget" is notable in that it marks Mollie King's return to the screen after quite an absence and also because of the fact that it presents a domestic drama of unusual interest, well developed, and containing an interesting and at times very intense conflict of characters. The picture is an example of what can be done with a very good story, a small cast, and at little, but no stinting expense. For while it never offers anything lavish in the way of setting or action, the story grips through the author's rather clever juggling with plain realities, and though the results she achieves may appear artificial to some at times, they are generally very appealing because of the fact that they are founded on true situations.

Miss King appears as Mary Graham, the unhappy wife of Robert, who is attracted to Helen, supposedly Mary's friend and in time their affair becomes common gossip. About to become a mother Mary is sent away to the country by James Livingston, an old friend who admires her greatly and despises Robert. After the birth of a child which she keeps a secret from her husband Mary returns to her city home in the hope of finding Robert repentant but instead she discovers him in Helen's arms.

Livingston then takes matters in his hands and breaks Robert in the stock market, with the result that Helen leaves him, refusing to offer assistance. Mary, still loving her husband and realizing that he is little more than a very foolish boy, proves her love and forgiveness by offering him all the negotiable things she has in the world and then introduces him to their son.

The director has treated his material exceptionally well. The manner in which he gets over the fact that Mary is to become a mother by using the dog and the kittens is a fine touch. Then, too, in the many scenes which bring husband and wife and the other woman together he has shown sure dramatic skill.

He is assisted in no small respect by the star and principal supporting players. Miss King plays with real feeling and displays an emotional ability that is no less telling than it is, in a way, surprising. Edward Langford gives a realistic picture of the weakling husband and Frank Mills as the friend, who, thank goodness, doesn't develop into a villain, is always pleasing. Lucy Fox as Helen and Jane Jennings in a small character role complete the cast.

You Can Say a Lot About This and the Picture Will Deliver

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"Women Men Forget" is a picture that you can advertise extensively with a feeling of safety, for the story and production are behind you to deliver complete if not unusual satisfaction to most all audiences. You might make something of Miss King's return to the screen in your campaign. She had quite a popularity before, and her work in this picture certainly stamps her as a good actress.

Give the title a good display also, for it is one that will immediately attract attention. Catch lines written around the plot will attract. Try one of these: "Because she loved her husband she forgave him even when he regarded her as a stranger in her own home," "She found herself an intruder in her own home where the 'other woman' presided."

Story as Reasonable as an Attempt to Prove That Black Is White

Dorothy Dalton in
"BLACK IS WHITE"
Thomas H. Ince—Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Charles Giblyn
AUTHOR .....George Barr McCutcheon
SCENARIO BY.....E. Magnus Ingleton
CAMERAMAN .....John S. Stumar
AS A WHOLE.....Just about takes the prize for impossibility.
STORY.....Fails to convince because of extreme basic situation while there is insufficient substance to the plot.
DIRECTION ..... Commonplace
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Effective
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Plays easily and surely but fails to look old enough in latter reels.
SUPPORT .....Very good
EXTERIORS .....Few
INTERIORS .....Handsome and appropriate
DETAIL.....Comedy "relief" fails to register
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Built on situation of man marrying the same woman twice and not knowing it.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,562 feet

Anyone would have a pretty hopeless task in front of him if he set out to prove that black is white. No matter how seriously he took himself he'd find his audience laughing at him before he had gone far. And that's akin to what the producers try to do in "Black Is White." They show you a man married and a father. The man is jealous and finally comes to doubt the parentage of his baby. He denounces his wife and leaves her. Fifteen years later he marries again and doesn't know that she's the same woman. Doctor, please have the gentleman's eyes examined.

The whole framework of this adaptation of a George Barr McCutcheon novel is built on this situation and as a consequence the picture reaches about the far limits of impossibility. After the couple's second marriage the jealousy of the husband is aroused again because he sees his wife so much in company with his son. He mistakes her maternalism for sex attraction and finally winds up by shooting the boy. Then he is at last informed that his second wife is none other than his first and so after he has suffered considerably, he is forgiven by wife and son.

In addition to appearing utterly impossible, this situation is practically the only one of consequence in the entire picture. And certainly it doesn't deserve so great an amount of footage. They have tried to bolster things up with a numbr of scenes between mother and son but instead of appearing beautiful and sympathetic these sequences are commonplace. On the other hand the attempted comedy relief in the introduction of the two old men is quite ineffectual.

The picture has been handsomely dressed up in a number of splendid interiors and the technical and camera work is almost flawless but the actual dramatic direction reveals nothing out of the ordinary, no originality or feeling. Dorothy Dalton plays easily and surely in all her scenes and put conviction in her work despite the handicap of the plot. But her makeup in the latter reels denotes no noticeable maturity of character over her initial appearance, and in her scenes with her son she fails to bring out the complete spirit of maternalism necessary. Some of the blame of this rests in the casting of Jack Crosby for the son. A younger appearing juvenile would have been better. H. E. Herbert's characterization of the husband is sincere and his playing shows his usual skill.

If You Play It Cite Central Situation and Work It Up

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

The average audience will hardly take this one seriously but if you find yourself in a position where no other feature presents itself you might use this and prepare your advertisements around the central situation, working it up prominently. Then they won't have a chance to kick if they find they don't like it.

This situation can be presented more or less sensationally by use of readers on the order of the following: "After fifteen years he married again and later found that she was the same woman." "His jealousy had caused their separation. After fifteen years he met her again and married her, never realizing that she was the same woman as his first wife!" Use the name of the author. It carries weight and some may countenance the idea if they know it is his, whereas they wouldn't if it was written by an unknown.

CURRENT RELEASES

EQUITY PICTURES CORP.

Release Date			Length Reels	Reviewed
	Eyes of Youth (Clara Kimball Young)		7	11/16/19

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORP.

Release Date			Length Reels	Reviewed
Jan.	4	The Woman in the Suitcase (Enid Bennett)		1/18/20
Jan.	4	Too Much Johnson (Bryant Washburn)	5	2/22/20
Jan.	4	The Thirteenth Commandment (Ethel Clayton)	5	2/15/20
Jan.	11	Sand (William S. Hart)	5
Jan.	18	Mary Ellen Comes to Town (Dorothy Gish)	5
Jan.	18	The Tree of Knowledge (Robert Warwick)	5	1/18/20
Jan.	25	What's Your Husband Doing? (Douglas MacLean-Doris May)	5	2/8/20
Jan.	25	The Copperhead (Super-Special)	5	2/15/20
Feb.	1	Double Speed (Wallace Reid)	5	2/8/20
Feb.	1	All of a Sudden Peggy (Marguerite-Clark)	5
Feb.	8	The Six Best Cellars (Bryant Washburn)	5
Feb.	15	Mary's Ankle (MacLean & May)	5
Feb.	15	On With the Dance (Super-Special)	5	2/15/20
Feb.	22	Black is White (Dorothy Dalton)	5
Feb.	22	The Amateur Wife (Irene Castle)	5
Feb.	29	Huckleberry Finn (Super-Special)	5
Feb.	29	Young Mrs. Winthrop (Ethel Clayton)	5
Feb.	29	Dangerous Hours	5	2/8/20
Mar.	7	Alarm Clock Andy (Charles Ray)	5
Mar.	7	His House in Order (Elsie Ferguson)	5
Mar.	14	Jack Straw (Robert Warwick)	5
Mar.	14	Mary Ellen Comes to Town (Dorothy Gish)	5
Mar.	21	Excuse My Dust (Wallace Reid)	5
Mar.	21	April Folly (Cosmopolitan)	5	3/7/20
Mar.	28	My Lady's Garter (Maurice Tourneur's)	5
Mar.	28	Easy to Get (Marguerite Clark)	5

FIRST NATIONAL

		Length Reels	Reviewed
	A Daughter of Two Worlds (Norma Talmadge)	6	1/11/20
	Two Weeks (Constance Talmadge)	5	2/1/20
	Even as Eve	5
	The Turning Point (Katherine MacDonald)	5
	The River's End (Marshall Neilan Prod.)	5	2/22/20
	Polly of the Storm Country (Mildred Harris Chaplin)	5
	In Search of a Sinner (Constance Talmadge)
	The Inferior Sex (Mildred Harris Chaplin)
	The Fighting Shepherdess (Anita Stewart)
	The Family Honor (King Vidor)
	Fires of Youth (D. W. Griffith's)
	The Woman Gives (Norma Talmadge)

FOX FILM CORP.

		Length Reels	Reviewed
William Farnum Series
	The Last of the Duanes	7	10/5/19
	Wings of the Morning	6	12/7/19
	Heart Strings	6	1/4/20
	The Adventurer	6	1/4/20
Tom Mix Series
	The Feud	5
	The Cyclone	5	2/18/20
	The Daredevil	5	3/7/20
Victory Releases
	The Devil's Riddle (Gladys Brockwell)	5	2/18/20
	A Manhattan Knight (George Walsh)
	Molly and I (Shirley Mason)
Excel Pictures
	The Hell Ship (Madlaine Traverse)	5	2/15/20
	Black Shadows (Peggy Hyland)
	Durand of the Bad Lands (Dustin Farnum)
Other Fox Entertainments
	A Manhattan Knight (George Walsh)	5
	Molly and I (Shirley Mason)	5
	Black Shadows (Peggy Hyland)	5
Pearl White Series
	The White Moll

GOLDWYN DISTRIBUTING CORP.

		Length Reels	Reviewed
Star Series Productions
	Jubilo (Will Rogers)	5	12/14/19
	The Loves of Letty (Pauline Frederick)	5	2/15/20
	Toby's Bow	5	12/28/19
	Pinto (Mabel Normand)	5	2/1/20
	Water, Water Everywhere (Will Rogers)	5	2/8/20
	The Silver Horde (Rex Beach's	5
	The Cup of Fury (Rupert Hughes)	5
	The Paliser Case (Pauline Fredericks)		2/22/20
	The Blooming Angel (Madge Kennedy)		2/15/20
	Duds (Tom Moore)
	The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come (Jack Pickford)		2/22/20
	The Street Called Straight (Basil King)
Bennison Star Series
	High Pockets	5
	A Misfit Earl	5

HALLMARK PICTURES CORP.

		Length Reels	Reviewed
	A Dangerous Affair (Herbert Rawlinson)	5
	Wit Wins (Florence Billings)	5
	Love, Honor and ? (Stuart Holmes- Ellen Cassidy)	5
	The Phantom Honeymoon (Margaret Marsh)	6
	The Heart of a Gypsy (Florence Billings)	5	12/7/19
	A Woman's Experience (Mary Boland)

Release Date			Length Reels	Reviewed

W. W. HODKINSON CORP.

Distributing Through Pathe

Benj. B. Hampton—Great Authors Pictures, Inc.
		The Sagebrusher	7	1/4/20
Zane Grey Pictures, Inc.—Benj. B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner
		The Desert of Wheat	6
J. Parker Read, Jr., Productions
		Sahara (Louise Glaum)	7	3/23/19
		The Lone Wolf's Daughter (Louise Glaum)	7	12/14/19
Deitrich-Beck, Inc.
		The Harvest Moon (Doris Kenyon)	6
Artco Productions
		The Capitol (Leah Baird)	6	12/21/19
		Cynnthia-on-the-Minnute (Leah Baird)
Robert Brunton Productions
		The Joyous Liar (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	12/14/19
		The Lord Loves the Irish (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5
		Live Sparks (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	1/25/20

JOSEPH LEVBERING PRODUCTIONS

		His Temporary Wife (Rubye De Remer)	6	1/25/20

METRO PICTURES CORP.

Nazimova Productions
		The Brat	7	9/14/19
		Stronger Than Death	6	1/18/20
		The Heart of a Child	7
Screen Classics, Inc. (Specials)
		Should a Woman Tell (Alice Lake)	6	12/28/19
		The Walk-Offs (May Allison)	6	1/25/20
		The Willow Tree (Viola Dana)	6	1/11/20
		The Right of Way (Bert Lytell)	6	2/1/20
		The Best of Luck (Drury Lane Melodrama)	6
		Old Lady 31 (Emma Dunn)	6
		Shore Acres (Alice Lake)	6
		Eliza Comes to Stay (Viola Dana)	6
		Judith (May Allison)	6
		Alias Jimmy Valentine (Bert Lytell)	6
		The Hope (All Star Cast)	6

TAYLOR HOLMES PRODUCTIONS

		Nothing But the Truth	6	1/11/20
		The Very Idea	6	2/22/20

PATHE EXCHANGE, INC.

Jan.	4	My Husband's Other Wife (Sylvia Breamer)	6	12/21/19
Jan.	11	Fighting Cressy (Blanche Sweet)	6	12/14/19
Jan.	18	The Web of Deceit (Dolores Cassinelli)	6	1/4/20
Feb.	2	Other Men's Shoes (Edgar Lewis)	5	1/18/20
Feb.	2	Respectable by Proxy (Sylvia Breamer, Robt. Gordon)	6	2/1/20
Feb.	29	Smoldering Ember (Frank Keenan)	5	2/15/20
Mar.	7	In Walked Mary (June Caprice)	5	2/29/20
Mar.	14	Tarnished Reputations (Dolores Cassinelli)	5	3/7/20
Apr.	4	Lifting Shadows (Emmy Whelen)	6
Apr	11	The Blood Barrier (Slyvia Breamer, Robert Gordon)	6
American Film Co., Inc.
		Eve in Exile (Charlotte Walker)	7	12/14/19
		The Valley of Tomorrow (Wm. Russell)	5	1/18/20
		The Dangerous Talent (Margarita Fisher)
		The Honey Bee Mme Sylva)

REALART PICTURES CORP.

		Soldiers of Fortune (Anna Q. Nilsson), Pauline Starke, Norman Kerry, Wallace Beery	7	11/16/19
		Anne of Green Gables (Mary Miles Minter)	6	11/23/19
		Erstwhile Susan (Constance Binney)	5	12/7/19
		Mystery of the Yellow Room Lorin Baker, Ethel Grey Terry, Geo. Cowl, Edmund Elton)	6	10/26/19
		The Fear Market (Alice Brady)	5	1/11/20
		Judy of Rogue's Harbor (Mary Miles Minter)	5	2/8/20
		The Stolen Kiss (Constance Binney)	5
		Sinners (Alice Brady)	5

ROBERTSON-COLE

Specials
		The Open Door	6	10/19/19
		The Broken Butterfly	6	10/26/19
		The Beloved Cheater	5	11/16/19
		The House of Intrigue	7

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

SUPERIOR PICTURES

January Releases

	Haunting Shadows (H. B. Warner)	5	1/18/20
	The Third Generation (Brentwood)	5	1/25/20
	The Beggar Prince (Sessue Hayakawa)	5	2/1/20

February Releases

	The Luck of Geraldine Laird (Bessie Barriscale)	5	2/1/20
	Seeing It Through (Za Su Pitts)	5	——

L. J. Selznick Enterprises

SELZNICK PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	The Woman God Sent (Zena Keefe)	5	——
	Footlights and Shadows (Olive Thomas)	5	2/15/20
	The Imp (Elsie Janis)	5	——
	Sooner or Later (Owen Moore)	5	——
	His Wife's Money (Eugene O'Brien)	5	——
	Greater Than Fame (Elaine Hammerstein)	5	1/18/20
	The Broken Melody (Eugene O'Brien)	5	12/28/19
	Out Yonder (Olive Thomas)	5	——
	Piccadilly Jim (Owen Moore)	5	2/8/20

SELECT PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	She Loves and Lies (Norma Talmadge)	6	1/11/20
	The Last of His People (Mitchell Lewis)	5	12/21/19
	The Undercurrent (Guy Empey)	7	12/7/19

NATIONAL PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	Blind Youth (Special Cast)	5	——
	Just a Wife (Special Cast)	5	——

REPUBLIC PICTURES

Distributed Through Republic Exchanges

	Trilby (Reissue) Tourneur Production with Clara Kimball Young	5	——
	Girl of the Sea (Williamson Sub. Prod.)	6	——
	The Amazing Woman (Ruth Clifford)	5	——
	The Blue Pearl (Edith Hallor)	5	——
	Twelve-10 (Herbert Brenon Prod.), Marie Doro	5	12/28/19
	Dad's Girl (Jackie Saunders)	5	——
	The Gift Supreme	5	——
	The Only Way Trail (Edythe Sterling)	5	——
	Mothers of Men	5	——

KINOGRAMS

Every Tuesday and Saturday.

UNITED ARTISTS' CORP.

Dec.	2 When the Clouds Roll By (Fairbanks)		1/4/20

UNITED PICTURE THEATERS

	Tiger Girl (Lillian Gish)	5	——
	The Corsican Brothers (Dustin Farnum)	6	2/28/19
	The Hick (Charles Ray)	5	——
	The Female of the Species (Dorothy Dalton)	5	——
	Women Men Forget (Mollie King)	5	——
	The Iron Strain (Dustin Farnum)	5	——

UNIVERSAL FILM MFG. CO.

Jewel Features

	Paid in Advance (Dorothy Phillips)	6	11/16/19
	The Right to Happiness (Dorothy Phillips)	8	8/24/19
	Blind Husbands (Eric Stroheim)	7	10/19/19

Universal Features

	The Pointing Finger (Mary MacLaren)	5	12/7/19
	The Day She Paid (Francelia Billington)	5	12/14/19
	The Triflers (Edith Roberts)	5	6/11/20
	The Phantom Melody (Monroe Salisbury)	5	1/25/20
	Marked Men (Harry Carey)	5	12/21/19
	Rouge and Riches (Mary MacLaren)	5	1/4/20
	The Prince of Avenue A (James Corbett)	5	1/11/20
	The Peddler of Lies (Frank Mayo, Ora Carew)	5	1/25/20
	The Forged Bride (Mary MacLaren)	5	2/1/20

VITAGRAPH

	When a Man Loves (Earle Williams)	5	1/18/20
	The Sins of the Mothers (Anita Stewart)	5	——
	The Midnight Bride (Gladys Leslie)	5	2/1/20
	Human Collateral (Corinne Griffith)	5	——
	The Birth of a Soul (Harry Morey)	5	2/1/20
	The Juggernaut (Anita Stewart)	5	——
	Deadline at Eleven (Corinne Griffith)	5	——
	The Flaming Clue (Harry T. Morey)	5	——
	The More Excellent Way (Anita Stewart)	5	——

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

Special Productions

	The Winchester Woman (Alice Joyce)	6	11/16/19
	The Climbers (Corinne Griffith)	6	11/9/19
	The Vengeance of Durant (Alice Joyce)	6	12/14/19
	Slaves of Pride (Alice Joyce)	6	1/18/20
	The Fortune Hunter (Earle Williams)	7	2/22/20
	The Sporting Duchess (Alice Joyce)	7	3/7/20
	Captain Swift (Earle Williams)	5	——

SHORT REEL RELEASES

Frohman Amusement Co.

January Releases

	Gemini Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1	——
	All Wrong Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1	——
	The Heart of Texas (Texas Guinam)	2	——
	Spirit of Cabin Mine (Texas Guinan)	2	——

C. L. Chester

January Releases

	No Coma in Acoma	1	——
	The People in White	1	——
	The Simple Life	1	——
	Mr. Outing Gets a Pipe Dream	1	——

FAMOUS PLAYERS

January Releases

	A Lady's Tailor (Sennett)	2	——
	After the Circus (Briggs)	1	——
	Push Car Trails in Formosa (Burton Holmes)	1	——

February Releases

COMEDIES

	Ten Dollars or Ten Days (Mack Sennett)	2
	Hoodooed (De Havens)	2

BURTON HOLMES TRAVEL SERIES

	Belgium Smiles Again	1
	Filming Ferocious Foremosans	1
	Parisian Faces and Figures	1
	Oriental College Boys and Co-eds	1
	The Yankee Watch on the Rhine	1

PARAMOUNT MAGAZINE

	Famous Women in Worlds Work	1
	Museum Mysteries	1
	The Lure of Fashion	1
	On the Job With Grandpa	1
	Growth of the North American Continent	1

March Releases

COMEDIES

	Teasing the Soil (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)	2
	Cleaning Up (Al St. John)	2

BURTON HOLMES TRAVEL SERIES

	Bustling Brussels	1
	Kingdom of the Yellow Rose	1
	Strassburg Redeemed	1
	The Boys' Big Club	1

PARAMOUNT MAGAZINE

	Numbers 3877, 3878, 3879, 3880 ..... each	1

CHRISTIE COMEDIES

January Releases

	Monkey Shines	1
	Ducks	1
	It Takes a Crook	1
	Oh Doctor, Doctor	1
	Save Me, Sadie (Special)	2

February Releases

	Pants and Petticoats (Special)	2
	License Applied For	1
	Should a Husband Tell	1

March Releases

	Her Bridal Night-Mare (Special)	2

UNIVERSAL

January Releases

SERIALS

	Great Radium Mystery 13 to 16 ..... each	2
	Lion Man, 2 to 5 ..... each	2

COMEDIES

	Sweet Patootie (Lyons-Moran)	1
	Adam and Eve a la Mode	2
	Some Shimmiers (Lyons-Moran)	1
	A Baby Doll Bandit	2
	Naughty Lions and Wild Men	2
	The Sweet Dry and Dry (Lyons-Moran)	2
	All for the Dough Bag	2

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
WESTERNS
	The Jay Bird (Hoot Gibson)		2
	West Is Best (Hoot Gibson)		2
February Releases
SERIALS
	Great Radium Mystery, 17 and 18 (Finish)	each	2
	The Lion Man, 6, 7, 8, 9	each	2
	Elmo, the Fearless, 1, 2, 3	each	2
COMEDIES
	Ain't Nature Wonderful (Lyons-Moran)		1
	Over the Ocean Wave		2
	Non-Skid Love (Lyons-Moran)		1
	Good Little Brownie		2
	Old Clothes for New (Lyons-Moran)		1
	The Bull Thrower		2
	New Screen Magazine, Nos. 51, 52, 53, 54	each	1
WESTERNS
	The Prospector's Vengeance		2
	Kaintuck's Ward		2
	A Sagebrush Gentleman		2

CAPITAL

January Releases
	A Man's Creed (Neal Hart)		2
	The Wilderness Man (Neal Hart)		2
	My Girl Suzzanne		2
	Bandit's Gold (Al Jennings)		2
	An Outlaw's Alibi (Al Jennings)		2
February Releases
	Boss of the Flying H (Neal Hart)		2
	The Run Aways (Neal Hart)		2
	When Outlaws Meet (Al Jennings)		2
	Bandit's Heart (Al Jennings)		2
	Screen Follies, 1 and 2	each	1
	Oh Louise (Adolph Phillip)		2

PATHE

January Releases
	Reviews 32 to 35		1
COMEDIES
	From Hand to Mouth (Harold Lloyd) (released late in Dec.)		2
	Why Go Home (Snub Pollard)		1
	Slippery Slickers (Snub Pollard)		1
	The Dippy Dentist (Snub Pollard)		1
SERIALS
	Black Secret, 9 to 12 (Pearl White)	each	2
	The Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland)	each	2
	Topics of the Day, 36 to 39	each	1
February Releases
SERIALS
	Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland) 6, 7, 8, 9	each	2
	The Black Secret (Pearl White and Walter McGrail) 13, 14, 15, 16	each	2
	Topics of the Day, 40, 41, 42, 43	each	1
COMEDIES
	All Lit Up (Snub Pollard)		1
	Getting His Goat (Snub Pollard)		1
	Waltz Me Around (Snub Pollard)		1
March Releases
SERIALS
	Daredevil Jack (Jack Dempsey) 4, 5, 6, 7	each	2
	Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland) 10, 11, 12, 13	each	2
COMEDIES
	Haunted Spooks (Harold Lloyd)		2
	Find the Girl (Snub Pollard)		1
	Fresh Paint (Snub Pollard)		1
	(Two other Pollard Comedies)	each	1
	Review Numbers 40, 41, 42, 43	each	1
	Topics of the Day Numbers 44, 45, 46, 47	each	1

HALL ROOM BOY COMEDIES

January Releases
	Wrong Again		2
	Neck and Neck		2
February Releases
	Passing the Buck		2
	Can You Beat It		2
March Releases
	Breaking Into Society		2
	Oh Baby		2

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

VITAGRAPH

January Releases
O. HENRY STORIES
	The Church With an Overshot Wheel		2
	While the Auto Waits		2
BIG V COMEDIES
	Throbs and Thrills		2
	Dames and Dentists		2
SERIALS
	The Invisible Hand (Antonio Moreno), 3 to 6	each	2
February Releases
O. HENRY STORIES
	Telamachus Friend		2
	The Dream		2
BIG V COMEDIES
	Pipe Dreams and Prizes (Harry Mann)		2
	Knights and Knighties (Montgomery and Rock)		2
SERIAL
	The Invisible Hand (Antonio Moreno) 7, 8, 9, 10	each	2

GOLDWYN

January Releases
	Bray Pictographs, 419, 420, 421, 422	each	1
March Releases
	Three Issues	each	1

FORD EDUCATIONAL WEEKLY

January Releases
	Eventide		1
	Bubbles		1
	Just Kids		1
	Taken With a Grain of Salt		1
March Releases
	Broken Silence		1
	With Every Meal		1
	Alligator Hunt		1

CAPITOL COMEDIES

	The Sure Cure (Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeHaven)		2
	Two Dollars Please		2
February Releases
	Excess Baggage (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)		2
	One Dollar Down (Neal Burns)		2
March Releases
	Forget Me Not (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)		2
	Matrimaniacs (Neal Burns)		2

FOX

January Releases
MUTT AND JEFF ANIMATED CARTOONS
	He Ain't Done Right by Our Nell		1
	On Strike		1
	Shaking the Shimmy		1
	The Rum Runners		1
March Releases
	The Mint Spy		1
	The Chemist		1
	Putting on the Dog
SUNSHINE COMEDIES
	Chicken a la Cabaret		2
	Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts		2
February Releases
SUNSHINE COMEDIES
	Sheriff Nell's Comeback		2
	Her Naughty Wind		2
	Her Private Husband		2
March Releases
	The Heart Snatcher		2
	The Lightweight Lover		2
MUTT AND JEFF ANIMATED CARTOONS
	The Plumbers		1
	"I'm Ringing Your Party"		1
	Fishing		1
	Dead-Eye Jeff		1
	The Sour Violin		1

REPUBLIC PICTURES

February Releases
	L. J. Selznick Enterprises
	Wm. J. Flynn Series (Herbert Rawlinson)		2
	Judge Browne Series		2
	Twelve Chaplin Reissues		2
KINOGRAMS
	Every Tuesday and Saturday

FILM SPECIALS

JOLLY COMEDIES
	The Close Shave (Ben Turpin)		2
	Hubby's Mistake (Gertrude Selby)		1
	Pardon Me (Gertrude Selby)		2
	Girls Will Be Girls (Leo White)		1

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES

	A Burlesque on Carmen (Charles Chaplin)		3
	The Champion (Charles Chaplin)		2
	Work (Charles Chaplin)		2
	By the Sea (Charles Chaplin)		2

WD 3/14/20

Some Short Reels

"The Count," Clark-Cornelius

In its re-issued form, this Charles Chaplin two reeler ranks with the better slap-stick comedies being produced to-day. There are two valuable assets in the production—Chaplin and some very clever business which he puts over in his original manner. Throwing of semi-liquid matter does take place in one part and there is some stuff that is usually avoided now-a-days, but the manner in which the material has been handled enables the offering to get over in good shape. Beyond doubt many fans have seen this before, and while they may not laugh at it as heartily as they did the first time, they will certainly find a goodly amount of amusement in it.

Bray Pictograph, No. 428, Goldwyn

Diagrams explaining the theoretical part of the wireless telephone, comprise the opening part of this Bray Pictograph. They deal with sound and electric waves, and then the manner in which they are combined. "Flirtation in Zooland" as the part that follows is called shows several peculiar animals, going through rather grotesque gestures. One resembling an ape protrudes its tongue, a second grins, a third rolls its eyes, while another winks. Marcus M. Baldwin is shown at work engraving a portrait of Lincoln to be used on paper currency, and in the closing part, Jerry is on the job in an animated cartoon called "The Wrong Track." It includes much funny stuff, one bit in which the diminutive railroad employee is seen taking coal out of a safe being particularly clever as worked into the offering.

"His Master's Voice," Christie

Rube comedy of the polite sort is the key-note of a highly commendable Christie one reeler. Bobby Vernon, who is featured together with Alma Bennett gives an excellent exhibition in a role somewhat unusual for him—that of a rural juvenile. Eddie Barry, as Vernon's rival also performs well and the other characters hold up their ends efficiently enough. W. Scott Darling who wrote the story furnished an excellent manuscript, that includes several truly laughable situations. In the church scene, in which Bobby, the girl he loves and her parents are seated, together with a hound, there is a sure-fire bit when Vernon, upon perceiving that Barry's singing is making an impression on Miss Bennett, urges his dog to join in. Later, his pathetic efforts to give a vocal exhibition aided by a phonograph,—pathetic because Barry discovers the ruse and spoils the plan will also provoke mirth. There is enough comedy material in the remaining footage to keep this going at a satisfactory rate of speed. It is easily as good as any of the recent Christie productions, with the dog adding some appealing touches.

"Finger Prints," Universal

Fresh from his experiences in Universal's lengthy serial, "The Great Radium Mystery," Bob Reeves appears before the fan in a two reel western which has a serious plot, around which they have woven several humorous incidents that almost make it a comedy. "Tonsorial Love" would not have been such a bad title for the production, in which hero Reeves becomes a barber for a short while in order that he may be in close proximity to the fair manicurist whom he adores. There are several laughs in that section, the light part of this being fully as great as the dramatic portion. Edward Sowders directed acceptably and Gwendolyn Logan, credited with the story did reasonably well, although she might have worked towards a stronger climax.

"The Lion Man," Universal

Episode eighteen of this serial, "In the Nick of Time" has a copious quantity of action. It starts with the heroine facing her finish, tied to an old-fashioned cannon, that a Mexican bandit is about to fire. She manages to escape, is followed by another of the gentlemen from across the border and is then rescued by a band of American troopers. Meanwhile, "The Lion Man," hero Westcott and the wicked woman who has hitherto been with the villainous crowd, but is reforming, fight the entire crew of rowdies. And there is nothing more shocking to the esthetic senses than the spectacle of the woman with her back to the wall, slugging away with the men that surround her. At the finish one couple is reunited and the other newly joined. An average ending to an average serial.

Review, No. 39, Pathe

Lourdes, a French town which is the object of numerous pilgrimages, is seen in the opening section of this Pathe review that has following the colored scenic, an industrial portion devoted to the production of cement, referred to as "The Dust that Builds Cities." Handball is taken up in a slow motion study which is as unique and entertaining as most of those that have preceded it. Dr. Ditmars' discussion of the mason wasp is interesting and Princess White Deer wiggles all over the silver sheet in an interpretative Hawaiian dance to close this meritorious offering.

"The Beauty of Nature," Post-Famous

Continuity is not very much in evidence in a scenic that has been made up at random apparently, but is in spite of that remarkably effective and possesses numerous startling shots. Some of it is unusual in that there is no motion at all, the result on the spectator being an impressive one. One shot in which dark trees are seen before a pink sky is rather sombre, yet appealing. The portion, wherein waterfalls drop on either side of some tall trees, tinted in a dark shade of green certainly holds attention, and two scenes, in which the reflection of vegetation against the horizon is reflected in the glassy, mirror-like water will more than hold the eye. Considering the excellence of its various bits, the fact that no particular order has been followed may readily be overlooked and the reel given the amount of booking it really deserves.

"Good Morning Nurse," Gaiety Comedies

Lacking spontaneous laughs, this single reel comedy which features George Ovey, will not get over any too easily. There is nothing especially novel about either the theme or the various bits connected with it and it lags in a number of places. Briefly, it concerns a troupe, which upon being thrown out of temporary quarters in a small town start to attempt to convert a health resort into a paying proposition. Two customers are removed of their capital and after some slap-stick material, the entire band, Ovey, Lillian Biron and several girls depart in an auto truck.

"Jerry's Gentle Humor," Film Specials—State Rights

Just fair, tells in a nut-shell the story of this single reel comedy in which George Ovey is featured. A real story is lacking, nor is there anything very much out of the ordinary, but there is enough humor in the various incidents to keep it going. From the beginning to end, this consists almost entirely of chase stuff or knock-about bits. When Ovey in a policeman's uniform frightens off the burglar, there is a laugh, and the scene in which he is apprehended by a detective has been screened so as to make it funny. Some of the stuff in the jail is clever also, with Ovey's personality and generally good work getting it over. Insufficient novelty is the greatest weakness of the production.

36 WD 3/14/20

Short Reels

Bray Pictograph, No. 429, Goldwyn

Pheasants, bred on New Jersey farms and photographed by permission from the New Jersey Fish and Game Commission, occupy the opening footage in an acceptable screen magazine. Chief Zat Zam, an Aztec Indian, throwing knives with astonishing accuracy is seen in the second part. He gives a remarkable exhibition while blind-folded, and is followed on the reel by a Krazy Kat cartoon which is just fair.

"Kids and Kidlets," Christie

Should you happen to need a single reel comedy with the spirit of childish play predominating, book this. Most of the fun in it centers about an exchange of babies being taken care of by their older sisters, themselves quite young —one white and the other colored. Jimmie Harrison and Helen Darling are featured, but have little to do, most of the work falling on the able shoulders of the youngsters. Edgar Washington and Warda Caulfield are the other credited performers, and one of the little girls certainly deserves mention. W. Scott Darling's story is up to the mark and they have done very well with it.

"The Race for Glory," Pathe

Needless to say, the bout started in the preceding episode of the Jack Dempsey serial, results in the champion's putting over the swat sophorific on the chin of his opponent after taking a beating. Jack lacerates the atmosphere savagely for the better part of two rounds and is floored with astonishing frequency. He gives his college mates a chance to whoop it up, however, when he sends the pugilist who opposes him into the land where happiness reigns supreme. The footage that follows is occupied mainly with a race between an auto and locomotives. Our scrappy hero is tossed off the rear of the train as the spectator is advised to see the next episode.

"A Philistine in Bohemia," Vitagraph

Combining realistic production with titles from the original O. Henry text, Vitagraph has injected into this two reeler, much of the spirit of the noted short story writer. Edna Murphy in the feminine lead gives a highly satisfactory performance and is quite attractive, while George De Winter who plays the Italian spaghetti expert holds his own. It is rather unconventional in films to have the heroine agree to wed the over-polite foreigner, but then all of O. Henry's stories are unconventional, wherein lies their charm. In this, he has gone to the heart of New York, selected a girl residing in the East Side, and an Italian, associated with a Bohemian restaurant as his leading characters. Visualizing the tale in suitable style and adding some excellent shots of New York's Union and Washington Square sections, they have made a worth while offering, a trifle obvious perhaps, but one that should play many houses.

"Teasing the Soil," Paramount-DeHaven

"Teasing the Soil," the latest comedy in which Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven appear utilizes the rather conventional idea of city folks attempting to run a farm. The gags run on the order of the impossible and show such scenes as the city fellow placing a pail beneath a cow and requesting her to give milk and attempting to shoot a chicken with a shot gun. The cow trick gets the biggest laugh, and this, together with a few others that cause ripples, get the comedy over but it is very slack in spots. Keene Thompson wrote the story and Charles Parrott directed.

"The Vanishing Dagger," Universal

From an English estate to Arizona, where the bucking broncbos buck and cattle rustlers rustle, Eddie Polo goes through various dangers, in order that he may gain posession of a jeweled dagger referred to in the title as "The Vanishing Dagger," but which does not seem to do very much vanishing. Eddie does it all for the woman in the case, he does,—gets himself tossed off a cliff, mixed up in an auto smash-up, dropped from a hydroplane and dragged in the dust at the uncomfortable end of a lasso. Certainly, there is variety in the production.

At first, the arch villain is an Oriental prince and after that an international crook and his lady pal send him to other worlds. Of course his dusky wife, who was beginning to be peeved at the interest shown in the English girl vows vengeance, but is side-tracked for a few reels, during which Polo tried to apprehend the newly introduced evil-doer. Polo incidentally does not seem to pay very much attention to the customs over in dear old England, for when his shirt is removed, he wanders about quite comfortably without it.

It has all of the elements that go to make up a successful serial. There is hypnotism, more of the supernatural, some Oriental stuff and a multiplicity of complications. The star executes several dives and performs other thrills that will win favor and the production should hold interest right up to the finish. Technically it is weak in several places, but it has the necessary thrills.

"Strange Fish," Mentor

Peculiar fish, abounding in the Mediterranean, have been screened for this Mentor production, the first section of which has been colored acceptably. The water was not always perfectly clear. Nevertheless, the results are interesting. A train's course from Christiana to Bergen, Norway, is followed in the footage which concludes. This has been photographed well, and much of it is pleasing to the eye, but there is also some dull stuff. They will probably get a fair-sized amount of booking on it, but the reel is not as good as many of the others turned out by this organization recently.

"Mary's Nightmare," Christie

Little trouble will be found outguessing the story of this. "Mary's Nightmare" explains just what it is all about, and thereby detracts somewhat from the suspense in the offering. Billy Rhodes is featured, and Cullen Landis occupies the only other prominent role. It has a few bits of footage that will cause titters, but as a whole, is not up to the best Christie standard.

Two young lovers are dealt with in it. They are about to be married (they hardly look old enough) on the following day. While strolling about on the beach, they see a girl having two of her front teeth broken. Mary asks her escort if he would continue to love her should her front teeth be removed, and he replies in the affirmative. Thereafter, she dreams that two of her teeth are false, that she loses them and faces being wed without them. The groom discards her upon seeing her in such a state and she is most unhappy until she wakes up.

Supreme Achievement of Motion Picture Drama

"DEMOCRACY"

"THE" VISION RESTORED

(Copyright 1920)

A ten-reel cinema epic of enthralling, world-wide interest as announced in December, 1918

"DEMOCRACY" will find a welcome in all parts of the earth, because it is a dramatization of the everyday struggles and aspirations of humanity for Justice, Right and Freedom.

"DEMOCRACY" will grip and thrill millions of spectators with the ideas and emotions which in all ages and countries have made heroes of common men.

Combined Effort Of Three Great Minds

LEE FRANCIS LYBARGER

Thinker—Historian—Orator

10,000,000 people in 46 states have heard this distinguished orator expound Democracy from the lecture platform, during the past fifteen years. He retired as president of the International Lyceum and Chatauqua Association of America to produce this epoch-making photo-drama.

Photo by Paul Thompson

NINA WILCOX PUTNAM

AUTHOR—DRAMATIST

10,000,000 people have read the human interest stories of this brilliant writer each week in the Saturday Evening Post. She brings to this photodrama that deep intuition and understanding of woman and the part she has played in the worlds struggle for Democracy.

WILLIAM NIGH

Master Play—Builder

20,000,000 people in the United States have marveled at Director Nigh's screen triumph "My Four Years in Germany." He stands supreme as a master of screen craft.

Releasing Plans to be Announced

DEMOCRACY PHOTO PLAY CO.

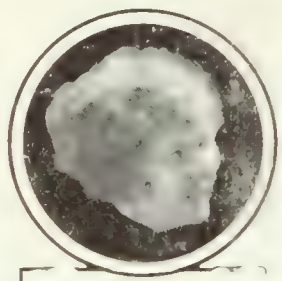
THOMAS A. EDISON STUDIO

NEW YORK CITY

"It Cost Me Two Trips to Jail and $10,000, But It Was Worth It."—

Will Rogers, in "The Strange Boarder"

The Inspector



Florry

Jake Bloom

"Kittie" Hinch

WILL ROGERS demonstrates once more his right to be called the most human figure on the screen. This is important for you to know—now. Your prompt acceptance of this fact means money in your pockets. You can't go wrong on Will Rogers. Start going right by booking 'The Strange Boarder," his finest picture to date.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN PRESENTS

WILL ROGERS

IN

THE STRANGE BOARDER

BY WILL PAYNE

DIRECTED BY CLARENCE BADGER

GOLDWYN PICTVRES CORPORATION

SAMVEL GOLDWYN IS Just

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. NO. 74 Monday, March 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Howells Sees Danger

Deplores Switching of Exporters to Importing—Foreign Trade in Jeopardy

David P. Howells, foreign distributor for First National, points out the grave future danger from what appears to be a concerted action by several film exporters to abandon their foreign affiliations and turn to other phases of the domestic industry.

"Present conditions may reduce our profits as an export house," says Howells, "and they may add greatly to the expense of operation, but we feel what should be a common responsibility among all American exporters who have solicited the confidence, the good will and the business of buyers abroad, that so long as the situation does not force us into bankruptcy, and so long as it enables us to continue without sacrificing everything we own or have, that we have a great duty and responsibility to discharge in aiding our foreign customers to fight the turbulence through the success.

"Wherever the facts have merited, we have readjusted our contracts with buyers in Europe so that they can continue as handlers of American pictures. We are trying in every way we can to lighten the pressure and to develop a more friendly and confident feeling, not toward ourselves especially, but toward all American exporters. If the men who regularly send film abroad expect to get out of the export business the moment they find the going a little rough, and offering promise for the future instead

(Continued on Page 3)

Two More for C. K. Young

Equity announces the last two of the first series of Clara Kimball Young productions of the coming year.

They will be "For the Soul of Rafael," and Sir Arthur Wing Pinero's, "Mid-Channel."

Nat'l Pictures to Hold Meeting

National Pictures Theaters will hold a six day convention at the Astor beginning on April 11 which is the last day of the Select-Selznick convention.

All of the National franchise holders will be here. W. H. Clune. of the Auditorium, Los Angeles is already in town. Clune holds the National franchise in Southern California.

He intercepted the savage creeping toward the women's quarters and crushed his head with a blow—D. W. Griffith's, "The Idol Dancer," a First National Attraction.—Advt.

Lincoln Sues

Wants Accounting of Receipts From "Virtuous Men"

Edward K. Lincoln has sued the Associated Pictures Corp. Herbert Lubin and Arthur H. Sawyer for an accounting of the receipts from the film, "Virtuous Men." The complaint alleges that the plaintiff agreed to give his services for $4,000 and to advance $30,000 cash to the defendants for the production of photoplay and the Associated Pictures was to make it and after all rights had been sold the plaintiff and the Associated were to divide the profits, and Lubin and Sawyer guaranteed that the contract with the corporation would be carried out.

(Continued on Page 2)

Harris a Visitor

John B. Harris of Pittsburgh, one of the old timers in the game who has been in Los Angeles for some time past is a visitor. Renewing old acquaintances.

No Census

For the Film Industry, According to Director Samuel L. Rogers

Advices received in New York from Samuel L. Rogers, director of the census, are to the effect that the census of 1920 will include no figures with reference to the motion picture industry.

It is understood that the chief difficulty that the director of the census found with regard to having the census taken was "in the way of harmonizing the statistics for the industry with those for manufacturing establishments."

The decision of the director of the census will probably prove very disconcerting to a number of important executives in the industry who felt that in view of the correspondence passing regarding this important topic that certainly the motion picture industry would be included in the census now being taken.

Buying Powers Out

Laemmle and Cochrane Have Deal Now Under Way for Universal Stock

A deal is now under way by which the interest held in Universal Film by P. A. Powers, treasurer of the corporation will be taken over by Carl Laemmle and Robert H. Cochrane.

Laemmle is president of the company and Cochrane is vice-president.

It was stated on Saturday that the kindliest feelings and the best of relations existed between the three executives.

Special Pictures Gets Henri

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles — Special Pictures Corp. has secured Robert Henri as director of publicity. Henri was formerly with Sol Lesser.

The first Comedy Art production will be shown at the California theater March 28.

The company reports in the neighborhood of 7,000 inquiries for information relative to the Comedy Art productions.

Ontario Censor Order Less Stringent

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Toronto—The Canadian Moving Picture Digest says editorially, in part:

"The Order-in-Council passed by the Ontario Government which provided for a most stringent censorship of motion picture advertising has been considerably modified, and a new order succeeds it. The new ordinance dispenses with the necessity of theaters submitting their newspaper advertising for censorship, and also eliminates the censorship license of $10 year for each theater.

"Within the past week, the monthly license applicable to the exchanges has been abolished, and the censorship fee has been increased to $3 a reel, with an additional sum of $1 a reel to be paid at the time is submitted for censorship."

Kremer Acquires "Skinner's Dress Suit"

Victor Kremer Film Features, Inc., has secured the rights to "Skinner's Dress Suit" for United States and Canada.

Why worry with details?
Let Solomon handle 'em, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 74 Monday, March 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	78	78⅞	78⅞
*Do Pfd.	88	88¾	88
Goldwyn	23	24	23½
Loew's, Inc.	30	30	30
Triangle	7-16	9-16	7-16
Unit. Pict. Prod.	13¾	13¾	13¾
World Film	....	....	1

No trading Saturday. *Friday's quotations. Thursday's quotations.

June Caprice on Tour

June Caprice left last week for Knoxville, to start on a tour of the Southern Loew Theaters, appearing in person three days in each house.

Lincoln Sues

(Continued from Page 1)

Lincoln says that he and Edna Weinberg were elected directors of the corporation but the defendants sold the rights for more than $100,000 without the consent of the directors. He says he has received the $4,000 for his service and the $30,000 he advanced but has got nothing more.

Mr. Lincoln says the defendants sent him a statement purporting to show that the picture cost $103,878 and netted only $83,562 but he contends that not all the sales were reported and that charges were made which were improper. The receipt from the photoplay as reported were:

New York State, $7,500; Mich, Ill., and Ind., $20,000; West. Pa. and West, Va., $5,750; Ohio, $10,150; N. J., $3,000; West Can., $2000; East Can., $2,382; D. C., Md., Va., N. C., $2,500; N. M., Wyo., Col., Utah, $1,170; Ia., Neb., Tex., Okla., Ark., N. D., S. D., Wis., Minn., Oreg., Wash., Id., Mont. and Alaska, $11,000; La., Miss., $1,250; New England, $4,10; Cal., Nev., Ariz., $3,500; Kan., Mo., $3,000; East Pa., $2,750 and Ga., Fla., Alab., Tenn., S. C., $2,700.

Among Exchangemen

Cincinnati, O.—Steve Hettesberg, connected with various film exchanges for many years, is now a traveling representative for the McMahan and Jackson exchange.

Chicago, Ill.—A. G. Spencer, formerly with Metro, is now a salesman for Pathe, selling special features He recently sold his interest in the Playhouse.

Chicago, Ill.—E. A. Klar is now a member of United's sales staff covering territory reaching from Iowa, the central part of Illinois and Indiana.

Chicago, Ill.—James Guest, formerly with Triangle and S. R. Moses, recently with Hallmark are now with Metro's sales staff covering Chicago territory.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Louis Hirsch will spend $5,000 to remodel his newly acquired Spruce. He owns the New Forest.

Ranier, Ore.—J. H. Boomer has secured a half interest in the Grand and Vogue at Kelso.

New Theaters

Paxton, Ill.—The Alcru Thea Co. will start construction work a new house shortly.

Stoughton, Wis.—A. C. Ellick and M. H. Teige will build.

Hastings, Neb.—Fred Jones owns the Gem will build a house.

Jamaica, L. I.—W. C. Baker erect a film house.

Wheeling, W. Va.—Albert Schenck in conjunction with York interests will build here.

Compare a tin whistle to a brass band, and you will get some idea of the relation between ordinary posters and RITCHEY posters.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8368

Ritchey

LIFE

She was beautiful, she loved him.
She was the mother of his child, yet, he spurned her for a woman of shame.

Mollie King
in
"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Drama of Love anl Life

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By
United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.
J. A. Berst, Pres.

ATTENTION PRODUCER!!!

I am offering for sale the Motion Picture Producing Rights of TWO of the GREATEST BROADWAY SUCCESSES ever submitted to picture producers namely:

"ADELE"
THE TRIUMPH OF BROADWAY
—ONE YEAR'S RUN IN NEW YORK—
Played 3 Seasons on the Road by 2 Companies
and
"THE GIRL WHO SMILES"
ANOTHER BROADWAY HIT!

Address all communications to
Care of Adolf Philipp Film Corporation
PAUL PHILIPP
11 East 14th Street New York City

THINK ABOUT INSURANCE

Did you ever stop to think of the many business failures that could have been avoided by insurance.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

CHESTER OUTINGS

Are

JOLLY JOURNEYS

C. L. CHESTEI PRODUCTIONS

owells Sees Danger

(Continued from Page 1)

g profits on the instant, they are ding the way it will be exceed-difficult for the exporters who and fight through to find any-like a normal market. Euro-importers are pressed almost e breaking point now.
dd to all the worries generating these facts a complete rear-ement of the American export tion, and you have the proverlast straw, which will decide the foreign buyers to bend every gy to the encouragement of pean made pictures as a subte, at far less cost and with far worry and strain, for the Amer-pictures they now import."

Holds Rights to Stage Plays ul Philipp, business manager, lp Philipp Film Corp. has the ts of "Adele," and "The Girl Smiles."

Pritchard Leaves Allen's

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

oronto—Robert Pritchard who been acting as director of pub-y and advertising for the Allen's resigned.

House Changes

West Toronto, Can.—E. A. Smither has been named manager of Allen's Beaver.

Chicago, Ill.—Louis Reichert has been appointed assistant to Harry W. Willard, manager of the local Realart exchange.

New Waterford, Can.—E. R. Lynn of the Casino, Sydney, has leased a new house being built by the local parish.

Monmouth, Ill.—Glenn Brown has leased the Elite from Frank Barrows.

North Webster, Ind. — W. H Bockman and Edwin Black have reopened the Recreation.

Detroit, Mich.—The seating capacity of the Castle, on Hastings St. will be enlarged from 500 to 1,400. Alteration work will be complete by March 1.

Detroit, Mich.—The Duplex is now owned by William F. Klatt.

New Orleans, La.—J. J. Shimkowitz, owner of the Trymore, Mobile has purchased the Queen which he is remodeling. He contemplates the erection of a new house on a site adjoining the Queen.

Monroe, Wis.—Joe Baban, owner of the Washington is remodeling.

Monticello, Ill.—The Princess wil' be remodeled.

get busy! S.R.O. 12

Goldwyn Pictures

The difference between moving pictures and Goldwyn pictures is the difference between speculation and investment.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
Camp Street
Orleans, La.
64 West Randolph Street
Chicago, Ill.

Comedies Need Effective Presentation, too.
Filmusic Cue Sheets are provided with all Arbuckle, Sennett, A St. John and Carter de Haven Comedies.
WHY NOT WITH YOURS?
FILMUSIC STUDIOS, Hollywood

"EMPTY ARMS"

WANTED: DIRECTOR and CAMERAMAN of exceptional ability and record to sail for London in May to make four picture productions. State full particulars in first letter. Address all communications, which will be treated confidential, to

CARLE E. CARLTON
Times Building—Bryant 434. Crest Pictures Corporation

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Omaha -When "Pollyanna" was being shown at the Sun, Manager Harry Goldberg offered prizes of $5, $3, $2 and $1 for the best essays by school children on the subject, "Why I Am Glad."

Pictures of Miss Pickford were offered the next 25 contestants. Hundreds of school children wrote essays. Co-operating with the Omaha World-Herald, the Sun also put on a special morning matinee for children in the charity homes of the city. The Sun increased its admission prices for the show, which was run simultaneously at the Muse, owned by the same people. The Sun broke all previous records.

Zanesville, O.—An offer of $25 to any couple who would permit themselves to be married on the stage of the Liberty, advertised in a tie-up with local tradesman, resulted in big business for "Please Get Married."

The display covered two pages, in the center being the offer of the house, and about it offers of various merchants to furnish the presents. A butcher offered $5 worth of meat, a jeweler, a wedding ring, etc. The linking up of the ads, resulted in publicity for the theater and business men who co-operated.

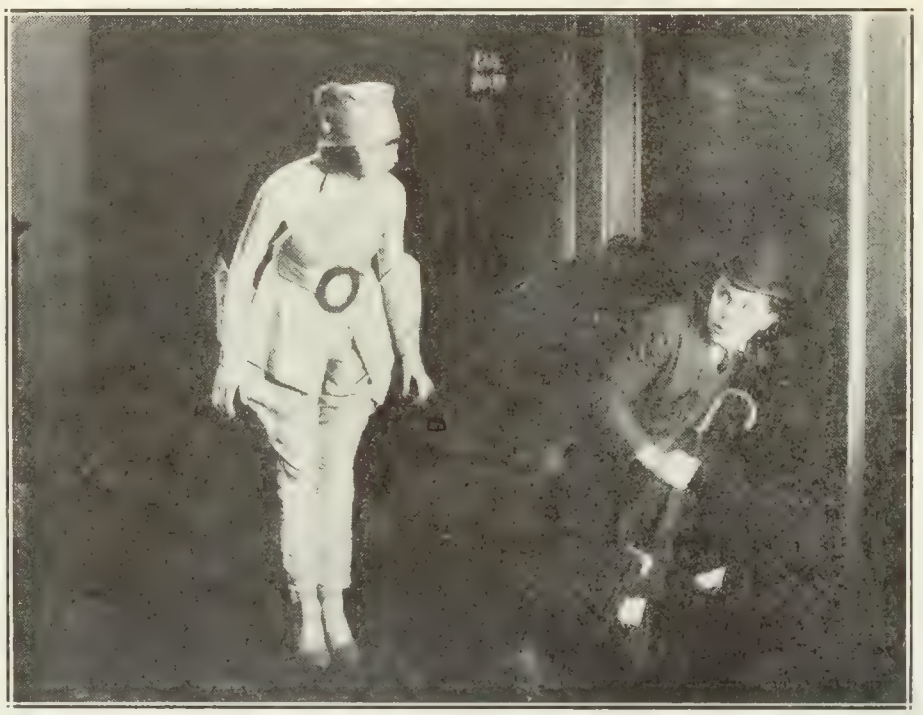
Indianapolis, Ind.—When the business center was crowded recently with people out to lunch, Bingham and Cohen, of the Colonial had toy balloons in large numbers released skyward, with tickets of admission tied to each one. Quite inexpensive for it cost nothing but the price of a few balloons, the passes and some previous advertising, the stunt served to put Alice Brady in her first Realart production, "The Fear Market" over with a bang. In addition there was considerable billboard advertising.

Watertown, S. D.—E. A. Doyle will build a 1,400 seat house.

Hanks, N. D.—H. P. Brackleberg has opened a new theater.

Pensacola, Fla.—D. L. Hapgood has sold the Liberty and Pastime.

Belleview, Ky.—Peter Smith, of Dayton, O., has acquired a site for a $100,000 theater.



'Petticoats and Pants" is the title of Christie's latest special comedy, featuring Bobby Vernon.—Advt.

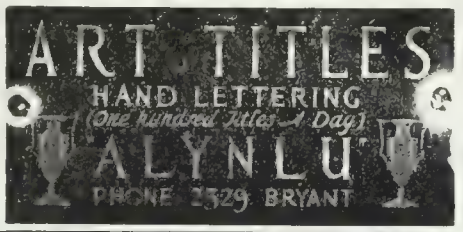
Large House for Boston

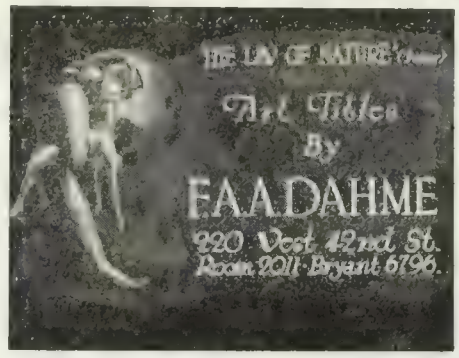
Boston, Mass. — Gordon Schoolman will spend $1,000,000 the erection of a house at Washton and Province St.

Herbert Rawlinson's second s ring vehicle under the J. St Blackton banner will be "The Spinners."

WANTED
Director
for 5 Reel Comedy Drama
and Two Reel Comedies
Steady Position
Address Full Particulars
c/o Box-B-66 WID'S.

WANTED
Scenario Writer
for 5 Reel Comedy Drama
and Two Reel Comedies
Steady Position
Address Full Particulars
c/o Box-B-76 WID'S.





FOR SALE
Negative and 17 Print and quantity of paper of Startling Drama of Societ Gamblers. Beautiful youn female star and well know cast! Was partially release by one of the largest and mos prominent picture corpora tions in the market which wa recently absorbed by new in terests. Very low cash pric
C. B. Price Co., Inc.
Times Building, N .Y. C.
Bryant 799

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRD"
LOUIS MEYE
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER
TITLE
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRA
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SA
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. · ROOM 3

FOR RENT
1,000 square feet office space with film vault. Ready for immediate occupancy. For information, call Bryant 3427 and ask for Mr. Barr.

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

803
Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding
Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. NO. 75 Tuesday, March 16, 1920 Price 5 Cents

R. C. Convention

ield Force and Home Officials Open Session at Astor Today

The first semi-annual convention the Robertson-Cole field force and upervisors will open today at the stor. The confab will last four ays during which time the home ffice executives will address the anagers on the company's policy. Th. first session opens at 9 a. m. the home offices. A. S. Kirkpatck of the distributing company will lk as will R. S. Cole.

Luncheon will be held at the Astor hile "Clarence" will be taken in at ight.

In addition to the recently anpunced Capellani productions and ose of Dustin Farnum, it is unerstood that Robertson-Cole have ed up some additional important oducing units which may be anbunced during the convention sesons.

Universal Plans Confab

Harry Berman of Universal will ld a convention of the eastern dist managers of Universal including a number of middle western and stern cities. It will be at the Astr commencing March 22.

Later meetings will be held in icago and Los Angeles for those tricts.

Another Convention

Republic Distributing will hold a nvention of its sale force day and e with the Select-Selznick conntion beginning April 5 at the Astor.

Waiting Room Up to Date

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago, Ill.—Schoenstadt & Sons he announced plans for a combinafi hotel and theater building to be ected on Hyde Park Blvd. and Bckstone Ave. the most exclusive rdential district on the south side. Th y are planning the most beautiful, thoroughly equipped and luxurious ter of the country. One novelty w be a waiting room so the people w not have to stand in line in the lobby, and performers will be engaged to entertain the patrons while th are waiting to get into the regul show. Ground will be broken immediately. This will make the eighth house owned by Schoenstadt & ons in Chicago. It is hoped the building will be completed by next spring.

He turned the melody into a jangling discord when she smiled bewitchingly at his rival—From D. W. Griffith's, "The Idol Dancer," a First National Attraction.—Advt.

Mayflower and Realart

All of the Mayflower productions scheduled for release through Realart except the Charles Miller and Walsh productions will be released elsewhere. This was admitted yesterday by a Mayflower official.

This means that the Allan Dwan and Emil Chautard, as well as the series of Robert Chambers works will be released elsewhere. Deals have not yet been closed but it would not prove unlikely that the Associated Exhibitors released the greater portion of the Mayflower product.

New Producing Unit

Broadwell Pictures, Inc., a Massachusetts corporation will manufacture short subjects and features. Capitalization, $300,000.

The officers of the company are R. B. Broadwell, president, R. T. Charlton, treasurer and A. H. Holland, secretary. Others interested are H L. Stevens, W. H. Thompson and Judge Frank Leveroni.

Arbuckle in F. P. Pictures

Famous Players yesterday announced the signing of "Fatty" Roscoe Arbuckle for three years to do five reel features.

WID'S DAILY in its issue of January 30 stated that Arbuckle would probably make five reelers only in the feature.

Blumenthal Returns

Ben Blumenthal, president of Export and Import returned from abroad on the "La France" on Sunday.

Two More for Republic

Republic Distributing has acquired "Children Not Wanted" an Edith Day-Crest Prod. and "Common Sense" with Vola Vale and Ralph Lewis, directed by Louis Chaudet.

National Association to Move

The National Association has not selected a suite in the building at 41st St. and 6th Ave. but one in the New York theater building. Will move on March 31.

"Nothing Doing"

Ince and Read Leave for Coast Without Making Announcement

"Nothing doing."

Thomas H. Ince and J. Parker Read, Jr. left for California yesterday without issuing any announcement regarding the distribution of the Associated Producers product.

While negotiations have been under way since Ince's and Read's stay in New York, it can be authoritatively stated that nothing will be announced until the return of the two producers to the coast.

At the time the distribution announcement is made the general manager of the organization may also be named .

Sig Schlager Mr. Read's perosnal press representative remains in New York.

Eileen Percy With Fox

Los Angeles—Eileen Percy, it is reported, has signed with Fox to do a series of six pictures.

The local Fox offices "had nothing to say" about the matter.

Big Business for "River's End"

"The River's End" Marshal Neilan's first production for First National is expected to go over its original quota of $500,000. Present indications have it that the picture will gross $700,000. It did over $100,000 the first week of its release.

Saxe and Swanson With National

Latest franchise holders of National Picture Theaters are Tom Saxe of Milwaukee and William Swanson of the Swanson Theater, Salt Lake City.

Eschmann, Pathe Feature Manager

E. A. Eschmann, formerly Pathe manager at Chicago has been made feature sales manager of the organization. He is succeeded in Chicago by W. A. Aschmann, formerly in Milwaukee.

Kansas Exhibitors to Convene

Wichita, Kansas—The Kansas Exhibitors' Convention will take place late in March, probably about the 29th.

Bernstein Here

Isadore Bernstein, producing director for National, is in town with a print of "The Kentucky Colonel."

This is Julian M. Solomon's advt.
Let Solomon do it for you, he's wise.—Advt

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 75 Tuesday, March 16, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	79	80¼	80¼
Do, pfd.	88	89½	88
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	29¾	31	31
Triangle	½	⅝	⅝
United Pict. Prod.	13¾	14	14
World Film	....	....	1

Typhoon Representative

Raleigh, N. C.— O. R. Brown, picture supply man and partner in the A. & B. M. P. Supply Co. has been appointed representative of the Typhoon Co. for North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia

?

Is your husband in love with your best friend?

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Theme of Today

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

On Broadway

Capitol—"My Lady's Garter."
Capitol News.
Sunshine Comedy, "A High Diver's Last Kiss."
Stage Women's Series, "The Madonna of the Slums."

Rivoli—Charles Ray, "Alarm Clock Andy."
Rivoli Pictorial.
Harold Lloyd Comedy, "Haunted Spooks."

Rialto—"Huckleberry Finn."
Rialto Magazine.
Chester Comedy, "Four Times Foiled."

Strand—Eminent Authors, "Dangerous Days."
Strand Topical Digest."
Harold Lloyd Comedy, "Haunted Spooks."

New York—Tom Moore, "Duds."
Wednesday: Tom Mix, "The Daredevil."
Thursday: Frank Mayo, "Burnt Wings."
Friday: Peggy Hyland, "The Black Shadow."
Dolores Cassinelli, "Tarnished Reputations."
Saturday: MacLean and May, "What's Your Husband Doing?"
Sunday: Mae Murray, "On With the Dance."

Moss' Broadway—Blanche Sweet, "The Deadlier Sex."
Powder Puff Frolic.

Brooklyn Strand.—Constance Talmadge, "In Search of a Sinner."

Next Week

Capitol — Ethel Clayton, "The Young Mrs. Winthrop."

Rivoli.—Wallace Reid, "Excuse My Dust."

Rialto—Dorothy Gish, "Mary Ellen Comes to Town."

Strand—D. W. Griffith's "The Idol Dancer."

Brooklyn Strand—Eminent Authors' "Dangerous Days."

New Sales on Jester Comedies

Territorial Sales Corp. has sold the Jester Comedies to Mid West Dist. Co Milwaukee for Wisconsin.

Pearce Film Co. of New Orleans for Mississippi, Louisiana, and Arkansas; Magnet Feature Film Exchange, 418 Harrison St., Davenport, Ia. for Nebraska and Iowa.

Lynch Enterprises Buy More Typhoon Equipments

Atlanta—The S. A. Lynch Enterprises, operating one of the largest chains in the South, have placed with the Typhoon Fan Co. during the last few days, another large order for Typhoons.

The Lynch orders just received cover Typhoon equipment for the Palace, Fort Worth; The New Theater, Little Rock; Ranger, Ranger, Texas and Queen, Dallas.

Form New Company

Bicknell, Ind.—The Grand Theater Co. has been organized with a capital of $15,000. H. R. Willoughby, Charles Huleln, Jr., and Henry H. Osterhage are the directors.

Erie Strand Changes Hands

Erie, Pa.—Rowland and Clark Theaters have purchased the Strand for $250,000. It seats 2,000.

"EMPTY ARMS"

Masi Directing Kaufman Picture

Philip W. Masi has been added to the staff of directors working on the Herbert Kaufman productions, being made at the Fort Lee studios.

Eichenlaub Joins First National

Chicago—E. J. Eichenlaub, formerly with Famous Players-Lasky in this territory has joined the First National exchange as sales manager, succeeding Harry Weiss, resigned.

R. C. Seery continues as general manager.

Albany — Educare Amusement Corp. of New Jersey has been chartered to engage in business in this state.

The government will benefit greatly from the fact that RITCHEY posters were so generally used in the theaters last year. Their use made a most appreciable increase in the exhibitor's income tax returns.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8368

Ritchey

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.

Fred Schaefer
Continuity and Titles
Vitagraph

FOR RENT
Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmar Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46t Phone Bryant 7498.

Censorship

e on Sunday Blue Laws Today
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

smarck, N. D.—The vote on the e wide referendum on Sunday ter closing will be taken today ne state house. The North Da- exhibitors association headed Sam P. Cornish, 300 strong, feel they will win. The Independent ion numbering about 30,000 is porting the theater men.

ect Censor Bill to Be Reported
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

oston—An informal vote taken ommittee members of the Legis- re indicates that a censorship bill ome sort will be reported today. believed that the sub-committee recommend the exercise of cen- hip by the state department of r and industry.

Dinner By Howells

avid P. Howells tendered a din- to Chester E. Sawyer and Hor- T. Clarke last night at the Astor re their departure for South erica and the Orient respectively.

Hodkinson Rusticating

W. W. Hodkinson has left for a two week's fishing trip and general vacation in Florida.

Spear With Betzwood

"Ken" Spear, formerly production manager for Master Films, Inc. has been engaged by Betzwood Film of Philadelphia to produce the Toonerville Trolley Comedies based on the cartoons of Fontaine Fox.

He will co-direct with Robert Eddy, formerly with Mack Sennett. Production will start about April 15th.

New Coast Combination

Los Angeles—Sam Rork of the Katherine MacDonald Company, Eugene Roth, prominent theater owner and E. J. Carroll, of Australia have formed a new producing unit.

Carroll's connections insure distribution of the product in Australia and in Britain.

One of his pictures made in Australia, "The Sentimental Bloke" will be released in this country by Sol Lesser.

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

WANTED
Scenario Writer
for 5 Reel Comedy Drama and Two Reel Comedies
Steady Position
Address Full Particulars
c/o Box-B-76 WID'S.

get busy! S.R.O. 12

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.
Animated artistic titles hand painted illustrating nature artistically. Call Bryant 5856. It means service.

WANTED
Director
for 5 Reel Comedy Drama and Two Reel Comedies
Steady Position
Address Full Particulars
c/o Box-B-66 WID'S.

Goldwyn Pictures
The secret of the success of Goldwyn Pictures is no secret at all—ask any progressive exhibitor.

Phone Tremont 1635
MR PRODUCER
Tremont Film Lab. Corp.,
NOW OPEN
specializing in the developing of negatives and first positives Only.
HARRY GLICKMAN, PRESIDENT
EDWARD HORN, TREASURER

THE
Hal Benedict Studios, Inc.
Offers
To the Motion Picture Producer working space in one of the largest and most completely equipped studios in Greater New York, located at College Point.

Two connecting stages, 100 x 70 ft. and 60 x 50 ft., respectively. Latest type Wohl, Kligel and Cooper-Hewitt lighting, with a 56 switch, double throw 4 panel Metropolitan board. Capacity 15,000 amperes.

Complete scenic equipment with expert crew. Offices, dressing-rooms, projection and loading rooms, shops, etc.

For detailed information and terms, telephone

HAL BENEDICT
FLUSHING 3000

Skinner in "Kismet"

To Be Released By Robertson-Cole Take Over Production—Work Starts

Robertson-Cole have arranged with the receivers of the Waldorf Photoplays, Ltd., and will produce "Kismet" with Otis Skinner in the title role.

Almost immediately they will send several representatives to California to arrange for the production. In the neighborhood of $400,000 will be spent on the production which will be ready for release sometime in September. The name of the director who will handle this production has not been announced but it is understood efforts are being made to secure a director of unusual importance.

A number of important picture folk are on record as considering "Kismet" as one of the best bets of the popular plays not yet produced.

Enid, Okla.—The Royal is now the property of Mr. Abernathy.

Mrs. Emile Chautard's Funeral

The funeral of Mrs. Alice Chautard, wife of Emile Chautard, well konwn director now with Mayflower, and mother of George Archainbaud, took place yesterady from the Campbell Funeral Parlors at 11 o'Clock. Mrs. Chautard died very suddenly on Saturday after a brief illness.

Silver Buys Territory

M. J. Silver of Denver, purchas Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New ico rights on the Fidelity Pictures release "The Married Virgin."

ATTENTION PRODUCER!!!

I am offering for sale the Motion Picture Producing Rights of TWO of the GREATEST BROADWAY SUCCESSES ever submitted to picture producers namely:

"ADELE"

THE TRIUMPH OF BROADWAY
—ONE YEAR'S RUN IN NEW YORK—
Played 3 Seasons on the Road by 2 Companies

and

"THE GIRL WHO SMILES"
ANOTHER BROADWAY HIT!

Address all communications to

PAUL PHILIPP
Care of Adolf Philipp Film Corporation
11 East 14th Street New York City

HAVE YOU A PROPOSITION?

One of the best known COMEDY STARS who has been featured by the FOREMOST PRODUCING COMPANIES in the United States, whose features have always been released by HIGHEST CLASS ORGANIZATIONS.

Present contract expires in about 30 days. For interview, address Box 33—WID'S DAILY, Hollywood Office.

FOR RENT

1,000 square feet office space with film vault. Ready for immediate occupancy. For information, call Bryant 3427 and ask for Mr. Barr.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Located

Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling Syster
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New Yor

6805

Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding

Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building Los Angeles

WANTED: DIRECTOR and CAMERAMAN of exceptional ability and record to sail for London in May to make four picture productions. State full particulars in first letter. Address all communications, which will be treated confidential, to

CARLE E. CARLTON
Times Building—Bryant 434. Crest Pictures Corporation

the BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. NO. 76 Wednesday, March 17, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Plan a Big Special

ourt Action Reveals Desire to lake $150,000 "Wallingford" Film

Injunction proceedings brought in e Supreme Court against Vitaaph and Pathe Freres by the Star ., reveal a desire on the part of e latter to spend $150,000 on an aborate version of "Get Rich Quick allingford."

The Star Co. is the holding comny of the William R. Hearst pubations and since International lm is the Hearst film unit it is sumed that the latter was to make e production.

The proceedings are brought to strain Vitagraph and Pathe from ing the name "Wallingford" in a cture which it is claimed is about be started and also to restrain adrtising or offering for sale films der the names 'Get Rich Quick allingford" or "The New Adven-res of J. Rufus Wallingford" and hers.

The complaint states that the aintiff intended producing the ories in 1915 but that Cohan and arris had objected. The film

(Continued on Page 3)

Irwin After Buffalo Theater

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Buffalo, N. Y.—Walter W. Irwin rmerly of Vitagraph and Famous ayers was here ostensibly dickerg for a theater.

No information could be secured to whom Irwin represents.

tatement to Be Issued in L. A.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago—Thomas H. Ince and J. rker Read, Jr. issued a statement e yesterday relative to the discusns they entered upon in New rk regarding the distribution of Associated Producers product.

Mr. Read stated that while nothing nite had been done, a statement ld be issued when they reached s Angeles and conferred with ir associates.

"U" Injunction Denied

ustice Newburger who heard the mplaint for injunction of Univers against Ramms, Inc., handed n a decision yesterday in which decided that the plaintiff is not tled to an injunction because it an adequate remedy at law.

he plaintiff alleging to be the ner of the property which the ndant claims, should complain a suit at law instead of an intion which is an equity action, judge ruled.

His back cut to ribbons by the whip, the savage sought refuge at the mission—D. W. Griffith's, "The Idol Dancer," a First National Attraction. —Advt.

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week

The following illustrates how the leading Broadway theaters presented their programs this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

CAPITOL

The Capitol is putting on a "Gaelic Feis" or Irish Music Festival as a special feature for St. Patrick's Day week. This has appealed wonderfully well and from the looks of Sunday's and Monday's houses the Capitol may well break its record. The Feis is not the usual stage Irish stuff as the staging of various details of the ensemble was in charge of Eileen Curran, a member of New York Gaelic societies, who also appeared in a small number. The act scored very well and registered in particular with the Irish in the audience who were attracted in great numbers by a special advertising campaign. The services of Lily Meagher, soprano, and Gaelic dancers and pipers are enlisted. "Macushla" is rendered by a fine tenor and other Gaelic songs are sung in chorus.

In addition to Capitol is featuring Albertina Rasch, a Russian ballet dancer and her company. "My Lady's Garter," Tourneur Paramount-Artcraft is the feature and holds the audience even though it tails the bill. A Sunshine comedy "A High Diver's Last Kiss," news reels and a Robertson-Cole scenic, presented in story form, round out the long bill.

(Continued on Page 2)

Sign L. Barrymore

Will Make Four Pictures for First Nat'l—Bennett the Producer

Lionel Barrymore will be starred in a series of four productions to be released through Associated First National Pictures, Inc., and to be made by Whitman Bennett, recently resigned as production manager for Famous Players-Lasky.

The contract with Bennett and Barrymore is the first to be signed by Associated First National Pictures, Inc., as an organization.

The event marks the beginning of activities by First National members to increase the number of productions. Negotiations were conducted by Larry Giffen, of the Alice Kauser organization, who represented the producer and star.

Barrymore will begin production work soon after May 1. The first picture is scheduled for release early next fall.

Tri-Star Gets Ethel

Joseph B. Totten and Joseph W. Smiley, have formed the Tri-Star Pictures Corp., capitalized at $1,000,000, to produce a number of special productions.

The first star is Ethel Barrymore, at present in "Declasse."

The first production will be "The Superwoman," by R. L. Stephenson.

Baker Arrives

Tarkington Baker, former general manager of Universal arrived in New York from the coast yesterday.

Laemmle Leaves

Carl Laemmle, accompanied by his secretary, Irving Thalberg left for California yesterday. Regular spring trip.

"Big 4" Lease Philadelphia Theater

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Blocked by the operations of the Stanley Company, the United Artists have leased the Metropolitan Opera House, and the company's product will be shown in that theater for six weeks beginning May 8. "Pollyanna" is the first.

The local United Artists offices stated that the company was not interested in the leasing of the theater but had made an arrangement with two men who had leased the theater.

This is the arrangement perfected with the owner of the Auditorium in Minneapolis.

I advise ADVERTISE!!
But let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 76 Wednesday, March 17, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	77¼	78¼	77¼
Do, pfd.	89½	89½	89½
*Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	30½	32	30½
Triangle	7-16	⅝	7-16
United Pict. Prod.	14	14⅛	14⅛
World Film	....	....	1

*No trading yesterday Monday's quotations.

Fire Destroys House

Barre, Vt.—The Park was destroyed and adjoining property damaged to a great extent by a fire recently. The house had been operated in conjunction with the Black chain.

LAUGHTER

If Life is Love, Life is a Funny Proposition

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Play of Life's Proposition

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 1)

RIVOLI

The bill here is light with Charles Ray and Harold Lloyd sharing the comedy honors. Hugo Riesenfeld has also incorporated a timely touch in Victor Herbert's "Irish Rhapsody", which includes a medley of popular airs. There follows the Rivoli Pictorial and previous to the feature "Alarm Clock Andy," Emanuel List, basso profundo, renders "When the Bell in the Lighthouse Rings," quite appropriate in this position. A typical Ray story with the typical Ray mannerisms are offered and everything in the picture registers well. Harold Lloyd's "Haunted Spooks" proves one of the cleverest two reel comedies ever made. In conclusion Mendelsohn's "Sixth Sonata" is rendered on the organ.

BROADWAY

At the Broadway "The Powder-Puff Follies" enters its hix week. About one out of every five patrons ask the ushers when it goes on, thus proving that it is a very big attraction for this house. The feature this week is "The Deadlier Sex" with Blanche Sweet. The orchestra renders Suppe's "Pique Dame" as an overture and this is followed by the review, comedy "Cut the Cards." The revue concludes the bill and is timed to catch the biggest crowds of afternon and evening

STRAND

Perhaps the brightest spot on the Strand program this week, and the number that received the heartiest approval was the Harold Lloyd Comedy, "Haunted Spooks" which literally brought down the house at its first showing. Following the overture and theTopical Review, the Russian Quartette sang "Zazulia," a Cossack Prison Song, and "Volga Boatmen's Song.

The Strand orchestra supplied a vivid and realistic descriptive bit in connection with a highly dramatic moment in the feature, "Dangerous Days," describing the explosion and burning of an ammunition plant. After the feature and just preceding the Lloyd comedy, Eldora Standford sang "Love, Love, Love" from the current Broadway stage play, "Look Who's Here." For an encore she sang "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" to the accompaniment of the organ, harp and violins.

RIALTO

Quite an enjoyable entertainment under the direction of Hugo Riesenfeld, is presented at the Rialto. The Rivoli-Rialto chorus is used in connection with the overture, "Hymn to the Sun" from the prologue to "Iris."

After the Rialto Magazine the chorus sang "Old Black Joe" off-stage. This number was very well received. The feature was "Huckleberry Finn" which played at the Rivoli two or three weeks ago but went over well in spite of the fact that it had already run on Broadway. A C. L. Chester Comedy, "Four Times Foiled" and "Rhapsody of Breton Melodies" were also on the program.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Reading, Pa.—Realizing that the appeal to children in a neighborhood theater was of great value, Carr and Schad upon opening the Strand, with Charles Chaplin in "A Day's Pleasure" as the initial attraction, advertised the fact that two women would be employed regularly to give the youngsters necessary care.

Jackson, Mich.—Prizes consisting of cash awards, six month passes, three-months passes and single performance admission tickets were offered for the best essays in one hundred words or less, comparing various Goldwyn productions. The News was the agency for the contest which received publicity in the news and ad columns, and was held when five Goldwyn productions played at the Majestic in 13 days.

San Francisco, Cal.—The spectacle of an old water wagon, loaned from the Municipal Board of Water Works, driven by a man attired in a cow-boy costume, and bearing placards reading "Water, Water, Everywhere," but if you want to learn where to get a real drink, see Will Rogers—Rialto—Market near Seventh" proved a sure fire exploitation stunt. It was an inexpensive part of the campaign, the team and driver being hired for several days at a moderate price. The success of the production was more than moderate, due mainly to the wagon.

Co-operative House

Chicago, Ill.—A charter has been issued to the Palais Royal Theater Company, of which Joseph Shaffer is president, and the corporation capitalized at $200,000. The company is to build a co-operative theater at Kedzie and Lawrence Avenues, the picture patrons of the neighborhood all buying one or more shares of the stock of the corporation. The Palais Royal Theatre will seat 3,000.

VALUES

Yesterday and To-Day

Real Estate, Motor Cars, Jewelry, in fact every thing has increased tremendously in value during the past two years. A thousand dollar policy of a short while ago only covers half the intrinsic value of what you have insured now. Give a thought to insurance. To-morrow may be too late.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Jack Cooper is to featured in the five reel comedies be produced by Fox.

Joseph Henaberry is directi Robert Warwick in "The Man Fr Blankley's."

H. Tipton Steck has been engag by Louis Gasnier to write for L Cody and is now at work on his ne starring vehicle.

Hobart Bosworth, starring in Parker, Read, Jr., productions is location at Truckee, Cal., for ext iors.

Winter Hall is cast in one of t four big roles in the forthcomi production by Famous Players-L ky of "The Translation of a Savag from the novel by Sir Gilbert P ker.

C. E. Shurtleff, president of C. Shurtleff, Inc., announces that "T Mutiny of the Elsinore" will be t second Jack London story to be pr duced.

Norman Selby, known in his ri days as "Kid McCoy," has been c in an important part in Robert W wick's current production for F mous Players.

Charles Everand Whittaker, w has just finished the continuity f "La Homme Riche," Nazimov next picture, in collaboration wi Charles Bryant, has been retained Madame Nazimova to write the sce ario of "La Maison de Danses."

The production of another Za Pitts' picture for Brentwood h been commenced under Kolker's rection. The story is an original Sarah Mason tentatively titled "T Heart of Twenty" and the suppo ing cast so far announced includ Jack Pratt, Percy Challenger, Aile Manning, Pearl Lindner, Tom G lery and Hugh Saxon.

GAUSMA

The government will benefit greatly from the fact that RITCHEY posters were so generally used in the theaters last year. Their use made a most appreciable increase in the exhibitor's income tax returns.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8368

Ritchey

athé News

No. 22

MI, FLA.—Ball players warming scenes of Cincinnati Reds, train- n the South to retain their title of l champions.
l down in Texas, New York Giants imbering up, with their eye on a n pennant.
cago's Cubs seek Sunny California eir training camp
DAR FALLS, WASH.—First elec- ocomotive on Pacific Coast—opera- of railroad by electric power is urated, as "Olympian" starts on continental trip.
THE LIMELIGHT.—Suffrage saved est Virginia! Senator Bloch, who from California to cast deciding vote ate legislature, ratifying suffrage dment.
racles" turned out daily! Hundreds flicted flock to "Brother Isaiah" in Orleans, who claims to heal merely uch.
cessors to Siamese Twins come to ington to continue their education— e Filipino, and find life a merry nership."
RIS, FRANCE —Install new French dent—entire city honors Paul Des- l, as he formally takes over powers new office from ex-President Poin-

ANTANAMO, CUBA.—"Inspectors" servation balloon perform acrobatic to reach the "Basket."
LM BEACH, FLA.—Gala Day in Palm Beach. Picturesque parade rt of Indian Fete held annually in ar winter resort.
RLIN, GERMANY. — World is ed by new revolution in Germany— onary forces seize control of gov- nt in Berlin in attempt to over- the Ebert regime.
sident Ebert, who fled to Stuttgart he establishes his government in ition to the reactionaries.
tav Noske, Minister of War, who orced to leave Berlin with Ebert.
Noske Guards, who were taken un- by the sudden coup.
the Brandenberg Gate, which has the center of all political disturb- in Berlin since the war.
V YORK CITY —Millions pay in- tax. The last day of paymnt of e taxes finds internal revenue offices ed to capacity.

oday

Sidney Cohan Here

ney L. Cohan of Los Angeles visitor.

Plan a Big Special

(Continued from Page 1)

rights, were then purchased for $15,000 it is alleged.

Maurice Silverstone of the Hearst organization in an affidavit states that Famous Players-Lasky offered $25,000 to $30,000 for the film rights in 1919 but that the offer was refused because of the intention of the plaintiff to make its own screen version.

Vitagraph's Statement

William M. Seabury, counsel for Vitagraph Co. said last night:—"Last August the Vitagraph Co. announced that it had in preparation a series of pictures to be entitled 'Vitagraph's New Adventures of J. Rufus Wallingford and Blackie Daw,' based on heretofore unpublished stories written by George Randolph Chester and not adapted either from the novel or from the play entitled, 'Get Rich Quick Wallingford.'

"Later it announced the production of a story 'The Son of Wallingford,' by the same author.

"The Star Co. claimed to own the picture rights to George M. Cohan's play entitled 'Get Rich Quick Wallingford' and also the motion picture produced by Wharton Bros. or Wharton, Inc. and distributed through Pathe exchanges in 1915 entitled 'The New Adventures of J. Rufus Wallingford' and claimed that Vitagraph could not produce the proposed series of pictures without competing unfairly with the Star Co.

"The Vitagraph disputed the Star Co.'s ownership of the picture rights in the play or the novel entitled, 'Get Rich Quick Wallingford' and claimed the right under a contract that Mr. Cohan could produce and name the pictures as indicated.

"After considerable correspondence between the two companies, the Star Co. brought suit for an injunction.

"The Star Co.'s claim is virtually the same as the effort that was made to restrain 'Bud' Fisher from continuing to create new cartoons featuring Mutt and Jeff.

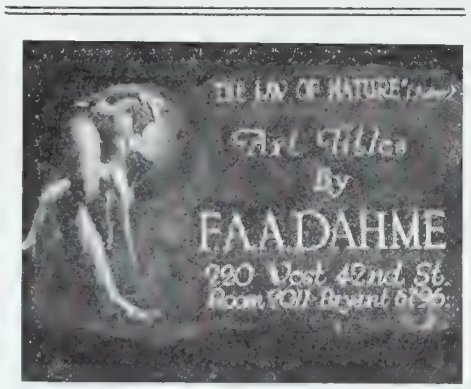
"Mr. Chester owns the rights to continue to create new stories around the fictional characters of Wallingford and Daw just as 'Bud' Fisher owned the right to continue the exploits of Mutt and Jeff."

Coudert Bros., attorneys for Pathe had no comment to make on the matter.

MacManus Again Ill

Edward MacManus of the MacManus Corp. is again ill.

Park Hill, Ont.—Miss C. G. Gould will open in the near future.



get busy! S.R.O. 12

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Dear Sir:

Here is a telegram from Denver:

CUP OF FURY OPENED YESTERDAY TO LARGE CROWDS STANDING ROOM ONLY CONTINUOUSLY FROM THREE TO NINE FIFTEEN P. M. PATRONS WELL PLEASED WITH RUPERT HUGHES PRODUCTION.

A. G. TALBOT,
American Theatre

Goldwyn

BYRON PARK

General Manager of Photoplay Libraries, Inc., has returned from his cross-country tour and is now in New York showing to the eastern buyers. Get in your requests now for appointments. Requests will be handled in the order they are received.

"EMPTY ARMS"

PHOTOPLAY LIBRARIES

Incorporated

500 Fifth Avenue New York City

(Telephone, Vanderbilt 9670)

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
ALLAN A. LOWNES
GEN. MGR.

SUNDAY SHOWS AND CENSORSHIP

Bay State Bill in Abeyance

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Boston.—The Boston Mercantile Affairs Committee considering state censorship of films met yesterday to consider the report of its sub-committee of five appointed to draft a state censorship bill.

The sub-committee reported that no decision had been arrived at. The committee adjourned with no action taken on the censorship matter.

Portland Censor's Ideas

Portland, Oregon—The Portland Censor Board is getting obstreperous again. It is now demanding that reviews be made at the civic auditorium at an expense to the exhibitor of 50 cents per reel and that all who are interested be permitted to view the pictures. Exhibitors are putting up a fight in which film men are aiding, one of the strongest lobbyists on the exhibitor side being Melvin G. Winstock, formerly president of the People's Amusement Co. of Portland, now special film salesman of Seattle. Exhibitors are asking that the films be reviewed in their own houses, so that they may get the benefit of the advertising that will come from free admissions.

Sunday Shows Legal in Oklahoma

Okalhoma City, Okla.—Attorney General S. P. Freeling has decided that there is nothing in the law that prohibits Sunday pictures, unless it is because of the labor connected with it.

Chamber of Commerce Investigates

Portland, Ore.—Due to a statement made by C. M. Hill, manager of the local Famous Players exchange, the Chamber of Commerce is investigating the actions of the censor board. Hill was arrested for alleged failure to comply with the requests of the secretary of the board and was acquitted by a jury. Needlessly strict censorship, according to him had closed at least seven exchanges which later opened in Seattle where there is no local censorship.

Hayakawa Signed for 4 Years

R. S. Cole of Robertson Cole in his address of welcome to the field force of his company assembled at the Astor yesterday in convention stated, among other things that Sessue Hayakawa had been signed for four more years with Robertson Cole and that Georges Carpentier is now en route to this country to start his film work.

There are 33 members of the field force in town. To-day they will inspect the plant of the Ritchey Lith. Corp. and then go auto riding from the Battery up along the Drive. Then luncheon and addresses at the Astor by J. Allen Boone, coast representative and others. The evening will be a free lance affair, the men seeking their own pleasure.

Canadian Exhibitors in Combine

Quebec, Can.—Exhibitors of this province will open their own exchanges under the name of the Amalgamated Exhibitors Circuit, Ltd., which has been incorporated. Stock is being offered at par value of $100 per share, preferred stock bearing 7 per cent. interest. It is planned to extend the exchange system through the Dominion.

Exhibitors Meet

There was a regular meeting of the Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce at the Astor yesterday. Billy Brandt did not preside, because of a slight illness.

Brown With Howells

Colvin W. Brown has resigned as assistant treasurer of Clark-Cornelius Corp. to become associated with David P. Howells, Inc., well known exporter.

Wharton Goes to Coast

Theodore Wharton goes to California to-day. His future plans have not been announced.

Warfield in Films?

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—It is reported here that David Warfield may enter pictures. Has been seen considerably around Metro and Lasky lots.

J. Clarkson Miller wrote the scenario for "Chains of Evidence" a Hallmark release and not John J. Glavey.

Musgrove Leaves Australasian

Harry Musgrove, general manager of Australasian Films, Ltd., has resigned.

W. A. Gibson has succeeded him with the company.

Randall Goes to Coast

Mon Randall and Mrs. Mon have left for California where Randall will continue art work for Equity.

Walter With Metro

Eugene Walter will do scenarios for Metro. Recent additions are Winchell Smith and Bayard Veiller.

Adler in Buffalo

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Buffalo, N. Y.—Bert Adler, in charge of exploitation of Realart specials is here visiting exhibitors and conferring with branch manager Henry E. Wilkinson.

Cohen and Singer With Reelcraft

R. C. Cropper, president of the Reelcraft Pictures Corp., announces Milton I. Cohen as General Sales Manager, and Julius Singer as manager of the New York Exchange for Reelcraft. Nat Spitzer is studio manager on the Coast.

Cohen was the president of Bulls-Eye before it was taken over by Reelcraft.

Ince and Famous Players in Suit

Eminent Authors Pictures Corp. filed suit yesterday against Famous Players and Thomas H. Ince to restrain further use of the title "Dangerous Hours," an Ince production distributed by Famous Players.

The plaintiff alleges similarity in the title because of its production "Dangerous Days" which it is alleged, was purchased from Mary Roberts Rinehart on Aug. 29, 1919.

New Vitagraph Exchange

Portland, Oregon—The Vita[graph] is opening an exchange in Por[tland] to take care of Oregon busines[s] stead of supplying film from S[eattle] as formerly.

Kelsall's New Job

Seattle, Wash.—Ray R. K[elsall] manager of the newly orga[nized] Theater Equipment Co., has bee[n] pointed exclusive representati[ve] the Powers Cameragraph Co [for] Washington and Alaska.

At the same time A. K. Ap[plegate] of the General Repair and S[upply] Co. of Portland was appointe[d] presentative for Oregon.

Theodore C. Deitrich, produc[es] films, starring Doris Kenyon, h[as] rehearsal, a farce-comedy, "Oh, [Mis]ry!" by Bid Dudley.

FOR RENT

Fully equipped Studio, I[m]mediate Possession. Hallma[rk] Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46[th]
Phone Bryant 7498.

STUDIO FOR RENT
One entire, and part of another stud[io]
Fully equipped. Direct current.
H. Fischer Studios (Formerly Th[an]hauser Studios.
New Rochelle, N. Y.
Phone New Rochelle 2277.

ART TITLE
HAND LETTERING
(One Hundred Titles A Day)
'ALYNLU'
PHONE 2329 BRYANT

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.
64 West Randolph Street
Chicago, Ill.

6803
Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding
Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building
Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. NO. 77 Thursday, March 18, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Percentage on Gross

With No Deductions, Reported Plan for Famous Next Year

According to reports from exhibitors in the Northwest and Southwest, important officials of Famous Players sales dept. are making investigations relative to the sale of Famous Players and Paramount features for the coming season beginning Sept. 1.

As a result of this investigation York two of the largest exhibitors of the Northwest are now in New York poking over the field to ascertain whether the proposed policy of Famous Players will be carried out by other large, important releasing organizations.

Famous Players' investigation is being made for the purpose of ascertaining how important exhibitors feel toward playing Famous Players product on a flat 25 or 35 per cent. of the gross—no allowances, no deductions.

An important official of Famous Players said that so far as he knew there was nothing to the reported investigation.

An exhibitor who admitted that he had been approached by Famous Players with reference to this proposed percentage said: "It is my impression that Famous had done nothing definitely, but that Famous is simply feeling out the situation. The difficulty is how to reach a proper basis of percentage. Practically all large exhibitors believe that sooner or later percentage is inevitable. But no basis of percentage can be computed which will work out satisfactorily unless each house in each community operates on its own particular percentage basis."

Special Mayflower Force

Mayflower, in addition to the exploitation force the distributors of its product maintain will supply exhibitors with special exploitation. Twelve men have been engaged while additions are expected as the plans are perfected.

The force is now concentrating on "The Luck of the Irish" and "Soldiers of Forutne."

FALL RELEASES?
HOW?—SEE WID'S DAILY
TO-MORROW.

Director David M. Hartford (at left) now supervising construction of Fort O'God for James Oliver Curwood's "Nomads of the North," a forthcoming First National Attraction—Advt.

Prizma to Select

Switched from Republic—Plan Feature Productions

Lewis J. Selznick has closed a deal which gives to Select Pictures exclusive distribution of all Prizma releases. They were formerly handled by Republic.

Prizma will enter the feature production field with Myron Selznick in direct charge of production.

It is stated that the Prizma process has reached that stage of perfection where the fringing of colors has been eliminated.

No change has been made in the personnel of the Prizma force but George Meeker, until now general sales manager of Republic has been designated to take charge of the Prizma sales.

William H. Crane, will play his original stage role in "The New Henrietta" the forthcoming Metro production.

Offices Closed

Northwest Exhibitors Circuit Ceases Activities—May Resume

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Seattle, Wash—The Northwest Exhibitors' Circuit has closed its offices and ceased active business. No new manager has been appointed to succeed H. B. Wright, who resigned. The officers state, however, that the Circuit has not disorganized, but will resume business as soon as circumtance are more favorable.

Bernstein Leaves Nat'l Film

Isadore Bernstein has resigned as production manager for National Film.

Bernstein is now en route to Hollywood where it is understood he will build a studio based on the Brunton idea. Lieut. Ormer Locklear who made "The Great Air Robbery" for Universal will make a series of production, it is understood while Bernstein will be in charge.

Locklear is understood to be still under contract to Universal.

Educat'l Signs Chester

Hammons Gets Exclusive Rights—Also Additional Material

Earl W. Hammons of Educational has closed a deal for the world-wide distribution rights on all of the C. L. Chester product, including the new series of 13 two reel comedies and all of the Chester Outing scenics. This, together with several other deals is said to involve a financial transaction of $750,000.

Arrangements with Johnson and Hopkins who control the stereospeed camera, which takes slow motion pictures, give Educational distributing rights on all that product.

Plans are now under way for the establishing of an Educational News Weekly shortly to be announced. Pell Mitchell, formerly of Gaumont News and later with Fox is now with Educational presumably to take charge of this new enterprise.

R. W. Pritchard, formerly with the Allens in Canada has joined Educational in charge of the publicity and exploitation departments.

The new deals give the recently established Educational exchanges a strong line-up of product and this new material with its present releasing schedule will apparently give the company a preponderance on the short reel field.

Friedman Calls Convention

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago—Joe Friedman of Celebrated Players has called a convention for next Tuesday and Wednesday at the Hotel Congress at which independent exchange men and independent producers are invited .

Farrar With Fox

Negotiations are understood to be under way as a result of which Geraldine Farrar will become a Fox star.

Fox offices claimed to know "nothing about it."

Will Not Honor Oral Agreements

The F. I. L. M. Club, has sent a letter to all exhibitors in this territory, which says in part that on and after March 22 no claim will be entertained by the Credit Bureau or Grievance Committee of the F. I. L. M Club to enforce an oral promise or an oral agreement with respect to a contract for film service.

Greene Here

Walter R. Greene, editor of the Canadian Moving Picture Digest, is in town for a few days.

I advise—ADVERTISE!!
But let SOLOMON do it, he's wise. Advt

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM WID'S DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 77 Thursday, March 18, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	76	78½	76⅜
*Do, pfd.	89½	89½	89½
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	30¼	31	30½
Triangle	7-16	⅝	7-16
United Pict. Prod.	13½	14	14
World Film	....	....	1

Tuesday's quotations.
Monday's quotations

View "The Butterfly Man"

Robertson Cole field force had a special showing of Lew Cody's "The Butterfly Man" yesterday, the second day of the convention. Routine matters were discussed.

Reciprocity

Womanlike, she gave her all to the man she loved, he took and laughed.

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Bit of Life, and Love and Laughter

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood — Pauline Frederick, will commence "Madame X" for Goldwyn shortly. Casson Ferguson is in the cast.

Betty Blythe will play one of the two feminine roles in "The Mischief Man." with Lew Cody.

Pat O'Malley, will play the lead in Marshall Neilan's third independent production.

"The Parish Priest" a Hampton production of the well known Dan Hart play, is out, titled, and a sample print ready for shipment to New York.

Ward Lascalle, director general of Special Pictures announces the complete line-up of his producing staff at the Balboa Studios. George Larson, former associate of William Bitzer, is camera chief; C. T. Wilson, assistant director; Frank Rengstrom, assistant cameraman; Bessie Muller, film editor in chief; Archie Warren, property master; Henry Lockwood, lighting director; Charles Gorton, location and transportation manager. Arrangements have been completed for developing of negative at the Clune studios and for making of release prints at the Morosco studios.

"Barbershop Gossip," the first of a series of 12 two -reel comedies with Milburn Moranti in the featured role, has been completed and will be shipped to New York for distribution on the state rights basis in a few days. "Lazy Lem" is announced as the second picture under the comedian's own banner.

Work will begin this week on J. Warren Kerrigan's ninth Brunton production, "The House of Whispers," a mystery play of the New York underworld, adapted from the novel by William Johnston. Fritzi Brunette has been re-engaged to play opposite the star and Ernest C. Warde will direct. Kerrigan recently completed "The Green Flame," an adventure play by Wyndham Martyn.

GAUSMAN.

Garson Directing

Hollywood—Harry Garson is directing "For the Soul of Rafael" in which Clara Kimball Young is being starred and which will be released through Equity.

Twelve Selznick Films Under Way

Twelve Selznick productions are now in the course of making. They are Olive Thomas in "The Flapper," Eugene O'Brien in "The Figurehead," Elaine Hammerstein in "The Shadow of Rosalie Burns," Owen Moore in "The Desperate Hero," "Out of the Snows" with Ralph Ince and Zena Keefe "The Timber Wolf, directed by Burton George, four Herbert Kaufman weeklies and "Just Outside the Door."

Incorporations

Albany—Globe Trots Films, Inc., capital, $20,000. Stockholders, Harry H. Caldwell, Raymond S. Harris and Anna Weiss, 120 West 41st. St., New York.

Albany—Scranton Theaters Corp. incorporated here. The attorney for the corporation was A. L. Berman, 501 Fifth Avenue, New York City.

Albany—The T. M. Amusement Co. Capital, $20,000. Directors: Wolf Tragaisen, Samuel A. Morose and Joseph K. Filed, 146 Lenox Ave.

Albany—Capellani Pictures. Capital, $25,000. Directors: Albert Capellani Pictures. Capital, $25,000. Directors: Albert Capellani, Henry Cahane and Abraham L. Feinstein, 1457 Broadway, New York.

Albany, N. Y.—The Outlook Photoplays, Inc., of Manhattan. Capital, $300,000. Will produce, distribute, exchange and exhibit theatrical and educational films and also deal in all kinds of motion picture apparatus: Principal stockholders: Einer A. Berg, and William C. Kahlert of St. Paul, Minn., and Charles Server, 305 W. 97th St., New York City. The attorney is Matthew F. Murray, 66 Liberty St., New York.

Use Editorial on Americanization

Detroit, Mich.—Walter Griffith, exploitation representative attached to the local Select exchange circularized 600 Michigan exhibitors on the Americanization problem with a reprint of the editorial on that subject published in WID'S DAILY of Feb. 20.

New House for Chicago

Chicago, Ill.—Otto J. Lorenz has purchased a site at Broadway and Irving Park Blvd. and negotiations are under way for a $600,000 combination picture and vaudeville theater with a 3,000 seating capacity.

Strand Anniversary Data

During the week commencing April 11th, the Strand will celebrate its sixth anniversary.

The Strand statistician supplies the following data:

During the past six years 1,095,000,000 feet of film have passed through Strand projection machine.

The lost and found department has turned over to its owners 78.65% of articles reported lost, and several thousand dollars in cash.

13,140 performance were presented.

35,680,000 people paid admission to the Strand since the opening night.

C. A. Weeks, vice-president and superintendent of sales of the B. B. Hampton Prod. is in New York after a tour of the Hodkinson exchanges.

Harry Chandlee and William B. Laub have sold the picture rights to their farce-comedy "Five Hundred Pounds, Sterling," to Foundation Film. Chandlee and Laub also wrote the story for "The Dream of Fair Women" recently released by the same organization and also edited and titled the finished picture.

Magnet 'Change Sold to Gardin

Jules Burnstein, has sold the Magnet Film Exchange to the Gardin Syndicate of Buffalo and Albany.

T. R. Gardiner takes over Burstein's membership in the F. I. L. Club.

Plan Annual Get Together

As a result of the meeting at the Utica convention of the Buffalo, Albany and New York F. I. L. Clubs, it seems very probable that an annual convention of the clubs will be held.

Novel One Reeler

Universal Industrial has a novel one reeler called "Vaudograph" which includes a regular vaudeville bill. The stars appearing in it are the Cameron Sisters, Ted Lewis, the Mosconi Bros. and others.

The songs the stars sing will be supplied to the theater's orchestra.

Carl G. Milligan has resigned from Joseph M. Schenck's scenario department.

Every particle of advertising force that can be put into a poster is put into the RITCHEY poster. That is why it always has a positive box-office value!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8368

Ritchey

THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

New Haven, Conn.—Prior to presenting "The Right of Way," the manager of the Olympia announced a throwaway that two endings of the picture had been prepared, and offered a prize of $10 as well as one of $5 each for the best essay of not more than 200 words, giving opinion as to which is the better of the two. The stunt resulted in business for the Olympia.

Portland, Oregon—A. J. Taylor, the manager of the Rivoli, recently managed to pull record business at the Rivoli in the face of strong competition by decorating a street car with banners and having it run over town. The picture advertised was "Exploits of the German submarine,, U-35," and the leading competitive houses were showing Mary Pickford and Nazimova.

Sells "Confession"

Al Brandt returned from Chicago today. He has sold "The Confession" for Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma to Jack Eslick of Dallas, Texas.

Select Drive Over

The Select field force has just completed an eight weeks' drive during which it is stated that 1,500 new contracts were annexed.

Buys "The Scar of Shame"

Standard Pictures, Inc. has purchased "The Scar of Shame," a five reeler featuring Lucille De Tar, which will be distributed.

Among Exchangemen

Omaha, Neb.—Fred Solomon, for years booker and assistant manager of the Select exchange has joined the A. H. Blank Enterprises.

Omaha, Neb.—S. A. Galanty, formerly Paramount manager in Denver, will handle Pathe features in Iowa and Nebraska. George M. Cohn of Chicago, Louis Frieberg and Don Moore of Omaha, have also joined the Pathe staff. Eight field men are now representing Pathe from the Omaha exchange, of which Harry Graham is manager.

Omaha, Neb.—The Fox exchange, has moved from 315 S. 16th St. to 1408 Harney St. The new Fox quarters in Omaha have 6,000 square feet of floor space. An exhibition room has been installed, with desks for spectators. H. M. Golden, home office representative, was in Omaha to aid Manager Sidney Meyers and his force to make the move.

The Mona Darkfeather Indian dramas released through C. B. Price Co., Inc., will be shown at the Broadway for 15 weeks beginning March 22.

Express Order Hits Dallas

The National Association reports the issuance of an order by an express company in Dallas which prohibits the shipping of all films on Sundays and holidays, effective March 21.

The Transportation Committee of the National Association at a meeting decided to appeal to the Dallas Chamber of Commerce to have the order removed. The American Railway Express will also be appealed to.

Mercy Theater Ready

Yakima, Wash.—Frederick Mercy is now sending out invitations to attend the opening of his Mercy theater on Monday, April 5.

New Theater for Baltimore

Baltimore—Henry Smith & Sons Co., Inc., plan a 2,000 seat theater at 1518 to 1532 West Baltimore St.

There is at present only one large picture theater in West Baltimore.

SPANISH TRANSLATION OF FILM TITLES

Exporter, Manufacturer, have your titles translated by an expert.

Miss Josefina del Valle

246 W. 149th St.
New York City

get busy! S.R.O. 12

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.

Animated artistic titles hand painted illustrating nature artistically. Call Bryant 5856. It means service.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
460 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Dear Sir:—

The Evening Telegram said:

"LEROY SCOTT'S 'PARTNERS OF THE NIGHT' IS A STORY THAT KEEPS THE SPECTATOR ON THE EDGE OF HIS SEAT UNTIL THE FINAL EPISODE IS OVER—A GENUINE DETECTIVE THRILLER."

Goldwyn

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

Send Us Your Junk Film
In Quantity
Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
45 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973

DIRECTOR
Exceptional Ability and Experience
Invites Offer
Particulars, Call R. W. BAREMORE, Bryant 9500

BYRON PARK

General Manager of Photoplay Libraries, Inc., has returned from his cross-country tour and is now in New York showing

"EMPTY ARMS"

to the eastern buyers. Get in your requests now for appointments. Requests will be handled in the order they are received.

PHOTOPLAY LIBRARIES

Incorporated

500 Fifth Avenue New York City

(Telephone, Vanderbilt 9670)

In the Courts

A judgment by default has been filed in the City Court against the MacManus Corp. in behalf of Sidney Olcott to recover a balance of $1,500 due for services amounting to $4,000. The suit was brought in the name of Percy G. Honeyman to whom the claim was assigned.

Hugh Weir has brought suit in the Supreme Court against the Alexander McClure Service for $30,000. Weir claims that between Oct. 24 and March 9 last he rendered services for the defendant in securing control of motion picture productions, writing scenarios and directing pictures which were worth the sum sued for.

"U" Convention for Chicago

There will be a district convention of Universal branch managers at the Blackstone, Chicago beginning Tuesday.

The local convention will be held at the Astor Sunday and Monday immediately after which Joe Mayer and Harry Berman leave for Chicago to attend the second confab which may last four days. The third of the series will be in Los Angeles.

Mayer, while away will appoint publicity men attached to a number of exchanges in the Middle West. Universal is understood to have in mind a publicity man in every exchange center.

Montgomery Now in New York

G. N. Montgomery is now general sales manager for Hallmark succeeding W. F. Rodgers.

Montgomery has been field supervisor in Chicago and has been with Famous Players and First National.

Two "Democracy" Films

Exhibitors should bear in mind that fact that there are two productions called "Democracy" now being extensively advertised.

One is being made by Park-Whiteside producers of "Empty Arms" and the other by the Democracy Photoplay Co.

Realart Takes Morosco Plant

Hollywood—Realart Pictures have taken over the Morosco plant here for production.

Wanda Hawley will make her pictures here. Frank Garbutt will remain in charge under the Realart management.

New Title Laboratory

A. J. Wildman and Maurice Rosenzweig have formed a new organization known as Film Titles Laboratories, Inc. Their plant is at Palisades, N. J.

Increase Capital by $400,000

Indianapolis, Ind.—The Garden City Amusement Co. has increased its capital from $350,000 to $750,000.

Will Release Educational Weekly

Chicago—The Greiver Educational Weekly is a new issue to be distributed by the Griever Film Corp. Production plans have been completed.

Moomaw Here With Films

Lewis H. Moomaw, representing the American Lifeograph Company of Portland, Ore., is at the Hotel Astor.

Moomaw brings with him two pictures. "Martyrs of Yesterday" with Barney Sherry and Ralph Lewis, and "The Golden Trail," featuring Jane Novak.

Manager Shot by Burglar

Chicago, Ill.—William Mills, manager of the Crawford Theater, 19 So. Crawford Ave., was shot and killed in the box office of his theater by two bandits. The murderer Eddie Brislane, a paroled prisoner, has been caught and confessed to the crime.

Metro Buys Jans Exchan

Metro has bought the New ... Metro exchange from Herm... Jans.

Shutting 'Em Down

Cashmere, Wash.—The e... agent at Cashmere refused to ... the depot on a recent Sunday ... cause he was not paid by the ... pany to work on Sunday," thus ... ing R. M. Parrish's Grange T... to remain dark all day.

FOR RENT

Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmark Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46th Phone Bryant 7498.

WHEN
Geraldine Farrar
is in Los Angeles I'd feel slighted if she didn't give us a call I've been selling her talking machines and records for years.
Pay us a visit.
Bill Richardson
RICHARDSON'S
607 West Seventh Street
Victrolas and Grafanolas
Phone 64955 Opp. Robinson's
Los Angeles, Calif.

WANTED STORIES
Two Reel Western Comedy Dramas for Male and Female Lead.
Pacific Producing Co.
6100 Sunset Boulevard
Hollywood, Calif

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
Earle Williams in
"When a Man Loves"
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JEN...
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmon...
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

Studio FOR RENT Laboratories
For Limited Period—furnishing every facility, including variety of Massive Sets—Modern Lighting Equipment—Large Assortment of Props and Well-Stocked Wardrobe.
Immediate Possession
EDISON STUDIO
2826 Decatur Ave. Fordham 8330-8331

6803
Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding
Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. NO. 79 Saturday, March 20, 1920 Price 5 Cent

Neilan Going Abroad

Taking an Entire Producing Unit With Him—Sails in May

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Marshall Neilan, together with an entire producing unit will sail from New York on May 28th for Europe, where he will make several productions.

While away, Neilan will maintain a producing company in California over which he will have entire supervision.

The local Neilan offices amplified the above dispatch with the statement that Harry Ham, Neilan's personal foreign representative leaves for Europe today on the Adriatic to make arrangements for the producer's trip abroad.

It was also stated that among the players Neilan contemplates taking with him is Marjorie Daw who appeared in "The River's End."

More Duties for Select Officials

Sam E. Morris and Charles Rogers have assumed the general managership and sales managership respectively of Republic Distributing in addition to similar duties with Select.

United Gets "Face to Face"

United Pictures has purchased the releasing rights to "Face to Face," a mystery story starring Marguerite Marsh.

Vogel Controls Chester Comedies

William M. Vogel controls the foreign rights to the series of 26 Chester Comedies. This covers two years' product.

Coming Here on Visit

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

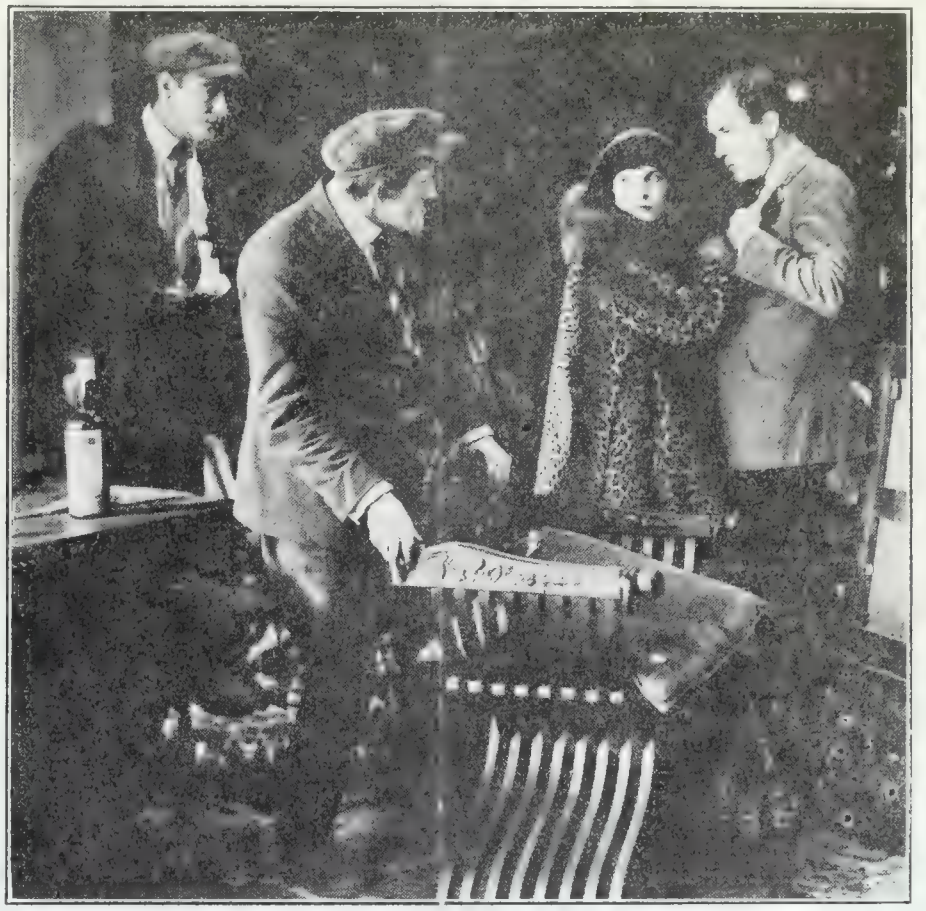
Sydney, Australia—Wilfred Lucas and Bess Meredyth will leave here shortly on a flying visit to America. They will return shortly to continue work for the Baker-Carroll organization.

Production Abroad

Carlton Leaves Today for London —Edith Day Going, Too

Charles E. Carlton, of Crest Pictures, leaves for London today with Edith Day.

Carlton plans two productions on the other side, with Edith Day in the starring roles. The first will be "Pygmalion." It is understood that English capital is in back of the venture.



Like a tigress she sprang between the ruffians and their dazed victim—Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives" from the novel by Owen Johnson, a First National Attraction —Advt.

Mayflower Will Send Units West

Mayflower will concentrate all its production forces on the Coast.

It was learned at the Paragon studio in Jersey where R. A. Walsh and Emile Chautard are at work for Mayflower that the Mayflower lease expires early in April and that Isaac Wolper, president of the company is seriously considering the advisability of sending both the Walsh and Chautard companies to Los Angeles where Allan Dwan and Sidney A. Franklin are now working.

Charles Miller will remain in the East for the present.

No Eastern Plant for Goldwyn

The Goldwyn offices maintain that nothing definite has been decided about a studio in the East, but it is understood that Abraham Lehr who was expected in Los Angeles yesterday left for the coast after deciding that the company's production headquarters should be centered in the west.

Ince and Read Arrive

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Thomas H. Ince and J. Parker Read, Jr. arrived here from New York yesterday and immediately entered into conferences with their confreres in the Associated Producers.

There was a conference last night between the various members of the combination and J. D. Williams of First National.

Next Confab on Coast

The first semi-annual convention of Robertson Cole field force was brought to a close yesterday afternoon after a four-day session.

It was decided that the second convention will be held in Los Angeles in about six months.

Leave to Attend Convention

Joe Brandt and Jack Cohn leave for Chicago to-day to attend the convention of independent operators called by Joe Friedman of the Celebrated Players. To be held at the Congress Hotel.

More Loew Theaters

California Subsidiary Formed—Houses Planned in Four Cities

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Sacramento, Calif.—Theatrical interests identified with Marcus Loew are putting through a company to act as a holding company which will erect four theaters for Loew.

These will be located in Los Angeles, San Francisco, Stockton and Sacramento. The Los Angeles theater will cost $1,500,000; the 'Frisco house, $1,000,000 and the last two, about $100,000 each.

Start Work for Big Benefit

The S. Rankin Drew Post, of the American Legion, composed of ex-service men who are connected with the theatrical, motion picture and allied industries, has started work on its big benefit performance to be held at the New Amsterdam Theater on April 11th.

For the first time in the history of the stage or screen the three famous Barrymores, Ethel, Jack and Lionel, will appear together on one stage. This announcement comes from the Publicity Committee of the Post, whose offices are located at 101 West 42nd Street, and along with it comes the promise that a gathering of Broadway's greatest stars will form the program on the night set.

The purpose of the show is to gather funds for the erection of a Drew Post gymnasium in the heart of the theater district for the Post and its friends.

F. P. Gets Majestic, Hartford

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hartford, Conn.—Famous Players-Lasky product will be shown in the Majestic here.

There has been considerable talk locally that the Connecticut Theater Corp. would build here. The company is controlled by Famous Players but Allen C. Morrison who owns the Majestic and the Princess stated that Famous has merely placed its franchise for Hartford in his Majestic Theater. Important productions will be booked on a percentage basis.

It is learned that Famous Players have also secured the Rialto, a smaller theater on Chapel St., New Haven, as its home there.

This verifies to some extent, the article published Thursday, relative to the company's percentage plan.

Let Solomon do it, he's wise.
135 West 44th St. Bryant 6903 Advt.

BRADSTREET FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — THE RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 79 Saturday, March 20, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	77	79½	79
*Do, pfd.	89½	89½	89½
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	30⅜	31	30¾
Triangle	½	⅝	½
United Pict. Prod.	16	17	17
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Tuesday's quotations.
Monday's quotations

Large House for Evansville

Evansville, Ill.—Harry Rosenblum and Abe and Harry Gumbiner of Chicago will erect a $500,000 house. Local capital is also interested.

WISDOM

It's one thing to win a man's love. It's another thing to keep it. .

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Play of a Man's Love—and a Woman's

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

House Changes

Ireton, Ia.—A. G. Muri has purchased the Opera House.

Oneonta, N. Y.—O. H. Hathaway will spend $75,000 on improvements

Anna, Ill.—Barth Theater Co. of Carbondale has bought the Main for $15,000.

Tulsa, Okla.—The Wonderland has been sold to Tucker Bros. of Okla. City.

East Moline, Iowa.—C. M. Petrie has purchased the Lyric from C. T. Dufoe.

Columbus, Ind.—C. E. Rogers will spend $20,000 to enlarge and remodel the Grump.

Hominy, Okla.—W. G. Shimm has succeeded O. C. Whipple as manager of the Happy Hour.

Columbia, Ind.—Russel Pinney of North Manchester has bought the Lyceum from B. J. Vought.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—J. Savage of Highland Falls, has leased the Empire.

Mitchell, S. D. Royal Miller and C. L. Pine are the new owners of the Lyric which has been reopened.

Alva, Okla.—C. G. Harryman has sold the Liberty to C. E. Walker and a Mr. Bonham, respectively of Helena and Enid.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Louis Hirsh, who owns the Forest, is now owner of the Spruce, which he formerly held.

Lane, S. D.—Milo Van Dyke has bought the Palace from William Gall, and it is now under the former's management.

South Whitley, Ind. — Charles Winseburg of North Manchester has taken over the Elite from B. J. Vought.

Shippenburg, Pa.—C. C. Landis, proprietor of the Lyric died of influenza recently. Mrs. Landis is conducting the house now.

Shelbyville, Ky.—Ivory and Loucila Ethington will convert the brick building on Main St. near Sixth into a picture house.

Reading, Pa.—Carr and Shadd have bought the San Toy. They own the Colonial, Arcadia, Princess and New Strand.

Passaic, N. J.—The Montauk and Playhouse have been bought by Jacob Fabian of Paterson from the Metropolitan Theater Syndicate.

Harvard, Ill.—The Chas. Pacini Amusements of Kenosha, Wis., has sold to V. E. Lambert of Highland Park and William Fendick, Libertyville, Ill., who operate a chain in this territory.

New Theaters

Watertown, S. D.—M. W. Sheafe will erect a house to seat 1,100.

New Haven, Conn.—A house seating 1,500 is to be built by M. Cherman former owner of the Dewitt.

Beverley, Mass.—Ware Bros. are building a new house, to seat 1,500 on Cabot St.

San Francisco, Cal.—A. C. Blumenthal & Co. will build an 800 seat house.

Carlinville, Ill.—O. B. Therson will build an addition to the Landale.

Muscatine, Ia.—E. M Hende will build at Sycamore and Third Sts. seating 1,430.

Gadsden, Ala.—The Gadsden Film Co. is constructing an airdome to seat 2,000.

Jefferson City, Mo.—Rube Armstrong and associates will build on the Schott lot.

Duluth, Minn.—Kent Investment Co. is erecting a new house in West Duluth.

Boone, Ia.—George B. Flint, manager of the Virginia will erect a new house to seat 1,200.

Pine City, Minn.—H. N. Turner who operates the Family, will erect another house.

New York.—Stuyvesant Theater Co. plans the erection of a new house to be built at 111-121 W. 44th St.

Catskill, N. Y.—The Green County Amusement Co. will erect a new $50,000 house on the site of the old Oneida.

Weldon, N. C.—Batchelor Bros. who operate a film house on Second St. have purchased a site for a new house.

Cleveland, O.—A large neighborhood house will be erected at the Five Points. John Kalafat and associates are behind the project.

Kankakee, Ill.—Luna, owned by the Luna Amusement Co. of Lafayette, Ind., opened. Shows vaudeville on Saturday and Sunday and pictures during the week.

North Tonawanda, N. Y.—General M. P. Corp. which plans to conduct a chain of houses in New York State, is negotiating for a site for a 2,000 seat house.

Los Angeles—A new $50,000 theater will be built shortly at Venice. C. Gordon Parkhurst, real estate agent of Santa Monica bay district, and G. J. Cleveland interested.

"Democracy—the Vision Restored"

The Democracy Photoplay Co.'s production which has been completed at the Edison Studio is copyrighted under the title "Democracy—the Vision Restored." Lee Francis Lybarger is the author and Nina Wilcox Putnam collaborated on the scenario with William Nigh who directed the picture.

New Theater for Lansing

Lansing, Michigan—Work started last week on the new $500,000 vaudeville and picture theater to be erected by W. S. Butterfield.

The house will seat 2,000 and will be a combination business block and playhouse located in the heart of the city. It is planned to have it ready early next fall.

Dallas Houses to Cost $2,000,000

Dallas, Tex.—Excavation work on the Lynch-Hulsey house to be called the National, and Majestic has been begun. Both will be located on Elm St., and will represent a total outlay of almost $2,000,000.

Present White With Cigarette Case

Philadelphia, Pa.—The motion picture group of the Chamber of Commerce presented Chairman Harry M. White, manager of the local Goldwyn exchange with a silver and copper inlaid cigarette case.

Rosing to Build

Buffalo, N. Y.—Jacob Rosing & Sons will build $250,000 theater Broadway between Detroit and Townsend Ave. They operate the Olympic, Lyric and Fillmore.

Form $500,000 Company

Allentown, Pa.—A newly formed corporation has a capital of $500,000 and plans the erection of two houses. Dr. Benj. Stuckett of the Strand is the president of the concern.

Plan Large House for Wilmington

Wilmington, Del.—Ezy Greenbaum and W. F. Bouzarth have purchased a site for a house on Market St. at a cost of $266,000

Upon investigation one will usually find that the photoplay with a box-office breaking record has been exploited with RITCHEY posters.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

Pathé News

No 23

SAN DIEGO, CAL.—West sees dirigible r first time—the huge C-6, first air- ip assembled on the Pacific Coast, akes initial flight over San Diego City d Harbor.

MIAMI, FLA.—First baseball game Big League—Cincinnati Reds defeat w York Yankees in practice game held training grounds.

IN THE LIMELIGHT.—President Wil- n out again! The President takes fre- ent auto drives as he recovers from s illness Scenes showing arrival at the hite House

New Secretary of Interior—John Bar- n Payne is sworn into office.

New head of U. S. Shipping Board— mer Admiral Benson assumes the dut- of that office.

AL DE GRACE, FRANCE.—New nch President makes first official tour country. President Deschanel brings er to convalescing soldiers

EW YORK CITY.—Government agents over a variety of "home-made" whis- k stills in raids.

AN FRANCISCO, CAL.—"Jinx Ship" es to drydock third time for repairs —ge 1020-foot drydock received the "in- ed" transport Mt. Vernon.

AMP HUMPHREYS, VA.—For Real ed and Pep, tell it to Uncle Sam's E ineers! They show how "rapidly" (h can construst bridges.

MINI, BAHAMA.—It's a wide, wide rld, and Cuba is not the only "place" —hama Isles, a little beyond the three- limit, becomes the center of a new in stry.

rplanes bring the precious liquid fr Cuba.

thing on their brains but booze! Bahama—where the red, red fluid lo .

L HAIL, ERIN!—Sons of Ireland a in line! It's a gala day indeed, as w 12,000 Irish in New York parade in nor of St. Patrick.

today

Incorporations

OahomaCity, Okla.—New State Co. Capital, $5,000. J. E. Fo- nd T. R. Richards and O. S. Keely.

Wmington, Del.—The Wilming- heater Corp. To build on Mar- t.

Bston, Mass. — Bellows Falls usement Co. of Bellows Falls. pid, $10,000, divided into 200 re tlnta, Ga.—The Savannah Mov- Picture Corp. Capital, $100,000 th rivilege of increasing it to 00 00. S. M. Pollard and asso- es incorporators.

ilwaukee Wis. — The White- us Picture Theaters, Inc. has re d its capital from $50,000 to 0,0 ugsta, Me.—Black and Spitz eat s, Inc. Capital, $500,000 of ich 300,000 is common and $200,- pferred; paid in $10,000; par ue d no par value for common; res subscribed, 4 common and pferred.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Antonio Moreno has completed his Vitagraph serial, "The Invisible Hand" and is taking a vacation, during which he is busily reading scripts for future productions.

H. B .Warner is enjoying a brief vacation before starting on his next Jesse D. Hampton production. Warner has just finished "Behind Red Curtains" under Henry King's direction ,and is to start on "Felix O'Day," by F. Hopkinson Smith, under Robert Thornby's direction.

David Butler is just finishing his first vehicle, Sophie Kerr's "Sittin' On the World." His next will be "Smilin' All the Way," by Alfred Payson Dowst.

C. L. Chester has arrived to close a deal for the purchase of a laboratory site at Western and Sunset, adjacent to the Fox studio.

The Historical Film Corp. has just purchased the old Rolin studio.

Charles H. Kyson has been appointed General Director of Sets and Scenery of the Ince studios.

"Homespun Folks" is announced as the title of the second picture in which Thomas H. Ince will present Lloyd Hughes.

A. P. Miller t,echnical secretary of the Rothacker company is conferring with architects regarding the film laboratory-studio which will be built immediately.

GAUSMAN.

In the Courts

In the suit of the Frohman Amusement Corp. against the World Film Corp., in which the plaintiff got an attachment against the property of the defendant and filed a bond of $10,000, Supreme Court Justice Newburger has signed an order on the application of the plaintiff and the consent of the defendant discharging the plaintiff's bond and relieving the sureties. The World Film has also given bond to ensure the payment of the sum demanded and the attachment against its property has been discharged.

The suit of Hall Caine against the Arrow Film, which was about ready for trial, has been settled and the action discontinued.

Supreme Court Justice Newberger has signed an order discontinuing the suit of Arnold De Biere against the Film Developing Corp. because the case has been settled.

Marley Joins Vitagraph

Los Angeles—C. J. Marley, for three and a half years manager of the local Triangle distributing agency ,which was absorbed six weeks ago by the local United, will fill the vacancy at the head of the Vitagraph force caused by the resignation of H. H. Hicks, who becomes sales manager of the San Francisco branch of the American Photoplayer Co.

Among Exchangemen

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Ira Aronson, formerly special representative for United is now field manager for National Picture Theaters.

Buffalo, N. Y.—M. Edwards, formerly with Realart and Gardiner is now a member of First National sales force.

Detroit, Mich.—George DeBute is now sales manager for the Arthur S. Hyman Attractions. He was manager of Mutual for seven years.

Goldwyn Specials

Goldwyn will release as specials, "The Silver Horde," and "Dangerous Days."

In Court Over Theater

Norman, Okla.—S. K. McCall and Co., have filed a suit against the University Theater to recover the building.

Jack F. Reilly is now looking after the newspaper and fan magazine publicity and advertising of Robertson-Cole.

Reed Heustis, one of the best known newspaper humorists in the country will write the continuity for "Penrod," for Marshall Neilan.

Denver Company to Make Feature

Denver, Col—The Ore-Col Film Co. will produce a feature in and around Denver, at a cost of $75,000.

Stern to Build 3,300 Seat House

Newark, N. J.—Joseph Stern, who operates a chain in this city and suburbs will erect the Capitol, seating 3,300 on Ferry St., near Polk.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Dear Sir:—

The Los Angeles Express said:—

"'THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13' IS A PULSING, VIVID BIT OF ENTERTAINMENT AND WE DO NOT WONDER THAT THE CALIFORNIA WAS CROWDED YESTERDAY FOR EACH PERFORMANCE."

Goldwyn

WANTED STORIES

Two Reel Western Comedy Dramas for Male and Female Lead. Pacific Producing Co.

6100 Sunset Boulevard
Hollywood, Calif

for crowds' S.R.O. 12

FOR RENT

Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmark Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46th
Phone Bryant 7498.

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

CHOICE OFFICE SPACE—For Rent

Office space in prominent film building, including accommodations in film vault. Space not available for exchange purposes. Write B. E. Box X c/o WID'S.

Studio FOR RENT Laboratories

For Limited Period—furnishing every facility, including variety of Massive Sets—Modern Lighting Equipment—Large Assortment of Props and Well-Stocked Wardrobe.

Immediate Possession

EDISON STUDIO
2826 Decatur Ave. Fordham 8330-8331

SUNDAY SHOWS AND CENSORSHIP

Sunday Closing Bill Filed

Albany, N. Y.—The first bill to be introduced at the present session of the Legislature that has any effect on the motion picture interests has been introduced by Assemblyman D. C. Hunter, of Steuben County.

The proposed law amends the Penal Law in relation to the exhibition of motion pictures on Sunday by providing that motion picture exhibitions where an admission fee is charged shall be prohibited on Sunday. The enactment of this law would result in the closing of all picture theaters in the State on Sunday.

The present law on the subject permits the showing of pictures after 2 o'colck providing that they have not been forbidden by ordinance.

Indications about the Capitol are that this proposed measure will fail to receive favorable consideration.

Sunday Pictures Campaign Issue

Seneca Falls, N. Y.—The question of Sunday pictures and other amusements is the big issue in the campaign preceding the annual charter elections.

Kokomo Judge Supports Sunday Films

Kokomo, Ind.—City judge Wills in releasing exhibitors charged with violating the blue law, stated that motion pictures were entitled to exemption under the Sunday law.

United Changes

W. C. Lestico has resigned as manager at Minneapolis. Suceeded by S. T. O'Brien. Sam Kramer replaces Jack Levy as New York exchange Manager. C. S. Carr, Denver, has been appointed diviision manager with supervision over Denver and Salt Lake City. W. T. Kinnebrew is Atlanta manager, succeeding E. T. Simpson and Jack O'Toole, Chicago, is now division manager, with supervision over Chicago and Milwaukee. Albert Russell, formerly special representative in Dallas has replaced C. J. Marley as manager at Los Angeles.

Beal With Sol Lesser

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood — Harry Hammond Beal is now director of publicity for the Sol Lesser organization. He was formerly with the Jesse Hampton studios.

Flint Theater Opens

Flint, Mich.—The latest addition to the W. S. Butterfield circuit of theaters, the Regent has opened. The house cost more than $200,000.

The acquisition of the Regent gives Butterfield five theaters here, three devoted to pictures.

Fowler to Produce Two Reelers

Roger W. Fowler has formed Fowler Films, with an office in the Candler Building, and will produce a series of two reelers, the first of which is "Unscrambling Egbert," by Murray Leinster. Fowler and his staff have gone to Fentress, Virginia to shoot exteriors.

Walton-Travis Co. Buy Houses

Ybor City, Fla.—The Walton-Travis Co has bought the three S. A. Lynch houses, the Spanish Casino, National and Rivoli.

More Lynch Houses Planned

Gadsden, Ala.—A Lynch house will be erected here and another is planned for Griffin. The Howard, Atlanta, Ga. is under way.

Goldwyn Plans Trip to Europe

If Samuel Goldwyn can secure his passports by Tuesday, he will sail for Europe. This is his long deferred trip.

Advices from England in the past few weeks indicate that Goldwyn plans his own exchanges in Britain.

Reelcraft Appoints Managers

R. C. Cropper of Reelcraft announces appointment of following managers:

Julius Singer, New York City; Carl Harthill, Chicago; Geo. W. Wilson, Indianapolis; George L. Stiles, Milwaukee and Harry Muir for Minneapolis.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Oscar Woepner has bought the Third Ward. He also owns the New York.

Novel Idea at Capitol

An innovation has been introdu at the Capitol by way of interm sions that patrons may have opportunity to inspect the theate

A six minute promenade conc will be given at each performa between the motion picture featu

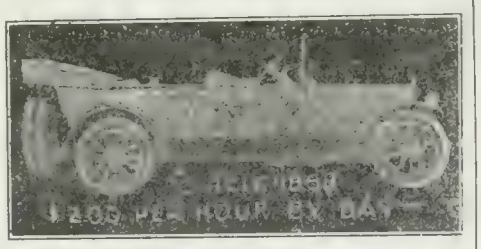
Pittsburgh, Pa.—Ralph Myer is now the manager of the lo branch of the United Picture Th ters.

STUDIO AND LABORATORY
For Rent

Laboratory, also one entire and part of another studio fully equipped. Direct current.

A. H. FISCHER STUDIOS,
(Formerly Thanhauser Studios)
New Rochelle, N. Y

Phone New Rochelle 2277



THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.
Animated artistic titles ha painted illustrating nature a istically. Call Bryant 5856. means service.

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
145 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973.

6803

Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding

Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building Los Angele

e BRADSTREET
F FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XI. NO. 80 Sunday, March 21, 1920 Price 25 cents

MAURICE TOURNEUR

PRESENTS

"Treasure Island"

By ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

A Paramount Artcraft Picture

A treasure trove for exhibitors—Because Everybody's read it! Everybody loves it!
Everybody wants to see the picture!

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORPORATION

ADOLPH ZUKOR Pres. JESSE L. LASKY Vice Pres. CECIL B. DE MILLE Director General

NEW YORK

CANADIAN DISTRIBUTORS, FAMOUS-LASKY FILM SERVICE, LTD. HEADQUARTERS TORONTO

MARY MILES MINTER IN NURSE MARJORIE

From the play by ISRAEL ZANGWILL
Scenario by
JULIA C. IVERS
Directed by
WILLIAM D. TAYLOR

Heart Interest the Appeal in New Minter Picture

THE charm of an adorable young woman plus wonderful heart interest, delightfully developed in a love story of universal appeal — this, and flashes of real comedy, will make "Nurse Marjorie" one of the most powerful Mary Miles Minter productions.

You can arrange for playing dates now through any Realart manager.

REALART PICTURES

REALART
PICTURES CORPORATION
469 Fifth Avenue
New York

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI, No. 80 Sunday, March 21, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago representatives: Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

Maurice Tourneur's .....MY LADY'S GARTER
Paramount-Artcraft .....Page 2
Louise Glaum in .....SEX
J. Parker Read Jr.—Hodkinson .....Page 3
Charles Ray in .....ALARM CLOCK ANDY
Ince—Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 5
Owen Moore in ..... SOONER OR LATER
Selznick—Select ..... Page 7
Mitchell Lewis in.....KING SPRUCE
Dial Film Co.—Hodkinson ..... Page 9
Alice Brady in ..... SINNERS
Realart ..... Page 12
J. Warren Kerrigan in....THE DREAM CHEATER
Brunton-Hodkinson ..... Page 13
George Walsh in ..... A MANHATTAN KNIGHT
Fox ..... Page 16
Tom Moore in .....DUDS
Goldwyn ..... Page 17
THE THIRD WOMAN
Robertson-Cole ..... Page 19
Blanche Sweet in.....THE DEADLIER SEX
J. D. Hampton—Pathe ..... Page 20
DANGEROUS DAYS
Eminent Authors Prod.—Goldwyn ..... Page 21
Shirley Mason in.....MOLLY AND I
Fox ..... Page 25
Short Reels ..... Page 27

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

David P. Howells sees danger in action of importers turning to other phases of the domestic industry.

No census for the picture industry in 1920 figures.

Carl Laemmle and Robert H. Cochrane to buy out P. A. Powers' interest in Universal.

Tuesday

Robertson-Cole field force and home officials hold convention at Astor.

Broadwell Pictures, Inc., organized in Massachusetts. To produce.

Thomas H. Ince and J. Parker Read, Jr. of Associated Producers' leave for coast without announcing distribution plans.

Robertson-Cole to produce "Kismet" with Otis Skinner.

Wednesday

Star Co. suing Vitagraph and Pathe relative to "Get Rich Quick Wallingford" productions.

Associated First National to release series made by Whitman Bennett starring Lionel Barrymore.

Ethel Barrymore signed by Tri-Star Pictures Corp. to produce specials.

Thursday

Percentage on gross with no deductions, reported selling plan for Famous next year.

Select to distribute Prizma. Will make features.

Educational gets world-wide distribution rights on C. L. Chester product.

Friday

Merger expected in United Picture Theaters.

Percentage basis outlook for Fall.

Exporters disagree on status of foreign market.

Saturday

Marshall Neilan to make productions in Europe.

Loew to build four big houses in California.

Thomas H. Ince and J. Parker Read, Jr., in Los Angeles to confer with Associated Producers' members regarding distribution.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.

Bang Up Detective Mystery Melo With Genuine Spectacular Thrills

Maurice Tourneur's
"MY LADY'S GARTER"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Maurice Tourneur
AUTHOR .....Jacques Futrelle
SCENARIO BY .....Lloyd Lonergan
CAMERAMAN .....Rene Guissart
AS A WHOLE.....Bang up detective mystery melodrama with a flock of spectacular thrills.
STORY.....Very cleverly handled—mystery fascinates and interest always increases.
DIRECTION.....Tourneur has done very unusual work and puts stamp of distinction on picture.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Splendid
CAMERA WORK.....Very skilful, particularly in bank robbery scene where several offices are shown at once.
LEADING PLAYERS.....Wyndham Standing, Sylvia Breamer and H. E. Herbert split honors.
SUPPORT ..... Very good
EXTERIORS.....Some very pretty; all appropriate
INTERIORS ..... Very fine
DETAIL ..... Completely convincing
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Mystery surrounding theft of valuable jeweled garter and its final clearing up.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION .....4,823 feet

Maurice Tourneur comes through with a prize detective mystery story in this presentation of Jacques Futrelle's story "My Lady's Garter." And not only has he served up a very sustaining mystery story in which the identity of the culprit known as "The Hawk" is kept well concealed until the very end, but he has also introduced a balancing portion of pretty romance and several spectacular thrills. The motor-boat chase, the explosion of the yacht and the thrill of the narrowly avoided crash of onrushing trains stand out as gems of physical sensationalism.

"My Lady's Garter" is melodramatic to the core but again has Tourneur dressed his picture artistically. The photographic and light effects are to be commended in particular and the clever manner in which he has handled the bank robbery scene, by shooting down on an entire section of offices, besides adding to the power of the sequence gives it the stamp of the unusual. The continuity of plot is well preserved throughout, the action being clear even though it moves at above the average speed.

After a flash history in which the origin of the order of the Garter is explained, they show the hands of a crook removing the famous jeweled garter from a show case in a British museum. The crook is believed to be the Hawk, as elusive of the law as he is famous. Detective trail him to America and here suspicion is thrown on Bruce Calhoun who is seen with the garter in his possession. Bruce is in love with Helen who is also courted by Henry Van Derp, introduced as a member of the Dutch secret service.

The Hawk perpetrates more crimes in America. He robs a bank while it is heavily guarded by detectives and then plans to bleed Helen's father for a large sum of money. This is the beginning of the climax sequence at the end of which it is revealed that Van Derp is the Hawk and that Calhoun is a member of the Secret Service. The garter shown in his possession was the mate of the one stolen in England.

The story is handled skilfully and a lot of convincing suspicion is thrown on Bruce. You are led to expect others of being the culprit also but the final revelation comes as a clever surprise. There is a good comedy sequence in which Charles Craig is the pivotal character. In fact Tourneur has taken care of everything in "My Lady's Garter"—suspenseful melodrama, thrills, romance and comedy.

Sylvia Breamer as Helen, Wyndham Standing as Bruce and H. E. Herbert as Van Derp render fine performances and are ably assisted by Warner Richmond, Paul Clerget, Warren Cook and Louise Derigney.

A Variety of Advertising Angles to This and All Are Good Ones

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This one ought to draw very well and there's no doubt at all about its entertaining qualities. What with the title, the author's name and Tourneur's, the advertising possibilities of the picture are unusual to say the least. Again there are the leading players, all of whom are well and very favorably known. Don't neglect them.

Still further there is the type of story presented. A good detective mystery story appeals strongly. And here you have some genuine thrills to back it up. You can talk a lot about the motor-boat chase, the explosion of the yacht and the near smashup of the trains. These are handled expertly and create a lot of suspense.

Wonderful Story, Excellent Stellar Performance and Extravagant Production

Louise Glaum in
"SEX"
J. Parker Read, Jr.—Hodkinson

DIRECTOR .....Fred Niblo
AUTHOR.....C. Gardner Sullivan
SCENARIO BY.....C. Gardner Sullivan
CAMERAMAN .....Charles J. Stumar
AS A WHOLE.....Very lavish and rich production containing a lot of dramatic and moral force.
STORY.....Very well worked out and all sequences handled with real dramatic skill.
DIRECTION.....Puts the dramatic as well as the spectacular scenes over with fine effect.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Fine
LIGHTINGS .....Very effective
CAMERA WORK.....Various scenes show skilful camera placement.
STAR.....Role runs wide range and she handled all phases very impressively.
SUPPORT.....Shows to fine advantage
EXTERIORS.....Few used
INTERIORS.....Rich and appropriate
DETAIL.....Shots of players lighting and smoking cigarettes too plentiful.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Roof garden queen comes between husband and wife and later, married, finds herself confronted with same situation.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,800 feet

C. Gardner Sullivan conceived and developed with his uncanny skill, a dramatic and morally forceful theme in "Sex," which also serves as a wonderful vehicle for Louise Glaum. All the dramatic sequences, and there are many, have been handled with fine effectiveness both in the writing and the production of them, and the final sequences contribute a fateful touch to the story that will make it the subject of much conversation. In fact "Sex" is a picture blessed with a BIG story.

The story opens showing Adrienne, a roof garden queen, in all her artificial glory. Her philosophy is to look after herself alone. Believing brazenly in this selfish outlook she laughs at the plea of the wife of her most ardent admirer to give him up. As a result there is a divorce. Later, however, Adrienne marries Dick, a millionaire, and finds herself really in love with him. And not until her successor at the roof, Daisy, once a chorus girl whom Adrienne had tutored to become a gold-digger, comes between her and Dick does she realize the utter falsity and cruelty of her former act. Unable to hold Dick she takes passage for Europe, and on the steamer sees her former admirer happy in his reunion with his wife. Happiness is all about her but she has none.

The very simplicity of this story is the key-note to its power. The placing of Adrienne in the same situation two times, only at opposite corners of the eternal triangle, is a very forceful stroke and one which, besides being responsible for tremendously effective drama, affords Miss Glaum splendid opportunities to display her emotional versatility.

The picture has been very lavishly produced. The roof garden scenes are startling in originality and effectiveness and the wild party in Adrienne's home is reckless in abandon. But Director Fred Niblo has shown himself a master of the dramatic sequences as well as the spectacular scenes. In fact these are handled to surer effect, for the spectacular orgy is marred several times by vulgar incident which should never been pictured. These scenes and shots of the players lighting and smoking cigarettes could well be eliminated.

Irving Cummings as Dick, Peggy Pearce as Daisy and William Conklin and Myrtle Stedman as the husband and wife lend exceedingly valuable assistance to the star.

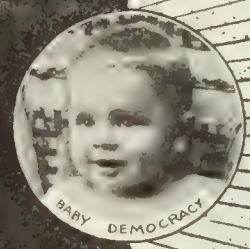
Wouldn't Be Able to Keep 'Em Away From This With a Small-Pox Sign

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"Sex" is a wonderful audience picture. The title, star, story and production unite in making it the wonder it is in this respect. And as far as advertising value goes you wouldn't be able to keep the crowds away from this if you displayed a small-pox sign over your door. Naturally that title is going to draw them in and a few catch-lines concerning the story and the star will serve to make it even more alluring. And word-of-mouth advertising will do the rest.

People surely like this sort of a story dealing with the Broadway underworld. Tell them about it by using such reading notices as these in your copy, "Adrienne, the toast of Broadway, laughed and profaned the bonds of matrimony but then love came to her and her selfish philosophy boomeranged on her with terrible consequences," "The sanctity of marriage meant nothing to this selfish queen of the roof gardens but the day came when she was to pay!"

THIS STELLAR CAST



HAS INTERPRETED

"DEMOCRACY"
"THE"
VISION RESTORED

COPYRIGHTED 1920
— BY —

DEMOCRACY PHOTOPLAY COMPANY

STUDIO 2826 DECATUR AVENUE NEW YORK CITY

Typical Charles Ray Picture That Should Score Big

Charles Ray in
"ALARM CLOCK ANDY"
Ince—Paramount—Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Jerome Storm
AUTHOR.....Agnes Christine Johnston
SCENARIO BY.....Agnes Christine Johnston
CAMERAMAN .....Chester Lyons
AS A WHOLE.....Typical Charles Ray production that should go as big as all the others.
STORY.....Has splendid comedy touches and plenty of human interest.
DIRECTION.....Has brought out all points with fine appreciation.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Most straight stuff
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Gets all his stuff over in role of bashful city boy.
SUPPORT .....Typical types
EXTERIORS ..... Same
DETAIL .....Everything O. K.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Bashful fellow throws bluff at being important and lands big business order and the girl.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,938 feet

Of course the story of "Alarm Clock Andy" is incidental to Charles Ray's characterization and the usual bashful business that he puts in, but at the same time the picture presents a very good story idea and although, on the surface, it is a typical Charles Ray picture it has a certain amount of originality and a great share of human interest back of it. One thing, however, is certain and the statement of it is really a complete review of the picture, that "Alarm Clock Andy" will go over just as big as all the other Ray pictures of this general type. It's audience meat.

Here they introduce him as Andy, an alarm clock slave, a bashful youth who has the added handicap of a stuttering tongue. He has worked in the office of the Wells motor truck company for five years and has gotten nowhere beyond a clerk's high stool, though he knows the business from A to Z. Andy is presumed upon from morning till night. Presumed upon at the boarding house where he lives and at the office where William Blinker, the bluffing sales manager regards him as his pet aversion.

This certainly is a very human premise on which to start a Ray picture and the star makes the character real flesh and blood by his very fitness for the role and his appreciation of it. They get in a lot of good comedy at the boarding house and more at the office, all of which builds up the characterization besides. They get into the plot through having Andy mistaken for Blinker. Realizing full well his shortcomings Andy decides to go through with the mistake on a big bluff and during his two weeks vacation he courts and wins his employer's daughter and lands the prize order of the season to boot.

Even though the actual plot is way without the bounds of probability it gets hold of you because the central character is so real. The comedy is never neglected nor are the human interest touches forgotten. They keep right on building with these elements until at the end you get a warm glow about the heart as well as a big laugh when Andy receives public recognition for his success.

Supporting the star appear Milicent Fisher as his leading lady. George Webb as Blinker, Thomas Guise as Wells, and Andrew Robson. All render satisfactory characterizations.

They Hand You a Good Title Here as Well as a Name

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

To put the stamp of approval on this is easy. It's right up to Ray's standard and your audience will eat it up from title to tail piece. In the matter of advertising you know from past experience that about all you need to do with Ray is to display his name and the big business comes.

This time, however, they have fastened an unusually good advertising title on the picture and one which can be worked up in various attractive ways, always bringing out the alarm clock idea. Catch lines could read as follows: "A comedy of an alarm clock slave that rings the bell from first to last," "He stuttered and hesitated and they told him he couldn't sell a beefsteak to a starving millionaire but—!" "Opportunity didn't knock—it smashed the door down and after he had recovered he grabbed the chance and made good!"

THE NEW ART FILM COMPANY

Presents

DOROTHY GISH

IN

"Mary Ellen Comes To Town"

It Looks Great From a Distance

EVERY girl west of the Hudson wants to come to New York and be a famous actress.

That's why this Dorothy Gish picture will strike home.

Mary Ellen has the funniest adventures in New York that Dorothy Gish ever scampered through. And she finds the home town best.

That's the kind of picture that means big money to you.

Story by Helen Smith Directed by Elmer Clifton
Scenario by Wells Hastings

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORPORATION
ADOLPH ZUKOR Pres. JESSE L. LASKY Vice Pres. CECIL B. DE MILLE Director General
NEW YORK

ARTCRAFT PICTURES

A Paramount-Artcraft Picture

First Half Poor, But Last Half Picks Up and Registers Good Comedy

Owen Moore in
"SOONER OR LATER"
Selznick—Select

DIRECTOR .....Wesley Ruggles
AUTHOR.....Lewis Allen Browne
SCENARIO BY.....R. Cecil Smith
CAMERAMAN.....George Peters
AS A WHOLE.....Good comedy idea that will get the laughs in good style after half-way mark is passed.
STORY.....Rather slight plot and not enough complications to keep up the interest at first.
DIRECTION .....Average
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Good
LIGHTINGS .....Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK.....Good
STAR.....Gets more over this time particularly in final sequence.
SUPPORT.....Seena Owen makes pretty figure as opposite.
EXTERIORS ..... Sufficient
INTERIORS.....Answer the purpose
DETAIL.....Faked moon and back-drop in final scene doesn't matter a lot but real stuff on this order is easy to get.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero kidnaps wrong girl believing her wife of client who planned the act.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,850 feet

"Sooner or Later" develops into a good comedy in its later reels—not soon enough to receive the full sized stamp of merit. After considerable introductory business which reveal small plot action and following a prolonged sequence showing hero and heroine motoring along a boulevard, they finally get down to some comedy horse-play that puts the last two reels over very well and serves to leave a good impression.

The plot hinges on the mistaken identity trick and introduces a lawyer, Pat Murphy, commissioned by his client, Ellis, to kidnap his (Ellis') wife, inasmuch as he believes her carrying on an affair with a theatrical producer. A lot of rather listless business is introduced to plant the fact that the heroine, Edith Ellis, has the same name as the client's wife and lives in a town of the same name. So Pat kidnaps Edith and after the long motor journey lands her in his client's home.

At this point the comedy starts registering in good style and even though they employ a lot of slapstick gags to get it over it counts in the picture's favor. Pat and Edith are alone in the house. Two burglars enter and a regular old Sennett chase through the rooms ensues. Eventually friends of both Edith's arrive and the complications grow thicker when Pat, having torn his trousers, appears with his legs uncovered.

The situations are of a pronounced burlesque character in this sequence but they are handled well and follow one another rapidly and register the scenes as really laughable. The only trouble is that the first half of the picture drags along without showing much of consequence or comedy. The long motor trip sequence is inexcusable and was evidently only used to fill up space.

The star gets considerable business over in the last half when the situations and complications are there to help him out. His support includes Seena Owen as the girl and Clifford Gray as his client. The remaining players render average support. The direction is of average calibre. There are places where more comedy could have been introduced, it seems, but in general the work seems acceptable. Why they used the fake moon and backdrop for the final closeup is, however, not understandable for real stuff on this order is very easy to get.

This One Ought to Get Over and Give Average Satisfaction

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

It is to be regretted that the whole of this picture isn't as good as its last two reels but as long as there had to be a weak half it is just as well that it is the first one. In this way, with the good stuff coming along at the end, the final impression on the audience is a good one. A short reel comedy and other light features should be used along with it and with this bolstering the feature could be made the center of a very attractive bill.

Catch lines could read on the following order, "All men capitulate to women sooner or later—that's something Pat Murphy didn't know until—," "He prided himself on never having fallen in love and then when the crash came it had to be a married woman—an unfaithful wife at that!" Use the star's name and also state that Seena Owen is his leading lady for she is favorably known from her appearances with various male stars.

Carl Laemmle announces the Year's Most Stupendous Pictu

"The VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL"

Starring

PRISCILLA DEAN

Six months in the making—painted by the master hand on a mighty canvas—glowing with all the vivid colors of the strange, romantic East—as human as the cry for food—as dashing as its own wild-riding desert warriors—as full of mystery as a shattered harem. Brightened by delicious comedy as only Priscilla Dean can register it—made fiery and electrifying as only Priscilla Dean can make it. A picture that lifts you out of your seat with the sweep of its big scenes. A picture that needs only one good advertising smash to put it over in your house for weeks. The biggest picture of the year—"THE VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL." Get that booking now!

$500.000 UNIVERSAL-JEWEL PRODUCTION DELUXE

Average Feature But Doesn't Make Most of the Story

Mitchell Lewis in
"KING SPRUCE"
Dial Film Co.—Hodkinson

DIRECTOR .....Roy Clements
AUTHOR.....Holman Day
SCENARIO BY.....Not credited
CAMERAMAN.....Fred G. Hartman
AS A WHOLE.....Fair production with appropriate background for story; runs along in an even tenor throughout.
STORY.....Lumber camp setting makes it just little out of the ordinary.
DIRECTION ....Doesn't vary the force of action enough to indicate the bigger moments in the story.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Splendid
LIGHTINGS .....Good
CAMERA WORK.....Some pretty scenes of actual work in lumber camp.
STAR.....Doesn't compel any particular attention
SUPPORT.....Badly directed and terribly "acty."
EXTERIORS .....Beautiful scenes
INTERIORS .....Adequate
DETAIL.....Fails to get punch in action scenes
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Melodrama of lumber camp settlement.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,600 feet

It would seem very much as though they have purposely made an effort to secure good locations and beautiful scenes to help cover up a weak plot which is further weakened by the lack of force to get over the few worth while moments that the story does not contain. Perhaps the biggest fault is the fact that the climax is reached toward the middle of the picture and from then on the remaining reels are obviously padded.

The direction is bad for the most part, the main fault being that the interest is not properly coached to accept the more dramatic moments that come along, and there were several good ones which might have been made quite worth while had they been properly handled. Then again after the climax had been reached, the action falls back into ordinary routine stuff which included a great many shots of men at work in the forest, and a general finishing up toward the happy ending.

John Barrett, for no very apparent reason, tries to persuade Dwight Wade, Mitchell Lewis, from carrying out his plan to go into the timberlands to seek his fortune. Especially when the lumber king found that his daughter was in love with Wade, he was doubly opposed to any possible rivalry in the forest trade. However, Dwight went into the woods where he came upon a hut occupied by a band of paupers. Among them was a young girl said to be fatherless.

The hut was on Barrett's property and the only way he could drive the paupers out was to burn their hut. But Wade arrived in time to see the destruction and chase after the girl who was avenging the wrong by starting a forest fire. In the meantime the old lookout had overpowered Barrett and related how he (Barrett) had run away with the old man's daughter and how the girl of the woods was Barrett's own child.

Later Wade came to his rival's rescue. Barrett then agreed to take the girl home and give her a name but later decided to pay one of his men $10,000 to marry her and keep her in the lumber camp. McCloud liked the money end of the deal and accepted the offer although he was in love with a girl in the village. After various scuffles and tedious details they arrived at the usual happy ending.

The only laugh in the picture came when a down-and-outer heard the controversy over the marriage deal and volunteered to marry both girls for $10,000. In the cast were Mignon Anderson in a double role, Arthur Millet, Joe Ray, James O'Neil, Betty Wales, Melbourne MacDowell, Gus Soville and Frederic Herzog.

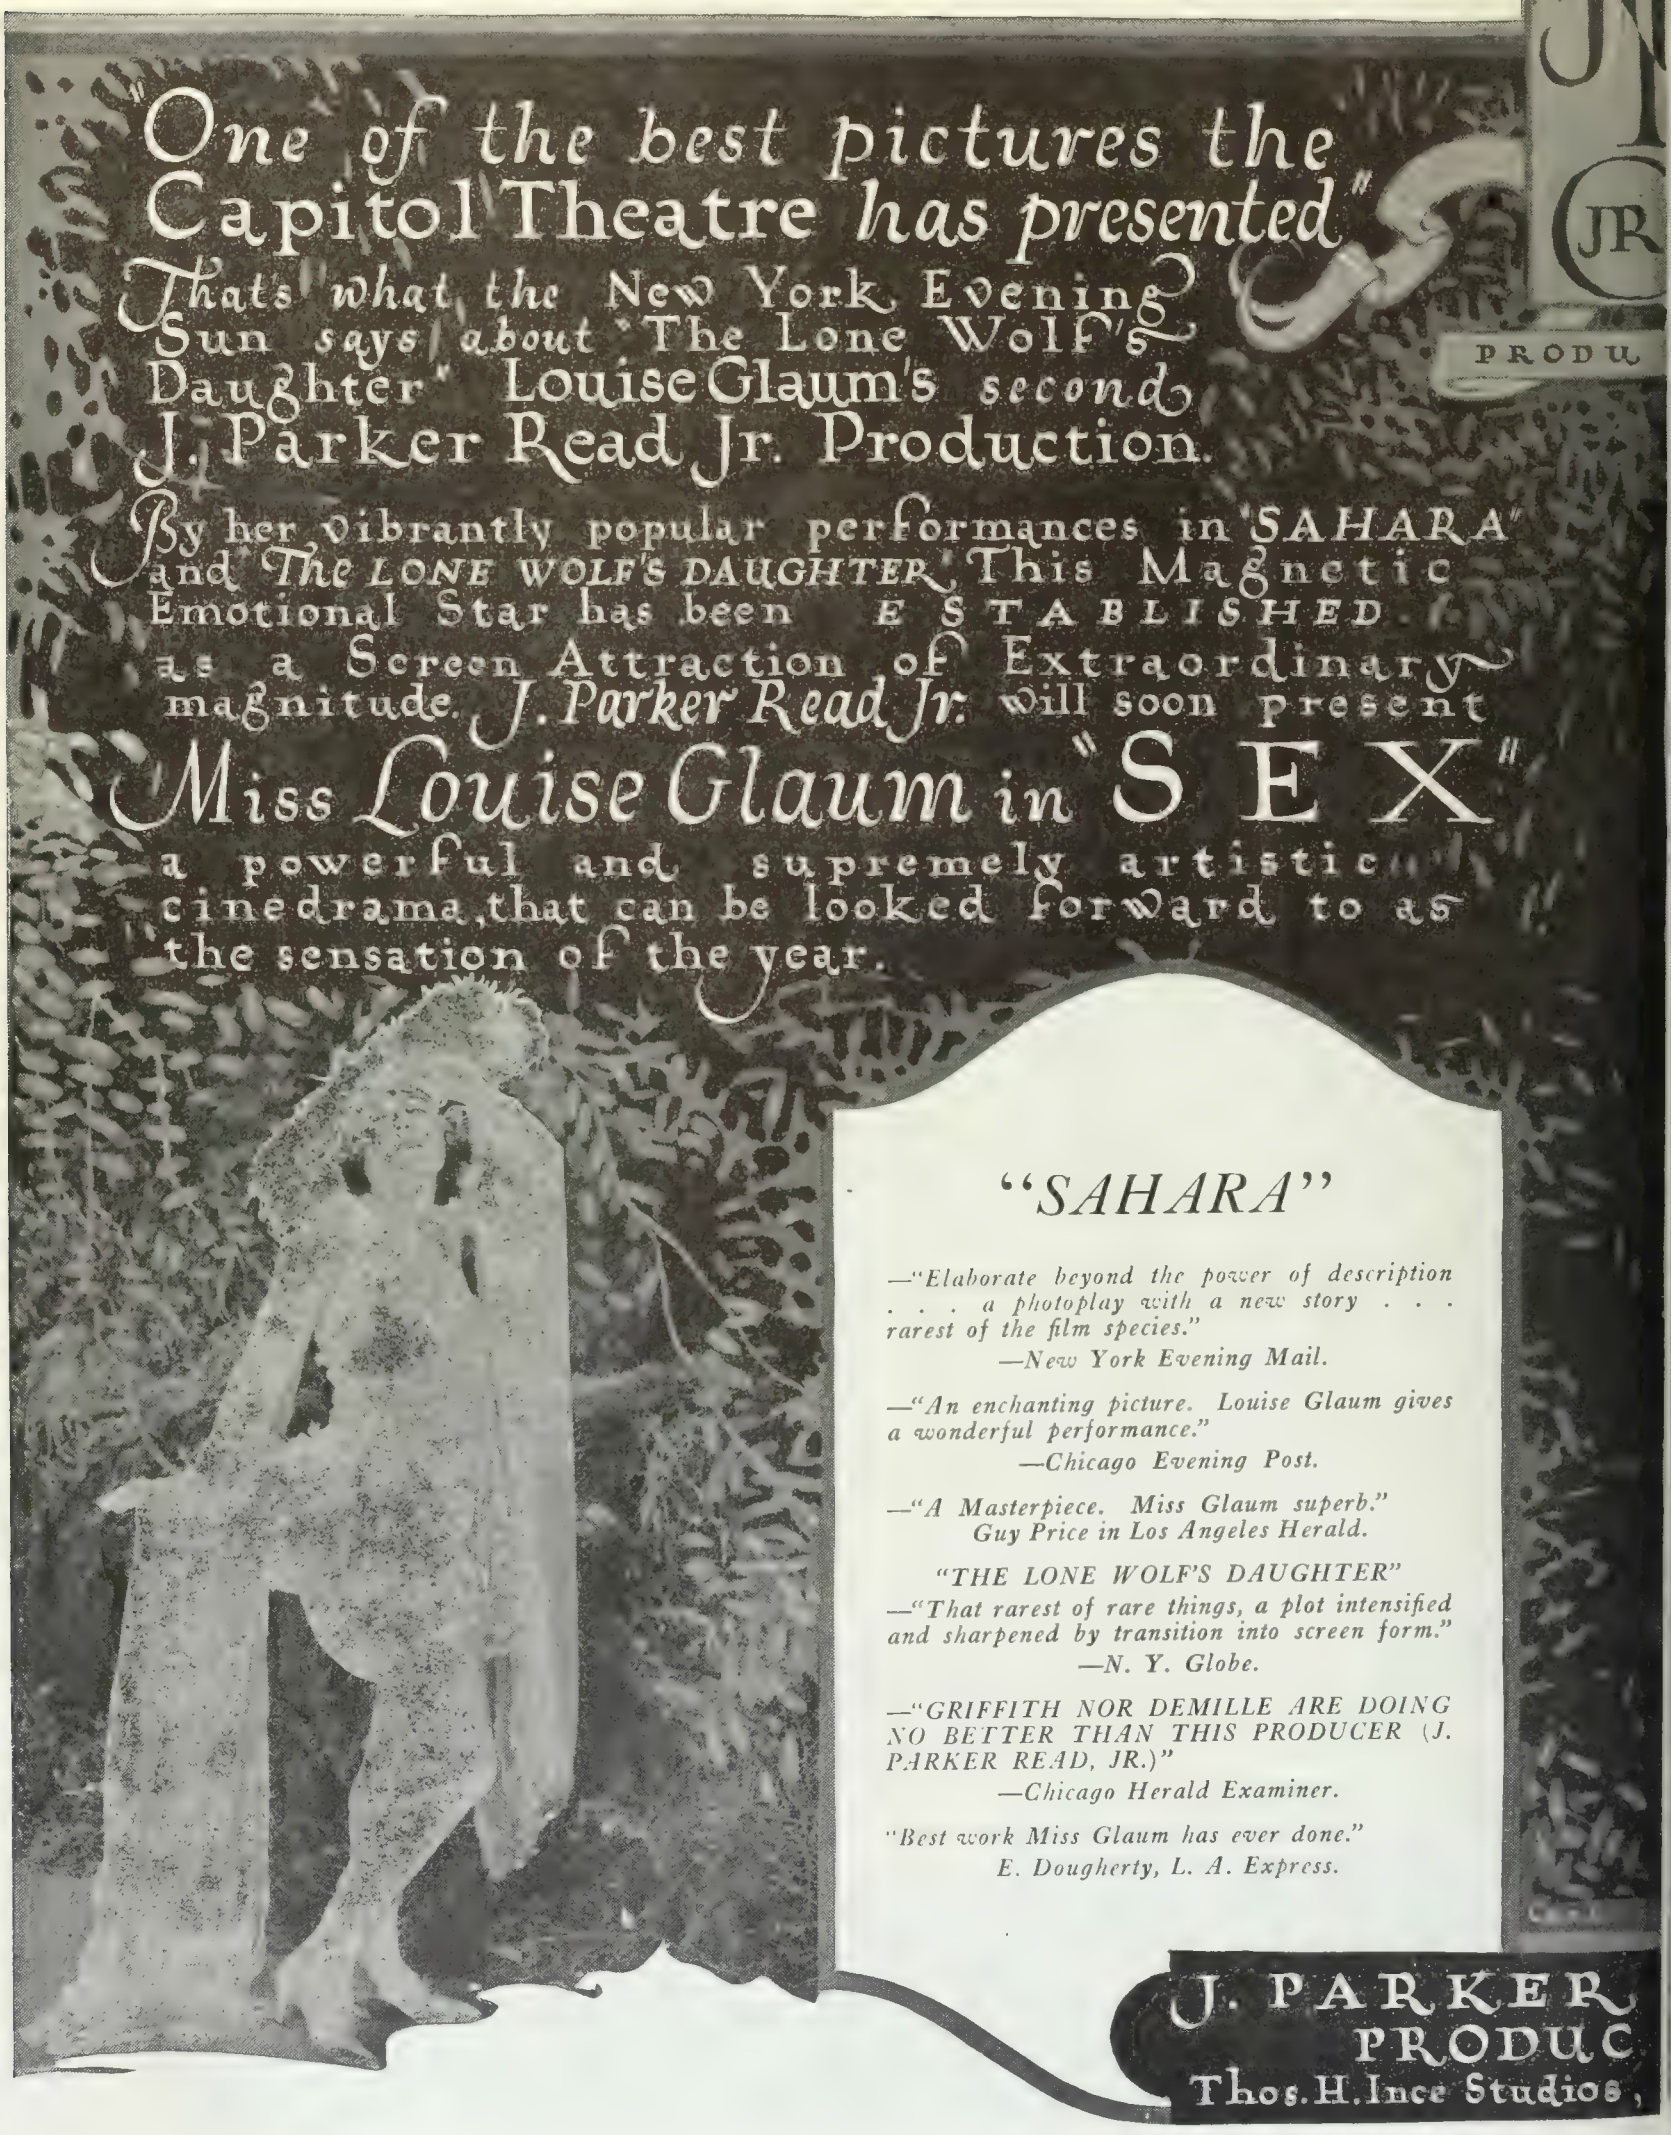
Names of Author and Star Together With Pretty Locations May Help This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

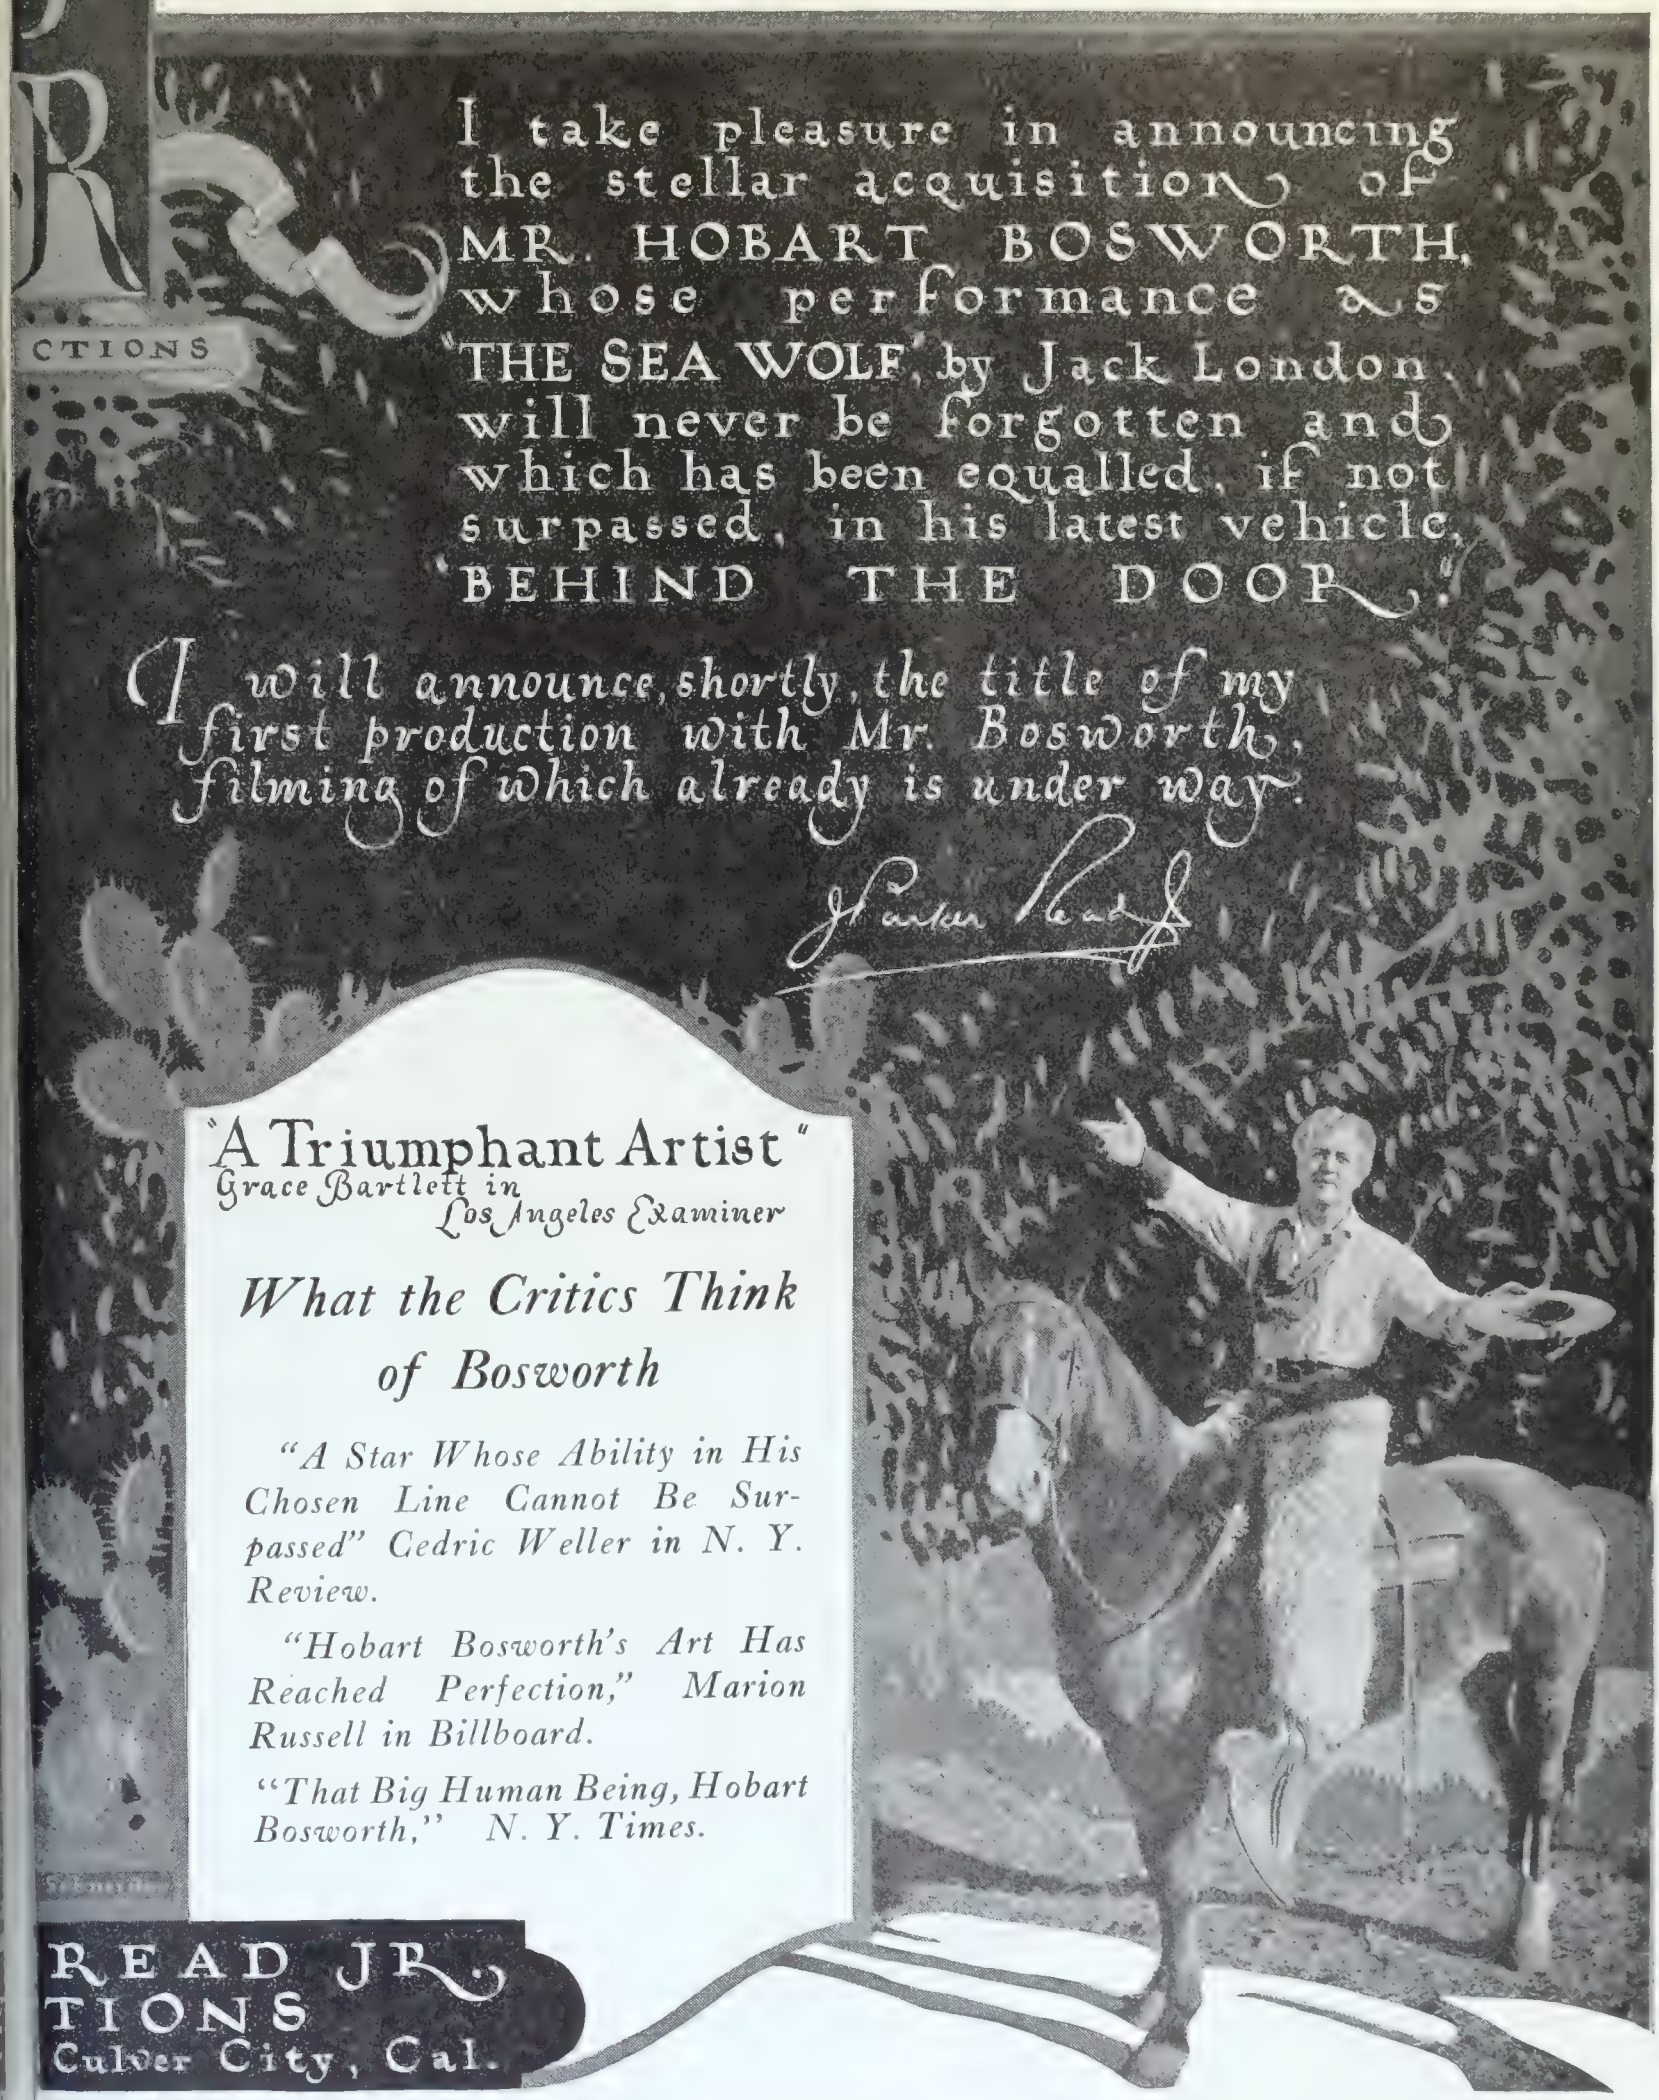
"King Spruce" is just another average program feature picture with no particular high lights to flash about nor substantial box office argument unless it be that Mitchell Lewis' name means something to your crowd. In that case it would be worth your while to do a little talking about it and refer to one of his previous pictures which was somewhat along the same lines as "King Spruce," called "The Last of His People." If you happened to run that, "King Spruce" may appeal to them.

For those who appreciate pretty scenery, there are a great many well chosen shots that they will like. There are also several scenes showing the chopping of huge trees which seem to fall dangerously near the camera and shots showing the huge trunks tearing down dun-ways and splashing into the river to be carried to the mill. These are instructive as well as pretty to look at.

The Screen's Most



Striking Personalities



Nothing Definite in Theme or Drama About This

Alice Brady in
"SINNERS"
Realart

DIRECTOR .....Kenneth Webb
AUTHOR .....Owen Davis
SCENARIO BY.....Eve Unsell
CAMERAMAN .....George Folsey
AS A WHOLE.....Very artificial plot that promises big things but fails to introduce much melodramatic power.
STORY.....There was a chance to make a stirring climax for this but they missed it.
DIRECTION.....Just ordinary; fails to build up various sequences with force.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS .....Mostly plain
CAMERA WORK.....Good
STAR.....Seems a bit too repressed here
SUPPORT.....Includes a lot of big names but they don't get much to do.
EXTERIORS.....Some very pretty and unusual shots of Nantucket.
INTERIORS .....Very good
DETAIL.....Story has several "convenient" twists and star fails to dress to her role at times.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Girl proves to home town that her contact with city sinners hasn't made a sinner of her.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,833 feet

Once more we have a case of excellent picture possibilities not being fully realized by those concerned in the production of the work. Owen Davis' melodrama "Sinners," while, as written may not have offered wonderful chances on the surface, certainly contained plenty of material beneath that could have been brought out by skilful artists and made into a very strong picture. But as "Sinners" stands now it is a very commonplace production, presenting a story that is ever contradicting itself and which never rises to even ordinary melodramatic heights.

Alice Brady appears as Mary, a country girl, who goes to the city to make her living and eventually finds herself forced to accept it from a girl from her home town who has gone wrong, and her friends. Returning because of her mother's illness she is denounced by Worth, a straight-laced local character. She retorts that his friends in the city offered her no assistance while the group of "sinners" did. Then the sinners descend on Mary's home en masse because Bob Merrick, not a sinner after all, wanted to see her again.

They go into the usual final love scene after a lot of business has been introduced in which the sinners and country puritans are brought together. But these scenes prove little whereas they might have been made to mean a lot and take the form of powerful drama. What with the exceedingly beautiful exteriors provided in Nantucket, one at least expects to see the sinners absorb some of the clean air and freshness of the place—expects to see them reform the least bit —but such is not the case.

The story as told here is very convenient in spots, the most noticeable one being when Worth comes to the city to tell Mary of her mother's illness when a telegram would have done just as well. Miss Brady's clothes don't help her to make the part convincing.

The star's performance seems a bit too repressed but the role of Mary doesn't give her very many opportunities to register definite expression one way or the other. Her support includes a lot of good players but they have few opportunities. The story would have been improved a lot had James L. Crane's hero role been built up. Others who appear are Wiliam P. Carleton, Frank Losee, Craufurd Kent, Robert Schable, Agnes Everett, Augusta Anderson, Lorraine Frost and Nora Reed.

Title Will Surely Draw But Many Will Be Dissatisfied

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There is no doubt but that "Sinners," on its title alone, will attract a certain class of patrons in large numbers. They will come expecting to see something a little spicey and the chances are they will be satisfied, inasmuch as there is quite a long sequence of scenes enacted in the home of two of the female sinners.

On the other hand the production is bound to disappoint some to a great extent because they have failed to make anything definite out of the material offered. The story proves nothing except that immoral people can be charitable at times and that the severest critics of morals are often sinners themselves but it doesn't present this argument at all dramatically and that's the big fault.

Muchly Muddled Picture Based on Short Story by Balzac

J. Warren Kerrigan in
"THE DREAM CHEATER"
Brunton Prod.—Hodkinson

DIRECTOR .....Ernets C. Warde
AUTHOR.....Based on Honore de Balzac's "The Wild Ass' Skin."
SCENARIO BY.....Jack Cunningham
CAMERAMAN.....Arthur L. Todd
AS A WHOLE.....Peculiar combination of unusual characterization with a lot of totally irrelevant scenes concerning "parlor Bolshevists."
STORY.....Is really a character study but plot is muddled and shows little force.
DIRECTION.....Gets points over well in the few dramatic scenes.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Suitable
CAMERA WORK..... Average
STAR....Has much characterization to render but not much action to help him out.
SUPPORT ..... Good
EXTERIORS .....Very few
INTERIORS.....Show the usual stolidity of Brunton settings.
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Remolding of superstitious man by means of serious theme
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,100 feet

The tail end of this picture reveals the substance of a short story by Balzac. McShane, the central character, comes into possession of the skin of a wild ass, which is supposed to have some mystic power of granting its holder's wishes. Every time a wish is made the skin shrinks. And the legend is that when it shrinks to nothing its owner will die. McShane wishes himself wealth and his enemies unhappiness and then lives in mortal terror lest he wish the skin out of existence and himself along with it. Eventually the heroine tells him that superstition is nothing but fear and that the skin is nothing to bother about and so he takes courage and throws it away.

This fanciful tale makes good reading when told by Balzac but it isn't picture material. The lesson of how foolish is superstition that it teaches is lessened in effect by the old skin which is shown shrinking every time a wish is made. The natural question will be, "Why does it shrink?" and no explanation is forthcoming. In other words they try to palm off a pure fairy tale theme as a drama. They might at least have utilized the old dream trick.

The beginning of the story is quite apart from the final episode and totally irrelevant with its scenes showing a lot of bewhiskered "parlor Bolshevists." They have absolutely nothing to do with the plot. They endeavor to build up McShane's character through the early reels but get hardly anywhere as there is no definite action to back up the characterization and the love element and its counterplot are muddled.

The final sequence gives J. Warren Kerrigan a number of fine acting opportunities which he realizes on well enough, but here the famous skin comes into the plot so often that you can't help wishing they had decided to make a comedy of it.

Kerrigan is supported by a good cast which includes such skilful players as Sam Sothern, Wedgewood Nowell, Alice Wilson, Joseph J. Dowling, Thomas Guise, Fritzi Brunette and Aggie Herring.

Some People May Be Interested in Seeing a Balzac Story

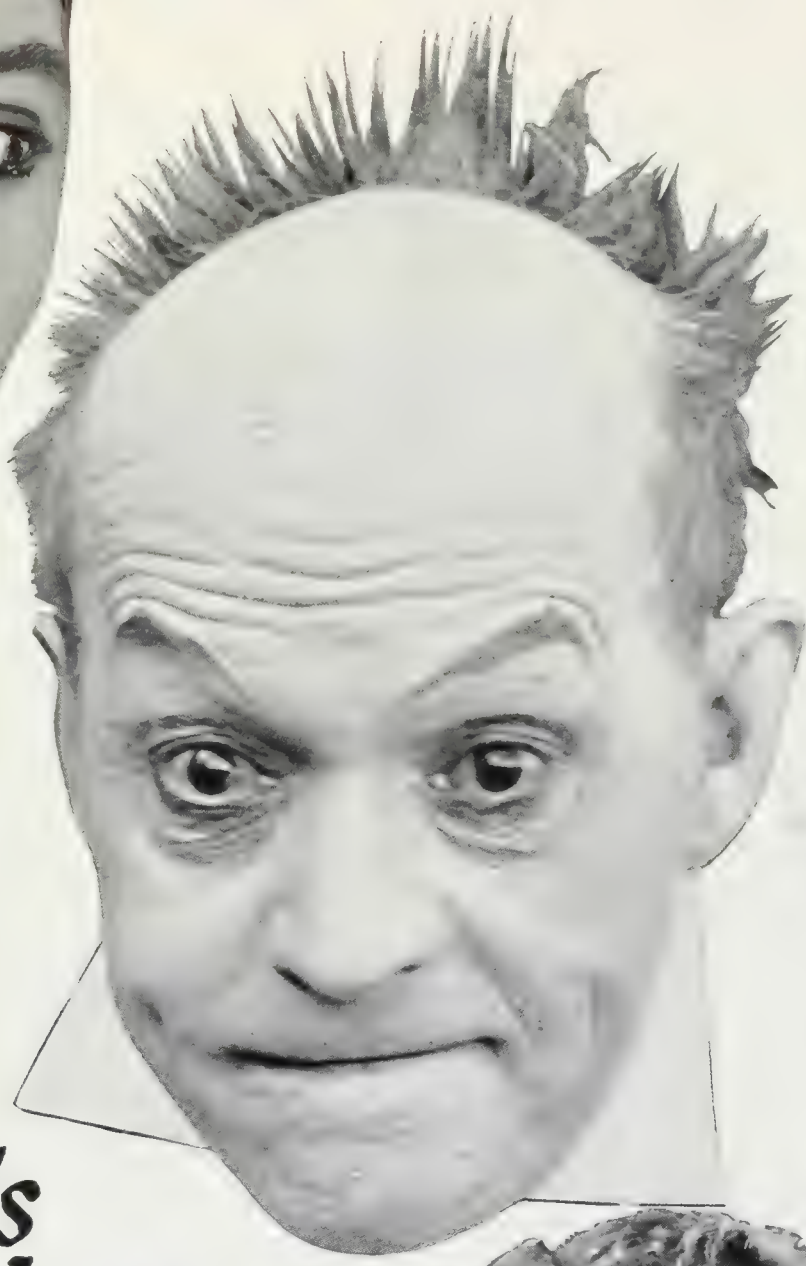
Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Neighborhood houses catering to intelligent audiences may be able to get safely by with this one owing to the fact that it is based on a Balzac story, and many people will be interested in seeing the picture because of this alone. However, the effect that the picture leaves is not one of complete satisfaction. The peculiarly muddled surface that the first half of the picture presents is very poor and the interest really only begins when McShane comes into posession of the magic skin.

Catch lines on the following order will suffice, "A picture based on a fascinating short story by Balzac—distinctly extraordinary," "Superstition drove him almost mad—he thought his footsteps stalked by Death! See the screen version of a Balzac work." This sort of advertising together with the name of the star should bring them in if you want to take a chance on the author's name discounting the peculiarities of the picture.

The adventures of "Jiggs" the famous George McManus creation, are making millions of newspaper readers laugh all over the country.

Your audiences will want to see him and "Maggie" in real life, in real comedy, upon the screen!



Two Reels Booking Now

Pathé
Distributors

A comic conception so good that it is a favorite with over 400 newspapers having 12,000,000 readers

&

International Film Service Co. Inc.

presents

"Jiggs in Society

Produced by Christie Film Co. Inc.
Adapted from Geo. McManus' famous series

"Bringing Up Father"

with Johnny Ray

Pathé
Distributors

Novel and Very Well Produced Crook Melodrama

George Walsh in
"A MANHATTAN KNIGHT"
Fox

DIRECTOR.....George Beranger
AUTHOR .....Gelett Burgess
SCENARIO BY....Paul H. Sloane and George Beranger.
CAMERAMAN .....Charles Gilson
AS A WHOLE.....Rapid action crook melo with a lot of corking good complications.
STORY.....Adapted from "Find the Woman" and converted into fine screen material of this type.
DIRECTION.....Most successful that Walsh has had; story twists pictured clearly and cleverly
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Average
LIGHTINGS .....Commendable
CAMERA WORK.....Good
STAR.....Registers very well and puts over big fight at conclusion in ship-shape style.
SUPPORT.....Very well selected
EXTERIORS.....Plain street stuff
INTERIORS .....Suitable in all cases
DETAIL.....You could pick this type of story to pieces but you don't want to.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero runs headlong into adventure and protects heroine and family from crooks.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

"A Manhattan Knight," based on Gelett Burgess' story, "Find the Woman" is a very entertaining crook melodrama, rapid and unfaltering in action and kept in constant motion by a lot of rattling good situations and complications. It's the sort of story that might easily be picked to pieces from the viewpoint of logic but absolute logic is by no means an essential in this type of photoplay.

Furthermore Director Beranger has gotten away from the "vehicle" type of picture in "A Manhattan Knight." He is not constantly catering to the star and centering all the action around him which, incidentally, is a good thing for both the story and star. Other players have important roles and the action is spread between them in a natural manner. In other words Beranger has gone about directing with his story uppermost in mind. And through this method he proves himself probably the best director that George Walsh has had.

Walsh is introduced having his fortune told. The medium sees the police outside the window and believes they are coming for her. She tells him to flee. And flee he does up the fire escape and into a room where a young man has just attempted to take his life. He proves to be the half brother of the heroine, Belle, who is also present. He had robbed his father's safe and the police, believing him one of a band of crooks, have followed him.

Walsh readily agrees to help the girl out of her difficulty and the rest of the picture concerns his chase after the jewels which fall into the hands of the crooks and out again several times before they are restored in the father's safe. The conclusion reveals Walsh at his favorite pastime of beating up the gang of villains, after which it is discovered that he is the rightful owner of the jewels.

The story is supposed to happen in the space of a single night and the director has always kept this fact in view, wasting no footage and making every incident count. You are surprised time and again throughout the run of the picture by the novel twists and the clever manner in which they have been handled.

Among the supporting cast Louis Wolheim has the largest role as the leader of the crooks. Wolheim is not only a good type but a skilful player. Virginia Hammond is the leading woman while others are William H. Budd, Warren Cook, John Hopkins, Jack Raymond, Walter Mann, Pauline Garon and W. A. Sullivan.

There's No Reason Why This Shouldn't Afford Real Pleasure

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

If a crook picture is well treated it provides one of the most popular forms of entertainment, and as "A Manhattan Knight" is treated with the utmost skill it should afford real pleasure to all audiences, no matter what their makeup may be.

Besides the names of the star and author which should be prominently used in advertising copy, state that the action of the picture all happens in a single night. This is something of a novelty and will attract attention. Catch lines that arouse interest in the substance of the story such as the following should be employed, "When he stepped through the window he fell headlong into the most dangerous adventure and the most glorious romance—" "At five o'clock in the afternoon the girl had never seen him—at midnight she had promised to become his wife."

Not Enough Complications Here For the Best in Detective Mystery Pictures

Tom Moore in
"DUDS"
Goldwyn

DIRECTOR .....Thomas R. Miles
AUTHOR .....Henry C. Rowland
SCENARIO BY .....Harvey Thew
CAMERAMAN .....Otto Brautigam
AS A WHOLE.....Detective mystery picture without sufficient action and complications to maintain interest.
STORY.....Originally appeared in Saturday Evening Post but evidently wasn't proper screen material.
DIRECTION ..... Natural enough
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK ..... Satisfactory
STAR .....Is usual self
SUPPORT ..... Good
EXTERIORS.....New York and Brooklyn shots
INTERIORS.....Fulfill story demands to nicety
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero apprehends jewel smugglers, discovers priceless gem, wins reward and heroine.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION ....About 5,000 feet

The best screen detective mystery stories are those produced on the "snap-action" plan, i. e., the plan that utilizes the short, quick, snappy scene. Put this formulae into effect on a story containing a good assortment of complications and the results are of the best. "Duds," a detective mystery picture has neither sufficient complications for a picture of this type, nor is the action handled along the above approved plan. As a result the picture is rather listless and excites little interest in the long run.

Tom Moore is introduced as a returned army captain after a title has said something about duds being the shells that don't explode in battle. The connection between Tom and the duds is never explained unless it be that Tom doesn't explode in the picture. After he rescues a pretty girl named Olga from a police raid on a crooks' "fence" he is introduced to her father, Karakoff who hires him to trace down jewel smugglers.

He meets Patricia who also is pursuing the smugglers in search of a Sultana diamond. There is one very good sequence showing Tom and Patricia in a small motor boat fighting off the smugglers who are out to pick up the jewels dropped from a liner in boxes. There is a gun fight following which the smugglers' boat is rammed and sunk.

Later Tom discovers Karakoff in the smugglers' den and resigns his position because of his love for Olga. Then Karakoff explains that he was posing as one of the smugglers merely to apprehend the whole band. The explanation is pretty weak and doesn't seem to fit. Subsequently Tom learns that Olga has gone to Patricia's house for dinner, expecting to see him there. He follows and discovers that Patricia and her pal are after the scarab possessed by Olga which contains the priceless Sultana diamond. He rescues Olga, returns the diamond to its owner and receives a big reward.

The star is his usual congenial self in the role of the captain while support of a good order is rendered by such well-known players as Naomi Childers, Edwin Stevens, Christine Mayo, Jack Richardson, Florence Deshon, Lionel Belmore, Edwin Wallack and William Hummell.

Recent Appearance of Book Will Help to Publicize This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

The reviews of the book "Duds" which have recently appeared in the papers hint, in no uncertain terms, that it is an ideal plot for a "movie." But if the picture "Duds" contains all that was in the book, the reviewers are wrong. A picture detective story needs manifold complications to keep the interest up at all times and these "Duds" does not possess. The story may have looked like the right thing for pictures but that only goes to show appearances often deceive.

"Duds" has some merit and doubtless its appearance at this time just as the book is out will help it. It will give some satisfaction but at the same time it isn't all that such a picture should be and there are many moments in it when the thread of interest vanishes altogether. If you play it feature the author's name as well as the star's and brace your bill up with short subjects that are live and snappy.

Four Remarkable "Specials" That Uphold The Hodkinson Standards

WE announce for forthcoming release to the exhibitors of America, under the single picture policy first established in April 1919 by W. W. Hodkinson, these powerful productions:

J. Parker Read Jr. presents:

1. LOUISE GLAUM in "SEX"
   By C. Gardner Sullivan — Directed by Fred Niblo
   See next week's insert — Released April 11

Dial Film Co. presents:

2. MITCHELL LEWIS in "KING SPRUCE"
   By Holman F. Day — Directed by Roy Clements
   See following week's insert — Released April 18

Benj. B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner present:

3. ALL-STAR CAST in "DESERT OF WHEAT"
   By Zane Grey — Directed by Jack Conway
   See following week's insert — Released April 25

Theodore C. Deitrich and Arthur F. Beck present:

4. DORIS KENYON in "THE HARVEST MOON"
   By Augustus Thomas — Directed by J. Searle Dawley
   See following week's insert — Released May 2

These productions, on their dramatic and technical power, will be the outstanding picture successes in the biggest first run theatres of the nation all spring and summer. They have been picked from individual sources under our selective system by the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation with the same care and caution that you, the exhibitors, display in picking only big pictures for your theatres.

Twenty consecutive weeks of advertising will back them up in introducing them to you and to the American people.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

Poorly Produced Picture That Goes to Wild Story Extremes

"THE THIRD WOMAN"
Robertson-Cole

DIRECTOR .....Chas. Swickard
AUTHOR .....Raymond L. Schrock
SCENARIO BY .....Not credited
CAMERAMAN ..... Not credited
AS A WHOLE.....Poorly directed and badly cut production of very impossible story.
STORY.....Goes to extremes all the way through and fails to convince.
DIRECTION.....Generally poor except in Pueblo Indian sequence.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Average to very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Passable
CAMERA WORK.....Cuts off tops of players' heads in some scenes.
STAR.....Production made with Carlyle Blackwell as star but titles fail to credit him; gives sincere performance.
EXTERIORS.....Very good scenes of Pueblo Indian village.
INTERIORS ..... Fair
DETAIL.....Production badly edited in several places.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero discovers he has Indian blood in him and goes back to live with Indians; then back to white girl who has loved him since childhood.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,900 feet

Three very severe faults intrude to make Carlyle Blackwell's first independently produced picture quite a failure. Incidentally the distributors are releasing the picture with "an all star cast" making no particular mention of the star.

These faults are a very foolish story, which goes to the wildest extremes, poor direction, and very bad editing. The story is the biggest drawback for when the hero discovers that his mother was an Indian he suffers a great sorrow and leaves all his white friends. This certainly doesn't convince. Since when has Indian blood been something to be ashamed of? And certainly it doesn't show to any great extent in this hero as interpreted by Carlyle Blackwell.

So after the discovery the story jumps to another extreme and reintroduces the hero living among the Pueblo Indians. Why a man with a college education and of gentle breeding should choose to go back to living in an adobe hut and walking about half naked just because he is a half-breed is as hard to understand as the wherefore of his foresaking the whites in the first place.

They work up a pretty good strain of suspense in the Indian sequence despite the awkward manner of getting to it. Eventually the hero discovers he can't marry an Indian even as he couldn't marry a society snob and so he goes to the third woman, a true daughter of the plains, who has loved him since childhood.

The extreme story might have been camouflaged by a good production but the first sequences in particular are poorly directed. The scenes fail to form a perfect continuity as witness the very small supper table, seating only a dozen odd when a score or more are seen dancing and the full shots of a pond in the garden with the closeups revealing a little bit of a tin tank. The editing of the picture further shows to disadvantage when the western heroine is precipitated into the action like a stroke of lightning.

Carlyle Blackwell gives a sincere performance but fails to be convincing because of the extreme demands of his role. Louise Lovely as the society girl and Gloria Hope as the daughter of the plains render good assistance while others are Winter Hall, George Herandez, Walter Long, Maym Kelso and Frank Lanning.

A Weak Sister That Has Small Chance of Getting Over

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This certainly isn't a high-class piece of picture property and its many faults stamp it as one of the week sisters of the day. If you run a daily change house you might slip it in and say nothing about it but the chances are slim that it will give satisfaction even to the transients who are, as a rule, the least critical of picture patrons.

The chief fault is the story. The author seems to be all wrong in his premise that a strain of Indian blood is something to be ashamed of. A lot of folks are going to think this very foolish and some will probably laugh at it. Thus the whole structure of the picture is weakened. Then on top of this the poor production qualities can hardly escape notice.

If you've got it chalked up on your books already and insist on having an advertising angle to develop center your copy on the hero with such lines as "What would you do if you discovered Indian blood ran in your veins," "He had more right to the title of American than any of his friends, yet he thought if he told them the truth they would condemn him!"

Very Pleasing Light Drama With Many Fine Comedy Touches

Blanche Sweet in
"THE DEADLIER SEX"
J. D. Hampton—Pathe

DIRECTOR .....Robert Thornby
AUTHOR .....Bayard Veiller
SCENARIO BY .....Fred Myton
CAMERAMAN .....Charles Kaufman
AS A WHOLE.....Light and thoroughly entertaining picture centering on battle of wits between man and woman.
STORY.....Very well developed with interest nicely maintained throughout.
DIRECTION .....Very good
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Generally good
CAMERA WORK ..... Commendable
STAR.....Registers very well in congenial role
SUPPORT.....Mahlon Hamilton good opposite; all commendable.
EXTERIORS.....Some very pretty shots of uninhabited river country.
INTERIORS ..... Few used
DETAIL.....Story based on improbability but registers convincingly because of lightness.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Heroine kidnaps Wall Street manipulator to save her stockholders money.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,185 feet

Here is a nice light drama with many touches of comedy, extremely simple, but always entertaining and very prettily set against big outdoor backgrounds. The story is based on an improbable premise but its body registers convincingly because of the light touch evidenced throughout the production, while the originality and unusual consequences of this situation lend added flavor and distinction to the picture.

The story is based on the battle of wits between the heroine and a Wall Street manipulator whose eyes fail to reflect anything else but dollar signs. On the death of Mary Willard's father she takes over the management of his railroad but finds herself forced into a position where she must fight Harvey Judson, another railroad owner, who is after control of her company. His method of getting control is to scare the small stockholders into selling at a low figure.

To protect her stockholders from Judson Mary has him kidnapped and taken to the woods where his ready money won't buy a single thing. Judson falls in love with Mary believing her the niece of an old guide that camps near him. The conflict between the two characters is well worked up and counter-action in the shape of a north woods villain is introduced to work up the suspense.

In the end Judson discovers the identity of Mary and vows to break her in the market. The two have a wild race to get to the station where they are greeted by the news that neither has a railroad any more as the government has taken them over. This bit is out-of-date but good for a real laugh and they conclude the picture with a love scene that also has a fine comedy touch.

Blanche Sweet comes back still further in this and registers a very attractive character in the role of Mary. Mahlon Hamilton makes Judson a realistic figure while other who appear are Winter Hall, Russell Simpson, Roy Laidlaw and Boris Karloff.

Title, Star and Author Provide Fine Advertising Basis

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

The title of this is somewhat misleading although it is, in a way, appropriate to the story and it certainly is one that will draw. However to prevent your patrons from getting an altogether wrong impression of the picture's character it would be good form to use some line in the way of a subtitle just to let them know that it's not a vamp story. Some such line as "A battle of wits between man and woman" will suit.

Other catch lines that will describe the picture attractively are; "Harvey Judson prided himself as an unusually successful business man and a woman, oh, she was easy! But when he started to fight Mary Willard be was forced to sing another tune," "How a clever girl proved herself the equal and the business better of a Wall Street manipulator."

You can't feature Blanche Sweet too much for her performance here certainly justified stardom and will go a long way toward pushing her up to the top again. Also use the name of the author Bayard Veiller and mention the fact that he is the author of "The Thirteenth Chair" and "Within the Law," these two plays having had unuusally successful runs. Both these have been made into pictures, too, and that gives you more chances for publicity.

Subject Not Timely But Splendid Production May Get It Over

"DANGEROUS DAYS"
Eminent Authors Prod.—Goldwyn

DIRECTOR .....Reginald Barker
AUTHOR .....Mary Robert Rinehart
SCENARIO BY .....Charles Kenyon
CAMERAMAN .....Percy Hilburn
AS A WHOLE.....Technically well made production but theme will have little appeal for present day audiences.
STORY.....Not timely and recalls a time that most folks are trying hard to forget.
DIRECTION.....Handled material very well, especially climax that is worked up to unusual degree of excitement.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Very good
LIGHTINGS.....Generally good; some backgrounds dark.
CAMERA WORK .....Up to the standard
PLAYERS.....Capable and give adequate performances in respective parts.
EXTERIORS.....Spectacular night fire scene
INTERIORS.....Some brilliant sets
DETAIL.....Players representing father and mother should have looked older in comparison with age of son.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Financial and domestic conditions in America prior to entrance into war.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....6,662 feet

If you are willing to accept a picture for its technical value or from the standpoint of a well made production, "Dangerous Days" will fit right in. If, on the other hand, you want a story that will entertain your folks, something with a general appeal, or a picture of life at any time whether it be the past, present or future,—"Dangerous Days" will fit right in.

Reginald Barker has left little undone in the picturization of the Mary Roberts Rinehart story, but it is to be regretted indeed that the picture wasn't ready for the public at the time represented by the story itself.

So much for production but alas—how many are trying to forget the unhappy events of the past three years and the days preceding the United States' entrance into the Great War. While "Dangerous Days" does not reach the battle fields and there are no actual dealings with the war itself, there is a reminder of a time that some will never forget without having it brought back to them on the screen namely the closing scene showing our troops mobiilzing.

Lawson Butt as Clayton Spencer is the head of the large steel organization which is devoting it energies to the manufacture of ammunition. Incidental to Butt's government contract responsibilities and a growing dissatisfaction among some of the workers which is already making itself apparant in the person of Herman Klein, the steel king has domestic troubles to contend with in the form of a superficial sort of wife, a mother who abhors the thought of her son going to war.

Young Spencer, Rowland Lee, an assistant in his father's plant, has Klein's daughter Anna for a stenographer. Anna is secretly in love with Lee who takes her slight advances merely in a friendly way and gives her a watch for her birthday. Rudolph Klein makes use of the incident to excite his frother Herman's wrath against the elder Spencer and his son by intimating an affair between the girl and Lee. Herman Klein agrees to enter the plot to blow up the factory and himself lays the fatal bomb.

The climax is full of action and perhaps a little unexpected. Anna is killed in an effort to expose the plot when the explosion occurs before she reaches the factory. The close shows Lee bidding good-bye to a school day sweetheart before he marches away. In the cast are Clarrissa Selwynne, Barbara Castleton, Ann Forrest, Stanton Heck, Frank Leigh, H. Milton Ross, Eddie McWade, Pauline Starke, Florence Deshon and Bertram Grassby.

Tell Them What It's About And Use the Name of the Author.

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There is only one drawback to "Dangerous Days" as previously stated in view of the fact that it recalls pre-war days. If your crowd will not take the subject too much to heart, you have nothing to worry about inasmuch the production itself contains an interest and suspense that holds throughout, and there are some big moments gotten over in a big way.

Make good use of the author's name and the fact that "Dangerous Days" is another of the Eminent Authors productions produced by Goldwyn. It would not be advisable to try to get away with it by sidetracking the subject although the title itself rather implies the theme.

CURRENT RELEASES

EQUITY PICTURES CORP.

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
	Eyes of Youth (Clara Kimball Young)	7	11/16/19

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORP.

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
Jan. 4	The Woman in the Suitcase (Enid Bennett)		1/18/20
Jan. 4	Too Much Johnson (Bryant Washburn)	5	2/22/20
Jan. 4	The Thirteenth Commandment (Ethel Clayton)	5	2/15/20
Jan. 11	Sand (William S. Hart)	5	———
Jan. 18	Mary Ellen Comes to Town (Dorothy Gish)	5	———
Jan. 18	The Tree of Knowledge (Robert Warwick)	5	1/18/20
Jan. 25	What's Your Husband Doing? (Douglas MacLean-Doris May)	5	2/8/20
Jan. 25	The Copperhead (Super-Special)	5	2/15/20
Feb. 1	Double Speed (Wallace Reid)	5	2/8/20
Feb. 1	All of a Sudden Peggy (Marguerite-Clark)	5	———
Feb. 8	The Six Best Cellars (Bryant Washburn)	5	3/14/20
Feb. 15	Mary's Ankle (MacLean & May)	5	3/7/20
Feb. 15	On With the Dance (Super-Special)	5	2/15/20
Feb. 22	Black is White (Dorothy Dalton)	5	3/14/20
Feb. 22	The Amateur Wife (Irene Castle)	5	———
Feb. 29	Huckleberry Finn (Super-Special)	5	2/29.20
Feb. 29	Young Mrs. Winthrop (Ethel Clayton)	5	———
Feb. 29	Dangerous Hours	5	2/8/20
Mar. 7	Alarm Clock Andy (Charles Ray)	5	———
Mar. 7	His House in Order (Elsie Ferguson)	5	3/14/20
Mar. 14	Jack Straw (Robert Warwick)	5	———
Mar. 14	Mary Ellen Comes to Town (Dorothy Gish)	5	———
Mar. 21	Excuse My Dust (Wallace Reid)	5	———
Mar. 21	April Folly (Cosmopolitan)	5	3/7/20
Mar 28	My Lady's Garter (Maurice Tourneur's)	5	———
Mar. 28	Easy to Get (Marguerite Clark)	5	———

FIRST NATIONAL

	A Daughter of Two Worlds (Norma Talmadge)	6	1/11/20
	Two Weeks (Constance Talmadge)	5	2/1/20
	Even as Eve	5	———
	The Turning Point (Katherine MacDonald)	5	———
	The River's End (Marshall Neilan Prod.)	5	2/22/20
	Polly of the Storm Country (Mildred Harris Chaplin)	5	———
	In Search of a Sinner (Constance Talmadge)		3/14/20
	The Inferior Sex (Mildred Harris Chaplin)		———
	The Fighting Shepherdess (Anita Stewart)		———
	The Family Honor (King Vidor)		———
	Fires of Youth (D. W. Griffith's)		———
	The Woman Gives (Norma Talmadge)		———

FOX FILM CORP.

William Farnum Series
	The Last of the Duanes	7	10/5/19
	Wings of the Morning	6	12/7/19
	Heart Strings	6	1/4/20
	The Adventurer	6	1/4/20
Tom Mix Series
	The Feud	5	———
	The Cyclone	5	2/18/20
	The Daredevil	5	3/14/20
Victory Releases
	The Devil's Riddle (Gladys Brockwell)	5	2/18/20
Excel Pictures
	The Hell Ship (Madlaine Traverse)	5	2/15/20
	Black Shadows (Peggy Hyland)		———
	Durand of the Bad Lands (Dustin Farnum)		———
Other Fox Entertainments
	A Manhattan Knight (George Walsh)	5	———
	Molly and I (Shirley Mason)	5	———
	Black Shadows (Peggy Hyland)	5	———
Pearl White Series
	The White Moll		———

GOLDWYN DISTRIBUTING CORP.

Star Series Productions
	Jubilo (Will Rogers)	5	12/14/19
	The Loves of Letty (Pauline Frederick)	5	2/15/20
	Toby's Bow (Tom Moore)	5	12/28/19
	Pinto (Mabel Normand)	5	2/1/20
	Water, Water Everywhere (Will Rogers)	5	2/8/20
	The Silver Horde (Rex Beach's	5	———
	The Cup of Fury (Rupert Hughes)	5	———
	The Paliser Case (Pauline Frederick)		2/22/20
	The Blooming Angel (Madge Kennedy)		2/15/20
	Duds (Tom Moore)		———
	The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come (Jack Pickford)		2/22/20
	The Street Called Straight (Basil King)		3/14/20
Bennison Star Series
	High Pockets	5	———
	A Misfit Earl	5	———

HALLMARK PICTURES CORP.

	A Dangerous Affair (Herbert Rawlinson)	5	———
	Wit Wins (Florence Billings)	5	———
	Love, Honor and ? (Stuart Holmes- Ellen Cassidy)	5	———
	The Phantom Honeymoon (Margaret Marsh)	6	———
	The Heart of a Gypsy (Florence Billings)	5	12/7/19
	A Woman's Experience (Mary Boland)		———
	The Veiled Marriage	5	12/14/20

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

W. W. HODKINSON CORP.

Distributing Through Pathe

Benj. B. Hampton—Great Authors Pictures, Inc.
	The Sagebrusher	7	1/4/20
Zane Grey Pictures, Inc.—Benj. B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner
	The Desert of Wheat	6	———
J. Parker Read, Jr., Productions
	Sahara (Louise Glaum)	7	3/23/19
	The Lone Wolf's Daughter (Louise Glaum)	7	12/14/19
	Sex (Louise Glaum)	7	3/21/20
Deitrich-Beck, Inc.
	The Harvest Moon (Doris Kenyon)	6	———
Artco Productions
	The Capitol (Leah Baird)	6	12/21/19
	Cynthia-of-the-Minute (Leah Baird)		———
Robert Brunton Productions
	The Joyous Liar (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	12/14/19
	The Lord Loves the Irish (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	———
	Live Sparks (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	1/25/20
	$30,000 (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	2/22/20
	The Dream Cheater (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	3/21/20
Joseph Levering Productions
	His Temporary Wife (Rubye De Remer)	6	1/25/20
Dial Film Co.
	King Spruce (Mitchell Lewis)	7	3/21/20

METRO PICTURES CORP.

Nazimova Productions
	The Brat	7	9/14/19
	Stronger Than Death	6	1/18/20
	The Heart of a Child	7	———
Screen Classics, Inc. (Specials)
	Should a Woman Tell (Alice Lake)	6	12/28/19
	The Walk-Offs (May Allison)	6	1/25/20
	The Willow Tree (Viola Dana)	6	1/11/20
	The Right of Way (Bert Lytell)	6	2/1/20
	The Best of Luck (Drury Lane Melodrama)	6	———
	Old Lady 31 (Emma Dunn)	6	———
	Shore Acres (Alice Lake)	6	———
	Eliza Comes to Stay (Viola Dana)	6	———
	Judah (May Allison)	6	———
	Alias Jimmy Valentine (Bert Lytell)	6	———
	The Hope (All Star Cast)	6	———
Taylor Holmes Productions
	Nothing But the Truth	6	1/11/20
	The Very Idea	6	2/22/20

PATHE EXCHANGE, INC.

Jan. 4	My Husband's Other Wife (Sylvia Breamer)	6	12/21/19
Jan. 11	Fighting Cressy (Blanche Sweet)	6	12/14/19
Jan. 18	The Web of Deceit (Dolores Cassinelli)	6	1/4/20
Feb. 2	Other Men's Shoes (Edgar Lewis)	5	1/18/20
Feb. 2	Respectable by Proxy (Sylvia Breamer, Robt. Gordon)	6	2/1/20
Feb. 29	Smoldering Embers (Frank Keenan)	5	2/15/20
Mar. 7	In Walked Mary (June Caprice)	5	2/29/20
Mar. 14	Tarnished Reputations (Dolores Cassinelli)	5	3/7/20
Apr. 4	Lifting Shadows (Emmy Whelen)	6	———
Apr 11	The Blood Barrier (Slyvia Breamer, Robert Gordon)	6	———
American Film Co., Inc.
	Eve in Exile (Charlotte Walker)	7	12/14/19
	The Valley of Tomorrow (Wm. Russell)	5	1/18/20
	The Dangerous Talent (Margarita Fisher)		3/14/20
	The Honey Bee (Mme Sylvia)		———
	Slam Bang Jim (Wm. Russell)	5	———
	The Thirtieth Piece of Silver (Margarita Fisher)	6	———

RADIOSOUL FILM, INC.

	A Man There Was (Victor Seastrom)	5	2/29/20

REALART PICTURES CORP.

	Soldiers of Fortune (Anna Q. Nilsson), Pauline Starke, Norman Kerry, Wallace Beery	7	11/16/19
	Anne of Green Gables (Mary Miles Minter)	6	11/23/19
	Erstwhile Susan (Constance Binney)	5	12/7/19
	Mystery of the Yellow Room (Lorin Baker, Ethel Grey Terry, Geo. Cowl, Edmund Elton)	6	10/26/19
	The Fear Market (Alice Brady)	5	1/11/20
	Judy of Rogue's Harbor (Mary Miles Minter)	5	2/8/20
	The Stolen Kiss (Constance Binney)	5	3/14/20
	Sinners (Alice Brady)	5	———

ROBERTSON-COLE

Specials
	The Open Door	6	10/19/19
	The Broken Butterfly	6	10/26/19
	The Beloved Cheater	5	11/16/19
	The House of Intrigue	7	———

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

SUPERIOR PICTURES

January Releases

	Haunting Shadows (H. B. Warner)	5	1/18/20
	The Third Generation (Brentwood)	5	1/25/20
	The Beggar Prince (Sessue Hayakawa)	5	2/1/20

February Releases

	The Luck of Geraldine Laird (Bessie Barriscale)	5	2/1/20
	Seeing It Through (Za Su Pitts)	5	2/15/20

L. J. Selznick Enterprises

SELZNICK PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	The Woman God Sent (Zena Keefe)	5	——
	Footlights and Shadows (Olive Thomas)	5	2/15/20
	The Imp (Elsie Janis)	5	——
	Sooner or Later (Owen Moore)	5	——
	His Wife's Money (Eugene O'Brien)	5	——
	Greater Than Fame (Elaine Hammerstein)	5	1/18/20
	The Broken Melody (Eugene O'Brien)	5	12/28/19
	The Woman Game (Elaine Hammerstein)	5	3/14/20
	Youthful Folly (Olive Thomas)	5	——
	His Word of Honor (Owen Moore)	5	——
	A Fool adn His Money (Eugene O'Brien)	5	——

SELECT PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	She Loves and Lies (Norma Talmadge)	6	1/11/20
	The Last of His People (Mitchell Lewis)	5	12/21/19
	The Undercurrent (Guy Empey)	7	12/7/19

NATIONAL PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	Blind Youth (Special Cast)	5	——
	Just a Wife (Special Cast)	5	——

REPUBLIC PICTURES

Distributed Through Republic Exchances

	Trilby (Reissue) Tourneur Production with Clara Kimball Young	5	——
	Girl of the Sea (Williamson Sub. Prod.)	6	——
	The Amazing Woman (Ruth Clifford)	5	2/29/20
	The Blue Pearl (Edith Hallor)	5	——
	Twelve-10 (Herbert Brenon Prod.), Marie Doro	5	12/28/19
	Dad's Girl (Jackie Saunders)	5	——
	The Gift Supreme	5	——
	The Only Way Trail (Edythe Sterling)	5	——
	Mothers of Men	5	3/7/20

KINOGRAMS

Every Tuesday and Saturday.

UNITED ARTISTS' CORP.

Dec. 2	When the Clouds Roll By (Fairbanks)		1/4/20

UNITED PICTURE THEATERS

	Tiger Girl (Lillian Gish)	5	——
	The Corsican Brothers (Dustin Farnum)	6	2/28/19
	The Hick (Charles Ray)	5	——
	The Vampire (Dorothy Dalton)	5	——
	Women Men Forget (Mollie King)	5	3/14/20
	The Iron Strain (Dustin Farnum)	5	——

UNIVERSAL FILM MFG. CO.

Jewel Features

	Paid in Advance (Dorothy Phillips)	6	11/16/19
	The Right to Happiness (Dorothy Phillips)	8	8/24/19
	Blind Husbands (Eric Stroheim)	7	10/19/19

Universal Features

	The Pointing Finger (Mary MacLaren)	5	12/7/19
	The Day She Paid (Francelia Billington)	5	12/14/19
	The Triflers (Edith Roberts)	5	6/11/20
	The Phantom Melody (Monroe Salisbury)	5	1/25/20
	Marked Men (Harry Carey)	5	12/21/19
	Rouge and Riches (Mary MacLaren)	5	1/4/20
	The Prince of Avenue A (James Corbett)	5	1/11/20
	The Peddler of Lies (Frank Mayo, Ora Carew)	5	1/25/20
	The Forged Bride (Mary MacLaren)	5	2/1/20

VITAGRAPH

	When a Man Loves (Earle Williams)	5	1/18/20
	The Sins of the Mothers (Anita Stewart)	5	——
	The Midnight Bride (Gladys Leslie)	5	2/1/20
	Human Collateral (Corinne Griffith)	5	——
	The Birth of a Soul (Harry Morey)	5	2/1/20
	The Juggernaut (Anita Stewart)	5	——
	Deadline at Eleven (Corinne Griffith)	5	3/14/20
	The Flaming Clue (Harry T. Morey)	5	——
	The More Excellent Way (Anita Stewart)	5	——

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

Special Productions

	The Winchester Woman (Alice Joyce)	6	11/16/19
	The Climbers (Corinne Griffith)	6	11/9/19
	The Vengeance of Durand (Alice Joyce)	6	12/14/19
	Slaves of Pride (Alice Joyce)	6	1/18/20
	The Fortune Hunter (Earle Williams)	7	2/22/20
	The Sporting Duchess (Alice Joyce)	7	3/7/20
	Captain Swift (Earle Williams)	5	——

SHORT REEL RELEASES

Frohman Amusement Co.

January Releases

	Gemini Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1	——
	All Wrong Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1	——
	The Heart of Texas (Texas Guinam)	2	——
	Spirit of Cabin Mine (Texas Guinan)	2	——

C. L. Chester

January Releases

	No Coma in Acoma	1	——
	The People in White	1	——
	The Simple Life	1	——
	Mr. Outing Gets a Pipe Dream	1	——

FAMOUS PLAYERS

January Releases

	A Lady's Tailor (Sennett)	2	——
	After the Circus (Briggs)	1	——
	Push Car Trails in Formosa (Burton Holmes)	1	——

February Releases

COMEDIES

Ten Dollars or Ten Days (Mack Sennett)		2
Hoodooed (De Havens)		2

BURTON HOLMES TRAVEL SERIES

Belgium Smiles Again	1
Filming Ferocious Foremosans	1
Parisian Faces and Figures	1
Oriental College Boys and Co-eds	1
The Yankee Watch on the Rhine	1

PARAMOUNT MAGAZINE

Famous Women in Worlds Work	1
Museum Mysteries	1
The Lure of Fashion	1
On the Job With Grandpa	1
Growth of the North American Continent	1

March Releases

COMEDIES

Teasing the Soil (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)	2
Cleaning Up (Al St. John)	2

BURTON HOLMES TRAVEL SERIES

Bustling Brussels	1
Kingdom of the Yellow Rose	1
Strassburg Redeemed	1
The Boys' Big Club	1

PARAMOUNT MAGAZINE

Numbers 3877, 3878, 3879, 3880 ..... each	1

CHRISTIE COMEDIES

January Releases

Monkey Shines	1
Ducks	1
It Takes a Crook	1
Oh Doctor, Doctor	1
Save Me, Sadie (Special)	2

February Releases

Pants and Petticoats (Special)	2
License Applied For	1
Should a Husband Tell	1

March Releases

Her Bridal Night-Mare (Special)	2

UNIVERSAL

January Releases

SERIALS

Great Radium Mystery 13 to 16 ..... each	2
Lion Man, 2 to 5 ..... each	2

COMEDIES

Sweet Patootie (Lyons-Moran)	1
Adam and Eve a la Mode	2
Some Shimmiers (Lyons-Moran)	1
A Baby Doll Bandit	2
Naughty Lions and Wild Men	2
The Sweet Dry and Dry (Lyons-Moran)	2
All for the Dough Bag	2

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
WESTERNS
	The Jay Bird (Hoot Gibson)		2
	West Is Best (Hoot Gibson)		2
February Releases
SERIALS
	Great Radium Mystery, 17 and 18 (Finish)	each	2
	The Lion Man, 6, 7, 8, 9	each	2
	Elmo, the Fearless, 1, 2, 3	each	2
COMEDIES
	Ain't Nature Wonderful (Lyons-Moran)		1
	Over the Ocean Wave		2
	Non-Skid Love (Lyons-Moran)		1
	Good Little Brownie		2
	Old Clothes for New (Lyons-Moran)		1
	The Bull Thrower		2
	New Screen Magazine, Nos. 51, 52, 53, 54	each	1
WESTERNS
	The Prospector's Vengeance		2
	Kaintuck's Ward		2
	A Sagebrush Gentleman		2

CAPITAL

January Releases
	A Man's Creed (Neal Hart)		2
	The Wilderness Man (Neal Hart)		2
	My Girl Suzzanne		2
	Bandit's Gold (Al Jennings)		2
	An Outlaw's Alibi (Al Jennings)		2
February Releases
	Boss of the Flying H (Neal Hart)		2
	The Run Aways (Neal Hart)		2
	When Outlaws Meet (Al Jennings)		2
	Bandit's Heart (Al Jennings)		2
	Screen Follies, 1 and 2	each	1
	Oh Louise (Adolph Phillip)		2

PATHE

January Releases
	Reviews 32 to 35		1
COMEDIES
	From Hand to Mouth (Harold Lloyd) (released late in Dec.)		2
	Why Go Home (Snub Pollard)		1
	Slippery Slickers (Snub Pollard)		1
	The Dippy Dentist (Snub Pollard)		1
SERIALS
	Black Secret, 9 to 12 (Pearl White)	each	2
	The Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland)	each	2
	Topics of the Day, 36 to 39	each	1
February Releases
SERIALS
	Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland) 6, 7, 8, 9	each	2
	The Black Secret (Pearl White and Walter McGrail) 13, 14, 15, 16	each	2
	Topics of the Day, 40, 41, 42, 43	each	1
COMEDIES
	All Lit Up (Snub Pollard)		1
	Getting His Goat (Snub Pollard)		1
	Waltz Me Around (Snub Pollard)		1
March Releases
SERIALS
	Daredevil Jack (Jack Dempsey) 4, 5, 6, 7	each	2
	Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland) 10, 11, 12, 13	each	2
COMEDIES
	Haunted Spooks (Harold Lloyd)		2
	Find the Girl (Snub Pollard)		1
	Fresh Paint (Snub Pollard)		1
	(Two other Pollard Comedies)	each	1
	Review Numbers 40, 41, 42, 43	each	1
	Topics of the Day Numbers 44, 45, 46, 47	each	1

HALL ROOM BOY COMEDIES

January Releases
	Wrong Again		2
	Neck and Neck		2
February Releases
	Passing the Buck		2
	Can You Beat It		2
March Releases
	Breaking Into Society		2
	Oh Baby		2

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

VITAGRAPH

January Releases
O. HENRY STORIES
	The Church With an Overshot Wheel		2
	While the Auto Waits		2
BIG V COMEDIES
	Throbs and Thrills		2
	Dames and Dentists		2
SERIALS
	The Invisible Hand (Antonio Moreno), 3 to 6	each	2
February Releases
O. HENRY STORIES
	Telamachus Friend		2
	The Dream		2
BIG V COMEDIES
	Pipe Dreams and Prizes (Harry Mann)		2
	Knights and Knighties (Montgomery and Rock)		2
SERIAL
	The Invisible Hand (Antonio Moreno) 7, 8, 9, 10	each	2

GOLDWYN

January Releases
	Bray Pictographs, 419, 420, 421, 422	each	1
March Releases
	Three Issues	each	1

FORD EDUCATIONAL WEEKLY

January Releases
	Eventide		1
	Bubbles		1
	Just Kids		1
	Taken With a Grain of Salt		1
March Releases
	Broken Silence		1
	With Every Meal		1
	Alligator Hunt		1

CAPITOL COMEDIES

	The Sure Cure (Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeHaven)		2
	Two Dollars Please		2
February Releases
	Excess Baggage (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)		2
	One Dollar Down (Neal Burns)		2
March Releases
	Forget Me Not (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)		2
	Matrimaniacs (Neal Burns)		2

FOX

January Releases
MUTT AND JEFF ANIMATED CARTOONS
	He Ain't Done Right by Our Nell		1
	On Strike		1
	Shaking the Shimmy		1
	The Rum Runners		1
March Releases
	The Mint Spy		1
	The Chemist		1
	Putting on the Dog
SUNSHINE COMEDIES
	Chicken a la Cabaret		2
	Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts		2
February Releases
SUNSHINE COMEDIES
	Sheriff Nell's Comeback		2
	Her Naughty Wind		2
	Her Private Husband		2
March Releases
	The Heart Snatcher		2
	The Lightweight Lover		2
MUTT AND JEFF ANIMATED CARTOONS
	The Plumbers		1
	"I'm Ringing Your Party"		1
	Fishing		1
	Dead-Eye Jeff		1
	The Sour Violin		1

REPUBLIC PICTURES

February Releases
	L. J. Selznick Enterprises
	Wm. J. Flynn Series (Herbert Rawlinson)		2
	Judge Browne Series		2
	Twelve Chaplin Reissues		2
KINOGRAMS
	Every Tuesday and Saturday

FILM SPECIALS

JOLLY COMEDIES
	The Close Shave (Ben Turpin)		2
	Hubby's Mistake (Gertrude Selby)		1
	Pardon Me (Gertrude Selby)		2
	Girls Will Be Girls (Leo White)		1

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES

	A Burlesque on Carmen (Charles Chaplin)		3
	The Champion (Charles Chaplin)		2
	Work (Charles Chaplin)		3
	By the Sea (Charles Chaplin)		3

Star Played Up Too Prominently—Story Sadly Neglected

Shirley Mason in
"MOLLY AND I"
Fox

DIRECTOR ..... Howard Mitchell
AUTHOR ..... Frank R. Adams
SCENARIO BY ..... Isabel Johnston
CAMERAMAN ..... George Schneiderman
AS A WHOLE..... Very slight material catering too strongly to star.
STORY..... Obvious plot relying altogether on star's comedy and personality.
DIRECTION ..... Average
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Same
LIGHTINGS ..... No unusual stuff
CAMERA WORK ..... Just straight shots
STAR..... Is very winsome and appealing but needs more story support than is furnished here.
SUPPORT ..... Good
EXTERIORS ..... Few used
INTERIORS ..... Suitable
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY..... Girl marries blind man and after his sight is restored starts romance with him.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.... About 5,000 feet

"Molly and I" centers all its attention on the star, Shirley Mason, and regards the story only enough to get the premise of the plot established at the start. For the rest of the time those concerned in the production have contented themselves with introducing sequences of the star in winsome and comedy moods, sequences plentifully supplied with closeups of Miss Mason, but which carry little if any story interest.

That is the whole trouble with "Molly and I." They have made it a vehicle for Miss Mason of the most obvious sort by neglecting to give the story at least as much care and development as they gave the star. Vehicles that bring out a player's personality and mannerisms are perfectly proper providing these attributes of the players are not permitted to dominate over and above all else. If this happens the interest is materially lessened.

Miss Mason plays the role of Molly, a romantic girl who is in love with an author, Philip Smith, whose eyes have failed him altogether. Despondent, he is about to take his life when she suggests that he marry her so that she will receive her inheritance of ten thousand dollars. Believing her an old maid, he agrees. In Italy he is cured of his affliction on part of the money and then returns to his home. Here Molly comes to him posing as an Alsatian orphan.

They work in a share of good comedy portraying the manner in which Molly practically thrusts herself on the helpless author as his servant but subsequently they play far too much to the star. In the end they work in the "other woman" who, jealous of Molly, sends her away and later, repenting, goes to bring her back. Of course Philip finds out who she really is an there is a nice happy ending.

Miss Mason receives her support from three good players, Albert Roscoe, Harry Dunkinson and Lilie Leslie.

Popularity of Star May Put This Over in Average Style

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Doubtless "Her Elephant Man" established Shirley Mason very favorably with picture fans and the chances are that "Molly and I" will get over without causing much disturbance because of the charming personality of the star. The picture isn't bad, they merely misjudged it and if another good one comes along next time everything will be all right again.

"Molly and I" has several comedy sequences in it which are pleasing and which stand out as really entertaining despite the shortcomings that naturally go with a picture when its story is altogether subordinated to the star. These comedy sequences can be brought out attractively in advertising with such catch lines as "The humorous tale of a young girl's romance with her husband who didn't know who she was," "Though he had placed a wedding ring on her finger he didn't know his wife when next he met her! Why? That's a riddle answered in 'Molly and I,' a charming comedy-drama."

Feature Miss Mason well and recall her performance in "Her Elephant Man." Albert Roscoe is also well known as a leading man and mention of his presence leading the supporting cast would count.

A PRESCRIPTION

TO THE PRODUCER OF
SHORT SUBJECTS
COMEDIES
EDUCATIONALS
SCENICS
NOVELTIES
WISHING TO REACH THE DISTRIBUTOR
EXHIBITOR OR
STATE RIGHT BUYER
EFFICIENTLY
EVERY DAY
OF THE YEAR
AND AT COMPARATIVELY
SMALL COST

We Recommend—At Brief Intervals

WID'S DAILY

"A TEST WILL TELL"

WD 3/24/20

27

Some Short Reels

"Haunted Spooks" Rolin—Pathe

Harold Lloyd's latest two reeler "Haunted Spooks" attains the supreme heights of short length eccentric comedy. Few have been made that contained more real laugh-provoking gags and business than this. Moreover Lloyd and his company hinge their stunts together with a coherent plot. The one in "Haunted Spooks" provokes real interest. The picture is splendidly directed and put together. There is not an inch of wasted film. Every scene counts as a laugh or leads up to one. The gags they've doped out for it are startling, original and sidesplitting. The ones in which Lloyd tries to commit suicide all finish with big laughs. He tries jumping from a bridge and lands in a few inches of water and then jumping from a higher bridge and lands in a boat. Lloyd himself gets the laughs and the climax of the gag brings an outburst and a big surprise. That seems to be the formulae followed. The biggest laugh in the offering comes when Lloyd and his bride attempt to pass an automobile in their flivver. Each time they try an arm is projected out the side. Finally Lloyd puts on speed and dashes past, looks around and discovers that the machine contains two gentleman of Jewish persuasian talking. Hence the gestures with the arms. Get ready to see this imitated a dozen times in the next few weeks. The spook stuff is also very funny and exceedingly well cut, the action keeps up with its laughs and surprises until the very finish. Lloyd is a big league comedian, his company is big league and whoever dopes out the gags and does the directing and cutting is big league.

"His Nose in the Book," Universal

Breezy Eason, Jr., a youngster who plays an important role in this two reel western, gives an exceptionally clever performance and injects the spirit of youth into the offering. Hoot Gibson, the leading man offers his usual exhibition, and is supported by a cast that includes Mildred Moore, George Field and others. Reeves Eason directed and kept the story, from the pen of Henry Murray, in mind at all times. As a matter of fact, the theme does not vary from those employed in the old single reel westerns time and time again, about half of it being comedy that simply fills out the additional footage. Alfred Lathem cranked the camera and his end of the work has been held up in good style. Unfortunately, there is little that is out of the ordinary in the production.

"A Champion Loser," Universal

This has several funny bits that will get the desired results, but much of it is old stuff. The material linked about the exhibition of the pugilist who visits the rural town and some of the animal bits help it along considerably.

"Fresh Paint," Pathe

But for two or three fair-sized laughs, this Snub Pollard single reeler fails to give cause for any hilarity. As in most of the Pollard comedies, a story is absent, and the various slap-stick bits do not always register. The scene in which Snub accelerates the motion of an old messenger man with the aid of a pin is laughable, and some of the stuff connected with the bevy of maids who pose for the artist is spicy. After the first half of the production, however, it evolves into chase and riotous material which has little value. In some of the bits, the principal comedian is convincing, but the vehicle does not measure up to the mark.

"A Pilgrimage," Ford-Goldwyn

Plymouth, Newport and Portsmouth have been visited by the Ford camera man to secure the scenes for a reel that posseses much that is of historical interest. The various land marks and universally famous spots in these towns have all been photographed splendidly and the offering is one that holds attention. A rather unusual Ford production and a decidedly pleasant departure from the run of industrial subjects.

"The Honest Jockey," Fox

A powerful liquid, injected with a hypodermic syringe is employed by Mutt and Jeff to win a horse race in an animated cartoon that is better than most of these reels turned out recently. Not so long ago, there was a horse race cartoon in which Jeff attached skates to the legs of the horse and pushed him home. This time he uses the inspiring juice, and when it fails to give lasting impetus to the animal, uses it on himself and pushes it home to win by a great margin. There is much funny material in the offering which holds attention from beginning to end.

"Touraine, France," Mentor

Few of your patrons have probably heard of Tonraine, except as associated with a certain brand of confections, but there happens to be just such a section in France where numerous artistic chateaux and artistic pieces of ancient architectural work are to be seen. This Mentor reel shows many of them, colored nicely and including some appealing water stuff. One portion in which several cows appear is deserving of special praise as far as the tints are concerned. Sicilian scenes of interest are included in the finishing footage and the offering as a whole, is one that is entitled to consideration when you need a scenic.

Do You Put a Value on Your Time?

Then should you waste it in personally being annoyed or burdened with your Developing and Printing?

Isn't it a wasteful plan for a busy Producer to be compelled to spend time at the Laboratory in order to get results when the chief function of a well organized Laboratory is to lift this burden from the Producer.

The Republic can and is willing to think and act for you in all such matters. Besides, we use Eastman's stock exclusively and chemicals from Mallinckrodt.

REPUBLIC LABORATORIES, Inc.

729 Seventh Avenue New York City

Phone, Bryant 7190

28 WD 3/21/20

Short Reels

"The Pawnbrokers," Fox

This Mutt and Jeff fails to reach the desired standard. Really humorous material is not very much in evidence, nor is there any sort of plot. As the title indicates, the contrasting duo operate a pawn shop. One of their customers leaves a bottle of liquor with them. When a colored jazz trio arrives, the shimmy becomes very popular even with a pair of the coppers who enter on discovering there must be some fire-water within. It ends rather abruptly with Jeff in a Hawaiian grass girdle skipping about on the person of one of the officers.

"Horizon Hunters," Educational

Pursuing a horizon is a rather fantastic occupation, and one that lends itself toward the production of scenic reels. In one of the Robert Bruce scenics of the series he turned out prior to his present set for Educational, accompanied by his cameraman, another companion and two dogs, he has worked his way through forests, over hills and rivers, with the line where the earth and sky appear to meet ever distant. There are some impressive dark cloud effects at the beginning, and some very good mountain stuff follows. The photography deserves special mention, the reel ranking much above the average scenic.

"A Lion's Alliance," Universal

During the first reel of this animal comedy, with all of the characters chasing one another about, tumbling, falling and going through a varied assortment of slap-stick stunts, genuine laughs are not over-abundant. When the second spool starts, however, the giggles begin to come thick and fast and continue right up to the finish. It is the hokum and some clever animal stuff that get the production over. Most of it is blackface comedy material, in which two colored performers, one tall and the other a mere youngster do creditable work. The section in which they attempt to avoid the lions, one in a refrigerator and then on a transom, and the other in a different sort of a contraption, will meet with laughter. Hokum of the sort offered herein has not yet lost its mirth-provoking powers, and in spite of the fact that much of this does not rise above the mediocre, a worth while latter portion will make it pay.

"Matrimoniacs," National-Goldwyn

A scarcity of novel and really humorous situations, and the lack of a clever story militates against the success of a two reeler in which Neil Burns plays the stellar role. Mark Goldaine who directed kept the story going at a fair rate of speed and Walter Bell manipulated the camera in satisfactory style. The weakness of the material at hand, however, is a distinct drawback. It concerns a youthful lawyer, just married, and his efforts to strengthen his finances by undertaking a divorce case. His efforts to plant evidence, result in a mix-up between a pair of crooks, male and female, the couple he would separate, his wife, and himself.

"Money Talks," Fox

Mack Swain and Jack Cooper who play the principal roles in another Sunshine Comedy are a contrasting pair who work well together. There are several very funny bits in which two figure, all of the slapstick variety of course. Although the offering drags in several places, it has been screened well and includes one very unusual portion,—that in which an automobile travelling at a high rate of speed throws over a line of telegraph poles. Some of the chase stuff included and several other bits are not of any particular value and some of the material lacks cleverness, but the laughs have been distributed so as to keep this going smoothly.

"The Evil Eye," Ascher Enterprises—Hallmark

His hair parted in the center and all togged out in evening clothes most of the time, Benny Leonard has for the time being deserted the prize ring and decided to confine his pugilistic efforts to the screen. In "The Evil Eye," the irrepressible Benny is a bank messenger, high in the esteem of his employer and probably the affections of the latter's daughter. And while Leonard's name will probably prove a magnet at the box office, particularly in New York, and still more particularly in his native Harlem, those who come to see him May in some cases be disappointed.

Roy McCardell's story is one that play's upon the fans imagination. A strong element of mystery and suspense has been injected, and will undoubtedly have the desired effect upon the average serial patron who wants to see the chief evil-door endowed with powers bordering upon the supernatural. The Evil Eye, a one-eyed, monstrous individual directs the crimes in the production, and the spectacle of his glaring optic and clutching fingers, together with all of the rest of the mystic bunk in it will cause more than one nightmare, but then, they want to be thrilled, and this does it.

Screenics, No. 4, Chester

Previous to this, all of the Chester screenics have consisted of two parts, one devoted to scenic material or some novelty and the other to humerous comment. The fourth issue is a deviation, the closing portion consisting of water stuff instead of wit. All of the details connected with a duck hunt are seen in the first half, which has been photographed with unusual clearness. The footage in which the breakers dash up against the rocks also holds the eye. Although it is not unusual, most of it has been screened so well, and the beauty of the various bits is such, that seeing it is a delight. Katherine Hilliker's titles are interesting as usual.

"The Merry Little Put-Put," Educational

Motor-boating in northern waters, Robert Bruce has secured a number of very interesting shots, which comprise a scenic reel of merit. At first, the little vessel glides through swifter streams, among forests and beside hills. There is a good-sized amount of action in the piece, the spectacle of the two men in the boat trying to ascend water falls and being floated here and there by the water furnishing quite a fascinating spectacle. One shot has an unusual cloud effect, and there is an ice floe, with subsequent stuff connected with it, that is of value. A satisfactory average is maintained throughout.

"With Every Meal," Ford-Goldwyn

Spoons, knives, forks, dishes and similar objects are seen in the various stages of making in a Ford industrial reel that shows little that has not been seen in some of the previous films turned out by that organization. As usual, the lightings are not very effective, due to the lack of satisfactory appliances in the factory where the scenes were shot. About the same standard maintained in the preceding Ford industrials.

"Some Speed to Suruga," Chester

Japan has provided the material for another highly commendable Chester scenic. Tossed about on one of the rivers in the Land of the Rising Sun, in a flat and flexible bottomed boat, they have shot the surrounding territory, including scenes of the river, the neighboring hills and vegetation, as well as some of the curious villagers. There is scarcely a moment that is dull, all of it being first rate and another feather in Chester's cap.

WANTED:
A Producer!

—one fired with the spirit of progress, with vision, energy and a proven record.

I Will Invest

all my money, ability and reputation for the sake of the bigger things I want to do.

I have been co-starred in

D. W. GRIFFITH'S
"The Greatest Thing in Life"
D. W. GRIFFITH'S
"The Girl Who Stayed at Home"
PARAMOUNT'S
"Nugget Nell," with Dorothy Gish
KING VIDOR'S
"Better Times"
UNIVERSAL'S
"Bonnie Bonnie Lassie"
SELZNICK'S
"Upstairs and Down" with Olive Thomas
MARSHALL NEILAN'S
"Don't Ever Marry" (Coming)
M. TOURNEUR'S
"The County Fair"
AND OTHER SUCCESSFUL PRODUCTIONS

I have declined stardom offered by the leading producing organizations. I have not been tempted by flattering offers and guarantees of flat salaries.

I want to join forces and work with a real producer. I have ideas and the best stories to bring out my capabilities.

My money goes along with my confidence, experience, enthusiasm and ability.

They all say I am "there." Now I'm going to prove it in a bigger way than ever.

David Butler

Care of Wid's Daily

Motion Picture News

VOL. XXI MARCH 13, 1920 No. XII

The Theme and Its Treatment

IT is a pleasure—as well as a policy—to record, on this page, the occasional picture which seems to us to mark a distinct and broad advance in production.

Such a picture is "Dangerous Days," the first Mary Roberts Rinehart contribution to the Eminent Authors Series.

"Dangerous Days," the novel, is said to have been Mrs. Rinehart's best selling book; so the picture goes forth with this considerable advance advertising.

But this, to our mind, is not so important, not nearly so important, as the fact that the story was written with the picture clearly in mind, or else by a mind which naturally expresses itself in picture values.

So we have here, to begin with, a theme successfully created for the screen.

That is a big point. Such stories, no matter who write them, will mark the good picture of the future.

And the theme is a thoughtful one—not merely a story created to get picture effects. The author looked into and under our social, spiritual and economic life at the moment of this country's entrance into the war, and tells what she saw. The story makes you think; it aims at something.

The second big point is harmony in production. This, clearly, is a high type of an organization made picture—one in which several trained minds have successfully worked to a common end.

To express these results separately, we have:

* * *

FIRST, perfect continuity. We understand this to be a collaboration of Mrs. Rinehart and Charles Kenyon, supervised by J. G. Hawks. The task was not a simple one. We have the separate romances of the steel maker with a wife and the other woman he loves; the son, with his youthful problems of love and duty; the German born foreman of the works, and his daughter who loves the steel maker's son. There were grave dangers here of jerkiness and confusion; yet the story moves clearly, swiftly and logically along.

The subtitles. They are exceptionally brief, apt and strong: "wallops," every one. We are told that Mrs. Rinehart wrote them. Why not?

The acting by an all-star cast is so sincere, the settings throughout are so realistic that you forget you are viewing a picture.

Realism is the keynote clear through. There is lavishness only where it is truly expressive of the millionaire's home and entertainments. Dominant always in the picture, is its locale, the smoky, thunderous steel city.

All of which mean that Reginald Barker has done an exceptional piece of direction. And direction here as always in pictures, is of the utmost importance. Yet we are sure, Mr. Barker will be the first to say that he could not have got these results without such a theme, and such preparation of a theme, for the screen.

* * *

WE are glad to cite this picture as a well rounded example of the new kind of picture the kind the screen calls for now, the genuine example of fewer and better pictures.

W have seen pictures as well and carefully made but they may have lacked a theme suitable for picture presentation. And we have seen good themes carelessly produced, though there is much less excuse these days for poor production than for unsuitable themes.

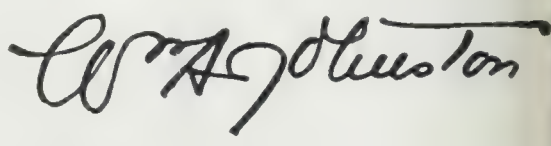
It is the harmonious whole that counts: and such pictures will come only from a harmonious organization highly trained in picture creation and expression. This may be a very large organization; or it may consist of a very few people.

The theme is of the utmost importance. Without theme stars and directors are of little avail.

The theme must be a picture theme—a story capable of expression, not in word values, but in picture values. This is the paramount point. Without this quality authors' names and books' names are inconsequential.

Then comes the adaptation to the screen. We are glad to note that an author like Mrs. Rinehart thinks well enough of pictures not merely to create for them but to adapt her creation and write her own subtitles.

And we predict that many more authors will soon be similarly engaged.



GOLDWYN PICTVRES CORPORATION
SAMVEL GOLDWYN President

he BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

OL. XI. No. 81 Monday, March 22, 1920 Price 5 Cents

"U" Men Meet

ld Men in the East See "Virgin" t Broadway—Confab Will Be Continued To-day number of Universal officials, to- ner with some of the branch man- rs in the Eastern territory at- led the opening of "The Virgin f tamboul" last night at the Broad- y.

hat event wound up a rather u day. The field men assembled the Universal offices at 2 o'clock erday after luncheon at the or.

arry Berman, general manager f xchanges presided at the meet- ; E. H. Goldstein general sales ager delivered a sales talk. The ose of the meeting was primar- y to develop a grand "push" for T Virgin of Stamboul."

he meeting will be continued to- and before it is terminated it is ible that announcement will be a of the Universal's policy of fall cing. A Universal official inti- d as much to WID'S DAILY other day.

ose in town attending the con- ion are A. A. Schmidt, district ger, headquarters in Cleve- , and the following exchange gers: George Uffner and les Rosenzweig, New York; F. opkins, Buffalo; Herman Stern, burgh; E. J. Smith, Cleveland; Baum, Cincinnati; W. B. al, Detroit; Ralph Abbett. In- polis; Edward Golden, and W. ill. Boston and Vernon Carrick, delphia.

Universal, as noted plans two conventions: one in Chicago ne in Los Angeles. Joe Mayer, or of publicity and Harry Ber- leave for Chicago to-morrow to el that meeting. Berman while will arrange for the Chicago ng of "The Virgin."

Curtis Corp. Expands

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del. — Cathrine Curtis of N. Y. has been granted a increase of from $456,000 to 5000.

arine Curtis made one screen ppearance in "The Shepherd of the ills." The company mentioned ov was formed in California last ugh t with such financial interests ack g it as George J. Whalen esi nt of the United Cigar Stores; ees Llewellyn of Llewellyn Iron Wor Robert N. Simpson, Arthur S lding and others

"It's no use trying. They wont ac cept work from an unknown"—Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives ," from the novel by Owen Johnson, a First National Attraction.—Advt.

Deals and Deals

But First Nat'l Franchise Still Remains With Wm. Sievers

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

St. Louis—All kinds of deals within deals have been going on for some weeks past relative to the First Natl. franchise for Missouri, but up to the minute William Sievers still controls it. That it will be eventually disposed of is not questioned, but it is said that those who were interested

(Continued on Page 4)

Takes Over More Houses

Louisville—The Strand Amusement Co., composed of Colonel Fred Levy and Lee Goldberg, John W. Keiler and Lee Keiler of Paducah, has added three more Kentucky theaters to its chain, the Princess and Dixie at Mayfield and the Savoy at Princeton, Ky. The consideration amounted to more than $50,000.

The Keiler Brothers control the Arcade Amusement Co., which operates four theaters in Paducah.

Curwood Incensed

Plans Legal Action Against Producers Who "Pad" Old Films

Charging that exhibitors soon will be subjected to deceptive and unfair sales practices by producers who are planning to elaborate into five and six reel length stories purchased from him years ago as material for two and three reel pictures, James Oliver Curwood, is here consulting with copyright specialists in an effort to prevent by advance legal action what he terms "unscrupulous

(Continued on Page 2)

Alliance Buys London Studio

London, Eng.—The Alliance Film Co., Ltd., has purchased the studio of the London Film Co. as its production headquarters.

This is the organization which First National in the States is said to hold the releasing option on. Sir Walter De Freece, Vesta Tilley's husband is chairman of the board of directors of the company.

Kane Gets Clayton

Star to Leave Famous Players Shortly—Will Have Former Handle Sales

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles — Ethel Clayton whose contract with Famous Players expires shortly will not renew with that company, but it is expected that she will form her own producing company with Arthur S. Kane in charge of sales.

Mr. Kane could not be reached on Saturday regarding the above dispatch.

In its issue of Jan. 30 WID'S DAILY intimated in a Los Angeles dispatch that Miss Clayton would not renew with Famous Players.

Changes at Realart

J. C. Ragland, general sales manager at Realart, has resigned to accept a similar post with Arthur S. Kane Pictures Corp.

Jay Gove, becomes assistant general manager of Realart, while the general sales executive end of the company becomes merged with the general managership.

Bert Adler, in charge of exploitation of specials for Realart becomes associate directer of publicity with John Pond Fritts. Adler has done a good deal of work especially on "Soldiers of Fortune" in New York and Washington.

Another Independent Combination?

Chicago—It is learned here that the purpose of the two-day convention called by Joe Friedman of Celebrated Players at the Congress for to-morrow and Wednesday is to perfect some kind of a combination of independent operators who were not included in the Association of Independent Exchanges, Inc.

The latter organization was formed a short time ago when the Capital Film called a country wide convention of state right men.

Ross & Mack Partners

Chicago—Roderick Ross of Ross & Co. and Irving Mack have taken over Willis & Eckels & Mack and will hereafter take care of the service for exhibitors and exchangemen under the name of Ross & Mack.

The offices of the new company will be at room 608 Consumers building.

Why worry with details?
Let Solomon do it—he's wise. Advt

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 81 Monday, March 22, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players....	78½	80	80
*Do. pfd.	89½	89½	89½
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's Inc.	30½	30½	30½
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod.	15	16½	16½
World, 1st pfd.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Tuesday's quotations.

Cornwall in Memphis

Memphis, Tenn.—H. Cornwall, of St. Louis, is here. Cornwall is a contractor and is doubtless here relative to a new theater.

SPORTS

The best sport is a woman —for a woman has pride.

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Story of a Proud Woman

Directed by John M
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 [By]

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

Curwood Incensed

(Continued from Page 1)

tactics intended to victimize exhibitors by deliberate misrepresentation."

"I am in New York" said Mr. Curwood," now to complete plans with 12 of the best known writers in the country for making it mighty uncomfortable for the producers who use unfair methods to cash in on our reputations by deceiving exhibitors with material we wrote long ago. As a member of the National Council of the Authors' League I studied copyright and protective laws thoroughly, and with special legal assistance I am going to test the matter to the limit."

Mr. Curwood has taken the matter up with the Author's League and hopes to reach a solution to the problem through this medium.

Sullivan Here

C. Gardner Sullivan, chief of the scenario department at the Thomas H. Ince studios arrived in New York Saturday.

Sullivan leaves shortly for a trip around the world in search of story material.

Wanted — Young woman film cataloguer with good education. Able to read motion picture negatives and typewrite cards. Apply Mr. Ellis, Room 807, Universal Film Co., 1600 Broadway, N. Y. C.

There are two things that the name RITCHEY is always associated with,—posters and profits.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY

For High - Class Film Salesman

Salary Unlimited

Must know New York, Brooklyn and Jersey territory. Address:

Box B-91, care of Wid's

All applications held confidential.

Reelcraft
OFFERS
A NEW SERIES OF TWO-REEL FARCE COMEDY FEATURES WITH

Billy West
(HIMSELF)

PRODUCED UP TO A PERFECTION OF QUALITY
Available at
Leading Independent Exchanges Everywhere

Reelcraft Pictures Corp.
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

SIMPLI SOULS

CHESTER OUTING PICTURES & SCREENICS

C. L. CHESTE PRODUCTIONS

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.
64 West Randolph Street
Chicago, Ill.

get hep! S.R.O. 1

"The Dream of Fair Women"

Is Being Rapidly Disposed of

It's the Box Office Angle That the States Rights Buyer Sees and the Exhibitor Craves For

"The Blindness of Youth"

Puts New Life Into Exchanges

It's a Wonderful Tonic For Run Down Box Office Receipts

A Little Unsold Territory Remains. Take On New Life

Wire Us

MURRAY W. GARSSON

1600 Broadway, New York

CHARLES F. SCHWERIN, Sales Mgr.

OTHER GOOD THINGS UP OUR SLEEVE

In the Courts

The Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has upheld the injunction obtained by the Iliodor Picture Corp. against Benjamin Blumenthal, the Export & Import Film Co., and Isaac E. Chadwick, to whom the film was leased, restraining the defendants from producing the film, "The Tyranny of the Romanoffs with Iliodor." The plaintiff contended that it had the exclusive right to the services of Iliodor, but the defendants paid him $800 to sit several times for interpolated scenes and contended that they didn't know that Goldwyn had the exclusive right to his name.

A summons has been filed in the Supreme Court in a suit of Jesse Weil against the Capitol Film Exchange. The cause of the suit is not stated. Frankel Burtlett & Bachrach are the attorneys.

Deals and Deals

(Continued from Page 1)

in recent effort to acquire it have failed.

Among those mentioned as seeking to acquire the franchise were Spiros Skouras and his brothers, who operate a chain, the Cornwall interests and others. Cornwall, who is a contractor and theater builder is interested financially in several house with an associate. Koplar and Goldman have an interest in the franchise, it is said, but Sievers controls.

All moves to date have come to nothing. Sievers, it is said, is willing to sell at a proper price because he is getting tired of hard work and has amassed a considerable fortune and wants to retire.

Bobby Vernon, with Helen Darling and a support of "Follies" girls are in this Christie Comedy Special.—Advt.

Carpentier Due To-day

Georges Carpentier is due in New York today aboard the "La Savoie."

After a week's rest, he will start work on his special for Robertson-Cole, the story for which has been written by Willard Mack. Production will be in the East.

Horator Gets Another

Cleveland, O.—"Doc" Horator has bought the Hippodrome, which gives him three first run houses here—the Pantheon, Alhambra and Hip.

Cleo Madison has been engaged for the cast supporting Bert Lytell in "The Temple of Dawn" his next for Screen Classic.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
460 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Dear Sir:—

The Los Angeles Express said:—

"'THE LITTLE SHEPHERD OF KINGDOM COME,' STARRING JACK PICKFORD, IS WITHOUT DOUBT ONE OF THE BEST PICTURES HE HAS EVER BEEN SEEN IN."

Goldwyn

SIMPLI SOULS

ART TITLES
HAND LETTERING
ALYNLU
PHONE 3329 BRYANT

FOR RENT
Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmark Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46th Phone Bryant 7498.

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. ROOM 2004

6805
Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding
Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H.W. Hellman Building Los Angeles

Comedies Need Effective Presentation, too.
Filmusic Cue Sheets are provided with all Arbuckle, Sennett, Al St. John and Carter de Haven Comedies.
WHY NOT WITH YOURS?
FILMUSIC STUDIOS, Hollywood

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

the BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. No. 82 Tuesday, March 23, 1920 Price 5 Cents

60 Publicity Men

Universal Plans Increased Force—Also Expert Exploitation Representatives

Universal plans an expansion of i publicity force in the field until 6 men have been annexed.

The scheme is to have various men vrk on landing newspaper space f Universal productions exclusive- in 60 of the big cities of the coun- t. In addition to this a corp of ert exploitation men will be intained to help tie-up produc- ns for the exhibitors.

The publicity men will be in direct rge of the home office and will vrk to a degree independent of the Universal exchanges.

The second day of the company's vention was marked by nothing rtling. The usual talks of sales- nship were held while the man- rs saw "The Gold Diggers" night as the guests of Harry man. The men will continue in n to-day when the business mat- will be wound up.

he second in the series of meet- s will be held in Chicago to- rrow, followed by one in Los An- s red C. Quimby of Associated Ex- itors, Inc. is back in town from coast. He was busy all of yes- ay in conference with his asso- s.

Quimby Returns

Browning Going to Coast

d Browning who directed "The in of Stamboul" leaves for Cal- nia to-day to start work on a Priscilla Dean subject for Uni- l.

uglas Z. Boty, leaves to-mor- o for Universal City to act as ciated scenario editor with Lu- Hubbard.

Loew's Nashville Opens

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

shville, Tenn.—Marcus Loew's theater opened last night with mber of well known screen present to attend the premls T. Granlund is in charge of party.

n't tip that girl.

HE FILM MEN'S CLUB OF NEW YORK

"Don't go away for I—I love you," Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives" from the novel by Owen Johnson, a First National Attraction.—Advt.

No Decision in North Dakota

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Bismarck, N. D.—Although the referendum vote on the Sunday closing question in North Dakota was taken over a week ago, it has not been as yet definitely determined whether the exhibitors have won or not.

The vote is very close and as long as exact figures are not determined, the outcome is in doubt.

Sam Cornish headed the exhibitor factions at the capital.

Bernstein Back on Coast

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Isadore Bernstein, who, as noted, has resigned as production manager for National Film will act as general manager for Capitol Film.

He will supervise productions of Ormer Locklear, Helen Gibson and Neal Hart.

Goldwyn Sails To-day

Samuel Goldwyn leaves to-day for Europe on the Mauretania.

Reichenbach Westward Bound

Harry Reichenbach of Equity Pictuers left yesterday for Los Angeles. Will be away six weeks. Routine business, he says.

Mullin on His Own

It is understood that Eugene Mullin who resigned recently as head of Goldwyn's eastern scenario department will form his own producing unit. The productions, it is understood will be made on the coast.

Another Stock Offer

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Pittsburgh, Pa.—The Advanced Photo Play Corp. offers a chance to local fans to appear in films.

The company, according to an advertisement in the Gazette Times of Sunday is chartered at $500,000 while 50,000 shares of stock, par value at $10 are being offered to the public.

Edwin McKim said to be of a well known local family is president.

Oppose Censorship

Woman's City Club Adopts Resolution at Luncheon—Film Folk Make Addresses

The Woman's City Club, one of the most influential bodies of its kind in New York City, at a luncheon yesterday adopted a resolution in opposition to legal censorship.

The luncheon which was at the McAlpin was addressed by Mae Murray, Rupert Hughes, J. A. Quinn, Orrin G. Cocks and Dr. Everett Martin of the National Board of Review.

Portland Exhibitors Win Censor Fight

Portland, Ore.—Local exhibitors are congratulating themselves over their victory in the censorship battle. Although censorship has not been eliminated, a committee of three has been appointed in place of the one of seven, and instead of the loosely outlined duties, a set of rules and regulations has been drawn up. Only things obscene, gruesome or tending to disturb the peace will be cut out.

Another Combine

Missoula, Mont.—The Northwest Theaters Co., Inc., has been formed by the merging of the Missoula Amusement Co. and the company controlled by W. A. Simonds of Wallace, Idaho. Henry Turner is one of the chief stockholders and manager of the Missoula company. The theaters controlled by the new company are in Missoula the Empress, Liberty, Isis, and Bijou; in Wallace, the Liberty; in Mullan, Idaho, the Liberty and Star; in Kellogg, Idaho, the Liberty and Princess; in Coeur d' Alene, Idaho, the Liberty.

Clarke Leaves for Orient

Horace T. Clarke, Oriental representative for David P. Howells, Inc. leaves again for the Orient to-day. He is taking with him a considerable quantity of film and equipment for distribution.

9,000 Trailers in Circulation

Nine thousand trailers are now in circulation attached to 9,000 prominent features, and will be shown in every theater in the United States whose management is interested in the Americanization movement. The reception given these by audiences everywhere indicates that a popular chord has been struck.

This is Julian M. Solomon's advt.
Let Solomon do it for you, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 82 Tuesday, March 23, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	80	82	80
Do, pfd	89½	89¾	89¾
Goldwyn	23	23½	23
Loew's, Inc.	30 5/8	31¼	30 5/8
Triangle	½	½	½
United Pict. Prod.	15¼	16½	16½
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Spanuth Forms Marigold Attractions

Chicago, Ill.—Harry Spanuth has organized Marigold Attractions to purchase state rights for Illinois and Indiana. "Alma Where Do You Live" has already been bought.

CYNICISM

There's a lot of good in women. And a lot of bad in men.

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Theme of the Good and Bad in Us

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

In the Courts

Supreme Court Justice Newburger has denied the application of William Isensee for an injunction restraining the Long Island Motion Picture Co. from selling any stock until it sets aside 25,000 shares for sale to him in accordance with an agreement. He contended that the corporation agreed to raise its capital from 25,000 to 100,000 shares and sell him a quarter of the stock and that although the stockholders had voted the increase the corporation had failed to take the necessary action to provide his stock. The court said that since there is no allegation that the defendant will not be able to pay any judgment obtained against it the plaintiff should sue in an action at law for the stock instead of in equity for an injunction.

Supreme Court Justice Ford and a jury have heard for several days a suit of the United States Lithograph Co. against the Warner Pictures Corporation, Patrick A. Powers and Henry M. and Albert A. Warner to recover a balance of $40,915 with interest since 1913, making a total of $52,521. The testimony showed that the defendants made a large contract for lithographic work for the Warner Pictures and that the plaintiff advanced $25000 to the corporation. The corporation gave notes to cover the entire indebtedness of $68,515 which were endorsed by Powers and the Warners, and part was paid but the defendants defaulted on the balance.

The Fortoul Film Corporation has filed an answer in the Supreme Court to the suit of Miguel y Gruas and Policarpo y Solar to recover damages in connection with the purchase by the defendants of films for the plaintiff for export to Portugal. The defendant denies that the plaintiff has been injured but on the other hand claims $7,400 for services in the purchase of films for the plaintiff and $2,500 for money laid out with Select Pictures for the benefit [illegible]

Bech, Van Siclen & Co. have sold "Dollars and Destiny" to the Royal Film Agency, London England and "House Divided" for the Argentine to Argentine Import & Export Co.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Herbert Blache will direct "The New Henrietta" the first of the Winchell Smith plays for Metro.

A. W. Alley has been appointed supervisor of the art department at the Metro plant succeeding M. P. Staulcup who is now in New York.

Dave Silverman, formerly attached to a local theater is now assisting "Ham" Beall with the Sol Lesser publicity.

Helen Carlyle, formerly with Universal is now a member of the Sol Lesser publicity staff.

Elmer M. Robbins, associated with Raymond Cannon in the publication of "Camera" is dead. He left a widow and one son.

Al Risley is now a member of the Ince publicity force under Hunt Stromberg.

GAUSMAN.

Quebec Exhibitors Organize

Montreal, Quebec—The Amalgamated Exhibitors Circuit, Ltd. has been chartered. Composed of independent exhibitors of this province.

Another Famous Players Subsidiary

San Francisco, Cal.—The Famous Players-Lasky Corp. of California has been incorporated with a capital stock of $12,000,000.

Broadwest Control Windsor

London, Eng.—Broadwest Film, Ltd. has taken over the control of the Windsor Film Co. Approximately 75,000 feet of negative and 20,000,000 feet of positive film are turned out by the organization annually.

New Jap Company Formed

Tokio, Japan—The International [illegible] Picture Co., Ltd., of Kyo[illegible] been organized with a [illegible] 0,000,000 yen. Bunji [illegible] president. The Natural Color [illegible] graph Co. of Tokio is amalgamated with the new firm, which will erect houses throughout the country.

Prizma to Include Industrials

Prizma has inaugurated an ind[illegible] trial department. Carroll H. D[illegible] ning, vice-president of Prizma [illegible] head of the department.

New Studio Head

Los Angeles—The appointmen[illegible] a production manager for the G[illegible] wyn plant here is expected to [illegible] announced.

Mason Litson, formerly in cha[illegible] of productions, is now directin[illegible]

Frisco Exports

San Francisco, Cal.—More t[illegible] $100,000 worth of film, 3,059,484 [illegible] are exported from this city [illegible] month according to latest cust[illegible] house reports.

The RITCHEY poster can be imitated. So can a diamond. And both the imitations are intrinsically worthless.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

We Are Experts

We modestly admit it—but it's the truth. Twenty years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture industry have given our staff a thorough knowledge of YOUR problems. Our advice on insurance problems is yours for the asking and we are as close to you as your phone.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL ERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY

For High - Class Film Salesman

Salary Unlimited

Must know New York, Brooklyn and Jersey territory. Address:

Box B-91, care of Wid's

All applications held confidential.

On Broadway

itol—Ethel Clayton, "Young Winthrop."
itol News.
St. John Comedy, "Ship Ahoy."
Mayer travelogue.
oletta" operatic feature.
oli—Wallace Reid, "Excuse My " oli Pictorial.
ce scenic, "The Song of the e."
nedy, "Squeaks and Squawks."
lto—Dorothy Gish, "Mary Elomes to Town."
ltc Magazine.
plin Revival, "The Champion."
nd—D. W. Griffith's, "The Dancer."
nd Topical Review.
nedy, "Jerry on the Job."
ster scenic.
oklyn Strand—Eminent Auth-Dangerous Days."
w's New York—Today: Eminthors, "Partners of the Night."
dnesday: William Farnum, Adventurer."
rsday: Mary McLaren, "The to Divorce."
ay: George Walsh, "The attan Knight."
lay: Sessue Hayakawa, "The of Lopez."
urday: Olive Thomas, "Youthlly."
day: Bert Lytell, "The Right y."
s' Broadway—Priscilla Dean, Virgin of Stamboul."
s Weekly.
d Educational.
ics of the Day.

Next Week

itol—Marion Davies, "April " oli—John Barrymoore, "Dr. and Mr. Hyde."
ito—Robert Warwick "Jack a" nd — Anita Stewart, "The ng Sheherdess."
dway—Priscilla Dean, "The g of Stamboul."
oklyn Strand—D. W. Griffith's dol Dancer.

THE
Glifograph Screen
o more eye strain.
o more distortions.
ny seat desirable.
npression of the third dimsion.
TO BE SEEN IN
oew's New York Theater Roof, New York.
laza Theater, New York.
ijou Theater in Brooklyn.
ourtland Theater in New ey.
alace Theater in Washing-e Lux Theater in Utica.
nd soon in many other ters.
e Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

Milwaukee Neighborhood Theaters Combine

Milwaukee—Eleven exhibitors who own neighborhood houses have organized the Milwaukee Associated First Run Theaters.

The officers are: President, Ernest Langemack, Colonial; vice-president, L. Plate, Climax; secretary, Fred. Siegert, Regent; treasurer, M. Rice, State. Other members are Earl Rice, New Riviera; S. Bauer, Venus and Atlas; Harry Berlowitz, Climax; A. Dietz, Savoy; J. H. Silliman, Downer and Astor; A. L. Bartlett, Empire; F Breummer, Idle Hour; and Joseph Schwartz owner of several houses including the Riviera and the Liberty.

In addition exhibitors have arranged a joint newspaper and street car advertising campaign. The first picture selected was "Other Men's Shoes."

Picture Road Show for Alaska

Nome, Alaska—Two men have started out for the Yukon Valley with a dog team and projection outfit. They will present shows in Indian settlements and small towns. Furs will be acceptable where there is no money.

Hammond House to Cost $300,000

Hammond, Ind.—The Gregory, now in course of construction will cost $300,000, 2,700 seats.

Fire Causes $3,000 Damage

Morgantown, Ind. — A damage amounting to $3,000 was caused by a fire at J. S. Knight's house.

Miles Acquires Miles Again

Detroit, Mich.—Charles H. Miles has again acquired the Miles, built by him ten years ago and relinquished two years after that. He had to bid $500,000 to get the lease. Miles operates the Orpheum, Regent and Majestic, and plans the erection of a new house at Roosevelt and Grand River Aves, to seat 1,800.

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

Fred Schaefer
Continuity and Titles
Vitagraph

Mintz With Friedman
(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago—M. J. Mintz has resigned his position with Select-Republic Distributing to join Joe Friedman at Celebrated Players.

Mintz will be in charge of the state righting of the Gump cartoons which Friedman controls for the world.

Norma Heads the List

Minneapolis—In the popularity contest now being conducted by the Journal, Norma Talmadge heads the list by several thousand votes.

The Ruben and Finkelstein chain here and in St. Paul will play "The Woman Gives." The picture opens at the New Garrick.

Emanuel an Independent

Philadelphia—Jay Emanuel, local manager for Realart is understood to have plans under way for the establishing of a state right exchange.

STUDIOS FOR RENT
Dark Studio 75 x 60 ft.
Glass Studio 75 x 70 ft.
Laboratory service.
57 acres beautiful grounds.
25-acre Lake.
Near famous North Shore and Bathing Beaches.
20 Minutes from Boston.
MASTERCRAFT PHOTOPLAY CORP.
"Filmland City," Medford, Mass.

Emma Dunn
Packard Library-Selwyn Theatre

SIMPLE SOULS

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.
Animated artistic titles hand painted illustrating nature artistically. Call Bryant 5856. It means service.

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

Levy in New York for National

Jack Levy has been appointed New York manager of National Picture Theaters, Inc.

Atwell in Atlantic City

Ben H. Atwell of the Capitol has recovered suffciently from his illness to take a rest in Atlantic City. He writes he hopes to back on the job soon.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"
Dear Sir:—
The Los Angeles Times said:—
"TARKINGTON'S EDGAR STORIES ARE DROLL AND REFRESHING. A GLIMPSE OF THE DAWN OF ANOTHER FILM DAY IS WHAT YOU GET AT THE CALIFORNIA THIS WEEK."
Goldwyn

FOR RENT
Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmark Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46th
Phone Bryant 7498.

Reelcraft
OFFERS
AN ORIGINAL SERIES OF TWO REEL LAUGHTER FEATURES
Alice Howell
THE HOWLING LAUGHTER SUCCESS
Available at
Leading Independent Exchanges Everywhere
Reelcraft Pictures Corp.
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Bellingham, Wash.—The premiere of Paramount's "On With the Dance" was put over with a bang by Weyland S. Taylor, Famous Players publicity man, working in conjunction with Manager H. B. Walton. The ushers were dressed in Yama Yama costumes and two days before the showing two of the girls dressed in their costumes were sent around the city distributing blotters advertising the show. Also a bunch of them were bundled into an automobile and driven all over town. Several stores placed stickers advertising the picture on their parcels for several days beforehand.

The lobby was dressed up with streamers, colored lights, and bright colored rubber balloons to represent a cabaret, and the prologue was the hit of the whole thing. In a totally dark house a deep red glow appeared from the mouths of two huge urns placed at either side of the stage and flames leaped up and played above them. These flames were really strips of colored silk blown up by electric fans. Then the music of the dance began and a girl dressed in a ballet costume like that worn by Mae Murray in the picture did a solo dance. As she glided off the curtain parted and the picture began.

Churches Offer Sunday Shows

Buffalo, N. Y.—Local exhibitors must now contend with opposition from the churches as to Sunday performances. The East Presbyterian and Calvary Churches have presented pictures on the Sabbath and others are expected to follow.

Peggy to Produce Abroad

Los Angeles — Peggy Hyland's next Samuelson photodrama, "Desert Dreamers," is to be filmed in Egypt under the direction of Fred Leroy Granville. This became known when it was learned that passports have been issued for Granville and his entire producing unit. The actual start from the G. B. Samuelson studios at Universal City will be made early in April. The first destination will be Worton Hall, Samuelson's studio at Ilcworth, England, where the expedition will be equipped.

Deny Studio Rumor

International Film, produce Cosmopolitan Prod. officially that they have acquired the Pa Studios at Fort Lee.

New Firm Chartered

Boston, Mass.—The Educa Projector Corp. has been cha with a capital stock of $400,000. erick H. Lincoln, former pre of the Lincoln and Parker Fil and Jane A. Hay, incorporator

WANTED STORIES

Two Reel Western Comedy I mas for Male and Female L Pacific Producing Co.

6100 Sunset Boulevard
Hollywood, Calif

SIMPLE SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling Syste
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New Yor

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
145 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973

America's Finest Laboratory
Located
Atop the Palisades
Opposite 129th St.
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades N. J.
Morsemere, 621

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies

"Money Talks" — "Schoolhouse Scandal"
"Virtuous Husbands" — "The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"Dablin in Society" — "The Heart Snatcher"
"Footlight Maids" — "The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"

Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

CHOICE OFFICE SPACE—For Rent

Office space in prominent film building, including accommodations in film vault. Space not available for exchange purposes. Write B. E. Box X c/o WID'S.

PIONEER FILM CORP.
Announces
That it has in preparation a production entitled
"WHAT WOMEN WANT"
With Louise Huff
All Rights Protected

6805

Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding

Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building — Los Angeles

he BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XI. No. 83 Wednesday, March 24, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Fewer from R. C.

ut 40 Productions to Be Released r Fall Season—Specials Only ith all the discussion over fall king and the volume of output the fall season commencing Sept. is learned that Robertson Cole cut its present production from o approximately 40 for the com- season.

ayakawa who has been releas- on an average of one a month release only four during 1920- This arrangement becomes ef- ve after the release of his next luction. The first of the four consume about four months in making and will not be made in country.

ustin Farnum will make only for the coming year as will Al- Capellani.

w Cody will do four a year. His release is "The Butterfly Man." wo new women stars will be an- ced in about two weeks. Just many they will make is indefin- "Chic" Sales is at work on his for the company as are Mae sh and Edith Storey.

is absolutely definite, however, with the release of Marjorie beau in "The Fortune Teller" a llani Prod., sometime in May, f the Robertson Cole product be designated as "specials."

ets Films of German Raider ternational Film has just se- d about 2,000 feet of film shot the deck of the German raider ewe" which sank a number of d vessels during the early years e war.

ernational will release the film ur 500 ft. instalments as a part s International News Reel, be- ng with the issue of March 31. se bi-weekly through Univer- l.

Whose Company Is It?

office of John D. Williams, rical producer states that a new any known as the John D. Wil- Prod. formed in Albany with tive capital of $5,000 has noth- o do with the activities of the producer.

was sugested that it might be Williams of First National but ms' name is James D. not John

n't tip that girl.

IE FILM MEN'S CLUB OF NEW YORK

"Remember in your work that genius is only unlimited patience,"—Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives," from the novel by Owen Johnson, a First National Attraction.—Advt.

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week

The following illustrates how the leading Broadway theaters presented their programs this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

STRAND

D. W. Griffith's, "The Idol Dancer," occupies the greatest prominence on the Strand program this week. Throughout the run of the picture, the Strand orchestra rendered South Sea melodies and at intervals appropriate to the particular scene special selections of Hawaiian origin were strummed on Hawaiian guitars. The latter music lent considerable atmosphere to the picture.

As an introduction to the feature eight singers in Hawaiian costume sang South Sea love songs. An exceptionally beautiful backdrop was used in conjunction with the usual lighting effects.

The remaining numbers consisted of an overture from "Beabdil," Strand Topical Review, solo by Estelle Carey, Chester scenic, "Mountains and Soul Kinks" and a comedy cartoon from the Bray studios.

RIALTO

The Rialto has a well balanced bill though by no means striking in the way of showmanship. The overture "Capriccio Espagnol" gets a good

(Continued on Page 2)

Another "Movement"

J. A. Quinn Forms New Association for "Better Pictures"

J. A. Quinn who came out of the west some months ago with a plan to "clean out" the industry has formed a new organization known as the Motion Picture and Theatrical League for Better Pictures with himself as president, Frank Bacon of "Lightnin," vice-president; Mrs. Katharyn Allen, secretary; and Leo McLaughlin, treasurer.

The new organization will "stimulate the production of better pictures by the force of concentrated, organized public support of meritorious films and by the discouragement of untruthful advertising." The new body is affiliated with the first Quinn organization known as the Motion Picture and Theatrical Cooperative Association of the World.

The film wiseacres who were told about the new association yesterday smiled. That's all.

Carpentier Here

Georges Carpentier, the French pugilist arrived in New York yesterday morning. He starts work for Robertson Cole on Monday in the East.

"U" Signs Carmel Myers

Universal has again signed Carmel Myers who is now appearing in a musical comedy here in New York. Mis Myers was at one time with Universal but she will now be starred.

Manners Wins "Peg" Suit

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Washington—The Supreme Court has handed down a decision which vests the motion picture rights of "Peg o' My Heart" with the author J. Hartley Manners.

Famous Players have a completed version of the play ready for release but the Supreme Court decision gives Manners the right to restrain exhibition of the film.

Maybe a Trip

It was reported in film circles yesterday that Hiram Abrams of the United Artists' might leave any day for the coast. But no information regarding the report could be obtained from Mr. Abrams' office.

I advise ADVERTISE!!
But let SOLOMON do it, he's wise. Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 83 Wednesday, March 24, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer: Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	79	81	79⅞
Do. pfd	89¾	90	90
*Goldwyn	23	23½	23
Loew's, Inc.	29½	30¾	30⅜
Triangle	½	⅝	½
United Pict. Prod.	14½	16	14½
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Tuesday's quotations.

Advance Release Date

Famous Players will release "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" March 28 instead of early June as first planned. The first showing locally is at the Rivoli beginning Sunday.

MARRIAGE

A baby is the sign of true marriage—or it should be.

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Play of True Marriage and False

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 1)

hand. The Rialto Magazine contains varied news events and gives considerable space to a commercial comedy-cartoon lecture entitled "The Striking Tire," released and duly credited to the Goodrich Rubber Co. The laughs went fairly well and the warnings to tire users seemed to be appreciated. Sascha Fidelman, first violinist renders "Souvenir" and "Mary Ellen Comes to Town," the feature, follows. A Chaplin revival "The Champion" failed to go as well with the Sunday night crowd as might be expected.. The bill closes with the processional march from "Lohengrin" on the organ.

BROADWAY

The audience at the Broadway at the opening of "The Virgin of Stamboul" seemed to be swayed by some uncertainty as to how it should treat "Turkish Pastimes" the prologue to the feature. Certainly there was a good deal of tittering over the way the folks in Turkey enjoy themselves.

The orchestra played "March Slaves" in a very impressive manner but the prologue coming next, failed to tide over that feeling of semi-awe inspired by the music until the opening shot of the film. It just didn't seem right.

The picture itself held the audience throughout. Toward the end when the sheik (Wallace Beery) and Pemberton (Wheeler Oakman) fight, Beery is seen staggering out of the room in which the fight takes place. The impression conveyed is that he has killed Oakman. The situation is a tense one but just at that moment, someone in the audience called out, "Oh, he killed him."

The overture was "Il Guarany" followed by Topics of the Day which came in for its quota of laughs.

The comedy 'Lion's Claws and Eight Fingers" Century, was funny in spots. The audience seemed to appreciate the antics of the kiddies in the film.

CAPITOL

Following an unusually successful week throughout which the spirit of St. Patrick's Day permeated the program, the Capitol goes back to the presentation of a short opera, "Paoletta" together with the feature picture "Young Mrs. Winthrop" and shorter subjects. The program is opened with a reel entitled "In Middies and Bloomers," showing scenes photographed at the Y. W. C. A. summer camps Topics of the Day follows and registers big as always. The Al St. John comedy "Ship Ahoy" has third position. The ever- popular overture, "Raymond" goes very well. Previous to the opera the Capitol News holds the screen and concluding it is another of Hy Mayer's Travelaughs, "Such Is Life 'Mong Dogs." It contains many surprises and humorous moments and goes big. "Paoletta" is a spectacular costume opera and is staged before a beautiful setting, one of Wenger's works. The finale brings great applause but the whole thing runs too long. The first of the Goldwyn-Booth Tarkington Edgar comedies "The Teacher's Pet" proved much of a winner while the feature closed the bill

RIVOLI

"Excuse My Dust," another automobile comedy-drama with Wallace Reid in the stellar role is the feature at the Rivoli and seems to be the right nucleus of a catering to metropolitan audiences. The overture is "Robespierre" and this with its stirring Marseillaise theme appeals strongly. A Bruce scenic "The Song of the Paddle" offers some striking nature pictures which are shown to a pretty, dreamy orchestral accompaniment and gets a good hand. Alma Doria, soprana, renders a selection from Petrella's "Iione." The Rivoli Pictorial is spiritedly accompanied by the orchestra after which Edoardo Albano, baritone, renders "Visione Veneziana" before an atmospheric Venetian backdrop. The Vitagraph comedy "Squeaks and Squawks" follows the feature and gets over particularly well inasmuch as it burlesques automobiles even as "Excuse My Dust" gets thrills from them. 'Convent Bells" on the organ concludes the bill.

Incorporations

Albany—B. W. Films Corp. New York City Capital, $50,000. Incorporators: W. W. Brooke, G. White and A. C. Yohn, 1482 Broadway

Dover, Del—Monumental Pictures Corp. Capital, $500,000. Incorporators: J. William Clifford, Nathan O. Goodlea, and Charles M. Thompson, Washington, D. C.

Albany—The Frolic Films, Inc., Manhattan. Capital, $20,000. Directors: Harry M. Strouse, Rube Bernstein and Charles Franklyn, 206 West 99th Street, New York. Attorney, Bertram Lavy, 27 Cedar Street, New York.

Albany — Filmtitles Laboratories, Manhattan. Capital, $2,000. Directors: Fred E. Baer, William C. Herrmann, and Charles Rosenzweig, 249 Lexington Ave., New York. Attorneys, Affenkraut & Weinberg, 63 Park Row, New York.

Albany—G. M. Anderson Enterprises, Manhattan. Capital, $50,000. Directors: H. S. Hechheimer, Harry Cohen and Isaac Bernstein, 220 West 42nd Street, New York. Attorney, H. S. Hechheimer, 220 West 42nd Street, New York.

Sacramento, Cal.—Pacific Motion Picture Studios. Capital $100,00. Directors, W. O. Edmunds, L. C. Hutt, Herman Lubfin, O H. Stolberg and W. J. Cerlett.

Trenton, N. J.—Mercer County Theaters Co., Capital, $25,000. Authorized to take over Trent and Taylor Opera house here. Incorporators: Frank V. Storrs, Walter Reade, Saul J. Baron and Malcolm Summer.

Albany, N. Y.—The Olympic Pictures Inc., Manhattan. Capital, $50,000. Director: Frank V. Barns, William Shirden and Richard F. Weeks, 32 Nassau St., New York. Attorney, W. J. Salmon, 17 W. 42d St., New York.

Albany, N. Y. — Wien-Kauff Amusement Co., Brooklyn. Capital, $30,000. Directors: Irving Wien, Harry Kauff and Benjamin Kauff, 245 E. 29th St., New York City. Attorney, B. J. Rabin, 2 Rector St., New York City.

Uses Film as Sermon

Los Angeles, Cal.—Rev. William MacCormick, D. D., Dean of St. Paul's Procathedral, made the Goldwyn production, "The Street Called Straight" the object of a sermon recently, referring to its inspiring quality, and also to Basil King's novel from which the picture has been adapted.

Plan Theater for Cleveland

Cleveland, O.—Two houses will be constructed by Dave Schumann, Myer Fine and A. Bramer who operate a chain here.

New Brooklyn Theater

Thomas W. Lamb, architect preparing plans for a $250,000 the to be built for Levy Bros. at Utrecht Ave. and 51st St., Brook

Walker Joins Pathe

Los Angeles—Harley M. Wal sporting editor of one of the pa here, who has been doing the gre part of the titles for Pathe, inc ing the Lloyd comedies after 1 will devote all of his time to work for Pathe.

New Kremer Release

Victor Kremer has taken over distribution in U. S. and Canad "Screen Smiles," a 500 ft. nov film. First National Exchange New York has purchased New Y and New Jersey and the First tional of Boston, the New Eng rights.

Kremer leaves on a long shortly to the various exchanges

Baker After Artistes

Sydney, Australia—Reginald Baker of the Baker-Carroll c pany will shortly go the States while there will place under tract a number of actors and act ses to appear in films for Stadi Ltd. of which company he is second largest stockholder.

He will also buy studio equipm

Oklahoma House to Cost $250

Okla, City, Okla.—A $25 house will be erected by H. C. B who operates the Strand.

A prophet is without honor in his own country, —but profits are appreciated everywhere. Which explains the universal popularity of the RITCHEY poster!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

SIMPLI SOULS

athé News

No. 24

ANTO, ITALY—Explosion turns ip upsidedown! Exclusive pictures Leonardo da Vinci which is over- by a blow-up and taken to dry- or repairs.
CAGO, ILL.—Federal agents seize f condemned impure foodstuffs— samples for testing.
ECTED!—Senate orders Peace returned to President! After Sen- ects treaty second time, Senate Sec- brings it back to the White House
ALADDY WASH.—A thrill that in a new way. Western "high r" scales giant tree in order to ntral spar for logging.
VPORT NEWS, VA. — Launch ss of U. S. Navy. "Maryland" warship in Fleet, is 624 feet long s a displacement of 33,490 tons.
LES, ITALY—Anxious to return ir Adopted Land. Italians, who nerica at outbreak of war to fight ly, now clamor for passports to States.
ENIX, ARIZ.—Overflow of dam ns district—thousands of acres dangered as waters rush headlong am barriers.
LIN, IRELAND—Sinn Fein de- sations sweep Ireland—British use to quell riot and seize arms at ein "arsenal."
YORK CITY—Europe's heavy- champion here—Georges Carpen- sits America for the first time as ves on the "La Savoie."

oday

Tri-Star in Victor Studio

Star Pictures Prod. a newly nd company whose first star is Barrymoore has leased the Studio, on West 43rd St. s Barrymoore starts work shortly.

n Ware and Bird Millman are or prominent parts in R. A. 's production of "The Deep " his first for Mayflower.

ry Walthall appears in "The id Hazard" an Allan Dwan- wer production.

k Duffy has left Pathe to be- nanager of the serial depart- of Republic.

House Changes

Bridgeport, Conn.—Bill O'Rourke is now the manager of the Empire.

Rochester, N. Y.—Charles Saxton has purchased the Academy of Music.

Savoy, Okla.—Farmer and Burriss have converted their garage into a film house.

Modesto, Cal.—William J. Voss has bought the Star from Charles Reindollar.

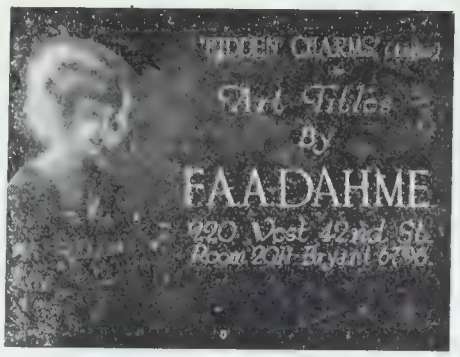
New York.—Henry Korn has sold the Olympia at 107th St. and Broadway to J. W. Brandon.

Mart, Tex.—Robb and Rawley of Dallas have bought from Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Keller the Queen.

Cornish, Me.—The Cornish Welfare Asso. will remodel into a theater, the Pendexter Bros. Store, given to it by George W. Adams.

Stevens Point, Wis.—The Majestic Theater Co. has taken over the Grand Opera House and will remodel it, changing its name to the Majestic.

Rex Ingram will direct "Hearts Are Trumps," the third Drury Lane melodrama to be filmed by Screen Classics, Inc.



all yours! S.R.O. 12

War on Pirates

Association Formed in Brazil to Do Away With Practice

Advices received by Emil E. Shauer, of the foreign department of Famous Players-Lasky tell of the formation of an import association in Brazil for the protection of legitimate dealers in that country. The organization is known as the Junto de Commercio Importador Cinematographic de Brazil.

The body has as its members the principal figures in the Brazilian trade who are protected by a set of regulations.

All destroyed or damaged film must be paid for by the exhibitors and anyone showing in his theater film of a brand that has been stolen forfeits his membership in the association and is so barred from securing other productions.

Jacobo Glucksmann, one of the most prominent of the South American dealers stated yesterday that the same idea is in effect in Argentine where a similar body was formed about two years ago.

Emma Dunn

Packard Library-Selwyn Theatre

Inter-Ocean Buys Tracey Prod.

Inter-Ocean has purchased for the entire foreign market the series of Louis Tracey Prod. now being made for Gibraltar Pictures.

Quite some comment is being made in view of Sidney Garrett's connection with Arthur Beck and the former's extensive connections in the foreign market. Garrett has the Deitrich-Beck films.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Dear Sir:—

The Los Angeles Examiner said:

"PAULINE FREDERICK IN 'THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13' STANDS OUT AS ONE OF THE MOST ENTERTAINING SCREEN PRODUCTIONS OF THIS YEAR."

Goldwyn

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

REELCRAFT
OFFERS
THE BEST SERIES OF ALL TWO REEL WESTERNS EVER MADE BY TEXAS GUINAN
QUEEN OF THE WEST. MELODRAMATIC SENSATION OF ALL THRILLDOM.
Available at Leading Independent Exchanges Everywhere
Reelcraft Pictures Corp.
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

SPLENDID OPPORTUNITY
For High - Class Film Salesman
Salary Unlimited
Must know New York, Brooklyn and Jersey territory. Address:
Box B-91, care of Wid's
All applications held confidential.

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
ALLAN A. LOWNES GEN. MGR.

Goldwyn Warns

Inflation of Production Costs a Possible Difficulty, He Says

Samuel Goldwyn, of the Goldwyn Pictures, sailed for England yesterday on the Mauretania. Mr. Goldwyn did not define the purpose of his mission. He will join Gabriel L. Hess, and other members of the company in London.

Mr. Goldwyn did not say how long he will be away. His only statement was in the form of a general message to the industry which has no particular bearing on the trip abroad.

The statement for the most part deals with the economics of motion picture distribution, and it sounds a note of warning to the industry which is in substance that producers should not allow inflated ideas of pictures values to result in a corresponding inflation of production costs. The statement in part, says:

"A photoplay must be released at a price that will mean a profit to an exhibitor whether he has a two hundred seat house or a house seating over 1,000.

"There is to-day a definite attempt to seek for a price standardization, along a sliding scale that recognizes the conditions of the exhibitor. Goldwyn has employed expert statisticians to fully analyze the economics of the distribution of motion pictures, and the results that they will achieve will undoubtedly be of direct benefit to those in control of America's theaters."

Large House Planned for Detroit

Detroit, Mich.—M. A. Slepski, will erect a 2,200 seat house at a cost of $300,000, on Grand River Ave.

San Diego, Cal.—Mrs. M. A. Large bought Victory, formerly Come-Again.

Exploitation Tie-up

Lester Park and Edward Whiteside, producers of "Empty Arms" and the Corona Typewriter Co. have arranged a tie-up whereby the windows of that organization at 42nd St. will have a display consisting of the interior of a motion picture house, with a still in which Thurston Hall and Gail Kane are seen. There will be a cut-out of Willard Bradley, author of the production, at one side, working at a Corona machine. Another feature will be the scenario used.

Pioneer Changes

Minneapolis—The latest addition to the string of Pioneer Film exchanges is the Merit Film Co. offices at 206 Film Exchange Bldg. Franchise effective for Minnesota, North and South Dakota.

Cincinnati — Pioneer Film has opened an office here in charge of R. E. Kerly.

The exchange is 532 Walnut St. and is run in conjunction with the C. C. Hite Attractions. It will serve southern Ohio and Kentucky.

Detroit—The local Pioneer office has moved from 53 Elizabeth St. to 302 Jos. Mack Bldg. A. W. Blankmeyer, manager, is succeeded by Ed. Fontaine.

Physical distribution in this territory will be handled by the Minter United Amusements.

Sells Interest in Hutchinson Co.

Portand, Me.—Herbert W. Hutchinson, general manager and secretary of the Hutchinson Amusement Co. has sold his interest to Charles H. Vose. Hutchinson will leave the New Portland of which he has been manager for four years.

Thomas Meighan and director Hugh Ford have returned from Havana where scenes were shot for "Civilian Clothes."

Gets Swedish Films

The newly formed Radiosoul Films, Inc. has secured American and Canadian distribution of the entire product of the Swedish Biograph. Victor Seastrom in "A Man There Was" is the first of the series.

Radiosoul in addition to this plans to produce but for the present will concentrate on the Swedish product.

Letendre Denies Report

T. E. Letendre, representative of Ethel Clayton in New York stated yesterday that Ethel Clayton has not signed with anyone as yet, denying the report which appeared in WID'S DAILY on Monday that she was expected to form her own producing company with Arthur S. Kane in charge of sales.

Laemmle in Charge of "U" City

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Carl Laemmle has arrived here and is now in complete charge of Universal City.

He states that he intends remaining here for several months and that no successor to Tarkington Baker, recently resigned general manager will be named for the present.

STUDIO FOR RENT

Up to date equipment and lighting. Bell & Howell and Pathe cameras. Fine scenery. Cornell University offers many inducements. Terms reasonable. Will lease for period of six months or less.

Howard Cobb, Ithaca, N. Y.
or Local Representative:

Arthur V. Feary,
1457 Broadway,
New York City,
Telephone 7632 Bryant.

"A CHILD FOR SALE"

FOR RENT

Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmark Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46th Phone Bryant 7498.

STUDIO AND LABORATORY For Rent

Laboratory, also one entire and part of another studio fully equipped. Direct current.

A. H. FISCHER STUDIOS,
(Formerly Thanhauser Studios)
New Rochelle, N. Y

Phone New Rochelle 2277

SIMPLE SOULS

CHOICE OFFICE SPACE—For Rent

Office space in prominent film building, including accommodations in film vault. Space not available for exchange purposes. Write B. E. Box X c/o WID'S.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.
64 West Randolph Street
Chicago, Ill.

6805

Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding

Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building
Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XI. No. 84 Thursday, March 25, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Directors to Meet

National Picture Theater Members Will Be Here for Convention

Among prominent exhibitors expected here early next month to attend the first meeting of directors of the National Picture Theaters, Inc.—the Selznick co-operative organization—and who, doubtless will be elected as directors are:

S. Z. Poli, Bijou, New Haven; Mike Shea, 40 Court St., Buffalo; Julius Mastbaum, Stanley Booking Co., Phialdelphia; Louis Blumenthal, Rialonal, Jersey City, N. J.; Harry Crandall, Washington; Jake Wells, Colonial, Richmond, Va.; John P. Harris, Davis Theater Bldg., Pittsburgh; Spitz Renner, Dome, Youngstown, Ohio; Libson, Family, Cincinnati; Charles Olsen, Isis, Indianapolis; Fred Dolle, Broadway Amusement Co., Louisville; Nate Ascher, Chicago; Lubliner and Trinz, Chicago; Balaban and Katz, Chicago; Ascher Bros, Linick and Schaeffer, Chicago; Andrew Karzas, Woodlawn, 857 63rd St., Chicago; Fitzpatrick & Kilroy, Chicago; Tom Saxe, Alhambra, Milwaukee; Ruben & Finkelstein, Minneapolis; Stanley W. Chambers, Palace, Wichita; Hector Orphanos, Pasmezoglu, St. Louis; Wm. Fox Vaudevilles, Washington, Dallas; Ford Rogers, Olympic, Wichita Falls, Texas; Wiliam Swanson, American, Salt Lake City and Carruthers and Archibald, Orpheum, Pocotello, Ida-

Powell To Direct Clayton

Hal Powell, director of "Pollyanna" will direct Ethel Clayton for Famous Players.

Jersey Exhibitors Meet

Sixty-five New Jersey exhibitors met yesterday at the Astor at a meeting called by H. H. Buxbaum of Famous Players.

The meeting was marked by considerable enthusiasm and promises of the exhibitors' part of co-operation on the Sunday opening question. Another session will be held this morning.

Don't tip the girl. The night hat check girl in the Astor waiting room.

THE FILM MEN'S CLUB OF NEW YORK

"I must forget and there is only one way—drugs," Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives," from the novel by Owen Johnson, a First National Attraction.—Advt.

Deal Is Off

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

St. Louis—All deals having to do with the various chains and interests here are now reported off. The Aschers, of Chicago, were reported interested in a deal with Koplar & Goldman, but this fell through, as also a deal to take over Siever's New Grand Central. There was another reported deal in which Goldwyn was interested, and this was also fallen through with Koplar & Goldman.

The new 4,000 seat house being built for Famous will be ready by October 1. It will be the second largest house in this country. While no name has been definitely determined it may be called "The Mississippi."

J. H. Cooper of the Wichita, Wichita, Kansas, and the Cooper at Oklahoma City is looking over the sights of the big city.

New Producer

The Hy-Art Pictures Co. John D. Perry, president has signed Ruby de Remer and Lillian Walker.

Miss de Remer will make "The Flash" which Perry will direct while Lillian Walker will first do two reel comedies and later branch out into five reel features. Production will be at the Hal Benedict studios in Flushing.

John J. Livingston placed the players with Hy-Art.

Harry Scott a Visitor

Harry Scott, manager of the Detroit Exchange of First National is at the Astor. Just a visit.

Mrs. Hilliker Leaves

Mrs. Katherine Hilliker, who is responsible for the humorous titles in the Chester productions left yesterday for California to join C. L. Chester.

Sales Meeting

Being Held by Goldwyn Relative to Product—Some of Men Here

An important meeting of some of the sales managers of Goldwyn Pictures is now being held. Among those present are George A. Hickey of Buffalo; Arthur Lucas of Atlanta; J. E.Flynn of Detroit; C. E. Maberry of St. Louis; W. H. Jenner of Boston, and H. A. Bandy of Cleveland.

It is understood that matters of considerable importance are being discussed, and that as a result of the meeting a plan with reference to a proposed cancellation of contracts on a one picture basis had been thrown out, and that the program as outlined, and upon which productions had been sold originally would be carried through to the end of the season.

It is also understood that Goldwyn plans to release 34 features as their total output for the year ending in August.

Ross, Assistant Sales Manager

H. A. Ross is now assistant sales manager of Famous Players. He was formerly Detroit branch manager but was brought to New York.

His successor in Detroit is C. W. Perry.

West Heads Own Company

Hollywood—Billy West the comedian, has organized his own producing company and has moved to the Reelcraft Studio where he is working on his first two reel feature, to be titled "The Artists" and to be released by Reelcraft.

All Billy West productions will be released on the Reelcraft program.

McKinley Starts Production

The McKinley Studios, Inc., chartered in Delaware in January, capitalization $300,000 will shortly start work on its first production with J. Searle Dawley directing. The studio is in the Bronx.

Adolfi to Direct Carpentier

John Adolfi will direct Georges Carpentier in his seven reel production for Robertson-Cole. Work will start at Select's Fort Lee studios on Monday. Story by Willard Mack.

Hodkinson will release in early April J. Warren Kerrigan's "The Dream Cheater."

I advise ADVERTISE!!
But let SOLOMON do it, he's wise. Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM WID'S DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 84 Thursday, March 25, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives—Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ...	77½	81	78
Do, pfd	88	88	88
*Goldwyn	23	23½	23
Loew's, Inc.	29	30	29⅜
Triangle	½	½	½
United Pict. Prod.	15	15	15
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Tuesday's quotations.

Rube in "Zip Comedies"

Chris. Rube in a series of six single reel comedies will form the first group of the "Zip Comedies" to be sold on the state right market by Radin Pictures.

PRIDE

A man's pride is a liability
A woman's pride is an asset.

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Play of Pride

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Charles W. Herzinger will appear in "The Heart of Twenty" for Brentwood.

Kathlyn Williams is the latest star to be engaged by Benjamin B. Hampton for his all-star photoplays of famous novels. She is now playing an important role in Hampton's third Zane Grey production.

Elmer Forest has just completed "A Change of Heart," for L. J. Gasnier as a starring vehicle for Lew Cody.

Sid Franklin of the Mayflower Photoplay Co. has finished the script of "Athalie," a Robert W. Chambers story. Sylvia Breamer is to play the lead. Conrad Nagle is to play opposite.

Jack Cooper whose latest is "The Light Weight Lover" has just returned to the Fox Sunshine Studios after an absence of ten days where he has been confined to his bed with a severe attack of the flu.

Director General Ward Lascelle has completed three comedies for Special Pictures, "Uneasy Feet," "I'm a Vamp," and "Any Woman."

Edgar Lewis has purchased picture rights of "A Beggar in Purple," by Andrew Soutar.

Jack Hoxie, star of the "Lightning" Bryce serial, will start on a new serial about April 1, for Natonal Film.

Bess Meredyth and Wilfred Lucas are due to arrive in San Francisco about April 1, after an absence of nearly a year in Australia, where they have been associated with "Snowy" Baker in the production of several features.

William Conklin is to support Louise Glaum.

Harry Frankiln will direct Edith Roberts in her next Universal "Togs," a magazine story.

GAUSMAN.

Carnival Week

This is Carnival Week on Broadway. Up at the Strand there is a perfectly good Hawaiian Hula on the screen, with Hawaiian music in "The Idol Dancer" and at the Broadway there is a prologue in which a "Persian (?)" dancer wiggles just as naturally as if she came from Hawaii.

Incorporations

Albany, N. Y.—The William Fox Attractions of Manhattan has increased its capital stock from $10,000 to $100,000. The certificate was filed by Saul & Rogers, general counsel for Fox Film.

Augusta, Me.—Capitol Theaters, Inc., Portland. Capital, $1,150,000. To operate film houses. Common stock, $150,000. Preferred stock, $1,000,000; par value, $100; nothing paid in. Abraham Goodside, Frank A. Dresser and I. E. Vernon are the officers.

Baton Rouge, La. — Opelouses Amusement Co. Capital, $60,000. Adolph Jacobs, president; V. A. Sachse, vice-president and Alex Bloomensteil, secretary and treasurer.

Minneapolis, Minn. — Capitol Amuse. Co. Capital, $50,000. S. J. Blackmore, E. A. Blackmore and R. N. Chafee of Duluth, directors. Will buy, lease and operate theaters in this state and Wisconsin Sacramento, Cal.—Nappa Theater and Realty Co. Capital, $50,000. Incorporators. Vincent Aaron, G. Kane, L. Keyes, C. T. Patterson and A. I. Newburgh.

Cohn With Allen's?

Toronto—It is understood that the Allens have secured Sam W. B. Cohn to direct publicity for their string of theaters.

Cohn was formerly with Realart in Los Angeles and later with C. E. Shurtleff, Inc. producers of the Jack London productions.

New Exchange Opens in Clevel

Cleveland, O.—The Essenel ductions De Luxe Co. has opene office, and will handle Essanay issues. Loraine B. Leibtag is p dent of the organization

Cincinnati, O.—Thomas No and associates bought People's leased Opera House.

A prophet is without honor in his own country, —but profits are appreciated everywhere. Which explains the universal popularity of the RITCHEY poster!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8368

Ritchey

Ruth Stonehou

just sent me a dandy autogra photo taken in her Laurel Ca bungalow with one of our ta machines recently purchased her.

RICHARDSO
607 West Seventh Str

Bill Richardson

Victrolas and Grafonolas

Phone 64955 Opp. Robin Los Angeles, Calif.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
460 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:—

NOW AND THEN A PICTURE IS PRODUCED THAT WINS THE UNANIMOUS APPROVAL OF PRESS, PUBLIC AND EXHIBITOR. "DANGEROUS DAYS" IS THAT KIND OF PICTURE. YOU NEED IT.

Goldwyn

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

"The Safety Sign"

Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

"Insurance Of All Kinds"

UNDAY SHOWS ND CENSORSHIP

ons Petition for Sunday Shows

lmira, N. Y. The City Council been petitioned by the Central erated Trades and Labor Union permit shows on Sunday, during rs that will not interfere with rel- us services. Clergymen are pro- ing.

tandard to Play Sunday Films

he Standard, at Broadway and St., a legitimate house on the way Circuit," will play pictures Sundays. B. K. Bimberg has bought a half interest.

OR RENT—600 square feet f office space, and the priv- ege of use of projection oom—Address c/o WID'S AILY, K-2.

REELCRAFT
OFFERS
A NEW CHARACTER BY AN OLD ARTIST
BILLY WEST
(HIMSELF)
IN BI- MONTHLY FEATURES OF FUN TWO REELS EACH

Available at Leading Independent Exchanges Everywhere

elcraft Pictures Corp.
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
9 7th Ave. New York

New Title Process

Ernest Stern, the title man has perfected a process which, it is stated, permits the making of titles with any type face that is desired.

Another innovation is available for foreign prints which allows prints of that character to retain the same illustrated titles without making an entirely new negative.

Emma Dunn
Packard Library-Selwyn Theatre

SIMPLE SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
5 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973.

MASTER FILMS INC

Johnny Hines Big Hit

Take it from the daily press reviews, trade paper reviews, and letters from the public sent to the theatre where the first comedy was tested out, as published in our various advertisements.

There doesn't seem to be a dissenting opinion.

"Torchy" Comedies Will Supply Two Reel Demand

Old two-reel stars have graduated to the five-reel class and big theatres find it impossible to secure a supply.

The market is wide open for short subject as old line distributors are giving up short reels because salesmen slight them in favor of features.

Master Films Corporation has received numerous letters from Independent Exchanges and are still in a position to entertain distributing propositions from any source and for all territories.

Send us your proposition today.

MASTER FILMS, Inc.
Charles C. Burr, Pres.
133-135-137 W. 44th St. Bryant 6093

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Louisville, Ky.—Charles Krebs, manager of the Cherokee believes in making fans of those who are not, and has started a campaign to line up those who have never been in his house before. Krebs defies his patrons to locate ten people who have not been in the Cherokee, offering a ticket to each person securing such a list. School children are making a house-to-house canvas, thereby giving the house publicity and Krebs a mailing list at little expense.

Piqua, O.— Potatoes were announced by Harry Kress, manager of May's Opera House as acceptable as admission passes at a Saturday matinee, to aid the Memorial hospital which was in need of them. In conjunction with the showing of "True Heart Susie," Kress advertised the special matinee and children responded, many of them bringing bags of spuds. Newspapers gave him much space, and the hospital authorities commended the action.

Schlager Promoted; Leaves on Trip

Sig Schlager, until now personal press representative for J. Parker Read, Jr. has been made special sales representative for the Read productions. He returned yesterday morning from a trip through New England and left last night for a month's investigating tour through the Middle West.

Lawrence A. Weingarten, formerly exploitation man attached to the Los Angeles First National exchange is now publicity director for Mr. Read. His headquarters are in Los Angeles.

New Universal Sales Contest

Harry M. Berman, of Universal announces the working plan of another national sales contest to be started next month among the 26 exchanges. Details as follows:

The exchanges have been partitioned off into five groups.

Each exchange, instead of competing against 25 other exchanges, will compete only against exchanges of equal possibilities.

In the first group, are Salt Lake City, Butte, Portland, Sioux Falls, Charlotte and Spokane.

Group No 2: Denver, Seattle and Omaha.

Group No. 3: Indianapolis, Milwaukee, Kansas City, San Francisco and Des Moines.

Group No. 4: St. Louis, Chicago, Los Angeles, Oklahoma, Minneapolis and Pittsburgh.

Group No. 5: Cincinnati, Detroit, Buffalo, Toronto, Cleveland and New

There will be first prize for each ner of each group. The first two g have first prize of $750 each; the $1,000; the fourth and fifth, $1,750

The other $1,000 is to be compete on a national basis; every exc against the other. The winner get $1,000 which is to be divided amon ployes not on the sales force.

The business of April, May and will be measured against that of uary, February and March. The l ratio of increase determines the su ful contestant.

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.
Animated artistic titles hand painted illustrating nature artistically. Call Bryant 5856. It means service.

SIMPLE SOULS

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

FOR RENT
Fully equipped Studio, Immediate Possession. Hallmark Pictures Corp., 130 W. 46th Phone Bryant 7498.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
Earle Williams in
"When a Man Loves"
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JENK
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmon
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

all yours! S.R.O. 12

THE
Glifograph Screen
No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.
TO BE SEEN IN
Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.
The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

TO-DAY AT 4.00
A trade showing of "The Secret Trap."
Hy Silverman's
Public Projection Rooms,
729 7th Avenue
Room 613
New York City

NEGATIVE FOR SALE
"THE SECRET TRAP."
Featuring little Em Gorman. 1-3 and 6 sheets slides and heralds and all other advertising matter.
Industrial Film Co.
729 7th Avenue
Bryant 5210

STATE RIGHT BUYERS
For your territory. A 5 reel production "The Secret Trap." Featuring little Em Gorman child Bernhardt of the screen. Complete advertising matter.
Industrial Film Co.
729 7th Avenue
Bryant 5210

6803
Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding
Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H.W. Hellman Building Los Angeles

CHOICE OFFICE SPACE—For Rent
Office space in prominent film building, including accommodations in film vault. Space not available for exchange purposes. Write B. E. Box X c/o WID'S.

e BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XI. No. 89 Tuesday, March 30, 1920 Price 5 Cents

xchanges Organize

National Body—Producers to ntinue Meeting in New York at Hotel Knickerbocker

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

cago—The independent ex- emen, as a result of a series of ngs have organized a company known as the Federated Film nges of America, Inc. with a sed capitalization of $100,000. rter has been applied for.

officers of the company are: Friedman Celebrated Players, go, president; J. Eugene e, Pearce Films, New Or- vice-president; M. Chatkin, lidated, San Francisco, secre- nd Sam Grand, Federal Feat- lm Boston, treasurer.

directors are: J. L. Friedman, earce, M. Chatkin, Sam Grand, harnas, Standard Film, St. A. G. Whyte, New York and sterdam, Masterpiece, Phil- a.

territorial divisions decided re as follows:

England states to Sam Boston; New York City and n New Jersey to A. G. Whyte, ork; eastern Penn. and south- NJ. to B. Amsterdam, w. Penn. rginia, to H. Lande, Quality Pittsburgh; Ohio Mich., and H. Charnas, Cleveland; North

(Continued on Page 4)

ken Blossoms" in London

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

on, Eng.—D. W. Griffith's n Blossoms" opened at the ra, Monday, March 15 for a ks' run.

method of presentation at- a good deal of attention in production was surrounded prologue and an epilogue, ng new to the London cin- rs.

icture is going over in great

arrar Denies Report

ine Farrar has authorized a t denying that either she or egen have signed a contract or any film company, as tip the girl. The night heck girl in the Astor g room.

FILM MEN'S CLUB F NEW YORK

"I will free your father if you will assume the burden of my shame."—Mildred Harris Chaplin in "Polly of the Storm Country," a First Nat'l Attraction, Louis B. Mayer—made—Advt.

Some Visitors

But Whether All Will Be Happy Is Interesting Question

Harry Koplar of Koplar & Goldman is in town and Spyros Skouras of Skouras Bros., holders of First National franchise in St. Louis, is also here. And the "inside" is that there is going to be a merry party over prices for First National product unless something happens. By holding the franchise Skouras could fix a price for First National product for their St. Louis theaters unless a better price was forthcoming. And it is possible that the Koplar-Gold-

(Continued on Page 2)

R. C. in Film Club

Robertson-Cole Dist. Corp. has been admitted to membership in the F. I. L. M. Club.

Moray Succeeds Salinger

Norman Moray has succeeded Fred Salinger as branch manager for Republic in New York.

Abrams To Coast

Leaves To-morrow on Important Mission

Hiram Abrams, manager of United Artists, leaves to-morrow for Los Angeles on an important mission relative to which he cared to make no comment when seen yesterday.

On April 5, next Monday, the first annual meeting of the directors of United Artists takes place in New York City.

Carolina Exhibitors Meet in June

Lexington, N. C.—The North Carolina M. P. Exhibitors' Association will meet at the Oceanic Hotel Wrightsville Beach, June 25-26.

The convention is expected to be the largest in attendance ever held. Percy C. Wells of Wilmington is president and H. B. Varner of Lexington is secretary and treasurer.

1st Nat'l Confab

Members of the Exhibitors' Defense Committee in Town for Important Conference

A number of the important members of the Exhibitors' Defense Committee of First National are in town for a series of conferences with home office officials.

First National is keeping rather dark just what the conferences are about but it is understood that a number of important matters will be discussed.

Baker Signs Tarkington

Tarkington Baker has secured Booth Tarkington's works for the screen.

Baker and Tarkington are cousins.

Brandt, Director General

Joe Brandt, has been made director-general of National Film, succeeding Isadore Bernstein, resigned.

W. O. Hurst to Join Bennett

W. O. Hurst for the past year supervisor of production of non-fiction subjects for Famous Players-Lasky tendered his resignation last week, effective Saturday last, to join Whitman Bennett as studio manager. Hurst will have charge of the old Triangle studio in Yonkers.

More Theaters for Lynch

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Columbia, S. C.—George Warner, owner of the Ideal and Broadway theaters sold out his interests to the Palmetto Enterprises, Inc., a company specially formed to operate these two theaters. It is understood that the Palmetto is a subsidiary for S. A. Lynch of Atlanta.

L. T. Lester, Jr. openly announces the sale of the Pastime theater to S A. Lynch.

Would Double Baltimore Taxes

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Baltimore—Under a bill introduced in the State Senate by Senator McIntosh of Baltimore country, license tax on motion picture theaters is doubled.

It provides a one-and-a-half times increase for larger houses. For houses charging five cents admission the tax is raised to double its present amount. For houses charging 10 cents or more the bill provides an increase of 150 per cent. The bill has been referred to the committee on finance of the Senate.

This is Julian M. Solomon's advt. Let Solomon do it, he's wise. Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XI No. 89 Tuesday, March 30, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	83	85¾	84
do, pfd.	89⅜	89⅝	89⅜
*Goldwyn	22½	22¾	23
Loews Inc.	29⅝	30½	30¼
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict Prod	15	15	15
World, 1st pfd.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Saturday's quotations.

Siegel Promoted

Henry Siegel, will in addition to his duties as branch manager for Select in New York act as district manager in the metropolitan district.

EDUCATION

Men can be happy though married—when they learn the true meaning of marriage.

Mollie King

in

"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

The story of a man who never learned.

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Hope Loring is now general manager of the serial and western department on the Universal staff.

Anne Cornwall, who appeared with Lionel Barrymore in "The Copperhead," and lately featured with Lyons and Moran in "Everything but the Truth" is about to be signed for a long term contract by Universal.

Norman Dawn is directing Tsuru Aoki in "The Tokio Siren," the last Universal feature starring the celebrated Japanese star, before her visit to the Orient.

There is renewed activity at the new Bulls-Eye Film Studios. A dark stage is being built for the Texas Guinan unit and two open stages for the Billy Franey comedy unit. Jay Hunt is directing Miss Guinan, while George Jesks is handling Franey.

Lee Lawson is Bull's Eye technical director. He was formerly with Universal.

Word received from Director Henry McRae, directing Marie Walcamp in her Universal serial "The Dragon's Net" gives the information that many episodes in this drama have already been completed. Scenes have been taken in Japan, China, Formosa, in the South Seas, in the Philippines, and a stop will be made at Hawaii before the company returns to Universal City in May.

GAUSMAN.

Gets Pathe Product

M. R. Ramirez Torres of the Selection Film Service, has closed contracts for the rights to all Pathe productions of 1920 and 1921 in Cuba, Porto Rico, and San Domingo.

Bartlett to Aid Production

Randolph Bartlett has been transferred to the production department by Selznick, with whom he had been connected in an executive capacity in the New York office.

In the Courts

In the suit of Essanay against Charles Chaplin for $500,000 damages for breach of contract to make four pictures on which the loss is fixed at $125,000 each the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court has directed the plaintiff to give the particulars on which it bases its damages. The court also denied an application by Essanay for permission to withdraw a reply to a counterclaim by Chaplin and to file a demurrer to the counterclaim on the ground that it does not state a cause of action.

The jury in the Supreme Court that heard the suit of the U. S. Printing & Engraving Co. against Patrick A. Powers, Henry M. and Albert A. Warner and the Warner Pictures for a balance due on promissory notes endorsed by the defendants in behalf of the Warner Pictures, returned a verdict against the defendants for $50,000. The testimony showed that if the judgment is upheld there will be no trouble collecting because Mr. Powers recently got $250,000 in connection with his motion picture ventures.

Supreme Court Justice Gavegan has reserved decision in the suit of the Star Company against Vitagraph over the right to film a new series of Wallingford stories. William A. DeFord for the plaintiff contended that the plaintiff purchased the entire motion picture rights to the Wallingford name from Cohan & Harris but former Justice Samuel Seabury for Vitagraph urgued that the proposed films will not infringe on any of the plaintiffs rights. He said that to grant the injunction would tie up George Randolph Chester for life to his former employee. He cited the "Mutt and Jeff" case in support of his argument. In that case the courts ruled that Bud Fisher could sell his own creations elsewhere after leaving the Hearst employment.

LABORATORY AVAILABLE

After July 15th, 1920

Adjoining Lincoln Studio

Palisades, New Jersey

Write or Phone for Particulars

E. K. LINCOLN

110 West 40th St., New York, N. Y.

Bryant 5307

Some Visitors

(Continued from Page 1)

man crowd may bring this abou

A St. Louis report is to the e that the Koplar-Goldman grou houses have formed an alliance interests friendly to Famous ers.

A Famous Players official s that he did not believe an all with Koplar and Goldman was since his company would hav own theater in operation in the First National states officially Frank L. Newman of the Nev theater, Kansas City, Mo., doe hold the western Missouri fran for First National. Skouras have the entire state.

Forms Own Exchange

New Haven, Conn.—Harry O has left Republic to open an pendent organization to be k as the New Haven Film Exch

Pathe Did Big Business

During Brunet Anniversary March 1 big business was do Pathe. Regarding the winne the $6,000 offered in prizes fo gest sales in four territories nouncement has been made a

On those nights whe an exhibitor uses RIT CHEY posters his wif expects him to be lat coming home. She know he will be a long tim counting his receipts.

RITCHEY LITHO. CORP.

406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

Emma Dunn

Packard Library-Sel Theatre

Fred Schaefe

Continuity and Tile Vitagraph

Cuts and Flashes

Elk Photo Plays, Inc., has established a publicity department with ·ving Meisel at the head.

Excel Pictures will release the arry Carey Feature, "The Square-ooter." State Right sales will be ndled by Film Specials.

Ben Taggart has been signed up th Hy-Art Photoplay Co. as lead-g man for Rubye De Remer, First cture will be "The Flash."

George Benoit, former cameraman th Fox is now with Lester Park d Edward Whiteside, producers "Empty Arms" and "The Scarlet agon."

Frank Reicher director of "Emp- Arms" and "The Scarlet Dragon," ll address the scenario class at lumbia Friday evening. Subject ll be "Practical Idealism in Photo-ama."

Exchange Bldg. for New Haven

New Haven, Conn.—An eight-sto- building will be started shortly on site of the present Famous Play- exchange.

Most of the local exchanges will housed on the upper floors it is pected, when the structure is com-ted.

Plummer Goes South

Albert W. Plummer, business man-r of Character Pictures has left w York for Tampa, where the pany is to produce its first spe- production "The Isle of Destiny" Mack Arthur.

New Pathe Star

Pathe is expected to announce a new woman star shortly.

SIMPLE SOULS

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
469 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

YOU BOOK IT.

IS HER LATEST—BE SURE "TRIMMED WITH RED" QUIVER WITH LAUGHTER. MAKE YOUR THEATER AN OPPORTUNITY TO GIVE MADGE KENNEDY

Sir:—

Goldwyn

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third di-ension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater d Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New ersey.
Palace Theater in Washing-on.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other eaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

REELCRAFT

OFFERS A NEW EDITION
OF AN OLD FAVORITE

BILLY WEST

TWO REEL
FUN FEAST
FEATURES
FUNNIER
THAN EVER

AVAILABLE AT
LEADING INDEPENDENT
EXCHANGES EVERYWHERE

REELCRAFT PICTURES CORP
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

Eastern Film Company
Photo Products Export Co.
Jaxon Film Corporation

Announce the opening of their new offices 5th Floor, Candler Bldg., 220 West 42d Street, May 1st.

The three finest equipped

Projection Rooms
In the city

(Simplex Studio Rooms)

Under the supervision of John F. Lyons.

Phones—Bryant 984-985

Exchanges Organize

(Continued from Page 1)

nd South Carolina, Ga., Fla., Ala., Tenn., to R M. Savini, Savini Films, Atlanta; Del., Md., Va., D. of C., to A. Dresner, Exhibitors' Film Exchange, Washington; La. and Miss. o J. E. Pearce New Orleans; Texas, Okla., Ark., to R. D. Lewis, Lewis Films, Oklahoma City; Minn., North nd South Dakota and Wisc. to Ralph Wettstein, Mid-West Dist. Co., Milwaukee; eastern Missouri to Sam Werner, United Film Service, St. Louis; Kan. and western Missouri ,to Al Kahn, Crescent Film Co., Kansas City; Colo., New Mexico, Wyo., Utah and osuthern Idaho o Kyler, of Supreme Photoplays, Denver; All of Canada to the Allens; a. and Neb., to A. H. Blank Enterprises; Calif., Nev. Ariz, to Chatkin, San Francisco; Ind., Ill., to J. L. Friedman.

The executive affairs of the organization will be vested in a general manager while a staff of salaried reviewers will pass on all productions submitted.

The producers have not yet come to any definite conclusion as to what they intend to do. Their deliberations will be continued at the Hotel Knickerbacker New York, commencing April 1.

The first Goldwyn-Bray Comic will be released April 18.

Robertson-Cole Plans

A. S. Kirkpatrick, vice-president and general manager of Robertson-Cole Distributing Corp. said yesterday that the report appearing in WID'S DAILY last week to the effect that Robertson-Cole would have 40 productions for next season was inaccurate.

"As a matter of fact Robertson-Cole does not know at this moment just how many productions will be released," said Mr. Kirkpatrick. "This is sure, however, that whatever productions are released will be specials because Robertson-Cole will handle only specials for the coming season."

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.
Animated artistic titles hand painted illustrating nature artistically. Call Bryant 5856. It means service.

Whitson Here

W. W. Whitson, one of the prominent exhibitors of San Diego, Calif. is in town on a visit. One of his first acts was to visit Arthur S. Kane and tell him how much he liked Charlie Ray.

Whitson states that the West continues to hold its own in the matter or effective film presentations.

New Company Formed on Coast

Los Angeles—Youngdeer Prod. is the name of a newly formed company. The officers are J. P. Willis, president; Mrs. Emily Dow, vice-president and James Youngdeer director-general and treasurer.

Saenger to Move

Just to be different local Saeng offices are seeking new atmosphe They want to break away from t picture section and establish sorts of new precedents.

And so after April 1 the compa and W. H. Gueringer will be loca at 57th St. and Broadway in automobile row. Although Gueri er will be in the auto row he ma tains that the Saenger Co. is still the picture business.

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

SIMPLE SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

America's Finest Laboratory
Located
Atop the Palisades
Opposite 129th St.
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades N. J.
Morsemere, 621

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies
"Money Talks" "Schoolhouse Scandal"
"Virtuous Husbands" "The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"Dablin in Society" "The Heart Snatcher"
"Footlight Maids" "The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"
Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
145 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
Friars' Club 9400 Bryant

6805
Inquiries received last week from Exhibitors regarding
Comedyart
Productions
Special Pictures Corporation
H. W. Hellman Building Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 1 | Thursday, April 1, 1920 | Price 5 Cents

Results of Meeting

First National Committees Consider "Big Six" Distribution and Determine Time and Place of Convention

The special joint meeting of the Executive Committee and the Exhibitors' Defense Committee of the Associated First National Pictures Inc., held in New York on Monday and Tuesday of this week was featured by consideration of the details of the distributing arrangement brought by Associated Producers, or "Big Six," decision of place and date for the 1920 annual convention, final survey of the percentage allotments determined by the statistical department for every independent theater in the new sub-franchising plan and consideration of new producer offers.

No final action between First National executives and representatives of the "Big Six" has been taken. Attorneys of the two parties met twice during the meeting to exchange terms but no decision was definitely reached or has "Big Six" terminated its consideration of other distributing offers.

The annual convention will be held at the Congress Hotel Chicago, beginning April 26 and continuing throughout the week. Many prominent exhibitors outside the organization are expected to attend.

The most important matter to be taken up at the convention will be the explanation of the details of the new sub-franchising arrangement which will become effective immediately afterwards. The statistical staff is still at work on this arrangement and will have all the details settled by convention time.

New production propositions offered by independent directors, stars and producers which have been submitted to headquarters during the last four weeks were discussed by the Executive Committee and will be made public at the convention for membership consideration.

Universal Plans Novelty Reel

A new novelty reel is planned by Universal to be edited by Hal Rodes, managing editor of the New Screen Magazine. It is to include among other things, a new slow motion idea, adventure scenic and examples of trick photography. The first release is planned for the early part of June.

George Terwiliger who directed "The Sporting Duchess" for Vitagraph is now with Metro in the East.

Trying in vain to rouse him from his drugged sleep, she suddenly saw the evil eyed Oriental creeping toward her.—Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives," a First National Attraction.—Advt.

Crandall Back

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Washington, D. C.—Harry Crandall, treasurer of Associated Exhibitors, Inc., and owner of a string of theaters in and about Washington, has returned to the East after a visit to California. While on the Coast Mr. Crandall worked with General Manager F. C. Quimby in the interests of Associated Exhibitors, Inc.

Jackson Signs With Fox

Arthur Jackson, author of "La La Lucille," "Scandals of 1919" and other productions has signed to write for Fox. "Leave It to Me," his first vehicle for William Russell has been completed.

Bernstein Plans Movie Ball

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Richmond, Va.—Harry Bernstein plans a Movie Ball on April 30 or May 1, as the principal entertainment feature of the Virginia Exhibitors convention on those dates.

Independent Producers

Called to Meeting in New York to Conclude Chicago Business

Joe Brandt of National Film Corp. has called meetings of the independent producers and exchange managers to take place at the Knickerbocker Hotel at 2 o'clock on Thursday and Friday afternoons of this week.

The purpose is to finish the business of the independent producers who convened in Chicago last week and to setle upon some definite plan of united action.

Among those who will attend are Lee of Gaumont, Backer of Jans, Burston, Cohen of Hall Room Boy comedies, Harris of Chester, Garrsson of Foundation, Shallenberg of Arrow and representatives from Warner Bros. and Schomer-Ross.

Ryan With Associated Exhibitors

Phil Ryan, formerly features sales manager for Pathe is now connected with Associated Exhibitors.

McAdoo and Price

May Be Out of Big Four—United Artists—Says Report

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland, Ohio—"The Big Four will be no bigger," says the Plain Dealer, adding "The Big Four, Pickford, Chaplin, Griffith, Fairbanks combination, is going into its second year no bigger than it was a year ago. The reverse perhaps, is true.

"Lack of product was the most series obstacle encountered by the Big Four. Fairbanks provided two pictures, Griffith one and Mary Pickford the fourth. 'His Majesty the American' brought in lots of money for United Artists but little for the exhibitor, so the trade gossip says and this made it more difficult to get big money for 'When the Cloud Roll By.'

"Griffith's 'Broken Blossoms' hailed in the big cities as the picture of the year was bought for $225,000 from Artcraft.

"They just got by with it financially. The exhibitor didn't at all. Then came 'Pollyanna' and the showhounds were soaked all the traffic would bear.

"United will gross a milion dollars or better from it but in doing so they have made a lot of anti big star propaganda which is bound to react on their future returns."

When shown the above report Hiram Abrams of United Artists said he had nothing to say.

William G. McAdoo could not be reached for a statement.

United Artists' first annual directors meeting occurs next Monday in New York. Hiram Abrams leaves to-day for the Coast.

Going Abroad

Pearl White Probably Will Make Several Productions in Europe

Pearl White is en route for Europe where she will confer with Winn Sheehan regarding probable production activities on the other side. The star will return to this country for a brief period prior to returning to Europe to start work there. Martha Mansfield, the Follies beauty who appears in the Barrymore production of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" accompanied Miss White.

It has not been understood up to this time that the Fox organization planned any foreign productions.

Who's doing YOUR PUBLICITY?
Why not SOLOMON, he's wise?—Ad

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 1 Thursday, April 1, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 8th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	84¼	85	84¼
Do, pfd.	90¼	91	90½
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	30½	31	31
Triangle	½	½	½
United Pict. Prod.	12½	12¾	12¾
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Doug and Mary Married

Film folks were not particularly surprised to learn yesterday that Douglas Fairbanks and Mary Pickford had been married last Sunday in Los Angeles.

In the Courts

The De Luxe Pictures Corp. has filed an injunction against the Parex Film Corp. to restrain the defendant from distributing any more pictures owned by the plaintiff or from using the plaintiff's name and to direct the defendant to return all the films owned by the plaintiff.

The complaint alleges that in 1918 a distribution contract was made by the defendant under it got 35 prints of 4 pictures, "The Street of Seven Star," "The Inn of the Blue Moon," "Wild Honey," and "Twilight." The complaint alleges that since Dec. 31 last, distribution by the defendant has become demoralized. The receipts have been growing smaller until finally the service broke down completely. The plaintiff says that whereas in the first five months of the contract the gross returns from two of the four pictures was $5,862 a month but returns for the past 12 months have dwindled to nothing and since the middle of January nothing has been received and it is also alleged that in December and January instead of covering the United States, the defendant has distributed only in New York territory. It is alleged that Wm. L. Sherry president and general managerof defendant, stated to the plaintiff's attorney, William Chilvers, that the distribution service was bad but that he was making arrangements for outside assistance.

Chambers Not With National

Stanley W. Chambers, of the Palace theater, Wichita, Kan., whose name was mentioned as one of the probable new directors of the National Picture Theaters, denies that he will be identified with the Selznick organization.

Too Much Publicity

Condemnation of the practice of "fan" papers of running fictionized versions of picture productions prior to release date has been made by Peter Antonoplos, manager of the Olympia Theater, Pittsburg, Pa., on the ground that it cuts into the picture's business. Fans who have read the fiction stories served in the magazines, asys Antonoplos, will hesitate before buying tickets to see the pictures on the screen. He calls it misdirected publicity.

His solution is to print the fiction versions of the pictures several weeks after erlease date instead of before. In this way, he figures, repeat bookings will be helped by such publicity.

When the 22 kt. stamp is placed upon a piece of gold, it's fortunate possessor does not have to have it acid tested. The RITCHEY trade mark performs an identical service for a motion picture poster.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:—

THE SAN FRANCISCO EXAMINER SAYS:

"DANGEROUS DAYS," IS A MAGNIFICIENT PICTURIZATION. THE SCENES OF EXPLOSION, THE FIRE AND RESULTING PANIC EPISODES ARE AMONG MOST SPECTACULAR AND EXCITING I HAVE EVER SEEN."

Goldwyn

UNREASONABLE

"Love me forever" is woman's cry—
Why are women so unreasonable?

Mollie King
in
"WOMEN MEN FORGET"

A Play of a Woman Who Was not Unreasonable

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By

United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.

J. A. Berst, Pres.

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF MOTION PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
FRIAR'S CLUB 9400 BRYANT

LABORATORY AVAILABLE
After June 1st
Adjoining Lincoln Studio
Palisades, New Jersey

Write or Phone for Particulars

E. K. LINCOLN
110 West 40th St., New York, N. Y.
Bryant 5307

SIMPLE SOULS

EDITH STOREY
was in the other day. She just completed a wonderful feature for Haworth—You had better come over in.

RICHARDSON'S
607 West Seventh Street

Victrolas and Grafonolas
Phone 64955 Opp. Robinson's
Los Angeles, Calif.

Single Column Newspaper Advertising Cuts from United Artists Corporation's Theatre Exploitation Aids.

REELCRAFT

OFFERS
THE STANDARD OF "WESTERN"
EXCELLENCE

Texas Guinan

TWICE MONTHLY RELEASES OF
TWO REEL REAL WESTERN
FEATURES

AVAILABLE AT
LEADING INDEPENDENT
EXCHANGES EVERYWHERE

REELCRAFT PICTURES CORP
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
NTERSTATE SMELTING
& REFINING COMPANY
3 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

ART FILM CO.
49 West 45th St.
Animated artistic titles hand painted illustrating nature artistically. Call Bryant 5856. It means service.

DON'T PAY
More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
45 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973.

Coast Brevities

The second special feature of the new series inaugurated by Col. W. N. Selig will be "Kazan," the wolf-dog story from the book of James Oliver Curwood. The company will go to Alaska for locations.

Benjamin B. Hampton, who is making special photoplay productions of the works of a group of America's most famous novelists, now has authors on his list, and control film rights of their works. This gives Hampton 254 novels, and 481 short stories.

Roland Lee has been placed under a long-term contract by Thomas H. Ince.

An elaborate duplication of the New York Winter Garden, has been constructed at the Brunton Studios for Betty Compson's initial production with her own company, now being directed by Arthur Rosson.

Ruth Stonehouse who has just completed an engagement with the Metro and who is playing the lead in "The Hope," has been re-engaged by Metro to be featured in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath."

Bob Gray, formerly with Lasky, later director of the Shorty Hamilton comedies, and also of the Judge Brown juvenile stories, is directing the initial production of the American Lifeograph Co. of Portland, Ore.

Harry Wulpe has rejoined the continuity staff of National Film.

"Buster" Keaton will appear in "The New Henrietta" for Metro. He is loaned to the latter by the Arbuckle Company.

Modern Equipped Studio for Rent, Floor Space, 60 x 150. Terms Most Reasonable in New York.
WEISS
Room 524 1476 Broadway
Bryant 4416

Emma Dunn
Packard Library-Selwyn Theatre

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

SIMPLE SOULS

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
Earle Williams in
"When a Man Loves"
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JENKS
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmond
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

There are still a few-- exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 2[illegible] Friday, April 2, 1920 Price 5 Cer

Brady Challenges

(Spcl Cable to WIDS)

Offers to Prove to English No Discrimination Exists Over Films

London, Eng.—William A. Brady, who arrived here recently has for his purpose a better understanding between film interests here and in America.

The English film men have revived the charge of discrimination against their product with the result that Brady has issued a challenge. He states he will produce English films right in London and exhibit them in all American theaters.

Adolph Zukor expects to see local production get under way by the first of May. There is a good deal of talk prevalent that he will do big things in the film game here.

ALICOATE.

Plan New Combine

Independent Producers Will Probably Unite in One Big Unit

The independent producers assembled at the Knickerbocker yesterday reached the point in their discussions where it was quite certain that a new producing alliance would be organized.

The meeting which was attended by 16 producers was cloaked in secrecy but after the first day's session, Joe Brandt who figured rather prominently in the discussions stated that the producers would in all likelihood combine for mutual protection and that they would entertain all quarters offers for distribution of their product. Brandt stated that the formation of the independent exchangemen in Chicago the early part of the week had no particular bearing on the matter and that the producers were in the market for offers for distribution from anybody.

While a list of those producers present was refused, Louis Burston was seen after the meeting. He stated that the new serial combine which he had perfected a short time ago had a very direct bearing on the discussions now under way. He intimated that the serial producers he represented w[illegible] ba[illegible]ged in the new alliance.

Pickford in "The Duchess of Suds"

The name of the forthcoming Mary Pickford production to follow "Pollyanna" through United Artists will be "The Duchess of Suds."

"The Duches of Suds" is based upon "'Op O' Me Thumb."

Baker Signs Williams?

It was reported yesterday that Tarkington Baker had signed Bert Williams, the colored comedian, for a series of two reel comedies.

"U" Purchases "Lucille"

Universal has purchased "La La Lucille" which will be used for Lyons and Moran. It will be their second five reeler.

Curtis Co. Meets

There was a meeting of the Cathrine Curtis Corp. board of directors held yesterday. A number of important matters were discussed.

Missouri Bound

An outgoing train yesterday carried a delegation of Missouri film men. Those that went on one train were:

Richards and Flynn, Spyros Skouras, Frank L. Newman and "Bill" Sievers.

"I have come back to ask you to forgive me and to tell you that I love you,"—Mildred Harris Chaplin in 'Polly of the Storm Country," a First National attraction, Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

McAdoo Retires

As General Counsel and Advisor of Unite Artists "Big Four"—Oscar A. Price Will Not Talk

(Copyright 1920, by WID'S DAILY)

William Gibbs McAdoo, of McAdoo, Cotton and Frankli has retired as general counsel of the United Artists,—Dougl Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Charlie Chaplin and David Wa Griffith. Mr. McAdoo will not discuss the matter. This, b cause of the ethics of his profession regarding the status client and counsel.

It is not known what effect this will have upon Oscar Price, president of United Artists who is director of the cc poration and who is supposed to be very close to William McAdoo.

Mr. Price yesterday said he ha nothing to say either with referen to the McAdoo retirement or hi self.

In yesterday's issue of WIL DAILY was a special dispatch fr Cleveland captioned "McAdoo a Price May Be Out of Big Fou United Artists—Says Report." O ing to a printer's error, the follo ing important paragraph was omitt from yesterday's report:

"William G. McAdoo is no long with the stellar quartette, it is s and Oscar Price who is getting $1 000 a year as president is also o or nearly so. William G. McAdo salary was $50,000 a year."

This paragraph should have i mediately followed the opening p agraph which was to the effect t the Big Four would be no bigg this year than last.

Hiram Abrams, general manag of United Artists left yesterday f the coast.

The first annual stockholders a directors' meeting of United Arti will be held next Monday in W mington, Del., instead of New Yo Those expected to attend are Osc A. Price, Dennis F. O'Brien, rep senting Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fa banks (Mary Pickford), Nathan Bi kan representing Charlie Chap and Albert H. T. Banzhaf, represe ing David W. Griffith.

(Continued on Page 2)

To exploit that SPECIAL, Engage SOLOMON, he's wise—Advt.

BRADSTREET FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

l. XII No. 2 Friday, April 2, 1920 Price 5 Cents

opyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, c. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., ew York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and LM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-er; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President d Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and siness Manager.
tered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, the post office at New York, N. Y., under e act of March 3, 1879.
rms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 nths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, .00.
Subscribers should remit with order ddress all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
itorial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-od Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
mous Players	84⅞	85⅛	85⅛
Do, pfd	90¼	91	91
oldwyn	24	24	24
oew's, Inc.	31	31⅞	31
nited Pict. Prod.	10½	11	10½
riangle	½	½	½
orld, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Warrants Expected Soon

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago—Warrants will be issued ortly, it is expected, for the ar-st of the 40 theater managers who e charged with juggling the re-rns of the Federal amusement tax.

Mc Adoo Retires

(Continued from Page 1)

Some Comment

Just what is behind McAdoo's resignation and the possible resignation of Oscar A. Price will probably provoke considerable discussion in film circles. Price is reported to be a rather heavy stockholder in United Artists as well as president.

There has been considerable opposition to the selling plan of United Artists from some exhibitors.

In view of the reports circulated that Douglas Fairbanks and his bride will make a tour of Europe this summer, the question has been raised in various circles whether or not any productions could be expected from them if this report proved to be a fact.

New Company Under Way

The Hy-Art Film Corp. is forming a company to feature Hilda Spong.

Studio work will start at an early date.

Famous Players Ball

The employees of the eastern studios of Famous Players-Lasky will give an Eastern Studio Ball at the Commodore, April 28.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Call-Post says:

"DANGEROUS DAYS" STRIKES GREAT NEW NOTE OF MOTION PICTURE PHOTOGRAPHY THAT IS UNQUESTIONABLY DESTINED TO MAKE OTHER DIRECTORS FOLLOW IN THE FOOTSTEPS OF REGINALD BARKER.

Goldwyn

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater
Tel. Bryant 1511

The difference between a RITCHEY poster and an ordinary poster is about the same as the difference between a chicken that lays eggs and one that does not.

RITCHEY LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

Emma Dunn
Packard Library-Selwyn Theatre

SIMPLE SOULS

LOVE

If love weren't blind, we would all remain single.

Mollie King
in
"WOMEN MEN FORGET"
A Play of Blind Love

Directed by John M. Stahl
Produced by American Cinema Corp.

Released March 21 By
United Picture Theatres of America, Inc.
J. A. Berst, Pres.

—A CHILD FOR SALE—

My beautiful golden-haired girl Sylvia, 4 years old, charming disposition, health—perfect, parentage—legitimate. Reason of sale—high cost of living.
References exchanged. Address,

IVAN ABRAMSON,
729 Seventh Ave.,
New York City

Proper Insurance Means Protection

YOUR BUSINESS—AUTOMOBILE, HOME, STAR,—
YOU YOURSELF—NEED INSURANCE.

Take precautions against insufficient insurance. A 5,000 or 10,000 limit does not adequately cover your auto. Ask us why—and we will tell you.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

BESS MEREDITH
and
WILFRED LUCAS
Writing and Directing
Australian Features

Address
Care Snowy Baker
84 Oxford Street
Sydney, N. S. W. Australia
Cable Address
"Snowing Sydney"

A Two Column Newspaper
Ad-cut from
United Artists Corporation's
Extensive Assortment of
Theatre Exploitation Aids

There's Many a "Kick"
Where You Least Expect It!

Look at this picture and ponder. Father thought there was no more "pep" in the old nag, but his wayward daughter discovered that there was a wallop left in each old hoof——and she used the one horse power battering ram in self defence.

Think farm life is dead from the neck up? No "kicks" left in it? Oh! what a lot you've got to learn!

See the simple life exposed——get next to Nature——watch the All Star Comedy Cast tear the veil of secrecy from the romance of rural righteousness in

MACK SENNETT'S

Big New FIVE-REEL Comedy Sensation

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

F. P. Again Signs Clayton

(By wire)

Los Angeles—Ethel Clayton has been re-engaged on a long term contract by Famous Players-Lasky, as she states, at a salary three times as large as her present income.

She will make two pictures in New York and two in England, while the rest of her productions will be produced on the coast.

Shanahan, Sales Manager

Wistaria Productions, Inc., have appointed R. E. Shanahan as sales manager suceeding Jacques Kopfstein who has severed connections with the corporation.

He, together with Thomas de Vasey, secretary of the company leave for California to-morrow.

First Bessie Love

A. J. Callaghan Productions, Inc., announce as the first vehicle for Bessie Love, "The Midlanders," by Charles Tenney Jackson.

Joseph de Grasse and Ida May Park will direct.

Personnel of Bennett's Staff

R. E. Wortham will head the technical staff of Whitman Bennett's new organization. Tom Griffith will be chief cameraman, while Phyllis Dodson will be art director and W. O. Hurst, business manager.

Aspermont, Tex.—Clement Guest purchased the Queen from W. H. Davis, who recently took it over from W. A. Dunwoody.

Office Space

New Hooven Bldg.
117 West 46th St.
The heart of New York, just off Longacre Square. Units of 500 sq. ft. or more. Well worth inspecting. Apply on premises, Main Floor or WHEELER REALTY CORP., Agts.
229 Madison Ave.,
Phone Van. 970

More Comedies

New Series for Educational—To Be Made By Gasnier

(By wire)

Los Angeles—Educational Films Corp. will release a series of 13 two-reel comedies to be produced by Jack White and Louis J. Gasnier.

Vera Steadman, Marvel Rea, two former Sennett girls and Lloyd Hamilton wil be featured in the series.

Educational recently announced the taking over of the C. L. Chester comedies.

A judgment by default for $1,82 has been entered in the City Cou against Willard Mack in a suit c Harry Cahane on a note for $1,75 made Sept. 27 last. Mack did nc defend the case.

SIMPLE SOULS

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRE
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER IN
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPI
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMP
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 2

FIDELITY PICTURES CO.
117 West 46th Street, New York City Announce
"FRIVOLOUS WIVES"
Now in Course of Production
Rights fully Protected

REELCRAFT
OFFERS FRIVOLOUS
FUN FEASTS
FEATURING
Billy West
TWO REELS
OF LAUGHTER SCREAMS
BI-MONTHLY
AVAILABLE AT
LEADING INDEPENDENT
EXCHANGES EVERYWHERE
REELCRAFT PICTURES CORP
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

"WHY WOMEN SIN?"

Comedies Need Effective Presentation, too.
Filmusic Cue Sheets are provided with all Arbuckle, Sennett, Al St. John and Carter de Haven Comedies.
WHY NOT WITH YOURS?
FILMUSIC STUDIOS, Hollywood

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies
"Money Talks" "Schoolhouse Scandal"
"Virtuous Husbands" "The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"Dablin in Society" "The Heart Snatcher"
"Footlight Maids" "The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"
Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

There are still a few--
exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many- Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.
64 W. Randolph St.
Chicago, Ill.

the BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII. No. 3 Saturday, April 3, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Monday's Meeting

f United Artists' Directors May Find Another Resignation

What will follow as the result of illiam Gibbs McAdoo retiring as neral counsel of United Artists, d Oscar A. Price possibly re- gning as president, as exclusively ted in yesterday's issue of WID'S AILY, caused general comment in n circles yesterday.

No word was received up to press ur last night from the Coast from e stars interested, nor was it pos- le to secure any statement from vid W. Griffith who is working Mamaroneck regarding the un- pected developments.

When the directors meet at Wil- ngton on Monday afternoon it uld not be surprising if in addi- n to the other interesting matters be taken up would be the resigna- n of an important executive in organization other than those ntioned. It is not unlikely that . Price will remain with the or- ization as a director even should resign Monday because of his ck holdings in the corporation.

Following the exclusive report in s publication there were many one calls to the United offices for ormation, but inasmuch as Mr. ice would not talk, and Hiram rams and Ralph Proctor were out town no information was avail- e.

McAdoo was practically respon- le for the formation of the organ- tion, meeting the other stars ough Douglas Fairbanks. He is d to be responsible for the general n, as well as the financing of the poration. Just what is respon- le for his retiring is not known. is understood, however, that it s purely a voluntary and probably uld prove a surprising matter to stars. It would not be alto- her surprising if the reason for move is McAdoo disagreeing h some of the policies inaugu- ed and carried out in the selling of the organization.

None of the directors of the cor- ation cared to discuss the report terday.

Another Curtis Meeting

nother meeting of the board of ctors of the Cathrine Curtis Corp. cheduled for Monday or Tuesday.

She sat beside him until late into the night, watching as he slowly recovered from the drug.—Norma Talmadge in "The Woman Gives," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Selznick Meeting

All of the managers of the various Select and Republic exchanges throughout the country are arriving to be on hand for a general meeting to start on Monday. Plans for the coming season will be discussed, and the likelihood of closer working on the part of the several releasing companies will come in for a share of discussion. Producing and other plans which L. J. has in mind will also be taken up. Towards the end of the week the National Therious Select and Republic exchanges meeting. So it will be a heavy week for entertainment by the Selznick executives.

Sullivan's Trip Deferred

C. Gardiner Sullivan, head of the Ince scenario staff who is in New York planning his trip around the world has missed his boat. This defers his trip until May and in the interim he may return to California and resume his script work.

Producers Combine

While nothing officially has been announced, it is understood that, as a result of the deliberations gone into by the independent producers at the Knickerbocker, ten producers have pooled resources while five others were barred by the action of the committee which conducted the meeting.

The ten producers have agreed to make 46 features, five reels each in length, 52 reelers and 8 specials.

Louis Burston is expected to figure in the deal in some way with the serial producers he has lined up. Funds have been raised to finance initial production.

New Rivoli Record

Every attendance record at the Rivoli was smashed this week with John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." On Sunday 9,842 persons paid their way in. On Monday the attendance was 7,977, a new week-day record. On Tuesday it jumped to 8,255 and on Wednesday to 8,365.

Klaw Enters Field

Forms Unit to Make Pictures—Move Long Expected

It was generally taken for granted in film circles that the long awaited entrance into the motion picture field of Marc Klaw, formerly of Klaw & Erlanger, had arrived when it became known that a new company, Marc Klaw, Inc., had been formed in Albany to deal in the motion picture business generally.

The company was incorporated at a nominal sum, $30,000, and the incorporators given were Marc Klaw Joseph Klaw who is Marc's son and Alonzo Klaw.

Dittenhoefer and Fischel, attorneys for Klaw, incorporated the company but at their offices it was stated that all statements must come from Klaw himself.

Klaw could not be reached at his office and in his absence no one cared to comment on the new company.

Sherry Says Suit Is Ended

William L. Sherry, of the Parex Film Corp. states the suit brought against his company by the De Luxe Pictures Corp. had been settled and discontinued on March 26.

Licenses for Operators

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Albany, N. Y.—A bill introduced in the Legislature by Assemblyman Flynn provides for the licensing of motion picture operators in cities of the first class.

The operators of machines involving the use of combustible films used in public or private buildings or places of public assemblage shall be subject to the determination of a Board of Examiners to consist of three members, one of which shall be a city employe, one an operator and another an employe of the operator.

Foundation Moves

The Foundation Film Corp. moved from 1600 Broadway to the Leavitt Bldg., 130 West 46th St.

M. W. Garsson, general manager says negotiations are under way for the purchase of a new picture for state right distribution.

A. Hartleib has joined the technical film department of Inter-Ocean as assistant manager.

The IDEA Inventor.
SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

Wid's DAILY

Vol. XII No. 3 Sat. April 4, 1920 Price 5 Cen

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918 at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558 Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	84⅞	85½	85½
Do, pfd	90¼	91	91
Goldwyn	24	24	24
Loew's, Inc.	31	31⅞	31
United Pict. Prod.	10½	11	10½
Triangle	½	⅝	½
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

The above are Thursday's quotations. The market is closed until Monday morning on account of the Easter holiday.

Not in Benedict Plant

The Hy-Art Film Corp. has not leased the Hal Benedict plant in College Point as stated.

The Vivian Martin company, Jack Noble directing, occupies one stage but the other is free.

STATE RIGHT BUYERS
Get Acquainted With

"THE UNKNOWN RANGER"

STARRING
REX RAY

5-REEL WESTERN FEATURE

Full of Punch and Thrills

NATHAN HIRSH, Pres.
729 Seventh Ave., N. Y. C.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of "WID'S DAILY," published daily at New York, N. Y., for April 1, 1920.

Before me, a notary public, in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared Joseph Dannenberg, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Managing Editor of the "WID'S DAILY," and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24th, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business managers are:

Publisher, "Wid's Films & Film Folk," Inc., 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; Editor Joseph Dannenberg, 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; Managing Editor, Joseph Dannenberg, 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; Business Manager, John W. Alicoate, 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

2. That the owners are: "Wid's Films & Film Folk," Inc., 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, 71 West 44th St., New York N. Y.; John W. Alicoate, 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; Fred Desberg, 322 Euclid Ave., Cleveland, O.; F. J. Seng, 1450 Dayton St.., Chicago, Ill.; Joseph Dannenberg, 71 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.; Joe Brandt, 1600 B'way, New York, N. Y.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees ,and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent. or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: None.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company, but also in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiants full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is 3,823.

Joseph Dannenberg, Editor.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 31st day of March, 1920. (Seal) Harry Frank. (My commission expires March 30th, 1922.)

More Millions

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—Clyde Corp. is the name of a $2,200,000 film company just chartered here by the usual representatives of the Corporation Trust Co.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK

THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR

SIR:

The New York Post says:
"EDGAR AND THE TEACHER'S PET" WILL BRING BACK FOND MEMORIES TO ANYONE WHO HAS GONE TO SCHOOL, AND THAT, OF COURSE, MEANS EVERYBODY. ONE OF THE MOST APPEALING YOUNGSTER PICTURES THAT HAS EVER BEEN PRESENTED."

Goldwyn

SIMPLE SOULS

WOMEN MEN FORGET

Pathé News

No. 27

PARIS, FRANCE.—Poilus vs. Tom East Deschanel, new French Pres. greets the football teams of French British armies at Parc des Princes.

ALBANY, N. Y.—Expel Five Soc Assemblymen.—After a long trial the York Assembly unseats Socialist bers who were duly elected by con ents.

Speaker Sweet, who led the forces ging the expulsion of the Socialis

Assemblyman Theodore Roosevelt, championed the cause of the five m

WOODS HOLE, MASS.—New su White House—views of estate on zard's Bay where President Wilson spend the summer months.

BERLIN, GERMANY.—Dinner is s —on "Essen" Strasse! Street-kit combat profiteering by seling fo greatly reduced prices.

The meat supply of the nation is exhausted; the great slaughter-h look like deserts.

There is also a serious coal famin posters warn people of this sho many factories are rendered idle.

The demobilization of Germany's army left an army of unemployed wake—thousands apply at emplo offices.

MELROSE PARK, ILL.—160 $25,000,000 damage! A terrific to sweeping with unbridled fury th the Middle West, uproots dwelling renders thousands homeless.

BALTIMORE, MD.—Turf season in East—passage of favorable laws is celebrated as horse race held on Bowie track.

ARCHANGEL, RUSSIA.—Bless of frozen river—high church digni join the people in ancient ceremon blessing Dvina River.

SACRAMENTO, CAL.—Airplane the Rockies—accompanied by Pathe fireman, aviator makes hazardous over the Yosemite Valley.

today

Neilan's Next

"Don't Ever Marry," the p that has been receiving a teas vertising campaign, is announc Marshall Neilan's next prod through First National.

When an exhibitor wh has not been using RIT CHEY posters has a crow around his box-office, the are more likely to be bi collectors than patrons!

RITCHEY
LITEO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

—A CHILD FOR SALE—

My beautiful golden-haired girl Sylvia, 4 years old, charming disposition, health—perfect, parentage—legitimate. Reason of sale—high cost of living.
References exchanged. Address,

IVAN ABRAMSON,
729 Seventh Ave.,
New York City

A Three Column Newspaper Advertising Electro Selected from the Big Theatre Exploitation Campaign Prepared by United Artists Corporation.

Get those old thrills again- get back to Grand Old Nature

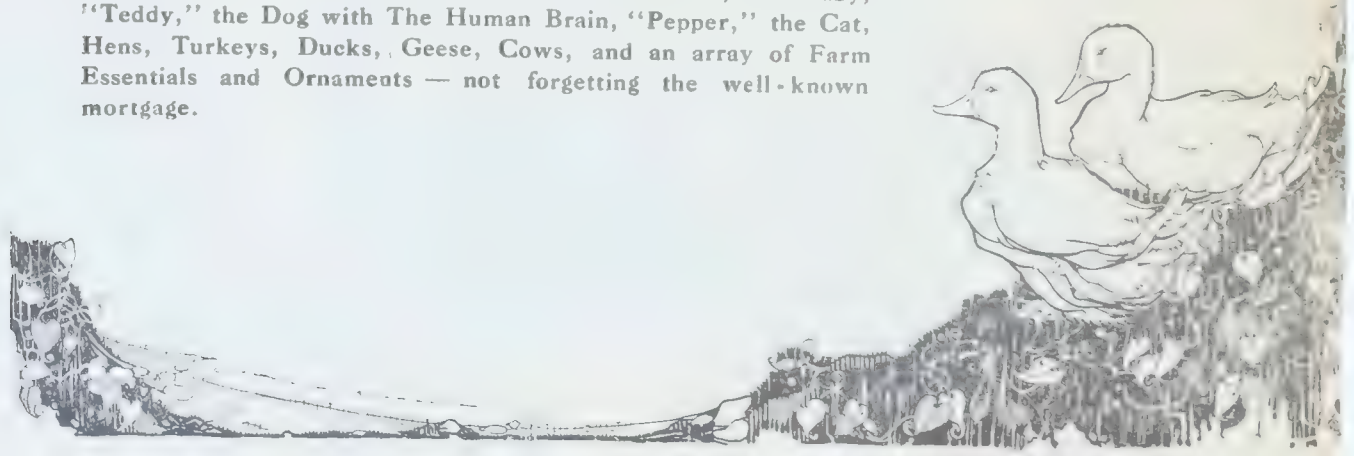
MACK SENNETT'S

Big New FIVE-REEL Comedy Sensation

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

is a riot of rural romance and revelry—it will give you all the benefits of a three-months summer vacation in an hour of fast and furious fun and thrills—

An all-star cast of Sennett Favorites including Louise Fazenda, Marie Prevost, Ben Turpin, Bert Roach, Harry Gribbon, James Finlayson, Billy Armstrong, Little Johnnie, the Baby, "Teddy," the Dog with The Human Brain, "Pepper," the Cat, Hens, Turkeys, Ducks, Geese, Cows, and an array of Farm Essentials and Ornaments — not forgetting the well-known mortgage.



Extended Production

Allied Film Players, of which Al bert is director-general, and hitho confined to the production of tures for export purposes only, s decided upon a change of policy the coming year. Twelve two-l comedies, featuring Joe Barton, o recently closed with Arthur mmerstein's "Always You," will released on the state right market.

For presentation in France, there ll be five special features with uise M. Walker and three spel all-star pictures will be sold both re and abroad.

Walter Henry Newman is under ntract to direct the comedies, the st one of which will be released April 15, the others following e each month. Mme. Walker's st release is scheduled for May, d there is a special dealing with ofiteering, set for May 15. Work in progress at the Gene Gauntier dio, where work is now in progss.

Fire Damages House

Teague, Texas—A fire caused a mage of $2,500 at the Idlewild ntly. Two machines and 6,000 feet film were destroyed, while the ilding was damaged to the extent $300. T. J. Preston and son own e house, which was partially inred.

Charnas Here

Harry Charnas, of the Standard Film Service, which operates in several Middle Western cities, is in town.

Hutchison in Pathe Serials

Charles Hutchison has signed with Pathe to make four serials.

Cy Greiver a Visitor

Cy Greiver, Greiver Distributing Corp., Chicago, is in town.

LABORATORY AVAILABLE

After June 1st, 1920, Adjoining Lincoln Studio Palisades, New Jersey.

Write or Phone for Particulars.

E. K. LINCOLN
110 West 40th St.,
New York, N. Y.
Bryant 5307

PRODUCERS!

Among the many famous vehicles we own and control for film play-rights is

"RAFFLES"

The entire series of E. W. Hornung's astounding mystery stories and others just as great!

CELEBRATED AUTHOR'S SOCIETY
701 Seventh Ave.,
701 Seventh Ave., N. Y. C.
Bryant 1511

STUDIO AND LABORATORY
For Rent

Laboratory, also one entire and part of another studio fully equipped. Direct Current.

A. H. FISCHER STUDIOS,
(Formerly Thanhauser Studios)
New Rochelle, N. Y.
Phone New Rochelle 2277

THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

SIMPLE SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

REELCRAFT

OFFERS ROARS OF LAUGHTER
A HOWLING SUCCESS

Alice Howell

TWO REEL
SCREAMING
COMEDY
FEATURES

AVAILABLE AT
LEADING INDEPENDENT
EXCHANGES EVERYWHERE

REELCRAFT PICTURES CORP
R. C. Cropper, Pres.
729 7th Ave. New York

Emma Dunn

Packard Library-Selwyn Theatre

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

There are still a few --

exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -

AND

a few who are still hesitating about booking

COMEDYART

But not many - Are YOU one?

Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. · LOS ANGELES

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
145 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XII. NO. 4 Sunday, April 4, 1920 Price 25 cents

GET THE DROP ON

ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE

Starring BERT LYTELL

The World Famous Crook Play by Paul Armstrong

Scenario by Finis Fox

Maxwell Karger METRO Director General

JURY IMPERIAL PICTURES Ltd. Distributors throughout Great Britain. SIR WILLIAM JURY Managing Director

Open with "Sinners" the Day You Have Real Competition and you'll learn a thing or two about the formidable box office strength of this Alice Brady production. Big time competition on every hand is your "pie" when this great attraction screams at the public from your billboards. This tells the tale:

CLASS OF SERVICE	SYMBOL
Telegram
Day Letter	Blue
Night Message	NM
Night Letter	NL

If none of these three symbols appears after the check number of words in this is a telegram. Otherwise its character is indicated by the symbol appearing after the check.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — GEORGE W. E. ATKINS FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

CLASS OF SERVICE	SYMBOL
Telegram
Day Letter	Blue
Night Message	NM
Night Letter	NL

If none of these three symbols appears after the check number of words this is a telegram. Otherwise its character is indicated by the symbol appearing after the check.

RECEIVED AT

MARCH 31st 10AM

F54CHOF 50 NL 3 EXA BA

LOS ANGELES CALIFORNIA

J. S. WOODY GENERAL MANAGER
REALART PICTURES CORPORATION
469 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK CITY

DESPITE PALM SUNDAY AND MANY COUNTER ATTRACTIONS ON PERFECT DAY WHICH INCLUDED BIG MOTOR SPEEDWAY RACES AND ASCOT STAMPEDE ALSO TWO REPRESENTATIVE SYMPHONY SOCIETY CONCERTS WE DID SPLENDID BUSINESS WITH REALART PICTURES CORPORATION PRODUCTION SINNERS WITH ALICE BRADY THE STAR EVERYBODY TICKLED TO DEATH CROWDS STILL COMING.

FRED AND ROY MILLER

"Outdoor" weather, motor races and symphony concerts all look alike to the exhibitor who has "ALICE BRADY in 'SINNERS'" safely booked.

REALART
PICTURES CORPORATION
469 FIFTH AVENUE - NEW YORK

REALART PICTURES presents

ALICE BRADY
in
SINNERS

From the play by OWEN DAVIS - Directed by KENNETH WEBB

Scenario by EVE UNSELL

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII. No. 4 Sunday, April 4, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to
WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2
Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago representatives: Willis, Eckels and Mack, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

John Barrymore in..DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 2

Anita Stewart in THE FIGHTING SHEPHERDESS
Mayer Prod.—First National ..... Page 3

Emma Dunn in .....OLD LADY 31
Screen Classics—Metro ..... Page 5

Sessue Hayakawa in ....THE BRAND OF LOPEZ
Haworth—Robertson-Cole ..... Page 6

Frank Mayo in .....THE GIRL IN NUMBER 29
Universal ..... Page 7

Olive Tell in .....LOVE WITHOUT QUESTION
Jans Pictures ..... Page 9

Edith Roberts in....HER FIVE FOOT HIGHNESS
Universal ..... Page 12

Sylvia Breamer and Robert Gordon in
THE BLOOD BARRIER
Blackton Prod.—Pathe ..... Page 13

Robert Warwick in.....JACK STRAW
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 15

Olive Thomas in.....YOUTHFUL FOLLY
Selznick-Select ..... Page 16

THE BOTTOM OF THE WORLD
Robertson-Cole ..... Page 17

SHORT REELS ..... Page 19

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

Federal Trade Commission's Investigation into activities of Saenger Amusement Co.

Broswell Prod., Inc., acquire rights to Nick Carter stories which they will produce.

Robertson-Cole to build ten-story office building on Seventh Ave.

Tuesday

Chicago Independent exchange men form organization known as Federated Film Exchanges of America, Inc.

Members of Exhibitors' Defence Committee of First National here for conference.

Wednesday

Kansas Exhibitors' Association adopt resolutions opposing percentage.

Richard Rowland issues statement regarding Loew-Metro organization for coming year.

Selznick signs William Faversham for series of productions.

Amalgamated Exhibitors, Ltd., Montreal, secure Hallmark and Pioneer franchises.

Thursday

Exhibitor's Defence Committee of First National talk over distribution of Associated Producers. Plan annual convention, Congress Hotel, Chicago, beginning Apr. 26.

Independent Producers open two-day session at Hotel Knickerbocker, N. Y.

Hiram Abrams leaves for coast. Mission is secret.

Friday

William G. McAdoo retires as counsel for United Artists. Oscar A. Price may resign.

Famous Players signs Ethel Clayton.

Independent Producers meet in New York. Plan Co-operative organization.

Saturday

Mark Klaw forms film producing unit. Long expected as factor in field.

Interchurch Film Corp. offers unit program to churches. After non-theatrical distribution exclusively.

Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"--Benjamin Franklin.

John Barrymore's Performance a Tremendous Drama in Itself Alone

John Barrymore in
"DR JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE"
Paramount—Artcraft

DIRECTOR.....John S. Robertson
AUTHOR.....Robert Louis Stevenson
SCENARIO BY.....Clara S. Beranger
CAMERAMAN.....Roy Overbaugh
AS A WHOLE.....All action centers on masterly, powerful and gripping characterization rendered by star.
STORY.....Very skillful adaptation works up steadily to dramatic climax.
DIRECTION.....Provided production full of convincing atmosphere; has centered all action on star with success.
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Very good
LIGHTINGS.....A few over-lighted scenes at start but most of work is excellent.
CAMERA WORK.....Dissolves used in scenes where star changes character could have been more even.
STAR.....Gives characterization of tremendous power that is a whole drama in itself.
SUPPORT.....Highly commendable
EXTERIORS.....London street sets have great atmosphere.
INTERIORS .....Excellent
DETAIL .....No faults
CHARACTER OF STORY....Triumph of a man's evil self over his good self.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....6,355 feet

Here is a case where everything has been thrown to the star. Whole sequences he performs alone without assistance from any of his support. Then again some of them are used, but just enough to score a plot point effectively but quietly, and then the star sweeps on developing in his characterization alone an entire drama. Such is the remarkable power of John Barrymore's performance in the unusual dual role of Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

It is the star's picture from the very outset, and it is the star that makes it. Perhaps, just for this once, are picture patrons to be glad that there is this concentration on an individual player. It has been the breaking of so many pictures. It is the making of this. Barrymore's performance is a thing of fine shadings and of violent emotions. In his last moments as Hyde, when the depravity in the man has smothered all other senses, his entire body, from top to toe, is an ugly picture of unrestrained passions. Terrifying facial expressions are supplemented by expressions of the whole body. So different is this to the aesthetic demeanor and delicate actions of the young Dr. Jekyll in the opening scenes. Barrymore makes the man good to the point of being godly. Then comes his temptation by the wholly physical feminine and his subsequent discovery of a chemical mixture that will banish his finer senses and unleash the base passions. This change is portrayed in Dr. Jekyll by Barrymore's marvelous use of makeup and his summoning and use of all the expression at his command.

Forceful as this scene is, the intensity becomes doubled and trebled as the story further unfolds until Dr. Jekyll makes the horrible discovery that his other self, Mr. Hyde, is constantly with him. Base passions triumph. The drama of the man concludes in a whirl of emotions. As Hyde he kills the father of the girl he loves as Jekyll. She comes to see him and, lest she see him and feel the effects of his ugliness, he takes poison. The girl is told that Dr. Jekyll was murdered by Mr. Hyde.

The production furnished the picture approaches a state of perfection so closely that it is quite irrelevant to quibble over a few minor technical details. The cast that supports Barrymore, always ready when called upon, includes Martha Mansfield, Brandon Hurst, Charles Lane, J. Malcolm Dunn, Cecil Clovelly, Nita Naldi, George Stevens and Louis Wolheim.

A Box Office Attraction Par Excellence

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" is one of the screen's masterpieces and the house that shows it is in for increased prestige. Of its drawing power there is not the slightest doubt. The Barrymore name and the title of the world famous work from which the picture is adapted will bring it to the attention of every one. You will probably find among your swelled audiences people who have previously stayed away from pictures. Star and title certainly create a drawing combination that will show in extra dollars and cents at the box office.

Despite the classic from which it is adapted, its moral effect which is tremendous though never odiously obvious, there will probably be some, including a few petty state censor boards, that will object to the low pitches of depravity to which the star, in his masterly characterization, descends. But to one such objection there will be a thousand praises offered. And a picture would fall short of greatness if it didn't stir up criticism among these objectionally super-sensitive and professional reformers.

Above the Average and Will Specially Please Star's Admirers.

Anita Stewart in
"THE FIGHTING SHEPHERDESS"
First National

DIRECTOR.....Edward Jose and Millard Webb
AUTHOR .....Caroline Lockhart
SCENARIO BY.....Frank M. Dazey
CAMERAMAN .....Tony Gaudio
AS A WHOLE.....Gets off to good start that promises considerably more than they really give you in the end.
STORY.....Fairly original; gives star best opportunity she has had in some time.
DIRECTION.....Splendid for the most part but allows a bad slump prior to the finishing sequence.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS .....Good
CAMERA WORK.....Very fine
STAR....Did unusually fine bit of work; very pretty in close-ups.
SUPPORT.....Noah Beery the "good shepherd;" Wallace MacDonald has small part; Walter Long and others did good work.
EXTERIORS.....Some very beautiful shots
INTERIORS.....Not many used
DETAIL.....Long and unnecessary titles toward end drag the finish.
CHARACTER.....Innocent shepherdess fights to clear her name in eyes of village scandalmongers.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,954 feet

In "The Fighting Shepherdess," Miss Stewart is provided with a part that is nearer suited to her talents and ability than anything she has had in quite some time. Although she is deprived of the opportunities of wearing beautiful gowns, the locale and atmosphere, together with appreciable performances on the part of the star and her supporting company, will be sure to make a hit with audiences.

The director loses no time in pitching into the story and keeps things going at a fairly rapid rate until along about the second last reel when instead of finishing up logically, he sends hero back to the city and brings on some more detail that drags the action. This bit is a trifle annoying, inasmuch as the audience is acquainted with all that has happened and is going to happen, it merely being a matter of clearing matters up among the characters involved in the story.

In the instance referred to the audience knows who murdered "Mormon Joe," long before the murder is revealed to the people in the picture. This is not altogether good plot development for there is no suspense left, and the complications that follow are tedious. Folks are going to have it all figured out for themselves long before the end which is a long time coming.

Miss Stewart was splendid in her part, playing the innocent, misjudged girl in distinct contrast with the fiery, fighting woman who goes so far as to send away the man she loves until she has cleared her name before the villagers.

Because her mother had been branded as bad, it looked as though Kate Prentice would go through life with the stigma of her parent upon her. When Pete Mullendore had attacked her in a fit of lustful drunkeness in her mother's notorious roadhouse, Kate had accepted the hospitality of Mormon Joe and for sometime shared the shelter of his crudely improvised home.

It was not until Kate accepted the invitation of an easterner, Hughie, who was stopping over in town, to attend a dance in the village, that she realized that her relation with Mormon Joe was scandalized by those in the village. Then Joe was killed by the jealous Pete and Kate was accused of the murder but dismissed on account of a lack of evidence.

Kate then vowed to find the murderer of Uncle Joe and also to clear her own name. Dying from a wound received as the result of being mistaken for a night prowler Pete disclosed the details of his crime while delirious thereby clearing up the mystery and allowing Kate to welcome her lover.

Can Stand Boosting, Particularly if Star Is Popular

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There is good story material in this one, and even better is the cast that has been selected to support Miss Stewart. Walter Long gives a very forceful and villainous portrayal and Noah Beery presents a humble, kindly hearted shepherd. You can promise them a pleasing performance on the part of the star who is very pretty.

The production as a whole is good to look at and while the action does not maintain the same average of interest throughout, you will probably not hear any serious complaints. You might use the following lines: "If your name had been falsely slandered in your home town would you seek a new start elsewhere or stick and clear yourself? See what Anita Stewart does in 'The Fighting Shepherdess.'" Or, "She was called 'The Fighting Shepherdess' because she fought for her good name. Was it worth it? See for yourself at the blank theater."

Oh, Dear! Oh, Dear! The Critics are Shocked

Sunday, March 21 1920 — Wid's DAILY — 3

Wonderful Story. Excellent Stellar Performance and Extravagant Production

Louise Glaum in
"SEX"
J. Parker Read, Jr.—Hodkinson

DIRECTOR ..... Fred Niblo
AUTHOR.....C. Gardner Sullivan
SCENARIO BY.....C. Gardner Sullivan
CAMERAMAN .....Charles J. Stumar
AS A WHOLE ..Very lavish and rich production containing a lot of dramatic and moral force.
STORY.....Very well worked out and all sequences handled with real dramatic skill.
DIRECTION. Puts the dramatic as well as the spectacular scenes over with fine effect.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Fine
LIGHTINGS .....Very effective
CAMERA WORK.....Various scenes show skilful camera placement.
STAR .. Role runs wide range and she handled all phases very impressively
SUPPORT..... Shows to fine advantage
EXTERIORS... Few used
INTERIORS..... Rich and appropriate
DETAIL ...Shots of players lighting and smoking cigarettes too plentiful.
CHARACTER OF STORY . Roof garden queen comes between husband and wife and later, married, finds herself confronted with same situation.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,800 feet

C. Gardner Sullivan conceived and developed with his uncanny skill, a dramatic and morally forceful theme in "Sex," which also serves as a wonderful vehicle for Louise Glaum. All the dramatic sequences, and there are many, have been handled with fine effectiveness both in the writing and the production of them, and the final sequences contribute a fateful touch to the story that will make it the subject of much conversation; In fact "Sex" is a picture blessed with a BIG story

The story opens showing Adrienne, a roof garden queen, in all her artificial glory. Her philosophy is to look after herself alone. Believing brazenly in this selfish outlook she laughs at the plea of the wife of her most ardent admirer to give him up. As a result there is a divorce. Later, however, Adrienne marries Dick, a millionaire, and finds herself really in love with him. And not until her successor at the roof, Daisy, once a chorus girl whom Adrienne had tutored to become a gold-digger, comes between her and Dick does she realize the utter falsity and cruelty of her former act. Unable to hold Dick she takes passage for Europe, and on the steamer sees her former admirer happy in his reunion with his wife. Happiness is all about her but she has none.

The very simplicity of this story is the key-note to its power. The placing of Adrienne in the one situation two times, only at opposite corners of the eternal triangle, is a very forceful stroke and one which besides being responsible for tremendously effective drama, affords Miss Glaum splendid opportunities to display her emotional versatility.

The picture has been very lavishly produced. The roof garden scenes are startling in originality and effectiveness and the wild party in Adrienne's home is reckless in abandon. But Director Fred Niblo has shown himself a master of the dramatic sequences as well as the spectacular scenes. In fact these are handled to surer effect, for the spectacular orgy is marred several times by vulgar incident which should never been pictured. These scenes and shots of the players lighting and smoking cigarettes could well be eliminated.

Irving Cummings as Dick, Peggy Pearce as Daisy and William Conklin and Myrtle Stedman as the husband and wife lend exceedingly valuable assistance to the star

Wouldn't Be Able to Keep 'Em Away From This With a Small-Pox Sign

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"Sex" is a wonderful audience picture. The title, star, story and production unite in making it the wonder it is in this respect. And as far as advertising value goes you wouldn't be able to keep the crowds away from this if you displayed a small-pox sign over your door. Naturally that title is going to draw them in and a few catch-lines concerning the story and the star will serve to make it even more alluring. And word-of-mouth advertising will do the rest.

People surely like this sort of a story dealing with the Broadway underworld. Tell them about it by using such reading notices as these in your copy, "Adrienne, the toast of Broadway, laughed and profaned the bonds of matrimony but then love came to her and her selfish philosophy boomeranged on her with terrible consequences," "The sanctity of marriage meant nothing to this selfish queen of the roof gardens but the day came when she was to pay!"

WID'S

"Sex" Is What You Would Expect From Title

J. Parker Read, Jr., Photoplay in Seven Parts. Released by Hodkinson. Story by C. Gardner Sullivan. Directed by Fred Niblo. Cam-

REVIEWED BY HELEN ROCKWELL.

"AND I learned about women from her"—the oftquoted line of Mr. Kipling's—might have been inspired by Louise Glaum had the famous British poet seen her in her newest photoplay "Sex." For Louise Glaum reveals a few things about the feminine mind and a little more, perhaps of the feminine figure. She does it in typical moving picture vampire fashion—obviously and seductively. It is amusing to note that C. Gardner Sullivan who is responsible for the story shows more acumen and more real intelligence in his writing of the character than the star shows in her rendering of it. Nevertheless, "Sex" is a lavish, arresting and at time startling piece of entertainment which will serve nicely in any theatre where the exhibitor desires to make his audience "sit up and take notice."

There is no lack of the demon rum in "Sex" and—there is no lack of sex. The picture lives up to its title and no one can complain of being lured in under false pretenses. It is chock full of wild scenery of revelry, chorus girl laxities, merry intoxicants, divorces and short skirts. Husbands openly set up chorus girl establishments and tell their wives to go hang. Wives sit at home and brood while the darlings of the Frolic give midnight suppers and dance on the tables. One particularly wild party in the first reel is truly enlightening and deliciously full of thrills.

A good story with an original twist accompanies the revelry. And the logic of it is so sound, and the moral so sure that the end justifies the means. But just the same the realism could be tempered to some degree and give quite as much satisfaction in a more genteel fashion. The settings are lavish and in harmony with the general theme of the picture, and it is evident that expense meant not a thing

EXHIBITORS TRADE REVIEW

"Sex"

J. Parker Read, Jr., Seven-Reel Production for Hodkinson Features Louise Glaum in Unsavory Story.

Reviewed by Margaret I. MacDonald.

IT is difficult to believe that a screen writer of such fine repute as C. Gardner Sullivan could turn out as tawdry a story as that on which the J. Parker Read, Jr., production "Sex" is based. It is not only tawdry, but immoral, as presented in its seven-reel visualization, which is being released through the W. W. Hodkinson Corporation. Louise Glaum, the featured member of the cast, works overtime in trying to put across the salacious character of Adrienne Renault, but compels admiration in the contrast which she draws between the dancer's personality governed by the loose instincts of her earlier life, and the more demure requirements of decent wifehood.

It is reasonable to believe that in making the picture the director, overly anxious to create an impression, has trusted too much to the spectacular possibilities of the story; for, what might be considered the biggest blot on the picture, occurs when at least a quarter of the first reel of the picture is consumed with the staging of a midnight orgie.

It was a mistake to cast Miss Glaum as a dancer—her attempts to make good in an art at which she is evidently a novice, are a detriment to her otherwise clever performance. Faults in the construction of

MOVING PICTURE WORLD

New Side of Louise Glaum's Talent Is Shown in J. Parker Read's Picture "Sex"

Not All Is Melodramatics and Emotionalism in This Absorbing Picture, and the Star Varies Her Serious Work With Light Scenes of Gaiety and Abandonment in Which She Is Quite Fascinating—Tale of Retribution Is Powerfully Told.

That old and true adage about reaping what one sows, even the wind and the whirlwind, is the basis of the latest J. Parker Read-Louise Glaum picture which, not very happily, is entitled "Sex." A fine piece of work this feature is, from whatever angle it is viewed, and, if appropriately renamed, it should have as wide success as its predecessor, "The Lone Wolf's Daughter."

When sex is the trunk, root and branches of nine-tenths of the trees in the vast forest of motion pictures, no one photoplay has the right to use it as a title. In this instance, the picture has so many striking aspects that a name reflecting its real dramatic quality would be particularly valuable, and the soft pedal on the sex question in the advertising would not do the family trade a bit of harm. "Sex"

N.Y. REVIEW

"SEX."

J. Parker Read, Jr.—Seven Parts—Hodkinson.
Featuring Louise Glaum.
Reviewed by Agnes Smith.

CAST.

Adrienne Rennault.....Louise Glaum
Mrs. Overman.....Myrtle Stedman
Daisy Henderson.....Peggy Pearce
Philip Overman.....William Conklin
David Wallace.....Irving Cummings

Directed by Fred Niblo. Story by C. Gardner Sullivan.

Anyway, the picture has a nice, frank title. An epigrammist, speaking of the current trend in art, remarked that it is "sex o'clock." And because the sex interest is absolutely the sole interest in C. Gardner Sullivan's story, it is kind of him to come out and brand it so openly.

There is nothing especially shocking or daring about the plot. Louise Glaum plays what we would term a vampire role if Louella Parsons hadn't told us that Miss Glaum doesn't want to be called a vampire. She has the part of a siren who doesn't see anything unethical about breaking up a home. However, when she marries and has a home and husband of her own, she finds that her philosophy doesn't work. And the sting of the situation comes in the fact that the girl who does the home-wrecking learned her tricks from the reformed siren.

Like most of Mr. Sullivan's stories, it is logical, dramatic and consistently interesting. The action moves leisurely, but it

MORNING TELEGRAPH

You could not buy all this critical excitement for $30,000 in Gold

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated

Unusual and Very Pleasing Comedy With Human Interest Touches

Emma Dunn in
"OLD LADY 31"
Screen Classics—Metro

DIRECTOR.....John E. Ince
AUTHOR.....Rochel Crothers
SCENARIO BY.....June Mathis
CAMERAMAN .....William Beckway
AS A WHOLE.....Very unusual and appealing comedy of old people with human interest touches.
STORY.....Something very much out of the ordinary, well handled, with fine comedy values.
DIRECTION.....Tempo is little slow at outset but body of action shows good treatment and values are realized.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Good
LIGHTINGS.....Nothing fancy but realistic
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR .....Has appealing role and handles it with fair success.
SUPPORT.....Henry Harmon center of good comedy sequences and registers them nicely.
EXTERIORS.....Plain and very suitable country stuff.
INTERIORS .....Very appropriate
DETAIL ..... Satisfactory
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Aged couple's experiences in old ladies' home where husband is known as "Old Lady 31"
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,800 feet

"Old Lady 31" offers something very unusual in the way of humorous story touched up with human interest bits. On the stage its unusualness combined with its comedy and sympathetic touches proved very attractive and the play scored a big success. And these same elements make for a very enjoyable picture, though the human note is not, perhaps, sounded as clearly as it was in the speaking version.

The unusualness of the story lies in the fact that it deals almost entirely with old people, people the other side of sixty. The opening scenes show Angie and Captain Abe Rose forced to vacate their little home and put all the goods under the hammer. Unwise speculation was the cause. Angie plans to enter the old ladies' home while Abe is headed for the poor farm.

In the home there are twenty-nine old ladies and they register a number of good comedy touches in introducing the chief members. They are all gathered to welcome Angie. Some of them suggest that they take Abe in as Old Lady 31 but, put to a vote, the suggestion fails. However, when they see the tearful parting between the old couple, it is unanimously carried and so Abe is installed in the midst of thirty "girls."

They strike a sure comedy note in referring to the old ladies as "girls" and having certain of the leaders take up the matter of the unconventionality of Abe's intrusion as if he were a handsome youth coming to live in a seminary. This comedy line proves laden with a goodly number of possibilities, the majority of which have been well realized.

They also work in a bit of plot when Blossy, one of the old ladies who won't consider herself old, kisses Abe on the cheek at his birthday party and shocks all the other inmates. They are considering turning Abe out in seriousness then when Angie steps into the breech and marries Blossy off to a long faithful suitor.

In the end one of Abe's long since forgotten investments proves a small bonanza and so the couple can go back to their old home. Emma Dunn gets enough sympathy from the role of Angie to make it pleasing. Henry Harmon in the title part is the center of the majority of the comedy sequences and gets a lot of quiet humor over. Clara Knott gives an exaggerated picture of Blossy but her bids for laughs are successful. Others are Carrie Clark Ward, Sadie Gordon, Martha Mattox, May Wells, Ruby Lafayette, Lawrence Underwood and Graham Pettie.

Much Offered in This to Attract More Than Average Attention

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Here's an unusual and very attractive piece of entertainment property and one which, at the same time, offers you a full quota of advertising opportunities. In the first place the play scored such a success that probably many of your people have either seen it or heard about it and will be anxious to see it in its new form. In the second Emma Dunn, who successfuly played the role of Angie on the stage, essays it here. In the third place it was written by Rachel Crothers who has since risen to the front ranks of dramatists. Her "Thirty-Nine East" and "The Little Journey" are well known. Miss Crothers writes for the real public. People flock to see her plays. Use her name and it will carry weight.

Then, of course, there are the unusual characters with which the present work deals. All old people. Get that over to them, at the same time bringing out the fact that it is mainly a comedy. This certainly ought to attract because of its vast difference from the usual picture. In catch lines and readers bring out the main idea (the old man entering the ladies' home) as humorously as possible.

Unsustaining and Rather Unpleasant Melo That Goes to Extremes

Sessue Hayawaka in
"THE BRAND OF LOPEZ"
Haworth—Robertson-Cole

DIRECTOR.....Joseph De Grasse
AUTHOR.....E. Richard Schayer
SCENARIO BY.....J. Grubb Alexander
CAMERAMAN.....Frank D. Williams
AS A WHOLE.....Director, star and players tried to step on this but it remains a wild-eyed melodrama, unsustaining because of lack of centralized plots.
STORY.....Affords star sympathetic role at first but switches into heavy and fails to please.
DIRECTION.....Most scenes handled very well but put together they can't modify the unnecessary melodramatic extremes gone to in the story.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Satisfactory
LIGHTINGS.....Usual stuff meets requirements
CAMERA WORK.....All right
STAR.....Gives very telling performance but doesn't seem to fit in Spanish role.
SUPPORT..... Commendable
EXTERIORS.....Have nice atmosphere
INTERIORS ..... Suitable
DETAIL.....Picture gets title from incident quite irrelevant to plot.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Jilted matador becomes bandit and plans revenge on former fiancee.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,100 feet

This one is a wild-eyed melodrama that goes to very unconvincing story extremes and casts Hayakawa in a part which, though at first sympathetic, proves to be violently "heavy" before the plot has gone far. Nor is the story centralized sufficiently for it to maintain interest. It has several phases and includes a number of time lapses which break up the interest.

They begin with the star as a famous Spanish matador in love with Lola, an opera singer of noble family. Lola carries on a flirtation with Alvarez, a childhood sweetheart, and this so enrages Lopez that he takes his cigarette and burns her back. Immediately afterwards he asks forgiveness and suggests that they marry on the morrow. Lola seems to forget the cigarette branding right away and consents. Here is where the picture gets its title but as the branding scene doesn't convince and is never used again in the story it is hard to see why.

Lola and Lopez have a civic marriage which her mother breaks up, not wishing to have a bull-fighter as a son-in-law. Lola consents to the annulment. Furious, Lopez enters her apartment and attacks Alvarez. He flees after believing he has killed him and becomes head of an outlaw band which kidnaps Lola's young sister, Maria, and Lopez, now thoroughly the villain, betrays her.

A year afterwards a child is born to Maria. A priest comes to ask Lopez to atone for his sin by marrying her. Lola, married to Alvarez, has a child but it dies. A nurse substitutes Maria's. Another skip in time and Lopez and his band attacks Alvarez's home. He orders Alvarez and the little boy to be shot. The nurse comes in and tells him the truth, that the boy is really his. He goes out to save the child but is mortally wounded by the patrol in search of him and his band. He dies after the child has called him "father."

The individual scenes of this are handled commendably but the effect of the whole is neither pleasing nor sustaining. The star plays his role with his usual skill but neither he nor his generally capable supporting players are able to equip the production with anything but a small interest. The support includes Florence Turner as Lola, Evelyn Ward as Maria, Sydney Payne as Alvarez and Eugene Besserer as Lola's mother.

The production details are generally good, an attractive atmosphere being maintained in the scenes, both interior and exterior.

Wise Audiences Will Likely Understand Title Meaning

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

It may be gathered from the above relation of the plot that "The Brand of Lopez" is a picture similar to the dime novel type of fiction and while it is played well and is possessed of an attractive setting, the story is quite unable to hold the interest steadily or to please. Of course it may be hard to secure good vehicles for Haykawa without making him a heavy once in a while. It seems, however, that they could have found him a little more sympathetic role than this one.

The star doesn't convince as a Spaniard while the title doesn't belong with the story. The branding trick was evidently introduced merely for its sensationalism. It isn't linked up with the action very well and the way that they forget about it as soon as it's over will probably cause a wise audience to smile.

Good Program Picture That Will Please Average Audience

Frank Mayo in
"THE GIRL IN NUMBER 29"
Universal

DIRECTOR .....Jack Ford
AUTHOR .....Elizabeth Jordan
SCENARIO BY.....Philip J. Hurn
CAMERAMAN .....John Brown
AS A WHOLE.....Good program picture that works in fair amount of suspense effectively
STORY.....Adaptation of Elizabeth Jordan's novel "The Lady in the Mirror" fairly good screen material.
DIRECTION.....Got in some rather original bits that gathered interest as it went along.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Good
CAMERA WORK.....Average; some good rain stuff.
STAR.....Displays quite a little athletic ability
SUPPORT.....Claire Anderson has an exciting time of it as the heroine; others goods.
EXTERIORS .....All the story needs
INTERIORS ..... Correct
DETAIL.....Some shots of Long Island show mountains.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....An author's friends play a practical joke on him to get him to write another play.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,775 feet

This is just an amusing program feature with sufficient excitement and interest to keep it moving along without any serious slumps. Of course, the story has its impossibilities and absurdities if you look for them. Without displaying actual signs of having fallen in love with the girl, it seems strange that a fellow should plunge head long into all sorts of traps in his effort to protect her.

However, this angle will probably not cause any great amount of worry nor detract from the general appeal of the picture. The director has worked in some pleasing mystery bits that get over very well. For instance, he shows a door opening, then a flash of the girl shrinking back in terror, and still another flash of a man's feet coming through the doorway. Without any explanation he reverts back to the main theme, thereby creating a suspense. Of course all these things are cleared up in due course.

After the success of his first play was assured Frank Mayo as Laurie Devon, decided to lay off and enjoy the profits while his co-worker, Harry Hilliard, wanted to keep plugging for a second success but nothing could induce Frand to work. In the mirror of his dresser he could see the reflection of a girl whose expression denoted that she was in distress. Later Frank discovered her at the window with a pistol raised to her temple.

Heroic Frank, however, arrived on the scene in time to prevent a suicide and make a date for tea. The lady explained that she was being followed by Ransome Shaw (Ray Ripley) and although she didn't take Frank into her confidence, he approached Shaw and insisted that he cease annoying the girl. But Shaw only advised him to keep out of the affair.

In an effort to solve the mystery of "The Girl in 29" Frank invited by Shaw to a mysterious abode where he promised he would disclose the secret. But instead hero was made a prisoner while the villain and his gang disappeared with the girl and finally locked her up in an old house on Long Island with Bull Montana guard against her capture. Frank made his escape and followed the girl and after considerable good fight stuff and rescue work, his friends tell him it was all a joke to get him to work. Thereupon Claire Anderson, "The Girl in Number 29" becomes the leading lady of Frank's next play and also his wife.

Play Up Surprise Finish and Talk About the Mystery Stuff

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This will make a good average program offering. Of course there isn't anything in it to brag about. You can promise, however, that there is a good piece of melodrama with a surprise finish and some first class "intrikut" manouevers.

There isn't much in the way of names to play up although Frank Mayo is probably to be seen in coming Universal productions and you could use his name. Others you might mention are Harry Hilliard and Elinor Fair, former Fox players. Catchlines could read: "Ever play a joke on anyone? Come to the blank theater and see what happens to Frank Mayo in 'The Girl in Number 29' when his friends played a joke on him." Or, "Through the reflection in his mirror he saved the life of a girl about to commit suicide. See Frank Mayo's other adventure with 'The Girl in Number 29.'"

Announcement

To all those engaged in motion picture producing and exhibiting, announcement is hereby made of the granting to DAVID WARK GRIFFITH of a patent (No. 1334853) on methods and apparatus for projecting moving and other pictures with color effects.

Mr. Griffith's patent, issued on March 23rd, 1920, on application of May 14, 1919 (Application serial No. 296,964) covers the following specifications:

> "The process of producing colored pictures on an opaque screen which consists of throwing pictures by a projector onto one surface of said screen and simultaneously illuminating the screen with diffused colored light from a bank of colored lights thrown onto the same surface of the screen in a direction oblique to the stream light from the projector."
>
> "In an apparatus of the class described, an opaque screen, a projector for throwing pictures onto one surface of said screen, a bank of differently colored lights with several colors out of the path of light from said projector and adapted to throw colored diffused light onto the same surface of said screen, and means for selectively rendering said lights active and thereby the color of the light thrown from said bank onto said screen."

This method of lighting was first introduced by Mr. Griffith in his production of "Broken Blossoms" on May 13th, 1919, at Geo. M. Cohan Theatre, New York, and in spite of the knowledge that patents were then pending, one New York producer and one New York exhibitor deliberately attempted to copy Mr. Griffith's invention. These and all others are hereby warned against the use of Mr. Griffith's methods and apparatus.

Signed ALBERT L. GREY
General Manager
GRIFFITH PRODUCTIONS
720 Longacre Building
New York City

Wonderful Mystery Picture Spoiled by Trite Climax

Olive Tell in
"LOVE WITHOUT QUESTION"
Jans Pictures—State Rights

DIRECTOR .....B. A. Rolfe
AUTHOR.....Adapted from C. Wadsworth Camp's "The Abandoned Room."
SCENARIO BY.....Violet Clarke
CAMERAMAN .....Arthur A. Thadwell
AS A WHOLE.....Generally intense mystery melo but solution offered in climax is so trite that it makes a joke of body of action.
STORY.....A little too much planting at the outset but interest is well maintained and action holds attention until explanation comes.
DIRECTION.....Good most of the way—has furnished fine "ghost" story atmosphere.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Average
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR.....Registers well in emotional scenes and always makes pretty appearance.
SUPPORT .....Well selected
EXTERIORS ..... Appropriate
INTERIORS.....Help "spooky" atmosphere
DETAIL.....Tempo of some scenes too slow
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Unravelling of mystery surrounding "death" of crabbed and wealthy old man.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,415 feet

"Love Without Question" opens interestingly and there is immediately established an atmosphere that for ghostliness and a sense of impending mystery firmly grips the spectator. Following the mysterious murder the atmosphere becomes more intense in each successive scene and builds steadily to a certain point where it still has the spectator in the firm grasp of intensity. The revelation which must come with the climax is adroitly concealed. Even the boys in the third row will be stumped in their usual pastime of out-guessing the action.

Of course it may be seen that the denouement of such a well built and highly sustained picture has the power of making or breaking. But the denouement fastened on "Love Without Question" is not of the "making" variety. In fact it is so trite a solution that its effect is inclined to make a joke of the body of the action.

The draggy scenes at the beginning could be done away with, the over-accumulation of mystery just prior to the climax could be cut down so that it would sustain the suspense without permitting laughs of derision, but the triteness of the actual solution would remain to leave a taste of dissatisfaction.

The story throws suspicion on various characters for the murder of old Silas Blackburn. His grandson, a typical villain type and even his young ward are all under the shadow. They keep building along with these three characters and some others who provide a counter-interest until finally they reveal the fact that Silas wasn't killed at all. It was his twin brother. Silas appears again. Then disappears. The effect his appearing and vanishing act is laughable. He finally comes back and kills himself and then the butler confesses to the twin brother story and of how Silas murdered him because of an old score. He had then disappeared causing them all to suspect that he was the dead man.

Olive Tell is a pretty sight always and plays her emotional scenes well. James Morrison has the part of the grandson and handles it nicely. Ivo Dawson, a heavy type, brings a lot of suspicion to his character and then proves to be perfectly congenial in the end. Others are Mario Majeroni, Charles Mackay, Gordon Hamilton, Peggy Parr, George S. Stevens and Floyd Buckley.

Tricks of Showmanship May Serve to Get This Over

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Most audiences are going to be pretty much disappointed at the ending of this picture. They can not help but be as its body is so intensive and sustaining while its climax is so trite. You might, however, make a real good go of it by running it off up to the point of the solution and then stopping it and defying your audience to guess the outcome. In this way the disappointing effect of the denouement will be somewhat minimized while you will gain the advantage of the publicity that the practice of such a stunt will bring you.

Accentuate the ghostliness of the picture by using such catch lines as: "Everyone who had slept in the abandoned room had perished!" "Would you sleep in a room from which no one had come alive?" "Two men had just met death in the haunted room but he stayed there through the long hours of the night."

Feature Olive Tell for she is a deserving star. The title may attract but the original title of the book was much more appropriate and suggests the proper atmosphere.

A newspaper tie-up that demands

International Film Service Inc.
presents

JIGGS IN SOCIETY

Produced by Christie Film Co. Inc.
Adapted From George McManus' Famous Series

BRINGING UP FATHER

with

JOHNNY RAY

400 NEWSPAPERS with 12,000,000 READERS think so well of the "Bringing Up Father" series as to make a big feature of it in their columns.....
Those 12,000,000 persons will want to see the famous "Jiggs" in real life, played by Johnny Ray, on your screen.

© INTERNATIONAL FEATURE SERVICE INC.

Pathé Distributors

your serious consideration - - - -

Indistinctive Comedy-Drama Made from Very Ancient Idea

Edith Roberts in
"HER FIVE FOOT HIGHNESS"
Universal

DIRECTOR.....Harry Franklin
AUTHOR .....Tarkington Baker
SCENARIO BY.....Hal Hoadley
CAMERAMAN .....Roy Klaffki
AS A WHOLE.....Rather indistinctive attempt at comedy-drama fashioned from old idea.
STORY.....Has too much plot and not enough comedy business which is the sort of stuff that puts pictures like this over.
DIRECTION .....Fair
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Good
LIGHTINGS.....Nothing unusual attempted
CAMERA WORK.....Straight shots
STAR.....Looks very bright and pretty
SUPPORT ..... Average
EXTERIORS.....Western and English stuff both satisfactory.
INTERIORS .....Sufficient to story
DETAIL.....Picture shows conventional treatment in handling of some situations.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Western girl inherits estate in England and goes to claim it
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,750 feet

"Her Five Foot Highness" is rather an indistinctive attempt to make a comedy-drama from a very ancient idea. As soon as the characters are introduced and the author reveals the first step in his plot, practically every subsequent step can be accounted for in the minds of picture-goers, except a few where the author defies conventionality and runs around in circles which, in passing, is not as safe as taking the very conventional steps forward.

Ellen is the leading character and she is introduced on a western ranch bequeathed her by her father. Of course she is beloved by all the cowboys. The foreman, Slim, at a great distance, sees Ellen's lawyer conversing with an engineer and immediately senses a villainous plot. The lawyer plans selling Ellen's property to the engineer at a low figure subsequently to go fifty-fifty with him on the profits when a railroad buys up the land for a new branch. Slim frustrates the plan.

The next step is for Ellen to receive word from England that she has inherited an estate. Forthwith are introduced scenes contrasting the Texas girl with her stage-English relatives. Then the lawyer appears with a chorus girl who, he says, is the real heir and shows papers to prove it. Ellen selling an option on her property to the villain departs for home. The English notary who witnessed the option sees Ellen's relatives and meets the chorus girl whom he doesn't recognize as Ellen. There is a general scene-shifting to Texas again where the villain meets his just deserts and Ellen, after refusing a proposal from one of her English relatives, takes advantage of her Leap Year prerogative and proposes to Slim.

The main trouble with this, outside of its conventionality and indistinctive treatment, is that there is altogether too much plot. This sort of story calls for a lot of cute business of the "Peg o' My Heart" type when the kind-hearted ingenue is precipitated in the midst of cold and forbidding relatives. They've neglected this side of the production and introduced a lot of uninteresting plot complications. There is some small business to be sure between Ellen and the English people but not enough.

Edith Roberts is seen in the stellar role and looks very bright and pretty. Supporting her is a large cast including Virginia Ware, Ogden Crane, Harold Miller, Stanhope Wheatcroft, Kathleen Kirkham, Rudolph Christians, Hugh Saxon, Leota Lorraine, Leonard Clapham and Henry Woodward.

Will Give Mild Satisfaction if They Like This Star

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

They had a chance to make this into a very humorous and appealing picture of the "Peg o' My Heart" type but instead they burdened it with a lot of plot twists that are generally uninteresting. The best sequences now are the ones in which Ellen meets her English relatives and subsequently when she insists on using a western saddle on her riding horse instead of the pancake saddle. This is the sort of stuff that should have predominated throughout the picture with the plot running subordinate to it. But here the business is soon forgotten and the plot turns uppermost with all its weaknesses exposed.

The picture has nothing distinctive about it but with its smattering of conventional sure-fire stuff stands a fair chance of giving mild satisfaction to easily pleased audiences. If the star has a following with your people so much the better.

Comprehensive Treatment of Complicated Story

Sylvia Breamer and Robert Gordon in
"THE BLOOD BARRIER"
Blackton Prod.—Pathe

DIRECTOR.....J. Stuart Blackton
AUTHOR.....Cyrus Townsend Brady
SCENARIO BY .....William S. Adams
AS A WHOLE.....Has almost enough action for serial but surprises in manner of maintaining coherence in view of this fact.
STORY.....A few weak spots but is so generally well handled that they will be overlooked.
DIRECTION.....Starts off with action and keeps it up at very good rate all the way through.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Clear
CAMERA WORK....Some great double exposure work.
STARS.....The best they have done in some time
SUPPORT.....Well selected and work in fine co-operation.
EXTERIORS .....Fill requirements
INTERIORS ..... Suitable
DETAIL.....Nothing very wrong
CHARACTER OF STORY.....The jealousy of a husband worked in with story regarding work of alien organization.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 3,000 feet

There is a wealth of material in Cyrus Townsend Brady's novel and director Blackton is to be credited with handling the story in fine style. There is such a lot of story that it is to be wondered how he managed to maintain the coherence that he has. Although there are a few convenient bits the majority of the picture is so well made that these parts will in all probability get by without notice.

The title may lead folks to believe that it is a story of race but the blood barrier refers to the estrangement between the lovers when the girl's husband is murdered supposedly by her lover.

There are really two stories in "The Blood Barrier." On the one hand there is Eugene Solari whose main business is being jealous of his wife and her innocent friendship with Major Robert Trevor. And on the other there is the scheming and plotting of one Zu Paven and his accomplice Madame Maracheck to secure from the Major the formulas for certain dyes which he has in his possesion. The "organization" behind the efforts of the two is the German government.

Solari, suspicious of his wife's meetings with Major Trevor, treats her with extreme brutality and finally tells her that as a criminal expert he has been commissioned by the District Attorney to guard the Major against an expected attempt at kidnapping by the foreign agents but that he will merely save him for his own desire—to kill him.

Sylvia arrives in time to save her lover from death at her husband's hands. Solari, however, is suddenly shot dead mysteriously. The Major is held for the murder. Sylvia escapes in a motor boat but is captured by Madame Maracheck and imprisoned in an insane asylum. After several unsuccessful attempts to secure the formulas the foreign agents are trapped by the District Attorney and the Major is freed.

There are numerous details not included in this brief synopsis. The entire picture is full of action and keeps up not a great deal, but sufficient amount of suspense and a continued interest that satisfies. The players work in splendid cooperation that adds a zest and reality to the story. There is less evidence of the artistic in "The Blood Barrier" than in previous Blackton pictures as far as beautiful scenery and lighting effects is concerned although there is some splendid double exposure work. The comprehensive development of the story, however, overcomes any other possible shortcomings.

This Will Probably Encourage Them to See More from These Stars

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Inasmuch as the stars of "The Blood Barrier" have not appeared to a very great advantage, their present release will no doubt meet with even more general approval than it would ordinarily receive. They have more to do and do it in a much more whole-hearted manner than in some of their more recent productions, and a supporting cast consisting of well chosen types cooperates splendidly with the stars. Then, too, Cyrus Townsend Brady's story is full of action and there are some big moments that have been gotten over in good fashion.

You can use the name of the author if you think it worth while and in connection with it recall his "The Island of Regeneration" which made quite a hit several years ago with Edith Story and Antonio Moreno. Use Commodore Blackton's name and you can tell them that the stars appear to much better advantage than they have in some time.

An Announcement of Importance To STATE RIGHT BUYERS

Victor Kremer Film Features, Inc., has acquired SCREEN SMILES for distribution in the United States and Canada.

SCREEN SMILES is a series of Animated Topical Sayings.

The subjects comprise the most timely and wittiest remarks of America's leading newspaper writers.

The illustrations are the work of America's leading film cartoonists and present the most remarkable animated drawings ever devised for the screen.

SCREEN SMILES was viewed by the FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS' CIRCUIT OF NEW YORK and of NEW ENGLAND, with the result that the rights were contracted for forthwith for New York, Northern New Jersey and New England.

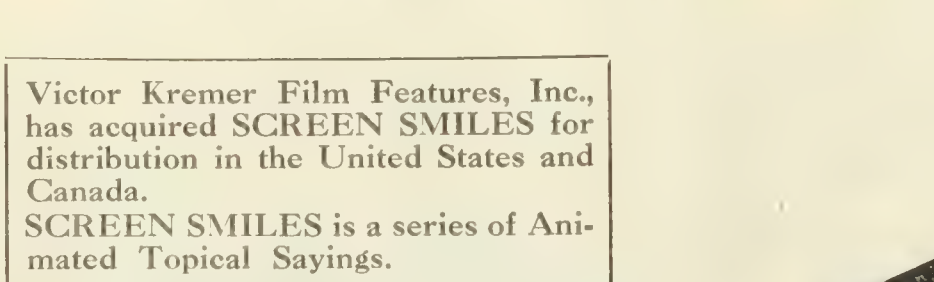
SCREEN SMILES is now available for State Right purchase.

It is destined to become a standard and permanent feature of every exhibitor's program in the United States and Canada.

SCREEN SMILES will be given the most elaborate publicity and advertising campaign ever accorded a short length subject. The exhibitors' advertising accessories for SCREEN SMILES are worthy of a feature production.

Inquiries for State Rights will be accorded prompt attention. Get your bid in now. SCREEN SMILES will not be on the market long.

(Signed)



Reply to

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES

(INCORPORATED)

SUITE 908-909

126-130 West 46th Street, New York

Phone: Bryant 8352

Romantic Comedy Proves Best Vehicle Robert Warwick Has Had

Robert Warwick in
"JACK STRAW"
Paramount—Artcraft

DIRECTOR.....William C. De Mille
AUTHOR.....W. Somerset Maugham
SCENARIO BY.....Olga Printzlau
CAMERAMAN .....Guy Wilky
AS A WHOLE.....Romantic comedy that stands as about best thing Warwick has done recently.
STORY.....Has many comedy scenes and very unusual romantic line of action.
DIRECTION.....Has registered both phases of action very nicely; seems to have gotten most from story's possibilities.
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Commendable
CAMERA WORK.....Plain shots
STAR.....Gets over comedy stuff by affecting pleasing humorous mood and puts feeling into romantic scenes.
SUPPORT.....Sylvia Ashton and Charles Ogle register some genuine comedy.
EXTERIORS.....Very pretty California estate stuff
INTERIORS.....Highly appropriate
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Supposed waiter poses as archduke and wins love of girl he long admired.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,707 feet

"Jack Straw" may be set down as the best thing that Robert Warwick has done since his return to the screen and, more than this, may be set down as a thoroughly pleasing romantic comedy. The star is well cast in a role that calls for a light touch, a touch that demands almost a joking interpretation. This Warwick provides, playing the role with half a smile. He seems to be enjoying himself immensely, and the enjoyment that he evinces is infectious to say the least.

In the comedy sequences of the picture Warwick is splendidly supported by Sylvia Ashton and Charles Ogle as the new-rich Jennings. Their bits of business and their endeavors to adapt themselves to wealth and high station are human enough, though burlesqued in the slightest degree, to make their every appearance a signal of an outburst of laughs.

Warwick is introduced as Jack Straw, a social student and, at first, an ice man. He falls in love with the voice of Ethel Parker Jennings which he is accustomed to hearing down the dum-waiter shaft of the Harlem flat. Then wealth comes to the Jennings and they transplant themselves to California, whither also Jack Straw goes, this time disguised as a waiter. Holland, a society man, induces Jack to pose as an archduke. His purpose is to fool Mrs. Jennings into patronizing him, inasmuch as she has snubbed the woman he loves.

Jack consents, poses as the archduke of Pomerania, and the Jennings immediately "fall" for him. Thus Jack is able to push his romance with Ethel and finds, to his delight, that she has really fallen in love with the stranger who once sent her a note in the Harlem flat. Eventually Holland thinks the joke has gone too far and unmasks Jack before Mrs. Jennings just prior to the hour of a grand reception she has prepared in his honor.

Jack convinces them that he must bluff the thing through which he does successfully. Afterwards he again presses his suit with Ethel and finds her peeved. He explains that she would have thought it perfectly lovely had he been a real archduke and posed as a waiter to be near her and so she comes around. And eventually, as was to be expected, Jack Straw proves the real archduke after all. The action before the ending is well sustained, however, and the finale has a humorous touch that is welcome.

Warwick derives further support from Carroll McComas as his leading lady, J. Monte Dumont, Helen Sulivan, Frances Parks, Lucient Littlefield and Robert Brower.

Should Register With Any and All Audiences

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Whatever kind of audience you cater to you will likely find that "Jack Straw" registers a success. It is just the sort of romantic comedy that takes and is a thoroughly congenial vehicle for the star who fairly revels in the various sequences.

In advertising it bring out that fact that it is an adaptation of W. Somerset Maugham's play of the same name and also that William De Mille directed it. Here are two names worth a good bit. Then in addition to giving Warwick the prominence that his work here and his position warrants, mention also that Carroll McComas is his leading lady. She is well known on the musical comedy stage. And also state that Sylvia Ashton and Charles Ogle register a lot of comedy as the newly rich couple. Both of these players are well known through past performances in pictures produced at the Lasky studio.

This One Scores as a Very Pleasing Comedy-Drama

Olive Thomas in
"YOUTHFUL FOLLLY"
Selznick—Select

DIRECTOR .....Alan Crosland
AUTHOR .....Olive Thomas
SCENARIO BY.....Olive Tomas
CAMERAMAN .....Jules Cronjager
AS A WHOLE.....Despite bad start this develops into very pleasing comedy-drama.
STORY.....Concocted from vintage material but some good comedy sequences and well done climax register it satisfactorily.
DIRECTION.....Has fallen down on some sequences particularly at first but has put important ones over.
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Good; very pretty in southern exterior shots.
LIGHTINGS .....Very nice
CAMERA WORK.....Commendable
STAR.....Registers a lot of comedy and appeal in this one.
SUPPORT.....Generally very good
EXTERIORS.....Very pleasing southern shots
INTERIORS .....Very good
DETAIL.....Some small comedy touches don't show skill but the important stuff gets over well.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Husband learns to love young wife whom he married for "convenience."
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,167 feet

"Youthful Folly," credited to the authorship of Olive Thomas proves to be a very pleasing and at times hilarious comedy drama, despite its bad start, which is quite actionless and which is burdened by subtitles of excess verbiage. Once the main line of action is penetrated and they move Nancy from the country estate in Virginia to New Orleans as the wife of David Montgomery the interest picks up wonderfully and the comedy and human interest touches are plentiful.

David had married Nancy for convenience, merely to stop gossip from connecting his name with Lola's, Lola being a distant married cousin. He pays small attention to Nancy after the marriage. They then get in a hilarious comedy sequence when Jimsey, David's ward, pursues Nancy demanding a kiss. He breaks into her room, bowls over the negro mammy and then chases her out the window. Nancy descends via the edges on the side of the house to the room on the next floor where her husband is attending a directors' meeting. The directors get a little relief from business when they see Nancy's nether extremes protruding in the window. This sequence is played fast and registers as sure comedy.

Of course David ultimately discovers that he loves Nancy. A well sustained climax sequence is introduced when Lola's husband, jealous with rage, comes to David's house and fires a pistol at him. Nancy intercepts the bullet and for a time her life hangs in the balance. When she recovers they work in some very entertaining romantic scenes between Nancy and David which are unusually well played.

Much of the comedy touches striven for in the early part of the picture fail to register. While they don't evince much skill it is probable that they would have gotten over if the plot had made its appearance first. Among these attempted "touches" can be enumerated the exceedingly old stuff with the burlesqued minister as the central character and the inevitable parlor "Bolshevists." Sometimes it looks as if they had tried everything to see what would register. For instance the race-track scene, though well enough done ,has nothing to do with the story. It's merely a decoration.

Olive Thomas plays very well in the role of Nancy, getting over some good ingenue comedy and playing her dramatic and romantic sequences with a convincing show of feeling. Craufurd Kent is good as David and Hugh Huntley and Howard Truesdell give skilled performances. Helen Gill as Lola, an old-fashioned "villainess," is unable to make the role's extreme demands convincing.

Good Publicity Angles to Arouse Fan Curiosity

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This is cut out of vintage material all right but at the same time they've put a lot of good stuff over, enough in fact, to overshadow its faults and make of it a very pleasing comedy-drama. Advertise as a light subject and hint at the plot which, though old, is attractive. Olive Thomas does her best work in this and should attract generally. Her last picture "Footlights and Shadows" was also a pleasing one and this might be mentioned in the advertising.

You can develop a good publicity angle in the fact that Olive Thomas is credited with having written the story of this. Fans will want to see what sort of a vehicle a star writes for herself. Also mention the fact that Craufurd Kent is her leading man. Kent has played leads a long time and has been featured in other pictures. Folks ought to know him as a very good actor by this time and be attracted by his name.

Real Scenes of Shackleton's Expedition Should Interest

"THE BOTTOM OF THE WORLD"
Robertson—Cole

DIRECTOR .....Sir Ernest Shackleton
AUTHOR .....The Elements
CAMERAMAN .....Not credited
AS A WHOLE....Unusual picturization of the trip of the "Endurance" and Sir Ernest Shackleton's explorations in the Antarctic.
STORY.....Fascinating tale of the daring venture of Shackleton and his troupe into the southermost extremities of the world.
DIRECTION.....Influenced by conditions over which there could be no control.
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Considering the hardships encountered, splendid.
LIGHTINGS.....Quantity of snow and ice did not allow for much contrast; all that could be expected under the conditions.
CAMERA WORK.....Wonderful! The real feature of the production from a technical point of view.
STAR.....The good ship "Endurance" held up remarkably well.
SUPPORT.....Crew and dogs; did all that was required.
EXTERIORS.....Made up the entire offering; the real thing, of course.
INTERIORS.....No such thing
DETAIL.....Brought the titles right up to date; even include reference to proposed Dempsey-Carpentier scrap
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Battle of the "Endurance" with the snow and ice and return of the expedition.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,000 feet

Under ordinary circumstances, little hope could be held out for a scenic feature production. Here, however, is a lengthy scenic which so much that is unusual, so much that is of interest attached to it that beyond doubt many of the fans will go to see it. There is really no story, nor are the different shots of such beauty as to hold the eye all of the time. It is simply a picturization of the voyage of the "Endurance" into the South, the wrecking of the vessel, and the journey back to civilization.

Most probably, the supply of film gave out, or a great deal of it was lost, for very few details connected with the return of the explorers are shown. What they have taken, however, has been shot excellently, the handicaps considered. And it is the cameraman that certainly deserves much credit.

At the start, the ship is seen gliding out of the harbor of Buenos Ayres, and there are several scenes aboard shown. There are intimate shots of the canines and some of the men aboard, after which the scene shifts to less comfortable quarters. As the vessel goes further south, more ice makes its appearance. For a while they stopped to take some of the seals and one vicious looking animal. The cameraman followed it right across some rocks, catching it in the act of scratching, and getting some of the wierd expressions on its countenance.

It is not long before the boat encounters a heavy ice floe and begins crashing through to its ultimate destination. The cracking of the ice as the prow of the ship works its arduous way through furnishes an unusual spectacle, and most unusual of all is the portion looking back at it. That is a remarkable bit!

Get Them Talking About Exploration and Spring This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Any exhibitor who could get Sir Ernest Shackleton, or some other member of the expedition to lecture to the folks while he ran this production, could just lean back in his chair after some preliminary advertising and count the lucre as it poured into the box office. That, however, is not a very practical idea. But one thing is certain—an announcement of genuine pictures of Shackleton's voyage will cause them to be curious, and once they are curious, they will make it pay.

Should you decide to run this, explain that it is not the usual sort of a feature—that there is really no plot—that it is just a series of scenes of the daring journey into the southland, about which they all know. Play on the fame of the expedition and accent the fact that it is the real stuff—get them to believe it!

If you run a neighborhood house you can conveniently put this in beside some weak and short feature, and offer them a double attraction. Judicious cutting would make it worth while. In addition to your usual advertising, it might not be at all a bad idea to place a few sleds and hounds outside of your house—get men in explorers' uniforms to parade about with dog teams. Set them talking about exploration and then offer this to them.

Three People stood on the Verge of the Pit

The moment for decision had come. If he were to believe the story they told him, the world, too, would think it had erred and would take all three back—husband, wife and supposed lover. If he did not believe them then two, at least, were doomed—and he knew that that meant his own end, too. But could he believe them guiltless—after what he knew?

When you see this picture you will have a new idea of "intensity" in human emotions. And if you show it, the new money which came to you with "BLIND HUSBANDS" will come back again

Productions like this are the new hope of the picture business.....

Carl Laemmle announces the early release of

Von Stroheim's

Master Picture

"The DEVIL'S PASSKEY"

UNIVERSAL-JEWEL PRODUCTION DE LUXE

Short Reels

"A Gum Riot"—Arrow

Fault may be found with some of the footage in this Hank Mann comedy, which in places has a bit too much of the slap-stick stuff, but its timeliness, combined with some truly humorous business and a good story should be sufficient to get it over even with critical audiences. The action takes place in a gum factory. By a peculiar accident, a boot-legger attempting to avoid the keen eye of an officer of the law, holds a bottle of liquor so that its contents drop into a vat in which the gum is being prepared. It is when the gum is finished and ready to chew that the riot starts. The folks discover before long that it includes fire-water and you can imagine the rest. Of course, they have used the accidental-infiltration-of-alcohol scheme before, but prohibition has not yet been exhausted as a source of humor. As a whole, one of the best Hank Mann has done in some time.

"His Misguided Love"—Florida Film

Until almost the very finish is reached, this knock-about comedy fails to register in satisfactory style. Fatty Carr, Gertrude Garretson, Bert Tracy and the others chase one another about, indulge in the shooting of revolvers now and then, fall in and out of portable beds and do many other things that have been done time and time again in riotous two-reelers of this sort. The confusing of the dynamite and chicken feed, resulting in the hens being blown skyward results in a few laughs and helps it along somewhat. Entirely too much of the old stuff is the great drawback. Glenn Lambert directed. It is one of the "Sunbeam" comedies.

"Speed to Spare"—Pathe

When they decided to call this "Speed to Spare," they were quite correct. If they had stopped long enough to decide upon some sort of a story, however, and spared some of the speed, they might have turned out a superior comedy. Diagnosing the affair it is difficult to find more than one or two bits that will cause more than faint ripples of laughter. A great deal of footage is devoted to Pollard's escapades in the elevator. Stuff of that sort has been used too frequently to make it really valuable. Few of the Pollard comedies have good stories and some have none at all. In some cases the comedy business gets them over, but this has little to recommend it.

"Vanishing Trails," Canyon

From the very beginning, there is an intense air of mystery in this serial. Instead of some distinct clue being furnished after it gets under way, new characters of divers sorts, about whom much information is not always offered, are introduced, and after the first three episodes, the spectator knows little more about what it is all about than he did at the start. The first section of the production is laid in the East, where an old and prominent financier is murdered during a reception in spite of numerous precautions. Franklyn Farnum, featured with Mary Anderson, happens to be present when the crime is committed and is seen to depart together with some valuable documents.

It is not long before all of the characters are moved to the west, where hero Farnum and a strange character known as the "Shadow" start to wage a fight against the villainous organization which is feared in the wooly territory. Complications result when the arch villain's daughter saves Farnum's life, has her existence prolonged through the intervention of "Shadow" and then when the latter comes to Farnum's rescue on a few occasions. There are several thrills in the offering, but entirely too much of the action consists of the hero being chased about by groups of horsemen. More stuff at close range would help. William E. Wing is responsible for the tale and Leon de La Mothe directed. Release not yet determined.

"From East to West"—Ford-Goldwyn

Carpets are dealt with in another Ford industrial which has been photographed well and shows the various steps taken in the production of the rugs nicely. Most of the work is of such a nature, however, that it is not very easy to furnish a really satisfactory explanation in one reel. Most probably, a great deal of it will be beyond the average fan, but it has a great deal that interests.

"The Price of a Good Sneeze," Fox

When Mutt and Jeff open a school for the teaching of the Terpsichorean art, all goes well until the former's wife essays to learn a few steps. And then the fun begins. Mutt who has been enjoying his role as teacher because of his close proximity to an attractive damsel, is suddenly confronted by his spouse. The ruse Jeff had planned is spoiled when he sneezes, and Mutt's beating is transmitted to the shorter member of the duo. Quite up to the mark.

"Jiggs in Society," International-Pathe

George McManus' "Bringing Up Father" cartoons are known throughout the country. Beyond doubt, an announcement to the effect that you are going to present a two reel comedy based on these comics will arouse curiosity. And those who come to your theater expecting to see McManus' creations reproduced upon the screen by human performers, doing the very things Jiggs and the irrepressible Maggie do in newspaper funny sections will not be disappointed. Those on the other hand, who will expect a genuine motion picture plot will find that they miscalculated, for the entire affair is a chain of incidents, connected well enough, but not a real story. Margaret Fitzroy delineates Ma excellently and Laura La Plante looks well as the daughter. Johnny Ray, as the principal comedian is funny, and although his performance does not possess all of the virility of the real Jiggs, he gets laughs. They have turned out a suitable comedy technically—one that lacks a solid story only.

"Petticoats and Pants," Christie

In writing the story of this special Christie two reeler which features Bobby Vernon, Frank, R. Conklin inserted some slap-stick bits to fill out a fair theme. Not very many complications make their appearance, the result being more or less evident. The comedy business included is satisfactory, however, and the production gets over in good style. Vernon is found on a farm at the beginning, and when he effects a rube disguise for a barn dance, a city show girl decides to bring him to the city for some fun. Bobby does go to the city, but not until after a pair of his friends have overheard the girls' schemes. And then the fun begins. A cabaret is the scene of the action, and Bobby after being thrown out times innumerable, manages to secure evening attire. It ends as is expected, for in his city clothes, he easily captures the young lady.

"Flat Broke," Rolin-Pathe

Less of the riotous than usual is to be found in another Snub Pollard one reeler, which has a considerable quantity of humorous material. In the scenes where Pollard and his companion endeavor to secure some currency by furnishing street music, and a monkey manages to beat them to most of the earnings, there are several laughs. After that it slows up a bit until the very finish. They have built it around a suitable plot with the result that it is better than most of the recent releases of this series.

20 WD 4/4/20

Short Reels

"Trailed by Three," Pathe

Those who follow serials now-a-days demand plenty of action, some mystery, and an unusual feature. Other matters are made subordinate. Judged by the first episode, this will have action, although there is not always the proper amount of close-contact in the first three reels. It is towards the end that "The Mystery Pearls," the first section of the production really begins to furnish genuine thrills. There is a bit of the mysterious at the outset, but most of that is quickly cleared up, and so far there is nothing very much out of the ordinary.

A bit of the action takes the spectator to a distant tropical isle coming in the nature of a flash-back. Probably the characters will be shifted later on, which would help. Certainly, something is needed to create more suspense.

Harry Vekroff directed, whie Charles T. Dazey wrote the story. Included in the cast are Frankie Mann, Stuart Holmes, Wilfred Lytell, John Webb Dillon, John P. Wade and William Walsh. The first two named are featured.

"Uneasy Feet," Special Pictures Corp.

Distinctly novel in every sense of the word, this single reel comedy should be able to fit in on almost any program. It is a story told by a number of pairs of moving feet. Occasionally, a hand or two is visible, but otherwise, nothing but the pedal extremities of the characters mark the action. And it has been cleverly directed, the incident they want conveyed always being easy to grasp. The idea employed in producing this is hardly one that lends itself to the making of more than one creditable offering, in fact, the beginning of this registers better than what comes later, because the novelty begins to wear off. Taken as a whole, it represents good handling of an out of the ordinary scheme. That should be enough to put it over.

"Eat—A—Bite—A—Pie," Christie

More laughs than are usually to be found in a single reel comedy are included in another Christie. Bobby Vernon plays the male lead, Vera Steadman is seen opposite and Victor Rottman is his rival for her hand. The story centers about the efforts of the two youths to gain her consent to marry him. Most of the comedy results from Rottman's efforts to win the young lady in spite of the fact that Bobby's success is apparently assured. They work up to a climax that is preceded by some slap-stick stuff. Most of it produces the desired effect, and the finish is clever.

"Rarebits," National-Goldwyn

Linking the game of poker with an often-used theme, they have turned out a fair two reeler, in which the Carter De Havens are starred. It all centers about the enthusiasm of a youthful husband about cards. At the very start, his wife catches him making arrangements to attend a poker party, knows that he is fibbing when he offers a lame excuse and plans to get him to stay home more often. All of that could easily have been handled in less footage than was occupied, but they have inserted a few gags some of which are clever, to make up the additional length. The section concerning wifie's arrangements with the doctor to make her husband repentant make up a situation that is so old as to make its value negligible. Harry Edwards directed and the story is from the pen of Monte B. Rice.

"Topics of the Day," No. 47, Timely Films—Pathe

Usually, the most humorous comments to be found in "Topics of the Day" are selected from publications of smaller towns, but in this issue, incidentally one of the best turned out in a long while, many of the clever remarks are from big city papers. Some of the material is from college journals, and a few captions are occupied by the prize winning observation of a teacher on the matter of higher salaries for those who instruct the younger generation. The latter is logical, and convincing, as have been the other winning contributions on the subject, and will meet with approval as public sentiment is on the side of the teachers.

"The Chemists," Fox

Back to the days when Mutt and Jeff had their birth, goes Bud Fisher in another cartoon. After some footage that is not of any particular importance, they take the spectator to a scene where the two sleep. As usual, the shorter of the two is forced to suffer impositions upon his inferior physique, but with the aid of a strength-giving liquid announces his independence. His happiness is marred, however, when he wakes up to find it was all a dream. The dream gag has been used frequently before and does not come as very much of a surprise, but as a whole, the reel should prove desirable.

"The Strike-Breaker," Reelcraft

Billy West's eccentricities are patterned after those of Charles Chaplin. There are numerous fans, particularly among those who patronize the moderate-sized and smaller houses, who are willing to accept the West productions and find them laughable. This two-reeler should appeal to them, but as is the case with the other West pictures, it will not go where audiences are very critical. The strike gags have been used before, but would retain their laugh-producing powers if worked in properly. Between them, however, the stuff is such that the theme is frequently lost sight of. In the scene where West places a rail under the foot of an intoxicated gentleman (sweet memories) there is a laugh of proportions, and wehn he fishes for some fresh food, another is registered. Several other bits of merit are included, and although this has its faults, if you have been playing the Billy West productions with success, you will find it to your advantage to offer this one.

"A Restaurant Riot," Universal

Following a splendid start, this knock-about two-reeler fails to register in satisfactory style until almost the finish, when there are a few more grins. There is one geniuine, hearty, solid laugh, when the waiter affects an intoxicated condition, and there is an immediate rush into the establishment from which he has made his exit. It is a new touch. The kitten which appears in the principal comedian's sleeve early in the offering makes that bit cute.

"Bray Pictograph," No. 431—Goldwyn

Max Fleischer's "Out of the Inkwell" cartoon which concludes this Bray Pictograph is one of the cleverest bits of its kind seen in a long while. The animation is splendid, the idea humorous and the entire affair quite certain to provoke mirth. In addition, there is a portion devated to the mechanical appliances which regulate train switches opening, and one that deals with mat making in Fiji. The latter is entirely too short to really give very much of a clue as to the entire process through which the fern leaves employed for the purpose must go before the completed product is obtained.

"Roosevelt Dam"—Prizma-Select

What changed a desert in Arizona from a wide expanse of more or less uninhabited and vegetation lacking sand to a land of fertility and plenty is the Roosevelt Dam. This Prizma reel has some of its footage devoted to that structure, but as a matter of fact, should have been called "The Effects of the Roosevelt Dam," or by some title conveying the same idea, for most of it consists of scenes showing agriculture there at present. An unusually fine subject has been taken up in the offering which includes many appealing shots, most of which have been colored to good advantage, generally wholesome in atmosphere, and pleasing to the eye, the production merits notice.

I HAVE FOUND THEM!

The right group of moving picture Brains with the Power, Ambition and Financial Strength, combined in an organization to give me the life-time opportunity I have sought.

THE DOMINATING FIGURE

in this strongly-welded company is a Producer in whose make-up is blended the genius of Art and Showmanship; a Man of reputation and talents, with Vision and Creative Ability; a Director of the highest rating, schooled in the craft of picture-making; a Man who has been consistently responsible for successful pictures, and who thoroughly understands Commercial Value.

D. N. SCHWAB PRODUCTIONS, Inc.

have brought this man forward, and I throw my lot with him.

They have the most modern equipped studio, a progressive and able business management, skillful camera men and clever scenario writers, that are preparing the best material to be obtained for my purposes. We are already working.

Who is this big man associated with such a company that has made me the happiest artist in the world?

His name will be ready for release to the public any day now.

WATCH US SHOOT!

David Butler

Swindled

The Fight

The Third Degree

Imprisoned

"I am the master of my fate, I am the captain of my soul."

SAM GARDNER'S indomitable will enabled him to face disgrace and death with a serene belief in the essential rightness of the world.

Will Rogers in this great part, gives you a real thrill—the deep, satisfying thrill of watching genuine realism on the screen.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN PRESENTS

WILL ROGERS

IN

THE STRANGE BOARDER

BY WILL PAYNE

DIRECTED BY CLARENCE BADGER

GOLDWYN PICTVRES CORPORATION

SAMVEL GOLDWYN President

the BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII. No. 5 Monday, April 5, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Blames the Films

Brooklyn Justice Says Lurid Pictures Instill Crime Germ in Children

Justice Robert J. Wilkin, of the Children's Court, in Brooklyn has s to say about the effect of certain types of motion pictures upon minds and action of children:

The child is the greatest imitator the world. He is prone to idolize to strive to follow as a model, one his imagination settles upon. many cases the dare-devil train ber becomes a much admired he- in the child's eyes. The germ of idea which causes a youngster 0 or 12 to commit larceny in a culously sensational manner of- has its inception while the child elightedly viewing a wild melo- na which shows a gang of ves opening a safe.

f the entrance laws, supposed to ern the moving picture houses, strictly enforced, the children d not attend the shows alone a great deal of youthful and pa- al suffering would be avoided. t is not only the boys who are ted by these overdrawn, melo- atic plays, but the girls come in heir share of the evil influence. ines with beautiful clothes and ls cause many a girlish heart to with envy, and often breed envy discontent.

f course there are many moving res that entertain in a benefi- way, and there are those that to educate the childish mind. it will take a great many of to counteract the harm done he wrong kind of pictures."

Loew in Denver

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

nver Col.—Ackerman and Har- Loew allies, have taken over erty in the heart of the city and they will erect a theater and structure to cost $500,000. The er will seat 2,500.

Howells Gets Urban Films

vid P. Howells, Inc., has se- the entire world's rights with xception of the U. S. and Can- n "Movie Chats" and "Reviews" one reelers produced by es Urban.

Last Dwan-Mayflower

Angeles.—Allan Dwan will for northern California in a lays to prepare continuity and locations for his last May- production.

"I am ready to marry you now—if you want me."—Mildred Harris Chaplin in "Polly of the Storm Country," a First National attraction, Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

Selznick Serials

Ben Wilson Will Produce Them—Work Already Started.

Los Angeles.—Ben Wilson, it is stated here, will make two serials for Selznick-Select.

The first of these will be "The Branded Mystery," and has already been started.

Wilson will star in it and will be supported by Neva Gerber. Duke Warren will direct and Wilson will supervise.

Randall to Direct

Los Angeles.—Mon Randall, the well known artist, and Bert Glennon will co-direct the first of the Ormer Locklear productions for Isadore Bernstein.

"Confession" Almost All Sold

"The Confession," with Henry Walthall, has been sold for the entire world with the exception of Continental Europe and the states of Ohio, Kentucky and Tennessee.

Murray Specials

Star Together With Robert Leonard Leaves International to Form Own Company

An agreement has been reached between Mae Murray, Robert Leonard and International Film, producers of Cosmopolitan Prod., whereby the contracts of the star and director with the company have beeen mutually terminated.

Miss Murray plans the formation of her own company with Mr. Leonard as director. Four productions will be made yearly in whatever portion of the country the story calls for.

Miss Murray is now at work on her last picture for Famous Players, "Idols of Clay," which George Fitzmaurice is directing. She expects to be finished and started on her first independent production by June 15.

The International contract, according to Miss Murray, was executed while she was at work on her second picture for Famous Players. The latter was to turn her over to International.

Owns 200 Plays

Selznick Has Wealth of Material—Some of National Picture Theater Plans

That L. J. Selznick owns 200 plays which will be divided between his various producing units became known on Saturday. Also considerable information regarding the plans of National Picture Theaters became definitely known.

If plans now being worked out are carried through the directors of National, to be elected towards the end of the week, or early in next week will have on their hands a problem of solidifying what may be one of the biggest picture organizations in the business.

The plan to make National Picture Theaters, the biggest producing and distributing company in the industry will be placed before the exhibitor members by Selznick. A large number of prominent theater owners from all over the country will attend the organization of the Board of Directors. They will then discuss the details of this plan, which has as its objective the centralizing of all the Selznick interests into one unit which will give National the entire output of the Selznick studios as well as many other special productions assuring National also of distribution facilities that will reduce the rentals of franchise holders.

"As Mr. Selznick sees it," said an official of National, "our members want protection not only from film companies which use the rentals they receive from exhibitors to buy or build opposition theaters, but they must also be protected from the present inflation of production costs and consequent inflated rentals. Certain directors who today make pictures just as good as they know how for $50,000 to $70,000 per negative are planning to make the same kind of pictures tomorrow and charge an alleged production cost of three or four times this amount because they have gone into business for themselves.

"In other words the independent exhibitor is not only menaced by the distributing companies which are trying to buy his house, but he is also menaced by producers who do not realize that there is a limit to the price which the exhibitors can pay for pictures. Mr. Selznick believes that the limit in price per day has been reached that the present cond

(Continued on Page 2)

N[illegible] GOOD [illegible] SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 5 Mon. April 5, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St. New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale
Famous Players	84⅞	85½	85½
Do, pfd	90¼	91	91
Goldwyn	24	24	24
Loew's, Inc.	31	31⅞	31
United Pict. Prod.	10½	11	10½
Triangle	½	½	½
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Condon Signs With F.P.-L.

Los Angeles.—Frank Condon has signed with Famous Players to do scenarios. His first work will be an adaptation of "The Translation of a Savage," the Gilbert Parker story to be filmed by George Melford.

GLOBE TROTS

Weekly Excursions into Everyland

Globe Trots Films Inc.

On Broadway

Rivoli—Constance Binney, "The Stolen Kiss."

Capitol—Pauline Frederick, "The Woman in Room 13."

Rialto—John Barrymore, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Strand—Geraldine Farrar, "The Woman and the Puppet."

Brooklyn Strand—Geraldine Farrar, "The Woman and the Puppet."

Moss Broadway—Priscilla Dean, "The Virgin of Stamboul."

Loew's New York—Today, Clara Kimball Young, "The Forbidden Woman."

Tuesday: Wallace Reid, "Excuse My Dust."

Wednesday: Eminent Authors, "The Cup of Fury."

Thursday: J. Warren Kerrigan, "The Dream Cheater."

Friday: Shirley Mason, "Molly and I"; Sylvia Breamer and Robert Gordon, "The Blood Barrier."

Saturday: May Allison, "The Walk-Offs."

Sunday: John Barrymore, "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Next Week

Rivoli—Not yet determined.

Capitol—Nazimova, "The Heart of a Child."

Rialto—Not yet determined.

Strand—Norma Talmadge, "The Woman Gives."

Brooklyn Strand—Norma Talmadge, "The Woman Gives."

Moss Broadway—Priscilla Dean, "The Virgin of Stamboul."

New Inter-Ocean Sales

Inter-Ocean has sold 27 Black Diamond comedies and "Enlighten Thy Daughter," "The Manx-Man," "The Burning Question," "The Man of Bronze" and "Hunting Big Game in Alaska," for the Dutch East Indies, Straits Settlements, India, Burma and Ceylon.

International in Estee Studio

International Film has leased the Estee studio on West 125th Street. It will be operated in conjunction with the larger studio at 127th Street and Second Avenue. The large sets used in future productions will be shot in the big studio and all others in the Estee plant.

Lynch Goes to Coast

John Lynch and his wife have left for California. Lynch is scenario editor for Selznick.

Mercy Theater Opens

Yakima, Wash.—Fred Mercy will open his new theater here today

Plainfield House to Cost $275,000

Plainfield, N. J.—Strand Amusement Co. will build a $275,000 house on East Front Street, opposite the Y. W. C. A.

Owns 200 Plays

(Continued from Page 1)

tions and abnormal prosperity cannot continue forever, and that the wise producer and distributor of the future must plan to furnish not only great pictures but to furnish them at reasonable cost.

"The exhibitor's cost to operate is constantly going up. Their public want constantly better pictures. They cannot raise their admission prices much higher. There are going to be more seats in every community and their people are not always going to enjoy present high wages. Yet everyone is planning to raise film rental."

New Theaters

Kokomo, Ind.—The Victory, owned by the Victory Amusement Co. is now open.

Perth Amboy, N. J.—A. J. Sabo, manager of the Clinton Sq., Newark, has bought the Ditmas.

Pass Christian, Miss.—The Palace Motion Picture and Amusement Co. has been organized and will erect a new house.

Oxford, Me.—C. J. Russel and James A. O'Brien of Lewiston, Me. have purchased a house here and in South Berwick. They own several houses in smaller towns in this state.

Eau Claire, Wis.—The Eau Claire Theater Co., which has several houses here. will erect another. It will be 208 ft. deep and 106 ft. wide.

Sterling, Ill.—Johnson Brothers are having work rushed on their First Ave. house. It may be opened shortly.

Bridgehampton, N. Y. — Riley Amusement Co. will build.

Seaford, Del.—W. Ford Breeding of Federalsburg is to erect a new house.

Cincinnati, O.—Charles Schaengold to build.

Jamaica, L. I.—Butterfield, Bijou, to build Strand.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—G. W. Schaffnit to build at Northside. Cost, $22,000.

Manteno, Ill.—Jack Guertin and Aaron Lesage bought Gem from Joseph G. McCauley.

Sturgeon, Bay, Wis.—Frank Welter bought Opera House from B. Hahn.

Cuts and Flashes

Dick Kennedy, who did some work for the "Stars and Strip will do animated cartoons for U versal's new novelty reel.

Universal has selected "Maran a South Sea Island story by Ra Steck as Priscilla Dean's next ture. Rollin Sturgeon will proba direct.

Universal has closed with Loew Circuit for 27 days conse tive booking on "The Virgin Stamboul" for the New York metropolitan district.

Harry Chandlee has filed sui the Supreme Court against Cha Miller for $9,450. The plaintiff leges that he was engaged Oct. last as continuity writer at $22 week for a year and was dischar without cause on Jan. 10.

Hope Hampton Film at Broad

The Hope Hampton film rele by Metro, "A Modern Salome," been booked for the Broadway week beginning April 18.

A prophet is without honor in his own country, —but profits are appreciated everywhere. Which explains the uuiversal popularity of the RITCHEY poster!

RITCHEY LITHO. CORP.

406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8381

Ritchey

FOR SALE

Two full equipped Dubric Moti Picture Cameras. Eight magaz carrying cases. Address, Box J. Care WID'S DAILY.

SIMPLI SOULS

Comedies Need Effective Presentation, too.

Filmusic Cue Sheets are provided with all Arbuckle, Sennett, Al St. John and Carter de Haven Comedies.

WHY NOT WITH YOURS?

FILMUSIC STUDIOS, Hollywood

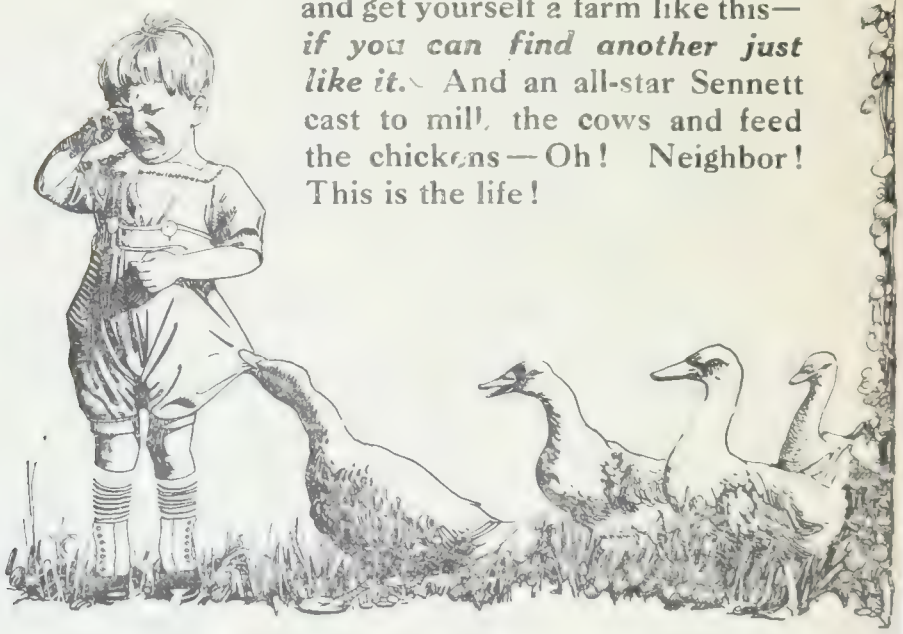
Two Column Newspaper
Al-cut from
United Artists Corporation's
Extensive Assortment of
Theatre Exploitation Aids

MACK SENNETT'S

Big New Five-Reel Comedy Sensation

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

Oh Boy! Oh Man!! Oh Lady! Lady!! One glimpse of the simple life and you'll sub-let your swell apartment, sell your mansion, trade in your twelve-cylinder limousine for a threshing machine and get yourself a farm like this—if you can find another just like it. And an all-star Sennett cast to mill the cows and feed the chickens—Oh! Neighbor! This is the life!



In the Courts

As the result of a dispute between the Foursquare Pictures Inc., and Frank J. Flaherty, formerly its agent in Chicago, the corporation has sued the United States Fidelity & Guaranty Co., which bonded Flaherty, for $1,578. The complaint alleges that Flaherty collected this sum belonging to the plaintiff and has refused to turn it over. The defense is that after the defendant bonded Flaherty his contract with Foursquare Pictures was changed so that he became a partner and that if there was a new conversion it was by Flaherty as a partner and not as employee. The defendant also states that the plaintiff owes Flaherty more than the sum claimed from him, and to aid in the defense of the action the defendant obtained an order from City Court Justice Meyer to take the testimony of Flaherty by commission.

A jury before City Court Justice Schmuck returned a verdict for Julius Steger in a suit against him by the Crystal Film to recover $855

Robert Andersen will shortly start work on a satire on "Hamlet" for Universal.

Samuel L. Spritzer, a public accountant, has sued the Greeley Square Amusement Co. for $25,000 on the ground that he was ejected from the theater.

Frederic H. Lincoln has sued William L. Jamison in the Supreme Court for $50,000. The plaintiff alleges that he is the owner of Edison Educational Moving Picture Film negatives worth that sum which came into the possession of the defendant between 1918 and 1919 and which the defendant refuses to give up.

The Powers Film Products Co. has been sued by Joseph Meyers for $6,000. The cause of the suit is not shown in the papers.

In a suit by the City of New York against the Screencraft Pictures, Inc. to recover a personal tax on assessment for $20,000. Supreme Court Justice Gavegan has granted an application by the defendant through Joseph Pollak, vice-president to reduce the assessment to $1,852 on the ground that the assets exceeded the liability by that sum.

The suit of Charles Cogut against the Sterling Film Corp. and Jack Van Rittberg in which the plaintiff got an attachment against the defendant's property the latter filed a bond of $3,000 to release the property, has been settled in the Supreme Court and the case discontinued.

The Famous Players-Lasky Co., has been sued in the Supreme Court by the Salm Limited Export & Import Co., for $25,000. The complaint alleges that the defendant sold the rights to "Hearts of the World" to the plaintiff for Spain, Portugal, and the Canary and Balearic Island for $5,000 and that in exploiting the film the plaintiff spent $12,000. It is alleged that the defendant supplied only two prints that could be used and all the others were either defective or had material parts of the play missing.

The Best Ten

WID'S DAILY,
'1-73 West 44th St.,
New York City

Biff! Bang! Zowie here goes the best ten dollars I have spent this year. But for heaven's sakes if you think we are going to be made to play pictures on a percentage, please return as I will need it lateer on, for my Moonshine supply for the dear little creatures that are now so good to sell us pictures for real money.

Yours truly,
R. V. Barkley.

Another "Virgin" Run

"The Virfin of Stamboul" has been booked for an indefinite run in the Playhouse, Chicago, starting April 4.

Metro Buys Exchange

Dallas, Tex.—Metro has acquired full control of the exchange here formerly owned by Hulsey and has placed L. J. Bickel in charge. This makes the 24th eMtro exchange.

Rhodes Film Thorugh Nat'l Fi

National Film will release "N body's Girl" with Billie Rhodes the state right market.

Judgments Filed

The following judgments ha been filed:

Albert Fixture Co. against Oli Prod., Inc., for $414.72.

Ideal Film Service against V Pinnachio, for $250.20.

Judgments Satisfied

A judgment filed Feb. 27 for 611:42 has been awarded S. Blackman against Walter F. N buhr.

Labor Union Picture

Universal, through its Indust Dept. has picturized the history the Amalgamated Clothing W ers of Ameirca, one of New Y City's largest unions. The purp of the films is to allay labor unr

Exhibitors Form Protective Lea

San Francisco, Cal.—Theater o ers in northern and central Cali nia have formed the Exhibitors I tective League. Officers aer: D Markowitz, H. Gobish, N. K. H zog, respectively, president, v president, recording secretary.

Kane Moves

The Arthur S. Kane Pictures C has moved to its new offices in National Association Bldg., 25 43rd St.

Announcement

To all those engaged in motion picture producing and exhibiting, announcement is herely made of the granting to DAVID WARK GRIFFITH of a patent (No. 1334853) on metho and apparatus for projecting moving and other pictures with color effects.

Mr. Griffith's patent, issued on March 23rd, 1920, on application of May 14, 1919 (App cation serial No. 296,964) covers the following specifications:

"The process of producing colored pictures on an opaque screen which consists of throwing pictures by a projector onto one surface of said screen and simultaneously illuminating the screen with diffused colored light from a bank of colored lights thrown onto the same surface of the screen in a direction oblique to the stream light from the projector."

"In an apparatus of the class described, an opaque screen, a projector for throwing pictur onto one surface of said screen, a bank of diffe ently colored lights with several colors out of the path of light from said projector and adapte to throw colored diffused light onto the sam surface of said screen, and means for selectivey rendering said lights active and thereby the colr of the light thrown from said bank onto sad screen."

This method of lighting was first introduced by Mr. Griffith in his production of "Brokn Blossoms" on May 13th, 1919, at Geo. M. Cohan Theatre, New York, and in spite of te knowledge that patents were then pending, one New York producer and one New York exhili or deliberately attempted to copy Mr. Griffith's invention. These and all others are herey varned against the use of Mr. Griffith's methods and apparatus.

Signed ALBERT L. GREY, Gen. Mgr. Griffith Productions, 720 Longacre Building, N.

Faulkner's Visit

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

ondon, Eng.—The "Tatler" in the n Renter and M. P. News says:
W G. F.'s mission, as I have d authority for stating, is utternnconnected with the design atuted to it by the kinejournalistic ss of New York, though the eds of those papers do well to t to the growing affinity between press and the pictures."
n the same issue, Low Warren, editor points out the possibility a combination of the existing s reels with the great newspapthus perfecting by far the most nidable disseminator of news in world.
his, Warren asserts, may be reason for the entrance into the industry of such figures as Lord verbrook and Sir Edward Hul-

J" to Film Feature Industrial hn Leitch, author of "Man to

," a story of industrial democ-
, has been signed to appear in ature picture of his own book,
Harry Levey of Universal's Inrial Dept. "Man to Man" has through 23 American editions has been translated into seven uages. Leitch was on Presi-
Wilson's Industrial Commis-

---

nwood, Mich.—A. L. Picker erect a house seating 1,400 and also improve the Rex.

---

e M. & S. Theater Co. has been in the Supreme Court for $2,000 ges by Jacob Cohen because he ejected from the theater and n by employees.

ILLY WEST

VEST BUSTER
COMEDIES
REAL RIB
TICKLERS

RELEASED BY EELCRAFT

RE PROMISES ARE SACRE D
OUIS MEYER
ERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
ITLES
ED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
NE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
EST 42nd ST. - ROOM 2004

A PRESCRIPTION

TO THE PRODUCER OF SHORT SUBJECTS
COMEDIES
EDUCATIONALS
SCENICS
NOVELTIES
WISHING TO REACH THE DISTRIBUTOR
EXHIBITOR OR
STATE RIGHT BUYER
EFFICIENTLY
EVERY DAY
OF THE YEAR
AND AT COMPARATIVELY
SMALL COST

We Recommend—At Brief Intervals

WID'S DAILY

"A TEST WILL TELL"

Incorporations

Albany—Apologue Film Corp., New York. Capital, $20,000. Incorporators. R. S. Palmer, M. W. Kerr and H. L. Adams, 473 W. 158th St.

Albany—Krellberg Prod., New York. Capital, $25,000. Incorporators: S. S. and M. J. Krellberg and S. Schwartzman, 220 W. 42nd St.

Albany—Sheridan Theater Co., New York. Active capital $230,000; 2,000 shares preferred stock, $100 each and 6,000 shares common, no par value. In corporators: J. F. Rafferty, S. Brill and Max Spiegel, 525 West End Ave.

Dover, Del.—Clyde Corp. Capital, $2,200,000. Incorporators: T. L. Croteau, R. K. Thistle and S. E. Dill, Wilmington.

Dover, Del.—Philadelphia Investment Amusment Corp. Capital, $100,000. Incorporators: M. L. Horty, M. C. Kelly and S. L. Mackey, Wilmington.

Dover, Del.—Delaware M. P. Co. Capital, $250,000. Incorporators: Samuel Greenbaum, L. L. Malone and Charles E. Evans, Wilmington.

Albany—The Leggett-Gruen Corp. has changed its name to the Rothacker Film Mfg. Co.

This is the company of which Rothacker assumed control a short time ago.

Albany, N. Y.—Romograph Mfg. Co., Manhattan, Motion pictures, $300,000; J. J. Matveenkoff, A. A. Henning, A. T. Seixas.

Trenton, N. J.—Peekaboo Production Co. Capital, $100,000. William J. Counihan, Harry J. Ivins, and David Green, all of Perth Amboy.

Albany—The P. W. Pictures, New York. Capitalization, $50,000. Incorporators: E. B. Wilson, R. F. Clark and H M. Volkening.

Latest Christies

Fay Tincher's new two reel Christie will be "Belinda's Bluff" by Maie B. Havey.

Recent Christie one reelers are "Papa by Proxy," "Fuss and Folly," "Call a Cop," and "Oh, Doctor! Doctor!"

Danville, Ill.—Home Theater Co. to build $250,000. Will seat 1,700.

A Bray Industrial

The National Cash Register Co., Dayton, O., which asked for bids recently on a scenario and production showing its development and work, has announced that Jamison Handy's scenario has been accepted while the Bray company's offer of production has been taken up. The picture will be in about four reels.

Five Added at Metro

Hollywood—C. J. (Jimmy) Dunn, two years advertising manager Moreland Truck Co., is studio editor for Ted Taylor at Metro.

Frances Gray, society and fashion editor of the Evening Missourian at Columbia, will write specials.

Charles Bryant, Edward Brand and Cecil Goldbeck are new company reporters.

Four New Loew Companies

San Francisco—The names of the four companies recently chartered by Marcus Loew to cover construction of his four new California theaters are as follows:

The Market and Taylor Streets Building Co., San Francisco; capital stock, $1,000,000.

The Seventh Street and Broadway Building Co., Los Angeles; capital stock, $1,500,000.

Loew's Sacramento Theater Co., Sacramento; capital stock, $100,000.

Loew's Stockton Theater Co., Stockton; $100,000.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:
THE N Y. TELEGRAPH SAYS:
"JOHNNY JONES IS EDGAR AND ALL BOY, AND WITH THE AID OF SEVERAL OTHER ALL-BOYS AND AN ALL-GIRL HEROINE, UNDER THE ABLE DIRECTION OF E. MASON HOPPER, HE MAKES EDGAR AND TEACHER'S PET A DELLIGHTFUL FILM, A SERIES OF JOLLY, WHOLESOME LAUGHS."

Goldwyn

Announcement

Mr. Orrin Denny, Laboratory expert and cameraman, has joined the Universal expedition at Bar-es-Salaal, East Africa. This party is to proceed inland for about 250 miles to Pavoin, with the object of photographing wild animals and scenes in the interior of Africa. A period of about four months will be required for this work.

Eastern Film Company
Photo Products Export Co.
Jaxon Film Corporation

Announce the opening of their new offices

5th FLOOR, CANDLER BLDG
220 West 42d Street
MAY 1st

The three finest equipped
Projecting Rooms
In the city
(Simplex Studio Rooms)
Under the Supervision of
John F. Lyons

PROJECTIONS FOR MAY and LATE
SHOWING BOOKED NOW

Phones—Bryant 984-985

House Changes

anette, Pa.—The interior of the le, owned by Oliver Kitchel, has n remodeled.

altimore, Md.—The Waverly is e enlarged to a seating capacity ,400.

okomo, Ind.—A. R. Nelson has ght from Ernest Walton the mount.

gansport, Ind.—Work on the tion to the Paramount is near- completion.

nville, Ill.—William Heasman Fred Bick have bought the nial from John W. Hollin and vife.

ightstown, Ind.—R. Sipe and ard Bundy of Newcastle have ht the Midway from Misses La- hn and Ellen Parish, who re- y acquired it. Sipe owns the tte at Newcastle.

ncinnati, O.—H. R. Beattie, for- manager of one of the New Proctor houses, has succeeded Valle, as manager of the Palace.

ondale, O.—The Forrest has sold to the McMahan and on Film Exchange. The new rs will take possession May 1 ncer, Mass.—A new house seat- ,000 is to be built.

marck, N. D—The Eltinge has opened by G E. Windgren. He tes a chain in this state.

ffalo, N. Y.—The Garden has ged its policy and will present es hereafter.

se, Idaho—The Pinney, a road house recently adopted the pol- showing pictures.

rton, O.—The Electric has been ed shut because of health and enace.
e Changes.

vie, Tex.—Billy Barry has sold illy Barry to a Dallas concern kney, Tex.—G. T. Meriweather ly took over the Olympic from Wilkinson.

lill, Okla.—J. C. Hunt and will shortly open a new house.
e Changes
alo, N. Y.—Mrs. Minnie Gram- as bought John E. Hoffman's on Seneca St.

anapolis, Ind.—The North End ement Co. will spend $30,000 rease the seating capacity of ajestic to 2,200. Work will be on May 1.

mbus, O.—The Southern has ned after being remodeled and er the management of James ddox.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood — Marguerite de la Motte has been engaged by Tom Terriss, Vitagraph director, for the first of his Tom Terriss Productions.

Henry Woodward has been engaged by Maurice Tourneur for "Caleb West, Master Diver," work upon which has been started.

Florence Porter Parks is doing publicity for Edward Biby, Katherine MacDonald, and Marguerite Snow.

Dorothy De Wese, former Chicago newspaperwoman, handles publicity for Edward Lewis productions at "U."

Malcolm Boylan has been appointed S. B. Samuelson's fiscal agent in the U. S., while that producer is abroad.

Harry Brand has handed his resignation to Al St. John to go with Benny Leonard.

Sydney Ascher, Ascher Enterprises, producers of "The Evil Eye," Benny Leonard serial has joined the company in California.

Allen Curtis will direct sinle reel comedies for Universal. The first will be "Three Pairs of Silk Stockings."

Polly Moran's comedies for the Marion H. Kohn Prod. will be in two reels, instead of one as originally planned.

Reginald Barker is scheduled to start work the latter part of this week on "The Branding Iron."

Kastner, Theater Manager, Killed

Seattle.—Walter Kastner, manager of the Wenatchee and Liberty at Wenatchee was killed Tuesday when he was caught between a motor car and truck. Kastner was formerly manager of the Majestic and Princess here and was only 28 years old.

Exchange Changes

Pittsburg, Pa.—Leo Bernstein is now manager of the local Fox exchange.

St. Louis, Mo.—J. Desberger is now manager of the local Robertson-Cole office.

Baltimore, Md.—It is reported that Samuel G. Smith has been appointed manager of the local Universal office.

New York—Robert Horsley has been appointed special representative in the New York Vitagraph offices, handling the Larry Semon comedies exclusively.

Portland, Ore.—Sol Blaum, Universal manager here has resigned and has been replaced by C. W. Koerner.

Seattle, Wash.—Jack Weil, manager of the Seattle Republic office, has been called to New York, where he will be given a new assignment. The new Seattle manager is Herbert A. Meyer, formerly of the San Francisco sales force.

Seattle—George M. Colladay, formerly with Fox has joined Realart. He will sell in Oregon and southern Idaho.

New Orleans, La.—Louis Collier for some time manager of the American Film Co. here is now head salesman for Robertson-Cole in this territory.

Buy Ten Houses

Louisville, Ky.—It is reported that Lee Goldberg and Col. Fred Levy have bought ten houses in this state, including the four houses of the Arcade Amuse. Co. at Paducah, two which that organization has in the course of construction, two at Maysfield and one at Princeton.

New Haven, Conn.—Harry Stafford, formerly with Poli, purchased White Way. Formerly operated by proprietor of Dreamland.

Church Film Corp.

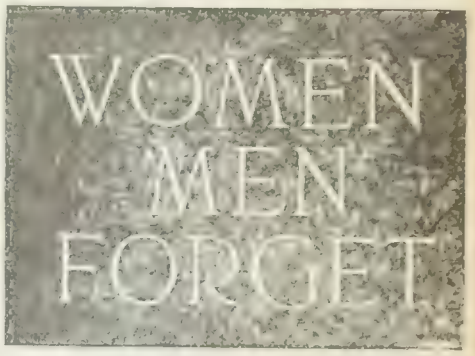
Company Planning to Produce and Serve Protestant Churches and Sunday Schools

In order to furnish picture programs to Protestant churches and Sunday schools, the International Church Film Corp. has been organized with the purpose of going into the business of producing, distributing and equipment.

Circulars of the corporation claim it is impossible to select apropriate and sufficient number of pictures for church and Sunday school use and tell of plans to meet the church demand. Investments are encouraged and $750,000 of preferred stock, par value $100, with a 7 per cent yield are offered with $1,250,000 of common stock to be awarded purchasers of the preferred.

Initial plans call for the creation of a distribution system to reach about 4,000 churches, the assembling of an editorial and production staff and a feasible plan for the sale of projection equipment on instalments.

Headquarters, Flatiron Bldg., New York.



STATE RIGHT BUYERS
Get Acquainted With

"THE UNKNOWN RANGER"

STARRING
REX RAY

5-REEL WESTERN FEATURE
Full of Punch and Thrills

AYWON FILM CORP
NATHAN HIRSH, Pres.
729 Seventh Ave., N. Y. C.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
225 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Atlanta, Ga.—A trim and shapely ankle will always attract the attention of the men, and quite frequently that of envious women. Playing upon that knowledge, Frank Hammond, publicity director for the S. A. Lynch houses here, put over an exploitation stunt that resulted in big business for Douglas McLean and Doris May in "Mary's Ankle." Two girls were engaged and placed in the windows of an establishment making a specialty of hosiery and shoes for women. Notices giving the Rialto all due space were also placed in the windows, and the ankle exposure served to keep considrable crowd before the store for many hours and the theater and store profited from the stunt.

Daylight Saving Fight in St. Louis

St. Louis, Mo.—Exhibitors are opposing the movement to push through the daylight saving bill, on the part of clubs and civic organizations.

Western Companies Merge

Wallace, Ida.—The Northwest Theaters Co. has been formed by the merging of the Missoula Amusement Co. and W. A. Simonds. It controls the Empress, Liberty, Isis, Bijou in Missoula, the Liberty here, the Liberty and Star, Mullan, Liberty and Princess in Kellogg and Liberty in Couer d'Alene.

Salt Lake Managers Elect Officers

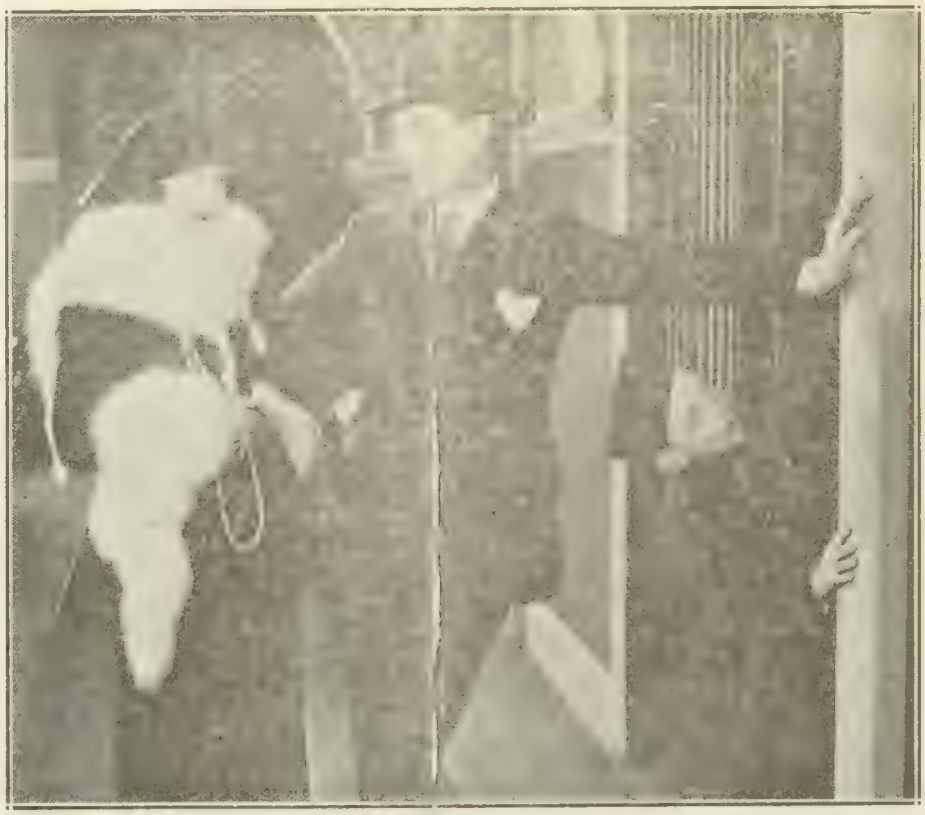
Salt Lake City, Utah.—At a meeting of the Salt Lake Moving Picture Theater Owners' Association, George Mayne, manager of the Swanson Theater Circuit was elected president; M. H. Hanauer, of the Broadway, vice-president; George E. Carpenter, manager of the Paramount Empress, secetary; and W. E. Shipler, of the Empire, treasuer.

Oppose Sunday Shows

Indianapolis, Ind.—Members of the Women's Christian Temperance Union have gone on record as being opposed to Sunday shows.

Plan Large House for Detroit

Detroit, Mich.—Henry S. Koppin will build a house at a cost of $250,000 at Catherine and St. Antoine Streets.



A crook play without the melodrama. A Christie Comedy "It Takes a Crook" with Dorothy Devore and Jimmie Harrison.—Advt.

Incorporations

Birmingham, Ala.—Gay Theater Co. Capital stock, $2,000. Officers: H. J. Hury, president; P. A. Engler, secretary and treasuer, and W. H. Woolverton, vice-president.

Columbia, S. C.—Hills Rex Theater, Sumter. Capital, $15,000. Incorporators, Roland G. Hill, W. S. Hill, and J. C. Hedgepath.

Columbia, S. C.—Hamilton Producers Film Arts of North Augusta. Capital, $10,000. Incorporators, G. H. Shelton, Lillian R. Gordon and Thomas R. Gordon.

Boston, Mass.—Taunton Empire Theater of Taunton. Capital, $50,000. Incorporators: A. S. Black, of Rockland, Me.; Wm. R. Scarritt, Jr., of Boston, and Herman A. Mintz, of Brookline.

New Studio for Wilson

Los Angeles.—Ben Wilson has purchased the property adjoining his present plant which is on Santa Monica Boulevard, Hollywood. He will erect a new stage to take care of additional producing units.

New Price Sales

C. B. Price Co., Inc., has sold the series of Mona Darkfeather pictures to the Minter United Amusement Co. of Detroit.

Plans Large Pensacola House

Pensacola, Fla.—Ernest Boehringer to build. $25,000. Seats 2,500.

House Change

Ft. Wayne, Ind.—Oscar Wo has leased the Temple from Mulholland and will use it sively for pictures.

Flint, Mich.—Bert Evans, fo manager of the Royal, is r charge of the Garden. H. Dean, treasurer of the Bijou, Creek, succeeds Evans.

Marietta, Minn.—Caverly a lickson have purchased the son. They will call it the Tom D. Caverly will manag

Minneapolis, Minn. — Keough will manage the replacing Chas. Perry who w over the management of the Portland, Ore.—The Peop reopened after being remod a cost of $50,000.

San Francisco, Cal.—T. C Sun formerly Tivoli.

Coffeyville, Kansas—Dr. Fortner bought Jefferson fro Ashton McClarey for $40,000.

Fort Wayne, Ind.—B. Bor bought Wells St. house fr ward Hammerle, and leased fred Borkenstein.

Newcastle, Pa.—H. E. formerly a salesman connec the local Pathe exchange manager of the Opera Ho Coliseum.

Another for Blument

Louis F. Blumenthal and Haring have purchased the Theater in Union Hill, N. also plan another house on line Avenue, West New Yo

SIMPLE SOULS

STATE RIGHTS FOR SALE
George Loane Tucker's Production
"THE ARREST OF ARSENE LUPIN"
By Maurice Le Blanc
CELEBRATED AUTHORS SOCIETY
Room 803 Columbia Theater Tel. Bryant 1511

There are still a few . .
exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

e BRADSTREET
f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XII. No. 6 Tuesday, April 6, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Fight On

ger Amusement Co. Gets First-ge Publicity for United Artists

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

w Orleans, La.—E. V. Richards e Saenger Amusement Co., and nited Artists are obtaining a publicity here as the result of rspaper fight waged between the and the Daily States. The publication is fighting the gers, and among other things considerable of the point that roductions of the "Big Four" not being shown by the Saen- in New Orleans. When the ng of the Federal Trade Com- on was on, the States gave a space to the proceedings, and of the facts relative to the d Artists being barred out of Orleans by the Saenger ods.

n, all of a sudden, the Saengers ed the big story on the States they had the United Artists d—and the States gave it a age display with a big black ne across the first page. The also carried first-page stories the battle, and the Saengers e United Artists are sure to ewards from the battle.

Lieber Here

ert Lieber, First National, ar- in town yesterday afternoon.

Some Visitors

ng those arriving yesterday he junior member of Lubliner z, Mr. Trinz, and Mr. Stern same firm. Here to look over s. ee for Loew in Cincinnati

pecial to WID'S DAILY)

nnati.—The Tribune quotes Loew as follows:

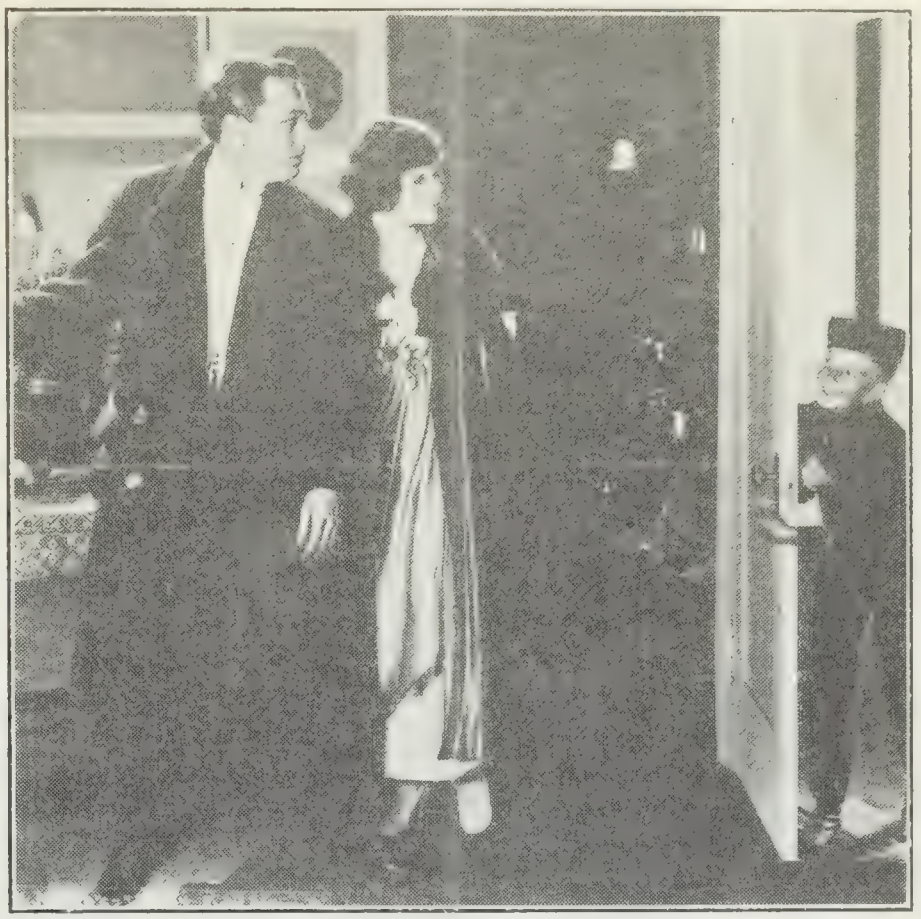
have three sites in view in iati, and each of them is equally situated for theaters. r plan to procure at least two e sites and all three, if pos-

Ban on Ford Reel

pecial to WID'S DAILY)

oit.—The Michigan Exhibitor, cial organ of the Michigan Exhibitors' Assn., is carrying which reads:

n you receive letters asking u are not signing up for the eekly, tell them you are not advertising reels unless you d, and refer them to the . A."



"Shall I lock the door, old topper, so your other wife can't get in." —Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Convention On

Selznick Workers Get Started on Four-Day Session

The Selznick, Select and Republic branch managers and other officials of importance got to work yesterday on the first day of the Select branch managers convention. They met at 11 o'clock at the Astor, and after lunch made a trip to the studios at Fort Lee. Last night they took in the Clifton Crawford show. At

(Continued on Page 2)

Kaufman Signs Agnes Ayres

Albert A. Kaufman has signed Agnes Ayres to a long-term contract under the terms of which Miss Ayres is to be starred in a series of features.

The Agnes Ayres company will be the second company under the Kaufman banner, he having recently signed Allan Holubar to direct a series of productions starring Dorothy Phillips.

Price Resigns

Retires as President of United Artists-Meeting in Wilmington

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Wilmington, Del.—Oscar A. Price, at the annual meeting of the stockholders of United Artists Corp held here yesterday resigned as president of the corporation, effective before May 1.

Other important matters were deferred for another meeting. Dennis F. O'Brien left here for Atlantic City.

None of those present at the meeting would discuss the meeting or its results.

Westward Bound

Thomas Meighan and Robert Harron left for California yesterday. Harron is on a visit to his family.

Houdini in England

(By cable)

London, Eng.—Harry Houdini is here making a production for Famous Players.

ALICOATE.

Want Damages

Exhibitors Also Ask Receiver Regarding Chaplin Profits

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Dallas, Tex.—A suit asking a receiver for the First National Exhibitors Circuit of Texas is scheduled for a hearing before Judge E. B. Muse.

The plaintiffs are E. T. Peter of Dallas, B. C. Bell of Palestine, Bland & Hoke of Abilene, J. C. Chatmas of Marlin, E. H. Shields of Navasota, A. M. James of Cleburne, John Saye of Waxahachie, Gwynn & Byar of Kaufman, A. W. Lilly of Greenville, Dorbant Bros. of Athens and J. M. Stewart of Terrell.

They claim that E. H. Hulsey; president of the National Exhibitors' Circuit, had contracts with them for First National attractions, including Charlie Chaplin films, and that they were entitled to a percentage of profits during the year 1919.

They claim that due to "perversion of management and improper manipulation of accounts," instead of a profit greater than in 1918 they were forced to sustain a loss. They are asking $25,000 damages and the appointment of a receiver to collect the damages due them.

Goldwyn Signs Two Authors

Contracts with E. Phillips Oppenheim and Cynthia Stockley have been signed by Goldwyn, giving the latter the screen rights to their books for a period of years.

Collier, Jr., With Lasky

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—William Collier, Jr., is reported as having signed with Famous Players to play leads.

Interesting Figures

"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" played to 60,496 paid admissions at the Rivoli last week and when transferred to the Rialto on Sunday played to 10,153 paid admissions, smashing a record at either theater for a single day.

Exploitation Dept. at Metro

Metro is organizing an exploitation department. The first production handled under the new exhibitor-aid system is "Alias Jimmy Valentine."

A. W. Sampson, assistant treasurer, is leaving Mayflower to re-enter the advertising field.

Film men — Join the VOYAGERS
Ask TOM WILEY, he's Captain. — Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 6 Tues. April 6, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order. Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558 Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	84	85	84¾
Do, pfd	90	90½	90½
Goldwyn	24	24	24
Loew's, Inc.	29½	30¼	30¼
United Pict. Prod.	8	9	8¾
Triangle	½	½	½
World, 1st pfd.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Educational Has Unique Film

The National Geographic Society has permitted the distribution of pictures made on one of its expeditions by the Educational with its camera record of the eruption of Mount Katmai, in Alaska. "The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes" is one of these pictures.

Merit Buys Cartoon Comedies

M. J. Mintz, of Celebrated Players, Chicago, has sold the New York State and northern New Jersey rights to the "The Gumps" a cartoon comedy series.

Craver Re-Opens Theater

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Durham, N. C.—R. D. Craver reopened his Paris theater here recently. The theater was remodeled to seat 800 people

Craver tendered a banquet at which were present a number of film men from various theaters in the South.

SIMPLE SOULS

Convention On

(Continued from Page 1)

lunch yesterday L. J. introduced the field force to Hobart Henley, who will begin work with the Select organization in about ten days. After the business session tomorrow there will be a theater party, to be followed by a visit to the Ziegfeld roof, and on Wednesday night there will be a dinner party.

Selznick publicity issued yesterday the first of a series of "daily newspapers" called "Brain Exchange"—a house organ plentifully supplied with cartoons of Selznick officials.

Sam Morris, general manager of Selznick, was in charge of the business sessions yesterday. Some of the more important plans for the coming year were discussed.

Hugh Woody Succeeds Barnhard

Chicago.—Hugh Woody, an Indiana banker, was elected president in place of S. L. Barnhard, who also retired from the directorate of the Capital Film Co. B. Herbert Milligan, of Chicago, treasurer, takes the place of former President Barnhard in the directorate and also assumes the duties of General Manager, relinquished by C. E. Eckels.

Rights to Farnum Westerns

Cincinnati, O.—The Wilson Film Co. will distribute in this territory the two-reel Westerns featuring Franklyn Farnum.

Cincinnati, O.—R. E. Kerley will represent Pioneer in this territory, out of the C. C. Hite offices.

In the Courts

The Octagon Films, A. H. Fischer and B. A. Rolfe, have been sued in the Supreme Court by Ruth Budd, film actress, for $25,000 damages for personal injuries. The plaintiff says she was required to make a leap from an attic and grasp a swinging chandelier, and that the force of her fall broke her hold, and the rope which was to hold her body snapped and she fell to the floor. She alleges negligence by the employees of the defendants.

Bernard Randall has filed suit in the Supreme Court against Ascher's Enterprises and Frank G. Hall for $3,000. He alleges he was engaged Jan. 12 to act in "The Evil Eye" for 20 weeks at $175 a week and was discharged on Feb. 14.

A judgment for $437 for the Estee Studios against the Bloxbe Film Corp. for "props" has been affirmed by the Appellate Term of the Supreme Court.

PRODUCERS!

Among the many famous vehicles we own and control for film play-rights is

"RAFFLES"

The entire series of E. W. Hornung's astounding mystery stories and others just as great!

CELEBRATED AUTHOR'S SOCIETY

701 Seventh Ave.
701 Seventh Ave., N. Y. C.
Bryant 1511

Buy Theater Chain

Kenosha, Wis.—V. E. Lam and William Fendick of Liberty Ill., have bought the interests of Pacini Amusement Co., which o ates a chain in southern Wisco and northern Illinois.

Plan $1,500,000 House for Chic

Chicago, Ill.—J. M. Browarsk Co. plan the erection of a house ing $1,500,000 on 63d St. It will 3,500.

Atlanta—H. D. Goldberg is manager of Republic here. He ceeds Mrs. A. H. Sessions.

Kansas City—The local S office is now located in the Exchange Bldg. 17th and Main

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF MOTION PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
FRIAR'S CLUB 9400 BRYANT

We Are Experts

We modestly admit it—but it's the truth. Twenty years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture industry have given our staff a thorough knowledge of YOUR problems. Our advice on insurance problems is yours for the asking and we are as close to you as your phone.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC. REAL SERVICE
80 Maiden Lane
John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Great motion picture stars and RITCHEY posters are alike in this,—that both give an added value to a photo-play.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 83

WANTED
Small Cutting Room or rent space suitable for editors.
HARRY CHANDLEE
WM. B. LAUB
Phone Murray Hill 496

THE Glifograph Screen
No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.
TO BE SEEN IN
Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica
And soon in many other theaters.
The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
145 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973.

UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION

ANNOUNCES THE RELEASE OF

MACK SENNETT'S

Big New Five-Reel Comedy Sensation

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

"The best comedy Mack Sennett has ever made" is the word that comes out of the West from the critics who have watched this masterpiece of mirth in the making.

Mack Sennett's special productions have made marvelous box-office history. "Down on the Farm," his latest creation, has all the elements that make for sensational business—a bumper crop of fun, thrills and furious farce, seasoned with that greatest of all appeals—heart interest.

Here is a picture that will give the exploitation genius the chance of his entire career as a showman. "Down on the Farm" will get them all—the masses and the classes.

Now Booking!

UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION

MARY PICKFORD CHARLIE CHAPLIN

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS D. W. GRIFFITH

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood.—Francelia Billington has been engaged by William Fox as lead for Tom Mix in "No Limit Marson."

The third production of the National Picture Theatres, "The Invisible Divorce," is now completed and the work of titling is progressing. By the end of this week it will be ready for showing. Harry Rapf, the G. M. of the Selznick West Coast Studios, is now working with Katharine Speer Reed on the next National production, "The Palace of Darkened Windows."

George Irving, director of L. Lawrence Weber productions, has finished the second picture, "Just Outside the Door," and has left for New York, taking the production with him.

The Owen Moore Company is now at work preparing continuity for the next production, "Stop that Man," by George Hobart. Frank Griffin has been engaged to direct Mr. Moore.

Approximating an expenditure of $15,000, a new Liberty Airplane motor and two large generators, mounted permanently on a motor truck, have just been purchased by Metro, to be used as a portable plant to furnish lighting power while on location.

Kenneth Hunter has been engaged for a role in "The Super-Woman," with Ethel Barrymore.

William S. Hart has purchased a home in Hacienda Park, Hollywood.

Isadore Bernstein will produce at the Ben Wilson Studios instead of the Capitol. GAUSMAN.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Detroit, Mich.—When A. E. Crane received a print of "Sex," the Louise Glaum feature, he gave a special showing at the Washington at Midnight, inviting newspapermen, picture critics, exhibitors, exchange managers and the chorus and principals of Al Jolson's "Sinbad" company, playing at the Opera House at that time. Instead of the few stragglers who usually attend such showings, the house was packed. Inquiries as to what was happening in the house at such a late hour poured in and the production was written up in various publications, with the result that the army of fans were made ready to come to see it as soon as it had its first showing.

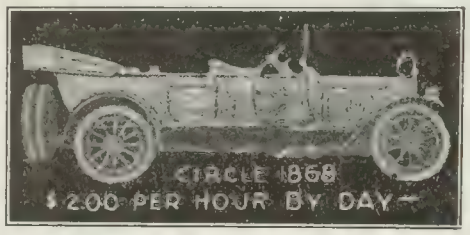
Sunday Show Bill Passes

Baltimore, Md.—The Iverson bill providing a referendum on the question of Sunday motion picture shows has been passed by the Maryland Legislature and sent to Governor Ritchie for his signature. The bill permits the opening of motion picture houses on Sundays after 2 P. M., if such action is favorable voted upon at the election next November.

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

Fred Schaefer
Continuity and Titles
Vitagraph



WOMEN MEN FORGET

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies

"Money Talks"
"Virtuous Husbands"
"Dablin in Society"
"Footlight Maids"
"Schoolhouse Scandal"
"The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"The Heart Snatcher"
"The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"

Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

George William Bonte has been made Art Director by Select.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

McElliot of the News, says:
"Edgar and the Teacher's Pet is sheer joy to the jaded picture-goer. After you see it, you wonder why Mr. Tarkington isn't the patron saint of picture comedies and why they haven't taken to setting statuettes of the Hoosier author in movie palaces!"

Goldwyn

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisader, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Allens to Build in London

(By cable)

London, Eng.—The Allens of Canada have purchased a site in Times Square upon which a large theatre will be built.

ALICOATE

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

SIMPLE SOULS

BILLY WEST
IS A HOWL OF LAUGHTER, PEP AND JOY. COMEDIES RELEASED BY
REELCRAFT

There are still a few...
exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII. No. 7. Wednesday, April 7, 1920 Price 5 Cents

5 Cents Average

Evening Admissions in 1,000 t or More Theaters, First National Discovers at only about 5 per cent of first second run theaters seating 1,000 e or more charge admissions han 25 cents for their perform- has been discovered as a re- of an investigation conducted by National covering 238 theaters states and 21 cities.

number of interesting exhibitor vations result. For instance, it discovered that the Auditorium Saginaw, Mich., seating 3,000 e—100 per cent. more than any theater in the city—has a 10- nt admission scale, whereas eight d-runs in the same city seating een 250 and 300 have a uniform sion price of 20 cents.

Pittsburgh, three theaters, the um Penn, Garden and Alhambra, eating between 1,000 and 1,200 an admission scale that ranges 17 to 22 cents. These theaters econd-runs whereas the Grand, pic and Liberty, all seating than 2,000, have a scale that s from 25 to 35 cents.

s interesting to note that only out of 20 San Francisco the- seat less than 1,000 people and he top-admission-price goes no than 20 cents. The Central,

(Continued on Page 2)

Fencl Here from Bohemia

on Fencl, president of Praga with headquarters in Prague, nia is in New York.

Fencl is the head of the com- which has perfected a consoli- of theaters in Checo-Slovakia.

U" Buys Foreign Stories

versal is understood to have used the screen rights to a r of stories written by famous ean authors. Announcement obably be made in a few days.

Triangle-United

r Again in Possession of Its changes and Productions al was closed yesterday where- angle Film again comes into ion of its 18 exchanges and all productions which United Pic- heaters have been handling e middle of January.

L. Waters of Triangle yesterday that the Triangle ges would now handle the dis- n of the future United pro- s and would have charge of sical distribution of the Hall- roduct until May 1.

"I won't go. I'm your wife! How many girls did you marry anyhow?" —Marshall Neilan's, "Don't Ever Marry, a First National attraction.— Advt.

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week

The following illustrates how the leading Broadway theaters presented their programs this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

Rivoli

The spirit of Easter Week is reflected in two of the musical features of the bill, "Easter Dawn" and Inflammatus from "Stabat Mater", both utilizing the Rivoli-Rialto chorus appropriately dressed. The orchestra and stages were decorated with Easter lilies. The bill opened with "Egmont," a Beethoven overture and the Rivoli pictorial followed. As usual this is made up of subjects from practically all the weeklies including the new Selznick reel. Shots of the disaster worked in the middle west by the recent hurricane are accompanied by impressive funeral orchestration. The havoc on the sea wrought by the German raider Moewe, International pictures, are shown in silence and are made more effective in this manner. A touch of real showmanship is displayed in following these with views of the deplorable food conditions in Berlin. "Easter Dawn"

(Continued on Page 2)

Abrams, President

Would Not Be Surprising in View of Oscar A. Price' Retirement from United Artists.

That Hiram Abrams might succeed Oscar A. Price as president of United Artists was discussed as a strong probability yesterday by film folk, after they had read of the resignation of Oscar A. Price exclusively in WID'S DAILY.

Abrams has just reached Los Angeles, and it was impossible to reach him for a statement yesterday.

It may be that certain important internal matters with reference to the corporation may block Abrams from succeeding Price.

Mr. Price' successor will be elected by the directors at a meeting to be held shortly.

Stars Won't Talk

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles.—The members of the "Big 4" either know nothing about the retirement of William G. McAdoo as general counsel for the United Artists, or refuse to talk about it. Charlie Chaplin is away on a fishing trip and so could not be reached. Studio officials state quite positively that Chaplin knows nothing about the matter.

Douglas Fairbanks says he has no information regarding this affair. He states the only communication he has received from McAdoo is a telegram of congratulations on his marriage to Mary Pickford.

Miss Pickford states she has no information regarding McAdoo's retirement from the company's activities.

Capellani With Cosmopolitan?

A deal is expected to be finally closed this morning which will give Cosmopolitan Prod. at present releasing through Famous Players a series of Albert Capellani productions. The latter was recently announced by Robertson Cole as having been secured by them for four a year.

A Robertson Cole official stated that Capellani should make any statement that ought to be made. This official stated that anything Capellani did for International was with the knowledge and permission of Robertson Cole.

Last evening after most of the film offices had closed International announced that Capellani's first production for Cosmopolitan Prod. would be Winston Churchill's "Inside the Cup."

Western Producers—Eastern Representative Get SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 7 Wed. April 7, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players -----	83½	85	83½
Do, pfd. ----------	90⅜	90⅜	90⅜
Loew's, Inc. -------	31	31¼	31
*Goldwyn ----------	24	24	24
United Pict. Prod.	7	8¾	8½
Triangle ----------	½	½	½
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Monday's quotations.

Rialto Anniversary

Anniversary week will be observed at the Rialto beginning Sunday, April 18. The 22nd will be the real day that will mark four years since the theater in New York opened its doors.

Second Neilan Ready

Marshall Neilan's second production for First National is "Don't Ever Marry" a comedy drama in which appear Marjorie Daw, Matt Moore, Christine Mayo and Wesley Barry.

25 Cents Average

(Continued from Page 1)

with 400 seats, charges a general admission price of 25 cents. Prices here are on a higher scale than elsewhere, regardless of what may be said about inexpensive living conditions in California. The Imperial, Strand, Rialto, California, Portola, Tivoli and others have a top price of 75 cents or more and a number of second-run houses have a scale, the top price of which is 50 cents.

Denver presents another interesting case to the exhibitor. In this city are 20 second-run houses charging an admission price of 10 cents. Seating capacity ranges from 50 to 60 seats. The Thompson here, with 1,100 seats charges night prices of 20 and 25 cents.

One of the several first-run houses with a capacity of 1,000 or less and charging an admission of 20 cents for night performances is the Alhambra at Indianapolis.

An odd condition exists at Springfield where three second-runs have a proportionately higher minimum admission scale than the first run houses. The smallest admission price of the Phillips, Strand and Garden-second-run houses-is 17 cents while that of the Palace, Broadway and another theater is 10 and 15 cents.

Nail Schenck Rumor

First National charges "an important sales executive for at least one prominent production and distributing organization" with circulating rumors regarding the activities of the Talmadge sisters and Joseph M. Schenck and their relations to First National. The latter calls it an attempt to victimize exhibitors with "lies and slander."

New Loew Bookings

The Loew Circuit has booked for its metropolitan circuit "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" beginning Monday and the series of "Bringing up Father" comedies released through Pathe.

"The Virgin of Stamboul" will have 77 days' bookings.

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 1)

comes next and opens with a brace of fantastic silhouette scenes. The choristers are grouped before a drop giving a church window effect. A Robert Bruce scenic, short and pretty entitled "The Merry Little Put-Put" precedes the selection from "Stabat Mater" which utilized the services of Alma Doria, soprano, besides the chorus. This number went exceedingly well. The feature, "The Stolen Kiss" with Constance Binney" is No. 6 on the bill, "Speed to Spare," a Snub Pollard comedy and "Alleluia" on the organ tail the bill.

Broadway

With "The Virgin of Stamboul" entering its third week at the Broadway the rest of the bill remains practically the same, the most notable addition being the International pictures of the German raider Moewe and the destruction it worked at sea during the war.

Strand

Apropos of the Easter Week, the Russian Cathedral Quartette ren-

(Continued on Page 4)

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

THE NEW YORK TIMES SAYS:

"EDGAR'S LIFE IS TO BE CONTINUED UNDER THE GENERAL TITLE OF "THE ADVENTURES AND EMOTIONS OF EDGAR POMEROY," AND THIS FIRST CHAPTER, MORE THAN FULFILLING THE PROMISE MADE FOR IT, IS A PROMISE OF DELIGHTFUL CHAPTERS TO COME."

Goldwyn

Pathé New

No. 28

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL.—"Get-t er" Day fo Navy in West—thousan sailors and reservists hold reunion p during Naval Pageant.

MUSCEL SHOALS, ALA.—Gover nitrate plant built during war is enlarg commercial use; nitrate will be used fo tilizer and powder.

PHILADELPHIA, PA.—College
vie in first race of season-Yale oarsm feat Pennsylvania in races along the S lkill River.

IN GUANTANAMO BAY—Uncle
Navy hits the right spot! Targets ar ed out to sea for firing practice of th lantic Fleet at Cuba.

REVOLUTION IN GERMANY—
News present exclusively first pictures cent short-lived revolt of German react forces to overthrow the Erbert Gover
On March 13, 1920 at 7:40 A. M. of the new "government," under co of Gen. Luttwitz, enter Berlin with playing and colors flying.

Imperial flags wave once more—a that the "coup" was but a royalist restore the monarchist power.

Sympathizers cheer while the grea of the people look on curiouslf.

Through the Brandenburg Arch.

In front of the Chancellor's pala
Imperial Band plays the ex-Kaiser's ite tune, "Deutschland Uber Alles."

General von Luttwitz, commander-of the revolutionary troops.

WILKES BARRE, PA.—7,000 kid
ter 25,000 eggs! City holds egg h poor children, and gives prizes to d ers of hidden treasure.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.—Congress national daylight saving schedule—Ne alone decides to adopt it.

Animated Cartoon by Bert Green.

today

SIMPLE SOULS

TEXAS GUINAN

SIZZLING HOT
TWO REEL
WESTERN THRILLERS
RELEASED BY

REELCRAFT

PRODUCERS!

Among the many famous vehicles we own and control for film play-rights is

"RAFFLES"

The entire series of E. W. Hornung's astounding mystery stories and others just as great!

CELEBRATED AUTHOR'S SOCIETY

701 Seventh Ave.,
701 Seventh Ave., N. Y. C.
Bryant 1511

In actual ticket sales th
RITCHEY poster yiel greater returns than ar other advertising inves
ment that it is possible make.

RITCHEY
LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8

Ritchey

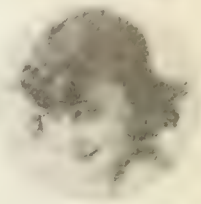
"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
ALLAN A. LOWNES GEN. MGR.

TELL THE WORLD YOU'VE GOT A NEW

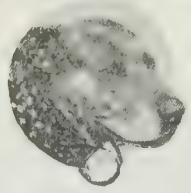
FIVE REEL SENNETT COMEDY —

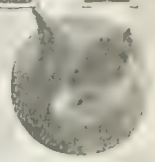
AND WATCH THE WORLD TRY TO GET INTO YOUR THEATRE

RELEASED
APRIL 25th



MACK SENNETT'S





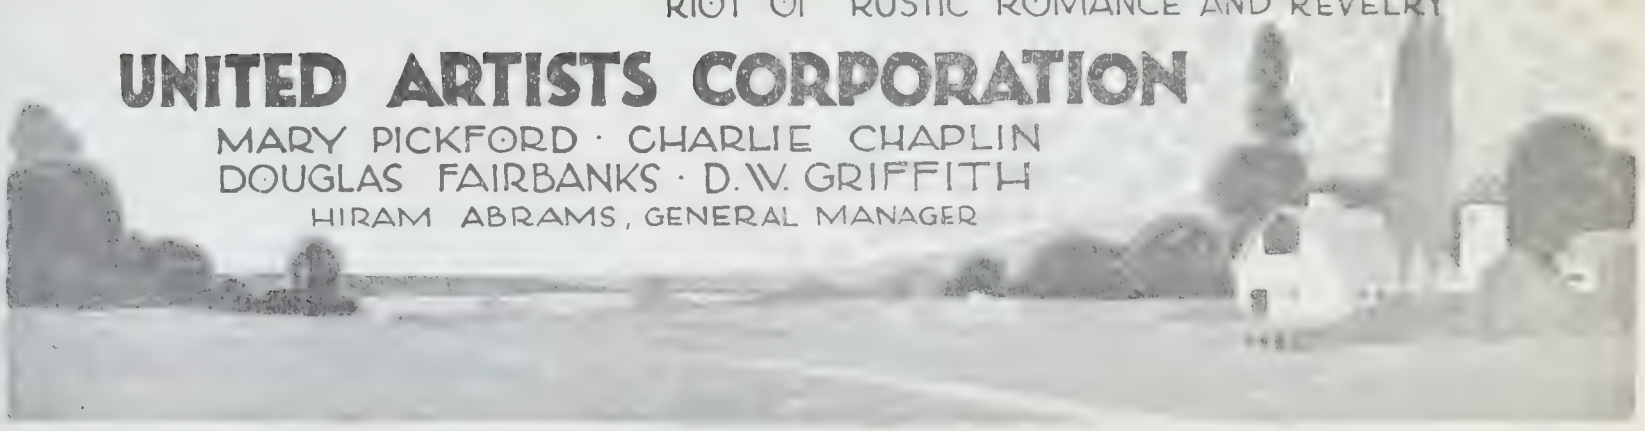
SENSATIONAL NEW
FIVE REEL
SPECIAL COMEDY

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

WITH AN ALL STAR SENNETT CAST INCLUDING—
BEN TURPIN, LOUISE FAZENDA, MARY PREVOST, JAMES FINLAYSON, BERT ROACH, HARRY GRIBBON, BILLY ARMSTRONG LITTLE JOHN HENRY, THE BABY, TEDDY, THE DOG, PEPPER THE CAT, HENS, TURKEYS, DOGS, GEESE, COWS AND ALL OTHER FARM ESSENTIALS AND ORNAMENTS IN A RIOT OF RUSTIC ROMANCE AND REVELRY

UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION

MARY PICKFORD · CHARLIE CHAPLIN
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS · D. W. GRIFFITH
HIRAM ABRAMS, GENERAL MANAGER



RELEASED APRIL 25th

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 2)

dered "Blessed Men" and Nevin's "The Rosary." The latter met with unusual applause. The stage setting represented a large church window and effective lightings enhanced the ecclesiastical atmosphere.

The overture was "Sakuntala" by Goldmark. Elora Stanford, soprano, sang "Kiss Me Again" and "The Last Rose of Summer." The program consisted of a C. L. Chester scenic, "Editorial Horse Play," and Geraldine Farrar in "The Woman and the Puppet." The organ solo was a selection from "Sweethearts."

Rialto

As at the other Broadway houses, the Rialto had its own Easter offering. Sudwarth Frazier and Edorado Albano, tenor and baritone, sang "The Palms" which was well received.

Whether the throngs who tried to gain admission to the Rialto at two o'clock on Monday consisted of Easter vacationists or those who could not get in the Rivoli last week to see John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde,' 'is hard to say. But at any rate by 2:15 there was standing room only and a great many could not get in at all. It is seldom indeed that an audience is so impressed as to applaud at the close of a feature but the matinee audience at the Rialto seemed to agree as a whole that the performance of Mr. Barrymore deserved audible praise.

"La Forza Del Destino" was the overture while other numbers were the Rialto Magazine; the Special Picture Corp. comedy "Uneasy Feet" which played at the Rivoli last week and "Polonaise Militaire," organ solo.

Capitol

The Capitol bill this week is attracting very large audiences due to the Easter holidays and the fact that a very fine combination of features is offered what with "The Woman in Room 13" holding first honors in the pictorial line and the opera "Hansel and Gretel" heading the musical numbers. "Topics of the Day" and the Capitol News preceded the overture, Glinka's "Russians and Lioudmilla." A Mrs. Sidney Drew comedy with John Cumberland featured entitled "The Stimulating Mrs. Barton" gets a good measure of laughs and subsequently some of the Topplitsky "sayinks" and acted cartoons from Life and Judge provide a different type of humor. The opera follows and is of special interest to children what with the fascinating stage effects it employs.

Buys German Plays

Zukor Closes for Screen Rights While in London

(By cable)

London, Eng.—Adolph Zukor of Famous Players has closed a deal with Samuel Rachman which gives to the former exclusive screen rights to all of the plays produced on the Berlin stage in recent years.

ALICOATE.

Samuel Rachman is known to be connected with Ben Blumenthal of the Export and Import Film Co. Inc., in some capacity. The latter, when he returned from an extensive stay in Europe, announced that he had secured film rights to the product of the Authors' Society of Central Europe.

Mr. Blumenthal intimated his connection with the above deal but refused to discuss the matter further yesterday.

Reelcraft Secures Franey Comedies

Negotiations have been completed whereby the Franey Comedies will be distributed by Reelcraft. The comedies are to be one real each, featuring William Franey, and released every other week.

Next Lloyd Scheduled for May 2.

Harold Lloyd's next comedy, scheduled for release by Pathe for May 2, is "An Eastern Westerner."

Selznick Meeting

Business matters of importance took up all of yesterday for the Select and Republic branch managers, and last night they attended the Cohn theater in a body to see Willie Collier. Tomorrow night there will be a banquet.

Rogers On Way

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

St. Louis, Mo.—Ross Rogers of Dye Ford, Rogers of Amarillo and Wichita Falls, Texas was the guest Louis exhibitors at The Statler on of honor at a luncheon of the St. Monday. Mr. Rogers is one of the largest theater owners in the Lone Star State and is on his way to attend the board of directors meeting of the National Picture Theaters to be held in New York on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Fifty exhibitors holding National franchises in St. Louis elected Eugene Freund and a Mr. Sigelaff as their directors at the convention in New York.

A special car will bear the directors from a number of southwestern states to the three days confab. E J. O'Donnell is in charge.

Training for Comedy Work

Harry Buxbaum's two year old youngster fell out of a one-story window and landed in a pile of rocks with no more serious injury than a few bruises.

Sherry Goes to Coast

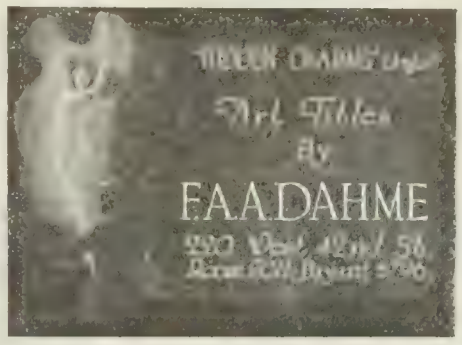
William L. Sherry of the She Service left for California yes day. He will stay there sev week's and on the return trip s off at a number of exchange c ters. Reported Sherry is seek new product.

Louis W. Thompson Here

Louis W. Thompson, president the Comedyart Prod. Los Angeles rived in New York late Mon night.

Next Week's Attractions

The Rialto will show Violet H ing in "The Cost" and the Ri Maurice Tourneur's "Treasure land," next week.



SIMPLE SOULS

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACR
LOUIS MEYE
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER
TITLE
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRA
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAM
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM

De Vry Projector
offered for sale. Good condition. Latest model. Price reasonable.
NAT LEVINE
Murray Hill 3018
47 W. 42nd St., N. Y.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
225 N 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

There are still a few..
exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII. No. 8. Thursday, April 8, 1920 Price 5 Cents

New President

y M. Crandall Succeeds Mess-re Kendall as President of Associated Exhibitors rry M. Crandall of Washington, ., was elected president of As-ed Exhibitors, Inc., during the e of a meeting of the Board of tors held Monday and Tuesday s city. Crandall succeeds Mess- Kendall, whose resignation as dent was accepted by the Board ew of the fact that pressure of business made it impossible for o continue in an executive ca-ndall's office as treasurer is to ed by H. H. Wellenbrink, who w secretary and treasurer, as s a member of the Board of Di- s.

number of important negotia- were virtually closed and im- t business transacted during eeting. After the meeting an- ment was made by General ger F. C. Quimby that, while members of the publicity and itation departments of Gold- have been discharged. Only are termed, heads of depart- now remain at Goldwyn as exhibitors' servive and exploit- are concerned.

(Page 2)

Six Let Out

Goldwyn, it was admitted that l people had been let out but was nothing specially import- out it, it was said.

M. [illegible]t

Special to WID'S DAILY)

anapolis, Ind.—Frank Rem- states that a meeting of the ex- e committee of the Motion Pic- Exhibitors of America, Inc., e held shortly at which time a e date will be set for the annual ntion.

Only One Capellani

ry Cahane stated yesterday Albert Capellani would make one production for Cosmopoli- rod., "Inside the Cup" as an- ed exclusively in WID'S Y yesterday.

arrangement does not involve omplications with Robertson le for whom Capellani will do r year. "Cap's" [illegible] R. C e "Kismet" with [illegible]

Sidney Drew is now en route Los Angeles to attend the S. Drew Post benefit at the Amsterdam Sunday night.

"What's the matter bo? I didn't flirt with your wife!"—Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Warren Resigns

F. B. Warren, vicepresident and sales manager of the W. W. Hodkinson Corp. yesterday tendered his resignation effective on April 10,—Saturday.

About a year ago F. B. Warren retired from the Goldwyn Pictures Corp. as vice-president and sales manager and joined W. W. Hodkinson. Since then the growth of the Hodkinson business has been one of the sensational features of the industry.

Reports rom throughout the country indicate that some of the recent Hodkinson productions have developed sales values equal to several of the outstanding successes of the year.

Wants Detense League

Willard C. Patterson of Atlanta Ga., has sent a call to independent exhibitors to meet in Chicago on April 26 where plans will be discussed for the formation of an exhibitors' defense league.

Washburn Leaves

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles.—Bryant Washburn will shortly leave the Famous Players fold. From present indications it looks as if he would leave after the completion of his present picture but if his plans do not materialize before that time, he will make another one for Famous Players. That, however, will be the last.

It is generally understood here that Washburn has had offers from First National and Associated Exhibitors.

The First National executive offices did not know anything about the Washburn report yesterday.

At Famous Players it was stated that Washburn's contract with that organization had almost expired.

Parker to Director Norma

Albert Parker who directed Clara Kimball Young in "Eyes of Youth" for Equity, it is understood, will direct Norma Talmadge in a picture for First National.

Selznick Deals

Closes for English Distribution and Signs Collier and Louise Huff To Star for Him

Announcement of a three-fold deal was made yesterday to the Selznick-Select-Republic sales force assembled in convention at the Astor.

Lewis J. Selznick announced that he had entered into contract with the Walturdaw Company, Ltd., of London, to take over the distribution in the British Isles the product of the Select and Selznick producing companies to the minimum extent of 78 pictures a year, this deal involving in excess of $2,000,000. The contract was closed with Colonel A. H. Brown, who came from London to close this deal with Selznick. It is also the intention, under the contract, for Selznick to shortly commence production in England.

William Collier, now starring on Broadway in "The Hottentot," is to be presented by Selznick in "The New Butler."

The fact that the first Collier production was completed and ready for screening was kept a secret especially for the convention. "The New Butler" was shown. Select will distribute the subject.

Myron Selznick has signed a contract with Louise Huff as a star for the next five years, beginning immediately.

The exhibitor members of National Picture Theaters will assemble in Lewis J. Selznick's office this morning at 11 o'clock, and immediately after that enter a business session at the Astor.

The Board of Directors will be elected during the session.

Get Hodkinson for Canada

The Canadian Exhibitors Exchange with offices in Toronto and Montreal yesterday signed contracts with P. N. Brinch of Hodkinson giving the former the Hodkinson franchise for Canada.

The company plans to open exchanges in St. John, N. B., and in Winnipeg while Hodkinson will maintain representatives in each territory.

Messrs. Brady and Alexander represented the Canadian organization. They left for Toronto last night immediately after closing the deal.

A forthcoming American production is "The House of Toys," the novel by Henry Russell Miller.

For special "TIE UP" work, Use SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 8 Thurs. April 8, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ---	83½	85	83½
*Do. pfd. --------	90⅜	90⅜	90⅜
Goldwyn ----------	24	24	24
Loew's Inc. -------	31	31¼	31
Triangle ----------	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod.	5½	8	8
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Tuesday's quotations.

Orders Re-Trial.

Justice Ford who tried the suit brought by the U. S. Printing and Lithographing Co. against P. A. Powers and others in which the jury gave a verdict for $50,000 against the defendant set aside the verdict yesterday. A second trial will be ordered in several days.

Second Story for Butler

Los Angeles.—The second story for David Butler, with D. N. Schwab Prod. will be based in "Alice in Underland" by Henry Payson Dowst. It will be released under the title of "Smilin' All the Way."

Putting It Over

Here is now a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Since he cannot present his usual show on Sundays, W. E. Drumbar, manager of the Signal Amusement House has hit upon the scheme of giving a special performance for newspapermen. So far he has received must free publicity in each of the local dailies as a result of these shows for reviewing purposes, and it helps fill the house during the rest of the week.

To Fight Deposit System

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Detroit, Mich.—The Michigan M. P. Exhibitors' Association at a meeting held on Tuesday appointed a legislative committee to combat what is termed an "unfair deposit system."

The meeting was an enthusiastic one. Fred Delodder of the Delphe and Maxine theaters was elected a director while the personnel of the board of directors was increased to 15: seven from Detroit and eight from the rest of the state. Plans were made for the reception which will be held here shortly. Doris Kenyon will be here from New York to attend.

Buffalo Capitol Opens

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Buffalo.—The New Capitol theater S. Park Ave. and Triangle St. has opened with "A Virtuous Vamp" as the opening attraction.

The theater is conducted by Messrs. Hall and Hanny who own the Maxine and Capitol.

Will Make Film in Denver

Portland, Ore.—The Ore-Col Film Corp., recently organized in with A. D. Frost, president, and O. D. Woodward, vice-president, has purchased "Black Sheep" by Will Payne.

The corporation has secured John B. O'Brien todirect. The production is to be made in Denver. Work will start at once.

Asso. 1st Nat'l in Missouri

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—The Corporation Trust Co. has chartered a company known as the Associated First National Pictures of Missouri with a capitalization of $195,000.

Skouras Bros. of St. Louis recently acquired the First National franchise for Missouri.

The First National executive offices knew nothing about the above incorporation yesterday but it is believed that the company was formed to act as the territorial franchise holding unit for that state.

Not in Control

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago.—Willis and Eckels state that Ross and Mack have not taken over Willis, Eckels and Mack but merely the department handling prints and cuts as handled by the latter.

Willis and Eckels will conduct their business as heretofore with the absence of Irving Mack as a firm member.

Tippett En Route West

John D. Tippett of Tippett London, England, is now on his to California.

Schulberg in Los Angeles

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY

Los Angeles.—Benjamin P. berg is in town. John D. T whom Schulberg represents in erica and expected shortly.

Rene Silz no longer con with Murray . Garsson in th duct of Fine Arts Pictures Cor

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

OR:—
MAE TINEE OF THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, SAID: "I THINK WILL ROGERS IS LOVELY! BUT, GIVING CREDIT WHERE CREDIT IS DUE, EVERYBODY CONCERNED, SUBTITLE WRITERS INCLUDED, MADE REASONABLE USE OF THE BRAINS GOD GAVE THEM IN THE PRODUCTION OF "WATER, WATER EVERYWHERE."

Goldwyn

The plentiful use of RITCHEY posters result in plenty of prosperity for plenty of exhibitors.

RITCHEY LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St. N. Y., Phone Chelsea 8

DON PAY
More than 3½ ... ts per foot
the best Positiv ... tles in quan
FINEFILM LAB ... ATORIES
Ridgefield Pa ... New Jersey
New York Ph ... Bryant ...

NAZIMOVA
is a customer of ours. She was j other day to make a record purch had better come on in and give us over.

RICHARDSON
607 West Seventh

Victrolas and Grafonolas
Phone 649 ... Opp. Fo
Los Angeles, Cal

SIMPL SOUL

THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

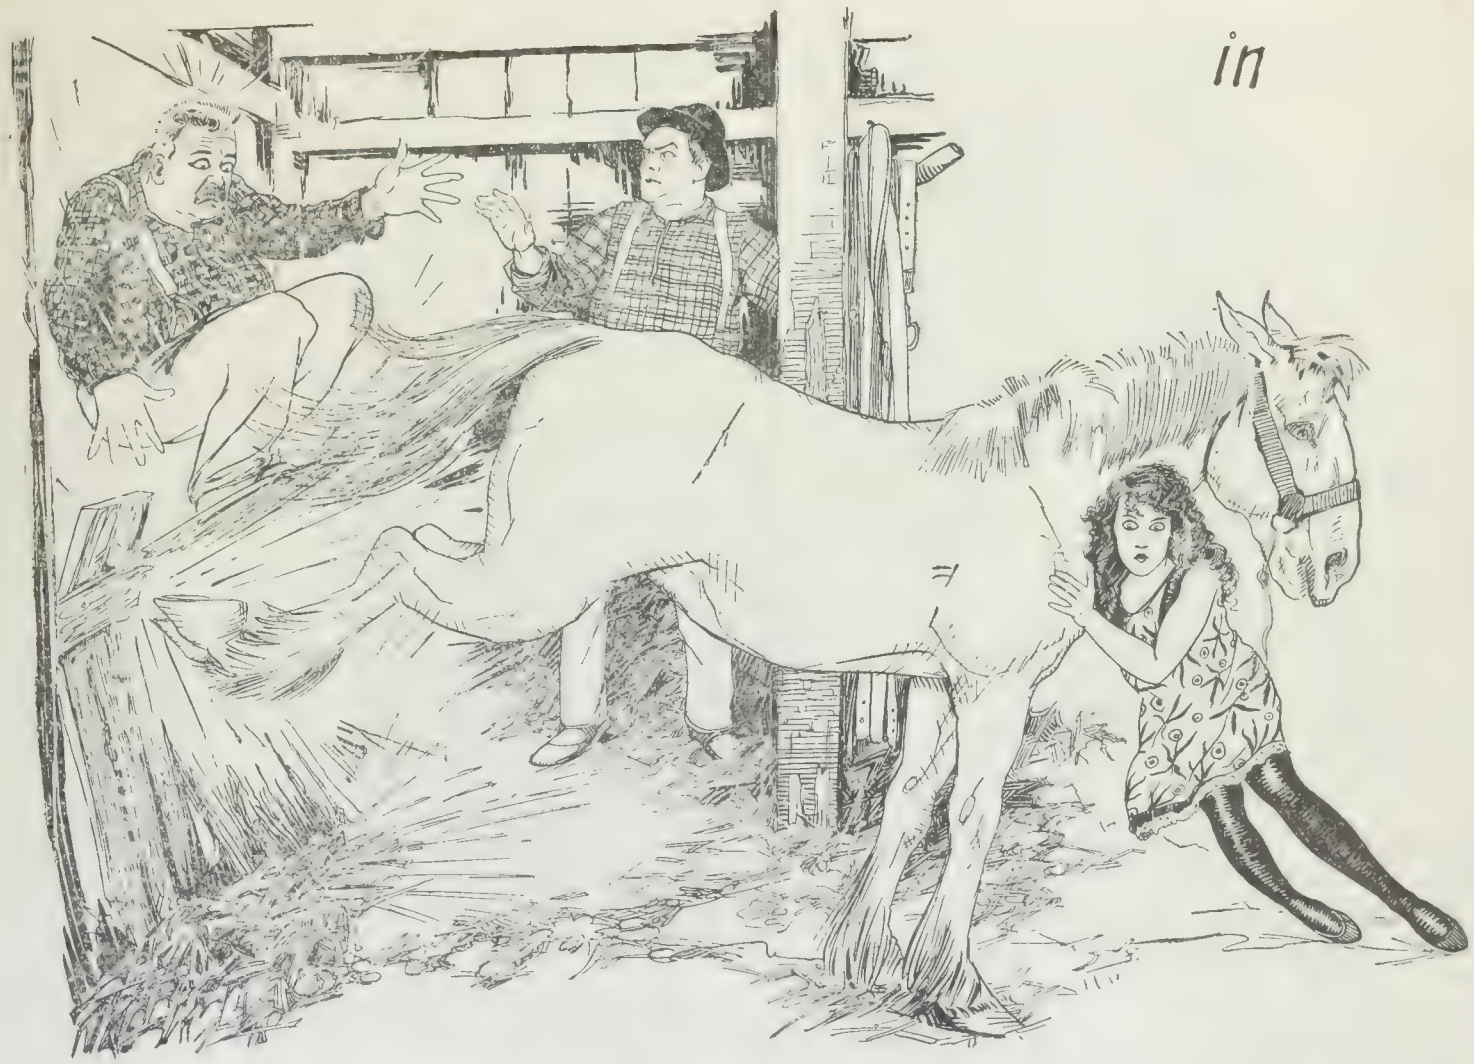
"The Safety Sign"

"Insurance Of All Kinds"

Reuben Samuels Insurance

Action! Thrills! and a Million Laughs

in



MACK SENNETT'S

Newest Comedy

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

FIVE BIG SENSATIONAL REELS WITH AN ALL STAR CAST OF SENNETT FAVORITES
RELEASED APRIL 25th

Booking Now Through
UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION
MARY PICKFORD · CHARLIE CHAPLIN
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS · D.W. GRIFFITH
Hiram Abrams, General Manager

By Control in Exchange

Chicago, Ill.—Floyd M. Brockel and Clyde Elliott have bought the interests of Lubliner and Trinz in Greater Stars Productions, an independent exchange.

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

BILLY WEST
SPILLS SCREAMS AND LAUGHTER FROM THE TICKLE BOX RELEASED BY
REELCRAFT

Farrar Signs

With Associated Exhibitors, According to Report

It is understood that all arrangements have practically been completed, and that Geraldine Farrar will sign a contract with Associated Exhibitors, of which F. C. Quimby, formerly of Pathe, is general manager.

Arrangements will be rushed to give Miss Farrar a story which will allow her to appear to her best advantage, and efforts are now being made to secure a prominent director to handle Miss Farrar and the several productions which in all likelihood will be made in the East. Miss Farrar is tired of working California. Actual work will start sometime in May. Miss Farrar will work all summer and it is expected that she will produce two productions for release through the Associated Exhibitors.

Miss Farrar thus becomes the first star of the new exhibitor co-operative organization. She recently cancelled her contract with Goldwyn.

Associated Exhibitors are said to be almost ready to announce the names of three additional stars.

New President

(Continued from Page 1)

arrangements for at least one source of product practically were completed, and while assurances of several other big special productions were forthcoming, there still remain formal details to be gone through which make it inadvisable to make the arrangements public at the moment.

Mr. Quimby stated that the changes in executive personnel would in no wise affect the workings of the organization. He is known to have been negotiating with many important individuals and factors in the industry during the past few weeks.

According to members of the Board of Directors Mr. Kendall's resignation was accepted with regret. It is understood that Mr. Kendall stated that no matter what his personal wishes in the case might be, he felt that the affairs of the Capitol Theater and affiliated business interests required so much of his time that he could not possibly do justice to the Capitol and to the Associated Exhibitors at the same time.

Mr. Kendall explained also that, inasmuch as the Capitol Theater Enterprise already is engaged in the production of pictures to a small extent and,undoubtedly, will go into production on a much larger scale soon, he felt that such activities would not be consistent with a continuation of his holding office in the Associated Exhibitors.

More Territory Sold

Arthur Ziehm, foreign manager for Goldwyn has sold the company's third year output for Argentine, Paraguay and Uruguay. Also for China and Japan.

PRODUCERS!
Among the many famous vehicles we own and control for film play-rights is
"RAFFLES"
The entire series of E. W. Hornung's astounding mystery stories and others just as great!
CELEBRATED AUTHOR'S SOCIETY
701 Seventh Ave.,
701 Seventh Ave., N. Y. C.
Bryant 1511

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF MOTION PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
FRIAR'S CLUB 9400 BRYANT

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
145 W. 45 ST. BRYANT 8973.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

SIMPLE SOULS

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
Earle Williams in
"When a Man Loves"
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JENKS
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmond
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

There are still a few-- exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XII. No. 9 Friday, April 9, 1920 Price 5 Cents

National Meets

hibitors Here for Formation of New Selznick Organization— Crandall May Resign.

number of important exhibitors hed town yesterday to take part he first meeting of National Pic- Theaters, Inc.—the Selznick co- rative exhibitor movement. After ting L. J. yesterday morning they t into business sessions which ed all during the day.

is understood that Harry Cran- of Washington, one of the vice- idents, will tender his resigna- as an official, because of the fact he has just been elected presi- of Associated Exhibitors, and belief that it would be unfair to upy a vice-presidency of one co- rative exhibitor movement when was chief executive of another.

he Board of Directors will be ed during the meeting.

ast night the Select and Republic s managers had a "stag" dinner he Astor. There were business ions all day.

he sales managers presented gen- manager Sam Morris with a lsome set of evening dress studs links, and to sales manager rles Rogers a diamond and plat- scarf pin.

Dent Promoted

mes Dent has been promoted to post of chief assistant to Myron nick in charge of studio opera- s for Selznick.

na Keefe, of Selznick, left yes- ay for Worcester, Mass., where was guest of honor at an exhib- ball.

They're All in London

(By cable)

ndon, Eng.—The aggregation of men assembling at the Savoy is growing weekly. The lobby nbles the Astor.

ose now present include Adolph r, Samuel Goldwyn, Gabriel , Ralph Block, Paul Cromelin, Plunkett, George E. Kann of ersal, Sydney Reynolds, now Alliance Film Corp. Ltd., Wil- A. Brady, and Carle Carlton is Gest is also here.

ALICOATE.

Crisp to Direct Hawley.

essure of other work has forced Woods to resign the assignment rect Wanda Hawley in "Miss s" for Realart, and Donald succeeds him. Crisp has di- l the last five Washburn pic-

"Give me that phone, who is this woman calling you up?"—"Don't Ever Marry," a Marshall Neilan production for First National.—Advt.

Hoyt Plays to Ray

Charles Ray Prod. Inc., has purchased 14 of the most famous of Charles Hoyt's dramatic works for adaptation the screen. With a purchase price said to run into large figures, the acquisition of these farce comedies gives the star's producing organization a wealth of screen material. The group includes: "A Black Sheep," "A Brass Monkey," "A Contented Woman," "A Day and a Night," "A Dog in the Manger," "A Hole in the Ground," "A Midnight Bell," "A Milk White Flag," "A Rag Baby," "A Runaway Colt," "A Stranger in New York," "A Trip to Chinatown," "A Texas Steer" and "A Temperance Town."

It is not known whether Ray will find any of these plays adaptable to his own personal uses.

Los Angeles—Charles Ray will probably go to Europe in about a year to make a film in London. At present he is working on "Peaceful Valley. First release will be "45 Minutes from Broadway."

James Leaves Fox

Arthur James, director of publicity of the Fox Film Corp., has tendered his resignation effective Saturday, April 17. His successor has not yet been appointed. It is understood that James will open an office for general advertising and publicity as well as film work and in connection with this will undertake a campaign for the National Council for Defense.

All Set for the Ball

The big affair of the season in motion picture social circles, is the Motion Picture Director's Association Ball, Biltmore, to-morrow night.

Interspersing the dancing, the music for which will be furnished by two Orlando orchestras, will be entertainment of a quality heretofore unknown in connection with an affair of the kind.

Supper will be served in the banquet hall adjoining the large ball room, and the entire 17th floor will be taken over by the Association for the evening.

Personal Charge

Of Sales Will Be Taken Over by W. W. Hodkinson in His Corporaton.

W. W. Hodkinson said yesterday that he would personally attend to the conduct of his sales department "for the time being at least," in view of the unexpected resignation of F. B. Warren as vice-president and sales manager of the firm.

"During the past year," continued Mr. Hodkinson, "I have been looking into the production end of the business, but that is pretty well set now, and I will be able to take up Mr. Warren's work. Our organization is in splendid shape."

There was much speculation throughout the trade yesterday when Warren's resignation, as published exclusively in WID'S DAILY, became known. A number of telephone calls were received at this office inquiring whether Warren's future plans were known. There was much interest as to whether he intended to engage again in motion picture distribution or devote his entire attention to his bond and investment business, F. B. Warren & Co., with offices at 15 Maiden Lane, and branches in Philadelphia and other important cities.

More Percentage

A prominent exhibitor of a small northerncity writes. "With reference to percentage bookings. Last week we had a visit from the P-A special representative. He is a wonderful talker, but he didn't convince us. Neither has he convinced the other boys in our immediate territory, so far as we can learn. We are keeping in touch with each other on the proposition, in order that each may know what the other is doing. We think it is perfectly safe to say that we shall get next year's pictures on a flat rental basis."

Beck and Garrett Return.

Arthur F. Beck and Sidney Garrett returned to New York yesterday from Los Angeles, where they arranged for a studio site.

Lichtman Due To-day.

Al Lichtman of Famous Players is due in his office to-day from Los Angeles.

NEW press book IDEAS, SOLOMON has 'em, he's wise.—Advt.

Wid's DAILY — THE RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 9 Fr. April 9, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

J. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order. Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	83¾	85	83¾
Do pfd	90¼	90⅞	90⅞
Goldwyn	24	25	24¼
Loew's Inc.	31¾	33	32
First Nat. Prod.	4	6	5
World, 1st pfd.	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

"U" To Film Leitch Story

Universal Industrial will film "Man Man," written by John Leitch who has prepared the scenario. Harry Levey will direct the picture.

Leitch's story deals with industrial democracy and the control of factor by a system similar to the nationa government of this country.

Jack Livingston has completed hi work at Universal and has signed contract with Metro.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 EAST 45TH STREET
NEW YORK
THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR

Sir:

THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE SAID "TEMPESTUOUS AND CARMENESQUE, WITH MISS FARRAR, ROSE TWIXT HER LIPS INDULGINC IN MAD DANCES AND STREET FIGHTS. "THE WOMAN AND THE PUPPET" IS SUPERBLY PHOTOGRAPHED, WELL ACTED, AND THE SUBTITLES CONCISE AND BEAUTIFULLY ILLUSTRATED

Goldwyn

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

The Cosmopolitan Book Co. has issued a book mark which should help exploit "The River's End." It refers to that as James Oliver Curwood's greatest story of the Canadian Northwest, and explains that it is presented in picture form by Marshall Neilan and can be seen "At leading photoplay theaters." Beneath the latter inscription is the remark that the book is for sale at all bookstores.

Chillicothe, O.—"Stop Work Monday—or come after church on Sunday. Here is a picture that'll give you something to talk about. Bring the whole family, etc.," read a herald issued by C. A. Smith of the Sherman, after he had booked "Male and Female." Any reference to discontinuing work makes an impression on the rural mind, and since many of his patrons are farmers, he filled the house.

"Gumps" in New England

Special to WID'S DAILY

Boston, Mass.—First National Exchange has purchased New England rights to "The Gumps" the cartoon series distributed by Celebrated Players, of Chicago. M. J. Mintz closed the deal with First National.

Two Theaters in R. C. Bldg.

The new Robertson Cole building planned for 723-7th Ave. will have two theaters on the roof. The theaters will be used for private exhibitions and will be equipped with an organ.

Star Series for "U"

Universal will revert to the star series of bookings beginning July 1.

There will be six stars, each exploited in a series of eight productions—Edith Roberts, Harry Carey, Frank Mayo, Lyons and Moran, Carmel Myers and a new star now being sought.

Nothing has been said about Priscilla Dean or the number of Jewel productions to be released. The latter brand included in recent months such films as "The Right to Happiness," "The Great Air Robbery," "Blind Husbands and "The Devil's Pass-Key." Universal until now has been booking in series of 12. There were three series of these: the Big 12, the Money Making 12 and the S. R. O. 12.

New Theater for Jersey City

Jersey City, N. J.—A twelve story structure including a hotel and motion picture theater will be built on the Boulevard and Sip Ave. The theater will seat 1,500. Stoweden Realty Corp., Dr. H. M. Jaffe, president will build.

Colin Campbell, who is directing Dustin Farnum in "Big Happiness" has gone to Baldy to shoot some snow stuff.

SIMPLE SOULS

Frank Beal has been loaned to by Marshall Neilan for the direc of "The World of Folly," featu Vivian Rich.

Full sets of RITCHEY posters prevent half filled auditoriums.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8381

Ritchey

ALICE HOWEL

KNOCKS 'EM OUT OF THEIR SEATS WITH LAUGHTER

RELEASED BY

REELCRAF

Modern Equipped Studio for Rent, Floor Space, 60 x 150. Terms Most Reasonable in New York.

WEISS
Room 524 1476 Broadway
Bryant 4416

Assistant Director at liberty —Can handle all branches of a production. Available immediately.

Box B 19—Care of WID'S

STATE RIGHT BUYE
Get Acquainted With

"THE UNKNOWN RANGE

STARRING
REX RAY

5-REEL WESTERN FEATURE

Full of Punch and Thr

AYWON FILM CO
NATHAN HIRSH, Pr
729 Seventh Ave., N. Y

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.

225 N. 13th Street
Philadelphia, Pa

64 W. Randolph St.
Chicago, Ill.

HERE'S WHAT WE OFFER OUR FRANCHISE HOLDERS FOR A START—

2 James Oliver Curwood Productions
Mr. Curwood is himself writing the continuity and we confidently anticipate remarkable pictures. His own producing company will produce them.

8 Marshall Neilan Productions
"The River's End" is his first.

6 Charles Ray Productions with option on 6 more.
Each from a well-known story or play.

16 Norma Talmadge Productions each from a big story or play.

12 Constance Talmadge Productions.
Constance is the strongest comer in the business.

12 Katherine MacDonald Productions.
Her new ones will be from big stories or plays.

4 Lionel Barrymore Productions.
Each from a famous and we mean FAMOUS stage play, supervised by Whitman Bennett.

6 Anita Stewart Productions.
Each from a famous story or play.

6 Mildred Harris Chaplin Productions, with option on six more.

1 King Vidor Production with option on six more.

and

4 more Charlie Chaplin Comedies

1 more D. W. Griffith Production.

—and we'll announce some more big names mighty soon.

A First National FRANCHISE

is worth waiting for

ASSOCIATED FIRST NATIONAL PICTURES INC.

Address Inquiries to
First National Exhibitors Circuit, Inc.
6 W. 48th St., New York, N. Y.

Exhibitors Defense Committee composed of members of
The First National Exhibitors Circuit, Inc.

Radiosoul Exchange

Radiosoul Films, Inc., have opened an exchange in the Leavitt Bldg. A second film, "The Eternal Feminine" with Victor Seastrom is now ready for release.

Expect Contract With Swedish Co.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles.—Winifred Westover, now with Fox, will sail for Sweden shortly to become a star with a company known as the Central Film Co. Contracts are said to be on the way here from New York.

Broadway, Norfolk, to Seat 2,400

Norfolk, Va.—R. D. Craver and Pryor Bros. will operate the Broadway which will cost $300,000 and seat 2,400.

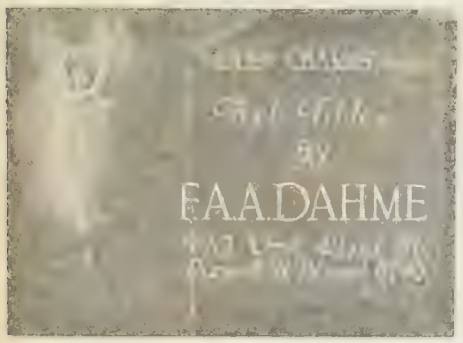
Advertising Managers and Publicity Men:

Save money, worry and time on your press sheets, and get a higher grade of work. Phone or write

Lawrence (Larry) Urbach,
1587 Broadway

Bryant 8445

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511



In the Courts

The Rogers Films Corp. has been sued in the Supreme Court by Tefft Johnson for $3,200. The summons does not state the cause of action.

Orrin Johnson has sued Goldwyn Pictures Corp. for $5,100 damages. The complaint alleges that the defendant engaged him at $850 a week to act in Rupert Hughes's "Scratch My Back," and that he was to begin on Jan. 26. He says he would have been employed at least six weeks but the defendant refused to carry out the contract.

News Men May Organize

All of the recognized news reels: International, Pathe, Selznick, Fox, Kinograms and Gaumont may form a co-operative organization for the purpose of facilitating the filming of events of national and international importance.

Several meetings have already been held and the present outlook seems to indicate the formation of a permanent body.

E. B. Hatrick, general manager of the International News Weekly stated yesterday that the number of applications filed to film the forthcoming yachting races by independent operators had caused some difficulty to the recognized news weekly men. The organization would take care of such matters as this and other similar difficulties which may arise from time to time.

Loew in Akron

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland, O.—Marcus Loew will erect a 4,000 theater on Main St., here. The theater will be known as Loew's Hippodrome and will have a second entrance on Bowery St. The entire project will cost $1,250,000.

Loew plans theaters in additional cities in northern Ohio.

Marcus Loew verified the above dispatch yesterday.

He said he intends making memorandums in the future of newly acquired sites for theaters so he will know just what's best.

The way it is now, said Mr. Loew, he discovers a lot of new theaters when contractors and builders ask him for money.

Walthall May Sign

Los Angeles.—Henry B. Walthall who recently completed a series of productions for National Film may shortly announce a new starring affiliation, according to his own statements.

Walthall started "The Splendid Hazard" for Allan Dawn but did not finish the engagement.

Stromberg Syndicates Articles

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles.—Hunt Stromberg, publicity director for Thomas H. Ince is syndicating a series of articles among 35 newspapers on Ince's methods of production and hitherto unpublished views on production methods.

The series comprises seven articles and has been copyrighted to prevent reproduction by correspondence schools and "quack" studio operators.

Douglas Fairbanks has purchased an original story by Louis Weadock which may be produced in the near future.

BESS MEREDITH
and
WILFRED LUCAS
Writing and Directing
Australian Features

Address
Care Snowy Baker
84 Oxford Street
Sydney, N. S. W. Australia
Cable Address
"Snowing Sydney"

SIMPLE SOULS

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACI
LOUIS MEYE
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER
TITLE
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGR
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SA
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM

PEGGY HYLAND

There are still a few-- exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies
"Money Talks"
"Virtuous Husbands"
"Dablin in Society"
"Footlight Maids"
"Schoolhouse Scandal"
"The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"The Heart Snatcher"
"The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"
Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

OL. XII. No. 10 Saturday, April 10, 1920 Price 5 Cen

Killing Deposits

New York State—Bill Going to Governor.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Albany, N. Y.—The proposed law hich will have the effect of safe-iarding the interests of exhibitors is been passed by the Senate. The ll amends the general business law relation to money deposited or ad-nced on a contract to be applied payments thereunder when due.

This legislation is designed to pro-ct exhibitors who have been re-uired to make big deposits. The ex-bitors contend that they are forced pay anywhere from 5 to 100 per nt of the amounts of their con-ncts. They also claim that they ve been frequently the victims of reliable firms and cases of bank-ptcy.

If the bill becomes a law it will be e means of affording protection to e exhibitors in numerous ways.

Another bill which has passed the nate and is also sponsored by Sen-or Cotillo, provides for the admis-n of children between the ages 10 and 16 years to attend picture uses in the City of New York after hool hours and before 8 o'clock in evening not accompanied by par-or guardian. According to the ovisions of the bill these children l be under the personal charge of matron and a particular section of theater will be set aside for their lusive use.

The services of the matron will be d by the management of the thea-, who will also pay a fee of $15 the Society for the Prevention of elty to Children for their approval the character of the matron ap-nted to the position.

These two bills will now go to the sembly for concurrence. If they s the Assembly they go to the vernor for his consideration.

Drew Post Benefit To-morrow

The S. Rankin Drew Post of the erican Legion will hold its benefit morrow night at the New Am-dam.

A large number of film publicity n in New York will attend the efit which will have the three Bar-nores on one bill as the main fea-. James J. Corbett and Mrs. iney Drew will appear among ers.

In view of the "Current Re-leases" feature now appearing n the Sunday issue of WID'S DAILY, the quarterly index of features reviewed will here-after be discontinued.

"Don't be bashful, lady. Yer in fer life"—Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry," a First N ational attraction. —Advt.

"Big 4" Situation

Abrams Denies Retirement of McAdoo—Fairbanks Tells of Stock Holdings.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Hiram Abrams said yesterday that he had no knowledge of his possible election as president of United Artists, succeeding Oscar A. Price, and added that if correct this announcement will be made by the Board of Directors in New York. He denies that W. G. McAdoo has retired as counsel for the United Artists.

Board of directors of United Artists will meet in New York on April 20, when a successor to President

(Continued on Page 4)

Worthington Out of Haworth

William Worthington, who supplied the "worth" in Haworth, has retired as president of the corporation and has been succeeded by A. B. C. Dohrmann of San Francisco.

Worthington is now directing for Gibraltar Pictures in the East.

Directors Elected

National Picture Theaters Hold First Real Business Meeting Yesterday at the Astor.

The first real business meeting of the exhibitor members of National Picture Theaters, Inc., was held yesterday in the Astor. Lewis J. Selznick, head of the movement, made an offer to do anything that the exhibitors present desired in order to perfect a real live co-operative organization.

(Continued on Page 4)

Report Deal in Italian Films

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Washington—"Commerce Reports" say: "Consul Busser reports from Trieste that newspapers of Trieste report that, according to an agreement between the Cito Cinema, the Unione Cinematografica Italiana, and the Austrian Universum Films A. G., the whole output of the two Italian companies mentioned will be sold in Germany, Austria, and Russia by the Austrian Universum Films Co."

English Combine?

Zukor, Jury and Beaverbrook Reported to Be Allies.

(By cable)

London, Eng.—Film circles her are discussing freely the report tha Adolph Zukor, Sir William Jury c Jury's Imperial Theaters and Lor Beaverbrook are endeavoring to per fect a huge combine which woul control England.

At a recent meeting of the Cine matograph Exhibitors' Associatio A. E. Newbould, director of the Pro vincial Cinematograph Theaters an the Associated Provincial Pictur Houses, stated that Lord Beaver brook was not in control of thos companies. Newbould also state that Beaverbrook retained a ver small share in Famous Players.

There is some speculation as t the real reason for Zukor's recer trip to Copenhagen.

ALICOATE

After Mr. Zukor sailed for Eng land on March 10, WID'S DAIL published an article relative to th above cable.

Levey to Film President Portraits

President Wilson has given permis sion for the Educational Departmer of Universal to film the portraits c the Presidents of the United State in the rooms and galleries of th White House, Washington, these pi tures to be used in "Our Presidents a picture being made for use in pul lic and private schools.

Keenan Here

Frank Keenan is back m Ne York from Los Angeles.

"Cap" to Direct Davies

It is understood that Albert Cape lani will direct Marion Davies i "The Inside of the Cup" for Cosmo politan Prod.

Young Succeeds Hurst

Howard I. Young, editor of th Paramount Magazine, has succeede W. O. Hurst as manager of produ tion of the non-fiction department Famous Players. He continues editor of the magazine as well.

Walcamp Co. Arrives

San Francisco—The Marie Wa camp company arrived here yeste day morning from the Orient. Ca Laemmle met them at the pier.

The IDEA Inventor SOLOMON, he's wis —Advt

Vol. XII No. 10 Sat. April 10, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second class matter May 21, 1918 at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order. Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives: Willis & Eckels 5th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
amous Players ..	83¾	86¼	84¾
*Do pfd.	90¼	90⅞	90⅞
oldwyn	23½	25	24
oew's Inc.	32¾	34⅞	33⅛
riangle	½	½	½
nit. Pict. Prod...	4½	6	5
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Thursday's quotations.

Lloyd Comedies Booking

The second series of Harold Lloyd's six two reelers has been given considerable booking. The Strand and Capitol have booked them day and date, and the following houses will also play them: Loew's Victoria, Greeley Square, Lincoln Square, American, Orpheum, Boulevard, Nation-, De Kalb, Fulton, Delancey Street, Palace, Avenue B, Warwick, Circle, New York, 42nd Street, Broadway, 46th Street, Seventh Ave., Bijou, Lurland, Brevoort, Hoboken and Metropolitan; Moss' Flatbush, Jefferson, Regent, Hamilton and Dyckman; Brooklyn Strand.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
A GOLDWYN YEAR

Sir:

The Chicago News has this to say about "The Woman and the Puppet":

.."Miss Farrar is a joy as the whimsical Concha. Her portraiture is sincere and not a bit exaggerated. Lou Tellegen acts opposite while half a dozen other prominent players lend charm to the production."

Goldwyn

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Charlie Murray the comedian has signed a new contract with Mack Sennett.

It was variously reported that Murray would form his own producing unit.

Sara Mason, new Metro writer, has begun work on the continuity for her first picture, "Held in Trust," from a magazine story. It's for May Allison.

Bessie Barriscale has decided to adapt all her screen plays for some time to come from the serials and short stories written by Kathleen Norris, the California authoress who has gained wide popularity as a writer of women's stories.

Bertram Bracken has been engaged by Louis B. Mayer to direct Anita Stewart, who has just finished "The Yellow Typhoon."

Irene Weston, former Follies beauty, is going into pictures.

John Hohenvest, for several years a producer in Europe is now at the Goldwyn studios studying American methods of production.

George Irving who has just finished directing his second L. Lawrence Weber production, has left for New York.

Filming of "The Temple of Dawn," in which Bert Lytell stars, has been started at the Metro studio.

Ruth Stonehouse will play the part of the young reporter of a "scandal sheet" in "Parlor, Bedroom and Bath," for Metro.

Merwyn LeRoy, late of LeRoy & Cooper, will be seen in Famous Players-Lasky releases from now on. LeRoy is a nephew of Jesse L. Lasky.

Mabel Julienne Scott has just been engaged to play the leading feminine role in George Melford's next, three special productions.

Negotiations have been closed between Dustin Farnum and N. W. Aronson for the purchase of "Big Happiness."

GAUSMAN.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Cincinnati, O.—Music will figure prominently in the exploitation of Selznick pictures playing in Ohio in many cases, during the summer Jimmie Carrier, Selznick's local exploitation manager arranged to have the 32 piece band of Maysville, Kentucky, composed of boys, none over 16 years of age march in Selznick picture parades.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Managing Director Robert Poole of the California put over "Uneasy Feet," the novel comedy in which the entire 1,400 feet of film are devoted to feet, by flashing on the screen simultaneously with the picture, titles of songs, marches and arias which the orchestra played. These were visible on the portion of the screen which was dark, and suited the action so as to draw numerous laughs.

Poli Books Four Hodkinsons

S. Z. Poli's chain of Connecticut houses has booked four of the current Hodkinson productions for immediate presentation. These are "The Sagebrusher," "Desert Gold," "His Temporary Wife," and "The Lone Wolf's Daughter."

Sales on Rogers Films

"The Illiterate Digest" the new Will Rogers film has been sold for Michigan to W. A. Haynes, of Detroit and for Illinois and Indiana to Elliott and Brockell of Chicago.

Film Deals With Electricity

Westinghouse Electric and M'f'g Co. will shortly release a one reeler made by Universal Industrial which deals with the benefits and mode of operations of various electrical machines. It will have world-wide distribution.

To Exploit Screen Smiles

Screen Smiles, the animated topical review being state-righted by Victor Kremer, will be given an extensive publicity campaign. Novelty one-sheets, heralds, lobby displays and special slides are being prepared.

INSURANCE EXPERTS

TO THE THEATRICAL AND MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY FOR THE PAST 20 YEARS. "ASK ANY PRODUCER."

Did you ever hear of "Insurance Service?" Well, that's what we have to offer. Can we explain further how we can serve you—better?

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

Pathé News today

FIUME—D'Annunzio sends troops to guar[d] the Dalmatian Coast—a farewell review held in honor of the departing soldiers.

IN THE LIMELIGHT—Gianni Caproni famous Italian airplane constructor, arriv[es] here to build passenger planes for Tran[s] Atlantic service.

First U. S. team leaves for Olympic Gam[es] in Belgium to take part in the internation[al] hockey events.

France occupies German towns to stop vi[o]lation of the treaty—Premier Mill[e]rand whose government decided on this policy.

Animated map showing region occupied [by] the French troops.

HOBOKEN, N. J.—First of America's ho[n]ored dead brought from England—bodies of U. S. soldiers, buried in England, arrive he[re] to be sent to families for interment.

ST. CLOUD, FRANCE—Old in years bu[t] —so say the fleet-footed athletes in 15-m[ile] obstacle race to which only the middle-ag[ed] are eligible.

REVOLUTION IN GERMANY—M[o]narchist "rule" lasts but five days—exclus[ive] pictures of soldiers occupying Berlin stre[ets] to uphold seizure of the Ebert governm[ent] by Kapp forces.

The tanks of General Luttwitz, leader [of] the reactionary army—note the signific[ant] emblem.

Propaganda leaflets are distributed to [show] the true imperialistic nature of the revo[lu]tion.

Business of making revolutions does not [in]terfere with business of eating.

And Berlin is just curious.

NEW YORK CITY—America First—is [the] note of festivities in which school child[ren] celebrate the third anniversary of the en[try] of America into war with Germany.

PARIS, FRANCE—France increases [her] army to keep watch on the German ac[tivity] the Rhine—first post-war recruits leave [for] Alsace.

PALM BEACH, FLA.—Old Neptune m[ay] be his dad! Little Herbert Seaman, [8]-year-old diving champion, exhibits some of his big "stunts."

3-ft. high—makes 20-ft. dive!

The grown-ups take their turns at some [fan]batic diving.

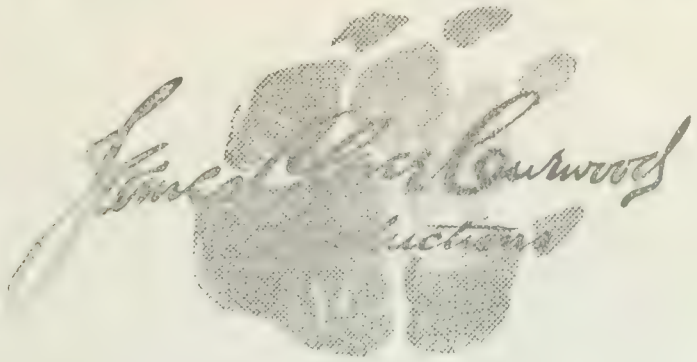
IN CUBAN WATERS—Pathe camera [man] takes pictures of U. S. S. Arizona from [the] basket of observation balloon attached to [the] warship. Exclusive pictures.

RITCHEY posters are purposeful posters,—and their essential purpose is to sell the maximum number of tickets.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

To avoid misunderstandings



These are late big productions of

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

STORIES

Now breaking records everywhere—

"BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY"

Adapted from "Wapi the Walrus"
Directed by David Hartford

Now breaking records everywhere—

"THE RIVER'S END"

From the novel of the same name
Directed by Marshall Neilan

Now in production by James Oliver Curwood Productions, Inc.

"NOMADS OF THE NORTH"

From the novel of the same name
Directed by David Hartford

Beware! When booking a James Oliver Curwood picture see that you are not led to believe that some old padded out two or three reeler is a modern Curwood picture.

The above are all genuine

FIRST NATIONAL ATTRACTIONS

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

"Big 4" Situation

(Continued from Page 1)

Price will probably be named.

According to Los Angeles reports, when Douglas Fairbanks was informed by a reporter of McAdoo's retirement, he said:

"Gee, I'm sorry. But I hadn't heard of it before. I don't know what Mr. McAdoo's reasons are, of course, but maybe he's going to be pretty busy with other things for a while."

"Will it affect the United Artists?"

"No," said Mr. Fairbanks. "Mr. McAdoo has a fifth interest in the corporation. Miss Pickford (he called her that) has one-fifth. Charlie has a fifth, Mr. Griffith has a fifth and I have the other.

"You see, when we organized the temperamental stars had to sort of have some one to stand in awe of and Mr. McAdoo, with his dignity and prestige, aside from his legal ability, was the ideal man.

"Now, with the organization work out of the way, we don't really need a lawyer. Of course all of us have our personal attorneys. We may have to have a general counsel, though, at that, for if we ever let four lawyers at once get into things there is no telling what would happen. I'm an eternal optimist, though, and won't worry about it, or look for hurdles to jump until someone actually builds them, and if we have to get another general counsel it will be up to all four of us to worry, and not just me alone."

New Cohen Release

Jack Cohn is at work editing "Screen Snapshots," the new reel dealing with stars at home. Release not yet decided.

"Sheriff Nell" is coming back. The female law enforcing genius, made famous by Polly Moran in her Keystone days, will again be seen on the screen, according to an announcement made by the Marion H. Kohn Prod.

Directors Elected

(Continued from Page 1)

A number of plans were discussed, but it is understood that nothing definite was done with the exception of the election of a board of directors to govern the activities of the body.

The directors are as follows:

John Harris, Pittsburgh; E. S. Lenner, Youngstown, O.; George Greaves, Denver; Harry Bernstein, Richmond; Charles Olsen, Indianapolis; Hector M. E. Pasmezoglu; Fred Dolle, Louisville; Jake Wells, Richmond; Harry Crandall, Washington; George Giles, Boston; George Simpson, Rochester, and Ross Rogers, Wichita Falls.

Additional directors will be elected at a meeting to be held at a future date.

Among the exhibitors at the meeting were George Greaves, Denver; S. Seigeloff, St. Louis; Harry Bernstein, Richmond; Charles Olson, Indianapolis; Hector M. E. Pasmezoglu, St. Louis; Geo. Eigel, St. Louis; Fred Dolle, Louisville; Jake Wells, Richmond; Harry Crandall, Washington, D. C.; Joe Trunk, Youngstown; George Giles, Boston; George Simpson, Rochester; Ross Rogers, Wichita Falls; W. F. Mason, Cincinnati; Eugene Freund, St. Louis; John P. Harris, Pittsburgh; Louis Steurle, Louisville; Henry Reiss, Louisville.

Offer from Sweden

Hollywood—An offer to star in Vienna for Slavia Films, has been received by Anna Q. Nilsson.

Joe Brandt has secured Harry Revier to direct the new "Son of Tarzan" serial. Roy Somerville will adapt the story for the screen. Both Revier and Somerville leave for California shortly.

Edwin Mortimer has been added to the Metro directorial staff in Hollywood in an advisory capacity.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

TEXAS GUINAN
FULL O' PEP
BANG-UP
THRILLING
WESTERNS.
RELEASED BY
REELCRAFT

SIMPLE SOULS

THE
Glifograph Screen
No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.
TO BE SEEN IN
Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
And soon in many other theaters.
The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

SIMPL SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling Syste
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New Yo

DON'T PAY
More than 3½ cents per foo the best Positive Titles in qu FINEFILM LABORATORIES
Ridgefield Park, New Jer New York Phone Bryant

There are still a few ..
exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

ERNEST STERN'S TITLE STUDIO
AN INSTITUTION FOR THE UPLIFT OF ART IN MOTION PICTURES
149 W. 45 St. BRYANT 8973

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII. NO. 11 Sunday, April 11, 1920 Price 25 cents

The Supreme

NAZIMOVA

in

THE HEART OF A CHILD

by FRANK DANBY

Her newest triumph, a picture of surpassing beauty, heart throbs and charm

Scenario by
CHARLES BRYANT

Directed by RAY SMALLWOOD

METRO PICTURES CORPORATION

That equitable WANDA HAWLEY contract: Chicago "never heard of its equal!"

MORRISON HOTEL and TERRACE GARDEN
CLARK AND MADISON STREETS

CHICAGO, ILL., April 2, 1920

Mr. J. S. Woody, Gen. Mgr.,
Realart Pictures Corporation,
469 Fifth Avenue,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Woody:

Having watched Miss Wanda Hawley's work in "Old Wives For New," "We Can't Have Everything," "For Better, For Worse" and especially as "Beauty" in "Everywoman," one could not help but comment upon her work, and I have often wondered why someone had not signed her up as a top-notcher.

When you announced that you had secured the services of Miss Hawley, I knew that you had picked a winner. I have booked Miss Wanda Hawley in her first picture, "Miss Hobbs," for a week's run in our Rose Theatre. You certainly have got to hand it to REALART and its POLICY. It is one that bespeaks confidence. Here you are releasing one of the most promising young actresses in the motion picture field, one who has proven herself a big leaguer, and you decline to book a series of her attractions. I have never heard of its equal in the history of the industry.

Another thing, I booked this attraction without a preview, which is rather unusual for us. However, REALART has made good on everything they have promised, and when one knows the integrity of the producer, the star, the story and the director, what more is there to do?

With best wishes for your continued success, I am

Yours very truly,

H. C. MOIR THEATRICAL ENTERPRISES
W. D. Green
General Manager.

Now available-the first production only

MISS HOBBS

By Jerome K. Jerome ····· Scenario by Elmer Harris
Directed by Donald Crisp

For particulars see nearest Realart exchange or write-

REALART
PICTURES CORPORATION
469 FIFTH AVENUE ~ NEW YORK

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 11 Sunday, April 11, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives: Wiillis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

THE DEVIL'S PASS-KEY
Universal-Jewel ..... Page 2

Bert Lytell in.....ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE
Screen Classics—Metro..... Page 3

Pauline Frederick in...THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13
Goldwyn ..... Page 5

THE CUP OF FURY
Eminent Authors—Goldwyn..... Page 7

Doris Kenyon in.....THE HARVEST MOON
Dietrich—Beck—Gibraltar—Hodkinson Page 9

Nazimova in.....THE HEART OF A CHILD
Nazimova Prod.—Metro..... Page 12

Roy Stewart in.....THE LONE HAND
Alexander—State Rights..... Page 13

Gladys Brockwell in
THE MOTHER OF HIS CHILDREN
Fox ..... Page 16

Geraldine Farrar in
THE WOMAN AND THE PUPPET
Goldwyn ..... Page 17

Short Reels ..... Page 23

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

Ben Wilson to produce serials for Selznick.

Mae Murray leaves International to make independent productions directed by Robert Leonard.

Seznick has 200 plays to be produced by various units.

Tuesday

Texas exhibitors suing for share of Chaplin picture profits.

Oscar A. Price, president of United Artists, resigns.

Selznick, Select and Republic branch managers open convention at Astor.

Wednesday

First National discovers after extensive investigation that 25c is average evening admission price in country's larger theaters.

Hiram Abrams may succeed Oscar A. Price as president of United Artists.

Triangle again secures its exchanges and films from United Picture Theaters.

Thursday

Harry M. Crandall, Washington, succeeds Messmore Kendall as president of Associated Exhibntors, Inc.

Fred B. Warren resigns as vice-president of W. W. Hodkinson Corp.

Bryant Washburn will leave Famous Players. May go to First National.

Lewis J. Selznick signs William Collier and Louise Huff. Walturdaw Ltd. will distribute in England.

Geraldine Farrar reported signed by Associated Exhibitors, Inc.

Friday

National Picture Theaters hold meeting. Will elect directors.

Arthur James resigns as director of publicity for Fox.

Universal to revert to the star series system of booking.

Saturday

Adolph Zukor reported perfecting combine in England with Sir William Jury and Lord Beaverbrook.

Fairbanks discusses stock holdings of various members of United Artists in company.

New York exhibitors seek law to kill deposit system.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.

Von Stroheim Produces Another Drama Triumph

"THE DEVIL'S PASS-KEY"
Universal—Jewel

DIRECTOR.....Eric von Stroheim
AUTHORS.....Baroness de Meyer and Eric von Stroheim.
SCENARIO BY.....Eric von Stroheim
CAMERAMAN.....Ben F. Reynolds
AS A WHOLE.....Eternal triangle story with original twist made immensely strong by startling production values and wonderful Parisian atmosphere.
STORY.....Always interests because of director's touches while original twist gives real punch to conclusion; just a few turns of story not clearly registered.
DIRECTION.....Great; atmosphere of Paris wonderfully well maintained; has inspired players to splendid performances; all scenes show dramatic touch.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS.....Very nice effects
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
LEADING PLAYERS.....Sam De Grasse, Una Trevelyn and Clyde Fillmore in triangle roles very fine; Fillmore reflects von Stroheim's manner in semi-heavy role.
SUPPORT.....Excellent; headed by Maude George and Mae Bush.
EXTERIORS.....Wonderful; always suggest Paris
INTERIORS.....Carefully selected and possess splendid atmosphere.
DETAIL.....Shows director was always working for effect.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....The two men and a woman story given a real surprise denouement.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 7,000 feet

Eric von Stroheim has proved himself a big director again. "Blind Husbands," far from being a mere flash in the pan, was just the forerunner of other big things to come, of which "The Devil's Pass-Key" is a triumphant example. He has taken a plain eternal triangle story again and made it overwhelmingly powerful by dressing it up with a wonderful production in which a distinct and fascinating Parisian atmosphere is not the least essential. True enough his story in the present instance has a most unusual twist at the end and the climax is one of the most dramatic pictorial sequences seen on the screen in some time, but it is von Stroheim's handling of the production values, his easy familiarity with continental manners and the marvelous atmosphere with which he has endowed his work that makes it the minutely interesting and forcefully compelling work it is.

The exteriors von Stroheim has secured suggest Paris to the very letter. He has employed whole street settings, peopled them with vehicles peculiar to Paris, street figures peculiar to Paris and has worked in these settings as backgrounds to the story in a very natural manner. Realism also pervades the appropriately dressed interiors.

The story has as its central characters a busy playright, his wife who lives beyond her income and an American embassy attache as the third angle. The attache, a man-about-town, through a series of peculiarly fascinating situations compromises the wife, though she is innocent. The story reaches a scandal sheet and is printed without any names. The husband seizes upon the idea for a play.

The work is accepted and produced and, in the midst of his success, the playright finds all Paris laughing at him. How he discovers the reasons for the public's derision of his work and how, partly through the efforts of the attache he finally believes in his wife's innocence, are events which form a sequence of real dramatic power. It is fairly sweeping in its effect.

Sam De Grasse as the husband and Una Trevelyn as the wife render fine performances. Clyde Fillmore, in the semi-heavy role of the attache, reflects the director's manner and gives a very strong impression. Maude George is excellent as the French modiste, the direct cause of all the trouble, while Mae Bush as the dancer contributes a decorative and true characterization.

Remember "Blind Husbands" Then Go to It With This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

If you played "Blind Husbands," your people are well aware of what Eric von Stroheim can do. So well aware in fact that they will flock to see his second picture when his name is well displayed. Don't make any mistake about this director. He's there. Besides being strong for effects he knows his drama and knows how to work up strong dramatic sequences on the screen. Give him all that he's worth.

They have handed you a good title on this picture which will also help attract. But above all bring out in your advertisements the atmosphere of Paris that pervades the picture. It is fascinating as brought out on the screen, and if you can communicate this element, this atmosphere of the Paris boulevards and fashion shops into your advertising copy, you will be giving a fine suggestion of what they will see as well as putting your goods before them in a most attractive manner.

Clever, Suspenseful, Appealing, Amusing—A Real Picture

Bert Lytell in
"ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE"
Screen Classics—Metro

DIRECTOR .....Not credited
AUTHOR .....Paul Armstrong
SCENARIO BY .....Finis Fox
CAMERAMAN .....Sol Polito
AS A WHOLE.....Wonderfully suspensive and appealing production of well-known play.
STORY.....Builds interestingly from very outset and works up fine suspense through various sequences.
DIRECTION.....Handled all sequences with great appreciation of their values; comedy element delightful.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Generally good
LIGHTINGS.....Mostly plain; few effects are good CAMERA WORK .....Very good angles
STAR .....Plays skilfully and makes big appeal
SUPPORT.....Wilton Taylor fine as detective; great types throughout.
EXTERIORS .....Few but appropriate
INTERIORS.....Bank and prison stuff very fine
DETAIL.....Players build up their characterizations through innumerable comedy and human touches.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Reformed crook's efforts to evade vengeful detective and his romance with benefactress.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,800 feet

Here's a real picture. One that has something worth while in each of its scenes. It has a remarkable suspensive story, a romance that contains a big appeal, comedy that sparkles. In adapting it they have followed pretty closely to Paul Armstrong's play, allowing for omission and additions here and there, and the result is that all the sustained action, the appeal, the cleverness and the comedy of the original work have been transferred to the screen.

For the introductory sequence they flash a crackerjack fight which takes place on a Pullman between Jimmy and his drunken partner who insults Rose Lane, one of the travellers. With a final punch Jimmy sends him off the train. A few minutes later he breaths his last but has squealed on Jimmy before the end. So Jimmy goes to prison on the charge of cracking a safe.

Though guilty Jimmy stoutly maintains his innocence, and one day when the warden commands him to open the office safe to exhibit his ability before visitors, he refuses claiming that he doesn't know how. Rose is a member of the party. It is through her services that Jimmy receives his pardon and later her father, a bank president, gives him a job at which he works under the name of Lee Randall.

After three years he has become assistant cashier and received Rose's promise to marry him. And then Doyle, the detective shows up, fully intending to arrest the ex-convict for an old job he pulled in Massachusetts years before. In an exceedingly clever sequence Jimmy almost succeeds in proving to Doyle that he is after the wrong man. They have built this up wonderfully with innumerable suspensive and comedy touches. Then just as Doyle goes, Jimmy is told that Rose's little sister has been locked in the new vault being installed in the bank. So Jimmy sandpapers his fingers and goes to it, opening the vault after some very intense action of which Doyle has been a spectator. But the detective has seen the real man in Jimmy and walks away leaving him with Rose.

It is impossible to include here all the fine bits of business with which the players build up their roles. Bert Lytell is splendid in the stellar part while Wilton Taylor gives a very fine performance of Doyle. Eugene Pallette and Marc Robbins as two of Jimmy's pals register very effectively. Vola Vale is a most satisfactory opposite to the star while others are Robert Dunbar, Winter Hall, James Farley and Fred Kelsey.

Go the Limit and Watch the Crowds Grow Bigger Each Day

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

You can go the limit on advertising this for you seldom have the chance to book a picture that is so downright good from start to finish. Its appeal is unlimited and you will find your audiences sitting tight and responding to it all the way through. The fact that the picture has been made before ought not to detract from the business of this one. This has been proven before with other pictures.

In your advertising besides giving Bert Lytell the real prominence he deserves concentrate a lot on the title of the play and the author, Paul Armstrong. You hear a lot about great Broadway successes these days and many of them haven't run a month in a legitimate house. "Alias Jimmy Valentine," however, was a real success. The title is known the country over. Play it up and go to it.

J. PARKER READ JR. presents

LOUISE GLAUM in SEX

By C. Gardner Sullivan — Directed by Fred Niblo

Immediately Booked By

Harry Moir's Rose	Chicago
Lubliner & Trinz Circuit	Chicago
Marks & Goodman Houses	Chicago
Gold Theatre	Chicago
Woodlawn Theatre	Chicago
And 70 more theatres in	Chicago
F. L. Newman's Newman	Kansas City
Landau's Butterfly	Milwaukee
Jacob Lourie Theatres	Boston
Goodside's Capitol	Springfield, Mass.
Goodside's Empire	Portland, Me.
The Tudor Theatre	Atlanta, Ga.
Moe Krydell's Goodwin	Newark, N. J.
Fabian's Garden	Paterson, N. J.
The Blackstone	Pittsburgh, Pa.
Garfield's Orpheum	Flint, Mich.
Southwest Exhibitors Circuit	Texas
Finkelstein & Ruben	Minneapolis
Spyros Skouras Chain	St. Louis

Full week engagements everywhere and many pictures deferred or shelved to make room for the playing of "Sex" on national release date, April 11.

And all because "Sex" is the big picture of the past few years.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION

527 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated

Theodore C. Deitrich
& Arthur F. Beck
present

DORIS KENYON

in

The HARVEST MOON

From the celebrated play by AUGUSTUS THOMAS
Directed by J. Searle Dawley

W. W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Inc.

Here's Another "The Witching Hour"

A Great, Sweet,

Clean Love Story

Here is a big play made into a sincere and beautiful motion picture. It is frankly a directly-told story of the human heart—the heart of a girl; the heart of a father; the heart of a lover.

You remember—all exhibitors do—"The Witching Hour." You remember the basic theme as embodied in the title "As A Man Thinks." Here it is again as the basis of another play by the same celebrated author: that the human mind and many minds working together can make a good woman bad.

This is a big story of a beautiful girl tormented by those around her who "remembered her mother."

"The Harvest Moon" has a meaning that is developed in the story. It is the wonderful moment of maturity. It is the moon of the lovers of all ages; the moon of romance and achievement.

Frankly, none of us can imagine what a wonderful story Augustus Thomas has developed or how beautifully Doris Kenyon acts it. Nor can you imagine how deftly and tenderly J. Searle Dawley has directed it. You must see the picture to do so.

Prints of "The Harvest Moon" have been shipped to all Hodkinson managers and and now await you.

"The Harvest Moon" is more than a star, a story and a director. It is a human voice, it is many real, gripping, touching human emotions caught and transferred to celluloid. It is a group of well-chosen actors forgetting that they are actors while they grip you as very human beings.

Pre-releases of "The Harvest Moon" can be had for April 25. This first Gibraltar production has been five months in the making. No one has hurried or shirked. Perhaps that is the reason for the strength and the beauty of the screen version of this famous play.

GIBRALTAR PICTURES IN EXCELSIS

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION

527 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

ARGO PRESS NEW YORK

Splendidly Played Mystery Melodrama Holds Attention Constantly

Pauline Frederick in
"THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13"
Goldwyn

DIRECTOR .....Frank Lloyd
AUTHORS.....Samuel Shipman, Max Marcin and Percival Wilde.
SCENARIO BY.....E. Richard Schayer
CAMERAMAN .....T. D. Jennings
AS A WHOLE.....Very well handled mystery melodrama acted with unusual skill.
STORY.....Plainly "manufactured" but suspense is well built up by careful production and acting.
DIRECTION.....Has brought out full dramatic worth of all sequences.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Unusually good
CAMERA WORK .....Commendable
STAR.....Has big emotional role and registers all points forcefully.
SUPPORT.....Exceptionally good cast headed by John Bowers as leading man.
EXTERIORS .....Unimportant
INTERIORS.....Many of them very handsome; all very realistic.
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....The "woman who compromises herself to free husband from prison" story led up to through series of unusual circumstances.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

"The Woman in Room 13" is exceptionally good picture melodrama with an interesting mystery touch. While to some extent it is palpably "manufactured" specially for the occasion and utilizes one very glaring coincidental situation, it is so expertly handled in the production and so unusually well acted that it maintains a firm grip on the interest. Even the time-honored court room climax sequence wherein the heroine confesses to a compromising lie to save her husband's life, is made particularly effective through the careful production and the emotional ability of Pauline Frederick and her supporting players.

The story opens showing Laura the wife of John Bruce, district attorney. Because of his flagrant infidelity she divorces him and thus ruins his career politically. Two years later she is the wife of Paul Ramsey, a rising young engineer. Paul's employer, Turner, coveting Laura, schemes to send him west on a big job. But before Paul leaves he learns through gossip of Turner's attitude toward his wife. He summons a detective to keep him posted and the detective is none other than John Bruce.

To avenge himself on the happy couple Bruce keeps sending Paul reports that Turner is seeing much of Laura. At length he summons him east. Turner keeps an apartment in the "roaring" forties. In the flat below Bruce installs a dictaphone. Laura is due to visit Turner. For what reason is not altogether clear but the subsequent action proves so strong that this point may easily be forgotten.

As she is about to enter she is accosted by Edna Crane who has given up wealth and reputation for Turner. Edna influences her to return home. At the dictaphone Paul hears the conversation between Turner and Edna and believes the woman his wife. This scene is specially well acted and brings a real thrill. Rushing upstairs Paul enters Turner's apartment just as Edna leaves through the window. Paul shoots and kills Turner. And on the stand Laura swears she was in the room that her husband may be acquitted by the "unwritten law." The happy ending is brought about through Edna's confession to Paul that she was the woman.

It may appear in the reading that this plot strains credulity considerably and so it does in its bare essentials, but as produced and played it is very engrossing, much more so than the average melodramatic picture. Miss Frederick has a big emotional role as Laura and handles it very well indeed.

Star, Title and Authors Should Bring the Crowds

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Added to the popularity of Pauline Frederick you have a very strong melodramatic mystery story to advertise in "The Woman in Room 13." The fact that it was taken from one of last season's plays and credited partly to the authorship of Samuel Shipman and Max Marcin, two very successful Broadway playwrights are additional advantages. Mention the greatly successful play "East Is West" in connection with Shipman and "Cheating Cheaters" with Marcin.

The title is a good one for this type of picture and you can arouse further interest by centering catch lines about it such as, "If the woman in room 13 was his wife he didn't care if he went to the electric chair—if it wasn't his wife he would die whether he cared or not! What was the outcome?" You have a specially strong supporting cast and the names of its leaders will lend still further attraction to advertising copy.

S·R·O·12

CAREY
MAYO
ROBERTS
LYONS-MORAN
TSURU AOKI
CORNWALL
MacLAREN

LET 'EM IN!

HERE they are—eight registered stars—twelve super-excellent plays—a big record of successes for every director who had a hand in them—a long list of triumphs for the organization which has produced them—your people want them—LET 'EM IN!

The S. R. O. 12—better even than your Big Money Twelve—because of a wider variety of theme and types of stars. HARRY CAREY in three rousing Western pictures—FRANK MAYO in two—TSURU AOKI in a pair of rarely appealing productions which are distinct novelties—EDITH ROBERTS in two charming comedy dramas—MARY MacLAREN in one of "Mary's Own"—ANN CORNWALL in "The Path She Chose"—LYONS and MORAN in "Everything But the Truth"—a six-reeler made out of shivers and "ohs" and chuckles.

See your Universal Exchange—you'll find twelve good reasons for this newest, finest series of—

UNIVERSAL SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

Story Out of Date and Full of Loop Holes

"THE CUP OF FURY"
Eminent Authors—Goldwyn

DIRECTOR.....T. Hayes Hunter
AUTHOR.....Rupert Hughes
SCENARIO BY.....E. Richard Schayer
CAMERAMAN .....A. Scholtz
AS A WHOLE.....Out of date story depending for suspense on German spy stuff which doesn't convince.
STORY.....Was written in a frenzy of emotional patriotism and has a flock of loopholes.
DIRECTION.....Quite ordinary and has held many scenes far too long.
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Very good
LIGHTINGS.....Some poor foreground lighting; effects good.
CAMERA WORK..... Satisfactory
LEADING PLAYERS.....Helene Chadwick and Rockliffe Fellowes give good performances.
SUPPORT .....Satisfactory
EXTERIORS.....Include good shipyard shots
INTERIORS .....Very good
DETAIL.....Quite a bit of propaganda aimed against labor movements attempted.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Heroine runs down German spy and proves herself a patriot before hero.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,000 feet

When Rupert Hughes started to write "The Cup of Fury" the whole world was at war and in a state of patriotic and emotional frenzy that has since died down. You could excuse an author a lot of things at that time as long as he waved the flag hard enough. Now, however, things are a bit different and the passing months since the close of the war have sobered many down a bit. The result is that there are a flock of foolish improbabilities and flaws to be picked in the plot of "The Cup of Fury."

But even more serious than this in considering the picture is the fact that the author depended almost wholly on the now defunct German spies for his suspense. It's the old stuff in the climax sequence. The German spy bent on blowing up the shipyard works.

Mamise is the central character. Her adopted parents prove to be pro-German and when the British secret service get after them they take poison. For some unexplained reason Mamise is permitted to come to America provided she doesn't tell about the death of the old folks and a secret service agent is sent after her.

She meets Davidge the ship builder, and goes to work as his stenographer. A German spy thinks she shares her late parents' sentiments and visits her. Finding her unresponsive he picks up with her brother-in-law, a burlesque I. W. W. member. "I'm an I. W. W. so you can count on me," he says, in effect, to the spy. Which sentiment will be news to a lot of people. At any rate spy and burlesque I. W. W. plot the destruction of the shipyards until at the "croocial" point heroine intervenes and the villains get hoist by their own petard, as usual.

The direction of this is none too good, many of the scenes being held too long. This is particularly noticeable during the latter scenes when the action should be short and snappy. Helene Chadwick and Rockliffe Fellowes are the principal players, while some of those in support are "Kewpie" Morgan, Florence Deshon, Sidney Ainsworth, Herbert Standing, Kate Lester, Clarissa Selwynne and Frank Leigh.

PRACTICAL WISDOM

The chief functions of the commercial film Laboratories are to make "Quality Prints" and render "Prompt Service."
Any Laboratory which cannot supply both is not functioning.
The Republic policy is for Quality, our physical and financial resources are for service. The use of modern machinery—the finest raw material and chemicals obtainable plus our expert human element insure Quality. Our desire and willingness to please insure Service.
If you are not now getting "Quality Prints" plus "Prompt Service" you had better let us know and we will immediately transform these words into deeds.

REPUBLIC LABORATORIES, Inc.

729 Seventh Avenue — Phone Bryant 7190 — New York

Fame of Author Unlikely to Counterbalance Picture's Flaws

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"THE CUP OF FURY"
Eminent Authors—Goldwyn

All things considered it isn't very likely that "The Cup of Fury" is going to make any tremendous records. The fact that it is a war-time story and relies on the old German spy trick for suspense sort of give it a passe appearance. This might not have mattered if the director had handled the plot expertly, but the action drags long before the ending, scenes are held too long and much necessary detail is introduced.

Then, too, picture audiences don't care a great lot for propaganda aimed to allay labor unrest. No matter how true certain things may be, the fictitious character of a picture story causes such propaganda to fall flat. And in this instance they seem to have taken altogether a wrong slant on a very serious subject. You've got the name of Rupert Hughes and the well-advertised title as assets in exploiting this, but the entertainment is by no means of the best.

AGNES CHRISTINE JOHNSTON

Writing for Thos. H. Ince

CURRENT RELEASES:

AUTHOR OF:

ALARM CLOCK ANDY, an original comedy-drama, starring CHARLES RAY.

Adaptations of:

"DADDY-LONG-LEGS," with Mary Pickford.
"TWENTY THREE AND A HALF HOURS LEAVE."
ETC.

COMING CHARLES RAY RELEASES:

"THE VILLAGE SLEUTH —Original.
AN OLD FASHION BOY—Original.
HOMER COMES HOME—Adaptation.

Wid's Daily Binders - $3.00

Invaluable for reference purposes.

Unnecessary Details and Ordinary Direction Fail to Get This By.

Doris Kenyon in
"THE HARVEST MOON"
Dietrich-Beck—Gibraltar-Hodkinson

DIRECTOR ..... J. Searle Dawley
AUTHOR ..... Augustus Thomas
SCENARIO BY .....Not credited
CAMERA WORK ..... Burt Dawley
AS A WHOLE.....Tedious details and extreme exaggeration both in story and acting make this tiresome.
STORY.....Gives impression of quaint novelty at opening but soon drifts into conventional stuff
DIRECTION....Ordinary handling of story doesn't bear conviction, doesn't keep up to standard set at beginning.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Fair
LIGHTINGS ..... Not well judged
CAMERA WORK ..... Ordinary
STAR .....Overdid being cute and facial expressions were forced.
SUPPORT.....No really good types; acted with noticeable restraint.
EXTERIORS ..... Few used
INTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
DETAIL.....Several unnecessary characters that could easily have been eliminated to the good of the production.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Coincidence unites father with daughter he had never seen.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,000 feet

"The Harvest Moon" is a very attractive title, in fact, much more attractive than the picture which it represents. Also the title doesn't mean anything as far as the theme of the story is concerned. However, that is of little concern if it will help from an advertising viewpoint.

Not being familiar with Augustus Thomas' play it can't be said positively but from all appearances it would seem that the text has been followed too religiously and with entirely too much detail for the good of the production as a whole. There is so much preparation and planning prior to each more important moment that by the time they get to the point, the interest has abated. Once or twice the director has gone o extremes for effect with very poor results.

The opening scenes laid in the household of a French peasant woman promises a quaint novelty and the mystery lady who is dying in the house suggests a good mystery story. But this is merely a prologue after which they pitch right into the old-time conventional stuff.

Prof. James Fullerton had brought Dora, the child of his divorced wife, to America after the mother had died. Some years later Dora became acquainted with Willard Holcomb, a playwright, who came to her assistance after she had run away from college to satisfy her theatrical ambitions. She returned to the Fullerton home but the lure of the stage was revived when Holcomb announced that he had written a play in which he wanted her to play the leading role.

Monsieur Vavin, an author, had met Dora at school and taken an unusual interest in her and became a friend of Prof. Fullerton who asked him for his advice in connection with Dora's going on the stage. Monsieur approved and agreed to direct the rehearsal of the play. At this point he disclosed that Dora was his own daughter and that he had married her mother but forgotten to register the marriage according to French law and that Dora had been born during his absence from the country.

The picture is entirely too long and will benefit greatly by liberal cutting. There are one or two sequences that have little bearing on the main story and could be gotten along without. In the cast are Wilfred Lytell, Earl Schenck, Peter Lang, Marie Shotwell, Stuart Robson, Grace Barton, Daniel Pennell, Mrs. E. M. Holland and Ellen Oeson.

Title and Author's Name May Help You

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

The story is not so bad, so the fact that the quality of production is not the best may not be any great drawback if you do not show to a critical audience. But unless the picture is cut considerably, even the easiest suited fan may walk out on this one for it certainly does get tiresome after about the fourth reel. Play up the title. It's attractive and without misrepresenting things on your part they may take it to be a pretty romance. This may get them in so if you are very conciencious you might tell what the story is really about.

You might say: "She believed one man to be her father but at the critical moment of her life her real father came to her. See Doris Kenyon in the screen version of the Augustus Thomas stage play at the blank theater." Or, from another angle: "Are you interested in 'the power of suggestion'? If so, see 'The Harvest Moon' at the blank theater."

International Film Service Co. Inc. present

"JIGGS IN SOCIETY"

Produced by
Christie Film Co. Inc

Pathé
Distributors

Adapted from Geo. McManus' Famous Series

"BRINGING UP FATHER" with JOHNNY RAY

Two Reels, Booking Now.

When you can present to your audiences something that everyone knows, something that everyone likes, something that is a household word and is backed by the publicity obtained through the columns of 400 newspapers with 12,000,000 readers, you haven't got a selling problem, Mr. Exhibitor, you've got a cinch!

Get "Jiggs in Society!"

Two Reels, Booking Now

Pathé Distributors

Nazimova in Vehicle Molded to Display Her Lighter Moods

Nazimova in
"THE HEART OF A CHILD"
Nazimova Prod.—Metro

DIRECTOR .....Ray C. Smallwood
AUTHOR .....Charles Bryant
CAMERAMAN .....Rudolph J. Bergquist
AS A WHOLE.....Elaborate vehicle designed to display star's various moods; generally interesting.
STORY.....Rather episodic but manages to maintain good degree of interest due production values and star's work.
DIRECTION.....Very elaborate and generally realistic but caters too much to star.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS.....Realistic in all scenes
CAMERA WORK.....Good angles
STAR.....Displays herself in various lighter and attractive moods but used makeup pencil too heavily.
SUPPORT.....Satisfactory with some burlesque comedy types.
EXTERIORS.....Have convincing London atmosphere.
INTERIORS.....Varying and appropriate
DETAIL.....Star furnished many unusual touches
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Chorus girl, risen from the gutter, wins love and respect of nobleman and his family.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,850 feet

"The Heart of a Child" presents a rather episodic story, evidently molded especially to display Nazimova in varying lighter moods. And it is partly due this great prominence given her that the picture proves generally entertaining throughout, despite its lack of strong dramatic values. Nazimova's compelling personality, whether set in an emotional role or in lighter surroundings, always commands the spectator's attention. On the other hand the director has certainly catered altogether too much to the star in a number of sequences.

Assisting the varying characterization of the star is a very elaborate production which often attracts attention. The first sequence, staged in the London slums, is done with a grand display of poverty and sordidness, centering on an entire exterior setting. Then there are the scenes in the modiste shop, the chorus girls supper which presents all the naughty details that are more or less conventional to such scenes in an elaborate setting.

The story opens in the London slums and shows the star as Sally, bereft of her mother through her father's brutality. Later she is shown at a picnic and some pretty sure comedy in which burlesque types figure is introduced here. Coming home she is injured by Lady Dorothea's automobile and in this way she meets Lord Kidderminster who finds her a position as modiste's model. Still another mood and setting is provided when Sally goes on the stage. At the suggestion of the lord's father Lady Dorothea attempts to compromise Sally with Kidderminster to prevent his marriage to her and manouevers things so that they are left alone in a house for the night. Their love for each other is real, however, and they triumph over temptation while the next day Sally proves herself worthy of becoming Lady Kidderminster before the lord's parents.

There are many good comedy touches, some provided by burlesque characters and others by a selection of well-written subtitles. The last sequence which brings Sally and the hero's mother together is prettily played and strikes a very responsive chord.

Nazimova has Charles Bryant as her leading man while Ray Thompson, Nell Newman, Victor Potel, Eugene Klum, Claire Du Brey, Joseph Kilgour, Jane Sterling, John Steppling, William J. Irving and Myrtle Rishell complete the cast.

Should Give General Satisfaction to Star's Admirers

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Nazimova's great popularity, achieved through a number of very fine features released during the past year, will certainly bring the crowds to see "The Heart of a Child," and her work in this and the elaborate production values will afford very good entertainment. The picture is not up to the star's highest standard and they have played her up altogether too much in some of the sequences but at the same time her personality is so strong that she will quite likely register a very pleasing performance.

Tell them that it is a story of a girl from the London slums who rose in the world step by step until she became the wife of a nobleman. You might feature the big things in the picture along with the star. A line such as "She lived in the squalor of the London slums! A terrific automobile accident and then she woke up in a new world, rich and extravagant beyond her dreams," is descriptive. Mention that Charles Bryant is again the star's leading man.

Just An Old Fashioned Western Depends Too much on Riding and Shooting

Roy Stewart in
"THE LONE HAND"
Alexander—State Rights

DIRECTOR.....Cliff Smith
AUTHOR.....Alvin J. Neitz
SCENARIO BY.....Not credited
CAMERAMAN .....Not credited
AS A WHOLE.....Old-fashioned western melodrama with much riding and feats of horsemanship.
STORY.....Not much to it, more riding and shooting than story action.
DIECTION.....Satisfactory for this type of production.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Brilliant
LIGHTINGS .....Plain
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
STAR.....Is typical picture of western figure, rides well and emotes with a six-shooter....
SUPPORT .....Satisfactory
EXTERIORS .....Western stuff
INTERIORS.....Usual bar room and dance hall; few others.
DETAIL.....No faults for production of this type
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero, while under shadow of suspicion, discovers real bandits and brings them to justice. ....
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

There is little to distinguish this one from the usual and somewhat old-fashioned run of western five reelers in which riding and gun play are given first position over plot action. Of course the excess amount of riding is altogether necessary to fill in story gaps in this type of entertainment, and "The Lone Hand" offers no exception to this rule. There isn't much to it in the way of plot and the story very often gets lost in the dust kicked up by the cowboys and gunmen.

The picture is laid in the usual western exteriors and in the usual western interiors, which consist of the bar room and dance hall and the sheriff's office. It is brilliantly photographed and the cameraman has caught the riders in mass formation and travelling along at pretty fast paces.

Other usual embellishments of "The Lone Hand" are the villain's violent attack on the heroine, the wrestling match that follows and then the smashing of the door by the hero, the fight and the final clinch.

All in all the picture stands in a very conventional class and never rises to heights above the ordinary because of the surprising lack of real story material. In the middle of the picture the action repeats itself several times until they are ready to pull the climax sequence and conclude.

They open up with some good rodeo scenes, spliced into the acted action. At this affair Bob Benton meets Betty Hampton and they fall in love. Betty is the daughter of the sheriff of the neighboring county. Later Bob goes to visit her. On his way he sees a man shot from his wagon. He captures the terrified horses and drives them into town where, to his surprise, he is accused of the crime.

From then on Bob has the rather difficult task of proving his innocence, difficult in the main because the deputy sheriff is really the head of the villainous band and because Betty is inclined to doubt him. In the end, after narrowly escaping death by hanging, he rescues the girl from the villain's clutches and is made a deputy himself.

Among the thrills included is a leap by the hero from a window to the back of his horse, this being still another scare that stamps the picture as usual. And then there is the jump from the cliff to the top of a tree and the long swing down to the ground. This is a good one, quite out of the ordinary.

Roy Stewart fulfills all the conventional demands in the role of Bob and rides and uses his six-shooter very freely. Josie Sedgwick is the girl in the case, while Harry von Meter is the villain. Wilbur Higby is the sheriff.

Not much to Distinguish or Commend This One

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

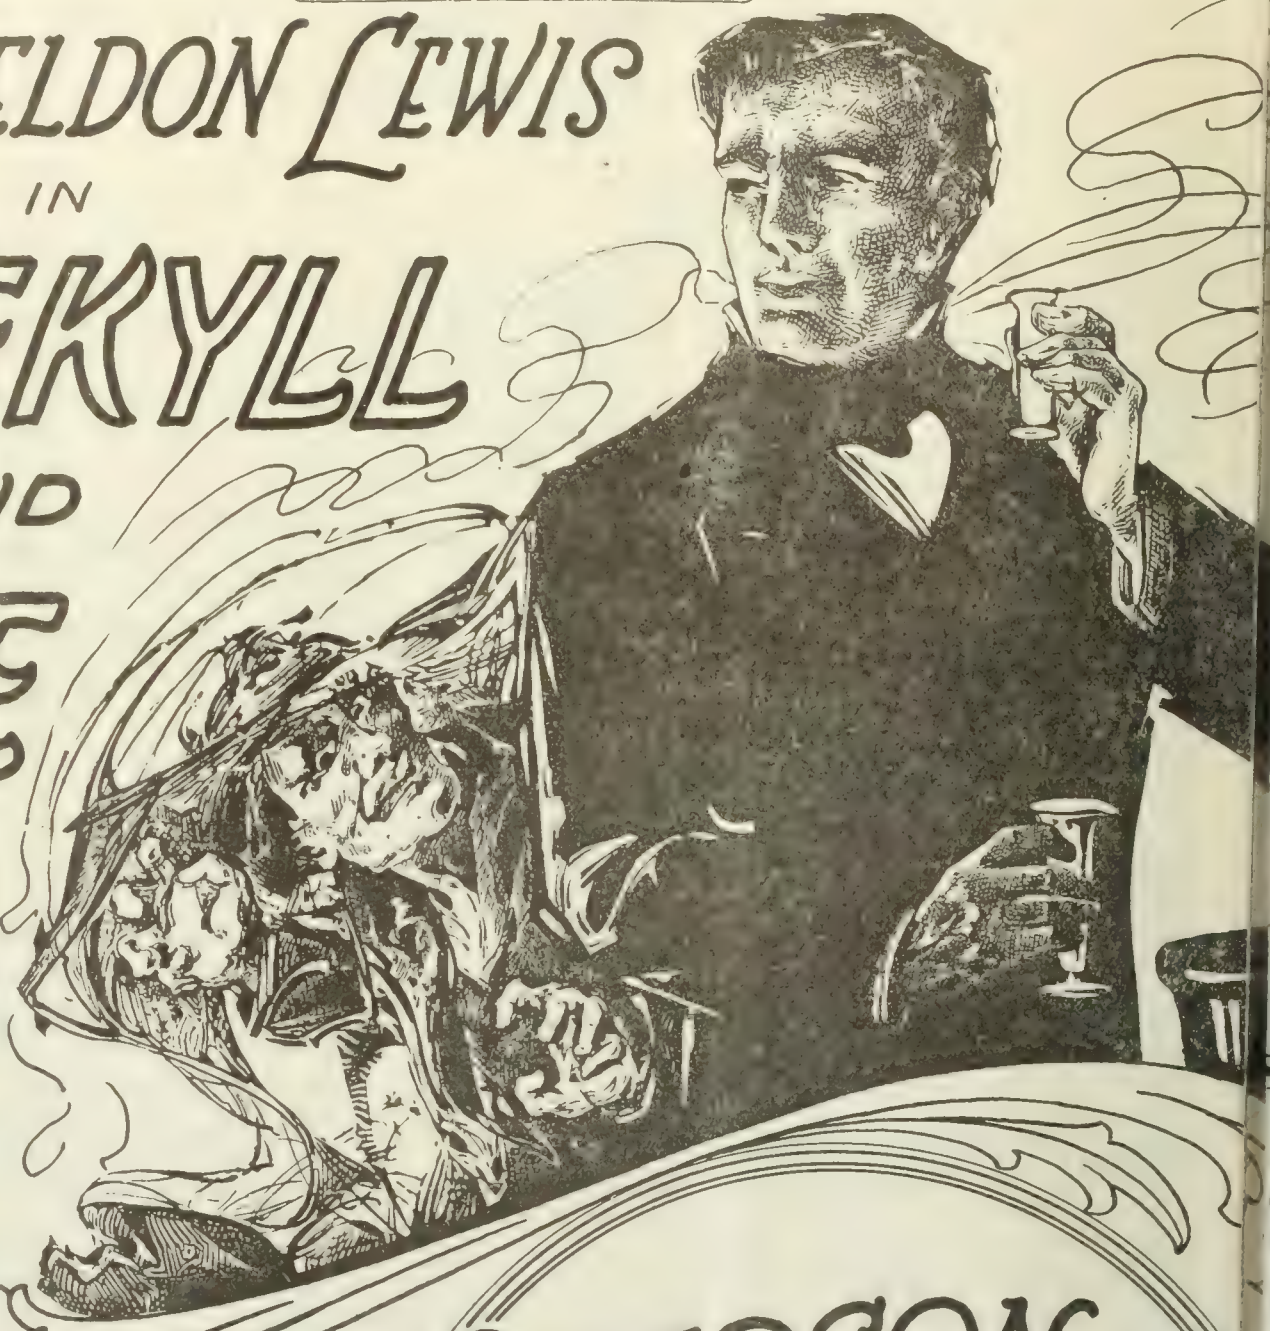
If your audiences like western stuff you may be able to get by with this, but it can't take its place with some of the best western pictures made these days. The producer who goes in for this sort of thing now realizes he has got to hand out something a bit out of the old fashioned run and so concentrates on a long string of big thrills or a good story. "The Lone Hand" has neither of these and falls far short of the standard of the day as a consequence.

What little story there is is none too well developed. Its most important turn, the discovery of Bob that the deputy sheriff is the bandit leader, is not explained. You just see Bob ride out of town one day and back the next with the information all salted down. The picture may go well with the kids inasmuch as they are still keen on the riding and shooting stuff, but sophisticated audiences will probably note its shortcomings.

PIONEER SPRING

NOW READY

MR. SHELDON LEWIS
IN
DR. JEKYLL AND MR. HYDE



A MARVELOUS PRODUCTION DEPICTING THE STRUGGLE BETWEEN GOOD & EVIL FOR THE POSSESSION OF A MAN'S SOUL

MARY ANDERSON
IN BUBBLES
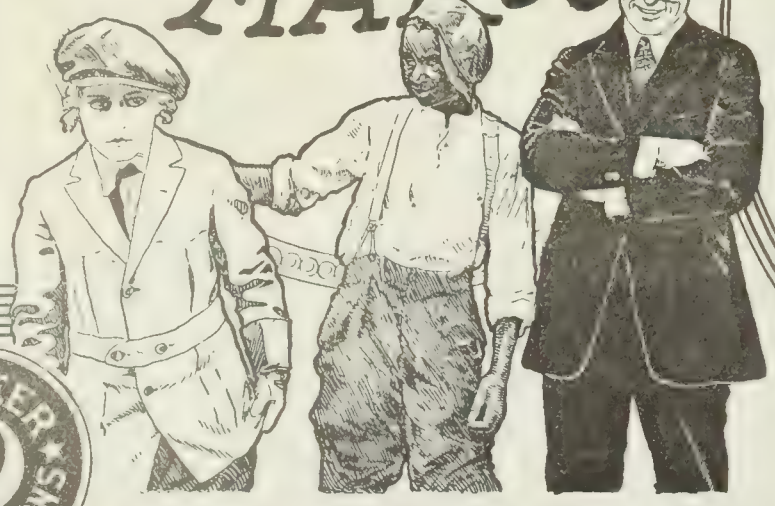
THAT'S FOR JOY



PIONEER ATTRACTIONS

PIONEER FILM CORPORATION

PRESENTATIONS

FORTHCOMING

Emily Stevens

IN

"THE PLACE of HONEYMOONS"

WITH

MONTAGUE LOVE

Louise Huff

IN

"WHAT WOMEN WANT"

MISS JOSE COLLINS

IN

"NOBODY'S CHILD"

WITH GODFREY TEARL

GRACE DAVISON

IN

"THE HIDDEN CODE"

PIONEER COOPERATIVE DISTRIBUTION SYSTEM

PIONEER FILM CORP., 130 W. 46th St., N. Y. C.; 145 Franklin St., Buffalo, N. Y. (N. Y. C. and State, N. N. J.).
PIONEER FILM CORP., 812 Prospect Ave., Cleveland, O. (Ohio and Ky.).
PIONEER FILM CORP., 63 Elizabeth St., E. Detroit, Mich. (Michigan).
PIONEER FILM CORP., 105 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco, Cal. (Cal., Ariz. and Nev.)
PIONEER FILM CORP., 532 Walnut St. Cincinnati, O.
EASTERN FEATURE FILM CO., 57 Church St., Boston Mass. (New England).
MASTERPIECE FILM ATTRACTIONS, 1235 Vine St., Philadelphia, Pa. (E. Pa. and S. N. J.).
M. & R. EXCHANGE, 730 S. Olive St., Los Angeles, Cal.; 107 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco, Cal. (Cal., Ariz. and Nev.).
EQUITY DISTRIB. CO., 403 Davis St., Portland, Ore. (Ore., Wash., Idaho and Mont.).
SCREEN-ART PICTURES, Inc., 420 Lexington St., Baltimore, Md. (Md., Del., Va. and D. C.)
GREATER STAR PRODUCTIONS, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill. (Ill., Ind. and Wis.).
CRITERION FILM SERVICE, 67 Walton St., Atlanta, Ga. (Ga., Tenn., Fla., Ala., N. C. and S. C.).
AMALGAMATED EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT, 166 Bay St., Toronto, Ont.; 345 Bleury St., Montreal, P. Q.; 87 Union St., St. John, N. B.
S. & S. FILM & SUPPLY CO., 414 Penn Ave., Pittsburgh, Pa. (W. Pa. and W. Va.).
MERIT FILM CORP., 206 Film Exchange Bldg., Minneapolis, Minn. (Minn., [illegible])

30 WEST 46 TH STREET, NEW YORK CITY

Adequate Production Given to Story That Lacks Forceful Elements

Gladys Brockwell in
"THE MOTHER OF HIS CHILDREN"
Fox

DIRECTOR .....Edward Le Saint
AUTHOR .....Barbara Le Marr Deely
SCENARIO BY .....Charles J. Wilson
CAMERAMAN .....Harry Harris
AS A WHOLE.....Picture given adequate production but story lacks forceful elements of popular appeal.
STORY.....Basically deals with conventional eternal triangle situation but none of the characters get real sympathy.
DIRECTION.....Generally very good only heroine's servant shouldn't have been played up so much.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Commendable
CAMERA WORK ..... Satisfactory
STAR.....Has an unsympathetic role and her performance leaves indifferent impression.
SUPPORT.....William Scott plays hero in good style.
EXTERIORS ..... Few
INTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
DETAIL.....Lack of sympathetic detail in various characterizations noticeable.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Love story of American artists and eastern princess in Paris.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

The basic plot of "The Mother of His Children" utilizes three certain characters that have been responsible for many a forceful eternal triangle story. These three characters are the American artist in Paris, his loving wife at home, and the more or less sensuous seductress quartered in the European city. But in the present instance the makeup of these characters is juggled so that none of them furnishes any big appeal. The artist capitulates to the charms of the other woman (in this case an Oriental princess) but it is said that he still loves his wife. And the princess is made out as neither of good nor bad intent and thus this angle is weakened. There is no character contrast, no strong conflict of well-defined emotions which seem to be necessary elements in this type of story.

The picture besides having this story fault has a big mistake in production which evinces itself in the character of the princess' servant, Haroun. This Oriental whose only expression is one of servitude is constantly in attendance on the princess, or coming to or going from her. He is a regular handy man around the house and the manner in which he looms up behind her in every scene is going to wear down to the amusing point before the picture is run.

In the story Richard Arnold's statue, "The Mother of His Children" is awarded first prize over Count Tolestoff's sensuous creation. Richard meets Princess Yve who lives in Paris and an attachment results. The jealous count tries to prove that the princess is his mistress but Richard's faith in her remains staunch.

When Richard tells her he has a wife and children in America, the princess is astonished inasmuch as she figured he was marked as her man. However the fates intervene for her. On her way to Europe with her children Mrs. Arnold dies and at the very moment the princess sees a vision of her beseeching her not to destroy Richard's ideals.

Then the count attempts to destroy Richard's statue but is killed by Haroun. Richard is arrested and accused of the murder but Haroun, seeing his mistress' distress confesses, afterwards taking poison. Richard is freed and the princess takes up her duties of second mother to his children.

Gladys Brockwell gets little from the role of the princess and even William Scott's very good performance is unsuccessful in making the role of Richard sympathetic. Nigel de Brullier is the ever-ready Haroun while Frank Leigh is the persistent villain. Golda Madden and two children, Nancy Caswell and Jean Eaton, complete the cast.

Star and Good Production May Stand Out Over Poor Story

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"The Mother of His Children" is going to have a pretty hard time giving even average satisfaction to most audiences for the peculiar makeup of the central characters prevents any one of them from making a successful sympathetic bid. On the other hand the character of Haroun which gets so much attention throughout the picture is probably going to get a few laughs from the audience besides. He is so ready to carry out the demands of the heroine and always at her command that he is a very unreal spot in the telling of the story.

If you think the popularity of Gladys Brockwell will overcome a production such as this, the basic fault of which is the story, then go to it with her name well featured. The production given the picture is good and the surface impression is very satisfactory.

Good Production May Cover Up Poor Story

Geraldine Farrar in
"THE WOMAN AND THE PUPPET"
Goldwyn

DIRECTOR .....Reginald Barker
AUTHORS.....Pierre Louys and Pierre Frondaie
SCENARIO BY.....J. G. Hawkes
CAMERAMAN .....Percy Hilburn
AS A WHOLE.....Runs wild in operatic sort of atmosphere; not well suited to average audience.
STORY.....Exceedingly slight material dressed in elaborate sets with too much of the foreign for American appeal.
DIRECTION.....Artistic and technically correct but fails to inject an interest or hold attention throughout.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Good
LIGHTINGS.....Generally fine
CAMERA WORK.....Splendid
STAR.....Overdoes it in effort to impress the mannerisms of the cigarette girl of Seville.
SUPPORT.....Lou Tellegen impassive and condescending in role of Don Mateo; Bertram Grassby a superfluous character.
EXTERIORS.....Highly colored to represent Seville.
INTERIORS .....Quite all right
DETAIL.....One or two minor slip-ups in story sequence.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Spanish cigarette girl refuses influential nobleman whose proposal she does not believe wholly honorable.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,095 feet

Geraldine Farrar's latest Goldwyn production, both in story and production, can readily be imagined by its unusual similarity to "Carmen" which she made for Goldwyn some two or three years ago. As in the operatic adaptation, the star again plays the cigarette girl with wild abandon, fighting, scratching, flirting, defying and all the other things that go toward making the tempestuous nature of the young Spanish girl something to be "handled with care and this side up."

Director Barker has provided some lavish and highly colored settings as backgrounds for the scenes of the star's various outbursts of temper and they are many. In the opening reel during the carnival scene, the star and a gypsy dancer have a hair pulling match and general all around fight that may shock our more genteel friends up along the New England coast. Then again when the tables are turned and the spitfire no longer has the better of the situation Lou Tellegen as her suitor who has taken her rebuffs and punishment in silence, breaks forth in a rage and gives Jerry a couple of slaps in the face that bring her down a peg.

The story is an adaptation of Pierre Louys and Pierre Frondaie's stage play. These honorable Frenchmen are credited with the authorship of "Aphrodite" which gained fame for its risque atmosphere when presented at the Century last fall. Probably in view of this fact it is not surprising to find that they have the heroine of their play performing a very naughty dance in a wharf cafe in Seville in which she appears before a selected few wearing much skirt but otherwise only carries a fan.

There is such a similarity between "The Woman and the Puppet" and "Carmen" that it is hardly necessary to go into the story in detail. Concha, a young cigarette maker of Seville, attracts the attention of Don Mateo Diaz, a young Spanish nobleman, at the carnival fete. He becomes greatly infatuated with the girl who has secretly loved him since childhood. However, she repulses him and fights off his advances because her code demands that in return for her love she must have his true love so when he offers her money she flies in a rage determined to prove her theory that she cannot be bought.

Determined to crush the spirit and secure Concha for himself, for he really loves her, the nobleman searches all Spain for the girl who has disappeared. He finds her in a wharf cafe in Cadiz from which he takes her and establishes her in a beautiful home. Still uncertain of his love Concha puts him through various tests until Mateo finally rebels and after various clashes they come to an understanding and peace reigns for the first time—in this picture.

May Suit Few But Not the Majority

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

The picture is entirely too long for the amount of story material contained in it and although it has been well dressed with elaborate sets and highly colored Spanish atmosphere which helps to make up for the weakness of the story. The interest is very slight and at times slumps badly but picks up again well enough to get it over. Recall the star's appearance in "Carmen" and mention the similarity of that and her present picture. If they liked the former, they will want to see this one. If, on the other hand you are catering to a more or less prudish clientele, you had better prepare them for a shock or two.

A carefully selected and appropriate musical score will help to put this one over, and of course use the name of the star in large type and you might also say that she is again supported by her husband, Lou Tellegen.

Holy Week was the Best Week

ALL records in the history of the Rivoli Theatre, New York, were broken during the showing of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." And this was in Holy Week, the worst week in the year. Starting with Palm Sunday and continuing through Holy Saturday, the paid admissions for every day exceeded every previous record for that day.

Here are the actual paid admissions:

Palm Sunday	9872
Monday	7977
Tuesday	8255
Wednesday	8365
Holy Thursday	8185 (Rain)
Good Friday	7905 (Rain)
Holy Saturday	9972

60,496 for the Week!

AND on Easter, with drizzling rain all day long when the picture was transferred to the Rialto, it broke all records for both theatres—with paid admissions totalling 10,513.

The best previous record week was Holiday week of 1919, which included New Year's Eve and New Year's

It's a Picture you've

TRADE MARK Paramount Pictures

FAMOUS PLAY
ADOLPH ZUKOR Pres.

CANADIAN DISTRIBUTORS

ay. The paid admissions en were 57,430. The ghest Sunday record here-fore was 9840. The high-week day record was 7354.

These figures demonstrate yond a doubt that "Dr.
ykll and Mr. Hyde" is the st tremendous money-maker r offered to motion picture hibitors!

Got to Book!

ORPORATION
B DE MILLE Director General.
HEADQUARTERS TORONTO

ARTCRAFT PICTURES

ADOLPH ZUKOR
PRESENTS

JOHN BARRYMORE

IN

"Dr. JEKYLL and Mr. HYDE"

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON

DIRECTED BY JOHN S. ROBERTSON
SCENARIO BY CLARA S. BERANGER

A Paramount Artcraft Picture

CURRENT RELEASES

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
AMERICAN CINEMA CORP.
	The Inner Voice (E. K. Lincoln)	6	3/28/20
EQUITY PICTURES CORP.
	Eyes of Youth (Clara Kimball Young)	7	11/16/19
FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY CORP.
Feb. 1	Double Speed (Wallace Reid)	5	2/8/20
Feb. 1	All of a Sudden Peggy (Marguerite-Clark)	5	———
Feb. 8	The Six Best Cellars (Bryant Washburn)	5	3/14/20
Feb. 15	Mary's Ankle (MacLean & May)	5	3/7/20
Feb. 15	On With the Dance (Super-Special)	5	2/15/20
Feb. 22	Black is White (Dorothy Dalton)	5	3/14/20
Feb. 22	The Amateur Wife (Irene Castle)	5	———
Feb. 29	Huckleberry Finn (Super-Special)	5	2/29/20
Feb. 29	Young Mrs. Winthrop (Ethel Clayton)	5	3/28/20
Feb. 29	Dangerous Hours	5	2/8/20
Mar. 7	Alarm Clock Andy (Charles Ray)	5	3/21/20
Mar. 7	His House in Order (Elsie Ferguson)	5	3/14/20
Mar. 14	Jack Straw (Robert Warwick)	5	———
Mar. 14	Mary Ellen Comes to Town (Dorothy Gish)	5	3/28/20
Mar. 21	Excuse My Dust (Wallace Reid)	5	3/28/20
Mar. 21	April Folly (Cosmopolitan)	5	3/7/20
Mar. 28	My Lady's Garter (Maurice Tourneur's)	5	3/21/20
Mar. 28	Easy to Get (Marguerite Clark)	5	———
Apr.	Treasure Island (Super-Special) Tourneur	5	———
	Thou Art the Man (Robert Warwick)	5	———
	The Cost (Violet Heming)	5
	The False Road (Enid Bennett Inco)
	Terror Island Houdini)	5	———
	The Toll Gate (Super Special, Wm. Hart)	5
FIRST NATIONAL
	A Daughter of Two Worlds (Norma Talmadge)	6	1/11/20
	Two Weeks (Constance Talmadge)	5	2/1/20
	Even as Eve	5	———
	The Turning Point (Katherine MacDonald)	5	———
	The River's End (Marshall Neilan Prod.)	5	2/22/20
	Polly of the Storm Country (Mildred Harris Chaplin)	5	———
	In Search of a Sinner (Constance Talmadge)		3/14/20
	The Inferior Sex (Mildred Harris Chaplin)		———
	The Fighting Shepherdess (Anita Stewart)		4/4/20
	The Family Honor (King Vidor)		———
	Fires of Youth (D. W. Griffith's)		———
	The Woman Gives (Norma Talmadge)		———
	The Idol Dancer (Griffith)	7	3/28/20
FOX FILM CORP.
William Farnum Series
	The Last of the Duanes	7	10/5/19
	Wings of the Morning	6	12/7/19
	Heart Strings	6	1/4/20
	The Adventurer	6	1/4/20
Tom Mix Series
	The Feud	5	———
	The Cyclone	5	2/18/20
	The Daredevil	5	3/14/20
Victory Releases
	The Devil's Riddle (Gladys Brockwell)	5	2/18/20
Excel Pictures
	The Hell Ship (Madlaine Traverse)	5	2/15/20
	Black Shadows (Peggy Hyland)		———
	Durand of the Bad Lands (Dustin Farnum)		———
	The Tattlers (Madlaine Traverse)	5	3/28/20
Other Fox Entertainments
	A Manhattan Knight (George Walsh)	5	3/21/20
	Molly and I (Shirley Mason)	5	———
	Black Shadows (Peggy Hyland)	5
Pearl White Series
	The White Moll		———
GOLDWYN DISTRIBUTING CORP.
Star Series Productions
	Jubilo (Will Rogers)	5	12/14/19
	The Loves of Letty (Pauline Frederick)	5	2/15/20
	Toby's Bow (Tom Moore)	5	12/28/19
	Pinto (Mabel Normand)	5	2/1/20
	Water, Water Everywhere (Will Rogers)	5	2/8/20
	The Silver Horde (Rex Beach's	5	———
	The Cup of Fury (Rupert Hughes)	5	———
	The Paliser Case (Pauline Frederick)		2/22/20
	The Blooming Angel (Madge Kennedy)		2/15/20
	Duds (Tom Moore)		3/21/20
	The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come (Jack Pickford)		2/22/20
	The Street Called Straight (Basil King)		3/14/20
Bennison Star Series
	High Pockets	5	———
	A Misfit Earl	5	———
GRAPHIC FILM CORP.—STATE RIGHTS
	A Child For Sale	6	3/28/20
HALLMARK PICTURES CORP.
Famous Director Series
	A Dangerous Affair (Herbert Rawlinson)	5	———
	A Veiled Marriage	5	3/14/20
	Carmen of the North	5	———
	Chains of Evidence (Anna Lehr—Edmund Breese)	5	3/7/20
	Love Honor and ? (Stuart Holmes—Ellen Cassidy	5	———
	The Heart of a Gypsy (Florence Billings)	5	12/7/19
	The Phantom Honeymoon (Margaret Marsh)	6	———
	High Speed	5	1/11/20
	Wit Wins	5	———
	Wits vs. Wits	5	———

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
W. W. HODKINSON CORP.
Distributing Through Pathe
Benj. B. Hampton—Great Authors Pictures, Inc.
	The Sagebrusher	7	1/4/20
Zane Grey Pictures, Inc.—Benj. B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner
	The Desert of Wheat	6	———
J. Parker Read, Jr., Productions
	Sahara (Louise Glaum)	7	3/23/19
	The Lone Wolf's Daughter (Louise Glaum)	7	12/14/19
	Sex (Louise Glaum)	7	3/21/20
Deitrich-Beck, Inc.
	The Harvest Moon (Doris Kenyon)	6	———
Artco Productions
	The Capitol (Leah Baird)	6	12/21/19
	Cynthia-of-the-Minute (Leah Baird)		———
Robert Brunton Productions
	The Joyous Liar (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	12/14/19
	The Lord Loves the Irish (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	———
	Live Sparks (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	1/25/20
	$30,000 (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	2/22/20
	The Dream Cheater (J. Warren Kerrigan)	5	3/21/20
Joseph Levering Productions
	His Temporary Wife (Rubye De Remer)	6	1/25/20
Dial Film Co.
	King Spruce (Mitchell Lewis)	7	3/21/20
JANS PICTURES—STATE RIGHTS
	Love Without Question (Olive Tell)	6	4/4/20
METRO PICTURES CORP.
Nazimova Productions
	The Brat	7	9/14/19
	Stronger Than Death	6	1/18/20
	The Heart of a Child	7	———
Screen Classics, Inc. (Specials)
	Should a Woman Tell (Alice Lake)	6	12/28/19
	The Walk-Offs (May Allison)	6	1/25/20
	The Willow Tree (Viola Dana)	6	1/11/20
	The Right of Way (Bert Lytell)	6	2/1/20
	The Best of Luck (Drury Lane Melodrama)	6	———
	Old Lady 31 (Emma Dunn)	6	4/4/20
	Shore Acres (Alice Lake)	6	3/28/20
	Eliza Comes to Stay (Viola Dana)	6	———
	Judah (May Allison)	6	———
	Alias Jimmy Valentine (Bert Lytell)	6	———
	The Hope (All Star Cast)	6	———
Taylor Holmes Productions
	Nothing But the Truth	6	1/11/20
	The Very Idea	6	2/22/20
PATHE EXCHANGE, INC.
Jan. 4	My Husband's Other Wife (Sylvia Breamer)	6	12/21/19
Jan. 11	Fighting Cressy (Blanche Sweet)	6	12/14/19
Jan. 18	The Web of Deceit (Dolores Cassinelli)	6	1/4/20
Feb. 2	Other Men's Shoes (Edgar Lewis)	5	1/18/20
Feb. 2	Respectable by Proxy (Sylvia Breamer, Robt. Gordon)	6	4/4/20
Feb. 29	Smoldering Embers (Frank Keenan)	5	2/15/20
Mar. 7	In Walked Mary (June Caprice)	5	2/29/20
Mar. 14	Tarnished Reputations (Dolores Cassinelli)	5	3/7/20
Apr. 4	Lifting Shadows (Emmy Whelen)	6	3/28/20
Apr. 11	The Blood Barrier (Sylvia Breamer, Robert Gordon)	6	———
American Film Co., Inc.
	Eve in Exile (Charlotte Walker)	7	12/14/19
	The Valley of Tomorrow (Wm. Russell)	5	1/18/20
	The Dangerous Talent (Margarita Fisher)		3/14/20
	The Honey Bee (Mme Sylvia)		———
	Slam Bang Jim (Wm. Russell)	5	———
	The Thirtieth Piece of Silver (Margarita Fisher)	6	———
RADIN PICTURES—STATE RIGHTS
	Through Eyes of Men (Frank Mayo)	5	3/28/20
RADIOSOUL FILM, INC.
	A Man There Was (Victor Seastrom)	5	2/29/20
REALART PICTURES CORP.
	Soldiers of Fortune (Anna Q. Nilsson), Pauline Starke, Norman Kerry, Wallace Beery	7	11/16/19
	Anne of Green Gables (Mary Miles Minter)	6	11/23/19
	Erstwhile Susan (Constance Binney)	5	12/7/19
	Mystery of the Yellow Room (Lorin Baker, Ethel Grey Terry, Geo. Cowl, Edmund Elton)	6	10/26/19
	The Fear Market (Alice Brady)	5	1/11/20
	Judy of Rogue's Harbor (Mary Miles Minter)	5	2/8/20
	The Stolen Kiss (Constance Binney)	5	3/14/20
	Sinners (Alice Brady)	5	3/21/20
	Nurse Marjorie (Mary Miles Minter)	5	3/28/20
ROBERTSON-COLE
Specials
	The Open Door	6	10/19/19
	The Broken Butterfly	6	10/26/19
	The Beloved Cheater	5	11/16/19
	The House of Intrigue	7	———

SUPERIOR PICTURES

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
January Releases
	Haunting Shadows (H. B. Warner)	5	1/18/20
	The Third Generation (Brentwood)	5	1/25/20
	The Beggar Prince (Sessue Hayakawa)	5	2/1/20
February Releases
	The Luck of Geraldine Laird (Bessie Barriscale)	5	2/1/20
	Seeing It Through (Za Su Pitts)	5	2/15/20
	The Third Woman (Carlyle Blackwell)	5	3/21/20
	The Brand of Lopez (Sessue Hayakawa)	5	4/4/20
	The Bottom of the World	4	4/4/20

L. J. Selznick Enterprises

SELZNICK PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	The Woman God Sent (Zena Keefe)	5	———
	Footlights and Shadows (Olive Thomas)	5	2/15/20
	The Imp (Elsie Janis)	5	———
	Sooner or Later (Owen Moore)	5	3/21/20
	His Wife's Money (Eugene O'Brien)	5	———
	Greater Than Fame (Elaine Hammerstein)	5	1/18/20
	The Broken Melody (Eugene O'Brien)	5	12/28/19
	The Woman Game (Elaine Hammerstein)	5	3/14/20
	Youthful Folly (Olive Thomas)	5	4/4/20
	His Word of Honor (Owen Moore)	5	———
	A Fool and His Money (Eugene O'Brien)	5	———
	The Desperate Hero (Owen Moore)	5	———
	The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes (Elaine Hammerstein)		———
	Out of the Snows (Special)	5	———

SELECT PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	She Loves and Lies (Norma Talmadge)	6	1/11/20
	The Last of His People (Mitchell Lewis)	5	12/21/19
	The Undercurrent (Guy Empey)	7	12/7/19

NATIONAL PICTURES

Distributed Through Select Exchanges

	Blind Youth (Special Cast)	5	———
	Just a Wife (Special Cast)	5	———
	The Invisible Divorce	5	———

REPUBLIC PICTURES

Distributed Through Republic Exchances

	Trilby (Reissue) Tourneur Production with Clara Kimball Young	5	———
	Girl of the Sea (Williamson Sub. Prod.)	6	———
	The Amazing Woman (Ruth Clifford)	5	2/29/20
	The Blue Pearl (Edith Hallor)	5	———
	Twelve-10 (Herbert Brenon Prod.), Marie Doro	5	12/28/19
	Dad's Girl (Jackie Saunders)	5	———
	The Gift Supreme	5	———
	The Only Way Trail (Edythe Sterling)	5	———
	Mothers of Men	5	3/7/20
	The Great Shadow (Tyrone Power)	5	———
	The Adventuress (Julian Eltinge)	5	———
	Man's Plaything (Grace Davidson)	5	———
	Children Not Wanted (Edith Day)	5	———

KINOGRAMS

Every Tuesday and Saturday.

UNITED ARTISTS' CORP.

Sept. 1	His Majesty, the American	8	9/28/19
Oct. 20	Broken Blossoms (Griffith)	6	5/18/19
Dec. 29	When the Clouds Roll By (Douglas Fairbanks)	6	1/4/20
Jan. 18	Pollyanna (Mary Pickford)	6	1/25/20
Apr. 25	Down on the Farm (Mack Sennett's)	5	———

UNITED PICTURE THEATERS

	Tiger Girl (Lillian Gish)	5	———
	The Corsican Brothers (Dustin Farnum)	6	2/28/19
	The Hick (Charles Ray)	5	———
	The Vampire (Dorothy Dalton)	5	———
	Women Men Forget (Mollie King)	5	3/14/20
	The Iron Strain (Dustin Farnum)	5	———

UNIVERSAL FILM MFG. CO.

Jewel Features
	Paid in Advance (Dorothy Phillips)	6	11/16/19
	The Right to Happiness (Dorothy Phillips)	8	8/24/19
	Blind Husbands (Eric Stroheim)	7	10/19/19
Universal Features
	The Pointing Finger (Mary MacLaren)	5	12/7/19
	The Day She Paid (Francelia Billington)	5	12/14/19
	The Triflers (Edith Roberts)	5	6/11/20
	The Phantom Melody (Monroe Salisbury)	5	1/25/20
	Marked Men (Harry Carey)	5	12/21/19
	Rouge and Riches (Mary MacLaren)	5	1/4/20
	The Prince of Avenue A (James Corbett)	5	1/11/20
	The Peddler of Lies (Frank Mayo, Ora Carew)	5	1/25/20
	The Forged Bride (Mary MacLaren)	5	2/1/20
	The Girl in Number 29 (Frank Mayo)	5	4/4/20
	Her Five Foot Highness (Edith Roberts)	5	4/4/20

VITAGRAPH

	When a Man Loves (Earle Williams)	5	1/18/20
	The Sins of the Mothers (Anita Stewart)	5	———
	The Midnight Bride (Gladys Leslie)	5	2/1/20
	Human Collateral (Corinne Griffith)	5	———
	The Birth of a Soul (Harry Morey)	5	2/1/20
	The Juggernaut (Anita Stewart)	5	———
	Deadline at Eleven (Corinne Griffith)	5	3/14/20
	The Flaming Clue (Harry T. Morey)	5	———
	The More Excellent Way (Anita Stewart)	5	———

Special Productions

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
	The Winchester Woman (Alice Joyce)	6	11/9/19
	The Climbers (Corinne Griffith)	6	11/16/19
	The Vengeance of Durand (Alice Joyce)	6	12/14/19
	Slaves of Pride (Alice Joyce)	6	1/18/20
	The Fortune Hunter (Earle Williams)	7	2/22/20
	The Sporting Duchess (Alice Joyce)	7	3/7/20
	Captain Swift (Earle Williams)	5	———

SHORT REEL RELEASES

FROHMAN AMUSEMENT CO.

January Releases
	Gemini Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1	———
	All Wrong Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1	———
	The Heart of Texas (Texas Guinam)	2	———
	Spirit of Cabin Mine (Texas Guinan)	2	———

FROHMAN AMUSEMENT CO.

March Releases
	Nimrod Ambrose (Mack Swain)	1
	Ambrose in Bad (Mack Swain)	1
	Boss of the Rancho (Texas Guinan)	2
	Just Bill (Texas Guinan)	2
April Releases
	Ambrose and the Bathing Girls — Special	2

C. L. Chester

January Releases
	No Coma in Acoma	1	———
	The People in White	1	———
	The Simple Life	1	———
	Mr. Outing Gets a Pipe Dream	1	———

FAMOUS PLAYERS-LASKY

January Releases
	A Lady's Tailor (Sennett)	2	———
	After the Circus (Briggs)	1	———
	Push Car Trails in Formosa (Burton Holmes)	1	———

February Releases
COMEDIES
	Ten Dollars or Ten Days (Mack Sennett)	2
	Hoodooed (De Havens)	2
BURTON HOLMES TRAVEL SERIES
	Belgium Smiles Again	1
	Filming Ferocious Foremosans	1
	Parisian Faces and Figures	1
	Oriental College Boys and Co-eds	1
	The Yankee Watch on the Rhine	1
PARAMOUNT MAGAZINE
	Famous Women in Worlds Work	1
	Museum Mysteries	1
	The Lure of Fashion	1
	On the Job With Grandpa	1
	Growth of the North American Continent	1
March Releases
COMEDIES
	Teasing the Soil (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)	2
	Cleaning Up (Al St. John)	2
BURTON HOLMES TRAVEL SERIES
	Bustling Brussels	1
	Kingdom of the Yellow Rose	1
	Strassburg Redeemed	1
	The Boys' Big Club	1
PARAMOUNT MAGAZINE
	Numbers 3877, 3878, 3879, 3880 — each	1
April Releases
Comedies
	Gee Whiz (Mack Sennett)	2
	The Gingham Girl (Mack Sennett)	2
	Ship Ahoy (Al St. John)	2
Burton Holmes Travel Pictures
	Martyred Cities	1
	The Franco British Rhine	1
	Up Country in Siam	1
	In Lovely Lorraine	1
Paramount Magazine
	The Zero Hour in Art	1
	Tailoring in Metal	1
	Mental Acrobatics	1
	The Nurse of the Tenements	1

CHRISTIE COMEDIES

January Releases
	Monkey Shines	1
	Ducks	1
	It Takes a Crook	1
	Oh Doctor, Doctor	1
	Save Me, Sadie (Special)	2
February Releases
	Pants and Petticoats (Special)	2
	License Applied For	1
	Should a Husband Tell	1
March Releases
	Her Bridal Night-Mare (Special)	2

UNIVERSAL

January Releases
SERIALS
	Great Radium Mystery 13 to 16 — each	2
	Lion Man, 2 to 5 — each	2
COMEDIES
	Sweet Patootie (Lyons-Moran)	1
	Adam and Eve a la Mode	2
	Some Shimmiers (Lyons-Moran)	1
	A Baby Doll Bandit	2
	Naughty Lions and Wild Men	2
	The Sweet Dry and Dry (Lyons-Moran)	2
	All for the Dough Bag	2

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed
WESTERNS
	The Jay Bird (Hoot Gibson)	2
	West Is Best (Hoot Gibson)	2
February Releases
SERIALS
	Great Radium Mystery, 17 and 18 (Finish)	2	each
	The Lion Man, 6, 7, 8, 9	2	each
	Elmo, the Fearless, 1, 2, 3	2	each
COMEDIES
	Ain't Nature Wonderful (Lyons-Moran)	1
	Over the Ocean Wave	2
	Non-Skid Love (Lyons-Moran)	1
	Good Little Brownie	2
	Old Clothes for New (Lyons-Moran)	1
	The Bull Thrower	2
	New Screen Magazine, Nos. 51, 52, 53, 54	1	each
WESTERNS
	The Prospector's Vengeance	2
	Kaintuck's Ward	2
	A Sagebrush Gentleman	2
April Releases
	The Lion Man, 15, 16, 17, 18 (Complete)	2	each
	Elmo, the Fearless, 9, 10, 11, 12	2	each
	The Moon Riders, 1	2
Comedies
	Downing an Uprising (Lyons-Moran)	1
	A Champion Loser	2
	Stop that Wedding (Lyons-Moran)	1
	Dog Gone Clever	2
	Somebody Lied (Lyons-Moran)	1
	A Jazzy Janitor	2
Westerns
	When the Cougar Called (Magda Lane and Frank Burns)	2
	The Texas Kid (Hoot Gibson)	2
	One He Man (Jack Perrin and Josephine Hill)	2
Special
	Major Allen's Animal Hunt—Story of Wolf	1
New Screen Magazine
	Issues 60, 61, 62, 63	1	each

CAPITAL

January Releases
	A Man's Creed (Neal Hart)	2
	The Wilderness Man (Neal Hart)	2
	My Girl Suzzanne	2
	Bandit's Gold (Al Jennings)	2
	An Outlaw's Alibi (Al Jennings)	2
February Releases
	Boss of the Flying H (Neal Hart)	2
	The Run Aways (Neal Hart)	2
	When Outlaws Meet (Al Jennings)	2
	Bandit's Heart (Al Jennings)	2
	Screen Follies, 1 and 2	1	each
	Oh Louise (Adolph Phillip)	2

PATHE

January Releases
	Reviews 32 to 35	1
COMEDIES
	From Hand to Mouth (Harold Lloyd) (released late in Dec.)	2
	Why Go Home (Snub Pollard)	1
	Slippery Slickers (Snub Pollard)	1
	The Dippy Dentist (Snub Pollard)	1
SERIALS
	Black Secret, 9 to 12 (Pearl White)	2	each
	The Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland)	2	each
	Topics of the Day, 36 to 39	1	each
February Releases
SERIALS
	Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland) 6, 7, 8, 9	2	each
	The Black Secret (Pearl White and Walter McGrail) 13, 14, 15, 16	2	each
	Topics of the Day, 40, 41, 42, 43	1	each
COMEDIES
	All Lit Up (Snub Pollard)	1
	Getting His Goat (Snub Pollard)	1
	Waltz Me Around (Snub Pollard)	1
March Releases
SERIALS
	Daredevil Jack (Jack Dempsey) 4, 5, 6, 7	2	each
	Adventures of Ruth (Ruth Roland) 10, 11, 12, 13	2	each
COMEDIES
	Haunted Spooks (Harold Lloyd)	2
	Find the Girl (Snub Pollard)	1
	Fresh Paint (Snub Pollard)	1
	(Two other Pollard Comedies)	1	each
	Review Numbers 40, 41, 42, 43	1	each
	Topics of the Day Numbers 44, 45, 46, 47	1	each

PATHE

April Releases
Serials
	"Daredevil Jack" (Jack Dempsey) 8, 9, 10, 11	2	each
	"Trailed by Three" (Stuart Holmes and Frankie Mann) 1, 2, 3, 4	2	each
	"Adventures of Ruth," (Ruth Roland) 15 (Complete)	2
Comedies
	"Jiggs in Society" (Bringing Up Father Series)	2
	Cracked Wedding Bells (Snub Pollard)	1
	Speed to Spare (Snub Pollard)	1
	Pathe Reviews, 45, 46, 47, 48	1	each
	Topics of the Day, 49, 50, 51, 52	1	each

HALL ROOM BOY COMEDIES

January Releases
	Wrong Again	2
	Neck and Neck	2
February Releases
	Passing the Buck	2
	Can You Beat It	2
March Releases
	Breaking Into Society	2
	Oh Baby	2

Release Date		Length Reels	Reviewed

VITAGRAPH

January Releases
O HENRY STORIES
	The Church With an Overshot Wheel	2
	While the Auto Waits	2
BIG V COMEDIES
	Throbs and Thrills	2
	Dames and Dentists	2
SERIALS
	The Invisible Hand (Antonio Moreno), 3 to 6	2	each
February Releases
O HENRY STORIES
	Telamachus Friend	2
	The Dream	2
BIG V COMEDIES
	Pipe Dreams and Prizes (Harry Mann)	2
	Knights and Knighties (Montgomery and Rock)	2
SERIAL
	The Invisible Hand (Antonio Moreno) 7, 8, 9, 10	2	each

GOLDWYN

January Releases
	Bray Pictographs, 419, 420, 421, 422	1	each
March Releases
	Three Issues	1	each
FORD EDUCATIONAL WEEKLY
January Releases
	Eventide	1
	Bubbles	1
	Just Kids	1
	Taken With a Grain of Salt	1
March Releases
	Broken Silence	1
	With Every Meal	1
	Alligator Hunt	1
CAPITOL COMEDIES
	The Sure Cure (Mr. and Mrs. Carter DeHaven)	2
	Two Dollars Please	2
February Releases
	Excess Baggage (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)	2
	One Dollar Down (Neal Burns)	2
March Releases
	Forget Me Not (Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven)	2
	Matrimaniacs (Neal Burns)	2

FOX

January Releases
MUTT AND JEFF ANIMATED CARTOONS
	He Ain't Done Right by Our Nell	1
	On Strike	1
	Shaking the Shimmy	1
	The Rum Runners	1
	The Price of a Good Sneeze	1
	The Chewing Gum Industry	1
March Releases
	The Mint Spy	1
	The Chemist	1
	Putting on the Dog
SUNSHINE COMEDIES
	Chicken a la Cabaret	2
	Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts	2
	Training for Husbands	2
	The Great Nickel Robbery	2
February Releases
SUNSHINE COMEDIES
	Sheriff Nell's Comeback	2
	Her Naughty Wind	2
	Her Private Husband	2
March Releases
	The Heart Snatcher	2
	The Lightweight Lover	2
MUTT AND JEFF ANIMATED CARTOONS
	The Plumbers	1
	"I'm Ringing Your Party"	1
	Fishing	1
	Dead-Eye Jeff	1
	The Sour Violin	1
	The Price of a Good Sneeze	1
	The Chewing Gum Industry	1

REPUBLIC PICTURES

February Releases
	L. J. Selznick Enterprises
	Wm. J. Flynn Series (Herbert Rawlinson)	2
	Judge Browne Series	2
	Twelve Chaplin Reissues	2
KINOGRAMS
	Every Tuesday and Saturday

FILM SPECIALS

JOLLY COMEDIES
	The Close Shave (Ben Turpin)	2
	Hubby's Mistake (Gertrude Selby)	1
	Pardon Me (Gertrude Selby)	2
	Girls Will Be Girls (Leo White)	1

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES

	A Burlesque on Carmen (Charles Chaplin)	3
	The Champion (Charles Chaplin)	2
	Work (Charles Chaplin)	2
	By the Sea (Charles Chaplin)	2

WD 4/11/20

Some Short Reels

"Training For Husbands" Fox-Sunshine

Eddie Cline who brought Teddy and other of the Sennett animals into fame, is busy unearthing more like talent at the Sunshine studio. In "Training For Husbands" he enlists the services of a very intelligent canine (might be Teddy's half brother) and a small monkey and puts them through some paces that will surely brings response from all audiences. The scene in which the dog and the monk make up after their quarrel, their quick efficient work in putting out the fire and their rescue of the baby are bits that will appeal to all fans because of the surprising intelligence the animals show. The rest of "Training For Husbands" enlists the services of Slim Sommerville, Polly Moran, Dave Morris and the usual beauty host, and the business and tricks they perpetrate are up to the mark.

"Hula Hula Town" Fox

A Mutt and Jeff offering with bright spots, but its average doesn't register up to the best. The most amusing trick is the bit showing the male Hula playing a tune on the heads of a flock of youngsters as if they represented a xylophone. Great comedy and a wonderful opportunity for trick orchestral effects. Other scenes show the wiggles of the Hula dance, made wierdly fantastic by the unbounded imagination of the artist. Mutt and Jeff experience being captured and awarded as husbands to Hula maids. Their antics are not as funny as usual.

"The Gun Game," Universal

Leading up to an unusual climax, this two reeler goes along much after the fashion of most of these short westerns. The culmination, however, may meet with opposition from censor boards. The incident results from the efforts of a pair of unscrupulous operators planning to bring about the death of a prospector who has a valuable claim. Hero Bob Reeves is mistaken by them for a gun-man whom they plan to hire for the purpose. He gets wind of their schemes, and when the real murderer makes his appearance, fixes matters so that he shoots the duo of plotters who engage him. Probably they will be able to alter the titles and cut it so that the manner in which the two are led out to the slaughter will appear less cold blooded. As it is, the triple killing is decidedly unpleasant.

"A Fly in the Ointment," National—Goldwyn.

Scant material for a two reel comedy is to be found in this production which features Neal Burns and has Lucille Rubey playing the femine lead. The plot generally is disconnected, being a chain of incidents concerning the entry of a thieving youth into the home of a newly married couple and their efforts to locate him. Complications are added by the cutting of their telephone wire, and a small-pox sign placed on their door. The latter serves to keep them confined to the limits of their domicile, for a quartet of coppers guard them strictly. Until the youngster who entered their home is apprehended, and the finish is reached, there is just a succession of knock-about bits, without very much suspense maintained.

Bray Pictograph, No. 432—Goldwyn.

Only one robbery and the manner in which the criminals are detected are revealed in "Famous Robberies," the initial portion of another Bray. It has been posed by Amelia de Santis, a femine sleuth and some others, not credited. Two orangtans are seen in "A Zooland Romance". "A Jerry on the Job" cartoon which concludes is quite funny. It winds up with the much-used dream gag, but that is hardly expected and the portion registers several laughs.

"A Gum Riot"—Arrow

Fault may be found with some of the footage in this Hank Mann comedy, which in places has a bit too much of the slapstick stuff, but its timeliness, combined with some truly humerous business and a good story should be sufficient to get it over even with critical audiences. The action takes place in a gum factory. By a peculiar accident, a boot-legger attempting to avoid the keen eye of an officer of the law, holds a bottle of liquor so that its contents drop into a vat in which the gum is being prepared. It is when the gum is finished and ready to chew that the riot starts. The folks discover before long that it includes fire-water and you can imagine the rest. Of course, they have used the accidental-infiltration-of-alcohol scheme before, but prohibition has not yet been exhausted as a source of humor. As a whole, one of the best Hank Mann has done in some time.

"His Misguided Love"—Florida Film

Until almost the very finish is reached, this knock-about comedy fails to register satisfactory style. Fatty Carr, Gertrude Garretson, Bert Tracy and the others chase one another about, indulge in the shooting of revolvers now and then, fall in and out of portable beds and do many other things that have been done time and time again in riotous two reelers of this sort. The confusing of the dynamite and chicken feed, resulting in the hens being blown sky-ward results in a few laughs and helps it along somewhat. Entirely too much of the old stuff is the great draw-back. Glenn Lambert directed. It is one of the "Sunbeam" comedies

"Speed to Spare"—Pathe

When they decided to call this "Speed to Spare" they were quite correct. If they had stopped long enough to decide upon some sort of a story however, and spared some of the speed, they might have turned out a superior comedy. Diagnosing the affair it is difficult to find more than one or two bits that will cause more than faint ripples of laughter. A great deal of footage is devoted to Pollard's escapades in the elevator. Stuff of that sort has been used too frequently to make it really valuable. Few of the Pollard comedies have good stories and some have none at all. In some cases the comedy business gets them over, but this has little to recommend it.

"Dog-Gone Clever"—Universal.

Evidently, when they started out on this two reel slap-stick comedy, they had some sort of a story in mind. In the wild conglomeration of knock-about bits, however, they strayed from the original plot and then terminated it without a really smooth finish. Brownie, the trained dog which appears in some of Universal's two reelers does several clever stunts, most of them at the start, but it is not long before he is sidetracked, while the men in the cast chase one another about and hit one another with mallots and hammers. There is the usual business of hitting the wrong person and other stuff that has been seen on innumerable occasions. On the other hand, there are several new humorous bits. The opening prison scene in which the dog appears as a convict and makes his escape will produce the wanted effect, and the telephone episode will provoke mirth. Towards the finish, the dog again is seen, but the conclusion is weak and abrupt. Chuck Reisner directed.

"Pardners"—Universal.

Another conventional short reel western theme has been selected for this two reeler which stars Ed "Hoot" Gibson. As is usual in offerings of this sort, they keep the action going at top speed throughout. A scene that is somewhat out of the ordinary is the one in which hero Gibson forces the boys and saloon keeper who is the villian of course, to patronize a "sody pop" establishment. It results in the latter trying to place the blame for a hold-up and murder on Hoot. Circumstancial evidence points to Gibson's guilt, but another ruse on the part of the plotters, to secure the girl in the case results in their ultimate downfall. Thelma Percy is the leading woman, and Leonard Clapham and Jim Corey are the heavies.

"Are Brides Happy"—Christie Comedies

Fast action rules throughout this single reel Christe comedy in which Earl Rodney plays the male lead. There is an acceptable story about which the offering has been built and although there is nothing very startling in the way of situations, it should go over in good style. Most of it centers about the experiences of a youthful couple, just married and occupying separate rooms in a hotel. Confused valises cause them to seek each other's sleeping quarters, and the house detective gets on the trail. The fact that they have been married serves to clear matters in the end.

Short Reels

"The Fatal Wallop"—Gaiety Comedies

Despite the fact that there is no real story and the entire affair remains unexplained at the finish, another Gaiety one reeler which stars George Ovey is quite certain to provoke laughs and hold its own. Nan Blair penned the vehicle and James Clemmons directed it. Most of the production consists of what was probably meant as a burlesque on some of the stuff found in serials and otherwise mystic and sensational material. Ovey despatched by his wife, seated on the beach, to provide a drink, discovers a badge which he wears—a symbol of a secret order. It results in good fortune at first, but he soon finds himself in a mysterious house where he goes through wierd experiences. Obviously it is all a vision, but they fail to explain the manner in which he starts and finishes dreaming. The hokum is of the quality that gives cause for laughter, however, and this will hold its own.

"Hula Hula Town"—Fox.

Cannibals have Mutt and Jeff in their power in this animated cartoon. The king decides that the two white men shall marry his daughters and the duo are nominated for the honors. While Jeff unwillingly consents, Mutt prefers being boiled to becoming the spouse of one of the dusky maids. Finally, Jeff breaks from the clutches of the enthusiastic damsel he has been forced to wed, rocks the entire black-faced band into oblivion and rescues his partner. Most of the stuff included in this reel is thoroughly foolish, but at the same time, it will make them laugh much more easily than some of the other recent releases of this series, over which it is a vast improvement.

"The Stimulating Mrs. Barton"—Pathe.

Psychologically, this two reeler is quite true to life. Mrs. Sidney Drew has taken another of Julian Street's "After Thirty" stories, and with a cast that includes John Cumberland, Harold Forshay, Elinor Curtis and Margot Leighton, has made it into a highly satisfactory two reeler. It is an intensely human offering, cleverly titled and produced in good style. It has many situations of merit, and with its other good qualities, should please. There is a satirical atmosphere maintained, one that is typical of the old Sidney Drew comedies. You can interest many in it by the use of judicious catch-lines. Play it up especially to the married people if you run it.

Pathe Review—No. 40.

Moving at top speed throughout, including several subjects, each of which is taken up sufficiently in detail, and yet not for too long a time, this Pathe Review holds interest at all times. It starts with some colored scenes of Switzerland and follows with an industrial portion which shows tests applied to copper. After that comes another multi-tinted portion showing the securing of birds to be used in hat decoration. The titles in that part do not approve that use for birds. George Bothner, world-famous lightweight wrestler and a partner demonstrate some wrestling holds and defenses against them in the slow-motion part, produced by Novagraph, and Desiree Lubovska presents the Grecian Dance of Vanity at the close.

"Cut the Cards"—Pathe

One good situation will frequently put a single reel comedy over and in this one, it is the poker game incident that draws almost all of the laughs. Until that portion is reached, the footage consists almost entirely of chase stuff, some of which is funny, but most of which lacks humor. The scene in which several characters, including colored, Italian and Jewish gentlemen as well as Snub Pollard and one of the company that almost invariably is seen with him, gamble consists of hokum of the sort that is sure to prove popular. Most of the punch in this, in fact practically all of the kick is to be found towards the finish. That will enable it to score.

"The Dinner Hour"—Pathe.

Snub Pollard is seen as a waiter in a one reeler in which the action takes place in a cabaret. At the start, this promises to be quite a fun-maker, the scene in which the leading woman flits first from one man and then to the other being up to the mark. Soon after that however, it evolves into a spectacle of crockery-breaking and wild riot in which plate after plate is shattered, some semi-liquids are thrown about, and the different characters shower blows upon one another. In the end, the maid who skips from man to man, hurries from Snub and departs with another, leaving the mustached comedian to the pleasure of pummeling himself. Play this if your audience takes a delight in slap-stick stuff of the sort included and you happen to need a film of this length; but if it prefers material that is not so riotous, be careful.

"Screen Snap Shots," No. 1. Jack Cohn—State Rights.

Not so very long ago several reels made up of scenes in which various screen celebrities were shown more or less at ease were released. Now Jack Cohn is selling on the state right market a series of pictures which deal intimately with those who have acquired fame. Beyond doubt these production will appeal to the fans who are always curious as to the "inside dope" on the industry. Starting with a scene in which the children of Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven, George Beban and Lottie Pickford appear, this drifts into a dance by Alla Nazimova, and then shows the destruction of D. W. Griffith's giant setting used in the production of "Intolerance." The enormous walls and symbols are seen crumbling under the efforts of laborers engaged to raze the structure. Edwin Carewe directs a clutch between Allen Sears and Rosemary Theby. Not to be outdone by them, Sessue Hayakawa and Dagmar Goldowsky also kiss, but Sessue places the imprint on her hand. To close, Charles Ray secures an osculation, employing some of his bashful business. Framed to suit the average fan audience, this should interest almost anyone.

"Trailed by Three"—Pathe.

Several thrills have been injected into the second episode of this serial, "Trapped in Chinatown." As the title suggests, the various characters are placed in that section of the city inhabited by the Mongolians, with the usual intricate dives, hidden springs and trap doors making their appearance. Although there is more scrap stuff and action than in the preceding episode, no really unusual feature makes it appearance. It consists mainly of typical Chinatown stuff. The section in which the hero is being threatened with death by the inrushing water makes up a situation that is hardly new, but the part wherein one of the heavies lowers a tarantula, the little animal with the big kick in its tail, towards the eyes of the leading man, excites.

"Distilled Love"—Reelcraft

In addition to numerous touches in which common farmyard animals appear—bits of the sort that always appeal—there are several humorous bits in this two reeler that place it in the successful class of knock-about comedies. It is just a trifle disconected, and may need cutting in places, but as a whole is quite certain to register. Alice Howell, who is starred, holds her end up in reasonably good style, although most of the comedy does not depend on the performers. The shots in which the donkey, sucking pigs, dog, cat and goose appear, interest, although they are not essential to the story. After that, the traveling liquor-establishment provokes mirth. They devote some of the footage to a burlesque on some of the old-time melodrama.

Selznick News—Select

The first issue of the new Selznick news reel contains several interesting features, notably a slow motion picture of the busiest spot in Philadelphia, and the throng moving at snail pace, and in contradistinction a shot of Fifth Avenue, New York, with the camera speeded down, thus showing the New Yorkers hurrying along at a whirlwind pace, and the autos going like mad. The titles were especially good, and the news reel contents up to the standard of other news reels. Especially artistic title cards proved interesting.

WHEN DOES MISSOURI BELIEVE?

When it sees it.

When Does IT See "IT"?

Not when it is shown in the flowery language of the press agent, nor in the wiles or smiles of the publicity man.

The film man who is always hard-headed when it comes to cash, believes only facts, FACTS, FACTS, and nothing but FACTS.

Now, gentlemen of the film trade, please go over the following facts carefully, cautiously, with all the skepticism and cynicism, if you please, of a real film man, but thoroughly and to the end.

We have a picture. It is called "A MAN THERE WAS."

It's author is HENRIK IBSEN.

Our star is the great American artist, VICTOR SEASTROM.

This picture of ours was shown before representatives of the trade press of America, and to some representatives of the European press, and here is their verdict:

L. R. Harrison in the MOVING PICTURE WORLD

The performance of Victor Seastrom as an actor deserves abundant praise, but his handling of the subject matter as director awakens enthusiasm. . . There is enough of it to show vivid flashes of potential genius. His handling of the spirited and realistic scenes of storm at sea is almost a revelation. "A Man There Was" is a picture of high intensity and tender pathos, a drama of the soul.

John Morrell in the NEW YORK REVIEW

In looking at "A Man There Was" we cannot think of an American director who could have brought out its psychology or its realistic scope any better—perhaps not so well.

The picture keeps the spectator completely fascinated. In point of picturesqueness, story quality, interpretation and direction, it is an exceptional offering.

The star is Victor Seastrom, who is also the director. Fine as his performance is, his direction is better. The angles he has caught on the wreck are almost like animated conceptions of marine paintings.

As an actor he resembles William Farnum in countenance, but his performance is more finished. It is said that Mr. Seastrom is an American who is recognized in Europe as one of the foremost artists of the cinema. He should come to his native land and teach some of his rivals how to GET INTO CHARACTER.

Lawrence Reid in the MOTION PICTURE NEWS

In this picturization of "A Man There Was" there is revealed one of the treats of the season. As intelligent and carefully wrought as is the performance of Victor Seastrom, his direction is even better. His marine views resemble animated masterpieces. His entire work is highly realistic. Presenting, as he does, a powerful theme logically worked out and directed with infinite care and splendidly acted, "A Man There Was" may be called a real achievement.

Helen Rockwell in the EXHIBITOR'S TRADE REVIEW

"A Man There Was" is presented with such simplicity and realism that its effect is twice as forceful as if moulded of the conventional melodramatic metal. The picture has been beautifully produced with exquisite views of the ocean in its various moods. The camerawork is excellent and the picture worth viewing if only for the marvelous glimpses of the sea, which are shown.

WID'S

Direction has handled the sea scenes wonderfully well and registered the drama effectively. Photography—generally very fine. The star renders a powerful characterization.

Th drama unfolded is one of strict elementals. All the sequences are handled very dramatically. Viken's attempt to save his boat is pictured with a real thrill. Again, when Viken puts out to the rescue of the yacht which proves to be owned by his enemy the drama is swift and strong. Certainly no sequence of sea scenes produced in this country has ever equaled in sheer natural force the sequence that leads to the climax of "A Man There Was." The star, Victor Seastrom, is a splendid character acter and plays the role of Viken with feeling. His physique is admirable and his ability at makeup quite superior.

NEW YORK DRAMATIC MIRROR

Victor Seastrom, an American artist hardly known in the United States, acclaimed in Europe as the "Prince of the Screen," appears in Henrik Ibsen's masterpiece, "A MAN THERE WAS." The story, symbolizing the life of a red blooded man in the clash of real human passions, is exceeding dramatic in every respect.

W. Stephen Bush in THE BILLBOARD

This is a picture of rare merit, approaching our best in the technique of its photography, and equally our best in direction. In the subtlety of its art and its wonderfully calculated appeal to our pity, it comes close to surpassing our best average.

Victor Seastrom in the leading role dominates the situation. Without putting too great a strain on the press agent's popular group of adjectives, one cannot do justice to his great art, to his extraordinary powers of portrayal, to the subtlety of his characterization.

AND THIS FROM LONDON ABOUT OUR PICTURE:

THE CINEMATOGRAPH

With magnificent photography, intense acting, and a story which grips the spectator, "A MAN THERE WAS" is one of the most attractive productions we have seen for a long while. Seldom has such a breezy, natural, human story been seen on the screen. It is a sea story that appears to convey the spray of the ocean in every scene, and being a clean, wholesome, well-told and intelligent narrative, it cannot fail to prove of inestimable value to the exhibitor.

THE BIOSCOPE

People who have grown weary of "the eternal triangle" of fickle wives and telephone intrigues, will welcome this grim epic of the sea where liliputian emotions are substituted for by grand tragedy where the fundamental passions by which all humanity is swayed sound in a deep, deep vibration. Ibsen is the author of "A MAN THERE WAS" and it ranks with the works when the great master became poet and not cynic. The photography is excellent.

THE CINEMA

Whether Ibsen be the greatest of all times, or merely a sporadic flower of genius, any work to which his name is attached will always be sure of a full measure of respectful attention. There is that elusive something about it all which will not be denied. The play is most admirably acted; the action becomes tenser and tenser as the play proceeds and some of the scenes on the sea are uncannily realistic. The photography is exceptionally good.

How many pictures have been offered to the trade with such a send-off by men, whom you, gentlemen, have conceded to be the leaders and authorities in your trade, and by whose judgment, you, as well as the public, have learned so often to abide?

TERRITORY NOW SELLING

Apply:
RADIOSOUL FILMS, Inc.
1400 Broadway
New York, N. Y.

The Girl He Loved —Wanted By the Paris Police!

WAS Mary Regan wholly bad? Could she be saved from the evil influence of her uncle—sharpest swindler on two continents?

Clifford believed she could—because he loved her. By superhuman courage and cunning he smashed the ring of crooks that terrorized New York, and saved Mary Regan in the end.

A new and different sort of detective picture!

SAMUEL GOLDWYN AND REX BEACH PRESENT

LEROY SCOTT'S

FAMOUS STORY

PARTNERS of the NIGHT

DIRECTED BY PAUL SCARDON

GOLDWYN PICTVRES CORPORATION

SAMVEL GOLDWYN President

the BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 12 Monday, April 12, 1920 Price 5 Cent

Get Around Strike

rcels Post Used in Most Instances to Get Shipments Through

The strike which has crippled the lroad service has not as yet af-cted film shipments to a great ex-nt.

Most of the larger organizations e employing the parcels post large-to get around the difficulty. Later , it is expected in some cases, the sults of the tie-up will be felt more enly, but as yet no company has d very much trouble.

Harry H. Buxbaum, New York ex-ange manager for Famous Players, red a number of motor boats and ll use these to ship pictures to Jer-y City and Albany. Exhibitors will ve to call at these centers and se-re their pictures.

Universal, according to a member its sales force, will also be obliged call on exhibitors to make their n deliveries in many cases. Select ans to use trucks to relieve the sit-tion if it becomes acute, and it is ely that other concerns will avail emselves of similar methods.

Another Coast Producer

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Ramona Film Corp. the latest producer in the field. he company will make one produc-n at a local studio, but later plans erect a plant in Hollywood or San-Monica.

Ray Rockett, former business man-er with Balboa and later with Uni-rsal, is president and general man-er, while his brother Al is assist-t general manager. E. H. Chris-nsen is vice-president and S. G. Bu-an, treasurer.

It is expected that the name of the mpany will be shortly changed m Romona to Rockett Film Corp.

Drew Post Holds Benefit

The benefit of the S. Rankin Drew st of the American Legion was ld last night at the New Amster-m Theater.

Quite a number of film folks were sent, including Arthur James, Ho-t Henley, Eugene Zukor and ers.

Ethel and Lionel Barrymore, Geor-Price and others appeared. In absence of Ed Wynn, Richard Travers acted as master of cere-nies.

The Post plans the erection of a nnasium for members of the mo-n picture and theatrical professions.

"Listen, Bo! Split, or I'll tell your other wife"—Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry," his second independently produced picture for First National.—Advt.

Forms Film Bureau

Dry Goods Ass'n Establishes New Service for Its Members.

The National Retail Dry Goods Ass'n has established a film service bureau for the purpose of showing to department store employees in a graphic manner how the product they sell is made from the time the raw material is gathered until the time the article is completed.

Some manufacturers have had industrial films made of the product they deal in and these have been listed and a booking sheet arranged for the members to draw upon. The Association is also sending out data on the kind of projection machines best suited for the members.

New First National Unit

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—Following the incorporation of the Associated First National Pictures of Missouri comes another company chartered by the Corporation Trust Co. here.

It is the Associated First National Pictures of New York with a capitalization of $8,700,000.

Puts Blame on Films

School Principals Find a Harmful Effect Produced on Children

Specific charges of the unfavorable influence upon the minds of children wrought by a number of smaller theaters in this city and condemnation in general of a number of pictures now being exhibited are made in a series of reports submitted by public school principals and made public by the National Motion Picture League, of which Mrs. Adele F. Woodward is president.

Authors Oppose Deposit Bill

The Authors' League has sent a telegram to Speaker Sweet in Albany asking for a hearing on the deposit bill which has already passed the Senate.

The League opposes the bill which would eliminate deposits.

James Vincent, who is directing "Stolen Moments" for American Cinema, has taken his company to Pinehurst, N. C. for exteriors.

"Griff" Gets Patent

Secures Exclusive Right to "Blu Effect" Used in "Broken Blossoms

D. W. Griffith has received fro he commissioner of patents at Was ngton the exclusive right to mak se and vend certain methods and a paratus for the projection of motic and other pictures with color effect

The Griffith patent, which cove a term of 17 years, will give the pr ducer protection against the copyi of his lighting effects in color as fir introduced by him in connection wi the showing of "Broken Blossoms" the Geo. M. Cohan Theater, Ne York, last May.

Zukor Sails To-morrow

(By cable)

London, Eng.—Adolph Zukor Famous Players expects to leave th country for the States to-morrow.

ALICOAT

Saenger Now Up-town

The Saenger Amusement Co., V H. Gueringer local representativ moved Saturday to the Goodri Bldg., 1780 Broadway, on the four floor.

Silz Reports Combine

Rene Silz, who represents a nur ber of the leading French compan in this country, reports that prac cally all of the people engaged in t film industry in France have form a union known as the Federation N tionale de l'Industrie Cinematograp ique.

The union includes operators, car eramen, technical men, scenario wri ers, authors, directors, actors, a tresses, a large part of the existi exchanges and about 800 of the the ters. All told, according to Sil there are about 1,600 theaters France.

He states that the French peop are about fed up on wild and wool westerns.

Row Over Dante's "Inferno"

In a suit of Frederick Green again Joseph P. Collins and Arthur Feig ery the defendants filed an answer the Supreme Court. They deny th they guaranteed that the negative Dante's "Inferno" was the origin and say that whatever differences e i[illegible] n the plaintiff and Feig ttled by an agreement 1917, in which the two di [illegible]ership as the Milan [illegible] Film Co. and Green g $2,581 as his share and was to ha a lien on the "Inferno" film until had paid in full.

Need a GOOD Publicity man? Emp SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

Wid's DAILY

J. XII No. 12 Mon. April 12, 1920 Price 5 Cents

...YRIGHT 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer, Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 1 Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	83	84⅝	84⅝
*Do pfd.	90¼	90⅞	90⅞
Goldwyn	24	25	24⅜
Loew's, Inc.	33⅜	34⅞	34⅝
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod...	5	5¼	5
World. 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

*Thursday's quotations.

Harvey Gates will prepare continuity for "Fightin' Job," a new H. H. Van Loan story for Harry Carey.

John C. Brownell, of the Universal scenario department, is in town.

GLOBE TROTS
HIT THE
HIGH SPOTS

Globe Trots Films
INC.

In the Courts

A summons has been filed in the Supreme Court in a new action of the Universal Film Co. against Morris Greenhill and John D. Tippett. Greenhill was served at the Plaza.

Raymond C. Tischhouser, as the owner of 100 shares of the $1,000,000 stock of the Lenskraft Pictures Corp., filed suit in the Supreme Court against the officers and directors of the corporation on the ground that because of their negligence in attending to the affairs of the corporation the assets have been wasted. The defendants named are James T. Brown, Lucy W. Babcock, A. Reeder Ferriday, George B. Ten Eyck and George Eger. His attorneys are Stockton & Stockton.

Chicago Theater to Cost $600,000
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago, Ill.—Otto C. Lorenz will build at Irving Park Boulevard and Broadway, at a cost of $600,000.

Large House for Chicago Heights
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago Heights, Ill.—The S. J. Gregory Theatrical Co. will build a 2,200 seater costing $250,000.

Studio in Australia
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Sydney, Australia—The E. J. Carroll-"Snowy" Baker organization has commenced work on the erection of a studio here to house its production activities.

Three Australian-made productions have been completed. They will be handled in America by Hal Roach of the Rolin Film Co., producers of the Harold Lloyd comedies.

Chamberlain Visits Coast

F. V. Chamberlain, general service manager of the Famous Players' home office, is on the coast where he will spend about a month or six weeks.

Charles Rosenfeld, of the Robertson-Cole sales force, has a new addition to the family in the form of a baby son.

Results

New York City

Wid's:

We are now convinced that Wid's is read. Here is what happened. On Wednesday you printeda little announcement of our releasing HARRY CAREY in "THE SQUARE-SHOOTER" on the State Rights Market. Your daily carried our first notice to the exchanges. On Fr day and Saturday we received 12 wires and 8 letters from different territories regarding the picture. They had all read it in Wid's.

Many thanks,
FILM SPECIALS.
J. M. Sanford.

First Nat'l's Investigation

The following table amplifies the article published in WID'S DAILY last week regarding the investigation conducted by First National into the average evening admission prices at theaters seating 1,000 or more.

Here are the results in tabular form:

	First runs	Price	2nd Run	Price
Louisville	4	25	11	10-15
Hartford	5	15-35	3	10-20
Montg'y, Al. ...	3	5-50	1	10-15
Saginaw, Mich. ..	4	20-40	9	10-20
Des Moines	5	15-35	6	5-20
Pittsburgh	4	25-35	5	17-22
Kansas City	7	10-50	2	20-35
Buffalo	5	15-50	4	15-35
San Francisco ...	10	15-75	10	10-50
Denver	6	25-30	23	10-25
Superior, Wis	4	.....	..	.....
Spgfd. Mass.	4	10-35	3	17-25
St. Paul	6	20-35	10	17
Duluth	5	25	4	.....
Indianapolis	6	20-40	3	10-15
Colo. Springs	5	10-35	..	.. ..
Dallas	6	17-42	6	10-18
Salt Lake	4	10-50	2	11-30
Chattanooga	4	10-30	3	5-10
Fort Wayne	5	15-25	4	10-15
Minneapolis	6	20-35	17	15-20
Detroit	6	50	4	25

Simpson to Build in Rochester

Rochester, N. Y.—George E. Simpson will spend $1,000,000 on the erection of a new house.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Marcus A. Bon, $200,000.

Williston, N. D.—William Snyder, $100,000.

D. D. Rothacker in Town

Douglas D. Rothacker, brother t Watterson, is in town at the Cla ...lge.

Regarding One-Sheets

Rome, Ga.—Consider the one sheet.

O. C. Lam, manager of the Rom Amusement Company, has.

One-sheets cost less than bigge sheets.

You can buy more of them for th same money.

"The more sheets you stick arour the streets, the more people you attract," says Mr. Lam.

"More one sheets mean more pa rons. So I favor one-sheets as th best means of exploitation."

"They've never failed me yet When I had Constance Talmadge "Two Weeks," her latest picture f First National, I pinned a lot of fai to the one sheets I used to bill t town. When Norma Talmadge w booked in "The Daughter of Tw Worlds," I never got stuck on t faith I pinned in one sheets."

Dorothy Gish has begun work her twelfth Paramount-Artcraft pr duction, as yet unnamed.

Mary Thurman, who is featured the Allan Dwan productions, "In t Heart of a Fool" and "The Scoffe" under the Mayflower banner, w painfully but not seriously burned her apartments when a Chinese ...cense burner exploded.

The use of RITCHEY posters is a positive indication of two things on somebody's part,—good taste, and excellent judgment.

RITCHEY
LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

We Place Insurance for
B. S. Moss
Theatres
Watch this Space for Others

AN OUNCE OF PROTECTION
IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE

Don't wait with your insurance problems. To-morrow may be too late. Years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture field has enabled us to handle your problem with intelligence, dispatch and economy. May we prove to you how we can serve you better. Your phone's handy.

REUBEN SAMUELS
REAL INC. SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

New Theaters

Houses Planned

ttleboro, Vt.—Pellett and Skin- build.

halis, Wash.—J. D. Rice, man- Dream, to build.

d, Ore.—W. T. and T. M. nnell, $50,000. 1,500.

l Rapids, S. D.—H. A. Perry . A. Bower, $16,000.

ners County, Ida.—Ward Wil- Mutual and Star to build, 650.

on, Ill.—John Jianokopolis to ight, Ill.—A. L. Orr and Sons uild.

Ill.—Harry Tanner will build.

tle, Wash.—H. Erner. $10,- 00.

Houses Completed

sburgh, Pa.—Brighton Amuse. ark at 46th and Butler St.

x City, Ia.—Cecile Zelinka, ide. 250.

le Rock, Ark.—Southern Enter. n house in July.

ora, Ill.—Rialto, Aurora The- Co., 1550, opened.

Haven, Conn.—Tillock and nn's newly leased house openaque, Can.—Delaney, 1,000, l.

Under Construction

ltrie, Ga.—M. Vereen and J. Norman building.

hfield, Vt.—N. M. Johnson g.

ton, Iowa.—Strauss, Levy, erty and Burns building 950.

KESSEL QUALITY
holas Kessel Laboratory, Inc.
'Phone Fort Lee 221

ats, Electros and Stereos for the Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
ne fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—

Francelia Billington has been engaged by William Fox as lead for Tom Mix in "No Limit Carson."

The Filmusic Co. has moved to new quarters at Santa Monica Blvd. and Los Palmos Ave.

Joseph J. Dowling has been secured by Al Christie for the Robertson-Cole production, "A Smart Aleck," the story by Irv Cobb.

Colin Campbell, who directed Dustin Farnum in "The Corsican Brothers," has been secured to direct Farnum's new picture, "Big Happiness" at Brunton's studio.

Harry Lustig, western division manager for Metro, has left Los Angeles for a six week's tour of Western Metro offices.

Tom Chatterton has been cast as leading man for Enid Bennett in her newest Ince production, "The Incubus," by Mary Benton Cooke.

John H. Blackwood, scenario editor at the Thos. H. Ince Studios is submerged in scenarial material, and all because of the $2,000 prize offer made to students of Columbia University by Thos. H. Ince.

Prominent in the cast chosen to surround Douglas McLean and Doris May in their new Ince farce, temporarily titled "Lucid Intervals," is Wallace Beery.

Mason N. Litson has been assigned to direct the Booth Tarkington "Edgar" series. E. Mason Hopper, who directed the first three of these boy comedies, will direct the Mary Roberts Rinehart stories "Empire Builders."

Summoned to New York by Maxwell Karger for a part in his all-star production of the Pollock-Hopwood drama, "Clothes," Mary Beaton has left for the East.

GAUSMAN.

Schenck Buys "Wedding Bells"

Jos. M. Schenck has purchased screen rights to "Wedding Bells," which has had a run at the Harris theater. It will be used for Constance Talmadge.

Goodman Story for Carpentier

Dr. Daniel Carson Goodman has just completed an original scenario for Georges Carpentier. Carpentier will not play the role of a pugilist, but of a French secret service man, on duty in Washington.

Plan to Conserve Paper

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—The Studio Publicists Asso. at a recent meeting decided to help in the conservation of paper by sending out fewer and shorter stories covering the activities of their respective companies.

F. P.-L. Releases

Famous Players-Lasky will release on April 30 "The Cost," with Violet Heming and Robert Warwick in "Thou Art the Man."

Among Exchangemen

Toronto, Can.—Vincent McCabe, Canadian manager for Fox, has returned from a trip through the West.

Toronto, Can.—B. Harris has been named purchasing agent for Famous and subsidiary companies.

Baltimore, Md.—Elmer Hutchins and John L. McDonald, Pictorial and Mickey bought Blue Bell.

Ontario, Canada.—Walter Kennedy has resigned as local representative of Regal Films.

Ontario.—Fred Brown, former manager of Allen's Beaver is now a member of the Vitagraph sales force.

Chicago, Ill.—H. J. Terry, formerly with Vitagraph at Milwaukee is a new member of the Hodkinson sales force, working in Milwaukee out of the local office.

Toronto, Can.—John S. Bowen is now the auditor of Select office here, replacing Gus Mauer, who has gone to New York. James A. Davidson, recently with Regal, has joined the sales force of that organization, covering Toronto territory, while Mac Morgan has been transferred to the St. John's office.

Tom Geraghty Signs With Famous

Thomas J. Geraghty has just signed a long-term contract with Famous Players-Lasky. He will be attached to the staff at the Lasky studio and his first work will be "Burglar Proof" for Bryant Washburn.

Give NEGLECTED WIVES
the once over
Wistaria Productions Inc.
1520 Broadway

Blank to Build in Ames, Ia.

Ames, Ia.—A. H. Blank, owner of the Des Moines, Palace, Garden, Rialto, Casino and Majestic in Des Moines, will erect a $100,000 theater on Main St. It will be known as the Rialto.

Loew in Knoxville.

Knoxville, Tenn.—Marcus Loew will erect a theater here. The exact location has not as yet been determined.

Brandt Going West

Joe Brandt of National Film will leave for the coast shortly to look over studio activities of National Film.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK
THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR

THE MOTION PICTURE WEEKLY SAYS THIS ABOUT "DANGEROUS DAYS":

DIRECTION — MAGNIFICENT. STORY—ONE OF THE MOST POWERFUL OF THE DAY; A HUMAN, GRIPPING DOCUMENT OF A GIRL'S SOUL, EXQUISITELY TOLD. PHOTOGRAPHY — SUPERLATIVE. LIGHTINGS — EXQUISITE.

Goldwyn

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
225 N 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

On Broadway

Strand—Norma Talmadge — "The Woman Gives."
Brooklyn Strand—Norma Talmadge —"The Woman Gives."
Capitol—Nazimova—"The Heart of a Child."
Rialto—Violet Heming—"The Cost."
Rivoli—Maurice Tourneur's "Treasure Island."
Moss' Broadway—Priscilla Dean—"The Virgin of Stamboul."
Loew's New York—To day—John Barrymore—"Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."
Tuesday—William Russell—"Slam Bang Jim."
Wednesday—Robert Warwick—"Jack Straw."
Thursday — Tom Mix — "Desert Love."
Friday—Madlaine Traverse—"The Tattlers"—Tsuru Aoki—"Locked Lips."
Saturday—Douglas MacLean and Doris May—"Mary's Ankle."
Sunday — Eugene O'Brien — "A Fool and His Money."

Next Week

Strand—Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry."
Brooklyn Strand—Anita Stewart—"The Fighting Shephredess."
Rialto—Not yet determined.
Rivoli—Not yet determined.
Broadway — Hope Hampton—"A Modern Salome."
Capitol—Bert Lytell—"Alias Jimmy Valentine."

Free Pictures

Dallas, Texas.—Free picture shows will be presented beginning on May 1, in 10 city parks.

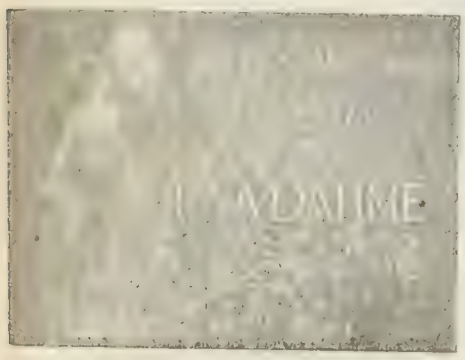
Vote on Sunday Shows

Wichita Falls, Texas.—Following a canvas on the question of Sunday shows, it was announced that the local houses would be opened.

SCREEN STORY WANTED

Want at once original rural story for screen feature. Essential elements are heart interest and opportunity for both the sentimental and lighter characters and scenes of country life. The old rural theme with a new twist possible. And, if possible, a punch. Either extended synopsis or scenario will be car fully considered by my clients of highest responsibility. Quick action given on stories submitted [illegible]

NORMAN JEFFERIES
Real Estate Trust Building
Philadelphia, Pa.



This Christie Comedy has bedroom farce without the parlor and bath. Presenting Bobby Vernon in "Oh Doctor! Doctor!"—Advt.

Cuts and Flashes

Tom Wilson is to play in the next Edgar Lewis Picture.

Fritz Tidden, formerly with the Dramatic Mirror is now a member of Selznick's Board of Review.

"The Miracle of Money" is the title of Hobart Henley's next Pathe release, being an adaptation of Beulah Poynter's "Marrying of Emmy."

Selznick has finished "Out of the Snows," Ralph Ince special; "The Valley of Doubt," all-star and "Whispers," Elaine Hammerstein.

William Danziger will do "fan" publicity for Universal. He comes from Cincinnati.

Myton Selznick has purchased "The Road to Ambition" by Elaine Stern, for Eugene O'Brien.

Elsie De Wolfe, who was the Madonna in Griffith's "Intolerance," plays the Woman in "Democracy—the Vision Restored."

Selznick has bought Eral H. Miller's "The Gilded Butterfly."

George D. Proctor prepared the scenario for "The Superwoman," starring Ethel Barrymore, Tri-Star Picture Corp. production.

Charles Murray is soon to appear as a director and as a star in "By Golly."

Mollie King at Work

Mollie King starts work this week on her third picture for the American Cinema Corp. It is from the story, "The Stranger," by Katherine Gibbons.

"Black Beach" Griffith's Next

"Black Beach" will be Griffith's next production, to be released on or about May 15, by First National. Among the players who will be seen are Richard Barthelmess, Carol Dempster, George MacQuarrie, Anders Randolph, Florence Short and others.

McLoughlin With Larkin

William P. McLoughlin, who conducted the Wurra-Wurra column in the Evening World for some time, has joined the Mayflower exploitation staff under Mark Larkin.

M. P. D. A. Ball He

Notable Crowd Gathers at Biltm for Affair.

The Motion Picture Director's was held at the Biltmore on Sa day evening.

Almost everybody about in t connected with films was there cluding stars, directors and film ecutives. There was excellent n and lots of it, two Orlando orc tras supplying the jazz.. A nu of original souvenirs were dis uted to the ladies and gentlemen

SIMPL SOULS

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SA
LOUIS MEYE
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYE
TITLE
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGR
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING S
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROO

There are still a few -- exhibitors who are content with but one projection machine -
AND
a few who are still hesitating about booking
COMEDYART
But not many - Are YOU one?
Special Pictures Corpn
H. W. HELLMAN BLDG. LOS ANGELES

e BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 13 Tuesday, April 13, 1920 Price 5 Cents

ow Down' Is Here

ays W. C. Patterson—Promises evelopments in Chicago— Many Exhibitors Expected llard C. Patterson, manager of Samuel's Criterion theater, At- and president of the South- rn Theater Managers' Associa- charges that already several s are at work in the exhibitor in various sections of the coun- ttempting to forestall any con- d response to his call for a na- l meeting of independent theater rs at the Hotel Congress, Chi- on Monday, April 26, to de- what he terms "a show down the producer-exhibitors who are g to drive the independent fel- out of the business by buying, ing or leasing theaters to com- with them. Patterson says, in new, before I started this national call mass meeting, that immediately it b - public property there would be a well zed attempt from th: quarters where ee will be felt the most, to offset and nt it in the estimation of very inde- t exhibitor they can reach through al meetings with th ir representatives. s why I took the initial precaution of g myself, before making a d finite de- to assume the initiative, that other in- l nt exhibitors felt as I do about the ty for knowing exactly where we are h the producers who are invading th branch of the industry. I had re- answers from more than two hun- xhibitors before I felt certain that my e as an individual was a g nuine re- of the national exhibitor sentiment l competing with theatres operat d by oducers whose films they are renting. studi d attempts to discourage a na- mass meeting are too late to be efery letter and telegram that comes to d my desk is covered with them, shows e independent exhibitor is keenly alive menac of the producer-exhibitor mo-

(Continued on Page 4)

Hammerstein Renews

ron Selznick has re-engaged e Hammerstein for seven years.

Stroheim Here

von Stroheim, producer of l Husbands" and now "The s Pass-Key," is in town, stop- at the Algonquin.

heim came east to prepare his production for a showing at apitol where it opens May 2.

DELAYS

The railroad strike and tie-up re reached such proportions t should you fail for the tt few days to receive your y of WID'S DAILY reg- rly you will understand why.

David M. Hartford, director of "Back to God's Country," who is now supervising work on the next James Oliver Curwood picture for First National, "Nomads of the North."—Advt.

Lasky Arrives

Jesse L. Lasky of Famous Players arrived in New York yesterday from California. He expects to be here for two months.

One of the matters Mr. Lasky is expected to decide shortly is a successor to Whitman Bennett, who recently resigned as production manager for the corporation.

Zukor Aboard the Mauretania

Adolph Zukor sails from Liverpool to-day on the Mauretania on his homeward journey. He probably will arrive in New York next Sunday or Monday.

This confirms a special cable published in WID'S DAILY yesterday.

Maeterlinck Finishes Story

Culver City, Calif.—Maurice Maeterlinck, the Belgian poet and playwright, who has been at the Goldwyn Studios since the middle of February, has completed his first story and left for New York this week, from where he will sail for France.

Gudger Goes to Coast

Francis A. Gudger, vice-president of Goldwyn Pictures Corp., who is generally understood to represent the Du Pont interests in Goldwyn, is now en route to the Coast.

His journey is stated to have no special importance attached to it. It is Mr. Gudger's first trip to the studios. He will be away about a month.

Kaufman Due To-morrow

Al Kaufman, the railroad strikers permitting, will arrive in New York to-morrow for the first time since he became an independent producer.

Thompson Leaves

Louis W. Thompson of Comedyart films left yesterday for Philadelphia, from there going direct to the coast.

Brockliss Arrives

J. Frank Brockliss arrived from London on the Baltic on Saturday.

Authors Signed

Universal to Have Material from Famous French and German Writers.

Universal has signed Anatole France, Eugene Brieux, Henri Duvernois and Sarah Bernhardt to write original stories for the screen. The negotiations were closed for Universal by C. de Vidal Hundt, who has just returned from the other side.

In addition to the above, negotiations are said to be under way for the signing of additional porminent figures in French letters, such as Henri Barbusse, Henri Bordeaux, Marcel Provost, Jean Richepin, Henri Bataille and Max Maurey.

While in Paris Hundt formed for Universal a special company called the Constellation of Film Stories, Ltd., in which Jean Jose Frappa, publisher of Monde Illustre and Fabien Sollar, author of "Phi Phi," are associated. This unit will conduct all negotiations for story material for Universal.

In addition to the above French authors, Hundt is endeavoring to line up in Germany Maximilian Harden and Hermann Sudermann.

Another "Old Homestead"

A new version of Denman Thompson's "The Old Homestead" is to be made as a George Melford production for Paramount-Artcraft with a special cast with Theodore Roberts and Monte Blue in the leading roles. Work will be started as soon as Melford finishes "The Translation of a Savage."

Hayakawa Co. Formed

Los Angeles—The Hayakawa Feature Film Co. has been formed here with a capitalization of $500,000. The directors are A. B. C. Dohrman of 'Frisco, Vernon Goodwin, W. J. Connery, Milton Gatzert and H. J. Aaron of this city.

Sessue Hayakawa recently stated in Los Angeles that he had severad all connections with Haworth of which A. B. C. Dohrman is now president and had formed a company known as the Hayakawa Feature Film Co., to produce four productions a year. This company, he stated, would have no connections with Haworth.

Dwan Print Arrives

The first print of "A Splendid Hazard," an Allan Dwan production for Mayflower-Realart, arrived in New York yesterday from the coast. That, in spite of the railroad strike.

This is Julian M. Solomon's advt. Let Solomon do it, he's wise.—Advit.

of FILMDOM WID'S DAILY

Vol. XII No. 13 Tues. April 13, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. C. Wid Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Greenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second class matter May 21, 1918 at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	83	85¼	84
do pfd.	88¼	88¾	88¾
Goldwyn	25	27	26
Loew's, Inc.	33⅞	36	34⅝
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod...	4¾	5	4¾
World, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Alexander Gets Foreign Rights

Alexander Film Corp. will handle the Comedyart product for the foreign territories.

A. M. P. A. in U. S. Commerce Chamber

The Associated Motion Picture Advertisers, Inc., has been elected an organization member of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce. Paul Gulick has been elected to be the first delegate.

Plans to Film Poe's "Raven"

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—I. D. Opat, an actor, will shortly launch a company which will produce Edgar Allen Poe's "Raven."

Plan $3,000,000 Detroit House

Detroit, Mich.—Regent Theater Co. will erect a house at a cost of $3,000,000.

To Build Large House in Detroit

Detroit, Mich.—About $750,000 will be expended by the William M. James Co. on the erection of a new theater.

Pensacola House to Seat 2,500

Pensacola, Fla.—A house costing $250,000 and seating 2,500 will be erected by Ernest Boehringer.

Pays $800,000 for Chicago Garrick

Chicago, Ill.—R. L. Reheffer has bought the Garrick from the Partridge Estate for $800,000 and plans to improve it at a cost of $125,000.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Colleen Moore will be loaned to Marshall Neilan to appear in one production.

Malcolm Boylan became the father of a daughter not so long ago.

Sam Taylor is now press agent for L-Ko comedy unit.

Dean Fifield is now studio publicity man for Jesse Hampton.

Erwin Lewis, formerly with Thomas H. Ince, where he did press books, succeeds Lindsey McKenna as studio publicist for Seiznick at Brunton's.

John McCormick, formerly with Curran theater, San Francisco, is now on the Sol Lesser publicity staff.

Alfred Willy, formerly manager of Grand, Denver, now with Thomas H. Ince doing publicity.

L. R. Brown has left Dramatic Mirror to join Metro publicity staff.

Robert Yost is doing publicity for Clara Kimball Young.

Reed Heustis is doing continuities for Marshall Neilan.

Britann Laymon and Truman B. Handy are doing special press work for Bert Lytell.

"Ham" Beall and Mike Boylan will combine shortly and handle press matter jointly.

Walter McGrail has been loaned by Selznick to the Bessie Barriscale company for one production.

Carol Halloway has joined the cast of "The New Henrietta," at the Metro Studio.

Ted Sloman, director for C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., has gone to San Francisco to select locations for "The Mutiny of the Elsinore."

Following the completion of Louis B. Mayer's "The Yellow Typhoon," Anita Stewart left for Del Monte, where she is enjoying a vacation.

The titling of Mae Marsh's current production adapted from Kate Langley Posner's novel, "Mary Carey," has been placed in charge of R. B. Kidd, head of the Brunton scenario department.

James E. Abbe has been engaged by Mack Sennett as artistic director to produce a two-reel feature comedy which the producer and the photographer assert will bring to motion pictures the perfection of lighting and posing that have characterized the art of still photography at its best.

Production of the fourth Owen Moore Selznick picture, "Stop That Man," was started at the West Coast Studios on Monday, and the cast, as fas as it is completed, consists of Nell Craig, Henry Miller, Jr., and Dagmar Godowsky.

GAUSMAN.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Concord, N. H.—Capt. Jacob Conn, Star to build. $100,000.

Cushing, Okla.—Treese and Binkley to build airdome.

Stigler, Okla.—C. D. Milam, Lyric to build. 700.

New London, Conn.—Mrs. P. J. Hendel and Louis Markow to build at Ocean Beach. 800.

Clinton, Ind.—Reported A. J. Wacker to build.

Phila., Pa.—Coane and Korman to build on Kensington Ave.

Port Arthur, Tex.—Julius Deutzer to build.

Bellows Falls, Vt.—Perry Theaters Inc., to build.

Lake Charles, La.—S. M. DeBakey $25,000.

Menasha, Wis.—Frank Lopez, Sr. 800.

Birmingham, Ala.—Reported S. A. Lynch Enter, will build here.

St. Augustine, Fla.—Frank Genover to build. 800.

Freeport, Ill.—John Dittman. $135,000. 1,440.

Chandler, Okla.—Hoover and Steetmund, owners Odeon. 800.

Savannah, Ga.—Arthur M. Lucas to build.

Moline, Ill.—George R. Stephenson. $100,000.

Johnsonburg, Pa.—Mrs. A. R. Long to build.

Framingham, Mass.—George A. Giles Co., chain, will build.

Houses Completed

Benton, Ark—Palace to open shortly.

De Rider, La.—J. M. Heard, $35,000. Open in April.

New Orleans, La.—Rivoli, Victor Howard owner Arcade, opened. Run in conjunction with Sobel--Richards Shear Enter.

Toronto, Can.—Beach, Allen Chain, 1660, opened.

Decatur, Ga.—New Victory, 400, opened.

Houses Reopened

Midway, Minn.—Midway, Levi Sower manager.

Stevens Point, Wis.—Grand will reopen within two months.

Jackson, Mich.—Colonial, recently damaged by fire.

Sheffield, Ala.—Liberty, H. Fontaine Little, closed when owners field petition in bankruptcy, reopened.

(Continued on Page 3)

Numa to Build Long Island St

Numa Pictures Corp. will erec studio in Long Island.

Sell Mona Darkfeather Pictur

C. B. Price has sold the serie fifteen Mona Darkfeather one-re to Royal Films at Washington, C., Crescent Film Co. at Ka City, United Film Service of Louis for its immediate territ Minter United Amusements for troit and vicinity; Dave Wa films for Cleveland and Co-Pa Attractions of Pittsburgh.

Plan to Stop Bicycling

Philadelphia, Pa.—The Motion ture Group of the Philadelphia C ber of Commerce has issued a timatum to exhibitors of this tory warning them to return promptly or pay damages and prosecution for larceny. It is ch that 75 houses in this territory a regular practice of "bicycling."

Hutchinson on Coast

Los Angeles—Charles Hutchi who recently signed with Pat star in serials, is here.

It is expected that Hutchinso commence work on his first ser the Brunton Studio.

Press Books Trade Paper S

Pathe in the future will iss campaign books in the same s the trade papers and the Pathe senger. This will serve to cre standard for the printing of designed for all three purpos for interchangeable use.

Great motion picture star and RITCHEY poster are alike in this,—tha both give an added valu to a photo-play.

RITCHEY LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

SIMPL SOUL

New Theaters

(Continued from Page 2)

Allen, Okla.—Tommie Johnson ought H. Cox's interest in Majestic.

Chicago, Ill.—L. and T. Circuit uilding.

Pittsburg, Cal.—Enea Bros. build-g. $[illegible]5,000.

Gadsden, Ala.—Queen City Amuse. o. $25,000.

Anderson, S. C.—Dexter Brown. 5,000. 800.

Riverhead, N. Y.—Frank C. Lane, asino, to build.

Scranton, Pa.—M. E. Comerford ill build.

Birmingham, Ala.—J. G. Whitfield. 5,000.

Montezuma, Ga.—W. L. McKenzie, 0,000.

Jacksonville, Fla.—L. D. Joel to build. $100,000.

Fall River, Mass.—Tommy Kearns ill build.

Richmond, Va.—Victor Theater o., chain, to build. 1,500.

Terre Haute, Ind.—Jack Hoeffler ain, will build.

Newark, N. J.—Mrs. Sylvia Geiger. 0,000.

Edwardsville, Mo.—Olin H. Giesse. 0,000.

Mobridge, S. D.—A. H. Brown. 0,000.

A. E. C. Gets More Product

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Montreal, Can.—The Amalgaated Exhibitors Circuit, Ltd., the ew exhibitor organization, has seured the four Olive Thomas-Triane films for distribution.

The circuit is selling shares of ock to exhibitors all over the Doinion.

Greater Features Reorganizes

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Atlanta, Ga.—Greater Features, nc., an independent exchange, has een reorganized. L. C. McHenry, ead of the concern, and H. M. atcher have taken over the features stributed by the concern.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Milwaukee, Wisconsin—Five days prior to the opening of D. W. Griffith's "The Idol Dancer," First National, Manager George Fischer of the Alhambra started a teaser campaign and followed it with unusual lobby decorations, on an elaborate scale. Thatched huts, palms and other accessories conveying the atmosphere maintained in the production, were prepared, together with cut-outs of the featured performers and scenes from the film.

Toledo House to Cost Million

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Toledo, Ohio—Zorn's Million Dollar Capitol, seating 2,500, is to be erected at St. Clair St. Ed Zorn, manager of the Temple for several years, Joe Fanning of the staff of that house, E. P. Severcool and E. B. Edmunds are interested.

Peters on Long Trip

T. Kinwood Peters, former technical director for World, leaves in May on a trip all over the globe. The Peters Photographic Expedition, as it is known, will proceed to Japan via the Hawaiian Islands, and has credentials from U. S. Army, Navy and Marine Corps.

To Enforce Montreal Sunday Law

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Montreal, Can.—Instructions have been issued by the Attorney General to the effect that the Federal Sunday law is to be enforced hereafter and all houses must close.

Prizma Series Ready

A new series of 12 Prizma productions will soon be ready for release. By the fall a series of five-reel dramatic productions will be announced.

WE OWN THEM!

Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!

Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

Among Exchangemen

Milwaukee, Wis.—B. E. Bristol has been appointed manager of the local office of United Picture Theaters.

Chicago, Ill.—E. C. Johnson, Goldwyn's division manager in the middle west, has returned to his headquarters in this city after a stay in New York.

Des Moines, Iowa—Edgar B. Haines is now manager of Universal's branch.

Stromberg's Desire Fulfilled

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Hunt Stromberg, director of publicity and advertising for Thomas H. Ince, has at last fulfilled his greatest desire—to direct a real-honest-to-goodness picture. He is wielding the megaphone on a new Ince special and was on location the other day.

Hazza Manager of A. E. C. L.

Montreal, Canada—Phil Hazza is now the manager of the Amalgamated Exhibitors Circuit, Limited, a distributing company in which many Canadian exhibitors are interested, having resigned as manager of the Canadian Universal to accept the position.

Tom Moore is working on "Officer 666," adapted from the play by that name.

THE
Glifograph Screen

No more eye strain.
No more distortions.
Any seat desirable.
Impression of the third dimension.

TO BE SEEN IN

Loew's New York Theater and Roof, New York.
Plaza Theater, New York.
Bijou Theater in Brooklyn.
Courtland Theater in New Jersey.
Palace Theater in Washington.
De Lux Theater in Utica.
Loew's 86th St. Theater, New York.
Loew's 116th St. Theater, New York.
Brevoort Theatre, Brooklyn.
And soon in many other theaters.

The Glifograph Corporation
280 Broadway
N. Y. C.

[illegible] Opens

Philadelphia, Pa.—Royal Picture Inc., has opened with offices at 12 Vine St.

Jensen-Von Herberg Expanding

Bremerton, Wash.—The Rialt Dream and Rex, all of the local fil houses, have been bought into b Jensen-Von Herberg from the O ran Amusement Co. R. M. War resident manager of the houses, h an interest also. A 1,200 seat hou is planned for this city and anoth for Charleston. An interest in t Strand, Seattle, has also been pu chased by Jensen-Von Herberg.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Evening Mail says:

"The Woman in Room 13" is one of the best screen offerings that has been shown at the Capitol since its opening."

Goldwyn

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

TITLES
REFINED LETTERING
APPROPRIATE ILLUSTRATING
ERNEST STERN
145 W. 45TH ST.
PHONE BRYANT [illegible]

FOR RENT QUICK
Modernized—Edison Studios

Furnishing Every Facility. Rent Includes use of Massive Sets—Large Assortment of Props. and well stocked Wardrobe. Last Word in Lighting Equipment.

IMMEDIATE POSSESSION

2826 DECATUR AVENUE PHONE, FORDHAM 8330-8331

Show Down Is Here

(Continued from Page 1)

opoly of the theater business, and that every ne of them realiz s that the situation has eached the point where it is a fight for xistence.

"Independent exhibitors by the hundreds ot only are coming to the Chicago meet-ng, but they are coming there to talk out meeting, to call facts, names and real lentities, and get down to cases and work ut a solution that will hav a national inde-endent exhibitor force behind it. They tell , in their wr d and written communica-ons, that they are bringing facts and fig-res on producer aggression of the theater eld, prepared to show the damage and ca-strophe that producer ownership of thea-rs has alr ady done, and the dangers that holds for their future security and inde-end nce as individual exhibitors.

"This mass m eting will b sensational, I o not mean that it will be full of politics nd th sort of sensationalism that have ade some of our previous national exhib-or meetings memorable within the indus-y and disgusting outside. There are going be revelations of the methods of the pro-ucer invasion which will startle the trade. he subject is going to be handled without oves. The exhibitor who has already fallen neath producer domination, who has had real taste of the methods of producer-ex-bitors as competitors, will be there to tell out it.

"The big-money effort to dominate the otion picture is not a bugbear. It is an tual danger, and I have facts and figures reveal at the Chicago meeting to show at it is. Unl ss the independent exhibitor hts, fights hard, fights now and fights to-ther, there won't b an independent ex-bitor in another two years.

"There have been efforts before to monop-ze the business. Those efforts were di-ct d chiefly at a monopoly of production, d because production is an art and cannot 'cornered,' th attempt failed. It is pos-le to monopolize theaters, to effect an solute motion picture theater trust. With eater ownership and control of the ave-es of distribution, big capital will quickly complish what it has tried to do before.

Th prime effort now is centered on th worth-while independent exhibitors whose localities offer ev n half an opportunity to the would-be producer-exhibitors to get a foothold with houses of their own, cut prices, buy up the best film services, and do anything else necessary to force the present independent exhibitors down and out as competitors of consequ nce.

"This meeting is not called for the purpos of forming an association, but to determine, in open conference and discussion, with facts and figures to reason from, the best method of combating the danger of producer monopoly in the theater field, and it seems to me that the organization of a national, p rmanent association of the real independent exhibitors can accomplish this better than any oth r method.

"Whatever develops out of the Chicago meeting, you can b very sure that it will not be a passive organization, nor a social club, nor a political proposition. It will be, whatever form the meeting takes, an aggressive, hard-hitting fighting unit."

Cuts and Flashes

Following "The Flapper," Olive Thomas will do "Jenny."

"The Sowing of Alderson Cree," featuring Bernard Durning, will be the third production to be made for Republic by Macauley Photoplays.

Harry Chandlee and William B. Laub, film editors, have moved to their new offices adjoining the Miles Projection theater in the Leavitt building.

Frank Currier, artist, did the art titles for "Don't Ever Marry," Neilan—First National.

Colin Campbell has been engaged by Dustin Farnum to direct "Big Happiness."

Mason N. Litson has been assigned to direct the Booth Tarkington "Edgar" series.

Colin Campbell may go to Scotland this summer to make a big picture with a real Scotch background.

Claire Du Brey has been engaged by Robert Brunton to support J. Warren Kerrigan in "The House of Whispers."

Joseph J. Dowling has been engaged by Al Christie to play a prominent role in the Robertson-Cole production, "The Smart Aleck."

Garsson Buys Comedy

Fine Arts Pictures Corp., Murray W. Garsson, president, has purchased a comedy, "Up in Mary's Attic," from Ascher Enterprises. It will be retitled "The College Vamp" and will be sold on the open market.

Two New Goldwyn Films

Work on two productions was started last week at the Goldwyn Studios in Culver City, a Mary Roberts Rinehart Eminent Authors based on "Empire Builders," and an adaptation of the stage play, "Officer 666," by Augustin McHugh.

Inter-Ocean Sales

A contract has been closed by Inter-Ocean selling rights to six features for Porto Rico, Santo Domingo and Venezuela.

The productions are "The Gift Supreme," "An Adventuress," "The Echo of Youth," "The Manxman," "The Man of Bronze," and "The Nigger."

Boston, Mass.—Majestic Theater of Holyoke, $9,000. Frank A. Roberts, Charles W. Rackliffe and George Hammond.

Kerrigan in New Film

J. Warren Kerrigan's ninth Brunton production, "The House of Whispers," adapted from the novel by William Johnston, has been completed and is ready for cutting and titling. Kerrigan expects to begin work shortly on "The Coast of Opportunity," a romance of foreign locale from the original story by Page Phillips.

Gertrude Atherton's first for Eminent Authors, an adaptation of her novel, "The Tower of Ivory," will go under the title "Out of the Storm."

Orlando, Ga.—Mr. Turner, Court and Arcade, Fort Meyers, bought Sinn's interest in the Ark.

Statesville, N. C.—The Broadway W. B. Van Derbrugh, opened.

Fred Schaefer
Continuity and Titles
Vitagraph

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Wayne 621-2

SIMPLE SOULS

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N. J.

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF MOTION PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
FRIAR'S CLUB 9400 BRYANT

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies
"Money Talks" "Schoolhouse Scandal"
"Virtuous Husbands" "The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"Dablin in Society" "The Heart Snatcher"
"Footlight Maids" "The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"
Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

Comedyart
is accepted by
Three Thousand American Showmen
as the
Nineteen-Twenty Model
Short Subject
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 14 Wednesday, April 14, 1920 Price 5 Cent

Against Deposits

ndt Organization Backs Exhibitors' League—Reduce Insurance Rates.

The Theater Owners Chamber of mmerce at a regular meeting held the Astor yesterday, voted to d solidly in back of the New York te Exhibitors' League in its fight the removal of deposits. A bill that effect is now hanging fire in any.

The Chamber of Commerce has t telegrams to every Assembly- n in the state telling of its stand the matter.

William Brandt, president of the mber, said that an official state- nt would be in the hands of Rich- A. Rowland of Metro by this rning establishing the stand of the anization on the use of Marcus ew's name in connection with tro productions. This, it is claim- serves to advertise the Loew the- rs.

t was also stated that the chamber succeeded in reducing the rate of bility insurance from 22 cents on eat to 11 cents per seat.

The chamber now has 231 mem- s.

Double Feature at Broadway

Moss' Broadway will show a double ture for two weeks beginning ril 25. They are "Down on the m," the Mack Sennett five-reeler tributed through United Artists, Victor Seastrom in "A Man re Was," distributed through liosoul Films.

Declares Dividend

The Board of Directors of Famous yers-Lasky at a special meeting on Monday declared a regular rterly dividend of $2 on preferred k, payable on May 1, to stock- lers of record April 19.

Rialto Breaks Rivoli Record

The Rialto broke the Rivoli's rec- with "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" week, the total Rialto admissions hing 61,350, as compared with 08 at the Rivoli the week preced-

DELAYS

The railroad strike and tie-up ave reached such proportions iat should you fail for the ext few days to receive your opy of WID'S DAILY regarly you will understand why.

She placed her chips with reckless abandon, but fortune favored her at every turn of the wheel—Katherine MacDonald in "Passion's Playground," from the novel, "The Guests of Hercules," a First Nat'l attraction.—Advt

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week

The following illustrates how the leading Broadway theaters presented their programs this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

RIVOLI

The Rivoli is presenting a well balanced program this week centered around Maurice Tourneur's "Treasure Island." Particularly effective is the number preceding the feature, enlisting the services of Emanuel Liszt, basso profundo, and the Rivoli-Rialto chorus. This reveals a setting which might be the mess room of an old pirate ship with all the characters picturesquely garbed. The "Yo-Ho-Ho and a Bottle of Rum" song is rendered and several others in solo and chorus. In this manner an effective mood is created for the feature. But it's a trifle long.

The program opens with "Der Freischutz," a Weber overture and the Pictorial, containing events of varying interest, follows. After the feature Betty Anderson sings "Flow Gently, Sweet Afton," and the Chaplin reissue, "Work," concludes the pictorial part of the bill with the organ solo following.

CAPITOL

The Capitol bill is very long and enough variety is shown in pictures to please. The picture highlights are the Nazimova production, "The Heart of a Child," and the new Mack Sennet comedy, "Gee Whiz."

(Continued on Page 2)

To Film Reinhardt

Famous German's Spectacles Will Be Made Into Pictures in California.

The New York Times in a copyrighted cable from its Berlin correspondent says:

"Professor Max Reinhardt has just signed a contract for a tour of America next summer with a gigantic company that will produce all his famous spectacles like 'The Miracle,' 'Orestes,' 'Hamlet' and 'Oedipus,' which are also to be filmed in California."

Because of his connection with the Authors' Society of Central Europe Ben Blumenthal, president of Export and Import Film Co., was asked concerning the American appearance of Professor Reinhardt.

Blumenthal stated that he has Reinhardt under contract but that the exact date for the latter's visit to America had not been definitely set. Plans are stated to be under way for the filming of the Reinhardt spectacles.

Still Another First Nat'l Unit

Dover, Del.—The third corporation to be formed by the Corporation Trust Co. here for Associated First National Pictures, Inc., is the Associated First National Pictures of Michigan, Inc. The capital of this unit is $225,000.

Perret Due Soon

Leonce Perret expects to return to New York on April 25.

Perret has been traveling through the important cities of Europe taking exteriors for his forthcoming production.

May Make One a Year

Frank Keenan, now in New York, stated yesterday that he may make only one production this year.

His contract with Pathe has expired, but the latter still has several of his productions to release. Mr. Keenan has had an offer to produce in France, but does not know whether he will accept it.

He is disposing of his realty holdings in New York and plans to leave for the coast within a week or 10 days.

Henley Starts Monday

Hobart Henley starts work on Monday on "The Sin That Was His" with William Faversham as the star for Selznick. The story is by Frank L. Packard, author of "The Miracle Man." Work will be at the Biograph studio in the Bronx.

Western Producers—Eastern Representative Get SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

BRADSTREET FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 14 Wed. April 14, 1920 Price 5 Cents

yright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.
Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St w York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and M FOLKS, INC.
("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-r; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President l Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and siness Manager.
tered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, the post office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879.
ms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 nths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, 00.
Subscribers should remit with order dress all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5553
Hollywood, California
torial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-d Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
hicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
mous Players ..	89	90	89¾
do pfd.	88¾	88¾	88¾
oldwyn	25	27	26
ew's, Inc.	34⅛	35⅝	34¾
iangle	½	½	½
it. Pict. Prod...	4	4¾	4½
orld, 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Monday's quotations.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 EIGHTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"Better as a Goldwyn Than Ever"

Sir:
THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE SAYS:
"THERE ARE REAL TEARS IN THE LATEST PAULINE FREDERICK FILM PRODUCTION, 'THE WOMAN IN ROOM 13,' AT THE CAPITOL THEATRE. IN THE COURT SCENE, IN WHICH THE STAR IS SHOWN TESTIFYING IN DEFENSE OF HER HUSBAND, MISS FREDERICK'S APPEAL TO THE JURY WAS SPLENDIDLY DONE."

Goldwyn

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 1)

Another feature of equal importance is the Puccini opera 'Le Villi." The bill opens with Topics of the Day and the news pictures follow. The Sennett comedy has next place and this is followed by the overture, "Scheherezade." Another of the Flynn detective series, 'Chang and the Law," registers a thrilling bit. The intermission promenade concert, occupying six minutes, precedes the opera and immediately following this spectacular number comes the Nazimova picture.

Rialto

After the more or less sensational run of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde" last week, the Rialto has sobered down to a dignified program of average merit. The overture was Franz Liszt's "Les Preludes," followed by the Rialto Magazine and Martin Brefel, tenor, singing the aria from "Martha."

The feature consisted of Violet Heming in "The Cost." Grace Hoffman, soprano, sang "Ah, Fors'e Lui," from "Traviata." The Mack Sennett Comedy, "Gee Whiz," and "Concert Overture" on the organ closed the bill.

Strand

The Strand is celebrating its sixth anniversary, with a carefully selected and well balanced program of nine numbers. A very novel number is the Bray cartoon, in which the clown from the pen of Max Leischer, by means of some clever titles and the aid of the man handling the spotlight, introduces a few members of the Strand orchestra and performs tricks with a horse who finally kicks off his shoes for luck of the house.

The overture consisted of familiar tunes from Victor Herbert's "Naughty Marietta." Estelle Carey and Malcom McEachern sang "I Feel Thy Angel Spirit," by Hoffman, also "I Wish I Were a Tiny Bird," by Lohr The other vocal number, "Asleep in the Deep," by the Russian Cathedral Quartette, which met with long and insistent applause, indicated that interest in this splendid quartette which has been a feature of the Strand program for the past few weeks, has not yet abated.

The remainder of the program consisted of the Strand Topical Review, "The Woman Gives," with Norma Talmadge, "Snowbound," scenic, "Jerry on the Job," cartoon, and the organ solo from "Tales of Hoff man."

Broadway

"The Virgin of Stamboul" is playing its last week at the Broadway, according to announcements.

The Pioneer field force has concluded a meeting of its field force. Routine matters were discussed.

Neglected Wives
in Great Demand
Wistaria Productions, Inc.
1520 Broadway

PROPER INSURANCE MEANS PROTECTION
YOUR BUSINESS—AUTOMOBILE, HOME, STAR,—
YOU YOURSELF—NEED INSURANCE.
Take precautions against insufficient insurance. A 5,000 or 10,000 limit does not adequately cover your auto. Ask us why—and we will tell you.
REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Insurance

Pathé News

MEXICO CITY, MEXICO—Mexican Presidential candidate is greeted by capital—big parade is held in honor of Ignacio Bonillas, who was formerly envoy to U. S.
NEW YORK CITY—Ten injured in "L" smashup—elevated express train runs into the front car of a local train and hurls it off the track.
ALAMEDA, CAL.—See the mermaids of 1920! Early bathing season in the West enables one to view an advanced showing of this year's "peppiest" bathing suits.
HOMBERG, GERMANY—Flee the "Red" advance! Inhabitants of Ruhr district leave their towns to seek shelter in territory guarded by Belgians.

EXCLUSIVE PICTURES

Every one upon arriving is carefully searched by the Belgians.
On the bridge at Wesel, troops of the Belgian Army of Occupation keep strict watch on all approaches to the Rhine.
Allied troops defend Wesel against a Sparticide attack.
Bringing in a batch of Sparticide prisoners.
RIVERSIDE, CAL.—Annual sunrise service on Mt. Rubidoux—20,000 pilgrims gather on this lofty peak in accordance with old time custom.
PUTNEY, ENGLAND—Britain's historic regatta—oarsmen of Oxford and Cambridge Universities compete in 72d Varsity Boat Race.
NEW YORK CITY—"Outlaw" rail strike cripples transportation — railroad traffic throughout the country is seriously tied up as thousands go out on an unofficial strike. After a meeting of the striking workers in Jersey City.
As suburban trains to New York are cut off the congestion at ferries during work hours is the worst in the city's history.
The piers at the railroad depots are stacked high with freight.
Food is removed from the stalled trains to relieve the shortage.
J. H. Dodgiou, leader and organizer of the strikers in Chicago, where the strike originated.
BERKELEY, CAL.—Star athletes of colleges vie for supremacy on track. California University defeats Illinois in track meet score 74-66.
AFTER ALL—Living conditions remain about the same from one generation to another.
Prospecting in "Dead Man's Gulch" in 18—
(Animated Cartoon by Bert Green, with acknowledgment to Ding).

today

Invincible Photoplays, Inc.

Mae Murray's new company will be known as the Invincible Photoplays, Inc. Negotiations are now under way for distribution.

Whyte Forms Unit

Arthur G. Whyte, formerly New York manager for Famous Players, has formed a company known as the Empire State Film Corp. It will have state rights productions.

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
ALLAN A. LOWNES
GEN. MGR.

YOUR CALL TO BATTLE

As an Independent Exhibitor you have got to add your voice to the demand we will make from the floor of our national mass meeting of Independent Theatre Owners to learn the truth about the practices, intentions and tactics behind the competition we are getting from the producers who are buying, building or leasing theatres next door or across the street from our houses.

My desk is covered with telegrams from Independent Exhibitors who will be in Chicago on Monday, April 26, to mix in this straight-hitting, all-cards-on-the-table showdown with the Producer-Exhibitors. We're going there for action, and we're goin to get it.

Producers are stampeding their way into the theatre field by ORGANIZED activity. Their agents stick together and work together. And you're the victim.

Now—we'll fight fire with fire. We're going to take ORGANIZED Independent Exhibitor action and find out just how hard they are going to bite the hands that are feeding them with advance deposits and rental money.

An organization of fifty or one hundred Independent Exhibitors doesn't mean anything to them. We've got to be there by the thousands.

Don't depend on us to do your fighting for you. Be there yourself, bare-knuckled and ready to do your part. Come to Chicago! You're an almighty important part in this show-down.

You've got to be there - Hotel Congress Chicago, early Monday morning April 26.

Wire me "I'll be there."

WILLARD C. PATTERSON
Manager, Criterion Theatre, Atlanta, Ga.
President—Southeastern Theatre Managers' Ass'n.

Metro Buys Stories

Purchases "The Hole in the Wall," "Big Game" and Others.

Coincident with the fifth anniversary of Metro, the company announces the purchase of a number of novels and plays.

In the list are "The Hole in the Wall," by Fred Jackson, playing at the Punch and Judy theater, and "Big Game," by Willard Robertson and Kilbourne Gordon; "Held in Trust," by George Kibbe Turner; "June Jeopardy," by Inez Haynes Gillmore; "The Gay and Festive Claverhouse," by Anne Warner; "Head and Shoulders," by F. Scott Fitzgerald; Adolphe Belot's "L'Article 47," and "The Girl Patsy," by J. Maudlin Fiegl.

Atkinson Returns.

W. E. Atkinson, general manager of Metro, has returned from the Coast.

Ouimet Here

L. E. Ouimet, head of Specialty Film Imports, Ltd., distributors of the Pathe product in Canada, who has been in town for the past few days, left for Toronto yesterday.

Ouimet was here, it is understood, to close an important deal with a new exhibitor organization for Canada. He has secured the services of James O'Loughlin, formerly with Regal Films, Ltd., as his director of exchanges.

Balsly Leaves Blank

Kansas City, Mo.—L. D. Balsly, exchange manager for A. H. Blank Enterprises, has resigned.

Arrested for Sunday Show

Lafayette, Colo.—Alvin S. F has been arrested for keeping theater open on Sunday.

SIMPLE SOULS

KESSEL PRINT QUALITY
Nicholas Kessel Laboratory, Inc.
'Phone Fort Lee 221

Mats, Electros and Stereos for the Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

FOR RENT
Office space. Valuable location. Broadway window frontage. Address Box B83, Wid's Daily.

Latin-American Buyers Attention
Producer of two-reel western dramas especially created for Latin-American trade seeks connection with reliable Latin-American exporter who controls distribution. Six now ready. Will supply two monthly. Box D-16, Wid's Daily.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 2004

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
225 N 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph S, Chicago, Il

Booked
By the biggest Theatres
By the smallest Theatres
By the most Theatres
In the quickest time
Comedyart
SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

FOR RENT QUICK
Modernized—Edison Studios
Furnishing Every Facility. Rent Includes use of Massive Sets—Large Assortment of Props. and well stocked Wardrobe. Last Word in Lighting Equipment.
IMMEDIATE POSSESSION
2826 DECATUR AVENUE PHONE, FORDHAM 8330-8331

...e BRADSTREET ...f FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

...L. XII No. 15 Thursday, April 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

...ssets 37 Million

Statement for 1919 Shows Big ...crease Over 1918—Total Business Over $27,000,000.

...mous Players-Lasky Corp. has ...d its annual report for the year ...d Dec. 31, 1919, which contains ...e first time a consolidated state- including the various subsid- companies in which Famous ...ers-Lasky has an interest of 90 ...ent. or more. There are other ...diaries in which it has substan- interests, earnings from which not included in the report.

...t earnings for the common stock allowing $1,000,000 for taxes and ...roportion of earnings due to the preferred, were $3,066,319, equal ...5.36 a share on the 199,675 shares ...ommon stock. In the report ...66 is set aside from earnings as ...mount accruing to the $10,000,- ...preferred stock for the 30 days ...hich it was outstanding in 1919. ...e consolidated income account ...ws:

...s income	$27,165,326
...aing expenses	23,032,341
	$4,132,985
...ral Inc. & Excess ...of. Taxes	1,000,000
	$3,132,985
...ings Accruing to Pfd.	66,666
Profits for Year....	$3,066,319

...qual to $15.36 a share on 199,675 ...s of no-par value common

(Continued from Page 2)

Stage Plays Then Films

...smopolitan Prod. will enter production field and will film the plays after their runs close ...oadway theaters.

least two shows will open this ...one a version of "Abie, the ...t," from Harry Hershfield's car- , and the second, "Polly and Pals."

...thing definite has been stated, ...t is possible that the Cosmo- ...n stars, Marion Davies, Alma ...ns and others will appear on the as well as in films.

DELAYS

The railroad strike and tie-up ...ve reached such proportions ...it should you fail for the ...xt few days to receive your ...py of WID'S DAILY reg- ...rly you will understand why.

He studied the wheel for hours, trying to evolve a system to break the bank at Monte Carlo—Katherine MacDonald, the American Beauty. in a scene from "Passion's Playground," from the novel, "The Guest of Hercules," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Headed Eastward

Williams and Abrams Both En Route—Speculation Over Associated Producers.

Telegraphic advices received here from Los Angeles state that J. D. Williams of First National left for the East on Monday, and that Hiram Abrams, general manager of United Artists, left on Tuesday.

There was considerable speculation in film circles yesterday over the disposition of the Associated Producers product in view of the fact that both these important executives have left California for New York.

At the meeting to be held on Tuesday of United Artists directors, it is ...nsidered very probable that Abrams will be elected president to succeed Oscar A. Price.

Ragland Vice-Pres. Kane Pictures

At a meeting of the directors of the Arthur S. Kane Pictures Corp., John C. Ragland was elected vice-president.

52 From Goldwyn

Plans Understood to Be Under Way for Fall Season's Output—One a Week Planned

From an important official of Goldwyn it is learned that plans are now under way for the number of productions to be released beginning Sept. 1. According to present calculations, 52 productions or one a week will be released.

Goldwyn Meeting To-morrow

An important meeting of the Board of Directors of Goldwyn will be held to-morrow.

Van Loan Here

H. H. Van Loan arrived in New York late last night after experiencing Pittsburgh and the railroad strike en route. He is at the Astor.

King Sails Saturday

George King, representative of the Stoll Film Co., Ltd., of London, England, sails for home on the Baltic on Saturday.

Report No Delay

National Association Finds No Serious Effect on Tying Up Film Shipments.

The railroad strike has not seriously interfered with the operations of the industry, according to reports received yesterday at the National Association.

The F. I. L. M. Club of Chicago reports that they were getting along fairly well with parcel post shipments.

The Exchange Managers Association of Buffalo wired the strike had not seriously curtailed shipments—parcel post service very good and that the express embargo had been lifted after two days.

Atlanta advises transportation conditions were normal and parcel post service very satisfactory.

At New Haven the American Express is taking shipments subject to delay but the Post Office is handling all shipments in fine shape.

Boston transportation facilities reported as normal.

Transportation situation in Minneapolis was reported fair except for embargos on shipments over 50 lbs. eastbound.

Kansas City—shipments by parcel post are moving satisfactorily.

At Cincinnati it was claimed that the shipping facilities were not affected by the strike.

Cleveland wired that the express and parcel post shipments were about normal.

The Board of M. P. Exchange Managers affiliated with the Detroit Chamber of Commerce decided to discontinue all express shipments and established a branch office of the Post Office sending all shipments by parcel post.

Kirkland to Sail

David Kirkland, director for Constance Talmadge, will sail to Europe on May 15th. On that date he will have finished work upon "The Perfect Woman." Kirkland will take with him a compact "travelling camera," to secure pictures of European locales for reproduction in American studios.

N. zimova Renews

...azimova has renewed her contract with Metro. It is understood the new contract runs for a lengthy period.

Who's doing YOUR PUBLICITY?
Why not SOLOMON, he's wise?—Advt.

The GRAND TEST of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 15 Thurs. April 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor, J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	85	86¼	86⅛
do pfd.	89¾	91	90¾
Goldwyn	25	26	25
Loew's, Inc.	35	36	35¼
Unit. Pict. Prod...	4	4¾	4½
Triangle	½	½	½
World. 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Grey Going Abroad

Albert Grey, general manager of the D. W. Griffith Enterprises, intends sailing for Europe May 22 on the Baltic.

Hyman Chicago Office Closed

Chicago, Ill.—The local office of the Arthur S. Hyman Attractions has been closed. Warren G. McCoy, manager, is at the Detroit office.

Pass Film Storing Regulations

Winnipeg, Manitoba—Regulations to govern storing of films have been passed by the City Council. It requires that all exchanges use ventilated fireproof vaults where more than fifty reels are stored, and that ventilated steel cabinets be provided where less than that number are put away.

New Pioneer Exchanges in Calif.

San Francisco—Floyd St. John has been appointed district maanger and is also in charge of the local office of Pioneer, while S. W. Whitehead will be in charge of the Los Angeles exchange.

Sees Boom in the South

With oil, cotton, and agricultural products reaching new high marks and with millions of dollars in new capital going into Southern states for the financing of new factories, a great era of prosperity is at hand for the South, according to William Thomas Yoder, known throughout Texas as "Colonel Bill," who has just been placed in charge of the Southern Division for Pathe.

Assets 37 Million

(Continued from Page 1)

The consolidated balance sheet shows the following assets as of December 31, 1919: Cash on hand $8,282,800; bills receivable, $179,785; accounts receivable, $5,545,951; merchandise, $8,865,770; investments, $3,329,177; buildings, plant and equipment, $2,923,271; deferred charges, $866,202, and good will, $7,655,680, a total of $37,648,637. Liabilities shown are: Bills payable, $3,709,432; accounts payable, $1,185,161; advance payments, $1,981,636; Federal income and excess profits taxes (estimated), $1,000,000; Federal footage tax, $328,762; capital stock represented by $10,000,000 preferred and 199,675 shares of common, no par value, $26,013,780; preferred stock of Charles Frohman, Inc., not owned, $310,500; surplus, $3,119,366, a total of $37,648,637.

The statement indicates an increase of about 50 per cent. in gross income compared with the $18,090,500 reported for the year ended December 31, 1918. Tangible assets at the end of 1919 amounted to $37,648,637 against $10,886,759 at the close of 1918. This increase is accounted for by the sale of the $10,000,000 new preferred and the expansion in various lines of the motion picture industry.

Net current assets at the close of 1919 amounted to $23,580,558, which includes $706,252 of Liberty bonds carried as investments. Current liabilities amounted to $8,204,991, leaving working capital of $15,375,567.

Jones in Town

Richard Jones, director of "Mickey" and "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," and many shorter Sennett pictures, is now in the east to direct Dorothy Gish's next picture. Work has been started.

Kirkpatrick on Coast

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—A. S. Kirkpatrick, vice-president and general manager of the Robertson-Cole Dist. Co., is here.

Walter Edwards Dies

A cablegram received yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky, of Famous Players, announced the death in Honolulu of Walter Edwards, for the past three years a director for the company. The message was very brief and omitted all details as to the cause.

His last two pictures to be released were "Easy to Get," with Marguerite Clark, and "Young Mrs. Winthrop," with Ethel Clayton, and just before going to Honolulu he completed "A Lady in Love," another Ethel Clayton subject.

Slight Fire at Metro Studios

There was a slight fire in the Metro studio on West 61st St. at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The fire started in a barrel filled with waste. Loss slight.

Col. Brown Leaves

Col. A. H. Brown of the Walturdaw Co., Ltd., London, England, left New York for London late Tuesday.

While here, Col. Brown secured the distribution of Selznick Pictures in Great Britain.

Baremore Leaves United

R. W. Baremore, who has been in charge of advertising and publicity for the United Pictures, has resigned.

He is handling the advertising and publicity for the Haring and Blumenthal Enterprises.

Baremore will be temporarily located at 1600 Broadway at United's headquarters.

Kimmerle Resigns

Boston, Mass.—F. F. Kimmerle, local manager for Robertson-Cole, has resigned to accept a post in Europe for parties not revealed.

He is succeeded by M. E. Morey, formerly of First National.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF MOTION PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
FRIAR'S CLUB 9400 BRYANT

TO OWNER OR AGENT OF TWO FRENCH PRODUCTIONS. STARRING
FANNIE WARD
"I have a good cash offer for one or both of these pictures. Will only deal with owner or a previously established representative."
ERNEST SHIPMAN,
Bryant 4730 6 W. 48th St., N. Y. C.

Turner Joins Loew

Ferd "Terry" Turner leaves N York this week to assume the du of publicity director of the L southern and southwestern circ with headquarters in Atlanta. T ner, formerly a Baltimore newspa man, became first associated Loew's Hippodrome, Baltimore.

The Loew southern and southw ern circuit now include more t twenty-five theaters.

Tyrad Sells "The Red Viper"

Tyrad Pictures, Inc., have "The Red Viper" to Inter-State F Exchange of Fort Dodge, Iowa, Nebraska and Iowa.

Moritz Heads Buffalo Exchange

Buffalo, N. Y.—Allan B. Mo manager of the local Famous P ers office, has been elected presi of the Buffalo Exchange Manag Association. He succeeds E. J. K berly, who resigned a short time A grievance committee has been pointed by the organization an made up of the following: J. Greenwald, Fox, chairman; Fran Hopkins, Universal; Archie M Select; Harry Marcy and W. A Vitagraph. Exchange managers have complaints against exhib will not be permitted to serve on committee.

Baltimore, Md.—S. Palan is the manager of the local Scree office, succeeding Michael Siegel.

A fact is impossible to argue away,—therefore, the fact that RITCHEY posters pay is not open to argument.
RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 838
Ritchey

CHARLIE MURR
of Keystone fame.
Everyone knows Charlie. He's a c of ours. You had better give us to-day.
Bill Richardson
RICHARDSON
607 West Seventh Stree
Victrolas and Grafonol
Phone 64955 Opp. Ro
Los Angeles, Calif.

McLaughlin Here.

Robert McLaughlin, author of "The ouse Without Children" and "Hid- n Charms," is in New York. Mc- ughlin's next story will be pro- ced by Bradley Features, Inc.

Dooley in Five-Reeler

Radin Pictures, Inc., will handle cinning Skinners," a five-reeler h Johnny Dooley. Jack Schultz directing.

Davis Here

George H. Davis, who owns the rld's rights on "The Confession," ched town from Louisville yes- day. He has sold the Tennessee Kentucky rights to the picture Col. Fred Levy, Big Features hts Corp.

Variety Buys From Radin

Variety Pictures of Washington, D. have purchased "The Weekly In- estion," for the District of Co- bia, Maryland and Virginia. This hange also controls "Thru Eyes Men" and the "Zip Comedies."

Would Lift Amusement Ban

Kingston, N. Y.—The New York thodist Episcopal Conference in sion here has adopted a recom- ndation lifting the ban on dancing, aters and other amusements. ix other conferences have adopted same recommendation which will brought up before the Methodist neral Conference at Des Moines t month.

Mortimer Directing Lake

Edwin Mortimer is directing Alice e in "Indiscreet Wives," formerly d "The Outsider."

illings, Mont.—E. C. Keefe, man- r Regent. $100,000.

SIMPLE SOULS

SCREEN STORY WANTED

Want at once original rural story or screen feature. Essential elements re heart interest and opportunity for oth the sentimental and lighter char- cter types and sc nes of country life. The old rural theme with any new wist possibl . And, if possible, a unch. Either extended synopsis or cenario will be car fully considered y my clients of highest responsibility. Quick action given on stories sub- itted quick to

NORMAN JEFFERIES
Real Estate Trust Building
Philadelphia, Pa.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Baltimore, Md.—The Shakespeare Amuse. Co. to build Shakespeare.

Athens, Ga.—James F. Shehane. $200,000. 1,500.

Hazard, Ky.—S. and M. Middleberg Theater Co. to build.

Danville, Ky.—M. G. Weisinger, Colonial, will build.

Northampton, Mass.—Frank H. Roberts will build.

Salem, Mass.—Koen Bros., Empire and Federal, will build.

Wilmont, Minn.—G. E. Kiser will build.

Corning, N. Y.—Selwyn and Co. $125,000.

Misc La Grand, Ore.—Myers and Ford. 1,000.

Klamath Falls, Ore.—W. H. Poole will build.

Henryetta, Okla.—Steve Petropakia. 1,200.

Wilkinsburg, Pa.—Rowland and Clark. 1,600.

Moundsville, W. Va.—Strand Theater Co. 1,500.

Appalachia, Va.—Abe White. $60,000.

Hoquiam, Wash.—Henry Newman. 1,260.

Stanwood, Wash.—M. H. Conners. 350.

Litchfield, Ill.—Frank Paul to build.

Chicago, Ill.—Allied Amuse. Co. Biltmore, 2,000.

Buffalo, N. Y.—General Theater Corp. to build Coliseum.

Gloucester, Mass.—Joseph D. Bloombe to build Strand. 1,800.

Nome, Alaska—W. F. Code to build Lincoln. 450.

Cleveland, O.—Essick and Relf, chain, to build at Geil and Detroit Ave.

Fresno, Cal.—Pantages plans large house.

Winside, Neb.—Fred Weible will build.

Houses Being Erected

Buffalo, N. Y.—Hertel Theater Corp. building on Hertel Ave.

Binghamton, N. Y.—Riley Amuse Co. building.

Santa Barbara, Cal.—The California nearing completion.

Akron, O.—Orpheum, Botzum Theater Co., 1,500, nearing completion.

House Changes

Managers Changed

Erie, Pa.—William J. Bernardi at Strand. Formerly at Savoy, Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Charles Smith at Savoy, Rowland and Clark.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—John A. Reilly at Strand, Rowland and Clark. Formerly at Belmar.

North Side, Pa.—A. J. Simon at William Penn. Formerly Strand, Oakland.

Louisville, Ky.—I. Lisbon at the National.

Butte, Mont.—E. J. Myrick resigned at Rialto.

Houses Bought

Philadelphia, Pa.—M. Saul bought Haverford for $38,000.

Reading, Pa.—John Cook, general manager for Carr and Shad, bought San Toy and Schuylkill Ave. from H. S. Rentz.

Louisville, Ky.—Strand Amuse. Co. bought Princess and Dixie, in Mayflower, and Savoy, in Princeton.

Detroit, Mich.—Burher and Garland bought Theatorium.

Clinton, Mass.—Bean and Heanley bought Strand from John McLean.

Sturgeon Bay, Mich.—Lew Welling sold house.

Aberdeen, S. D.—Abe Sonosky bought Colonial.

Omaha, Neb.—J. H. Gaylord bought Lothrop from W. O. Jensen.

Malvern, Iowa—C. W. Schmidt bought Empress, which he sold recently.

House Improvements

Connellsville, Pa.—Soisson, Chris Wagner, to add 800 seats.

Jamestown, N. Y.—Winter Garden, damaged by fire, reopens.

San Francisco, Cal.—Frolic remodeled. First run.

Houses Leased

Peterson, Minn.—Ness leased Opera House.

Zeidman Leaves Mayer

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Bennie Zeidman, general manager of the Louis B. Mayer Prod., has resigned. His resignation was in the hands of Mayer for three weeks before acted upon.

Zeidman says he is going to produce a number of special productions, backed by Eastern capital, but has not divulged who the interests are.

Transatlantic Making Projectors.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Albany—The Transatlantic Projector Co. has been formed with a capitalization of $10,000. Projection machines will be manufactured.

A. B. Carrick, general manager of the above company, stated that the company would manufacture a portable projector which will retail for $200. A plant in Worcester, Mass. has been taken over and production started.

Incorporations

Madison, Wis.—Virginian Theater Co., Kenosha. $50,000. F. L. Dayton, E. Dayton and A. L. Drury.

Albany.—Romograph Mfg. Co. New York. Capital, $300,000. Incorporators, J. J. Matveenkoff, A. A. Henning and A. T. Seixas, 2133 Daly Ave.

Dover, Del.—Welland Theaters Capital, $3,500,000. Incorporators: F. R. Hansell, J. Vernon Plumm and E. M. McFarland, Philadelphia.

Lawrence Grant has joined the Metro stock company on the coast.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
MCMXVIII A CNUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Morning Telegraph says:

"The Woman in Room 13" is one of Pauline Frederick's best cinema vehicles and likewise one of the best of the Goldwyn offerings."

Goldwyn

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.

Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 15 Thurs. April 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918 at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	85	86¼	86½
do pfd.	89¾	91	90¾
Goldwyn	25	26	25
Loew's, Inc.	35	36	35¼
Unit. Pict. Prod...	4	4¾	4½
Triangle	½	½	½
World. 1st pfd.....	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Grey Going Abroad

Albert Grey, general manager of the D. W. Griffith Enterprises, intends sailing for Europe May 22 on the Baltic.

Hyman Chicago Office Closed

Chicago, Ill.—The local office of the Arthur S. Hyman Attractions has been closed. Warren G. McCoy, manager, is at the Detroit office.

Pass Film Storing Regulations

Winnipeg, Manitoba—Regulations to govern storing of films have been passed by the City Council. It requires that all exchanges use ventilated fireproof vaults where more than fifty reels are stored, and that ventilated steel cabinets be provided where less than that number are put away.

New Pioneer Exchanges in Calif.

San Francisco—Floyd St. John has been appointed district maanger and is also in charge of the local office of Pioneer, while S. W. Whitehead will be in charge of the Los Angeles exchange.

Sees Boom in the South

With oil, cotton, and agricultural products reaching new high marks and with millions of dollars in new capital going into Southern states for the financing of new factories, a great era of prosperity is at hand for the South, according to William Thomas Yoder, known throughout Texas as "Colonel Bill," who has just been placed in charge of the Southern Division for Pathe.

Assets 37 Million

(Continued from Page 1)

The consolidated balance sheet shows the following assets as of December 31, 1919: Cash on hand $8,282,800; bills receivable, $179,785; accounts receivable, $5,545,951; merchandise, $8,865,770; investments, $3,329,177; buildings, plant and equipment, $2,923,271; deferred charges, $866,202, and good will, $7,655,680, a total of $37,648,637. Liabilities shown are: Bills payable, $3,709,432; accounts payable, $1,185,161; advance payments, $1,981,636; Federal income and excess profits taxes (estimated), $1,000,000; Federal footage tax, $328,762; capital stock represented by $10,000,000 preferred and 199,675 shares of common, no par value, $26,013,780; preferred stock of Charles Frohman, Inc., not owned, $310,500; surplus, $3,119,366, a total of $37,648,637.

The statement indicates an increase of about 50 per cent. in gross income compared with the $18,090,500 reported for the year ended December 31, 1918. Tangible assets at the end of 1919 amounted to $37,648,637 against $10,886,759 at the close of 1918. This increase is accounted for by the sale of the $10,000,000 new preferred and the expansion in various lines of the motion picture industry.

Net current assets at the close of 1919 amounted to $23,580,558, which includes $706,252 of Liberty bonds carried as investments. Current liabilities amounted to $8,204,991, leaving working capital of $15,375,567.

Jones in Town

Richard Jones, director of "Mickey" and "Yankee Doodle in Berlin," and many shorter Sennett pictures, is now in the east to direct Dorothy Gish's next picture. Work has been started.

Kirkpatrick on Coast

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—A. S. Kirkpatrick, vice-president and general manager of the Robertson-Cole Dist. Co., is here.

Walter Edwards Dies

A cablegram received yesterday by Jesse L. Lasky, of Famous Players, announced the death in Honolulu of Walter Edwards, for the past three years a director for the company. The message was very brief and omitted all details as to the cause.

His last two pictures to be released were "Easy to Get," with Marguerite Clark, and "Young Mrs. Winthrop," with Ethel Clayton, and just before going to Honolulu he completed "A Lady in Love," another Ethel Clayton subject.

Slight Fire at Metro Studios

There was a slight fire in the Metro studio on West 61st St. at 3 o'clock Tuesday morning. The fire started in a barrel filled with waste. Loss slight.

Col. Brown Leaves

Col. A. H. Brown of the Walturdaw Co., Ltd., London, England, left New York for London late Tuesday.

While here, Col. Brown secured the distribution of Selznick Pictures in Great Britain.

Baremore Leaves United

R. W. Baremore, who has been in charge of advertising and publicity for the United Pictures, has resigned.

He is handling the advertising and publicity for the Haring and Blumenthal Enterprises.

Baremore will be temporarily located at 1600 Broadway at United's headquarters.

Kimmerle Resigns

Boston, Mass.—F. F. Kimmerle, local manager for Robertson-Cole, has resigned to accept a post in Europe for parties not revealed.

He is succeeded by M. E. Morey, formerly of First National.

WE OWN THEM!

Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!

Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

EDITOR AND CUTTER
OF MOTION PICTURES
ELMER J. McGOVERN
FRIAR'S CLUB 9400 BRYANT

TO OWNER OR AGENT OF TWO FRENCH PRODUCTIONS. STARRING

FANNIE WARD

"I have a good cash offer for one or both of these pictures. Will only deal with owner or a previously established representative."

ERNEST SHIPMAN,
Bryant 4730 6 W. 48th St., N. Y. C.

Turner Joins Loew

Ferd "Terry" Turner leaves N York this week to assume the du of publicity director of the L southern and southwestern cir with headquarters in Atlanta. T ner, formerly a Baltimore newsp man, became first associated Loew's Hippodrome, Baltimore.

The Loew southern and southw ern circuit now include more t twenty-five theaters.

Tyrad Sells "The Red Viper"

Tyrad Pictures, Inc., have "The Red Viper" to Inter-State Exchange of Fort Dodge, Iowa, Nebraska and Iowa.

Moritz Heads Buffalo Exchange

Buffalo, N. Y.—Allan B. Mc manager of the local Famous P ers office, has been elected presi of the Buffalo Exchange Mana Association. He succeeds E. J. I berly, who resigned a short time A grievance committee has been pointed by the organization an made up of the following: J Greenwald, Fox, chairman; Fra Hopkins, Universal; Archie M Select; Harry Marcy and W. A Vitagraph. Exchange managers have complaints against exhib will not be permitted to serve o committee.

Baltimore, Md.—S. Palan is the manager of the local Scre office, succeeding Michael Siegel

A fact is impossible to argue away,—therefore, the fact that RITCHEY posters pay is not open to argument.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

CHARLIE MURR
of Keystone fame.
Everyone knows Charlie. He's a ct of ours. You had better give us to-day.

Bill Richardson

RICHARDSON
607 West Seventh Stre

Victrolas and Grafonolas
Phone 64955 Opp. Re
Los Angeles, Calif

McLaughlin Here.

obert McLaughlin, author of "The use Without Children" and "Hid- Charms," is in New York. Mc-ughlin's next story will be pro-ed by Bradley Features, Inc.

Dooley in Five-Reeler

adin Pictures, Inc., will handle inning Skinners," a five-reeler n Johnny Dooley. Jack Schultz irecting.

Davis Here

eorge H. Davis, who owns the ld's rights on "The Confession," ched town from Louisville yes-ay. He has sold the Tennessee Kentucky rights to the picture Col. Fred Levy, Big Features hts Corp.

Variety Buys From Radin

ariety Pictures of Washington, D. have purchased "The Weekly In-stion," for the District of Co-bia, Maryland and Virginia. This nange also controls "Thru Eyes Men" and the "Zip Comedies."

Would Lift Amusement Ban

ingston, N. Y.—The New York hodist Episcopal Conference in ion here has adopted a recom-dation lifting the ban on dancing, ters and other amusements. x other conferences have adopted same recommendation which will brought up before the Methodist eral Conference at Des Moines t month.

Mortimer Directing Lake

dwin Mortimer is directing Alice e in "Indiscreet Wives," formerly d "The Outsider."

illings, Mont.—E. C. Keefe, man- Regent. $100,000.

SIMPLE SOULS

SCREEN STORY WANTED

Want at once original rural story or screen feature. Essential elements re heart interest and opportunity for oth the sentimental and lighter char-cter types and sc nes of country life. he old rural theme with any new vist possibl. And, if possible, a unch. Either extended synopsis or cenario will be car fully considered y my clients of highest responsibility. uick action given on stories sub-itted quick to

NORMAN JEFFERIES
Real Estate Trust Building
Philadelphia, Pa.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Baltimore, Md.—The Shakespeare Amuse. Co. to build Shakespeare.

Athens, Ga.—James F. Shehane. $200,000. 1,500.

Hazard, Ky.—S. and M. Middleberg Theater Co. to build.

Danville, Ky.—M. G. Weisinger, Colonial, will build.

Northampton, Mass.—Frank H. Roberts will build.

Salem, Mass.—Koen Bros., Empire and Federal, will build.

Wilmont, Minn.—G. E. Kiser will build.

Corning, N. Y.—Selwyn and Co. $125,000.

Misc La Grand, Ore.—Myers and Ford. 1,000.

Klamath Falls, Ore.—W. H. Poole will build.

Henryetta, Okla.—Steve Petropakia. 1,200.

Wilkinsburg, Pa.—Rowland and Clark. 1,600.

Moundsville, W. Va.—Strand Theater Co. 1,500.

Appalachia, Va.—Abe White. $60,000.

Hoquiam, Wash.—Henry Newman. 1,260.

Stanwood, Wash.—M. H. Conners. 350.

Litchfield, Ill.—Frank Paul to build.

Chicago, Ill.—Allied Amuse. Co. Biltmore, 2,000.

Buffalo, N. Y.—General Theater Corp. to build Coliseum.

Gloucester, Mass. — Joseph D. Bloombe to build Strand. 1,800.

Nome, Alaska—W. F. Code to build Lincoln. 450.

Cleveland, O.—Essick and Relf, chain, to build at Geil and Detroit Ave.

Fresno, Cal.—Pantages plans large house.

Winside, Neb.—Fred Weible will build.

Houses Being Erected

Buffalo, N. Y.—Hertel Theater Corp. building on Hertel Ave.

Binghamton, N. Y.—Riley Amuse Co. building.

Santa Barbara, Cal.—The California nearing completion.

Akron, O.—Orpheum, Botzum Theater Co., 1,500, nearing completion.

House Changes

Managers Changed

Erie, Pa.—William J. Bernardi at Strand. Formerly at Savoy, Pittsburgh.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Charles Smith at Savoy, Rowland and Clark.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—John A. Reilly at Strand, Rowland and Clark. Formerly at Belmar.

North Side, Pa.—A. J. Simon at William Penn. Formerly Strand, Oakland.

Louisville, Ky.—I. Lisbon at the National.

Butte, Mont.—E. J. Myrick resigned at Rialto.

Houses Bought

Philadelphia, Pa.—M. Saul bought Haverford for $38,000.

Reading, Pa.—John Cook, general manager for Carr and Shad, bought San Toy and Schuylkill Ave. from H. S. Rentz.

Louisville, Ky.—Strand Amuse. Co. bought Princess and Dixie, in Mayflower, and Savoy, in Princeton.

Detroit, Mich.—Burher and Garland bought Theatorium.

Clinton, Mass.—Bean and Heanley bought Strand from John McLean.

Sturgeon Bay, Mich.—Lew Welling sold house.

Aberdeen, S. D.—Abe Sonosky bought Colonial.

Omaha, Neb.—J. H. Gaylord bought Lothrop from W. O. Jensen.

Malvern, Iowa—C. W. Schmidt bought Empress, which he sold recently.

House Improvements

Connellsville, Pa.—Soisson, Chris Wagner, to add 800 seats.

Jamestown, N. Y.—Winter Garden, damaged by fire, reopens.

San Francisco, Cal.—Frolic remodeled. First run.

Houses Leased

Peterson, Minn.—Ness leased Opera House.

Zeidman Leaves Mayer

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Bennie Zeidman, general manager of the Louis B. Mayer Prod., has resigned. His resignation was in the hands of Mayer for three weeks before acted upon.

Zeidman says he is going to produce a number of special productions, backed by Eastern capital, but has not divulged who the interests are.

Transatlantic Making Projectors.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Albany—The Transatlantic Projector Co. has been formed with a capitalization of $10,000. Projection machines will be manufactured.

A. B. Carrick, general manager of the above company, stated that the company would manufacture a portable projector which will retail for $200. A plant in Worcester, Mass. has been taken over and production started.

Incorporations

Madison, Wis.—Virginian Theater Co., Kenosha. $50,000. F. L. Dayton, E. Dayton and A. L. Drury.

Albany.—Romograph Mfg. Co. New York. Capital, $300,000. Incorporators, J. J. Matveenkoff, A. A. Henning and A. T. Seixas, 2133 Daly Ave.

Dover, Del.—Welland Theaters Capital, $3,500,000. Incorporators: F. R. Hansell, J. Vernon Plumm and E. M. McFarland, Philadelphia.

Lawrence Grant has joined the Metro stock company on the coast.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Morning Telegraph says:

"The Woman in Room 13" is one of Pauline Frederick's best cinema vehicles and likewise one of the best of the Goldwyn offerings."

Goldwyn

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

Riley Poems for Ray

Charles Ray has just bought four of James Whitcomb Riley's poems of the American countryside: "The Old Swimming Hole," "Home Again," "Out to Old Aunt Mary's," and "The Girl I Loved."

Turrill, Lasky's Assistant

Howard Turrill will act as Jesse L. Lasky's personal assistant at Famous Players.

Robert McAlarney, scenario editor, will take over part of Whitman Bennett's former duties. This was intimated in WID'S DAILY several weeks ago.

Walk With Garsson

Donald H. Walk, formerly with Jack Cohn, is director of publicity for Fine Arts Pictures Corp., Murray W. Garsson, president.

Elmar J. McGovern will act as film editor.

Show Film in Court House

Rochester, N. Y.—A moving picture of a strike at the plant of Michaels, Stern & Co. was shown in the Supreme Court here in the case of the company against the Amalgamated Clothing Workers of America for alleged interference by the organization with the employees of the company.

TITLES
REFINED LETTERING
APPROPRIATE ILLUSTRATING
ERNEST STERN
145 W. 45th ST
PHONE BRYANT 8073

SIMPLE SOULS

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Purchasing Agent

Outlined for Coast Studios by J. D. Williams—Nothing Known Here

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—A concentration of producing interests in Los Angeles which will mean a payroll of $5,200,000 for the next year and a purchasing bureau that will force New York houses to establish agencies here were leading features of an ambitious project outlined by J. D. Williams, general manager of First National Exhibitors' Circuit.

The occasion was a farewell luncheon tendered him recently by Sol Lesser at the Charles Ray studio. Representatives of the several producing units which contribute to the First National releasing schedule attended.

In sketching the unusual plan Mr. Williams said it would be his first effort on returning East to induce the Norma and Constance Talmadge companies, which are now producing there, to come to California in the fall and thus make it unanimous for Los Angeles, as they are the only units engaged elsewhere.

The center of the great organization, he stated, would be a gigantic purchasing agency in which all of the studios would co-operate. He predicted that all sorts of New York establishments, from the big electrical and equipment houses down the scale to modiste and milliners, would have to found branches here.

At the New York offices of First National it was stated that nothing was known of the Williams idea.

No Comment on Brandt Letter

At Metro it was stated yesterday that since no communication had as yet been received from William Brandt and the Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce regarding the use of Marcus Loew's name on Metro productions, nothing could be said regarding it.

Richard A. Rowland had gone for the day and W. E. Atkinson, general manager for Metro, said that until 10 o'clock yesterday morning, at which time Rowland had gone to the country, no such communication had been received.

Marcus Loew stated yesterday that he thought the whole affair was engineered by some people who were anxious to see their names in print and that he had not been officially informed of the action.

New Unit, Foremost Pictures

John Roberts and Amerigo Serrao have formed a company known as the Foremost Pictures Corp. The company states that it has already arranged for the literary output of a well-known author, but nothing has been said about his name.

New Jersey Unit Formed
(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—The fourth First National unit to be chartered by the Corporation Trust Co. is the Associated First National Pictures of New Jersey with a capitalization of $215,000.

Howells' Men Here

Scandinavian Representative Sees Growth of German Films—Cameraman Brings Material.

Two members of the David P. Howells organization have just arrived in New York: one from Scandinavia and the other from a year's trip through the Sahara desert, Italy and Switzerland.

John Lundquist, manager of the Howell's Stockholm office, reports that because of the discrepancy in the exchange rate between this country and the Scandinavian countries, theaters in Norway, Sweden and Denmark find it more profitable to use films made in Germany and France. These, says Lundquist, are replacing American films more and more, but the substitution has not yet reached that stage where foreign films are in the preponderance.

Jeff D. Dickson, formerly with the Signal Corps, has brought back with him about 25,000 ft. of material shot in the Sahara desert, Morocco and other portions of Northern Africa as well as in Sicily and Switzerland. His material will be incorporated in a series of scenics which the Howells organization will release. Dickson, after a short stay here, will again visit Africa and go down the Nile into Abyssinia.

The Howells organization has taken over the offices on the 11th floor of the Godfrey Bldg. formerly occupied by the Export and Import Film Co., Inc. The Howells Cine Equipment Co. will be housed there.

Lubin in New Unit

Herbert Lubin is interested in a new company known as Authors' Stage and Screen Plays, Inc., a new corporation which will supply screen material to producers. The company will handle stories for authors and dispose of them to producers.

Exhibitors Buy Stewart Film

Boston—The Motion Pictures Dis Corp., a co-operative organization o New England exhibitors, has pur chased the New England territory o Roy Stewart in 'The Lone Hand from the Alexander Film Corp.

Marie Doro in "Midnight Gam bles" will be the next release b Pioneer.

Nathaniel Holstein, assistant t Southard Brown, director of publici of Pioneer, has been transferred t the sales force.

GEORGE ELWOOD JENKS
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmond
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
Earle Williams in
"When a Man Loves"
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

BECAUSE
There's nothing like them
They balance any "show"
They fit any screen
They're worth more
"COMEDYART"
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

...e BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XII No. 16 Friday, April 16, 1920 Price 5 Cents

...eek Co-operation

...ertisers Have Scheme for Closer Touch With Newspapers.

...e Associated Motion Picture Ad...isers, Inc., composed of most of ...publicity and advertising men in ... motion picture industry, have ...ected a scheme which is expect...o result in closer co-operation be...en film companies and newspa... throughout the country.

...hn S. Spargo has been engaged ...ield secretary to work out the ...me, the details of which have ...been divulged, and is being fin...d by Famous Players, First Na...al, Universal, Pathe, Selznick, ...ro, Realart and D. W. Griffith.

...he American Newspaper Pub...ers convene in New York next ...k for four days. Spargo, who ...ws a number of the publishers, ... broach his plan personally dur... the convention. On Wednesday ...t the A. M. P. A. will conduct ...idnight show at the Rivoli thea... The performance will start at ...0 and will run about two hours. ...that performance are expected a ...e number of newspaper publish... while Governor Smith and May... Hylan will be invited.

... number of features in which the ...lishers are in close touch will ...shown such as the Mutt and Jeff ...oons, the Bringing Up Father ...edies. The news weekly men ... shoot the publishers probably on ...sday while in convention and on ...dnesday night the films will be ...ed on the Rivoli screen.

...avid W. Griffith is now cutting ... titling long before release date ...latest production, "Black Beach," ...a special showing on Wednesday. ...s picture will not be for general ...ase for some time.

...he performance will not be for ... general public, but merely for ...e connected with the publishing ... and the motion picture indus... Paul Gulick, president of the ...M. P. A., is in charge.

Thomas Coming East

...maha, Neb.—H. M. Thomas, ...ager of the Rialto, left on Sun... to spend several weeks visiting ...ters in eastern cities, garnering ...s for use in Omaha. He will be ...lew York City the week of April ...topping at the Astor.

DELAYS

The railroad strike and tie-up ...ave reached such proportions ...hat should you fail for the ...ext few days to receive your ...opy of WID'S DAILY reg...larly you will understand why.

She begged her to promise to keep her secret of the elopement with the married man—Katherine MacDonald in "Passion's Playground," taken from the novel "The Guests of Hercules," a First Nat'l attraction.—Advt.

Wolper Out

Leaves Mayflower to Produce Independently—Prager His Successor.

Isaac Wolper yesterday announced his resignation as president of Mayflower Photoplay Corp. in order to start production under his own name. Benjamin A. Prager, who until now has acted as treasurer of the company, succeeds Wolper as president.

(Continued on Page 2)

Schenck and Bennett to Speak

Three events are announced by First National as a part of its program at the convention of its exhibitor members to begin at the Hotel Congress, Chicago, on April 26.

Speeches will be made by Joseph M. Schenck, president of both the Norma Talmadge Film Co. and the Constance Talmadge Film Co., and by Whitman Bennett.

The third event will be the presence at the convention of Norma Talmadge, who, for the first time, it is said, will appear publicly at a gathering of exhibitors.

After B'way Theater

Kaufman Arrives—Seeks House for Premiere Showings of Phillips-Ayers Pictures

Albert A. Kaufman arrived in New York from California yesterday, a day late because of the railroad strike.

Kaufman will remain here only a week, but in that time he expects to secure a theater for Broadway premieres of the Dorothy Phillips-Allen Holubar and Agnes Ayres productions, which he is making.

This theater which he is negotiating for is not a picture house. It will serve as Kaufman calls it as a "showroom" for his productions. An experienced theater man will have charge of the presentations.

Kaufman will get the first Holubar production under way as soon as he returns to the coast.

Nagle Signed by F. P.-L.

Conrad Nagle has been signed by Famous Players-Lasky to play leads.

Metro Defines Stand

Will Send Brandt Copy of Picker's Letter on Use of Loew's Name

Richard A. Rowland, president of Metro, stated yesterday that his course of action regarding the communication of the Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce objecting to the use of Marcus Loew's name on Metro productions would be to send to William Brandt, president of the chamber, a copy of David Picker's letter.

Mr. Rowland stated that Brandt's original communication said it reflected the sentiment of the chamber unanimously.

Picker, who owns the new Rio theater and others, is a member of the Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce and said in his letter to Metro, according to Rowland, that he didn't see why Loew should be picked out any more than anyone else. The point Rowland makes is that the chamber's action was therefore not unanimous as Brandt states since Picker was not present when the resolution was adopted and has since objected to the action.

Rowland didn't appear particularly worried about the affair and said something about exhibitors who might do better by paying more attention to their own business and not interfere in other people's affairs.

At David Picker's office it was stated that the letter to Rowland had followed the discovery of the chamber's action on the Loew-Metro matter to which Picker strongly objected. It was said that had he been present at the meeting he would have voted against such an action.

Terwilliger With Metro

George Terwilliger will direct "The Marriage of the Mayfair," one of the Drury Lane melodramas for Metro. It will be made in the company's 61st studio. Percy Marmont is understood to have been cast in one of the leading roles.

Brady in Chicago

Chicago—Alice Brady has started work on her next Realart picture, "A Dark Lantern." John S. Robertson, who directed John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," and Constance Binney in "Erstwhile Susan," will direct her.

Gordon to Be Starred

Robert Gordon, at present under contract to J. Stuart Blackton, will form his own producing unit.

Gordon will be starred while the finances will be supplied by Texas interests.

NEW press book IDEAS, SOLOMON has 'em. he's wise.—Advt.

Wid's DAILY

Vol. XII No. 19 Fri. April 16, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. C. Wid Hopwood, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second class matter May 21, 1918 at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York. $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order. Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	83½	86	84¾
do pfd.	90½	91⅝	91⅝
Goldwyn	25	25	25
Loew's, Inc.	34	35¾	34⅞
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod...	4¾	7½	6¼
World, 1st pfd...	1⅛	1⅛	1⅛

Frisch an Independent

Omaha, Neb.—M. J. Frisch, for two years manager for Universal in Des Moines, and for four years with Pathe and Universal in Iowa, recently established The Greater Productions Co. of Des Moines, and started out on a state's right basis for himself.

Wolper Out

(Continued from Page 1)

Wolper, in explanation further for his retirement, stated that he had retired because of a disagreement in policy. Although he will no longer take part actively in the company's affairs, he will retain his financial interest in the corporation.

"I have been contemplating for some time producing under my own name," said Wolper, "as I believe there is a bigger future for me by operating in this manner. At present I am hunting for a location for offices and as soon as I can find space and establish my headquarters, I will make a definite statement as to policy and plans."

Prager's first announcement after asuming the presidency was that John W. McKay, former general manager of distribution, has been promoted to the general managership of the company.

Sunday Fight On in Nebraska

Grand Island, Neb.—This city has voted to permit its picture houses to remain open on Sunday. This is the first Sunday opening fight of the season in Nebraska and is almost certain to be followed by a widespread effort of many other cities, including Lincoln, to open their theaters on Sunday.

Lincoln, the state capital, has been closed on Sundays for years. The Chamber of Commerce, however, has appointed a special committee to see what can be done toward opening Lincoln theaters on Sunday.

Fremont a year ago elected a "liberal" city administration, but thus far the officials have not seen fit to bring about Sunday opening. This step is expected, however, at any time.

Cosmopolitan Prod. denies that Marion Davies will appear on the stage. Also that Alma Rubens, who is featured player, will do stage work.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Omaha, Neb.—Manager Harry Goldberg of the Sun co-operated with the Omaha Daily Bee in putting on a "Bee Skating Bee" when Chaplin in "The Rink" and Mary Miles Minter in "Judy of Rogues' Harbor" were showing at the Sun. Through the Bee, the Sun offered to admit free at a special Saturday morning matinee any boy or girl wearing roller skates and presenting a coupon clipped from the Daily Bee. Prizes were given for the best make-up of Chaplin and of Mary Miles Minter. Every boy came attired as an amateur Chaplin and every girl tried to look like Mary M. M. The best made-up boys were given roller skates for prizes and the best made-up girls were given M. M. M. dolls.

The affair was a grand success, several hundred pairs of roller skates attending.

Goldberg recently offered to admit, free of charge, any Irish boy or girl to see a Saturday morning m inee of "The Luck of the Irish." T picture had run all of St. Patric week. The party was staged Goldberg and the Omaha Wor Herald. Colored boys, stoutly ma taining they were Irish; boys w talked Jewish, but who insisted t wer Irish, and boys from nations over the earth, all of them say they were Irish, were admitted. T party, too, was a great success.

It was while showing this pict that Goldberg painted a huge lu of coal green and put it in the lot of his theater, labelling it "The o inal blarney stone."

"Harriet and the Piper" is the starring vehicle for Anita Stew The story is by Kathleen Norris.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
565 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Evening World says:

"Pauline Frederick, in "The Woman in Room 13," portrays the role of the former wife of the detective in a manner that at times makes one think her utterances are heard."

Goldwyn

A pebble properly placed may shift the current of a stream. Likewise a RITCHEY poster at a theatre entrance will send the stream of passersby toward the box-office.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8384

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

Don't Let SOME BABY!
Get away from you!

PROTECTION

The fundamental principle back of every successful busine enterprise isin surance. Corporations owe it to their stoc holders. Partners owe it to each other. You as an individu owe it to your self. Do not allow yourself to be lulled into fal security. You NEED insurance.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reube Samue Insura

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Mary Thurman has ed to her school-day home in Salt ke City for a visit of two weeks h her mother.

Edward Martindel, who began his fessional career on the comic op- stage, has been cast in an im- tant role of "Athalie."

Allan Dwan, the Mayflower direct- producer, has motored "Some- ere in the mountains" to seek lo- ons for his next production. Dwan accompanied by his assistant, nes Hogan. They will be away m the studio for two weeks. The tinuity for the next Dwan pic- e will be completed while the di- tor and his assistant are "on the und" of the story locale.

Jacques Jaccard, Universal director, o produced "The Great Air Rob- y" with Ormer Locklear and who s loaned to the Fox Company to ect two pictures for Tom Mix, ack on the big U lot. Jaccard will rtly begin production of a series stories dealing with the exploits of Royal Northwestern Mounted lice.

The Universal Scenario Depart- nt announces the purchase of "Ma- na," a story of the South Sea ands by Ralph Stock.

GAUSMAN.

New Garsson Unit

Fine Arts Pictures, Inc., Formed to Make Five Reel Features.

The Fine Arts Pictures, Inc., formed in Albany recently, will succeed the Foundation Film Corp. Murray W. Garsson, who was president and general manager of Foundation, will act as president and general manager of the new company, while Charles F. Schwerin will be secretary, treasurer and sales manager.

Eight pictures a year are to be made, and all of them five reelers. The chief feature will be a contest picture, the details of which are now being worked out. It will be a sequel to the two-reel picture, "A Dream of Fair Women." The contest is being conducted by Eugene V. Brewster's three fan magazine, Motion Picture, Motion Picture Classic and Shadowland. The successful contestants will be featured in the leading roles of the picture which will be produced as soon as the contest is ended.

The sales policy will include the selling of negatives at cost and a share of the gross receipts for the exhibitor.

Hampton at Broadway

Hope Hampton in "A Modern Salome" opens at the Broadway Sunday for a week's run.

A new stage offering is "The Love Revue," which is said to trace man's methods of love from the time of Cleopatra to this modern day.

Chamberlin on Trip.

F. V. Chamberlin, general service manager, Distribution Department, Famous Players, is on a trip on which he will visit ten exchanges. The following offices are included in the itinerary: St. Louis Kansas City, Denver, Salt Lake City, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland, Ore., Seattle, Minneapolis and Chicago.

Take Studio May 1

Washington—The U. S. Photoplays Corp., which will produce "Determination," will take possession of the E. K. Lincoln studio, Grantwood, N. J., May 1 instead of June 1.

Wins Sunday Show Case

Hartford City, Ind.—Frank Walters, owner of the Orpheum, was freed by a jury on a charge of desecrating the Sabbath. Film houses, with the decision as a precedent, will probably continue shows unmolested.

$2,500,000 House for Buffalo

Buffalo, N. Y.—Morris Slotkin, manager of the Olympic, has announced the erection of a house costing $2,500,000 by the company operating the former on the site of the Lyric and Family at Broadway and Washington St.

George D. Baker is en route to New Orleans with a company of Cosmopolitan players to shoot exteriors for "A Whiff of Heliotrope."

Charles Lane, character actor, is now at work in "This Woman—This Man," starring Dorothy Dalton. The company left this week to film exteriors at Charleston, S. C.

Tabor, Denver, 1st Nat'l's Theater

Denver, Colo.—The Vick Roy Amusement and Investment Co. has closed a contract with First National which gives that theater exclusive first run rights to First National product. Marshal Neilan's "The River's End" was the first to play the theater.

The William Fox Rivoli theater, which has been playing most of the First National releases, will continue to present features already contracted for. The America theater likewise will present several Constance Talmadge and Mildred Harris-Chaplin pictures.

The lease on the Tabor runs for 17 more months. At its expiration the theater will be taken over by the Bishop-Cass Investment Co. for remodeling. Later it will be opened as a Goldwyn theater. The Bishop-Cass Co. is owner of the America, wh also will become a Goldwyn program house, giving the Goldwyn people two for screen feature. Essential elements are heart interest and opportunity for both the sentimental and lighter character types and scenes of country life. The old rural theme with any new punch. Either extended synopsis or scenario will be car fully considered by my clients of highest res

SCREEN STORY WANTED

NORMAN JEFFERIES
Real Estate Trust Building
Philadelphia, Pa.

Read the Reviews
on
NEGLECTED WIVES
Then Buy
Wistaria Productions, Inc.
1520 Broadway

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in
N. Y. C.

KESSEL PRINT WALITY
Nicholas Kessel Laboratory, Inc.
'Phone Fort Lee 221

BESS MEREDITH
and
WILFRED LUCAS
Writing and Directing
Australian Features
Address
Care Snowy Baker
84 Oxford Street
Sydney, N. S. W. Australia
Cable Address
"Snowing Sydney"

EXHIBITORS AND EDITORS
WON'T READ YOUR PRESS SHEET
UNLESS IT IS PRINTED
ATTRACTIVELY
And My Price is Right, Too
Address or phone
Lawrence (Larry) Urbach
1587 Broadway
8445 Bryant

WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
RMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
TERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND
ILLUSTRATIONS
PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

House Changes

Houses Bought

Cheboygan, Mich.—F. L. Kingston, owner Kingston, bought Liberty from Roland B. Riggs.

Trinidad, Colo.—B. B. Hinman C. G. Chamberlain, and L. L. Stonebraker bought Palace from R. W. Davis.

Boulder, Colo.—C. M. Moore bought Gem from W. A. Seamon.

Denver, Colo.—David Hepner bought Thompson for $40,000 from International Amuse. Co.

Garrett, Ind.—Otto Heinzerling bought Pastime from A. C. Widmer.

Hagerstown, Md.—J. H. Boyer bought J. Saunderson's interests in Palace.

Managers Changed

Washington, D. C.—Frank J. Storey at Moore's Strand. Louis Stolberg at Garden.

Irving, Ind.—G. D. Jones now at the Irving.

Name Changed

Sheffield, Ala.—Lyric, now owned by Southern Enterprises. Formerly called Colonial.

Houses Planned

Paducah, Ky.—Keith chain. $100,000. 2,000.

Danville, N. Y.—M. G. Weisger, Colonial, to build.

Port Clinton, Ohio—Port Clinton Amuse. Co., headed by Fred P. Reichert, chain, to build.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—G. W. Schannit will build at Woods Run Ave. and Brighton Road.

Modern Equipped Studio for Rent, Floor Space, 60 x 150. Terms Most Reasonable in New York.

WEISS
Room 524 1476 Broadway
Bryant 4416

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

New F. P. Films

Jesse Lasky Talks of Productions Outlined for West Coast Studio.

Jesse L. Lasky of Famous Players made several announcements yesterday regarding the production affairs of the corporation.

Mr. Lasky announced that the title of the new special which Cecil B. DeMille has just finished at the Lasky studio is "Something to Think About."

George Melford, who produced "The Sea Wolf" and "Everywoman," will shortly begin on a new production of William Vaughn Moody's "The Faith Healer." Melford also will produce, as noted, the new screen version of "The Old Homestead."

A long list of stories has been bought for Thomas Meighan. This list includes "The Frontier of the Stars," by Albert Payson Terhune; Booth Tarkington's novel, "The Conquest of Canaan;" Peter B. Kyne's book, "Cappy Ricks," and "Easy Street," by Blair Hall.

Joseph Henaberry will direct Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle in his new five-reel comedies.

One of the specials to be made in the near future is "The Shulamite," a version of Edward Knoblauch's play.

Opie Read's "The Jucklins" is to be made into a picture under direction of Charles Maigne.

At the time of Lasky's leaving Los Angeles William D. Taylor had started an original story by Julia Crawford Ivers with the working title of "The Boy."

William DeMille starts "Conrad in Quest of His Youth," with a cast headed by Thomas Meighan.

"All in a Night" is being directed by Paul Powell.

Sam Wood has finished "What's Your Hurry," with Wallace Reid.

Two other new pictures have been completed—"The Fourteenth Man," featuring Robert Warwick, directed by Joseph Henabery; and "What Happened to Jones," with Bryant Washburn, which James Cruze directed.

In the Courts

A judgment by default for $4,574 was entered in the Supreme Court in a suit of Eric Pusinelli against Films, Inc., Austen H. Montgomery, James J. McDonald and George R. Hamilton, on a note.

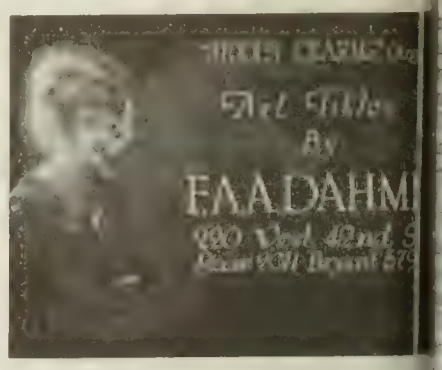
Lewis J. Selznick has obtained judgment in the City Court against Nicholas Gyory on a note for $1,500 on which a total of $1,700 is now due.

IS A SMILE WORTH A MILLION ?

WE'LL SAY IT IS

ROBERTSON-COLE

SIMPLE SOULS



1,000,000 FANS

have been looking for something "different"

"COMEDYART"

is "different"

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies

"Money Talks" "Schoolhouse Scandal"
"Virtuous Husbands" "The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"Dablin in Society" "The Heart Snatcher"
"Footlight Maids" "The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"

Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 17 Saturday, April 17, 1920 Price 5 Cent

Bar Foreign Films

ffect of the Measure Planned in Germany.

(By cable)

Basle, Switzerland—An important ll has just been filed in the Ger- an Reichstag in Berlin to nation- ize all picture theaters under com- unity supervision.

While on its face this seems to be nimportant it is said to be a subter- ge, the real purpose of which is to r all foreign films. This is contrary the Peace Treaty, and it is said be opposed by German exhibitors. ut authentic information reaches me ere that the bill will be railroaded rough within the next ten days.

If the bill passes and becomes ef- ctive it means the isolation of Ger- any as a film center.

Ben Blumenthal of Export and mport Film Co., Inc., whose knowl- dge of Central European affairs is enerally conceded as being quite ex- nsive, stated regarding the cable: "I heard some talk of the nation- ization of theaters when I was in ermany, but I don't think anything ill come of it.

"The big film companies in Ger- any are fighting the Government every way that would control the dustry there.

"The American exporter has not een sending any films into Germany the last five years anyway, and so e nationalization of theaters and the an on foreign films would not affect e exporter here to any great de- ree. Besides the Germans can't ay our prices anyway, because of e discrepancy in the exchange rate.

"On the strength of your informa-

(Continued on Page 4)

Williams Due To-day

J. D. Williams of First National is ue in New York from the coast is morning.

First National, Indiana, Formed

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—The Corporation rust Co. has just chartered the As- ociated First National Pictures of ndiana with a capitalization of $187,- 00.

DELAYS

The railroad strike and tie-up have reached such proportions that should you fail for the next few days to receive your copy of WID'S DAILY regularly you will understand why.

She rose, turning her back on them in scorn, for she knew they sought to get her jewels—Katherine McDonald in "Passion's Playground," from the novel, "The Guests of Hercules," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Another Out

Of United Artists—G. B. Clifton, Secretary-Treasurer, Resigns.

G. B. Clifton, secretary-treasurer of the United Artists, has, it is understood, tendered his resignation to the directors of that corporation. While the resignation was tendered with the understanding that it could become effective at some future date, it is said that Mr. Clifton will ask the directors to take definite action on it when they meet next Tuesday.

It would not be surprising if the directors elected Hiram Abrams president as well as general manager next Tuesday, succeeding Oscar A. Price, who resigns as president on May 1.

Seeks to Annul Marriage

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Carson City, Nev.—The Attorney General of the state of Nevada stated yesterday that he would commence action at once seeking the annulment of Mary Pickford's marriage to Douglas Fairbanks.

James Leaves Fox To-day

Arthur James terminates his relations with Fox Film to-day. He will open offices of his own at 3 East 44th Street.

Merritt Crawford will be in charge of Fox publicity and Captain "Jim" Loughborough will handle the advertising until "Winnie" Sheehan returns from Europe.

Thomas Due Monday

H. M. Thomas of the Rialto, Omaha, is due in town Monday. He will stop at the Astor.

Nothing Closed

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Culver City, Calif.—Regardless of any rumors to the contrary, Associated Producers have closed no arrangements with anyone.

Thos. H. Ince.

This refers, doubtlessly, to distribution plans of the new directors' organization.

Cinema Press

And Plan for Blue Book for Indu try Develops Snags

The ambitious plan of the Cinen Press Asso. to publish a blue bo of the motion picture industry, a which started off with the endors ment of Adolph Zukor and other n tables, and which was also endors by the National Association, M. D. A. and the A. M. P. A., has, it understood, developed some sna which has for the time being at lea held up further work on the propos publication.

It is understood that a promine member of the Natl. Association h notified the association that he wa to take a look over the original agre ment which the Cinema Press Ass had with the association—an agre ment which it is said has been su planted by another. He has also n tified the Association that unless t paper is shown him that he will r sign from the Association, and the same time take legal steps to s cure this paper. This member none other than James R. Quirk, Photoplay Magazine.

There are several other membe of the Association, as well as of t Advertisers who are interested matters which have developed in t operations of the Cinema Press As Paul Gulick said several days a that it was his understanding t the Press Asso. was withholding f ther operations, and Secy. Elliott the Natl. Association said that t was also his understanding.

Despite this, however, there h been considerable talk in film circ that part of the plan of the Pr Association was to do "publicity" stars, directors, etc., and others executive importance for which charge was to be made. Elliott a Gulick insist that it was their und

(Continued on Page 3)

Regarding Abram

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Hiram Abrams pects to leave for the East Sun or Monday.

There is no truth to the rumor t he may become general manager Associated Producers.

A meeting was held Wednes night at Douglas Fairbanks' home tended by Fairbanks, Abrams United Artists, Ince, Tucker, To neur and Sennett of Associated P ducers. Nothing definite was acc plished.

The IDEA Inventor.
SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

Wid's DAILY — THE RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

ol. XII No. 17 Sat. April 17, 1920 Price 5 Cents

opyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, nc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., ew York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and ILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasrer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President nd Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and usiness Manager.

ntered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, t the post office at New York, N. Y., under he act of March 3, 1879.

erms (Postage free) United States, Outside f Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 onths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, 5.00.

Subscribers should remit with order ddress all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558 Hollywood, California

ditorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels h Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
amous Players ..	85	85¾	85¼
do pfd.	90½	91⅜	91⅜
Goldwyn	25	25	25
oew's, Inc.	34	34⅞	34½
riangle	½	½	½
nit. Pict. Prod...	5	6½	5¾
orld Film	¼	¼	¼

*Thursday's quotations.

Thirty Exchanges

A distribution combination through dependent state right exchanges s just been completed by the Reelft Pictures Corp. for the exclue short subject program now be produced by its various produc companies.

R. C. Cropper, president of the mpany, lists the following exanges: The Standard Film Serv, 217 Sloan Bldg., Cleveland; andard Film Co., Jos. Mack Bldg., troit; Standard Film Co., Film change Bldg., Cincinnati; R. D. wis Film Company, 1913¼ Comerce St., Dallas; R. D. Lewis Film ., 114 South Hudson St., Oklama City; R. D. Lewis Film Co., 2½ Soledad St., San Antonio; R. Lewis Film Co., 106 South Cross , Little Rock; Arrow Photoplays ., 1735 Walton St., Denver; Arrow lm Co., 48 Piedmont St., Boston; nsolidated Film Co., 90 Golden te Ave., San Francisco; Consolited Film Co., 3628 Oliver St., Los geles; Crescent Film Co., 315 oyd Bldg., Kansas City, Mo.; Doo Exchange, Inc., 445 So. Warren , Buffalo; E. & H. Distributing ., 73 Walton St., Atlanta; Elran Film Co., Piedmont Theater dg., Charlotte, N. C.; Exhibitors' m Co., 918 G Street, N. W., Washgton; Greater Features Film Co., 20 Third Ave., Seattle; Magnet lm Co., 418 Harrison St., Davenrt, Ia.; Masterpiece Film Attracns, 1235 Vine St., Philadelphia; uality Film Co., 414 Ferry St., tsburgh; United Film Service, 3628 ive St., St. Louis; and the five ablished Reelcraft Exchanges in w York, Chicago, Milwaukee, Inapolis and Minneapolis.

New Theaters

Houses Opened

Niagara Falls, N. Y.—Colonial, Frank Lotko, 700, opened.

Noblesville, Ind.—American, Cullen and Wise, opened.

Flint, Mich.—New Richards, Chas. Garfield, manager, opened.

Toledo, O.—Dragon, 450, George Dixon manager, opened.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Capitol, $125,000, 1,200, opened.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Triangle, Franktown Ave., near Penn, opened.

La Salle, Ill.—Majestic, E. G. Newman, opened.

Healdsburg, Cal.—New Liberty, T. Tucker, opened.

Cincinnati, O.—The Boulevard, first run, opened recently.

Houses Under Construction

Welland, Ont.—S. L. Lambert building.

Houses Planned

De Ridder, La.—Sheffield Bridgewater. $50,000. 1,000.

Portland, Ore.—Julius Sax Theater Co. will build.

Two Rivers, Wis.—J. J. Tadysch, Empire, to build. 1,500.

Detroit, Mich.—John H. Kunsky to build. 2,000.

Oil City, Pa.—Penn Amusement Co. completing house.

Los Angeles, Cal.—Mary C. and Frank F. Schaffer; 3.000.

Bridgeport, Conn.—G. F. Reif, $100,000.

Chicago, Ill.—Home Building Co., $200,000.

Linwood, Mass.—Walker Bros., Prospect, Whittinsville, to build.

Dayton, O.—A. M. Schaefer will build May 1.

Newark, N. J.—Jacob Holstein will build.

Beeville, Texas—John D. Jones and H. E. Wood will build. $25,000.

Comanche, Okla.—A. C. Jacobs, Liberty, to open an airdrome.

Pendleton, Ore. — Matlock and Gruelich. $100,000. 1,250.

M. P. E. A. Convention

Alfred S. Black and other important members of the M. P. E. A. of America, Inc., at a meeting on Thursday night voted to hold the annual convention in Chicago during the last week in June.

"Tillie" at Broadway

The Broadway, beginning to-morrow, in addition to "A Modern Salome," a Metro release will show "Tillie Punctured Romance," the five reeler with Charlie Chaplin, Marie Dressler and a number of the old Mack Sennett stars in the cast.

New "U" Serial

Universal has taken over for distribution "The Lightning's Eye," a serial with Elmo Lincoln, produced by the Great Western Prod. Co.

Opens Supply House

I Perse has opened the Capitol Motion Picture Supply Co., located at 142 W. 46th St.

Export and Import Moves

The Export and Import Film Co. Inc., has moved from the 11th floor of the Godfrey Bldg. to the 12th floor in the greater part of the offices formerly occupied by the William L. Sherry office. The latter still has a room on the same floor.

Form New Producing Company.

Cheyenne, Wyoming—The Clas Pictures Co. has been organized to produce westerns. Capital, $300,000 with shares at par costing $10. Chas E. Bartlett is the director. Pet Morrison has been engaged to play leads.

Glass Airdrome Opened

Cincinnati, O.—A glass house buil on the roof of the Orpheum has bee opened. In the summer its door and windows can be opened so as t make it virtually an airdrome.

Exchange Changes

Philadelphia, Pa.—Sam Blatt, president of the Exhibitors' League, o Philadelphia, is now connected wit the local Republic exchange.

Character Pictures has signed Hazel Hudson for one of the principa parts in "The Isle of Destiny."

Character Pictures have appointe Ellis A. Wolf as head of the Ne York offices.

Pierre, S. D.—Winner Theater Co Winner. $25,000. L. M. Davis, Mar Robertson and O. D. Olmstead.

You said it!

SOME BABY!

Is SOME picture!

Though money may be the root of all evil, the exhibitor is only happy when prosperous. No wonder RITCHEY posters tend to make him joyous.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

athé News

RIDGE, MASS.—New England Col-ushes are intellectual—Fresh-Soph. e at the Institute of Technology is ook.

KEN, N. J.—Keep the railroads . Students of Stevens College vol-to "fire" trains in place of striking

UAN, CALIF.—Two-wheel motors or the heights. Expert motorcyclists e in steep hill climb up 70 degree

HE LIMELIGHT—President calls binet meeting since his illness—Mem-cabinet arriving for conference at House.

BARBARA, CALIF.—Society for 1920 horse show—Four-footed ats are exhibited in a picturesque of the Golden West.

GNE, GERMANY—Germany re-at the defeat of monarchist coup—ve pictures of ceremony at Cologne al as Archbishop Shulte offers prayer ss.

RUCK, GERMANY—Interned Ebert in British camp—Soldiers of the Re-retreating from Red battle seek ref-British lines where they are dis-and interned.

DIEGO, CALIF.—West hales Prince les—Prince Edward on his way to ia makes second visit to United -He stops only in this city and is welcomed.

RANCISCO, CALIF.—The humane Pathe air cameraman secures ex-pictures of the Navy Emblem formed 00 U. S. Sailors.

C.—The 1920 baseball season opens—fans attend first gabe of National between New York and Boston.

oday

lew Screen in Loew Theaters

ollowing installations have been made to be made in theaters by the Glif-Corp., who are distributing a new said to eliminate distortion and eye Loew's entire circuit; Keith's chain, stallation at the Riverside; The Pal-Vashington, D. C.; Bijou, Brooklyn; rt, Brooklyn; Plaza, New York; De Utica; Castro's Theaters, Havana, Francisco de Romenico, Bogota, Colo, Texas—Lyric, Butler, being

Worth, Texas—Toll Teeter is g two.

, Mich.—Charles Garfield, Or-, building Globe, 1,200.

orsville, Ill.—E. B. Range and Adams to build. 1,000.

leston, Ill.—Dominick Fre-hain, $35,000 on $15,000 site.

lings, Mont.—E. C. O'Keefe, r Regent. $100,000.

umin B. Hampton has added e Blasco-Ibanez to the list of authors whose works he will . The latest Hampton feat-he Dwelling Place of Light," en completed and work will hortly on "The Money Chang-Upton Sinclair.

urren Kerrigan has started on production for Hodkinson. mpletes the series of ten feat-ntracted for. Kerrigan has no plans for the future.

Cinema Press

(Continued from Page 1)

standing that no charge was to be made for biographies used.

The Natl. Asso. was, it is understood, to secure a royalty on each of the Blue Books sold. But as soon as it was heard that the Press Asso. was working on "publicity" Elliott said that he asked for a halt of the operations of the Cinema Press, awaiting the action of the committee of the Natl. Asso. which had this matter in hand. This meeting has been held up owing to the absence of John Flinn of Famous Players, who is on a trip.

When asked regarding the situation, Henry O. Falk, counsel of the Cinema Press Asso., said:

"There has been no dissension between this organization and any of its endorsers or sponsors. Between the National Association, the Advertisers' Association, the Directors' Association and the Exhibitors' Association as regards their attitude toward the Cinema Press there is nothing but perfect accord and the friendliest of feeling.

"The reported snag is nothing more than a pending change of policy and of operation suggested by some of the leading advertising men in the industry Until this new plan is submitted to and O.K.ed by the Nat'l Asso. and the Associated Advertisers, the Cinema Press prefers to defer further work or outline its future policies.

"The Cinema Press has spent considerable time, energy and money and will see its work through to a successful conclusion. It is anxious to work in harmony with the leading elements of the industry and for this reason it has consented to revise its plan in deference to the wishes of the controlling factors in the motion picture industry."

Use Mecca Building Stairs

For the first time in many moons the stairs of the Mecca Building, 1600 Broadway, are receiving a polishing, due to the elevator runners' strike. The walking system makes for speed but not exactly for comfort; for the lifters were slow but steady. At the Godfrey Building, film people still retained their customary comforts yesterday, as did those at the Leavitt •Building.

Mack Wright has finished "Circumstantial Evidence," with Hoot Gibson.

While waiting for his next feature, Philip Rosen, Universal director, who has just finished "The Path She Chose" with Anne Cornwall, will direct a two-reel drama, "'Neath Purple Skies."

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Production on two western pictures has started at Universal City. The first is "The Broncho Kid," b yArthur Henry Gooden, starring Hoot Gibson and directed by Mack Wright. Yvette Mitchell is playing opposite Hoot. The second is "'Neath Purple Skies," featuring Leonard Clapham and Magda Lane and directed by Philip Rosen.

Philip Hurn, who furnished the continuity for Lyons and Moran's first Universal comedy feature, "Everything But the Truth," is now engaged in scenarioizing "La La Lucille," the recent New York musical comedy hit, which these stars will use as their next vehicle.

Rex Ingram, who is to direct "Hearts Are Trumps," the third Drury Lane melodrama to be filmed by Screen Classics, Inc., is in San Francisco to look over several locations which he expects to use in this new production.

Eugene O'Brien, accompanied by his director, Bob Ellis, left Los Angeles for New York Thursday, having finished his latest Selznick picture, 'The Figurehead."

John Lynch, the author of "The Figurehead," and chief of the scenario staff of Selznick, has arrived in Los Angeles accompanied by Larry Trimble, who will direct Olive Thomas in her next picture.

Henry Kolker will direct the next production for the National Picture Theaters, "The Palace of Darkened Windows."

Announcement is made of the enlargement of the film laboratories of the Thomas H. Ince Studios in Culver City.

Lewis Stone has been signed by Thos. H. Ince for the principal role in "Beau Revel," the first of a series of specials by Louis Joseph Vance, scheduled for early production at the Ince Studios on the West Coast.

Agnes Christine Johnston, whirlwind scenarioist of the Thos H. Ince Studios, has decided upon New York as the "location" of her marriage to Frank Dazie some time in June.

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
183 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

DON'T PAY
More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

John Blackwood, Thos. H. Ince's scenario editor, returned to the studios this week after six days on the sick list.

Production of "The Red Lane" was begun at Universal City to-day under the direction of Lynn Reynolds. Frank Mayo is starring in this story which is from the pen of Holman Day. In the cast are Jean Hersholt, Lillian Rich, James L. Mason, James O'Neill, Karl Formes, Paul Weigel, Frank Thorne and Harry Lamont.

Allan Hollubar expects to start shooting in about ten days. His picture will be produced at the Hollywood Studios, Inc.

Sol Lesser has completed his Annette Kellerman production.. He states the feature cost him $250,000 and looks it.

Frank Grandon has been engaged as director by the Brentwood. He will start production of "Little Widow" shortly. Zazu Pitts will play the lead.

GAUSMAN.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THERE IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

"Partners Of the Night" is one of the most fascinating photoplays of the year."

Goldwyn

TITLES
REFINED LETTERING
APPROPRIATE ILLUSTRATING
ERNEST STERN
145 W. 45TH ST.
PHONE BRYANT 8973.

SIMPLE SOULS

House Changes

Houses Purchased

Crisfield, Md.—Ward and Sterling bought Opera House from M. H. Douglas.

Cleveland, O.—J. Stein, Palace, bought Columbia from Sam Bullock.

Valparaiso, Ind.—George Monahan bought Fred Perry's interests.

New Bedford, Mass.—Gordon interests will build on Parker House site.

Goldboro, N. C.—Diamond Theater Co. to build.

Albuquerque, N. M.—Guido and George Papini bought the Pastime from Louis Puccini.

Winchendon, Mass.—Paul Raymond bought Charles Carter's interests in Monadnock.

Shawnee, Okla.—Jones and Commack, Cozy, bought Savoy from H. T. Douglas.

Sulpher, Okla.—C. M. Earlebough bought Ramona from Mr. and Mrs. Hahn.

Madill, Okla.—Lee Carter bought Majestic from Mrs. Edgar Smith.

Van Alstyne, Texas—W. R. Holcombe bought Lyric.

Goldwaithe, Texas—H. M. Brown bought house from T. H. Rahl.

Sweetwater, Texas—Harold Robb and Ed Rowley chain bought two houses.

Fort Morgan, Colo.—Foss Yenne bought Cover from C. A. Pierce.

Sterling, Colo.—C. C. Perry and N. G. Brewer bought Lyric from Thomas Bucy.

San Francisco, Cal.—E. Rosenthal bought Washington Square from O. Attkisson and L. B. Lahm Bros.

San Francisco, Cal.—Archibald, Jr., bought Cory.

San Francisco, Cal.—M. Klein and J. Richards bought Majestic from J. W. Morris.

San Francisco, Cal.—Wm. Berlin bought Regent from J. Shaw.

Burlingame, Cal.—Ellis Arkush bought Garden from Mr. Archibald.

House Improvements

Milwaukee, Wis.—Paris, A. E. Ehlers, reopened after being remodeled.

Homestead, Pa.—Grand, John Stahl, chain of five here, to be enlarged.

Shepard Recovers

Harry J. Shepard of W. H. Prod has recovered from a prolonged illness.

Bar Foreign Films

(Continued from Page 1)

tion, however, I will cable Berlin to ascertain just what the situation is."

David P. Howells, whose interests in the European territory have been expanding rapidly recently, said in part:

"News of the movement in Germany to nationalize all their moving picture houses for the purpose of barring foreign productions came as a great surprise.

"It would seem that after practically six years of isolation from the rest of the world, the first attempt to be made by Germany would be to try and regain a friendly position. This, I am sure, was the hope of the Germans I met in Berlin and Vienna last summer.

"The inevitable reaction in all countries would be to widen the gulf between them and Germany. The Germans themselves would be the greater sufferers. No American producing company has made any pictures or is now making pictures on the basis of receiving any revenue whatever from Germany. They have not received any during our era of greatest prosperity and advancement, and can probably continue the prosperity without this revenue.

"If it is true that Germany has nationalized her moving picture houses for this purpose, it is inspired by a group of moving picture people whose sole purpose is selfish. I don't believe the German people would stand for such an imposition when they awake to a realization of its effect."

Inter-Ocean stated that Paul H. Cromelin, president of the corporation, is expected to be in Berlin very shortly and in view of that no statement was made as to the company's opinion in the matter.

Commission Govt. at "U" City

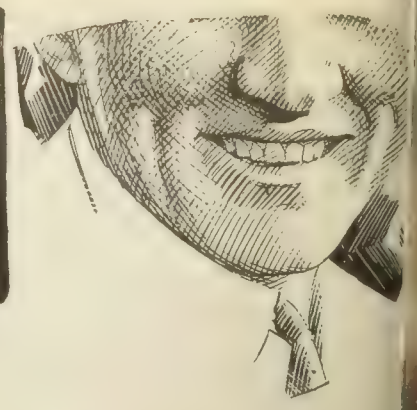
A commission form of government has been adopted for Universal City, it was announced yesterday by R. H. Cochrane, vice-president of the company, upon recenpt of a wire from Carl Laemmle.

Henceforth it will be directed by a commission of three men. They are Isadore Bernstein, Sam Van Ronkel and Louis E. Loeb. Carl Laemmle, as head of the company, will hold rank as Mayor of Universal City and be an ex-officio member of the Commission. In his absence the three commissioners will be supreme.

The three Commissioners will be known respectively as Productions Manager, Studio Manager and Business Manager. Bernstein, the new productions manager, was the first head of Universal City, seven years ago. He recently has been manager of productions for the National Film. Loeb, the new business manager, until recently was comptroller for Famous Players-Lasky.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

WATCH



THIS MILLION DOLLAR SMILE

ROBERTSON-COLE

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!
Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

BECAUSE

If you use

"COMEDYART"

You need nothing else
beside your feature

COMEDY NOVELTY SCENIC
DIVERSITY CLASS

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

BRADSTREET FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII. NO 18 | Sunday, April 18, 1920 | Price 25 cents

He had promised to love & cherish the child of the man who saved his life!!!!!

BUT WHEN SHE CAME!

VIOLA DANA

In an adaptation of H.V. ESMOND'S famous stage success ELIZA COMES TO STAY by A.P. YOUNGER

DANGEROUS to MEN

Directed by W.C. DOWLAN — MAXWELL KARGER Director Gen'l

METRO PICTURES CORPORATION

JURY IMPERIAL PICTURES Ltd. Distributors throughout Great Britain. SIR WILLIAM JURY Managing Director

YOU'LL WISH YOU WERE HER PATIENT

REALART PICTURES

Young man believes his nurse is homely of face (not having seen the girl) whereupon he DOES lay eyes upon her—and discovers an angel! She is none other than Mary Miles Minter, in smart nurse's cap and gown. The "patient" wants her to nurse him always, when she calls attention to her low station in life, and hi high one. Her mother keeps a fish store and the girl waits on the customers in her off-hours. The smitten young man—a rising political leader—calls at the fish emporium to woo his lady love. His wealthy parents follow him there. Why do you suppose they penetrate to such unlovely surroundings? ISRAEL ZANGWILL, who wrote the story, supplies the interesting answer. WILLIAM DESMOND TAYLOR supplies the brand of direction all America expects of him. JULIA CRAWFORD IVERS has given Mr. Taylor a characteristic scenario. You can't go wrong in playing the product of this combination of front rank talent.

MARY MILES MINTER

IN

NURSE MARJORIE

REALART
PICTURES CORPORATION
469 Fifth Avenue-New York

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 18 Sunday, April 18, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to
WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives: Wiillis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

Viola Dana in.....DANGEROUS TO MEN
Screen Classics-Metro ..... Page 3

Tom Mix in.....DESERT LOVE
Fox ..... Page 5

Violet Heming in.....THE COST
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 8

Harry Morey in.....THE FLAMING CLUE
Vitagraph ..... Page 9

Maurice Tourneur's .....TREASURE ISLAND
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 12

Tsuru Aoki in.....LOCKED LIPS
Universal ..... Page 16

RIO GRANDE
Edwin Carewe Prod.-Pathe..... Page 17

Norma Talmadge in.....THE WOMAN GIVES
First National..... Page 20

William Russell in.....SLAM BANG JIM
American-Pathe ..... Page 21

Vivian Rich in.....WOULD YOU FORGIVE
Fox ..... Page 23

Short Reels ..... Page 27

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

D. W. Griffith secures exclusive patent rights to "blue effect" used in "Broken Blossoms."

Tuesday

Willard C. Patterson of Atlanta promises a show down with producer-exhibitors who he says are trying to drive independent exhibitors out of business.

Universal signs French and German authors to write original stories.

Hayakawa Feature Film Co. formed.

Wednesday

Theater Owners Chamber of Commerce back of New York State Exhibitors' League in fight for removal of deposits.

Works of Max Reinhardt to be filmed in California.

Thursday

Famous Players annual report shows big increase over 1918. Total business over $27,000,000.

Goldwyn to produce 52 next year.

Nazimova renews contract with Metro.

Scandinavian representative of David Howells sees growth of German films.

Friday

Associated Motion Picture Advertisers perfect scheme for closer co-operation between film companies and newspapers.

Isaac Wolper out of Mayflower. To produce independently.

Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce objects to use of Loew's name on Metro productions.

Murray W. Garsson forms new company known as Fine Arts Pictures, Inc., to produce features.

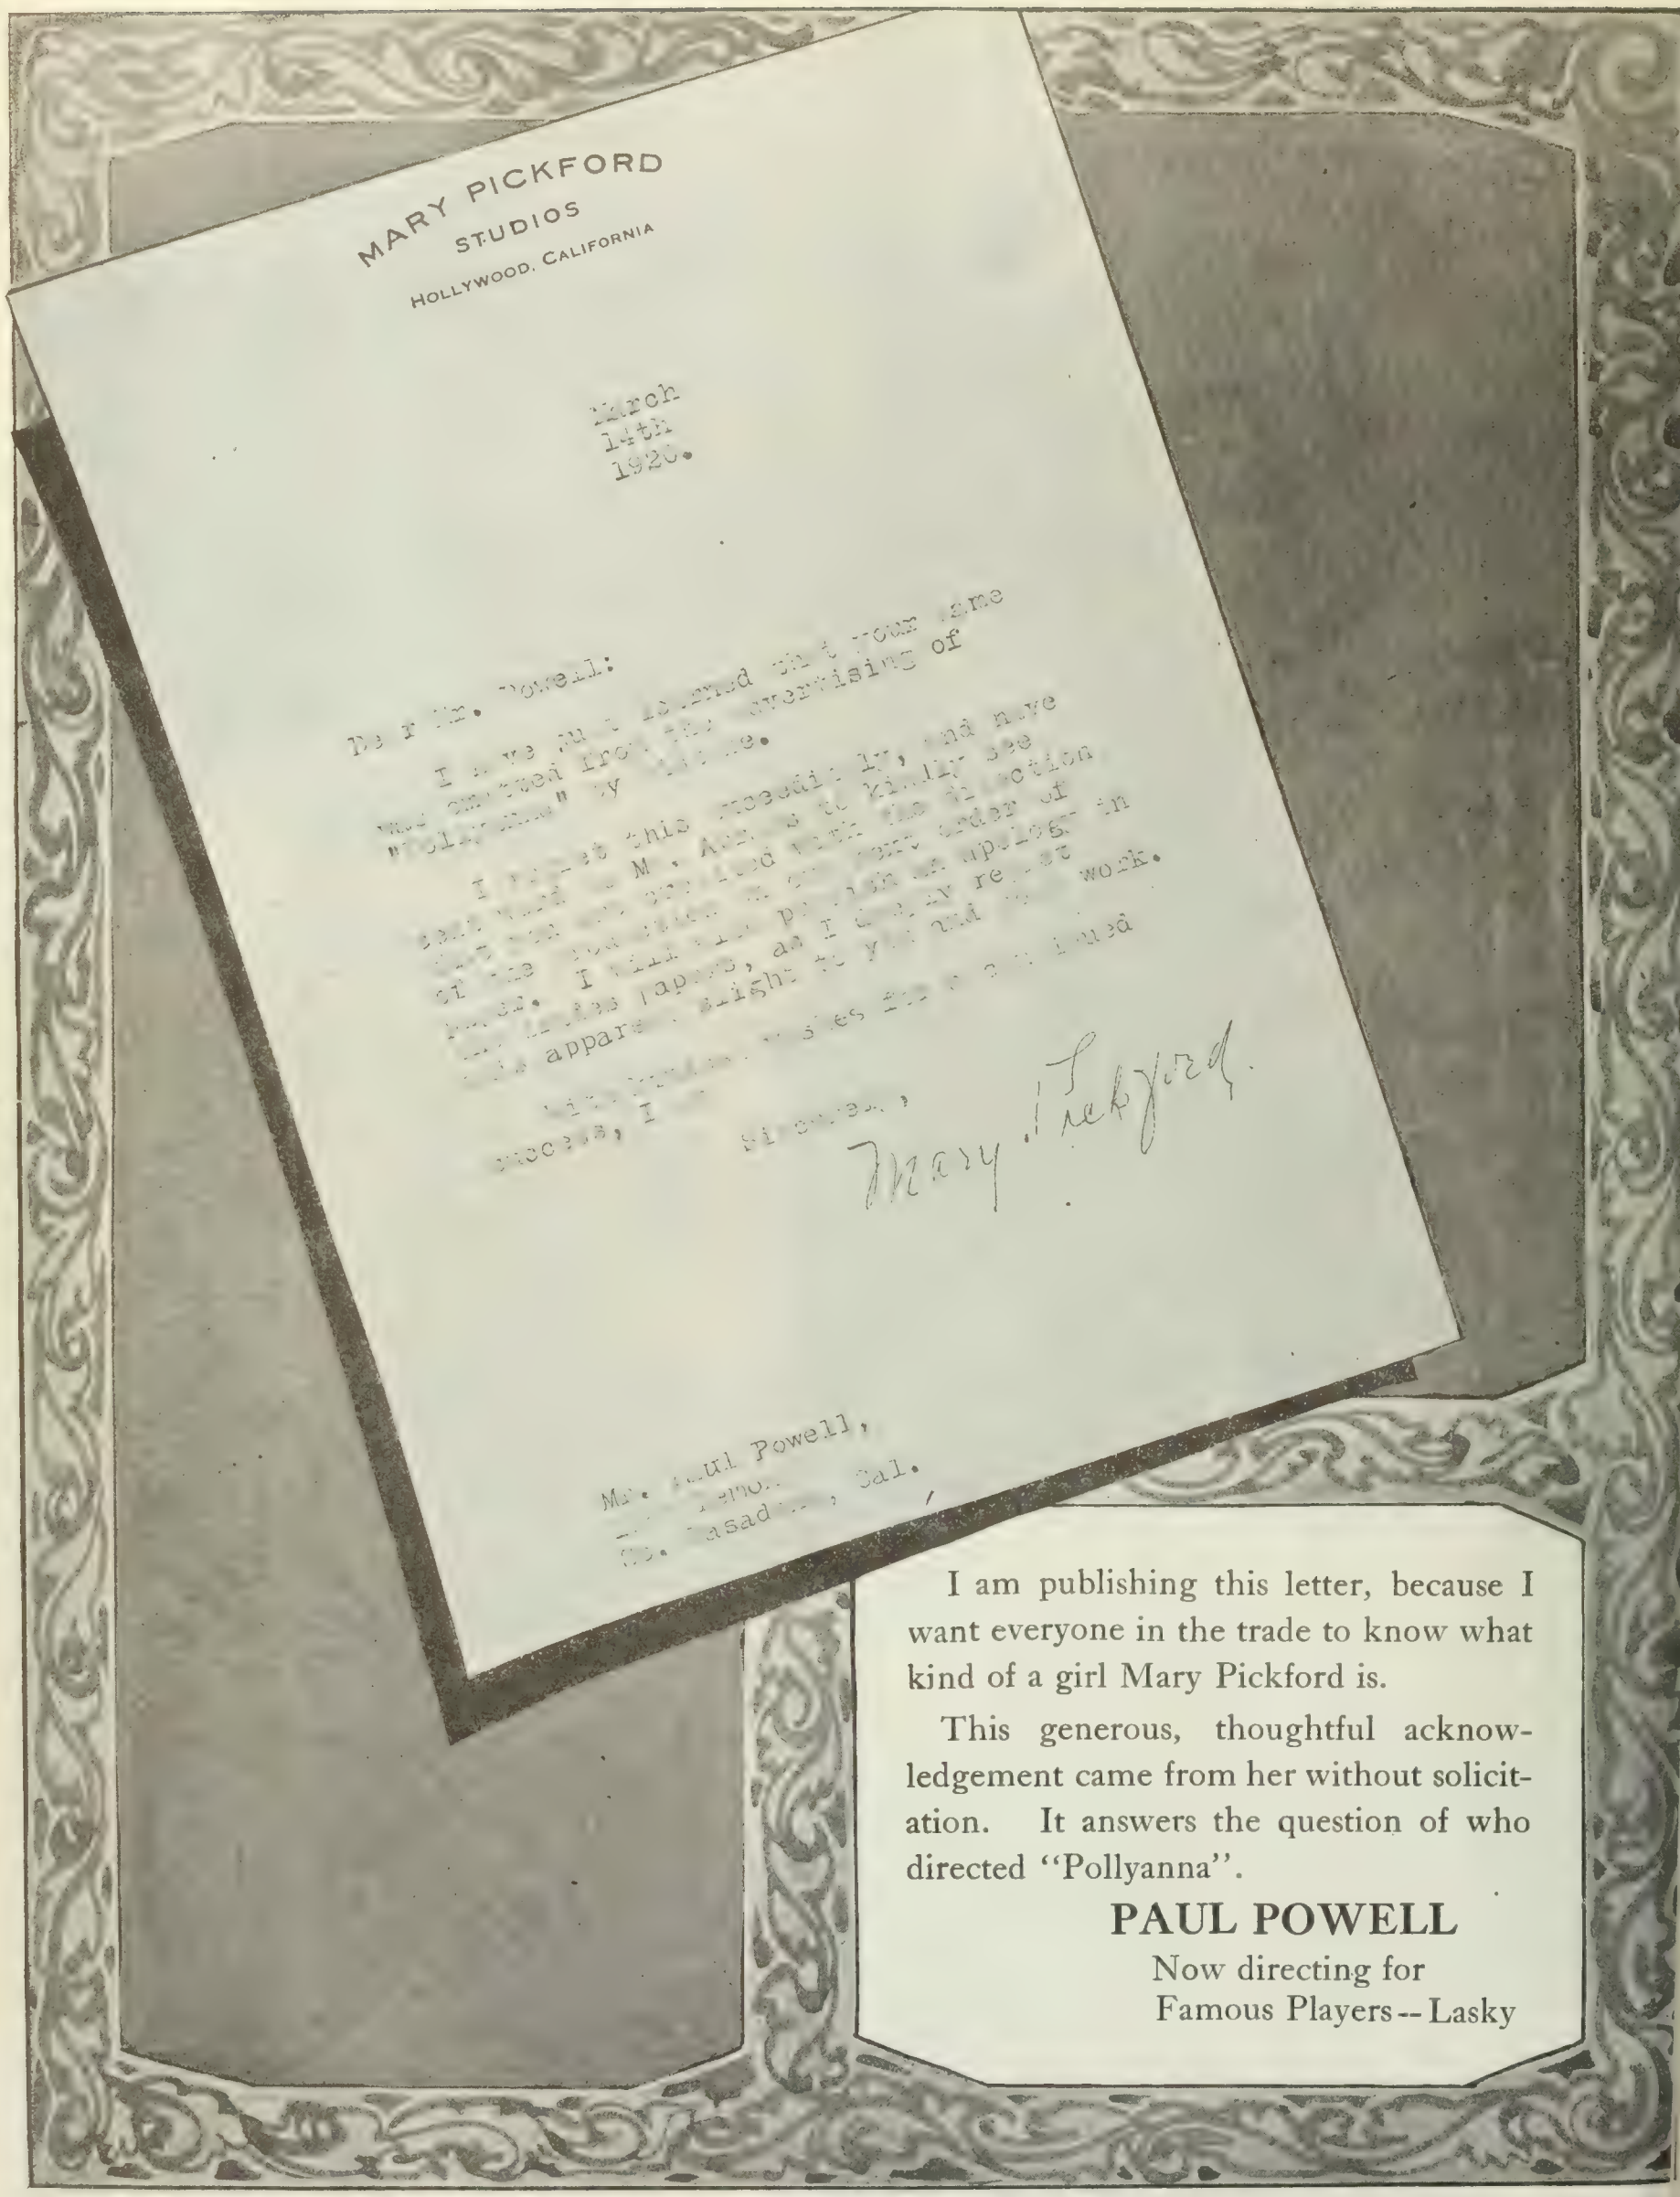
Saturday

Motion Picture Exhibitors of America to meet in Chicago in June.

German Reichstag plans to stimulate home production and bar out all but their own films.

Reelcraft rounds out distributing system. Has 30 exchanges.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.



MARY PICKFORD
STUDIOS
HOLLYWOOD, CALIFORNIA

March
14th
1920.

Dear Mr. Powell:

I have just learned that your name was omitted from the advertising of "Pollyanna" by mistake.

I regret this exceedingly, and have sent word to M. Auerbach to kindly see that your name is placed upon the production hereafter. I will also personally see that your name appears, as I consider your work deserves.

Sincerely,

Mary Pickford

Mr. Paul Powell,
[illegible]
Co. Pasadena, Cal.

I am publishing this letter, because I want everyone in the trade to know what kind of a girl Mary Pickford is.

This generous, thoughtful acknowledgement came from her without solicitation. It answers the question of who directed "Pollyanna".

PAUL POWELL
Now directing for
Famous Players -- Lasky

Star's Kid Stuff May Get This Over

Viola Dana in
"DANGEROUS TO MEN"
Screen Classics-Metro

DIRECTOR..... Not credited
AUTHOR.....H. V. Esmond
SCENARIO BY.....A. P. Younger
CAMERAMAN .....John Arnold
AS A WHOLE.....Will prove boresome unless accepted as very light comedy.
STORY.....Adapted from H. V. Esmond's "Eliza Comes to Stay"; not original but has some truly good comedy bits that register.
DIRECTION.....Has permitted several obvious bits in beginning of picture that are dead give-aways of what's to follow.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS .....Not always sharp
CAMERA WORK .....Average
STAR.....Interpretation of mannerisms of a mischievous little girl get many laughs; make-up bad at times.
SUPPORT.....Milton Sills, James Barrows and Helen Raymond do good work.
EXTERIORS.....Those of football game good
INTERIORS.....Masque ball scene quite a revelry
DETAIL.....Poorly written titles and a few minor flaws.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Young girl plans joke on guardian she has never seen with complications following.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,700 feet

First of all you had better prepare yourself to take this good naturedly, get all the fun you can out of it and above all don't take it seriously, and the less serious you feel when you see it the better for all hands. Because "Dangerous to Men" is not new to the screen, and although it has been well produced, without the performance of the star, who works hard throughout the entire run, it would fall flat indeed.

Milton Sills as the unsuspecting guardian is not shown wearing spectacles, which makes it all the more remarkable that he should be so easily beguiled by his mischievous young ward. At the outset Viola is shown as quite a grown up young lady. In fact, too grown for the surprise that they hand you when the star arrives at her guardian's home a la Sis Hopkins.

The story is just one of those obvious things that you just can't help knowing how it's going to turn out once "he" and "she" meet. Just one look at them and you can see the clutch followed by "The End." Nevertheless, Miss Dana, once she gets the freak make-up off, plays the cute little kid with real enthusiasm and her "cuttin' up" stunts will start them laughing, even though they have begun to think the story sort of foolish.

A sort of prologue which isn't altogether necessary, starts things off by having Viola left without a father and placed under the guardianship of her father's friend, Milton Sills. The shock of her father's death and a letter from Sills requesting that she come to his home, is followed by a fear that her new father may be a cranky old fellow. The thought suggests a way out.

The letter indicates that Sills believes her to be a child of twelve. So a child of twelve it is who arrives at the Sills home with intent to tease, torment and tantalize until the supposed old guardian can stand it no longer and will send the "child" away. The surprise is on Viola when she sees Sills. But she's a good sport and keeps up the disguise for practically the remainder of the picture.

However, in an effort to save both Sills and his wealthy uncle from a scheming actress, Viola's real age is discovered and of course Milton falls in love with her. Prior to the discovery of Viola's age, the effort to register comedy is so severe that for a time the action borders on the burlesque, with the star, the actress and Unkie generally "roughing" it.

Title Will Probably Attract In Addition To Star's Name

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Inasmuch as the star does very good work and her name will count for getting a good many in, you will probably not have any difficulty with "Dangerous to Men." It would be wise, however, to insist that your folks accept it as light comedy and not consider the fact that the story is obvious and at times they stretch it a point too far to get effect.

You can say that the star has quite a different part compared with that of her last picture, "The Willow Tree" in which she was a demure little maid of the Orient. This time she's first a grown-up young lady at school, then a child of twelve, from which she jumps into the role of a vamp. Plenty of variety and they may like it. You might try the following lines: "She planned a joke on the guardian she had never seen. But it was a boomerang. See how the joke turned out in 'Dangerous to Men,' Viola Dana's latest Metro production at the blank theater."

Well Boys,—They Say We Have A Winner

In—"NEGLECTED WIVES"

So Of Course You Want

To Buy This BIG BOX OFFICE

Attraction For Your Territory

Read The Criticisms

In the Trade Papers—Then

Act At Once

NEGLECTED WIVES

Featuring

ANNE LUTHER

With An All Star Cast

Including

CLAIRE WHITNEY and CHARLES GERARD

WISTARIA PRODUCTIONS, Inc.

NEW YORK THEATRE BLDG. NEW YORK

Thrilling Stunts Put Weak Western Story Over

Tom Mix in
"DESERT LOVE"
Fox

DIRECTOR ..... Jacques Jaccard
AUTHOR ..... Jacques Jaccard
SCENARIO BY ..... Jacques Jaccard
CAMERAMAN ..... Frank Good
AS A WHOLE..... Gun-shooting melodrama with rather slack story but building to thrilling stunt climax.
STORY..... Material is there but it isn't very well developed and plot has one very illogical twist.
DIRECTION ..... Satisfactory
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Very good
LIGHTINGS..... Very good night effects in opening scenes.
CAMERA WORK..... Commendable with thrills cleverly shot.
STAR..... Good as usual in role that demands horsemanship and stunts.
SUPPORT ..... Satisfactory
EXTERIORS..... Appropriate western stuff
INTERIORS..... Again the bar room and sheriff's office are main settings.
DETAIL..... Star wears two different pairs of gloves in one sequence.
CHARACTER OF STORY..... Sheriff hunts down men who killed his father, last one being the villain who has carried off heroine.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION..... About 5,000 feet

"Desert Love" provides Tox Mix with another gun-shooting melodramatic vehicle that terminates in a thrilling stunt climax. The picture manages to maintain interest throughout despite a lack of skilful story development which evinces itself in a number of places. It opens with a whrlwind fight between the sheriff of a western town and his adherents against a group of murderous bandits. Tom appears as the sheriff and dies fighting, but before he passes out he leaves a list of the bandits who were responsible for his death.

The main story action starts when the sheriff's son, grown to manhood, goes gunning for the twenty-odd villains after he has been made sheriff. There isn't much made of this part of the story, though it offers many dramatic if conventional opportunities. They narrow the action down to the son of the bandit leader, who has betrayed the love of the younger daughter of Tom's foster-father, a ranchman, and the fighting sheriff.

The plot takes a very illogical twist when the father overhears the conversation between his daughters concerning the betrayal. Father picks out the older girl, the one Tom is engaged to, as the guilty party, when all the preceding action indicated very plainly that it was the younger sister. He goes in town to tell Tom and Tom sends him back to the ranch with the guilty man and a priest. A hasty marriage is consummated between the villain and Tom's girl, she keeping quiet because of her sister.

Then Tom learns the truth and a wild chase ensues to where the villain has taken his unwilling bride. This place proves to be a bandit's hangout and the final sequence introduces a lot of thrilling stunts before Tom succeeds in rescuing the girl. Of these his swing across a canyon on his rope, his fall from the window of an old mining shaft, and his climb up the side stand out as the most sensational.

Tom Mix rides with his usual skill and goes through his stunts with apparent ease. Francelia Billington, Eva Novak, Lester Cuneo, Charles K. French and Jack Curtis handle the other princopal roles adequately.

Will Register Well with Lovers of Western Melodrama

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Despite certain faults in the story and Jaccard's evident failure to take advantage as scenarist of the material he provided himself as author, "Desert Love" has enough action and stunts in it to get it safely over with the Mix fans and, in fact, all those who delight in western melodramas. The weak places in the middle are quite put to route by the thrilling character of the finish and it is likely that everyone will leave the theater feeling well satisfied.

Give Mix all that it due such a daredevil star and concentrate on the stunt stuff in your advertising and exploitation. Relate the thrills mentioned above and let them know that there is hard riding and shooting galore in the five reels. The story offers you a good advertising angle that can be summed up in this catch line, "He had taken an oath to 'get' every man responsible for his father's death, and the last man, he discovered, was loved by the girl he loved! What was the outcome?"

Half Mexican, half American, at first the Mexican blood prevailed and she hated the Gringos.

Then the American blood asserted itself and she came to love, not all, but one—Gringo.

But what a struggle with self; what struggles with her friends and neighbors, all Mexicans; what changing first to one side and then the other!

And then finally the stirring raid upon the American settlement, in which she at last found herself!

A picture that will go big everywhere. Why shouldn't it? It has everything.

Pathé
Distributors

tage Success Brought to the Screen

Pathé
Distributors

Not up to the Paramount-Artcraft Standard

Violet Heming in
"THE COST"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR..... Harley Knoles
AUTHOR.....David Graham Phillips
SCENARIO BY.....Clara S. Beranger
CAMERAMAN..... Philip Hatkin
AS A WHOLE.....Impossible situations conveniently arranged and played by characters that fail to gain the sympathy expected by the author.
STORY.....Episodic in nature; airs the domestic troubles of the "marry in haste and repent at leisure" type.
DIRECTION.....Might have employed more discretion in handling of convenient bits in story.
PHOTGRAPHY ..... Average
LIGHTINGS ..... Good
CAMERA WORK .....Average
STAR.....Sincere but failed to impress in emotional parts.
SUPPORT.....Ralph Kellard didn't appear half as bad as the titles made him; others satisfy.
EXTERIORS .....Suit requirements
INTERIORS.....Some large sets
DETAIL.....A few sequences would stand explaining; titles too wordy.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Tolerant wife who suffers much and forgives all for man she loves.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,447 feet

This is another case of the production being adequate but the story just an excuse for a picture. The director has provided some splendid sets and has maintained the usual production standards fairly well. The players, however, have not been well handled. For the most part they play along in a monotonous vein, seldom varying the force of their action and giving the impression that they lack the interest in their parts necessary to put them over.

Miss Heming is sincere in her portrayal of the wife who is faithful to the last, but her emotional moments never compel nor create the feeling of sympathy that the author intended for his heroine. Ralph Kellard as the faithless husband, depends mainly on facial expression to register his feelings, and in doing so assumes a splendid disguise, but otherwise doesn't get over his intention.

As the whole, "The Cost" is below the general standard of Paramount-Artcraft output and the only thing that will get it by is Miss Heming's popularity and a fairly attractive title. There are several convenient bits which might have appeared less "planted" if handled a little more judiciously. For instance, the wife while attending a musicale looks through a window and sees her husband making love to another woman on the opposite side of the court. This bit is worked so automatically that it can't be accepted as mere coincidence.

Pauline Gardner marries Jack Dumont against her parent's wishes and despite the fact that she knows his weakness for high life. They establish a home in New York, but Pauline soon becomes a "neglected wife" and finally leaves her husband after seeing him in company with another woman. Later they take up life together again, but Pauline leaves him a second time when she discovers that the pearls she thought were intended for her were really a birthday gift for Leonora Fanshaw, a married woman and friend of Pauline's.

Leonoras husband, also a friend of Jack's, after discovering the intimacy between Jack and his wife, plans the latter's ruin in Wall St. The shock is too great for Dumont, who becomes critically ill. Once more the faithful wife returns to faithless husband, whom she helps to regain his losses. But the strain prove too severe and Dumont dies. This leaves Pauline free to marry Hampden Scarborough, a professor she met while at school, and who later becomes Governor.

Use Star's Name and Title But Say Little Otherwise

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Despite the fact that "The Cost" does not live up to expectations, nor the average output from the Famous Players organization, you may get away with it. You are likely to hear comment on the story end of it, but for the most part the production quality is average and if your folks like the star they will possibly overlook some of the faults of the picture.

In announcing the production say that it is an adaptation of David Graham Phillips' novel based on the theory that "for every mistake in life you pay the cost" and in the picturization of the novel the producers have adhered religiously to the theory by having the heroine pay, and pay because she married a man who was unworthy and who her parents opposed.

Detective-Counterfeiter Melodrama With Much Interesting Detail

Harry Morey in
"THE FLAMING CLUE"
Vitagraph

DIRECTOR.....Edwin L. Hollywood
AUTHOR.....Frederic Van Rensselaer Dey
SCENARIO BY.....William B. Courtney
CAMARAMAN.....R. G. Stewart
AS A WHOLE.....Detective-counterfeiter picture with interesting detail and sustaining plot.
STORY.....Incredible but ingenious and well developed; climax could have been handled more effectively.
DIRECTION.....Satisfactory except for fact that action's tempo never varies.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Average
LIGHTINGS .....Plain
CAMERA WORK.....Satisfactory
STAR.....Gives very good impression in role of detective.
SUPPORT .....Average
EXTERIORS.....Very plain country stuff
INTERIORS.....Fulfill story demands
Detail.....Many little trick effects employed that enhance entertainment value.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Detective traces down counterfeiters and wins love of girl.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION....About 4,458 feet

"The Flaming Clue" is a detective-counterfeiter melodrama possessed of a fairly sustaining plot and considerable very interesting production details. While the story transcends the limits of probability at times, it is ingeniously contrived and always managest to hold the interest despite the fact that its conclusion is quite obvious right after the introductory scenes. An error of omission is the director's evident disregard for action tempo. The climax of "The Flaming Clue" could have been made much more exciting had the tempo been speeded up. Instead all the scenes from beginning to end hardly ever vary in movement.

Harry Morey appears as Ralph Cornell, secret service agent, commissioned to run down a counterfeiting band that operates in a hidden cellar in the old house of the widow Quall. He secures board from Mrs. Quall, posing as a naturalist, and immediately arouses the suspicions of Aaron Prine, head of the counterfeiters. The story centers down to a battle of wits between Cornell and Prine and the tricks they play on each other are responsible for much of the picture's interest.

Ultimately Cornell discovers the old cellar and the counterfeiting apparatus and sends for his men who are waiting in the next town. They attempt to work up a lot of suspense in this climax sequence by flashing the motor car carrying the men on its way and then cutting to the counterfeiting gang and Cornell, who has held them up single-handed. But they don't get much out of these scenes for the reason above mentioned.

Of course Prine and his men are arrested and Cornell clears himself before Mrs. Quall's daughter, Betty, and wins her love. The romantic element is somewhat weak and the old twist of the villain misrepresenting the detective in the girl's eyes is rather clumsily introduced.

However, the battle between Cornell and Prine is always itneresting. Cornell employs various unusual devices of the detective to assist him in getting evidence and the working of these is quite fascinating, as is also the manner in which Prine enlists various other tricks to combat Cornell's.

Morey is a rugged detective and plays with a conviction that makes his characterization very pleasing. Lucy Fox is the girl, Sidney Dalbrook the villain, while others are Eleanor Barry, Jack McLean, Frank Evans, Robert Milash, Robert Gaillord and Bernard Siegel.

NEELEY EDWARDS

Sixteen—

of these comedies have already been released. Each one of them has played to critical audiences in the country's best photoplay houses. Every one of the sixteen

HALL ROOM BOYS COMEDIES with NEELEY EDWARDS and HUGH FAY

so far shown has met with instantaneous favor. Are YOU taking advantage of their popularity?

JACK & HARRY COHN
—PRODUCERS—
1600 BROADWAY NEW YORK

Should Please Star's Admirers and Be of Average Interest to All

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Harry Morey in

"THE FLAMING CLUE"

Vitagraph

If Harry Morey is a favorite with your people you can depend on "The Flaming Clue" offering very pleasing entertainment, for it presents him in a very congenial role and one in which he appears thoroughly at home. Other audiences will doubtless find their interest well awakened by the details of the production, so it may safely be said that it will appeal to most everyone.

Detective stories are welcome on the screen and so bring out this angle in your advertising with such catchlines as, "A charred piece of a twenty-dollar bill fell at his feet. It was counterfeit! But there was only one house in the neighborhood and he knew—but could he be wrong?" "The Secret Service on the trail of the counterfeiters! See this exciting picture of a fascinating battle of wits."

Here is the answer——to the widespread demand for short subjects. The public is crying for comedies, westerns and screen novelties.

Here are four big series which will hit the nail on the head—pictures which will positively sell to every live-wire exhibitor.

Rapid-fire action—
Resistless comedy—
Grouch chasers—
Money makers—

They are for sale to state rights buyers only. Much territory has already been sold. Don't lose the chance to cinch yours. Book the entire series.

"POLLY MORAN"
IN 26—TWO-REEL COMEDIES

"GRACE CUNARD"
IN 26—TWO-REEL WESTERNS

WILL ROGERS' "ILLITERATE DIGEST"
ISSUED WEEKLY
FILMED BY SPECIAL PERMISSION OF GOLDWYN PICTURES CORPORATION

"SMILING BILL" JONES
IN 26—ONE-REEL COMEDIES

For territory wire

MARION H. KOHN PRODUCTIONS

JOE BRANDT, Gen. Rep.

1600 BROADWAY NEW YORK

Geraldine Farrar

First of the group of great stars to begin production for

ASSOCIATED EXHIBITORS INC.

25 WEST 45TH ST. NEW YORK

PATHE DISTRIBUTORS

Colorful Production Furnished Stevenson's Classic Pirate Tale

Maurice Tourneur's
"TREASURE ISLAND"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Maurice Tourneur
AUTHOR.....Robert Louis Stevenson
SCENARIO BY.....Stephen Fox
CAMARAMAN .....Rene Guissart
AS A WHOLE.....Colorful adventure story that will interest the many it will draw.
STORY.....Generally follows lines of book though a few unnecessary changes will be marked by "Treasure Island" fans.
DIRECTION.....Good in body of picture but introductory sequence is too long and rather tiresome.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS.....Artistic with fine effects
CAMARA WORK.....Very good
LEADING PLAYERS.....Shirley Mason, Lon Chaney and Charles Ogle have parts that will provoke much favorable comment.
SUPPORT.....Well chosen with a lot of good pirate types.
EXTERIORS.....Colorful sea and deck shots
INTERIORS.....Full of proper atmosphere
DETAIL ..... Noteworthy
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Pirate tale concerning search and battle for buried treasure.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,134 feet

"Treasure Island" is a fine picture and one which will probably stand with the unusual money-makers of the season for sundry and obvious reasons, chief of which is the fact that it is an adaptation of Robert Louis Stevenson's pirate tale that is known the world over. While it is very likely that those who know the book thoroughly will take objection to some unnecessary changes, such as making Jim Hawkins a stowaway on the adventure ship and not an invited member of the party, and while the first reel of the offering is exceedingly slow to the point of tedium, the actual body of the picture is actionful, colorful and almost thrilling enough to thoroughly satisfy the demands of the hypercritical.

"Treasure Island" afforded material that was to Maurice Tourneurs quite comprehensive eye, as mince pie to the small boy. In staging the various nefarious activities of the villainous pirate crew aboard ship and their battles with Dr. Livesey's party on Treasure Island he has done fascinating work. Innumerable fine pirate types, headed by those two sterling character actors, Lon Chaney and Charles Ogle, add the finishing touch of Stevenson atmosphere. The locations selected are always atmospheric and the shipboard settings fairly smell of the salt sea and the sailors' rum.

The tale itself is sparse in features of importance and too well known to set down here in detail which would lose value in the process. Suffice it to say that the trip for the hidden treasure during which it is revealed by Jim Hawkins that the crew is none other than an old pirate band, their landing on Treasure Island and the miniature warfare waged between the pirates and Livesey, Trelawney and Jim to see which side shall carry away the coveted treasure are sequences fraught with excitements and thrills for young and old.

Indeed there is just as much gun-play and cut-throat villainy to be found in "Treasure Island" as there is in a murderous western melodrama. It's a real, thrilling pirate tale, is "Treasure Island," and one which happily came to the screen under the guidance of a man capable of realizing on the artistic opportunities presented by the story as well as its many blood-curdling moments.

Shirley Mason is seen as Jim Hawkins and some may discover her femininity cropping out at awkward times. Besides Ogle and Chaney a large supporting cast includes Harry Holden, Bull Montana, Charles Hill Mailes, Sydney Dean, Joseph Singleton, Wilton Taylor, Al Filson and Josie Melville.

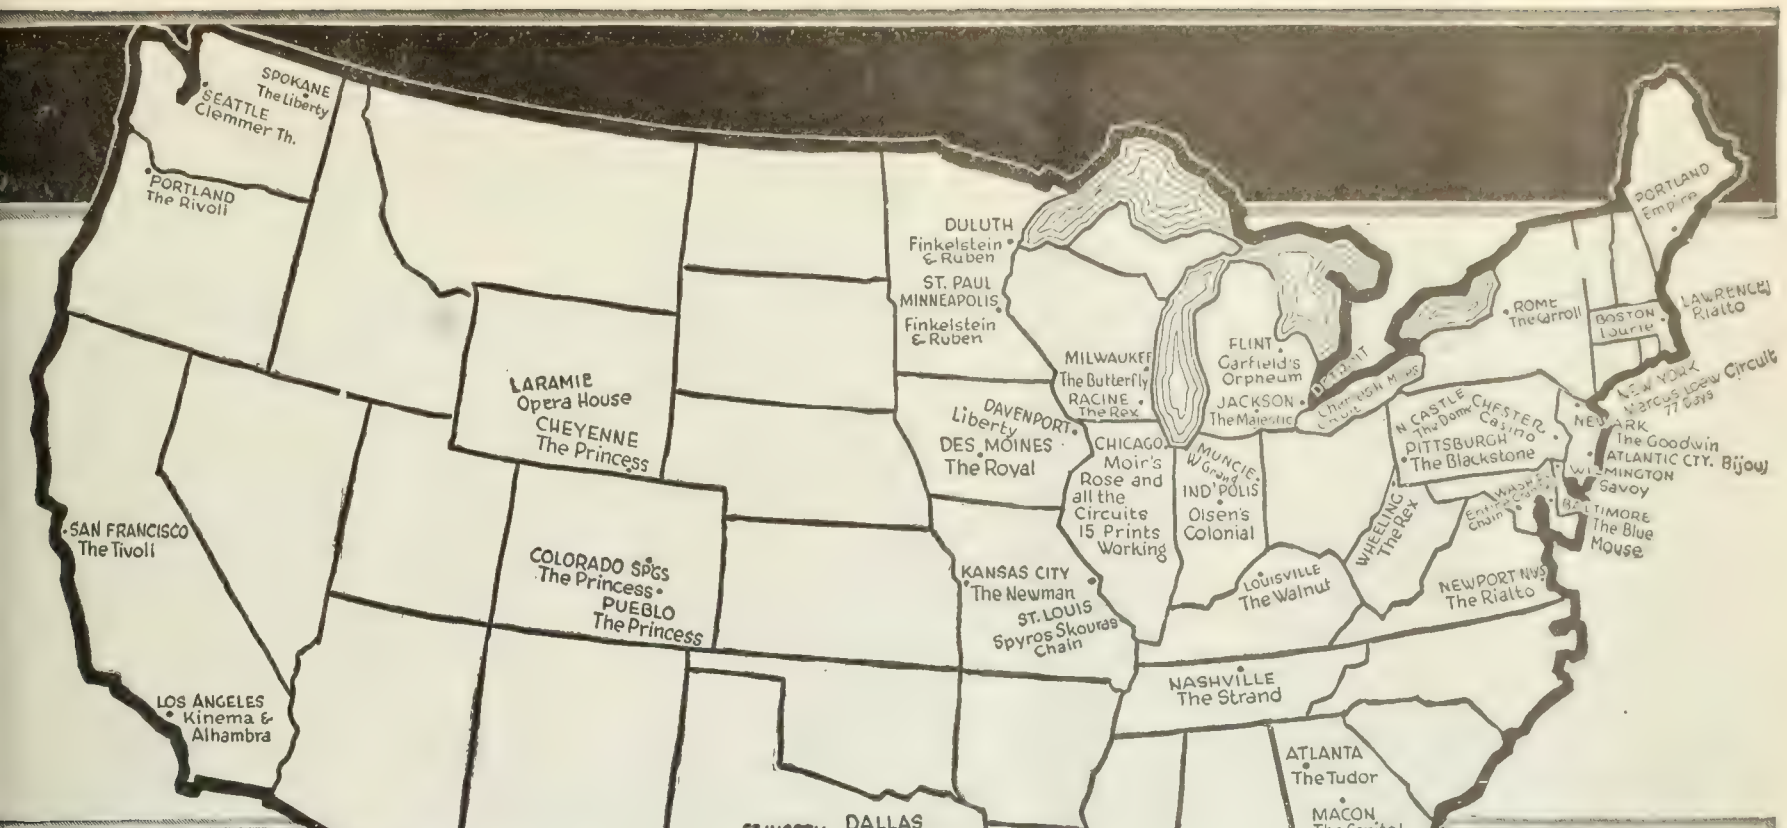
Much Handed You Here To Make This A Big B. O. Attraction

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

You ought to be able to make a big success out of "Treasure Island," particularly if your theater is regularly patronized by the same people. A special bid to the literary element of your community, another to the children and their parents and concentration on the author's name and the thrilling tale he penned in "Treasure Island" should result in filled houses at every showing of the picture.

You've really got a box office asset in the title and author—a very big one. There's hardly a person that won't stop and consider the title when he sees it in print. And once attention is drawn in this fashion all you need to do is to hold it through intelligently prepared advertising and exploitation schemes.

Mention Maurice Tourneur. Photoplay goers will realize the possibilities of the story in his hands. Give Shirley Mason some prominence together with Lon Chaney and Charles Ogle. Chaney wears two wonderful make-ups and Ogle will have them guessing as to what he did to make himself the realistically one-legged Long John Silver.



SOLD

Louise Glaum in "Sex" is J. Parker Read Jr.'s wonder-picture. This production has been sought more eagerly and given play dates on national release date more swiftly than any production we have ever known in the industry. Louise Glaum on April 11 achieves the unprecedented feat of playing fifty-five full week first runs simultaneously in the United States. In at least a dozen of these first run cities "Sex" will have two, three or four week runs.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated

J. PARKER READ JR. presents

LOUISE GLAUM in SEX

By C. Gardner Sullivan — Directed by Fred Niblo

Dial Film Company presents

MITCHELL LEWIS

in

King Spruce

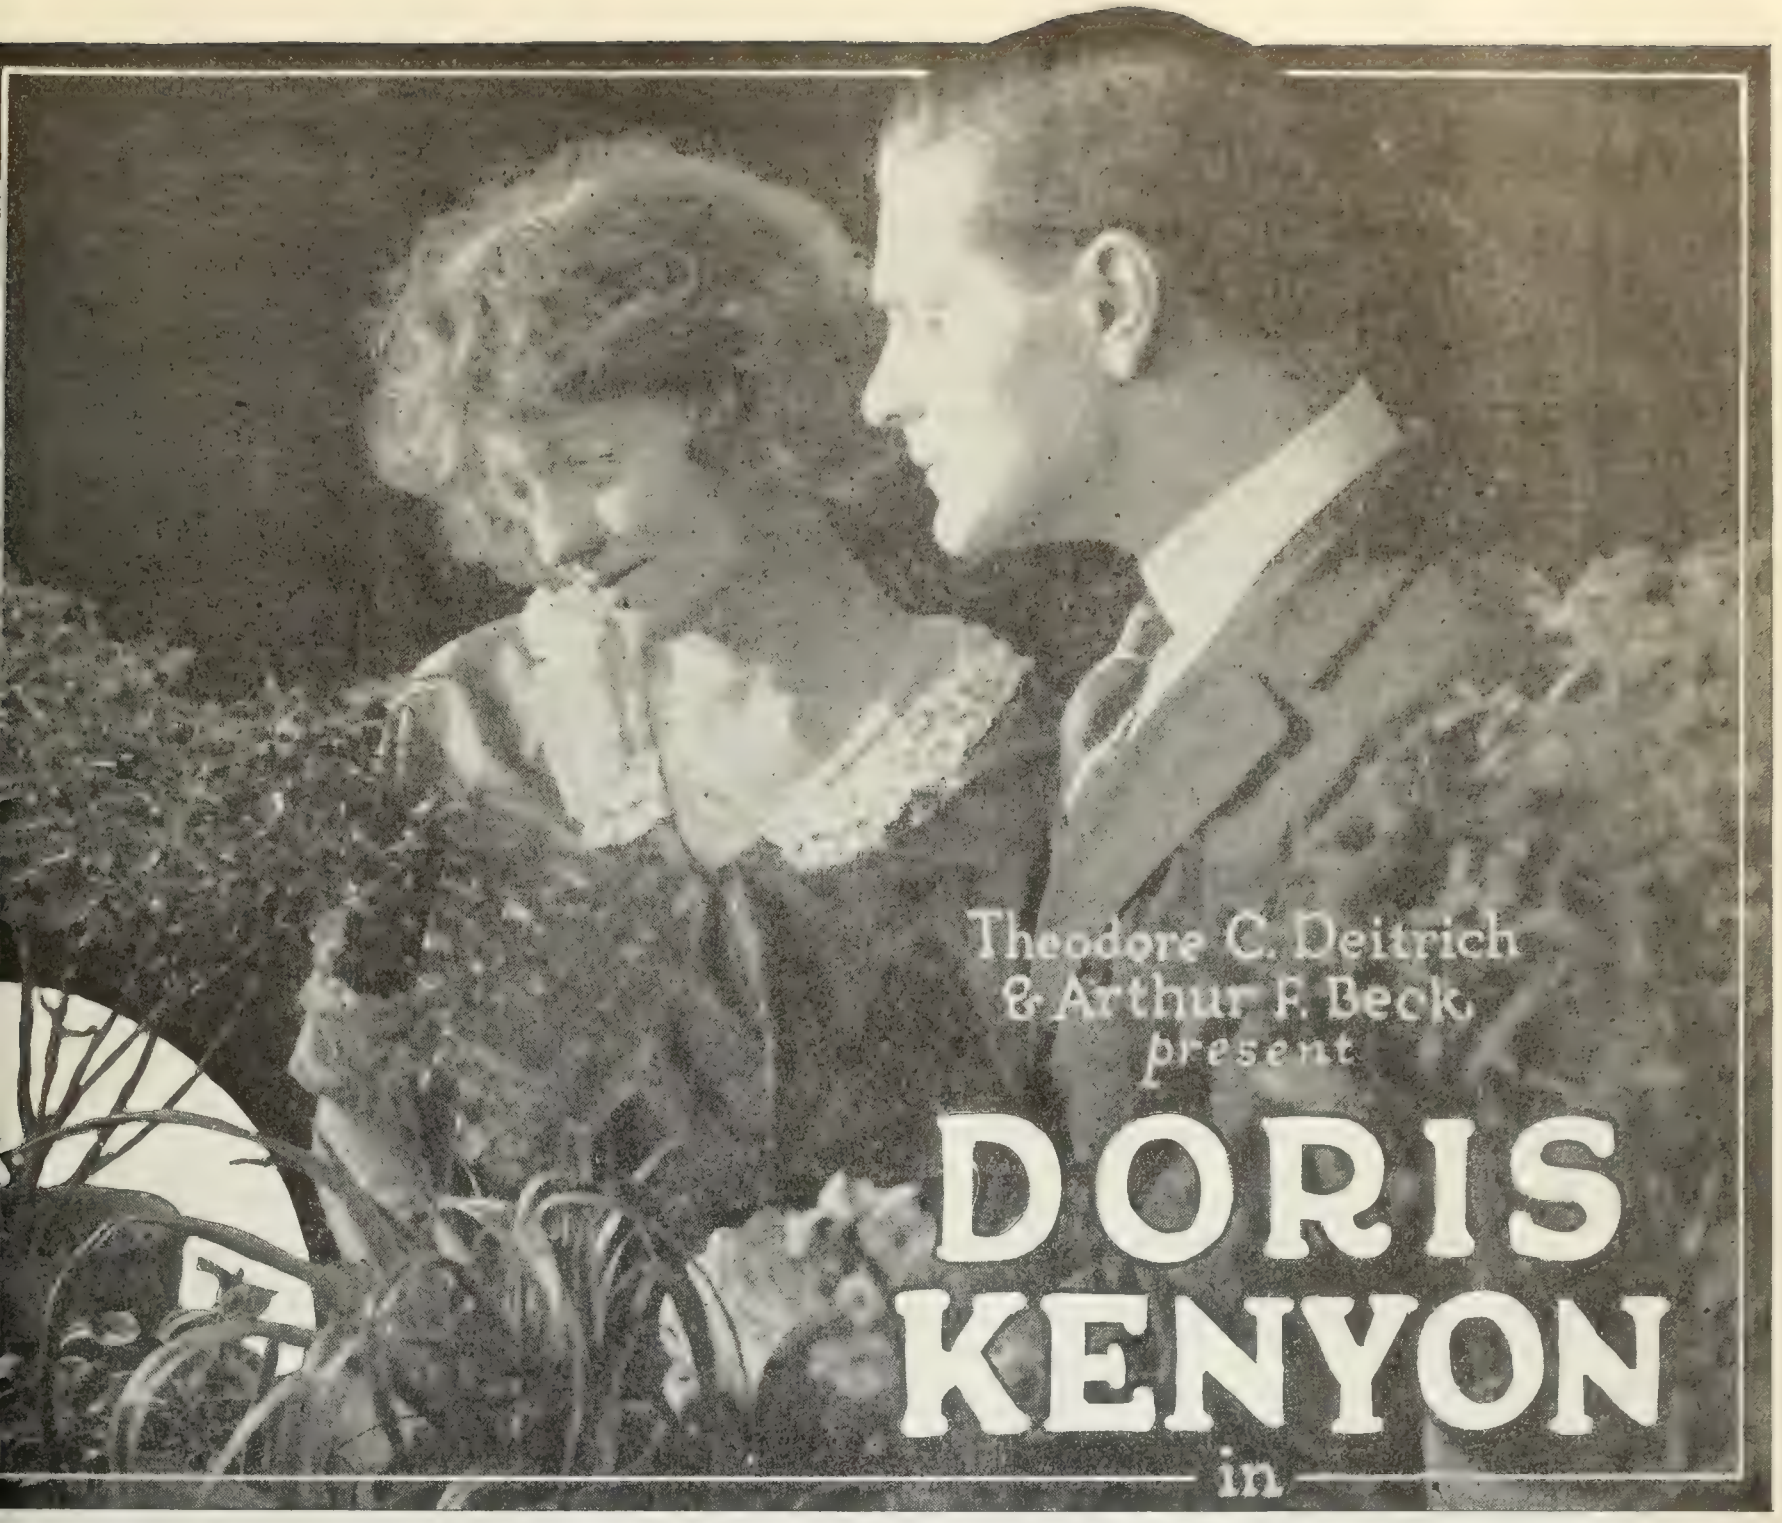
When we tell you that we would be pleased to discover ten pictures made by independent producers with the power and quality of "King Spruce" you have a much better estimate of its strength than if we merely told you how big a picture we considered it to be. First run exhibitors have sensed this, too, and "King Spruce" is booking the big theatres.

Holman F. Day's biggest and best known novel is a story of real people—it throbs with life and vitality. It has the healthy, fresh scents of the great forests in its photography and it stars in Mitchell Lewis a mighty fine, sincere actor that many of you exhibitors have accidentally under-rated. Prints of "King Spruce" are in all branches for pre-release now.

W. W. HODKINSON CORPORATION

521 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Distributing through 1918 Exchanges throughout



The Harvest Moon

From the celebrated play by AUGUSTUS THOMAS
Directed by J. Searle Dawley

Fine, clean, wholesome love stories never die. As a play "The Harvest Moon" was one that drew always the best patronage in many cities and always commanded audiences of women and girls. As a picture it contains sympathy, sweetness and a warm, strong appeal to the human heart.

Gibraltar Pictures inaugurate a new producing trade name with a production of beauty, power and distinction. "The Harvest Moon" and Doris Kenyon are certain to receive a welcome of liking and enthusiasm in the nation's largest and best theatres.

GIBRALTAR
"PICTURES"
"IN EXCELSIS"

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated

Tsuru Aoki In Feature Slightly Above Average Merit

Tsuru Aoki in
"LOCKED LIPS"
Universal

DIRECTOR.....William C. Dowlan
AUTHOR .....Clifford Howard
SCENARIO BY.....Violet Clark
CAMERAMAN .....Not credited
AS A WHOLE.....A trifle slow-moving but fairly good twist at end and island atmosphere will get it over
STORY.....Serves as suitable vehicle for star
DIRECTION.....Might have handled players to better advantage but is generally good.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS .....Usually clear
CAMERA WORK .....Ordinary
STAR.....Lacks force in dramatic moments but satisfies in role of "Lotus Blossom."
SUPPORT.....Stanhope Wheatcroft is first class cad; Madga Lane and an unnamed Jap complete the cast.
EXTERIORS.....Some very pretty island shots
INTERIORS ..... Appropriate
DETAIL.....Nothing very wrong
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Japanese girl marries white man who finally deserts her.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,600 feet

"Locked Lips" is not strictly oriental but has enough to flavor it sufficiently to satisfy admirers of the island race. The title does not impart anything to indicate the nature of the picture but you have the star's name which will suffice. Tsuru Aoki plays the part of the Japanese orphan girl who is teaching native children on the island of Hilo. She works pleasingly but a little more force in the dramatic moments contained in the role would improve her performance considerably.

The dominant motive of the story is the honor of the Japanese race, and the director has stuck to the idea throughout by having the little maid suffer much at the hands of an unscrupulous white man who accepts her kindness when he is down and out and finally marries her, although he does not love her, then manoeuvers things to make it appear that he has been drowned. The story contains several very convenient and planted bits but the director has secured a pleasant island atmosphere and a fairly originl twist at the end which may suffice to cover up other shortcomings.

Harvey Stanwood, believing he has killed a man during a poker row, escapes, and the opening scenes show him on the island of Hilo, near Hawaii, where he enters the cottage of Lotus Blossom, a teacher in the island school. Lotus returns to find the wanderer in her home. He tells the story of a shipwreck and accepts the hospitality of the Japanese girl, who gives him food, clothing and shelter.

Mistaking loneliness for love, Lotus agrees to marry the white man, but it isn't long before he tires of his almond-eyed bride and after robbing her departs, saying he will return when he gets good and ready. There comes to the island Komo, an artist and one of her own kind, who falls in love with her. But she is faithful and tells him why she cannot accept his love.

Later, believing Stanwood dead, Lotus goes to San Francisco to find Komo, and they are very happy. Lotus becomes companion to a married woman whose husband turns out to be none other than Stanwood. Once more Lotus is unhappy, but for the sake of the wife and baby her lips are locked and she sends Komo a note that she will see him no more.

Stanwood, fearing that Lotus may tell his wife of their relations, puts poison into the incense which the oriental girl uses and watches by the door as she prepares to inhale the flames. At this moment, however, Komo arrives to demand an explanation of the note. During a scuffle with Stanwood, Lotus opens the door of her room and Stanwood tumbles in and locks the door for protection while Komo and Lotus remain in the other room. Stanwood is killed by the fumes he had intended for Lotus.

Appeal To Those Who Like This Sort Of Stuff

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This is a fairly good program attraction and while it has its bad spots, the locations used for the action are pleasing to look at and the idea of a sort of semi-oriental atmosphere will attract especially those who admire this environment. Also the climax right at the end is well handled and will make them feel kindly toward it at the close, at any rate. The title may serve to attract if properly worked up by catchlines.

You could use: "Although she had been betrayed by the man she married, she suffered and was silent in order that another's life and happiness would not be ruined. See Tsuru Aoki's sacrifice in 'Locked Lips' at the ——— theater."

Actionful Melodrama Laid on American-Mexican Border

"RIO GRANDE"
Edwin Carewe Prod.—Pathe

DIRECTOR .....Edwin Carewe
AUTHOR .....Augustus Thomas
SCENARIO BY...Madge Tyrone and Edwin Carewe
CAMERAMAN .....Robert Kurrle
AS A WHOLE.....American-Mexican melodrama with much action.
STORY.....Not as skilfully wrought as much of Thomas' work and burdened with long anti-climax sequence.
DIRECTION .....Very good
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Commendable
LIGHTINGS ..... Effective
CAMERA WORK .....Commendable
LEADING PLAYERS.....Rosemary Theby and Allan Sears appear in leading roles; former inclined to over-act.
SUPPORT ..... Good
EXTERIORS.....Fine Rio Grande stuff lends splendid atmosphere.
INTERIORS ..... Appropriate
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Romance of Mexican heroine and American hero with misunderstandings caused by former's intense nationalism.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,616 feet

You can hardly help getting the impression in viewing "Rio Grande" that Augustus Thomas, the playwright, permitted his Americanism to occupy first place in his mind over his dramatic instinct when he fashioned this melodrama. It deals with affairs on the banks of the river that separates the United States from Mexico and the Mexicans learn, before the plot has spun itself, that Americans have nothing but good intentions toward them and that they will fight to prove it.

As for the melodrama itself it is not nearly so skilfully wrought as Mr. Thomas' earlier plays. It has action galore and a creditable share of wholesale shooting, but its plot essentials are not calculated to arouse a full measure of good, old-fashioned melodramatic suspense, such as is to be found, for instance, in "Arizona."

The story deals with the romance of Maria Inez, a Mexican bred, terribly tempestuous young lady, and Danny O'Neil, an American deputy sheriff. Maria has been brought up by her father, a revolutionist, to hate the "gringo," and hate she does until one day, fleeing across the river from her father's enemies, she meets Danny.

She invites him to a dance at her father's hacienda. Don Jose, another revolutionist, in love with Maria, has made him captive but Maria aids in his escape. Later she learns that her father has been wounded and captured by the Americans in an attempt to smuggle arms across the border. Believing Danny responsible, her love again turns to hate and she leads her troops across the border in an attack on Danny's town. The Mexicans are routed, Danny is proven innocent and Maria learns from her father's dying lips that Danny's foster mother is her mother in fact.

Here is the proper ending of the story, but they go and tack on a long anti-climax sequence showing Maria doing penance for her misdeeds against America by teaching Mexican school children to love their neighbors. After this the long-awaited clinch arrives.

Rosemary Theby enacts the role of Maria and with great care brings out the warm Latin temperament that it demands. She is sometimes inclined to overdo this angle of the character and some of her emotional outbursts have an opposite effect than desired. Allan Sears is the Irish deputy sheriff, while others are Hector Sarno, Adele Farrington, Arthur Carew, Harry Duffield, Georgie Stone and Peaches Jackson.

Should Prove a Good Drawing Card and Will Satisfy

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While "Rio Grande" is not the big thing one would expect from such an author as Augustus Thomas, it is nevertheless an averagely thrilling melodrama, made something out of the ordinary because of its location and the real atmosphere that pervades the border scenes. Carewe and his company took all their stuff right down on the border and these real scenes, particularly those showing the river, serve to create an atmosphere different from that found in the majority of "westerns."

It is likely that, properly advertised, "Rio Grande" will pull the crowds in greater number than the average feature. The author's name and the peculiar fascination of the title of the picture will account for this. And the entertainment to be found in its reels, while not perfect and, indeed, with a number of scenes that hardly register their intended drama, will send your audiences away at least comfortably satisfied. Rosemary Theby is the best known and most prominent in the cast. If you want someone to feature, give her a play.

A BLACKTON

CYRUS TOWNSEND

THE BLOOD

Pathé Distributors

WITH

SYLVIA BREAMER

PRODUCTION

BRADY'S STORY

BARRIER

Pathé Distributors

How much loyalty does a woman owe to a husband who is insanely and unjustifiably jealous?

Should she hear his insinuations with patient calm, and suffer his brutal rages in submission?

Or should she say, "Enough of this! There lies your way and here lies mine. Happiness awaits me just around the corner and he is not jealous. You have thrown me into his arms."

A drama of fire and feeling, beautifully produced.

ROBERT GORDON!

More Like This Will Help Neither Star Nor Producer

Norma Talmadge in
"THE WOMAN GIVES"
First National

DIRECTOR .....Roy Neill
AUTHOR .....Owen Johnson
SCENARIO BY.....Not credited
CAMERAMAN .....David Abel
AS A WHOLE.....Gives the star all the opportunity in the world but exaggerated emphasis to prove the title make it unbelievable.
STORY.....Improbable situations; interest lags at various points.
DIRECTION.....Ordinary for the most part
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS.....Frequently too strong on faces
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR.....Gives far from her usual pleasing performance.
SUPPORT.....Edmund Lowe and John Halliday equally prominent.
EXTERIORS .....Few used
INTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
DETAIL.....Titles ungrammatical, poorly constructed, weird and too many dashes used.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Aims to prove its title.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,923 feet

There is little doubt but that "The Woman Gives" if you are willing to accept the facts as put forth in the latest Norma Talmadge production. Nothing has been left undone to prove that the star is the "giving" type of woman and contrasting her with Lucille Lee Stewart as the "taking" kind.

However, one's imagination must be given unbounded limits and the strength of possibility reached far beyond its usual latitude to accept the actions of Inga Sonderson, who gives and gives, and then some more. The main trouble and failure to appreciate the extreme gratitude displayed by Inga is probably due to the fact that the benefits she has received and for which she tries to repay her benefactor, are not made clear enough or big enough by actual pictures to make the audience appreciate her efforts to save the man who had done so much for her. What this benefactor has done is told by means of titles. And many of these titles are of the Laura Jean Libby kind. Many are ungrammatical. All of them use dashes to give a choppy, dramatic effect, and many of them fail. The quality of production is first rate and a well selected cast furnishes adequate support for the star.

Inga Sonderson, artist's model, and her sweetheart, Robert Milton, an artist, have attained success mainly through the influence of Daniel Garford, an artist of international fame and representative of all the better things, and above all a gentleman. He is also deeply in love with his wife, so naturally he is greatly shocked and grieved to return home and find her in the arms of another man.

His grief turns to despondency and Garford drifts from bad to worse, bereft of friends and money. He comes to the building in which Inga has her studio and wanders into her apartment where a Christmas party is in progress. Weakened by dissipation and lack of care, he falls exhausted and lapses into unconsciousness. In gratitude Inga offers to keep him in her home and care for him.

This arouses jealously in Robert and he accuses Inga of having peculiar views on morals,—or something to that effect. The engagement is broken off while Inga continues her role as saviour, which leads even into the opium dens of the underworld. But eventually Garford regains his former prestige and probably continuing the gratitude idea, for there is no indication of love, he asks Inga to marry him. But Inga is not through her saving stunts yet. Bob, believing her engaged to the artist, is broken hearted and preparing to go "he doesn't know where." So naturally Inga goes back to him.

Better Be Sure Of Yourself Before You Go To It

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

They'll have to come better than this if they want to keep up the reputation established for the Norma Talmadge productions. It's all very well to have a star, but a story is also necessary, and there's very little of it in "The Woman Gives."

There is no time in the whole picture that can be considered good entertainment, and some of the situations are so impossible and utterly improbable that folks at the Strand laughed right out at them. This one won't gain anything for the star nor the producer, as far as the audience is concerned, and you will probably notice the difference at the box office later, so use your own judgment. It's hard to say what to use to get them in for this one, unless you want to play with the title. Of course the star's name will get them in this time, but this one may keep them out the next time.

Western Comedy Melodrama Registers Very Satisfactorily

William Russell in
"SLAM BANG JIM"
American—Pathe

DIRECTOR..... Edward Sloman
SCENARIO BY..... .....Chester Blinn Clapp
CAMARAMAN .....Not credited
AS A WHOLE.....Western comedy-melodrama that will generally satisfy despite several story lapses.
STORY.....Has good comedy touches and holds up pretty well despite weaknesses in middle DIRECTION.....Generally very good; is inclined at times to overdo detail.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Plain
CAMERA WORK.....Some shots should have been photographed at closer range.
STAR.....Plays dual role and handles both parts well.
SUPPORT.....Harvey Clark registers well in comedy role; others perform satisfactorily.
EXTERIORS.....Mostly western stuff
INTERIORS ..... Typical
DETAIL.....Some unnecessary footage, specially in middle.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Easterner mistaken for western bad man and humorous complications resulting.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

"Slam Bang Jim" is a western but instead of being melodramatic, as is usually the case with such productions, the comedy element is inclined to predominate throughout. And as a comedy "Slam Bang Jim" does very well. There are melodramatic touches, true enough, but they are inconsequential. In fact, more of them would have helped a bit. As the story is presented it is inclined to sag heavily in the middle. There is no strong amount of sustaining interest and the comedy is neglected too much. Unnecessary detail consumes much of the footage.

But as a whole this one registers very nicely. The laughs are frequent enough to get it safely over and this means a lot even though true superiority is not attained. They open up with a sequence which, though old, is still useful for laugh-getting purposes. Jim (William Russell) is late for his wedding. He has overslept. On his hurried way to his bride's house he sees a man being attacked by thugs and going to the rescue, is mistaken by the police for one of the gang. So instead of arriving at the altar he takes a trip to the station house.

After this the wedding is off and Jim, turned out by his father, seeks the west in company with the gentleman he rescued. In the west there is a bandit, Pete, the exact counterpart of Jim, and here the main comedy line is introduced. They work in a lot of humorous stuff having Jim enter the western bar just after Pete has held it up. Of course he is mistaken for the guilty man and has a hard time getting away from the sheriff, but succeeds with the help of Pete's girl, who is mistaken along with the others.

Then Jim's late fiancee and her father, having learned that Jim performed a deed of heroism the night of the wedding, arrive in the west to look him up. Their stage is held up by Pete and more comedy is derived here from the mistaken identity trick. The action sags some after this until the two men are finally discovered together. Pete escapes with his girl and Jim is reunited with his fiancee.

Harvey Clark gets in some very good comedy on his own account as the eastern girl's father to whom the ways of the west are strange. Russell performs his two roles with dash and enthusiasm, while others are Bull Montana, Francelia Billington, Ada Gleason, Ruth Everdale, Charles Newton, Ashton Dearholt and George Periolata.

This Ought To Go Very Well Particularly With Russell Fans

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Summing up, there is enough good comedy in this to make the whole register as very satisfactory before practically all audiences. Even though the action does sag in the middle the laughs before and after are plentiful enough to get the audience with the picture and hold the attenion.

Russell is very popular with certain crowds and before audiences made up of his admirers you will probably find "Slam Bang Jim" doing a great business. The comedy is "situation" stuff for the most part and the star handles himself very well in the light scenes. And certainly Harvey Clark is going to get them laughing by his humorous business as the easterner in the wild and woolly west.

Outline the plot by such catch lines as "It was bad enough to be a tenderfoot in the west, but Jim was mistaken for a bandit as soon as he set foot in the Arizona town! See this picture of laughs and thrills." "A western comedy in which mistaken identity keeps you laughing and thrilling from start to finish."

Harry Carey

he's human!

Not a movie superman—but just—human! Features that prove him "real folks"—gestures that real folks recognize, and smile at—characteristic actions that might have been their own—vigor where vigor is needed—pathos that's true stuff—comedy as good as Chaplin's best—and—a wonderful, happy smile that's just pure sunshine through and through.

That's why they like HARRY CAREY—because he's human. And he's human because he's a good actor. And because he's a good actor HARRY CAREY is playing today in the biggest theatres in the land—and where he plays—just take it from us—he sticks!

Show Human HARRY CAREY in "MARKED MEN" and "OVERLAND RED"—the first directed by Jack Ford, the second by Lynn F. Reynolds. Never in Universal's whole history have we received exhibitor testimonials of a higher quality than from these two typical CAREY SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS. See them both at your nearest Universal Exchange and you will be well repaid.

UNIVERSAL SPECIAL ATTRACTIONS

Typical of the "Would You—?" School of Melodrama

Vivian Rich in
"WOULD YOU FORGIVE?"
Fox

DIRECTOR .....Scott Dunlap
AUTHOR.....Jules G. Furthman
SCENARIO BY.....Jules G. Furthman
CAMERAMAN .....Vernon Walker
AS A WHOLE.....Typical "would you—?" melodrama containing much talk and action about illegitimate child.
STORY.....Well constructed for this type of plot and builds to quite sensational climax.
DIRECTION ..... Satisfactory
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Average
LIGHTINGS.....No special effects used
CAMERA WORK .....Average
STAR.....Gets all her stuff over, but is mechanical at times.
SUPPORT.....Headed by Tom Chatterton; entirely efficient.
EXTERIORS .....Hollywood stuff
INTERIORS.....Not much variety; all appropriate
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Wife's adopted child arouses husband's suspicions; he discovers that he is its father.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

This is a typical example of the "would you—?" school of melodrama, presenting an isolated sex tangle and asking the spectators to judge what their courses would be under the circumstances. Of its kind it is quite well constructed and builds to a climax which, though not altogether surprising, is sensational owing to startling frankness of the preceding action.

Much of the action and a great deal of the subtitles concern an illegitimate child and the general tone of the production may be gauged from this. The husband believes, jealously, that the child is his wife's by the villain. The villain believes it's the wife's by some other man. The wife believes it the offspring of two unfortunates. And in the end it turns out to be the child of the husband's by another woman. There are the cross currents and purposes that go to make the story of "Would You Forgive?"

In the beginning it is planted that Mary Cleveland is unhappy because she has no children. John Cleveland is one of those exceedingly busy business men. Hasn't got time for anything else supposedly. Mary's former admirer, Paul Horton, is serving the last of a three year's sentence in jail for forgery. In a moment of jealousy John accuses her of still loving Paul. She proves herself his true wife, however, but incidentally discovers that he had a common-law wife before his marriage to her. When he begs forgiveness she grants it. This part of the picture is well done and very impressive.

It then develops that Mary has adopted a child. She keeps her in a small apartment with an old nurse because John would object if he knew. Coincidentally the old nurse is none other than Paul Horton's old nurse. When released from jail he goes to her and meets Mary. At this juncture the various beliefs of the three principals regarding the child's parents enter and build the action up to a well contrived and sensational climax in which the truth is disclosed. Mary, of course, forgives and the the titular question is put up to the audience.

Vivian Rich regisers all the emotions demanded by the role in no mistakable style. At times she is somewhat mechanical in expression, but her evident sincerity well succeeds in overcoming this. Opposite is Tom Chatterton, regarding whose performance the same may be said. Ben Deely is suitable as the heavy who turns out a pretty decent fellow after all.

Will Draw and Should Appeal to the Sensation Seekers

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Exhibitors won't have to be told much more than the title of this production to obtain a correct line on it. Fox has put out others of the same type, as have several other producers, and while many of them have been well enough made, they don't carry the impress of real class and distinction.

If you play this you are going to cater to the lovers of the sensational. To these the great reference to the illegitimacy of the child will matter little. It's the basis of a sensational melodrama and that's what they want. Others, however, might easily take offense at the subject of the story.

Vivian Rich is a new Fox star. She's been in pictures a long time, however. Many of you will remember her from the old American pictures. You might play her up as a new light if you think this method of advertising pays.

WILLIAM

DIRECTOR

Introduces MISS EDITH JOHNSON

Million Dollar Vitagraph Serial

WILLIAM DUNCAN

MR. EXHIBITOR:

"I feel satisfied that this serial surpasses IN EVERY WAY any of my previous efforts and will appreciate your expression of opinion."

CAN BE SEEN AT ALL VITAGRAPH EXCHANGES

DUNCAN

and STAR

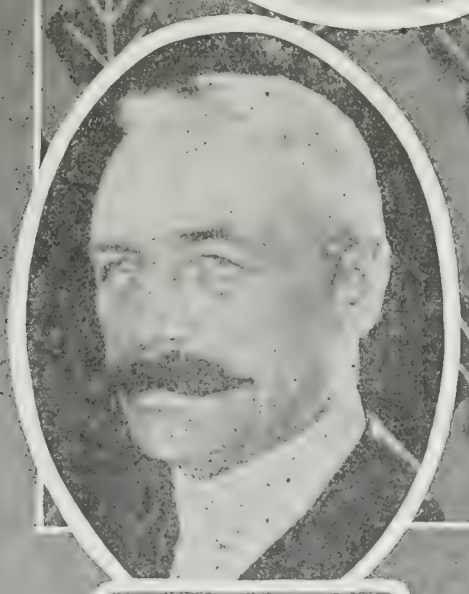
and the excellent cast in his new

"THE SILENT AVENGER"

MISS EDITH JOHNSON

JACK RICHARDSON

ERNIE SHIELDS



WM. S. SMITH

WILLIS L. ROBARDS

VIRGINIA NIGHTINGALE

You will see a NEW

BESSIE LOVE

When

ANDREW J. CALLAGHAN PRODUCTIONS, Inc.

Presents

This Radiant Young Star
in Her Forthcoming Series
Based Upon Popular
Novels and Favorite Plays

Not ONE Director but TWO!

JOSEPH DE GRASSE and
IDA MAY PARK
Each Famed for Many Cinema Successes

If you are still young at heart you will appreciate this pensive princess who brings back the tears and laughter of Youth, the heart-aches and Joys of first-love.

ANDREW J. CALLAGHAN PRODUCTIONS, Inc.
25 West 43d Street New York City

WD 4/18/20

Some Short Reels

"The Fly Cop"—Vitagraph

Some excellent comedy business, equalled by a thrilling sequence on the roof tops, are elements which make this two reeler, written, directed and starred in by Larry Semon, one that will register as far out of the average line with all audiences. Semon introduces some new gags and his own acting is mirth-provoking. His quick change of clothes with the chauffeur will surely get a laugh. The gag of the flivver losing various of its parts as it goes along the road has been used before, but it's still very good. The strong arm stunts performed by Semon after he has swallowed an overdose of "dope" register as fine slapstick tricks. Then the final chase over the roof tops and the thrilling see-sawing on the edges by means of a ladder will certainly make 'em sit tight, thrilling and laughing. Suporting the star are Lucille Carlisle, Frank Alexander, Al Thompson and Joe Hauber.

"The Fly Cop" is the kind of comedy you can headline along with the feature and the kind of comedy that will attract more attention than the ordinary feature.

"Thirty Minutes in Havana"—Radin

With a number of humorous situations built about a very satisfactory plot, this one-reeler, in which Chris Rubb plays the leading role, registers solidly. It finds the Swede comedian traversing the street in rags. The gag at the start, in which Rubb attempts to emulate the copper who secures liquor from the saloon-keeper, is not new, but will draw a laugh. Thereafter most of the material concerns his experiences with a Hindoo magician and a powerful fluid which gives him supernatural powers. Obviously, what happens is a dream, but it has been been filmed commendably and is funny. Undoubtedly, it will make most audiences laugh.

"The Weekly Indigestion"—Radin

A. Lincoln Miller, who turned out the two releases of this series, has employed an excellent and unusual scheme. He has taken various news items, and after announcing them concisely in the subtitles, burlesqued them before the camera. Were it possible to produce the reels and get them to the exhibitor directly after the news events thus handled occurred, the success of the productions would be instantaneous.

"Old Dials for New"—Radin

Florence Turner plays the stellar role in this single reeler, is attractive and works zealously enough. Unfortunately, however, she has not been furnished with suitable story material, neither the theme nor the situations being very laughable. It concerns an old couple who decide to have their features remodeled. In wifey's case they are successful, but they fail with hubby, and the finish finds him very much humbled. An endeavor to get laughs was made in the scene which shows the methods employed in restoring youth, but very little of it produces the desired results.

"Cherry Blossom Time"—Ford-Goldwyn

Lack of sufficient light is the only important weakness of this Ford reel. Japanese scenes make up the footage, and although there is a great deal that interests, it has not been screened so as to show it to best advantage. It opens with an April procession in the "Land of the Rising Sun," and the spirit predominating is one of the spring essentially. After that, there is material concerning the cultivation of rice, and the territory shot has much that is pleasing to the eye. The streets of Japan are narrow, and that may have had something to do with the lack of distinctness in the parade portion. Otherwise, this is up to the mark.

"The Great Nickle Robbery—Fox-Sunshine

The better part of this two reeler is laid in a trolley car and considerable humor is derived from the setting. Chester Conklin appears as the conductor who has a child's bank in which to carry his cash and whose usual pastime is robbing the company of nickles by failing to ring up fares. They work in some good tricks showing various would-be passengers running for the car and Conklin helping a fat man to board with a hook and rope. When girls come along he gets down and watches them go up the steps. Five or six of them wear those Los Angeles socks. The plot is quite funny whenever it appears and the entire offering contains a pretty steady supply of laughs. Jack Blystone directed.

"Work"—Victor Kremer

With a new set of titles substituted for those originally used, Victor Kremer is selling on the state right market another of the Charles Chaplin two reelers made for Essanay. In its reissued form, the production is quite laughable. It does not, however, rank with the best of the old Chaplin offerings, and the new titles detract, rather than add to its value. In the scenes showing Charlie dragging the cart-load of materials and his experiences with the maid, there is much that is humorous, the star registering as usual with his expressions and other comedy business. It is not, however, the spontaneous laugh-getter that many of his other works have been.

"This Way Out"—Hall Room Boy Comedies

Gags of merit are to be found in another of the Hall Room Boy comedies. Thematically, it is not particularly funny and takes Percy and Ferdie out of their usual characters after the first few hundred feet. The incidents which comprise it are for the greater part of such a nature, however, as to get it over in good fashion. Neeley Edwards and Hugh Fay team up well, the latter making a good mate for the refined-mannered comedian. In the opening scene, the shots showing one of the boys doctoring a hole in his stocking with some shoe polish, and the other turning his collar inside out upon discovering a spot on the exterior, are touches that will amuse. Their rivalry for the girl and training escapades before their fight will also draw laughs. Fight stuff, of course, has been done over and over again, but a new stunt in this scrap is the use of chloroform by Fay. Later, the method by which Edwards escapes from prison and the subsequent finish will hold it up until the end. Frank Howard Clark wrote the scenario and Arthur D. Hotaling directed.

"Gee Whiz"—Sennett-Famous Players

Getting off to a good start and maintaining a very satisfactory pace throughout the initial reel, Mack Sennett's latest slows up later on and does not wind up in as good style as it begins. Most of the latter portion takes place in a hotel, with much of the customary in-and-out-of-the-room stuff. Until the closing footage is reached, this has less slap-stick than is usually found in the Sennett productions, but riotous material eventually does make its appearance. At the very finish they offer a novel stunt which makes a worth while ending and helps. The shots in the soft drink emporium at the beginning and court room scene are laughable, especially the latter, which is a scream. These make a good impression and inject much of the punch into the offering. Richard Jones directed. As a whole this should go across, although it does not rank with the best Sennetts.

"The Great Umbrella Mystery"—Bray-Goldwyn

Drawn and animated excellently, the Happy Hooligan cartoon which makes up the greater part of this Bray comic, holds its own. The theme is fairly clever, the various bits funny and execution splendid. After the cartoon the material consists of a series of remarks and quips selected from newspapers. There was a time when this was a distinct novelty, but there are so many productions of that sort on the market now, that it is doubtful as to whether it can get over. Certainly there is nothing about the remarks included in this that would make the issue stand out above similar ones. A few of them are humorous, but some are old and others not entirely up to such a standard as to arouse spontaneous enthusiasm. The cartoon part will get over with ease in all probability; the rest is hardly likely to go as well.

Bray Pictograph, No. 433—Goldwyn

Romantic economical young people who see this Bray reel will appreciate the wisdom of their ways. "The High Cost of Courting" as the part that opens is called offers carefully computed figures as to the prices that must be paid for entertainment. These are a trifle exaggerated, perhaps, but can be depended upon to maintain interest. Mary Roberts Rinehart, noted woman author, faces the spectator thereafter while camping and in a picture studio where a scene from some of her writings is being reproduced. Closing, is a cartoon by Milt Gross called "Frenchy Discovers America."

28 WD 4/18/20

Short Reels

"The Reawakening"—Ford-Goldwyn

For another educational subject the Ford organization has screened the manner in which wounded soldiers are taught new occupations and fitted for useful civilian life. Excellently screened, and showing in detail the careful way in which the veterans receive Physio-Therapy treatment, it is a creditable reel. Objections may be raised in some quarters on the ground that it is a reminder of the war, but otherwise there is hardly any cause for complaint. It is a clear comprehensive treatment of the matter.

"Cracked Wedding Bells"—Pathe

More of a story and less knock-about stuff than are usually to be found in the Snub Pollard one reelers make their way into this. Together with the darkey youngster, seen so frequently in his support, Pollard puts over several hearty laughs and the offering which has slap-stick material and a plot in about the proper proportion should hold its own. Complications result when the principal, about to be married, discovers that he forgot his ring. Upon his arrival at home, after pushing his flivver to his residence, he finds the ring gone with the vest in which he had placed it. That condition leads to another twist in the theme, for as Pollard and the darkey chase after the vest, the ring is in the latter possession. Returning to the scene of the wedding, after securing the ring, he absent-mindedly hands it over—just in time for his rival to use it. They have carried the production out a bit further, but the appended footage is more of an anti-climax than anything else.

"Trailed by Three—Pathe"

One of the islands in the South Sea group is where they placed the third episode of this production. No sooner does the action shift to it, than the number of villains is swelled to three. The heroic trio seeking to recover a valuable string of pearls is at a distinct disadvantage, and at the finish, the chief of the natives is about to be tortured by "The Tyrant of the South Seas," the character who gives the episode its title. A goodly amount of action is included in this section and the setting is uncommon for serials.

"Screen Smiles," No. 41—Screen Smiles-Victor Kremer

Cartoons, flashed upon the screen immediately after comments, selected from various publications, make their appearance, are one of the two novel features of "Screen Smiles." The other is the pair of trailers appended, one at the start and the other at the finish. That at the beginning is an excellent and unusual bit of animation and holds the eye. The scheme of having the scissors cut into the newspaper, the pieces forming into letters, and then the quill writing a supplementary rhyme being quite out of the ordinary, with the owl at one side adding a dignified aspect. Drawn in black on a light surface, the closing trailer does not harmonize with the rest of the issue, in which all of the matter is seen in white letters on a dark background. A change to make it conform with what precedes would probably be beneficial. As for the subject matter, that employed in this issue is fairly clever, while the cartoons are not always very funny. Instead of being linked up with various current topics as has been the custom in this and other issues of a similar nature in the past, many of the captions are gags gleaned from humorous columns.

"The Outlaw of the Wilderness"—Robertson-Cole

Wyoming timber wolves, gaunt, shaggy brutes, have been screened while roaming their natural haunts. Some of the shots, showing the animals quite close to the camera, are really remarkable. There are scenes in which deer make their appearance and others showing the wolves against the horizon. The latter present an imposing appearance, the atmosphere maintained being truly one of the great outdoors. Later, they show the manner in which the flesh-eaters are hunted down, winding up with the bringing home of one that has been shot. Jock Rantz is responsible for the writing of the reel, while J. G. Sill is credited with "taking the scenes."

"A Captivating Captive"—Christie Comedies

Situations of merit are lacking in a light story selected for another Christie reel. Charlotte Merriam and Earl Rodney are featured in the production, directed by William Beaudine, and although they do all that is expected of them reasonably well, the weakness in the plot is a distinct handicap. Rodney in the role of a young man living with his sister, upon learning of the arrival of a girl friend whose photograph does not flatter her, decides to leave. She turns out to be youthful and fair, however, so that he is prompted to exchange places with the chauffeur when she is urged to go for a spin. Ultimately, he manages to leave two other swains behind and it is not long before he has captured her heart. Due to his sister, they are apprehended by a representative of the law on a motorcycle, but in the end wed—after knowing each other for about an hour or so.

"Her Perfect Husband"—Christie Comedies

Starting out in good style and going along in that fashion for a while, this Christie offering culminates suddenly and without explaining the plot fully. Until it ends, it keeps the spectator in suspense and has enough laughs to get it over. Dorothy Devore, featured with Jimmie Harrison, is quite attractive, while Eddie Baker holds his end up well enough. They started out with wifey believing her husband perfect and his being entered in a "Perfect Man" contest. In his efforts to build up to justify his wife's ideas about him, he engages a rough and ready trainer, whom he introduces as his cousin. Said cousin brings two more along and the trio attempt to make away with all of the valuables in the house, but Harrison overcomes them all, after which it winds up. As for the contest—they seem to have forgotten or side-tracked that. Keene Thompson wrote the story and Frederick Sullivan directed.

"Stick Around"—Ay-Vee-Bee

Following a chain of situations that are laughable, this two reeler, which stars Ernest Truex, leads up to one comedy sequence that puts a big punch into the culmination and gets it over with much to spare. P. G. Wodehouse wrote the story, which is an excellent vehicle for the juvenile who plays the principal role, and John Joseph Harvey, who directed, injected the proper atmosphere.

It finds Truex in the role of a detective, turned down by the girl he would marry because he is not connected with the theatrical profession, she being a member of a musical comedy company. When the organization sets out on a tour of the sticks, Ernest is given orders to trail the show. This he does, affecting various disguises which fool no one. And that is where one very funny incident occurs. One of the men with the trope gets Truex into a room, and the manner in which he discusses the disguises, with flash-backs of the star in his camouflage, always with the same suit-case, will provoke mirth beyond doubt. When he switches the lights off at a performance and then gets into trouble otherwise, the spirit of fun is well maintained. The entry of a mouse into his wearing apparel, causing him to do a combined eccentric dance and shimmy onto the stage in a manner that awakes the slumbering audience and puts the show over, furnishes the climax. Ultimately, he is signed with the company and to cap it all, the lady of his heart sinks into his arms.

HAS THE WORLD LOST ITS VISION?

"DEMOCRACY"

-- THE --

VISION RESTORED

COPYRIGHT 1920

DIRECTED BY WILLIAM NIGH

In this World Vision of the New Order which is to come lies the solution of Humanity's greatest problem:

THE ELIMINATION OF CLASS HATRED!

In all lands and ages there has existed an unceasing conflict between Democracy and Autocracy.

In a delightful, soul-gripping romance of graphic realism is portrayed this conflict as it exists in our modern civilization, wherein heroic men and women of today continue unabated the long struggle for more room, greater opportunity—FREEDOM!

EVERY SCENE TEEMS WITH THOSE BASIC ELEMENTS WHICH HAVE

AUDIENCE APPEAL!

DEMOCRACY PHOTOPLAY COMPANY.
THOUGHT DRAMA PRODUCTIONS.
LEE FRANCIS LYBARGER, PRESIDENT.
2826 DECATUR AVENUE, NEW YORK.

GOLDWYN TRADE BULLETIN

A Weekly Catalogue of Current Releases

SAMUEL GOLDWYN Presents

WILL ROGERS

IN

The Strange Boarder

By WILL PAYNE
Directed by CLARENCE BADGER

STAR—The quaint rope-throwing philosopher and humorist, Will Rogers.

AUTHOR—Will Payne, whose Saturday Evening Post story was read with delight by millions.

CAST—An excellent group of contrasting types, including Jimmy Rogers, Irene Rich, James Mason, Lionel Belmore and Doris Pawn.

Jimmy, the four-year-old son of Will Rogers, plays his first screen part with a delightful lack of self-consciousness.

STORY—Will Rogers is seen as Sam Gardner, who, with his little boy, leaves his Arizona ranch to embrace a wonderful "business opportunity" in Chicago.

He loses all his savings to confidence men, and, desperate, attempts to recoup his losses by gambling.

It is here that the strange friendship takes place between Sam Gardner and "Kitty" Hinch, a flashy sport of the underworld. Later, when "Kitty" kills his boss in a fit of jealousy, Sam Gardner proves that a MAN can risk death and disgrace rather than give up his faith in a friend.

Sam Gardner gives his hand to the man who saved his boy's life—the same man who later brought him into the shadow of the gallows.

COMMENT—This picture is easily the most realistic Will Rogers has ever had.

The star with his wide grin, his homely, intensely likeable personality and general air of sun-tanned, hard-bitten Western honesty, will endear himself to your patrons.

It is a REAL picture, with a man's size plot and every element that makes for box-office success.

The Westerner loses his last dollar in Chicago—but wins the priceless love of a splendid girl.

the BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

the RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 19 Monday, April 19, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Value of Films

Nat'l Has Plan to Determine Actual Box Office Strength of Hitherto Undetermined Pictures.

Methods for determining actual, instead of theoretical, box office values of productions which lack star, story or directorial precedent as a basis for pre-release fixation of their rental worth to exhibitors, will be inaugurated by Associated First National at the beginning of next season.

This new plan is characterized by First National exhibitor officials as their Exhibition Value Department. It will function chiefly as an arbitrator of differences in opinion between First National members who have the authority of the entire membership to make purchases and the producers or agents from whom specific independent attractions are sought.

A varying number of theaters will be used, in all parts of the country, but of sufficient difference in clientele, character and location, so that the results in total will be the equivalent of an absolute test of every theater condition under which any attraction can be played. Every attraction to be so tested will be given a complete complement of advertising and publicity equipment, and it will then be played in each of the "test" theaters, supported by a thorough local advertising and exploitation campaign, designed to attract the maximum of patronage possible. The box office results, in each instance, will constitute the basis on which First National officials will indicate exhibition values for the entire country.

The number of membership theaters to be used in each "test" of this nature will vary, according to the calibre and style of the attractions which will have their exhibition values fixed by this method. The theaters will range from the most important and largest of the first run houses owned and operated by First National members, in which attractions are played for week stands or longer, to second and third run theaters, in which programs are changed two and three times a week.

Box office returns, in each instance, will be carefully tabulated and filed

(Continued on Page 3)

DELAYS

The railroad strike and tie-up have reached such proportions that should you fail for the next few days to receive your copy of WID'S DAILY regularly you will understand why.

The little convent girl felt that all eyes were watching her as the handsome prince escorted her from the room—Katherine MacDonald in "Passion's Playground," from the novel, "The Guests of Hercules," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Considering Offers

Marguerite Clark Through With F. P.-L.—Resting in South

Marguerite Clark is considering at least two offers from large film organizations.

Her contract with Famous Players-Lasky has expired and at the present time Miss Clark is resting in the South.

She is expected back in New York about May 1, at which time the question of her future affiliation will probably be decided.

Loew in Tulsa

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Tulsa, Okla.—Fred G. Weis, district manager for the Marcus Loew circuit, was here recently to look over sites for a new theater.

Los Angeles—Irving Willat, who is to produce for Hodkinson, expects to start within the next 30 days.

Scout "Big 4" Rumor

Report of Dissolution Denied by Members—All in Harmony.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Various members of the "Big 4" in Los Angeles deny the rumor absolutely that the United Artists would dissolve.

The rumor was printed in the Herald. The "Big 4" members declare that everything is working in harmony and that there is no basis to the report.

Hiram Abrams said he was happier in his present connection than he has been for years.

Williams Here

Despite railroad difficulties, J. D. Williams of First National arrived in New York from California Saturday morning. Swamped with work.

Pathe Gains 60%

Annual Statement Shows That Increase in Gross Earnings—Net Profit $922,000.

Pathe Exchange, Inc., has made public its anual report for the fiscal year ending Feb. 28. The report shows that company's gross earnings were $9,000.000 an increase of 60 per cent over the preceding year. After deduction of Federal taxes, the net profit was $922,000.

Bernhard Benson, of Merrill, Lynch & Co., Wall St. bankers, has been elected vice-president of the company.

Mauretania Delayed

The Mauretania, which was due in New York yesterday and which has aboard Adolph Zukor and William A. Brady, has been delayed and will not reach New York until to-morrow or Wednesday.

Nat'l Ass'n to Meet

The regular quarterly meeting of the board of directors of the National Association will be held shortly after the arrival of William A. Brady, president of the association.

His absence in Europe and the absence of a number of board members on business affairs out of town have held up the meeting, which was slated for March.

Tax Wanted

(By cable)

London—The Express prints a long story advising the British Government to charge American producers for using the exterior settings of English scenery, and generally takes a rap at the American film invasion.

ALICOATE.

Sunlight Arc Film in Magazine

The Sunlight Arc film showing Broadway at night, which was shot on the night of Feb. 21 in the midst of a blizzard, will be incorporated in the Paramount Magazine No. 3886 for release May 9.

Deal Now Closed

Universal officially announced on Saturday that the deal pending between P. A. Powers, Carl Laemmle and R. H. Cochran had been definitely concluded and that the interest held in Universal by Mr. Powers had passed into the hands of Laemmle and Cochran.

Need a GOOD Publicity man? Employ SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 19 Mon. April 19, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.

C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 5th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	85	85¾	85¼
do pfd.	91	91⅛	91
Goldwyn	25	26	25
Loew's, Inc.	34¼	34½	34½
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod.	5½	6¼	6¼
World Film	¼	¼	¼

*Friday's quotations.

New David Butler Film

Leatrice Joy has commenced work on "Alice in Underland," a story taken from a magazine. She plays opposite David Butler, and Fred Butler directs. Production is now under way in California.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Frederic Maltesta has been engaged by Dustin Farnum to play in his "Big Happiness."

A. S. Le Vino, of Metro scenario staff, has completed the script for "The Mutiny of the Elsinore," the second Jack London story to be produced for C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., and is now preparing "The God of His Fathers" in continuity form.

Robert McKim and Claire Adams have been engaged by Benjamin B. Hampton.

Eliott J. Clawson has joined the Metro scenario department and will do as his initial script "Big Game," by Willard Robertson and Kilbourn Gordon.

Mahlon Hamilton has been signed by Jesse D. Hampton to play the lead in Robert Thornby's initial production, "Half a Chance," by Fred H. Isham.

Lucien Androit, cameraman, has been engaged by Jesse D. Hampton.

Donald Crisp has left with the Wanda Hawley company for Santa Barbara to take scenes for the first vehicle of Realart's new star.

"Head and Shoulders," Viola Dana's next Screen Classics production, will be directed by William C. Dowlan, who directed her in "Dangerous to Men."

"Burning Daylight," the first Jack London story to be produced for C. E. Shurtleff, Inc., by Metro, was completed last week. Mitchell Lewis is the star. Edward Sloman directed.

GAUSMAN.

On Broadway

Strand—Marshal Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry."
Capitol—Bert Lytell—"Alias Jimmy Valentine."
Rialto—Charles Ray—"Paris Green."
Rivoli—William S. Hart—"The Toll Gate."
Broadway—Hope Hampton—"The Modern Salome."
Marie Dressler—"Tillie's Punctured Romance."
Brooklyn Strand—Anita Stewart—"The Fighting Shepherdess."
Loew's New York—Today—Eugene O'Brien—"A Fool and His Money."
Tuesday — Will Rogers — "The Strange Boarder."
Wednesday—Gladys Brockwell—"The Mother of His Children."
Thursday—Harry Carey—"Bullet Proof."
Friday—Clara Kimball Young—"Trilby."
Zazu Pitts—"Bright Skies."
Saturday — Constance Binney—"The Stolen Kiss."
Sunday—Priscilla Dean—"The Virgin of Stamboul."

Next Week

Strand—Constance Talmadge—"The Love Expert."
Capitol—Alice Brady—"Sinners."
Rialto—Not yet determined.
Rivoli—Not yet determined.
Broadway—Mack Sennett's "Down on the Farm."
Victor Seastrom—"A Man There Was."
Brooklyn Strand—Marshal Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry."

Larger Building Planned

Robertson-Cole has secured the northwest corner of 48th St. and Seventh Ave. Its new structure will occupy that corner and all of the property to 725 Seventh Ave.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Wilmington, Del.—Ezy Green and W. F. Bouzarth to build.

New Haven, Conn.—M. Che will build.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—J. Sa lessee Empire, will build.

Steamboat Springs, Colo.—C Haupert and James A. Probeck.

Susquehanna, Pa.—J. J. Ryan, gan Opera House, to build.

Grove City, Pa.—John Gu Majestic, to build.

Houses Completed

Demare, Okla.—Alva Adam opened Lyric.

Newkirk, Okla.—Palace, J. Hardman, opened.

Fined for Crowding Violatio

Louisville, Ky.—A fine of $10 imposed on Joe Steurle, manage the Walnut Street recently for a lation of the crowding law ordina

Mannering, Middleboro, Ky., B

Middleboro, Ky.—A fire burned Mannering theater building w includes several offices and s causing a loss of $75,000.

Plan House in Chicago

Chicago, Ill.—Jones, Linick Schaefer have Bedford Shirt building and will remodel it int picture theater.

GLOBE TROTS
HIT THE
HIGH SPOTS

Globe Trots Films
INC.

A blind man wouldn't pick up a gold piece!

You can find

SOME BABY!

With your eyes OPEN!

There is one difference between a magnet and a RITCHEY poster, — one attracts steel and the other money.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

Value of Films

(Continued from Page 1)

home office officials, together specimens of all advertising mat- all publicity and a complete de- tion of all exploitation stunts in connection with the cam- n. This later evidence will com- a reference for producers to eciate the extent of the show- ship ability and effort in support ach test.

is system, it is believed by cir- members, will go far toward nating guess work, theory and ulation in establishing actual n values. It was designed and ted in connection with the new ranchising plan to be launched he First National convention in go next week, as a means of ction and assurance to the fran- d exhibitor members that the ition value of attractions which come to them from the inde- ent field, apart from present pro- contract sources, is the result of ical tests, rather than the opin- f a New York committee on the ucer.

is pointed out that the plan has e advantage and equal protect- eatures for the independent pro- rs as well. In cases where pic- considered for purchase by First nal have no star or producer ents on which to base estima- of value from previous box of- records of such stars or produc- the plan places the attractions ly on their own merits, with alent opportunity to the produ- for unexpected and greater s as the result of the exhibition tests.

he plan will not function in the of stars, directors and produc- who have established box office gs," declares a statement from National. "We know, from ex- ice with previous releases, the exhibition value of attractions ng such artists as Norma and tance Talmadge, Charles Chap- Anita Stewart, Charles Ray, the hall Neilan productions, and s. We know, too, the exhibi- value, to us, of productions we release next fall through con- recently closed with other stars producers, because in their in- es we have had accurate and al reports on the box office re- of pictures they have made for organizations.

he plan will be applied chiefly to ctions from sources on which an obtain no satisfactory opin- from earlier work."

In the Courts

In a suit by Samuel O. Siegel and Herbert H. Yudkin against the J. Frank Hatch Enterprises for $25,000 for aiding the defendant to get the films, "Forced to Wed," "The Price Woman Pays," and "Tempest and Sunshine," for the New York City and Northern New Jersey territory, Supreme Court Justice Gavegan has decided that the defendant must testify before trial but need not produce its books.

In the suit of the Universal against Ramm's, Inc., to get possession of 2,900 films alleged to have been obtained improperly by the defendant from Jay M. Mullen, formerly Boston agent for Universal, Supreme Court Justice McAvoy directed Universal to give particulars of the allegations and ruled that Carl Laemmle and Patrick A. Powers must testify before trial in the suit.

Supreme Court Justice McAvoy has set aside the service of papers in a suit of the Film Specials against the Fay Film Co., of Milwaukee, on the ground that Frank Mattison, on whom the papers were served, had resigned as general manager and had merely gone to the office to get his mail. Mattison alleges that the defendant has no office here now.

Gaytis & Mosco of Rome and their New York agent, Constantin Patsios, have been sued in the Supreme Court by the Tyrad Pictures for $15,000 damages. The complaint alleges that on Dec. 2 last the defendants sold them the film, "The Marked Dancer," for the United States, and agreed to deposit the negative of the film as shown to them on a screen in a laboratory for a year in order that the plaintiff might have positive prints made from it. The plaintiff paid $1,000 for the negative but alleges that after many contracts had been made with state rights buyers it was found that the negative deposited differed from that shown, and that the action did not match, the film was made with different cameras, and no positive print could be made like that shown the plaintiff. The complaint alleges that the negative film they got was made of retakes, cut-outs and discards.

Howard Resigns

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—William K. Howard, who has been acting manager of Universal City, has resigned.

Universal City, as noted, is now governed by three commissioners appointed by Carl Laemmle.

King George Honors Tracy

King George of England has made Louis Tracy, the novelist whose works are now being filmed by Gibraltar Pictures, a Commander of the Order of the British Empire.

Invited to Convention

At a meeting of the Fire Prevention Regulations Committee of the National Association an invitation was presented from the National Fire Protection Association to send delegates to the annual meeting of that organization to be held in Chicago May 4th.

The National Association is affiliated with the National Fire Protection Association and was represented at the last annual meeting held in Ottawa.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 EAST FORTY-SECOND STREET
NEW YORK
"1920 IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Daily News says:

"Partners of the Night" held large audiences enthralled as its story of crime and criminals unfolded.

Goldwyn

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

Modern Equipped Studio for Rent, Floor Space, 60 x 150. Terms Most Reasonable in New York.
WEISS
Room 524 1476 Broadway
Bryant 4416

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

KESSEL PRINT WALITY
Nicholas Kessel Laboratory, Inc.
'Phone Fort Lee 221

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

PROMISES ARE CHEAP

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!
Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
Starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

Gets Metro for S. Am.

Glucksmann Secures Entire 1920 Output—Including Nazimova

Jacobo Glucksmann, acting for his brother Max, has just closed contracts which gives him control of the entire Metro output for 1920, for all of South America. The deal includes the Nazimova productions.

Glucksmann previously had the Metro product for a number of South American countries, but he now has rights for the entire continent.

16 Field Men Appointed

The field publicity force of Robertson-Cole is rapidly nearing complete organization.

Already publicity and exploitation men have been placed in 16 cities, as follows: Atlanta, Paul V. Phillips; Boston, Fred Craven; Buffalo, John L. Kelly; Chicago, George DeKruif; Cleveland, Carl Waughtel; Dallas, E. S. Moseley; Denver, Gene Rouse; Detroit, H. T. Snowden; Kansas City, Jos. M. Fieldman; Minneapolis, B. B. Watson; New Orleans, Wm. H. Murphy; New York, Wm. M. Kraft; Philadelphia, David Barrist; San Francisco, J. P. Cotter; St. Louis, Walter H. Ames; Washington, H. P. Mulford.

C. J. Giegerich is in charge of the field forces.

Enforcing Fire Laws in Paducah

Paducah, Ky.—Fire Chief Slaughter has notified exhibitors of the necessity of complying with the fire regulations. The replacement of wooden steps with metal or fireproof material has been ordered.

Waterbury, Conn.—Foti Bros. of New Haven, bought Auditorium form Dr. T. P. Keeley.

ORGANIST

With extensive experience in setting and playing for pictures, desires immediate engagement in first-class house. Pipe organ only. Very large library. Excellent recommendations from past and present employers. Good organ essential. Write or wire

F. W. LESTERLEIGH,
Palm Theatre, Rockford, Ill.

SALES MANAGER AVAILABLE

Now employed. Has A1 reference from present company and good record as successful Branch Manager, Special Representative and Sales Director. Excellent reasons for desiring change. Thoroughly familiar with conditions throughout country.

Address B-65, care WID'S DAILY.

Theater Men Hit

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Law in British Columbia Would Impose 20 Per Cent Tax—All Operations Halted.

Vancouver, B. C.—The British Columbia Legislature now has before it a bill that proposes to levy a tax of 20 per cent of the gross receipts of all amusements.

This particularly applies to motion picture theaters, and will virtually mean the closing of a large number of theaters in the Province. A few years ago the tax was levied on a basis of 10 per cent of the gross, and the exhibitors have been standing this on account of the war expenses of the country.

Several cities and towns have recently asserted they are entitled to a part of this 10 per cent, with the result that the provincial government proposes to double the tax. Practically all of the theaters in the province have been operating at absolutely no profit for a long period of time, and the passing of the measure will cause the loss of millions of dollars to theater owners.

At the present time a number of large theaters are proposed for the city of Vancouver, but all plans on these have been discontinued until the result of the proposed tax measure is seen.

Arthur Beck, of the Orpheum Circuit, controlling a house here, informed his representative here that he would close up if the law became effective. Trans-Canada theaters will not build in Vancouver if the law is passed.

The Allens have a new house practically completed, and Paramount Theaters, Ltd., have a site purchased and plans drawn for a large house. The exhibitors looked for a reduction of the tax rather than an increase, and the proposed ordinance was entirely unexpected.

Executives of film exchanges now operating branches in the city of Vancouver declare that they will close their offices in that city if the law is passed, as there are very few of the branches breaking even at the present time, since there are less than 100 houses in the territory.

First Barrymore Selected

Whitman Bennett's first of the four releases he will produce for First National, starring Lionel Barrymore, will be "The Devil's Garden," from the novel by W. B. Maxwell.

BETTER

Because a National distributing and Producing Organization devotes all of its time, Money and experience to

"COMEDYART"

alone

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

OL. XII No. 20 Tuesday, April 20, 1920 Price 5 Cents

537 Selznick Films

ns for Various Producing Units Completed—More Stars

Lewis J. Selznick states that be-en now and this time next year, subjects will be produced and dis-uted by the various Selznick or-izations.

This includes 116 star series pic-es and specials, 416 short reel sub-ts, 4 Republic serials and a pos-le Republic star series are on the gram. There will be 40 of the r series, including the Olive omas, Elaine Hammerstein, Eu-e O'Brien and Owen Moore pro-ctions, William Faversham, Louise iff and Hobart Henley productions. all probability there will also be eral productions by from two to re new stars whose names will be r more new stars whose names l be announced later. These will released by Select.

There will be 12 Selznick specials be released through Select, which cludes the Ralph Ince Prod. velve Select specials will be re-sed, besides 26 pictures produced National.

Fifty-two Herbert Kaufman Week-s are to be released through Select d 26 specials are to be released rough Republic, which will release 4 Kinogram news weeklies and 52 e-reel comedies.

The Selznick News Reel will be stributed through Select and 104 els wil be turned out. There will so be 104 Prizma releases through elect. A new series of 12 Prizmas ill soon be ready and by next Au-ust or September a series of Prizma ve-reel dramatic productions will be nounced for 1921.

"Connie" Will Be in Chicago

Constance Talmadge will accom-any her sister Norma and Joseph M. Schenck to the First National onvention to be held in Chicago.

nter-Ocean Plans Western Offices

Inter-Ocean Film Corp. has decid-d to open offices in Los Angeles, ortland and San Francisco to han-le accessories.

Eugene H. Kaufman, manager of he Accessory Department, left for he coast Sunday to establish the ffices.

Triangle Deal On

A deal is now pending whereby rank G. Hall may assume control f the Triangle product and ex-hanges in the manner formerly held y United Pictures.

Hall said yesterday that he knew nothing about the matter.

Drugged, she fell at his feet, and he carried her to a hidden chamber that his wife might be free to search for the jewels—Katherine MacDonald in "Passion's Playground," from the novel, "The Guests of Hercules," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Traverse Quits Fox

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Madlaine Traverse states she has severed her connections with Fox Film. She states that her plans are indefinite at present but that she is going to take a long vacation before considering any film proposition.

An official of Fox who did care to be quoted stated he believed the above report to be true.

Bill Withdrawn

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Albany, N. Y.—Opposition which has developed relative to the proposed law permitting children between 10 and 16 to attend picture theaters in New York City unaccompanied by parents or guardians, has resulted in the bill being withdrawn.

"The Silver Horde," Rex Beach-Goldwyn, has been booked for the Capitol May 9.

Deposit Bill Dead?

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Albany, N. Y.—Although the bill which was aimed to protect the motion picture exhibitors relative to deposits and advance money on rental of films has been amended so that it will apply exclusively to films it is not believed that the measure will pass.

The bill is now in the Assembly Rules Committee and it will probably remain there.

Saxe Gets Strand

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Milwaukee—Thomas Saxe, owner of the First National franchise for Milwaukee, has purchased the Strand of this city. This gives Saxe three of the most prominent downtown theaters in Milwaukee, the Strand Alhambra and Princess.

Pathe will release the Gaspier serial, "The Third Eye," starring Wanda Oland and Eileen Percy M..

Several Hundred

Exhibitors Promise to Work With Patterson for Defense.

A permanent national organization of independent exhibitors, created as a defense body against invasions of producer-exhibitors into the theater field, is the expressed wish of several hundred exhibitors who have sent written and telegraphic response to the call by Willard C. Patterson manager of Sig Samuel's Criterion Theater of Atlanta, Ga., and President of the Southeastern Theater Managers' Asso., for a national mass meeting of independent theater owners at the Hotel Congress next Monday, April 26.

Evolution of the mass meeting into an enduring Exhibitors' Defense League will, according to Patterson be the result of a fast crystallizing determination by independent theater owners, and which, he declares, far exceeds his original belief of the national exhibitor realization of the danger of a producer-exhibitor invasion to give country-wide unity and strength to a formal demand for a show down, and to back up that demand with a permanent centralization of independent exhibitor opinion in direct opposition to it.

To Vote on Sunday Shows

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Baltimore—Governor Ritchie has approved the Iverson bill which permits the voters of Baltimore to pass on the question of opening picture theaters on Sunday after 2 P. M. The vote will be taken at the next regular election in November.

Goldwyn Quoted

(By cable)

London, Eng. — The Evening Standard quotes Samuel Goldwyn to the extent of nearly a column regarding his views on production etc.

ALICOATE

An Opinion

"A well-organized producing plant is bound to produce, in the long run, better and more finished motion pictures than the independent producer can begin to create." So says Frank E. Woods, supervising director, West Coast Studio, Famous Players-Lasky, adding: "A director turned independent producer is something like the author turned publisher. When authors have insisted on being their own publishers, the result nearly always has been failure. Mark Twain's efforts along that line furnish the most historic instance."

Film men—Join the VOYAGERS ... TO THE WILEY, he's Captain. — Adv't.

Wid's DAILY

Vol. XII No. 20 Tues. April 20, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels 6th Floor. Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	83	83⅞	83⅞
do pfd.	91	91	91
Goldwyn	24⅛	24½	24½
Loew's, Inc.	33¼	34	33¾
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod...	6	6¼	6
World Film	¼	¼	¼

Next Week at Rivoli-Rialto

The Rivoli next week will play Irene Castle in "The Amateur Wife" and the Rialto, Houdini in "Terror Island."

Masterpiece Reorganizes

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cincinnati, O.—Masterpiece Films have reorganized and will now distribute one picture monthly.

A number of films have already been acquired for this territory including "Once to Every Man," "Sky Eye," "The House Without Children," the Jans productions with Olive Tell and the Vivian Martin-Gaumont film, "Frivolous Wives."

DON'T PAY

More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4530

Action

Ernest Shipman
New York, N. Y.

Wid's Daily,
New York City.
Dear Mr. Dannenberg:

On April 15th you inserted an ad. for me calling for owner or agent of the French productions in which Fannie Ward was starred. Twenty minutes after Wid's Daily was laid on my desk I got a phone call from the person who has purchased the American rights to these pictures and in another thirty minutes we had a conference in regard to them.

Permit me to congratulate you on the efficiency of your service for quick-fire action in this village.

Very truly yours,
ERNEST SHIPMAN.

Putting It Over

Minneapolis, Minn.—In towns where exhibitors are provided with local news service, an idea originated by Julius K. Johnson of the Garrick will in many cases prove practicable and profitable.

During the run of Anita Stewart in "The Fighting Shepherdess," Johnson assembled 35 boys, representing the basketball squad of the University of Minnesota and had them filmed. The pictures were held up until the annual banquet given the team, and following the reception, the boys were invited to see themselves at the theater. During the week he had 35 publicity agents spreading the news, arousing local interest and boosting patronage.

Goldwyn Has Post Comedies

Goldwyn officially announced yesterday the acquisition of the "Buddy" Post comedies produced by National Film. National Film anounced this several weeks ago.

Sunset, Portland, to Be Razed

Portland, Ore.—The Sunset, the oldest picture house here, has been leased by a concern which will raze it and erect a store and office building on the site.

Prizma Cameramen Return

Otto C. Gilmore and Charles Raleigh, European producers of Prizma pictures with offices in Paris, who went to the Sahara Desert to secure material, have returned to the United States with much unusual stuff.

Prinz Opens Pittsburgh Exchange

Pittsburgh, Pa.—J. J. Prinz has opened an exchange at 100 Fourth Ave., and will distribute features as well as single reelers.

Ezell Selects Division Manager

C. C. Ezell has been appointed Southern Division manager of Select with headquarters in Dallas, where he was formerly branch manager.

Pathe May Releases

Pathe will release in May Frank Keenan in "Dollar for Dollar"; "The Miracle of Money," Hobart Henley Prod.; "Sherry," Edgar Lewis Prod., and one other not yet listed.

Simmons Head of Missoula Co.

Seattle, Wash.—W. A. Simmons has been named president and Henry Turner manager of the Missoula Amusement Co., which operates a chain in Montana and Idaho.

Fred Schaefer
(Vitagraph)
Continuity & Titles
Continuity: "The Sea Rider."
Titles: "Dollars and the Woman," "The Sea Rider," "The Silent Avenger" (Serial).

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

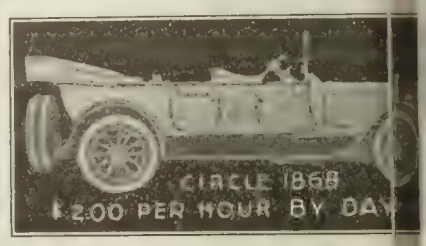
Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
460 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:
The San Francisco Daily News says:
"Pauline Frederick's 'The Woman in Room 13' is one of the best pictures that has come this way in a long time."

Goldwyn

God helps him who hel himself,—which may a count for the success the users of RITCHE posters.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 83
Ritchey



Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling Systen
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New Yorl

We Are Experts

We modestly admit it—but it's the truth. Twenty years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture industry have given our staff a thorough knowledge of YOUR problems. Our advice on insurance problems is yours for the asking and we are as close to you as your phone.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

THIS IS YOUR FIGHT

A show down at the Hotel Congress, Chicago, on Monday, April 26, with the Producer-Exhibitors who are buying and building theatres to compete with us.

Don't depend on the other independent exhibitors to do your fighting for you. Be there yourself, to take care of your own interest.

You've got to be there — Hotel Congress, Chicago, Monday, April 26.

Wire me "I'll Be There"

WILLARD C. PATTERSON
Manager, Criterion Theatre, Atlanta, Ga.
President, Southeastern Theatre Managers' Assn.

THE BULLETIN

WATCH FOR IT
NO TWO ALIKE

EVERY DAY

Wallace Mac Donald

Grier Owns Diamond

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Jack Grier is now the sole owner of the Diamond Film Co., having bought out the interests of his associates.

Faversham on Single Booking Plan

Selznick will release the William Faversham productions on the single booking plan. "The Man Who Lost Himself" is his next release.

Charles Steele is now controller or chief auditor of Selznick. He was formerly auditor for World and Republic.

The next of the "Bringing Up Father" two reelers starring Johnny Ray is scheduled for release by Pathe on May 16.

Incorporations

Montreal, Quebec—Patricia Photoplayers, Ltd. Capital. $1,000,000. A. Reynolds Allison, Maurice R. Coste and William C. Smith.

Albany, N. Y.—Schine Theatrical Co. Capital, $150,000. J. Myer Schine, Louis W. Schine and Edward M. Byrne.

Changes in Pathe Force

Buffalo—C. A. "Buck" Taylor has resigned as manager of the Pathe exchange after two years' service.

J. E. Kimberly is now branch manager here.

Portland, Ore.—M. G. Winsbock is now manager for Pathe here. He was a member of the sales force.

TO LET

Office, Vault and Shipping Room space suitable for exchange. Also film storage. Prominent film building. Phone Greeley 5842.

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

TITLE SERVICE
ARTISTIC ILLUSTRATING
HAND LETTERING
PERFECT NEGATIVES
ERNEST STERN
145 WEST 45TH ST.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Wayne 621-2

SIMPLE SOULS

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!
Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

JACK COOPER
Featured in
Fox Sunshine Comedies
"Money Talks"
"Virtuous Husbands"
"Dablin in Society"
"Footlight Maids"
"Schoolhouse Scandal"
"The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"The Heart Snatcher"
"The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"
Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

YOU CAN
Get along with only one Projection Machine - - -
And, you CAN get along without
"COMEDYART"
BUT WHY
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

ie BRADSTREET
f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 21 Wednesday, April 21, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Sailing May 12

Pickford and Fairbanks Set ate—Will Have New Films Completed by that Time.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

s Angeles—A tentative date, 12, has been set for the sailing ary Pickford and Douglas Fair- s for Europe.

present Miss Pickford is work- n "Hop o' My Thumb" and Fair- s in "The Mollycoddle."

ited Artists local office did not anything about the above re-re is some speculation as to ner the departure for Europe ary and "Doug" will affect the ing schedule of United Artists.

United Meeting Postponed

e directors of United Artists were scheduled to hold their an- meeting yesterday afternoon postponed the meeting until Tuesday.

was exclus ively announced in ublication last week that Hiram ms would be elected president, eding Oscar Price.

am Abrams is at present in Los les.

Barrymore With R. C.

e first Ethel Barrymore product- or Tri-Star Pictures Corp. will listributed through Robertson

HICAGO SPECIAL

WID'S DAILY will ublish and distribute om Chicago a special lition April 27-30 in- usive.

This special issue will ver fully and com- etely report the im- rtant exhibitor plans well as matters per- ining to the Associated irst National Theaters, ic. meeting.

Advertising forms will ose Saturday, April 24.

"You beautiful Devil! You wrecked my life once, and you have come back to try it again."—Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon," from the novel by Harold MacGrath. A First National attraction—Louis B. Mayer made.—Advt.

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week

The following illustrates how the leading Broadway theaters presented their programs this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

CAPITOL

The Capitol program includes as its important features "Alias Jimmy Valentine," the Metro feature, and another performance of the opera, "Pagliacci." "Pagliacci" went very well at this house several weeks ago and its revival brings no uncertain appreciation from the audience. The feature is one of the best the Capitol has shown and goes big. The bill also includes a new Booth Tarkington comedy, "Edgar's Hamlet." This is exceptionally well made and carries a big comedy and human appeal. The usual news, travel and scenic pictures complete the pictorial part of the program, while the overture is Rossini's "William Tell."

STRAND

Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry" is the highest spot on the Strand bill this week. A matinee audience was kept in a continual state of laughter during its run. The bill opens with "Morning, Noon and Night," a Suppe overture. The review, longer than usual, follows. Mal-

(Continued on Page 2)

Loew-Picker Deal

Gives Former Four Important Houses in Fox and Moss Territory

A deal was closed yesterday whereby the Loew Enterprises took over the four theaters owned and operated by David Picker-the Rio on upper Broadway, the Spooner, Elsmere and Victory in the Bronx. The Burland formerly owned by Picker was sold last year to Loew.

This is the most important deal made in months affecting local theaters, and second only to the Moss-Famous Players deal which was subsequently called off.

The deal is of far reaching importance inasmuch as it indicates the Loew intention of invading the field which heretofore has been considered Moss,, Fox and Sydney Cohen territory. Cohen has the Empire, Bronx Strand, McKinley Square, Tremont and Moss the Hamilton, and the new one he is building at 181st street. Fox operates the Audubon and the Washington in this neighborhood as well.

When asked about the deal David Picker said. "Whatever statement Mr. Loew cares to make will be alright as far as I am concerned."

Marcus Loew's office confirmed the details of the deal as outlined above.

The Theater Owner's Chamber of Commerce met yesterday at a regular meeting at the Astor when the Picker attitude on the Loew-Metro question was discussed fully.

The meeting was a closed one but it is understood that the members of the chamber were indignant at Picker for the stand he took.

William Brandt, president of the chamber stated that the letter which Richard A Rowland of Metro stated he would send and which was a carbon of the Picker letter to Metro had not been received by the chamber.

Brandt intimated that Picker's attitude was assumed because of the fact that sale of his theaters to Loew was pending at the time he objected to the chamber's opposition regarding the use of Loew's name on Metro productions.

Mr. Rowland at Metro stated last night that his communication to the chamber had been held up and that it had been placed in the mails late. He stated it should be received by this morning.

Julian Here

Rupert Julian, director, is in town stopping at the Astor. He is here to make arrangements for future productions of his own.

Western Producers—Eastern Representative Get SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 21 Wed. April 21, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	79	81	79
*do pfd	91	91	91
*Goldwyn	24½	24¼	24½
Loew's Inc.	32½	34	32½
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod.	4	5¼	½
World Film	¼	¼	¼

*Tuesday's quotations.

Exchange Changes

Minneapolis—S. B. Rahn, formerly with Famous Players exchange, has joined Robertson-Cole.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
489 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

"Pauline Frederick proves in 'The Woman in Room 13' that she has no peer as an emotional actress."

Goldwyn

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 1)

colm McEachern, basso, renders "Bells of St. Mary" and then follows the feature. Another vocal number has next position on the bill and a short scenic and a Jerry cartoon conclude. The usual two reel comedy is omitted because of the general lightness of the feature.

RIALTO

Charles Ray and Charles Chaplin share honors on the Rialto's anniversary program, the former being seen in his latest Ince picture, "Paris Green," the latter in a reissue of "The Pawnshop." The features balance well inasmuch as the Ray picture leans further to pathos than usual. One of the novelties that is making the crowds sit up and take notice is a special sculptured conceit showing Director Hugo Reisenfield leading the orchestra from the screen. Ths is followed by other "Sculptored Impressions of Musical Personages," a Lyman H. Howe novelty. After a bar or two of a certain celebrity's music is flashed on the screen a lump of clay is shown taking shape in bust form of the composer. With the orchestra playing the appropriate music this goes exceedingly well. Cecil De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife" is advertised in the magazine, a number of scenes accompanied by their epigrammatical subtitles being shown. This is certainly a good way of arousing interest in the picture, but no mention is made of the Criterion theater where the picture is booked to open. The balance of the program includes Liszt's "Sixth Hungarian Rhapsody" as the overture, the "Rigoletto" quartette and the concluding organ solo.

BROADWAY

Three numbers, each calculated to prove an attraction at the box office, are offered at this house this week in a varied program. Hope Hampton in "A Modern Salome" is the principal feature, with Charles Chaplin, Marie Dressler and Mabel Normand in a revival of "Tillie's Punctured Romance," presenting a distinct contrast to the former. In addition, William B. Friedlander's musical act, "Cave Man Love," with Billy Rhodes occupying the principal role, is offered to those who like reviews, and from all appearances there are many. This portion of the program has been presented on the Keith circuit. In addition, there are the usual Topical eview and "Topics of the Day," while as an overture, the orchestra renders Suppe's familiar "Light Cavalry."

RIVOLI

After an absence of quite some time William S. Hart returns to Broadway this week as the feature of the Rivoli program. It's a real Hart picture, but the manner in which it was received indicates that the "good, bad man" is still among "those present" in the list of favorites.

The bill is a long one, consisting of nine numbers, two by the Rivoli orchestra: "Maritana," the opening selection, and "Toymaker's Workshop," a novelty bit from "Babes in Toyland." Betty Andersen sang "Little Gray Home in the West," which was supplied with an appropriate setting, and Frederick Thompson sang "Joy."

The picture entertainment included a Bruce Scenic, "Falling Waters," Rivoli Pictorial, Fox Sunshine comedy, "Training Four Husbands." The organ solo was "Fanfare."

Rita Weiman Writing for F. P.-L.

Hollywood—Rita Weiman, author of 'The Acquittal," and other stage plays, is engaged at the Lasky studios on a special feature. William DeMille will produce it as a special production.

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

ORGANIST

With extensive experience in setting and playing for pictures, desires immediate engagement in first-class house. Pipe organ only. Very large library. Excellent recommendations from past and present employers. Good organ essential. Write or wire
F. W. LESTERLEIGH.
Palm Theatre, Rockford, Ill.

Competition

Minneapolis — The Aud ri managed by Charles G. Bran m showing United Artists attr ti The opening week "Pollyann the bill and the Shubert stoc co pany presented "Pollyanna" as stage production. The secon w the Fairbanks feature "Wh Clouds Roll By" was shown id Shuberts presented "As the il Roll By" by W. J. McNally, a ne paper man, as a stage producti.

Burton Holmes to Enter in Burton Holmes will enter in number of film men about to night. Harry H. Buxbau Lichtman and others will be p Holmes promises not to lectur

In actual ticket sales t RITCHEY poster yiel greater returns than a other advertising inves ment that it is possible make.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1781 BROADWAY
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

SIMPLE SOULS

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street Philadelphia, Pa.
64 W. Randolph Chicago,

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
ALLAN A. LOWNES GEN. MGR.

athé News

NO. 32

M BEACH, FLA.—The trans-oceanic nger plane "Big Fish starts on its 1200 flight to the North.
MINGHAM, ALA—"Tide" sweaps na- men in all walks of life don the blue n in effort to combat high cost of cloth-

E, ITALY—Honor memory of first of Unified Italy--vast throngs celebrate birth anniversary of Victor Emmanuel

T WILLIAM, CANADA—Dynamite way for ship--the tug "Strathmore" es her way to port as heavy charges namite blow holes in cie.
LIN, GERMANY—Rounding up mon- st plotters--after quelling of the recent , Ebert government organizes "Safety " to protect against any further out- s.
Public demonstrations or large gath- s of any kind are closely watched by olice.
Street orators are barred till the Re- an Government isagain firmly re- lished.
Stores and dwellings are searched for plotters.
NGSTOWN, OHIO—Round the rim wo wheels! "Zip" performs thrilling s he rides bicycle on a 3-foot edge atop tory building.
THE LIMELIGHT—To settle labor tes--members of Labor Board named by President gather to discuss railroad adjustments.
H. T. Hunt, chairman of the Board.
New Government in Guatemala! Presi- Estrada Cabrera, who has been seized volutionists after complete surrender.
New British ambassador to U. S.--Sir land Geddes arrives here as successor scount Grey.
TTLE, WASH.—Four die in hotel fire thers are missing and twenty injured as g blaze, starting at night, destroys big

TING IT FROM ALL SIDES—An ted cartoon by Bert Green.

today

Jose to Direct Farrar

lward Jose will direct Geraldine ar for Associated Exhibitors,

Goldwyn Gets Roseland

is understood that Goldwyn has red the Roseland at Broadway 51st St., now occupied as a dance and for offices. In view of the that the building faces Broad- 7th Ave. and 51st St., it was said erday that it would make an ideal for a theater.
Goldwyn official, however, when d about it, said that the report "absurd."

an Loan to Write for Hampton

. H. Van Loan has entered into ntract with Hope Hampton Pro- ions whereby he is to receive, in tion to a flat payment for sto- 5 per cent of the picture's gross ipts over $100,000. This is ght to be the first percentage ract made between a picture pro- r and a screen author.
les Brulatour, who is interested e Hampton company, could not eached, but his office verified the e.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Putting on an inexpensive prelude when he ran Marshall Neilan's "The River's End," Julius H. Johnson, manager of the New Garrick, gave the people cause for discussion.

A borrowed Alaskan carryall, a sketched piece of beaver board and some electric devices were employed to furnish a spectacle that invariably drew applause. He had some igloos sketched upon the board and when the scene opened, deep blue lights played upon the stage. These brightened and occasional flashes of an Aurora Borealis combined with other light effects made an impression upon the spectators.

Richmond, Va.—Employing only newspaper advertising in addition to a lobby display, Ned Finley of the Broadway secured splendid results with D. W. Griffith's "The Idol Dancer" by combining the presentation of that production with a vaudeville act.

A troupe of six Hawaiians, including a Hula dancer who resembled Clarine Seymour, star in the production, was slated to appear. With every picture of Miss Seymour was a note, "Here in Person."

Special emphasis was laid on dancing in all advertising and the Hawaiian trope was to sing and display the Terpsichorean art during the running of the film. It took a long while for the office staff to count up the shekels after that, for although the shimmy is quite a thriller, they have not forgotte nthat the hula hula carries a big punch also.

Lila Lee Sues Mrs. Gus Edwards

Chicago, Ill.—Lila Lee, in private life Augusta Appel, has filed in the Circuit Court, through her father Carl Appel, an application for an injunction restraining Famous Players from paying any more of her earnings to Mrs. Gus Edwards.

Another one of the objects of the suit is to ascertain the amount of her earnings with the organization which it is claimed neither she nor her father knows. Mrs. Edwards, who has directed Miss Lee's stage career since she was five years old, is here and will contest the suit.

Admission Taxes $6,713,993

Washington, D. C.—Figures from the Internal Revenue Bureau show that tax collections for January totalled $6,713,993, as compared with $4,294,573 for January, 1919. Collections for eight months ending with February show a total of $41,236,658, an increase of $16,152,770 over the corresponding period the previous year, when the total was $25,083,887.

Lewis Coming East

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Edgar Lewis will leave for the East shortly with a completed print of "Lahoma" which will [illegible] Pathe.

When Does Missouri Believe?

HENRIK IBSEN
AND MACK SENNETT!

Red Letter Day in the History of Broadway

Famous Masterpiece of Henrik Ibsen

"A MAN THERE WAS"

Starring the Great American Actor

VICTOR SEASTROM

Acclaimed in Europe "Prince of the Screen"

Together with the Five-Reel Riotous Triumph of MACK SENNETT'S SUPER-PRODUCTION

"DOWN ON ON THE FARM"

Will be Released Sunday, April 25th
To Run for Two Weeks at

B. S. Moss Broadway Theatre
Broadway at 41st Street

TERRITORY NOW SELLING

FOR

"A MAN THERE WAS"

APPLY

RADIOSOUL FILMS, Inc.
1400 Broadway New York

Mr. DIRECTOR
Mr. PRODUCER
Mr. EXHIBITOR
Miss STAR

WATCH THIS CORNER
EVERY DAY
FOR THREE WEEKS
Watch for YOUR name and

Wallace
Mac Donald

Bill Defeated

Ben Blumenthal of Export and Import yesterday received a cable from his Berlin office that the proposed bill in the Berlin Reichstag seeking to nationalize picture theaters in Germany has been defeated.

The first information regarding this proposed move was received by WID'S DAILY cable last week.

Vidor Building

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—King Vidor, now producing for First National, expects to have his studio finished in about five weeks. The studio will be on Santa Monica Blvd. near the Jesse Hampton plant, and is on a five acre lot. The buildings will be planned to represent a New England village with a court house, village school, etc. Total cost expected to reach 100,000.

AT LIBERTY—Manager with 14 years' experience in moving picture business. Have managed exchanges, theaters and road shows. Will go anywhere. Sober, reliable, best references, business producer. Christian, care Wid's, 71 West 44th St., N. Y. City.

KESSEL PRINT WALITY

Nicholas Kessel Laboratory, Inc.
'Phone Fort Lee 221

First Klaw Star?

Louis Bennison Reported as Having Signed—No Confirmation Locally.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Louis Bennison, who formerly appeared on the Goldwyn program, has been signed by Klaw and Erlanger under a five year contract.

Bennison will appear on the stage and after the run of each is expected to appear in film versions of the plays. Klaw Pictures, Inc., were recently formed in the East.

Marc Klaw was out of town yesterday and in his absence no one cared to comment on the above dispatch.

The first three of the Herbert Kaufman editorials scheduled for release by Selznick, respectively, "A Good Fellow," "Content" and "Pity the Poor," will be released in order on May 10, 17 and 24.

Promises are Cheap

White Paper is Scarce

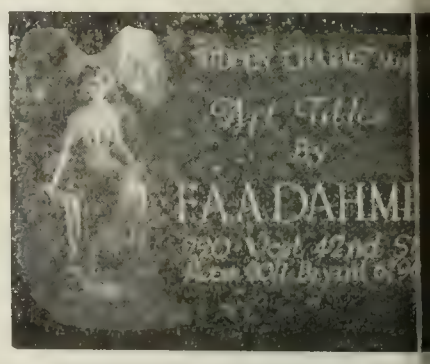
"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A 'PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

GEORGES CARPENTIER
AND HIS
MILLION DOLLAR SMILE
COMING IN A GREAT AMERICAN SOCIETY DRAMA PICTURIZED BY . . . . . .
JOHN G. ADOLFI

ROBERTSON-COLE SUPER-SPECIAL

SIMPLE SOULS



IT'S TRUE

There are a lot of short subjects on the market, but - - - - - - -

There are very few good ones.

"COMEDYART"

is good and we are willing to prove it - - Write us.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!
Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

? BRADSTREET FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 22 Thursday, April 22, 1920 Price 5 Cents

rederick Signs

From Goldwyn to Robertson-Cole When Present Contract Expires.

line Frederick, regarding whose affiliation there has been some ation, has been signed by Rob--Cole to appear in a series of l productions for that company.

Goldwyn Statement

t Pauline Frederick is being re- from her contract with the yn Pictures Corporation was nced by officials of that Com- yesterday.

announcement adds: No break pleasant relations between the nd the producer has occurred, he Goldwyn Company is em- in its expression of the satis- n and profit which have come gh Miss Frederick's services Goldwyn. The company how- is now engaged in producing a of powerful pictures, and have cts for others which will be put ork in the next few months.

tern, Universal Treasurer

Stern, secretary and treasurer L-Ko company which produces ow and Century comedies for rsal and a brother-in-law of Laemmle has been made trea- of Universal succeeding P. A. s. Stern continues in his ca- with L-Ko.

"He is coming. When I overpower him, you steal the secret papers."—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction, Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

HICAGO SPECIAL

WID'S DAILY will blish and distribute m Chicago a special ition April 27-30 in- sive.

This special issue will ver fully and com- tely report the im- rtant exhibitor plans well as matters per- ning to the Associated rst National Theaters, c. meeting.

Advertising forms will se Saturday, April 24.

Japs in Combine

Los Angeles—Two picture producing corporations of $10,000,000 each have recently been formed in Japan and hundreds of theaters are being built in that country, according to a statement made by Dr. Iwaho Tsuchiya, physician to the Mikado, during a visit to the Famous Players plant to secure ideas and suggestions for his government.

Oakman With First National?
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—The Times says that Wheeler Oakman has been signed by First National to appear in a series of productions. Oakman just married Priscilla Dean.

Local First National offices had nothing to say on the above matter yesterday. Sol Lesser's office, however announced that Oakman had been placed under long-term contract with Lesser and that nothing was known about distribution.

W. Va. Circuit

Huntington, W. Va.—The Lyric Amusement Co. has plans under way for the formation of a chain of picture houses which will be under direction of C. E. Tipton. It is planned to develop a circuit which will eventually have 21 theaters.

First National Meeting

Officially opening the First National Exhibitors' Circuit convention of 1920, the Board of Directors for First National convened here in order to meet the requirements of the State's corporate laws. First National's New York State charter requires that its sessions be opened in this state. The meeting was adjourned to Chicago, at the Congress Hotel, next Monday morning. The following were in attendance: A. H. Blank, Des Moines; J. G. Von Herberg, Seattle, Wash.; Fred Dahnken, San Francisco; Col. Fred Levy, Louisville, Ky.; M. H. Finkelstein, Minneapolis; H. O. Schwalbe, Philadelphia; J. D. Williams, New York, and E. B. Johnson, San Francisco.

Split With Cohen?

Exhibitor Organizations Claimed By "U" Industrial Dep't— Previously With New York League

Harry Levey, general manager of the Industrial Department Universal, returned yesterday from a trip to the Middle West.

A conference with western exhibitors at the Hotel Winton, Cleveland, Levey stated, resulted in a complete understanding between Levey and the exhibitors in regard to Universal Industrial distribution.

The association represented at the Cleveland conference and who become parties to the Universal-Exhibitor agreement were, according to Levey.

Miami Valley Exhibitors' Assn., Ohio, Kentucky, West Virginia, Indiana; John Seifert, president.

Cleveland Exhibitors' Assn., H. H. Lustig, president; Sam Bullock, secretary; W. J. Slim, treasurer.

American Exhibitors' Assn., of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, Fred Herrington.

Kansas City Exhibitors' Association. Michigan Exhibitors' Association. St. Louis Exhibitors' Association. Northwest Exhibitors' Circuit.

Other state and district associations represented announced the intention of booking Universal pictures on the direct payment plan, Levey said.

The Miami Valley League, the Cleveland exhibitors and the Pennsylvania exhibitors are known definitely to have allied themselves with the Sydney Cohen organization for industrial distribution: The M. P. Theater Owners of America. There has been considerable talk that these organizations were dissatisfied with the way in which Cohen lived up to his agreement with them and that releasing schedule mapped out had not been lived up to.

Sydney Cohen was in Albany yesterday and no one could be reached at the office of the Exhibitors' League in the Times Bldg. for a statement as to how this move would affect the M. P. Theater Owners ofAmerica.

Zukor and Brady Due

Adolph Zukor of Famous Players is due in New York to-day aboard the Mauretania. William A. Brady is on the same boat.

Callaghan Coming East

Los Angeles—Andrew J. Callaghan, head of the producing organization starring Bessie Love, is leaving for New York to confer with his Eastern representatives on additional screen vehicles for his star.

For special "TIE UP" work,
Use SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 22 Thurs. April 22, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	77	79	77
*do pfd	91	91	91
* Goldwyn	24½	24¼	24½
Loew's Inc.	31	33	31
Triangle	7-16	⅜	7-16
Unit. Pict. Prod.	3¾	4	4½
World Film	¼	¼	¼

*Tuesday's quotations.

Canyon Has "Vanishing Trails"

Canyon Pictures are releasing on the state right plan "Vanishing Trails."

Jensen-Von Herberg Plan Another

Portland, Ore.—A house costing $850,000 and seating 3,000 is planned by Jensen and Von Herberg on the Majestic corner. They have a lease on the property for eight years more, but are negotiating for a new lease for 50 years.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Examiner says:

"'The Silver Horde' has remarkable scenes and a story alive with natural Northern experience entirely along line of actual happenings and not for a moment out of probability."

Goldwyn

Incorporations

Albany, N. Y.—The New York Exchange for Educational Films, Manhattan. Capital, $100,000. Directors, Earle W. Hammons, George A. Skinner and Harry G. Kosch, 729 Seventh Ave., New York City. Attorney, Harry G. Kosch, 1476 Broadway.

Albany, N. Y.—Sumner Charles Britton, Inc., Manhattan. Capital, $100,000. Directors, Orpha Emily Britton, William Adams and Julius Goldsmith, 800 Riverside Drive, New York City. Attorneys, House, Grossman & Vorhaus.

Albany, N. Y.—Cine-Plant, Inc., New Rochelle, N. Y. Capital, $25,000. Directors, Michael Doherty, James K. McGuire and Andrew J. Harte, Dillon Heights, New Rochelle. Attorney, Gregory Dillon, 472 Main St., New Rochelle.

Albany, N. Y.—Brunswick Film Corp., Manhattan. Capital, $100,000. Directors, James Currie, Jr., H. F. Parmelee and Edward L. Parker, 120 Broadway, New York City. Attorney, C. P. Northrup, 31 Nassau St., New York.

Albany, N. Y.—Climax Film Corp., Manhattan. Capital, $50,000. Directors, Morris Vanbergh, Jacob H. Friedenwald and Aaron H. Schwarz, Great Northern Hotel, New York City. Attorney, Aaron H. Schwarz, 87 Nassau St.

Radin Sells "Real Star Dramas"

Radin Pictures have sold the series of "Real Star Dramas" to the Southeastern Film Co. of Atlanta for Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Virginia and North and South Carolina.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Waterbury, Conn.—With Jack Dempsey in "Daredevil Jack" at the Strand, Manager Sellman decided that a fistic prologue would fit neatly into the scheme of things, and very promptly engaged Buddy Faulkes. Outside of this town the aspiring youth may not be known, but here they have a great deal of faith in Buddy, and when he appeared in an exhibition bout before the serial went on with a sparring partner much interest was aroused. A large audience watched Faulkes and his friend shatter the atmosphere and thump each other a few times and then watched Dempsey knock 'em dead on the screen.

Cooper Criterior Manager

Max Cooper, now chief usher at the Rivoli, has been appointed resident manager of the Criterion, which will open Saturday noon.

Dooley Seeking Material

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Syracuse, N. Y.—Thomas W. Dooley, general manager, and George E. Scherrer, president of Dooley Exchange, Inc., will be at the Hotel Astor, New York, April 27-30, looking for material.

Rob Wagner, Saturday Evening Post writer, has made his first two scenarios for Charles Ray to be used as future screen material. The scripts will also be made into stories for magazine use.

Albany Exhibitors Consoli

Albany, Ala.—H. B. Cag Louis Rosenbaum have merge interests in four houses here Decatur, namely, the Star, Masonic and Princess. The is to save by co-operation ex the purchase of film and redu admission rates.

Asher Reports Big Busin

E. M. Asher, Mack Sennett sonal representative, wires "Down on the Farm" played t at the Kinema, Los Angeles, o day, which breaks the house by $700 for a Sunday. Ash states that the picture played t perial, San Francisco, last w $12,000. The film is now pla second week there.

Sterling Buys "Tillie"

Omaha, Neb.—Sterling Film has purchased "Tillie's Pun Romance" for Iowa and Nebra

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!
Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
"Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

"The Safety Sign"

"Insurance Of All Kinds"

Reuben Samuels Insurance

The exhibitor wants t finest posters attainabl
The RITCHEY LITH
CORP. MAKE THE
It is simply a question getting together.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

BLANCHE SWE
who starred in the "Deadlier Sex," her purchases here. Better give us when you need a selection of the records.

Bill Richardson

RICHARDS
607 West Seventh St

Victrolas and Grafonol
Phone 64955 Opp. Rob
Los Angeles, Calif.

SIMPL
SOUL

ırr Sells "Torchy"

es of 12 Comedies to go Through Educational Exchanges harles C. Burr has sold to Edu- onal Films the first 12 "Torchy" edies. The comedies are from ell Ford's series of Torchy ies that have been appearing in newspapers of the United States Canada for the last ten years. he star in the film stories is iny Hines. In addition to the ılar publicity issued by Educa- al, Burr will maintain for Master ıs, Inc. an exploitation staff of own to co-operate with exhibitors. second comedy is now being luced under the working title of Knight for a Night."

Wanger With F. P.-L.

Valten Wanger has become asso- ed with Famous Players as spe- representative of the production artment. In 1917 Wanger pre- ed Nazimova in "'Ception als."

"Star" Box in New Theater os Angeles—One of the innova- s of the new $3,000,000 theater ch First National will erect here be a "star" box which will be ilable to the star whose picture is ning at the theater.

Must Ship Films With Care

Vashington, D. C.—The Post Of- Department has issued orders to effect that more care be exercised the sending of film. Complaints e been received from several rces on the ground that shows been missent.

Mayflower's production of Robert Chambers' "Athalie" includes in- or views of the Millionaires' Club Fifth Ave. and 60th St.

essie Levine, formerly assistant nager of Metro's New York Ex- nge, is now maanger of the Fa- us Pictures Sales Co.

New Theaters

House Being Erected

Newport, Ark.—O. F. and Roy M. Craig building Royal, $7,000, to open in April.

Houses Completed

Pauls Valley, Okla.—Hamly opened recently.

Dierks, Ark.—Spad opened.

Fairfax, Okla.—Mrs. William Moore bought Rex.

Beggs, Okla.—Brown and Cornett bought Empress from L. E. Bilbro.

Providence, R. I.—Henry McMahon is building on Quidnick St.

Pasadena, Cal.—Raymond, $500,000 2,000 is in the course of construction.

Stanwood, Wash.—Oscar Ruth.$40,000.

Endicott, Wash.—R. R. Hutchison opened house.

Anacortes, Wash.—Rex, W. G. Adams, 450, opened.

Milwaukee, Wis.—Riviera, Joseph J. Schwartz, opened.

Torrington, Conn.—Ross C. Cabol building.

Charleston, S. C.—E. N. Rose to build.

Another First Run

Los Angeles—Sol Lesser and the Gore Brothers will erect a large first run house here.

"The Silent Barrier" first of the Louis Tracy novels to be filmed by Louis Tracy Prod. Inc., was completed last week at the Leah Baird studios Cliffside, N. J.

Advertisers Entertain

The midnight show of the A. M. P. A. was held last night at the Rivoli. It was attended by a number of newspaper publishers now here for the sessions of the American Newspaper Publishers' Ass'n at the Waldorf, well-known film executives and members of the A. M. P. A.

D. W. Griffith delivered a talk on censorship while his latest production, "Black Beach" was shown. Other film features included the Mutt and Jeff cartoons, the Bringing Up Father comedies, etc.

Lawlor Joins Levey

Hoey Lawlor, well-known caricaturist, is now head of the newly formed Technograph Dept. at Universal-Industrial.

The new department will specialize in animated cartoons. Harry Levey says he has a new camera which can show action on the screen one-sixteenth of normal.

Neilan to Star Barry

Wesley Barry will soon be starred by Marshall Neilan in an original story by Neilan and Reed Heustis. Jack McDermott has been engaged to co-direct the picture.

Taylor With Pioneer

Buffalo, N. Y.—C. A. "Buck" Taylor, formerly Pathe manager here is now with Pioneer Film.

LOUIS B. MAYER

Has in preparation for production

The Professional Wife

It will embody an UNUSUAL TREATMENT
of
AN UNUSUAL THEME

STUDIO SPACE
FOR RENT
Also service of Crew may be arranged for. Apply
American Cinema Corp.
411 5th Ave. Phone Van. 7670

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1781 BROADWAY
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

TITLE SERVICE
ARTISTIC ILLUSTRATING
HAND LETTERING
PERFECT NEGATIVES
ERNEST STERN
145 WEST 45TH ST.

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
"The Virgin of Stamboul"
with
Priscilla Dean
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

DON'T PAY
More than 3½ cents per foot for the best Positive Titles in quantity
FINEFILM LABORATORIES, Inc.
Ridgefield Park, New Jersey
New York Phone Bryant 4580

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42ND STREET NEW YORK U.S.A.

GEORGE ELWOOD JENKS
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmond
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

STUDIO FOR RENT

Large enough for two very large sets and three smaller sets at one time. Complete Cooper-Hewitt and Modern Arc light equipment. Large supply of scenery doors and other woodwork. Only 18 minutes by train from Grand Central Station. 40 minutes by subway from Times Square. Accessible to every kind of city house, woods and country scenery. Cheapest studio available in the East. Apply

CRYSTAL FILM CO.
430 Cleremont Parkway, Bronx, N. Y.
Downtown Office, 815 Longacre Bldg. Bryant 8946

Once upon a time
The Vitagraph—In New York made an O'Henry story called

"Vanity and Some Sables"
It was faultlessly directed by John S. Robertson, now with Famous Players—and the star part was played by

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch This Space Every Day!

In the Courts

In the suit by the Sidney Olcott Players, Inc., against the U. S. Exhibitors Booking Corp. and others, in which the plaintiff made charges of misrepresentation against the defendants in connection with a transaction by which the defendants acquired the film, "The Belgian," a settlement has been effected as the result of which the complaint has been dismissed and all charges of misrepresentation are withdrawn.

Max Spiegel has filed two suits in the Supreme Court against associates in the ownership of the Albany Grand Theater Company, for which they found it necessary to raise money. Spiegel asked $375 each from Daniel F. Nolan and Timothy E. Kerwin as their share of a note for $1,500 which he paid, and in a second suit against Nolan for $683 he said Nolan failed to pay his share of a note for $7,050. Both were made in 1918.

Lorimore Here From Australia

Alec Lorimore, managing director of Feature Films, Ltd., of Sydney, Australia, is in New York. His company distributes the Famous Players product in Australia.

Musgrove En Route

Harry Musgrove, recently general manager of Australasian Films, Ltd., is new en route from that country to America. He is expected in New York the end of April and will probably remain here formulating his plans. He will then return to Australia.

Gets Lupin Stories

Robertson-Cole has signed a contract whereby it obtains the complete screen rights to the Arsene Lupin detective stories, written by Maurice Leblanc. The present plan is to release a limited number each year and to market them as specials. The deal was closed with Joseph Menchen.

Mason to Tour Europe

Lesley Mason, editor of the Exhibitors' Trade Review, expects to leave on Saturday for a ten weeks' tour of the Continent and England investigating film conditions on the other side.

Reelcraft Closes Territory

Reelcraft has arranged with the Masterpiece Film Corp., Philadelphia, and the Standard Film Co., Cleveland, Detroit and Cincinnati, O., to distribute the Alice Howell comedies produced by it.

The addition of the above mentioned exchanges completes the entire United States territory for the Alice Howell series.

Film Service Bureau, Inc., has moved to its new quarters in the Leavitt Bldg.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Located

Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

SIMPLE SOULS

DOLLARS and SENSE
Do you know that four million members of the American Legion will fight to see - - GEORGES CARPENTIER in a great American drama of society life?
Directed by
John G. Adolfi
ROBERTSON - COLE
SUPER-SPECIAL
A million dollar attraction

Opens New Chicago Studio

Chicago—Bray Pictures has secured larger quarters for the western studios at 7514 N. Ashland Ave. The studio is in charge of E. Dean Parmelee, vice-president. Jack Norling will have charge of the animated technical department. The sales offices will continue at 208 So. LaSalle St.

North Vancouver, B. C.—L. H. Keller at Empire.

New House for Butterfield

Port Huron, Mich.—W. S. Butterfield, president and general manager of the Bijou Theatrical Enterprises Co., has purchased the Majestic. Butterfield wil spend $30,000 remodeling. Pictures and vaudeville with possibly an occasional road attraction is to be the policy.

Harrison Ford will appear opposite Wanda Hawley in "Miss Hobbs" for Realart.

WHY

Shop all over town and pay more money, when

"COMEDYART"

Offers more laughs, more beauty, more novelty, and all in one classy package?

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

e BRADSTREET
f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 23 Friday, April 23, 1920 Price 5 Cents

ritish Production

ned For Famous Player's En-h Subsidiary—Zukor Returns From Europe

olph Zukor immediately after eturn to this country yesterday d the Mauretania announced Famous Players—British Pro-s, Ltd., the English subsidiary amous Players—Lasky would several of the Sir James Barrie for distribution in this country. ese are "Peter Pan" "What y Woman Knows,, "The Little ter." Other productions slated nglish pictures are "The Great a Drury Lane melodrama and play by Henry Arthur Jones. gh Ford is now in England.

Brady Seeks Equipment

lliam A. Brady also returned day on the Mauretania. He is-a statement on his observations m conditions in Europe and that he had been delegated to ase studio equipment to the ex-of $1,000,000. No mention was for whom this material t but there has been some talk here and in London that Brady erfected an alliance of some sort Lord Beaverbrook.

racter Pictures have signed Pierce in "The Isle of Des-

Disguised as peasants they stole silently to the stateroom where the military plans were hidden—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction,—Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

HICAGO SPECIAL

WID'S DAILY will blish and distribute m Chicago a special ition April 27-30 in-sive.

This special issue will ver fully and com-etely report the im-rtant exhibitor plans well as matters per-ning to the Associated rst National c. meeting.

Advertising forms will se Saturday, April 24.

"Return of Tarzan"

Secured By Goldwyn For Fall Release—Big Exploitation Plans.

Goldwyn Pictures Corp. have purchased "The Return of Tarzan" from Numa Pictures Corp. and it is understood will present this as a special feature for the coming season.

It is reported that negotiations are under way to secure the services of Harry Reichanbach to direct a special campaign for this production in view of the exploitation and publicity which he carried on for the original "Tarzan of the Apes" production.

It is also understood that Goldwyn will have the services of S. L. ("Roxy") Rothapfel for exhibitor aid in showmanship angles for this production which will be one of their big specials for the coming year.

Wilkerson With Comedyart

W. G. Wilkerson, formerly with Universal in New York and Kansas City, has been appointed manager of the Special Pictures Corp. in New York. Special Pictures release Comedyart.

Combine in Spain

Two Companies Backed by King Alphonse Consolidate—Control Situation There.

(By cable)

Madrid, Spain—A combination has been perfected here between the Atlantida and Patria companies which is generally conceded as meaning a complete tie-up of both production and exhibition in Spain by these two companies. It means a trust here.

The combined companies have a capital of 4,000,000 pesetas and are backed financially by King Alphonse himself and his prime minister, Romanones who are the chief stockholders.

A 4,000 seat theater is now being erected here.

ALICOATE

.. Clarine Seymour Ill

Clarine Seymour is critically ill at the Misericordia Hospital following an operation for intestinal trouble. Miss Seymour was at work on "Way Down East" for D. W. Griffith when she was taken ill.

Sues for $750,000

Nebraska Exhibitor Charges Film Companies With Restraint of Trade

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Omaha, Neb—Charles G. Binderup, operating a chain of 21 theaters in Kearney, Minden and other Nebraska towns has filed suit against the Omaha Film Board of Trade and 38 other defendents including Pathe, First National, Famous Players-Lasky, Goldwyn Select and practically every company operating in this territory who is a member of the Board of Trade for $750,000 damages on a charge of restraint of trade.

Binderup in his petition charges that the exchange managers for the above mentioned concerns placed him on a black-list because he refused to divide profits with them, and that he has been forced to shut down his various theaters because of the film companies' action. He claims that his business has been wrecked and that he has been unable to secure films. His action is brought under the Sherman law.

Elek J. Ludvigh, head of the legal department of Famous Players stated that he had just received the bill of complaint and pending a careful perusal of it preferred not to make any statement. At Goldwyn it was stated that nothing had been heard about the suit as yet.

Konta and Kirchwey, Select's attorney, preferred to reserve comment.

50 Million in Jap Company

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles-Kenzo Taguchi, managing director of the Schohiku Photoplay Corp, a $50,000,000 Japanese company is in this country to study American film methods.

The company plans to enter the production field in Japan on a large scale.

"Slippy McGee"

The stage and picture rights of "Slippy McGee," written by Marie Conway Oemler and published by the Century Company, have been purchased by Oliver Morosco. It is understood that there is a working arrangement between Famous Players and Oliver Morosco by which Famous Players have the first call to Morosco productions for pictures.

"The Boss of the Big Bonanza," a western story by Vingie E. Roe, has been purchased by Thomas H. Ince for Enid Bennett.

NEW press book IDEAS.
SOLOMON has 'em, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 23 Fri. April 23, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558 Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	75	76⅝	76⅝
*do pfd	91	91	91
Goldwyn	24	24⅞	24
Loew's Inc.	30½	31¼	31¼
Triangle	½	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod.	4	4	4
World Film	¼	¼	¼

*Tuesday's quotations.

Incorporations

Nashville, Tenn.—Eagle Film Co., Chattanooga. Capital, $30,000. Incorporators, A. W. Chambliss, J. B. Sizer, A. Shalliday, L. Bryant and John A. Chambliss.

Trenton, N. J.—Fulton Theater Co. Authorized capital, $75,000. Frank H. Contey, Benjamin J. Darling E. Hamilton Meharg, and Frederick H. Mertens,

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Daily News says:

"'The Silver Horde' is a wonderful picture of red-blooded men."

Goldwyn

Assembly Passes Bill

Deposit Measure Now Goes to Governor for Final Action.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Albany, N. Y.—The officials of the New York State M. P. Exhibitors' League have succeeded in obtaining the passage, both in the Assembly and Senate, of the measure providing relief for them regarding the deposits and advance money paid for the rental of films.

The exhibitors insist that the enactment of this proposed law will afford the protection they have been striving for and will be the means of saving them large sums which they are required to deposit, sometimes, with unreliable concerns which drop out of business still holding the deposits in their possession.

The Cotillo bill provides for a trust fund which cannot be used by the distributor or producer and will be held by a trustee until the final terms of the contract has been filled. The bill amends the Business Law regarding the terms of contract but does not affect other business other than the rental of films.

The Senate has passed the bill introduced by Senator Kelly of New York City, permitting the admission of children under 16 years of age to places of amusement, if accompanied by an adult person authorized by parent or guardian.

New Glucksmann Purchases

Jacobo Glucksmann has purchased the following pictures:

"The Modern Salome" from Metro for South America.

"The Inner Voice," "The Stormy Petrel," and "Women Men Forget," from Reginald Warde for Argentine. Paraguay, Uruguay, Chile, Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador.

"Love Without Question" and "Woman's Business," from Export and Import for Argentine, Paraguay, Chile and Uruguay.

Frank Currier is coming east to appear in local-made Metro pictures.

Burton King has acquired the rights to "The Common Sin," story by Willard Mack.

Buys "County Fair"

Guy Croswell Smith Secures Tourneur Production for the World

Guy Croswell Smith, Ltd., exporters, have purchased the world's rights on "The County Fair" produced by Maurice Tourneur. Nothing has as yet been determined as to how the production will be distributed domestically but it is understood that the film will be a fall release.

J. J. McCarthy, now en route to Europe will dispose of foreign territory on the production and arrange or the opening of "Broken Blossoms" in Paris. It will probably play at Salle Maribaux there.

New Co-operative Association

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Albany, N. Y.—The Theatrical and Motion Picture Managers of Assoation of Greater New York Inc., has been granted a charter by the Secretary of State. It is a membership corporation and has its principal office in New York.

The particular object for which the corporation is formed is to maint... and promote the presentation of wholesome and refined entertainment in both vaudeville and moving picture theatres in New York, and to continue such theatres an uplifting and moral influence upon the public also to promote the general welfare of the members of the association.

The board of directors consists of the following members: William Fox, acob W. Loeb, Nicholas M. Schenck, David Bernstein, Marcus Loew, Benjamin S. Moss, Edward F. Albee, John Kalvoord, Jr., John J. Murdock, Philip F. Offin, John A. Dowd, Benjamin Thau, Charles Monish, John A. Hopkins and Lawrence A. Walsh all of Greater New York City.

Houses Bought

Newport, Ark.—Alf R. James, A. C. Wilkerson, Bert E. Snetser and Joe L. Bevans bought Newport from J. W. Crubbs for $24,000.

Marshall, Tex.—Cole and Cole bought Grand from D. W. Powell.

Blackwell, Okla.—G. A. Wahl and R. A. Watts bought Elks.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Viola Daniel v... Roscoe Arbuckle's leading wo... his next production.

J. Barney Sherry has been t... rarily loaned to Lew Cody fo... rent production.

Pat O'Malley, who has the l... male role in Marshall Neilan's ... independent production, has be... engaged for a part in the proc... fourth picture.

Danny Gray has been engag... film editor of all future Neila... ductions. He succeeds Lou O... who goes to Selznick.

John Paul Keefe has been ... to the Thos. H. Ince exploi... headquarters in Culver City, C...

Rowland Lee was recently ... under contract by Thos. H. Inc... will be featured in role of a ... coming special.

Anita Stewart's new picture, '... riet and the Piper," is now ... production at the Louis B. M... studio with Bertram Bracken a... rector. The story, by Kathleen ... ris, originally appeared as a ser... Pictorial Review.

Haydn Talbot, playwright an... thor of "The Truth Wagon," ... the city.

GAUS...

The successful exhibitor is the one who uses the best posters the greatest number of times. In other words, the most prosperous exhibitors are the ones who use the largest number of RITCHEY posters!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8386

Ritchey

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

SIMPLE SOULS

New Theaters

Houses Planned

erby, Conn.—J. Hoffman of the y Amuse. Co. and John R. lds, manager of the Sterling build.

istin, Tex.—Major George W. efield to build on site of Queen Casino. $100,000.

wrence, Mass.—Tooney and De- Amuse. Co., will spend about 00 on a 2,400 seat house.

arleston, S. C.—J. J. Miller ing. 2,000.

rtinez, Cal.—J. J. McNamara. 00. 1,000.

n Francisco, Cal.—Patrick Hig- 1,500.

ppenish, Wash.—Dr. Johnson ing Loise, 1,600.

alia, Cal.—Crescent Theater 150,000. 2,000.

n Bernardino, Cal.—J. G. Knapp. 00. 1,600.

nona, Minn.—L. G. Rosener, tial, 600.

timore, Md.—Pearce and Scheck mbridge, Mass.—Richard A. ard will build.

n Francisco, Cal.—O. D. Bald- $85,000. 1,800. To be leased to n Goldberg.

City, Pa.—Pennsylvania Amuse 100,000.

eport, Pa.—Harry A. Seitz, a House, to build. $25,000. 350.

ston, Pa.—Wilmer and Vincent, , will build a $400,000 house, to 2700.

anta, Ga.—It is reported that nder Pantages plans a house.

octon, Mass.—Edwin J. Dreyfus.

Houses Completed

n Diego, Cal.—The Garden es Welstead, at La Jolla, a sub- f this city, opened.

w Braunfels, Tex.—Queen, Ed- udewig and Harry Hanz, open-

Camden Exhibitors Visitors

Benjamin Shindler and Samuel Varbalow, owners of the Auditorium theater, Camden, N. J., are visiting New York.

A new theater, the Victoria, is now being constructed in Camden and will be opened by Decoration Day. Seating capacity, about 1,000.

Bert Lytell's next for Metro has been changed from "The Temple of Dawn" to "The Man From Hades."

Blackwell, Okla.—Liberty, Ensley Barbour, manger, opened.

Nowata, Okla.—Rex, George E. Shikett, opened.

Watertown, N. Y.—Avon, Bard-avon Theater Corp of Poughkeepsie to open in May.

Benton, Ark.—Imp, Mrs. Wooten manager, opened

Benton, Ark.—Palace, C. H. Womack, opened.

Columbus, O.—A new house for colored people J. Chesborough, opened.

Mather, Pa.—Mather Colieres house, $80,000. 600, ready to open.

Houses Being Erected

Sipe Springs, Tex.—A. F. Blethen building Majestic, 700.

Seward, Neb.—F. P. Maryland is building.

Knoxville, Tenn.—The local Loew house will open shortly.

Under Construction

Wellsburg, W. Va.—N. G. Annas building Strand. $75,000.

Napa, Cal.—Hippodrome, to be run in conjunction with Orpheus and San Rafael, being built.

Marshall, Texas—G. W. Trommell bought Elk from Fred Alexander for $30,000.

Quinton, Okla.—E. H. Puckett and M. Davis bought Majestic from C. Rowton.

Famous Players Studio Ball

Famous Players studio ball will be held at the Commodore next Wednesday evening.

A feature of the ball will be a contest for the selection of a young woman qualified to become a picture star. The committee in charge announces that gingham dresses and overalls will be as welcome as evening clothes.

Lyons Leaves Miles

John F. Lyons, who has been associated with Joseph R. Miles for the past nine years in his various organizations, has resigned to assume the management of the Simplex Studios projection rooms in the Candler Bldg. beginning May 1.

Sales on "Hawk's Trail

Louis Burston has sold "The Hawk's Trail" for New York City and Northern New Jersey to Merit Film.

Loew's 83d St. Held Up

Construction on the new Marcus Loew theater planned for 83rd St has been held up because of the stays granted the tenants in the buildings now on the site Loew controls.

Jersey Bill Killed

The Sunday picture bill which has been pending in New Jersey for some time has been killed.

The legislature is to about to dissolve and there seems to be no opportunity for bringing up a bill of that character until January.

Agnes Egan Cobb, sales manager of Schomer-Ross Prod., will attend the convention in Chicago and then start a trans-continent trip in the interest of her company.

FOR RENT OR FOR SALE.
STAR THEATRE, Buffalo, N. Y. Opposite site of new $7,000,000 Statler Hotel. Seats 1,400 on three floors. In perfect condition and fully equipped for road shows, stock, vaudeville or pictures.
For particulars write or wire
A. A. FENYVESSY
Strand Theatre, Rochester, N. Y.

MONEY NO OBJECT

No matter what you are paying for the printing of Press Sheets, I can better the price and the quality of work.

Lawrence (Larry) Urbach
1587 Broadway

8445 Bryant

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

BESS MEREDITH
and
WILFRED LUCAS
Writing and Directing
Australian Features
Address
Care Snowy Baker
84 Oxford Street
Sydney, N. S. W. Australia
Cable Address
"Snowing Sydney"

PEGGY HYLAND

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1781 BROADWAY
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

ERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
OUIS MEYER
MERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
ITLES
RED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
ONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

Promises are Cheap
White Paper is Scarce
Character Pictures will speak for Themselves

Miss Pauline Frederick

made

"NANETTE OF THE WILDS"

A CANADIAN WOODS STORY FOR FAMOUS PLAYERS—AND THE JUVENILE LEADING MAN, WHOSE WORK RECEIVED EXCELLENT COMMENT WAS

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch This Space Every Day!

Reelcrafe Closes on Guinan

Reelcraft Pictures reports the sale f the series of Texas Guinan 26 two eel western features to S. & S. Film Supply Co., Pittsburg; Consoli-ated Film Corp., San Francisco; onsolidated Film Corp., Los Ange-es, and the R. D. Marson Attrac-ons, Boston.

John Emerson Nominated

John Emerson has been nominated or the presidency of the Actors' quity Asso. which won the strike gainst the managers last summer.

Louis B. Mayer has in preparation or production "The Professional Vife."

KESSEL PRINT KWALITY

Nicholas Kessel Laboratory, Inc.

'Phone Fort Lee 221

Getting Ready

First National Folk Busy Preparing for Chicago Convention—Special Cars Engaged

Independent exhibitors in every territory, including all members of First National, all branch managers, salesmen and exploitation men, the official staff at the Home Office, editors and business representatives of trade journals, together with producers and stars holding releasing contarcts with the Circuit, are busy making preparations for attending the annual convention of the entire First National Circuit which begins at the Hotel Congress, Chicago, next Monday.

New methods which affect independent exhibitors, the present forms of film distribution, recently negotiated contracts between First National and stars and producers and the official launching of Associated First National Pictures, Inc., will occupy the featured positions in the program for the week.

Two cars will leave New York on Sunday, attached to the Broadway Limited on the Pennsylvania Railroad, occupied by members, branch managers, the editors of the trade journals, salesmen, exploitation men, Home Office officials, stars and producers. Special First National cars will convey exhibitor members and branch office staffs from Atlanta, Washington, D. C., San Francisco, Los Angeles, Seattle and Dallas, with stops at intermediate centers, where local members and exchange officials will join. The greater number of those who attend the meetings will reach Chicago early on Monday.

Probably the most important event of the session will be the announcement of the complete details of the sub-franchising plan fostered by First National Pictures, and which it has employed a statistical department occupying an entire floor for the last four months.

Two speeches of special significance are scheduled. They will be made by Joseph M. Schenck, of the Norma Talmadge Film Co., and the Constance Talmadge Film Co., and Whitman Bernnett, who recently resigned as production manager for Famous Players to enter the ranks of independent producers with Lionel Barrymore as the star.

DOLLARS and SENSE

Do you know that four million members of the American Legion will fight to see - - GEORGES CARPENTIER in a great American drama of society life?

Directed by John G. Adolfi -

ROBERTSON - COLE

SUPER - SPECIAL -

A million dollar - attraction - - - -

SIMPLE SOULS

There's a lot of autoists who "knock" the Packard car
But most of them drive flivvers

*

There's a lot of film men who "knock"
"COMEDYART"

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!

Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

JACK COOPER

Featured in

Fox Sunshine Comedies

"Money Talks"
"Virtuous Husbands"
"Dablin in Society"
"Footlight Maids"
"Schoolhouse Scandal"
"The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"The Heart Snatcher"
"The Light-Weight Lover"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"

Watch this Space for Future Announcements.

he BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 24 Saturday, April 24, 1920 Price 5 Cents

uys Ed. Rose Plays

ebrated Authors Society Closes Deal-Ready for Disposal

he Celebrated Authors Society, ., Joseph Menchen, president, has ured exclusive film rights on the s of Edward E. Rose, author of ppy Ricks" and is now holding n for disposal.

he plays are "Come Back to ," "The Wickedest Woman in World," "The Little Girl Got got," "A Square Deal" and "The rity Nurse." "Cappy Ricks" has ady been sold to Famous Play-elebrated recently sold the Ar- Lupin stories to Robertson Cole. consideration for these 18 stories 20,000 per story the total transac- reaching $360,000.

oberston Cole under its arrange- t with Menchen will make two in , the first, "813" to be released re November of this year and a year from 1921-1925.

separate company known as the en Lupin Pictures Corp. will be ned and production will be on coast. Wedgewood Nowell will Lupin in "813" and if he proves factory will appear in the re- nder of the series. Release of the ures will be once in three months.

elebrated has also film rights on e Secret of Sarek" Maurice Le- c's latest Lupin story just pub- d in this country.

CHICAGO SPECIAL

WID'S DAILY will ublish and distribute rom Chicago a special dition April 27-30 in- lusive.

This special issue will over fully and com- letely report the im- ortant exhibitor plans s well as matters per- ining to the Associated irst National Theaters, nc. meeting.

He offered her the priceless jewels in exchange for her soul—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction, Louis B. Meyer-made.—Advt.

Leiter Investigates

Radicalism on Which Big Film is to Be Based.

The fact that Joseph Leiter, Chicago millionaire, is furnishing the funds for an investigation of radicalism on which a pretentious film play is to be based has become known through the testimony of William Moore Patch in the Supreme Court when he was examined in supplementary proceedings. Alfred G. Fontana obtained a judgment against Patch for $1,689 on which he has been able to collect nothing and got the order to examine him as to his property.

Patch testified that he is president of the Patch Prod. Corp. at 1520 Broadway, but gets no salary and is at present employed by Mr. Leiter to investigate radicalism for the purpose of a film. Leiter pays his expenses monthly, he said. He has no bank account and no property, he said, and there are judgments for $6,100 outstanding against him.

Justice Gavegan appointed Frederick W. Noble receiver of his property.

All Set for Chicago

Special Cars Leave To-morrow—List of Those Who Will Attend

Two carloads of First National officials and other visitors to the Chicago convention will leave to-morrow on the Broadway Limited over the Pennsylvania for the convention, which opens at the Hotel Congress Monday morning.

New York next week will be practically emptied of executives since most of them are going to the convention with their sales managers.

Among those who will attend the convention are: Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Williams, New York; H. O. Schwalbe, New York City; Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Hammons, New York; E. Mandelbaum, Cleveland; R. H. Haines, Cincinnatti; W. E. Lusk, Cleveland; Mr. & Mrs. Frank Ferrandini, Richmond; L. L. Hall, Salt Lake City; Mr. & Mrs. R. H. Clark, New York; Mr. & Mrs. George R. Grant, New York; Mr. & Mrs. Tom Moore, Washington, D. C.; W. E. Richardson, Washington, D. C.; B. C. Cun-

(Continued on Page 4)

Censorship Outlook

Bright in Louisiana—Mississippi Bill Killed, Says O. J. Cocks

Orrin G. Cocks, advisory secretary of the National Board of Review, upon returning from New Orleans where he attended the National Conference of Social Work, brought with him some information as to the censorship outlook in Louisiana and Mississippi. In New Orleans a censorship bill has been prepared and may come up at the next session of the legislature, just elected. E. M. Clark, special representative for the Saenger Amusement Co., is in the Gulf City to help fight any drastic measure of this nature.

It was largely through the efforts of Clark that the Mississippi legislature at Jackson killed such a bill in committee. Another session will not start for twoyears , and since many of the representatives have been won over to the opposition, the bill is not likely to come up again for at least four years. The people in Missis-

(Continued on Page 4)

Reed Through With United

Florence Reed, according to A. J. Bimberg her manager has severed all connections with United Picture Theaters. Miss Reed is under contract to Bimberg and his company, Tribune Prod. Inc. and had eight productions to supply United. Bimberg has perfected an arrangement with United whereby their relations are terminated.

Bimberg has done nothing about a distribution contract for the Reed pictures but may produce himself and release independently.

Milton M. Goldsmith of United verified the above yesterday.

Loew Gets McKinley Square

Marcus Loew will take over the McKinley Spuare theater in the Bronx when Sydney S. Cohen's lease on it expires.

Abrams Coming East

Hiram Abrams, according to coast wires left Los Angeles for New York on Wednesday.

Sydney a Visitor

Louis K. Sydney manager of Fox's Washington theater, Detroit is in town.

Criterion Opens To-day

The Criterion theater opens to-day at two o'clock with Cecil De Mille's latest production "Why Change Your Wife?" as the attraction.

The theater is under supervision of Dr. Hugo Riesenfeld.

For special "TIE UP" work, Use SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 24 Sat April 24, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players	77	79	79
*do pfd	91	91	91
*Goldwyn	24	24⅞	24
Loew's Inc.	31⅛	32	31⅛
Triangle	7-16	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod.	3¾	4	4
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do, 2nd pfd	½	⅝	⅝

*Tuesday's quotations.
*Thursday's Quotations.

New Release for Capital Film

Chicago—President Hugh Woody and B. Herbert Milligan, general manager of Capital Film Co., have acquired the rights to Bill Forman's Sporting Page, "The Pink Sheet of the Movies." This will constitute a sport review of the screen, produced and edited by William S. Forman, former sporting editor of the Evening Post. It will be a monthly release.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

"Put your William Farnums and films of Alaskan gold camps on the shelf, for 'The Silver Horde' is here!"

Goldwyn

Incorporations

Albany—The Civic Theater, Inc., New York. Capital, $100,000. Stockholders: Florence Lipnick, David K. Shapiro and Harry Wolfe, 43 Cedar St. Attorneys are Siligsberg, Lewis and Strouse, 43 Cedar Street.

Albany—The Federated Film Exchange of America, New York City. Capital, $50,000. Directors and subscribers to capital stock are: Louis J. Rosett, Henry Henry Margoshes and Nancy Katz, 740 West End Ave., New York City.

Sacramento, Cal.—Marion H. Kohn Prod., Inc., of San Francisco. To produce motion pictures. Capital, $200,000, fully paid in. The officers are: Marion H. Kohn, president; D. J. Chatkin, vice-pres.; J. D. Letterman, secretary, and George A. Oppenheimer, treasurer.

Price Sales

C. B. Price has sold territory on the series of Mona Darkfeather one reelers as follows: United Film Service of St. Louis for Eastern Missouri and Southern Illinois; Minter United Amusement Co. of Detroit for Michigan; Dave Warner Films of Cleveland for Ohio and Kentucky; and Co-Partner Attractions of Pittsburgh for Western Pennsylvania and West Virginia; Major Film Co. of Boston for New England, and Royal Features, Inc., for Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey.

M. B. Schlesinger has sold "Mother I Need You" to the Minter United Amuse. Co. of Detroit for Michigan, and to Schramm and Hoffman of the Ohio Film Co. for Ohio.

Prager Back

Benjamin A. Prager, who last week succeeded Isaac Wolper as president of Mayflower, returned to the city last night. Prager had been away several days owing to the death in Boston of his brother, Frederick, who was manager of the Rialto in Fall River. Benjamin A. Prager is treasurer of the Fall River Consolidated Enterprises. One of these four houses is the Rialto. They were formerly in the Loew list.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Lila Lee's contract with Lasky has been renewed.

Norman Dawn, who recently finished Tsuru Aoki's feature, "A Tokio Siren," for Universal, has been named to direct Edith Roberts in her next production, "Marama."

Production of "A Hero 'n Everything," has started at Universal City under the direction of Alan Curtis.

Robert Anderson will be starred in a tabloid drama, "Under Sentence," production on which has begun at Universal City under the direction of Jack Ford. Ethel Ritchie and J. Farrell McDonald are in the cast.

Helen Ferguson, leading woman in "Burning Daylight," the C. E. Shurtleff picture, is engaged to appear in "The Mutiny."

Forrest Stanley has been engaged by Metro to support Alice Lake in "The Outsider," the Julie Herne play which will be Miss Lake's second Screen Classics vehicle.

Lawrence Grant has been engaged as a member of the Screen Classics productions stock company.

Jesse D. Hampton has secured the screen rights to F. Anstey's "The Broken Bottle" for H. B. Warner.

Nell Craig has been cast as leading woman for Owen Moore in "Stop That Man," Selznick West Coast Studios.

Robert Gordon, who has been costarring with Sylvia Breamer in Blackton productions, obtained a release to play the leading male role in Vitagraph's special, "Dollars and the Woman," with Alice Joyce.

Betty Blythe is working in the Curwood story, "Nomads of the North," under the direction of David Hartford, for First National.

John Liddy has been engaged by Universal to play opposite Anne Cornwall in "The Girl in the Rain," directed by Rollin Sturgeon.

James Davis, recently of the Mack Sennett staff of comedy dire[ctors] has been engaged to make the [six] "Brownie" features. Brownie [the] dog of the Century comedies [ser]ies latest fun product, "The Tale [of] Dog," has just been released [under] the direction of Thomas Bucking[ham]

Frederick Stanton has been [en]gaged by Metro for "Parlor, [Bed]rom and Bath."

The R de R Film Co., worki[ng] at the Horsley Studio, are now bu[sy] on the second episode in the "Jack [Ho]day, U. S. S. S.," series which [deal]s with the adventures of a U. S. [Sec]ret Service official.

GAUSMAN

Carpentier in the Ring

For the first time since his arri[val] here, Georges Carpentier will ap[pear] in ring costume next Monday at [the] Solax Studio, Fort Lee, and box [sev]eral rounds as part of the pict[ure] which will be distributed by Rob[ert]son-Cole.

Five hundred New Yorkers, [in]cluding and sporting writers, magazine [edi]tors and trade paper reviewers have [been] sent invitations.

Vacate Suit Against Rogers

Supreme Court Justice McA[voy] has vacated the service of the pa[pers] in the suit of Tefft Johnson aga[inst] the Rogers Film Corp. to rec[over] $3,200 for services. The papers [were] served on Mrs. Irene Lee as an [offi]cer of the corporation on April 2, [but] she stated that she resigned last [Sep]tember.

Of all the characteristics that mark the RITCHEY poster, the quality of getting satisfactory box-office results is the one that appeals most to the exhibitor.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8386

Ritchey

INSURANCE EXPERTS
TO THE THEATRICAL AND MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY FOR THE PAST 20 YEARS. "ASK ANY PRODUCER."
Did you ever hear of "Insurance Service?" Well, that's what we have to offer. Can we explain further how we can serve you—better?
REUBEN SAMUELS INC. REAL SERVICE Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

athé News

LAND, CAL.—"Human fly" defies gravitation—daring acrobat performs unusually difficult feat as he a 10-story building.
LIN, IRELAND — Guard against n Irish capital—roads leading into y are barricaded and all vehicles refully searched.
ondon, Irish Loyalists hold protest stration outside the House of Com- during the debate on the Home Bill.
ral Nevil Macready has been ap- d to command the police and in Ireland.
OLULU, HAWAII—World's big- rydock used by visiting U. S. fleet 1,016 feet long, costs $10,000,000, ok 10 years to construt.
TON, MASS.—"Listen my children u shall hear of the midnight ride ul Revere." This historic dash Boston to Lexington is re-enacted riots' Day.
THE PANAMA COAST—Ablaze a! Pathe News cameraman on -boat obtains remarkabe and ex- pictures of oil-ship Olockson g 130 miles from shore.
LIN, GERMANY—What will be German Army? As Allied Coun- oates problem, Pathe cameraman ictures of the new army built up Republic.
insignia of the new army under ert Regime.
e the recent revolution, all pubilc gs are placed under military

E AND THERE—A tank bus— ifth Avenue copy this style? At nd, England, one may enjoy thrills mps of a tank bus ride.
Dummy" volunteers his services ting efficiency of new streetcar in Seattle.
g a Congressman is not all law- g—here are some who seek relax- and strength in an up-to-date sium.
laims Britain will be "dry" in 10 -"Pussyfoot" Johnson, leader of ition forces in Britain, arrives in ENTION — . . . and every- buyin' 'em now! Over 6,000 pairs ld at cost to citizens of Atlanta, and Mrs. Denim and the little s.

economical match. "I join you in wedlock."
vill love, honor and obey Him in ls till Death do us Part."
romise to love, cherish and buy enim the rest of her life."
Girl of Today thinks of Yesterday ess that Speaks for itself.
tever Goes Up Comes Down!

oday

In the Courts

reme Court Justice McAvoy gned an order discontinuing the of Andrew G. Steen against er D. Coram, the Consolidated Laboratories and others, be- the case has been settled.

Brandt Will Exhibit Films

Brandt of National Film will the Chicago convention and with him about 60 reels of Na- and other productions in which interested. He plans an exhibi- of these to the edhibitorsin the ntion hall.

House Changes

Houses Bought

Philadelphia, Pa.—James W. Brady bought New Century, 1,200.

Columbia, S. C.—Palmetto Enter. bought Ideal and Broadway.

Midland, Tex.—J. W. Yeakel and J. C. Taylor bought Unique from Henry Stilwell.

Little Rock, Ark.—Saul Harris and Ike Kempner bought Gem from Gans estate, for about $70,000.

Baltimore, Md.—James A. Bealmear and Son bought Jewel from Edwin W. Wilson.

Pittsburg, Pa.—W. J. Fitzpatrick bought American.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Jules Naples bought Rex from Bill Fielding.

Napa, Cal.—Brown and Lakeman bought Strand.

Burlingame, Cal.—Ellis Arkush bought Garden from W. P. Archibald.

Calistoga, Cal.—J. Fermer bought house from E. L. Armstrong.

Meriden, Conn.—Cornelius W. Cahill bought Poli's for $100,000, from the Meriden Theater Co.

Pittsburg, Pa.—Mr. Paulson bought K. and K.

Quitman, La.—Hatcher Bros. buy house and will picture equipment.

Albany, N. Y.—Samuel Suckno, Albany and Regent, bought Arbor.

Richford, Vt.—Ralph M. Buch bought half inteerst in Colonial.

Alva, Okla.—C. E. Walker bought Lierty from C. G. Harryman.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Oscar Woepner, owner New York, bought Third Ward.

House Improvements

New Orleans, La.—Loew's Veudome remodeled at $100,000 reopened.

Gardner, Mass.—The Gardner is being remodeled.

Piedmont, Va.—Majestic, Floyd Liminger, to be remodeled and enlarged.

Duncan, Okla.—Pastime, to be enlarged, will seat 1,000.

Minersville, Pa.—W. B. Shugars to remodel Exchange Hotel into theater. $39,000.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Maxime being remodeled. Will reopen Easter week.

Buffalo, N. Y.—William A. Morgan bought Variety.

Brocton, Mass.—George I. Boyd will remodel St. Patrick's Church into amusement house.

Managers Changed

Winnipeg, Canada.—N. Chambers at the Strand.

New York.—R. Roberston at Reo at 160th St. and Broadway. Formerly at Rialto and Parkway, Brooklyn.

Spangler, Pa.—Mr. Mitchel has replaced Benson at the Truart.

Calgary, Alberta.—Charles Brown at Liberty.

Detroit, Mich.—Lou K. Sidney at Fox's Washington.

Newark, N. J.—Sid Lawrence at Fox's New Terminal.

Des Moines, Iowa—Everett Hayes at Empress, succeeding George F. Clark.

Houses Leased

Kittanning, Pa.—George E. Wentz leased Wick's Opera House from John Wick.

Scranton, Pa.—M. E. Comeford leased Lyric.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1781 BROADWAY
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

EXTRAORDINARY STORY FOR SALE
Motion Picture Rights available to WHISPERING WIRES
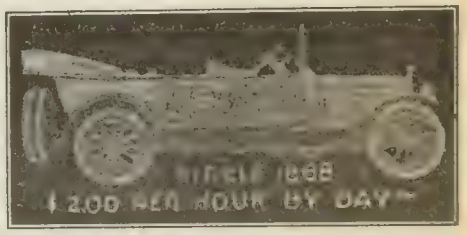
by
Henry Leverage
Appeared originally in Saturday Evenig Post—then in book form, and now is out in popular-priced edition—sold and is selling by ten-thousands. Communicate with
LAURA D. WILCK
1476 Broadway New York
Phone Bryant 4065

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

TITLES
REFINED LETTERING
APPROPRIATE ILLUSTRATING
ERNEST STERN
145 W. 45TH ST.
PHONE BRYANT 8073.



ANNOUNCEMENT
ALL ENGAGING OF EXTRA PEOPLE FORMERLY DONE BY THE SELECT MOTION PICTURE BUREAU WILL HEREAFTER BE HANDLED BY MISS LILLIAN WARD AT EXCHANGE BUILDING, 145 WEST 45TH STREET, ROOM 701. 'PHONE, BRYANT 6811.

STATE RIGHT BUYERS!
Get Acquainted with
"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife
starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO and Mme. HALINA BRUZOVNA
Directed by EMIL HARDER
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

When
Olive Thomas made
"THE FOLLIES GIRL"
(Directed by Jack Dillon, now directing MARY PICKFORD, and who just finished BERT LYTELL'S "THE RIGHT OF WAY") her leading man in this widely seen picture was—
Wallace Mac Donald
Watch This Space Every Day!

All Set for Chicago

(Continued from Page 1)

ningham, Washington, D. C.; S. F. & A. L. Jacobs, New York; E. B. Johnson, New York; D. P. Howells, New York; C. L. Yearsley, New York; Mr. & Mrs. Carl Senning, Richmond, Va.; J. R. Grainger, New York; Mr. & Mrs. Hudson, New York; J. C. Ragland, New York; J. L. Hunter, New York; James B. Clark, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Joseph S. Skirboll, Pittsburgh, Pa.; Jules E. Mastbaum, Phil.; M. L. Finkelstein, Minneapolis; J. F. Cubberly, Minneapolis; H. Hillweg, Minneapolis; Fred Dahnken, San Francisco; J. D. Von Herberg, Seattle, Washington; P. Mooney, New York; Colonel Fred Levy, Louisville, Ky.; W. P. Dewees, Vancouver, B. C.; R. L. Giffen, New York; Whitman Bennett, New York; Joseph Klein, New York; P. H. Smith, Buffalo, N. Y.; F. V. Fisher, Seattle, Washington; S. Y. Edwards, San Francisco; Mrs. James S. Johnson, New York; Ernest Shipman, New York; George Blaisdell, New York; Leslie Mason, New York; L. W. Boynton, New York; Mr. & Mrs. Beachan, Atlanta, Ga.; W. A. Sanges, Atlanta, Ga.; Robert Welsh, New York; Fred Beecroft, New York; Joseph Dannenberg, of Wid's Daily; Mr. & Mrs. Joseph M. Schenck, New York; E. E. Richards, Kansas City; N. J. Flynn, Kansas City; Mr. & Mrs. Jacob Fabian, New York; A. M. Fabian, New York; Thomas B. Spry, Boston, Mass.; Nathan H. Gordon, Boston, Mass.; S. S. Schwarz, Des Moines, Ia.; E. C. Rhoden, Des Moines, Ia.; C. E. Holah, Omaha, Neb.; L. J. McCarty, Omaha, Neb.; Lee L. Goldberg, Louisville, Ky.; Robert Lieber, Indianapolis, Ind.; Floyd Brown, Indianapolis, Ind.; J. H. Kunsky, Detroit, Mich.; G. W. Trendle, Detroit, Mich.; Harry Scott, Detroit, Mich.; Messrs. Heffernan and Allan, Detroit, Mich.; Moe Mark, New York; A. H. Blank, Des Moines, Ia.; Sol Shernow, New York; Constance Talmadge, New York, and Joseph F. Lee.

Censorship Outlook

(Continued from Page 1)

sippi and Louisiana, according to Cocks, are not particularly interested in the matter. In the former state, women's clubs were the sponsors of the bill.

"The 'Times-Picayune,' one of the most influential publications in Louisiana, is favoring censorship in its columns," said Cocks, "but so far none of the other papers have taken the matter up in great detail. Ignoring the matter and avoiding giving it any undue publicity seems to be the best policy."

When asked what exhibitors were doing about it, Cocks stated that they were not banded together and had taken no united stand on it. "The exhibitors, during the war," he added, "won many friends and people generally are inclined to look with favor upon that end of the industry. Should the issue come up, they could probably sway public sentiment their way very readily. At present they do not seem to be quite aware of the significance of the movement."

Incidentally, Cocks addressed the National Conference of Social Work on the industry, going into detail as to larger co-operation with exhibitors, and urging use of selected films as well as insisting that the children's problem could be better handled by selection rather than by criticism. Whereas there was a tendency to be slightly antagonistic and highly critical at first, those attending the conference assumed a more friendly attitude. It was the first time motion pictures had had a place at the meeting.

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

SIMPLE SOULS

SHOWMAN SENSE
You book a picture because you THINK it will draw the crowds, but you KNOW
GEORGES CARPENTIER
in a fascinating drama of high society will break all previous box-office records
Directed by John G. Adolfi
ROBERTSON-COLE SUPER-SPECIAL
A MILLION DOLLAR ATTRACTION

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK, U.S.A.

FOR THE SAKE OF your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—
"COMEDYART"
offer them more entertainment than any other single release
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

BRADSTREET OF FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

II. NO. 25 Sunday, April 25, 1920 Price 25 cents

THE FIRST OF OUR FIVE BIG CYCLONIC DRURY LANE MELODRAMAS

THE HOPE

With an ALL STAR CAST

by CECIL RALEIGH
and
HENRY HAMILTON

Scenario by
A. S. Le VINO

Directed by
HERBERT BLACHE
MAXWELL KARGER
Director General

METRO Pictures Corp.

JURY IMPERIAL PICTURES Ltd. Distributors throughout Great Britain.
Sir WILLIAM JURY Managing Director

HE'S JUST ONE OF MILLIONS

In love with CONSTANCE BINNEY. It's hard to realize that the tremendous hold of this little girl on millions of hearts in the United States and Canada has been gained as the result of exactly TWO Realart Productions. Certainly, this speaks well for Realart superiority in story and direction. CONSTANCE BINNEY to-day has a following equal to that of any other screen star. This is almost incomprehensible when you consider she has appeared in only two feature plays. The second of these is "THE STOLEN KISS." You may still be able to get a playing date by applying to the nearest Realart Exchange to-day.

REALART PICTURES

CONSTANCE BINNEY
The STOLEN KISS

From the novel by Lucille Van Slyke "Little Miss-By-the-Day"

Directed by KENNETH WEBB

Scenario by KATHRYNE STUART

REALART

PICTURES CORPORATION

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 25 Sunday, April 25, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to
WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives: Wiillis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

Will Rogers in.....THE STRANGE BOARDER
Goldwyn ..... Page 3

Charles Ray in.....PARIS GREEN
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 4

Frank Keenan in.....DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR
Frank Keenan Prod.-Pathe..... Page 5

Harry Carey in.....BULLET PROOF
Universal ..... Page 8

DON'T EVER MARRY
Marshall Neilan Prod.-First National.. Page 9

Earle Williams in.....CAPTAIN SWIFT
Vitagraph ..... Page 12

NEGLECTED WIVES
Wistaria-State Rights ..... Page 17

William S. Hart in.....THE TOLL GATE
Wm. S. Hart Prod.-Para.-Artcraft..... Page 20

Eugene O'Brien in....A FOOL AND HIS MONEY
Selznick-Select ..... Page 21

Short Reels ..... Page 23

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

First National has plan to determine actual box office strength of hitherto undetermined pictures.

Marguerite Clark through with Famous. Considering offers.

Members of "Big 4" deny dissolution.

Pathe annual statement shows increase of 60 per cent in gross earnings.

Holdings of P. A. Powers in Universal passes to Carl Laemmle and R. H. Cochran.

British Columbia bill would tax 20 per cent of gross receipts on all amusements.

Tuesday

Selznick Enterprises plan 537 productions for coming season.

Madlaine Traverse through with Fox.

Several hundred exhibitors to work with "Pat" Patterson on Exhibitors' Defense League.

Wednesday

Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks to sail for Europe May 12.

Loew takes over four David Picker theaters in New York City.

Reported Louis Bennison signed by Marc Klaw.

Thursday

Pauline Frederick joins Robertson-Cole. Leaves Goldwyn.

Two large picture producing corporations organized in Japan.

C. C. Burr sells 12 "Torchy" comedies to Educational.

Friday

Adolph Zukor returns from Europe.

Goldwyn secures "Return of Tarzan" from Numa Pictures Corp.

Two Spanish companies combine to control production and exhibition.

Nebraska exhibitor sues Omaha Film Board of Trade for $750,000. Charges restraint of trade.

Saturday

Celebrated Authors Society buys Edward E. Rose plays.

First National members all set for Chicago convention.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.

SOLD

2,000,000 Feet

WANTED

2,000,000 Feet More

a month commercial printing

Price 3⅜ cents per foot

SEE US FIRST

No matter how large or small your order may be.

We can give you twenty-four hours service.

GAUMONT CO.

FLUSHING, NEW YORK

Phone; Flushing 2211

Better Get Some Better Stories For Rogers

Will Rogers in
"THE STRANGE BOARDER"
Goldwyn

DIRECTOR ..... Clarence Badger
AUTHOR ..... Will Payne
SCENARIO BY.....E. A. Bingham
CAMERAMAN.....Marcel Le Picard
AS A WHOLE.....Slow to get started and contains a lot of hardly believable events in the life of a "hick" in a big city.
STORY.....Suits personality of star but doesn't afford much opportunity for anything new DIRECTION.....Along ordinary lines
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Fair
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK.....All right
STAR.....Looks the part he plays but character is overdrawn and detracts from star's sincerity SUPPORT.....Star's son, Jimmie, seems camera shy; remainder of cast only fair.
EXTERIORS .....All right
INTERIORS ..... Adequate
DETAIL.....Fairly well taken care of
CHARACTER OF STORY.....A lot of talk about Barnum and his theory that "there's one born every minute."
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

They have a fairly catchy opening for "The Strange Boarder" by introducing their story and its hero in connection with symbolic titles. They present Barnum's verdict that "there's one born every minute" and proceed to show Sam Gardner, a rancher, as one of this variety. Then when he arrives in the city to invest his hard earned savings and becomes bait for a couple of confidence men, an animated title shows the bait being thrown into the water and later when the tricksters have relieved the "hick" of his money, another title shows the fish grabbing the bait.

However, after this little introductory bit, the action doesn't amount to much until Sam, Will Rogers, gets mixed up with a gambler with "murder in his heart." They get the poor unsuspecting westerner into a lot of trouble just because a gambler happened to save his little boy when he was in danger of being run over. This is all very unconvincing and improbable but serves to prove the ease with which the westerner is duped, and also shows the sincerity of the fellow and his faith in those he thinks are his friends.

They work up quite a little excitement toward the end, but it would have been much better to have some of it at the beginning. As it is there is entirely too much footage wasted before they get to the point and in fact the whole picture is too long for the amount of story in it.

Will Rogers as Sam Gardner, a ranchman who has sold his lands and come to New York with his motherless son for the purpose of investing his money, is eaily duped by two confidence men who trim him in fine style, but this episode serves for nothng more than to introduce the hero to "Kittie" Hinch, a notorious gambler who takes an interest in the unforunate westerner, and they become friends.

"Kittie" has a sweetheart who is gently forsaking him for a rival gambler, Jake Bloom, who runs a dive. To get rid of "Kittie," Jake has his own place "pulled" and Sam and "Kittie" are among those arrested. When "Kittie" gets out, his aim is to kill Jake, and Sam knows it. In an effort to prevent his friend from carrying out his threat, Sam unknowingly throws himself right into the net of circumstantial evidence and when "Kittie" finally gets his man, Sam is accused of the murder.

In the meantime the guilty one flees to Mexico and then wires the Chief of Police that he killed Bloom. In the cast are Irene Rich, James Mason, Doris Pawn, Lionel Belmore, Jack Richardson, Sydney Deane and Louis J. Durham.

Will Do If You Don't Make Promises

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There isn't anything exceptional to talk about in this one except that Will Rogers is the star and plays a part fairly well suited to his personality even though it is a little far fetched. You might suggest that the story was written by a Saturday Evening Post contributor, Will Payne. This may interest some folks. This cannot compare with work the star has done before. He needs another "Jubilo."

In your advance notices make use of the suggestion as used in the opening reel, "Barnum said: 'There's one born every minute.' One what? Well, Will Rogers will tell you at the.....theater where he is playing in 'The Strange Boarder.'" Or, "You have read all about the 'hick' who came to the big city and lost his hard-earned money. See how they do it in 'The Strange Boarder.'"

Ray Plays Usual Character in Rather Poor Story Setting

Charles Ray in
"PARIS GREEN"
Ince-Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR ..... Jerome Storm
AUTHOR ..... Julien Josephson
SCENARIO BY ..... Julien Josephson
CAMERAMAN ..... Chester Lyons
AS A WHOLE..... Ray has made them better than this but it registers very well and contains some fine comedy sequences.
STORY..... Answers the purpose but the plot is very far-fetched and the villains utterly old style.
DIRECTION..... Very good in handling the touches of comedy and pathos.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Very good
CAMERA WORK ..... Commendable
STAR..... Has his usual opportunities in role of returned soldier.
SUPPORT..... Ann May pleasing ingenue; Bert Woodruff registers distinct comedy character as father.
EXTERIORS..... Wonderfully realistic rural shots
INTERIORS ..... Very appropriate
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.... Romance of returned doughboy with French girl lost in America
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION..... About 4,259 feet

"Paris Green" offers Charles Ray a role similar in general outline to the many he has interpreted heretofore and his usual "Rayisms" make it a thoroughly attractive figure. The vehicle supplied to display this character, is however, one of the poorest the star has had and this despite the richness of its idea. The story takes some very far-fetched turns and the pair of villains introduced are so conventionally the old style, melodramatic, cigarette-smoking type that they and their activities are more laughable than sustaining.

The picture opens with some good comedy laid in a Parisian cafe where Luther Green, known as Paris Green to his buddies, manages to snatch a few minutes fun in the midst of the gay throng. He meets Ninon, a French girl shortly coming to America, and then calls her a "piece of cheese" instead of saying "pleased to meet you."

The action takes a turn for pathos showing Green greeting his mother on his return. They played this sequence for all it was worth and it will surely bring out the tears. It is admirably balanced by some good comedy business introduced by Bert Woodruff, who plays the father. Woodruff's character runs throughout the picture and is responsible for many little chuckles and not a few uproarious laughs.

Green finds that the "girl he left behind him" has become engaged to another during his absence, and this so affects him that he decides to leave for the city. On his way to the station he meets Ninon, who has come to him after she has escaped from crooks who attempted to abduct her after she left the vessel. Green takes her back to the parental roof and there the romance starts.

There is considerable very good comedy introduced in the scenes between Green and Ninon when he is constantly referring to the dictionary. The proposal is worked very prettily, too. For a finale they drag in the villains again. They kidnap Ninon and Green gives pursuit on horseback, finally overtakes them and holds them up at the point of a gun. This climax is merely introduced on a cut-and-dried basis and doesn't have much effect. Ninon's uncle eventually locates her and the happy ending is complete.

Ann May is very attractive as Ninon and plays her part well. Gertrude Claire is the mother, while others are Donald MacDonald, Gordon Mullen, Norris Johnson, William Courtright, Ida Lewis and Otto Hoffman.

It's Not as Good as Previous Ray Pictures But Should Please

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"Paris Green" doesn't possess anything like the interesting story that "Alarm Clock Andy" revealed, but at the same time it presents Ray in the same old character that they watch and wait for and because of this the picture will get over. The comedy and pathos introduced are telling elements. The melodrama is laughable, but at that it doesn't count for very much and won't be taken seriously.

The title is a catchy one and you ought to be able to follow it up with some attractive catch lines such as, "He only spent a few minutes in Paris, but they looked upon him as the Parisian man-about-town at home," "Some predicament! He wanted to propose to her and couldn't speak her language! Laughs and lots of 'em in 'Paris Green.'"

Besides spreading on the star use the names of the author and director. They have worked together on so many Ray pictures that the star's followers certainly know them.

Fair Production With Story That Has Too Many Angles for One Picture

Frank Keenan in
"DOLLAR FOR DOLLAR"
Frank Keenan Prod.-Pathe

DIRECTOR ..... Frank Keenan
AUTHOR.....Ethel Watts Mumford
SCENARIO BY.....Not credited
CAMERAMAN ..... Robert Newhard
AS A WHOLE.....Another average program subject that doesn't get away from the usual conventional lines.
DIRECTION.....Proceeds to jump at conclusions once or twice; choppy at times.
STORY.....A vehicle for the star; has several old-time situations but they are fairly well managed.
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Not up to the standard
LIGHTINGS.....Not always clear
CAMERA WORK..... Ordinary
STAR.....Needs to limber up a little; performance is a trifle strained.
SUPPORT.....A very ceremonious lot
EXTERIORS ..... Very few
INTERIORS ..... Adequate
DETAIL.....Not particularly well attended to
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Romance, drama, high finance, murder, all on friendly terms.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

The paper distributed in connection with "Dollar for Dollar" terms it a "romantic drama of high finance," but that doesn't half cover it. It also includes murder, intrigue, blackmail, bribery, a bit of secret service and a more or less conglomerate mess of ideas that serve their purposes individually but fail to match up satisfactorily when put together and presented under the title, "Dollar for Dollar."

As a vehicle for Frank Keenan this one does not come up to the last few stories selected by the star. His part is well enough suited to him but perhaps it is because it is just a little away from what he has been used to lately, at any rate his performance is stiff and is made even more emphatic because it's contagious. The remainder of the cast seems to have contracted the idea. Their performances are constrained and they act with such ceremony that it becomes funny.

The elements of production are of average quality. The action is choppy at times but manages to reach the conclusion coherently even though you are expected to take a few things for granted and overlook one or two unexplained bits. The photography is not up to the usual standard and the lighting effects could be greatly improved.

Frank Keenan, as Marcus Gard, a gentleman of high finance, meekly accepts the blackmail of Mrs. Marteen, Kathleen Kirkham, whose husband he had helped to ruin, assisted by Victor Mordant. Mordant's son is in love with Mrs. Marteen's daughter Dorothy, and while Mordant forbids the match, Marcus Gard becomes the friend and confident of the young people and is forever coming to their assistance.

In an effort to crush Dorothy, Mordant sends her a note telling her that her mother is a blackmailer. Thereupon Mrs. Marteen goes to Mordant's home, evidently to tell him what she thinks of him—no other motive is apparent. Then the thing gets "intrikut." Mordant's a bigamist, his first wife being an inmate of an insane asylum. The old woman—she is years older than Mordant, he having married her for her money—escapes and finds her way to her husband's home, and while he very obligingly sleeps in a chair she picks up a trophy knife and kills him.

Mrs. Marteen arrives immediately after the tragedy and is followed by Gard. He assumes that Mrs. Marteen has killed his associate and tries to shield her. However, the old lady is found wandering on one of the upper floors and she smilingly admits she did the killing and that "her head now feels better." This situation is hardly pleasant but Gertrude Claire, as the old lady, did very good work.

Give Them a Good Comedy After This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This should prove a fairly satisfactory program attraction if well backed up with short reel entertainment of a light, farcical nature. "Dollar for Dollar" will not be taken very seriously, however, even though it is well stocked with "heavy" bits and has all the photoplay elements that could possibly be incorporated in its five reels.

For those who like Frank Keenan, this will most likely satisfy because he still remains the good samaritan even though he has acquired his wealth unscrupulously. You could use the following lines: "If your husband had been financially ruined and the shock had killed him would you blackmail those who had caused his ruin and feel justified? See how it works out in 'Dollar for Dollar.'"

BOOK IT and BANK-BOOK IT

THE LAW OF THE YUKON
This is the Law of the Yukon, that only the Strong shall thrive;
That surely the Weak shall perish,
and only the Fit survive.
MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION
PRESENTS
A CHARLES MILLER PRODUCTION
The LAW of the YUKON
Based on the verse Classic
by ROBERT W. SERVICE
PUBLISHED by BARSE & HOPKINS
NEW YORK CITY., N.Y.
Apply to
REALART PICTURES CORP.
469 FIFTH AVE., N.Y.
REALART PICTURES
ALEX RICE
STAKE YOUR CLAIM EARLY

Carey's Latest Is Long on Gun-Fights But Short on Story

Harry Carey in
"BULLET PROOF"
Universal

DIRECTOR.....Lynn F. Reynolds
AUTHOR .....John Frederick
SCENARIO BY.....Lynn F. Reynolds
CAMERAMAN .....Hugh McClung
AS A WHOLE.....Gun shooting western with usual hard fights but romantic element doesn't register.
STORY.....Riding and shooting stuff handled all right but plot twists; poorly managed for most part.
DIRECTION ..... Average
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Commendable
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
STAR.....Registers well enough as the westerner with a vengeance.
SUPPORT ..... Commendable
EXTERIORS.....Good western stuff; one shot showing landslide gets a thrill.
INTERIORS ..... Typical
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hero avenges father's slayer and concludes very suddenly begun romance.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,900 feet

When it comes to the gun play and the suspense that lies in a fight between two champions of the lightning draw, and when it comes to hard riding and western atmosphere, "Bullet Proof" falls into the same very good class as the general run of Harry Carey pictures. But when it comes to the romantic element and more or less important plot twists, "Bullet Proof" shows as a very amateurish effort. Probably these big faults of story construction will in no wise dim the thrills generated by the former with reference to the small boy type of audience, but photoplay goers have been educated up to things much better than this in the western line and the rank and file will surely detect its weaknesses.

Carey is introduced as a student for the priesthood. He receives a letter from his dying father calling on him to avenge his death. McGurk, the bandit, is the guilty man. And so Carey sets out to fulfill his promise. Before he meets McGurk he comes up with Mary Brown in a terrific storm. She has been caught by a large tree that came down the mountain in the landslide. They pull the "love at first sight" thing so suddenly that the scene between the two is liable to strike the majority as funny.

In a further landslide both are rendered unconscious. Carey is found by the Long Riders, an outlaw band by no means in sympathy with McGurk, and he joins them. He believes Mary dead. Then comes the gunplay action which is by far the best part of the picture. After McGurk has gotten about all of the Long Riders, it narrows down to a personal game between him and Carey, and the latter finally triumphs after they have worked up a fine bit of suspense over the battle.

Previously Carey had met Mary again. Jackie, daughter of the Long Riders' leader, had done her best to misrepresent Carey in Mary's eyes as she loved him herself, but of course she patches things up when she sees her case is hopeless and contents herself with another member of the band, kindly spared her by McGurk. The conclusion is one of those scenes showing Carey and Mary riding away over the hill tops as the picture fades.

Carey handles his role well and receives commendable support from Robert McKim, Kathleen O'Connor, Beatrice Burnham, Fred Gamble, Bob McKenzie, Joe Harris, W. Y. Ryno, Charles LeMoyne and Captain Anderson.

Has a Fair Chance of Getting Over With the Star's Following

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

They're handling you a western here which in respect to physical action is right up to the mark of Carey's previous pictures. As far as the plot goes, however, it is by no means well developed. However, if you have an audience partial to Carey it is probable that you can make this go by playing him up and also dwelling on the "love at first sight" idea in catchlines and readers. Something like: "They had never laid eyes on each other before, but in the moment they met their love was born. And then Fate seemed unkind. Death was imminent!" "Bullet Proof" will sort of take the joke out of this scene as it is played on the screen.

Of course, play up the gun fights if your crowd likes them. "Bullet Proof" has plenty of these and they are all handled well.

Farce, Burlesque and Slapstick in This Nielan Picture

"DON'T EVER MARRY"
Marshall Neilan Prod.-First National

DIRECTOR.....Marshall Neilan
AUTHOR .....Edgar Franklin
SCENARIO BY.....Marion Franklin
CAMERAMEN .....Henry Cronjager and David Kisson
AS A WHOLE.....Director's touches and good performances put over very forced comedy plot
STORY.....Impossibilities well covered up by unusual touches except in few places.
DIRECTION.....Very good; goes in for slapstick at times but always registers comedy values.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Fine
LIGHTINGS.....Marjorie Daw center of some pretty effects.
CAMERA WORK.....Very Good
LEADING PLAYERS.....Matt Moore, Marjorie Daw and Tom Guise all deliver excellently.
SUPPORT .....Most satisfactory.
EXTERIORS .....Very well selected.
INTERIORS ..... Excellent
DETAIL.....This picture is made by detail; director's touches put it across.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Very wild string of situations concerning newly married couple and husband's imposing friends.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,000 feet

"Don't Ever Marry" is a feature comedy in every sense of the word and may prove just as attractive and profitable from its standpoint as "The River's End" is from the dramatic angle. Practically everything popularly appealing in it goes to the credit of Marshall Neilan. In the first place no one but Neilan would have had the courage to make a feature comedy, and one of polite pretentions, from such an utterly ridiculous and impossible string of situations as were provided in the script.

It is this close and clever attention to detail, this almost uncanny comedy sense that Neilan possesses, that puts "Don't Ever Marry" over as a big hit. He has a capable cast of players working in it but without his guiding hand they would have been hopelessly lost in the mesh of wild-eyed situations that constitute the story.

While the comedy here depends largely on touches, situations and surprises, Neilan at times cannot resist the temptation to demonstrate that Mack Sennett is by no means the only knockabout comedy producer. He goes into slapstick more than once principally in suggesting the Colonel's violence in dealing with labor leaders and in the management of the scenes in the hotel mixup but he always comes out with a laugh.

A splendid comedy sequence opens the picture. The principal characters are introduced by the auditor on a rubberneck wagon. The shots showing the spectators in the car swinging en masse from side to side as their attention is called to various points and persons of interest are exceptionally funny. The story has many twists and complications. Suffice it that it deals with the trials of a secretly married couple, imposed on by the husband's friends, one woman in particular who insists that she pose as the wife for her own convenience, and always threatened by the bride's blood-thirsty old father.

Matt Moore and Marjorie Daw do splendid work as the newlyweds. Tom Guise is his best as the father. Wesley Barry has some fine comedy as the snoopy bell-hop. Tom Wilson as the house detective is one of the burlesque pivots. Betty Bouton and Christine Mayo play important roles well and Adele Farrington, Mayme Kelse, Herbert Standing and David Butler register satisfactorily in smaller roles.

Spread on Neilan's Name and the Title

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Marshall Neilan is certainly big enough for you to spread on his name. "The River's End" surely proved that beyond a doubt. Let your people know then that "Don't Ever Marry" is another Neilan production, this time a comedy, and cite his work on the the Pickford comedies to drive home force of the argument.

You've also got a good title and a real all-star cast to play up. Be sure to let them know that the production is a comedy. Use some comedy catch line after the title to emphasize this. Mention the names of Marjorie Daw, Matt Moore, Wesley Barry and Tom Guise. Your audiences know these people and they certainly will be on very familiar terms with them after they've seen this picture.

All in all you can promise the best in the feature comedy line here. And although some may be amazed at the helter-skelter combinations of comedy in the story, you can rest assured that it contains a very unusual quota of real laughs.

Franklyn Farnum

and

Mary Anderson

in

WM N. SELIG'S

SUPER-SERIAL

VANISHING

FIFTEEN EPISODES

DIRECTED BY LEON DE LA MOTHE—STORY BY WILLIAM E. WING

State Rights

"I think without a doubt that "Vanishing Trails" is one of the best serials that has ever been made"

WM. N. SELIG,
PRODUCER OF "THE LOST CITY"

TRAILS

A THRILLING ROMANCE OF LOVE AND ADVENTURE EXTENDING FROM THE EAST TO THE MYSTERIOUS VANISHING TRAILS OF THE FAR WEST

FOREIGN RIGHTS CONTROLLED BY DONALD CAMPBELL
130 W. 46TH St.
New York City

Canyon Pictures Corporation
130 West 46th St.
New York City

Moderately Interesting Drama With Well Drawn Characters

Earle Williams in
"CAPTAIN SWIFT"
Vitagraph

DIRECTOR ..... Tom Terriss
AUTHOR.....C. Hadden Chambers
SCENARIO BY.....Lucien Hubbard
CAMERAMAN .....Not credited
AS A WHOLE.....Averagely interesting romance in which reformed outlaw is chief figure; has some good comedy spots.
STORY.....Rather inconsequential but holds interest fairly well all the way through.
DIRECTION ..... Capable
PHOTOGRAPHY.....Some full shots of interiors rather dim.
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR.....Is his gentlemanly self as usual; gets stuff over quietly.
SUPPORT ..... Commendable
EXTERIORS ..... All right
INTERIORS.....Fulfill all story demands
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Reformed Australian outlaw wins love of English girl and successfully evades his past.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,800 feet

"Captain Swift" is an old favorite of a play by C. Hadden Chambers. Many will remember a previous production of it by the now extinct Life Photo Company. In its present form it makes a moderately entertaining feature, a society drama with a number of interesting characters piloted about in a series of sequences which successfully engage the attention even though they do not thrill or forcefully sustain. It has its lighter moments as well and these assist in creating the generally favorable impression that the feature leaves.

The opening scenes are laid in Australia and introduce Earle Williams as Captain Swift, an outlaw. By means of a clever trick he leads the police to believe him dead. He then departs for England where, under an assumed name, he enters the best social circles and makes a success of himself.

The romantic element is prominent in the telling of the story. Swift falls in love with Stella, ward of Lord and Lady Seabrooke. Unwilling to conceal his past from her he throws out hints that he himself is none other than the notorious Captain Swift, whose exploits he so often relates to audiences of his friends.

A banker whom Swift attempted to hold up in Australia appears and recognizes him, but in sympathy with him and believing him a gentleman makes it plain that he will not apprehend him. Scenes between Swift and the banker are well played and possess a subtle sympathetic interest that is telling. Later a detective appears on Swift's trail and the play between him and Swift adds more interesting sequences to the picture. How, with the assistance of the banker, Swift sends the detective back to Australia empty-handed is well depicted on the film.

Then they work in a line of action which brings out the fact that Swift is really the long missing son of Lady Seabrooke herself. Thus he comes into possession of a "name" and asks Stella to marry him with a clear conscience. This line of the action is rather unnecessary, it would seem, and was probably introduced at the time the play was written merely as a sop to those of its audiences to whom name meant more than character.

Earle Williams succeeds in the title role in his usual gentlemanly fashion. Among his supporting cast such players as Florence Nixon, Adelaide Prince, Alice Calhoun, Herbert Pattee and James O'Neil have the most prominent roles. The picture is well staged, though there is nothing very distinctive about it in the way of production or direction.

Should Offers Satisfactory Entertainment To All Audiences

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While "Captain Swift" will not, by any means, be responsible for any sensational box office records it will without doubt appeal to and moderately satisfy all those who see it. You can cater to better class audiences with it on the ground that it is a C. Hadden Chambers play, while at the same the story unfolded contains elements of appeal that will reach those who dont know the difference between C. Hadden and Robert W. Chambers.

Earle Williams is thoroughly at home in the title role and deserves stelar position. Catch lines on the order of the following will suit: "See the adventures of an Australian bandit in English society, as played by Earle Williams," "Can a man bury a disgraceful past and succeed in his deception? See 'Captain Swift,' the story of an Australian bandit who entered English society."

Dial Film Company
presents

MITCHELL LEWIS
in
King Spruce

From the novel by HOLMAN F. DAY
Directed by Roy Clements

Life and Folks in the Giant Forests Mirrored in Masterful Fashion

ACTION is the keynote of "KING SPRUCE"—which often rises to great dramatic heights and leads to tense, gripping situations. Then, after a whirlwind of elemental passions, comes the sun smiling through the clouds and makes your audience share in the happiness so touchingly depicted on the screen

"KING SPRUCE" has for its background the giant forests of the North.

THE STORY is woven out of the lives of the men and women who live in close communion with Nature through the changing seasons of the year; quiet folks capable of big passions and of big deeds.

"KING SPRUCE" the men and women of the forest called him because of his wealth, his power, his domineering ways. Unscrupulous as well as tyrannous he challenged the laws of God and man until the plain honesty and simple heart of one of Nature's noblemen led him into the light.

NATURE'S NOBLEMAN is Mitchell Lewis, the famous 'Poleon of "The Barrier" and here he is a second 'Poleon. A knight of the woods "without fear and without reproach."

The love story is woven deftly into the very heart of "KING SPRUCE," its course is rough but the end is full of pathos and tenderness.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

J. PARKER READ JR.
presents

LOUISE GLAUM
in
SEX

By C. Gardner Sullivan
Directed by Fred Niblo

BOX OFFICE APPROVAL THE ONLY HONEST SEAL OF MERIT

The public verdict on "SEX" has been pronounced. The verdict was unanimous and read like this: "SEX" is one of the very few GREAT PICTURES. Nothing is more conclusive and convincing than the PUBLIC VERDICT. There is no higher authority than the message from the box office. It makes all argument and all praise unnecessary. IT REPRESENTS THE ELOQUENCE OF FACTS. In our recent announcement we told of big bookings in Chicago, Kansas City, Milwaukee, Boston, Atlanta, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Minneapolis, Spokane, Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Fort Wayne, Detroit, New Orleans, Dallas, Galveston, Nashville.

"SEX" rises above the average picture like a skyscraper tops a bungalow; it intoxicates the eye, satisfies the mind and carries its appeal right into the depths of your heart.

"SEX" will raise the fame and popularity of your house and impart a new dignity to your screen, it inspires your patrons with the desire for regular attendance at your theatre.

"SEX" embodies the combined triumph of a great actress—Louise Glaum—a great producer, J. Parker Read, Jr. and a great scenario writer, C. Gardner Sullivan and is worthy of your best showmanship.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

Robert Brunton
presents

J. Warren KERRIGAN

and his own company in

The Dream Cheater

By HONORE DE BALZAC
Directed by ERNEST C. WARDE

HERE ARE THE "HIGH LIGHTS."

THE PLOT: Furnished by the world's foremost student of human nature: Honore Balzac, made immortal by his story of "The Human Comedy."

THE STAR: J. Warren Kerrigan, the embodiment of dauntless triumphant youth, ideally suited to the part he plays, full of romance and breathing the spirit of chivalry even in the attic of the tenement.

SETTINGS AND ATMOSPHERE: In their splendor and realism worthy of this great and mysterious story.

DIRECTION: Adheres faithfully and skillfully to the path marked by the master story teller.

This brief survey does not catalogue all the merits of the play but it will stimulate the curiosity of your patrons.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated

GIBRALTAR PICTURES

Theodore C. Deitrich & Arthur F. Beck present

Doris Kenyon
in The
HARVEST MOON

From the celebrated play by AUGUSTUS THOMAS
Directed by J. Searle Dawley

Heart interest abounds in "The Harvest Moon." It is the heart interest that hushes the crowd into sympathetic silence; it is the heart interest that makes 100% entertainment; it is the heart interest that wins for the box office and for the prestige of your theatre. Here a master plays on the heart strings — America's premier playwright—Augustus Thomas. Every touch shows the assured skill of the master hand and the finale comes with unexcelled power tinged with light and sweetness. Your audience will bid a joyous welcome to "The Harvest Moon."

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated

Conventional Story Dealing With Unreal Characters

"NEGLECTED WIVES"
Wistaria—State Rights

DIRECTOR .....Burton King
AUTHOR .....Lloyd Lonergan
SCENARIO BY.....Lloyd Lonergan
CAMERAMAN .....Ernest Haller
AS A WHOLE.....Conventional and rather poorly treated production dealing with unreal characters.
STORY.....Not very dramatically handled and doesn't convince because of artificial principal characters.
DIRECTION .....Rather ordinary
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK..... Average
LEADING PLAYERS....Anne Luther doesn't register much as wife; E. J. Radcliffe appears opposite.
SUPPORT.....Claire Whitney, Charles Gerrard and Al Hart as heavies get most over.
EXTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
INTERIORS.....One or two very handsome settings; all appropriate.
DETAIL.....No attempts made to cover story crudities.
CHARACTER OF STORY....Conspirators attempt to compromise gubernatorial candidate's neglected wife, but detective foils them.
LENGTH OF PRDUCTION..... About 5,000 feet

They've taken a rather ancient story idea here and tacked on a title that promises much more than is realized in the picture itself. It's the old plot about the busy business man and the neglected wife. This time the business man is also busy with his campaign for governor of the state and his opponents, fearful of his victory, plan to compromise his wife and so force him to withdraw from public life. Just as the villains appear successful in their scheme a detective who has been watching them all along throws off his disguise with a grand flourish, exonerates the wife and sends the husband home to her after lecturing him on his domestic affairs.

This story isn't very dramatically developed and there is so much unreality in the makeup of the husband and wife that they and their actions fail to convince. The busy husband doesn't show his wife the least bit of courtesy. He talks to her as he would a servant. In fact, even if he hadn't loved her (and the story shows that he really does love her), he wouldn't have treated her so. At least no gentleman would. And the supposition is that he is a gentleman.

On the other hand the wife herself does such stupid things that it is hard to sympathize with her. She falls into the traps of the villains with a readiness that is almost humorous. Then there is a child in the story who is very, very conventional. She is the offspring of the busy business man and his wife, and she's always saying the right things at the right time, divining her mother's whole trouble in a single cute sentence. And when the villain enters she's ready with a "Mama, I don't like that man" line. And there isn't any subtlety employed in introducing this philosophic remarks of the babe.

E. J. Radcliffe struggles with the unreal role of the husband. Anne Luther gets little from her part as the wife, although, true enough, there was little to be gotten. The best work of the cast is done by the three heavies, Claire Whitney, Charles Gerrard and Al Hart, although the latter unintentionally steps into comedy at times. He always is seen with a cigar, this of course being the mark of the cheap politician. J. W. Johnstone is the detective who furnishes something of a surprise by finally appearing to save the situation, while Baby Ivy Ward is the precocious child.

Not Much Chance For This In First Class Houses

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

This is put out under the alternate title of "Why Women Sin," which is about as unsuited to it as is the main title. Both of them give the impression that some widespread problem is solved in the story which is not the case.

The picture is not one that will go well before better class audiences. It is a conventional story, poorly done, with unreal characters and not distinctively enacted. They evidently tried pretty hard to make something good out of it, but they don't deliver.

If you play this and want to take a chance on it getting by concentrate on the election stuff in it, which is timely. "He was so absorbed in mapping out his campaign for governor that he neglected his home and when he finally turned he discovered—" is the type of catch line that will arouse some sort of suspense and properly represent the story. Most of the players in the cast are well known and mention of them might help.

Take the hot blood of Mexico and mix it fifty-fifty with the cooler, calmer strain of the Northern neighbor and what happens?

You can gamble on it that the daughter of the union will blow hot, blow cold; that she will hate her Northern blood and then her Southern blood by turns; that she will be passionate, revengeful, brave, unreasonable and most cussedly lovable.

That's the heroine of "Rio Grande;" and the picture sings with action, love, gunfire, hate, jealousy and revenge!

Pathé
Distributors

Edwin Carewe Productions Inc. presents

RIO GRANDE

from the famous play by AUGUSTUS THOMAS

Personally directed by EDWIN CAREWE

Pathé
Distributors

Cowboy Favorite's Latest Proves He's Still There

William S. Hart in
"THE TOLL GATE"
Wm. S. Hart Prod.-Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Lambert Hillyer
AUTHORS....William S. Hart and Lambert Hillyer
CAMERAMAN .....Joe August
AS A WHOLE.....Splendid production of typical Hart calibre; impressive and artistic throughout.
STORY.....Familiar "good, bad man" stuff but careful production and fine performance make it like new.
DIRECTION.....Very fine stuff; attention to small things apparent; some fine effects.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Artistic CAMERA WORK .....First-class
STAR.....His usual self; splendid characterization
SUPPORT.....Customary western types; Anna Q. Nilsson, the girl.
EXTERIORS .....Pretty locations
INTERIORS ..... Suffice
DETAIL.....Shows careful attention
CHARACTER OF STORY.....As told in one title, "They may call you 'Black Deering,' but you sure are white."
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,590 feet

This is Bill Hart's first picture produced by his own company, and we'll say he's made a good start with a story written for himself and by himself with the cooperation of Lambert Hillyer, who directed. Naturally it's a story after the star's own heart and he has made the character of "Black Deering" very real, first showing him as the leader of a band of outlaws and later protecting and respecting the wife and child of the man who had betrayed him.

The star is quoted on the papers distributed by the producer as saying, "Toll Gate" is the best picture he has ever produced. It is indeed a fine picture, but the "best"is putting it a little too strong. The story is not quite as good as some he has had previously.

The quality of production is first class and there are many artistic touches that add considerably to its attractiveness. One specially pretty bit is a scene showing the outlaws prowling through a dark cave carrying torches. The flames, shown in natural colors against the dark background, are decidedly effective. Hart performs his usual riding stunts, hold-ups and trick shooting and finally fights it out with bare hands when he meets his man face to face.

Black Deering, chief of the outlaw band, persuades his men to give up the game because they are being hounded and in danger of capture. Against his better judgment he agrees to pull one more hold-up, a mail train, before quitting. Jordan, one of the band who hates the chief, betrays Deering and he is taken prisoner, but escapes.

Some time later Deering comes to the town of Rincon where Jordan now owns a cantina. Then there follows some daring hold-ups by Deering in which he cleans out the cantina and sets fire to it, then fires the Ace, the settlement's saloon. Deering then starts for the border followed by Jordan and a posse of Mexicans and also by the Sheriff and his men. On his way the chief rescues a "little feller" who is in danger of drowning.

It happens that the child's mother is the deserted wife of Jordan. The actions of Deering following this discovery are not made particularly clear. He evidently intends to betray the woman and revenge her husband's wrong against him (Deering) but in the end he gives himself up to the Sheriff. In the meantime Jordan and his Mexicans have gotten into trouble with the Sheriff's men in which a fight follows and the Sheriff, seeing the white side of Black Deering, permits him to join in the fight. Deering and Jordan meet and Deering tosses him from a cliff.

In the time that Deering has known the "little feller" and his mother, he has shown his better nature and comes to love the woman, but even after he is free he thinks she is too good for him, so he sends her North to her own people while he goes his way alone.

Hart's Name Should Be Sufficient

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There's little need for extensive suggestion with regard to the Hart productions because they are uniformly good and in most cases all that is necessary is to let them know you have a Hart picture to show them. If you care to make use of the fact that the star proclaims "Toll Gate" the best picture he has ever made, it may help, but if you can get along without this, so much the better.

For those who like to know something about the picture before they see it, tell them the cowboy hero plays the part of a bandit chief who reforms. Catchlines worked along the lines of "He was called 'Black Deering,' but he was white," and in connection with the title, could be used.

Lack of Feature Material Doesn't Help This One

Eugene O'Brien in....
"A FOOL AND HIS MONEY"
Selznick-Select

DIRECTOR .....Robert Ellis
AUTHOR.....George Barr McCutcheon
SCENARI BY.....Ella Stuart Carson
CAMERAMEN.....Jack Brown and Walter Arthur
AS A WHOLE.....Not enough material for five reels and what there is isn't skilfully handled STORY.....Insufficient, requiring padding; romantic element introduced too suddenly.
DIRECTION.....Stretching story to suit footage has resulted in very slow and at times tiring tempo.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK .....Average
STAR.....Role doesn't offer him any worth-while opportunities except one love scene.
SUPPORT....Rubye de Remer a decorative opposite
EXTERIORS.....Snow stuff representing Switzerland is satisfactory.
INTERIORS.....Some very elaborate old castle settings.
DETAIL.....Swiss atmosphere striven for registers pretty well.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Author, lessee of old castle, falls in love with woman who seeks his protection from her husband.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

There is not enough material in the story presented to warrant it running to average feature length nor is it the right kind of material for the star, Eugene O'Brien. While before some audiences the popularity of the star and the adventure element in the story will carry the picture to a moderate success, "A Fool and His Money" on the whole is disappointing. In the first place the expectations aroused by the title are in no ways lived up to. There is no fool and his money that soon part as might be surmised. In fact the story might be called anything from "Adventure in Switzerland" to "Romance in a Castle" and better represent its contents.

What material there is in the picture is not skilfully handled. Owing to a lack of substance the director has been forced, to give him the benefit of the doubt, to introduce various species of paddng. There is a long sequence showing the leads and a baby playing around with a birthday cake, and there's some Ouija board stuff dragged in for a laugh that has nothing to do with the story. And instead of building up the romantic element they plunge into a love scene that seems startlingly sudden.

The part of the author who goes to an old Swiss castle for inspiration and there finds a lady in distress seeking his protection, on the surface is ideal for O'Brien. But there are insufficient complications to this idea. After the romance has been introduced it is a matter of waiting until the divorce, though still jealous husband, reinforced by the police, seeks out the heroine. His purpose is to kidnap the child and bleed his ex-wife's father for a sum of money. But the author steps into the breach and rushes the heroine across the border, defeating the villain's purpose. The escape from the villain is made by sleigh and horses over the snow and, while picturesque, is not exactly thrilling in the best melodramatic sense of the word.

In the last love scene they take the business away from O'Brien and hand it to Rubye de Remer, the always decorative leading woman. She does the proposing and in such a way that the whole scene is her's. As O'Brien is known as the Great Lover of the screen the intent of the director in staging such a scene is hard to comprehend.

Arthur Housman appears as the heavy. He and O'Brien engage in a good fist fight which is the sustaining high-light of the picture. Others are Jules Cowles as a colored servant, who changes his shade in various of his sequences, and Charles Craig.

May Possibly Get Over with the Special O'Brien Admirers

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While this has a very attractive title, and while the star's immediately previous picture was meritorious enough to make them remember and send them back, the crowds that come to see "A Fool and His Money" may be rather disappointed, unless of course they be the unusually ardent admirers of O'Brien's. The chief disappointment is the surprising lack of material in the five reels.

If you want to play it on the chance of it getting over with the star's special admirers, tell them that it is a modern romance laid in one of Switzerland's old castles. "A tale of modern romance in an ancient and romantic setting" might be a good line to use. Play O'Brien big, and also mention the fact that Rubye de Remer is his leading lady. She has played with him before and has also been seen with other male stars.

The Season's Galloping Success

Carl Laemmle presents the Stupendous Romantic Drama

"The VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL"

$9000.00

Six Hundred Seats
Only One Week!

At the SUPERBA in Los Angeles, which has only 600 seats, the Gross Receipts for the first week's showing of "THE VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL" were $8,964.50, not including the tax. This is an average of $2.13 per seat per day—or an average of practically fifteen dollars per seat per week. This is six dollars more per seat than was received on the next biggest attraction that ever played in this house, for it beats the house record by over thirty-four hundred dollars! It is doubtful if any attraction ever equalled this record in the history of the business. CARL LAEMMLE wires: "Take it from me—'The Virgin of Stamboul' will beat 'The Kaiser'—'The Heart of Humanity'—and any other production that Universal ever marketed."

UNIVERSAL-JEWEL
$500.000
Production De Luxe
Directed by
TOD BROWNING
FROM THE STORY BY
H. H. VAN LOAN

Starring

PRISCILLA DEAN

WD 4/5/20

Some Short Reels

"Edgar's Hamlet"—Goldwyn

From the start to the very finish, the second of Booth Tarkington's "Edgar" comedies keeps the laughs coming at a rate that insures its success in almost any house. E. Mason Hopper who directed has done splendid work, while the story is up to Tarkington's highest standard. Burlesques on stage dramas are not new in pictures, but here, they have secured a new angle—have combined kid comedy with a rendition of "Hamlet". Throughout, the ruling spirit is one of youth—one that will recall the days of childhood to your audience. Every incident bristles with fun and is essentially true to life. The preliminaries to the performance, the situations in it, especially that portion wherein the colored lad playing the ghost begins to shuffle his feet rythmically to some familiar music, all serve to make the two reeler a hit.

"Shot in His Getaway"—Universal

Distributed equally over the two reels of this slap-stick comedy, a good-sized number of laughs will enable it to hold its own. They have employed a fair story in producingit—one that holds together in good style. In a few places it lags somewhat, but William H. Watson, who directed, has kept it going at a high rate of speed which prevents it from becoming monotonous. Opening it is a shot of a prohibitionist who produces a volume urging the downing of liquor. There is a laugh when he opens a trick book and brings forth a bottle of fire-water, which he hurriedly downs. The appearance of the villain, some of the chase stuff which they have brightened up with one or two unusual stunts and other incidents maintain a satisfactory average.

"The White Silence"—Famous Players

Few people will fail to appreciate the beauty of this Burton Holmes scenic. Ordinarily, one would not expect the average spectator to enthuse over snowy scenes after a winter as severe as the one just terminated, yet so impressive are the different shots that comprise the offering, that almost everyone will enjoy it. Captioned with selections from Whittier's "Snow-bound," and Emerson's "Snow-storm," the production assumes a poetic aspect. One of the shots at the start showing the dark trees and background of snow strikes the onlooker, and after that the rest of the footage more than holds up. All combine in making it one of the best subjects of its kind turned out in quite some time.

"Birds of Gay Plumage"—Mentor

Parrakeets are seen in the opening section of this Mentor reel which has been tinted creditably. The titles are instructive, but rather elementary and incidentally more elaborate than those used in most of the preceding productions turned out by this organization. A cockatoo also makes its appearance and the part dealing with the birds is of unusual interest. The Grotto of Halong Bay, China, furnished the material for the second and closing portion, not photographed especially well, and below the standard set in what comes before.

"See-Saw"—Ford-Goldwyn

Saw making is not too complicated to be dealt with suitably in one reel, nor is it too elementary to be of interest, so that this Ford industrial reaches the proper average. All of the stages through which different kinds of saws pass have been screened clearly. The shearing, toothing, tempering, filing and making of handles as well as numerous other details are all taken up and the offering ranks with the best of these productions.

Bray Pictograph, No. 434—Goldwyn

Four parts, each entirely different, make up this Bray reel, a meritorious magazine. A toy model of a crossing, used to settle disputes in court, is dealt with as "The Silent Witness." The manner in which it is used is shown in a humorous scene, followed by a series of diagrams by E. Lyle Goldman explaining the manner in which the ear transmits sound waves to the brain. "Leviathans of the Lakes" shows how giant cranes lift great loads to the decks of large ships and an excellent "Jerry on the Job" cartoon, "A Tax from the Rear," winds up. It concerns the income tax and has many bits of business that register.

"What Could Be Sweeter"—National-Goldwyn

Not only does Carter De Haven play one of the two stellar roles in this two reeler, but he is also credited with writing and directing it. Starting out with a scene in which several youngsters appear—one that will appeal—they follow with some stuff that is not essential. It gets going in satisfactory style shortly thereafter, but the expected climax does not materialize and it slows up again toward the finish, ending rather suddenly. There are a few meritorious situations and some of the incidents provoke laughter, but as a whole it falls far short of the best De Haven comedies.

Another Goldwyn-Bray Comic

Using the Ouija board as a source from which to draw humor, a timely theme has been selected for the cartoon portion of this Bray Comic, the second one of the series. It concerns some of the exploits of the Shenanigan Kids, whose pranks, familiar to newspaper readers, cause confusion and finally result in their being spanked. The Lampoons chosen for the closing footage—gags and comments on current topics selected from publications, are in most cases funny, and the material generally better than that employed in the preceding release.

"Are Flirts Foolish—Gayety Comedies

Most of this single reeler consists of beach and in-and-out-of-the-room stuff, a great deal of which is not new. There are several laughable bits in the production, however, and with an acceptable cast, headed by George Ovey, it may get over. The best part of the offering is the action which takes place on the beach. As far as the story is concerned, there is little to be said for it. Besides making possible the various incidents which are held together somewhat loosely, it is of little importance and is not completed. Closing is a scene with Ovey being chased by an irate husband who follows him onto a centrifugal swing. The spectacle is novel, but as a conclusion to the reel is entirely too abrupt.

"Are Floorwalkers Fickle"—Gayety Comedies

Opening this Gayety one reeler is a unique incident. It takes place at a department store, during a sale, with George Ovey acting as manager. All of the prospective purchasers, women of course, encase themselves in football paraphernalia before the grand rush, which leaves the salesman exhausted. Thereafter, Ovey's activities with some women, and unfortunately his attentions to one who is escorted result in his being chased about by the offended male. Fate plays him a mean prank, when he is shipped to the latter's home in a large folding bed. Several laughs are distributed over the production which holds its own in creditable style.

Short Reels

"Should a Wife Come Back"—Christie Comedies

Under the guise of a title suggesting a problem drama, Christie has turned out another reel which does not register any too well. The basic theme of the piece smacks of the vintage of another day, and in addition they have failed to dress it up with any novel bits of business or many unusual situations. Jimmie Harrison and Dorothy Devore are featured, but the latter does not have very much to do, making her appearance when the offering is well under way and not occupying very much footage thereafter. For that matter, neither does Harrison have too much work. It is all built about the idea of hubby's sister and two friends coming to see him while his wife is on her vacation. He goes out and when sister leaves to purchase something, only her two friends remain. Result: Wifey returns, thinks her husband is faithless and immediately consults her lawyer. The only novel twist is that of having a burglar alarm, newly installed, to add to the confusion. As usual, they smooth things out for the finish.

"The Pawnshop"—Victor Kremer

"The Pawnshop" was one of the best of the earlier Chaplin pictures and this is proven by the fact that it stands as a splendid comedy today. Charlie's antics in the pawnshop, his famous trick of taking the alarm clock apart to see if it is worth pawning and then handing it back with a shake of the head to the owner, the sob-stuff between him and the old crook who after begging a loan produces a fat roll of bills and the old dough-throwing and knockabout stuff all register just as well today as they did when first thrown on the screen. Of Kremer's series this is doubtless one of the best if not the funniest of the lot.

"The Dog Catcher"—Reelcraft

Billy Franey, who appeared in support of Gale Henry in some of her recent releases as a featured performer, occupies a stellar role in this single reeler in which most of the comedy is furnished by dogs which make their appearance at different moments, Franey being dispatched to round up some of them in order that sausages may be manufactured. Some really good material results, and although much of it is not particularly bright, it possesses a sufficient number of laughs to get it over in fair shape.

"Picturesque Catalonia"—Mentor

Catalonia, a town in the Pyrenees abounds in mountain and river scenes that are quite fascinating. The Ter, a small, swift and typical mountain river furnishes much of the material for the initial portion of this Mentor reel. "Picturesque," the word employed in the title describes it exactly, for the scenes in the small city with its rushing river and mountainous background all hold the eye. Colored in fine fashion, it is an exceedingly good offering of its kind. Of unusual educational value is the portion concerning flowers, entitled "Country Flowers." It depicts the manner in which buds open and develop, and while not new is interesting. Small birds are dealt with in the closing footage which will hold its own, but has not always been tinted very judiciously. Contrast is lacking in in a few of the shots, but most of them are meritorious and the offering winds up suitably.

"Falling Waters"—Educational

Among Robert Bruce's recent releases, there have been some that are not up to his usual standard. This one however ranks with the best he has turned out, and is quite certain to score. The title is apt to mislead and furnish the impression that it deals entirely with waterfalls. There are some shots of that nature in the reel, but a great deal of it shows mountain streams and lakes. From almost the very start, it is replete with scenes that delight and eye and please the senses. Tall evergreens rising on the hills and running or falling water appearing in the scenes with refreshing results. The latter part shows some of the best surf material turned out in a long while and the evening scenes, calm and peaceful in contrast to what immediately precedes them wind it up suitably.

New Screen Magazine, No. 66—Universal

Hal Hodes who edits Universal's New Screen Magazine has secured a number of interesting subjects for this issue. There is a certain amount of resemblance between two of them, but otherwise the offering holds its own very nicely. A Kentucky mountaineer who without training manufactures his own tools and articles of furniture occupies the initial portion of the reel, after which some of the finished products of an artisan whose hobby is fashioning models of vessels are shown. The natures of these are identical, but the fault can be remedied readily by splitting these sections up or substituting something else for one of them. Some prize-winning canines make their appearance in the part titled "Tiny Aristocrats of Dogdome," after which a series of gags, called "Laughographs," some clever and others not so funny are offered. "It's a Bear," the animated cartoon which closes is one of the best things of the sort made in a long while. The theme employed is clever and the execution splendid. It concludes the offering most creditably and furnishes a fine culmination to an otherwise average production of this type.

"The Laughographs"—Jack Cohn—State Rights

A varied assortment of quips and gags, some of them aimed at the spectator in the captions, and others animated, that is, presented by performers in short lengths of footage, comprise the first production of this series. Some of the gags are old, but several of them are really humorous. The first one used is practically certain to get a laugh, and some of the stuff that follows immediately after is up to the mark. Not very new is the part in which the preacher scolds several lads for holding a lying contest, telling them that in his youth he never fibbed. He receives the prize, and while it is witty stuff, it is entirely too popular. Thereafter, this just maintains a fair average until the "Miracle" scene is reached. That is a corking bit of hokum and closes well.

IVAN ABRAMSON HURLS HIS DRAMATIC THUNDERBOLT

IVAN ABRAMSON Presents
GLADYS LESLIE AND CREIGHTON HALE SUPPORTED BY
BOBBY CONNELLY, JULIA SWAYNE GORDON, ANNA LEHR, WILLIAM TOOKER AND WILLIAM DAVIDSON IN HIS DRAMATIC THUNDERBOLT
"A CHILD FOR SALE"
Distributed by GRAPHIC FILM CORPORATION

"A CHILD FOR SALE"

AGE — Four Years
PARENTAGE — Legitimate
HEALTH — Excellent
DISPOSITION — Charming
REASON FOR SALE — High Cost of Living

For further particulars inquire
Ivan Abramson

STATE RIGHTS

GRAPHIC FILM CORPORATION
729-7 AVE

76 WD 4/25/20

Edgar Wins All Hearts

McElliott writes in the New York "Daily News":

" 'Edgar and Teacher's Pet' is sheer joy to the jaded picturegoer.

"Johnny Jones, with his small boy belligerence, his sincere conviction that the world is pitted against him, is no actor, but real.

"The haughty princess charming is Lucille Ricksen, who looks as if she might be at least nine years old. And Edgar's opponent in a fierce battle is Buddie Messenger, round and spectacled and serious —'Teacher's Pet' to the life.

"I hope you'll take my tip and watch out for these 'Edgar' comedies. You'll not be sorry."

Take our tip and book these delightful two reel comedies. You'll not be sorry!

GOLDWYN PICTVRES CORPORATION

SAMVEL GOLDWYN Presidm

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 26 Monday, April 26, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Holds No Contracts

Levey of Universal Says Agreement With Exhibitors Was Verbal Only.

Harry Levey, manager of the Universal Industrial Department, stated on Saturday that the only understanding he had with a number of middle and far western exhibitor organizations on the industrial proposition was a verbal one.

Levey upon his return from Cleveland Wednesday last stated that he had closed negotiations with the Miami Valley Exhibitors' League, the Cleveland Exhibitors' Ass'n, the American Exhibitors' Ass'n of Pennsylvania and West Virginia, the Kansas City Exhibitors' Ass'n, the Michigan Exhibitors' Ass'n, the St. Louis Exhibitors' Ass'n and the Northwest Exhibitors' Circuit.

Sydney S. Cohen of the New York State League stated that Levey had not closed the deal as he claimed he had. Levey in explaining said that Cohen had called up the booker at Universal and had asked consid-

(Continued on Page 4)

Clarine Seymour Dead

Clarine Seymour, who appeared in "The Idol Dancer," a D. W. Griffith-First Nat'l production, died last night at 9 o'clock at the Misericordia Hospital, 531 E. 86th St., following an operation for intestinal trouble last week.

Miss Seymour was at work in "Way Down East" when taken ill.

CHICAGO SPECIAL

WID'S DAILY will publish and distribute from Chicago a special edition April 27-30 inclusive.

This special issue will cover fully and completely report the important exhibitor plans as well as matters pertaining to the Associated First National Theaters, Inc. meeting.

"If you value your life you will turn over the secret papers to me at once"—Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon," from Harold MacGrath's novel. A Louis B. Mayer-made First National attraction.—Advt.

Sells Foreign Territory

Inter-Ocean has closed rights to "An Adventuress," according to a statement issued Saturday for United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland, Belgium, Australia and New Zealand, Norway, Sweden and Denmark, France and its Mediterranean Colonies, Switzerland, India, Mexico, Cuba, Holland, Spain and Portugal, Dutch East Indies and Strait Settlements, Porto Rico, Santo Domingo and Venezuela, British South Africa, Argentine, Uruguay and Paraguay, Chili, Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador, Egypt and Finland.

Reade in Canton, O.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Canton, O.—The Trent Theater Bldg. of Trenton, N. J., has secured an option on a site here and will soon begin erection of a theater, according to Walter Reade, of New York, one of the men financially interested in the program. A lease has also been obtained on the theater being built in connection with the new Sieberling Hotel at Akron, O., according to Reade.

Criterion Opening

Many executives of the Famous Players-Lasky Co. attended the opening of the Criterion on Saturday night with Cecil B. De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife" as the attraction. The feature of the house is the large electric sign exploiting Paramount Pictures on Broadway—one of the largest of its kind.

Stebbins Goes to Coast

Arthur Stebbins, vice-president and general manager of Reuben Samuels, Inc., has left for the coast to open an office in Los Angeles to take care of his company's coast business.

Cleveland Exhibitors to Dine

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland, O.—The Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association of Cleveland will hold a dinner and dance to-night at the Hotel Winton.

Pantages to Build Another

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Fort Worth, Tex.—At a cost of $500,000 Alexander Pantages will build another addition to his chain.

Convention Opens

First National Members and Exhibitors Gather in Chicago—Important Sessions Planned.

(Staff Correspondence)

Chicago—First National members and exhibitors who expect to attend the meeting called by Willard C. Patterson of the Criterion theater, Atlanta, are arriving on every train. The special cars attached to the Broadway Limited will arrive here this morning bringing a number of important officials of the circuit from New York.

The opening session of the convention is slated for this morning at the Hotel Congress. A number of important sessions is planned, notably that of Patterson's to discuss the formation of an Exhibitors' Defense League for the purpose of combating alleged encroachments of producing distributing companies in the exhibiting field.

A number of important distributing heads of other organizations aside from First National will be here with their sales managers.

Delegations from a number of exhibitor organizations in the Middle and Northwest are expected to hear Patterson's plan.

Ten delegates from the Chamber of Commerce will be here to look things over and obtain an idea of what business is transacted.

Side Lights

Sam Y. Edwards of San Francisco, who'll sit in on the Exchange Managers' session by virtue of his connection with Turner & Dahnken, wired his favorite supply agents to reserve one bottle of green fountain-pen ink to guarantee his signature on hotel checks.

Jimmie Grainger, New York manager for Marshall Neilan Prod. had his left-hand sparkler renovated and shined preparatory to attending the convention.

Reports say that Henry Ford offered Harry Scott of Detroit a trip to the Chicago convention in a flivver, brand new. A later report states Harry has already bought his ticket. "I don't want to be late and want to get there whole," he explained.

"The Woman Gives" will become more than a title when Norma Talmadge, who will accompany her husband, Joseph M. Schenck, to the convention, gives First National convention folks the first opportunity to see her in person. This is the first

(Continued on Page 3)

Western Producers—Eastern Representative Get SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 26 Mon. April 26, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels. 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	75	77	77
*do pfd.....	91	91	91
Goldwyn	23½	24½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	31⅛	32¼	31½
Triangle	7-16	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod...	4	4	4
World Film.....	¼	¼	¼
do, 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Last sale Tuesday, April 20.

Cobb Story for Arbuckle

The first of the five-reel feature comedies in which Roscoe (Fatty) Arbuckle is to star will be "The Life of the Party," by Irvin Cobb, published in the Saturday Evening Post.

A crook play without the melodrama. A Christie Comedy "It Takes a Crook" with Dorothy Devore and Jimmie Harrison.—Advt.

Suit Over Films

In the suit of M. de Miguel & Co., of Barcelona, Spain, against the Fortoul Film Corp. and Albert E. Fortoul to recover $20,000 damages because the defendant shipped him old and damaged films instead of Blue Ribbon Films paid for, and in which the defendants made a counterclaim for $9,900 alleged to be due for films bought, Supreme Court Justice Gavegan has struck from the defences and counterclaim all the denials by the defendants of the allegations of the complaint.

Werner Promoted

Richard A. Werner, who has been editing the Goldwyn house organ, "A Family Affair," has been appointed manager of the sales promotion department to assist Felix F. Feist, general sales manager.

Cross at Goodwin, Newark

Newark, N. J.—Fred C. Cross, since 1912 lessee of the Grand and Pier theaters in Long Branch, has assumed active management of the Goodwin Theater, succeeding Moe Kridel, resigned.

On Broadway

Rialto—Houdini—"Terror Island."
Rivoli—Irene Castle—"The Amateu Wife."
Criterion—Cecil De Mille's "Wh Change Your Wife."
Capitol—Alice Brady—"Sinners."
Strand—Constance Talmadge—"Th Love Expert."
Broadway—Mack Sennett's "Dow on the Farm." Victor Seastrom- "A Man There Was."
Loew's New York—To-day—Pri cilla Dean—"The Virgin Stamboul."
Tuesday—Elsie Ferguson—"H House in Order."
Wednesday—Frank Keenan—"Do lar for Dollar."
Thursday—"Dangerous Days."
Friday—Olive Tell—"Love Wit out Question."
Vivian Rich—"Would You Fo give?"
Saturday—Charles Ray—"Alar Clock Andy."
Sunday—Nazimova—"The Hea of a Child."

Next Week

Rialto—Enid Bennett—"The Fal Road."
Rivoli—Ethel Clayton—"A Lady Love."
Criterion—Cecil De Mille's "W Change Your Wife."
Brooklyn Strand—Constance T madge—"The Love Expert."
Broadway—"Down on the Farm "A Man There Was."

Around the World In Gayety Days!

GLOBE TROTS

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
THOU SHALT NOT COVET THY NEIGHBOR'S WIFE
Starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO & Madame HALINA BRUZOVNA
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
Directed by EMIL HARDER
FOR WORLD RIGHTS APPLY TO
SUNSHINE FILM, INC.
Tel. Bryant 7123 111 W. 42nd St.

We Place Insurance for
FAMOUS PLAYERS—LASKY
(Watch this Space for Others)

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE

Don't wait with your insurance problems. To-morrow may be too late. Years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture field has enabled us to handle your problem with intelligence, dispatch and economy. May we prove to you how we can serve you better? Your phone's handy.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

It is easy to write ads for the RITCHEY poster,—there is such a large number of splendid qualities to comment upon.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Eddy Polo will produce independently for Universal. His serials will be continued to be released by Universal.

In the cast supporting Thomas Meighan in "Conrad in Quest of His Youth" are Kathlyn Williams, Margaret Loomis, Mabel Van Buren and Maym Kelso.

Mary Charleston, the wife of Henry Walthall will be leading lady for Harry Carey in "Closed Claims."

Florence Deshon has been engaged by Maurice Tourneur to play the leading feminine role in "Caleb West, Master Driver."

Robert Warwick has finished "Hunting Trouble," under the direction of Joseph Henaberry.

Winston Churchill's novel, "The Dwelling Place of Light," has been completed, and Benjamin B. Hampton will next film "The Money Changers," by Upton Sinclair.

Percy Heath, Metro scenario staff, has started work on "The Marriage of William Ashe."

Eileen Percy has been signed by Fox to take the place of Madlaine Traverse in "Her Honor the Mayor."

Julanne Johnston will play in Wanda Hawley's first Realart starring vehicle, "Miss Hobbs."

Harry Franklin finished the final scene of "Alias Miss Dodd," the Universal feature starring Edity Roberts.

Marie Walcamp, Harlan Tucker, Henry McRae, Eleanor Fried and the dozen other Universalites who composed the expedition to the Orient, have just returned home after an absence of seven months. Director McRae reports that the entire serial has been completed with the exception of several sequences of interior scenes which will be filmed here within the next few days. The story, written by Eleanor Fried, will be released under the title of "The Dragon's Net."

GAUSMAN

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Lake Charles, La.—Debakey Realty Co. $17,000.

Hempstead, L. I.—Salvatore Calderone, manager Strand, to build. 2,000.

Lawrence, Mass.—Toomey and Demara will build a $250,000 house on Broadway.

Houses Completed

Pittsburgh, Pa.—New Triangle, Associated Theaters chain, opened. 1,000 seats.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—New Lincoln, Smott, 900, $100,000, opened.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Triangle, George Hall and George Hannay, $150,000, 1,200 seats, opened.

Terrall, Okla.—Pastime opened; will present shows three nights each week.

Houses Under Construction

Kennewick, Wash.—W. A. Baker, 600 seats.

Burlesque House Changes to Pictures

Hamilton, Canada.—The Savoy, formerly a burlesque and stock house, is now showing pictures. It is under the control of the Famous Players-Canadian Corp.

Convention Opens

(Continued from Page 1)

personal appearance she has ever made before exhibitors.

The Fabian family of New Jersey will be well represented at the convention with Jacob Fabian, Franchise Holder for New Jersey, and A. M. Fabian, Exchange Manager for that territory, in attendance.

R. H. Clark, First National Exchange Manager for New York, is getting out the suit-cases.

Among First National's Home Office folks who will "also be present" are:

C. L. Yearsley, W. J. Morgan, Jack Hunter, Earl J. Hudson, George R. Grant. The others will "keep the HOME-office fires burning."

DANNENBERG.

Desirable Office Space
117 WEST 46TH STREET

Near Broadway. 500 to 1500 feet. Excellent for showroom.
Immediate possession. 5 year lease. Price reasonable.

WHEELER REALTY CORPORATION
299 Madison Ave. at 41st Street
Vanderbilt 970

EXTRAORDINARY STORY FOR SALE
Motion Picture Rights available to WHISPERING WIRES
by
Henry Leverage
Appeared originally in Saturday Evening Post—then in book form, and now is out in popular-priced edition—sold and is selling by ten-thousands. Communicate with
LAURA D. WILCK
1476 Broadway New York
Phone Bryant 4065

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Call says:

"The Goldwyn Company in 'The Silver Horde' has produced a picture as great if not greater than the best book written by Rex Beach."

Goldwyn

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

'WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER IN
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPH
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPL
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 2

STUDIO FOR RENT

Large enough for two very large sets and three smaller sets at one time. Complete Cooper-Hewitt and Modern Arc light equipment. Large supply of scenery doors and other woodwork. Only 18 minutes by train from Grand Central Station. 40 minutes by subway from Times Square. Accessible to every kind of city house, woods and country scenery. Cheapest studio available in the East. Apply

CRYSTAL FILM CO.

430 Claremont Parkway, Bronx, N. Y.
Downtown Office, 815 Longacre Bldg. Bryant 8946

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Produ tions. The leading producers are o clients "The Play's the Thing," a we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

William Dowlan
directed
"LOOT"
and other specials for Universal. He has just completed a big VIOLA DANA picture for Metro.
When he directed
MARY MILES MINTER
in
"YOUTH'S ENDEARING CHARM"
the leading man was—
Wallace Mac Donald
Watch This Space Every Day!

Holds No Contracts

(Continued from Page 1)

rable information regarding the pic-ures Universal had to offer and how nany days it could offer. This in-ormation, Levey stated, Cohen want-d to present to the executive com-nittee of the state league.

Levey was in Cleveland while this ras transpiring. He received a wire rom his home office which he says e interpreted as meaning that the eal with Cohen had been closed. 'his, Levey had said, was all that I. H. Lustig and the representatives f the other exhibitor organizations eeded to enter an agreement with im as they expected a settlement of ome kind with Sydney Cohen and Universal, Levey said.

In view of the fact that Cohen had ot closed with Universal and that ne latter had allied with him the xhibitor organizations involved, evey said he had already written ustig in Cleveland that he would ot adhere to their verbal agreement nless Lustig so desired. Levey is ow in Chicago for the convention.

Sydney Cohen could not be reached n Saturday for a statement.

Two Quinn Plans

Has Double-Barreled Scheme for Better Pictures—One Includes Public.

J. A. Quinn, formerly of Quinn's Rialto, Los Angeles, who came East some time ago with a plan to make the industry "clean," now has two organizations in operation in order to carry out his plans.

One is the original organization, the M. P. and Theatrical Co-operative Association of the World and a new one, the M. P. and Theatrical League for Better Pictures.

The first one is operated on a membership basis, with the fee paid by each member based on the amount of business done by him. This, it is explained, is done merely to defray operating expenses and not for the purpose of obtaining monetary gain.

The association is governed by a Board of Merit which according to association literature includes Dr. Frank Crane, Cosmo Hamilton, Gutzon Borglum, J. Hartley Manners and others. It will act in an advisory capacity to producers in any stage of the production field such as photography, continuities, scenarios, etc. For this there will be a charge, this, too ,based on operating costs only.

The Board of Merit will also pass on completed productions and if the production lives up to whatever standard the Board sets, a seal of approval will be issued. If a production contains a feature that calls for special commendation, a different sort of a seal will be issued.

The association will first give advice on pictures before production is started and then approve them after they are completed. The M. P. T. League for Better Pictures is purely a membership organization which involves no membership fees, The public is invited to join the movement and urged to visit theaters that show pictures which bear the approval of the association.

It is said that 1,200 honorary members have been enrolled in the league and that efforts have only been made in New York, Los Angeles and Washington to line up members. A good deal of this work will be done through women's clubs who have already joined the league.

UNCOMMON SENSE
Every person in America who can read knows about
GEORGES CARPENTIER
And every one will want to see him in the great American society drama.
Directed by John G. Adolfi
ROBERTSON-COLE
SUPER-SPECIAL
A MILLION-DOLLAR ATTRACTION

SIMPLE SOULS

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

FOR THE SAKE OF
your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—
"COMEDYART"
offer them more entertainment
than any other single release
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

CHICAGO SPECIAL CONVENTION ISSUE

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 27 Tuesday, April 27, 1920 Price 5 Cents

GET UNDER WAY

hibitors Start in With Differences—First National Meeting Proceeds Vigorously—Many Important Exhibitors on Hand

ith rapid fire action the exhibit- convention and the gathering irst National Pictures, Inc., got er way yesterday. This is sure: a question if there was ever a e representative gathering of ex- tors at any meetings in the past. , of course, there was consider- differences of opinion as to just t was the best thing to do. An rt to clarify the situation will be le at the meeting this morning. irst National got started in efinite way yesterday with sev- committee meetings and more duled for today. This morning e will be a joint meeting of the ous First National individuals organizations, and much is ex- ed to be accomplished. ast night there was a get to- ner meeting of First National several addresses were made. ong the speakers were Whitman nett, who told some of his plans regard to the Barrymore ductions which will be re- ed through First National. Joe enck, of the Norma and Con- ce Talmade productions, also e, as did James W. Grainger of Marshal Neilan organization, os Skouras of St. Louis, the new- franchise holder of the organiza- , and Sam Katz of Chicago, also w franchise holder.

red C. Quimby, general manager Associated Exhibitors, arrived erday and is expected to make important announcement within next few days.

he exhibitors in session asked some of the producers to discuss with them the question of deposits, and other matters, and L. J. Selznick

(Continued on Page 2.)

Mayflower With First National

Associated First National Pictures Inc., will release all of the Allan Dwan productions made for Mayflower, with "The Splendid Hazard" as the first, and all the R. A. Walsh productions following "The Deep Purple," which Realart will release. All the new Sydney Franklin productions of Robert Chamber's works will be with the First National as well.

Miss Norma Talmadge, First National's distinguished star has gladdened the Circuit's members by her presence at their Chicago meeting.

To Build Here

Robertson-Cole are, it is understood, contemplating building here an exchange with which they will share with several distributing companies. There have been a number of such buildings planned, but none carried out here.

A. S. Kirkpatrick of R. C., is due here tomorrow.

Clarine Seymour Dies

New York.—After a brief illness, following an operation for intestinal trouble, Clarine Seymour, of the David W. Griffith organization, died here yesterday. She was working in "Way Down East," but it is understood this will not affect the production, which will go right ahead. She appeared last in "The Idol Dancer."

Regarding Gloria

New York.—Reported here that Gloria Swanson is through with Famous Players, and will be starred by Equity Pictures. Recently Gloria became the wife of Herbert Somborm, president of Equity.

Gladys Brockwell Released

Los Angeles.—Reported here that Gladys Brockwell has been released from her contract with Wm. Fox.

At the New York offices of Fox nothing was known of the report.

Another New President

Dayton, O.—Benjamin Wheeler has succeeded John Seifert as president of the Miami Valley Exhibitors' League.

Hodkinson Showing

The W. W. Hodkinson corporation is holding a special showing here of Benjamin B. Hampton's production, "Riders of the Dawn," from the Zane Grey novel, "The Desert of Wheat," and J. Parker Read's "Sex," starring Louise Glaum.

This is Julian M. Solomon's advt. Let Solomon do it. he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 27 Tues., April 27, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC. F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entry as second-class matter applied for at Chicago, Ill.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

L. J. on Deposits

When L. J. Selznick of the Selznick Enterprises was asked to visit the exhibitors regarding some of the measures now existent, which they want corrected, he attended, but stirred something up. The exhibitors wanted to know how he stood with regard to abolishing deposits, and the deposit system. And L. J. told them they were, in his usual forceful language, "damn fools." He said the deposit system couldn't be changed under the present plan of releasing film. When told the exhibitors had an idea of putting their deposits into a trust fund, thus protecting the distributor-producer, he declared this was impracticable, and pointed out that if he wanted to sell to only three or four of a group in any community he would like to know how the deposit system would work, and how it could be made practicable under a trusteeship.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Bulletin says:

"Put your William Farnums and films of Alaskan gold camps on the shelf, for 'The Silver Horde' is here!"

Goldwyn

GET UNDER WAY

(Continued from Page 1.)

gave them a real talk, details of which will be found elsewhere.

He, as well as other producers, are expected to again meet the exhibitors in conference today.

EXHIBITORS' SESSIONS

Detailed Report of the Doings of the Patterson Meeting

Two things were accomplished at the Monday meetings of the new organization known by the tentative title of the Exhibitors' Defense League. The first was the selection of a committee of seven, comprising John Manheimer, New York; E. C. Peters, Texas; Paul Schlossman, Michigan; Maurice Choynski, Chicago; Dan Chamberlain, Hector Pazmezoglu, St. Louis; and W. C. Patterson, Atlanta, to draft a set of by-laws and constitution for the organization. The other accomplishment was the realization of every exhibitor present that the accomplishment of anything in the line of an organization that would be national in scope and strong in power could only be attained by "pulling together." A disposition to bring in "politics" and to disrupt the meeting by various suggestions was evidenced from the beginning of the morning session.

W. C. Patterson, who called the meeting, made the introductory speech, in which he told the assembled exhibitors why they had been summoned to Chicago. "We must combat the producers who are invading the field of the exhibitor," was the gist of his remarks, which met considerable enthusiasm. He further explained that the purpose of the meeting was to perfect an organization that could safely combat the producers who insisted on

(Continued on Page 4.)

H O SCHWALBE PUTS SOME PEP IN THE MEETING

EXHIBITORS

Put a Ring Around June 8th, 9th, 10th

That's the time set for the Real National Convention of Motion Picture Exhibitors to be held at Cleveland, Ohio.

No Theories No Jokers

A convention of the Exhibitors—by the Exhibitors—and no one will pull the strings.

Thousands of Exhibitors from every state in the Union have already pledged themselves to be there. Every Exhibitor is welcome.

No matter what organization you are a member of—Just watch your step until June 8 and then come to Cleveland.

You can't afford to stay away

Motion Picture Theatre Owners of America

Sam Bullock, Secy.

128 Colonial Arcade, Cleveland, Ohio

Brandt's Idea

Discussing the plan which he is backing, and which has brought considerable discussion to the exhibitor plan as proposed by Willard C. Patterson, William Brandt, president of the Chamber of Commerce of Theatre Owners of the State of New York, said last night:

"I hope to see all the various exhibitor organizations form one real organization along the lines of the Chamber of Commerce idea of New York State. I think there should be a national Chamber of Commerce of theatre owners. Properly organized and operated it will prove the salvation of independent theatre owners. No other plan can succeed.

"What I should like to see carried out is this: Affect a temporary organization here, send a big delegation to Cleveland, and put through at that convention the first solidly entrenched. regular exhibitor organization ever known in this business. And that is all we want."

Sidelights

One of the feminine guests at the convention is Miss A. E. Aiken, editor of the Weekly Film Review, published at Atlanta, Ga. The publication is a mere infant, being exactly "eight weeks old Sunday," but a lusty youngster. It started with sixteen pages, but has already jumped to twenty, containing reviews of at least five motion pictures, editorials, film news and a remunerative amount of advertising. Miss Aiken is no stranger in Chicago, having attended the university here.

James Dunleavy, Akron, Ohio, is one of the most keenly interested men attending the convention. Some idea of his interest is expressed in his telegram to the chairman: "Expect me Monday; with you seventy ways."

—o—

Charles C. Pettijohn of the Selznick organization arrived bright and early Sunday to "look over the grounds" of the convention. Evidently he found more than he expected.

—o—

Roland Hill, owner of 32 theatres in North Carolina, lost no time in reaching the convention. He arrived Saturday.

SENSE and CENTS
Combined with good judgment they both will make dollars, but
GEORGES CARPENTIER
in an intriguing drama of American society will reap a harvest at your box office.
Directed by John G. Adolfi
ROBERTSON-COLE
SUPER-SPECIAL
"A MILLION DOLLAR ATTRACTION"

A PEBBLE properly placed may shift the current of a stream. Likewise a RITCHEY poster at a theatre entrance will send the stream of passersby toward the box-office.

RITCHEY
Litho. Corp.
406 W. 31st St., N. Y.
Phone Chelsea 8388
Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

ARE YOU In Trouble?
CALL BRYANT Ten-Four-Six-Nine
Get in Touch With
Film Service Bureau
INC.
130 WEST 46TH ST., N. Y. CITY
SPECIALISTS IN
EXPORT OR DOMESTIC PACKING OR SHIPPING TITLES IN ANY LANGUAGE
TITLES INSERTED—FILM INSPECTION
RE-EDITING—CUTTING—ASSEMBLING
—Facilities—
PROJECTION THEATRES
CUTTING ROOMS
FILM SERVICE
Expert Service Guaranteed
LEON SCHLESINGER, Pres. and Genl. Mgr.
JOS. R. MILES, Vice President

Independents
Throughout the country have been stirred by IVAN ABRAMSON'S
Dramatic Thunderbolt
"A CHILD FOR SALE"
Graphic Film Corp.
729 Seventh Ave.

EXHIBITORS' SESSIONS

(Continued from Page 2.)

becoming exhibitors, by some means or other.

Paul Schlossman, Michigan, was persuaded to take the chair temporarily. He called upon Whitman Bennett, formerly an exhibitor, but now a producer, to make a few remarks. "Why?" demanded Wm. Brandt, of New York. "This is a business meeting. Let's dispense with these speeches until we have transacted our own business." This led to a subsequent dismissal from the room of every producer, or anyone else interested in the business in any capacity except that of exhibitor.

Those allowed to remain in the room were obliged to be identified by other recognized film men as bona fide exhibitors. The meeting was resumed with Patterson as chairman and Sig Samuels as secretary. "Doc" Atkinson of Chicago, was chosen sergeant at arms to keep intruding producers out of the room—and not only the door but the window above the door was carefully guarded so that no peep hole remained for an inquisitive producing nose.

Mr. Patterson's occupation of the chair was momentary, for he asked Frank J. Rembusch, Shelbyville, Ind., to take his place, while he seated himself with the other exhibitors in order to make another explanatory speech according to parliamentary rules. "It was my purpose to go on record with a set of resolutions and by-laws from an organization which will become permanent," he said. His suggestion to read the rules and by-laws that he had drafted was met by a counter-suggestion that a committee be selected to go over the paper and which would be submitted to the body of exhibitors this morning. The committee was chosen, which immediately adjourned to another room for conference.

The body of exhibitors left in the Florentine room spent the remainder of the forenoon in discussing the various accomplishments of state organization built upon the general plan of the proposed defense league and acting locally.

The meeting adjourned at 1:30, convening again at 2:30. Mr. Rembusch resumed as chairman. The gentleman from Maryland, who had been most willing to tell what had been accomplished in Baltimore through the efforts of the league, again started a story of their accomplishments, and through a motion hastily adopted during his speech, all speeches were limited to five minutes. Several exhibitors from the New York delegation, and one from Ohio, expressed the need for "time" in considering this proposition, alleging it would probably take three or four days for the committee to thresh out the by-laws and constitution.

WHO SAID DAVE 'HOWLS'? HE DON'T

"Ah, I have just discovered something that will solve all our difficulties," spoke up Mr. Steiner, of New York, with the air of one making a great find. "I find that another meeting will be held in Cleveland some time in May. Let us all meet at that convention and finish our organization."

"Gentlemen, let us keep politics out of this meeting," said the chairman. "We shall form our organization while we are here, and not be arranging two national conventions or three national conventions with the inevitable lack of results we have constantly found in previous long-drawn-out conventions." The question of adjourning to Cleveland was thus temporarily silenced.

H. Webster Smith, attorney representing the Whitehurst interests in Baltimore, made a suggestion "that an organization be created and incorporated, including the independent exhibitors of the United States. After this organization is perfected legally and sound in every way, a form of agreement shall be submitted to the various film companies in which they agree not to sell their film to any producing company buying theatres and becoming exhibitors, and furthermore, no film company signing the agreement can buy a theatre and become an "exhibitor."

(Continued on Page 9.)

3 Successful Producing Units

FIRST NATIONAL ATTRACTIONS

Canadian Photoplays, Ltd.

of Calgary, Canada

Producers of

"BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY"

By James Oliver Curwood

Announces Another Outdoor Story in Preparation

James Oliver Curwood Productions

Now Producing

"NOMADS OF THE NORTH"

By James Oliver Curwood

Note: David M. Hartford, director of Both the Above

DOMINION FILM CO., INC.

Producers of

The Ralph Connor Productions

6 W. 48th St. New York City

Ernest Shipman

Manager

Hotel Congress Chicago

JACK COOPER

Featured in Fox Sunshine Comedies

"Money Talks"
"Virtuous Husbands"
"Dablin in Society"
"Footlight Maids"
"The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"The Heart Snatcher"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"

Watch this Space for Future Announcements

JOY COMEDIES

FOR JOY

Two Reels of Sheer Delight

"THE UNKNOWN RANGER"

—ALSO—

"DANGEROUS TRAILS"

Two Special Western Features

Scintilating With Action and Thrills

Aywon Film Corporation

NATHAN HIRSH, Pres.

729 7th Av. New York

Cole Sends Wire

as Robertson-Cole "Will Go the Limit if Properly Supported"

Rufus S. Cole of Robertson-Cole e a wire to Willard C. Patterson the Hotel Congress reading in t as follows:

I desire to place on record the tion of Robertson-Cole in this istry. Our plans have been com- ed calling for the release of hing but the biggest of special ductions. Robertson-Cole are in position tooffer the inde- dent exhibitors a product worthy heir support and with their sup- t to continue to deliver bigger better pictures. Our definite d policy is to remain independ- of all entanglements and we are olutely against the acquisition theatres. Robertson-Cole have desire to enter the theatrical d. But we feel that with the lity of productions that we are ring we have the right to repre- tation in the finest theatres rywhere, and if this right is tinually denied us we must, in tice to ourselves and to properly ce our pictures before the public, e steps for the exhibition of our tures under proper auspices in of the big centers of population. feel that our productions merit ognition of this kind, and we are ermined to have this recognition, we earnestly hope that it can accomplished without the acqui- ion of theatres. We are inde- ndent distributors and we desire do business on an honesty of purpose basis. We will never be satisfied until our productions, standing as they do on merit alone, are absolutely at the pinnacle in the motion picture industry, and if exhibitors appreciate our efforts in this direction we will feel justified in making whatever investments are necessary to insure success for all. If properly supported in our efforts we will go the limit in the acquisition of stars and productions of the highest standard of excellence. We are in the business of distributing motion pictures, and we repeat we have no desire to trespass on the premises of the exhibitor unless we are forced to do so in justice to ourselves and to the public, who have the right to enjoy productions we are furnishing.

"R. S. COLE."

Reelcraft Expands

The Reelcraft Pictures Corporation distributing organization now covers the entire United States through the Reelcraft exchanges and its allied independent exchanges. Foreign distribution for various units of the Reelcraft program for South America, Europe, Asia, Africa, Australia and Canada has been obtained through the Apollo Trading Company, New York; Export and Import Film Company, New York, and the Exhibitors' Film Exchange, Ltd., of Toronto, Canada.

The fast growing demand for more and better short subjects by the exhibitors and the distributors has caused Reelcraft to plan many more additional producing units in addition to the companies already at work at the Reelcraft Studios in Chicago and Hollywood. The new units to be formed will produce serial attractions, a series of scenics, educationals and short subject novelties.

SIDELIGHTS

Reservations made by New Yorkers resulted in their being thrown out of the train because their tickets were re-sold. Tom North, of the Tom Moore houses, Washington, was so upset that he constantly claimed one of the women of his party was ill, so he could perhaps obtain a drop of the well-nigh unobtainable liquid refreshment. When the 14 members of the Washington delegation boarded the New York train, although staid, respectable film men, they seemed to be more like Comanche Indians.

Exactly two people in the diner knew that Norma and Constance Talmadge were in the party. They were John Emerson and Joe Schenck. The head waiter was nearly paralyzed when he awoke to the fact.

L. J. didn't get much sleep, but he did get a lot of I. O. U's, and several thousand dollars, which paid for his trip, so he said.

It was suggested that L. J. start a new producing company with the results of his trip, but he claimed he had too much capital.

Charles Rogers, Select-Republic sales manager, wanted to come to the convention. He hinted his way as far as Pittsburgh, but had to drop out because he was not invited to go further.

The Congress hotel looks like the Astor, even to the rain—all except Nick.

—in Chicago

at the Congress Hotel during the Week of April 26

—I will show—

"Norma Talmadge" in
"Captivating Mary Carstairs"—5 reels
"Polly Moran"—2 reel Comedies
"Grace Cunard"—2 reel Westerns
"Smiling Bill" Jones—1 reel Comedies
"Illiterate Digest"—Weekly, by Will Rogers and other independent productions

Joe Brandt, Gen. Rep.
National Film Corporation
Marion H. Kohn Productions
5th Floor, Shaeffer's Projection Room,
Film Exchange Bldg., Wabash Ave. and Adams St.
Tuesday, 3 o'clock

STATE RIGHT BUYERS

Get This Six Reel Sensation

"A Common Level"

Featuring Edmund Breese and Claire Whitney

In a Drama of Intense Fervor

Lust of power, greed of gold, pride of possession at war with love, purity and a woman's honor.

8,500 PLAYERS

And Every Foot Filled With Fast Action

Territory Selling Fast
Wire for Reservations

Transatlantic Film Company of America, Inc.

H. C. HOAGLAND,
Vice President & General Manager
729 Seventh Avenue New York City

A Chicago Newspaper

"What Do You Mean b

And We T

Inserted by the Exhibitors' Defense Committee, Composed of Members of the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc., Now in Convention at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, to Finally Perfect the First National's New Franchise Plan.

n Yesterday Asked—— ndependent' Exhibitors?"

l Him——

"Independent" Exhibitors Are Those Who Own Their Own Theatres and Who Are Successful in Getting a Franchise from First National. They Will Be the Most Independent Exhibitors We Can Think of.

Chicago, Tuesday, April 27, 1920

A Taste of Our Quality

To the Exhibitors Assembled at Chicago

If you want a first sight opportunity of judging of the quality which is offered by the Hodkinson organization, do not fail to see Benjamin B. Hampton's newest and greatest production

"Riders of the Dawn"

the photoplay of Zane Gray's mighty novel, "The Desert of Wheat," and the triumphant superfeature, J. Parker Read, Jr.'s Louise Glaum production,

"SEX"

The picture "Sex" has been shown in all the leading theatres of the country and reports of the exhibitors are unanimous to the effect that it "went over" in record style. In these days with so many sinister influences at work to deprive you of the control of your theatre, and undermine your independence and prosperity, pictures like the Hodkinson "Riders of the Dawn" and "Sex" must stiffen your backbone and help you assert your independence. These pictures are supplied to you by an organization that has no desire to compete with your theatres, but on the contrary wants to see you continue independent and prosperous and in full control of your house.

Look at these Pictures
Think it Over

W. W. Hodkinson Corporation

527 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Chicago Office, Pathe Exchange,
220 South State Street. S. J. Goldman, Mgr.

XHIBITORS' SESSIONS

(ontinued from Page 4.)

H/ can we know that the film ies are not using dummy exo ?" demanded someone.
Iman is going to perjure him-ad we can prove that the pro-company is behind a theatre is the case," was the reply.
V can't trust the film companies d back of their word when we heir word in black and white," ined several exhibitors. Mr.
of the firm of Mudd & Cooley, gham, Ala., remarked: "We t interested in what the pro-company is going to do—we erested in what we are going ke them do." After further ion, Mr. Smith was asked to to the conference room of the tee to explain his proposition members of the by-laws and ution committee. He returned convention floor a few minutes nd was asked if he had done had been asked.
id," he said.
l what did they say?" asked airman.
y thanked me," replied the at-remainder of the afternoon was given over to a discus-lining up with the independ-oducing companies.

M. Steffas, Minneapolis, gave resting talk on the situation nting the exhibitors in his nd the way in which they were tted. "Our city council conf 27 members," he said. "Sevthem are Socialists, two are W's., and we have several rats and a few Republicans.
consistent work on the part Minneapolis Defense league re able to introduce an ore by which there could be no theatres started in the city he population has grown to which will be only heaven knows when—we don't grow very fast since prohibition came in. Furthermore no theatre lease can be transferred without our knowledge and consent. We are not going to stop with Minneapolis, we are going to put that throughout the state."

As a parting shot before the adjournment the chairman made a few remarks which hit the discordant element a severe jolt. "Let exhibitor stop fighting exhibitor," he said. "We can accomplish nothing until we have learned to join hands and fight together."

Pearson Traveling

Elmer R. Pearson director of exchanges of Pathe, is on a tour around the key cities of the central western states. In the three weeks he has arranged to be away from New York visits will be made to ten of the Pathe exchanges. He began his tour in Cleveland and in turn will visit Indianapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Pittsburgh. This is Pearson's first tour of the Pathe branches since his appointment as director of exchanges. Here now.

Mrs. Drew Moves to Chicago

John Cumberland, starring in Mrs. Sidney Drew's two-reel comedy series, released by Pathe, is leading a double life, theatrically speaking. So great has been his success in his stage offerings, "The Girl in the Limousine," that he has been unable to leave the show. his stage offering, "The Girl in ture work.

Because of this Mrs. Drew has been compelled to move her production activities from New York to Chicago, where for a month Cumberland will appear in his stage attraction.

Mrs. Drew took over part of the Essanay Studio and left New York on Saturday to resume work on her "After Thirty" series, written by Julian Street. Part of the technical crew which aided in the previous productions has been brought here.

WE OWN THEM!

Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.

Celebrated Authors Society

701 7th Ave., N. Y. C. Phone Bry. 1511

APITAL LM OMPANY

Offers

WITCH'S GOLD

Bill Forman's Sport Reel—Neal Hart—2-reel Subjects
Helen Gibson—2-reel Subjects

utive Offices 220 So. State St., Chicago. Studios, Hollywood, Calif.

Announcement

Gevaert Co.

Antwerp, Belgium

ading European Manufacturers of Raw Cinematographic Film

For All Particulars Apply

Louis Destenay, Gevaert Co.

Hotel Astor

"THE SON OF TARZAN"

Comedyart

is accepted by

Three Thousand American Showmen

as the

Nineteen-Twenty Model Short Subject

SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
H W Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

ANOTHER SHAKEUP

New York.—There has been a shake up in the auditing department of Famous Players. Reported 15 discharged, and 20 resigned. J. W. Toone, auditor of exchanges, fired. H. D. H. Connick is believed responsible. It became known yesterday that R. W. Saunders, former cashier of the National Bank of Commerce, is now comptroller. The staff of bank employees said to be with Saunders.

Zukor is reported as saying he had no control over the auditing department.

Arthur Friend states it is a routine affair with no special significance, and no halt in operations will result.

H. D. H. Connick said nothing of any consequence happened.

SIDELIGHTS

Adolph Zukor was seen yesterday at the Congress. Mr. Zukor says he is here only relative to the marriage of his son, Eugene. But many of those present think he is not wasting time, ascertaining how some of the coming season's problems are being considered by exhibitors and others.

"Al" Kaufman, who is producing independently, is here, also, with the Zukor wedding as a reason. But he talked a lot yesterday in the lobby—and it wasn't about the wedding.

Earl Hammons of Educational, and Joe Lee are here, and have nothing to do with the conventions, but they are surely a busy lot.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. Gueringer, representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

POWER'S
CAMERAGRAPH.

Radin Pictures
Will Screen During Convention Week
Frank Mayo
in
Thru Eyes of Men
Zip Comedies
Real Star Dramas
Weekly Indigestion
Etc., Etc.
See
WILLIAM PIZOR
Special Representative
Sherman Hotel Chicago, Ill.

SIMPLE SOULS

For State Right Buye
BILLIE RHODES
in
His Pajama Girl

Five R
C. B. Price Co., Inc
New York City

Fred Schaefer
Continuity and Titles
Vitagraph

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
Interstate Smelting & Refining Company
23 Commercial St. Newark, N. J.

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer
Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

Territory still open on
"The Great White Trail"
with
Doris Kenyon and All Star Cast
New York and Northern New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey, Michigan, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota.
Apply
A. V. Feary Room No. 811
1457 Broadway, New York City

Ask the Biggest One

If you want to know the value of the best in short subjects to your theatre, start out today to ask the owner of the biggest and most successful house.

Ask the man who is offered the pick of the market—the fellow who doesn't have to take what he gets, but who gets what he wants.

You probably know already what he will say:

The Short Subject Is the Show's Seasoning

Then ask him where he gets the sort of short subjects he needs—the one company he recognizes as the specialist in this field.

If you follow his advice you'll soon be hunting up the nearest of the twenty-two exchanges of

CASEY COMEDIES — One a Week
Featuring
JOHNNY RAY
Territory Going Fast—Wire for Particulars
Peter H. White Co.
130 W. 46th Street, New York

EDUCATIONAL
FILMS CORPORATION OF AMERI
729 Seventh Ave. New York

JOHNNY HINES in the "TORCHY" COMEDIES

Book through exchanges of Educational Films Corp. of America.

HAVE YOU BOOKED THEM?

MASTER FILMS, INC.

3 West 44th St., N. Y. C. — C. C. Burr, Pres.

Only a Short Time Hence—AND

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"

Thou Shalt Not Covet Thy Neighbor's Wife—Will Be Ready to Make Money for You

FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO

Starring Fernando R. Elizondo, a star with a pleasing personality, a star the public is looking for, a star which means money to the exhibitor.
Also Madame Bruzovna

Directed by
Emil Harder

Sunshine Film, Inc.

111 West 42nd St.

Telephone Bryant 7123

REELCRAFT

REELCRAFT STARS

BILLY WEST
Comedies Released Every Other Week

ALICE HOWELL
Comedies Released Every Other Week

TEXAS GUINAN
Westerns Released Every Other Week

BILLY FRANEY
Comedies Released Every Week

EXCHANGES RELEASING REELCRAFT PICTURES

Atlanta, Ga.—E. & H. Dist. Co., 73 Walton St.
Boston, Mass.—Arrow Film Co., 48 Piedmont St.
R. D. Marson Attractions Co., 26 Piedmont St.
Buffalo, N. Y.—Dooley Exchange, Inc., 338 Pearl St.
Chicago, Ill.—Reelcraft Pictures Corporation, 207 S. Wabash
Cincinnati, Ohio—Standard Film Service, Film Exchange Bldg.
Cleveland, Ohio—Standard Film Service, 217 Sloan Blvd.
Charlotte, N. C.—Eltabran Film Co., Piedmont Theatre Bldg.
Dallas, Texas— R. D. Lewis Film Co., 106 S. Cross St.
Specialty Film Co., 107 S. St. Paul St.
Davenport, Iowa—Magnet Film Co., 418 Harrison St.
Denver, Colo.—Arrow Photoplays, 1735 Walton St.
Detroit, Mich.—Standard Film Service, Joe. Mack Bldg.
Indianapolis, Ind.—Reelcraft Pictures Corp., 109 W. Maryland St.
Kansas City, Mo.—Crescent Film Co., 315 Gloyd Bldg.
First National Film Co., 928 Main St.
Los Angeles, Cal.—Consolidated Film Co., 738 S. Oliver St.
Knoxville, Tenn.—Special Features Co., 308 Market St.
Little Rock, Ark.—R. D. Lewis Film Co., 106 S. Cross St.
Milwaukee, Wis.—Reelcraft Pictures Corp., 172 Second St.
Minneapolis, Minn. — Reelcraft Pictures Corp., 357 Loeb Arc.
New York City, N. Y.—Reelcraft Pictures Corp., 729 7th Ave.
Oklahoma City, Okla. — R. D. Lewis Film Co., 114 S. Hudson St. Tucker Bros. Film Co.
Pittsburg, Pa—Quality Film Co., 414 Ferry St.
S. & S. Film & Supply Co., 414 Ferry St.
Philadelphia, Pa. — Masterpiece Film Attractions, 1235 Vine St.
Seattle, Wash. Greater Features Co., Inc., 2020 Third Ave.
St. Louis, Mo.—United Film Service, 3628 Olive St.
San Francisco, Cal.—Consolidated Film Co., 90 Golden Gate Ave.
Syracuse, N. Y. — Dooley Exchange, Inc., 445 S. Warren St.
Washington, D. C.—Exhibitors Film Exchange, 916 G St., N. W
Toronto, Can.—Canadian Exhibitors Exchange, Ltd., 34 Richmond St.

REELCRAFT

REELCRAFT PICTURES CORPORATION

R. C. CROPPER, Pres.
729 7th Ave., New York C

CHICAGO SPECIAL CONVENTION ISSUE

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 28 — Wednesday, April 28, 1920 — Price 5 Cents

"BIG SIX" CLOSE

Associated Producers Form Their Own Distribution—Oscar A. Price, President; F. B. Warren, General Manager--Plan to Eliminate Middle Man in Reaching Nation's Exhibitors

EXHIBITORS CONVENE

After Naming Committee of 10 to Visit Theatre Owning Producers on Record—First National Elects Officers and Directors of Both Picture and Theatre Corporations

They sure got down to brass tacks yesterday at the several conventions at the Congress.

The exhibitors banded together under the name of The Independent Exhibitors of America, with Frank Rembusch as chairman and Sig Samuels as secretary, and named a committee of 10 which will represent them at the Cleveland convention next month, and which will, incidentally, visit New York prior to the Cleveland convention and put all the producers on record, especially those interested in the ownership of theatres. This refers particularly to Famous Players, Goldwyn, Loew and Fox. Frank Rembusch will visit New York next Wednesday to get this work under way. The exhibitors have pledged support in this connection by First National, Robertson Cole, Selznick, Associated Exhibitors and Universal, Carl Laemmle offering, through Harry Berman, $5,000 or more if necessary, to help the work along.

First National officials elected officers and directors, details of which will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Much of the time of First National was taken up with discussing the proposed sub franchise plan, working out details and smoothing out complications arising in such territories where several exhibitors want the sub franchise.

UNITED IN BANKRUPTCY
(Special Wire)

New York.—Involuntary petition in bankruptcy has been filed against United Picture Theatres, Inc., by these creditors: Water Color Co., Inc., $330; Elso Gelatine Pub. Co., $933, and Ethel Cotter, $500. Assets said to be $300,000; Liabilities, $375,000.

Constance Talmadge is another delightful reason why there are so many First Nationalites at their Chicago meeting.

True to predictions made two months ago by their representatives in New York, the Associated Producers have formed their own distributing company with Oscar A. Price as president and F. B. Warren as general manager, and will deal with the exhibitors of America direct, instead of through a middleman or sales organization owned by others.

This announcement is made for the Associated Producers in California. Contracts were signed last week by Thomas H. Ince, Mack Sennett, Allan Dwan, Marshall Neilan, Maurice Tourneur and George Loane Tucker, six powerful principals in the biggest alliance ever formed in the motion picture industry. All of these producers will complete their existing contracts with other organizations. It is expected that one and possibly several important producers will affiliate with the Associated Producers in the near future.

At the outset the productions guaranteed by these great factors makes the Associated Producers the largest independent producing and distributing organization ever assembled in the industry.

The Associated Producers distribution will not utilize the facilities of any other organization. It will own and operate its own newly opened exchanges in all of the important sales zones of the country, completely manned and managed by its own exclusive employees. Production plans of the members of the Associated Producers are well developed, and their new organization will be actively releasing their first powerful productions at the opening of the next motion picture year.

Both Oscar A. Price and F. B. Warren, operating executives of this new distribution, are men trained in other business outside of the motion picture industry. They are both

(Continued on Page 2.)

This is Julian M. Solomon's advt. Let Solomon do it, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 28 Wed., April 28, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyrighted 1920 by Wid's Films and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 11th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS INC. F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate Secretary and Business Manager

Entry as second-class matter applied for at Chicago, Ill.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.

Subscriptions should reach with order

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY 71-73 West 11th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt. 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Executive Offices 4121 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eccles, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg. Chicago, Ill.

"BIG SIX" CLOSE

(Continued from Page 1.)

characteristically independent and have always shown little or no regard for film industry precedents, being organizers of wide experience and with the mental independence of the newspaper publishing profession, from which they were recruited into pictures. Mr. Price has been active in editorial and political circles for many years and served his government throughout the world war as William G. McAdoo's strong right arm in the Railroad Administration. Mr. Price has been the president of the United Artists' corp. from the date of its formation a year ago, retiring two weeks ago for this expansion of his activities in the motion picture industry.

Mr. Warren was one of the founders of the Goldwyn organization in association with Samuel Goldwyn, Edgar and Archibald Selwyn. He was vice president and a director of Goldwyn, Distributing corp. from the day of its formation, with full control over sales. For a year, following his retirement in April, 1919, he was vice president in charge of the Hodkinson organization, from which he retired ten days ago for his new alliance with the Associated Producers.

United Artists Election

New York.—Denis F. O'Brien was yesterday elected vice president of United Artists at a directors' meeting. No president was elected to succeed Oscar A. Price, whose resignation became effective yesterday. The president will be elected about May 7, when another meeting will be held.

GET 2 SENNETTS

Asso. First National Pictures announced yesterday they had contracted with Mack Sennett to make two big five reel productions.

More New Productions

Los Angeles.—Screencraft, Inc., will make four Christian Science productions and two reel comedies for Arthur S. Kane release.

Kane in New York yesterday denied the report.

Goldwyn Buys Merrill

Milwaukee.—It is reported here that Goldwyn Pictures have bought the Merrill Theatre. They take possession on May 1.

United Artists in Minneapolis

Reports reaching here from Minneapolis are to the effect that the independent showing of United Artists productions there proved a loss; the figures for the venture showing it is said, a deficit of over $20,000

Salisbury an Independent

Los Angeles.—Monroe Salisbury has formed a new independent producing unit.

Bennett and Schenck

Joe Schenck yesterday denied a report in circulation in New York that he and Whitman Bennett had effected a producing alliance. He said that Bennett had his office in the Schenck offices, but that was all

For State Right Buyers

BILLIE RHODES in His Pajama Girl

Price Films

Five Reels

C. B. Price Co., Inc.

New York City

POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation

16 EAST FORTY-FIFTH STREET NEW YORK

"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The San Francisco Daily News says:

"Partners of the Night" held large audiences enthralled as its story of crime and criminals unfolded.

Goldwyn

Territory still open on

"The Great White Trail"

with

Doris Kenyon and All Star Cast

New York and Northern New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey, Michigan, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota.

Apply

A. V. Feary Room No. 811

1457 Broadway, New York City

WE OWN THEM!

Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.

Celebrated Authors Society

701 7th Ave., N. Y. C. Phone Bry. 1511

Announcement

Gevaert Co.

Antwerp, Belgium

Leading European Manufacturers of Raw Cinematographic Film

For All Particulars Apply

Louis Destenay, Gevaert Co.

Hotel Astor

Progressive Exhibitors Will

Continue To

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

"FOLLOW THE TRACKS"

Of

"BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY"

By James Oliver Curwood

Produced by

Canadian Photoplays Ltd.

To the Nearest

First National Exchange

And book a quick return date before the animals migrate for the summer

THERE ARE 5 BIG REASONS for the success of this picture!

That it was "shot" on the real locations in Northern Canada—is one of them

6 W. 48th St. New York City

Ernest Shipman

Manager

Hotel Congres Chicago

Some of the Girls

Up in the Attic

Minnie Ha Ha

Just a moment---

UP IN MARY'S ATTIC

With Eva Novak, Harry Gribbon and an All-Star Cast

Will Be Ready Soon

It is being prepared for the trade by Elmer J. McGovern, who edited "Mickey", and who says it is the

Most Sensational Feature

he ever had anything to do with

FINE ARTS PICTURES

Incorporated

Murray W. Garsson

Chas. F. Schwerin, Gen'l Sales Manager

130 W. 46th St., New York City

ZUKOR BUYS

Reported to Have Taken Over Chain of New England Houses Owned by Alfred S. Black

It was reported here yesterday that Adolph Zukor had purchased either a controlling interest or the entire organization controlling the chain of over 50 houses operating in New England and known as the Alfred S. Black chain.

Black, by wire, denied the report to the convention.

At the hour of going to press it was impossible to secure and verification of the report.

OFFICERS ELECTED

First National Re-elects Existing Officials and Names Officers for Theatres Corporation

First National Officials got down to bed rock yesterday and re-elected all of the present officials of the picture corporation, but named officers and directors of the Asso. First Nat'l. Theatres, Inc., as well.

Robert Lieber was named president of both corporations. J. B. Clark of New York, vice president of the picture corporation, and Sam Katz, vice president of the theatres, succeeding T. L. Talley. H. O. Schwalbe was again named as secretary of both companies and J. D. Williams general manager of both. All of the present directors of the Pictures corporation selected at Atlantic City were confirmed, and for the Theatres corporation the following directors were named: R. H. Clark, New York; E. Bruce Johnson, J. G. VonHerberg, Sam Katz, Robert Lieber, Nate Gordon and H. O. Schwalbe.

EXHIBITORS' SESSIONS

"We go on record that henceforth we shall favor the independent producer in every way possible; we shall buy our film service from producing companies who are not going into the motion picture exhibiting game."

This was the final resolution of the Exhibitors' Defense League after a stormy two days' session, in which a permanent organization to combat the producer-exhibitor evil was perfected, and a committee of sixteen appointed to attend the similar convention in Cleveland during the second week of June.

The morning session of the second day of the convention was given over to the question of lining up the independent exhibitor with the independent producer, to "fight the trust octopus which threatens the motion picture industry," quoting the favorite phrase of many of the independent exhibitors.

Maurice Choynski, Chicago, was the first exhibitor to express the hope that the independent producers and independent exhibitors could successfully co-operate to combat the producer-exhibitor.

His opinion was warmly seconded by Dr. Atkinson, Chicago, who announced that J. D. Williams, genera manager of the First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc,, and representatives of the Selznick and Universal would like to address the meeting regarding their willingness to do what the exhibitors wished.

C. L. Hackworth, Huntsville, Ala., made an appeal which brought up the hitherto evaded question of finances. "I have seven theatres and I pledge $100 for each of those theatres," said Chairman Rembusch. "I am in the fight." The next subscription came in the form of a check for $1,000 from the Maryland delegation, and subscriptions climbed until they reached $4,700.

With the money on the table, an argument arose regarding the right of men of the meeting, who had put up no coin, to have a voice in the other business before the convention, and the most heated hour of the session ensued.

"Gentlemen," shouted Wm. Brandt, New York, "I move that we return this money to the gentlemen subscribing it, that we make this a permanent organization, and that we appoint a committee of ten to attend the Cleveland convention." When the exhibitors were further assured that the Cleveland meeting would be "wide open," the motion was passed unanimously.

The first speaker at the afternoon session was J. D. Williams, of First National. "You have the power to make us do just what you want us to do," he said. "You should stick together and co-operate in every way. Then stick with the independent producer. I would rather run the poorest star in the world in my house, if I were an exhibitor, than play the biggest star from a company that was likely to become my competitor."

"I am not a picture maker," declared Louis J. Selznick, the next speaker. "I employ people who know how to make pictures to make them for me, but I find it a financial success—in fact, I expect to make about $2,000,000 this year. I am not going into the exhibiting business. I stand ready to take my organization, which I own 100 per cent, and contract with you to deliver pictures to you 25 years hence. If I should die tomorrow, I have three sons who will carry on my business as I would have it done. I stand ready to turn over Selznick, Select and Republic to you—not because I love you, but because I think it is good business."

A letter from Carl Laemmle, general manager of Universal was read by Harry Berman. "I stand ready to co-operate with you in your stand to preserve the motion picture industry against those who would monopolize it," wired Laemmle.

C. C. Pettijohn, general counsel for Select, advised the motion that the body of exhibitors in convention go on record as being against the monopoly of theatres.

The final business of the convention was the appointing of a committee of representative exhibitors to confer with the producing companies of New York during the next thirty days, and to attend the Cleveland convention. The members appointed were C. T. Peters, Texas; Frank Rembusch, Shelbyville, Ind.; H. T. Farley, Montgomery, Ala.; Carl Kettler, W. Palm Beach, Fla.; Lou Blumenthal, N. Jersey; Sig Samuels, Atlanta; Maurice Choynski, Chicago; W. C. Patterson, Atlanta; C. E. Whitehurst, Maryland; Dan Chamberlain, Minneapolis; Hector Pasmezoglu, St. Louis; H. W. Cress, Piqua, Ohio, and L. T. Lester, Columbia, S. C.

Radin Pictures

Will Screen During Convention Week

Frank Mayo

in

Thru Eyes of Men

Zip Comedies

Real Star Dramas
Weekly Indigestion
Etc., Etc.

See

WILLIAM PIZOR

Special Representative

Sherman Hotel Chicago, Ill.

Proper Insurance Means Protection

Your Business—Automobile, Home, Star—You Yourself—Need Insurance

Take precautions against insufficient insurance. A 5,000 or 10,000 limit does not adequately cover your auto. Ask us why—and we will tell you.

REUBEN SAMUELS REAL INC. SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

One Place to Go

If there was only one grocery store and one butcher shop to supply your needs you'd be pretty sure to get your "name in the pot." There's going to be ONE exchange in your territory dealing exclusively in quality short subjects, including Bruce Scenics Beautiful, Chester-Outings, Screenics, and the most varied selection of one and two-reel educational, scientific and popular subjects ever offered.

There will be comedies, too—one two-reeler each week, including the Chester Comedies, the "Torchy" series and two other two-reel series yet to be announced.

That exchange is essential to your theatre's prosperity. It will be one of the twenty-two branches of

EDUCATIONAL
FILMS CORPORATION OF AMERICA
729 Seventh Ave. New York

JOY COMEDIES
FOR JOY

Two Reels of Sheer Delight

"THE UNKNOWN RANGER"
—ALSO—
"DANGEROUS TRAILS"
Two Special Western Features
Scintilating With Action and Thrills

Aywon Film Corporation

NATHAN HIRSH, Pres.

729 7th Av. New York

An IMPORTANT Announcement will be made in this space

tomorrow

Associated Exhibitors, Inc.

Fred C. Quimby

General Manager

HAND

Production should b
Exhibition is the bus

The Production of Motion Pictures is a matter of individual artistic effort just as is painting, sculpture, or literature.

Publishers do not, cannot, hire the big creative writers by the year; art dealers do not employ artists of ability on salary—why should true creators of Filmed Art be harnessed to a Production Treadmill?

Think of the strides made in artistic production since First National's policy of production for Producers became accepted as the better way!

Chicago, Wednesday, April 28, 1920

S OFF!

eft to the Producers
ess of the Exhibitors

We have pledged every theatre and every dollar we possess to secure our independence, because by such means, and only such, can this industry—in which we have our all—progress and we go forward with it.

There are about one hundred earnest men now at our convention engaged in completing our franchise plan which is designed to secure the future of the independent exhibitor.

EXHIBITORS DEFENSE COMMITTEE

Composed of Members of The First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc.
Now in Convention at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, Ill.

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

HAS THE WORLD LOST ITS VISION?

"DEMOCRACY"

-- THE --

VISION RESTORED

COPYRIGHT 1920

DIRECTED BY WILLIAM NIGH

In this World Vision of the New Order which is to come lies the solution of Humanity's greatest problem:

THE ELIMINATION OF CLASS HATRED!

In all lands and ages there has existed an unceasing conflict between Democracy and Autocracy.

In a delightful, soul-gripping romance of graphic realism is portrayed this conflict as it exists in our modern civilization, wherein heroic men and women of today continue unabated the long struggle for more room, greater opportunity—FREEDOM!

EVERY SCENE TEEMS WITH THOSE BASIC ELEMENTS WHICH HAVE

AUDIENCE APPEAL!

DEMOCRACY PHOTOPLAY COMPANY.
THOUGHT DRAMA PRODUCTIONS.
LEE FRANCIS LYBARGER, PRESIDENT.
2826 DECATUR AVENUE, NEW YORK.

State Right Buyers! Get Acquainted With

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"

u shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife, starring Fernando R. Elizondo and Mme. Halina Bruzovna. Directed by Emil Harder

Elizondo Productions—Interstate Photoplays Co.

. Bryant 5521 — 1482 Broadway

Booked

By the biggest Theatres
By the smallest Theatres
By the most Theatres
In the quickest time

Comedyart

SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
II W Hellman Bldg — Los Angeles

Think about the tremendous possibilities—

"THE SON OF TARZAN"

—as a serial!

Straight from the Shoulder Talk!

To Independent Exhibitors Assembled in Convention April 26, Congress Hotel, Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen:—As Independent Producers we are in the same boat with the Independent Exhibitor.

Your BATTLE is our BATTLE! Your FUTURE our FUTURE!

We desire to CO-OPERATE WITH YOU in your stand to prevent the Motion Picture business from passing into the hands of Wall Street Monopoly, who aim to CONTROL both the Exhibition and Production of Motion Pictures by CONTROL of both the Studios and Theatres of the United States.

We are not going into the THEATRE business.

That's Your Game! Producing is Ours!

WE WANT YOUR CO-OPERATION on these Common grounds and pledge you our Entire Resources to assist you in every way in your efforts TO KEEP AN OPEN INDEPENDENT MARKET of Motion Pictures.

What More Can We Do?

Command Us, We're With You!

CARL LAEMMLE
President Universal Film Mfg. Co.
New York

Notable Screen Successes

THE Press---the Exhibitors---and the Public have put their stamp of unreserved approval on

"Women Men Forget"

Starring Mollie King

and

"The Inner Voice"

Starring E. K. Lincoln

Both American Cinema Productions

Now in the course of production

"Stolen Moments"
Featuring
Marguerite Namara
Directed by James Vincent

"His Brother's Keeper"
By N. Brewster Morse
With an All-Star Cast
Directed by Wilfrid North

American Cinema Corporation

Walter Niebuhr, Pres.

Office
411 Fifth Ave., N. Y. C.

Studio
Glendale, L. I.

SIDELIGHTS

—o—

o, hum! Isn't travel slow these s? Take Barney Beachem, istance. He left Orlando, Fla., month ago in order to reach ago by April 26. He lost count he stop-offs he made. He is the ager of the Grand theatre at ndo.

—o—

'. C. Patterson, director of the erion theatre, Atlanta, Ga., says sn't naturally fat—he is merely ted. He only regrets that Chi- weather is too chilly to allow to exhibit his "perfect thirty- physique on the Lake Michi- beaches.

William Sievers, who recently sold both his New Grand Central theatre and his First National franchise to Skouras Brothers in his home town, St. Louis, did not let that keep him away from the convention. He was one of the first arrivals.

—o—

Lawrence Lester, owner of five theatres in Columbus, S. C., was among the first exhibitors to reach Chicago. He registered at the Congress Saturday.

"Where Promises Are Sacred"

LOUIS MEYER

Formerly Broda & Meyer, Inc.

TITLES

Lettered - Illustrated - Photographed

Ask to See Our New Process Titles and Illustrations

A Phone Call Will Bring Samples

BRYANT 7392

1220 West 42nd St. Room 200

SIMPLE SOULS

Mats, Electros and Stereos for the Motion Picture Trade

I. RUBIN & CO.

23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY

281 LEXINGTON AVE, NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp St., New Orleans, La. — 255 N. 13th St., Philadelphia, Pa. — 64 W. Randolph St. Chicago, Ill.

UNCOMMON SENSE

Every person in America who can read knows about

GEORGES CARPENTIER

And every one will want to see him in the great American society drama.

Directed by John G. Adolfi

ROBERTSON-COLE SUPER-SPECIAL A MILLION-DOLLAR ATTRACTION

Wid's Wins

His reviews call the turn with uncanny regularity. A comparison of back copies and your box office records will make you think he had inside information from "the other side."

"Yea, Bo! Want a good comedy—a good two-reeler—with the latest innovations in shimmying music captions? Then get to 'Torchy.' The 'Torchy' comedies featuring Johnny Hines are being presented by Charles C. Burr and if the rest of them come through as well as the first, shown this week at the Strand, it's a bet that they are going over big. They've certainly got a knock-out in their first one."—Wid's.

Take Wid's tip on the

Johnny Hines "Torchy" Comedies

MASTER FILMS, INC.

C. C. BURR, Pres.

133 West 44th Street, N. Y. C.

Book Through Exchanges of Educational Film Corp. of America

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"

CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES INCORPORATED

220 WEST 42ND STREET NEW YORK

TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576

ALLAN A. LOWNES GEN. MGR.

The New York Times.

NEW YORK, MONDAY, APRIL 19, 1920.

THE SCREEN

"Edgar's Hamlet," the second of the Booth Tarkington motion picture comedies, is at the Capitol this week. This time Edgar, having declared a truce with the Teacher's Pet, joins forces with him in a barn-loft production of "Hamlet." Edgar, of course, is the by no means melancholy Dane, and his friend serves alternately as Horatio and the King. A third boy does triple duty as Ophelia, stage-hand and orchestra, and another youthful actor, in complexion a natural Othello, is a decidedly unusual Ghost and startling Queen. The text used is a very much abridged and colloquial version of Lamb's Tale, only such essential scenes as those of the Ghost and tragic ending being included.

The performance goes ahead without a hitch until Ophelia, to while away a wait in the wings, begins to play his jew's-harp without realizing the inevitable effect of the music on the sensitive feet of the Ghost. Hamlet saves the situation, however, by savagely warning Ophelia, from the stage, that he will "bust up the show" if he doesn't stop, and the action moves on again as ordered until the fencing match, in which the King substitutes for the omitted Laertes, suddenly becomes a fight. Just as those in the audience, realizing that they were getting more than their money's worth, are beginning to take sides in earnest, Ophelia rises from her watery grave-in a washtub and shouts to the combatants to "quit fighting and act" and the fencing match is resumed. The real tragedy of the performance comes, however, when the mothers of the producers discover that their best hats and clothes have been badly used as costumes.

As in the first of his Edgar comedies, Mr. Tarkington's facility with boys as a subject is a source of delight, and again E. Mason Hopper, the director, has skilfully translated the author's scenario into moving pictures. The same young actors, by being natural and interested, make the comedy genuine. The person who cannot enjoy Edgar and his friends is almost unimaginable.

The photoplay at the Capitol is a

Of all last week's pictures on Broadway the N.Y. Times chose "Edgar's Hamlet" as worthy of foremost attention

GOLDWYN PICTVRES CORPORATION

SAMUEL GOLDWYN President

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 28 Wednesday, April 28, 1920 Price 5 ¢

"BIG SIX" CLOSE

Hall Acquires "T"

Deal Gives His Company System of Exchanges and Number of Pictures.

Frank G. Hall, of Hallmark, and Percy L. Waters, of Triangle, have closed a deal which gives Hallmark the complete system of Triangle exchanges and also control of the pictures of Triangle Film Corp. Hallmark now has exchanges in Boston, Buffalo, Chicago, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, Los Angeles, Minneapolis, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, San Francisco, Seattle, Salt Lake City, Washington, New Haven and Milwaukee, all of which have been handling the physical distribution of Hallmark pictures for some time.

Hall has four pictures completed with eight more to follow. The finished ones are "The Discarded Woman" and "For Love or Money," Burton King productions, and "Should a Wife Work" and "What Children Will Do," staged by Horace Plimpton.

The distributing organization will be kept intact with George N. Montgomery, general sales manager for Hallmark, in charge.

The productions controlled by Hallmark through the purchase include nine Keenan pictures, 13 Fairbanks, seven Talmadge and 16 Keystone comedies.

No President Named

Contrary to expectations, no president was elected at yesterday's meeting of the directors of the United Artists Corp.

Dennis F. O'Brien, attorney for Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, was elected vice-president of the company. A president will be named at a future meeting, the date of which is undecided.

Hiram Abrams, general manager, has returned from the coast.

Oscar A. Price's resignation as president was acted upon. Mr. Price retires from the company to-day.

Those at the meeting were Dennis O'Brien, Albert Banzhaf, Nathan Burkan and Oscar Price.

Goldwyn Buys Merrill, Milwaukee

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Milwaukee, Wis.—Goldwyn has purchased the Merrill theater here and will take possession on Saturday.

F. J. Godsol, acting president of Goldwyn, confirmed the above report yesterday.

S. L. Rothapfel left yesterday for Milwaukee to meet Nathan Ascher, who will formulate the policy for the theater. A weekly change in program will probably be made.

She struggled for breath, but the grip of iron tightened and she felt herself sinking into oblivion—Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon," from Harold MacGrath's novel—a First National attraction, Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

Associated Producers, Inc., Form Their Own Distribution
Oscar A. Price as President and F. B. Warren as Gener
Manager—Eliminate Middle Man in Reaching Nation's Exhibitors.

True to predictions made two months ago by their r sentatives in New York, the Associated Producers, Inc., formed their own distributing company with Oscar A. Pri president and F. B. Warren as general manager and will with the exhibitors of America direct instead of through a dleman or sales organization owned by others.

This announcement is made for the Associated Prod Inc., in California. Contracts were signed last week by H. Ince, Mack Sennett, Marshall Neilan, Allan Dwan, Ma Tourneur and George Loane T powerful principals in the bigge liance ever formed in the motio ture industry. All of these dir will complete their former con with other organizations in ful at least two more powerful dir will be added.

At the outset the produ guaranteed by these great tors makes the Associated P ers, Inc., the largest inde ent producing and distributing ization ever assembled in the try.

The Associated Producers, will not utilize the facilities o other organization. It will ow operate its own newly opene changes in all the important zones of the country, comp manned and managed by its ow clusive employes. Production of the members of the Asso Producers, Inc., are well deve and their new organization w actively releasing their first po productions at the opening o next motion picture year.

Both Oscar A. Price and Warren, operating executives o new distribution, are men train other business outside of the n picture industry. They are characteristically independent have always shown little or no r for film industry precedents. organizers of wide experience with the mental independence newspaper publishing profession

(Continued on Page 9)

Western Producers—Eastern Re... Get SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt

Wid's DAILY
No. 28 Wed. April 28, 1920 Price 5 Cents

ght 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, ublished Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., ork, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FOLKS, INC.
"Wid") Gunning, President and Treas. Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President litor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and s Manager.
d as second-class matter May 21, 1918. post office at New York, N. Y., under of March 3, 1879.
(Postage free) United States, Outside ater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 , $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign.
cribers should remit with order, ; all communications to WID'S ILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. hone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
l and Business Offices: 6411 Holly d Blvd Phone, Hollywood 1603.
go Representatives—Willis & Eckels or, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale
s Players ..	78	79	78⅞
pfd.....	91	91	91
yn	23	25	23
s, Inc.	31⅞	32¾	31⅞
gle	7-16	½	½
Pict. Prod..	3½	3½	3½
Film.....	¼	¼	¼
d pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

st sale Tuesday, April 20.

rnon Signs With Christie

lywood—Bobby Vernon, Christellar juvenile, has been signed number of years by that organ- . Vernon has been associated Christie for some time.

w Picture Paper Founded

sas City, Mo.—The Reel Jour- a new film publication to deal local exchanges and exhibit- t is issued at 201 Graphic Arts ng.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Moving Picture World says:

"'The Strange Boarder' hould be a big winner nywhere. It is by far the est picture Rogers has et produced."

Goldwyn

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week

Criterion

The old Criterion theater at 44th and Broadway opened once more as a picture house Saturday night with Cecil De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife" as the attraction. The theater has been prettily redecorated, the small lobby slightly enlarged and the box office placed outside so as to relieve congestion. A tremendous electric sign covers the front of the house. Orchestra floor and balcony (the gallery has not as yet been opened) seat about 700 and all seats are a dollar. The performance is continuous, there being the de luxe shows and those played by the organ as in the Rialto and Rivoli.

Hugo Reisenfeld arranged a program departing radically from his standard Rialto-Rivoli policy. The overture is made up of light selections played during the feature. The usual scenic gives place to scenes from at least a dozen scenic reels furnished by various companies. They are joined together with no titles and put forth under the caption of "Just Beautiful Things." This number has variety and registers a distinct hit.

"A Tale of a Terrier," a Paramount-Post nature, follows, this being the life of a terrier pup with interesting scenes shown to the accompaniment of clever subtitles in the first person, supposedly the words of the dog.

As a prelude to the feature a "musical trifle" utilizing the services of a "jazz" singer and four chorus girls is staged. A song, "Why Change Your Wife," which brings both "De Mille" and "Paramount" into verse, is rendered. This is a novelty but wasn't very well rendered on the opening night. The feature registers well, getting a lot of laughs. Following the girls come out again and "jazz" the crowd out.

The entire program is something of a novelty in New York picture presentation and from this early date it looks as if it were a hit.

Rialto

The two main musical features at the Rialto, the Mendelssohn overture, "Ruy Blas," and the violin solo, "Andante Symphonie Espagnol," rendered by Sascha Fidelman, are a trifle too heavy. In fact the popularity of Fidelman at the Rialto is really the saving grace of the musical numbers. "Terror Island," the Houdini picture, didn't register as intended before a matinee audience and received laughs and guffaws long before its finish. The Sunshine comedy, "The Great Nickle Robbery," went over well and the Rialto Magazine was interesting and spiritedly played to by the orchestra.

Rivoli

"The Amateur Wife" with Irene Castle is the feature at this house. A matinee audience didn't seem willing to accept the star as an impossibly plain girl and laughed at intended serious moments in the picture. Nor was the house doing its usual matinee business on Monday. The spirited "March Slav" by Tschaikowsky is the overture. The Rivoli Pictorial is followed by Gladys Rice rendering "Oh! Dry Those Tears." After the feature a Carter De Haven comedy, "What Could Be Sweeter," is shown. It didn't register up to average. The organ solo is Polonaise in A Major.

Capitol

While the feature at the Capitol is "Sinners," it might seem that the pictorial highlight on the bill is Chaplin's "A Dog's Life." When first released this played two weeks straight at the Strand, but the crowds revel in it yet. The chief musical feature is the first act of the opera "Lohengrin," sung for the first time on any New York stage since the war. Karl Jorn, formerly of the Metropolitan Opera Company, sings the title role. This number seems to be drawing its share of the crowds, too, despite the fact that the last time it was attempted in New York it caused a riot, owing to war conditions.

An organ solo, Topics of the Day, the Capitol News and "Zampa" as overture are the first four numbers on the bill. Hy Mayer has another Travelaugh, "Such is Life in the Great Melting Pot," which registers a hit. The promenade concert precedes the opera and "A Dog's Life" and "Sinners" follow in order.

Broadway

The long awaited Sennett feature, "Down on the Farm," shares honors at the Broadway this week with Radiosoul's "A Man There Was" at a dollar top. "Down on the Farm" proved somewhat disappointing owing to its brevity as presented here, while the audience was obviously sorry not to see more of Ben Turpin. However, the picture has some great gags, many of them new, and the presence of Teddy, the dog, Pepper, the cat, and the Sennett kiddie and their antics made them sit up and take notice. "A Man There Was" registered nicely played to with impressively clashing music.

Strand

It's decidedly a comedy week at the Strand where Constance Talmadge is affording much amusement as "The Love Expert" and Ernest Truex makes a fine little detective and accidentally shows surprising ability as a shimmy dancer in his latest comedy, "Stick Around." Both the feature and the Truex comedy managed to keep the audience in a very good humor throughout the entire show.

The overture was Liszt's "1st Hungarian Rhapsody." The Strand Topical Review contained some interesting events and "Screen Screams," illustrated jokes taken from the various magazines of humor, completed the screen entertainment.

Carlo Ferretti, baritone, sang "Valentine Song" from "Faust" and the "Sweetheart" duet from "Maytime" was sung by Eldora Stanford and Walter Pontius. Costumes and stage setting were in keeping with the song. The organ solo was "Pilgrims Chorus."

Garfield Tours for McLaughlin

Herman Garfield will make a tour of the United States in the interest of Robert McLaughlin's "The House Without Children."

Bickel in Charge at Dallas

Dallas, Tex.—L. Bickel has taken over complete charge of Metro exchange, who now has full ownership of the exchange for the distribution in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Reelcraft Sells Billy Franey

Reelcraft has sold the 52 Billy Franey single reel comedies to the following exchanges: R. D. Marson Attractions Co., Boston; Consolidated Film Co., 90 Golden Gate Ave., San Francisco; Consolidated Film Co., 738 South Oliver Street, Los Angeles; Standard Film Service, Cincinnati; Standard Film Service, Detroit; Standard Film Service, Cleveland, and the S. & S. Film & Supply Co., Pittsburgh, Pa.

New Comedy Series for "U"
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Lee Kohlman has been signed by Carl Laemmle to do a series of one and two reel comedies for Universal.

New Theater for Baltimore
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Baltimore, Md.—The corporation in which Travis H. Whitney is interested will erect a $300,000 theater here.

Edison made the motion picture possible. The RITCHEY poster made it profitable.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8284

Ritchey

Pathé News

FT. OMAHA, NEB.—Prepare to signal Mars—Leo Stevens makes first tests of apparatus designed to carry Prof. Todd to 50,000-ft. height in effort to "speak to" Mars.
IN THE LIMELIGHT—Pershing receives honorary degree—Missouri University presents degree to A. E. F. chief; the General in cap and gown (left) leads the academic march.
MERIDIAN, MISS.—Another tornado claims death toll in South—166 are killed and hundreds injured as terrific storm razes entire towns.
NEW YORK CITY—The Circus is in town, and goes a-calling! Fun-makers visit hospital to spread mirth and cheer among sick kiddies.
FRANKFORT, GERMANY—France occupies Ruhr district! First pictures showing the entry of French troops into German cities to keep order during the recent Red uprising.
A view of the city of Frankfort on the Main River.
"The men behind the guns" are French "Moroccos."
The French soldiers share some of their food with the German kiddies.
NEW YORK CITY—Overall army declares War on Profiteer hosts—hundreds clad in denim and gingham parade as protest against high prices.
PUNA, HAWAII—Gobs gaze into seething crater of Kilauea-Iki! Sailors of U. S. fleet visiting Hawaii make trip to summit of active volcano.
A sea of molten lava at the bottom of the pit heaves its fiery surface in awe-inspiring grandeur.
The lava sometimes takes the place of matches in Hawaii.
The center of the vast pit is known as "Halemaumau," or "The House of Everlasting Fire."
NICE, FRANCE—French President a sport enthusiast! M. Paul Deschanel is heartily acclaimed as he arrives to attend athletic meet.

today

Sell More Territory

Victor Kremer has sold "Work," "By the Sea," "The Champion" and "A Jitney Elopement" for Western Missouri and Kansas to the First National Film Co. of Kansas City. Standard Film Corp. has purchased them for Kansas and Missouri.

Pearson Touring Key Cities

Elmer R. Pearson, director of exchanges for Pathe, is touring the key cities of the central western states. He started the tour in Cleveland and will visit Indianapolis, Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis, Des Moines, Omaha, Kansas City, St. Louis and Pittsburgh.

Takes Over Essanay Studio

Chicago, Ill.—Mrs. Sidney Drew has resumed work on her "After Thirty" series at the Essanay studio, part of which has been taken over by her. Moving here was necessitated by the fact that John Cumberland is appearing in "The Girl in the Limousine" and cannot leave the show to devote his time exclusively to pictures.

Up in the Attic

Some of the Girls

Minnie Ha Ha

JUST A MOMENT—

UP IN MARY'S ATTIC

with

Eva Novak, Harry Gribbon and an all-star cast

WILL BE READY SOON

It is being prepared for the trade by Elmer J. McGovern, who edited "Mickey," and who says it is the MOST SENSATIONAL FEATURE he ever had anything to do with

FINE ARTS PICTURES, Inc.

Murray W. Garsson, Pres.
130 W. 46th St.

Chas. F. Schwerin, Gen. Sales Mgr.
New York City

In the Courts

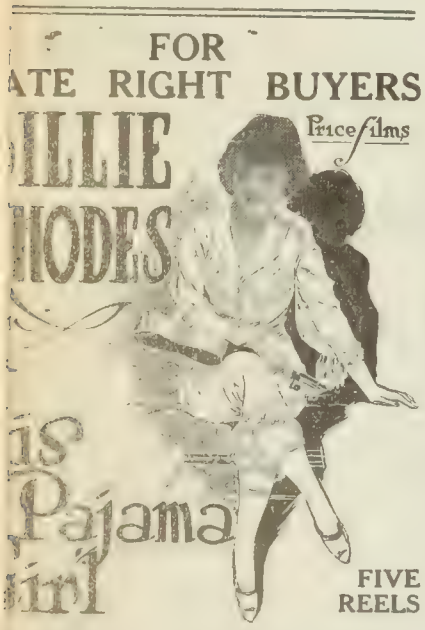
jury in the Supreme Court re-d a verdict for $25,000 against ander Fisher, owner of a mo-picture theater at 59 Flatbush Brooklyn, because his automo-an down and killed Mrs. Mary , conductor on a Brooklyn trol-ar, in October, 1918, while she working to support herself and ung son in the absence of her and in the American army in ce.

e Commonwealth Film Corp. iled suit in the Supreme Court st Frank Finkelstein to recover on a check made Nov. 27 last was not paid.

the suit of Darcy & Wolford st William Stoermer to restrain se of "The Tidal Wave" as the of a film play on the ground the plaintiffs have established right to the name because of e in a play, Supreme Court Jus-Giegerich, who decided against lefendant once before and then ted a rehearing, has again con-d that the plaintiffs are entitled ior right because its use by the dant is not to describe a "tidal " in the literal sense, but as a l wave of human events." For reason the court holds that rmer must take some other fig-ve name for his film.

"Deep Purple" at Capitol

he Deep Purple," directed for flower by R. A. Walsh, will have remiere at the Capitol May 2nd.



B. PRICE COMPANY, Inc.
NEW YORK CITY

German Recovery

Former Newspaper Correspondent on Return Thinks Teutons Will Be Good Customers.

If the old adage that coming events cast their shadows before them holds good Germany will in time become one of the best markets in the world for American pictures. The present embargo is only a passing obstacle that soon will disappear.

This is the opinion held by Alfred G. Anderson, of the Inter-Ocean staff, who has just returned from Germany. Before his affiliation with the Inter-Ocean Anderson was the Berlin correspondent of the International News Service. Anderson says in part:

"German audiences far prefer American pictures to any others produced, including their own. They cultivated a taste for our product before the war, and this taste was amply developed during the actual conflict when German motion picture production, like other non-war industries, was seriously crippled. thus opening the way for a foreign picture invasion. Of all foreign pictures American productions were by far the most popular. The Germans like snappy stories and a maximum of action. This they find only in a limited measure in their own pictures. And where the demand exists the supply cannot be indefinitely withheld from the consumer.

"There is nothing surprising or astounding to me in recent reports that some German film men have opened negotiations with American producers and exporters for large supplies of American pictures as soon as the embargo is lifted. More than once during 1919, while acting as a newspaper correspondent in Berlin, I was approached by German motion picture people who both wanted to buy American films for Germany and sell German films in America. At the time I was too busy with my newspaper work to give such matters the attention they deserved. But that does not alter the fact that the intention was present. And I did live long enough in Berlin to see American news films enter the country legitimately and become included in the regular programs before I returned to America a few months ago.

"Since my return home I have followed events in German closely. I have, among other news articles, read all the reports I could find in German trade journals on the present film embargo. From the German trade press it appears that the embargo is by no means hailed as an unmixed blessing by German exhibitors. The Erste Internationale Film-Zeitung, one of the leading Berlin trade journals, quoting the Berliner Tageblatt, recently reported a turbulent session of the Berlin Chamber of Commerce when the motion picture element of that body launched an attack on the embargo and introduced a resolution for its removal by August 15, 1920. The resolution, according to the Film Zeitung, was voted down under the influence of producers and the non-film elementc of the chamber who were opposed to the importation of luxuries.

"The life of the embargo, however,

(Continued on Page 9)

Only one place to go

If there was only one grocery store and one butcher shop to supply your needs you'd be pretty sure to get your "name in the pot."

There's going to be ONE exchange in your territory dealing exclusively in quality short subjects, including Bruce Scenics Beautiful, Chester Outings, Screenics, and the most varied selection of one and two-reel educational, scientific and popular subjects ever offered.

There will be comedies, too—one two-reeler each week, including the Chester Comedies, the "Torchy" series and two other two-reel series yet to be announced.

That exchange is essential to your theatre's prosperity. It will be one of the twenty-two branches of

EDUCATIONAL
FILMS CORPORATION OF AMERICA
729 Seventh Ave. New York

JOY COMEDIES
FOR Joy
Two Reels of Sheer Delight

"THE UNKNOWN RANGER"
ALSO
"DANGEROUS TRAILS"
FOR Action and Thrills
IN Western Features
BY
AYWON FILM CORPORATION
NATHAN HIRSH, Pres.
729 Seventh Ave. New York

o Break Ground for Stanley House

Philadelphia—The laying of the orner stone of the new Stanley the-:er, at 19th and Market Streets, ill take place at 3 o'clock on Satur-ay, May 8th.

A feature of the theater will be an nobstructed view of the stage or :reen from every part of the house, s the building is constructed with floor space of 142 feet without col-mns. The exterior walls will be of rick and terra cotta. The organ will ost $75,000.

Change at Rivoli

Wallace Reid in "The Dancin' ool" will be the feature at the Ri-oli next week instead of Ethel Clay-on in "A Lady in Love," as orig-ally scheduled.

Photo-Serial MS. For Sale

The collaboration of two authors and a scenario editor has resulted in

AN AMAZING PHOTO-SERIAL STORY

with 3 to 6 ABSOLUTELY NEW THRILLS never used before in each of the 15 episodes. The UNEQUALLED SUSPENSE does not depend on tiresome wrecks, explosions, or athletic feats, but upon

SEEMING IMPOSSIBILITIES PLAUSIBLY EXPLAINED

The most startling sensations ever imagined. The most unsolvable mystery ever created. Destined to be

AN EPOCH MAKER IN SCREEN SERIALS

Production, inexpensive. The story will cost money, but it's worth it. For full particulars, address

ROYAL BLUE,
Care Wid's Daily,
71 W. 44th St. N. Y. City

TERRITORY STILL OPEN
on
"THE GREAT WHITE TRAIL"
With DORIS KENYON
and all star cast
NEW YORK and
NORTHERN NEW JERSEY
EASTERN PENNSYLVANIA and SOUTHERN NEW JERSEY
MICHIGAN
WISCONSIN
NORTH and
SOUTH DAKOTA
Apply A. V. FEARY
Room 811 1457 Broadway
New York City

POWER'S
CAMERAGRAPH

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood, Cal.—"The Mischief Man," Lew Cody's latest now in course of production, is an original story by H. Tipton Steck. Cody's next story is also an original of Steck's and will be produced in New York City. Steck and Cody plan to leave about May 5th.

Olive Thomas is to be starred in "Jenny," during her stay on the coast. This picture will be produced under direction of Laurence Trimble at the Selznick studios.

The filming of "Held in Trust" with May Allison was started this week at the Metro studio. John E. Ince is directing.

Helen Ferguson will support Mitchell Lewis in "The Mutiny," the second Jack London story.

The cast for King Vidor's "The Jack-Knife Man," from Ellis Parker Butler's novel, includes Florence Vidor, Charles Arling, Fred Turner, Willis Marks, Harry Todd, James Corrigan, Lillian Leighton, Bobby Keiso and Claire McDowell.

Roscoe Karns has again been loaned by King Vidor, this time to Lasky.

Allan Dwan has begun preliminary work on his sixth Mayflower production.

Ward Crane, Anita Stewart's leading man in "The Yellow Typhoon," has been re-engaged for "Harriet and the Piper."

Lillian Rich has been given the leading role opposite Frank Mayo in "The Red Lane."

Norman Dawn will direct Edith Roberts in "Mirama" for Universal.

Walter W. Bell, cameraman with "Buddy" Post unit at National Film, will sail for Europe about June 1 to produce comedies near Paris.

Harry J. Revier will direct "The Son of Tarzan" serial for the National Film.

Production of "The Palace of Darkened Windows" for the National Picture Theaters has been started.

H. H. Van Loan is to write a novel from his original photoplay script of "The Virgin of Stamboul."

Lenwood Abbot, superintendent of National Laboratory, has perfected an enlarging camera which it is said will make a clear-cut print from a motion picture negative. This machine will make it possible to reproduce pictures for publicity purposes without the use of a Graflex camera, it is claimed.

Mabel Normand started work this week at the Goldwyn studios, under the direction of Victor Schertzinger making "Rosa Alvara," a story by Pearl Curran.

Director Frank Lloyd finished this week "Madam X" in which Pauline Frederick was starred.

Douglas MacLean and Doris May have begun work on their seventh Thomas H. Ince vehicle, "Yancona Yillies," the Saturday Evening Post story by Herschel S. Hall.

The Historical Film Co. has commenced the filming of their productions based on stories of the Bible.

Allen Holubar will be in action within a week producing a photo-drama starring Dorothy Phillips.

GAUSMAN.

Special Representatives for Pioneer

At the recent conference of the executives of the Pioneer co-operative distribution system it was decided to create a body of special representatives which would visit each of the exchange centers and work in conjunction with the local staff.

Howells in Larger Quarters

Howells Cine Equipment has moved from the offices it has occupied with David P. Howells, Inc., into new and larger quarters in Suite 1110-1111 of the Godfrey Building.

ANNOUNCEMENT

GEVAERT CO.

ANTWERP, BELGIUM

Leading European Manufacturers of raw cinematographic film.

For all particulars apply

Louis Destenay, Gevaert Company
HOTEL ASTOR

Progressive Exhibitors Will

CONTINUE TO "FOLLOW THE TRACKS"

of

"Back To God's Country"

To the nearest

FIRST NATIONAL EXCHANGE

and book a quick return date before the animals migrate for the summer

There are 5 big reasons for the success of this picture! That it was "shot" on the REAL location in Northern Canada is one of them.

6 West 48th St. New York City — Ernest Shipman, Manager — Hotel Congress Chicago

"WHOOP

A Hilarious Comedy, Fast and Furious, say critics

WEALTH OF INCIDENTS

"Whoop this up. There is a true comedy situation and a wealth of incidents grouped around it. Rich in material of the laughter producing kind. The director is to be congratulated. 'Don't Ever Marry' is well worth being called a First National attraction."—Moving Picture World.

GOES AT TOP SPEED

"A creditable offering. There is scarcely a moment when the action isn't proceeding at top speed. A cast of conspicuous ability and you can classify it as a fast moving, mirth provoking comedy. The complications are fast and furious—exceedingly fascinating."—Motion Picture News.

LIVELY HUMOR, DYNAMIC ENERGY

"Clever comedy, replete with numerous farcical situations, skillfully handled. Matt Moore invests the hero role with lively humor and dynamic energy. Marjorie Daw is charming. Make the most of the all-star cast."—Exhibitor's Trade Review.

A HILARIOUS COMEDY

"A hilarious affair—funny, bright and entertaining. An excellent cast."—New York Morning Telegraph.

A BIG HIT

"Marshall Neilan puts over 'Don't Ever Marry' as a big hit. You can promise the best in the feature comedy line. It contains a very unusual quota of real laughs. May prove just as attractive from its end as 'The River's End' from the dramatic angle."—Wid's.

TELL YOUR FRIENDS

"A comedy of situation. Lack of space prevents us from giving the detailed comment that it deserves, but it will be safe to recommend it to all sorts of friends. There are chuckles planted and smiles are very thick. A competent cast."—New York Tribune.

AN AMUSING COMEDY

"An amusing comedy, screened by Marshall Neilan."—New York World.

CALLS IT HILARIOUS

"A hilarious comedy."—New York Sun and Herald.

THE FUTURE CHAPLIN

"An exceptionally bright farce, brisk as they make 'em, and adorned by two pretty girls, Marjorie Daw and Betty Bouton. Matt Moore plays with energy. Wesley Barry, the bell hop, is the Chaplin of the future."—New York News.

VAST AMOUNT OF LAUGHTER

"The cause of a vast amount of laughter at the Strand theatre. A good company.—New York Evening Post.

GREAT SCREEN TALENT

"Enough screen talent in the cast to adequately care for all the comedy."—New York Evening Sun.

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

A FIRST NATIONAL ATTRACTION

HER UP"

Says the Moving Picture World
Speaking of

Marshall Neilan's

"Don't Ever Marry"

A MIRTHQUAKE IN SIX SHOCKS

From the story by
EDGAR FRANKLIN

Adapted to the screen by MARION FAIRFAX

Photographed by
HENRY CRONJAGER and DAVID KESSON

Lighting Effects by HOWARD EWING

Technical Director, BEN CARRE

MARSHALL NEILAN PRODUCTIONS

HAS THE WORLD LOST IT'S VISION?

"DEMOCRACY"

-- THE --

VISION RESTORED

COPYRIGHT 1920

DIRECTED BY WILLIAM NIGH

In this World Vision of the New Order which is to come lies the solution of Humanity's greatest problem:

THE ELIMINATION OF CLASS HATRED!

In all lands and ages there has existed an unceasing conflict between Democracy and Autocracy.

In a delightful, soul-gripping romance of graphic realism is portrayed this conflict as it exists in our modern civilization, wherein heroic men and women of today continue unabated the long struggle for more room, greater opportunity—FREEDOM!

EVERY SCENE TEEMS WITH THOSE BASIC ELEMENTS WHICH HAVE

AUDIENCE APPEAL!

DEMOCRACY PHOTOPLAY COMPANY.
THOUGHT DRAMA PRODUCTIONS.
LEE FRANCIS LYBARGER, PRESIDENT.
2826 DECATUR AVENUE, NEW YORK.

erman Recovery

(Continued from Page 4)

hardly be long. The German rnment, facing internal disturb- and uprisings on every hand, ginning to realize that motion res are a necessity rather than ury, according to recent advices Berlin. The Government is ening to the fact that a healthy popular source of amusement photoplays will go a long way rd making the people forget their rial wants, which are at the bot- of all disturbances in Germany. w days ago I received a letter one of the leading men of the stry in Germany, who declared he would soon be in the mar- or American pictures. This does indicate a protraction of the argo, though the report that it be lifted as early as May 1 does appear to be authenticated by nan official sources.

he threatened 'nationalization' of German motion picture industry ld not, even if it materializes, in- re with the exportation of rican pictures to Germany. Na- l or municipal control of produc- and exhibition means merely our competitors in Germany will he Government or municipalities ad of a large number of private iduals and concerns. In Nor- some of the cities and towns already taken the motion pic- theaters out of the owners' s. They have become 'nation- d' in the German sense. Still re selling as many American pic- as ever in Norway. For the icipalities can no more than in- fual owners operate a 'movie' out pictures.

rom German trade papers it is nt that Scandinavian producers busy building up future markets ermany. The Scandinavians are enough to Germany to always eive the direction of the wind, be the wind ever so ill, if it blows thing good for Scandinavian tres it will do fully as much for rican films.

peaking of the prospects of 'na- lization' recently, Herr Koch, nan minister of the interior, de- d to an interviewer of the Ber- Tageblatt that 'there is a great- anger of Americanization than of nalization of the German mo- picture industry."

Yudkin Goes on Tour

erbert H. Yudkin, producer of een Smiles," distributed by Vic- Kremer, is now visiting inde- lent exchanges in the interest of series. He will visit Philadel- Washington, Baltimore, Pitts- h, Indianapolis, Cleevland, De- and Chicago.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Yakima, Wash.—Frederick Mercy, manager and owner of three houses here, believes that newspaper advertising is the most essential factor in the advertising for houses where transient patronage is negligible. In such cases, he holds, it is necessary to build up a steady patronage and look to a steady repeat attendance for support. A mailing list is also advocated by him, but if used every week, he claims, soon loses its effectiveness. Mercy advocated lobby displays, which usually make an impression due to the manner in which they improve the appearance of the theaters which use them. Overuse of such adjuncts as heralds, programs, circulars and other methods of printed exploitation lessens their value, he says, and exhibitors should be dsicreet when employing them.

Pittsburgh, Pa. — "Diplomacy," says W. F. Mason, manager of the Grand, "when tempered with good judgment can help the exhibitor pack his house." According to him, the man with "Czar instincts" has no place in the show business, for in it the making and keeping of friends is extremely necessary, in fact, success depends almost entirely upon it. A grouch at the manager's desk, failure to nod or chat occasionally with a steady patron and other such little matters will not help build up consistent attendance. A large portion of the people are rather quarrelsome and inclined to carry chips on their shoulders. They should be treated tactfully. "Right or wrong, the patron is always right," says Mason, "and if you can't suit him there's something wrong with you."

"Big Six" Closes

(Continued from Page 1)

which they were recruited into pictures. Mr. Price has been active in editorial and political circles for many years and served his Government throughout the world war as Wm. G. McAdoo's strong right arm in the Railroad Administration. Mr. Price has been president of the United Artists Corporation from the date of its formation a year ago, retiring two weeks ago for this expansion of his activities in the motion picture industry.

Mr. Warren was one of the founders of the Goldwyn organization in association with Samuel Goldwyn and Edgar and Archibald Selwyn. He was vice-president and a director of Goldwyn Distributing Corporation from the day of its formation, with control over sales. For a year following his retirement in April, 1919, he was vice-president in charge of sales of the Hodkinson organization, from which he retired ten days ago for his new alliance with the Associated Producers, Inc.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

KASSEL STUDIOS Inc.
Artistic Paintings
OF
FILM STARS and FEATURES
220 West 42nd ST.
NEW YORK

HERBERT
BLACHE
Now directing
"The Saphead"
WITH ALL STAR CAST

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
THOU SHALT NOT COVET THY NEIGHBOR'S WIFE
Starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO & Madame HALINA BRUZOVNA
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
Directed by EMIL HARDER
FOR WORLD RIGHTS APPLY TO
SUNSHINE FILM, INC.
Tel. Bryant 7123 111 W. 42nd St.

Think about the tremendous possibilities—
"THE SON OF TARZAN"
—as a Serial!

NOTABLE SCREEN SUCCESSES

THE PRESS — THE EXHIBITORS — and THE PUBLIC have put their stamp of unreserved approval on

"WOMEN MEN FORGET" starring MOLLIE KING

and

"THE INNER VOICE" -- starring -- E. K. LINCOLN

Both AMERICAN CINEMA Productions

Now in the course of production

"STOLEN MOMENTS"
featuring
Marguerite Namara
Directed by James Vincent

"HIS BROTHER'S KEEPER"
By N. Brewster Morse
With an all-star cast
Directed by Wilfrid North

AMERICAN CINEMA CORPORATION

WALTER NIEBUHR, Pres.

Office:-
411 Fifth Ave., New York City

Studio:-
Glendale, L. I.

Cuts and Flashes

he Marriage of Mayfair" has started by Metro.

neer's May release will be Maoro in "Midnight Gambols."

J. Verhalen has moved into offices at 116 West 39th St.

nk Keenan's newest producfor Pathe, called "Dollar for ," is scheduled for release on 2.

ald B. Spiero, formerly in of advertising at B. S. Moss , has opened a general adveragency of his own.

rell Foss will play opposite Allison in her next Metro pron, "Held in Trust," to be di by John E. Ince.

y Heath has started work on en version of Margaret Mayo's "The Marriage of William which Metro will produce.

four Charles Chaplin re-issues ighted by Victor Kremer, ," "The Champion," "By the Sea" and "A Jitney Elopement," have been booked by houses on the Moss and Proctor circuits.

"The Third Eye," Pathe's newest serial, is scheduled for release on April 23. Warner Oland and Eileen Percy are co-starred and H. H. Van Loan wrote it.

New Power Plant in Metro Studio

Hollywood, Cal.—A $14,000 power plant has been installed in the Metro studio. Six transformers of 160 horse power each have also been put in.

Myron Selznick has bought "Red Foam" from William H. Hamby, published in the Saturday Evening Post.

Selma, Cal.—City will build an airdrome, work starting May 1.

Edmund Goulding's "The Dangerous Paradise" has been acquired by Selznick, and will be used as the first starring vehicle for Louise Huff.

Vincennes, Ind.—L. A. Wilkerson and Adler Lyons to build Pantheon.

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

PROPER INSURANCE MEANS PROTECTION
YOUR BUSINESS—AUTOMOBILE, HOME, STAR,—YOU YOURSELF—NEED INSURANCE.
Take precautions against insufficient insurance. A 5,000 or 10,000 limit does not adequately cover your auto. Ask us why—and we will tell you.
REUBEN SAMUELS INC. REAL SERVICE Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

Mats, Electros and Stereos for the Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

WID'S WINS
WID'S reviews call the turn with uncanny regularity. A comparison of back copies and your box office records will make you think he had inside information from "the other side."
"Yea, Bo! .Want a good comedy—a good two-reeler—with the latest innovations in shimmying music captions? Then get to 'Torchy.' The 'Torchy' comedies featuring Johnny Hines are being presented by Charles C. Burr, and if the rest of them come through as well as the first, shown this week at the Strand, it's a bet that they are going over big.—They've certainly got a knock-out in their first one."
WID'S.
TAKE WID'S TIP ON THE
JOHNNY HINES "TORCHY" COMEDIES
MASTER FILMS, INC.
C. C. Burr, Pres.
133 West 44th St., N. Y. C.
Book through Exchanges of Educational Films Corp. of America

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.
Camp Street Orleans, La. — 255 N. 13th Street Philadelphia, Pa — 64 W. Randolph St. Chicago, Ill.

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET NEW YORK
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
ALLAN A. LOWNES GEN. MGR.

Frank Borzage
directed
"THE SHOES THAT DANCED,"
an Underworld gem, for TRIANGLE.
PAULINE STARKE
was the girl,
DICK ROSSEN
was the heavy,
REMEMBER?
And the lead,
"THE HARMONY LAD"
was
Wallace Mac Donald
Watch This Space Every Day!

Harris Leaves Chester

R. S. Harris has resigned as sales manager for C. L. Chester Prod. and has been succeeded by Edward Bonns, formerly with Warner Bros.

Harris left for California yesterday.

Salisbury an Independent
(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Monroe Salisbury, formerly a Universal star, has formed a company known as the Monroe Salisbury players to make independent productions. He will probably use the Brunton studio.

Franchise Sold

The Signal Amusement Co. has acquired the franchise for the Atlanta territory in Associated Exhibitors, Inc. This territory includes all of Georgia and most of Tennessee, Alabama and Florida.

The company's theater holdings in Chattanooga are the Rialto, Alcazar, Fine Arts, Bijou, Lyric, Superba, Bonita, American, Royal and Post, and their interests in Knoxville include the Strand, Majestic, Queen, Rex and Bijou. The Palace and Princess, Merryville, Tenn., are also owned by Signal.

The Signal Co. has under construction several theaters. Chief of these is $500,000 Tivoli, now being built in Chattanooga.

Besides the Tivoli construction is under way in Knoxville of the Riveria to cost $150,000. Leases have been signed and contracts let for the construction of the Rivoli, to cost $500,000. Signal's $80,000 theater in South Pittsburgh, Tenn., will open within a month, and another new house is announced for Harriman, Tenn.

Signal represents First National in its territory and also is affiliated with the National Theater Companies of Knoxville, which combination controls 18 other theaters.

Officers and directors of Signal are Judge W. E. Wilkerson, president; F. H. Dowler, Jr., vice-president and general manager, and F. H. Dowler, Sr., secretary and treasurer.

Other members of the organization are W. H. Lindsay, vice-president of the Napier Iron Works, and J. A. Clarkson, vice-president, secretary and treasurer of the Nashville, Chattanooga and St. Louis Railroad.

SENSE and CEN
Combined with g judgment they b
will make dollars.
GEORGES CARPEN
in an intriguin drama of Ameri
society will rea harvest at your office.
Directed by
John G. Adol
ROBERTSON-C
SUPER-SPECIAL
"A MILLION DOLLAR
ATTRACTION

New Coast Producer
(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Screencraft, Inc., is the name of a newly formed producing company which has taken over the old Essanay studio at Culver City.

The company will produce four Christian Science stories a year, the first of which will be by Carrie B. Hutcheson with Chadwick Ayers directing.

Robert McKim, Rhea Mitchell, Olga Gray and others are in the cast. In addition the comp make a series of two reel with 'Bumps" Adams in the role. It is reported that Kane will handle the distrib

Arthur S. Kane offices de terday that Mr. Kane woul ute the above product.

After completing "B O'Kane," Emmett J. Flyn rect Tom Mix.

Joseph R. Miles Motion Picture Enterprises
LLOYD'S FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in Their New Home
126-132 West 46th Street
Phone Bryant 5600
At Your Service
TWENTY-FOUR HOURS A DAY EXCEPT SUNDAY
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve Vaults in Long Island City
Free Delivery Service Between
Customers' Offices and Vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does Everything to a Picture Except Produce It
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of Every Description for Dramatic and Industrial Productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We Buy and Sell Used Film in Good Condition
CONSULT US

BECAUSE
If you use
"COMEDYART"
You need nothing else
beside your feature
COMEDY · NOVELTY · SCENIC
DIVERSITY · CLASS
SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

CHICAGO SPECIAL CONVENTION ISSUE

e BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

.. XII No. 29A — Thursday, April 29, 1920 — Price 5 Cents

ALMOST AT END

ssolve F-I-L-M Clubs

busch Seeking Information for Department of Justice for Sherman Law Violations

ank J. Rembusch admitted just re going home to Indiana that ad been approached by agents he department of justice, who seeking information relative to activities of F. I. L. M. clubs other exchange managers' orzations throughout this country, scertain whether or not these orzations are operating in violaof the Sherman anti-trust law. s a result the M. P. E. of A. sent out a letter to exhibitors ing evidence. The letter says in :

The evidence desired are 'orig- letters or certified copies of rs sent to exhibitors by man- s requiring them to appear be- a film club, affidavits of conation or threats by salesmen or nagers of film companies to cut service unless the rules and regions of film clubs are complied by the exhibitors, etc.

The film clubs who pass on differ- s or grievances between an indual exhibitor and an individfilm company commit an act in raint of trade," declares the cir- r.

Hall Gets Triangle

(Special Wire.)

ew York.—Frank Hall officially ounces the purchase of Trile Exchanges and Productions. s gives Hall-Mark offices in nteen key cities. Hall has ready r new productions, two by Bur- King and two by Horace Plimp- Another big deal is hanging in which Hall is interested.

eed a GOOD Publicity man? Employ OMON, he's wise.—Advt.

Fabian Second Vice-President

Jacob Fabian of Paterson, N. J., was yesterday elected second vice president of Associated First National Pictures, Inc. Mr. Fabian is the franchise holder for the State of New Jersey and operates a chain of theatres in that state. He was one of the original circuit members and has been active in the molding of the organiaztion's policies since its inception. His son, A. M. Fabian, is the active manager of the First National Exchange of New Jersey.

Many Exhibitors Leave—First National Still Busy With Sub Franchise Question—John Emerson Talks

Ethel Barrymore to Make "Declasse"

New York. — Ethel Barrymore, now starring in "Declasse," will make the picture version of the play for Famous Players.

Famous Preferred Drops

New York.—Famous Players preferred stock dropped 7 points at the close of the market Wednesday, selling at 84.

Because the First National Chicago meeting is more than forty-five minutes from Broadway, Charles Ray couldn't be present.

With the exhibitors' convention at an end, First National made a strong effort to wind up its convention yesterday, but a number of matters yet remain unsettled. They will probably be worked out today, the convention coming to an end some time tonight.

Practically all of yesterday's session was given up to a discussion of various matters pertaining to the sub-franchise question. One of the chief points of difficulty is to satisfy all of the present franchise holders and those exhibitors of their sections who want sub-franchises. This is a vexing question.

This is certain, however: Within a very short time representatives of First National will be all over the country discussing with exhibitors the sub-franchise plan, and it is expected confidently by First National executives that the plan will prove very successful.

One of the features of yesterday's session was the talk of John Emerson, who emphatically presented to branch managers and others in attendance the possible difficulties in sight from any organization which by its methods attempted to control the industry. Emerson hit out from the shoulder hard.

There was another meeting last night, when the sub-franchise question was again taken up.

Many of the exhibitors will make their getaway today and the last batch will probably go home on Friday. From the expressions voiced there is no question of the success of the convention and the plans they expect to develop therefrom.

First National will in all likelihood clean up everything by tonight and all home office officials expect to be on their way to New York Friday.

(Continued on Page 2.)

2½ BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY

Vol. XII No. 29A Thurs. Apr 29, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at Chicago, Ills. (Congress Hotel) for four days, April 27th to 30th inc. (New York office 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.) by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC. F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entry as second-class matter applied for at Chicago, Ill.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00, including convention issues published during the annual convention of the Exhibitors' Leagues.

Subscribers should remit with order. Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt. 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Archainbaud Signed by Selznick.

George Archainbaud, director of Selznick presents Louise Huff, is an a long term contract by Myron Selznick, after completing "The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes," with Elaine Hammerstein. Archainbaud is working on "Marooned Hearts," for Selznick in the Bahamas.

"The Fighter."

"The Fighter" has been purchased by Myron Selznick from Albert Payson Terhune. Robert Ellis will direct.

Fairbanks Injured

Los Angeles.—As the result of an accident Doug Fairbanks will be laid up several weeks. He and several members of his company were injured severely when an earth avalanch occurred while shooting a scene.

Bert Lytell is due in New York in a month to make four Metro productions here.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation

Sir:

The Morning Telegraph says:

"The Woman in Room 13" is one of Pauline Frederick's best cinema vehicles and likewise one of the best of the Goldwyn offerings."

ALMOST AT END

(Continued from Page 1.)

The sub-franchising plans naturally are taking up considerable time. Most of yesterday's meeting was taken up with working this out. It is a big job.

Kirkpatrick Arrives

A. S. Kirkpatrick of Robertson-Cole arrived yesterday from the coast and was busy meeting exhibitors around the lobby last night.

Grauman Denies Reports

During the several meetings of the exhibitors a report spread that among those exhibitors who would be foremost in the fight against the producing companies interested in theatres would be Sid Grauman of Los Angeles. It was further reported that he had "broken" from Adolph Zukor.

Wid's Daily wired Grauman with reference to the report. His answer, received last night, reads:

"Rumors that I have had unfriendly relations with Famous Players-Lasky or Mr. Zukor are entirely false and unfounded. On the contrary, my relations with them have been 100 per cent satisfactory. Grauman's million-dollar theatre has played only Paramount-Artcraft productions, with the exception of one Realart, since opening, two and a half years ago. I have never had greater confidence in Famous Players-Lasky or Mr. Zukor than at present and anticipate the most cordial future relations. I still consider, and have always considered, Paramount-Artcraft Productions representative of the highest degree of perfection yet attained in making motion pictures. In the future as I have been in the past. This is final. Grauman."

Nathanson Arrives

Nathan L. Nathanson, First National franchise holder for eastern Canada, reached town yesterday.

WARREN WON'T TALK

The only comment that F. B. Warren, general manager of The Associated Producers, Inc., would make yesterday following the publication that Oscar A. Price had been elected president of the organization and Warren general manager, was that "the exhibitors of the country can be very certain that Associated Producers at all times intend to ignore the politics of the industry, to confine themselves closely to the production of the biggest pictures that they are capable of making and that Associated Producers have no thought, plan or intention of ever attempting to acquire theatres for the purpose of competing in any way at any point with the exhibitors."

Warren is awaiting the arrival in Chicago of Oscar A. Price, and the two executives of the new organization are going to California within the next few days. He declined to discuss in any way the plans of the organization with relation to sales or personnel.

After Mid's Daily special convention number was circulated about the Congress many of the visiting exhibitors and exchange men saw Warren in the lobby and he was busy accepting congratulation for some time. Later J. D. William met Warren and extended his congratulations in a very warm tone.

COMMON SENSE

The magnetic personality the deeds of heroism which thrilled the world and the romantic career of

GEORGES CARPENTIER

combine to make him the most popular and interesting character ever shown upon the screen.

Coming in an intriguing romance of society.

Directed by John G. Adolfi

ROBERTSON-COLE

SUPER-SPECIAL "A MILLION DOLLAR ATTRACTION"

VARIETY SAID—

"The brightest spot of the whole entertainment proved to be the first of the Sewell Ford 'Torchy' stories, featuring that able comedian, Johnny Hines."

Don't let these get away from you.

MASTER FILMS, INC.
C. C. Burr, Pres.
133 West 44th St., N. Y. C.

Book through Exchanges of Educational Film Corp. of America

Signal Expanding

Improvements amounting to more tan $1,500,000 are planned by the ignal Amusement company for eir twenty houses in Chattanooga, noxville, Maryville, Harriman, and uth Pittsburg, Tenn. A new use, costing $500,000, is now under nstruction in Chattanooga. This use will be an exact duplicate of e Keith Palace, Cincinnati. The boli, costing $250,000, is also going in Chattanooga under the Signal nership in a short time.

Work on the Rivoli will start in noxville about May 1. This theatre planned originally to cost $250,000. smaller theatre. costing $125,-0, will be started in Knoxville im-diately. In addition to the new eatres, the Signal company has ently enlarged its holdings in noxville by the addition of the ljou theatre, which holds the Keith nchise.

These improvements and the new uses are being constructed to ow the faith the Signal company s in the south and the immediate ritory, according to a statement de by E. R. Rogers, booking nager of the company. They ow a wide departure from e policies in effect in the southern tes, both in point of beauty of the eatre and the "class" with which e programs are put on. The iboli" will set a standard for the tion picture theatres of the south.

The Signal company owns the As-iated Exhibitors' franchise, and is the First National Exhibitors' cir-t, Inc.

The men at the head of the Signal ganization are W. E. Wilkerson, sident, of the firm of Wilkerson Hyde; W. H. Lindsey, vice-presi-nt, also vice-president of Napier n Works; F. H. Dowler, Sr., re-ed capitalist, treasurer, and E. R. gers, booking manager and pub-ity director. Mr. Rogers attended e convention in Chicago.

Kunsky Building Another

Detroit.—John Kunsky has signed 9 year lease, directly opposite the dison theatre, where he will erect ouse seating 4,500.

OF all the characteristics that mark the RITCHEY poster, the quality of getting satisfactory box-office results is the one that appeals most to the exhibitor.

RITCHEY

Litho. Corp.

406 W. 31st St., N. Y.
Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

Callaghan Gets Washburn

A. J. Callaghan and Harry Leonhardt arrived from the coast Wednesday. Callaghan has signed up Bryant Washburn for specials.

Kaufman's Through First National

Al Kaufman, it is understood, will release the Allan Holubar specials through First National. Kaufman was in Chicago talking things over with the First National moguls.

Muehlman Joins Schenck

Chas. Muehlman, for the last 18 months Frisco manager for William Fox, will come to New York as the distribution manager for Joe Schenck, in all likelihood, handling Norma and Constance Talmadge productions.

Yellow Typhoon Shown

Two hundred exhibitors attending the convention witnessed a private showing of "The Yellow Typhoon," at the Zeigfeld theatre, at 10:30 Wednesday. The showing was made for the purpose of familiarizing the exhibitors with the quality of the Gliftograph screen, as well as the excellence of the First National picture. Unfortunately the projection at the Zeigfeld theatre is not of the best, the quality of the screen was recognized.

Charles Christie Arrives

Charles Christie arrived from the coast yesterday.

Oscar A. Price Due Today

Oscar A. Price, the newly elected president of Associated Producers and formerly president of United Artists, arrived here today en route to the coast.

Harry Sherman Here

Harry Sherman, interested in a new co-operative deal of producers, is talking things over with the crowd.

Radin Pictures

Will Screen During Convention Week

Frank Mayo

in

Thru Eyes of Men

Zip Comedies

Real Star Dramas
Weekly Indigestion
Etc., Etc.

See

WILLIAM PIZOR

Special Representative

Sherman Hotel Chicago, Ill.

Kolker With Selznick.

Henry Kolker will direct the fourth National Picture Theatre's production, "The Palace of Darkened Shadows."

Going to New York

Edward Armstrong, of Denver, will become head of the Supply Dept. of Universal. Here with the Universal crowd.

"Sex" Breaking Records

Atlantic City, N. J.—"Sex" is the Boardwalk sensation. Originally scheduled for several weeks, it is understood the big crowds attending have called for another week's booking at an advance over the original booking price.

Proctor Here

Ralph Proctor of United Artists, mingled with the crowd yesterday.

Earle Directing Louise Huff.

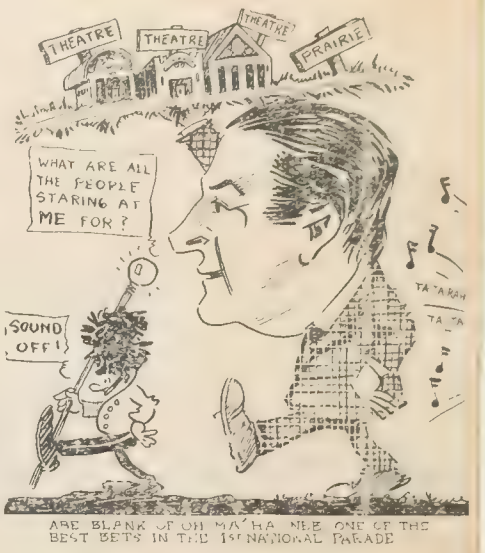
The first picture in which L. J. Selznick presents Louise Huff, is announced as "The Dangerous Paradise." William P. S. Earle will direct Miss Huff in her first picture. "The Dangerous Paradise" was written by Edmund Goulding.

Myron Selznick Vice-President.

New York.—Myron Selznick has been appointed vice-president of Select Pictures, and will have direct supervision of all productions distributed through Select in addition to his other duties.

Another Producer Here

Eltinger F. Warner, who is interested in the Benjamin B. Hampton productions, was seen in the lobby yesterday. He could give no definite information as to the probable release of the big Zane Grey production, "The Great U. P. Trail," although it has been talked of as a First National special.



Going to Canada

Immediately after the convention, Ernie Shipman of Canadian Photoplays Ltd., will go to Calgary, Can., where "Cameron of the Mounted Police" will be made, together with other Ralph Connor stories, including "The Sky Pilot."

Comedies You've Sought

You have long asked for one brand when you have sought excellence in scenics and travel pictures, animal and nature subjects, in educational reels generally.

You have not been surprised to find Chester-Outings, Screenics and a dozen other important series seeking release through this organization.

But you've wondered why some organization did not establish the same standard in comedies, too, to round out the short subject field. We've felt the need and only have waited to supply our own exchange system.

The time is here. We offer you now a two-reel comedy every week—the Chester and Torchy series, which triumphed on pre-release showings, and two other series that will score like successes.

Of course, you'll seek quality in comedies, too, at one of the twenty-two exchanges being opened by

EDUCATIONAL
FILMS CORPORATION OF AMERICA
729 Seventh Ave. New York

United Picture Production Corporation in Bankruptcy

New York. — An involuntary bankruptcy petition was filed yesterday against the United Picture Production Corporation, the Allied Company of United Theatres. Creditors: Royal Ribbon and Carbon Company, $5,890; Linn-Smith Press, $1,278; Bernard Kowsinsky, $496. Harry Zealkin was appointed received for United Picture Theatres, whose assets total $300,000, including fixtures, negatives, etc. Assets also include contracts with 1,900 exhibitors. Zealkin was the receiver on the Horstman petition some months ago.

Percy L. Waters of Triangle heads the committee of creditors, and had a conference with Receiver Zealkin relative to a settlement of the affairs of the theatre company. There will be a meeting of all of the creditors tomorrow.

Goldsmith of United says the production company is sound financially, and receivership action will be contested vigorously. He also indicates a reorganization of the theatre unit.

Abramson Offers to Aid Exhibitors

Ivan Abramson is in hearty sympathy with the stand of the exhibitors against the producers who own theatres. He says he knows of financial interests in New York who will raise $10,000,000 to support the independent exhibitors.

Earl's Daddy Here

Earl Hudson's daddy arrived unexpectedly last night and E. J. was busy introducing him to his friends.

SIMPLE SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9

Monsoon Cooling System

Incorporated

70 W. 45th St. New York

John Emerson's Ideas

In his discussion before the assembled First National exchange managers at the Tuesday afternoon session, John Emerson of the Constance Talmadge company, pointed out the dangers of the rumored monopoly of legitimate houses by a well known producer-exhibitor company.

"If the rumor that a certain producing company is trying to get a monopoly on the legitimate houses as well as the motion picture theatres proves true, it would be a fatal blow to independent producers, to actors, and to dramatic authors. Having a monopoly of the theatres, the company could absolutely control the rights to any play produced on the stage. By discriminating against managers who refuse to give up the picture rights to a play, they could effectually keep them from obtaining any bookings, and ultimately forcing them into giving their own concern the picture rights.

"Such discrimination would naturally affect the actors, and the players —represented by the Actors' Equity association—will stand very strongly against the movement on the part of anybody attempting to obtain a monopoly. The dramatic authors of the country are already organizing to lend their united opposition to any monopolized control in the theatres.

"I feel that the combined forces of these two organizations, aided by the moral support of the independent managers, could do a great deal toward preventing any monopoly."

Carter de Haven in "Twin Beds"

If a deal under way is closed First National will release "Twin Beds" with Carter de Haven featured.

Warner's New Comedies

Abe Warner said yesterday he had closed with the new Federated exchanges to handle 18 Monty Banks two-reel comedies during the next year.

St. John Comedies Placed

Following First National exchanges will handle the Al. St. John comedies: Kansas City, Cleveland, Pittsburg, Louisville, Des Moines, St. Louis. Chicago, Los Angeles, Indianpolis, and Denver. The comedies will also be handled by the Electric Theatre & Supply Co. in Philadelphia and Washington, Sol Lesser in San Francisco, Robbins Bros., Albany, N. Y., and the Criterion, Atlanta.

Orth Out of Famous

The chief auditor of Famous Players, who was dismissed in New York, as noted in yesterday's issue, is John Orth.

Richards' & Flynn's New House

Kansas City.—Richards & Flynn will open their new house, seating 1,300, May 22 with "Don't Ever Marry." N. J. Flynn will be the manager.

Big House Going Up

Los Angeles.—Sol Lesser and the Gore Bros. will erect a monster house here which will be used for First National productions. It is expected to be one of the show houses of this country. One of the features will be a "star" box in which the various stars will be guests during the runs of their productions.

Katherine Hilliker Leaves Chester

Los Angeles.—Katherine Hilliker, whose titling of the Chester productions has been one of their features, will leave the Chester organization. Her future plans have not been made public.

Miller and Mayflower

(Special Wire)

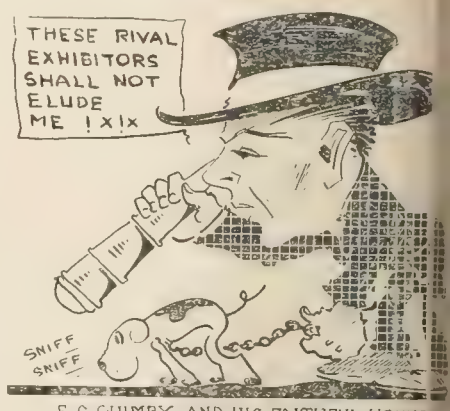
New York.—The Mayflower contract with Charles Miller has been abrogated. Miller made one production for Mayflower.

Hodkinson has increased the sales force fifty per cent.

SIDELIGHTS

Here is a secret: W. C. Patte son, who called the convention, w not always an exhibitor. No s Once he was the first violinist in orchestra and he shamelessly adm that he can play a "little bit" yet.

Louis B. Mayer arrived from t coast Wednesday to witness t showing of "The Yellow Typhoo



F C COMBY AND HIS FAITHFUL HOUND NAMED "WATCHFUL WAITING".

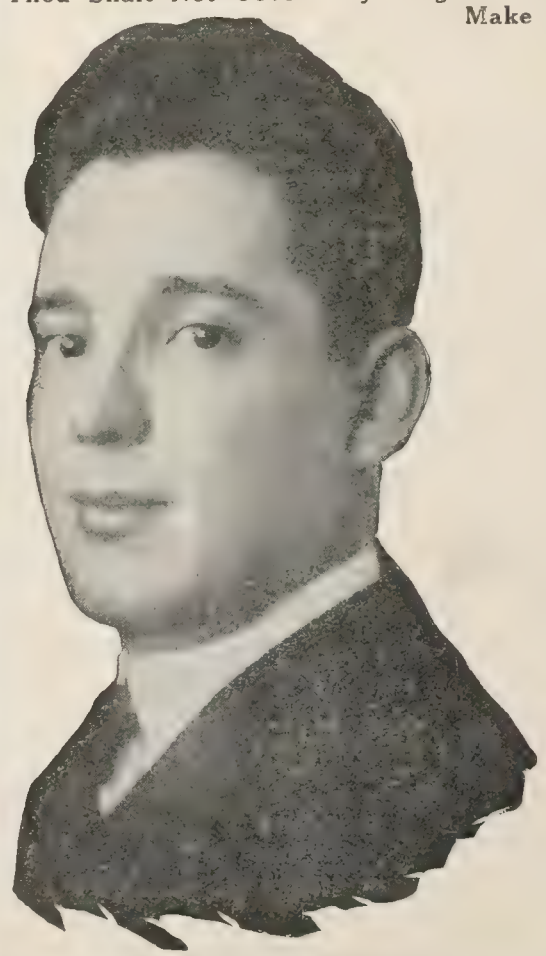
Norma and Constance Talma will return to New York tod Their Tuesday afternoon tea at Congress was enjoyed by sev hundred visitors. Those who did care for tea and cakes found pl of cocktails and cigarettes.

John Emerson of the Consta Talmadge company arrived in C cago Wednesday morning.

Only a Short Time Hence—AND

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"

Thou Shalt Not Covet Thy Neighbor's Wife—Will Be Ready t Make Money for You



FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO

Starring Fernando R Elizondo, a star with pleasing personality, star the public is look ing for, a star whic means money to th exhibitor.
Also Madame Bruzovn

Directed by Emil Harder

Sunshine Film, Inc

111 West 42nd St.

Telephone Bryant 712

GERMAN FILM INDUSTRY ACTIVE

Under this caption Consul Frederick Simpich, on duty with the American commission in Berlin, says in "Commerce Reports," published by the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce at Washington:

"No other industry in Germany has been so active in the past fourteen months as the film business. The motion picture theatres in the larger cities handle enormous crowds every night. Few foreign films are shown because of the present law prohibiting their importation. After May, 1920, it is understood that foreign films may be imported. It is reported that the president of the Universum Film company, which is one of the largest in Europe, is proceeding to the United States to buy American films for exhibition in central Europe.

"The German Author's League, whose membership includes practically all reputable German authors and playwrights, has signed a contract with an American theatrical concern giving it the sole right to film their stories and plays in America and to market them throughout the world (including Germany), these German authors and playwrights receiving in turn advance cash payments and subsequent royalties. This same American theatrical group has also contracted with certain famous German and Austrian composers and directors for work in America.

LEWIS J SELZNICK

Number and Character of Theatres

"There are about 600 playhouses in the country and about 3,200 motion picture theatres. Less than 3 per cent of the old theatres have been converted into "movie" houses. Most of the picture theatres are divided roughly into three classes:

"(1) Small family theatres in provincial towns, where the admission runs from 50 pfennigs to 1½ marks.

"(2) Second-class theatres, where the admission runs from 1½ to 6 and 8 marks, including a luxury tax of 20 to 25 per cent.

"(3) The high-class playhouses of Berlin, Leipzig, etc., where the admission runs as high as 15 marks or more.

"The motion picture theatres of Berlin are more comfortable than the average first-class motion picture house in America. For example, loges with four armchairs will occupy as much floor space in a German theatre as ten seats in the average American theatre. Much open space is also given to aisles, promenades, lobbies, etc.; also larger and better orchestras are provided.

"In the provincial towns many very small picture theatres are in operation, some with a seating capacity as low as 100; the larger picture houses in the cities have a maximum seating capacity of 2,400. The estimated seating capacity of all the motion picture theatres in Germany is 1,000,000. When the average price per seat and the general crowded conditions of the theatres are considered, some idea of the enormous sum spent annually in Germany on motion picture tickets can be gained.

Organization of the Industry and Salaries Paid

"The salaries paid the stars and famous directors in Germany (considering the depreciated mark) are very small as compared with American salaries; well-known directors receive from 40,000 to 200,000 marks a year. Average performers regularly employed by producing companies receive from 40,000 to 60,000 marks a year; the highest priced 'movie' stars are said to receive between 300,000 and 400,000 marks a year.

"Some of the best directors are also stockholders in the producing corporations. Bonuses are sometimes paid to directors, provided they complete a picture within a specified time. A good director is at a premium in Germany, as in the United States. The highest priced camera men receive about 400 marks a day; 125 marks a day is about the average salary.

"Some of the German performers work for two or three companies during the same day, going from one studio to another and playing various parts in widely different productions. Nearly all the 'movie' players in Germany, and especially the better ones, are still connected with the legitimate stage. Most of the stars are tied up on long contracts.

Pre-War Imports of Films—Studio Conditions

"Previous to the war, and, in fact, during the first years of the war, American pictures were very popular in Germany, especially the cowboy and animal pictures. However, prior to the war the number of pictures sent to Germany from the United States was not particularly large, on account of producing conditions in the United States and the large domestic demand.

"The present law forbidding the importation of foreign-made films up till May, 1920, was passed at the instigation of the 200 or more film exchanges and producers of films in Germany, but none on exhibition, for foreign films is such that it seems unlikely this law will be extended beyond May, 1920.

"Previous to the war Italian and French pictures were also popular in Germany, but non on exhibition, and German theatrical men say that public prejudice will prevent the exhibit of French pictures for a long time.

"The studios in Germany are small and poorly equipped, compared with American studios, but they are improving. During the summer time the German studios enjoy practically the same conditions of sunlight for photography

(Continued on Page 10.)

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. Gueringer, representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Territory still open on
"The Great White Trail"
with
Doris Kenyon and All Star Cast
New York and Northern New Jersey, Eastern Pennsylvania and Southern New Jersey, Michigan, Wisconsin, North and South Dakota.
Apply
A. V. Feary Room No. 811
1457 Broadway, New York City

POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

DOMINION FILM CO., INC.
Controlling Productions of
RALPH CONNOR STORIES

The Sky Pilot
Story of the Foothills
—o—
Black Rock
Story of the Selkirks
—o—
Corporal Cameron
Story of the Royal Mounted

The Man From Glengarry
Logging Story of the Ottawa
—o—
The Foreigner
Drama of Immigration
—o—
The Prospector
Story of Crows Nest Pass

and Six Others

Note: All of these productions will be made on their authentic locations. Herds of buffalo—cattle stampedes—wolves—bear—Carribou and other massed animals will be used in each story as described by the author.

6 W. 48th St.
New York City
Ernest Shipman
Manager
Hotel Congress
Chicago

Before W

We Wa

A SQUARE D

Security to Independent Exhibitors

A market and fair p

We'll tell the world abo

Convent

Chicago, Thursday, April 29, 1920

Go Home

Promise

EAL TO ALL

stars and producers

Distribution at minimum cost our Franchises after this is over

EXHIBITORS DEFENSE COMMITTEE

Composed of Members of The First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc.
Now in Convention at the Congress Hotel, Chicago, Ill.

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

CONVENTIO

The Associated

Wi

America's Indep

100% Protection——100% Fi

100% Ownership in a Purely In

In th

Associated S

Some of the biggest exhibitors in the country have devoted nearly a year to the development of our franchise plan. They have given their wisdom and experience, guided by good business principles, to its completion.

We have proceeded with deliberation and caution, because we wanted to be right—to be sure that we might offer the exhibitor who seeks both good pictures and protection of his interests, a fair and equitable plan, whereby he might write an insurance policy on the safety of his investment.

Our plan is the direct result of the causes that have forced the observing exhibitors of the country to bestir t selves into action against intereststh seek to destroy the stability of our re perity.

It offers direct ownership in a ganization owned solely by lea exhibitors who are one hundred p cent independent. You are invite share both benefits and profits b a quiring your own franchise.

Every feature and every princip the Associated franchise arrange has undergone critical consider and reconsideration. It is now a finis product, ready for the inspection o th men who have it within their pow

NNOUNCEMENT

Exhibitors, Inc.

ffer

ndent Exhibitors

res——100% Profits——and endent Exhibitors Organization rn of

-Franchises

le the Associated Exhibitors, Inc., most powerful influence for good in industry.

Within a short time, our members will prepared to take you into their conce and explain in detail the method d character of our sub-franchises.

Until we are prepared to demonstrate e worth of our plans for you, The Asated Exhibitors desire to go on rec- as endorsing the splendid and hy ambitions of those prominent in onvention activities at Chicago.

We are heart and soul in accord with y movement or plan that is designed to further the unselfish interests of the independent exhibitors, and for that reason to compliment The First National Exhibitors' Circuit for the great progress made in their convention and to especially emphasize the value of franchise protection and benefit offered by First National to independent exhibitors.

Associated Exhibitors, Inc., stands for any plan or organization that is designed to protect exhibitors' interests.

ASSOCIATED EXHIBITORS, Inc.

Fred C. Quimby,

General Manager.

GERMANY ACTIVE

(Continued from Page 5.)

as prevail in America, but winter conditions are more difficult. The Ufa and Bioscop corporations have studios in Berlin (where there are eleven large studios in all) that are well built, lighted by electricity, and operated throughout the season of poor sunlight. Certain German companies have been sent to the Mediterranean countries to make pictures, for the sake of better sunlight and different scenery. There are in all Germany about twenty-five big studios. The camera work is good, the costuming is very good, and the building of sets and decorations is excellent; but the criticisms of German-made films most often heard from American experts are: (1) Lack of action and speed; (2) titles are too long and the films themselves often run in interminable length of ten or twelve acts; (3) the use of an undue proportion of melodrama and tragedy. American motion picture investigators in Germany state that American comedy pictures would undoubtedly meet with an enormous success in Germany.

Distribution of Films

"Germany is divided into six sections for the distribution of films by the big companies. The films are sent out by express, but are not insured by the companies, and their delivery to the subscribing theatres is less accurate and speedy than in the United States. There is a minimum price for the rental of films, but no maximum, the increase being in proportion to the attendance.

"The larger producers and manufacturers have signed contracts with many of the theatres to use their films exclusively from now till 1921. Many of the smaller theatres have refused to sign these contracts, the owners declaring that they wish eventually to secure American pictures. The opinion is general among informed persons that except for certain local producers and manufacturers, there exists throughout Germany a great demand for American films. This demand is realized, and it is said the Ufa Corporation has already bought and is now making payment on seventy-five American films, which it hopes to import after May, 1920, when the film embargo is lifted.

"Films are not distributed on credit in Germany. The producer requires an initial deposit for the option for the territory, and when the film is delivered the balance in cash is collected.

Influence of American Films and Methods

"The German producers and exhibitors keep close watch on the motion picture situation in the United States. They know all about the so-called American invasion and conquest of the picture field in England, and they anticipate an American invasion of Germany. Practically all of the reputable American moving picture magazines and journals reach Germany; many American moving picture men have also investigated this field lately, and through these and other sources the German producers are in close touch with the trend of film affairs in the United States. When a famous American picture arouses interest in Denmark or some nearby country, the German film interests send their observers up to watch its success and earning powers. Certain well-known American stories have been adapted to the films in Germany, the same plot and characters being used, but the title changed. An American moving picture expert recently here investigating conditions, says that the influence of American 'movie' art is most noticeable in Germany; that even within the past few months a marked improvement in plotting, costuming, action, photography, settings, and especially continuity, is very noticeable.

Theatre Tax—Industrial Films for Advertising Purposes

"The method of taxing theatre tickets and making returns to the government authorities is about the same in Germany as in the United States; and, notwithstanding the economic distress of Germany, the crowds at the 'movie' theatres seem to be increasing. One German economist states that this is due to the general 'forget-the-war' feeling. An American investigator lately found nearly every picture house in Germany running to capacity and the Berlin theatres were turning away hundreds every night.

The Deutches Lichtbilt at Berlin is a German moving picture advertising concern, backed by the government and certain private corporations such as the Krupps, which produces and distributes industrial films. This concern has endeavored to advertise German industries in South America and other foreign countries by distributing such films. Within the last few months it has also begun industrial educational work in Germany. This concern has lately taken over the National Pictorial News Weekly, which corresponds to the Hearst-Pathe News. An arrangement has been made between the Deutches Lichtbilt Company and an American company to exchange weekly news—news films not being excluded under the embargo.

"It is reliably reported that in a very few instances negatives have been made (called 'dupes' or 'replicas') from certain American exhibits in neutral European countries and that prints made from these negatives were later sr into Germany.

Operatives in Motion-Pictur ness Are Organized

"Certain unions or organ exist among theatrical empl Germany. The actors are or into the 'Buhnengenossen and the musicians, stage han are organized into what is kr the 'Centralverband der Ki stellter.' The musicians in chestra are further controllec German Musicians' union. rical ushers also belong to a but their wages are small, running over 10 marks a da are expected to make up f small salary by the sale grams; also, as in other E theatres, the German ushers a tip for showing patrons seats.

"A new film industry latel oped in Germany is the s 'home film'; that is, the m ture and distribution of a cheap apparatus for fur moving picture entertainment vate homes. This industry ha been interrupted by a police tion, which controls the ex of films.

"According to recent pr ports, Berlin will soon poss largest film studio in the The Albatross Aircraft work hannisthal are transformin airship hangar into a movi ture studio. This studio about 450 feet long and nea feet wide."

H. H. VAN LOAN

Recent releases

Tom Mix in

"THE SPEED MANIAC"

"The Virgin of Stamboul"

With Priscilla Dean

121 West Eulalia Street

Glendale, California

"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good."

GEO. ELWOOD JENKS

Continuity and Specials

"A Woman of Pleasure"

Blanche Sweet Special

"THE PAGAN GOD"

Starring H. B. Warner

"DANGEROUS WATERS"

Original for Wm. Desmond

JESSE D. HAMPTON

Productions

For State Right Buyers

BILLIE RHODES

His Pajama Girl

Five Reels

C. B. Price Co., Inc.

New York City

Talk about the World-Wide Interest in

"THE SON OF TARZAN"

— as a serial!

IDELIGHTS

e Church Temperence society, osed of prominent members of Protestant Episcopal church quarters here intends opening ure theatre as a substitute for ns. The intention was revealed gh court permission to sell the rty on the Bowery.

ong the many thousand chil- who enjoyed "Daddy Long- there were none who found r pleasure in it than the hun- of little crippled children in Masonic Crippled Children's , Atlanta, Ga. When the pic- was shown at the Criterion e Manager W. C. Patterson i every orphan in Atlanta to e guest of the theatre. The ripples could not attend, and ger Patterson took the print hospital, where it was thrown screen by the private projec- achine of the hospital, which een a gift of a philanthropic the previous Christmas. The ive performance was conclud- a "Mutt and Jeff" reel.

hange managers have many g stories to tell of their ex- ces with exhibitors. An ex- in the St. Louis territory First National salesman one d related a long tale of woe. lost the interest of my pat- They won't believe in me any I've killed my theatre with he moaned.
so? How?"
ll, I booked this serial, s of the Night,' and I've run episodes, and there hasn't n animal in it yet."

convention guests have been , early-to-bed boys, according to report. However, one exhibitor found an oasis in the desert of Chicago and engaged the gold room at the Congress for the duration of the convention. It is also rumored that a couple of "alley queens" were showing him Chicago on his first night in town.

"I'm sorry I can't book 'The Lion and the Mouse,'" recently wrote an exhibitor to the exchange selling that picture. "My patrons don't like animal pictures."

AN APPRECIATION

Of Adolph Zukor Described as "Zealot and Dreamer" by Lord Beaverbrook

London—Lord Beaverbrook is not only the owner of the London Express, but is heavily interested in films. He has on several occasions denied the various reports as to a combination with Adolph Zukor. The following, therefore, signed by him and appearing in the Express in a recent Sunday issue, is interesting. Says Lord Beaverbrook:

Ignorance is the author of invention, and invention is the mother of deception.

Romancers have woven some rather crude fairy tales out of the fact that I have for some time known Mr. Adolph Zukor, and that my successors in Canada were carrying out banking arrangements in that country for him. These materials were sufficient for spinning fables about my imaginary association with Mr. Zukor, and thus a "filmy" interest has been imported into his arrival in this country and my subsequent meeting with him.

Adolph Zukor is a fascinating enigma. He is only about forty-five years of age, and is the leader of the stupendous American movie world. He has made a large fortune out of films and his own brilliant brain, having started life without a penny and without a friend. He began in the proverbial way by sweeping out the office, but he was a born showman from the days of the "penny-in-the-slot" peepshow, which was the true and only begetter of the moving picture.

Zukor is a man of small stature, and his face is seamed and pitted, like Dr. Johnson's. He is a Russian Jew, who speaks English with a slight accent, but, unlike many of his race, he does not speak French. He is noticeably well-dressed, wears a diamond ring, and his small feet are covered by well-fitting boots.

He says that he plays golf, but I should like to see him driving off the tee before making myself personally responsible for this statement.

His eyes, though interesting, betray no cause for this little man's greatness. He smiles with a large, awkward mouth, a smile that does not betray humor or emotion—just a distortion of the mouth which is meant to answer for a smile. The face is Hebraic in cast, and his language is tinged with Americanism. So Adolph Zukor might impress the casual acquaintance, to whom he talks freely on any subject.

But as you study the face you discern in it the historical characteristics of the Jew—the accumulated wisdom of years, the suave civility, the ingratiating desire to please, blendid with the ironical contempt of the race which knows that its fundamental brain power is superior to that of the Gentile.

If you try to arouse his enthusiasm by talking about the educational or propaganda possibilities of the film, he displays absolute indifference. If you talk to him about the film as a news instrument he looks bored.

If you speak to him of commerce he appears to be a typical man of business with the limited outlook of the business world. He will discuss the exchange rate with insight, but without enthusiasm. He is bored by talk about "uplift," or about the ideals and responsibilities of film production.

As soon as you speak to him about the immeasurable potentialities of the picture theatre his eyes begin to glitter and glisten, and his twisted smile becomes radiantly beautiful. In a flash you realize that Zukor is not the crude materialist that he appears to be. He possesses the ideals of the showman, and the ideals of the showman may be as lofty and as exalted as the ideals of the schoolmaster. The whole man blazes up into a furnace of excited intensity.

Instantly you have a flow of burning words like lava from a volcano. His immobile face becomes vividly mobile. His uninteresting conversation swells into stormy waves of passion. The feature film and its immense possibilities transfigure his whole being. The ordinary face becomes extraordinary. You see in eyes, in voice, in gesture, the zealot, the dreamer, the discoverer.

The man in a flash becomes flamingly alive; a fascinating soul that has been touched by the hand of genius. That is Zukor.

First of the Pathe features to be released in May is "Dollar for Dollar," a Frank Keenan production.

nd Us Your Quantity
est Prices Junk Film
tate Smelting & Refining Company
mmercial St. Newark, N. J.

WE OWN THEM!
Stories for Big Film Productions.
ading producers are our clients Play's the Thing," and we have brated Authors Society
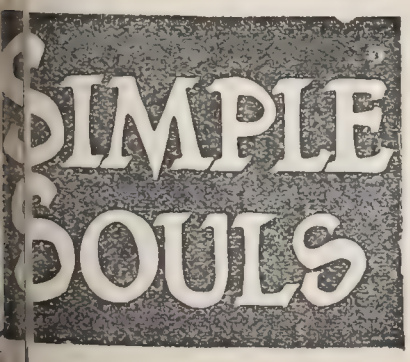
h Ave., N. Y. C. Phone Bry. 1511



BECAUSE
There's nothing like them
They balance any "show"
They fit any screen
They're worth more
"COMEDYART"
SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
H W Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

Announcement
Gevaert Co.
Antwerp, Belgium
Leading European Manufacturers of Raw Cinematographic Film
For All Particulars Apply
Louis Destenay, Gevaert Co.
Hotel Astor

Grauman Has Booked
THE CHAMPION

Chaplin's Greatest Two Part Comedy
At Record-Shattering Rental for Two Weeks
At Grauman's Theatre Los Angeles

Form 1204

CLASS OF SERVICE	SYMBOL
Telegram
Day Letter	Blue
Night Message	Nite
Night Letter	N L

If none of these three symbols appears after the check (number of words) this is a telegram. Otherwise its character is indicated by the symbol appearing after the check.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

CLASS OF SERVICE	SYMBOL
Telegram
Day Letter	Blue
Night Message	Nite
Night Letter	N L

If none of these three symbols appears after the check (number of words) this is a telegram. Otherwise its character is indicated by the symbol appearing after the check.

RECEIVED AT 54 WEST 45TH STREET, NEW YORK ALWAYS OPEN

131NYS71 NL

LOSANGELES CALIF APL 13-14 1920

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES INC 0316

ROOM 908 126 WEST 46 ST NY

WIRE ME AT ONCE YOUR FINALLOWEST PRICE FOR THE CHAMPION
FOR GRAOMANS THEATRE FOR ONE WEEK STARTING NEXT MONDAY
STOP I WILL GIVE IT BIG EXPLOITATION AND FEATURE IT
IN PUBLICITY AND LIGHTS STOP SHOULD BE TREMENDOUS FOR YOU
NOT ONLY ON PACIFIC COAST BUT THE ENTIRE COUNTRY STOP MUST KNOW IMMEDIATELY STOP CAN YOU GET PRINT HERE ON TIME STOP I AM FIGURING ALSO ON PROLOGUE FOR CHAMPION PRESENTATION

SID GRAUMAN. 852A

STATE RIGHT BUYERS

The Champion Starring Charlie Chaplin is but One of Four Grea Chaplin Pictures—The Others Are "The Jitney Elopement," "Work" and "By the Sea"—Two Reelers, good enough for Sid Grauman to book for a two week ru

ARE THEY GOOD ENOUGH TO BUY?

COMMUNICATE AT ONCE WITH

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES, Inc

126-130 WEST 46th ST., NEW YORK BRYANT 835

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 29 Thursday, April 29, 1920 Price 5 Cen

Exhibitors Organize

Chicago Meetings Crystallize With Formation of Independent Exhibitors of America.

(Staff Correspondence)

Chicago—Willard C. Patterson's idea for the formation of an organization composed of independent showmen has crystallized into a body known as the Independent Exhibitors of America.

The sessions of the exhibitors have been brought to a close with Frank Rembusch named as permanent chairman of the organization. Rembusch will be in New York next Wednesday to get under way a move to ascertain just what the attitude of producing organizations is on the ownership of theaters.

After Rembusch secures an angle on just what the situation is a committee of ten exhibitors which was apopinted here before the sessions closed will go to New York and discover definitely just how each large producer-distributor organization stands on the question of entering the exhibiting field.

Finally after securing this information the committee will go to Cleveland in June where the convention of the Motion Picture Theater Owners of America will be held and make an effort to combine the newly formed Independent Exhibitors of America with the theater owners' organization. The Motion Picture Theaters Owners' organization is the body that was formed by Sydney Cohen, president of the New York State Exhibitors' League, and which has allied with it the Miami Valley League, the Northwest Exhibitors' Circuit and a number of other prominent state exhibitor organizations.

The deliberations and discussions of the exhibitors reached the stage before final adjournment where First National, Selznick, Universal, Robertson-Cole and Associated Exhibitors, Inc., pledged themselves to work with the Independent Exhibitors of America in lining up exhibit-

(Continued on Page 2)

F. P. to Make "Declasse"

Famous Players announced last night that Ethel Barrymore would appear in a screen version of her stage success, "Declasse."

Da Maria Here

Da Maria, the Italian actress who did some film work on the other side, is now in this country. She will do film and legitimate stage work.

You Will Be Interested Next Week in the Letter in the Back of Wid's Weekly. Advt.

"You must be more than a butterfly to-night. You must make him tell where the military plans are hidden."—Anita Stewart in the Louis B. Mayer production, "The Yellow Typhoon," from Harold MacGrath's novel—A First National attraction.—Advt.

2 Sennett Features

Secured by First National—Officials Returned to Office—Directors Confirmed.

(Staff Correspondence)

Chicago—First National has signed Mack Sennett for two big five-reel comedies. This announcement regarding additional productions follows that of the Mayflower series of pictures.

The officials of Associated First National Pictures, Inc., were reelected at a business session here and the directors of the new production unit named in Atlantic City at the convention held in January were confirmed.

These directors are R. H. Lieber,

(Continued on Page 2)

Miller Through With Mayflower

It is understood that the Charles Miller contract with Mayflower has been abrogated. Miller made only one production for Mayflower, "The Law of the Yukon," which is to be distributed through Realart.

Rork Tells Plans

Signs David Hartford and James Young for Director's Series—Roth Interested.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Sam Rork of the Katherine MacDonald company, before leaving for the east told of some of his plans.

He has signed David Hartford and James Young each to direct a series of productions. Hartford is now making "Nomads of the North," a James Oliver Curwood story, for First National and Young is directing Katherine MacDonald in "The Notorious Miss Lyle."

The new production company is the one in which Eugene Roth of San Francisco is interested. Rork owns "A Parlor Match" and "The Texas Steer," both Charles Hoyt plays. It is said that First National will distribute the productions.

Whatever You Do Don't Miss the Letter in the Back of the Book, Wid's Weekly. Advt.

New Petition

Bankruptcy Charges Filed Agai United Pictures Production Corporation.

Following closely on the heels the petition in bankruptcy fi against United Picture Theaters America, Inc., comes the same tion against the United Picture P ductions Corp., the producing u which was allied with the theat company.

The creditors and their claims as follows: Royal Ribbon and C bon Co., $5,890; Linnsmith Pr $1,278, and Bernard Kowsinsky, $4

Harry Zalkin, who was named ceiver by the Federal Court whe similar action was brought agai United Picture Theaters by Ern Horstmann some months ago, been appointed receiver by Ju Mayer for both the productions theaters company in the present tion.

A number of the creditors in action against United Picture Th ters held a meeting in the office Percy L. Waters of Triangle yest day. At that meeting a commit of four was appointed with Mr. W ers as chairman to consult with receiver, Mr. Zalkin, on the co pany's affairs.

A meeting has been called for end of the week at which time it hoped to have present all of creditors.

Milton M. Goldsmith of Uni said yesterday that the action agai the productions company would contested bitterly and that the co pany was in sound financial conditi

It will be recalled that United t over the Triangle exchanges and T angle films a short time ago and o recently turned them back to T angle.

F. P. Preferred Drops

With the first activity since A 20 in Famous Players preferred, t issue dropped seven points yest day, closing at 84. The closing p on the last active day was 91. Y terday's market was depressed prices in the entire list lost.

Mrs. Hilliker Leaves Chester

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Mrs. Katherine H liker, who was responsible for humorous sub-titles in the Ches scenics, has resigned as secretary director of the company.

Mrs. Hilliker will leave as soon several uncompleted productions assembled.

For special "TIE UP" work. Use SOLOMON, he's wise.—Advt

BRADSTREET WID'S DAILY THE RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL XII No. 29 Thurs. April 29, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.
Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
Jacob ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00
All subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels. 5th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	76	76	76
Fam. pfd.	84	84	84
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Fox's, Inc.	30½	31⅝	31
Triangle 7-16	½		½
Int. Piet. Prod..	1¾	2¾	2
World Film.....¼	¼		¼
Loew 2nd pfd.....½	5⅛		5⅛

Exhibitors Organize

(Continued from Page 1)

ors against the activities of producing companies who are encroaching on the exhibiting field.

The committee named to gauge the attitude of producing companies on the theater owning question is composed of H. C. Farley, Alabama; M. Van Praeg, Kansas; D. W. Chamberlain, Minnesota; Sig Samuels, Georgia; Louis F. Blumenthal, New York; L. T. Lester, South Carolina; Carl Kettler, Florida; John Manheimer, New York; W. C. Patterson, Georgia; A. F. Brentlinger, Indiana; Harry W. Kress, Ohio; H. M. E. Pasmezoglu, Missouri; C. E. Whitehurst, Maryland; M. A. Chovnski, Illinois; Frank Rembusch, Indiana; E. T. Peter, Texas, and L. E. Lund, California.

DANNENBERG.

Kleine Making a Serial

Los Angeles—George Kleine has entered the serial field of production. He is president of the Kosmik Films, Inc., with John Larsen, vice-president; L. C. Wheeler, treasurer, and B. C. Hardcastle, secretary. The first serial is "The Hope Diamond Mystery," with Stuart Paton as director and Grace Darmond and Geo. Cheesboro the stars.

L. C. Wheeler is connected with the export firm of Bech, Van Siclen & Co., who it is understood will have the foreign rights to the serial.

Ship Film by Aeroplane

Casper, Wyoming—A spring blizzard which tied up the railroad service from Denver, Colo., to this city made it necessary for W. R. Sample, manager of the Iris, to charter an aeroplane to secure a film from the Goldwyn exchange in the former town.

Minneapolis, Minn.—Richard C. Fox has been appointed manager of the local American exchange.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:
"Harrison's Reports" says:
"You can mark 'The Strange Boarder' on your book 100 per cent. Mr. Rogers, as the innocent farmer, is unexcelled. The picture nails one from the start."

Goldwyn

2 Sennett Features

(Continued from Page 1)

H. O. Schwalbe, Nate H. Gordon, J. Von Herberg, Jacob Fabian, Moe Mark, J. B. Clark, Pittsburgh; E. B. Johnson, J. H. Kunsky, J. J. Allen and Col. Fred Levy.

The directors for Associated First National Theaters, Inc., were also named. This list is practically identical with the directors of the theaters company.

The New First National sub-franchise plan was explained in detail to the branch managers yesterday.

DANNENBERG.

Of all the characteristics that mark the RITCHEY poster, the quality of getting satisfactory box-office results is the one that appeals most to the exhibitor.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8386

Ritchey

Comedies you've sought

You have long asked for one brand when you have sought excellence in scenics and travel pictures, animal and nature subjects, in educational reels generally.

You have not been surprised to find Chester-Outings, Screenics and a dozen other important series seeking release through this organization.

But you've wondered why some organization did not establish the same standard in comedies, too, to round out the short subject field. We've felt the need and only have waited to supply our own exchange system.

The time is here. We offer you now a two-reel comedy every week—the Chester and Torchy series, which triumphed on pre-release showings, and two other series that will score like successes.

Of course you'll seek quality in comedies, too, at one of the twenty-two exchanges being opened by

EDUCATIONAL
FILMS CORPORATION OF AMERICA
729 Seventh Ave. New York

Variety said—

"The brightest spot of the whole entertainment proved to be the first of the Sewell Ford 'Torchy' stories, featuring that able comedian, Johnny Hines."

Don't let these get away from you.

MASTER FILMS, INC.
C. C. Burr, Pres.
133 West 44th St., N. Y. C.

Book through Exchanges of Educational Films Corp. of America

Grauman Has Booked

THE CHAMPION

Chaplin's Greatest Two Part Comedy

At Record-Shattering Rental for Two Weeks

AT

GRAUMAN'S THEATRE

LOS ANGELES

CLASS OF SERVICE	SYMBOL
Telegram
Day Letter	Blue
Night Message	Nite
Night Letter	N L

If none of these three symbols appears after the check (number of words) this is a telegram. Otherwise its character is indicated by the symbol appearing after the check.

WESTERN UNION

TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

Form 1204

CLASS OF SERVICE	SYMBOL
Telegram
Day Letter	Blue
Night Message	Nite
Night Letter	N L

If none of these three symbols appears after the check (number of words) this is a telegram. Otherwise its character is indicated by the symbol appearing after the check.

RECEIVED AT 54 WEST 45TH STREET, NEW YORK ALWAYS OPEN

131NYS71 NL

LOSANGELES CALIF APL 13-14 1920 V

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES INC 0316

ROOM 908 126 WEST 46 ST NY

WIRE ME AT ONCE YOUR FINALLOWEST PRICE FOR THE CHAMPION FOR GRAOMANS THEATRE FOR ONE WEEK STARTING NEXT MONDAY STOP I WILL GIVE IT BIG EXPLOITATION AND FEATURE IT IN PUBLICITY AND LIGHTS STOP SHOULD BE TREMENDOUS FOR YOU NOT ONLY ON PACIFIC COAST BUT THE ENTIRE COUNTRY STOR MUST KNOW IMMEDIATELY STOP CAN YOU GET PRINT HERE ON TIME STOP I AM FIGURING ALSO ON PROLOGUE FOR CHAMPION PRESENTATION

SID GRAUMAN. 352A

STATE RIGHT BUYERS

The Champion Starring Charlie Chaplin is but One of Four Great Chaplin Pictures—The Others are "The Jitney Elopement," "Work" and "By the Sea"—Two Reelers, good enough for Sid Grauman to book for a two week run.

Are They Good Enough To Buy?

Communicate at once with

VICTOR KREMER FILM FEATURES, Inc.

126-130 WEST 46th ST., NEW YORK BRYANT 8352

Wid's DAILY Thursday, April 29, 1920

The Thriller

Louis B. Mayer

presents

ANITA STEWART

in

Harold McGrath's
Greatest Adventure Story

"The Yellow Typhoon"

Directed by EDWARD JOSE

Screen version by Monte M. Katterjohn

It's a Clean Up!

of Thrillers

It's a Knockout if there Ever was One!

Crammed with smashing scenes and intense dramatic action from start to finish. Keeps them on their toes — and Anita Stewart's greatest picture.

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

The Next First National BIG Special

Foreign Representative, David P. Howells, Inc.,
729 Seventh Ave., New York City

Oh, You Lucky Box Offices!

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Two weeks prior to the showing of Will Rogers in "Water, Water, Everywhere," at the Victoria, the exploitation campaign was started.

A rain came conveniently and banners bearing the title of the production were set up in places of prominence. Over 125,000 labels bearing the same inscription were used by a bottling concern by special arrangement and pasted on all vessels containing "soft stuff." In the house, over 6,000 drinking cups were thus inscribed, after which came trailers at all of the Stanley houses, of which chain the Victoria is one. On the latter, Will Rogers was seen surrounded by water, saying, "I remember the time it was considered a disgrace for a man to get drunk. Now it is considered an achievement."

Following that came 1,000 one-sheet snipes and window cards, showing Rogers sticking out of a bottle. There were 25,000 cut-out novelties distributed among guests and patrons of dining rooms and cabarets and five-foot soda water glasses as well as sets of mounted photographs used in lobby displays. After that came window displays throughout the central section of the city. Sympathetic saloon keepers permitted their windows to be decorated with cut-outs showing Rogers sticking out of a whiskey bottle remarking, "How times have changed, etc."

One of the most unusual features of the campaigns was the display in the window of a clothing merchant, displaying the making of the production in all stages. Just before the showing, a sandwich man carried a cut-out representing a champagne bottle and with this parting shot, the big exploitation campaign came to an end. The elaborate and lavish push given the offering resulted in a successful run.

Services Held for Clarine Seymour

Funeral services for Clarine Seymour were held yesterday morning from the home of the actress' parents in New Rochelle. The entire Griffith staff from the Mamaroneck studios attended the services.

MOVED

Office to our Laboratory
at 413 W. 41st St.

ERNEST STERN

(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523

"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Megaron 6231-2

Send Us Yo
Any Quantity
Highest Prices Junk Fil
INTERSTATE SMELT & REFINING COMPA
23 Commercial St. NEWARK

RADIN PICTURES
Will Screen
During Convention We

FRANK MAYO
in
"THRU EYES OF ME"

ZIP COMEDIES

REAL STAR DRAM

WEAKLY
INDIGESTIO

Etc., Etc.

See WILLIAM PIZO
Special Representativ
Sherman Hotel
Chicago, Ills.

Only a short time hence—AND
The Ninth Commandment

Fernando R. Elizondo

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife,—will be ready to make money for you.

Starring
FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO

a star with a pleasing personality, a star the public is looking for,

a star which means money to the exhibitor.

Also
Madame BRUZOVNA

Directed by
EMIL HARDER

SUNSHINE FILM
Inc.
111 W. 42nd St.
Tel.: Bryant 7123

ARE YOU IN TROUBLE?

CALL
BRYANT
Ten-Four-Six-Nine

GET IN TOUCH WITH

FILM SERVICE BUREAU, Inc.

130 WEST 46th ST., N. Y. CITY

SPECIALISTS IN
EXPORT OR DOMESTIC PACKING OR SHIPPING TITLES IN ANY LANGUAGE
TITLES INSERTED FILM INSPECTION
RE-EDITING—CUTTING—ASSEMBLING

FACILITIES
PROJECTION THEATRES
CUTTING ROOMS
FILM SERVICE

EXPERT SERVICE GUARANTEED

LEON SCHLESINGER
Pres. & Gen. Mgr.

JOS. R. MILES
Vice-President

Cuts and Flashes

Barney Sherry, who is appearnder the Marshall Neilan banas been loaned to Lew Cody s current production.

"e Right to Love" is the title he second George Fitzmaurice tion for Paramount.

ry Poppe has resigned as pubband advertising manager for A. scher Features, Inc., and has turned to writing original stor the screen.

don Lewis heads the cast of Silent Barrier," the first of the Tracy novels to be filmed by tar.

Neilan Gets Paper Cutter

lywood—Marshall Neilan re- a gold paper cutter on his 29th ay. Agnes Ayres made the tation speech.

ston Has Lincoln Picture

s Burston has a five reel proh ready for release called "The of Lincoln." Francis Ford is the title role.

Johnston Better

iam A. Johnston, president and of Motion Picture News, unt an operation for appendilst week and is now recovering dly it is expected he will be feet again by Sunday.

Chadwick Forming New Company

Isaac E. Chadwick has in formation a new company to be called the Chadwick Pictures Corp.

This company will exploit a series of 11 Briggs comedies formerly distributed through Famous Players which were sold to Chadwick for the world through Nat Levine, who acted for Briggs Pictures, Inc.

In addition, Chadwick will handle additional independent productions.

"Great Reward" Ready

Louis Burston's newest serial is "The Great Reward" in which Francis Ford plays the stellar role. It is to be released shortly.

Sued for Running Sunday Show

Findlay, O.—Managers of the four houses here have been arraigned for showing pictures on Sunday before Mayor Mitchell, who ordered that they refrain from doing so on the following Sabbath. A resolution commending the mayor's attitude was adopted by the Ministerial Association.

TERRITORY STILL OPEN
on
"E GREAT WHITE TRAIL"
With DORIS KENYON
and all star cast
W YORK and
RTHERN NEW JERSEY
STERN PENNSYLVANIA and THERN NEW JERSEY
MICHIGAN
WISCONSIN
NORTH and
SOUTH DAKOTA
Apply A. V. FEARY
on 811 1457 Broadway
New York City

FOR
E RIGHT BUYERS
LLIE
ODES
Price films
ajama rl
FIVE REELS
B PRICE COMPANY, Inc.
NEW YORK CITY

POWER'S
CAMERAGRAPH

ANNOUNCEMENT

Owing to a large amount of work before us, we request that those desiring our services in titling or editing pitcures, or the preparation of continuities, notify us in advance, that we may arrange our schedule accordingly.

HARRY CHANDLEE and
WILLIAM B. LAUB
130 W. 46th St., N. Y. C.
Room 604 Bryant 5600

FILM FOLKS

We're ready for you in our new shop, and it's some shop you'll tell the world after you see it.

How about some new dance records? We have a lot of new ones.

VENETIAN MOON
HAREM LIFE
BO LA BOO

RICHARDSON'S Inc.
Victrolas Grafonolas and Pianos
727 West Seventh Street
Phone 64955 or call in person

SIMPLE SOULS

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK U.S.A.

ANNOUNCEMENT
GEVAERT CO.
ANTWERP, BELGIUM
Leading European Manufacturers of raw cinematographic film.
For all particulars apply
Louis Destenay, Gevaert Company
HOTEL ASTOR

TALK about the world-wide! interest in—
"THE SON OF TARZAN"
—as a Serial

Robert Warwick

has just finished two stories directed by

THOMAS HEFFRON

When T. H. made

"MADAME SPHINX"

with

ALMA REUBENS

WHO WAS THE LEADING MAN?

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch This Space Every Day!

New Theaters

San Francisco, Cal.—O. D. Baldwin. $85,000. 1,800.

Los Angeles, Cal. — Pasadena Amusement Co. to build Raymond. $150,000.

Belle Vernon, Pa.—Thomas Bello, owner Bijou, about $43,000. To open in August.

Pittsburgh, Pa.—Associated Theaters to build on newly acquired site.

Kensington, Pa.—Nixon-Nirdlinger interests to build Penn Treaty.

Another Blow for Solomon

Julian "King" Solomon, who lost his father a short time ago, was called to Philadelphia last night to attend the funeral of Leonard Stephenson, his father-in-law, who died suddenly on Wednesday night.

F. P. Ball Last Night

At the hour of going to press the ball of the employes of the Famous Players eastern studios was under way at the Commodore.

Elsie Ferguson lead the grand march while General Townshend of the British Army was one of the guests of honor.

De Mille Film a Reissue

Famous Players will reissue Cecil De Mille's "Old Wives for New."

SIMPLE SOULS

SENSE

Every newspape in the world i praising

GEORGES CARPENTIE

And every man woman and chil is waiting an opportunity t see him in the great America society drama

Directed by

John G. Adolf

ROBERTSON-COL

SUPER-SPECIAL

"A MILLION DOLLA ATTRACTION"

H. H. VAN LOAN

Recent Releases

Tom Mix in

"The Speed Maniac"

"The Virgin of Stamboul"

with

Priscilla Dean

121 West Eulalia Street

Glendale, California

"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JI

Continuity and Speci

"A Woman of Pleas

Blanche Sweet Speci

"The Pagan God"

starring H. B. Warn

"Dangerous Waters"

Original for Wm. Des

JESSE D. HAMPTO

Productions

Dominion Film Co. Inc.

controlling productions of

RALPH CONNOR STORIES

THE SKY PILOT
story of the foothills

THE MAN FROM GLENGARRY
Logging story of the Ottawa

"BLACK ROCK"
story of the Selkirks

THE FOREIGNER
Drama of Immigration

CORPORAL CAMERON
story of the Royal Mounted

THE PROSPECTOR
story of Crow's Nest Pass

AND SIX OTHERS

NOTE.—All of these productions will be made on their authentic locations. Herds of Buffalo—Cattle Stampedes — Wolves — Bear — Caribou and other massed animals will be used in each story as described by the author.

6 West 48th St. New York City

Ernest Shipman Manager

Hotel Congress Chicago

FOR THE SAKE OF your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—

"COMEDYART"

offer them more entertainment than any other single release

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N

H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

CHICAGO SPECIAL CONVENTION ISSUE

BRADSTREET FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 30A Friday, April 30, 1920 Price 5 Cents

SESSION OVER

t National Meeting Over—Sub-Franchise Plan Ready—Many Leave For Home

olbye Chicago!
h either said it last night or will today. "They" are the rs of First National who have mpleted the most successful meeting in the history of the organization.

H. LIEBER
Indianapolis

The subfranchise plan worked out in detail over a period of months has practically been perfected. There are still innumerable details to be ironed ut as rapidly as possible—and e sub-franchise plan will be on blast all over this country.
lady several sub-franchises een disposed of, one of these, ly the first, to Chas. E. Whiteof Baltimore, as part of the gton Franchise District. Sigls, of Atlanta, will in all likesecure the subfranchise in his e are only two of the many ave been practically closed. of the branch managers are ic in their statement that within thirty days they will have their complete quota sold. Their enthusiasm and optimism are contagious.

ILLIAMS
York

First National elected officers as follows:

President — Robert Lieber, Indian-

President—Sam Katz, Chi-

tary and Treasurer—H. O. pe, Philadelphia.
l of Directors—J. B. Clark, ce Johnson, J. G. Von Her- am Katz, Robert Lieber, H. valbe and Nathan Gordon.
National announced the se- of Mayflower productions, as two Mack Sennet five reel specials and it would not be surprising to find First National releasing Carter de Haven in "Twin Beds," as well as several other specials which will probably be announced later.

H. SCHWALBE
Philadelphia

What Happened Here

They have been going at a whirl wind rate. "The Windy City" has lived up to its name. Between the exhibitors in convention and the First National gathering there was more real action to the minute than at any convention in the history of the industry. And never at any convention hitherto held has there been so many important exhibitors gathered as assembled here.

The usual diversions which in the past have monopolized time at exhibitors' gatherings were practically dispensed with. The boys who expected to while many hours away with the galloping dominoes and the hope for an ace in the hole found little time for such diversions.

And as for the First National executives, they were closeted in their special suite, not only all day, but in several instances all night. They had their meals served right in the suite and sandwiches and coffee were the chief items of their menu. But they all seemed to enjoy this. They didn't kick.

TOM MOORE
Washington, D. C.

Last night they worked practically all night, to be able to leave at noon for New York.

And this should prove a worthy example of being followed at future gatherings of film men. There has been entirely too much time wasted in previous conventions when film folk gathered. This may have been well enough in the past, but today the film industry is important and big enough to demand business attention and to receive it. And this convention here proved that real business could be transacted without difficulty even under the stress and pressure such as has been in evidence since last Monday at the Congress Hotel.

See what happened. In the neighborhood of 200 of the most important exhibitors in the country met in response to a call issued by the manager of a theatre in Atlanta, Ga. Why they answered the call would be difficult to explain, but they did. When Willard C. Patterson issued his first clarion call, few believed that many would answer it. But in response to the campaign he waged and in response to the arguments he advanced, almost 600 theatre owners, representing between 4,000 and 5,000 theatres communicated with Patterson, and of these 600 about one third actually arrived in Chicago to take up with him what he considered and what they agreed was one of the most important problems facing the industry: Whether or not picture producers owning theatres should be encouraged in

E. M. FISHER
Seattle

(Continued on page 3)

Lionel Barrymore's Initial First National Release Will Be "The Master Mind." Mr. Whitman Bennett Vouches for the Story.

Film men—Join the VOYAGERS
Ask TOM WILEY, he's Captain.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 30A Fri., Apr. 30, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at Chicago, Ills. (Congress Hotel) for four days, April 27th to 30th inc. (New York office 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.) by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC. F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entry as second-class matter applied for at Chicago, Ill.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00, including convention issues published during the annual convention of the Exhibitors' Leagues.

Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.

Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558

Hollywood, California

Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Kosmik Serial

Los Angeles.—Kosmik Films, Inc., George Klein, president, making a serial with Grace Darmond. Bech Van Siclen & Co., New York, exporters, reported interested in concern.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK

"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir: The New York Tribune says:

"There are real tears in the latest Pauline Frederick Film Production, 'The Woman in Room 13,' at the Capitol Theatre. In the court scene, in which the star is shown testifying in defense of her husband, Miss Frederick's appeal to the jury was splendidly done."

Goldwyn

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Located

Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morningside 621-Z

The Spirit of Chicago

The film industry made history in Chicago.

And the entire industry should thank those exhibitors as well as executives of First National for the business like spirit which has pervaded the entire operation of the two conventions which met and transacted business here. Indeed, already an appreciation of that spirit has appeared: the expression voiced by Fred C. Quimby, general manager of the Associated Exhibitors' Inc., appearing in this publication yesterday. This spirit of good will as evidenced by the new exhibitor's organization will doubtless find an echo in many future gatherings of the trade, and in time to come this spirit should pervade practically throughout the industry.

The finest development—the finest achievement of these two meetings was the splendid business like tone which was always present. There were innumerable meetings, and none of them lagged. There were innumerable discussions but there was practically no fooling around. It was a real business session.

This spirit is bound to be reflected in future gatherings of film folk. This industry is too big—too important—to warrant the various diversions, the "parties" and the games of chance which have hitherto been the dominating feature of most conventions.

In the early days of the film industry, the happy-go-lucky spirit was all right. In view of the methods of the business it was not surprising. But those days have gone and they will never return. The day of the old store show has passed into memory. And instead of the converted butcher shop with its smelly atmosphere—its low ceiling—there are today scattered throughout the country several hundred palatial theatres which are furnishing their respective communities with the very highest type of entertainment possible. And more like them are going up every day.

This is a business to be proud of.

The spirit of Chicago is the spirit that should dominate this industry.

The days of the sharp shooter are over. The days of the clever manipulator are gone. The days of the man who doesn't shoot straight, true and clean are numbered. The men who can't or who won't play square will have very little opportunity in this business from now on. There is no room for them.

The spirit of independence—the Chicago spirit—as evidenced by exhibitors here this week is the spirit that will make this industry what it should be. There can be no other spirit—there must be none.

DANNENBERG.

A fact is impossibl to argue away— therefore, the fact tha RITCHEY posters pa is not open to argument

RITCHEY
Litho. Corp.
406 W. 31st St., N. Y
Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

"Where Promises Are Sacr

LOUIS MEYE

Formerly Broda & Meyer, Inc.

TITLES

Lettered - Illustrated - Photographed
Ask to See Our New Process Titles and Illustrations
A Phone Call Will Bring Samples
BRYANT 7392
4220 West 42nd St. Roo

For State Right Buyer

BILLIE RHODES in His Pajama Girl

Five e

C. B. Price Co., Inc.
New York City

SIMPLE SOULS

ESSION OVER

(Continued from page 1)

GORDON
ston

There were many who believed—many who still believe—that Patterson's call was just a cover under which First National could and did represent their subfranchise plan. To those who had hief the two days' developesshould have satisfied them tterson had no irons in the , as he put it, "no personal to gratify, no personal amto satisfy." On the conven-r he made it very plain that just one idea in his mind and could pick flaws or find fault that he was satisfied to hear 48 hours deliberation the ng came to an end with two nt determinations reached: send a delegation representing this gathering and known as the Independent Exhibitors of America to the Cleveland convention early in June for the purpose of solidifying exhibitor interests.

FABIAN
s, N. J.

2—To send this committee to New place on record executives e producing corporations re now and have been en-buying, leasing or renting theatre properties throughout the country.

Frank J. Rembusch, of the Rembusch chain of theatres, Indiana, chosen as temporary, and later as permanent chairman, will visit New York next week to make the necessary arrangements for the committee and for the executives of the producing and distributing companies to get together at some date prior to the Cleveland convention, when these distributing producers will be placed on record as to their future intentions so that the Independent Exhibitors of America may be able to determine what their actions are to be with regard to these factors.

A. H. BLANK
Des Moines

There can be no question but that every exhibitor here was unanimous in the belief that the producers and distributing companies cannot and should not be in the exhibiting end of the business.

There were a number of fiery statements made during the two days' session. Among these were:

(Continued on page 6)

POWER'S
CAMERAGRAPH.

Ward Crane, Anita Stewart's leading man in "The Yellow Typhoon," has been re-engaged by Louis B. Mayer to play the lead in Miss Stewart's new picture, "Harriet and the Piper," a Kathleen Norris story, which is now being filmed under Bertram Bracken's direction.

—o—

Harry J. Revier, who will direct "The Son of Tarzan" serial for the National Film Corporation of America, has arrived, accompanied by Roy Somerville, who is slated to adapt the Edgar Rice Burroughs novel to the screen.

Send Us Your
Any Quantity
Highest Prices Junk Film
Interstate Smelting & Refining Company
23 Commercial St. Newark, N. J.

1,000,000
FANS
have been looking for something "different"
"COMEDYART"
is "different"
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
11 W Hellman Bldg Los Angeles

PROTECTION
e fundamental principle back of every successful business terprise is insurance. Corporations owe it to their stockers. Partners owe it to each other. You as an individual t to yourself. Do not allow yourself to be lulled into false ty. You NEED insurance.
REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Insurance

nnouncement
Gevaert Co.
Antwerp, Belgium
ing European Manufacturers of Raw Cinematographic Film
For All Particulars Apply
Louis Destenay, Gevaert Co.
Hotel Astor

ARE YOU In Trouble?
CALL
BRYANT
Ten-Four-Six-Nine
Get in Touch With
Film Service Bureau
INC.
130 WEST 46TH ST., N. Y. CITY
SPECIALISTS IN
EXPORT OR DOMESTIC PACKING OR SHIPPING TITLES IN ANY LANGUAGE
TITLES INSERTED—FILM INSPECTION
RE-EDITING—CUTTING—ASSEMBLING
—Facilities—
PROJECTION THEATRES
CUTTING ROOMS
FILM SERVICE
Expert Service Guaranteed
LEON SCHLESINGER
Pres. and Genl. Mgr.
JOS. R. MILES
Vice President

READY

First Nati
Will Now

First Nation

The fairest basis and Distributors e

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

TO GO!

al Exchange Men Explain

Franchises

ing between Exhibitors nceived

EXHIBITORS DEFENSE COMMITTEE

Composed of Members of The First National Exhibitors' Circuit, Inc.

SESSION OVER:

(Continued from page 3)

An appeal by C. H. Hackworth, Huntsville, Ala., which brought the hitherto evaded question of finances. "I have seven theatres and I pledge $100 for each of those theatres," said Chairman Rembusch. "I am in the fight." The next subscription came in the form of a check for $1,000 from the Maryland delegation, and subscriptions climbed until they reached $4,700.

W. P. DEWEES
Vancouver, B. C.

The first speaker at the afternoon session was J. D. Williams, of First National. "You have the power to make us do just what you want us to do," he said. "You should stick together and co-operate in every way. Then stick with the independent producer. I would rather run the poorest star in the world in my house, if I were an exhibitor, than play the biggest star from a company that was likely to become my competitor."

Frank Ferrandini
Richmond, Va.

"I am not a picture maker," declared Louis J. Selznick, the next speaker. "I employ people who know how to make pictures to make them for me, but I find it a financial success—in fact, I expect to make about $2,000,000 this year. I am not going into the exhibiting business. I stand ready to take my organization, which I own 100 per cent, and contract with you to deliver pictures to you 25 years hence. If I should die tomorrow, I have three sons who will carry on my business as I would have it done. I stand ready to turn over Selznick, Select and Republic to you—not because I love you, but because I think it is good business."

H. Webster Smith, attorney representing the Whitehurst interests in Baltimore, made the first suggestion "that an organization be created and incorporated, including the independent exhibitors of the United States. After this organization is perfected legally and sound in every way, a form of agreement shall be submitted to the various film companies in which they agree not to sell their film to any producing company buying theatres and becoming exhibitors, and furthermore, no film company signing the agreement can buy a theatre and become an "exhibitor."

MAX SPIEGEL
New York

"How can we know that the film

(Continued on page 7)

Roscoe Karns has again been loaned by King Vidor—this time to Lasky.

Alan Dwan has begun preliminary work on his sixth Mayflower production.

SHOWMAN SENSE

You book a picture because you THINK it will draw the crowds, but you KNOW

GEORGES CARPENTIER

in a fascinating drama of high society will break all previous box-office records

Directed by John G. Adolfi

ROBERTSON-COLE SUPER-SPECIAL

A MILLION DOLLAR ATTRACTION

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.

Permanent New York Office at 1780 BROADWAY
W. H. Gueringer, representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Mats, Electros and Stereos for the Motion Picture Trade

I. RUBIN & CO.

23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

SIMPLE SOULS

WE OWN THEM!

Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.

Celebrated Authors Society

701 7th Ave., N. Y. C. Phone Bry. 1511

Prepare for—

"THE SON OF TARZAN"

—the greatest of all serials!

JACK COOPER

Featured in Fox Sunshine Comedies

"Money Talks" "Footlight Maids"
"Virtuous Husbands" "The Yellow Dog Catcher"
"Dablin in Society" "The Heart Snatcher"
"Hungry Lions and Tender Hearts"

Watch this Space for Future Announcements

State Right Buyers! Get Acquainted With

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"

Thou shalt not covet thy neighbor's wife. Starring Fernando R. Elizondo and Mme. Halina Bruzovna. Directed by Emil Harder

ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS—INTERSTATE PHOTOPLAYS CO.
Tel. Bryant 5521 1482 Broadway

SESSION OVER

(Continued from page 6)

nies are not using dummy ex-
's?" demanded someone.
man is going to perjure him-
d we can prove that the pro-
company is behind a theatre
if such is the case," was the reply.

KUNSKY
etroit

As a parting shot before the adjournment the first day the chairman made a few remarks which hit the discordant element a severe jolt. "Let exhibitor stop g exhibitor," he said. "We omplish nothing until we have l to join hands and fight to-
"

exhibitors known as the Com-of Ten will be
C. Farley, Empire Theatre,
omery, Ala.; M. Van Praag,
l Garden, Kansas City, Kan.;
. Chamberlain, American
ment Co., 527 First Ave.,
polis, Minn.; Sig Samuels,
on Theatre, Atlanta, Ga.;
F. Blumenthal, 1600 Broad-ew York City, New York; L.

T. Lester, Rivoli Theatre, Columbia, S. C.; Carl Kettler, West Palm Beach, Fla.; John Manheimer, Attorney at Law, 215 Montague St., Brooklyn, N. Y.; W. C. Patterson, Criterion Theatre, Atlanta, Ga.; Brentlinger, Bankers & Merch-heatres Co., Fort Wayne, Ind.; W. Kress, Piqua Amusement qua, Ohio; H. M. E. Pasme-302 Chestnut St., St. Louis, . E. Whitehurst, Baltimore, . A. Choynski, Allied Amuse-Association, 1318 Consumers Chicago, Ill.; F. Rembusch, 40 St., Indianapolis, Ind.; E. T. Box 212, Dallas, Texas, and ce E. Lund, 1125 Broadway, d, Cal.

AHNKEN
rancisco

her interesting talk at the ion was the argument

(Continued on page 8)

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9

Monsoon Cooling System

Incorporated

70 W. 45th St. New York

Bess Meredith

and

Wilfred Lucas

Writing and Directing

Australian Features

Address

Care Snowy Baker
84 Oxford Street
Sydney, N. S. W. Australia
Cable Address
"Snowing Sydney"

Members of Parliament, Multi-Millionaires and Big Men of Affairs Who Compose

CANADIAN PHOTOPLAYS, LTD.

of Calgary, Canada

have been so pleased with the dividends accruing from

First National Exploitation

of

"BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY"

that they voted unanimously to the following wire being sent their New York representative:

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

Calgary, Alta., Apl. 16—20

ERNEST SHIPMAN,
First National Exhibitors' Circuit,
6 West 48th Street, New York.

It is our intention to continue to produce bigger and better pictures than "Back to God's Country." Stop! We propose having a great super feature ready for release by early Fall.

(Signed) CANADIAN PHOTOPLAYS, LTD.

N. B. Canadian Photoplays, Ltd., holds options on the works of many leading authors, thus insuring a wealth of new material.

6 W. 48th St.
New York City

Ernest Shipman

Manager

Hotel Congress
Chicago

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY

281 LEXINGTON AVE, NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp St., New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th St., Philadelphia, Pa.
64 W. Randolph St. Chicago, Ill.

WHERE ARE THE COMEDIANS OF YESTERDAY?

BOOK NEW ONES

"The first of the 'Torchy' stories with Johnny Hines in the leading role is interesting and novel. . . . There is so much that is new and novel provided in the way of incident, the picture has been given such careful production and the titles are so original that this picture is sure to meet with a good reception. . . . It is miles above the average two-reeler that we have been getting for a couple of years back."

—Motion Picture News

Don't let someone beat you to these—we can only produce twelve a year and maintain our standard of quality.

MASTER FILMS, INC.
C. C. Burr, Pres.
133 West 44th St., N. Y. C.

Book through Exchanges of Educational Film
Corp. of America

SESSION OVER

(Continued from page 7)

LOUIS B. MAYER
Boston

furnished by John Emerson in behalf of writers for the screen. Mr. Emerson, who is connected with the Constance Talmadge organization, said:

"If the rumor that a certain producing company is trying to get a monopoly on the legitimate houses as well as the motion picture theatres proves true, it would be a fatal blow to independent producers, to actors, and to dramatic authors. Having a monopoly of the theatres, the company could absolutely control the rights of any play produced on the stage. By discriminating against managers who refuse to give up the picture rights to a play, they could effectually keep them from obtaining any bookings, and ultimately forcing them into giving their own concern the picture rights.

COL. FRED LEVY
Louisville

"Such discrimination would naturally effect the actors, and the players — represented by the Actors' Equity association — will stand very strongly against the movement on the part of anybody attempting to obtain a monopoly. The dramatic authors of the country are already organizing to lend their united opposition to any monopolized control in the theatres.

"I feel that the combined forces of these two organizations, aided by the moral support of the independent managers, could do a great deal toward preventing any monopoly."

Coast Brevities

Hollywood—"The Mischief Man," Lew Cody's latest starring vehicle now in course of production, is an original story by H. Tipton Steck. Cody's next story is also an original of Steck's and will be produced entirely in New York City. Steck and Cody plan to leave about May 5.

—o—

The film of "Held in Trust," May Allison's new screen classic picture, was started this week at the Metro Studio. John E. Ince is directing. George Kibbe Turner is the author. Sarah Y. Mason wrote the scenario. Farrell Foss is Miss Allison's leading man and Walter Long has an important part.

—o—

Helen Ferguson has been engaged to support Mitchell Lewis in "The Mutiny," the second Jack London story to be filmed by Metro for C. E. Shurtleff, Inc.

—o—

The cast for King Vidor's forthcoming production, "The Jackknife Man," from Ellis Parker Butler's novel, includes Florence Vidor, Charles Arling, Fred Turner, Willis Marks, Harry Todd, James Corrigan, Lillian Leighton, Bobby Kelso and Claire McDowell.

Up in the Attic

Some of the Girls

Minnie Ha Ha

Just a moment---

UP IN MARY'S ATTIC

With Eva Novak, Harry Gribbon and an All-Star Cast

Will Be Ready Soon

It is being prepared for the trade by Elmer J. McGovern, who edited "Mickey", and who says it is the

Most Sensational Feature

he ever had anything to do with

FINE ARTS PICTURES

Incorporated

Murray W. Garsson

Chas. F. Schwerin, Gen'l Sales Manager

130 W. 46th St., New York City

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 30 Friday, April 30, 1920 Price 5 Ce

After Film Clubs

M. P. E. A. Inc. Seeking Information for Dept. of Justice—Investigation Hinted at.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Indianapolis—The Motion Picture Exhibitors of America, Inc., has been asked by the Department of Justice at Washington to secure whatever information can be collected on the operations of F. I. L. M. Clubs and Exchange Managers' Associations in various sections of the country. League officials state the Department of Justice has information which may involve a possible violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Law.

The evidence desired is in the form of original letters or certified copies of letters sent to exhibitors by managers requiring them to appear before a film club, affidavits of conversation or threats by salesmen or managers of film companies to cut off service unless the rules and regulation of film clubs are complied with by the exhibitors.

Information is being sought with reference to these acts:

1—Film managers have called exhibitors before their board. They have insisted upon settling differences between individual exhibitors and individual film companies, with the film managers acting as judge and jury.

2—Film salesmen and managers have threatened to cut off services unless rules and regulations of the Film Clubs are followed. Where C. O. D. shipments were refused by an exhibitor, the balance of the film companies have agreed to not ship service to the exhibitor.

3—Cash bonds in the way of advance deposits are demanded and in many cases not returned to the exhibitor.

4—Film Clubs in one city are allied with Film Clubs in other cities and blacklist exhibitors unless rules and regulations of the Film Clubs are followed.

5—At weekly meetings, these managers compare prices paid by exhibitors for film service and by exchange of information, film prices have been advanced over 100 per cent during the last year.

Callaghan Gets Washburn?

A. J. Callaghan, head of the company bearing his name, is reported as having signed Bryant Washburn. Callaghan is producing the new Bessie Love productions.

Burke Renews With Famous

Billie Burke has renewed her contract with Famous Players. Her new series of productions starts shortly.

He wanted to tell her that he loved her, but he could not overcome the suspicion that she was "The Yellow Typhoon"—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a Louis B. Mayer-made, First National attraction.—Advt.

Ballin in New Unit

Plans Four Productions a Year—Will Film Abdullah Works.

Hugo Ballin, formerly art director for Goldwyn, has plans under way for the formation of his own producing company. Mr. Ballin will make four productions a year with present indications pointing to two of these to be made in the East and two in the West.

The works of Achmed Abdullah, author of "The Honorable Gentlemen" and others, are held by Ballin for a period of 15 months. It is this author's work that will be filmed first.

The pictures will be called Hugo Ballin Productions and will be directed by Mr. Ballin, who plans to introduce a novel method of lighting in his new work.

Zukor Returns

Adolph Zukor returned yesterday from his trip through the Middle West.

French Ban Films?

"Times" Cable Interpreted as Restriction on Raw Stock Only.

The New York Times yesterday published a special cable from a correspondent in Paris with a complete list of the commodities barred by the French Government. In that list were mentioned "cinematograph" films.

An effort was made to secure more definite information as to what the terms "cinematograph films" cover-

(Continued on Page 2)

Laemmle Leaves for East

Los Angeles—Carl Laemmle left for New York yesterday.

More Meetings on United Situation

Harry Zalkin, receiver for United Picture Theaters of America, Inc., and United Picture Productions Corp. stated yesterday that there were several meetings during the day with the lawyers of the creditors looking for a possible settlement in the affairs of the companies.

Convention Ove

Practically All Business Close Chicago—Talk of More Pro ductions.

(Staff Correspondence)

Chicago—The First National vention closed yesterday with tically all of the business outline the franchise holders transacted.

All of Wednesday was take with a detailed explanation of the new sub-franchising plan wil come operative.

John Emerson, who with Loos is connected with the Cons Talmadge productions, spoke o possibility of a motion picture nopoly of the legitimate stage. Emerson said that a union of wrights could break such a mon in two months, if it became n sary.

Although there is no official firmation, there is considerable here that First National will di ute the Dorothy Phillips-Allan ubar productions to be made b bert Kaufman. A deal is under to be under way whereby Firs tional will acquire "Twin Beds" Carter De Haven, but this ha been closed as yet.

Black Denies Zukor Rumo

There was considerable intere tached to the report circulated that Alfred S. Black, head Black Circuit of New England ters, had disposed of his holdi Adolph Zukor. Black, howeve a wire here denying the report.

DANNENB

Schulberg Presid

Succeeds Fineman as Head tractions Distributing Cor

B. P. Schulberg has acquired terest in and has been elected dent of Attractions Distri Corp. which releases the Ka MacDonald productions t First National.

B. P. Fineman, who has bee ident of Attractions since its tion a year ago, becomes vic dent and will remain in Los to co-operate with Sam E. president of the Katherine M ald Pictures Corp. on the prod of this star and others whom tions plans soon to announce.

Schulberg's headquarters in New York, and he will m offices of Attractions Distr to those he occupies in the acre Bldg.

Prompt Printing Service
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—

BRADSTREET FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 30 Fri. April 30, 1920 Price 5 Cents

pyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, . Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., w York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and LM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-r; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and siness Manager.
:ered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, :he post office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879.
ms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 ıths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign. 00.
ubscribers should remit with order.
lress all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. elephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
torial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-wood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
hicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels. Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
nous Players ..	69	75⅞	70¾
o pfd.	83	85½	85½
dwyn	23½	23½	23½
w's, Inc.	29½	31	29¾
angle 7-16		½	½
t. Pict. Prod..	2¼	2½	2½
rld Film.....¼		¼	¼
2nd pfd.....½		⅝	⅝

Fairbanks Injured

ccording to coast wires, Douglas 'banks was rather badly shaken on Wednesday when a landslide ch furnishes one of the thrills in e Mollycoddle" slid prematurely. airbanks will be out of harness about two weeks, it is expected.

Perret on La France

eonce Perret, who was due in York last week, missed his boat will return on the La France.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK

Sir:
The N. Y. Telegram says:
"——and the second of the Booth Tarkington 'Edgar' stories entitled 'Edgar's Hamlet,' which incidentally is chock full of humor from beginning to end."

Goldwyn

French Ban Films?

(Continued from Page 1)

ed, but at the offices of the French High Commission and the French-American Chamber of Commerce it was stated that nothing was known with the exception of what the "Times" had published.

It seemed to be the opinion in exporting circles yesterday that the embargo did not include film in general but merely raw stock.

Sydney Garrett of J. Frank Brockliss pointed out that the restrictions enforced in England at one time, which were generally credited as applying to films, were not meant in that way.

Ben Blumenthal of Export and Import stated that he didn't think the embargo could apply to general film imports, and said that if it should be the case, France would find itself short of films, since it did not manufacture enough to supply its needs.

Lasky Going Abroad

Jesse L. Lasky of Famous Players will sail for Europe shortly to get under way the production plans outlined for the Famous Players-British Producers, Ltd.

Before going, however, Lasky will discuss with Cecil De Mille production plans for the future. De Mille wlil arrive here about May 5 for that purpose.

Kaufman Has New Star

Albert Kaufman may be expected to announce the name of a new star very shortly and two new directors one to direct the new acquisition and the other to direct Agnes Ayres.

Anthony Paul "Tony" Kelly will write a story for Kaufman's use.

MOVED

Office to our Laboratory
at 413 W. 41st St.

ERNEST STERN

(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523

"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

SIMPLE SOULS

PROTECTION

The fundamental principle back of every successful business enterprise is insurance. Corporations owe it to their stockholders. Partners owe it to each other. You as an individual owe it to yourself. Do not allow yourself to be lulled into false security. You NEED insurance.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

ANNOUNCEMENT

GEVAERT CO.

ANTWERP, BELGIUM

Leading European Manufacturers of raw cinematographic film.

For all particulars apply

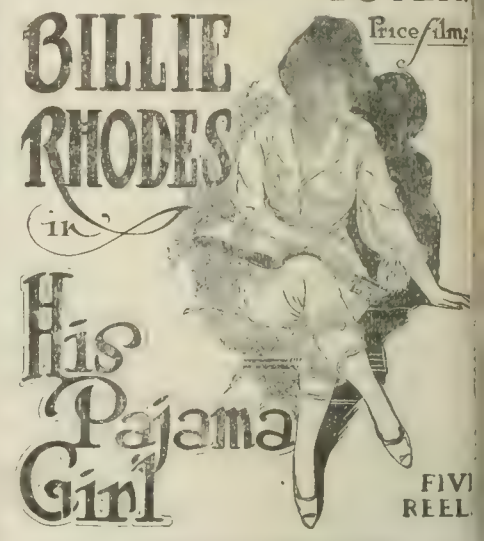
Louis Destenay, Gevaert Company
HOTEL ASTOR

The successful exhibitor is the one who uses the best posters the greatest number of times. In other words, the most prosperous exhibitors are the ones who use the largest number of RITCHEY posters!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

FOR STATE RIGHT BUYER:



Price film;

C. B. PRICE COMPANY, Inc
NEW YORK CITY

PRESS SHEETS

of
BETTER QUALITY
and at
LOWER PRICES
THAN YOU ARE NOW GETTING

Phone
LARRY URBACH
Bryant 8445
1587 Broadway
New York

Animated Papers

May Be Scheme of British Publishers in Film Industry, Thinks English Editor.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

London, Eng.—Low Warren, editor of the Film Renter and Moving Picture News, points out the possible interest in the film business of such men as Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Edward Hulton.

Warren's article is captioned "Will the kinema displace the press?" and goes on to say:

"Members of the kinematograph trade are asking themselves what the sudden interest that newspaper kings have begun to take in the doings of filmland is likely to mean. Does it presage increased activity on the part of the press of the country in what to most of the great organs of public opinion has been largely an unexplored field, or does the entry on the commercial side of the business of such men as Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Edward Hulton, with the immensely powerful press which they control, indicate that in the near future we may witness a battle royal for supremacy between the two in a branch of the trade that has by no means received the attention in the past that was its due? One thing is quite certain. Neither of these gentlemen has acquired an interest in the film business merely for the sake of being able to say that they have a finger in the pie; nor have they invested largely in the trade for the benefit of their health.

"There must a dominating purpose at the back of the minds of both Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Edward Hulton, and unless we are much mistaken neither gentleman is interested in the making of pictures as such, but rather they see in the control of the topical film a means to an end. It will be noted that the Manchester newspaper proprietor, who was the first to enter the field, and the proprietor of the 'Daily Express,' have both concentrated upon the news picture, and in view of their peculiar connections with the newspaper world this is not surprising, for both have a keen appreciation of the value of the topical illustration.

"That being so, it was only to be expected that at the outset, at least, they would confine their attentions largely, if not entirely, to a sphere of activity in which they know their way about as thoroughly as any newspaper men in this country. Whether they will be content merely to develop a side of the business that lends itself peculiarly to their own particular requirements, or whether they will ultimately go further afield, remains to be seen.

"For the moment we are inclined to think that the motive that impels Sir Edward Hulton and Lord Beaverbrook is much the same. Both realize the increasing importance which the topical picture is destined to play in the history of this country. They realize that the power of the press as an instrument of propaganda in actively influencing the minds of the proletariat is on the wane. They recognize that the power of the picture for the same purpose is rapidly increasing, and with prescience born of imagination they foresee in the topical film a means of strengthening and increasing the influence they now wield through the printed word. Sir Edward Hulton is behind the Topical Budget,' Lord Beaverbrook may shape the destinies of the 'Pathe Gazette,' and these two moving picture records of the world's activities are seen by the great majority of kinema-goers throughout this country.

"It is not difficult to realize what an immensely powerful weapon for reaching the great mass of the people is thus placed in their hands. We do not suggest that the topical picture will in future be used to influence public opinion, though it certainly would not be a difficult matter to turn the filmed record of daily events to the achievement of that end, by a judicious use of the subtle art of suggestion or suppression.

"At the moment the combination of the moving picture camera with the plant which produces our public prints may be merely a piece of clever and astute commercialism, intended to add to the effectiveness and completeness of existing newspaper organizations. But the fact remains that there is an obvious danger from at least one point of view in this amalgamation of two such powerful forces.

"Press and pictures between them to-day wield a greater influence for

(Continued on Page 6)

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Twelve Selznick Films Under Way

Eight Selznick productions have been started simultaneously this week, and four are nearing completion.

Larry Trimble is directing Olive Thomas in "Jenny," Elaine Hammerstein is at work on "The Point of View," under F. Alan Crossland's direction, George Archainbaud is having scenes shot for "Marooned Hearts," with Zena Keefe and Conway Tearle, while Ralph Ince is working on "The Man of Iron at Fort Lee."

Owen Moore's latest picture is "Stop That Man," directed by Frank C. Griffin, and "The Wilderness Fear," directed by Burton George, is a special which is under way, five Kaufman editorials rounding out the dozen.

Albert Payson Terhune's "The Fighter" has been bought by Myron Selznick. Robert Ellis will direct it.

Buxbaum Makes New Record

Harry H. Buxbaum, local manag for Famous Players, established new record for his exchange for t week ending Saturday.

To Continue Two Serial Policy

The policy of two serials at t same time, inaugurated by Pa when "Bound and Gagged" and "T Black Secret" were let out simulta eously, will be continued indi nitely.

KASSEL STUDIOS INC.
Artistic Paintings
OF
FILM STARS and FEATURES
220 West 42nd ST.
NEW YORK

Joseph R. Miles Motion Picture Enterpris
LLOYD'S FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in Their New Home
126-132 West 46th Street
Phone Bryant 5600

At Your Service
TWENTY-FOUR HOURS A DAY EXCEPT SUNDAY
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOM
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve Vaults in Long Island City
Free Delivery Service Between
Customers' Offices and Vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does Everything to a Picture Except Produce It
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of Every Description for Dramatic and Industrial Productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We Buy and Sell Used Film in Good Condition
CONSULT US

STUDIO FOR RENT
Large enough for two very large sets and three smaller sets at one time. Complete Cooper-Hewit and Modern Arc light equipment. Large supply of scenery doors and other woodwork. Only 18 min utes by train from Grand Central Station. 40 minutes by subway from Times Square. Accessible t every kind of city house, woods and country scenery. Cheapest studio available in the East. Appl
CRYSTAL FILM CO.
430 Claremont Parkway, Bronx, N. Y.
Downtown Office, 815 Longacre Bldg. Bryant 8946

BRADSTREET FILMDOM Wid's DAILY the RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 30 Fri. April 30, 1920 Price 5 Cents

pyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., w York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and LM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-r; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and siness Manager.
tered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, the post office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879.
ms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 nths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign. 00.
ubscribers should remit with order.
dress all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
elephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558 Hollywood, California
torial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-wood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
hicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels. Floor. Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
nous Players ..	69	75⅞	70¾
o pfd.	83	85½	85½
dwyn	23½	23½	23½
w's, Inc.	29½	31	29¾
angle 7-16		½	½
t. Pict. Prod..	2¼	2½	2½
rld Film.....¼		¼	¼
2nd pfd.....½		⅝	⅝

Fairbanks Injured

ccording to coast wires, Douglas banks was rather badly shaken on Wednesday when a landslide ch furnishes one of the thrills in e Mollycoddle" slid prematurely. airbanks will be out of harness about two weeks, it is expected.

Perret on La France

ónce Perret, who was due in York last week, missed his boat will return on the La France.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"GOLDWYN IS A GOLDWYN TRADE"

Sir:
The N. Y. Telegram says:
"——and the second of the Booth Tarkington 'Edgar' stories entitled 'Edgar's Hamlet,' which incidentally is chock full of humor from beginning to end."

Goldwyn

French Ban Films?

(Continued from Page 1)

ed, but at the offices of the French High Commission and the French-American Chamber of Commerce it was stated that nothing was known with the exception of what the "Times" had published.

It seemed to be the opinion in exporting circles yesterday that the embargo did not include film in general but merely raw stock.

Sydney Garrett of J. Frank Brockliss pointed out that the restrictions enforced in England at one time, which were generally credited as applying to films, were not meant in that way.

Ben Blumenthal of Export and Import stated that he didn't think the embargo could apply to general film imports, and said that if it should be the case, France would find itself short of films, since it did not manufacture enough to supply its needs.

Lasky Going Abroad

Jesse L. Lasky of Famous Players will sail for Europe shortly to get under way the production plans outlined for the Famous Players-British Producers, Ltd.

Before going, however, Lasky will discuss with Cecil De Mille production plans for the future. De Mille will arrive here about May 5 for that purpose.

Kaufman Has New Star

Albert Kaufman may be expected to announce the name of a new star very shortly and two new directors one to direct the new acquisition and the other to direct Agnes Ayres.

Anthony Paul "Tony" Kelly will write a story for Kaufman's use.

MOVED
Office to our Laboratory at 413 W. 41st St.
ERNEST STERN
(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523
"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

SIMPLE SOULS

PROTECTION
The fundamental principle back of every successful business enterprise is insurance. Corporations owe it to their stockholders. Partners owe it to each other. You as an individual owe it to yourself. Do not allow yourself to be lulled into false security. You NEED insurance.
REUBEN SAMUELS INC. REAL SERVICE Insurance 80 Maiden Lane Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels the Insurance

ANNOUNCEMENT
GEVAERT CO.
ANTWERP, BELGIUM
Leading European Manufacturers of raw cinematographic film.
For all particulars apply
Louis Destenay, Gevaert Company
HOTEL ASTOR

The successful exhibitor is the one who uses the best posters the greatest number of times. In other words, the most prosperous exhibitors are the ones who use the largest number of RITCHEY posters!
RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388
Ritchey

FOR STATE RIGHT BUYERS
BILLIE RHODES in His Pajama Girl
Price films
FIVE REELS
C. B. PRICE COMPANY, Inc.
NEW YORK CITY

PRESS SHEETS
of
BETTER QUALITY
and at
LOWER PRICES
THAN YOU ARE NOW GETTING
Phone
LARRY URBACH
Bryant 8445
1587 Broadway
New York

Animated Papers

May Be Scheme of British Publishers in Film Industry, Thinks English Editor.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

London, Eng.—Low Warren, editor of the Film Renter and Moving Picture News, points out the possible interest in the film business of such men as Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Edward Hulton.

Warren's article is captioned "Will the kinema displace the press?" and goes on to say:

"Members of the kinematograph trade are asking themselves what the sudden interest that newspaper kings have begun to take in the doings of filmland is likely to mean. Does it presage increased activity on the part of the press of the country in what to most of the great organs of public opinion has been largely an unexplored field, or does the entry on the commercial side of the business of such men as Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Edward Hulton, with the immensely powerful press which they control, indicate that in the near future we may witness a battle royal for supremacy between the two in a branch of the trade that has by no means received the attention in the past that was its due? One thing is quite certain. Neither of these gentlemen has acquired an interest in the film business merely for the sake of being able to say that they have a finger in the pie; nor have they invested largely in the trade for the benefit of their health.

"There must a dominating purpose at the back of the minds of both Lord Beaverbrook and Sir Edward Hulton, and unless we are much mistaken neither gentleman is interested in the making of pictures as such, but rather they see in the control of the topical film a means to an end. It will be noted that the Manchester newspaper proprietor, who was the first to enter the field, and the proprietor of the 'Daily Express,' have both concentrated upon the news picture, and in view of their peculiar connections with the newspaper world this is not surprising, for both have a keen appreciation of the value of the topical illustration.

"That being so, it was only to be expected that at the outset, at least, they would confine their attentions largely, if not entirely, to a sphere of activity in which they know their way about as thoroughly as any newspaper men in this country. Whether they will be content merely to develop a side of the business that lends itself peculiarly to their own particular requirements, or whether they will ultimately go further afield. remains to be seen.

"For the moment we are inclined to think that the motive that impels Sir Edward Hulton and Lord Beaverbrook is much the same. Both realize the increasing importance which the topical picture is destined to play in the history of this country. They realize that the power of the press as an instrument of propaganda in actively influencing the minds of the proletariat is on the wane. They recognize that the power of the picture for the same purpose is rapidly increasing, and with prescience born of imagination they foresee in the topical film a means of strengthening and increasing the influence they now wield through the printed word. Sir Edward Hulton is behind the 'Topical Budget,' Lord Beaverbrook may shape the destinies of the 'Pathe Gazette,' and these two moving picture records of the world's activities are seen by the great majority of kinema-goers throughout this country.

"It is not difficult to realize what an immensely powerful weapon for reaching the great mass of the people is thus placed in their hands. We do not suggest that the topical picture will in future be used to influence public opinion, though it certainly would not be a difficult matter to turn the filmed record of daily events to the achievement of that end, by a judicious use of the subtle art of suggestion or suppression.

"At the moment the combination of the moving picture camera with the plant which produces our public prints may be merely a piece of clever and astute commercialism, intended to add to the effectiveness and completeness of existing newspaper organizations. But the fact remains that there is an obvious danger from at least one point of view in this amalgamation of two such powerful forces.

"Press and pictures between them to-day wield a greater influence for

(Continued on Page 6)

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Twelve Selznick Films Under Way

Eight Selznick productions have been started simultaneously this week, and four are nearing completion.

Larry Trimble is directing Olive Thomas in "Jenny," Elaine Hammerstein is at work on "The Point of View," under F. Alan Crossland's direction, George Archainbaud is having scenes shot for "Marooned Hearts," with Zena Keefe and Conway Tearle, while Ralph Ince is working on "The Man of Iron at Fort Lee."

Owen Moore's latest picture is "Stop That Man," directed by Frank C. Griffin, and "The Wilderness Fear," directed by Burton George, is a special which is under way, five Kaufman editorials rounding out the dozen.

Albert Payson Terhune's "The Fighter" has been bought by Myron Selznick. Robert Ellis will direct it.

Buxbaum Makes New Record

Harry H. Buxbaum, local manag for Famous Players, established new record for his exchange for t week ending Saturday.

To Continue Two Serial Policy

The policy of two serials at t same time, inaugurated by Pa when "Bound and Gagged" and "T Black Secret" were let out simulta eously, will be continued indi nitely.

KASSEL STUDIOS INC.
Artistic Paintings
OF
FILM STARS and FEATURES
220 West 42nd ST
NEW YORK

Joseph R. Miles Motion Picture Enterpris
LLOYD'S FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in Their New Home
126-132 West 46th Street
Phone Bryant 5600

At Your Service
TWENTY-FOUR HOURS A DAY EXCEPT SUNDAY
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOM
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve Vaults in Long Island City
Free Delivery Service Between
Customers' Offices and Vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does Everything to a Picture Except Produce It
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of Every Description for Dramatic and Industrial Productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We Buy and Sell Used Film in Good Condition
CONSULT US

STUDIO FOR RENT
Large enough for two very large sets and three smaller sets at one time. Complete Cooper-Hewit and Modern Arc light equipment. Large supply of scenery doors and other woodwork. Only 18 min utes by train from Grand Central Station. 40 minutes by subway from Times Square. Accessible t every kind of city house, woods and country scenery. Cheapest studio available in the East. Appl
CRYSTAL FILM CO.
430 Claremont Parkway, Bronx, N. Y.
Downtown Office, 815 Longacre Bldg. Bryant 8946

He struggled to the surface for the third time; but the thing that was dragging him down would not be shaken off.

Not one woman in ten thousand would do it!

Next week we'll tell you of another deed not one woman in 10,000 dare do

Another BIG Special

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITORS CIRCUIT

and WHO do you suppose directed it?

Animated Papers

(Continued from Page 3)

good or evil upon the public mind than any other instrument ready to the hand of the politician and the public man. It is also apparent that between them the printed page and the pictured presentation of public events are the most direct means of communication with the proletariat. It will thus be seen that a combination of the two might quite conceivably make for a more powerful press and the perfection of a system of subtle propaganda that would be far-reaching in its effects.

"All this may be regarded as the wildest surmise in its relation to the development of the topical film in the hands of skilled newspaper protagonists. Possibly it is, but the danger of a development of the new departure on the lines indicated is there all the same, and we should be doing less than our duty to the trade did we not at least direct attention to this phase of the question.

"The point is sometimes raised whether the picture is not likely in the near future to supplant the press in the affections of the people. To ask such a question is to answer it. The topical film cannot, and never will, replace the printed word. The one is or may almost be regarded as supplementary to the other. So long as people have the leisure to read they will buy papers; so long as picture theaters exist they will welcome the inclusion in the program of the topical picture.

"The advent of such men of initiative and imagination as Sir Edward Hulton and Lord Beaverbrook, if it means anything at all in this connection, is an indication that the topical picture of the future will be conceived and carried out on more elaborate and complete lines. The organizing methods of the up-to-date newspaper will be applied to the preparation and collection of news pictures. In the result it is to be hoped that both the public and the kinema proprietor will benefit, the one by an increasing interest in current events as pictured on the screen, the other by increased patronage.

"Sooner or later the animated newspaper will come into its own, and the first theater in a busy London or provincial thoroughfare to realize this fact and to specialize wholly and solely in the exhibition of topical events, red-hot and up-to-the-moment, will reap a rich reward."

Big Theater for Hollywood

Los Angeles—A 2,400 seat theater to cost $500,000 will be erected in Hollywood proper by Sol Lesser, associated with the Gore Bros. and a number of theater owners.

The theater will be started as soon as Lesser returns here from Chicago where he is attending the First National convention.

J. D. Williams of First National has assured his organization's product for the theater. Those interested with Lesser and the Gore Bros. in the proposition are J. L. Swope of the Hollywood Theater, J. M. Young, Apollo, and F. A. Grant of the Windsor, all located in Hollywood.

The move is of interest in view of the plan entertained some time ago by Sid Grauman to build in Hollywood.

Plan South African Scenics

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Bridgeport, Conn.—A new company has been formed here known as the American-African Enterprises. The officers are: Eugene Yongelings, president; M. E. McLeod, treasurer, and Albert Sponey, secretary.

The company will dispatch a unit to South Africa on May 8 to shoot scenics and educationals.

Brooklyn—Farragut, Flatbush and Rogers Ave., opened; William Fox, owner. S. T. Stebbins, manager.

Parkersburg, W. Va.—Lin Smoot Amuse. Co., owner of C den, opened.

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
THOU SHALT NOT COVET THY NEIGHBOR'S WIFE
Starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO & Madame HALINA BRUZOVNA
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
Directed by EMIL HARDER
FOR WORLD RIGHTS APPLY TO
SUNSHINE FILM, INC.
Tel. Bryant 7123 111 W. 42nd St.

The Cleverest Story of the Year!

Just as Whimsical as its title!

Up in the Attic

Some of the Girls

Minnie Ha Ha

UP IN MARY'S ATTIC

with

Eva Novak, Harry Gribbon and an all-star cast

WILL BE READY SOON

It is being prepared for the trade by Elmer J. McGovern, who edited "Mickey," and who says it is the MOST SENSATIONAL FEATURE he ever had anything to do with

FINE ARTS PICTURES, Inc.

Murray W. Garsson, Pres. Chas. F. Schwerin, Gen. Sales Mgr.

130 W. 46th St. New York City

New Theaters

Houses Completed

icago, Ill.—Barbee on site of mbia, opeend.

wcastle, Pa.—Penn, William Photoplay Co., opened.

arka, Ky.—W. J. Clark opened house.

est Philadelphia, Pa.—Marcus , owner of Benn, to build.

urphysboro, Ill. — Art Barth nd new house.

inton, Ind.—Standard Theater $150,000. 1,000.

mpbell, Cal. — C. A. Roscoe ed.

ltimore, Md.—Wilson Amuse. to build. $2,500.

leron, N. Y.—A fire which de- ed the Auditorium recently ed a damage of about $45,000.

Exchange Changes

inneapolis, Minn.—J. C. Moore, ected with the sales force of the Pathe office for the last year, low sales manager of the Tri- e Film Exchange.

Earle to Direct Huff Film

illiam P. S. Earle will direct se Huff in "The Dangerous Par- e," her next production for Selz-

House Changes

Santa Clara, Cal.—E. Lion bought J. J. Lawrence's interest in Rex.

Buffalo, N. Y.—J. Paramalee, Try-It, bought Majestic from J. Black.

Canandaigua, N. Y.—George E. Bachman and John Acker bought Fisher.

Syracuse, N. Y.—Phil Smith of Buck and Smith bought Crescent.

McKee's Rocks, Pa.—Max Engleberg bought Strand, under construction.

Kelly Bill Passes Assembly.

Albany, N. Y.—By a vote of 120 to 18, the Assembly a few hours before final adjournment of the Legislature passed Senator Kelly's bill permitting children under the age of 16 to attend places of amusement, providing that they are accompanied by an adult person authorized by parent or guardian.

This action was taken after the bill had been lost by a previous vote of 76 to 50.

Following its defeat on the first roll call it was brought up again on a motion to reconsider the vote by which it was lost and was immediately passed.

Many of the members who voted first against the measure shifted their vote on its second consideration and supported the bill. This change was explained because they were under the impression that they were voting on another bill of a similar nature which they were opposed to.

Through the activities of the officials of the New York State Exhibitors' League the situation was cleared up, and the Kelly bill was finally passed. It had been passed by the Senate and now it goes to the Governor.

Shackleton at Rivoli

"The Bottom of the World," the Sir Ernest Shackleton record of his South Pole voyages, will be run in three sections covering three weeks at the Rivoli beginning Sunday.

Members of Parliament
Multi-Millionaires and big men of affairs who compose

Canadian Photoplays Ltd.

of Calgary Canada

HAVE BEEN SO PLEASED WITH THE DIVIDENDS ACCRUING FROM

First National Exploitation

OF

"Back To God's Country"

that they voted unanimously to the following wire being sent their New York Representative

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM
Calgary, Alta., Apl. 16—20

ERNEST SHIPMAN,
First National Exhibitors' Circuit
6 West 48th St., New York.

It is our intention to continue to produce bigger and better pictures than Back To God's Country. Stop. We purpose have a great super feature ready for release by early Fall.

Signed—CANADIAN PHOTOPLAYS LTD.

N. B.—Canadian Photoplays Ltd. holds options on the works of many leading authors, thus insuring a wealth of new material.

6 West 48th St. New York City — Ernest Shipman Manager — Hotel Congress Chicago

HERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
MERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
TERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
ONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

Where are the comedians of yesterday?

BOOK THE NEW ONES

"The first of the 'Torchy' stories with Johnny Hines in the leading role is interesting and novel.....There is so much that is new and novel provided in the way of incident, the picture has been given such careful production and the titles are so original that this picture is sure to meet with a good reception. ....It is miles above the average two-reeler that we have been getting for a couple of years back."

Motion Picture News.

Don't let someone beat you to these—we can only produce twelve a year and maintain our standard of quality.

MASTER FILMS, INC.
C. C. Burr, Pres.
133 West 44th St., N. Y. C.

Book through Exchanges of
Educational Films Corp. of America

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.

044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

MR. PRODUCER
MR. EXHIBITOR

A leading man oft' seen is oft' remembered.

Back as far as
"AUDREY MUNSON"
in "PURITY"

The role of YOUTH was played by

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every other day!

Changes at Consolidated

Atlanta, Ga.—Several changes have occurred in the personnel of the Consolidated Film and Supply Company. Consolidated distributes Universal films in the south.

W. M. Richardson has been appointed manager at New Orleans. He succeeds Harry Peeble. R. C. McIlhera, formerly in the Dallas office, is now manager at El Paso.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

In addition to arranging a tie-up with book publishers to ship copies of Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde" to various drug and stationery stores where they will be used in window displays, there will be an ingenious lobby display at the Capitol when the film runs there which will present the Goldwyn production of that name.

It represents a horde of fish caught in a net and colored lights play on the silvery bodies of the fish. Co-operative advertising is being arranged with dealers whose goods make a tie-up feasible. A float carrying an artic set is being prepared for street exploitation and booklets called "The Story of Rex Beach, the man who wrote 'The Silver Horde,'" will be distributed in different parts of the city.

Another valuable adjunct of the campaign, if negotiations are successful, will be the statement of Alfred McCann, food expert, endorsing the picture. Howard Dietz and G. L. Brightman, respectively manager of Goldwyn's publicity and exploitation departments, are responsible for the campaign.

Watch for

"The RIDDLE MAN"

IN THE BIGGEST MOTION PICTURE OF THE YEAR

SIMPLE SOULS

Prepare for

"THE SON OF TARZAN"

—the greatest of all Serials!

BECAUSE

If you use

"COMEDYART"

You need nothing else beside your feature

COMEDY NOVELTY SCENIC
DIVERSITY CLASS

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

e BRADSTREET
FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 31 Saturday, May 1, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Creditors Meet

d Picture Prod. Corp. May Be ntinued in Operation—Will Wait a Month.

ut 50 creditors of United Pic Productions Corp. against which ition in bankruptcy has been met yesterday. A committee ree, composed of Percy L. s, Nicholas Kessel and J. V. y, president of the Ritchey graph Corp., was appointed.

A. Berst, president of the d Picture Theaters of Amer- nc., delivered a short talk in he stated that he thought it perhaps be better for the pro- ns company to be maintained. a result of the meeting the rs agreed to permit the con- on of the productions company days by Harry Zalkin, the re- at the end of which time a is to be submitted. From that nite decision will be reached r to ask the court to permit mpany to operate or whether be liquidated.

ommittee meeting will be held in the office of Mr. Waters at le.

Rothacker Officials Here

Aldous, treasurer of the Roth- company of Chicago, is in

D. Rothacker, "Watty's" broth- s returned to New York.

Cline With Metro

Special to WID'S DAILY)

Angeles, Cal.—Eddie Cline is ect the Buster Keaton come- or Metro. He has resigned he Fox Sunshine organization.

laine Traverse Coming East

Special to WID'S DAILY)

Angeles—Madlaine Traverse, ecently severed her connec- with Fox, will shortly leave for ast. She may form her own ny.

ll Set on Plan

anchise Scheme for First Na- al to Start at Once—White- hurst First Holder.

(Staff Correspondence)

ago—The First National sub- sing plan, which was explain- etail to the circuit branch man- before the convention finally on Thursday night, will be put eration immediately.

first sub-franchise to be dis- of to any one went to C. E. urst, who owns a string of s in Baltimore.

DANNENBERG.

"There is more excitement in this game than you ever dreamed of if you will go with me."—Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon," by Harold MacGrath, a First National attraction—Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

Lesser Due To-day

Sol Lesser, accompanied by David Bershon, manager of the First National Exchange in Los Angeles, and Harry Hammond "Ham" Beall, west coast publicity director, will arrive in New York to-day from the Chicago convention.

"Jimmie" Grainger of the Marshall Neilan Prod. arrived here yesterday from Chicago "with a haggard look and smoking plenty of cigars," as Pete Smith put it.

"The Riddle Woman" Farrar's First

Geraldine Farrar's initial production for Associated Exhibitors, Inc., will be "The Riddle Woman," adapted from the stage play in which Bertha Kalich starred. The picture will be directed by Edward Jose.

De Mille Film a May Release

Cecil De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife" will be available for general release on May 2. The production is now playing an indefinite run at the Criterion.

Fox Convention in May

The sixth annual convention of Fox Film Corp. will be held at the Commodore, May 24-29. All of the representatives of the company, both foreign and domestic, will be present. Fox will open additional offices in England and France. A branch in Algiers, northern Africa, has been established.

Arbuckle in "Traveling Salesman"

"Fatty" Arbuckle's next feature for Famous Players will be "The Travelling Salesman" which Frank McIntyre made for Famous Players some time ago. Joseph Henaberry will direct.

Hines at Work

Johnny Hines has started work at the Cliffside studios, Fort Lee, on the second of the "Torchy" comedies which will be released through Educational. "A Knight for a Night" is the working title.

New Distributor

National Exchanges, Inc., Formed With Hunter Bennett as Vice-President.

A new national distributing organization to be known as "National Exchanges, Inc.," has just been organized and is financed by the Johnson & Hopkins Company.

Walter L. Johnson is president of National Exchanges, Inc., and Earl H. Hopkins, treasurer.

Hunter Bennett has been elected vice-president and general manager. Bennett until recently was a special representative for Famous Players.

The organization plans to specialize on motion picture exploitation and will release a limited number of productions a year. These will be either acquired from independent producers or will be produced by the organization.

It is figured that with the handling of a minimum number of productions yearly greater results can be obtained than by releasing a considerable number of films which will reach the key cities only in individual territories.

Carewe With Mayer

Los Angeles—Edwin Carewe is now directing "Isobel," a James Oliver Curwood story for Louis B. Mayer. Mayer intends making the production a special. In the cast are House Peters and Jane Novak.

Some time ago Pathe announced that it would distribute a series of Edwin Carewe Prod. in which Harry Cahane was interested. "Rio Grande" is now being exploited by Pathe.

Cahane left for California late Thursday night and his office did not know whether Carewe would continue the Cahane-Pathe arrangement or whether the arrangement with Mayer was for one picture.

At Pathe with the exception of the statement that it was now distributing "Rio Grande" nothing was said about the matter.

New Educ't'l Series

Educational Films will distribute a series of productions to be made by the Conservation Committee of the State of New York.

The pictures will show the beauties of New York State and will probably be incorporated into a release with other material.

The material will replace the Ditmars nature series released by Educational. Release is expected to be twice monthly.

Excellent Insert Printing
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 31 Sat. May 1, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 8th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	68½	70⅛	70⅛
do pfd.	84	84¾	84¾
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	29⅝	30⅜	30⅜
Triangle 7-16	½		½
Unit. Pict. Prod. ..	2½	3	3
World Film.....¼	¼		¼
do, 2nd pfd.....½	⅝		⅝

*Last sale Wednesday.

"Lab" Moves

The Spoor-Thompson Laboratories, George K. Spoor of Chicago, President, has discontinued its local Miles office and headquarters have been established in the new laboratory building, 6th and Pearce Sts., Long Island City.

A new company to be known as the S-T-M-Film Laboratories, Inc., will be the New York operating unit.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:
The Evening World says:
"The second of Booth Tarkington's 'Edgar' stories is fully as refreshing as the first. It is called 'Edgar's Hamlet,' and the youthful hero presents a hayloft version of the Prince of Denmark that surely must have Mr. Shakespeare chuckling into the receiving end of a ouija board."

Goldwyn

Business in Germany

Under this caption Consul Frederick Simpich, on duty with the American Commission in Berlin, says in "Commerce Reports," published by the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce at Washington:

No other industry in Germany has been so active in the past 14 months as the film business. The motion picture theaters in the larger cities handle enormous crowds every night. Few foreign films are shown because of the present law prohibiting their importation. After May, 1920, it is understood that foreign films may be imported. It is reported that the president of the Universum Film Co., which is one of the largest in Europe, is proceeding to the United States to buy American films for exhibition in central Europe.

The German Authors' League, whose membership includes practically all reputable German authors and playwrights, has signed a contract with an American theatrical concern giving it the sole right to film their stories and plays in America and to market them throughout the world (including Germany-; these German authors and playwrights receiving in turn advance cash payments and subsequent royalties. This same American theatrical group has also contracted with certain famous German and Austrian composers and directors for work in America.

Number and Character of Theaters

There are about 600 playhouses in the country and about 3,200 motion picture theaters. Less than 3 per cent of the old theaters have been converted into "movie" houses. Most of the picture theaters are divided roughly into three classes:

(1) Small family theaters in provincial towns, where the admission runs from 50 pfennigs to 1½ marks.

(2) Second-class theaters, where the admission runs from 1½ to 6 and 8 marks, including a luxury tax of 20 to 25 per cent.

(3) The high-class playhouses of Berlin, Leipzig, etc., where the admission runs as high as 15 marks or more.

The motion picture theaters of Berlin are more comfortable than the average first-class motion picture house in America. For example, loges with four armchairs will occupy as much floor space in a German theater as 10 seats in the average American theater. Much open space is also given to aisles, promenades, lobbies, etc.; also larger and better archestras are provided.

In the provincial towns many very small picture theaters are in operation, some with a seating capacity as low as 100; the larger picture houses in the cities have a maximum seating capacity of 2,400. The estimated seating capacity of all the motion picture theaters in Germany is 1,000,000. When the average price per seat and the general crowded conditions of the theaters are considered, some idea of the enormous sum spent annually in Germany on motion picture tickets can be gained.

Organization of the Industry and Salaries Paid

The salaries paid to stars and famous directors in Germany (considering the depreciated mark) are very small as compared with American salaries; well-known directors receive from 40,000 to 200,000 marks a year. Average performers regularly employed by producing companies receive from 40,000 to 60,000 marks a year; the highest priced "movie" stars are said to receive between 300,000 and 400,000 marks a year.

Some of the best directors are also stockholders in the producing corporations. Bonuses are sometimes paid to directors, provided they complete a picture within a specified time. A good director is at a premium in Germany, as in the United States. The highest priced camera men receive about 400 marks a day; 12 marks a day is about the average salary.

Some of the German performers work for two or three companies during the same day, going from one studio to another and playing various parts in widely differing productions. Nearly all the "movie" players in Germany, and especially the better ones, are still connected with the legitimate stage. Most of the stars are tied up on long contracts.

Pre-War Imports of Films—Studio Conditions

Previous to the war, and, in fact during the first years of the war, American pictures were very popular in Germany, especially the cowboy and animal pictures. However, prior to the war the number of pictures sent to Germany from the United States was not particularly large, on account of producing conditions in the United States and the large domestic demand.

The present law forbidding the importation of foreign-made films until May, 1920, was passed at the instigation of the 200 or more film exchanges and producers of films in Germany; but the public demand for foreign films is such that it seems unlikely this law will be extended beyond May, 1920.

(To be continued.)

Royalty in Films

A representative of Alexander Film Corp., which deals in the independent market, returned from Germany yesterday and brought with him a story of the apparent willingness of Prince Eitel Frederick, the second son of the former German Kaiser, to appear in the films.

And so the folks at the Alexander office are cooking up a proposition to offer the Prince the magnanimous sum of 1,000,000 marks to appear in a film to be made in Germany or in America as the Royal Disposition wills it. They're all het up now waiting for a cable and keeping tabs on the steamer sailings so that someone can get to Germany before the Prince can change his mind.

One hundred marks could be purchased yesterday for about $1.69, and so the royal advent of the Hohenzollern family into films will cost just about $16,900.

And this when the price of everything is going up.

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
THOU SHALT NOT COVET THY NEIGHBOR'S WIFE
Starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO & Madame HALINA BRUZOVNA
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
Directed by EMIL HARDER
FOR WORLD RIGHTS APPLY TO
SUNSHINE FILM, INC.
Tel. Bryant 7123 111 W. 42nd St.

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK U.S.A.

The best are none too good,—especially as concerns posters. The best motion picture posters are RITCHEY posters.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
400 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8256

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

Pathé News

TY ISLAND, N. Y.—Burn wrecked ves- Torch is set to S. S. Maine, driven on s by last winter's ice—oil is first poured e decks.
NKFORT, GERMANY—French hold pied German territory till Allies decide ite policy—General Demetz in command e district.
'Flus" are stationed in all thoroughfares novel sight in Frankfort.
Frankfort turns out daily—curious to what is going on.
THE LIMELIGHT—Warrior Mars re- to flirt with Mother Earth—Dr. F. ner listens day and night at powerful ess receiving station for signals from War veterans gather to celebrate Gen. t's birthday—Capt. Wm. Vincent, 98 s of age, is oldest veteran in Illinois.
an evangelist visits New Orleans—Prince Kaba Rega comes to tell negroes the s of uncivilized tribes in Africa.
ANTONIO, TEXAS—Human "flow- and flowers of Nature adorn floats— maids and choice blossoms mark 29th al floral parade.
NOLULU, HAWAII—The Land of the ele welcomes the Prince of Wales! U. destroyers escort H. M. S. Renown, ging Prince Edward on a visit to Hawaii
NNETKA, ILL.—Tiny sparks cause fall 00-ft. chimney—high steel stack is sev- at foundation by means of oxy-acety- flame.
ANTA, GA.—Play Auto Polo—and be ared for the worst! "Collisions" are part of the game as both teams try to the ball.
NOLULU, HAWAII—Hawaii celebrates years of Christianity—30,000 people see ant commemorating 100th anniversary doption of Christian faith by natives.
VEL AVIATION STUNTS — How s can be used in air! Maurice Fresney rates new way to enjoy skating on the face" of the atmosphere.
says he gets a real sensation of skating he plane soars.
for a little relaxation as he swings ugh the air at a height of 3,500 feet.
's a daredevil who discards usual ways arding a plane—Arthur Oakley "enters" flying machine from a train speeding at iles an hour.

today

New Cohn Release

ack Cohn is preparing a new nov- reel for release every other week. will call it "Laughographs."

New Inter-Ocean Sales

nter-Ocean has sold "The Gift Su- me" for Argentine, Uruguay, le, Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador to x Glucksmann.

Realart in Kansas City Moves

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Kansas City, Mo.—The local Real- exchange has moved to the 10th r of the Film Exchange Bldg. ohn N. MacMeekin is local man- r.

Ingraham Directing Harris

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

os Angeles—Lloyd Ingraham, directed "Mary's Ankle" and hat's Your Husband Doing," two uglas MacLean and Doris May jects for Ince, is now directing dred Harris Chaplin.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Wallace MacDonald and other members of the Vitagraph company, filming "The Girl from the Sky," Tom Terriss direction, are at Catalina Island doing location work until next week.

At the American Lifeograph studio in Portland, Dick Oliphant has been appointed technical director and Frank Miller, formerly with Fox and Christie, has been placed in charge of properties.

Maurice Tourneur's newest offering, adapted from Robert Louis Stevenson's short story, "The Pavilion on the Links," will be released by Famous Players.

Rollin Sturgeon, Universal director, has returned to the studio after ten days in San Jose, Stockton and Sacramento River points, where scenes were filmed for "The Girl in the Rain," starring Anne Cornwall.

Lynn Reynolds, directing Frank Mayo in "The Red Lane," has returned with his company to Universal City from a five days' trip to Bear Valley, where scenes were filmed for this Holman Day story.

Owen Moore, who has been compelled for the past three weeks to suspend the production of "Stop That Man," on account of the illness of his director, Frank C. Griffin, has resumed production under direction of Victor Herman.

Sherwood MacDonald will have charge of the studio of the Gloria Joy Prod., Inc.

Taylor as local head of the Metro Taylor as loca lhead of the Metro publicity staff.

Carl Downing, Fox; Frances Gray, Metro; Enid Hibbard, Mack Sennett; Grattan McCafferty, Goldwyn, and Mary E. Walter, Fox, have joined the Studio Publicists Association.

The Acme Comedy Co., producers of "Taylor Made Comedies," have just completed their first two-reel comedy directed by Arthur Hoteling.

Mrs. Marshal Neilan, wife of the well-known director, is to appear soon on the screen, for the first time in five years.

Antonio Moreno, Vitagraph star, has left for Portland, Ore., to film special scenes for his new serial. Some scenes will be filmed from aboard boat en route. He will be away for several weeks.

Betty Blythe commenced work this week in the feature role of "Nomads of the North," by James Oliver Curwood, for First National release.

Allan Dwan, the director-producer for Mayflower, has again returned to scenario writing. His next picture will be Dwan-written-directed-produced.

GAUSMAN.

Cohn and Natteford Partners

M. G. Cohn and J. F. Natteford have formed a partnership as film editors and will open offices in the Candler Building on May 1st.

Natteford was formerly scenario editor for Screencraft. He will specialize in scenarios and titling.

Cohn was with Inter-Ocean and with Universal as film editor.

Burton Dead

Los Angeles—John Burton, a well known stock actor, is dead at his home here. His most recent work was in the Allan Dwan productions, "The Scoffer" and "In the Heart of a Fool."

Burton was 67 years old.

Get Lease for $350,000

Minneapolis, Minn.—Finkelstein & Ruben have leased the $350,000 house, seating 2,600, which is to be built at 8th St. and Hennequin Ave. Ascher Bros. were to secure the lease originally, but the option has been transferred.

Plan Muskogee Studio

Muskogee, Okla.—A studio costing $150,000 is planned by the Pan American Motion Picture Corp. if it can secure the moral support of the people of this city.

Exhibitor Chosen Mayor

Eagle Pass, Texas—Sam Schwartz, manager of the Aztec, is the new mayor of this town, elections having taken place recently.

Universal Film Shown in Albany

Albany, N. Y.—The local exchange of Universal yesterday gave a private screening of a picture which will be featured in connection with the National Ship-by-Truck and Good Roads week. Present at the showing were Secretary of State Hugo, and a number of other state officials.

The film will have its first New York showing at the Capitol theater on Saturday morning, May 15, at a meeting at which Secretary of State Hugo will act as chairman and at which Vice-President Thomas R. Marshall and Governor Alfred E. Smith are also expected to speak.

Churches to Fight Sunday Films

Wichita, Kansas—Plans for combating Sunday picture shows were discussed when 38 delegates, representing 16 Protestant Evangelical denominations of the Wichita Federation of Churches met. No definite action was taken.

Westport, Canada, House Burns

Westport, Canada — The house owned by Steele Bros. has been totally destroyed by fire. No one was in the theater when the blaze began.

Wessling on Coast

Los Angeles, Cal.—Walter Wessling is here, having taken up his duties as division manager for Pathe.

Open Minneapolis Office

Minneapolis, Minn.—An office has been opened here by the Exhibitors' Supply Co. It is located in the Produce Exchange Building. A. C. Crawmer is the manager.

Clark-Cornelius Has "Pawn-Shop"

Clark-Cornelius is releasing "The Pawn-Shop," a Chaplin re-issue in two reels.

SIMPLE SOULS

Make Your Theatre PAY All Summer

Write for booklet 9
Monsoon Cooling System
Incorporated
70 W. 45th St. New York

MOVED
Office to our Laboratory
AT 413 W. 41st ST.
ERNEST STERN
(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523
"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Mae Marsh's

final Goldwyn picture was

"SPOTLIGHT SADIE"

Directed by Larry Trimble

and

The Leading Man was:

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

ester, Pa.—An exploitation campn should be framed so as to h everyone, according to Thomas ffin, manager of The William n.

hen "Pollyanna," starring Mary ford, was booked for that house, ffin started out by seeking out e display windows in his section ie town and arranged to have 14 e owners co-operate with him. ve hundred large one-sheet ds were printed and placed in va- prominent places. Pollyanna ping bags were sold in five and cent stores, the 1500 supplied g rapidly. It was the window ay part of the campaign that ed to be the big gun. A book , auto sales room, drug store, electric light companies, newsr office, grocery store, gas com- clothing store and department all gave Proffin the use of their ows. There was also a banner ont of the theater and a large with a hand pointing to the e, telling passers by that Mary ford was to be seen there in her t production. The varied cam- brought results.

Double Feature a Success is understood that B. S. Moss continue the present policy at Broadway indefinitely. oss at present books two feat- for the theater. This week Vic- eastrom in "A Man There Was," ibuted by Radiosoul, and Mack ett's "Down on the Farm" are eatures. siness is reported as holding up well under the two-feature plan, h is something new for a Broad- theater, in recent months at When "The Modern Salome" d the Broadway, "Tillie's Punc- Romance" was shown in conion with it.

See Bill's Passage

Senate Committee Reports on Measure Regarding Indecent Films.

Washington—The Senate Judiciary Committee has made a favorable report on the bill introduced by Congressman Walsh, of Massachusetts, at the request of the National Association, which amends the penal code by placing motion picture films in the same classification with books and other printed matter. This action is taken to mean that the bill will soon become a law.

This bill makes it a misdemeanor to ship in interstate commerce or in the United States mail any indecent or immoral film, the same as it is a misdemeanor now to send an indecent book or any printed matter.

The National Association contends in censorship and other matters that there should be no discrimination between the printed word on paper or parchment or a printed picture on a film and projected on a screen. The printed word is protected from censorship by a provision of the federal constitution, as well as by every state constitution, and the same protection is demanded for the newer art.

The enactment of this law will also be an answer to those persons who are asking for new laws for what they call the "protection" of the screen. Any person exhibiting any indecent or immoral film cannot only be prosecuted under the laws of the state, but if that film is sent in the mail or in interstate commerce there can also be a prosecution in the federal courts.

Will Attend Chicago Meeting

Jules E. Brulatour, Albert DeRoode and Frederick H. Elliott leave on the 20th Century Monday for Chicago to attend the 24th annual meeting of the National Fire Protection Association with which the National Association is affiliated.

Brulatour is Chairman of the Fire Preventions Regulations Committee, of which DeRoode is a member, and the committee's report is to be presented at the meeting by Elliott.

While in Chicago the association's officials will confer with the promoters of the new film exchange building.

A stop will be made in Cleveland to confer with the contractors who have already begun operations for the erection of the new film exchange building in that city.

No date has been set by William A. Brady for the quarterly meeting of the Board of Directors, pending advices as to when several of the board members will return from Europe. Samuel Goldwyn, Gabriel L. Hess, Winfield R. Sheehan and Paul H. Cromelin are expected to return shortly and the meeting will probably be held during the latter part of May.

The Wharton Releasing Corp. has moved to 280 Madison Avenue.

Irving C. Schwab, for the past two years a member of the Vitagraph publicity forces, has resigned.

Major Maurice Campbell will direct "Burglar Proof," Bryant Washburn's next picture.

DON'T MISS

"The RIDDLE MAN"

A MAN OF POWER—
THE MAN OF THE HOUR—

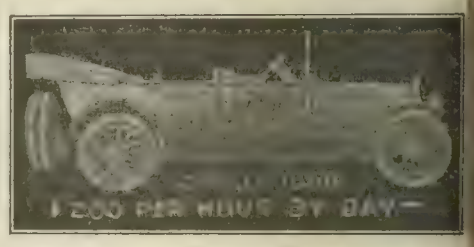
A Picture that will Open the Way to Success for Exhibitors Everywhere

Send Us Your Junk Film

Any Quantity Highest Prices

INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY

23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.



FOR THE SAKE OF your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—

"COMEDYART"

offer them more entertainment than any other single release

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N

H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

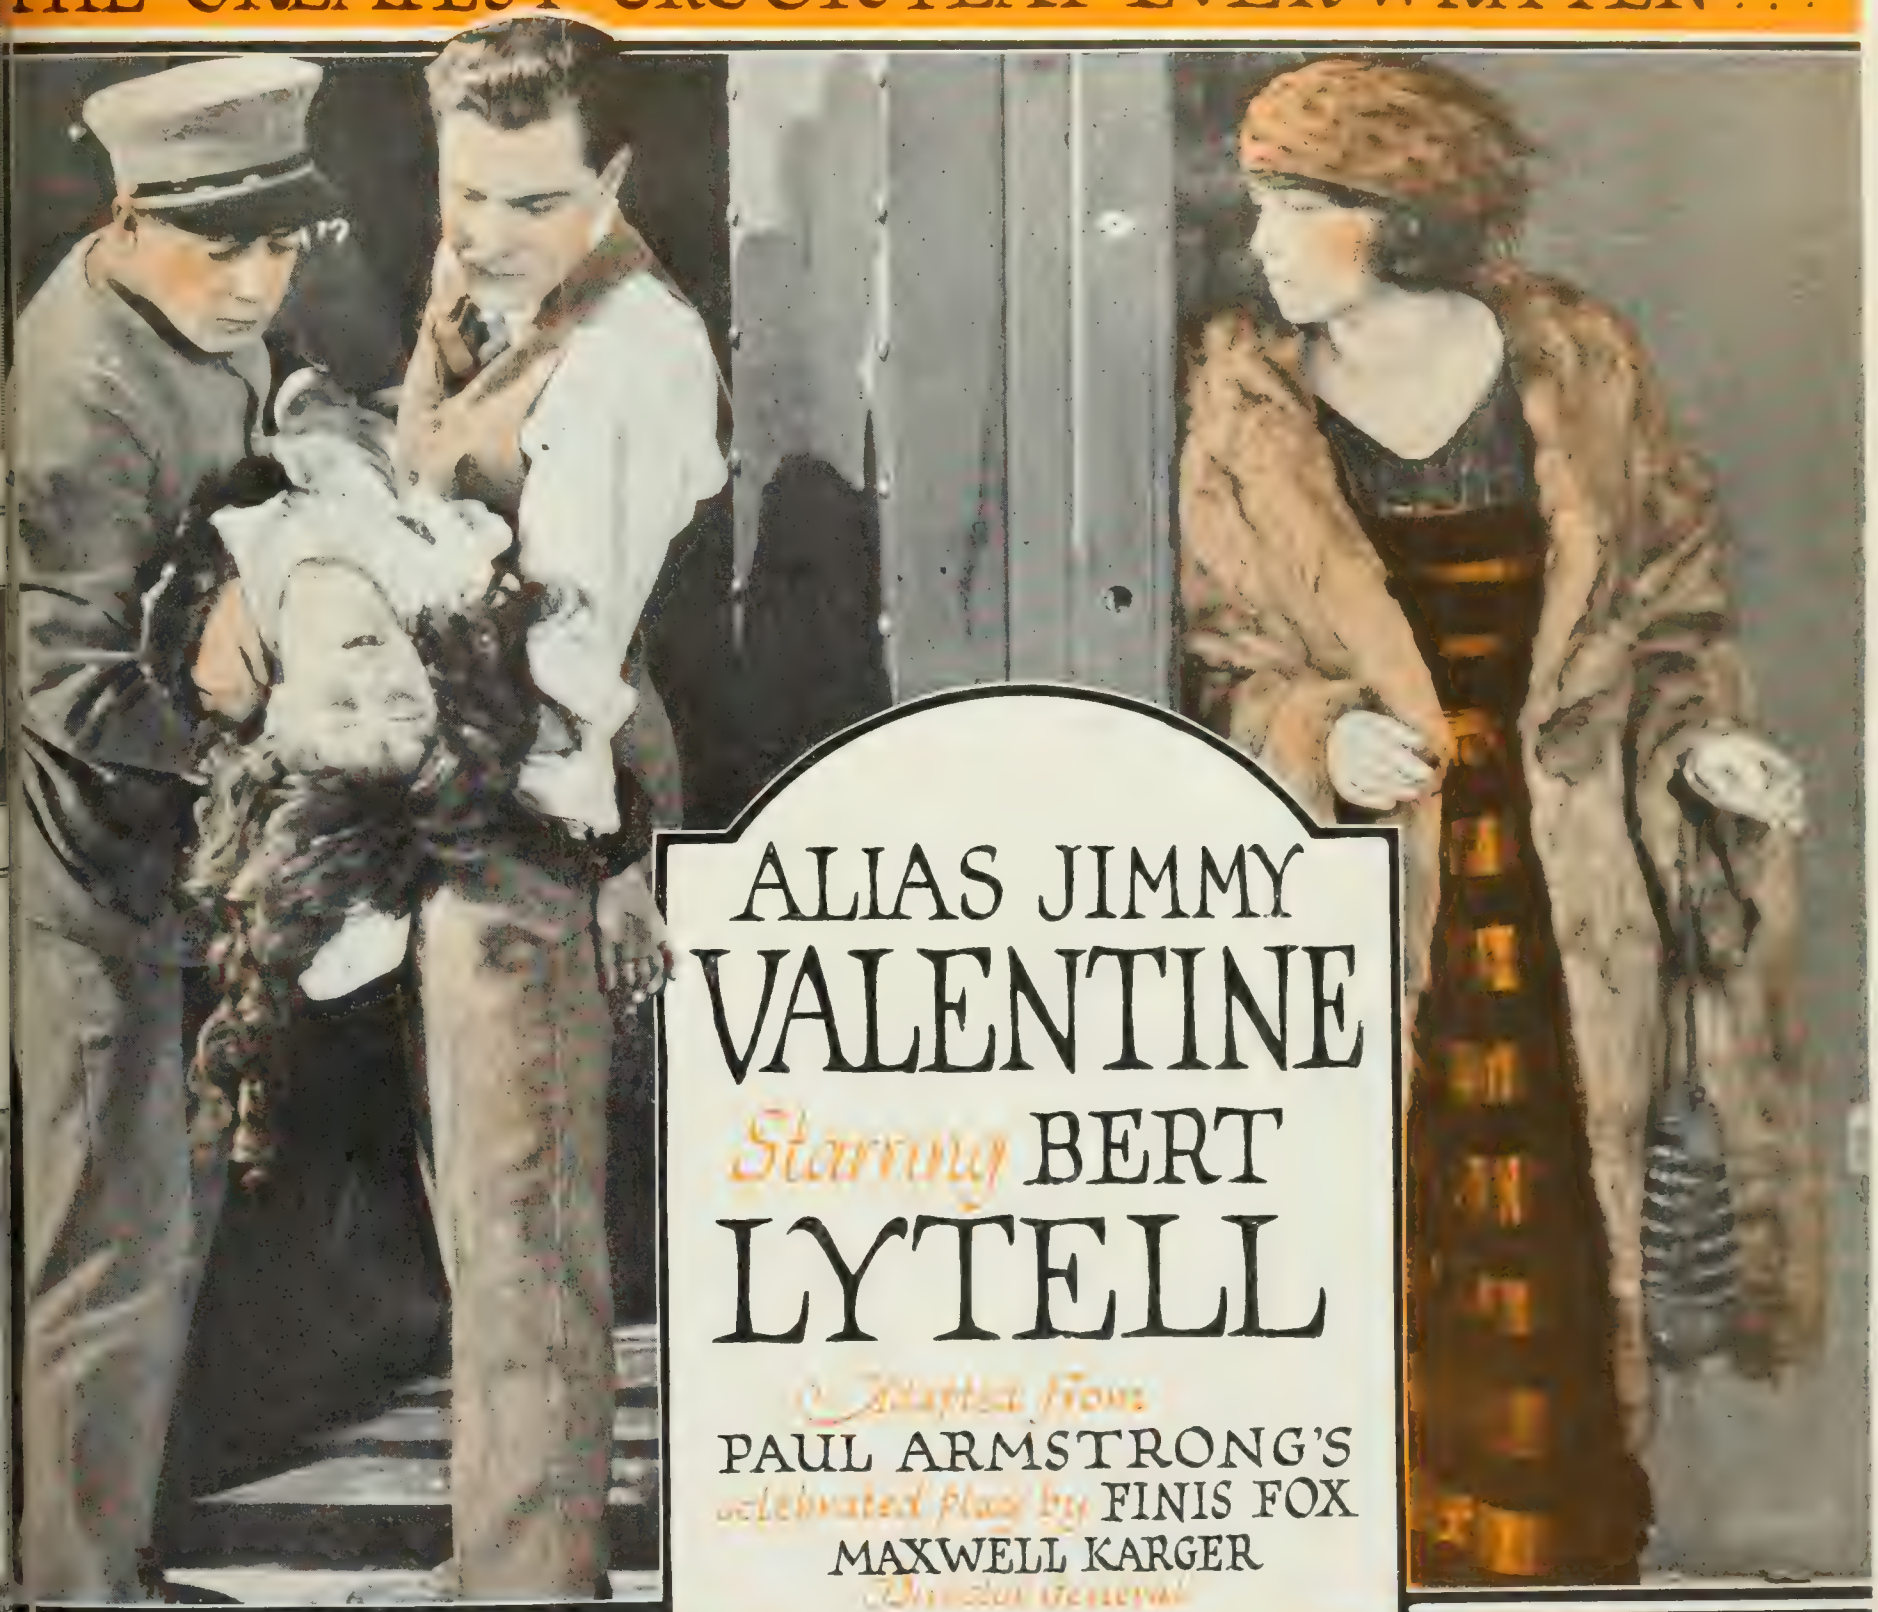
...e BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

...L. XII. NO. 32 Sunday, Ma... 2, 1920 Price 25 cents

THE GREATEST CROOK PLAY EVER WRITTEN!!!



ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE

Starring BERT LYTELL

Adapted from PAUL ARMSTRONG'S celebrated play by FINIS FOX

MAXWELL KARGER Director General

METRO

...URY IMPERIAL PICTURES Ltd. Exclusive Distributors throughout Great Britain

SIR WILLIAM JURY Managing Director

TEXAS has booked the first WANDA HAWLEY production without previewing "because we are certain of her popularity with audiences"

SOUTHERN ENTERPRISES, INC.
OF TEXAS
DALLAS, TEXAS

EXECUTIVE OFFICES

April 14th, 1920.

Mr. J. S. Woody, General Manager,
Realart Pictures Corporation,
New York City.

Dear Mr. Woody:

You have violated precedent in favor of the exhibitor, hence I am violating one of our precedents in your favor.

The rule I am setting aside for the first time in three years concerns the writing of letters regarding our opinion of pictures.

I feel, however, that you are thoroughly entitled to commendation for the unusual method you have adopted of introducing your new star, MISS WANDA HAWLEY. To offer one picture instead of rushing forth with a series contract is in itself commendable, but to give your regular customers the refusal of this picture before offering it to other exhibitors indicates an appreciation of your obligation to your patrons which is more than noteworthy.

We have booked "MISS HOBBS", the first Wanda Hawley production without previewing. We have done this because we are certain of her popularity with our audiences, because we are convinced of the suitability of her first story, because Realart Pictures have inspired our confidence and because your method of offering the picture is such as to indicate your own faith in your undertaking.

You have our best wishes for success in your new venture. Our confidence was indicated by our prompt expression of willingness to meet you more than half-way.

Yours very truly,

General Manager

Now Available
the first production only

MISS HOBBS

by
JEROME K. JEROME
Scenario by
ELMER HARRIS
Directed by
DONALD CRISP

For particulars see nearest Realart exchange

REALART
PICTURES CORPORATION
469 Fifth Avenue - New York

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — WID'S DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 32 Sunday, May 2, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to
WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives: Wiillis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

Cecil De Mille's.....WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE
Paramount-Artcraft Special ..... Page 3

Constance Talmadge in.....THE LOVE EXPERT
First National ..... Page 4

DOWN ON THE FARM
Mack Sennett-United Artists..... Page 5

William Russell in.....LEAVE IT TO ME
Fox ..... Page 8

Houdini in .....TERROR ISLAND
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 9

Irene Castle in.....THE AMATEUR WIFE
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 12

William Farnum in.....THE ORPHAN
Fox ..... Page 13

THE FAMILY HONOR
King W. Vidor-First National..... Page 16

THE MIRACLE OF MONEY
Hobtra Henley Prod.-Pathe ..... Page 17

Short Reels ..... Page 19

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

Harry Levey, Universal Industrial, holds no contract with exhibitor organization. Claims a misunderstanding.

First National Convention in Chicago opens.

Clarine Seymour, Griffith player, dead.

Tuesday

Shake-up reported in auditing department of Famous Players. Fifteen reported out.

Independent exhibitors in Chicago form new organization.

First National Gets from Mayflower Allan Dwan productions and those of R. A. Walsh and Sidney Franklin.

Petition in bankruptcy filed against United Picture Theaters of America, Inc.

Gladys Brockwell leaves Fox.

Wednesday

Associated Producers, Inc. ("Bix Six") form their own distribution with Oscar A. Price, formerly of United Artists, as president, and F. B. Warren, formerly of Goldwyn and Hodkinson, as general manager. Will deal direct with exhibitors.

Frank Hall takes over Triangle exchanges and films.

United Artists' meeting results in election of D. F. O'Brien, vice-president, and A. T. Banzhaf, secretary. No president named.

Signal Amusement Co., Atlanta, gets Associated Exhibitors' franchise in the South.

Thursday

Petition in bankruptcy filed against United Pictures Productions Corp.

First National to distribute two five-reel Mack Sennett comedies.

Exhibitors in Chicago name new organization, Independent Exhibitors of America.

Friday

Hugo Ballin forms own producing company.

First National convention in Chicago closes.

M. P. E. A., Inc., after information regarding operations of film clubs for the Department of Justice.

B. P. Schulberg, president of Attractions Distributing Corp.

Saturday

First National to put new sub-franchising plan into operation at once.

Educational secures distribution of series to be produced by Conservation Commission of New York State.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.

ONCE UPON A TIME

YOU WILL RECALL
fond memories of once upon a time
When
ANDREW J. CALLAGHAN
PRODUCTIONS, Inc.
Presents

BESSIE LOVE

THE PRINCESS CHARMING in "THE MIDLANDERS"

From The Absorbing Popular Novel

By CHARLES TENNEY JACKSON

Directed by IDA MAY PARK and JOSEPH DE GRASSE

A love story of the Mississippi Valley when a pioneer civilization was moulded out of primitive passions and tender loyalties to become the rugged middle west of today.

The joy of living, its sweet sorrows, its struggles and defeats and its ultimate victories—these are human threads in this drama woven from life.

ANDREW J. CALLAGHAN PRODUCTIONS, Inc.

25 WEST 43d STREET NEW YORK CITY

De Mille's Latest Deals With Matrimonial Trifles in Exotic Setting

Cecil B. De Mille's
"WHY CHANGE YOUR WIFE"
Paramount-Artcraft Special

DIRECTOR.....Cecil B. De Mille
AUTHOR.....William De Mille
SCENARIO BY....Olga Printzlau and Sada Cowan
CAMERAMAN .....Alvin Wykcoff
AS A WHOLE.....Gorgeous production dealing with trifles of married life and "preaching" against divorce.
STORY.....Not at all substantial in dramatic line; derives interest from sex clashes and lingerie display.
DIRECTION.....Exotic and often sensuous
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Fine
LIGHTINGS ..... Splendid
CAMERA WORK.....Highly commendable
LEADING PLAYERS.....Thomas Meighan easy and natural as husband; Gloria Swanson and Bebe Daniels get all that is required over and show a million dollars worth of clothes.
SUPPORT.....Good but hasn't much to do
EXTERIORS .....Few used
INTERIORS.....Very rich; some extravagant
DETAIL.....Details of production and direction hold up the interest.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Husband discovers that his divorced wife is much better than his second wife, so there is another divorce and another wedding. ....
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....7,175 feet

By the process of magnifying molehills to the dimensions of mountains Cecil De Mille has produced another gorgeous picture dealing with the clash of the sexes in married life. Superficially, "Why Change Your Wife" is very interesting and though it deals largely with trifles there are atoms of truth scattered hrough it that catch more than passing interest. From the production angle this De Mille opus is gorgeous, lavish, exotic and at times sensuous. In taking the spectator into the life and the home of his twice-married hero he displays on various occasions the finest lingerie, the sheerest silk stockings, the costliest corsets. And when it is added that this women's wear is exhibited by Gloria Swanson and Bebe Daniels, who are capable of stimulating even further interest in the articles by their own very graceful lines the picture takes on further rosy hues.

As a drama, "Why Change Your Wife" is close to nil. Interest is created and retained through lingerie, bare backs and limbs glimpsed through filmy things. and also by the manifold details of production and direction that De Mille stands sponsor for. No one, for instance, can blame Robert Gordon for capitulating to the model's charms when she enshrines them in such an atmosphere as that created by her ingeniously contrived couch containing a phonographic arrangement in one arm and a cellarette of rare liquers in the other.

Of course after Beth Gordon finds herself a divorcee because she couldn't live up to Robert's highly developed sensuous sense, she promptly turns around and shows him that she can out distance the model, his second wife, in this identical line. And Robert regrets his divorce and second marriage. The process of bringing Robert and Beth together again consumes the latter half of the picture, and it is done to the tune of some good comedy situations and some that miss being realistic or dramatic, such as the fight between Beth and the second wife. This is a very strained sequence.

Will Reach a Vast Public and Doubtless Will Make Striking Appeal

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

With but few exceptions it is highly probable that "Why Change Your Wife" is going to go big before all audiences. Its greatest vogue will doubtless be attained in houses of the Broadway and transient class. Its spice, its gorgeous displays of clothes and of extravagance in setting, its interesting detail are things which will bring it success in such houses. As for neighboorhood theaters, everything of course depends on the neighborhood. In view of the foreging description the individual exhibitor is his own best judge on this point.

Of course De Mlle is capable of better things than this. At times herein he insults intelligence while catering to the supposed mob demand for the exotic and the sensuous and the forbidden. But like "Don't Change Your Husband," "Why Change Your Wife" has an immense public.

With De Mille's name, with the popularity of Thomas Meighan and Gloria Swanson (and mention of their last success, "Male and Female"), and with the advertising possibilities of the theme, certainly no exhibitor who plays this picture should find it difficult to contrive ways of drawing unusual crowds.

Great. You Can't Help But Like It

Constance Talmadge in
"THE LOVE EXPERT"
First National

DIRECTOR ..... David Kirkland
AUTHORS.....John Emerson and Anita Loos
SCENARIO BY.....John Emerson and Anita Loos
CAMERAMAN .....Oliver Morris
AS A WHOLE.....Really good entertainment; has plenty of laughs and lots of amusing situations.
STORY.....Not probable, of course, but offers the best opportunity the star has had since "The Virtuous Vamp."
DIRECTION.....Held the interest evenly throughout.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Clear
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
STAR.....Right in her glory as the "innocent little vamp."
SUPPORT.....All help the star very well
EXTERIORS.....Some pretty Palm Beach scenes
INTERIORS.....Look like the real thing
DETAIL .....Nothing wrong
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Love-seeking young girl marries off the fellow's entire family so he will be free to marry her.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,888 feet

John Emerson and Anita Loos have certainly given Constance Talmadge a good one this time, if you can judge from the attitude with which it was received at the Strand. The laughs were continuous and it wasn't difficult to observe that everyone was mighty well pleased.

At any rate "The Love Expert" is surely amusing and Miss Talmadge, with her ingenious personality and winsome manerisms will win any audience. A well selected cast, including Jack Halliday, leading man in Norma's last picture, Arnold Lucy and Natalie Talmadge, all do their bit toward the success of the venture. Director Kirkland has handled the story very well and there are some original touches that are great. For instance, Connie's recipe for love describes the symptoms as quickening heart beats, throbbing pulse and flushed face. A close-up shows the victim's heart undergoing these effects and the faces actually turn red. This bit provided some big laughs.

The titles contain some fine Emerson-Loos humor and one especially had them laughing long after it had been shown. Among those in the fellow's family whom she must marry off before the fellow can marry her, is Aunt Cordelia—you know the type, ear trumpet, glasses, curls, etc. Connie shocks her nearly to death by asking "How long is it since you had a thrill?"

Arnold Lucy, the father, finally decides to send his "man crazy" daughter Babs to her Aunt Emily in Boston in the hopes that she will outgrow the malady but the fever increases. Babs experiences all the symptoms of being in love with Aunt Emily's fiance, Jim, who is the manager of her father's Boston office. But Jim has two sisters and Aunt Cordelia to provide for and cannot marry.

Babs sees that Aunt Emily is not really in love with Jim, so she proceeds to arrange to get him herself. She manoeuvers to get all hands to Palm Beach where they are some great bits in which Babs matches up Jim's family. Particularly when she puts Aunt Cordelia in her father's room and the situation is so compromising he is compelled to agree to marry Auntie.

Of course in the end she is successful in getting rid of all Jim's dependents and after a little more manoeuvering, considerable heart beating and face flushing, he proposes and the fade-out shows them disappearing in a roll chair.

Should Be A Treat For The Box Office

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Get this one if you can, for it's hard to conceive of anyone not liking it. It's good all the way through. The laughs keep coming and every one registers. And some are mighty big—big enough to keep them laughing after it's all over. You may be sure the original bits regarding the blushing and heart throbbing will surely get them.

You can say a whole lot about the star. She deserves it this time, and give Mr. Emerson and Miss Loos their share of the credit. Run lines like: "Girls, if you're in doubt as to whether he loves you or not, Connie Talmadge will show you how to find out. She's a 'Love Expert.'" Or, "Marrying off your fiance's family is no trouble if you know how to do it. See the 'Love Expert' do the trick."

Mack Sennett Comes Through With a Feature That Delivers

"DOWN ON THE FARM"
Mack Sennett-United Artists

DIRECTORS.....Erle Kenton and Ray Gray
SUPERVISED BY.....Mack Sennett
CAMERAMEN.....Fred Jackman and Perry Evans
AS A WHOLE.....Up to Mack Sennett standard with a lot of new tricks and gags that register wonderfully well.
STORY.....Sufficient to hang the comedy business together.
DIRECTION....Shows an abandonment that could have been achieved only through great care
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS.....Nothing elaborate attempted CAMERA WORK.....Very capable
LEADING PLAYERS.....Louise Fapenda, Harry Gribbon, Jim Finlayson and Billy Armstrong handle principal roles well.
SUPPORT.....Teddy, the cat and baby prominent; Ben Turpin only appears in a bit.
EXTERIORS.....Good farm stuff
INTERIORS.....Answer the purpose
DETAIL.....Much comedy stuff that registers as sure-fire.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Business of refuting the villainous landlord and mortgage holder.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,700 feet

"Down on the Farm" has a load of new laughs and is generally up to the standard that Mack Sennett maintains in his two reel comedies. Its only faults are really not in the picture but register themselves nevertheless as errors of omission. These are two in number. The first is the disappointingly brief space awarded Ben Turpin. From the advertising you are led to expect that this gentleman has one of the stellar roles and you greet his initial appearance with an appreciative laugh. But the Knight of the Cross Eyes has only one brief sequence, just a bit of a role. The second point of debate is the length of the film. Listed as of feature footage its running time suggests a length of a mere three thousand feet.

However, the actual contents of "Down on the Farm" is fine in the Mack Sennett sense. In the first place he has seemingly been inspired by the locale of the action and has originated a lot of new tricks and gags that belong particularly to the soil. There is a sequence, for instance, showing Louise Fazenda going along in the freshly ploughed field planting corn. A flock of geese follow her up and eat up the seed as soon as it leaves her hand.

Besides original gags of the above nature there is the presence of Teddy the dog, Pepper the cat, and the Sennett youngster, all of whom amaze and amuse because of their cleverness. The sequence showing Teddy rescuing the baby from his perilous position on a shaky board over a waterfall is particularly well done.

Speaking of plot, there is sufficient of it to hang the various tricks and gags together. There is the villainous landlord with his mortgage, the farmer's daughter and the poor but honest farmhand. The daughter concocts a "past" to get rid of the landlord's attentions. She is about to marry the farmhand when he landlord discovers a letter saying she has inherited wealth. He tells the farmhand of the fake "past" and the wild mixup is on. An unusually good sequence is staged when the man supposed to be connected with the daughter's past enters the action and believes all his accusers have gone "cuckoo."

Louise Fazenda renders yeoman service as the farmer's daughter, Jim Finlayson is the burlesque landlord and plays the role with due comedy appreciation. Harry Gribbon is the farmhand and Billy Armstrong the innocent victim of the girl's "past." Marie Prevost apears in the brief sequence with Turpin.

Something "Different" to Exploit That Should Run Up Records

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

The name of Mack Sennett stands for the best in the knockabout comedy line and when you let the public know that "Down on the Farm" is a feature from his studio the rest should be merely a matter of counting big receipts.

There are various ways of exploiting the picture. The title suggests several types of ballyhoo advertising as well as lobby decoration. Any stage setting or songs rendered during the performance should be of rural character.

But the most important work of all is to let the public know that you have a Mack Sennett feature and to let them know this through increased newspaper advertising. The picture will stand up well along side of adjectives and you can advertise it with merited enthusiasm. And as feature comedy of this type so rarely makes its appearance, "Down on the Farm" should have small trouble in running up records where it is properly handled.

FAITH and Hope mirrored in the soul of a wholesome country girl.
Lust and Trickery looming in the shadow of an underworld parasite.
A Romance, touched by the highlights of all human emotions.
In it, two master craftsmen, Paul Armstrong and R. A. Walsh, have reached the peak of achievement.

MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION
presents

AN R.A.WALSH PRODUCTION
THE DEEP PURPLE

Directed by R.A.WALSH From the Famous Play by PAUL ARMSTRONG & WILSON MIZNER

Apply to REALART PICTURES CORPORATION 469 Fifth Ave

REALART PICTURES

MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION Presents

A CHARLES MILLER PRODUCTION

The LAW of the YUKON

Based on the Verse Classic by ROBERT W. SERVICE

Published by BARSE & HOPKINS New York City N.Y.

Apply to REALART PICTURES CORP.
469 FIFTH AVE., N.Y.

REALART PICTURES

Sad Attempt to Make a Farce From Totally Inadequate Material

William Russell in
"LEAVE IT TO ME"
Fox

DIRECTOR .....Emmett J. Flynn
AUTHOR ..... Arthur Jackson
SCENARIO BY.....Jules G. Furthman
CAMERAMAN ..... Clyde DeVinna
AS A WHOLE.....Two reel comedy idea stretched out to five painful reels.
STORY.....Inadequate, disconnected and lacking in appeal.
DIRECTION.....Allowed some of the players to overact considerably and generally seems lost in maze of inconsequential scenes.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS.....No effects striven for
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Is lost in unsympathetic role that doesn't afford him many comedy opportunities.
SUPPORT ..... Satisfactory
EXTERIORS .....Some pretty ones
INTERIORS ..... Adequate
DETAIL .....Good enough
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Episodes concerning rich fellow's bluff about going to work
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

To consider the story contained in "Leave It to Me" for a five reel feature was foolhardy. At best it might have made an average two reel comedy. Elaborated upon to fill in the extra footage demanded here it appears as a picture, quite inadequate, disconnected and lacking in appeal. It is a painful attempt to fashion a farce around one of those breezy, high-spirited heroes.

The opening is promising. It reveals some very pretty Santa Barbara shots with the leading characters disporting themselves in an outdoor bathing tank. But subsequently little that is meritorious makes its way to the screen. William Russell appears as a rich young man, Dick Derrickson, whose fiancee, Madge, breaks off the engagement because he won't go to work.

Deciding that he must do something to placate her he buys a detective agency that hasn't had a job for two years and puts his name on the door. Even then Madge is dissatisfied for she discovers that he has picked this job because there is no work attached to it. So Dick sends for a flock of crooks to invade the town and commit crimes under his direction that he may have the honor of doing the cleanup work.

Here is a very rich farce idea and one which, imaginatively developed, might have made entertainment of a most amusing sort. But it takes more than a mere idea for a pictorial farce and it appears as if Messrs. Jackson and Furthman, who respectively wrote and scenarioized the present one, stopped short after hitting upon this basis.

The subsequent action is not worth relating here. The plot is neither coherent nor sustaining and the laughs can easily be numbered on the fingers of one hand. There is a lot of business about incriminating letters written by Dick's friend and held by an ex-chorus girl that is pushed into the general shape of a plot, but the interest it arouses is nil.

They conclude after a foolish automobile chase has been staged in which all the members of a wedding party partake. The final fade-out showing Dick and Madge embracing leaves no feeling of satisfaction, for Dick never made good on his effort at work and his antics were little short of painful in the majority of cases.

Russell seems lost in the role of Dick. Eileen Percy is pretty enough as Madge. Harvey Clark overdoes the detective role to an impossible extent. Others are Hal Cooly, Billy Elmer, Lucille Cavanaugh, Marcelle Daley and Milla Davenport.

You'll Have a Hard Time With This Even With Russell's Fans

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

No matter how popular William Russell is with your clientele, "Leave It to Me" is going to leave them pretty much dissatisfied after it's all over. There was an idea for a farce in the importation of the crooks but it wasn't developed to any creditable extent. Moreover, even in farce comedies a sympathetic hero is necessary on which to center the appeal. The make-up of Dick Derrickson's character hasn't anything very commendable about it and he doesn't perform anything wonderful during the run of the picture.

However, the main cause for the picture's failure to register is its utter lack of a continuous, substantial plot. It starts going in the right direction, gets a few steps on its way, then crumples up in a heap and passes out. And no effort on the part of those concerned in the production succeeds in reviving it or the interest that has died with it.

They've Gone Very Wild On Both Story and Thrills in This

Houdini in
"TERROR ISLAND"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....James Cruze
AUTHORS.....Arthur B. Reeve and John W. Grey
SCENARIO BY.....Walter Woods
CAMERAMAN .....William Marshall
AS A WHOLE.....Attempt at stunt and thrill picture, but in most cases they go wild and get laughs.
STORY.....So terribly melodramatic that they apologize for it in one of the first subtitles.
DIRECTION.....Doesn't show much skill; overworking of stunts shows this.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK.....Didn't catch star in actual act of doing any one of his liberating stunts.
STAR....Hasn't the chance to show what he can do
SUPPORT.....Average, containing Lila Lee and Rosemary Theby.
EXTERIORS.....Good water stuff
INTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
DETAIL.....Some awful mistakes in direction, such as character's ability to stay under water for minutes.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Search and battle for sunken treasure.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,813 feet

"Terror Island" is awfully rude to an audience's sense of plausibility. And while an audience's bump of this element is varyingly developed, it must be stated that the average well-known audience won't stand for the general line of far-fetched melodrama that is handed out in this picture. It's a plain case of going wild on thrills. Thrills are thrilling so long as they are within the limits of plausibility. An automobile dashing across a track and just missing the cowcatcher of the oncoming engine is thrilling because it might happen. In passing this is the best thriller in "Terror Island."

The melodramatic frame provided for the attempted thrills by Arthur B. Reeve and John W. Grey is none too good either. In fact it is so wild in conception that the title writer makes a little apology for it at the start. It introduces Houdini as Harry Harper, inventor of a submarine to salvage sunken treasure. When Beverly West reads of this she goes to him and appeals for aid to rescue her father. It seems he is held prisoner by savages on a distant island and unless she appears by a certain date with a certain jewel he will be offered as a sacrifice. If she does appear father can go free and the natives will also show him the spot where a ship with a cargo of diamonds was sunk.

Beverly has villainous relatives galore who attempt to steal the jewel from her, but gallant Harry Harper is always ready to defeat their ends and despite the fact that they string him up in chains and throw him off the wharf in a roped box he escapes to his submarine and sets off on his heroic mission. Incidentally Houdini is not shown doing these liberatng stunts, and so lays hmself open to criticism.

Once the scene is transferred to the island the wild-eyed thrills start. Beverly is thrown over a precipice locked in a safe. A villain descends in a diving suit, places a charge of dynamite under the safe and returns to his ship. Then Harry lets himself out of his trick submarine, opens the safe somehow and swims back with the perfectly able Beverly! Oh boy, what lungs Beverly must have! Well, after that they swim out of the submarine again, five or ten minutes under water not having affected them to any great extent, and scare the natives to flight by posing as ghosts.

Houdini has Lila Lee in support as the oxygenized Beverly, while Rosemary Theby is a desperate villainess. Others are Wiltch Taylor, Eugene Pallette, Ed Brady, Frank Bonner, Ted Duncan and Fred Turner.

Chances Are Pretty Big That This Will Get Laughed At

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

What with the terribly far-fetched thrills in this it isn't very likely that it will register with the majority of audiences. All audiences are ready to be thrilled and fooled if the thrilling and fooling is done skilfully, but such is not the case here and the probability is that most audiences will laugh right out as they pile impossibility on impossibility as the story progresses.

Houdini's first picture for Paramount was a real good thriller. Most likely they will remember it, and if you display his name with this one they will come in in large numbers. But audiences aren't made up of dubs, and while you may find some of the kids responding to the stuff in this even they are pretty wise (sometimes wiser than the old folks in the long run).

RIO

Pathé
Distributors

EDWIN CAREWE PRODUCTIONS, INC.
PRESENTS

GRANDE

From the famous play by AUGUSTUS THOMAS

PERSONALLY DIRECTED BY EDWIN CAREWE

Underneath the great white southern moon! The night calls her to romance. Her warm Mexican heart hungers for it. There before her is Romance, in an American!
Training bids her hate; inclination bids her love; caution bids her beware. How can she know that her conflict of emotions springs from the commingled blood of the two races, racing in her veins?
A CERTAIN SUCCESS,- FOR YOU!

Pathé
Distributors

Very Conventional Story With Star Miscast

Irene Castle in
"THE AMATEUR WIFE"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR ..... Edward Dillon
AUTHOR .....Nalbro Bartley
SCENARIO BY.....Jane Murfin
CAMERAMAN ..... Hal Young
AS A WHOLE.....Uninspired and quite unconvincing picturization of very old story material.
STORY.....Very conventional in theme and treatment with rather unreal heroine.
DIRECTION ..... Average
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Very good
CAMERA WORK .....Average
STAR.....Doesn't convince in "Ugly duckling" role; all right when she blossoms forth in fine clothes.
SUPPORT ..... Average
EXTERIORS.....Very few used
INTERIORS ..... Appropriate
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Unappreciated, plain wife transforms herself into butterfly and wins husband's love.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,358 feet

The conventionality of this story seems to have gotten the best of those concerned in its production with the result that the completed picture appears as an uninspired ,commonplace picturization of a theme that has been handled with more appreciation many times before. Furthermore the story was a most unwise choice to make for a star of Irene Castle's ability and reputation. She has a name for being well dressed, in fact this has been in a large measure responsible for her success on the screen—her ability to display gowns gracefully. Not a skilled actress, Miss Castle therefore has a peculiarly hard and unsuccessful time of it trying to make herself convincing in the role of an ugly duckling whose main fault is that she doesn't know how to make herself attractive by dressing appropriately.

Justine Spencer has been reared in a French convent and comes to America with very provincial ideas about clothes and morals. Naturally she is shocked to find her mother a musical comedy queen, but not more so than the musical comedy queen is to find her daughter grown to young womanhood. There were comedy opportunities in this phase of the story that have been entirely overlooked in its picturization. And it seems peculiar that a director of well developed comedy sense like Dillon didn't show more of the play between the mother, who wanted to be thought young, and her daughter.

One of the mother's youthful admirers kills her in a jealous rage and then takes his own life. This scene is played with small dramatic sense. It just happens, that's all. Afterwards Cosmo Spotiswood, a wealthy clubman, taking pity on Justine, marries her and then retires to the remote recesses of his club. This hurts Justine, because she loves him, but she can do nothing.

It is only when Cosmo has departed on a trip abroad that Justine awakens. Her awakening is brought about by her mother's old maid who straightway makes a beauty out of her by bobbing her hair and ordering fashionable clothes. And this beautifying process seems also to sharpen Justine's wits, for when Como returns home she plays upon his jealousies and makes him fall madly in love with her.

The happy ending is brought about through a rather usual series of circumstances which are so usual and treated in such a commonplace manner that they don't register as very dramatic.

Supporting the star are William Carleton as Cosmo, Augusta Anderson as the mother, Arthur Rankin as her young admirer, and S. J. Warrington, A. Saskin, Mrs. Charles Dewey and Ellen Olson.

Star's Feminine Admirers Will Hardly Accept Her In This Role

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Irene Castle holds, or did hold, a very high position in the hearts of picture goers, and particularly with the ladies of the matinee. They admired her for her clothes if for nothing else. And before these ladies the star in her present role is going to appear very unconvincing. That she should assume the part of a plain little girl is quite without the bounds of plausibility. If she were a great actress she mght be able to get away with such a part, but Miss Castle is at best a fascinatingly decorative figure in an evening gown.

After the middle mark of the picture is passed and the star is shown in the best gowns, the picture makes a better impression. But on the whole the story and the uninspired manner in which it has been treated prevents the picture from reaching a mark anything higher than average.

A Western That Departs From the Beaten Path and Registers As Big

William Farnum in
"THE ORPHAN"
Fox

DIRECTOR.....J. Gordan Edwards
AUTHOR.....Clarence E. Mulford
SCENARIO BY.....Roy Somerville
CAMERAMAN.....John W. Boyle
AS A WHOLE.....Crackerjack western with unusual atmosphere written around very sympathetic good bad man character.
STORY.....Interest remarkably well sustained through skilful story development.
DIRECTION.....Very distinctive; lifts this quite far above the usual western picture.
PHOTOGRAPHY..... Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Very good
CAMERA WORK..... Excellent
STAR.....Puts a lot of personality into his role and makes it stand out as human and appealing
SUPPORT ..... Very good
EXTERIORS.....Some western shots that are different from the ordinary run.
INTERIORS .....Few used
DETAIL ..... Very good
CHARACTER OF STORY...Romance and revenge
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,800 feet

Here's a western that stands head and shoulders above the usual run because it is different in general background, in atmosphere, in central character and in many of its principal situations. In addition to all this, it has been very skilfully developed and contains many surprising little twists and delightful comedy moments that will most certainly register with all audiences.

Director J. Gordon Edwards deserves much of the credit due the success of the production. In the first place he has staged the action, practically all of which takes place outdoors, in a new set of exteriors. You can't recognize them as the same ones you saw in the western you ran last week. They're something different and afford a background full of atmosphere and color.

As said, the plot is remarkably well developed, a strong sustaining interest does, in fact, run straight through the picture. The many scenes of the good bad man with those that should be his enemies but cannot be owing to their capitulation to his pleasing personality have the element of suspense in common with an effective comedy strain. It is these things that count so largely in favor of "The Orphan."

The story brings the time-honored Indians back in the limelight, but their presence is not to be noted for its conventionality but solely for the additional color and suspense it lends the story. William Farnum appears as a roaming bandit, nicknamed the Orphan. Ever since a child he has been hunting his father's slayer. Near a western town he saves the sheriff from the Indians and also drives the redskins away from the stage coach in which the sheriff's daughter is riding to join him.

Thus he makes fast friends of these two and also the driver of the stage coach. The balance of the action concerns the sheriff's pardonable efforts to avoid capture of the bandit and the activities of a certain ranch owner to bring about his death. In the end, of course, the ranch owner turns out to be the man who killed the Orphan's father. There is a chase and the Orphan comes back alive. He has a job given him and receives the love of the sheriff's daughter.

Farnum is at his best in the title role and brings a very forceful character into being as the good bad man. George Nichols and G. Raymond Nye as the sheriff and stage driver have sympathetic parts. Louise Lovely is the girl. Others are Henry Herbert, Earl Crain, Harry de Vere, Al Fremont and Olive White.

There is only one bad slip. That comes when Farnum has his temple grazed by a bullet causing blood to flow. In the next scene there isn't a sign of it.

Let Them Know That You Have Something Different In This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Here's one that you can spread yourself on. It's a western that's different, that's far out of the ordinary. In advertising it concentrate on this fact. Frame a reader something on this order, "It's a western, but it's different. Gone is the conventional bar-room setting, the roulette wheel, etc. Instead appears a great human story with a great big human character as its central figure, a story filled to the brim with drama, with thrills and with comedy.

Your William Farnum stock will soar several points after his appearance in this. Come out with a good spread on his name. It would also pay to mention J. Gordon Edwards, the director. His name has appeared on many Fox pictures, including the big Theda Bara success of the past, and folks know him as a man they can depend on for worthwhile entertainment.

J. PARKER READ JR.
presents

LOUISE GLAUM

in

SEX

By C. Gardner Sullivan
Directed by Fred Niblo

"SEX"
ACCLAIMED BY EXHIBITORS
as the surest and biggest
MONEYMAKER IN TEN YEARS

"SEX"
HAILED BY PRESS AND PUBLIC
as the peerless picture
OF THE DAY

"SEX"
properly presented means much more than the asset of an hour;
it means A LASTING ADDITION TO THE FAME OF YOUR HOUSE

The ceaseless demand for bookings SPEAKS LOUDER than volumes of advertising

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

The Swing and Pace of this Tale of the Woods Will Delight Your Crowds

Dial Film Company
presents

MITCHELL LEWIS
in
King Spruce

From the novel by HOLMAN F. DAY
Directed by Roy Clements

Mitchell Lewis in a part which fits him like a glove-homespun honesty and heart of gold.

With the first turn of the crank your audience is plunged into the very midst of things and their hearts are kept vibrating with thrill and emotion to the very close of the curtain.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated,

Melodrama of Old South Based on "Right Thinking" Theme

"THE FAMILY HONOR"
King W. Vidor-First National

DIRECTOR.....King W. Vidor
AUTHOR .....John Booth Harrower
SCENARIO BY.....William Parker
CAMERAMAN.....Ira H. Morgan
AS A WHOLE.....Melodrama of small southern town utilizing "right thinking" idea to achieve happy ending.
STORY.....Is capably handled and maintains an interest above the average throughout.
DIRECTION.....Has achieved a fine southern atmosphere in most instances and production is enriched through care of small details.
PHOTOGRAPHY..... Very good
LIGHTINGS.....Some exceptionally pretty effects
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
LEADING PLAYERS.....Florence Vidor, Roscoe Karns and Ben Alexander stand out in principal roles.
SUPPORT.....Charles Meredith and George Nichols run them close seconds.
EXTERIORS.....Full of real southern atmosphere
INTERIORS ..... Same
DETAIL.....Great attention paid details enriches production without burdening it.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Perjurers reform and confess to truth at murder trial because of influence of child.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,584 feet

The general effect created by this picture, King Vidor's initial First National, is highly pleasing, and although King Vidor has put nothing big or pretentious in the production, it should strike a responsive chord in all audiences because it shows in a very pretty manner the triump of Good over Evil. It is accomplished by considerable play on the act of "Right Thinking," but it is done in such a way that no religious propaganda is dominant. It's there all right, there is no mistake about that, but it is welded into the melodramatic story that is made human and appealing through the fine atmosphere achieved in the production and numerous little touches. The locale is the old South and Vidor has generally succeeded in communicating the old southern atmosphere to the screen in all its attractive realism.

The story tells of the disgrace brought on the old Tucker name by a scapegrace boy, Dal. His sister, Beverly, has deprived herself of everything to send him to college and he had turned out a drunkard and gambler. After a raid on the town gambling house he is accused of murder. The real murderer, the proprietor of the place, secures witnesses who offer perjured testimony that Dal committed the crime.

And when his case seems altogether hopeless little Ben Tucker appears in the court room. His radiant face and innocence completely reform the perjurers and they regain their positions on the stand to tell the truth. Of course this climax sequence is altogeher artificial. Anyone at all familiar with court rooms can sense innumerable false turns in it. But at the same time it is prettily done and the happy ending is achieved in a different manner.

Florence Vidor appears as Beverly and gives a delicately appealing performance. Roscoe Karns is the wayward brother and plays the role ever so realistically. Ben Alexander is in his element as the child. Charles Meredith as Beverly's suitor makes the most of his role. George Nichols, John P. Lockney, Willis Marks and Harold Goodwin complete the cast.

Given a Good Presentation This Will Make Profound Impression

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

You have a picture here that is certainly going to make an impression on everyone. Given the proper presentation (and careful attention should be given to the musical accompaniment) its dramatic value will be materially enhanced. In fact, offered in the same artistic taste as it has been produced, the probability is that it will be profoundly moving. The "right thinking" idea behind it you can mention or not, just as you please. It might help in some cases. In others it might injure. But whatever the benefits it brings from the advertising standpoint it certainly helps the entertainment.

The story gives you the opportunity to cater to the thrill loving crowds as well. Mention of the gambling hall, the raid and the perjured murder trial, together with the old southern locale and the effort of the girl to uphold the family honor, will serve to arouse more than a passing interest in the production. The fact that this is King Vidor's first independent production should be made known, particularly if you played his Brentwood pictures. And you will also find that the majority of those in the cast have reputations of some value from the box office standpoint.

It's Different and Has a Genuine Appeal

"THE MIRACLE OF MONEY"
Hobart Henley Prod.-Pathe

DIRECTOR .....Hobart Henley
AUTHOR .....Beaulah Poynter
SCENARIO BY.....Not credited
CAMERAMAN .....Richard Fryer
AS A WHOLE.....While not a marvelous production it has a wonderful appeal because it's different, real and lifelike.
STORY.....Gets away from the usual line of picture stuff and registers some distinctly human bits.
DIRECTION.....Shows fine judgment in selection of types and manner of handling story
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Fair
CAMERA WORK .....Average
PLAYERS.....Splendid selections for various parts; no one given prominence.
EXTERIORS.....Only one or two
INTERIORS ..... Appropriate
DETAIL.....Well taken care of
CHARACTER OF STORY.....A romance of middle age.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,515 feet

The fact that it is different, that it gets away from the usual routine material and plot of the present day picture story, helps a whole lot in making "The Miracle of Money" a worth-while picture. It contains that element of romance found along the time of life when hope dies hard and is easily revived.

While it isn't a marvelous production, "The Miracle of Money" is decidely accurate and always real. New Yorkers especially will recognize scenes shot in one of the city's large hotels.

In her younger days Emmy Hodges had hoped to marry Jim Heath, but he had gone away and never returned. With her cousin, Patty Hodges, Emmy set the styles in headgear for the ladies of Provincetown. The two women were in their forties when they came into possession of a large fortune left them by an uncle. Patty's whole ambition was to make Emmy happy, make her forget the past.

They came to New York and established themselves in one of the best hotels, toured the Fifth Avenue shops and spent their money freely. But Emmy observed that for some reason or other folks were laughing at them. But Patty found the reason. Their girlish frocks were not in keeping with their faces.

The two "girls" visit a beauty shop and suffer the various processes of being made pretty.

Then fate, destiny, or whatever you may wish to call it, placed a sick man in the room next to the Hodges. It was the small town curiosity perhaps that lead Patty to inquire who was ill in the next room and while she is quizzing the physician she hears the man calling "Emmy." She enters the room and finds Jim Heath. In the meantime he had been searching for a younger brother and making good a large amount which the youth had stolen when he eloped with Emmy's younger sister.

Patty calls Emmy in and there is a happy reunion for Emmy and Jim while a fade-out shows Patty weeping with sheer joy.

"3" ESSENTIALS

"GOOD QUALITY"
"PROMPT, EFFICIENT SERVICE"
"SATISFACTORY PRICE AND TERMS"

WE GUARANTEE ALL "3"

REPUBLIC LABORATORIES, INC.

Phone Bryant 7190 729 SEVENTH AVE., N. Y. C.

They Should Like It Because It's Different

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"THE MIRACLE OF MONEY"
Hobart Henley Prod.-Pathe

If you feel the need of something "different," something that gets away from the customary "love stories" or "domestic troubles," this one is a good bet. It starts out with real people, the kind found in a small town, in this case two women along in middle life, but in whom the spirit of romance is not quite dead.

There are many angles from which to appeal to your patrons. Tell them about the story. Say the picture contains scenes actually taken in one of New York's most fashionable hotels; scenes taken in a Fifth Avenue shop and a real beauty parlor. The women will be interested in the shopping tour. Tell them "They thought they were old maids. But see what clothes and money did for them. It's 'The Miracle of Money.'"

A PRESCRIPTION

TO THE PRODUCER OF SHORT SUBJECTS
COMEDIES
EDUCATIONALS
SCENICS
NOVELTIES
WISHING TO REACH THE DISTRIBUTOR
EXHIBITOR OR
STATE RIGHT BUYER
EFFICIENTLY
EVERY DAY
OF THE YEAR
AND AT COMPARATIVELY
SMALL COST

We Recommend—At Brief Intervals

WID'S DAILY

"A TEST WILL TELL"

WD 5/2/20

Some Short Reels

"Don't Weaken"—Pathe

Golf links are the scene of a great deal of the action in another single reeler in which Snub Pollard and his short colored companion do most of the work. There is some creditable material in the piece and although some of it is not especially effective, it is a fair offering. The scene in which the two dubs attempt to locate the minute white sphere, missing it until Pollard is forced to resort to a ruse to make them believe they finally succeeded in hitting the elusive pellet is practically certain to secure a laugh and one or two other bits are also likely to be productive of giggles.

"Her Lucky Day"—Reelcraft

With several commendable situations woven about a fairly clever story, this two reeler, starring Alice Howell and featuring Dick Smith is likely to prove quite acceptable. There is much material in it that is not especially funny, but a great deal that is up to the mark and will in all probability make it worth while. In the scene, early in the offering, wherein the dog and cat cause some confusion, there is some stuff that will provoke a few giggles. Thereafter, the action in the cafe holds up fairly well, with the dog and monkey used, getting results. The bit in which the principal comedienne imagines herself facing St. Peter before the gates of Heaven, only to be spirited away by the devil, has not been staged as elaborately as it could have been, but will undoubtedly produce a satisfactory effect. At the end, they disclose the fact that most of what came before was a dream—a conclusion which no longer is unusual and one which is not essential here. Dick Smith directed.

"Shimmy Shivvers"—Bray-Goldwyn

The spectacle of someone shaking the shimmy is quite familiar in animated cartoons, and since the justly celebrated shake is given considerable footage in the cartoon which makes up the first part of the third of the series of Bray Comics, it does not register very heavily. Neatly drawn, it holds attention but does not bring the laughs very fast. Following that portion is a series of lampoons, gags and witty remarks of various sorts. Several of these are funny, but there is no deviation from the general run of this sort of material which has lost its novelty and does not go as well as it did originally. There is more than enough of it on the market.

Pathe Review, No. 43

As is the case in most screen magazines, variety is the ruling feature in another Pathe Review which ranks with the general run of offerings of this sort. Two colored portions, a slow motion study, footage devoted to the cleaning of silverware, and an Apache dance are taken up in it. While each part is interesting enough in itself, there is no particular feature to make it stand out above numerous similar reels. Hard-working Portuguese women and some African animals are dealt with in the colored parts, which incidentally should be separated so that one does not follow the other. Feminine swimmers illustrate several strokes under the section titled "Venus Takes a Swim." How silverware is cleaned and polished at hotels is shown in another bit, and the combined tough and symbolic dance which closes holds attention.

Pathe Review, No. 44

Dr. Ditmars discusses an ostrich-like bird, called the Emus, in the opening part of this production. After that comes the usual colored part, which in this case consists of scenes shot in Nimes, France. The manner in which an expert cowboy knife-thrower hurls the blades in the direction of a courageous young lady is seen in the part wherein the action is slowed to one-eighth of its actual speed, and the production of salt at San Mateo, California, occupies another part. Desiree Lubovska displays the Terpischorean art in "The Dance of the Ancient Aztecs," the closing section. As a whole, a very acceptable review.

"Shoot on Sight"—Pathe

Western saloon stuff, the typical villainous saloon-owner of the wild and woolly region, some funny burlesqued titles, Snub Pollard, starred in the piece, and his darkey compatriot combined serve to make this an acceptable comedy. It lags a bit in one place, but otherwise goes along at top speed and keeps the laughs coming at a satisfactory rate of speed. There are several bits of business in the production that are of merit, Pollard's appearance, his exploits with a six-shooter and others all registering the desired effect. Generally as good as the best of the Pollard reels.

"The Bowling Alley"—Fox

Mutt and Jeff here invade a bowling alley and much humor is derived when the artist again permits his imagination to run riot in his drawings of the two comedians and their experiences in attempting to handle the large balls. Given a fertile field such as this the Mutt and Jeff artist always turns out some thing praiseworthy. "The Bowling Alley" has many laughs in it due to its great ridiculousness and stands well up in the series.

"Dangerous Eyes"—Fox-Sunshine

This comedy is staged in a department store and those concerned in its production have utilized many of the rich possibilities that such a setting presents in a highly creditable manner. Incidental to the comedy the Fox bathing girls get into the action, this time as models displaying the latest fashions. Chester Conklin is the principal comedian and his antics as janitor of the store, vamping everyone with his "dangerous" eyes surely strike many responsive comedy notes. Not the least humorous scene in the production is the one in which Conklin permits the revolving floor on which the models display themselves to run wild when the position of honor is occupied by an old woman. The result is a completely wrecked gown and a very dilapidated looking dame. The action concludes with a wild house-top chase. All in all this one can stand with the better two reelers that Hampton Del Ruth and his associates have been producing recently. Jack Blystone directed it and in the supporting cast appear Dorothey Lee, Ed Kennedy, Gux Pixley and Laura La Varnie.

"The Water Plug"—Reelcraft

Most of this single reel comedy in which Billy Franey is starred, directed by George Jeske, is up to the mark. Franey is clever enough and the story material for the greater part is humorous. At the very start, Franey receives a ducking and there is a scene wherin he comes upon a man beating a woman before a camera. In the familiar fashion he tries to stop it and is rudely punished for his interference. Neither of these portions is essential to the theme, which begins to develop thereafter. Franey perceives a detective serving a summons on an automobile owner whose vehicle has been parked before a hydrant. He manages to secure a portable affair resembling one, as well as a badge, and upon placing it near various machines, exacts bribes from their owners. Most of the comedy centers about his exploits with the "hydrant," after the use of which a trio of coppers get on his trail. There is some in-and-out-of-the-manhole material, not new, but always funny, and when he is finally caught, Franey offers to lead the blue-coated gentlemen to an establishment where they may secure "a quart," with the result that they march off peacefully. It is a good gag and winds up well.

Short Reels

"A Tale of a Terrier"—Paramount-Post

This is something a little out of the ordinary in the way of single reels. It purports to be a diary of a terrier pup, from the time of his weening days up to the period of his life in which he runs away from a rich city home, roams the country and finally becomes the adopted member of a farmer's family. The tale provides ample opportunity for the exhibition of some pretty shots, many of them showing a pretty stream and the surrounding woods. The subtitles are written in the first person, supposedly the words of the dog, and alternately provoke laughs and admiration for their rather clever and unusual style.

"Circumstantial Evidence"—Universal

Burnt trousers, which result in Ed "Hoot" Gibson's securing another pair, with an incriminating note in one pocket, lead him ultimately to round up a band of rustlers in this one. He doesn't wed the girl at the finish, but from all appearances is well on the road to a romance. There are bits of comedy mixed up with the action, and while the plausibility of the two reeler is open to question, it possesses most of the qualities looked for in short westerns. The title is apt to mislead and create the impression that it concerns a conviction of some sort based on circumstantial evidence. What the title alludes to most probably is the discovery of a note passed between two of the crooks by the girl, and her conclusion that Hoot is one of those who is stealing her father's horses. The irrepressible Gibson soon gets his six-shooter working and rounds up the criminals, receiving as a reward the position of foreman on the ranch of the heroine's father. In addition, he is rewarded with a meaning smile from the woman in the case. More love interest could have been injected, but it should get over as it is

---

Another Mentor Scenic

Hand-colored scenics appear to be enjoying considerable popularity at present and this Mentor reel ranks with the better ones. Scenes shot along the River Clyde in Scotland make up the first part. There is stuff taken near falls, of which there are several, rapids and more placid water. Most of it is tinted in good style and holds the eye. Thereafter, there is footage devoted to Hanoi, Indo-China. Here the natives are seen as well as the different architectural works and landmarks. One corking good shot is that of a boy fishing in shallow water, among the bits of curious watery vegetation. Closing is a part dealing with The Crimea. Here again there is much creditable water stuff, in fact, it is the best portion of the reel. They have colored it very well and with nature lending more than a helping hand, have a highly commendable offering.

"Why Be Jealous"—Robertson-Cole

Having the fond husband mistake his wife's brother or some other relative for a secret lover, is an idea that has been worked on innumerable occasions. In this single reeler they have employed the same basic theme, having a decorator engaged by the wife take the place of the much abused kinsman. Naturally, the conclusion is obvious almost as soon as the mysterious stranger makes his appearance. As for the situations, few of them are unusual enough to merit special attention. The result of the old plot and lack of really creditable incidents, is that the offering falls short of the desired mark. William Beaudine wielded the megaphone, Harry Depp wrote the story, and Teddy Sampson, together with Depp, played the principal roles.

"Ransom"—Universal

Basically, this two reel western in which Ed "Hoot" Gibson is starred is like numerous similar productions. As usual, the hero rounds up alone a band of villains, who in this case ride out on forays masked, at the climax. Some comedy has been woven about the incidents, which are no more novel than this type of drama, except possibly in one or two cases. Leonard Clapham, Dan Crimmons, Nelson McDowell, Virginia Faire and others appear in the piece which has little to lift it above the usual run of westerns of this length. Some meritorious comedy relief is its most valuable adjunct.

"The Wildcat"—Reelcraft

Texas Guinan, styled "The Queen of the West" and starred in this two reel western, is an energetic performer who works zealously enough and has the sort of a personality that will please the followers of this type of drama. The story used is one that affords much opportunity for comedy relief, in fact, there is more of the humorous than the dramatic. Throughout, the action is fast with the balance of power shifting first from good to the evil side and then back again. Revolvers are shot off with no apparent effect now and then. the heroine engages in some fisticuffs with the deputy sheriff-bandit and after a chase the evildoers are locked in the hoosegow. Having tamed the wildcat maid, the hero prepares to make her his at the finish. No particularly effective climax is worked up in the production, directed by Jay Hunt, the writer having made the prevailing light atmosphere the predominating feature. Nothing to make this a superior offering to many similar two reelers is in evidence.

Photoplay Magazine Screen Supplement, No. 12—Educational

In all likelihood, the average fan audience will find this reel, the last of the series, quite acceptable. With the exception of a love-making demonstration by Taylor Holmes, there is nothing very unusual about it. Offerings of this sort usually arouse interest, however, and this one, well photographed, ranks with the average reel dealing with film celebrities at ease. Dorothy Phillips is seen making up at the start and then strolling toward the camera with a dog. Allan Holubar is also seen in that part of the picture. After that Allan Dwan and Jim Kirkwood are seen reclining upon a grassy lawn and dreaming of the rehearsal of a fight scene which is supposed to take place. Dwan's home is shown, after which Helene Chadwick occupies the center of the screen. The well known duo from the Land of the Rising Sun, Sessue Hayakawa and Tsuru Aoki make their appearance, with their sumptuous home furnishing the background. What is probably the most interesting part of it is Taylor Holmes' exhibition as to the proper fashion in which to win a young lady's affection at the culmination.

"The Most Important Individual"—Educational

Continuity is not the essential characteristic of this reel, from Educational's Library De Luxe. Most of it consists of colored scenes in which a baby appears in various poses. Immediately following the last shot of the youngster is a boat scene and after that comes some footage devoted to the pheasant, guinea fowl and Virginia quail, tacked on rather loosely. The coloring is for the greater part good, but what will make the reel worth while is the material with the baby. Together with a little girl, who is seen part of the time, the infant presents a very cute appearance—one that will undoubtedly appeal. The child is seen at play, eating, receiving his bath and in divers other attitudes, which will interest.

Carl Laemmle Presents
The Years Most Stupendous Drama Spectacle

The VIRGIN of STAMBOUL

Directed by Tod Browning
Story by H.H.VanLoan Four weeks of capacity audiences at the Broadway Theatre New York City

Multiply your Capacity by $15.00

Altho this great romantic drama was released only a few short weeks ago, the Box-office and the Booking-sheet have already established it as the most spectacular success of the year. At the Superba in Los Angeles, a small 600-seat house, it did a gross of $15.00 per seat for the week. Multiply your own seating capacity by $15.00 and see what you get. YOU CAN GET IT. Why not NOW?

Universal-Jewel
$500,000
Production de Luxe

Starring

PRISCILLA DEAN

Samuel Goldwyn presents

GERALDINE FARRAR

IN

"THE WOMAN AND THE PUPPET"

by Pierre Louys and Pierre Frondaie

Directed by Reginald Barker

The fiery Farrar as a laughing, singing, fighting, cigarette girl of old Seville, with a magnificent background of tawny Moorish walls and picturesque courtyards.

Lou Tellegen and a magnificent cast support Miss Farrar in this sun-drenched, exotic romance of hot-blooded Spain.

GOLDWYN PICTURE CORPORATION

SAMUEL GOLDWYN, President

A-1—4 Col.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 33 Monday, May 3, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Ready By Fall

National Franchises Expected to Reach 6,000 Theaters by That Time.

Conclusion of the joint convention of Associated First National Pictures, Inc., and First National Exhibitors' Circuit at the Congress, Chicago, last week marked the formal launching of the sub-franchising plan wherein approximately 6,500 independently owned and independently operated theaters will share in the nationalization of the protective and guaranteed production source benefits upon which the plan is based.

Sub-franchise applications from about 200 of the independent exhibitors who had responded to the call issued by Villard C. Patterson of Atlanta during a national mass meeting were filed with the various First National exchange managers and members before the circuit's sessions were finally adjourned.

Radical and extensive changes in the present system of film distribution are expected by exhibitor members of First National as the result of the sub-franchising plan.

Territorial awards of sub-franchises start this week upon the return of the First National exchange managers to their respective offices. It is predicted by circuit officials that at least three months will be needed to complete the allotment. By all it is said First National attractions will be pledged by sub-franchises to at least 6,000 theaters.

The Executive Committee for Associated First National Pictures, composed of N. H. Gordon of Boston, Moe Mark of New York and H. Schwalbe of Philadelphia will devote practically all of its time during the summer to the consideration and granting of applications for sub-franchises. Schedules of percentage ratings of every theater in each territory were given to the exchange managers at the concluding session of the First National sales club. In fixing the individual theater percentage the statistical division of the Exhibitors' Defense Committee for First National eliminated in many instances the matter of population as a determining factor and considered more conclusive conditions of industrial advantages, prevailing average film costs for individual house booking on a flat rental basis in the area competition and the strategical position of the theater.

Vidor's Second Named

"The Jack Knife Man" is King W. Vidor's second production for release through First National.

"How do we know your credentials are not forged? You look like the Yellow Typhoon—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction, Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

Form Alliance

Dahme and Seel Tie Up With Jaxon Film—Plan Joint Production.

F. A. Dahme and Luis Seel, producers of animated novelties, titles and Screen Follies, a weekly release which is distributed by Capital Film, have perfected an alliance with the Jaxon Film, according to a statement made on Saturday by Dahme.

Hereafter the offices of Dahme and Seel and Jaxon Film will be jointly conducted in the Candler Bldg. The move will pool the resources of the two units so far as animated titles and leaders are concerned. Dahme and Seel will use the studio of Jaxon Film in Providence to do its work.

Further production is planned but nothing has been said about it outside of the fact that a new reel is under way.

Seel will go to England next month to establish headquarters for the Dahme-Seel service. It is planned to serve English producers with art titles as is done by the parent company here.

Jaxon Film could not be reached on Saturday for a statement.

More Loew Theaters

Four Planned for Canada—Others in West.

Marcus Loew is contemplating the erection of seven new theaters in the United States and Canada.

In Canada, theaters for Winnipeg, Calgary, Edmonton and Victoria are being spoken of. In the South, New Orleans is under consideration and in the West, in Denver and Long Beach, Calif.

These theaters will be of the usual Loew size and will average from $400,000 to $500,000 each. Ackerman and Harris, as noted, will act for Loew in Denver.

Griffith Offices Moved

The D. W. Griffith offices have moved from Room 720, Longacre Bldg., to the third floor where seven rooms have been taken over, Rooms 302-307. This increases the organization's office space considerable.

"The House of Toys" is in the tinting and toning stages in the American Film's laboratory.

F. P. May Re-issue

Experiment Now Under Way With Two Productions—Result of Exhibitor Inquiries.

Famous Players-Lasky now has under way an experiment which may result in a regular output of re-issued subjects when the results of the present experiment are determined.

Cecil De Mille's "Old Wives for New," released first over two years ago, and Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," directed by Marshall Neilan, are being fitted for the market again.

An official of Famous Players stated on Saturday that the company had no fixed policy on the reissue question. This individual, who is an important figure in the sales department, said that there have been many requests for the De Mille and Pickford subjects which accounts for their re-issuing again. He said that when the films weer first released, short runs only were in vogue and exploitation methods such as are being used to-day were not practiced. It is figured that if handled properly these productions will make excellent accounts for themselves and line up favorably with the productions released to-day.

"Humoresque" Showing at Ritz

Cosmopolitan Productions will give a private presentation of "Humoresque" in which Alma Rubens is a featured player in the Grand Ball Room of the Ritz Carlton tomorrow evening at 8:30.

Cosmopolitan Plans Additions

Plans have been filed with the Building Department to cover renovations and building of offices at the company's studio, 127th St. and 2nd Ave.

When final alterations are completed, it is understood that the executive offices of the organization will be moved to the studio from the Godfrey Bldg.

Several open-air stages may be built during the summer months to take care of production.

Meeting Postponed.

The committee of creditors of United Pictures Productions Corp., composed of Percy L. Waters, J. V. Fitchey and Nicholas Kessel, did not meet on Saturday as scheduled because of other engagements of Harry Zalkin, the receiver. The meeting will undoubtedly be held to-day.

Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise
135 West 44th St.—Bryant 6903

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 33 Mon. May 3, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	68½	70⅛	70⅛
do pfd.	84	84¾	84¾
*Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	29⅝	30⅜	30⅜
Triangle 7-16		½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod. ..	2½	3	3
World Film.....¼		¼	¼
do, 2nd pfd.....½		⅝	⅝

*Last sale Wednesday.
Market closed Saturday. Holiday declared.

Will Continue Ditmar Series

Educational says that it will not discontinue the series of Ditmar's Living Book of Nature, as stated, but that the series of pictures to be made by the Conservation Committee of the State of New York will be an additional release.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Exhibitor's Trade Review says:

"'The Strange Boarder' is one of those pictures which warms the heart, renews confidence in human nature and provides entertainment of the rare variety seldom found on the screen."

Goldwyn

Business in Germany

(Continued from Saturday's issue)

Previous to the war Italian and French pictures were also popular in Germany, but none on exhibition, and German theatrical men say that public prejudice will prevent the exhibit of French-made pictures for a long time.

The studios in Germany are small and poorly equipped, compared with American studios, but they are improving. During the summer time the German studios enjoy practically the same conditions of sunlight for photography as prevail in America, but winter conditions are more difficult The Ufa and Bioscop corporations have studios in Berlin (where there are 11 large studios in all) that are well built, lighted by electricity, and operated throughout the season of poor sunlight. Certain German companies have been sent to the Mediterranean countries to make pictures, for the sake of better sunlight and different scenery. There are in all Germany about 25 big studios. The camera work is good, the costuming is very good, and the building of sets and decorations is excellent; but the criticisms of German-made films most often heard from American experts are: (1) Lack of action and speed; (2) titles are too long and the films themselves often run in interminable length of 10 or 12 acts; (3) the use of an undue proportion of melodrama and tragedy. American motion-picture investigators in Germany state that American comedy pictures would undoubtedly meet with an enormous success in Germany.

Distribution of Films

Germany is divided into six sections for the distribution of films by the big companies. The films are sent out by express, but are not insured by the companies, and their delivery to the subscribing theaters is less accurate and speedy than in the United States. There is a minimum price for the rental of films, but no maximum, the increase being in proportion to the attendance.

The larger producers and manufacturers have signed contracts with many of the theaters to use their films exclusively from now till 1921. Many of the smaller theaters have refused to sign these contracts, the owners declaring that they wish eventually to secure American pictures. The opinion is general among informed persons that, except for certain local producers and manufacturers, there exists throughout Germany a great demand for American films. This demand is realized, and it is said the Ufa Corporation has already bought and is now making payment on 75 American films, which it hopes to import after May, 1920, when the film embargo is lifted.

Films are not distributed on credit in Germany. The producer requires an initial deposit for the option for the territory, and when the film is delivered the balance in cash is collected.

Influence of American Films and Methods

The German producers and exhibitors keep close watch on the motion-picture situation in the United States. They know all about the so-called American invasion and conquest of the picture field in England, and they anticipate an American invasion of Germany. Practically all of the reputable American moving-picture magazines and journals reach Germany; many American moving-picture men have also investgated this field lately, and through these and other sources the German producers are in close touch with the trend of film affairs in the United States. When a famous American picture arouses interest in Denmark or some nearby country, the German film interests send their observers up to watch its success and earning powers. Certain well-known American stories have been adapted to the films in Germany, the same plot and characters being used, but the title changed. An American moving-picture expert recently here investigating conditions, says that the influence of American "movie" art is most noticeable in Germany; that even within the past few months a marked improvement in plotting, costuming, action, photography, settings, and especially continuity is very noticeable.

Theater Tax—Industrial Films for Advertising Purposes

The method of taxing theater tickts and making returns to the Government authorities is about the same in Germany as in the United Sta and, nothwithstanding the econ distress of Germany the crowd the "movie" theaters seem to be creasing. One German econo states that this is due to the ger "forget-the-war" feeling. An An can investigator lately found ne every picture house in Germany ning to capacity and the Berlin t ters turning away hundreds e night.

The Deutches Lichtbilt at B is a German moving-picture adve ing concern, backed by the Gov ment and certain private corporat such as the Krupps, which prod and distributes industrial films. concern has endeavored to adve German industries in South Am and other foreign countries by tributing such films. Within the few months it has also begun in trial educational work in Germ This concern has lately taken the National Pictoral News We which corresponds to the He Pathe News. An arrangement been made between the Deut Lichtbilt Co. and an American c pany to exchange weekly news—f news films not being excluded u the embargo.

It is reliably reported that very few instances negatives h been made (called "dupes" "replicas") from certain Amer exhibition in neutral European c tries and that prints made from t

(Continued on Page 3)

Good workmen want good tools. Successful exhibitors must have RITCHEY posters!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
281 LEXINGTON AVE., NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.

255 N. 13th Street
Philadelphia, Pa

64 W. Randolph St.
Chicago, Ill.

SIMPLE SOULS

Business in Germany

(Continued from Page 2)

...eratives were later smuggled into ...many.

...eratives in Motion-Picture Business Are Organized

...ertain unions or organizations ...xt among theatrical employees in ...many. The actors are organized ... the "Buhnengenossenschaft," and ... musicians, stage hands, etc., are ...nized into what is known as ... "Centralverband der Kinoangestellter." The musicians in the orchestras are futher controlled by the ...man Musician's Union. Theatrical ushers also belong to a union, ... their wages are small, seldom ...hing over 10 marks a day; they ...expected to make up for this small ...ry by the sale of programs; also, ...n other European theaters, the ...man ushers expect a tip for showing patrons to their seats.

... new film industry lately developed in Germany is the so-called ...me film;" that is, the manufacture ... distribution of a small cheap ...paratus for furnishing moving-...ure entertainment in private ...es. This industry has lately been ...rupted by a police regulation, ...h controls the exhibition of films.

...ccording to recent press reports, ...in will soon possess the largest ... studio in the world. The Albatros Aircraft Works in Johannisthal ... transforming their airship hangar ... a moving-picture studio; this ...io will be about 450 feet long and ...ly 200 feet wide.

... American Exhibitors Are Hit

...akland, Cal.—C. W. Midgeley of ... American, well known as an exhibitor here, says that the efforts ...rogram producers to cater to the ...ands of the foreign buyers has ...ed exhibitors in the United ...tes to suffer.

Open Shanghai Exchange

...anghai, China—A local office has ... opened by Robinson and Walk-...Co., Ltd., of Seattle, who have ... exporting film to Java and the ...ch East Indies.

Ohio Censors Ban "Sex"

...eveland, O.—The Ohio Censor ...rd has refused to pass Louise ...lm in "Sex," objecting to it in ...present form. Efforts are being ...e to cut it so that they will give ... eir approval.

Shows Pictures in Church

...ffalo, N. Y.—Rev. Thomas Tim...s of St. Margaret's Church has ... a projection machine installed ... is showing pictures on Sunday,, ...day and Friday nights.

Change Title for Canada

...ontreal, Canada—The Wallace ... picture released in the United ...es under the title, "Hawthorne ...e U. S. A.," will be distributed ... as "Hawthorne, the Adventurer." ...as been retitled so that the hero ... vealed as a British subject.

On Broadway

Criterion—Cecil De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife."
Rialto—Enid Bennett—"The False
Capitol—"The Deep Purple."
Road."
Rivoli—Wallace Reid—"The Dancin' Fool."
Strand—Zane Grey's "The Riders of the Dawn."
Broadway—Mack Sennett's "Down on the Farm."
Victor Seastrom—"A Man There Was."
Brooklyn Strand—Constance Talmadge—"The Love Expert."
Loew's New York—To-day—Nazimova—"The Heart of a Child."
Tuesday—"Rio Grande."
Wednesday — William Russell—"Leave It to Me."
Thursday — Sessue Hayakawa—"The Devil's Claim."
Friday—Frank Mayo—"The Girl in Number 9," "The Miracle of Money."
Saturday—Elaine Hammerstein—"The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes."
Sunday—Geraldine Farrar—"The Woman and the Puppet."

Next Week

Criterion—Cecil De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife."
Capitol—"The Silver Horde."
Rialto—Bryant Washburn — "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."
Rivoli—Ethel Clayton—"A Lady in Love."
Strand—Not yet determined.
Broadway—Not yet determined.
Brooklyn Strand—Not yet determined.

Opposes Permission to Build

Baltimore, Md.—Rev. James R. L. Diggs of the Trinity Baptist Church, has filed a protest against the ordinance giving permission to erect a theater at 1610-14 Druid Hill Ave. The city council has passed the ordinance and it is now awaiting the mayor's signature.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—"The U. P. Trail," by Zane Grey, has been put into pictures by Benjamin B. Hampton. Kathlyn Williams, Roy Stewart, Marguerite De La Motte, Robert McKim, Virginia Caldwell, Frederick Starr and others are in the cast.

Myrtle Stedman is the latest addition to the cast supporting Anita Stewart in "Harriet and the Piper."

Work on the Charles Hutchison stunt serial, being produced for Pathe by Robert Brunton, has begun.

Henry Kolker began work this week on his first Selznick production, an all-star feature of East Indian locale.

Two new film organizations have signed to make pictures at the Brunton studios in Los Angeles. Gibraltar, backed by Sidney Garrett and Arthur Beck, will produce a number of Leah Baird features. The Dial Film Company will start work shortly on a seven-reel feature.

J. Warren Kerrigan left this week for the Mojave desert to make exteriors for his latest Brunton production, "The Coast of Opportunity."

GAUSMAN.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

"THE NINTH COMMANDMENT"
THOU SHALT NOT COVET THY NEIGHBOR'S WIFE
Starring FERNANDO R. ELIZONDO & Madame HALINA BRUZOVNA
ELIZONDO PRODUCTIONS
Directed by EMIL HARDER
FOR WORLD RIGHTS APPLY TO
SUNSHINE FILM INC.
Tel. Bryant 7123 — 111 W. 42nd St.

Cuts and Flashes

Frank Williams has been signed by Character Pictures to appear in "The Isle of Destiny."

On completion of "The Boy," William D. Taylor will begin work on "The Furnace."

Charles Clary has been secured by American Film for the leading role in "Whispering Smith."

Following "Harriet and the Piper," Anita Stewart will complete her working year with "Sowing the Wind." She will then take a vacation and return to the studio in the fall.

Director Arthur Rosson will complete the photographing of Betty Compson's first independent release this week. Some time will be spent in titling and editing before print will be ready for shipment.

Fix Allegheny Tax Rate

Cumberland, Md.—The County Commissioners have fixed the tax rate for Allegheny County at $1.42 on each $100 for 1920-21. This is an increase of $.25 over the rate which prevailed last year.

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. · ROOM 200

MOVED
Office to our Laboratory
AT 413 W. 41st ST.
ERNEST STERN
(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523
"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor — Tel. Circle 1298

Madge Kennedy
won a million new friends
in
"LEAVE IT TO SUSAN"
The associations were pleasant.
It was directed by
Clarence Badger.
A Goldwyn feature
AND
The young leading man's name was and is

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space
every day!

Exhibitor Heads New Company

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—H. M. Lawson, who is owner of a chain of theaters in Arizona and Northern California, is president and general manager of Screen Crafts, Inc., the new organization which has commenced work on the first of a series of three metaphysical plays to be produced during the year.

Montrose Leaves Brunton

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Joseph Montrose has resigned from the Brunton studio to take over the general managership of the James Oliver Curwood company.

In the Courts

In the suit of Jacques Tyrol against the Maytrix Photo Plays, Inc., for an accounting of about $7,000 alleged to be due on contracts for "And the Children Pay" in which the plaintiff asked an injunction restraining the Maytrix from entering into additional contracts for the film, Supreme Court Justice Gavegan denied the application on condition that the defendant furnishes a bond for $15,000 to pay all sums that may be found to be due when the suit is tried. The court also directs that no new contracts be made without the plaintiff's consent.

Griffith Sued for $25,000

Doris Keene and David Wark Griffith are two defendants named in a suit filed in the Supreme Court by Daniel V. Arthur for $25,000 damages. The other defendants are Hiram Abrams and John J. McKeon. The summons was served on Miss Keene at 1 West 67th Street. The paper on file does not show the cause of action.

Albert Banzhaf, Mr. Griffith's attorney, said that since he had not received the bill of complaint he could make no comment.

Lesser Buys Chaplins.

Los Angeles—Sol Lesser has purchased the five Chaplin re-issues from Victor Kremer for California, Nevada and Arizona.

Dallas, Tex.—Metro Pictures of Dallas have secured the Victor Kremer-Chaplin re-issues for Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas.

Baton Rouge, Okla.—Opalousas Amuse. Co., $60,000. Adolph Jacobs, V. A. Sachse, Alex Bloomenthiel.

Coming

"The RIDDLE MAN"

The Biggest Box Office Attraction Ever Offered to the Motion Picture Exhibitors in America

REMOVAL NOTICE

F. A. A. DAHME

ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATOR

Now at
220 W. 42nd St.
Room 502 Bryant 6796

Joseph R. Miles Motion Picture Enterprises

LLOYD'S FILM STORAGE CORPORATION

Now in Their New Home

126-132 West 46th Street

Phone Bryant 5600

At Your Service

TWENTY-FOUR HOURS A DAY EXCEPT SUNDAY

THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES

Twelve Vaults in Long Island City

Free Delivery Service Between
Customers' Offices and Vaults

FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does Everything to a Picture Except Produce It

FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of Every Description for Dramatic and Industrial Productions

USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We Buy and Sell Used Film in Good Condition

CONSULT US

BECAUSE

If you use

"COMEDYART"

You need nothing else
beside your feature

COMEDY NOVELTY SCENIC
DIVERSITY CLASS

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

the BRADS ET of FILMD M

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 34 Tuesday, May 4, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Lesser as Exhibitor

Man Says He Plans to Center on Theater End of Business.

ol Lesser, well known state right- and more recently prominent in producing and exhibiting end of business, stated yesterday that planned to concentrate all of his rgy and time in the exhibiting end the business. He said that he ned to eventually dispose of the tracts he now holds with Annette lerman, George Beban and eeler Oakman.

Until that time, however, his pro- tion plans are going ahead. "What men Love" is the name of the Kellerman production to be fin- d. George Beban's "One in a lion," which was started last Sep- ber, is now being cut and edited the market.

o deals have as yet been closed the product and stars Lesser and associates control. If Lesser can- get what he wants in a distribu- contract he will distribute him-

That Something" is a picture Les- has just taken over. This will ent out as a road show attraction 20 companies touring the coun- The film has already opened at k Sennett's Victory, Los Angeles. production is said to have the port of the Rotary Clubs of the ntry.

esser will remain in town until rsday and then return to the st. He will pay New York an- r visit, however, with a print of Kellerman production.

Roth Here

ugene Roth of San Francisco is own at the Claridge. He is inter- d in a new company with Sam k, as noted.

Harry Leonhardt Here

arry Leonhardt, formerly of the fornia Theater, Los Angeles, is own. He came East with A. J. aghan of the A. J. Callaghan d.

Shurtleff Here

harles C. Shurtleff arrived in town erday morning bringing with a print of the first Shurtleff pro- ion, "Burning Daylight," the first he Jack London series. Metro ase.

Too busy this week to write the letter in the back of the book. Spot it in Wid's Sunday Issue of May 16th.—Advt.

"Search the house for the papers. I will see that he does not interfere." —Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction—Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

Action Wednesday

Frank Rembusch is due in town to-night or tomorrow morning and will confer to-morrow with Louis Blumenthal and John Mannheimer of the special committee of three, for a meeting later in the month with executives of producing companies to secure their attitude with regard to ownership of theaters. The Special Committee of Ten appointed by exhibitors at the recent Chicago convention will meet these executives and report back to the Cleveland convention regarding their position.

Efforts are being made by the special sub-committee to have Alfred S. Black change the convention date of the M. P. E. of A. to Cleveland on the same days that the other exhibitors' convention is to be held, June 8-10. The Black convention is now set for Chicago, about the end of June.

Zeidman with Cohan

Sidney Cohan arrived in town yesterday and put up at the Gotham. He said he had picked up some important material for his three stars, Dustin Farnum, Mae Marsh and Lew Cody. He also secured, he said, the Robert W. Serviss novel, "Trail of '98," which will be made with an all-star cast.

He announced that on last Saturday Bennie Zeidman joined the Cohan organization in charge of the scenario and publicity departments. Zeidman has been general manager for the Chaplin unit of the Louis B. Mayer organization.

Brockwell to Rest

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Gladys Brockwell, who recently severed ocnnections with Fox, has no definite plans for the future. She will first rest.

Too busy this week to write the letter in the back of the book. Spot it in Wid's Sunday Issue of May 16th.—Advt.

Demand a Removal

Southern California Exhibitors Want "Big 4" Man Changed.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—The Theater Owners' Asso., Inc., headquarters here has sent a letter to all its exhibitor members asking either a resignation of the member or agreeing with the association's policy demanding the removal of the local United Artists manager, Walter Rand.

A resolution adopted at a recent meeting was as follows:

"That the members of the Theater Owners' Asso. refuse to do business with the United Artists Corp. Exchange until their request of long standing for Mr. Rand's removal as manager be granted.

"Therefore until such time as you are further notified, you are instructed to transact no business with the United Artists Corp beyond the release of 'Pollyanna.'" (This does not include the picture "Pollyanna.")

Hiram Abrams stated yesterday that the matter was thrashed out when he was in Los Angeles a short time ago.

Abrams said that a prominent member of the exhibitor association had since booked "Down on the Farm" and had done tremendous business with it.

Agreement With Washburn

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—It is generally understood here that A. J. Callaghan has a tentative agreement with Bryant Washburn.

This was first reported in WID'S DAILY last week.

Faire Binney With Carpentier

Faire Binney is in the cast supporting Georges Carpentier in his Robertson-Cole production.

It is reported that Miss Binney has been signed by a well-known distributing organization.

Edith Hallor With Capellani

Edith Hallor has the leading female role in "Inside the Cup," the Winston Churchill story now being filmed for Cosmopolitan by Albert Capellani.

Miss Hallor was announced some time ago to appear in six productions for Republic, who said yesterday that as long as the six productions were delivered to Republic other outside films could be made.

All kinds of GOOD PRINTING
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

ol. XII No. 34 Tues. May 4, 1920 Price 5 Cents

opyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, nc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., ew York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and ILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-rer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President id Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and usiness Manager.
ntered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, the post office at New York, N. Y., under ie act of March 3, 1879.
erms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 onths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign. 5.00
Subscribers should remit with order.
ddress all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt. 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
ditorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, h Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
amous Players ..	68	72	70
do pfd.	84	85	85
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
oew's, Inc.	28	30	29½
riangle 7-16		½	½
nit. Pict. Prod...	3	3	3
Vorld Film.....¼		¼	¼
, 2nd pfd.....½		⅝	⅝

*Last sale Wednesday.

Gibbons, Short Subject Manager

Miles F. Gibbons is now short subct sales manager for Pathe.
Gibbons was formerly branch manger at Pittsburgh and has been cceeded by Frank C. Bonistall.

Eleanor Field, business manager the Walcamp-Universal serial mpany, recently returned from the rient, is in town.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

Wid's Daily says:

"From the start to the finish, the second of Booth Tarkington's 'Edgar' comedies keeps the laughs coming at a rate that insures its success in almost any house."

Goldwyn

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Edward Sloman, director, and principals of the cast of "The Mutiny," have returned from San Francisco where they made scenes aboard the sailing vessel Mary Winkleman for the second Jack London story C. E. Shurtleff is filming for Metro.

Jack Pickford has started on "The Man Who Had Everything," by Ben Ames Williams. In his supporting cast are Priscilla Bonner, Lionel Belmore, Alec Francis, Shannon Day and Wm. Machin.

Work has commenced on Mary Roberts Rinehart's story, "Empire Builders," under direction of E. Mason Hopper at Goldwyn.

Mason N. Litson started work yesterday directing Booth Tarkington's boy story, "Camping Out," one of the Edgar series.

GAUSMAN.

To Introduce Sunday Show Bill

Brockton, Mass.—Councilman Oliver B. Poole has introduced an order in the city council asking that the mayor and aldermen be instructed as licensing authorities to grant permits for Sunday picture shows. In 1910 Brockton had Sunday shows, but since then they have been discontinued.

Shea Buys Out Ryerson Co.

Rochester, N. Y. — The Shea Amusement Co. of Buffalo has secured the controlling interest in the Ryerson Co. of Rochester which operates the Regent, Piccadilly and Gordon.

Frohman Serial Finished

Frohman Amusement Corp. has completed "The Invisible Ray," its new serial, with Ruth Clifford and Jack Sherrill. Method of release undetermined.

Studio Ready by November

The Municipal Studio in Long Island City in which R. A. Walsh, Morris Kohn and Nathan Burkan are interested, is expected to be completed and ready for occupancy by November.

Cheaper Lamps

As the result of a move engineered by the Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce, members of this organization will be able to purchase incandescent lights at about 31 per cent lower than present market prices.

Ince Splits Team

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Thomas H. Ince has split the Douglas MacLean-Doris May team. Hereafter he will star each separately.

Barrymore Vehicle Changed.

Lionel Barrymore's first production for First National will be "The Master Mind." The original production slated was "The Devil's Garden," which will be his second.

Armstrong Here.

Edward Armstrong, western district manager for Universal, is in town for a few days.

He leaves the end of the week to install a new system of poster supply and distribution in all Universal exchanges.

Sennett Plans Long Runs

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Mack Sennett, who owns the Victory theater, is having the theater renovated to inaugurate long-run feature pictures.

Just what product will be used cannot be determined. Evidently Sennett's five reelers for First National cannot play his theater, since the local runs are at the Kinema.

Niblo-Bennett Still With Ince

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Enid Bennett and her husband-director, Fred Niblo, are under contract to Thomas H. Ince for some time. Nothing has been said about a future affiliation.

There have been considerable reports in circulation relative to Miss Bennett's new connection. Her contract with Ince is believed to expire in July.

Selznick Signs Martha Mansfield

Myron Selznick has signed Martha Mansfield, "Follies" girl.

Miss Mansfield's last screen work was opposite John Barrymore in "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde."

Cuts and Flashes

The Capitol has booked the series of Harold Lloyd comedies.

Ida Darling is now a membe the Selznick stock company.

Julia Burnham has joined the N ro scenario staff in the 61st Studi

Allen Ruoff has been made art rector for the Nazimova-Metro ductions.

Shrader, Pathe District Mana

Paul Brunet has appointed R. Shrader, Central Western dist manager.

Shrader's former position as dianapolis branch manager has b filled by P. B. Elliott.

Mack Leaves Hill Theater

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Newark, N. J.—A. Johnny M has disposed of his interest in Hill Theater Corp., which oper the Hill theater, and has resigned general manager.

New England to Marson

Arrangements have been comple by R. D. Marson of the R. D. M son Attractions Co., Boston, and Reelcraft, whereby his exchanges distribute future Reelcraft series releases in the New England sta beginning with the Texas Gui westerns, the Billy Franey come and the Milburn Moranti comedi

Any photo-play may be a financial success,—but it is only SURE of being profitable when it is exploited with RITCHEY posters!

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y., Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

We Are Experts

We modestly admit it—but it's the truth. Twenty years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture industry have given our staff a thorough knowledge of YOUR problems. Our advice on insurance problems is yours for the asking and we are as close to you as your phone.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Inc. Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

Incorporations

any—Broken Wing Corpora- New York. Capital, $1,000. Di- rs, Sargent Aborn, L. M. Gold- and Paul Dickey, 1451 Broad-any — Melni Amusement Co., York. Capital, $5,000. Direct- race Metz, Ted Metz and Argo utchinson, 354 West 56th St.

any—De Lyons & Co., New Capital, $15,000. Directors, l Erichsen, Louis de Lyons tacy W. Kapp, 15 Park Row. attan.

any—Mardi Gras Movies, Inc., York. Capital, $15,000. Di- s, Peter Cachapes, John Car- and Freda Freeman, Mardi Hotel, Brooklyn.

any—The C. M. Van Curen ctions Corp., Boliver N. Y. l, $100,000. Directors, Samuel lvy, C. M. Van Curen and Ed- L. Hodnett, Boliver, N. Y.

New Theaters

Houses Completed

Okla.—McSwain to open

kwell, Okla.—Opera House, 75,000, opened.

lo, Okla.—Empress, Dr. H. Keown, opened.

n, Texas—Freeman and Mil- ned house.

nbia, S. C.—Imperial, J. S. manager, opened.

Houses Reopened

delphia, Pa.—Royal Palace, sbord, owner Crystal Palace, d.

r, Alberta—Mirror, Thomas ka, reopened.

House Changes

Managers Changes

lo, N. Y.—A. R. Sherry, for- Shea's Hippodrome, to man- adway.

ouis, Mo.—Sam Schwartz at loah.

ouis, Mo.—Bunns Derby at e.

ouis, Mo.—Charles McDon- Fox's Liberty, formerly at se in Elizabeth, N. J.

Okla.—Dewy Printy, Majes-

Okla.—Clarence Harryman

Smith Returns
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—E. J. Smith, general manager of the Jesse D. Hampton Prod., has returned after a seven weeks' stay in New York.

Take Over Capital Exchange

The Famous Pictures Sales Co. has taken over the Capital exchange and will also distribute the Tyrad output in New York.

Hoxie in Western Features
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Jack Hoxie, who originally was to appear in "The Son of Tarzan," the new National Film serial, will make a series of western features instead.

Minnesota Slide Co. Opens Office

Minneapolis, Minn.—An office has been opened by the Minnesota Slide Co. at 345-46 Loeb Arcade, in connection with the Minnesota Theater Advertising Service.

Ranshaw With Masterfilms

Detroit, Mich.—George Ranshaw, formerly assistant manager with Fox, is now in charge of state bookings for Independent Masterfilms, Inc.

Art Blankmeyer Dies Suddenly

Detroit, Mich.—Art Blankmeyer, well known in Michigan film circles, died suddenly recently. He was actively engaged in the picture business at the time, being connected with the Gratiot Theater and General Advertising Company.

Universal Players Finish
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Marie Walcamp and Harland Tucker, the stars in the new Universal serial produced in the Far East, have completed their contracts with that organization.

Kathleen O'Connor has also completed her contract with Universal and has been engaged to appear in "Whispering Smith" for "Flying A."

Michael Replaces Cotton

Minneapolis, Minn.—Carl Michael has replaced Robert Cotton, who resigned, as manager of the local Republic exchange.

Wheeling Has Sunday Shows

Wheeling, W. Va.—All motion picture houses are now giving shows on Sunday.

Selznick Takes Solax Studio

Selznick has taken over the Solax studio in Fort Lee. The lease becomes effective on May 10.

This makes the third Selznick plant in the east, the other two being in Fort Lee and in the Bronx.

Bowman With James

Chicago, Ill.—John Bowman will be in charge of Arthur James' local office.

Ushers Wear Denim

Chicago, Ill.—The ushers at the Castle are wearing blue denim overalls.

Loew Building Another

Tacoma, Wash.—A house will be erected by the Loew-Ackerman and Harris interests at a cost of $350,000 and seating 1,800.

Forced to Close on Sunday

Pittsburgh, Pa. — The Fenray, which it was planned to open on Sunday, will be obliged to remain closed on the Sabbath, due to opposition by the ministers.

Unity Makes Purchases

Chicago, Ill.—Among the pictures purchased by Unity Photoplays for Illinois and Indiana are "The Hawk's Trail," "Frivolous Wives," 12 "Tex" mystery stories, "The Window Opposite," and for Illinois, exclusive of Cook County ,"The Fall of Babylon" and "The Mother and the Law."

Roselle With Triangle in Chicago

Chicago, Ill.—L. A. Roselle, who was with World for four years, has been made manager of the local Triangle exchange.

Release Helen Gibson Pictures

Chicago, Ill.—The Helen Gibson two-reelers are being released in Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana by the Reelcraft exchanges in Chicago, Indianapolis and Milwaukee.

New Pathe Series

Pathe will distribute a series of two reel westerns featuring Young Buffalo. The release will start beginning July 11

There are five pictures in the series, which will be released weekly.

Superior Gets "Confession"

Chicago, Ill.—The rights to "The Confession" for Illinois and Indiana have been secured by Superior Screen Service.

New Republic Manager

Indiapolis—D. Williston has been made branch manager for Republic Distributing here.

Another Selznick Drive

The Selznick field force has a new sales drive under way during the months of May and June. These will be called the "Sam E. Morris and Charles R. Rogers Months." Republic is also included.

Additional Unit for Metro

Los Angeles—Metro is now getting into shape the studio at Cahuenga and Romaine Sts., formerly occupied by the Capital Film Co. The Buster Keaton comedies will be made here. Lou Anger will act as production manager.

Balaban and Katz Move
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago—Balaban and Katz have moved their executive offices from the Mallers Bldg., 5 South Wabash Ave., to Suite 843-846, State Lake Bldg.

Send Us Your Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
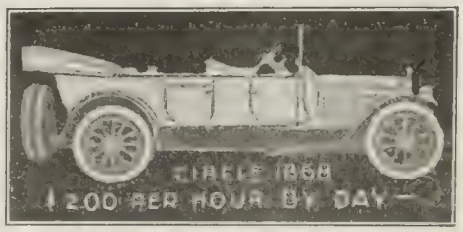
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.



AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Fred Schaefer
(Vitagraph)
Continuity & Titles
Continuity: "The Sea Rider."
Titles: "Dollars and the Woman," "The Sea Rider," "The Silent Avenger" (Serial).

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET, NEW YORK, U.S.A.

Bessie Love

with her expressive eyes and dainty charm, was directed by David Smith in "CUPID FORECLOSES" and "THE LITTLE BOSS" The LEADING MAN—

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

"The Movie Finger Writes"

Under this caption last Sunday's Times says editorially, in part:

"The fact that the moving picture magnates are rapidly extending their control over the producing playhouses of Broadway has its significance, certainly. In its character as an industry, as indistinguished from an art, the screen is asserting its control over the spoken drama. Plot rises supreme above the varied and delicate portrayal of character, mere bodily action above the infinitely subtle revelations of human speech—above dramatic literature, in short.

"The triumph of the moving picture industry is signalized by the fact that it has won the citadels of the Empire and the Lyceum Theaters. This marks an epoch in the American stage, no less. These are the houses in which contemporary drama first became literate. * * *

In conclusion the editorial says:

"There can be no sure future for dramatic art except by means of a theater permanently endowed. The passing of the Empire and the Lyceum is an added argument of force for the revival of the New Theater movement."

Burr Takes More Space

Charles C. Burr has taken office space on the floor above that occupied by Arthur Beck at 133 W. 44th St., where Master Films, Inc., producers of the "Torchy" comedies, will be housed.

Leach Purchases Moose Jaw Theater
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Calgary, Alta.—The purchase of the Savoy at Moose Jaw, Sask., by K. M. Leach, owner of the Regent, is announced. It is understood the deal involves a sum exceeding $200,000.

It is stated that the purchase of this theater is part of a plan of Leach's to establish a chain of theaters under his direction in the west. It is understood that he will shortly visit the east to arrange for special productions and may also visit other western towns with a view to acquiring theaters.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Buffalo, N. Y.—A new stunt was tried in conjunction with the presentation of "Excuse My Dust," starring Wallace Reid at Shea's Hippodrome. At one of the most thrilling moments the screen was raised and a Stutz racer was seen on a treadmill going at a high rate of speed. It added a certain touch of realism, heightened suspense and gave the spectators something to talk about.

Similar schemes should be possible elsewhere when presenting an automobile film. Probably, the live exhibitor will be able to arrange a tie-up with some establishment dealing in machines, thereby minimizing the expense.

Rambeau at Broadway

Marjorie Rambeau in "The Fortune Teller," produced by Albert Capellani and released by Robertson-Cole, opens at Moss' Broadway on Sunday for an indefinite run.

Reid at Brooklyn Strand

The Brooklyn Strand will for the first time since the week of Dec. 7 show a Famous Players production next week.

It will be "The Dancin' Fool" with Wallace Reid. The last Paramount picture at the Strand was "Hawthorne of the U. S. A.," also a Reid production.

"Doc" Willat With National
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—C. A. Willat has been appointed general manager of the studios of National Film. "Doc" Willat," as he is more generally known, is a brother of Irvin Willat. Victor A. Nulty will continue as production manager at National.

Morosco Plant Finishes Two
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Two productions just completed at the Morosco studio are "A Full House" with Bryant Washburn and "Miss Hobbs" with Wanda Hawley, her first for Realart.

Seeks Data on Deposits
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Detroit, Mich.—The Michigan Exhibitors' official organ of the Michigan Motion Picture Exhibitors' League says:

"Tell us how much money you have up in deposits.

"Quite a few have sent us this information, but we need a lot more.

"Tell us also what trouble you have had in the past getting credit, refund or service for deposits."

This is interesting in view of the information being sought by the M. P. E. A. Inc. on the operations of the Film Clubs for the Department of Justice.

Every sporting editor and every editorial writer in America is a press agent for

GEORGES CARPENTIER

And every person who can read is eagerly awaiting an opportunity to see him in the intriguing romance of American society

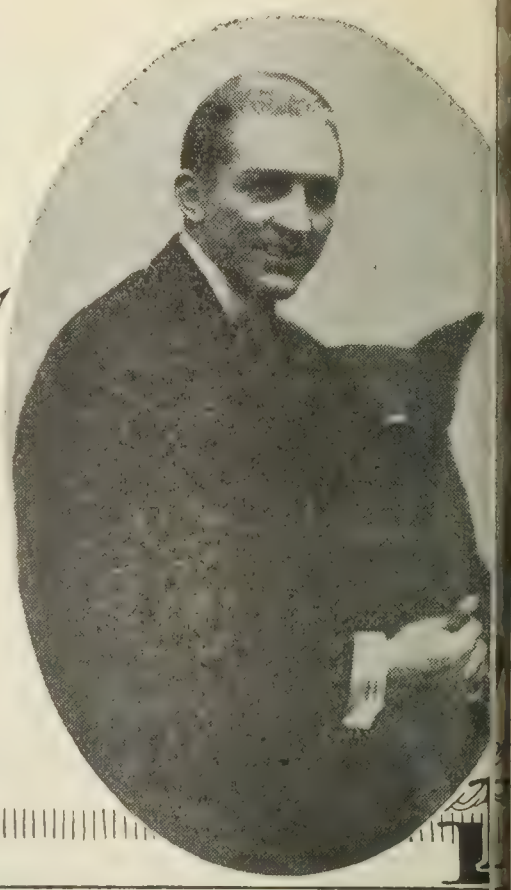
Produced for

ROBERTSON-COLE

Directed by

John G. Adolfi

A MILLION DOLLAR ATTRACTION



SIMPLE SOULS

MOVED

Office to our Laboratory
AT 413 W. 41st ST.

ERNEST STERI

(The Titleman)

Phone Longacre 523

"The Aristocrat of Title Makers

FOR THE SAKE OF your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—

"COMEDYART"

offer them more entertainment than any other single release

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N

H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 35 Wednesday, May 5, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Famous in India

[1]00,000 Corporation Formed by Syndicate of Anglo-Indian-American Interests.

he formation of a $3,000,000 cor-ation for the production and dis-ution of motion pictures in India announced yesterday by Adolph or, president of the Famous Play-Lasky Corporation.

he new company is known as the an Empire Famous Players-Las-Film Company, Ltd., and in or-izing it the Famous Players-ky Corporation is acting in con-tion with prominent British and an bankers.

rank Meyer, assistant secretary amous Players-Lasky, and Tark-on Baker, also prominent in mo- picture production, will leave tly for Bombay, where they will d a studio and laboratory.

fter the organization of the pro-ng plant, a stock company of known American film players be sent to India, where, in con-tion with native Indians, they produce Paramount pictures in an settings.

addition to producing pictures ndia, the new company also will a distributing organization, pat-ed after the Famous Players ex-hge system in this country. Amer- methods and equipment will ail throughout in the production distribution of the pictures, Mr. or declared. The pictures pro-ed in India also will be available

(Continued on Page 4)

Laemmle Due Today

arl Laemmle of Universal is due New York today from California.

Crandall a Visitor

arry Crandall of Washington is own.

owers Sells Gaumont Property

A. Powers, it was stated by his e yesterday, has sold to a party amed the studios, laboratories other realty which he purchased the Gaumont Company last ek.

Trifles

Selznick Enterprises was incorporated at Dover, Del., yesterday with $60,000,000 capital. L. J. was asked about it. "Oh, I don't keep tab on little things like that," said he. The new corporation will be the holding company for the various Selznick organizations.

"Madame is very beautiful. She will conquer all hearts tonight."—Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon," by Harold MacGrath, a Louis B. Mayer-made First National attraction.—Advt.

No French Embargo

The National Association has been informed by Jack S. Connolly, Washington representative, that the embargo placed on some 170 odd commodities by the French Government, including "cinematograph films," does not include pictures in bulk.

Last week when the French decree was published, WID'S DAILY stated that the embargo was taken as being applicable to raw stock importations only. This is borne out by the association's information from the Department of Commerce.

Cohan's Rialto Burns
(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—Fire started about two o'clock yesterday morning in the Rialto on Main St., owned by George Cohan.

The theater was practically destroyed and the loss is variously estimated from $150,000 to $250,000. The house was a first run and seated about 800 people.

More Millions
(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—An $11,000,000 company has been formed here called Screen Plays Productions. The Corporation Trust Co. put through the corporation.

Another corporation backed by Washington capital is the Congressional Film Corp., which has been chartered at $250,000. Those interested, according to the incorporation papers, are J. A. Fitzgerald, E. S. Mack and N. B. Corrigan, all of Washington.

Zukor Leaves for West

To attend the wedding of his son in Chicago, Adolph Zukor left town yesterday.

Bonns Leaves for Coast

Eddie Bonns, new sales manager for the C. L. Chester Prod., left yesterday for California to confer with Chester.

Brunton in East

Negotiations Under Way for New Studio Around New York—M. C. Levee Here for Deal.

Negotiations will get under wa within a week which may result the erection of a studio in the Ea operated along the same lines of th Robert Brunton plant in the Wes M. C. Levee, vice-president of th Robert Brunton Studios, Inc., is New York stopping at the Commo dore for the purpose of getting thes negotiations under way.

It is known that wealthy finan cial interests are impressed with th proposition. The return to New Yor of the president of the company th underwrote the Brunton stock issu in the west is awaited in New Yor to start the conferences.

Real estate scouts are now ou looking for a suitable site for th proposed studio.

In Hollywood what is said to b the largest stage in the world ha been completed. It is 300 feet lon and 135 feet wide, is devoid of a obstructions such as posts, and pe mits the erection of a three-sto building in it. Levee said yesterda that large street scenes in their en tirety can be accommodated in th stage.

Fifteen companies are now at wor in the Brunton plant.

Levee will remain here for thre weeks while the negotiations are o

"Humoresque" Given Showing

A private showing of "Humo esque" by Fannie Hurst, in whic Alma Rubens is featured was give by Cosmopolitan in the Grand Ba Room of the Ritz Carlton last nigh

Rork Here

Sam Rork, general manager of th Katherine MacDonald Pict. Corp and also interested in a new produ ing company with Eugene Roth San Francisco, arrived in town o Monday. Rork was under the weath er yesterday, and spent the day rea ing books for material for the ne company, as yet unnamed.

Eugene Roth, however, said ye terday that was possible that "Th Texas Steer," the Charles Hoyt pla might be sold, and the first work t be put under production would b the James Oliver Curwood story "Golden Snare."

Mr. Roth, while interested in th production company, is still manage of the California, Portola and Imp rial, which, as noted several month ago, changed hands, Famous Player securing a controlling interest.

Want anything printed?
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 35 Wed. May 5, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
J. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 8th Floor. Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	70	72¾	72⅝
do pfd.	84	84	84
Goldwyn	23½	23½	23½
Loew's, Inc.	29¼	30¾	30¾
Triangle	7-16	½	½
Unit. Pict. Prod...	2	2¾	2
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd. ...	½	⅝	⅝

Last sale Wednesday, April 28.

Hutchinson in Town

S. S. Hutchinson, president of the American Film Co., the "Flying A," is in town, stopping at the Astor.

American Film is making from 12 to 18 productions a year and is featuring the story, not the star.

Its distributing arrangement with Pathe has some time to run.

Hutchinson will remain here about a week and then return to Chicago and the coast.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Exhibitors' Trade Review says this about "Edgar's Hamlet":

"The audience at the Capitol Theatre this week greeted the picture with hearty enthusiasm and it should be met with the same enthusiasm wherever audiences are human."

Goldwyn

At Broadway Theaters

This Is How First Run Houses Are Presenting Their Programs This Week.

The following illustrates how the leading Broadway theaters presented their programs this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

Rivoli

The Rivoli bill is composed of eight numbers this week instead of the usual six or seven. The number which is attracting the lion's share of interest is the first half of the Robertson-Cole picture, "The Bottom of the World," showing Sir Ernest Shackleton's adventures on his last exploring trip which nearly ended in disaster. The pictures are shown without musical accompaniment and the interest that they command is extraordinary. The overture is Karl Goldmark's "Sakuntala" and the Shackleton pictures follow. Willy B. Stahl of the orchestra renders "The Indian Beauty," his own composition, on the violin before a special stage setting. The Rivoli pictorial is rather short because of the extra feature. Martin Brefel, tenor, renders "O Paradise," from "L'Africaine," and "The Dancin' Fool," with Wallace Reid, follows. Number 7 is Harold Lloyd's latest, "An Eastern Westerner." The concluding organ solo is "Toccata in G Major."

Rialto

Three very popular musical numbers make the Rialto program attractive despite the disappointing feature. A matinee audience made the entire orchestra take a bow after the overture "La Boheme" was rendered. The magazine scored and Betty Anderson's rendering of "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms" brought rounds of applause. The feature is "The False Road" with Enid Bennett. Following Edoardo Albano, baritone, renders the prologue from "Pagliacci." "Petticoats and Pants," a Christie comedy, and the organ solo conclude

Criterion

With "Why Change Your Wife" the center of attraction, the program at the Criterion remains practically the same as it was during the opening week, with the exception that the musical and vocal numbers have been considerably improved upon.

Broadway

Radiosoul's "A Man There Was" and Mack Sennett's "Down on the Farm" remain as the features at this house. Excepting for a brief "girlie" review the bill was run without special attractions.

Strand

Zane Grey's "The Desert of Wheat" has been picturized and is being presented at the Strand this week under the title of "Riders of the Dawn." As is the custom, the theater's orchestra did a good deal to heighten the dramatic value of the production.

The overture was "Mignon" and other musical numbers were the Russian Cathedral Quartette singing "Rise Thou Radiant Sun" and "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms"; Amanda Brown singing "Pearl of Brazil," and the organ solo of "Cavalleria Rusticana" selections.

Strand Topical Review and Harold Lloyd in "An Eastern Westerner" comprised the remaining screen offerings.

Capitol

a good part of the program at the Capitol, Richard Wagner's "Tannhauser" occupies the overture consisting of selections from "Tannhauser" and Karl Jorn is featured in a reproduction of part of the opera. An elaborate setting and brilliant effects combined with splendid vocal and instrumental music give Wagner's famous opera a fitting presentation.

The "Topics of the Day" and Capitol News preceded the new Mack Sennett comedy, "The Gingham Girl." R. A. Walsh's first production for Mayflower, "Deep Purple," is the feature.

Veteran Actor Hurt

Los Angeles—Herbert Standing was rather badly hurt on Monday when a street car struck him. Standing has done some work for Lasky. He is 74 years old.

BENJAMIN B. HAMPTON'S
Super-Production
"RIDERS OF THE DAWN"
A photoplay of the novel
"THE DESERT OF WHEAT"
by Zane Grey
Breaking attendance records at
New York Strand Theatre
where it is now running
To be released June 1st
Watch for complete announcement in next issue of WID'S DAILY

athé News

LULU, HAWAII—Art and originality the annual kite contest held by the students at Mills School.

CE, ITALY—High church officials populace in ceremonies on St. Mark's honoring meeting of Allied diplo- St. Remo.

IKI BEACH, HAWAII—"Surfing st exhilarating sport of all," declares of Wales as he goes "surf-riding" in trigger canoe—the Prince is in last canoe.

YORK CITY—40,000 of them! il hosts in "Loyalty Parade" start Week campaign to interest the public and their activities.

IN, IRELAND—First pictures of demonstration in Ireland against the nment of Sinn Feiners on "hunger —troops in streets prepare to check by Prison, where the 104 prisoners starved to death in a "hunger strike."),000 gather in front of the Prison and solemn prayer for the salvation of risoned men.

hold back the angry throngs de- the release of the prisoners.

Maud McBride represents the Sinn in a plea to the Lord Mayor of KEEPSIE, N. Y.—Undergrads e Seniors of 1920 in celebrating rs' Day at Vassar College.

YORK CITY—Inaugurate George gton! Thousands in Wall Street eproduction of this historic event, on the very spot it occurred 131 years

OME, NAVY!—Warships back from Battleships of Atlantic Fleet in im- array steam into New York Harbor eturn from target practice in South.

oday

s. Drew in Her Own Comedy

the first time in a year Mrs. Drew will appear on the in one of her own comedies, Emotional Miss Vaughn." It released by Pathe May 30th.

Simmons Goes on Tour

H. Simmons of New York Mas- s, Inc., has left for a trip h the state booking the Car- Beauty Show in conjunction "A Burlesque on Carmen," g Charles Chaplin.

SIMPLE SOULS

Chadwick Incorporates

Albany—The Chadwick Pictures Corp. has been formed here with a capitalization of $5,000.

This is the company which will handle the Briggs Comedies and independent productions for I. E. Chadwick of Merit Film, as noted.

Says He Has English Authors

J. J. Livingston stated yesterday that he had secured all the literary works of Keeble Howards and Baroness Von Hutton, English authors.

Livingston has taken over the entire second floor at 1440 Broadway.

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM
TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
343-347 W. 39th ST., NEW YORK, N. Y.
1044 Camp Street, New Orleans, La.
255 N. 13th Street, Philadelphia, Pa
64 W. Randolph St., Chicago, Ill.

JOSEPH R. MILES
MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES
LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in their new home
126-132 West 46th Street — Phone Bryant 5600
AT YOUR SERVICE twenty four hours a day except Sunday
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve vaults in Long Island City
Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does everything to a picture except produce it
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We buy and sell used film in good condition—
CONSULT US

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

MOVED
Office to our Laboratory
AT 413 W. 41st ST.
ERNEST STERN
(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523
"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. CUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel Circle 1298

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
ALLAN A. LOWNES
GEN. MGR.

The Most Charming Player on the Screen

This was the name of the contest conducted by—
"THE MOTION PICTURE CLASSIC"
1,886,007—Votes were cast
1,866,007—Friends
1,866,007—Boosters
A six months' National Competition WON BY

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

Report Fewer Thefts

National Association Committee is Busy Rounding Up Illicit Film Brokers.

The Film Theft Committee of the National Association reports a decrease in the number of film thefts in New York. It cites the following cases of recently "nipped in the bud" attempts at thefts and recovery of productions:

A Cuban, said to have always been a large buyer of stolen films, came here the latter part of March to replenish his stock. Until this visit he had always been able to take back with him a large number of films. This Cuban dealer for the first time was obliged to return to his home without taking a single picture.

Recently a Metro print of "The Brat" and a Famous Players print of a Mack Sennett comedy were stolen from the lobby of a Brooklyn theater. Both prints were recovered through the Film Theft Committee.

One of the large companies was about to release a reissue of an old feature. One of the old prints had been stolen, and there was an elaborate plan to flood the South and Central American countries with copies at the time the home company released the reissue. The missing print was recovered before the plans could be executed.

A print of "Let's Get a Divorce," a Billie Burke picture, stolen from the New York exchange of Famous Players a year ago, was recovered in January. About the same time a Mack Sennett comedy, stolen a year ago, was recovered.

A more recent recovery was that of a Fox feature, Peggy Hyland in "Her Debt of Honor," stolen at the time of the removal of the Fox offices to the new studio. There was a recovery from one of the other large exchanges of four feature films before the thieves had time to dispose of them.

Only recently a plot for the wholesale robbing of one of the large exchanges was frustrated.

Famous in India

(Continued from Page 1)

for exhibition in this and other countries.

"When one realizes that in the Indian Empire alone," said Mr. Zukor, "there are 400,000,000 people, one can get an idea of the vast possibilities which lie in the production of pictures in India. Of course, our pictures are already being distributed in India, but we wish to make pictures which will be closer to the thought and lives of the Indian people. It is practically impossible to produce pictures in this country that will accomplish this. It is our policy to make pictures that will fit into the lives of peoples of all countries. This is the reason for the establishment of a producing company in England and the erection of a new studio in London, which, when I left London two weeks ago, was all ready for operation.

"We now have studios in Los Angeles, New York and London, and we hope to have our first picture completed in India by Christmas.

"Pictures made in India will have settings amid scenery that practically has never been brought to the photoplay screen. All of the picturesque life and surroundings of the Indian will form the background for the pictures which we plan to make there."

Tarkington Baker, a short time back, announced that he had secured the Booth Tarkington material for the screen while it was reported that he would make a series of comedies with Bert Williams.

Mr. Baker had not arrived at his home at the hour of going to press last night and so could not be reached for a statement as to how his affiliation with Famous Players would affect his own producing plans.

SIMPLE SOULS

FOR USE ON LOCATION!
Practically new 60x40 ft. Gable End Tent, United States Army Standard canvas, steel pins and cables; will seat 500 people. Price, $850. Cost today, $1,200. Address
R. H. ESSELSTYN,
24 Eighth Avenue
Phone Hanover 141 Brooklyn, N. Y.

HELP WANTED.
LEDGER CLERK AND BILLING CLERK—Permanent positions for those who have had practical business experience in the Moving Picture Business.
ARROW FILM CORPORATION
220 West 42nd St., N. Y. C.

If—
GEORGES CARPENTIER
IS WORTH
A Quarter of a million for one conte in the boxing rin how much can l make for you in intriguing roma ce of American So iety.
Produced for
ROBERTSON-COLI
Directed by
JOHN G. ADOLF
A Million Dollar Attracti

REMOVAL NOTICE
F. A. A. DAHME
ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATOR
Now at
220 W. 42nd St.
Room 502 Bryant 6796

FOR RENT
Milligan Studio's
(Formerly The Kalem)
Palisade Ave. & Dey St.
Cliffside, N. J.
Cliffside 789
Phone—ROY SHELDON

BECAUSE
If you use
"COMEDYART"
You need nothing else beside your feature
COMEDY NOVELTY SCENIC
DIVERSITY CLASS
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

e BRADSTREET FILMDOM WID'S DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 36 Thursday, May 6, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Crandall Denies

rt That He Has Sold Out His Theaters in Washington

rry Crandall, the well-known nington exhibitor, who has 11 es in that city, while in New yesterday took occasion to reg- an emphatic denial to the re- circulated from Washington he had disposed of his theaters. of the reports accredited Cran- with selling out to Goldwyn. ake my denial as emphatic as ble," said he.

Alexander Leaves Universal

omas Alexander has resigned as city director for the Universal strial Department. His duties be apportioned among the pres- members of the staff.

Change at Rivoli

e Rivoli will show Dorothy Dal- n "The Dark Mirror" next week ad of Ethel Clayton in "A Lady ove."

George Carr Dead

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

ading, Pa.—George Carr, of the of Carr and Schadd, is dead from monia after a brief illness.

Callaghan Here

J. Callaghan, producer of the ie Love Productions, is here California.

Zukor Marriage Tonight

icago—The marriage of Dorothy of Kansas City and Eugene r, son of Adolph Zukor, will eld tonight at the Blackstone l.

nother First Run for Brooklyn

e Keith vaudeville interests are uild a new Orpheum theater at alb Ave., Prince and Gold Sts., klyn, which when finished will gurate a moving picture policy e old Orpheum, Rockwell Place Fulton St., in Brooklyn's "down- n section." The old Orpheum is ss the street from the Mark nd with both theaters facing on on St., the main artery in that on of Brooklyn.

e old Orpheum with a picture y will mean the first real com- ion that the Mark Strand has to meet. There is no strictly pic- theater in that section of Brook- and the nearest competition of importance is Loew's Metropoli Keeney's theaters, which show bination vaudeville and pictures. he Strand is a First National ter while Famous Players has no usive representation in that sec- of Brooklyn.

"She is my sister, The Yellow Typhoon, but she shall not escape."—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a Louis B. Mayer-made, First National attraction.—Advt.

Tri-Star's Second

Claire Whitney has been signed by the Tri-Star Pictures Corp. to be starred in a series of features under the direction of Joseph Byron Totten and Joseph W. Smiley. Miss Whitney will begin work July 15. The contract is for three years.

Negotiations are under way for the placing of two more stars under contracts. Ethel Barrymore is the company's first star.

Selznick Will Not Build on Coast

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—From an authoritative source, it is learned that Selznick will not build a studio here to house west coast producing units, all reports to the contrary. Selznick, it is understood, has a long term contract with the Brunton Studios where his companies are at work now.

Marguerite Namara, wife of Guy Bolton, has completed her first screen role in American Cinema's "Stolen Moments."

Percentage

A western exhibitor says: "We have heard hardly a whisper regarding percentage in this locality as yet, and will sure fight it to the bitter end when we do. We don't want it, and will do everything we can to prevent it. I believe there will be quite a number of producers who will adhere to the old policy of flat rental and we will sure do business with them as long as they have anything we can use."

Clermont in New Studio

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Clermont Photoplays Corp. has leased the studio at Sunset Ave. and Gower St., Hollywood, now nearing completion.

Lloyd Carleton Prod., the first producing unit of Clermont, will take possession at once and finish there "Mountain Madness."

William Fox has purchased "Myra Meets His Family," by F. Scott Fitzgerald, for Eileen Percy.

Increasing Tax

Idea Entertained in Washington by Republicans.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Washington, D. C.—At a recent caucus of the Republican members of Congress it was suggested that something be done to increase the tax paid by picture theaters. It is understood that this was blocked, chiefly due to the efforts of Jack Connolly representing the National Assn.

De Mille Due

Cecil De Mille is due in New York the next day or so.

Woods Here

Frank E. Woods, production manager at the Lasky studio, Hollywood, is in town. He is stopping at the Algonquin.

Niles With Hallmark

David K. Niles, formerly in charge of the non-theatrical department at Famous Players, is now connected with the Hallmark organization.

Talk With Sproul on Censors

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Harrisburg, Pa.—David W. Griffith and Harry Schwalbe of First National were in conference yesterday with Governor Sproul. At the conference, which was private, the industry's attitude on censorship was explained to the governor.

Loew in Cleveland

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland, O.—Marcus Loew will erect a theater in Cleveland's west side to be known as the Loew's Highland Square. The theater will seat 2,500 and will cost about $300,000.

The site secured is on West 117th St. south of Detroit Ave.

Saxe and Craver With Asso. Exhibitors

The two newest franchise holders in Associated Exhibitors, Inc., are Thomas Saxe, of Milwaukee, and I. D. Craver, of Charlotte, N. C. The franchise was transferred to Saxe from the Merrill Theater Amusement Co. whose Merrill Theater was recently bought by Goldwyn. Craver obtained the franchise for the Charlotte territory, which includes North and South Carolina.

It is understood that the Dallas territory in Associated has been secured by prominent independent Southern interests.

Eddie Polo arrived in town from California yesterday.

SOLOMON SAYS: Pete Smith promises biggest A. M. P. A. Bulletin Ever Published. Get copy at Meeting Today.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 36 Thurs. May 6, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 5th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	72¾	74⅝	74½
do pfd.	84	85	85
Goldwyn	23	26	26
Loew's, Inc.	30¾	31⅛	31⅛
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod...	2	2½	2½
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

Cohan Charges Arson
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Poughkeepsie, N. Y.—George Cohan, proprietor of the Rialto, which was practically destroyed by fire early Tuesday morning as noted, charges that the fire was started maliciously. He is offering $1,000 reward for information leading to the arrest of the alleged fire-bugs.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Los Angeles Times says:

"'The Silver Horde' a vivid drama with novel scenes. Goldwyn and Frank Lloyd, using a very good cast, have given us a fine and vivid picturization."

Goldwyn

In the Courts

In the suit of the Salm Ltd. Export & Import Co. against Famous Players-Lasky for $25,000 damages because the defendant sold the rights of "Hearts of the World" to Roy C. Chandler for $5,000 for Spain, Portugal and the Canary and Balearic Islands and then transferred the rights to the plaintiff but the defendant refused to supply the prints agreed, the defendant has filed an answer in the Supreme Court. The answer admits the contract with Chandler and the delivery of two prints to the plaintiff, but denies the other allegations.

The Octagon Films has filed an answer in the Supreme Court in the suit of Ruth Budd contending that the risks the plaintiff took were "open and apparent," and that any injury she sustained was due to contributory negligence.

The Commonwealth Film Corp. has sued in the Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the Flower City Theater Co. from exhibiting "The Forbidden Woman."

George A. Skinner, president of the Educational Films, Inc., has been directed to testify in the Supreme Court before trial in a suit by his corporation against the Lincoln-Parker Co. and the Globe Indemnity Co. for breach of contract to take films. The Lincoln-Parker Company has defaulted and the Educational is suing the indemnity company on the bond. The attorney for the Globe Indemnity said that he has been unable to find any books or records of the Lincoln-Parker Co., and in order to defend the suit it is necessary to find out what the nature of the Educational's claim is.

Louise Lovely Forms Own Company
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Louise Lovely, who has appeared as leading lady in a number of recent Fox productions, will form her own producing company. She has two more features to make for Fox before the completion of her contract.

Coast Brevities
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—There have been several reports to the effect that Max Linder was associated in production with Maurice Tourneur. Both Mr. Linder and Mr. Tourneur state there is no affiliation as far as production is concerned. Being friends, Tourneur has permitted Linder to use his sets and stages in making a comedy entitled "The Broken Mirror." The leading art is being played by Linder who is also directing, assisted by Charles Dorrin. Thelma Percy and Harry Mann have important roles. Max Linder has nothing definite regarding the release.

Robert Sanborn, who was formerly in charge of the O. Henry department of the Vitagraph, has arrived in Los Angeles and is connected with the Universal West Coast scenario department.

Nicholas A. Dunaev has returned to the screen and will be seen in Selznick's forthcoming release, directed by Henry Kolker.

Melbourne MacDowell has begun work with David M. Hartford's company at Universal City on the filming of the big Curwood special production, "Nomads of the North."

Henry Woodward, leading man for Maurice Tourneur, has opened recruiting offices at 6412 Hollywood Blvd. for the 3rd Battalion of L. A. Infantry Regiment of the new California National Guard.

King Vidor's second independent production, "The Jack-Knife Man," is rapidly nearing completion and will be placed in the hands of the cutters within the next few days.

H. H. Van Loan has completed a story for Harry Carey, called "Fighting Job."

Norman Kennedy has been selected to play one of the leading roles in "Hearts Are Trumps."

GAUSMAN.

Col. Levy a Visitor

Col. Fred Levy of Louisville, K First National franchise holder, in town in his capacity as presid of the National Association of Re Clothiers.

When a photo-play makes as favorable an impression as the RITCHEY poster did that advertised it,—it can be considered a really great film.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8388

Ritchey

FILM FOLKS

We're ready for you in our new shop, and it's some shop you'll tell the world after you see it.

How about some new dance records? We have a lot of new ones.

VENETIAN MOON
HAREM LIFE
BO LA BOO

RICHARDSON'S
Victrolas Grafonolas and Pianos
727 West Seventh Street
Phone 64955 or call in person

FOR RENT

Milligan Studio's
(Formerly The Kalem)
Palisade Ave. & Dey St.
Cliffside, N. J.
Cliffside 789
Phone—ROY SHELDON

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

"The Safety Sign"

"Insurance Of All Kinds"

Reuben Samuels Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

ASSOCIATED FIRST NATIONAL PICTURES INC.

READY NOW!

First National Exchange Men will explain

FIRST NATIONAL FRANCHISES

Write the nearest First National Exchange for details of what we believe to be the fairest and most progressive plan of distribution ever conceived. . . . . .

"There'll be a Franchise everywhere."

Mary Mac Laren

Has a following who never never miss one of her pictures. In "ROUGE AND RICHES" the Leading Man was

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

Putting It Over

Dayton, O.—When "The Girl of the Sea" was booked at the Auditorium, Gill Burrows arranged several tie-ups that swelled the attendance at that house. Several of the town's leading jewelry stores were induced to make coral displays, urging the public to attend the Auditorium where they could see how it was gathered from the bottom of the sea. Schools gave their co-operation because of the film's educational value, and with other exploitation stunts of lesser importance it did big business.

Two-Cent Bill Passes Senate

Washington—The two-cent-piece coinage bill has passed the Senate.

Ever since Congress passed the amusement tax law there has been talk for the two cent pieces to facilitate the making of change in the box offices.

The National Association has urged the enactment of the law.

Secure Radin Film

Denver—Arrow Photoplays have acquired the rights to "Thru Eyes of Men" for Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and the southern section of Idaho.

MOVED

Office to our Laboratory
AT 413 W. 41st ST.

ERNEST STERN

(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523

"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Located

Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

ROBERT A. SANBORN
Adapter of
Over 30 O. Henry Features
for Vitagraph
At present with
Universal West Coast Studios
Universal City, California

SIMPLE SOULS

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK, U.S.A.

There are four million soldiers in America intimately interested in

GEORGES CARPENTIER

How many people do you think are intimately interested in these four million soldiers who want to see their famous comrade-in-arms in the great American society drama?

Produced by
ROBERTSON-COLE
Directed by
John G. Adolfi
A MILLION DOLLAR ATTRACTION

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
"The Virgin of Stamboul"
with
Priscilla Dean
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JENK
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmon
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

FOR THE SAKE OF
your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—
"COMEDYART"
offer them more entertainment
than any other single release
SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

...e BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

...L. XII No. 37 Friday, May 7, 1920 Price 5 Cent...

...ning Up Producers

...busch Committee Gets to Work —Reports Favorable Progress —Meeting Today.

...e special sub-committee of the ...pendent Exhibitors of America, ...new exhibitor organization form...s a result of the mass meeting ... in Chicago last week, was in ...erence with practically all of the ...pendent producers yesterday on ... theater-buying question.

...is sub-committee, which is com...d of Frank J. Rembusch, Indian...is; Charles E. Whitehurst, Bal...re; Louis F. Blumenthal, New ...k, and William Brandt, Brook... announced last night that as a ...lt of the conferences held during ...day a meeting will be held today ... the publicity heads of the inde...lent producers, which include ...nick, Robertson-Cole, Universal, ...graph, Pathe, First National and ...ciated Exhibitors, Inc., at which ... expected a plan will be evolved ...reby the mailing and shipping ...ities of each of these companies ...be used to send literature to ex...ors on the Cleveland conven...

...rough these agencies it is hoped ...timulate interest in the Cleve... convention among the smaller ...bitors of the country.

...e sub-committee hopes some ... today to arrange with Marcus ...w of Loew-Metro, Adolph Zukor ...amous Players, William Fox and ... Godsol of Goldwyn for a meet...ater in the month, at which time ...entire committee of ten appoint...t the Chicago convention to ...e the attitude of the various pro...ng units on the theater problem

(Continued on Page 2)

Laemmle in Town

...rl Laemmle arrived in New York ... California yesterday.

... C. Hermann, Universal's serv... manager, returned with Mr. ...nmle.

De Mille Here

...cil De Mille arrived in New York ...rday morning for "the usual ...g conference," as he put it. ... will remain here until Sunday ...then return to the coast.

Lesser Leaves Today

...l Lesser leaves for California to... He will return to New York ... a print of "What Women Love," ...irst Annette Kellerman produc...

...tter in the back of the book this week. ...much pep. Read it in WID'S, Sunday ...dated May the 16th.—Advt.

"If you will go with me, I can show you more real excitement and adventure than you ever dreamed of."—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction, Louis B. Mayer-made. —Advt.

Goldwyn Returning

(By cable)

London, Eng.—Samuel Goldwyn and Gabriel L. Hess will leave for New York on the Mauretania tomorrow.

Ralph Block may return with Goldwyn on the same boat, but that is not definite.

"Draper Day" Tuesday

New York University will observe "Draper Day" next Tuesday, when a luncheon will be given at the Biltmore for members of the college faculty and several hundred of the alumni.

Dr. John W. Draper was a professor of physics and chemistry at New York University when in 1840 he succeeded in taking the first photograph of the human face. It is this, it is claimed, which opened the door to the development ultimately of the motion picture.

Quimby on Trip

F. C. Quimby, general manager of Associated Exhibitors, leaves tomorrow for Chicago, Milwaukee and the Northwest. It is barely possible he will go to the Coast before returning.

Josephson Leaves Ince

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Julien Josephson, who wrote a number of stories for Charles Ray, has left the Thomas H. Ince organization by mutual arrangement. He will free lance.

Dahnken Here for Summer

Fred Dahnken of Turner and Dahnken, First National franchise holders in San Francisco, is now in New York where he plans to spend the summer. He has secured a country place in Westchester.

No letter in the back of the book this week. Too much pep. Read it in WID'S, Sunday issue dated May the 16th.—Advt.

5,000 Film Users

Listed in Churches and Institutions by Government—Number is Growing.

The United States Bureau of Education at Washington has compiled a list of over 5,000 colleges, schools churches, libraries and clubs that use motion pictures regularly, according to information received by the National Association.

The list is divided as follows: 2,00... colleges and schools and 2,60... churches, libraries and clubs. Each of the above institutions is equipped with a projection machine to provide for the showing of films.

The government has issued a list of the non-theatrical exhibitors of films and has also prepared a handbook of general information on motion picture equipment and installation.

Kehrlein Here

Emil Kehrlein, head of the Kehrlein Kinema Circuit, which operates a string of theaters in California, is in town.

Mr. Kehrlein plans to stay here for several weeks looking over house improvements and gathering ideas for his new theaters. He may attend the Cleveland convention in June.

Japanese Buyer Here

A. Sazuki, representing a Japanese firm with headquarters in Tokio, has arrived in New York.

Far East Shipments Delayed

Some of the local exporters who deal in Far Eastern trade are experiencing difficulty in getting through their shipments because of cancellations and changes in the steamship service...

Wa... Sues Famous Players

Rob... Warwick started a suit yesterday... inst Famous Players for $525,64... for alleged violation of contrac...

...tard With Fox

Emile... utard, it is understood will make... series of productions for William...

Prompt Pr... ng Service
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 37 Fri. May 7, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
J. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y..
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 8th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	73	74⅝	73
do pfd.	85¼	86	86
Goldwyn	24	26	25
Loew's, Inc.	30⅛	31	30⅛
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod..	2	2½	2¼
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

"Sea Wolf" in Brooklyn Strand

Jack London's "The Sea Wolf," produced by George Melford for Famous Players, will play one week at the Brooklyn Strand beginning May 23rd.

This will make the second Paramount production to go into the Strand in three weeks. The first will be Wallace Reid in "The Dancin' Fool," which opens on Sunday.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Los Angeles Record says:

"'The Silver Horde' thrills. A gripping, stirring picturization of Rex Beach's famous novel caught and held the interest of a capacity audience at the California Theatre yesterday."

Goldwyn

Lining Up Producers

(Continued from Page 1)

can confer with the company heads. The committee will at that time get on record the above mentioned executives' attitude on future theater buying.

Frank Rembusch said last night that the reception accorded the committee and the attitude in general of the independent companies was "most encouraging."

Rembusch Talks

And Tells Cincinnati Exhibitors All About Action of Exhibitors at Chicago.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cincinnati, O.—On his way to New York to attend a special sub-committee meeting regarding the coming Cleveland convention, Frank J. Rembusch, chairman of the Independent Exhibitors of America, addressed the Cincinnati M. P. Exhibitors on Tuesday, giving an account of the Chicago convention. In part Rembusch said:

"Gentlemen: In order that you may have a clear idea of the sense, the spirit, and the action taken by this most remarkable National Convention of Exhibitors, I will give you a brief history of its proceedings, interspersed with my impressions, and conclude by advising you what the Convention expects you and every Exhibitor in America to do at once.

"W. C. Patterson read a carefully prepared and most impressive statement of conditions in the Southern Atlantic States, which when boiled down, summed up in the following facts: The exhibitor in the South woke up one morning and found that a large film company had acquired a chain of theaters, and by this invasion the southern exhibitor was face to face with the menace of producer-exhibitor competition.

"The next move of the invader was an attack by them on all independent exhibitors. Their methods were most insidious and despicable. With their plans they forced one city after another to give up to them, ust like an invading army.

"Mr. Patterson stated that no exhibitor could battle against this film trust alone, and that their only purpose in calling the convention was to ask every exhibitor in America to join the South, and to help whip the invader, and force them to get out of the theater business.

"The convention was startled by the gravity of the situation. We found that even small cities of three or four thousand were being swallowed up by this octopus.

"At this point, Mr. Patterson asked the convention to select a Chairman, because he preferred the floor. My name was suggested and I would have you know I accepted with reluctance. The convention later by unanimous vote decided to stand together on the following lines:

"1st. Producers must take one side of the road, and the exhibitor the other. No one can be both exhibitor and producer.

"2nd. Our only means of defense in this case is to apply force, therefore exery exhibitor agreed to immediately start to cancel out all film service with producers who own or operate theaters, and to forever and for all times hereafter contract only for film service with independent producers.

"In a general way the means of defense is as follows: No matter what your relations, whether pleasant or otherwise, you are to cancel this monopoly service at once. Small town exhibitors have a particular advantage, and can assist wonderfully. Stop your service, and Wall Street money will stop flowing against you.

"You may be asked to share service with your local independent exhibitor, who has been using producer-exhibitor service. You may play a few pictures from your independent producer with which you are not familiar. Put on a little extra music with these pictures, present them better, and you will find results very gratifying. If you cannot get enough features put on a short subject, or serial program. Shelve any grievance you may have with any independent producer, and take their pictures exclusively.

"Our pledge to our southern exhibitors is, to stand by and protect them to the last ditch. This is a serious act—there is no spite work or animus in this movement. We do not wish to destroy anyone. We simply find that for the protection of our business we must discontinue to support any producer who aims to monopolize this industry. We are to have a "show down."

The Independent Producer

"Every independent producer faces this fact: If the monopoly secures control of a large number of theaters, the independent producer is ruined, because there is no market for his product. It is perhaps this glaring future that causes Universal Film Co., First National Exhibitors Circuit, Lewis J. Selznick, Pathe, Vitagraph, Robertson-Cole and many smaller producers to come on the floor of the convention and offer aid, cooperation, and assistance to the independent exhibitor. These men pledged us to stay out of the theater business, and therefore it is only fair that every other producer be forced to stand in the same light, or we cannot do business with them.

'Never in the history of the industry has anything so important happened.

"This is the action of the convention in brief: The convention formed itself into a permanent organization, elected a chairman and secretary, and appointed a committee of exhibitors who are to go to New York within three weeks and demand a "show down" from the producer-exhibitor.

"We are to ask all the producers to get out of the theater business. We are, all at once, to buy our pictures from producers who agree to stay out of the theater business, and discontinue buying from producer-exhibitor film companies.

"This committee will then report to the Cleveland convention during the first week in June, and may again report to another convention in Chicago later.

"It may take two or three big meetings to conclude our work and we can only succeed in our purpose by the support of independent exhibitors."

United Artists Releases

United Artists will release "Mollycoddle" with Douglas Fairbanks on June 13, and "Suds," with Mary Pickford on June 27.

May Not Sail May 12

Los Angeles—There is some question whether Mary Pickford Douglas Fairbanks will sail from New York on May 12 for Europe, as originally planned.

Pantages May Build

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—It is reported Alexander Pantages will erect a dio here, and that Florence St will be starred by him in pictures

Sellers Here With Film

Ollie Sellers arrived in town terday with a print of "The Sow of Alderson Cree," a Macauley duction for Republic release. Sel is at the Bristol.

Rainbow Brand Discontinued

The Rainbow comedy brand wh Universal has been releasing will discontinued when four more are leased. All future Universal co dies will be known as Century c edies.

Ruffner Loses Brother

Ralph Ruffner, well known in hibiting circles and now with F National, left for Portland, Ore., night because of the death of brother, who was drowned. He a student at the University of C gon.

Everybody connected with the motion picture industry is desirous of increasing the total ticket sales. The one sure way of doing it is to increase the number of RITCHEY posters used.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8380

Ritchey

TYPHOON COOLING SYSTEM

TYPHOON FAN COMPANY
343-347 W. 39th ST., NEW YORK, N. Y.

1044 Camp Street
New Orleans, La.

255 N. 13th Street
Philadelphia, Pa

64 W. Randolph St.
Chicago, Ill.

SIMPLE SOULS

In the Courts

fact that Margaret Mayo, play-t, lost $58,100 in the Symphony er venture has become known gh the filing in the Supreme by Miss Mayo of a suit against as Healy, the restaurant man; E. Connolly, and the Kennedy ers, Inc., to recover that sum. s Mayo makes her claim t Healy and Connolly on the d that they were the real per-at interest in the Symphony er fiasco and that they com-the corporation to agree to the tant rental of $65,000 a year nen caused the rental to elapse er that they could regain pos-n of the property through fore-e proceedings. She alleges that owned three-fourths of the dy Theaters stock, and that ried out "a scheme to manipu-ie corporation and inveigle per-nto granting credit."

Glucksmann has filed suit in upreme Court against Gillespie & Co. for $10,000 damages. He that the defendant conducts ion picture department through M. de Aragon and that he is wner of the Chilean rights to he Mercy of Men," "Getting Married," "Jacques of the Sil-orth," and "The Isle of Con-' which he obtained from Se-ictures. Glucksmann says that fendant "by trick and device" ed prints of these films from and shipped them to the Cine-rafico Sud Americaine at Val-, and that the defendant, rec-ng his rights, agreed to deliver ms to him for $1,090, but has l to keep the agreement. He ie spent $7,000 in advertising aims that the reasonable value films is $3,000.

he case of the suit of Jacques against the Maytrix Film Corp. he ownership of the film, "And hildren Pay," in which Jus-tice Lydon last year granted an injunction to the planitiff, Justice McAvoy has signed an order discontinuing the suit on an agreement between the parties that Mr. Tyrol is to retain possession of the film.

Joy Comedies for Aywon

Aywon Film has secured world's rights on the series of 15 two reel comedies featuring Charlie Joy. Release on the independent market one a month.

To Reissue Daly Film

By mutual agreement, Metro, who held a distributing contract for "My Own United States," starring Arnold Daly, which was made by Frohman is recalling prints of the subject from the Metro exchanges.

Frohman will reissue the subject on the state right market. The film will be ready by Sept. 1.

Walter Griffith's New Job

New Haven, Conn.—Walter W. Griffith, formerly manager of Poli's Bijou,, has been appointed manager of the Rosen Film Delivery System of this city.

Ricketts Again Traveling

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Hoyte Ricketts, formerly traveling auditor for Fox and for the past two months assistant manager of the local branch, has been returned to his former position. He will be succeeded by William Leadabower.

Typhoon Moves

The Typhoon Fan Co. has moved from 281 Lexington Ave. to 343-347 West 39th St.

Mersereau as Star

Violet Mersereau will be starred in a new series of two reelers to be state righted by Radin Pictures.

Seltzer Leaves Goldwyn

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Frank N. Seltzer, press representative for Goldwyn here, has severed relations with the concern. He will shortly assume an executive position with a well known producing unit.

Roland Serial Named

"Ruth of the Rockies" is the title of the serial which Ruth Roland is now producing at the Astra studios for Pathe. The picture will be Miss Roland's seventh Pathe serial.

Kilfoil Back

Thomas A. Kilfoil, traveling auditor of exchanges for Famous Players, is now in New York auditing the accounts of the New York exchange.

Kilfoil has just completed a swing of the famous exchanges which took him two years to make. He opened the company's new exchange at Charlotte, N. C.

TANKS WANTED.
NEW OR SECOND-HAND
FOR LABORATORY.
10 DRAKE AVENUE
NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y.

PRESS SHEETS
of
BETTER QUALITY
and at
LOWER PRICES
THAN YOU ARE NOW GETTING
Phone
LARRY URBACH
Bryant 8445
1587 Broadway
New York

NEGATIVE FOR SALE
Featuring
ARLINE PRETTY
in 5-reel production
including world's rights.
For particulars
CHAS. N. JAWITZ
29 Seventh Ave. Room 607

ats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
ie fastest stereotypers in
N. Y. C.

DESK ROOM
In light, airy, well-furnished office; telephone and stenographer's service, $40.
158 West 45th St.,
Room 54, or Phone Bryant 1955

FURNISHED OFFICE
Immediate Possession
Fine light, well-furnished outside office, 350 square feet, splendidly located in heart of theatrical district.
By yearly lease only. Price, $2,275.
Telephone already installed. Apply
Room 54, 158-160 West 45th St.

MOVED
Office to our Laboratory
AT 413 W. 41st ST.
ERNEST STERN
(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523
"The Aristocrat of Title Makers"

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC.
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

FOR PROJECTION
CALL BRYANT 984 or 985
3 Rooms
Longest Throw in City
SIMPLEX STUDIO
5th Floor—Candler Bldg.
220 West 42nd St.

JOSEPH R. MILES
MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES
LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in their new home
126-132 West 46th Street — Phone Bryant 5600
AT YOUR SERVICE twenty-four hours a day except Sunday
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve vaults in Long Island City
Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does everything to a picture except produce it
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We buy and sell used film in good condition—
CONSULT US

Frank Keenan

Made "Brothers Divided" for Pathe, a few months ago. The reviews were exceptionally high. Particular mention was made of the role of the son, played by

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

Lay Corner Stone Tomorrow

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Elaborate preparations are under way for the corner-stone laying of the new Stanley Theater tomorrow.

Governor Sproul and a number of city officials will be present, as will a number of New York producers and their stars.

Cameraman Loses Equipment

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Baltimore, Md.—Gustave C. Rickarby, cameraman for Kinograms, who went to Tangier Island, which is about 12 miles across Chesapeake Bay from Crisfield, Md., to shoot scenes of the people there, was almost mobbed when the inhabitants learned that he secured scenes of the island.

His camera and about 200 feet of film were made away with. The equipment was worth about $1,000.

"Pollyanna" Shatters Records

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—The advance sale on "Pollyanna" which opens a two weeks' engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House tomorrow, has shattered all previous records for reservations. The sale to date is close to $1,200, it is understood.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Incorporations

Albany—Chadwick Pictures, Inc., New York. Capital, $5,000. Directors, I. E. Chadwick, Jacques Kopfstein and E. D. Baron, 130 West 46th Street, New York.

Albany—Wanda Film Syndicate, North Pelham, N. Y. Capital, $50,000. Directors, K. O. Smith, W. J. Eldridge and D. Tenenbaum, 1 Madison Ave., New York.

Albany—Peekskill Palace Corp., New York. Capital, $125,000. Directors, Martin Nelsson, Isidore Fried and Arthur Klein, 502 South St., Peekskill, N. Y.

Opposing Sunday Shows

Baltimore, Md.—The Lord's Day Alliance has applied for a writ of mandamus to prevent the Supervisors of Elections from placing on the ballot a question on the Iverson bill, which provides Sunday motion pictures in Maryland if the voters approve. Judge Soper allowed 10 days for the Supervisors to reply.

Smith and Lewis Split Partnership

Partnership in the Fidelity Pictures Co. has been dissolved by William G. Smith and Jerome Lewis. The former will continue the concern.

Millions Waiting in China

Los Angeles—That new millions await the film producer in China is the opinion of Judge Peter Hing, head of the Kwontung Tramway Co. "Capital galore awaits the first producer to come to our country," said Hing while inspecting the Lasky studio at Hollywood. "Our people have confidence in our native stories and scenery. It is an absolutely untouched field. Our people will back to the limit the first producer to establish a worthwhile studio in China."

PEGGY HYLAND

SIMPLE SOULS

The Unprecedented Welcome Accorded GEORGES CARPENTIER

Upon his arrival in this country was only a forecast of his popularity in a fascinating drama of American Society

Produced for ROBERTSON-COLE

Directed by JOHN G. ADOLFI

A Million Dollar Attraction

REMOVAL NOTICE

F. A. A. DAHME

ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATOR

Now at
220 W. 42nd St. Room 502
Temporary Phone, Bryant 984

FOR RENT

Milligan Studio
(Formerly The Kalem)
Palisade Ave. & Dey St.
Cliffside, N. J.
Cliffside 789

Phone—ROY SHELDON

BECAUSE

If you use

"COMEDYART"

You need nothing else beside your feature

COMEDY NOVELTY SCENIC
DIVERSITY CLASS

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 38 Saturday, May 8, 1920 Price 5 Cen

Oppose Quinn Bill

heater Building Ordinance Lacks Supporters at Hearing.

With the exception of Alderman illiam F. Quinn, who proposed the easure, the amendment to the city dinance forbidding the license mmissioner from issuing for five ars licenses to motion picture or gitimate theaters being erected or nned on property occupied by pri- te dwellings, had no supporters at e Welfare Committee's hearing sterday. Before the discussion was osed, Quinn stated his willingness accept an amendment to permit e issuance of licenses to houses al- dy contracted for.

The beginning of the entire matter s Marcus Loew's purchase of a e in Quinn's district on which 80 milies lived. These were obliged find other quarters. A letter to e committee from Loew pointed t that tenants were given bonuses, e time to secure lodging and had tters made very easy otherwise.

Members of the committee appar- tly were not very much in favor the bill, judging by questions ask-

It was pointed out by Edward Doyle of the Real Estate Board New York, Arthur F. Driscoll of Brien, Malevinsky & Driscoll, presenting Cohan and Harris, I. ey of the Loew offices, and others t motion picture shows had great ucational value, that the bill would d to a monopoly, discourage build- operations, lower theater stand- ls and tend to boost prices, be- se of the resultant scarcity in the- rs.

"Romance" in Cutting Room

Director Chet Withey states that cutting and titling of "Romance," United Artists picture starring ris Keane, is well under way in Mamaroneck studios and that the ture will shortly have its initial wing at the Strand.

At the completion of "Romance" . Withey will start work on a new ited Artists Production in which bert Harron will be starred.

Ochs Leaves for Coast

ee A. Ochs leaves for California ay.

Wid's Birthday

WID'S DAILY

is three years old today.

Lionel Barrymore, who is now working on his first picture for First National, "The Master Mind," presented by Whitman Bennett.—Advt.

Nation-Wide Drive

To Line Up Exhibitors for Cleveland Convention Planned.

Plans were made yesterday for a nation-wide campaign among exhibitors to drive home the importance of the Cleveland convention which will be held June 8, 9, 10.

The matter was discussed at a meeting held in Frank J. Rembusch's room in the Astor, at which were present practically all the publicity heads of what are termed the independent producers: First National, Pathe, Universal, Robertson-Cole, Vitagraph, Associated Exhibitors, and Selznick. The facilities for reaching the great bulk of the exhibitors which these companies have at their disposal will be utilized by the Rembusch committee.

Kent Buys First Rights

Willis Kent, Quality Pictures Corp. of Denver, has purchased the first block of territory for "Up in Mary's Attic." He has Utah, Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico.

Proctor Resigns

Leaves United Artists—Future Undecided—No Successor Named.

Ralph Proctor, assistant general manager of United Artists, has resigned from that position. He has has been one of the executives of the company since its inception.

His future plans are undecided as yet.

When Hiram Abrams, general manager of the corporation, was asked who would succeed Mr. Proctor he stated that the position would be eliminated from the company's personnel.

Realart Convention

The first Realart convention will be held at the Astor, beginning May 17th. It will last all during that week.

More Glucksmann Buys

Jacobo Glucksmann has purchased from Reginald Warde a series of 12 Christie comedies for Argentine, Uruguay, Paraguay, Ecuador, Chile, Peru and Bolivia.

Emerson Specials?

Contract With Constance Talmac Expires—Going Abroad.

The contract of John Emers and Anita Loos with Constance T madge for collaboration on story n terial and production has expired. is understood that Emerson w again enter active production a make a limited number of speci a year under his own direction. will be remembered that Emers directed Douglas Fairbanks for P amount-Artcraft.

Emerson and Miss Loos will t a European trip, as noted, but in dition to Emerson's reported p duction plans he and Miss Loos w work on two Constance Talmac productions for the next season.

Emerson could not be reached y terday for a statement.

Talmadges Going Abroad

Mrs. Talmadge and her young daughter, Natalie, sail for Europe the Mauretania May 22.

Constance Talmadge's next p duction for First National will "Good References," an All-St magazine feature with Roy Neill director.

If she finishes this production time she will join her mother a sister on the other side.

Bay State Will Regulate Film

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Boston—The House committee ways and means has passed a regulating motion pictures in t state. Changes in the bill were m before the bill was passed.

These changes are: (1) To str out the provision that films for e cational, charitable and religious p formances shall be censored with charge; (2) an increase from $1 to in the fee for licensing films up 1,000 feet in length; (3) an incre from $2 to $4 for films in excess 1,000 feet.

Metro Folks Here

Frank Currier, who has been w Metro on the coast, is now in N York.

Arthur Zellner, another coast m s also in New York. He will attached to the local Metro s and is now working on the co nuity of "Clothes."

Excellent Insert Printing
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise —Adv

ADSTREET LMDOM Wid's DAILY 1/m RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

ll No. 38 Sat. May 8, 1920 Price 5 Cents

rright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and M FOLKS, INC.
("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas- Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and ness Manager.
red as second-class matter May 21, 1918, e post office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879.
s (Postage free) United States, Outside reater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 hs, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, 00.
bscribers should remit with order.
ess all communications to WID'S AILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. lephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
rial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly- ood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
icago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
nous Players ..	70	72	71½
lo pfd.	85¼	86	86
ldwyn	24	26	25
w's, Inc.	29¾	30⅜	30
angle	5/16	⅜	⅜
t. Pict. Prod..	2½	2½	2½
rld Film	¼	¼	¼
o 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

Thursday's quotations.

Use Scenic to Aid Drive

an Francisco—To help the Mis- s Restoration Campaign now be- carried on in California to per- uate the work of the Spanish fath- Robertson-Cole loaned an Ad- ture Scenic called "Ghosts of Ro- nce." W. A. Crank, local branch ager for the organization, offered reel for general use throughout state free of charge and the offer eagerly accepted.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
460 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Los Angeles Herald says:

"'The Silver Horde' opened at the California yesterday to the biggest crowds of the spring season and before the day was very far along the telephone girl was kept busy answering the query as to whether or not their production would be shown for more than one week."

Goldwyn

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Jamestown, Pa.—Invitations were sent to a selected mailing list for the spring opening of the Nemo. They were attractive affairs, printed neatly and made many new patrons for that house. A special souvenir program was prepared for that occasion. An elaborate bill greeted those who attended and the word-of-mouth advertising that resulted should prove profitable. George Panagotacos is the manager of the house.

Expediting Shipments

The following letter is being sent to New York territory exhibitors by H. H. Buxbaum of the local Famous Players Exchange:

"According to contract, the terms are that all shows be paid for seven (7) days in advance.

"This is a general circular letter being sent out to all exhibitors and those that are not paying in advance will find it to their convenience, in the future, to let us have their check before any shipment or delivery will be made. This will save a lot of confusion at the Exchange and also enable us to make quicker deliveries."

Midwest Gets Two More

Milwaukee, Wis.—The Midwest Distributing Corp. have secured "Husbands and Wives" and Henry B. Walthal's "Confession."

Carmel Myers Goes West

Carmel Myers, who recently signed to star with Universal, left for California yesterday to start work on her first production.

Cochrane Back at Work

P. D. Cochrane, Universal's poster department head, is at work after a lengthy illness.

The negative of the Allan Dwan production, "The Scoffer," has just been shipped from the Brunton studio to New York.

Cuts and Flashes

William De Mille will next make a film from a story by Cosmo Hamileon for Famous Players.

Universal has purchased "The Isle of Life" for an all-star cast production.

Lester Tobias, Connecticut representative for Realart, is the father of a nine-pound son.

Tyrad Pictures, Inc., have sold "The Scar of Shame" to Silee Film Exchange for Illinois and Indiana.

Famous Players release for May 9 is Bryant Washburn in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram."

Curt Kremer is now assisting his father, Victor Kremer, who is reissuing the Essanay Chaplin releases.

C. B. Price Co., Inc., will release Billie Rhodes in "The Pajama Girl" May 10. State rights market.

Sam Y. Edwards, manager of the First National exchange in San Francisco, is in New York for a few days.

W. H. Sherrill of the Frohman Amusement Co., has been absent from his desk due to an attack of neuritis.

Shirley Mason's new scenarioist is Adele Buffington. She has just arrived on the coast and is writing an original story for Miss Mason's next Fox play.

Maj. Maurice Campbell has been assigned to direct "Burglar Proof," a new comedy drama featuring Bryant Washburn. Major Campbell is the husband of Henrietta Crosman.

Norma Talmadge's next production for First National will be "The Branded Woman" with Albert Parker, director. Work on this will start next week at the 48th St. studios.

Increase Board of Directors

Detroit—The Board of Directors of the Michigan Motion Picture Exhibitors Association will be increased from seven to fifteen.

Beware!

Press agents beware!

Governor Smith has signed the Betts bill which, commencing September 1, makes it a misdemeanor for any person to "deliver or transmit by any means whatever to any manager, editor, publisher, reporter or other employe of a publisher of any newspaper, magazine, publication, periodical, or serial, any false and untrue statement of a fact concerning any person or corporation, with intent that the same shall be published."

Now watch a lot of brilliant ideas fade into thin air.

Immense Loew House in K. C.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Kansas City—E. A. Schiller, Marcus Loew's general representative who was in Kansas City several days ago, stated that Loew would erect a $1,500,000 theater here.

Schiller would not mention the location of the site for the new theater, but it is known to be located in the downtown district.

Loew Buys Rochester Theaters

Marcus Loew announces the purchase of the theaters owned by the Regorson Co. of Rochester, N. Y.

The theaters transferred in the purchase are the Piccadilly, the Gordon and the Regent.

To attract attention is one thing,—but to attract audiences is an entirely different matter, yet the RITCHEY POSTER does both.

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8380

Ritchey

INSURANCE EXPERTS

TO THE THEATRICAL AND MOTION PICTURE INDUSTRY FOR THE PAST 20 YEARS. "ASK ANY PRODUCER."

Did you ever hear of "Insurance Service?" Well, that's what we have to offer. Can we explain further how we can serve you—better?

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

the News

)RK CITY—"See the world" is a an—why not start with New York? m West see the sights in the Big us" ride to Grant's Tomb.
EWARK, N. J.—See what the ught home—over 20,000 captured uns will be distributed to States as "
TY, ILL.—Zion wins! Hurrah Famous "Morality" town cele- eat of investigation of its institu- ial note—the whole town is in MO, ITALY—Supreme Council ing in Italy—first pictures show- gathering of Allied diplomats at to settle definite German policy.
CAL. — $14,125,000 liquor — Police officials confiscate large wine and whiskey and take it to dumped.
CAL.—Visit Mt. Shasta by air lusive pictures of American "Mt ken by Pathe cameramen piloted lverson of Western Air Service.
LU, HAWAII--Hawaii celebrates —the island's progress during the ry is depicted in colorful and pic- arade. U. S. soldiers and sailors LEY, MASS.—Roll their way out Staid Seniors cast all dignity chase their hoops to chapel, ac- old custom.
PACIFIC—Uncle Sam's "sea excel on ocean lanes! Unusual Pacific Fleet destroyers exhibiting efficiency in tactical maneuvers. scenes showing how mighty moke are emitted to form "smoke ed in war to conceal vessels. erts agree that this is one of the t smoke screens ever laid.

oday

erative Theater

to Operate Auditorium Employes—"Big 4" Out (Wire to WID'S DAILY)

polis—In less than five min- without one dissenting vote oyee's cooperative theater anized here on Thursday Charles G. Branham, man- ector of the Auditorium.
e about this way. It was d here on Thursday night ed Artists who had leased torium for its productions t renew its lease on the When Branham told this ployes of the theater, 50 of ded together and told Bran- they would work for noth- anham would continue the of the house.
nployees also offered to cient funds for the imme- ntenance of the theater. accepted and so the Audi- ill be conducted as a co- theater with Branham at

Buy Two Features
cial to WID'S DAILY)
City, Mo.—Richards and the First National Film Co. ght "Frivolous Wives" and ger of Justice," the latter rane Wilbur.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood The Monroe tal bury Players: Incorporators, K ball Fletcher, Bernard Potter, V Thompson, Carl Sturzenacker, M. B. Wehrle, Nell Alger, Eugene Butler; capital stock, $150,000; subscribed $700.

Joseph Montrose, former local manager for Oliver Morosco, has resigned an executive position at the Brunton studios to take over the general managership of the James Oliver Curwood Co.

Mabel Normand and her director, Victor Schertzinger, are on their way to San Francisco to do some boat scenes for "Rosa Alvaro," her new Goldwyn picture which is about half completed.

Lillian Gish's first effort as a motion picture director, "The Remodelled Husband," will soon make its appearance.

Jackie Saunders has just signed with the Fox company. Miss Saunders is to play leads opposite William Farnum, under direction of J Gordon Edwards.

Hoot Gibson, Universal western star, is now directing himself in his new series of action films. His initial vehicle under his personal supervision is called "The Fightin' Terror." Yvette Mitchell is his chief feminine support.

Jack Ford has begun work on a new western feature at Universal City called "The Blind Man of Copperhead."

Edwin Carewe's next is to be his own screen adaptation of James Oliver Curwood's "Isobal," which is to be presented by Louis B. Mayer.

Edgar Franklyn, who furnished Lyons and Moran their first comedy feature for Universal, "Everything But the Truth," has been commissioned to write two more vehicles for these comedians. One of these, called "Once a Plumber," has already been accepted.

Herbert Blache, director of "The Saphead," at Metro, will leave for New York following the completion of the picture.

According to L. C. Wheeler, treasurer, Kosmik Films, Inc., will soon erect its own studios at Hollywood. "The Hope Diamond Mystery" serial is nearing completion under the direction of Stuart Paton at Universal City. As soon as it is completed Kosmik plans to announce the engagement of several new stars. Work on the studios may start within 30 days.

William Thorney heads the staff of cameramen photographing "The Hope Diamond Mystery," written by May Yohe for Kosmik Films.

Rails at Films

Philadelphia—Bishop Philip M. Rhinelander, addressing the 136th annual convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church, Diocese of Pennsylvania, said in part:

"As for amusements, immodesty in dress, looseness in sexual relations, bestiality and crime as the chief attractions in theatrical shows and photoplays, unbrideled license and extravagance in all things are so much the established order of the day that the most respectable among us have ceased even to shrug our shoulders."

..c., and his assistant is Toney Korman. Sam De Val is technical director. Stuart Paton is directing, with Harry Webb as his assistant.

Garreth Hughes has been engaged by Metro as Viola Dana's leading man for "Head and Shoulders."

Jean Havez has been engaged to write the scripts for Buster Keaton comedies.

Jack Cunningham is resting up at Del Monte.

Owen Moore and his supporting company, after a lapse of about three weeks of enforced idleness caused by the illness of their former director, resumed the production of "Stop That Man," under the direction of Victor Heerman.

GAUSMAN.

Among Exchangemen

Kansas City, Mo.—H. L. Craig, formerly with Robertson-Cole, is now a member of Universal's sales force.

Kansas City, Mo.—R. C. Borg, formerly with Pathe, is now a booker for A. H. Blank.

Oklahoma City, Okla.—F. H. Castle, formerly a Fox representative, has formed his own company, known as the F. H. Castle Distributing Co.

Kansas City, Mo.—A local office will be opened by Peacock Productions. The organization already has offices in Dallas, St. Louis, New Orleans and Oklahoma City.

Mullin With Gibraltar

Eugene Mullin will adapt "The Heart Line" for Leah Baird. This will be a Gibraltar production.

It is understood that Mullin, who recently resigned as scenario chief for Goldwyn, will be definitely affiliated with the Arthur Beck organization.

White on Tour
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Harry M. White, branch manager for Goldwyn and chairman of the Motion Picture Group of the Chamber of Commerce, is on an extended tour of the South.

McClellan Switched to St. Louis
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Fred A. McClellan, exploitation man for the local Paramount office, has been transferred to St. Louis. He will be succeeded by C. L. Winston of the Boston office.

ARE YOU IN TROUBLE?

CALL BRYANT
Ten-Four-Six-Nine

GET IN TOUCH WITH

FILM SERVICE BUREAU, Inc.

130 WEST 46th ST., N. Y. CITY

SPECIALISTS IN
EXPORT OR DOMESTIC PACKING OR SHIPPING
TITLES IN ANY LANGUAGE
TITLES INSERTED FILM INSPECTION
RE-EDITING—CUTTING—ASSEMBLING

FACILITIES
PROJECTION THEATRES
CUTTING ROOMS
FILM STORAGE

EXPERT SERVICE GUARANTEED

LEON SCHLESINGER
Pres. & Gen. Mgr.

JOS. R. MILES
Vice-President

Walter Edwards
directed
"A GIRL NAMED MARY"
for
Famous-Lasky
The Star—
MARGUERITE CLARK
The Leading Man—
Wallace Mac Donald
Watch for this space every day!

Buxbaum Plans Drive in July

Harry H. Buxbaum, manager of the local exchange of Famous Players, will conduct a sales drive during July.

New Price Sales

C. B. Price Co., Inc., has sold a series of 15 Mona Darkfeather single reelers to Fontanelle Feature Film Co. for Iowa and Nebraska, and to the S. T. Stephens Dist. Co. of New Orleans for Louisiana and Mississippi.

Pioneer in Southwest

Dallas, Texas—The Parker Film Co. is now a unit in the Pioneer Co-operative Distribution System. The addition of this territory which includes Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, leaves only two minor sections of the country without a Pioneer distributor.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Hallock, Minn.—William Krumholtz to build.

Willow Creek, Mont.—S. L. Young to open house.

Sandstone, Minn.—Guy Thorne to open.

Marquette, Mich.—Delft Theaters, 1,400.

Sheboygan, Wis. — Mikadow Amuse. Co. of Manitowoc, to open 1,500 seat house.

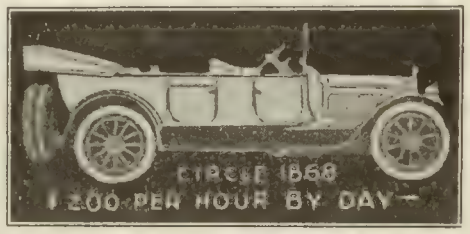
Wichita, Kans. — Arthur Ford, Maple, to build.

Mazard, Ky.—Middleberg Theater Co. to build.

Brockton, Mass.—Edwin J. Dreyfuss to build. 2,500.

Buzzards Bay, Mass.— Arthur C. Burgess. $50,000.

New Bedford, Mass.—George I. Boyd will remodel St. Patricks Church into a theater.



Send Us Your Junk Film
Any Quantity Highest Prices
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK, U.S.A.

AUDITOR AND GENERAL ASSISTANT
Now with
BIG INDUSTRIAL AND EDUCATIONAL MOTION PICTURE PRODUCER
WANTS POSITION
WITH ADVERTISING, EDUCATIONAL, INDUSTRIAL OR FEATURE FILM PRODUCING COMPANY
Keen Conception of Finance
College Education
Box C93—c/o Wid's

A Million Dollar Attractio
If . . . . . .
GEORGES CARPENT
Is worth $ 2000.
day for a few min es in the circus rin
how much can h make for you in Great American
iety Drama produ
for
ROBERTSON-CO
by
JOHN G. ADOL

SIMPLE SOULS

MOVED
Office to our Laborato
AT 413 W. 41st ST.
ERNEST STER
(The Titleman)
Phone Longacre 523
"The Aristocrat of Title Maker

FOR THE SAKE OF
your bank-book, be fair to your patrons—
"COMEDYART"
offer them more entertainment
than any other single release
SPECIAL PICTURES CORPN
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

BRADSTREET FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII. NO. 39 Sunday, May 9, 1920 Price 25 cents

It broke laugh records on Broadway when William Collier played it on the stage Now it's sweeping the screen world in a gale of fun . . .

NOTHING BUT LIES

by AARON HOFFMAN Starring

TAYLOR HOLMES

Directed by LAWRENCE C. WINDOM

METRO PICTURES CORPORATION

JURY IMPERIAL PICTURES Ltd. Exclusive Distributors throughout Great Britain. SIR WILLIAM JURY Managing Director.

HOLD EXTRA PLAY DATES

for the latest

Mary Miles Minter

production

"JENNY BE GOOD"

Direction Wm. Desmond Taylor

Scenario by Julia Crawford Ivers

Realart can definitely promise the finest photoplay Miss Minter has ever appeared in. That is the message of this "last minute" page.

We want you to hold extra days open NOW, contingent on having our branch manager's pledge of profit from the engagement.

We want every exhibitor who insists on HIS house having "the best", to make inquiry at our nearest office TODAY. We believe that that kind of an exhibitor is the exhibitor who reads a trade paper — YOU!

REALART PICTURES CORPORATION

429 FIFTH AVENUE, NEW YORK CITY

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 39 Sunday, May 9, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y. Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives: Wiillis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

HUMORESQUE
Cosmopolitan-Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 3

Wallace Reid in.....THE DANCIN' FOOL
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 7

THE DEEP PURPLE
R. A. Walsh Prod.-Mayflower-Realart.. Page 8

Benj. B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner present .....RIDERS OF THE DAWN
Hodkinson ..... Page 25

Bernard Durning in.....THE GIFT SUPREME
C. R. Macauley Photoplays Inc.-Republic Page 27

Mildred Harris Chaplin in....THE INFERIOR SEX
Louis B. Mayer-First National..... Page 29

Anne Cornwall in.....THE PATH SHE CHOSE
Universal ..... Page 30

Short Reels ..... Page 31

George Walsh in.....THE DEAD LINE
Fox ..... Page 32

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

First National sub-franchises expected to reach 6,000 by fall.

More Loew theaters planned for Canada and West.

Famous Players plan to experiment on re-issuing on regular schedule.

Tuesday

Sol Lesser to concentrate on exhibiting.

Southern California exhibitors demand removal of United Artists' Los Angeles manager.

Wednesday

Famous Players form $3,000,000 corporation to produce in India.

No French embargo on films.

Screen Plays Productions, $11,000,000 corporation, formed in Delaware.

Brunton to build studio in East

National Association reports decrease in film thefts.

Thursday

Crandall denies he has sold his Washington theaters to Goldwyn.

Claire Whitney second Tri-Star Pictures star.

Bill suggested to increase theater tax.

Friday

Committee of Independent Exhibitors of America in conference with producers on theater-buying question.

5,000 film users listed in churches and institutions by Government.

Saturday

Ralph Proctor resigns as assistant general manager of United Artists.

Reported John Emerson will make series of specials under his own direction.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.

An exquisite picture, tender, memory-haunting and deeply appealing to hearts that hold the faintest spark of loves passion.

Doris Keane

in

Edward Sheldons Celebrated Play

"Romance"

Directed by

CHET WITHEY

UNITED ARTISTS CORPORATION

MARY PICKFORD CHARLIE CHAPLIN
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS D.W. GRIFFITH
HIRAM ABRAM

Nothing Short of a Pictorial Triumph

"HUMORESQUE"
Cosmopolitan-Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Frank Borzage
AUTHOR .....Fannie Hurst
SCENARIO BY.....Frances Marion
CAMERAMAN .....Gilbert Warrenton
AS A WHOLE.....Wonderful
STORY.....Superbly treated story of Jewish family life dominated by mother love theme.
DIRECTION.....A Triumph—Shows infinite care in production and story details.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Excellent
CAMERA WORK.....Always praiseworthy—many very artistic angles.
FEATURED PLAYER.....Alma Rubens registers good performance in small but important role.
SUPPORT.....Vera Gordon and Dore Davidson give two of screen's greatest performances as Jewish mother and father—really should be featured.
EXTERIORS.....Very realistic in portraying New York's Ghetto.
INTERIORS.....Splendid and appropriate
DETAIL.....Is real and handled with touch of master.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Deals mainly with the great love of mother and son.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,000 feet

"Humoresque," one of Fannie Hurst's greatest stories, has been made into a picture, so real, so true and so beautiful that, it is safe to predict, when the year is done it will be ranked among the topmost artistic successes. For this achievement credit is awarded to Frank Borzage, who in his direction has revealed himself a master of his craft, to Frances Marion who prepared the scenario, to the producing organization whose breadth of mind made possible a picture catering to no single stellar luminary, and to Vera Gordon and Dore Davidson, whose respective performances in the principal roles stand as magnificent examples of the art of picture acting.

"Humoresque" is a story of a Jewish family, typical in many respects of the millions in New York's Ghetto. It relates of how musical talent was discovered in its youngest son, how it was fostered by the mother until Leon Kantor grew to be a celebrated violinist. In the war his arm is injured and because his music was his life Leon returns to his home broken, faithless. How love proves his redeemer is beautifully told.

Simple in exterior essentials the picture is not only profoundly moving but truly great because the spectator is not looking at the Jewish family life from the outside in but from the inside out. He is taken into the home, into the hearts of the Kantors. Their emoions, their love of home, their racially strong family ties are his. In other words, the story has background, mood. It is vivid, colorful, pulsing.

Contributing to this background is a marvelous sequence of introductory scenes dealing with the Kantor family when the children are young. In this are found all the pathos, the comedy and the more delicate humor that flows in combination from Miss Hurst's pen. Here Borzage shows his art, his mastery of detail, his knowledge of life.

Too much cannot be said of Miss Gordon's performance as the Jewish mother. Possibly it is the screen's greatest performance. It is distinctly a character part on the surface, but its appeal of mother love is universal. And Mr. Davidson as the father is just as real. Not as moving, but typical, and with numerous comedy relief moments. Alma Rubens, featured, is the sweetheart of Leon, a role played with feeling by Gaston Glass. Of the rest it must be said that never a false note is struck from Bobby Connelly and Miriam Battista, who play the lovers as kiddies, to the array of Jewish types gathered by the thousand to hear their idol, Leon, play "Humoresque."

The production, the technical work and the detail are marvelous adjuncts of which pages might well be written.

Go to This In a Big Way and You'll Make New Records

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

"Humoresque" is one of those pictures that doesn't leave your heart alone for five minutes at a time. It keeps tugging, pulling. And it has the comedy relief, too. In fact it is made up of such real ingredients and is so beautifully told that every audience in the country is going to recognize it as a very, very unusual piece of entertainment property.

It's up to you to launch out with a big advertising campaign in its behalf. You can't praise it too much, you can't book it for a run too long. It wouldn't be at all surprising to discover that it was one of the big money-makers of the season. And if you have it on your books (and you surely ought to) play it as the tremendously unusual thing it is.

Arthur F. Beck
presents

LEAH BAIRD
in Cynthia-of-the-Minute

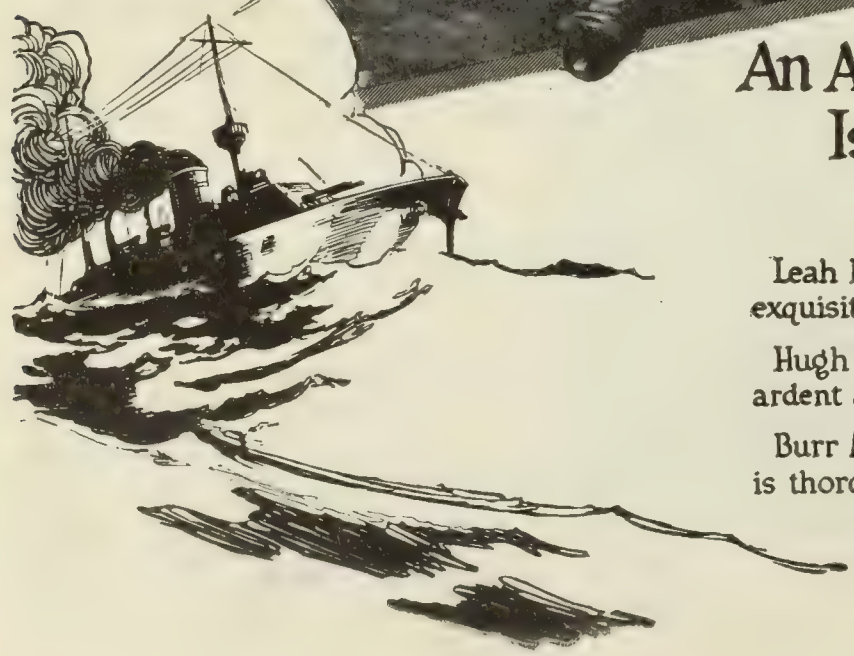
From the famous novel by
LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE
Directed by PERRY VEKROFF



An Adventure at Sea Told in Pictures Is Bound To Hold Your Crowds

The Tale is Acted by

Leah Baird, true princess of the screen in a role calling for the exquisite style of acting which has made her a legitimate favorite.

Hugh Thompson, a lover such as women love; bold, adventurous, ardent and tender.

Burr McIntosh who puts all his renowned skill into a part that is thoroughly original.

Reads like the front page of "Who's Who in Stardom."

ACTION

INTRIGUE

ROMANCE

MYSTERY

The Elements in "Cynthia-of-the-Minute"
are
The Makings of an Excellent Show

Your Audience Expects
These Qualities on Your Screen

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION

527 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

Foreign Distributor, J. Frank Brockliss, Inc. 729-7th Ave.

Robert Brunton presents

J. WARREN KERRIGAN

and his own company in

No. 99

By Wyndham Martyn

Directed By Ernest C. Warde

In "99"
Kerrigan Rivals and in Spots Excels The Best Male Screen Stars of the Day.

"99"
is the story of what the police reporters call a "Frame-Up."

It reveals the secret working of "malefactors of great wealth", unscrupulous politicians and master minds of the underworld.

From first to last the sweetest of love stories runs with the changing fortunes of the tale.

Just the ideal length on any program—a little short of an hour.

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION
527 Fifth Avenue, New York City
Distributing through PATHE Exchange, Incorporated.

Average Comedy With More Dancing and Clowning Than Action

Wallace Reid in
"THE DANCIN' FOOL"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....Sam Wood
AUTHOR .....Henry Payson Dowst
SCENARIO BY.....Clara G. Kennedy
CAMERAMAN ..... Alfred Gilks
AS A WHOLE.....Fairly good comedy made from story that was a bit "different" but not so wonderful for the screen.
STORY.....Rather slack, with only a few situations; much footage consumed by dancing
DIRECTION ..... Average
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Commendable
CAMERA WORK.....All right
STAR.....Isn't very convincing as "Rube"; does some nifty dancing.
SUPPORT.....Bebe Daniels well cast as leading woman; Raymond Hatton prominent.
EXTERIORS ..... Few used
INTERIORS.....Cabaret and office stuff
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY....Rube becomes prominent cabaret dancer and puts pep into old uncle's business.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,124 feet

Here's an adaptation of another Saturday Evening Post story that, it seems, would have made a much better vehicle for Charles Ray than it does for Wallace Reid. Casting the slick looking Wally as a rube, strange to the ways of the city, is asking the audience to swallow a little too much. All the comedy stuff attempted in the first scenes in which he timidly, at first, interviews his uncle and then repairs to a cabaret where he finds it impossible to keep his feet still when the jazz starts, registers only fairly well as pictured here. You have to do a lot of excusing to accept Wally as a greenhorn.

The story, while it has an original twist or two, isn't very ample when it comes to comedy situations, and they had to run Raymond Hatton in as a burlesque old-fashioned business man to help out the sparse plot. The story tells how Wally makes a hit as a dancer with little Bebe Daniels as his partner. They work in a lot of good cabaret dancing scenes which stand quite well in lieu of more substantial action. And Wally and Bebe certainly do shake some wicked feet in these scenes.

In the daytime Wally is engaged in attempting to make his uncle into a modern business man. Unc adheres to methods of fifty years ago and his pottery business is fast slipping into nothing. True to Satevepost form the hero, Wally, inaugurates an advertising campaign and puts his uncle on his feet. Instead of exploiting the product of the company as "Jones' Juge," Wally puts it out under the advertising slogan of "B'Jones B'Jugs," which may strike some people as funny and others as very trite and foolish.

The truth of the matter is they clown around a bit too much both in the action and the subtitles in this. Left a little short on plot and situations they had to do something to fill up space, and so fell back on this.

The production given the picture by Sam Wood is average and the supporting cast, including Tully Marshall, Lillian Leighton, Willis Marks, George B. Williams, Carlos San Martin, W. H. Brown, Ruth Ashby and Ernest Joy, renders capable assistance to the leading players mentioned.

Should Get Safely By With Wally's Admirers

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

If your crowd like Wally Reid you can get by with this, and that's about all. He has had much better pictures than this, including his recent automobile comedies, and this one certainly gives the impression of having been made without much serious thought. And you need a lot of serious thought in the making of a comedy.

Most of the admirers of the star, however, are more or less hypnotized by his personality, and he surely has opportunities galore to let it shine here. And Wally proves himself a wonderful dancer with Bebe Daniels as his partner. You might pick up this thread as your advertising lead and frame your copy about the many fine dances shown in the production.

Catchlines on this order will suit. "The story of a jazz dancer who jazzed himself into business and walked away with the grand prize," "See Wallace Reid and Bebe Daniels in a whirl of pretty dances, some comedy and enough plot." Play up Miss Daniels as the chief supporting member and give Hatton and Marshall good plays.

Good Production But Story Material Hardly Merits It

"THE DEEP PURPLE"

R. A. Walsh Prod.-Mayflower-Realart

DIRECTOR .....R. A. Walsh
AUTHORS.....Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner
SCENARIO BY.....Earl Browne
CAMERAMAN .....Jacques Bizuel
AS A WHOLE.....Some good touches to well-made production, but story material doesn't justify care it has received.
STORY.....Nothing new and no surprises; far-fetched at times.
DIRECTION.....Seems a shame to have wasted fine efforts on material in this.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Very clear
CAMERA WORK..... Good
PLAYERS.....Miriam Cooper distinctly pleasing; Vincent Serrano didn't look his part; W. J. ..Ferguson in a role that's the best thing in the picture.
EXTERIORS .....All right when used
INTERIORS.....Some large and lavish sets
DETAIL.....Carefully attended to for the most part
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Innocent country kid lured to city by crook who would use her in his "work."
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 0,000 feet

R. A. Walsh has made a splendid production, technically and from every standpoint of picture production it should be conceded he has made a good job of it. However, it does seem just a bit to be regretted that the story material was not more worth while. The idea of the slick crook luring the little country girl to the city so that he can make use of her innocence in pulling off his various stunts is certainly not new and indeed had it not been for the character of "Pop" Clark, played by W. J. Ferguson, there would have been very little left in "The Deep Purple" to hold the interest.

"Pop" is the elder of the two principal crooks. His "get-up" alone is worth a laugh and his facial expressions and peculiar mannerisms are bound to please. Vincent Serrano was a gentlemanly looking crook, but his personality is not exactly suited to the role. Miriam Cooper is refreshing in the role of the little country girl who is so easily duped by "Pop" and Serrano.

The picture is given a fairly novel opening by way of introducing the characters, but once the story gets going, interest is allowed to lag because there is nothing particularly new to photoplay audiences. Once the girl gets to the city and the crooks start her on the first job, the hero turns up in time to save her and of course you know—and in case you don't, a title gives you a hint—that the end will show Miriam and the new-found hero very much in love.

There are many lavish sets in the picture and Director Walsh has exercised much care in the details of production. In the cabaret scene Bird Millman performs on the tight rope and various scenes depicting the crook's promises to the little girl if she will come to the city, are good. There are some slip-ups in plausibility in the story which may or may not be noticed, although they might have been taken care of.

On one of their law-evading tours "Pop" and Serrano come to Miriam's home to board. She is fed up on the stories of life in New York as told by Serrano, and when he prmises to marry her if she will follow him to the city, she agrees. When Miriam reaches the city, Helen Ware, the proprietor of the crooks' city residence, tries to protect the girl, but the crooks succeed in locating her and she is about to help them rob a wealthy young fellow when Helen gets to him in time to warn him and of course the tables are turned on the crooks.

After several complications involving the suspicions of a young detective friend of the rich fellow's, who really believes Miriam is in with the crooks, and finally the murder of Serrano, everything turns out satisfactorily and they use the customary fade-out.

Fan Audiences Especially Should Like It

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Even though there isn't anything startlingly new about "The Deep Purple," it contains the sort of atmosphere that just suits fan audiences. It's just the kind of thing they like to look at and they will be perfectly satisfied with the happy ending. But Vincent Serrano isn't the sort of a crook they will like to have killed. They may be disappointed when he doesn't reappear.

Unless folks are acquainted with the title in connection with the stage production of Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner's work, you won't be able to cash in on it, because of itself it isn't likely to attract especially and its association with the action is not closely enough allied to merit talking. Base your appeal on Walsh's name, mentioning some of his well-known Fox productions, and also give Miss Cooper a share of the prominence. If your audiences like this sort of story, be sure to tell them what this one's about.

The most important
announcement
ROBERTSON-COLE
has ever made

RC

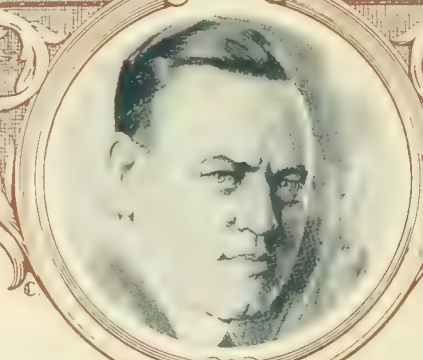
ALTHOUGH the stars and pictures now being announced have been definitely decided upon, Robertson-Cole makes the positive assertion that none of these productions shall be released unless they pass the test which classes them as "Specials."

Robertson-Cole is in a position to make this declaration because its contracts with producers provide for the rejection of pictures until they are of the highest standard of excellence.

The box-office value of these attractions should be self-evident to every progressive and discriminating exhibitor.

What Robertson-Cole stands for in the industry was made quite clear in Mr. Cole's speech at the recent convention of our branch managers, when he said: "The day I feel that Robertson-Cole cannot remain in the film business and do it honorably and straight,—we leave the field. I do not care for it if our name is going to be jeopardized." This statement sums up "the honesty of purpose" that guides our every business transaction.

ROBERTSON-COLE DISTRIBUTING CORP'N.
A. S. KIRKPATRICK
Vice-President and General Manager.



Pauline Frederick

ROBERTSON-COLE

THIS REMARKABLE STAR NEEDS NO INTRODUCTION—HER DRAWING POWER, GREAT AS IT NOW IS, WILL BE INCREASED THROUGH THE PICTURES ROBERTSON-COLE WILL RELEASE AT THE EXPIRATION OF HER PRESENT CONTRACT, BY LIMITING HER SCREEN ENDEAVOR TO FOUR BIG SPECIALS A YEAR—EACH PRODUCTION A DRAMA OF SUPER-QUALITY.

Otis Skinner

ROBERTSON-COLE

WHEN THE MIGHTY COMBINATION OF OTIS SKINNER IN "KISMET" REACHES THE MOTION PICTURE PUBLIC, THE HIGHEST POINT IN ARTISTIC SPLENDOR, THE PINNACLE OF DRAMATIC POWER WILL BE ATTAINED. MONTHS OF UNTIRING EFFORT WILL BE SPENT IN PREPARING THIS STAGE SUCCESS TO MAKE IT THE MOST LAVISH PRODUCTION EVER OFFERED.

Ethel Barrymore

ROBERTSON-COLE

DURING HER PRESENT TRIUMPHANT SEASON IN NEW YORK IN "DECLASSE," ETHEL BARRYMORE WILL APPEAR IN JUST ONE PRODUCTION FOR THE SCREEN. THIS SPECIAL "THE SUPER-WOMAN," GIVES AMPLE OPPORTUNITY TO ATTAIN THE WONDERFUL EMOTIONAL HEIGHTS BY WHICH MISS BARRYMORE'S MARVELOUS WORK HAS BECOME A BY-WORD.

Georges Carpentier

ROBERTSON-COLE

THIS INTERNATIONAL IDOL COMES TO THE SILVER SHEET ON THE CREST OF THE MIGHTIEST WAVE OF POPULARITY EVER ENJOYED BY ANY MAN. HE WILL BE PRESENTED IN A MODERN AMERICAN SOCIETY DRAMA, ABSORBING AND UNIQUE IN PLOT, DIRECTED BY JOHN G. ADOLFI. IT WILL BE A "MILLION DOLLAR" ATTRACTION.

Dustin Farnum

ROBERTSON-COLE

FROM A SUCCESS UNSTINTED AND DESERVING, BUILDED UPON THE APPEAL WHICH HIS DELIGHTFUL MAN'S-MAN CHARACTERIZATIONS AMPLY JUSTIFIED, DUSTIN FARNUM SHALL NOW BRING TO THE EXHIBITOR A SERIES OF TWO-FISTED STORIES, THE INITIAL ONE BEING "BIG HAPPINESS."

Chic Sale

ROBERTSON-COLE

THIS FAMOUS COMEDIAN, WON FROM HIS PINNACLE ON THE AMERICAN STAGE, WILL APPEAR IN SPECIAL FEATURES, WHICH IT IS PREDICTED SHALL CREATE A SENSATION. "THE SMART ALECK," A SATURDAY EVENING POST STORY BY IRVIN S. COBB, WILL BE THE FIRST "CHIC" SALE PICTURE.

Lew Cody

ROBERTSON-COLE

GREETED WITH UNANIMOUS ENTHUSIASM, THIS NEW STAR FIRMLY ESTABLISHED HIMSELF IN PUBLIC FAVOR IN "THE BELOVED CHEATER." CAPTURING THE POPULAR FANCY BY THE UNIQUE CHARACTER OF HIS WORK, HE WILL FURTHER ENDEAR HIMSELF TO HIS ADMIRERS IN "THE BUTTERFLY MAN," A SUPER-SPECIAL OF ASSURED BOX OFFICE VALUE.

Al Christie

ROBERTSON-COLE

"SO LONG LETTY," ONE OF THE MOST SPECTACULAR STAGE SUCCESSES OF RECENT YEARS, TO BE PERSONALLY DIRECTED BY AL E. CHRISTIE, MASTER OF COMEDY SCREEN PRESENTATION, THE CREATOR OF MANY TRIUMPHS, GIVES POSITIVE ASSURANCE OF BEING A CLASSIC OF THE SILVER SHEET.

Sessue Hayakawa

ROBERTSON-COLE

FOUR SPECIALS, REVEALING THIS REMARKABLE STAR AT THE HEIGHT OF HIS UNQUESTIONED ABILITY, ARE PLANNED FOR THE COMING YEAR. EACH OF THESE NEW PICTURES WILL BE MORE ELABORATE AND EVEN MORE DRAMATIC THAN ANY IN WHICH HAYAKAWA HAS EVER APPEARED.

Wedgwood Nowell

ROBERTSON-COLE

THE WORLD-FAMOUS CHARACTER OF ARSENE LUPIN, UNRIVALED IN THE ANNALS OF FICTION, WILL BE BROUGHT TO THE EXHIBITOR IN "813" TO BE FOLLOWED BY A LIMITED NUMBER OF STORIES EACH SEASON FROM THE ARSENE LUPIN SERIES. WEDGWOOD NOWELL, IDEALLY CAST AS ARSENE LUPIN, WILL BE FEATURED IN THE INITIAL PRODUCTION.

Bessie Barriscale

ROBERTSON-COLE

THE POPULARITY OF MISS BARRISCALE HAS SHOWN STRONG AND STEADY INCREASE WITH EACH RELEASE AND UNDER THE NEW PLAN WHICH WILL LIMIT HER PRODUCTIONS TO SPECIALS, THE DEMAND FOR HER PICTURES IS CERTAIN TO BE EVEN MORE MARKED.

Martin Johnson

ROBERTSON-COLE

SURPASSING IN PICTURED ELOQUENCE, EVEN HIS FAMOUS CANNIBAL RELEASES, THE FEATURE MARTIN JOHNSON IS NOW SENDING FROM THE INTERIOR OF THE ISLAND OF MALEKULA, WHERE IT WAS PHOTOGRAPHED AT THE RISK OF LIFE, WILL FASCINATE WITH SIGHTS THE LIKE OF WHICH HAVE NEVER BEFORE GREETED WHITE MEN'S EYES.

Marjorie Rambeau

ROBERTSON - COLE

RARELY THE SILENT DRAMA BRINGS THE EQUAL OF "THE FORTUNE TELLER," THE STAGE TRIUMPH WHICH GRIPPED NEW YORK BY ITS INTENSE DRAMATIC POWER, NOW MOULDED INTO A MASTERPIECE BY THAT GENIUS OF MOTION PICTURE DIRECTORS, ALBERT CAPELLANI, WITH ITS ORIGINAL STAR, MARJORIE RAMBEAU, IN A NEVER-TO-BE-FORGOTTEN CHARACTERIZATION.

Robertson-Cole Building

CONCLUSIVE EVIDENCE OF THE PERMANENCY OF THE ORGANIZATION AND ITS SOUND BUSINESS PRINCIPLES, IS THE PURCHASE BY ROBERTSON-COLE OF THE VALUABLE CORNER PROPERTY AT SEVENTH AVENUE AND FORTY-EIGHTH STREET, NEW YORK CITY—IN THE HEART OF THE WORLD'S FILM INDUSTRY. WORK HAS ALREADY BEEN COMMENCED ON THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE TWELVE STORY BUILDING AS DEPICTED HEREWITH.

Plenty of Excitement in This Latest Zane Grey

Benj. B. Hampton and Eltinge F. Warner present
"RIDERS OF THE DAWN"
Hodkinson

DIRECTOR ..... Hugh Ryan Conway
AUTHOR ..... Zane Grey
SCENARIO BY.....William H. Clifford
CAMERAMAN ..... Harry Ballejo
AS A WHOLE.....Careful production accorded adaptation of Zane Grey novel.
STORY.....Action galore in it; climax builds to unusual degree of excitement.
DIRECTION.....Handled story very well, particularly climax sequence and night mob scenes
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Clear
CAMERA WORK..... Very good
PLAYERS.....Roy Stewart handled the most important role very satisfactorily with Claire Adams in support; others splendid types.
EXTERIORS ..... Appropriate
INTERIORS .....Not many used
DETAIL .....Quite all right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Hobo band with Bolshevik tendencies aim to organize farm hands against farm owners.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 7,000 feet

The producers of "Riders of the Dawn" have provided Zane Grey's novel with a truly lively adaptation, starting right out with a "welcome home" celebration for the hero, who is returning from France, and gradually working toward a rather terrific climax dealing with the firing of large wheat storehouses. The author seems to have a weakness for fire, but it is not to be doubted that it certainly is effective in producing a thrilling climax. In "The Sagebrusher" a forest fire did the trick.

Roy Stewart is the hero, no mistake, and a mighty scrappy one at that. He goes through some terrific battles in the course of the seven reels, some of them perhaps a bit too realistic for comfort. The director has given a good deal of attention to detail. In fact too much at times, thereby adding unnecessary footage. The entire picture is too long. While it manages to maintain the interest at a fairly even degree, it would be even more potent had they not striven to be over explicit in certain minor details. Some scenes dealing with the harvesting of wheat according to modern methods may prove of special interest in certain localities.

One of the first things that Kurt Dorn does when he returns from France is to propose to Lenore Anderson. The following scenes show him going through the routine of wheat harvesting. But Kurt is not without enemies. Henry Neuman has certain grievances against Kurt, among them the fact that Lenore has accepted Kurt instead of himself.

In the locality is a band of hobo Bolsheviks, or at least hoboes with their own ideas about capital and labor. The band is under the direction of Neuman. Nash, the leader, kills one of the workers on the Kurt place, and when he discovers that Lenore Anderson's young sister is a witness to the murder he chases the little girl and finally corners her in a deserted schoolhouse. In the meantime, Kurt is on the trail but reaches the school when it's too late. The fiend has killed the child and escaped.

That night when the storehouses are packed with wheat awaiting shipment, the band makes its attack, first setting fire to one of the barns. Lenore, having learned the plan to destroy the wheat, attempts to get word to Kurt, but is captured by Nash and imprisoned in one of the burning buildings. Kurt arrives in time to rescue his sweetheart and beat Nash, the flames preventing him from killing him. There is a good deal of footage used in the fight sequence, but it serves to work up a highly thrilling finish. In the end Kurt kills Nash, Neuman's trickery is exposed and he is due for the proper punishment.

Use the Author's Name Extensively. Safe to Boost It

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Owing to the popularity of the Zane Grey books, the picturization of his works are bound to meet with more or less success. There is always plenty of action in them. They are stories of the great out of doors with an unusually strong appeal for the men of your clientele. "Riders of the Dawn" has considerable excitement in its latter reels and there are some strenuous fights in which Roy Stewart does some fine work. The entire cast in fact helps a lot to make the adaptation a good one.

In your announcements play up the author's name with the most prominence, then give Stewart his share of the honors. Say that "Riders of the Dawn" is an adaptation of "The Desert of Wheat" for the benefit of those who have read the book. You could say: "See how his battlefield training aided him when he was confronted by a band of hobo Bolsheviks. See this new type of Bolshevist in the latest Zane Grey picture."

THE SENSATIONAL SERIAL THAT SOLD OUT AT FIRST SIGHT
ONLY TERRITORIES UNSOLD ARE THE FEW BLOCKS LISTED BELOW
THE TRAIL THAT AUDIENCES OF MORE THAN 10,000 THEATRES WILL SOON BE FOLLOWING
"FOLLOW "THE HAWK'S TRAIL"

THE WONDER SERIAL

KING BAGGOT

WITH

GRACE DARMOND

IN

"THE HAWK'S TRAIL"

RELIANCE FILM EXCHANGE
WASHINGTON, D. C.

Burston Films,
Gentlemen:

"The Hawk's Trail" is a serial surpassed by none.

RELIANCE FILMS

SPECIAL FEATURES CO.
KNOXVILLE, TENN.

Burston Films,
Gentlemen:

We broke all Monday and Tuesday night records with "The Hawk's Trail." I personally saw the serial and can recommend it to all exhibitors as one of the best drawing cards I have ever seen.

E. J. WALTON,
Ybor City Theatres

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

OKLAHOMA CITY, OKLA.

BURSTON FILMS:

ACCEPT HAWK'S TRAIL MAILING CHECKS AND SIGNED CONTRACTS TO-DAY, RELEASE HAWK'S TRAIL DALLAS OFFICE MAY 1st. RUSH QUICK TO OUR DALLAS OFFICE FOLLOWING ADVERTISING EACH ON EPISODES ONE AND TWO. TWO HUNDRED ONES, SIXTY THREES, 40 SIXES, 50 SETS 11x14, 50 SETS 22x28, 50 SLIDES, ALSO 10 24-SHEETS. MAILING ORDER EXTRA PRINTS AND ADVERTISING.
WIRE CONFIRMATION.

R. D. LEWIS FILM CO.

DISTRIBUTED BY THE FOLLOWING EXCHANGES

New England States
Arrow Film Co., Boston, Mass
New York State, No. New Jersey
Merit Film Corporation, 130 W. 46th St., N.Y.C.
Eastern Pennsylvania, Southern New Jersey
Twentieth Century Film Co., Phila, Pa.
Delaware, Maryland, Dist. of Columbia, Virginia
Reliance Film Exchange, Washington, D. C.
North & South Carolina
Eltabran Film Co., Charlotte, N. C.
Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee
Special Features Co., Knoxville, Tenn
Ohio, Kentucky
Dave Warner Film Co., Cleveland, Ohio
Michigan
Arthur S. Hyman Attr., Inc., Detroit, Mich.
Northern Illinois, Indiana
Unity Photoplays Co., Chicago, Ill.
Minnesota, North & South Dakota
Elliot Film Co., Minneapolis, Minn.
Wisconsin
Elliot Film Co. Minneapolis, Minn.
Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas
A. T. Lewis Film Co. Oklahoma City, Okla.
Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana
Sun Films Inc., Los Angeles California
California, Arizona, Nevada
Sun Films Inc., Los Angeles, California
Canada
Regal Films Ltd., Toronto, Canada
West Pennsylvania & West Virginia
Max Herring & L. C. Frohrieb of Pittsburgh

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAM

NEWCOMB CARLTON, PRESIDENT — GEORGE W. E. ATKINS, FIRST VICE-PRESIDENT

LOS ANGELES, CAL.

BURSTON FILMS:

"HAWK'S TRAIL" OPENS PANTAGES' HERE APRIL 26. AM CLOSING ENTIRE CIRCUIT. WILL HAVE START DATES IN OTHER HOUSES IN COUPLE OF DAYS. CAN SELL HAWK'S TRAIL" PANTAGES SALT LAKE, VAN COUVER VICTORIA PLEASE WIRE DISTRIBUTOR IN EACH INSTANCE INSTRUCTING THEM TO WIRE ME IF THEY WANT ME TO CLOSE SAME FOR THEM.

MORGAN A. WALSH

OPEN TERRITORY

IOWA AND NEBRASKA
KANSAS, MISSOURI & SO. ILL.
COL., WASH. & NEW MEXICO

BURSTON FILMS INC.
LONGACRE BUILDING,
NEW YORK CITY, N.Y.

Various Clever Characterizations Feature This Melodrama

Bernard Durning in
"THE GIFT SUPREME"
C. R. Macauley Photoplays, Inc.—Republic

DIRECTOR.....Ollie L. Sellers
AUTHOR.....George Allan England
SCENARIO BY.....Not credited
CAMERAMAN .....Jack MacKenzie
AS A WHOLE.....Average entertaining melodrama of the underworld.
DIRECTION.....Atmosphere is sometimes stagey but otherwise work is of average worth.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... All right
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Plays to generally good effect
SUPPORT.....Very good; includes some big names
EXTERIORS.....Slum stuff, might have been more realistic.
INTERIORS ..... Satisfactory
DETAIL ..... Not much of it
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Career of rich hero in slum district of city.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 6,000 feet

As an underworld melodrama "The Gift Supreme" passes average muster. It would have been possible, with the material in the story, to make a much stronger picture had the director hung his sequences together more compactly and dramatically. In its present state, however, the production manages to maintain a good degree of interest from beginning to end because of the individual sequences themselves and because of several entertaining characterizations rendered by the supporting cast. Tully Marshall, Lon Chaney and Jack Curtis are the principal figures in the corps of assisting players and the work that each does stands out through sheer skill. Marshall's crafty blackmailer, Chaney's gangster and Curtis' bully are, in fact, the brightest spots in the picture.

The story traces the activities of Bradford Vinton, a rich man's son, who goes to the underworld for atmosphere for a contemplated book. He meets Sylvia Alden, a mission singer, and they fall in love. Old Vinton hears of it and sends for his son threatening disinheritance. Bradford remains steadfastly true to the girl. In a further effort to bring his son to his way of thinking, Vinton plots to blacken the girl's character by hiring a bunch of underworld figures to bear false witness against her. At this she disappears, but Bradford still remains true.

Disowned by his father, he sets up a cheap restaurant in the poor quarter and gets all the ex-drunks coming to his place. The upshot of it is that Stagg, one of the gangsters, in a drunken fit, stabs him. In the hospital it is discovered that only a transfusion of young blood will save his life. Sylvia, now a nurse, volunteers. Her blood restores the young fellow's life, and as a result she is finally accepted by old Vinton.

The story hasn't got much to it. It's the kind of stuff that needs to be elaborately dressed in the way of settings. This the director seems to have realized to a certain extent, hence the big exterior slum setting, which though possessing the right atmosphere at times is also stagey at others. It seems that not enough people were used in it for atmosphere. And this, in fact, is one of the production faults that runs throughout.

Bernard Durning fares well with the stellar role and Seena Owen is pretty as the heroine. However, Miss Owen should realize that she should find clothes somewhat shabbier than her own when she is playing the role of a girl struggling to exist and counting the pennies. Besides the others mentioned, Melbourne McDowell, Eugenie Besserer, Dick Morris, Anna Dodge and Claire McDowell appear.

Gives You Good Advertising Opportunities

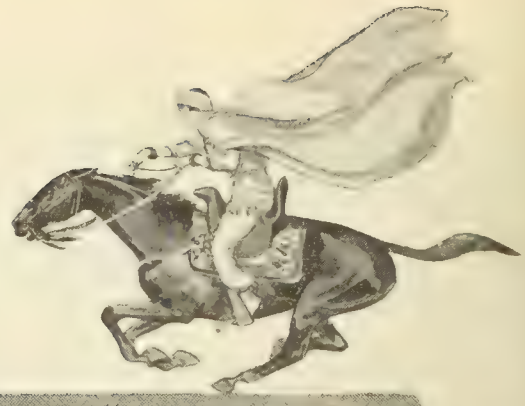
Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Melodramatic loving crowds should find average entertainment in "The Gift Supreme" despite its shortcomings, while you have a chance to cash in on the fact that practically all the cast is well known. If you played "When Bearcat Went Dry," mention that Bernard Durning was the star in that picture. Most all audiences have seen Seena Owen supporting one male star or another. And then there are the three characterizations rendered by Tully Marshall, Lon Chaney and Jack Curtis to mention. Most people now these actors.

In presenting the story you might adopt the following line of advertising. "What is the Gift Supreme? Is Wealth, Name, Station, Beauty, Happiness? Is it Love? See 'The Gift Supreme,' and learn the answer in a stirring story."

You can also start a "What is the Gift Supreme?" contest.

Your one best bet



WISCONSIN, FOR EXAMPLE

"'Virgin of Stamboul' opened at Alhambra Theatre today. Crowds standing on sidewalks two hours before doors opened. House filled to capacity from two o'clock to eleven. Experienced large crowds before but never witnessed anything like crowds flocking to see the Virgin. Congratulations."

GEORGE LEVINE,
Alhambra, Milwaukee, Wis.

"Great success marked opening of 'Virgin of Stamboul,' Palace Theatre, today. Never in the history of the house has management experienced such tremendous crowds. Enthusiastic to the brim. Scores turned away every minute of the day. No words can express our appreciation. Recommend 'Virgin of Stamboul' to every exhibitor."

N. BLUMBERG,
Mgr. Palace, Racine, Wis.

The VIRGIN of STAMBOUL

Universal-Jewel
$500,000
Production de Luxe
Directed by Tod Browning
Story by H.H. Van Loan

Starring

PRISCILLA DEAN

Average Entertainment Dealing With Lives of Young Married Couple

Mildred Harris Chaplin in
"THE INFERIOR SEX"
Louis B. Mayer-First National

IDRECTOR .....Joseph Henaberry
AUTHOR .....Frank Slayton
SCENARIO BY.....Keene Thompson
CAMERAMAN .....Tony Gaudio
AS A WHOLE.....More talk than action in production dealing with intimate life of married couple.
STORY.....Rather slow and talky at first; develops into conventional situation of wife playing on husband's jealousy and builds to average climax.
DIRECTION ..... Average
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Effective
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR.....A bit too girlish as wife
SUPPORT ..... Capable
EXTERIORS .....Very beautiful
INTERIORS ..... Commendable
DETAIL.....Handling of some situations a bit farfetched.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Wife finds that husband tires of too much attention and reverses tactics.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,685 feet

"The Inferior Sex" provides average entertainment and doesn't balance the scales heavily to its credit or debit except at odd moments scattered throughout the production. Its greatest asset lies in its theme which always proves of some interest if handled with any degree of intelligence and skill. There is the girl-wife madly in love with her husband, so madly in fact that she wears him out. Subsequently she awakens to the fact that she must arouse his jealousy to hold his love and this she succeeds in doing. The climax which involves the "other man" is capably handled and provides a good bit of picture drama.

This theme has not been treated in the best possible fashion in "The Inferior Sex." For one reason, there is too much talk and not enough action. The best part of the first three reels of the picture is consumed by subtitles containing the author's theories on married life and dialogue between the husband and wife, which serves to strongly plant each character. At least these subtitles are more prominent than the pictured action.

While to a certain extent such talk is interesting there is the danger that it may wear on the spectator as handled herein. And furthermore it reacts on the latter part of the picture and weakens it. Through all the talk the girl-wife has been planted as such a very unworldly wise young thing that the air of sophistication she later assumes to win her husband's love strikes the spectator as being rather unnatural. It seems that picture heroines only need the passing remarks of their maids or the incidental epigram dropped by some friend to transform themselves from foolish and childlike ways to the personification of sophistication itself.

The story has a good twist to it when it develops that the "other man" with whom the wife has been leading her husband to suspect she has an affair, is discovered to have her married sister-in-law really in his power. One of those road-house scenes is staged for a climax and the manner in which the wife saves the name of her sister-in-law and still maintains her own honor before her husband provides a denouement of considerable strength.

Mildred Harris Chaplin is a bit too girlish for the role of the wife, although she is at least capable of registering the desired emotions. Her support is worthy, including as it does Milton Sills, Mary Alden, John Steppling and Bertram Grassby.

Considering Title and Star This Should Be a Big Winner

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There are chances for you to make a big box office success out of "The Inferior Sex" and the averagely satisfactory entertainment that it offers warrants you in boosting it pretty strong. You have two very good assets, the name of the star, who has received a vast amount of publicity during the last year, and the name of the picture. With these two advertising elements you ought to be able to bring the crowds in droves.

The title provides ample opportunities for catch lines and special types of advertising. A teaser campaign might be inaugurated with the mere words, "Which is the Inferior Sex?" This line run in the daily newspapers a few days before the showing of the picture should serve to create a real interest in it.

As suggested in the press sheet provided by the distributors, the exhibitor might offer awards of some sort for the best answer to the question, "Which is the Inferior Sex?" In fact the opportunities for stimulating interest that lie in the title alone seem manifold.

Old-Time Plot Handicaps New Star's First One

Anne Cornwall in
"THE PATH SHE CHOSE"
Universal

DIRECTOR ..... Philip Rosen
AUTHOR.....Ida M. Evans
SCENARIO BY.....Doris Schroeder
CAMERAMAN ..... Harold Janes
AS A WHOLE.....Rather tiresome production; lacking in dramatic incidents.
STORY.....Adapted from "Virginia"; obvious and conventional treatment of plot.
DIRECTION.....Atmosphere maintained proper; did reasonably well with material on hand.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS.....No unusual effects, but measure up to the needs of the story.
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR.....Petite and has pleasing personality
SUPPORT.....Edward Coxen acceptable as leading man; Claire Anderson plays misled sister well; rest of cast creditable.
EXTERIORS.....City street scenes appropriate
INTERIORS.....Nothing elaborate called for; suitable.
DETAIL.....No serious slips; opening scene adds novel touch.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....A poor girl's perilous path to happiness.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,400 feet

Everyone is familiar with the story of the impoverished and persevering maid who rises from the squalor of the slums to assume a prominent position in the business world and win the hand of her generous employer. In her initial starring vehicle, Anne Cornwall is the handicapped lass who makes her way unaided and achieves her ambitions with the result that she brings her erring sister back to the proverbial straight and narrow.

Horatio Alger immortalized the theme employed here, using male characters, and while this may have gone well in its original form, picture patrons are hardly likely to become enthusiastic about it. The new star possesses possibilities.. In this, she does not receive the opportunities to rise to big heights, but is attractive. Claire Anderson, who is fascinated by the idea of leading a gay life and sinks to the unhappy lot of a scrub-woman, holds her own and William Moran shows a wicked grin as the heavy. Technically, there is nothing wrong, but lack of thematic novelty is the big drawback to this.

Virginia Clerson lives in an unhappy environment. Her father is an inveterate drinker, brother an idler whose morals correspond to those of his crooked associates, and sister a moth who seeks a life of ease. One day, after being inspired by a novel, Virginia, after borrowing some money from one of her brother's sleeping friends, goes out into the world and makes good in a millinery shop.

Soon she is on her way to a happy life, a romance rapidly springing up between her employer and herself. Meanwhile, her sister, sunk to the depths of degradation, is rescued by her, but then her no-account brother appears and because she treats him with scorn and shuns his acquaintances, lies about her to the manager of the company for which she works. Her sister comes to the rescue, tells the truth, and brother receives a beating. Does Virginia marry the head of the concern? We'll say she does!

Play Up the Title and Let It Ride

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

You have an asset in the title of this production which can be exploited so as to attract, but otherwise it offers few possibilities. Anne Cornwall, the star, while probably a comer, is not known to the fans as yet and her name is not likely to mean much. It is hardly advisable to play her up too strongly yet.

Should you decide to run this, be careful not to make any promises. Let them know what the story is about and tell them in catch lines about the two girls brought up in the same home—how one chose the difficult grind necessary to attain success while the other selected the merry whirl.

The safest plan is to put this in without much noise. Let the title draw alone, and then they will have little cause for complaint. It is an ordinary program offering and you had better use it as such.

WD 5/9/20

31

Some Short Reels

"Her Beloved Burglar"—Robertson-Cole

Basically, the plot of this one reeler is not new, but they have kept it going at a satisfactory average, added some cute scenes in which several youngsters appear and have made an acceptable short comedy out of it. Molly Malone, who is featured together with Roy Gallagher, looks well enough as the leading woman and Gallagher holds his end up reasonably well. The story centers about the manner in which a youthful duo who have quarreled are brought together. They are caused to remain in the same house to take care of some children and mistake each other for burglars. Each summons a detective and then the officers are held up and start a scrap while the two affected by Cupid make up. Scott Sidney directed.

"The Lone Trapper"—Robertson-Cole

There is something fascinating about the life of the trapper who, far from the outskirts of civilization, spends his time in pursuit of fur-bearing animals. In this Adventure Scenic they have followed the expedition of a fur-hunter high up in the hills. From the time he leaves his family until with the object of his journey fulfilled, he starts on the homeward course, the principal incidents of his work have been screened. In the early portion the snow-covered rocks, with evergreens here and there, do not always provide a beautiful spectacle, due to the fact that there is not very much contrast. Rather, it is the trapper's story that holds interest. Towards the conclusion, however, the scenes are both imposing and appealing. The narrow escape from death of the skin-seeker, as he slips and stops just at the edge of the canyon (they screened it expertly) furnishes a thrill and the reel is made more valuable thereby. An entertaining offering.

"The Paper Hanger"—Reelcraft

Houses which cater to audiences that look upon single-reel slapstick comedies with favor, may find it possible to play this to advantage. Billy Franey is starred in the offering which has a few laughable bits, its principal fault being some irrelevant stuff in the early portion. That part of it is evidently just padding and not very funny, while other material to be found in it is not essentially new. On the other hand, the star's escapade with the collapsing ladder, the chase in which one of the performers is punished when he is not to blame for the cause, and a few other spots will get smiles.

Pathe Review, No. 45

What is undoubtedly of interest is the slow motion portion of this Pathe review. Many have probably been curious as to the manner in which some performers free themselves when tied in straight-jackets. In this reel the secret is revealed, when after a series of contortions, too rapid for the eye to catch, but apparent when slowed up, the fellow tied up emerges from the garment. There are in addition two hand-colored parts, one shot in Merida, Spain, and another devoted to the vulture. A section showing doughnut-making in detail and explaining the ingredients and their proportions will probably interest women, while Tomako Kimura's Japanese Fan Dance concludes nicely. A bit above the usual offering of this type.

"Trotting Through Turkey"—Pathe

Few single reel comedies have been produced on as elaborate a scale as this one. The settings and draperies throughout hold the eye, the photography is unusually good and the entire affair a very satisfactory offering. It opens with a scene in the Palace of a Turkish sultan, where a giant wrestler manhandles his hapless opponents. Snub Pollard, starred in the piece, and his little colored companion appear upon the scene to shoot stuff for a news weekly, teach the members of the harem how to shimmie and incur the Sultan's displeasure. Snub is pitted against the giant grappler and with the aid of the peppery fluid is returned the victor. That scheme in itself is not especially humorous, due to the many forms in which it has been employed, but the reel has much that is of value, is splendidly staged and ranks with Pollard's better ones.

"Drink Hearty"—Pathe

Prohibition has been used as a source of humor in more than one comedy, but the barn gin-mill in this one has been filmed so as to result in giggles and much of the material used is clever. Snub Pollard is the star and works earnestly. The mustached comedian looks funny enough and does not shirk work. In this he has been given satisfactory stuff and the result is an acceptable reel—another of his good ones.

"By the Zuyder Zee"—Mentor

Dutch children who appear in goodly numbers in the first part of this Mentor reel, hand-colored, will hold the eye. The surroundings are pleasing and the youngsters, as well as older folks seen in it, attired in bright-colored clothes, furnish an interesting spectacle. In some places the tinting has not been applied very well, the faces having been left blank at times and grey being apparent at the edges on other occasions. Generally, however, it will do. What is technically the best part of this is the second and closing portion devoted to Japanese dances. It has been photographed with unusual clearness and the youngsters from Nippon give a terpsichorean display that entertains. There is variety due to the difference in the costumes and steps done and it winds up well.

"The Hope of Adventure"—Educational

Shot from the top of a moving train and looking forward over the roofs of the cars, the early part of another Bruce scenic offers some novel material. Those who have come to expect numerous bits of rare scenic beauty in the Bruce productions will be disappointed. As in some of the other recent releases of his new series, the territory photographed is not strictly refreshing. It is not until the latter portion is reached that the material shows improvement. In that section nature has once more done its share and the water stuff makes the finish meritorious.

"The White Squaw"—Reelcraft

The one fault in this two-reel western which stars Texas Guinan is an obvious plot—a theme which fails to keep the spectator in suspense. The title suggests what the story is about and when they show a flash of the heroine, all dressed up in moccasins and other adjuncts of the red-skinned woman, the onlooker knows just what to expect. Throughout, the locations selected are of merit. The scenes are refreshing and pleasing to the eye, having been photographed in fine style. On the other hand, they have failed to inject the proper amount of unity into the production which is rather jerky, due to the manner in which they skip from incident to incident. The star possesses a pleasing personality, but here she is not given enough to do, her share of it consisting mainly of riding about on a pony and meeting the villain's unwelcome attentions with a stiff front. Charles Brinley is the arch evil-doer and T. N. T. Harvey the good young man. Jay Hunt directed.

Old-Time Plot Handicaps New Star's First One

Anne Cornwall in
"THE PATH SHE CHOSE"
Universal

DIRECTOR ..... Philip Rosen
AUTHOR.....Ida M. Evans
SCENARIO BY.....Doris Schroeder
CAMERAMAN ..... Harold Janes
AS A WHOLE.....Rather tiresome production; lacking in dramatic incidents.
STORY.....Adapted from "Virginia"; obvious and conventional treatment of plot.
DIRECTION.....Atmosphere maintained proper; did reasonably well with material on hand.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS.....No unusual effects, but measure up to the needs of the story.
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR.....Petite and has pleasing personality
SUPPORT.....Edward Coxen acceptable as leading man; Claire Anderson plays misled sister well; rest of cast creditable.
EXTERIORS.....City street scenes appropriate
INTERIORS.....Nothing elaborate called for; suitable.
DETAIL.....No serious slips; opening scene adds novel touch.
CHARACTER OF STORY.....A poor girl's perilous path to happiness.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,400 feet

Everyone is familiar with the story of the impoverished and persevering maid who rises from the squalor of the slums to assume a prominent position in the business world and win the hand of her generous employer. In her initial starring vehicle, Anne Cornwall is the handicapped lass who makes her way unaided and achieves her ambitions with the result that she brings her erring sister back to the proverbial straight and narrow.

Horatio Alger immortalized the theme employed here, using male characters, and while this may have gone well in its original form, picture patrons are hardly likely to become enthusiastic about it. The new star possesses possibilities.. In this, she does not receive the opportunities to rise to big heights, but is attractive. Claire Anderson, who is fascinated by the idea of leading a gay life and sinks to the unhappy lot of a scrub-woman, holds her own and William Moran shows a wicked grin as the heavy. Technically, there is nothing wrong, but lack of thematic novelty is the big drawback to this.

Virginia Clerson lives in an unhappy environment. Her father is an inveterate drinker, brother an idler whose morals correspond to those of his crooked associates, and sister a moth who seeks a life of ease. One day, after being inspired by a novel, Virginia, after borrowing some money from one of her brother's sleeping friends, goes out into the world and makes good in a millinery shop.

Soon she is on her way to a happy life, a romance rapidly springing up between her employer and herself. Meanwhile, her sister, sunk to the depths of degradation, is rescued by her, but then her no-account brother appears and because she treats him with scorn and shuns his acquaintances, lies about her to the manager of the company for which she works. Her sister comes to the rescue, tells the truth, and brother receives a beating. Does Virginia marry the head of the concern? We'll say she does!

Play Up the Title and Let It Ride

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

You have an asset in the title of this production which can be exploited so as to attract, but otherwise it offers few possibilities. Anne Cornwall, the star, while probably a comer, is not known to the fans as yet and her name is not likely to mean much. It is hardly advisable to play her up too strongly yet.

Should you decide to run this, be careful not to make any promises. Let them know what the story is about and tell them in catch lines about the two girls brought up in the same home—how one chose the difficult grind necessary to attain success while the other selected the merry whirl.

The safest plan is to put this in without much noise. Let the title draw alone, and then they will have little cause for complaint. It is an ordinary program offering and you had better use it as such.

WD 5/9/20

Some Short Reels

"Her Beloved Burglar"—Robertson-Cole

Basically, the plot of this one reeler is not new, but they have kept it going at a satisfactory average, added some cute scenes in which several youngsters appear and have made an acceptable short comedy out of it. Molly Malone, who is featured together with Roy Gallagher, looks well enough as the leading woman and Gallagher holds his end up reasonably well. The story centers about the manner in which a youthful duo who have quarreled are brought together. They are caused to remain in the same house to take care of some children and mistake each other for burglars. Each summons a detective and then the officers are held up and start a scrap while the two affected by Cupid make up. Scott Sidney directed.

"The Lone Trapper"—Robertson-Cole

There is something fascinating about the life of the trapper who, far from the outskirts of civilization, spends his time in pursuit of fur-bearing animals. In this Adventure Scenic they have followed the expedition of a fur-hunter high up in the hills. From the time he leaves his family until with the object of his journey fulfilled, he starts on the homeward course, the principal incidents of his work have been screened. In the early portion the snow-covered rocks, with evergreens here and there, do not always provide a beautiful spectacle, due to the fact that there is not very much contrast. Rather, it is the trapper's story that holds interest. Towards the conclusion, however, the scenes are both imposing and appealing. The narrow escape from death of the skin-seeker, as he slips and stops just at the edge of the canyon (they screened it expertly) furnishes a thrill and the reel is made more valuable thereby. An entertaining offering.

"The Paper Hanger"—Reelcraft

Houses which cater to audiences that look upon single-reel slapstick comedies with favor, may find it possible to play this to advantage. Billy Franey is starred in the offering which has a few laughable bits, its principal fault being some irrelevant stuff in the early portion. That part of it is evidently just padding and not very funny, while other material to be found in it is not essentially new. On the other hand, the star's escapade with the collapsing ladder, the chase in which one of the performers is punished when he is not to blame for the cause, and a few other spots will get smiles.

Pathe Review, No. 45

What is undoubtedly of interest is the slow motion portion of this Pathe review. Many have probably been curious as to the manner in which some performers free themselves when tied in straight-jackets. In this reel the secret is revealed, when after a series of contortions, too rapid for the eye to catch, but apparent when slowed up, the fellow tied up emerges from the garment. There are in addition two hand-colored parts, one shot in Merida, Spain, and another devoted to the vulture. A section showing doughnut-making in detail and explaining the ingredients and their proportions will probably interest women, while Tomako Kimura's Japanese Fan Dance concludes nicely. A bit above the usual offering of this type.

"Trotting Through Turkey"—Pathe

Few single reel comedies have been produced on as elaborate a scale as this one. The settings and draperies throughout hold the eye, the photography is unusually good and the entire affair a very satisfactory offering. It opens with a scene in the Palace of a Turkish sultan, where a giant wrestler manhandles his hapless opponents. Snub Pollard, starred in the piece, and his little colored companion appear upon the scene to shoot stuff for a news weekly, teach the members of the harem how to shimmie and incur the Sultan's displeasure. Snub is pitted against the giant grappler and with the aid of the peppery fluid is returned the victor. That scheme in itself is not especially humorous, due to the many forms in which it has been employed, but the reel has much that is of value, is splendidly staged and ranks with Pollard's better ones.

"Drink Hearty"—Pathe

Prohibition has been used as a source of humor in more than one comedy, but the barn gin-mill in this one has been filmed so as to result in giggles and much of the material used is clever. Snub Pollard is the star and works earnestly. The mustached comedian looks funny enough and does not shirk work. In this he has been given satisfactory stuff and the result is an acceptable reel—another of his good ones.

"By the Zuyder Zee"—Mentor

Dutch children who appear in goodly numbers in the first part of this Mentor reel, hand-colored, will hold the eye. The surroundings are pleasing and the youngsters, as well as older folks seen in it, attired in bright-colored clothes, furnish an interesting spectacle. In some places the tinting has not been applied very well, the faces having been left blank at times and grey being apparent at the edges on other occasions. Generally, however, it will do. What is technically the best part of this is the second and closing portion devoted to Japanese dances. It has been photographed with unusual clearness and the youngsters from Nippon give a terpsichorean display that entertains. There is variety due to the difference in the costumes and steps done and it winds up well.

"The Hope of Adventure"—Educational

Shot from the top of a moving train and looking forward over the roofs of the cars, the early part of another Bruce scenic offers some novel material. Those who have come to expect numerous bits of rare scenic beauty in the Bruce productions will be disappointed. As in some of the other recent releases of his new series, the territory photographed is not strictly refreshing. It is not until the latter portion is reached that the material shows improvement. In that section nature has once more done its share and the water stuff makes the finish meritorious.

"The White Squaw"—Reelcraft

The one fault in this two-reel western which stars Texas Guinan is an obvious plot—a theme which fails to keep the spectator in suspense. The title suggests what the story is about and when they show a flash of the heroine, all dressed up in moccasins and other adjuncts of the red-skinned woman, the onlooker knows just what to expect. Throughout, the locations selected are of merit. The scenes are refreshing and pleasing to the eye, having been photographed in fine style. On the other hand, they have failed to inject the proper amount of unity into the production which is rather jerky, due to the manner in which they skip from incident to incident. The star possesses a pleasing personality, but here she is not given enough to do, her share of it consisting mainly of riding about on a pony and meeting the villain's unwelcome attentions with a stiff front. Charles Brinley is the arch evil-doer and T. N. T. Harvey the good young man. Jay Hunt directed.

Star Buried in Poorly Handle Mountain Feud Story

George Walsh in
"THE DEAD LINE"
Fox

DIRECTOR .....Dell Henderson
AUTHOR .....Paul H. Sloane
SCENARIO BY.....Paul H. Sloane
CAMERAMAN .....Charles Gilson
AS A WHOLE.....Wild Tennessee-feud-moonshine melo; not the sort of stuff for this star.
STORY.....Terrific amount of shooting; not much to plot except a few far-fetched situations.
DIRECTION.....Certainly didn't play up star to any extent; in fact, played him down.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Average
LIGHTINGS.....Composition of some mountain shots very pretty.
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Doesn't have a chance at the stunt stuff and is generally very much in the background
SUPPORT ..... Capable
EXTERIORS.....Very good mountain stuff
INTERIORS .....Cabin stuff
DETAIL.....Didn't bother much about it
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Plot becomes incoherent in dealing with vicious mountain feud
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,000 feet

This certainly wasn't the right picture in which to cast George Walsh. And on second thought it was a pretty poor story for any star. It is merely the old mountain feud, moonshine stuff, hashed up all over again with little skill displayed in either the writing or the directing of it. In fact, the plot often becomes lost in the wild orgy of shooting and killing indulged in by the majority of the characters.

They open up showing George Walsh as Clay Boone, a member of one moonshining clan, while the girl he loves, Mollie, is a member of the opposition. Clay and Mollie meet sub rosa but the feud goes on just the same. Mollie loathes the sight of her step-brothers, with whom she lives. She urges Clay on and on to kill them, even saying that she won't marry him unless he accomplishes this end. This situation is rather funny—a girl refusing to marry the man she loves until he has killed her relatives.

After a sequence in which both Clay and the step-brothers are jailed after a fight, they break out with still another fight in which little Bebe Boone is killed. This makes Clay renounce the feud and refuse to fight. He keeps his promise until one day Gomery, agent of a "moonshine trust,' attacks Julia Weston, daughter of the trust leader. He then proceeds to beat him to a pulp and to administer a thrashing to the step-brothers as well. After that he and Mollie embrace.

Just what this climax has to do with the romance of Mollie and Clay is never explained. It appears as a makeshift arrangement to conclude the story, but it doesn't do it satisfactorily. Director Dell Henderson has registered a number of comedy touches in the character of the old judge who secretly gets his liquor from the moonshiners. But when it comes to the arrangement of the supposedly dramatic sequences he seems to become jumbled and the plot as a result is very often incoherent.

The picture contains some very pretty mountain shots, several of which are remarkably well lighted. There is one very bad spot in the film introducing some scenes of a squirrel supposedly watching the judge procure his moonshine. These scenes show the squirrel on a smooth lawn while the ground about the judge is uncultivated.

George Walsh has no stunts to do in this and is quite in the background throughout a lot of the action. His support registers capably and includes Irene Boyle, Baby Anita Lopez, Joseph Hanaway, Henry Pemberton, James Milady, Gus Weinberg, Virginia Valli, James Birdsong, John Hopkins and Richard Neil.

Walsh's Popularity Wasn't Won on Pictures of This Type

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

George Walsh's popularity has been builded on his ability to do daring stunts and his generally athletic manner. But he isn't given a chance in this picture, and, more than that, he is often buried in the action's background. Considering this it is likely that those who are drawn by the star's name will be very much disappointed.

The picture itself is just a rehash of old mountain feud stuff and isn't handled very well. It has the earmarks of conventionality with no skilful or distinctive dressings. Before some there is a chance that the frequent gun fights that are staged will register, but even they are not introduced cleverly and fail to fit in with the plot. And the fight which claims as its victim the little girl is rather disagreeable.

GOLDWYN TRADE BULLETIN

A Weekly Catalogue of Current Releases

STAR: Winsome Madge Kennedy, who has a large and devoted following wherever motion pictures are shown and genuine comedy is appreciated.

AUTHOR: Octavus Roy Cohen, whose delightful stories in the Saturday Evening Post are marked by a unique and highly fascinating tang of originality.

CAST: Kenneth Harlan, Willard Louis, Florence Deshon, Richard Tucker and other well-known performers.

DIRECTOR: Harry Beaumont.

STORY: Madge Kennedy is seen as Hazel Farron, a chorus girl, whose experience back stage has not yet served to rub the silver off her dreams.

Out of a job and desperately hungry, Hazel sees a sign outside a bakery: "Stale buns, Two for a Cent." She has just two cents left, and buys some buns—"for her pet pom."

The baker, young and warm-hearted, sees through her subterfuge, and slips a silver dollar into each bun.

Then begins a business partnership. Hazel works in the bakery and learns at last why holes are put in doughnuts. After a series of deliciously funny adventures in the bakery Hazel suddenly realizes that the young baker has stolen her heart.

She has to choose between poverty in the humble bake-shop and luxury under the protection of the wealthy Stanhope, a persistent admirer. The story works up to an indescribably tender climax, in which the young pair of lovers discover that honesty and a kind heart are still the most valuable assets in life.

The best of all Madge Kennedy pictures and a splendid attraction for any house.

SAMUEL GOLDWYN PRESENTS

MADGE KENNEDY

IN

DOLLARS AND SENSE

by Octavus Roy Cohen

Directed by HARRY BEAUMONT

Hitting the high spots of a busy day's business in a busy week on the

"Bringing Up Father Comedies;"

New York's Strand
Kansas City's Liberty
Spokane's Clemmer
Wilmington's Savoy (Delaware)
Philadelphia's Germantown
San Antonio's Queen
Butte's American and many others.

The big ones know a big attraction!

Pathé Distributors

International Film Service Co. Inc. presents

"JIGGS IN SOCIETY"

Adapted from Geo. McManus famous series

"BRINGING UP FATHER"

with JOHNNY RAY

Produced by Christie Film Co. TWO REELS

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 40 Monday, May 10, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Tax on Personals

Demanded From Artists by Government—Coast Startled by Ruling.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—The film colony on the coast was startled last week when notification was received from the Internal Revenue Department that personal advertising, wardrobes, maids, automobiles and similar charges were not to be included as exemptions from income taxes.

A protest meeting was held on Thursday evening at the Los Angeles Athletic Club, where various prominent individuals presented to J. Douglas, head of the Western Division of the Internal Revenue Department, conclusive arguments as why personal advertising, automobiles, maids and wardrobe maintenance and up-keep were necessities in their profession. It was explained that all of these items were directly responsible for increased incomes from which the government thereby profited.

In addition to the many talks made by well known artists, Charles Eyton, general manager for Famous Players on the coast, and Cliff Robertson, casting director for Goldwyn, declared clearly and emphatically that they expected individuals to furnish wardrobes, automobiles and so forth. They even went so far as to say that practically in every instance they engaged artists who had been properly advertised.

The meeting was largely attended and it seems to be the consensus of opinion here that the Internal Revenue Department will change the ruling since it was certainly made clear to them that a film player or director is a contracting individual who is in business just the same as any other person.

The general opinion here seems to be that the ruling is an astounding one and is taken as another indication of the fact that many people still do not consider the films as a business simply because they are not acquainted with the inside workings of the industry. It is generally taken that the arguments brought to bear on Mr. Douglas have brought him to a new understanding of this problem.

A man high up in the management of one of the largest producing units on the coast who is now in New York stated on Saturday that the revenue officials in the Los Angeles district expected to gross over $2,000,000 in additional revenue from the picture people.

Guess who! You're wrong! It's Constance Talmadge disguised as "The Perfect Woman," a John Emerson-Anita Loos production of that title and a First National attraction.—Advt.

Italian Dealer Here

O. P. Cairo, of the Armenian Film Co., an Italian company, is at the Commodore with a print of a spectacular film said to have cost $300,000 to produce. World's rights are available with the exception of Italy, France and England.

Woods Returns Thursday

Frank E. Woods, production manager at the Lasky Studios, Hollywood, leaves for the coast on Thursday. He has been here for about a week.

Berman on Exchange Tour

Harry M. Berman, Universal's general manager of exchanges, left New York Saturday night for an inspection tour of the exchanges in Chicago, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Dayton, Columbus and Minneapolis.

Bach Here From Canada

W. A. Bach of the Famous-Lasky Film Service, Ltd., of Canada, arrived in town Saturday for a visit.

Goldwyn Buys "The Concert"

Goldwyn has purchased "The Concert," one of David Belasco's successes. Nothing has as yet been determined as to who will appear in the screen version.

Tri-Star Chartered

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—Tri-Star Pictures Corp. has been formed here with a $1,000,000 capital.

This is the company which has under contract Ethel Barrymore and Claire Whitney.

New First National Unit

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—Associated First National Pictures of Western Pennsylvania, is a new First National unit to be chartered here by the Corporation Trust Co. The capitalization is $247,500.

Community M. P. Prod. will make a seven-reeler called "Tomorrow," directed by Ashley Miller.

De Mille Signs Again

Will Remain With F. P.-L. for Five Years—Was Eagerly Sought.

Cecil B. De Mille yesterday signed a contract for five years with Famous Players.

De Mille, who for more than five years has been director general and a member of the board of directors of the Paramount organization, and whose old contract is about to expire, made a trip from Los Angeles to consider offers from such independent producers as the "Big Four" and the "Big Six."

After completing his arrangements De Mille leaves today for Los Angeles to begin work on a new production in which he will introduce a new leading woman.

De Mille confirmed the report that he had signed with Famous for five years.

"I made my decision," he said, "after investigating thoroughly the efficiency of all the other distributing organizations as compared with Famous Players.

"I chose to remain with Famous Players because this organization is so splendidly capable of getting wide distribution of its product, not only in America but through the entire world. No other company is getting even one-third as great a distribution. I have looked at the books of the other companies and I know

(Continued on Page 4)

Chautard Released by Mayflower

It developed on Saturday that Emile Chautard, who has signed with William Fox to make 26 stories based on French detective stories, has been released from his Mayflower contract.

Chautard originally signed with May flower to make five productions yearly for two years, but has completed only three pictures. One of these, "The Mystery of the Yellow Room," has been in general circulation through Realart for some time. Nothing has been said about distribution of the other two.

No Intention

Of Owning or Operating Theaters Says Warren for Associated Producers.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—F. B. Warren, General Manager of Associated Producers, is authority for the statement that the Associated Producers have no intention of owning or operating theaters in competition with exhibitors.

Let SOLOMON do it. [illegible]

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 40 Mon. May 10, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 5th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	71	72	72
do pfd.	83	85	85
Goldwyn	22½	24½	23
Loew's, Inc.	30	30	30
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod...	2⅛	2¼	2¼
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Thursday's quotations.

In the Courts

A summons has been filed in the Supreme Court in a suit of the Canadian Pictures Corp. against Sol. Lesser to recover $6,300. The cause of the suit is not shown in the papers on file.

A suit has been brought in the Supreme Court by Screen Products Co. against the Gaumont Company. The only paper on file is an answer by Lamm & Goldie, attorneys for the defendant, denying the allegations of the complaint.

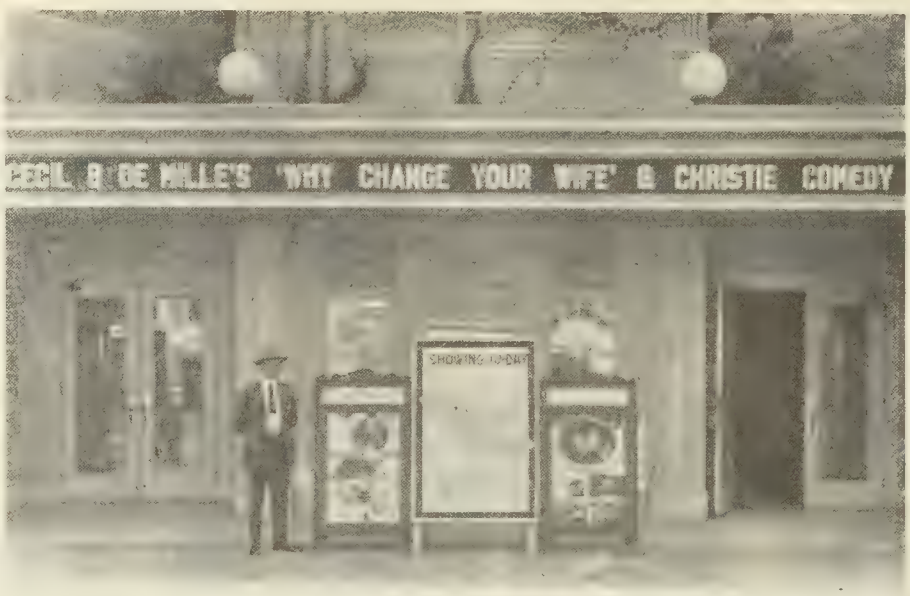
In a suit by Gail Kane against Lester Park a judgment for $2,536 has been filed in the Supreme Court by default. The plaintiff alleged that she rendered services worth $2,500 to the P. & W. Pictures in "A Good Woman," and that Mr. Park guaranteed payment.

Big Attractions in Philadelphia

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Press agents here are going nip and tuck for first honors on displays for their respective attractions.

This week finds Mary Pickford in "Pollyanna" opening a two weeks' engagement at the Metropolitan Opera House, Cecil De Mille's "Why Change Your Wife" at the Stanley for three weeks, Marshall Neilan's "The River's End" at the Palace for two weeks, Goldwyn's 'Silver Horde' at the Victoria for two weeks, and last but not least Barnum and Bailey's Circus at the show grounds.



THE WAY TO BILL A CHRISTIE COMEDY

Manager Sams of the Rosemary Theatre, Ocean Park, says "Petticoats and Pants," the latest Christie two-reel comedy, was the most talked about comedy film his theater had run.—Advt.

Philadelphia Men Here

V. R. Carrick, Universal's representative in Philadelphia, Lewis M. Swaab and George W. Bennethum, of the Interstate Film Exchange, Philadelphia, are in New York to see Carl Laemmle of Universal.

Blanche Sweet Going to Europe

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Blanche Sweet, starring for Jesse D. Hampton, will go abroad this summer. Before she goes Paul Scardon will make two pictures with her.

Lay Stanley Cornerstone

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia, Pa.—The cornerstone of the new Stanley, at 19th and Market Sts., was laid by Mrs. Fanney V. Mastbaum, mother of Stanley V. Mastbaum and Jules E. Mastbaum, on Saturday, amid ceremonies. A band concert and addresses by notables made up part of the function.

Dorothy Dalton was present at the ceremonies.

Barrymore at Work

Lionel Barrymore has begun work on 'The Master Mind."

New Exchange Opened

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia, Pa.—A policy of no deposits accepted on bookings has been announced by the B. and B. Film Exchange, just opened.

Cuts and Flashes

Pearl White is expected back from Europe any day.

Van Dyke Brooke, pioneer character, is back in town after a long stay in Florida, where he recuperated from a serious illness.

Elmer Harris is writing the continuity for "The Old Homestead" which Famous will produce. Harris formerly diercted Dorothy Gish.

"I Wonder If—", a story of Manhattan madness as applied to frail femininity, has been purchased by Thomas H. Ince for the next Ince-Paramount-Artcraft picture starring Enid Bennett.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Charles Richman here from New York to take an portant role in support of A Stewart in "Harriet and the Pip

Jo Neely has been made head the reading department at the G son studios.

Lew Morrison has been signed a long-term contract by Scr Crafts, Inc.

J. Parker Read, Jr., has both his companies on locations. Lo Glaum's unit, about sixty play with Wesley Ruggles directing, w to Coronado, while Hobart Boswo and his company, including Direc Roy Marshall, departed for the Sa Cruz Islands.

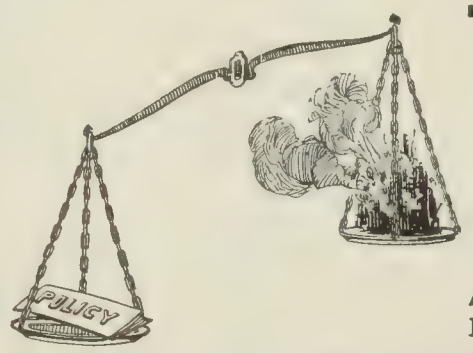
King Vidor is now finishing "T Jack-Knife Man," his second p duction for First National.

Laurence Trimble, who is dire ing Olive Thomas in the product of "Jenny," has chosen a support cast composed of Barney Sher Betty Schade, Colin Kenny, Richa Tucker, Margaret McWade, W Whitman, Andrew Arbuckle a Mrs. George Hernandez.

Charles Belmont Davis, brother the late Richard Harding Dav promises to become one of Thom H. Ince's most popular screen a thors. During the past month In has bought three of Davis' stori and is considering the fourth.

GAUSMA

The cost of living continues to soar. Meet it by an increased use of
RITCHEY POSTERS
RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8306
Ritchey



We Place Insurance for
PARAMOUNT PICTURES CORP.
(Watch this Space for Others)

AN OUNCE OF PREVENTION IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE

Don't wait with your insurance problems. To-morrow may be too late. Years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture field has enabled us to handle your problem with intelligence, dispatch and economy. May we prove to you how we can serve you better? Your phone's handy.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Insurance

SIMPLE SOULS

On Broadway

·Dorothy Dalton—"The Dark
·ror."
·Bryant Washburn — "Mrs.
nple's Telegram."
n—Cecil De Mille's "Why
ınge Your Wife."
–Anita Stewart—"The Yel-Typhoon."
–Rex Beach's "The Silver
rde."
ay — Marjorie Rambeau — ıe Fortune Teller."
n Strand—Wallace Reid—
e Dancin' Fool."
New York—Today—Geral-
Farrar—"The Woman and Puppet."
ay—Pauline Frederick--"The man in Room 13."
esday — William Farnum—ıe Orphan."
day—Lew Cody—"The But-ly Man."
y — Anne Cornwall — "The h She Chose." "The She er."
day—Olive Thomas — "The pper."
ay—Alice Brady—"Sinners."

Next Week

·Jack London's "The Sea lf."
·Ethel Clayton—"A Lady in re."
n—Cecil De Mille's "Why
ınge Your Wife."
–Doris Keane—"Romance."
—Alice Lake—"Shore Acres."
ay—Not yet determined.
n Strand—Not yet deter-
ıed.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

Turner Falls, Mass.—Dennis Shea, 1,000.

Omaha, Neb.—A. H. Blank to build new Strand on Strand site.

Philadelphia—John Smith. $38,000.

Opelousas, La.—Adolphe Jacobs, V. A. Sachse and Alex Bloomenstiel are associated with a company that will build. $60,000.

Austin, Tex.—Major George W. Littlefield. $80,000. About 800.

New Haven, Conn.--Derby Amusement Co. to build on Sterling site.

Elgin, Ill.—Aurora Theaters Co. to build on site of Grand, destroyed by cyclone.

Racine, Wis.—F. E. Wolcott, Majestic, to build. $70,000. 1,000.

New Bedford, Mass.—Empire Theater Co. $200,000.

Fort Worth, Tex. — Pantages. $100,000. $2,500.

Houston, Tex. — Will Horwitz bought Travis, renamed Iris.

Houston, Tex. — H. Schulman, chain, bought Victory.

Racine, Wis.—Harry E. Mann bought Rex.

House Changes

Houses Bought

Centerville, S. D.—E. E. Holmquist bought Broadway from W. E. Ege.

Chicago—Gumbiner Bros. bought Belle.

Brookings, S. D.—P. G. Estey bought Fad.

Mankato, Minn. — Guy Austin bought Mankato for $27,000.

Madelia Minn.—Howard Noonan sells Wonderland.

Verndale, Minn.—The Verndale Post of the American Legion has bought a house from A. Bradford.

Elysian, Minn.—L. F. Sowers bought A. J. Long theater property.

Bayfield, Wis.—E. Sharp bought Princess.

New Holstein, Wis.—Reymond Pfeiffer, owner Elite, bought Rialto at Kiel and Princess at Chilton.

Ballinger, Tex.—John D. Jones and H. E. Wood bought Queen and White City Airdrome from L. Cohen.

Hugo, Okla.—Allen L. Blount bought Liberty from O. Gill.

Yorktown, Tex.—C. C. Bubenezer and A. J. Skeen bought Queen.

Cumby, Tex. — Studdard Bros. bought Lyric, renamed the A. and L.

Houston, Tex.—Sam Kircheimer bought North Side.

Trenton, Tex.—M. B. Ernhart bought interest in Queen.

New Haven, Conn.—J. Le Roy bought Garden from F. C. Karzangian.

Enid, Okla. — Grant Harryman bought Majestic and Rialto.

Tishamingo, Okla.—L. W. Cummings of Greenville bought Empress.

Madill, Okla.—Harry Long bought half interest in Princess. O. T. Hunt owns other half.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
469 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"GOLDWYN IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

r:
The Los Angeles Herald
ys this about "The Silr Horde":
"The book, read by mil-
ns, has been faithfully
oduced for the screen,
here it should be seen millions more."

Goldwyn

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients "The Play's the Thing," and we have it.
Celebrated Authors Society
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bry. 1511

FOR PROJECTION
CALL BRYANT 984 or 985
3 Rooms
Longest Throw in City
SIMPLEX STUDIO
5th Floor—Candler Bldg.
220 West 42nd St.

JOSEPH R. MILES
MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES
LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in their new home
126-132 West 46th Street — Phone Bryant 5600
AT YOUR SERVICE twenty-four hours a day except Sunday
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve vaults in Long Island City
Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does everything to a picture except produce it
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We buy and sell used film in good condition—
CONSULT US

Many leading men have a very large following.
Many leading men have one hundred thousand photos in the homes of fans.
Many admissions are lost to theatres by not mentioning the name of the leading man in local advertisements.

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

De Mille Signs Again

(Continued from Page 1)

"Because of this wide sale of its product, Famous Players is not forced to levy exhorbitant prices upon a few exhibitors, but is enabled, because it serves so many thousands, to make its prices to exhibitors more consistent than any other distributing company could possibly do with the same high grade of product.

"The Famous Players-Lasky success does not depend upon getting exhorbitant prices from a few exhibitors. On the contrary, its large gross business is attributable to equitable prices from thousands of exhibitors throughout the world.

"It is one thing to produce pictures independently and another to produce with the aid of Famous Players where you have working with you a wonderful invisible force of writers, stage managers, designers, electricians, and other experts in every line of production, drawn from all over the world, ready to do your bidding. An independent producer is engulfed in relatively unimportant details that interfere with the creattive work upon his fame and his success depend.

"Several of my friends have thought it strange that I did not join some 'independent' organization and accept one of the big guarantees offered me. The only thing strange to me, after my thorough investigation of the various advantages of the different offers, is that I ever even considered for a momen the acceptance of any offer other than that of Mr. Zukor and Mr. Lasky."

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Chattanooga, Tenn.—The Rialto recently furnished both sides of the matrimonial problem to theater goers here. Mildred Chaplin Harris in "The Inferior Sex" was used to portray the side of the "female of the species," while another film showing a country lawyer who rose to prominence and a Rolls-Royce income, upheld the masculine. Liberal display advertising spoke daily of the screen debate and it proved one of the most effective methods of arousing interest in the Rialto's program.

Following Mildred Chaplin Harris was Constance Talmadge in "In Search of a Sinner." The Rialto immediately advertised "sinners week," and, like the joint discussion of the preceding week, it made a hit with local theater goers. The "hit" in fact was so big that before the several hundred inches of display advertising was concluded the line, "held over for another day's run" was appearing in 40-point.

FOR RENT

BRAND NEW STUDIO ON LONG ISLAND

25 minutes from Times Square close to Famous Players Studio

ALL MODERN EQUIPMENT

Apply

J. F. and M. B. COMPANY
137 East 41st Street
Telephone 2337 Murray Hill

WANTED.
Do you own a "dead" picture—an unreleased failure?
We have a proposition that will mean money to you.
Address "Confidential"
Care of Wid's Daily

NEGATIVE FOR SALE
Featuring
ARLINE PRETTY
in 5-reel production
including world's rights
For particulars
CHAS. N. JAWITZ
729 Seventh Ave. Room 607

DESK ROOM
In light, airy, well-furnished office; telephone and stenographer's service, $40.
158 West 45th St.,
Room 54, or Phone Bryant 1955

FURNISHED OFFICE
Immediate Possession
Fine light, well-furnished outside office, 350 square feet, splendidly located in heart of theatrical district.
By yearly lease only. Price, $2,275.
Telephone already installed. Apply
Room 54, 158-160 West 45th St.

The drawing pow of any attractio depends entirely u
the popularity of the s
That GEORGE CARPENTIE is the most popu man in the wor to-day is prov
beyond a doubt the fact that he received more fa able publicity th
was ever grantec individual.
COMIN
in a great Americ society drama f
ROBERTSON-C
Directed by JOHN G. A
A MILLION DOLL
ATTRACTIO

SIMPLE SOULS

REMOVAL NOTI
F. A. A. DAHME
ART TITLES and ILLUSTRAT
Now at
220 W. 42nd St. Room 5
Temporary Phone, Bryant

COMEDYART
Fills two more of your patrons' demands than any other release.
SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 41 Tuesday, May 11, 1920 Price 5 Cer

ot After Theaters

ldwyn Will Buy or Build When Forced to Only, Says Godsol— "In Business to Produce"

The theater policy of the Goldwyn tures Corp. was made plain by a tement which F. J. Godsol, chair- n of the executive committee of e Goldwyn company, gave yester- y to WID'S DAILY. He empha- ed the fact that the Goldwyn Com- ny is in business to produce pic- res and not to exhibit them.

"I want to make our position clear. view of all this talk about the way hibitors feel towards producing mpanies owning theaters," Mr. odsol said. "Months ago Mr. Gold- n told where we stood and later issued a similar statement. Now want to repeat it. The only place here we will buy or build is where e are shut out of a town. Gold- n productions must be shown, and any condition exists where our pic- res cannot be shown in important mmunities, then we will have to y or build.

"Goldwyn is averse to buying the- ers. We always have been and are day. Make that plain," said Mr. odsol. "We are interested in pro- uction, and production only, and cept when unusual conditions con-

(Continued on Page 3)

Worthington Leaves for Coast

William Worthington left for Cal- ornia yesterday to direct Leah aird in a new picture. Production ill be at the Robert Brunton stu- os.

De Haven Film for First Nat'l

First National officially announces at Carter De Haven will make Twin Beds" for national distribu- on by the circuit. This was report- l in WID'S DAILY at the time of e Chicago convention.

Sheehan Due This Week

Winfield Sheehan, general mana- r of the Fox Film Corp., is expect- l back in New York this week from urope.

Trifles

When an important executive of Goldwyn was asked with reference to the report circulated that the du Ponts were out of Goldwyn, he said: "I'll bet anybody a Rolls-Royce car they aren't."

Any takers?

Mr. and Mrs. Carter De Haven, who are now working on their first picture for First National, "Twin Beds."—Advt.

More Production

Voted for at Meeting of Canadian Photoplays

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Calgary, Alta.—At the annual meeting of the Canadian Photoplays, Ltd., producers of "Back to God's Country," a First National release, it was voted to produce two of the Ralph Connor stories.

Ernest Shipman, who is in general charge of the company's affairs, was present at the meeting. Cash bonuses of $15,000 and $8,000 were voted to Nell Shipman and David Hartford, who directed "Back to God's Country," as agreed upon when the profits derived from the picture passed a certain mark.

Committee Meets in June

Frank Rembusch, chairman of the special sub-committee of the Independent Exhibitors of America, has returned to Indianapolis.

The entire committee of ten will meet in New York June 3-4 to meet with the producers on the theater-buying question.

16 From Frohman

Four Series With as Many Stars Planned—Authors Signed.

The first step in the expansion along production lines of the Frohman Amusement Corp. as provided for in the stock increase to $1,000,000 in March became known yesterday in the signing of four authors for four productions each. These are Anthony Paul Kelly, William Hurlbut, Larry Evans and Richard Le Gallienne.

Production will get under way by June 15 with two companies working in the east and two in Los Angeles, thus making a total of four productions in work at once.

There will be four stars, one for each series of productions.

The new Frohman serial, "The Invisible Ray," has been completed.

Gudger Due Soon

Francis A. Gudger, vice-president of Goldwyn, who has been at the studios in California for the past month, is due back at his office in about ten days.

Fight On In South

First National Officials in Dallas Combat Hulsey-Lynch Enterprises.

Dallas, Tex.—Robert Lieber, pr ident of Associated First Natio Pictures, Inc.; H. O. Schwalbe, D. Williams, N. H. Gordon, of B ton; Moe Mark of New York a Sol Lesser arrived here yesterd from New York to open an As ciated First National exchange Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas a to line up the independent exhibit of this territory.

This was decided upon after a co mittee representing 300 theat had appeared before First Natio at Chicago and explained there conditions alleged to exist. The pr ent status of affairs, it was point out, was particularly threatening the entire theater owners they r resented as a committee, because the S. A. Lynch ownership o E. H. Hulsey theaters, the cont Hulsey had of the Paramount-A craft program for the territory, a the fact that Hulsey, it was alleged the holder of the original First tional franchise in that district.

(Continued on Page 4)

Swanson, Lasky St

In the official announcement the signing of Cecil De Mille by mous Players, Jesse L. Lasky stat "Mr. De Mille is a creator of st He is responsible for develop such artists as Wallace Reid, Ell Dexter, Thomas Meighan, Fan Ward, Sessue Hayakawa, Gerald Farrar, Wanda Hawley, Theod Roberts, Raymond Hatton, B Daniels, and Gloria Swanson, who, the way, soon is to be starred Paramount Pictures."

The Famous Players' offices wo not discuss the above, but the st ment comes from Mr. Lasky, is first vice-president of the c pany. It was reported that M Swanson would be an Equity sta

Leonhardt to Produce

Harry Leonhardt, formerly of California theater, Los Angeles, understood to have under way the formation of his own produc unit to make three or four big cials a year.

Leonhardt could not be reac at the Claridge yesterday for a st ment.

All kinds of GOOD PRINTING
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Ad

BRADSTREET FILMDOM Wid's DAILY the RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 41 Tues. May 11, 1920 Price 5 Cents

pyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, . Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., w York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and LM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-r; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and siness Manager.
tered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, the post office at New York, N. Y., under act of March 3, 1879.
ms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 nths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, .00.
ubscribers should remit with order.
dress all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
torial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-wood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
mous Players ..	71¾	73⅜	72
do pfd.	83	85	85
ew's, Inc.	29¼	30⅛	29¼
oldwyn	22½	24½	23
iangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
it. Pict. Prod...	2	2¼	2⅛
orld Film	¼	¼	¼
o 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

Saturday's quotations.

Stanley Buys in Wilmington

Wilmington, Del.—Sablosky and Guirk, interests of the Stanley mpany, have purchased the Gar-k.

Gets Rights to Rainey Films

Toronto, Can.—The Exhibitors stributing Corp. has secured the nadian rights to Paul J. Rainey's ond "Heart of the Jungle" series. iney recently returned from a ting expedition.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:
The Philadelphia North American says:
"'The Woman and the Puppet' has Geraldine Farrar as its star. Her work is along the lines she does best. She looks attractive as the picturesque Spanish maiden and acts well."

Goldwyn

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Mr. and Mrs. Fred Niblo (Enid Bennett) are at the St. Catherine, Catalina, for the first week's vacation that either has had an opportunity to enjoy since the holidays.

Monroe Salisbury, producing independently, will start filming immediately on "The Barbarian."

Marc Robbins has joined the Screen Classics scenario department.

Joseph Kilgour will enact one of the principal roles in "Hearts Are Trumps," the third Drury Lane melodrama to be filmed by Metro. Iris Lynne has been signed to play an important part in this production, which will be directed by Rex Ingram.

S. M. Tompkins, chief cameraman at Universal City, has been appointed superintendent of the laboratory in addition to his other duties.

Kathleen Kirkham, screen star has been secured by Thos. H. Ince to play the lead opposite Lewis Stone in "Beau Reval," by Louis Joseph Vance.

Director Colin Campbell is taking the Dustin Farnum company to the mountains this week to shoot some Swiss scenes.

Bartine Burkett has been engaged to support Ethel Clayton in "The City Sparrow."

Final work has been completed on Warren Kerrigan's tenth Brunton production, "The Coast of Opportunity." This is the last picture Kerrigan will make under his present contract with Robert Brunton.

H. B. Warner, Hampton star, is going to Maine to spend a month's vacation.

Francelia Billington has been engaged to play the leading feminine role in "Hearts Are Trumps."

Robert Thornby and his company are in San Francisco to spend two weeks in filming of ship scenes for "Half a Chance," Thornby's first special production.

Rhea Mitchell and Bob McKim have signed long-term contracts with Screen Crafts, Inc.

Screen Crafts, Inc., have appointed Clarence B. Ludy scenario editor.

Lynn Reynolds and his Universal company, starring Frank Mayo, have returned to Big Bear Valley for another sequence of north woods scenes.

Marion H. Kohn wil produce a new series of ten comedies a year.

GAUSMAN.

This IS Nice!

Wid Gunning,
WIDS DAILY,
New York.

Your third birthday registers present projection without a flicker. The wide world of motion picture is within your focus.

Long may you continue to direct.

EDGAR SELDEN.

Make Changes in Regal

Vancouver, B. C.—Ernest Carruthers' resignation from Regal Films Ltd. has resulted in Morris Sudmin being made booker in his place.

Crosbie Winnipeg District Manager

Winnipeg, Can.—Fred Crosbie, formerly local manager for the Exhibitors Distributing Corp., has had his territory extended and is now district manager.

Revise Plans for Paramount

Winnipeg, Can.—Due to the high figures sent in by contractors for the new Paramount theater, plans have been revised and new tenders are being called for.

Would Restrict Child Patronage

Winnipeg, Can.—A ministerial delegation recently waited on the City Council to secure a by-law regulating the attendance of children at picture houses. Theater managers present put in vigorous objections, the age limit asked by the ministers being 14 years. Much of the attack was also directed upon the serial, the head of the Juvenile Court being present attempting to trace crimes caleld to his attention to that type of picture. It was decided to put it up to a joint conference of exhibitors and ministers.

Selznick Field Changes

Los Angeles—H. C. Cohen, formerly assistant manager of the Select exchange here, is now manager.

Dallas, Tex.—Tom N. Parker has resigned as manager of the Republic exchange and has been succeeded by H. L. Binford.

Boston—Benjamin P. Rogers is now in charge of the Select and Republic offices. E. C. Fielder, former manager, has been transferred to an office as yet undesignated.

Buffalo—The Republic exchange has moved to the Warner Bldg., 257 Franklin St.

Allen Talks of Plans

Winnipeg, Can.—Bernard Allen, president of the Allen chain, intends to build suburban houses in Winnipeg, but will wait until things in the building and labor market settle down. A new house will be started in Calgary in the spring and one in Vancouver will open in June.

Kirkpatrick Back

A. S. Kirkpatrick, vice-preside and general manager of the Robe son-Cole Dist. Corp., is back in N York from the coast.

Mayer Goes to Cincinnati

..Joseph Mayer, director of publ ity for Universal, left for Cincinn last night to arrange for the ope ing of "The Virgin of Stamboul" the Grand Opera House there.

Pearson, Pathe Director

Elmer R. Pearson, director of e changes, it became known yeste day, is now a member of the boa of directors of Pathe Exchange. E. Rousseau, foreign manager, also a director. These promotio took place at the recent annual mee ing at which Bernhard Benson Merrill, Lynch & Co., Wall St. ban ers, was elected a vice-president, noted, and Edmund C. Lynch of t same company a director.

Buxbaum Moves

Harry H. Buxbaum, local man ger for Famous Players, has mov to Lawrence, Long Island, and mixing every morning and evenir with celebrities such as the preside of the Clyde Steamship Co., etc.

Pettis Appointed Manager

Vancouver, B. C.—Wiley Pett has been appointed manager of th Exhibitors Distributing Corp.

If the soldiers do get the proposed bonus remember this,—they will also spend it! A large portion of it will go to those exhibitors who are showing
RITCHEY POSTERS

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8386

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

After Theaters

(Continued from Page 1)

, we shall not buy theaters. his I mean that situations at do not seem consistent r general policy. That there ibitors who feel that they come allied with a strong g organization to assure es of a proper programme, approach us to purchase an in their houses with that end They, on occasions, inti- d even insist that they will our competitors unless we We therefore at times feel d to do this in order to pro- selves.

is an example: In a certain city an exhibitor came to said he wanted us to buy an in his house. I asked him He said it was only a ques- time before he would have to one of the big companies sure of being able to show ictures. I told him to go nd not worry; that we would him of having our pictures, was happy. The fear of op- might have caused another exhibitor to sell out. But ibitor will remain in business r product as one of his chief is all there is to it, and so we are concerned that is all vill be. No exhibitor need about Goldwyn buying thea- We will be the happiest of if we never have to buy or ne. It is not our business. producers."

ver Interests Reorganize

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

er—Incorporation papers for eater companies with a com- apital of $3,750,000 have been th Secretary of State James and by E. A. Bishop, O. D. d Joseph S. Jaffa.

hree companies, which are to wn as the Denver-America Co., the Denver-Colorado Co. and the Bishop-Cass Co., all have Denver inter- hile a building and improve- ampaign has been planned by er corporation.

America theater at 16th and streets will be sold to the -America Co. within a few ccording to E. A. Bishop, the Denver-Colorado theater y now owns the lease on the theater.

Bishop-Cass Theater Co. is g company for the other two ations and is also planning a ction and purchasing cam- hroughout the Rocky Moun- gion. One of the larger stock- of this company is Goldwyn. individual capital of the com- is Denver-America Theater 00,000; the Denver-Colorado Co. $450,000, and the Bishop- heater Co. $2,500,000.

Schenck Signs Neill

h M. Schenck has signed R. n Neill on a year's contract, cording to present plans Neill obably alternate between the Talmadge and the Constance dge productions.

Americanism

The Americanism Committee of the Motion Picture Industry is sending to every producer and distributor in the industry a letter, of which the following is an extract:

"The purpose of this Americanization Week movement is to secure the cooperation of the press, the pulpit, the stage and the motion picture, to spread the gospel of Americanism.

"It is believed that there are many film stories that can be shown during Americanization Week which, though not prepared with a view to such propaganda, may be made vehicles for a vigorous drive on that subject. Such pictures could be resurrected for that week and exchanges everywhere urged to concentrate on them to the end that every exhibitor shall have at least one such picture in his program."

New Tax in Berlin

The New York Times says in part: "Berlin's movie enthusiasts are hart hit by a new amusement tax recently voted by the Board of Aldermen and due to go into effect as soon as approved by the head of the municipal administration.

"According to the Berliner Tageblatt of Feb. 7, the tax on admissions to movie shows begins with 10 pfennigs (a mark is composed of 100 pfenning) on a ticket costing 1 mark, rises rapidly to 2.50 marks on one costing from 5 to 6 marks, and from that point on amounts to 50 per cent.

"On tickets to theaters, concerts and lectures, however, the tax begins with 10 pfenning on 2 marks, rises slowly to 1.30 marks on tickets costing from 9 to 10 marks, and reaches only 4.60 on those costing 20 marks.

"Proprietors of movie shows also have to pay a daily tax of 50 marks on premises not covering more than 100 square meters, and then 25 marks more for each additional 25 meters."

To Build $50,000 Studio

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Sydney, N. S.—The Maritime Motion Picture Co. of Canada will erect a studio at a cost of $50,000. It will be the first company to produce films it is said in Eastern Canada. American talent will probably be used in the first production and after that local performers will in all likelihood be seen.

Ouimet and Mackay on Tour

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Montreal, Can.—L. E. Ouimet and Captain J. B. Mackay, respectively president and general manager of Specialty Film Import, Ltd., and Anglo-Canadian Picture Plays, Ltd., are now touring Canada, having started out from Montreal for Vancouver. They intend to stop at the principal cities on the way and boost British productions.

House Changes

Houses Bought

Watonga, Okla.—C. H. Smack bought Lyric from M. D. Herington.

Sand Springs, Okla.—W. L. Eby bought Liberty from Stricker.

Walter Reade, chain, bought Grand, Long Branch, N. J., and Regent, Harrisburg, Pa.

Olean, N. Y.—Nicholas Dipson, Family and Grand, Batavia, bought Havens from James H. Havens and Marcus James.

Penn Yann, N. Y.—M. P. Sackett bought Sampson from H. C. Morse.

Rushville, Ind.—Marshall Eakin of Chicago bought Mystic from R. D Sampson.

Goldman Leaves Hodkinson

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Chicago—Sidney Goldman has resigned as local manager for W. W. Hodkinson Corp.

Richardson Opens New Shop

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—"Bill" Richardson opened his new music shop Thursday afternoon.

Amelita Galli Curci appeared in person at the opening at which weer present a number of film people. Richardson caters especially to the film folks on the coast with victrola records and the like.

Fined for Running Sunday Shows

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Burkburnett, Tex.—Several exhibitors were fined recently for running shows on Sunday.

BOY WANTED

To do general office work.

Apply WID'S DAILY,
71 W. 44th St.

BARGAINS
Pathe News Model Camera
New Ball Bearing Precision
and
Bell Howell Tripods with universal tilts.
JOSEPH SEIDEN
1545 B'way, City Bryant 1291

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

"Wid's Is Right"

The following was received yesterday by the W. W. Hodkinson Corp.:

"We are the second oldest exhibitors in Ranger, Texas. 'Sex' has broken all box office receipts by going over the top several hundred dollars. It is a knock-out and WID'S is right in its statement—'smallpox sign will not keep them away.'

"Liberty Theater,
"J. M. Palmer."

Leeves Made Division Manager

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Dallas, Tex.—E. E. Leeves, formerly branch manager for National Picture Theaters, has been made southern division manager of that organization.

Will Enlarge Queen, Austin

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

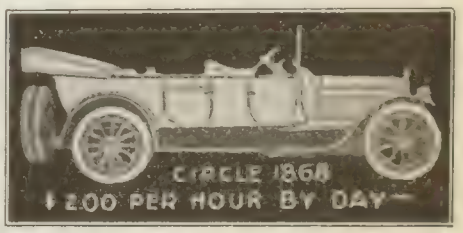
Austin, Tex.—A sum of $500,000 will be spent on enlarging the Queen. It will take in the present Queen, and Casino next door, operated by Ben Marshall. Major George Littlefield is backing the venture.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Fred Schaefer
(Vitagraph)
Continuity & Titles
Continuity: "The Sea Rider."
Titles: "Dollars and the Woman," "The Sea Rider," "The Silent Avenger" (Serial).



Send Us Your
Any Quantity Highest Prices Junk Film
INTERSTATE SMELTING & REFINING COMPANY
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

Anita Stewart

in

"THE FIGHTING SHEPHERDESS"

(Directed by Edw. Jose)

A Louis B. Mayer-First Nat'l attraction

AN ALL-STAR CAST

LEADING MAN

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

No Discrimination in Ontario

Washington — American motion picture operators and cameramen are not to be excluded from the Province of Ontario, and will not have to be Canadian subjects according to information received by the Bureau of the National Association here from the State Department.

Last August the Canadian authorities promulgated certain regulations which required persons engaged as operators or photographers in Ontario to obtain a license. Applications to such licenses were to be issued only to British subjects.

A Correction

An error was inadvertently made in the advertisement of "The Hawk's Trail" which appeared in Sunday's edition. The open territory on the serial which is being handled by Burston Films, Inc., is Colorado, Wyoming, Utah and New Mexico. The state of Washington has already been sold.

Curtis Dinner Tonight

Cathrine Curtis, head of the Cathrine Curtis Corp., will tender a dinner tonight at the Ritz. Among those present will be the following directors of the corporation: Reese Llewellyn, Llewellyn Iron Works; William Dewey Loucks, Malcolm MacClellan, George J. Whalen, Albert L. Judson.

A statement as to the company's plans may be issued.

Bradford Exhibitor Here

V. H. Oxley, owner of the Grand and Bradford theaters, Bradford, Pa., is looking the town over.

"Legit" Theaters Turn to Films

Philadelphia—The legitimate season is drawing to a close here, for it was announced yesterday that motion pictures would go into the Forrest and Garrick around the middle of May for the summer.

"On With the Dance" opens the Garrick on May 24th for an indefinite run and "Ireland a Nation" commences an extended engagement at the Forrest on May 17th. Four legitimate houses will then be showing pictures here.

Fight On In South

(Continued from Page 1)

not joined his fellow First National members in signing the agreements which would sub-franchise the entire territory to independent exhibitors through Associated First National Pictures, Inc. Hulsey's alleged refusal to sign the new agreements was made after he had sold his theaters to S. A. Lynch.

It is expected by Saturday that the entire number of theater owners represented by the special committee which attended the Chicago convention will be here in person to discuss the situation with the First National members. Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas constitute a four and one-half per cent territory.

It was announced that the action naw being taken will not disturb or alter the relationship which Tom Boland of Oklahoma City has had with First National as owner of the First National franchise for the Oklahoma City territory.

More 1st Nat'l Units

Seven Territorial Companies Formed in Delaware—Capitalization Over $1,500,000.

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—Representatives of the Corporation Trust Co. have chartered seven new First National units here with a total capitalization aggregating $1,658,571. The new units and the capitalization of each are:

Associated First National Pictures of Ohio, $420,000.

Associated First National Pictures of Washington, D. C., $135,000.

Associated First National Pictures of Minnesota, $300,000.

Associated First National Pictures of Iowa, $285,000.

Associated First National Pictures of the Northwest, $217,500.

Associated First National Pictures of Northern California, $188,571.

Associated First National Pictures of Kentucky and Tennessee, $112,500.

Other territorial units chartered by the Corporation Trust Co. recently include companies covering New Jersey, capitalized at $215,000; New York, $8,700,000; Missouri, $195,000; Michigan, $225,000; Indiana, $187,000, and Western Pennsylvania, $247,500.

The total capitalization of these units thus far chartered reaches $11,428,071.

More Room for Neilan Prod.

Marshall Neilan Prod. have taken over Room 302 in the Capitol Theater Bldg. to house additional members of the organization. The company now has three rooms in that building.

Neilan's third production for First National will be in New York in about three weeks. It will probably be released in June.

Neilan Film in Boston

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Boston—Marshall Neilan's "The River's End" will open at the Tremont Temple next Monday for an indefinite run. The picture will go on at from 25 cents to $1 top. Peter Gridley Smith, Neilan's publicity manager, is here cooperating with the Gordon Theater Co. owners of the Tremont Temple on special exploitation.

Every one of y patrons are eag waiting an opport
to see
GEORGE CARPENTI
in
The WONDER
You can not afl to disappoint t
A romance of so replete with th
and heart thro
Directed by
JOHN G. ADOI
ROBERTSON-C
SUPER-SPECIA

DESK ROOM

In light, airy, well-furnished office; telephone and stenographer's service, $40.

158 West 45th St.,
Room 54, or Phone Bryant 1955

FURNISHED OFFICE

Immediate Possession

Fine light, well-furnished outside office, 350 square feet, splendidly located in heart of theatrical district.

By yearly lease only. Price, $2,275.

Telephone already installed. Apply Room 54, 158-160 West 45th St.

SIMPL
SOUL

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N

H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 42 Wednesday, May 12, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Two New Directors

. Howells and A. S. Kane on Cathrine Curtis Board.

vid P. Howells, foreign repre- tive for First National, and Ar- S. Kane, who presents Charles in First National—distributed ctions, have been elected to the d of Directors of Cathrine Curtis ., which was formed some hs ago with powerful financial ests back of it. This announce- was made last night at a din- given at the Ritz at which srs. Howells and Kane were in- uced to the organizers and di- rs of the Curtis Corp.

he announcement is of particular est in view of relations between National and Howells and Kane in view of First National's well- vn attitude on the entrance of l St. money in the picture in- ry.

he following list of the organ- and directors of the Curtis . who were present at last t's dinner will give an idea of wealth these men represent: A. Gwathmey, Jr., William Mitchell, ling Beardsley, Arthur F. Spald- Malcolm MacClellan, George iteman, William Dewey Loucks, se Llewellyn, Fred J. Ward, Al- Judson, Col. Frank H. Ray, rge M. Taylor, Robert Hertz and ry Faulkner. George J. Whalen, ident of the United Cigar Stores is a director. He is now in gland.

Denial from Hodkinson

. W. Hodkinson denies that the forthcoming Louise Glaum and art Bosworth productions made J. Parker Read will be distributed First National as reported at the e of the Chicago convention. he Hodkinson Corp. will handle e releases.

New F. P. House in 'Frisco

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

an Francisco—The Famous Play- Lasky Corp. of California has ap- d to the Board of Public Works permission to erect a $1,000,000 ure theater at the corner of Mar- St., Jones St. and Golden Gate . The structure will occupy the sent site of Prager's Department re. Alfred H. Jacobs, architect, prepared the plans for a Class theater which will be of steel ne and concrete construction.

Cahane Due Saturday

Harry Cahane is due in town on urday from California.

letter in the back of the book this week. much pep. Read it in WID'S, Sunday dated May the 16th.—Advt.

Disguised as peasants they stole silently to the stateroom where the military plans were hidden—Anita Stewart in Harold MacGrath's "The Yellow Typhoon," a First National attraction.—Louis B. Mayer-made.—Advt.

Split Expected

Cleveland Convention Will Probably Divide Industry on Theater Question.

Nationalizing to a maximum of exhibitor participation the scope of the action on the alleged producer-exhibitor menace taken at the Patterson mass meeting in Chicago two weeks ago, to include the entire independent membership of every state

(Continued on Page 2)

Equity May Get Murray

It is understood that Equity Pictures have a deal under way whereby the series of four independent productions to be made by Mae Murray under direction of Robert Z. Leonard, as Invincible Photoplays, will be released through that organization.

Miss Murray returned from Miami yesterday where exteriors were shot for "Idols of Clay," a George Fitzmaurice Prod. for Famous Players. The picture will be completed in about five weeks, at which time Miss Murray will start work on her own productions.

New Briggs Series

Comedies Based on Cartoons to Be Revived Using Grown-Ups as Leads.

Plans are under way for a new series of comedies based on the cartoons of Clare Briggs which are syndicated throughout the country.

The original pictures were made around the "kid" characters of the Briggs series and were distributed by Famous Players, but the new product will depict the incidents in the life of Friend Husband and Friend Wife. Nat Levine, who holds an option on Briggs' services, will make the new series.

Levine has for disposal a series of five two-reel comedies featuring Minta Durfee (Mrs. Fatty Arbuckle), produced by the Truart Pictures Corp.

Katz Here from Chicago

Sam Katz, of Balaban and Katz, Chicago, is visiting New York.

No letter in the back of the book this week. Too much pep. Read it in WID'S, Sunday issue dated May the 16th.—Advt.

Joins Asso. Exhib.

Ralph O. Proctor Will Act as Assistant to F. C. Quimby.

Ralph O. Proctor, who recently resigned as assistant general manager of United Artists, as noted exclusively in WID'S DAILY, has become connected in an executive capacity with Associated Exhibitors Inc. Mr. Proctor will act as general assistant to F. C. Quimby, general manager. His duties will keep him in intimate touch with exhibitors throughout the country.

Proctor was division manager for Pathe, having under his supervision Chicago, Milwaukee, Minneapolis Omaha, Des Moines, Kansas City Detroit, Cleveland and Buffalo. Later he was appointed district manager for the Western Division of the country, and finally joined United Artists.

"Doc" Horater Here

Harvey C. "Doc" Horater, managing director of the Pantheon theater, Toledo, is at the Astor for a few days.

Day Leaves International

Harry Day, director of publicity and advertising for International Film Service Co., Inc., producers of Cosmopolitan Prod., has resigned effective May 31.

His successor has not been named as yet.

Loughborough With R-C

James Loughborough, who assumed charge of the advertising at Fox Film when Arthur James resigned has been engaged by Robertson-Cole to do special advertising on the Carpentier picture.

Pending the arrival of Winfield Sheehan, who is due on the Mauretania the end of the week, no advertising director has been appointed at Fox.

Act to Ban Loew's Name

The Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce at a regular meeting yesterday passed a resolution which will insist upon the insertion of a clause in all Metro contracts to eliminate the name of Marcus Loew on the film proper and in all advertising matter.

Holmes Going Abroad Again

Burton Holmes sails on May 1 for the Holy Land and the Near East to secure material for a new series of Burton Holmes travelogues for Famous Players release.

Want anything printed?
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 42 Wed. May 12, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	70	71	70⅞
do. pfd.	82	84	84
Goldwyn	21¾	23	22½
Loew's, Inc.	28⅝	29⅛	28⅝
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unitd Pict. Prod..	1	2	1½
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

Chain Now Numbers 100

Montreal, Can.—The Trans-Canada company now has 100 houses and is being backed by Lord Shaughnessy, of the Canadian-Pacific Railway; Sir Frederick William Taylor, general manager of the Bank of Montreal; Sir Herbert Bolt, president, and E. L. Pease, general manager of the Imperial Tobacco Co., and J. K. L. Ross, well known as a sportsman.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
THIS IS A GOLDWYN TRAIT

Sir:
..The Philadelphia Inquirer says:
.."Those who are admirers of Geraldine Farrar will do well to visit the Stanley this week, where the prima donna is disporting herself with true Farrar abandon in an extremely good picture, "The Woman and the Puppet."

Goldwyn

Split Expected

(Continued from Page 1)

and city league in the country, the national convention of theater owners at Cleveland is expected to openly split the industry into two distinct and opposing factions. These will be:

A solidly organized body of several thousand independent exhibitors pledged to support only independent producers who are non-exhibitors.

Producer-exhibitors, who are now competing, and who plan further theater competition against independent exhibitors, using the productions they control as the chief source of film supply for their own houses.

It is estimated that the total number of exhibitors who will subscribe in Cleveland to an open declaration of organized opposition to producer-exhibitor competition will be approximately 5,000, present in person or represented by proxy through their memberships in state and city leagues.

Sell Foreign Rights

Film Specials have sold the foreign rights to the Jolly Comedies to the M. P. Sales Agency, Ltd., of London.

Also the following on the same series: Wis., Minn., N. and S. Dakota to Mid-West Dist. Co., Milwaukee; Ore., Wash., Idaho and Mont. to Oregon Film Exchange, Portland, Ore.; Cal., Ariz. and Nevada to Peerless Film Service, Inc., San Francisco.

Cleveland Censors Use the Axe

Cleveland, O.—"Uneasy Feet," the first Comedyart production booked for Loew's Stillman, had to be cancelled when the censors got busy and cut out a great deal of it.

Whitham Made Assistant to Gage

Winnipeg, Man.—Ben Whitham has been made assistant to W. J. Gage, purchasing agent for the Allen chain.

Fire Destroys Martinsburg House

Martinsburg, W. Va.—C. W. Boyer of Hagerstown, Md., is the owner of the Central Opera House which was destroyed by fire, the damage being $40,000.

Putting It Over

Here is how a brother exhibitor put his show over. Send along your ideas. Let the other fellow know how you cleaned up.

Memphis, Tenn.—G. E. Brown, director of publicity and advertising of the Memphis Enterprises, Inc., recently had the whole city standing on its ear all on account of a little "monkey business he staged there in conjunction with the Strand's showing of "What's Your Husband Doing?"

Brown arranged with the Memphis Aerial Co. and one of the afternoon dailies to feature an aerial ride of "Patsy," a trained Simian wintering in Memphis with the Sanger shows. The stunt was exploited on the front page of the afternoon daily for four days prior to the opening of the show and on the second day Patsy took her ride aloft.

She distributed 100 free passes to the theater and got about 10,000 people into the business section while she was doing "dips" over the downtown stores and skyscrapers.

Its novelty attracted capacity audiences to the Strand for the week.

Colonial Burns, Damage $40,000

Nashua, N. H.—The fire which burned the Colonial, largest theater in the city, caused a loss of $40,000.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Jack Livingston, at present playing with Clara Kimball Young in "Mid-Channel," has signed with Metro to play the leading role in "The Outsider."

It is rumored that the R. C. P. Smith Syndicate is to build a new studio on Washington boulevard.

Tod Browning, who directed Priscilla Dean in "The Virgin of Stamboul," has written a story for the use of the Universal star, and preparations are already under way for its production.

Benjamin B. Hampton will produce the "U. P. Trail," from the novel by Zane Grey.

Winter Hall has been signed for a part in "Hearts Are Trumps," to be filmed by Screen Classics, Inc.

GAUSMAN.

At Broadway Theat

The following illustrates hov leading Broadway theaters are senting their programs this This feature will appear regula the Wednesday issue of W DAILY:

Strand

Anita Stewart in an adaptation of MacGrath's Saturday Evening Post "The Yellow Typhoon," is the feat the Strand this week. The star pla dual role of twin sisters with natu opposite as day and night.

Among the short subjects are th Herbert Kaufman editorial called "Co the Strand Topical Review and a "Happy Alsace."

The musical numbers are an o "First Rhapsodie Roumaine"; "The pany Sergeant Major," by Malcoln Eachern, basso; "Bell Song," from me," by Amanda Brown, soprano, an Lost Chord," organ solo.

Rialto

Bryant Washburn is amusing Rialt rons this week in a pleasing light c

(Continued on Page 3)

The warm weather ap proaches. If your theatr becomes uncomfortabl hot the audience will no stay. They will ente howeevr, when you sho RITCHEY POSTERS

RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 838

Ritchey

SIMPL SOULS

FOR SALE
Steel film cabinet, almost n Capacity, 175 reels. Price Inquire 220 W. 42nd St. Room 503 Tel. Bryant 3

TOM BRET HAS MOVE
Tom Bret, the oldest esta lished film editor and t writer, has moved to Room 6 Candler Bldg., 220 W. 42nd Phone—Bryant 7691.

PROPER INSURANCE MEANS PROTECTION
YOUR BUSINESS—AUTOMOBILE, HOME, STAR,—
YOU YOURSELF—NEED INSURANCE.
Take precautions against insufficient insurance. A 5,000 or 10,000 limit does not adequately cover your auto. Ask us why—and we will tell you.
REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Insurance

athé News

SVILLE, KY.—"Paul Jones" wins annual Kentucky Derby! Record of 50,000 attends great historic turf in which 17 horses vie for the laurels.

MA CANAL, C. Z.—Pershing visits Zone! A. E. F. Chief inspects Gatun and admires remarkable feat of the Engineers.

THE LIMELIGHT—"Uncle Joe" n, 84 years old! Veteran legislator erved in Congress 44 years celebrates ay at dinner where all present are over ars.

YORK CITY—Honor "gold-star rs"—Marine Corps represents the city pays tribute to mothers of men who n war.

S, FRANCE—First military review by French President—M. Paul Deschanel the soldiers of famous Garde Republi-

EOLA, N. Y.—Aviation now a college —leading colleges take part in the intercollegiate aviation meet held in ountry.

SSELS, BELGIUM—Belgian indus- reviving after war shock—King Albert the first Industrial Exposition held in um.

ANGELES, CAL.—Hurrah for the Picnic! 30,000 poor school children l colors and nationalities frisk, frolic are made happy at big May Day Fes-

LUNAR ECLIPSE—For first time 1817, the moon goes into a total e lasting six hours. Cartoonist Bert n shows in animated cartoon just how happened.

moon, like all other heavenly bodies, s with astronomic precision, and its ion can be figured years in advance.

today

"Draper Day" Observed

aculty members of New York iversity and alumni met at the tmore yesterday to observe "Dra- Day."

Professor Draper photographed the first time in 1840 the human e. This the university states first ened the door to the development the motion picture.

Lon Chaney has the role of a leg- s man in Gouverneur Morris' "The nalty."

At Broadway Theaters

(Continued from Page 2)

adaptation of Frank Whatt and William Morris' "Mrs. Temple's Telegram." The suspicions of a jealous wife lead to all kinds of complications, but the surprise ending, that the whole affair was planned by the wife to test her husband's love, settles everything satisfactorily. The comedy was well received.

A Bruce Scenic, "The Hope of Adventure," is of more than ordinary interest. Most of the scenes are taken from the top of a moving train and show some beautiful shots of the Yukon. The Rialto Pictorial contains some interesting pictures of the U. S. Naval destroyers demonstrating a smoke screen. A Mack Sennett comedy, "Fresh from the City," is of the "rough house" variety.

Hugo Riesenfeld directed the orchestra's overture, "Dance of the Hours," from "La Gioconda." Alma Doria, soprano, sang "Star of Mine," and there is a male duet from "La Forza del Destino" on the bill.

Capitol

Rex Beach's "Silver Horde" should prove a great attraction for the amateur fisherman, especially at this particular season when the tackle is being polished up for action and Saturday afternoon finds many in search of bait for the Sunday expedition. The story deals with the salmon fisheries of Alaska and is a splendid picture of its kind.

Humperdinck's "Hansel and Gretel" is being revived this week. This number and the Larry Semon comedy, "School Days," should appeal especially to the younger patrons of the Capitol. The customary short subjects, including the Capitol News Reel, complete the program.

Broadway

"The Fortune Teller," the Robertson-Cole special starring Marjorie Rambeau in the title role, which she created on the stage, is the feature at the Broadway this week and the management has presented it with appropriate features. The most prominent of these is the appearance of Princess Wah-Let-Ka, billed as "The Cherokee Indian Seeress." The performance had the ring of sincerity when given yesterday afternoon and many of those who put questions to the princess were noticeably impressed.

The feature follows right after this act which is in the nature of a prologue. This method of presentation could be copied in other cities where such acts are available. For the overture the orchestra rendered Victor Herbert's "The Fortune Teller," another appropriate number.

Rivoli

The second and last installment of the Shackleton pictures share honors at the Rivoli with the Dorothy Dalton feature, "The Dark Mirror." The former offering is drawing well inasmuch as so much promise was given in the first half shown at this house last week. The overture is the familiar "Zampa," two vocal numbers, a solo, "Tommy Lad," and a duet, "Whispering Hope," surround the news picture. The feature is in number six position and "Mother's Angel," the second of the Comedyart pictures, follows and registers very well.

FINE OFFICES
Immediate Possession
Phones Already Installed

Large, light room, 10x30 ft....$1400
Large, light room, 10x35 ft....$1600
Splendid Location—Modern Building
Apply Room 54, 158-160 W. 45th St.
Bryant 1955

To General Managers

ARE you in need of high-class executives and producers with years of motion picture experience? Owing to company reorganizations these men with splendid records and references are at liberty and now in New York to be interviewed:

General Sales Manager.....$12,500
Branch Mgr. (Los Angeles). $6.250
Publicity & Exploitation (N. Y.) $7,800
Coast Division Manager.....$10,400
Publicity Man (Los Angeles) $5,200
N. Y. Branch Manager..... $7,800
Asst. Sales Manager..... $6,250
Contract Mgr. Home Office.. $7,800

Address
Box B-101, WID'S DAILY
For appointment with any of the above

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

FOR PROJECTION
CALL BRYANT 984 or 985
3 Rooms
Longest Throw in City
SIMPLEX STUDIO
5th Floor—Candler Bldg.
220 West 42nd St.

JOSEPH R. MILES
MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES
LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in their new home
126-132 West 46th Street — Phone-Bryant 5600
AT YOUR SERVICE twenty-four hours a day except Sunday
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve vaults in Long Island City
Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does everything to a picture except produce it
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We buy and sell used film in good condition
CONSULT US

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
ALLAN A. LOWNES
GEN. MGR.

Edith Storey

returns to millions of friends in an Arabian story, a Super-Feature,
"MOON MADNESS"
Produced by Haworth Studio
Directed by Colin Campbell
Released by
Robertson-Cole
An all-star cast
Leading Man—

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

Harry Cohn Returns

Harry Cohn arrived in New York yesterday from California to confer with his brother Jack on the Hall Room Boys series.

Standing Improves

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Herbert Standing, who was badly injured when struck by a street car recently, is recovering slowly.

Bay State Bill Passes Assembly

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Boston—The censorship bill has passed the Assembly.

This is the bill which was erroneously reported as having passed the assembly a few days ago. At that time, however, it had only reached its third reading.

Arrow Film to Move

Arrow Film has secured quarters on the fourth floor of the Candler Bldg. immediately below the offices it now occupies.

An accessory department has been formed under direction of W. E. Wood.

Producing in Denver

Two New Units Now at Work in Western City

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Denver—This city now has two companies producing pictures here.

One is the Ore-Col Film Corp., A. D. Frost, president, which has a studio at Englewood, near Denver, and the other the Yellowstone Prod., Inc., a $300,000 corporation.

Ore-Col is now making "Black Sheep," a Will Payne story, which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. John B. O'Brien is directing this. George G. Grenier, said to have been with Fox Film, is technical director.

Yellowstone Prod. have leased the skating pavilion in Lakeside Park and have turned this into a studio at a cost of $25,000. George W. Plummer is president of the company; S. T. Thompson, secretary; Frank Goldman, vice-president, and C. E. Bartlett, vice-president and director general.

The company has leased the present quarters for three years. Six productions a year will be made. All productions will be made in Colorado and Wyoming.

SIMPLE SOULS

NEGATIVE FOR SALE
Featuring
ARLINE PRETTY
in 5-reel production
including world's rights.
For particulars
CHAS. N. JAWITZ
729 Seventh Ave. Room 607

REMOVAL NOTICE

F. A. A. DAHME

ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATOR

Now at
220 W. 42nd St. Room 502
Temporary Phone, Bryant 984

FIDELITY PICTURE COMPANY
117 W. 46th St.
HAVE OPENED A NEW DEPARTMENT
for
EDITING, TITLING,
RE-ISSUING MOTION PICTURE FIL

POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"
LOUIS MEYER
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC
TITLES
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRAPHED
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

New Studio For Rent

187 ft. x 80 ft.

Very Latest Equipment.

Rent as whole or in part. Close to new Famous Players' Studio in Long Island City. 25 min. from Times Square.

Apply

FACTORY EXCHANGE
17 W. 44th St.
Phone Vanderbilt 5610

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

VOL. XII No. 43 Thursday, May 13, 1920 Price 5 Cents

"Big 6" Plans

Changes Ready by September—New Studios Talked Of

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—According to General Manager F. B. Warren, the advent of the fall season on Sept. 1 will see the Associated Producers, Inc., in full sway, with their own independent exchanges established throughout the country. A special system of publicity, exploitation and direct-to-theater-exhibitor service will precede, accompany and trail the "Bix Six" releases.

It is also reported that the Associated Producers will furnish exhibitors of their products with accessories and advertising material designed to fulfill the requirements of the theaters presenting the features. "Stock" material and the impractical accessories that have held forth in the past will be substituted, it is said, by a new and original system of equipment.

Thomas H. Ince also emphasizes the intention of the Associated Pro-

(Continued on Page 2)

F. P. Theater in Pittsburgh?

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Pittsburgh—The Hamilton Theaters Corp. will build a theater here to seat 2,500.

The Hamilton Theaters Corp. is generally spoken of the theater-buying company of Famous Players-Lasky.

L. J. Has Grievance

Lewis J. Selznick has a grievance against the industry at large.

He stated as much at a rally held late yesterday afternoon at the Biltmore to raise funds for relief of war sufferers in the Near East. Mr. Selznick received a letter a few days ago from Felix M. Warburg, of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., who is in charge of the campaign.

As he explained yesterday at the rally, Selznick sent out about 212 letters to executives in the industry asking them to attend yesterday's meeting, and all day he found himself answering the telephone and listening to excuses from various people why they couldn't attend the meeting.

Selznick, Charles C. Pettijohn and a representative from Famous Players were the only film people present.

"Take it from one that knows. Don't every marry."—Marshall Neilan's production, "Don't Ever Marry," a First National attraction.—Advt.

Malevinsky, Secy. Asso. Exhib.

M. L. Malevinsky, of O'Brien, Malevinsky & Driscoll, has been appointed general counsel for Associated Exhibitors, Inc., and has been elected secretary of the organization.

H. H. Wellenbrink, who previously held the offices of secretary and treasurer, retains his office as treasurer. The election of Mr. Malevinsky was only one of the many internally important occurrences at the meeting of the board of directors of Associated held recently in the offices of the association.

Emerson Not Going Abroad

John Emerson stated yesterday that he has postponed indefinitely his trip abroad with his wife, Anita Loos.

Emerson will devote the next few months to the affairs of the Actors' Equity and in addition to that will write several stories in conjunction with Miss Loos for Constance Talmadge. He does not plan entering the producing field under his own name, but will generally "ease up" on his picture activities.

Buys Mildred Chaplin Series

Jacobo Glucksmann, one of the most active of the South American buyers, has purchased the Mildred Harris Chaplin series of productions now being produced by Louis B. Mayer for Argentine, Uruguay, Paraguay and Chile. The contract calls for a minimum of six productions, while Glucksmann may secure eight.

David P. Howells controls the Anita Stewart-Louis Mayer productions for the foreign market, but has no territorial rights on the Chaplin productions.

Silcocks in Town

E. H. Silcocks, special representative for the Specialty Pictures Corp. of Los Angeles, producers of Comedyart Prod., is at the Astor. He is just in from the coast and plans to stay here for several months.

Farrar to Produce in East

Within two weeks Geraldine Farrar will begin work on "The Riddle Woman," her initial production for Associated Exhibitors, Inc., at the former Thanhouser studios in New Rochelle.

Naulty Leaves F. P

Together With Gardiner Hunting Will Form Producing Unit

J. N. Naulty, general manager the Eastern studios of Famous Players, will leave the company on M 29 to get under way his own pr ducing unit. This company will operated in conjunction with Gar ner Hunting, now supervising rector of the eastern studios of F mous Players.

Naulty will make six productio the first year, the initial one to made in New York. He has tak over the old Wharton studio in It aca which will be remodeled and constructed to meet his needs.

"Vic" Smith will leave Vitagra to take Naulty's place with Famo Players.

Hayakawa Coming East

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Sessue Hayakawa en route for New York.

Upon his return here work w be started on the construction of own studio, which will be built Melrose Ave., near the Robert Br ton plant.

Freuler Visiting

John R. Freuler of Chicago is v iting New York. At the Astor.

Amsterdam Exhibitor Here

Edward Klapp, who owns the alto, Strand and other theaters Amsterdam, N. Y., is in town lo ing over pictures and the mar generally.

New Producer

Coast Publication Reports Form tion of $5,000,000 Film Co.

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—"It," a local pul cation, says in part:

"With $5,000,000 to start it off new moving picture company org ized for the purpose of filming Oliver Morosco successes, as well many other stage plays, has b formed in Los Angeles.

"George R. Bentel, he of the sp bug and the automobile fever, is president of the big new organi tion, and Oliver Morosco and Fr Egan of the Little Theater, among the incorporators.

"One of the biggest features be the establishment of a park wi in a five-cent car limit of the cen of Los Angeles.

(Continued on Page 2)

YOUR Advertising.
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

BRADSTREET FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 43 Thurs. May 13, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
J. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 4th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	69¾	71¼	70
*do pfd.	82	84	84
Goldwyn	21¾	23	22½
Loew's, Inc.	28	29	28
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod..	1¼	2	2
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Tuesday's quotations.

Invincible in New Offices

Invincible Photoplays, Inc., the company which will produce the Mae Murray productions, has secured offices at 512 Fifth Ave.

Olive Tell in "Clothes"

Olive Tell will appear in "Clothes" for Metro. Miss Tell is still under contract to Jans Pictures, according to the latter, and has four more productions to make for them.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin says:

"'The Woman and the Puppet.' Miss Farrar appears as Concha, a cigarette girl of Seville, and her Carmen-like character enables her to do some of the dashingly effective acting, with an undercurrent of emotion, such as shows her off at her best."

Goldwyn

"Big 6" Plans

(Continued from Page 1)

ducers to wage a campaign for the indefinite run of "Big Six" specials. The principals in the organization will "show cause to prove" why an absorbing picture, produced on a scale of magnitude and quality, should hold the boards for indefinite engagements.

Contrary to reports prevalent here and in New York, the "Big Six" will not produce their specials under one roof, but will film them in their individually owned studios.

It is known that several of the principals are now drawing plans for the erection of new studios here. Thomas H. Ince will continue to make his productions at his plant in Culver City, while Maurice Tourneur, George Loane Tucker and probably Allan Dwan will construct, own and maintain their own studios.

Mack Sennett will continue all production in his studios in Hollywood, although officials of the organization announce alterations and additions that will increase facilities and equipment.

Each of the six producers is now producing for release under his present arrangements with other distributing concerns, but actual work on the new "Big Six" pictures for distribution through the Associated Producers, Inc., own selling system will begin immediately following the termination of existing contracts.

At his studios Ince and his staff are casting for several new specials, chief among which are "Beau Revel," the first of the Louis Joseph Vance series, in which Lewis Stone and Lloyd Hughes will be featured, and another special to present Rowland Lee.

The Associated Producers will continue to produce in California and no members will migrate to foreign fields, as was reported. It is probable, however, that one or several of the producers will head companies to England or France for the locale of specials.

C. Gardner Sullivan, who is now at the Ince studios prior to his return to New York en route for abroad, has been assigned the creation of a big spectacle.

Pearson Returns

After a tour of three weeks, during which he visited the principal key cities in the central part of the country, Elmer R. Pearson, director of exchanges for Pathe, has returned to New York filled with enthusiasm for future prospects and deeply impressed by the evidence everywhere displayed of the determination of exhibitors to resist threatened coercive competition. The Chicago meeting of independent exhibitors has aroused exhibitors to a tornado of discussion, he states, and everywhere he went the hope was expressed that something in the way of an effective protest would be arranged.

Poli Gets Hartford Property

Hartford, Conn.—S. Z. Poli has completed negotiations with John J. Coleman for the property adjoining the Poli now under way. A sum of about $250,000 is said to be involved in the transaction. The Poli represents an investment of $1,500,000.

Branching Ont

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Jacksonville, Fla.—S. A. Lynch, president of the Southern Enterprises of Atlanta, has purchased the Florida Metropolis, this city's evening newspaper.

Lynch owns a lot of theaters here, too.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Rose Curland, well known short story writer and former dramatic editor of the Galveston Post, has been added to the editorial department of the B. B. Hampton company.

Irene Rich, Will Rogers' leading lady, is doing one picture with American Film at Santa Barbara.

Maurice Tourneur has returned from Balboa, where he has been spending several days with his company making scenes for "Caleb West, Master Diver."

Director Stuart Paton and company have gone to San Diego, where special scenes will be taken for the "Hope Diamond Mystery" serial.

Harry Lustig, Inter-mountain and Pacific Coast exchange manager for Metro, and Fred Voight, manager of the San Francisco exchange, were visitors at the Metro studio this week.

Three Universal companies are at present on location. Edith Roberts in "Marama," directed by Norman Dawn, is at Monterey; Frank Mayo in "The Red Lane," directed by Lynn Reynolds, is at Big Bear, and Art Accord in "The Moon Riders," directed by Albert Russell, is at Catalina.

It is probable that Thomas H. Ince will star Douglas MacLean in "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," by Charles Belmont Davis.

Ethel Gillette, daughter of ex-Governor James N. Gillette of California, has been added to the continuity staff of Anita Stewart and Chaplin-Mayer companies.

Clara Kimball Young has returned to production activities in the Garson studios at Edendale. She is making a film version of Arthur Wing Pinero's "Mid-Channel," with Harry Garson directing.

Mavis Montell and Harry Keaton are featured in a new comedy just begun at Universal City, entitled "Twin Lizzies."

Philip Rosen, who directed Mary MacLaren in "The Road to Divorce," and Anne Cornwall in "The Path She Chose," has been selected to direct Edith Roberts in "Out of a Clear Sky."

GAUSMAN.

New Producer

(Continued from Page 1)

"Here at this park will be horse races, bicycle races, motorc races and many other sports, ex automobile racing.

"And within this huge enclo will be built the studios for the n ing of motion pictures—someth like the Selig studios, except that will provide many forms of en tainment other than a zoo.

"Other picture producing com nies will be permitted to use the p for mob scenes, race scenes and like, it is said, and the new comp plans to provide the park with many attractions that the mobs always be on hand.

"Although the site of the park been selected, the location will be announced for a few days. Bentel states, however, that ac work of putting the tract in sh together with the construction of studios and other buildings will s within thirty days."

The local Morosco offices k nothing about the above report.

Form New Company on Coast

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Master Pictures been formed to produce pictures. J. Connor heads the concern toget with W. S. Forsyth.

All the boys at the "Big U" change are looking Charles Rose weig's new sedan over. Charles feature sales manager there.

Some people enter a theatre to get out of the rain,—some to see an interesting photo-play. To get the latter class use

RITCHEY POSTERS

RITCHEY
LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8286

Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

New Theaters

Houses Planned

stead, L. I.—Salvatore Cal- Strand, 2,000.

sburg, Pa.—Frank E. Hollar ston, Tex.—A. Mendel, $15,- colored people, and sched- open early in August.

ington, Pa.—Spero Kosmos, nd, Okla.—W. Z. Spearman, r Gem, to build. About onville, Fla.—Karl Thomp- 30,000.

ıstrator Turns Producer

en a Hiller, well known il- r of magazine fiction, is com- his first production in his t 135 West 44th St.

in seven reels, and is called Sleep of Cymba Roget," the a series that will be made by under the running title of Told Tales of a Studio," writ- Charles L. Gaskill.

n Gardner, formerly with Vi- , and who appeared in "Cleo- some years ago, is in the first r has not yet made any ar- ent for the release of his pro- s.

nd Us Your Junk Film

Quantity est Prices

ERSTATE SMELTING REFINING COMPANY

ommercial St. NEWARK, N.Y.

BARGAINS

the News Model Camera
ew Ball Bearing Precision and Sell Howell Tripods with universal tilts.

JOSEPH SEIDEN

5 B'way, City Bryant 1291

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.

ermanent New York Office at 1780 BROADWAY

H. GUERINGER, Representative

GOODRICH BLDG.

Floor Tel. Circle 1298

WE OWN THEM!

Stories for Big Film Pro- tions. The leading produc- are our clients. The play's thing, and we have it!

elebrated Authors' Society, 701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.

Phone Bryant 1511

What About This

Speaking on scenario writing, direction and productions of today, Erich von Stroheim, whose acting in and direction of "Blind Husbands" brought him into prominence last fall, expressed himself to a gathering of the Associated Motion Picture Advertisers as doubting whether the exhibitor was qualified to advise what kind of attraction the public wants, or whether the public itself really knows.

"So uncertain, indeed, is the public," said Stroheim, "that it is just as likely to turn down its gladitorial thumbs today on the very production it will give life to tomorrow."

Putting It Over

Dayton, O.—Here's a stunt conceived by Paul Gray, assistant manager of Loew's Dayton, to exploit Mack Sennett's "Down on the Farm," which broke house records at that theater. Ben Turpin, the cross-eyed funster, is one of the chief merrymakers of the film. Knowing this, Gray went to an optician and obtained the addresses of four cross-eyed men in Dayton whom he immediately engaed.

The week previous to the engagement Gray had the four cross-eyed men walking around the town with signs on their backs and during the overture at the theater each night had them lined up on the stage while a spotlight played on them. The musicians in village costumes played a real "Hokum" overture. There were plenty of laughs from the house with these four cross-eyed individuals just standing on the stage without even cracking a smile. On the bottom rim of the asbestos Gray had an advertisement for "Down on the Farm."

Ray Sells Second Hoyt Play

Los Angeles—Charles Ray has sold "A Contented Woman" to Joseph Schenck, who will use it as a Constance Talmadge vehicle.

This is the second of the Hoyt group to be disposed of by Ray, who sold "A Texas Steer" to Sam Rork a week ago.

Green Directing Jack Pickford

Culver City, Cal.—With Al Green as a director, work on the Jack Pickford vehicle, "The Man Who Had Everything," by Ben Ames Williams, was started last week at the Goldwyn studios.

"Old Curiosity Shop" for Bessie Love

Andrew J. Callaghan, who is in New York City looking for plays and novels for his star, Bessie Love, stated yesterday that "The Old Curiosity Shop," the Charles Dickens classic, had been definitely decided upon for future screening.

A well known director is being negotiated for. Callaghan will remain at the Claridge for the remainder of the week.

"Screen Snapshots" Territory Sold

Jack Cohn, producer of "Screen Snapshots," has sold Ohio, Michigan and Kentucky to the Standard Film Exchange of Cleveland; New York and New Jersey to the Empire State Film Exchange, and New Hampshire, Maine, Vermont, Rhode Island, Connecticut and Massachusetts to the Federated Film Exchanges.

F. P. Re-issues in June

Famous Players, who announced the re-issuing of "Old Wives for New," and Mary Pickford in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm," will release them both in June, the former on the 6th and the Pickford film on the 20th.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Located

Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

Cleveland 1st National to Move

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland, O.—The local First National exchange will move to 3648 Euclid Ave., a distance of eight blocks from the film center. An edifice to accommodate this organization and the Collins studios is now in the course of construction.

Fergus Falls, Minn.—New company to build. $75,000.

ROBERT A. SANBORN

Adapter of
Over 30 O. Henry Features
for Vitagraph

At present with
Universal West Coast Studios
Universal City, California

MARY THURMAN

keeps her record library complete with the aid of the service rendered by this store.

Bill Richardson

RICHARDSON'S Inc.
Victrolas Grafonolas Pianos
727 West Seventh Street

Phone 64955 or call in person

WANTED

a financial man

for a large corporation. Must be a live wire not over thirty-five—thorough accountant possessed of executive ability—ambitious, enterprising and equipped with the best references. Write fully, stating salary wanted.

Box B—98, Care WID'S

THE LEADING MAN WHO—

Has supported many stars,
Played on all programs,
and
In the latest all-star casts,
Is the most valuable today.

To PRODUCER DIRECTOR
and STAR

Wallace Mac Donald

Watch for this space every day!

Lease Phila. Theater for Films
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadalphia—The Globe Film Co., distributors for Clune's "Eyes of the World," have leased the Chestnut Street Opera House for a summer run of their picture.

Mark Wilson has been engaged to exploit the production. The opening will be on June 14th.

Betzwood Starts Shooting Soon
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—Rapid progress is being made on the erection of the new indoor stage at Betzwood. Upon completion work will commence on five reel productions.

This will be in addition to the making of the two reel "Toonerville Trolley" subjects which are being produced now under the supervision of Ira M. Lowry.

Get 52 World Re-issues
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Tulsa, Okla.—The rights to 52 World pictures have been bought by Peacock Productions for nine states. These are to be released one a week. Re-issues of Robert Warwick, Clara Kimball Young, Alice Brady and other star's films have been thus secured.

To Shoot Film in Europe
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—David Butler and a supporting cast will go to Europe in the fall in search of a suitable locale for a picture to be produced by D. N. Schwab Productions, Inc. Fred J. Butler, director, will accompany the party as well as Hugh McClung, cameraman.

Doob Helps Open Exchange
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Indianapolis, Ind.—Arrangements for the opening of a local Famous Players-Lasky exchange were made by Oscar O. Doob, director of publicity for the Cincinnati office. The new branch will be ready for occupancy early in June.

"Tarzan" Sold for Abroad

Arthur Ziehm, manager of foreign sales for Goldwyn, has closed deals for the rights to "The Return of Tarzan."

In the Courts

In the suit of the Crystal Film Co. against Julius Steger to recover $855 alleged to have been converted by him which belonged to the plaintiff, a jury before City Court Justice Schmuck returned a verdict for the defendant with $67 costs against the plaintiff.

Surrogate Foley has signed an order fixing the interest of Mrs. Marjorie M. Blossom, widow of Henry M. Blossom, in the moving picture rights to "Checkers," at $6,875, on which the inheritance tax is $137. The transfer tax appraiser estimated the probable value at $20,000, but Mrs. Blossom appealed to the Surrogate on the ground that the Fox Film Co. had presented facts showing that she and Mrs. Kirk LaShelle, who has a half interest in the production would receive only the sum stated each.

In the suit of Raymond C. Tischhouser in behalf of himself and other stockholders of the Lenskraft Picture Corporation against the corporation and others for an accounting, an answer has been filed in the Supreme Court by George Eger, one of the defendants, in which he asks that the suit be dismissed because none of the parties is a resident of this State and the courts of New York have no jurisdiction.

The Lenskraft company is a Delaware corporation, Eger lives in New Jersey, James T. Brown and George B. Ten Eyck, defendants, live in Massachusetts, Lucy W. Babcock and A. R. Ferriday, two other defendants, live in Pennsylvania, and Tischhouser himself is a resident of Chicago.

Hold Contest to Name House

Lafayette, Ind.—A naming contest, with a prize of $25 the premium, held in conjunction with the naming of the new house of the Luna Amusement Company to be erected, resulted in "Mars" being selected.

New Bronx House

Grob and Knoble, owners of the U. S. Theater, Webster Ave. and 196th St., Bronx, opened their new Valentine theater and roof garden last night with "The Virgin of Stamboul," to be followed by "The Idol Dancer."

The policy will be pictures in the theater and on the roof. A 15-piece orchestra will furnish the music. Scale, 20 cents top.

Grob and Knoble have just purchosed the Playhouse, Mt. Vernon, from Sol Schwartz.

GEORGE ELWOOD JENKS
Continuity and Specials
"A Woman of Pleasure"
Blanche Sweet Special
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warner
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmond
JESSE D. HAMPTON
Productions

H. H. VAN LOAN
Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
"The Virgin of Stamboul"
with
Priscilla Dean
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story must be good"

SIMPLE SOULS

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

he BRADSTREET
f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XII No. 44 Friday, May 14, 1920 Price 5 Cents

ummer Schedule

First National Ready—Seven Releases Planned

ith production sources for next on guaranteed to new sub-iran- owners in Associated First Na- l, announcement is made of the mer schedule of seven produc- to be released as the prelude to fall season.

ne total of releases for the 1920- period will give exhibitor mem- productions from more than 12 ios.

rst National's summer line-up is follows: Anita Stewart, "The ow Typhoon," already released; n Dwan's "The Splendid Haz- " May 31; Constance Talmadge, e Perfect Woman," June 28; na Talmadge, "Yes or No," July Katherine MacDonald, "Curtain," 2; King Vidor's "The Jack fe Man," Aug. 16, and Charles , "45 Minutes From Broadway," . 30.

arthelmess Stays With Griffith

ichard Barthelmess has signed a contract with D. W. Griffith for umber of years. Griffith is un- tood to have ambitious plans un- way for Barthelmess.

Wales Leaves Hodkinson

. Ellis Wales, director of produc- service and technical counsel of W. W. Hodkinson Corp., has re- ed to enter the production field his own account.

Vales was formerly with Famous yers, connected with the technical artment at the New York studios. has already completed his pro- tion plans. He leaves for Los geles next week.

Kirkland After Exteriors

avid Kirkland, having completed ction of Constance Talmadge, in e Perfect Woman," left yester- for an automobile tour through ginia in search of locations.

irkland will return to New York t week, as he is booked to sail Europe on May 22nd.

Dame Rumor Says

A choice bit of gossip in film circles yesterday was the re ported sale of the B. S. Moss string of theaters to prominent vaudeville interests.

Moss could not be reached for a statement and his office would not comment on the report.

"Get out, quick! Jump out of the window—anything! It's my wife!"—Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry," a First Nat'l attraction.—Advt.

Bullock and Van Praag Here

Sam Bullock, prominently identified with the Cleveland Exhibitors' Association and temporary secretary of the Theater Owners' Chamber of Commerce, is in town to talk over matters relative to the Cleveland convention.

Mr. Van Praag, of the Central Garden theater, Kansas City, Kans., who is a member of the special committee appointed by the Independent Motion Picture Exhibitors of America in Chicago, is also in New York.

Federated Meeting This Month

J. L. Friedman of Celebrated Players of Chicago and head of the Federated Film Exchanges of America, Inc., will preside over a meeting to be held here the end of May. The exact date, however, has not been set.

First National Men Here

Thomas B. Spry, manager of First National's Boston exchange, and Joseph W. Skirboll, manager of the Pittsburgh exchange, are in town.

Reichenbach Back, Out of Equity

Harry Reichenbach breezed into town from California yesterday.

He stated that he was no longer connected with Equity Pictures or the Clara Kimball Young organization.

At Equity, it was stated that no one had been secured to replace Reichenbach, who was exploitation manager and a sort of general executive of the company.

Bennett Addresses Advertisers

Whitman Bennett, who is now producing a series of productions with Lionel Barrymore, addressed the A. M. P. A. yesterday and registered a plea for more originality and "pep" in publicity and advertising.

Bennett, who was introduced by Bert Adler, told all the P. A.'s assembled that he thought good old "Mr. Bunk" ought to be revived.

Saffron Here

Jerome Saffron, Robertson-Cole branch manager in Detroit, is in town.

Stars Coming East

"Big 4" Members Expected in a Month—Foreign Trip Postponed

The three members of "Big 4" now in California—Mary Pickford Douglas Fairbanks and Charlie Chaplin, will be in New York in a month if present plans are carried through.

Dennis F. O'Brien, attorney for Miss Pickford and Mr. Fairbanks yesterday verified coast reports that the Pickford-Fairbanks trip to Europe had been postponed. The sailing date from New York was scheduled for Wednesday. Miss Pickford has practically finished "Suds," her next United Artists release.

When the various members of the company gather in New York, a meeting will be held at which it is expected a president for the company will be elected.

A regular monthly meeting of the board of directors will be held on Tuesday.

Marguerite Clark Due Soon

Marguerite Clark is due back in New York about June 1 from the South, where she has been vacationing. No statement has been made as to her future affiliation.

Niblo-Bennett Leave Ince

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—By mutual agreement, Enid Bennett and Fred Niblo her husband-director, will leave Thos H. Ince and form two producing units after they finish two more pictures for Ince.

They will come to New York in July to arrange for distribution.

Kent on Exchange Tour

Sidney R. Kent, sales manager of Famous Players, left last night for a tour of exchanges. He will go as far as the coast and be away from New York a month.

Josephson Signed by Famous

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Julien Josephson who wrote a number of Charles Ray stories for Thomas H. Ince, has been signed by Famous Players.

Lesser, Special Representative

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Sol Lesser, local First National franchise holder, will pass on all productions submitted on the coast for First National distribution. He will act as a special representative.

YOUR Publicity
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 44 Fri. May 14, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J W Ahcoate, Secretary and Business Manager
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	69	70¼	70¼
do pfd.	81	83	83
Goldwyn	22½	23	22½
Loew's, Inc.	28⅛	28½	28¼
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod..	1⅛	2	1⅞
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

Mayer Buys MacGrath Story

Louis B. Mayer has purchased the world's rights to Harold MacGrath's story, "The Drums of Jeopardy."

Jones Directing Dorothy Gish

F. Richard Jones, formerly with Mack Sennett, is now directing Dorothy Gish for Famous Players.

An aeroplane stunt will be staged at Garden City, Long Island, today.

Gladys George has been cast opposite Dougles MacLean in "Yanconna Yillies."

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
489 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
—THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR—

Sir:
The Philadelphia Public Ledger says:
"'The Woman and the Puppet' is the best story the operatic screen favorite has ever utilized for silver screen purposes and her histrionism is of the most compelling and impressive variety she has yet exhibited."

Goldwyn

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Tom Forman will direct Ethel Clayton in her next Paramount-Artcraft picture, "Rosanne-Ozanne," by Cynthia Stockley.

Thomas H. Ince finished editing his new special production, "Home spun Folks," in which Lloyd Hughes carries off honors as the featured masculine player. The special will be ready for pre-review within the next week. It was directed by John Griffith Wray under the personal supervision of Ince.

Harlan Tucker has been engaged by Thos. H. Ince for an important role in Enid Bennett's "I Wonder If—."

GAUSMAN.

New Grievance Committee

The new Film Club Grievance Committee for the next five weeks is composed of Sam Zierler, chairman; Ira Simmons, G. H. Willis, A. M. Fabian and George Uffner.

Port Huron, Mich.—Butterfield Circuit bought Majestic.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

If you want to save 10% of the cost of your
PRESS SHEETS
call
Larry Urbach
Bryant 8445

TOM BRET HAS MOVED
Tom Bret, the oldest established film editor and title writer, has moved to Room 611, Candler Bldg., 220 W. 42nd St.
Phone—Bryant 7691.

THIS IS WORTH INVESTIGATION
You can secure a
MOTION PICTURE DIRECTOR, WHO
Knows value, without waste,
Has experience covering all types of pictures,
Does not waste time or money,
Has a record for integrity,
Would be invaluable to new organization,
Prefers congenial position to big salary.
Address DIRECTOR, c/o Wid's Daily

FOR PROJECTION
CALL BRYANT 984 or 985
3 Rooms—Longest Throw in City
SIMPLEX STUDIO
5th Floor—Candler Bldg.—220 West 42nd St.

PROTECTION
The fundamental principle back of every successful business enterprise is insurance. Corporations owe it to their stockholders. Partners owe it to each other. You as an individual owe it to yourself. Do not allow yourself to be lulled into false security. You NEED insurance.
REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428
Reuben Samuels Insurance

"Silver Horde" Moves to Bro

"The Silver Horde" com Moss' Broadway on Sunday fro Capitol.

The more powerful a pos ter is the more tickets i will sell. Beyond th slightest shadow of doubt, the most powerfu poster produced is the RITCHEY POSTER!
RITCHEY
LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 830
Ritchey

SIMPLE SOULS

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACR
LOUIS MEYE
FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER
TITLE
LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED - PHOTOGRA
ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS
A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAM
BRYANT 7392
4220 WEST 42nd ST. ROOM

Mats, Electros and Stereos
for the
Motion Picture Trade
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-8304
The fastest stereotypers in N. Y. C.

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

A VOTE OF APPRECIATION

To the Officials, Franchise Holders and Salesmen

of the

FIRST NATIONAL EXHIBITOR'S CIRCUIT

Greetings!

——On the eve of stepping across the $400,000.00 mark – the amount which now represents the bookings—after but a 5 month campaign—on

"BACK TO GOD'S COUNTRY"

by

JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD

A First National attraction

we—its producers—desire to thank you one and all for your splendid co-operation and fine sense of justice in all your business dealings, which has carried us so successfully along the first half of our journey towards the $750,000.00 mark.

As a result we are encouraged to continue in the making of an occasional "OUT DOOR CLASSIC" and will always endeavor to contract with such authors of established reputation, who are in position to give us exclusive rights to their stories in order to protect your salesmen against unfair competition.

We also desire to seize this occasion to make public our vote of thanks to the originator of the enterprise, and upon whose capable shoulders rested the burden for

ERNEST SHIPMAN

"CARRYING ON"

Our next announcement will be of NATIONAL IMPORTANCE, and of great interest to the trade.

CANADIAN PHOTOPLAYS LTD.

CALGARY, CANADA

New York Office: 6 West 48th Street. Ernest Shipman, Manager

Edward Small

1493 Broadway

New York City

Representing

Wallace Mac Donald

L. A. Athletic Club

Los Angeles, Cal.

Watch for this space every day!

Cleveland Exchanges Move

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland, O.—The local Metro and Masterpiece exchanges have moved from the Sincere Building. The Dave Warner Film Co. has moved from the Sloan to the Erie Building.

H. Lyman Broening has been added to the producing staff of Marshall Neilan and Albert A. Kaufman Prod. and will act as head cameraman for the Kaufman unit.

SIMPLE SOULS

New Studio For Rent

187 ft. x 80 ft.

Very Latest Equipment.

Rent as whole or in part. Close to new Famous Players' Studio in Long Island City. 25 min. from Times Square.

Apply

FACTORY EXCHANGE

17 W. 44th St.

Phone Vanderbilt 5610

FIDELITY PICTURES COMPANY

117 W. 46th St.

HAVE OPENED A NEW DEPARTMENT for EDITING, TITLING, RE-VAMPING MOTION PICTURE FILM

REMOVAL NOTIC

F. A. A. DAHME

ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATO

Now at

220 W. 42nd St. Room 502

Temporary Phone, Bryant 9

JOSEPH R. MILES

MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES

LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION

Now in their new home

126-132 West 46th Street — Phone Bryant 5600

AT YOUR SERVICE twenty-four hours a day except Sunday

THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS

TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS

THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES

Twelve vaults in Long Island City

Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults

FILM SERVICE BUREAU

Does everything to a picture except produce it

FILM LIBRARY

Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions

USED FILM DEPARTMENT

We buy and sell used film in good condition—

CONSULT US

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N

H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

BRADSTREET FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 45 Saturday, May 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Battle Is On

itor Committee Conferring ith First National in Dallas

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

las—Independent exhibitors in ., Arkansas and Oklahoma, as- by Associated First National ls that they will secure prod- o show in their theaters, are red to carry the war against . Hulsey and S. A. Lynch of ta through to a finish.

that end, it is stated that build- lans which were alleged to have omedies for First National?

(Continued on Page 4)

e insistent report which attract- nsiderable attention some time that First National would dis- e the series of Toonerville Trol- omedies based on the cartoons ntaine Fox was revived yester-st National still knew nothing t the matter.

Mauretania Delayed

e Mauretania will not dock to- as scheduled, but will arrive at ntine tomorrow morning.

board the Cunarder are Sam- oldwyn, Gabriel Hess and Pearl e.

Sheehan on Adriatic infield R. Sheehan of Fox Film supposed to have left England he Mauretania. His office stated rday, however, that Sheehan aboard the Adriatic, which is in New York about the 20th of month.

A New Merger?

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—There is con- derable talk in film circles ere over the meeting held last eek in the offices of the Stan- y Co.

At that meeting were pres- nt J. D. Williams, Robert ieber, Sol Lesser, H. O. chwalbe of First National, fficials of the Peerless Film Exchange which distributes irst National product in this erritory. The First National fficials stopped off here en oute to Dallas, where the fight gainst Hulsey-Lynch is now eing waged.

All parties concerned are eticent but some of the wi- cres say that a merger of ome sort is in the wind.

"You have served my purpose. We part now—forever." — Mayflower Photoplay Corp. presents an Allan Dwan production, "A Splendid Hazard," directed by Allan Dwan and re leased by First National.—Advt.

Shuts Down Offices

Los Angeles Sheriff Closes Screencraft, Inc.—Salaries Claimed

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles — The offices of Screencraft, Inc., have been closed by the sheriff as a result of claims filed with the Labor Commissioner by alleged employees of the company for over $1,000.

The company operated less than a month and originally announced the latter part of April that it had taken over the old Essanay studio in Culver City. Its production plans called for a yearly output of four pictures. all of them based on Christian Science stories.

Robert McKim, Rhea Mitchell and Olga Gray were engaged for this picture, which was to be directed by Chadwick Ayers. A series of two-reel comedies featuring "Bumps" Adams was also planned.

Smith Coming East

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Albert E. Smith, president of Vitagraph, left for New York on Thursday.

Four From Vidor

Will Limit His Yearly Production—After Stage Plays

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—King W. Vidor, producing King W. Vidor Prod. for 1st National, announced yesterday that he would make four productions during the coming year. Vidor's new plan becomes effective with the completion of "The Jack Knife Man," by Ellis Parker Butler.

Charles Vidor, who in addition to his lumber interests in the South is general manager of the Vidor Company, and William Parker have left for New York to close negotiations for a number of plays for which Vidor has been dickering.

An option is understood to be held by Vidor on the William Gillette play, "A Successful Calamity."

"The Net" for Mae Murray

Invincible Photoplays have purchased "The Net" as the first vehicle for Mae Murray.

No arrangements have as yet been made for distribution of the pictures.

Carpentier Signs

Will Appear in Films Under Robertson-Cole Banner for Three Years

Robertson-Cole, which is releasing within a few days Georges Carpentier's first picture, "The Wonder Man," announces that it has signed the Frenchman to appear in pictures over a period of three years.

The contract will not keep Carpentier from entering the prize ring as often as he wishes. Matters are also arranged that he may leave the studio at any time when it becomes necessary to train or prepare for a championship bout.

The total investment which Robertson-Cole will put into the pictures to be made by Carpentier will be somewhere in the neighborhood of six figures.

An unusual clause of the contract is said to be the provision that Carpentier's salary is to be doubled in case he knocks out or defeats Jack Dempsey and wins the world's heavyweight boxing championship.

Lusk Here

W. E. Lusk, general manager of the First National exchange in Cleveland, arrived in New York yesterday.

A meeting of the stockholders of Ohio First National will be held in Cleveland on June 8 during the exhibitor convention.

N. A. M. P. I. Meet for Cleveland

The fourth annual meeting of the National Association will be held in Cleveland, Ohio, on Tuesday, June 8th. This decision was reached at a special meeting of the executive committee of the National Association at which were present: Walter W. Irwin, Chairman; William A. Brady, Adolph Zukor, W. E. Atkinson, C. C. Pettijohn, William Wright and Frederick H. Elliott.

The producers, distributors, supply and equipment and general divisions of the association will be called together before the annual meeting in Cleveland for the purpose of nominating 42 directors to serve on the board for the ensuing year.

Seltzer Here

Frank Seltzer, formerly exploitation manager with Goldwyn in Philadelphia and now with Betzwood made the rounds yesterday saying "hello" to everybody in town.

Seltzer is familiarly known as "Bromo"

Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.
135 W. 44th St —Bryant 5234.—Advt

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 45 Sat. May 15, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale
Famous Players ..	70¼	70½	70½
*do pfd.	81	83	83
*Goldwyn	22½	23	22½
Loew's, Inc.	28¼	28¾	28¾
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod.	1¾	1¾	1¾
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Thursday's quotations.

New Branches for Educational

Atlanta—Henry Ginsberg, of the New York office of Educational Films, is here to arrange for the opening of an Educational exchange in this city. From Atlanta Ginsberg will go to Dallas.

Installation of these two exchanges will give Educational its own offices in the 22 distributing centers of the United States.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:
The Philadelphia Record says:
"'The Woman and the Puppet.' The screen version gave Miss Farrar numerous opportunities to display those charms of manner and skill as an actress which have made her one of the brightest stars in the amusement world."

Goldwyn

Dastardly Work

Mt. Vernon, N. Y.—This town has a billboard censor who travels about at night and covers up the exposed extremities of females who are dressed in tights and who are advertised as appearing in pictures here.

The head of the Billboard Posters' Union has called this desecration of the billboards to the attention of Acting Chief of Police George G. Atwell, and the other morning he travelled about the city in the police car and made notes of the different billboards where legs had been covered by white pasters extending from hips to toes.

On one billboard not far from the post office a big display poster revealing a star in tights with a veil covering part of her face, a white paster had covered her form. Across the paster had been written the word "Censored."

On another bill was a harem scene and the legs of several of the sheik's favorite wives had also been barred from the public view.

Quimby on Coast

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Fred C. Quimby, general manager of Associated Exhibitors, Inc., is here.

Eubank Leaves for Coast

Victor Eubank leaves today for California.

Secure Site in Hollywood

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—The Lesser and Gore Bros.' interests have secured a site on Hollywood Boulevard between Cahuena and Vine Sts., upon which their $500,000 theater will be erected.

Jack Callicott, at present managing director of the Kinema, which Lesser and the Gores now control by virtue of their recent deal with T. L. Tally, will be supervising director of the new theater.

The lot secured covers a site now occupied by minor buildings, 120 by 230 ft. The theater is to be a three-story building with provision for stores and offices. The seating capacity will be about 2400.

There is to be a section of loges reserved for stars, and another feature is to be a nursery, with maids in attendance to take care of children. The basement will contain a ballroom with a small concrete stage.

Open Shanghai Office

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Seattle—Robinson and Walker Co. Ltd., an exporting firm, have opened a film exchange in Shanghai. They will open another branch in Manila in the autumn. They will handle 12 big pictures a year as well as used service.

They will also be agents for the Acme Projector and picture theater accessories.

In the Courts

Mayer Finkelstein, who was sued by the Commonwealth Film Co. for $250 on an agreement for the exhibition of "Eyes of Youth" in Syracuse, filed an answer in the Supreme Court yesterday.

He alleges that after he had agreed to take the first run of the film for $1,000 the Commonwealth assigned the State rights and the assignee without notice to him permitted the film to be shown by someone else before he could show it. He wants $250 damages.

Supreme Court Justice Gavegan yesterday denied an application by Emile Wertheimer to vacate the service of the summons in a suit brought against him by Josiah B. Millet.

Charles Neumeister, a process server, said he served Wertheimer on the pier when he was sailing for London on the Mauretania last February, and Millet and Dwight MacDonald, his attorney, said they saw the papers served. Wertheimer, his wife, Gabriel Hess and George Smith all made affidavits in London that Wertheimer was not served, but the court believed Millet.

A summons has been filed in the Supreme Court in a suit of Garnet Sabin against the A. H. Fischer Features, Inc.

New Theater for Reizner

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Raymond, Wash.—George Reizner owner of a string of theaters in Raymond and South Bend, is building a new 1,100 seat house to be called "The Tokay." It will cost $125,000.

Hoquiam, Wash.—Henry Newman, manager of the Liberty, is beginning construction of a new house to seat 1,100.

Portland, Ore.—J. C. Stille, former owner and manager of the People's Amusement Co., which he sold to Jenson and Von Herberg, is now managing the Rivoli.

Portland, Ore.—I. Lesser Cohen, former editor of the motion picture section of the Portland Telegram, is now managing the Portland Amusement Co., which conducts the American, Burnside and Casino.

Gem Burns in $20,000 Fire

Sherman, Tex.—A blaze starting in the Gem totally destroyed that house and damaged other buildings. The total loss is estimated at $20,000.

Sells "Weakly Indigestion"

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Atlanta—Radin Pictures of New York has disposed of "The Weakly Indigestion" for six southeastern states to the K. & R. Film Exchange.

Radin Has Dooley Feature

Radin Pictures will sell on the state right market a five reel comedy starring Johnny Dooley. William Nigh produced it.

"Crooked Streets" is the title of Ethel Clayton's latest production, which was filmed under the working title of "All in a Night."

Win Case Against Censor

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Waco, Tex.—The case agai Levy, manager of the Victory, presented "Why Change Your W the Cecil B. De Mille produ banned by the Censor Board, dismissed by Judge Kingsbu the police court.

It was ruled by the court tha City Commission had no right t egate to the board such powers was attempting to exercise. ruling was on the question o law to the effect that the City mission had no right to delegat of its powers to others.

Form New State Right Fir

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Dallas, Tex.—Tom N. Parker merly Republic branch manage entered the state right field. the assistance of his brother, W Parker, he has established the ker Film Co. Among the rel to be handled by this concer several put out by Pioneer.

Wurlitzer in Seattle

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Seattle—The Wurlitzer Com will open a sales branch at 192 Ave. An organ will be install the sales room and a teacher vided to give lessons at $5 pe son to men and women desiri learn to perform. The shorta competent Wurlitzer players been a great drawback to exhi in this part of the country.

Frank Condon will write the nario for "The Old Homestead stead of Elmer Harris, as for announced.

Beer and near beer look alike,—but the substitute lacks punch. Between RITCHEY posters and ordinary posters there is about the same amount of difference.

RITCHEY
LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 838

Ritchey

SIMPL SOULS

athé News

)IT, MICH—Celebrate Polish free-
Sons and daughters of Poland in nah hold pageant in honor of national dence.
& THERE—Fresno, Cal.—Raisin leaps—must be due to these "dry"
West celebrates founding of raisin
—note unique floats.
e, La.—New device saves labor—machine attached to train locomokes trough of 4 miles in a day, dok of 100 men.
Haven, Pa.—"Not a ghost in sight."
Clara Bryan who slept handcuffed
t in a cemetery to win a wager.
OL, R. I.—America prepares to de-ternational Cup Title against Britain blute" will compete with "Vanitie" nt of racing Sir Lipton's "Shamrock."
E, ITALY—Honor Allied Confer-
High church officials join the pop-n ceremonies on St. Mark's Square g meeting of the Allied diplomats at
no.
NA, COLO.—Fight snow at 11,000-ght! Spring thaw helps giant plow through heavy snows to free buried l tracks.
KFORT, GERMANY—Belgium gives of accord with France—Belgian bat-is sent to aid in the military occupa-Frankfort.
BUFFALO, MICH.—Summer time
tion time, and Y. W. C. A. girls with and sport open summer camp on Lake an.
IPEG, CANADA—Red-skin warriors red by lures of Pale-face trade—feath-hiefs celebrate the success of their elations with furriers of North.
YORK CITY—Off to Mexico! Sail-
d. Marines aboard U. S. warships pre-protect Uncle Sam's interests across o Grande—loading supplies on U. S. lahoma.

oday

Flying A" Film Completed

ita Barbara, Cal.—The filming he Blue Moon" under the direc-of George L. Cox has been comd by American Film. Pell Tren-Elinor Field, Harry S. Northrup,
s Gordon, Margaret McWade
Herbert Standing are in the cast.

Houses Bought

sebud, Tex.—Mrs. Pierce Brook ht Gem.

iladelphia — The Nixon-Nirdr interests bought the Coliseum.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Irene Rich and Chas. Clary have been loaned by Goldwyn to American Film Co. at Santa Barbara to play "Whispering Smith."

Jessie Fox, recently featured with Christie Films and L-KO comedies, has been engaged by Unique Films, Inc.

James Crane recently passed his 75th birthday. He is appearing in "The Saphead" for Metro.

Charles Pike, who is located at 540½ So. Spring St., Los Angeles, is probably one of the best known railroad officials to the professional people. He is the man for professional people to see when they are traveling.

Antonio Moreno and his company are at Catalina filming scenes in "The Veiled Mystery," a Vitagraph serial.

Barbara Bedford has signed with Maurice Tourneur for his future productions.

Production has been finished of "The Mischief Man," adapted and scenarioized by H. Tipton Steck, starring Lew Cody. Mr. Steck has completed Cody's next vehicle.

H. Tipton Steck adapted the Curwood story, "Nomads of the North," now being produced.

With location "shots" at Balboa, Redondo and Palm Springs, the final scenes for "Athalie," the Sidney A. Franklin production to be presented by Mayflower, with Sylvia Breamer and Conrad Nagel in the leading roles will be taken this week.

Benjamin B. Hampton has started camera work upon "The Money Changers," Upton Sinclair's novel. Hugh Ryan Conway directs.

GAUSMAN

Chamberlin in Seattle.

Seattle—F. V. Chamberlin, general service manager for Famous Players, spent last week in Seattle.

Gives Chance for "Redemption"

Lewis J. Selznick has issued a call to the industry to "redeem" itself before the close of the campaign for $7,500,000 being conducted for relief of war sufferers in the Near East.

Mr. Selznick earlier in the week endeavored to bring together a representative gathering of film men at the Biltmore, but only two outside of himself appeared, one of those being Charles C. Pettijohn of the Selznick organization.

The only contributions received from the picture industry for the fund is $10,000 from Selznick, $10,000 from William Fox and $1,440 from the employes at Universal, forwarded through Harry Berman.

Departures

Sam Bullock of Cleveland and Harvey C. "Doc" Horater of Teledo left town yesterday for their respective homes.

New Metro Star?

"Is it true that Metro has a new male star?" Richard A. Rowland was asked yesterday.

"No-o, not yet" answered Mr. Rowland.

Which certainly indicates that something is in the wind.

Architect Joins Crane

Percival Pereira, formerly with De Rosa and Pereira, architects for a considerable number of motion picture theaters, has joined C. Howard Crane of Detroit, another architect, for a number of well known theater owners.

F. P. Lists Two Releases

Famous Players will release on May 18 George Melford's production, "The Sea Wolf," and "The Dark Mirror," starring Dorothy Dalton.

ARE YOU IN THE MARKET FOR PRINTS?

Discriminating Producers and Distributors desiring extra fine quality in their film prints, with artistic tints and tones, are invited to communicate immediately with the famous

LYMAN H. HOWE LABORATORIES

175-177 West River Street

WILKES-BARRE, PA.

We have enlarged our facilities and are now in position to accept additional orders for immediate handling. We guarantee unsurpassable workmanship and screen results, brilliant color effects, and thoroughly satisfactory service in every respect. QUICK ACTION DESIRED. Write, wire or Telephone (Bell Phone 1282) at once to

S. M. WALKINSHAW

General Manager, The Lyman H. Howe Films Co., Inc.,

WILKES-BARRE, PA.

FOR RENT

Modernized—Edison Studios

rnishing Every Facility. Rent Includes use of Massive Sets—Large Assortment of Props. and well stocked Wardrobe. Last Word in Lighting Equipment.

IMMEDIATE POSSESSION

2826 DECATUR AVENUE PHONE, FORDHAM 8330-8331

Tom Terriss

directed Alice Joyce, Earle Williams and Corinne Griffith in big features. He is a Broadway director. TODAY IN CALIFORNIA, HE IS COMPLETING HIS FIRST TOM TERRISS-ALL-STAR CAST PRODUCTION FOR VITAGRAPH.

AND IN THE LEADING ROLE IS—

Wallace Mac Donald

Deitrich Joins International

Theodore C. Deitrich, it is understood, will shortly join International Film, producers of Cosmopolitan Prod., where for one thing he will have charge of publicity and advertising.

Henry Hobart, general manager of International, could not be reached for a statement.

Deitrich is president of Deitrich-Beck and De Luxe Pictures, Inc., and has under contract Doris Kenyon, whose productions are released via W. W. Hodkinson. In his absence no information could be secured as to how his affiliation with International would affect his two companies.

Colley of Birmingham Dead

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Birmingham, Ala.—Edward H. Colley, president of the Mudd-Colley Amusement Co., died on May 5.

Mr. Colley's company operated the Rialto and Trianon theaters here.

Dalton Starts New One

Dorothy Dalton has begun work on "A Winter City Favorite," by Charles Belmont Davis, brother of the late Richard Harding Davis. The story will be directed by Harley Knoles.

WANTED
2-REEL COMEDY SCENARIOS featuring young lady
G. SADIN
Paragon Studio
Phone Fort Lee 329

Battle Is On

(Continued from Page 1)

been held back while Hulsey was in apparent control of the situation here, so far as the supply of productions was concerned, will now be pushed to the limit.

The independent exhibitors until the conference in Chicago with First National officials at the time of the convention maintained that because Hulsey exercised the Paramount franchise in the southwest they could not be sure of an uninterrupted supply of pictures and consequently could not carry out their building plans.

With the promise of an Associated First National Exchange, however, it is stated that as originally planned theaters will be built in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, San Antonio, Amarillo, Waco, Wichita Falls and other cities in Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas by independent exhibitors who are now affiliated with Associated First National, and who are assured of product by virtue of the new sub-franchising system. These new theaters will not be erected by First National as a circuit, but will be built by individual exhibitors who are pledged to show First National product.

A committee composed of the following exhibitors is in daily session with J. D. Williams, H. O. Schwalbe, Sol Lesser and Robert Lieber: J. A. Holton of Port Arthur, Saul S. Harris of Little Rock, Tom H. Boland of Oklahoma City, William Faerman of Bryan, E. T. Peters of Dallas, president of the Texas Exhibitors' Circuit, originally formed to fight Hulsey-Lynch; Ben S. Lewis of El Paso, H. S. Cole of Ranger, C. J. Musselman of Paris and Dye Ford Rogers of Wichita Falls and Amarillo.

"Until now the independent exhibitors in this territory have had to meet the threatened invasion of their respective localities as individuals, and without assistance or counsel from any quarter," J. D. Williams said. "To movie fans this may not seem a serious situation until it is pointed out that the great majority of exhibitors in this and all other territories look to two sources—the First National Exhibitors' Circuit and Paramount-Artcraft output—for the great majority of attractions used on the screens.

"With E. H. Hulsey owning the distributing franchise for First National pictures, and with S. A. Lynch controlling the Paramount-Artcraft output, the menace became doubly threatening to independent exhibitoors, because of the certainty that the two merged interests would divert to the theaters they acquired the pictures which previously had enabled the individual theater owners to conduct profitable theater enterprises."

"The Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes" will be added to the program of the Criterion Theater beginning tomorrow. This picture was made by the National Geographic Society and shows a section of the Alaskan country following the eruption of Mount Katmai. Educational release.

Matt Moore plays the lead opposite Enid Bennett in "Hairpins," a Thos. H. Ince production.

YOU WILL WI: H
YOUR THEAT B
HAD RUBBE WALLS when you play
GEORGE CARPENTI R
in
The WONDE
MAN - -
A tense emotical drama of lo and intrigue in heart of Americ
social set.
"A Million Dollar Attract
DIRECTED BY JOHN G. ADO
ROBERTSON-COL
SUPER SPECIAL

BARGAINS
Pathe News Model Camera
New Ball Bearing Precision
and
Bell Howell Tripods with universal tilts.
JOSEPH SEIDEN
1545 B'way, City Bryant 1291

Send Us You
Any Quantity
Highest Prices Junk Fil
INTERSTATE SMELTI
& REFINING COMPA
23 Commercial St. NEWARK, N

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Pr ductions. The leading prod ers are our clients. The pla the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Societ
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.V. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII. NO. 46 | Sunday, May 16, 1920 | Price 25 cents

WHO WON? A Fortune and a Girl at Stake!!!

The Richest Prospector in Alaska and the Wolf Pack of Wall Street in a Death Grapple For Them!!!

JACK LONDON'S

BURNING DAYLIGHT

With an ALL STAR CAST headed by

MITCHELL LEWIS

Produced by C.E. SHURTLEFF Inc. Scenario by A.S. Le VINO

Directed by EDWARD SLOMAN

METRO Pictures Corp.

JURY IMPERIAL PICTURES Ltd. Exclusive Distributors throughout Great Britain. SIR WILLIAM JURY Managing Director.

CONSTANCE BINNEY

The STOLEN KISS

From Lucille Van Slyke's novel "Little Miss-by-the-day"

Directed by
KENNETH WEBB
Scenario by
KATHRYNE STUART

The Mighty Appeal of Mother Love

CONSTANCE BINNEY depicts this with tenderness and charm. Her work in this latest Realart release has completely won the hearts of the fans. Man and woman, boy and girl, they have bestowed their star-adoration as though she were a favorite of long standing. And Constance Binney has made only two Realart star appearances. Her triumph has been lightning-like but complete.

Our branch offices report an "easy sweep" but a clean one. A few important theatres have not played Miss Binney's latest release, "THE STOLEN KISS," but this is their loss to an even greater extent than our own. It can be remedied by a visit to that nearest Realart exchange TO-DAY.

REALART PICTURES

REALART PICTURES CORPORATION
469 Fifth Avenue, New York City

REALART PICTURES

REALART
PICTURES CORPORATION

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII, No. 46 Sunday May 16, 1920 Price 25c.

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc.

Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS AND FILM FOLKS, INC.

F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.

Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00. Subscribers should remit with order.

Address all communications to
WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt 4551-2

Hollywood, California: Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Boulevard. Phone, Hollywood 1603.

Chicago Representatives: Wiillis & Eckels, 6th Floor, Consumers Building, Chicago, Ill.

Features Reviewed

Rex Beach's .....THE SILVER HORDE
Goldwyn ..... Page 3

Mitchell Lewis in.....BURNING DAYLIGHT
C. E. Shurtleff, Inc.-Metro..... Page 5

Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran in
EVERYTHING BUT THE TRUTH
Universal ..... Page 7

Bryant Washburn in
MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM
Paramount-Artcraft ..... Page 8

Enid Bennett in.....THE FALSE ROAD
Thos. H. Ince-Paramount-Artcraft..... Page 9

Mary Miles Minter in.....JENNY BE GOOD
Realart ..... Page 12

Marjorie Rambeau in...THE FORTUNE TELLER
Robertson-Cole Special ..... Page 13

Anita Stewart in.....THE YELLOW TYPHOON
Louis B. Mayer Prod.-First National... Page 14

Blanche Sweet in.....SIMPLE SOULS
Hampton-Pathe ..... Page 15

Elaine Hammerstein in
THE SHADOW OF ROSALIE BYRNES
Selznick-Select ..... Page 20

Short Reels ..... Page 19

News of the Week in Headlines

Monday

Tax on personals demanded from artists by Government. West coast film colony aroused.

Cecil B. De Mille renews with Famous Players for five years.

No intention of owning or operating theaters, says Associated Producers.

Tuesday

Goldwyn not after theaters. Will buy or build when forced to only, says Godsol.

More production voted for at meeting of Canadian Photoplays.

Frohman Amusement Co. expansion calls for immediate production of 16 pictures.

First National officials in Dallas to combat Hulsey-Lynch Enterprises.

Gloria Swanson to be starred in Paramount Pictures.

More First National units formed in Delaware.

Wednesday

David P. Howells and Arthur S. Kane elected to board of directors of Cathrine Curtis Corp.

Split in industry expected at Cleveland Convention over theater buying activities by producers.

Ralph O. Proctor joins Associated Exhibitors as assistant to Fred C. Quimby.

Thursday

Associated Producers will have exchanges ready by September. Will wage campaign for long runs.

J. N. Naulty, general manager Eastern studios of Famous Players, resigns to form producing unit with Gardiner Hunting.

Los Angeles reports formation of $5,000,000 Oliver Morosco picture company.

Friday

"Big Four" members due in New York in a month to hold meeting for election of President. Pickford-Fairbanks foreign trip postponed.

Reported B. S. Moss sells theaters to prominent vaudeville interests.

Enid Bennett and Fred Niblo to leave Thomas H. Ince and form two distinct producing units.

Saturday

King Vidor to make four productions only during coming year.

Georges Carpentier signed by Robertson-Cole for three years.

Texas-Arkansas-Oklahoma exhibitors to build new houses. Assured of product from First National. Causes break with Hulsey.

"Pardoning the bad is injuring the good"—Benjamin Franklin.

FOR THOSE WHO BELIEVE IN THE HUMAN HEART

ANDREW J. CALLAGHAN PRODUCTIONS, Inc.

Presents

BESSIE LOVE

THE PRINCESS CHARMING

in

"THE MIDLANDERS"

Adapted to the Screen from the Famous American Novel

By Charles Tenney Jackson

Directed by Two Masters of the Cinema

IDA MAY PARK and JOSEPH DE GRASSE

YOUR AUDIENCE WILL UNCONDITIONALLY SURRENDER when sweet pathos, sturdy humor, stirring adventure and tender romance combine to storm the portals of the heart.

Behind this captivating star who seeks to conquer humanity's whole wide world is an irresistible force:

The Finest Directorial Genius—
The Most Famous Novels and Plays—
The Highest Quality of Production.

With such a Force there's only One Answer
Unconditional surrender under this banner of victory:

THEY'RE BUILT TO PLEASE THE PUBLIC!

ANDREW J. CALLAGHAN PRODUCTIONS, Inc.
25 WEST 43d STREET NEW YORK CITY

Atmosphere a Big Feature of This Rex Beach

Rex Beach's
"THE SILVER HORDE"
Goldwyn

DIRECTOR ..... Frank Lloyd
AUTHOR .....Rex Beach
SCENARIO BY.....Lawrence Trimble and J. E. Nash.
CAMERAMAN ..... William Foster
AS A WHOLE.....Unusual atmosphere the biggest thing in this; generally a well-made production.
STORY.....Interesting environment given to theme that holds well despite few conventional ideas
DIRECTION .....Very fine
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS ..... Good
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
PLAYERS.....Myrtle Stedman pleasing as a woman of the North; male members of cast are all splendid.
EXTERIORS ..... Scenic beauties
INTERIORS.....All right when used
DETAIL .....Nothing very wrong
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Fight for supremacy of salmon fisheries.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 7,000 feet

There is one thing in particular that's to be said for Rex Beach. When he sets out for material for his story, he gets it and it's always something new. He gets an underlying interest or a solid foundation to work on before he puts in his characters. This is just what has happened in "The Silver Horde." Beyond the fact that Wall Street interests are fighting to gain entire control of the salmon industry in the Kalvik district, there is the underlying factor of the industrial interest afforded by the vivid way in which the salmon trade is incorporated in the story.

The continuity has been handled and the story runs along in an agreeably smooth manner. Director Lloyd has given the production all the realism that could be desired and maintained an artistic and altogether appropriate atmosphere throughout.

True, there are certain conventional ideas in the story, such as the villain who is the father of a half-breed child; a wealthy father who would have his daughter marry a man of position rather than a man she loves; the womn who gives and her final recompense. However, none of these facts stand out as conventional as they may sound in view of the way they are manipulated and weaved in the story.

Boyd Emerson must make good financially before he can marry Mildred Wayland. The time limit for "making good" is almost up when Boyd's search for wealth leads him to the salmon fisheries. Cherry Malotte, a woman of the North, and George Holt, who have been fighting to retain their claims to a share of "The Silver Horde," interest Emerson in a plan to fight their opponent Marsh, who is backed by Wall Street interests.

After considerable difficulty the three secure the capital necessary to finance the project while Marsh, assisted by Mildred's father, works against Boyd and his partners. But Marsh has a double motive in his desire to crush Boyd. He is in love with Mildred's money, while Mildred is in love with Boyd. Marsh uses every means to poison Wayland's mind against Boyd, at the same time making every effort to destroy his plan to secure his share of "The Silver Horde." Even while Boyd and his pals are waiting anxiously for the coming of the fish, Marsh attempts to blow up the nets, but is unsuccessful.

Finally the day arrives when the fish, as they are wont to do at a certain time each year, swarm up the Kalvik by the millions and fill the nets laid by Boyd. Marsh plays his last hand by branding Boyd as the father of the half-breed baby, but the mother proves Marsh as the father. Boyd turns from Mildred to Cherry.

Well Known Title Should Attract in Addition to Promises

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Wtihout a doubt "The Silver Horde" is a box office attraction. It should bring you a silver horde on your own account and if it doesn't it's because you haven't tried. There are unlimited exploitation and advertising possibilities afforded by it and if you don't make use of them, it's your own afult. Rex Beach has written a real story, not so much the fiction end of it as from the atmospheric standpoint. Make use of the title in explaining the groundwork of the story and use it for exploitation. Invite your patrons to see Rex Beach's story of Alaskan salmon fisheries. Tell them they'll like it. If they don't, they're all wrong.

For catchlines use: "Are you aware of the opportunities of 'The Silver Horde?' See how hordes of salmon proved the opportunity that a man was waiting for." Or, "Don't fail to see the picturization of Rex Beach's 'The Silver Horde' at the —— theater, the story of the Alaskan fisheries and of Wall St. wits against the wits of the North."

"Romance"

By EDWARD SHELDON

Produced under the DIRECTION
of

CHET WITHEY

Featuring

DORIS KEANE

Released by UNITED ARTISTS
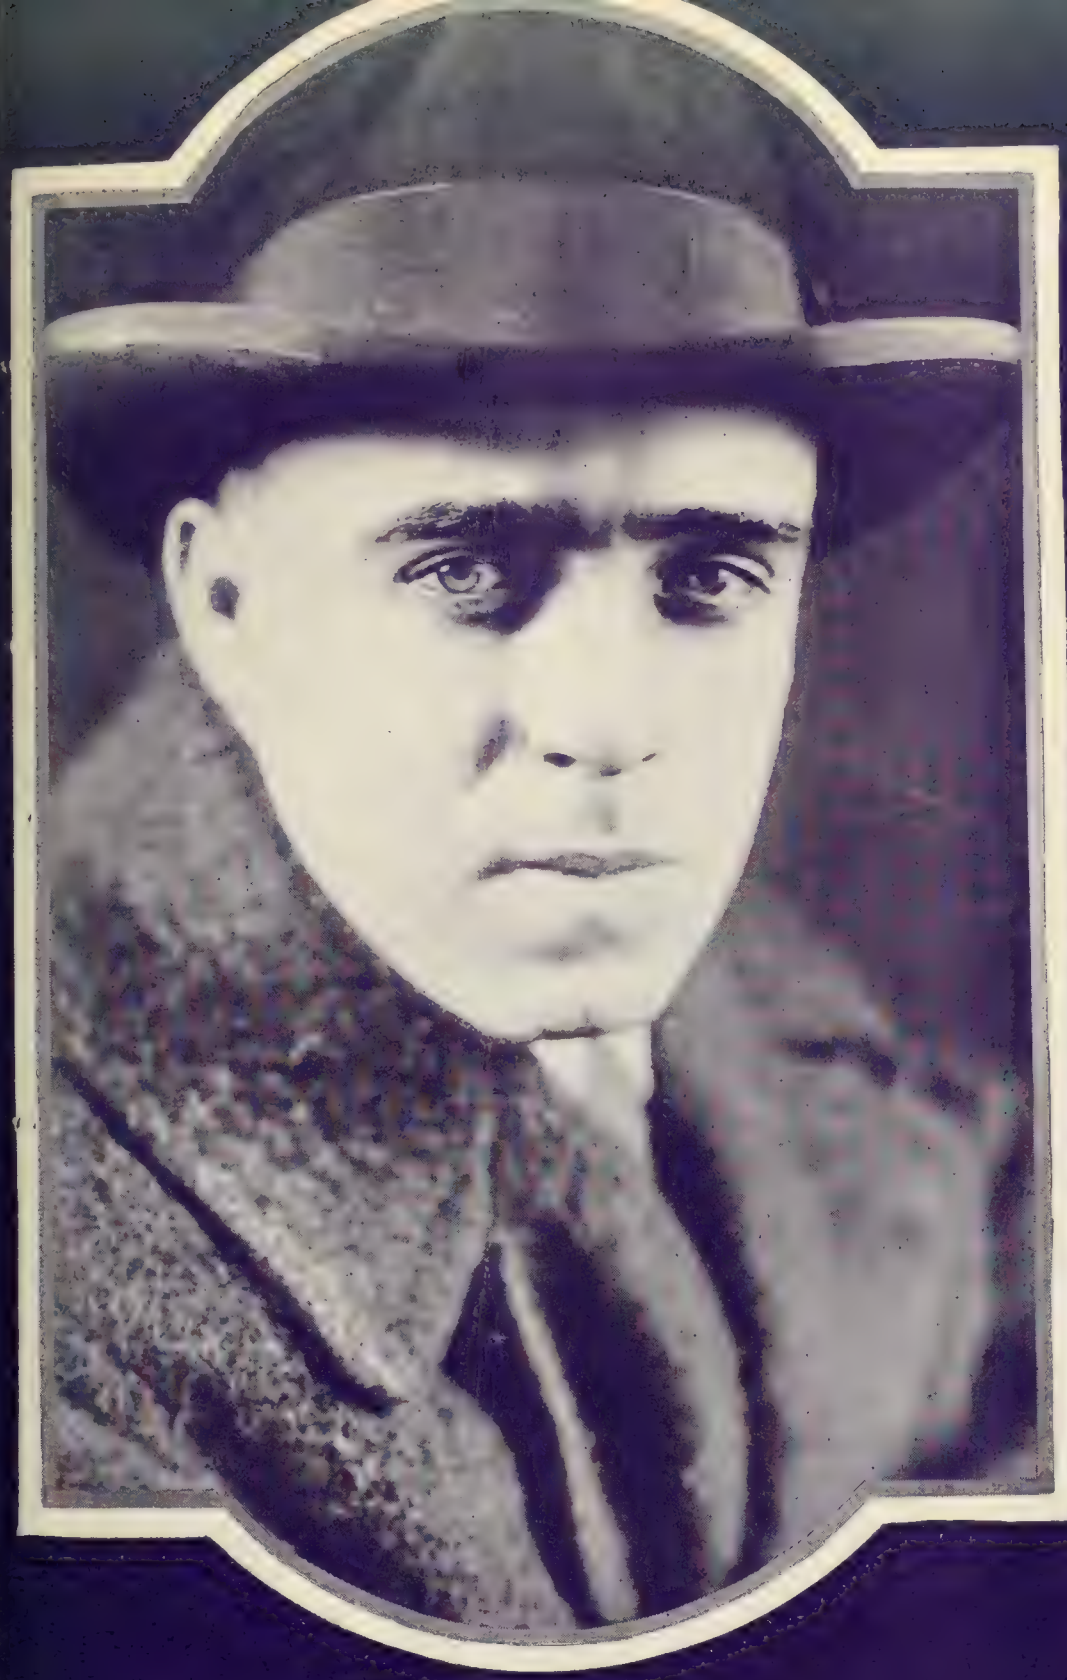
CORPORATION
MARY PICKFORD - CHARLIE CHAPLIN
DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS - D.W. GRIFFITH
HIRAM ABRAMS, General Manager



WHEN Paul Armstrong and Wilson Mizner wrote "The Deep Purple," they reached into the Underworld and brought forth REAL characters.

And now R. A. Walsh transfers them to the screen to fascinate your audiences in a story that strikes deep into the human heart.

MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION
presents

An R. A. WALSH PRODUCTION

The DEEP PURPLE

Directed by R. A. WALSH
From the Famous Play
by PAUL ARMSTRONG & WILSON MIZNER

Apply to
REALART PICTURES CORP.
469 FIFTH AVE.

REALART PICTURES

SPEAKING OF PROFITS—

YOU have in "The Deep Purple" a picture packed with money-making possibilities.

It's backed by the fame of the original stage play which ran for over a year on Broadway.

And—

The reputation of R. A. Walsh whose name guarantees the BEST in picture entertainment.

And—

The cast—Miriam Cooper, Helen Ware, Vincent Serrano and Bird Millman. There's patron pulling power behind each name.

An Unbeatable Combination from Every Box Office Angle

BOOK "THE DEEP PURPLE" AND WATCH IT PULL THE LONG GREEN!

MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION

presents

An R.A.WALSH PRODUCTION

The DEEP PURPLE

Directed by R.A.WALSH

From the Famous Play

by PAUL ARMSTRONG & WILSON MIZNER

Apply to

REALART PICTURES CORP.

469 FIFTH AVE.

REALART PICTURES

FACES leered at her from the Shadowy Depths of the Underworld; beckoned her to the Brink of the Chasm called Sin.

A Great Stage Play—
A Greater Picture

SEE IT and SIGN IT!

MAYFLOWER PHOTOPLAY CORPORATION
presents

AN R.A.WALSH PRODUCTION
THE DEEP PURPLE

Directed by R.A.WALSH From the Famous Play by PAUL ARMSTRONG & WILSON MIZNER
Released by REALART PICTURES CORPORATION 469 Fifth Ave

Strong and Pleasing Picture Made From a Jack London Novel

Mitchell Lewis in
"BURNING DAYLIGHT"
C. E. Shurtleff, Inc.-Metro.

DIRECTOR ..... Edward Sloman
AUTHOR ..... Jack London
SCENARIO BY.....A. S. Le Vino
CAMERAMAN .....Jackson Rose
AS A WHOLE.....Very well done production, maintaining a fine story interest throughout STORY.....Adapted from London's novel; has been used as basis of other pictures, but is treated well here and stands as unusual.
DIRECTION ..... Commendable
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... All right
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Gets over very well in role demanding force and simplicity.
SUPPORT.....Helen Ferguson and William Mong good and are prominent; some minor parts overacted.
EXTERIORS.....A few good snow shots
INTERIORS ..... Appropriate
DETAIL ..... Satisfactory
CHARACTER OF STORY.....New rich Yukon miner, fleeced by New York "wolves," regains fortune through primitive methods.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,600 feet

There have been many pictures produced in the past which utilized the general outline of Jack London's "Burning Daylight," but it is safe to say that the plot has never been so well reated as in this bona fide adaptation of the celebrated work. The possibilities of the story attracted other writers for the simple reason that it is exceedingly strong in its elemental conflict between the man of the frozen wastes and the "wolves" of Wall Street. In the present work the story has been admirably handled, the dramatic moments are well balanced with a number of lighter scenes, while the climax sequence in which the Alaskan retrieves the fortune of which the money ring has tricked him possesses a fine degree of suspense.

Harnish, known as "Burning Daylight" throughout the Yukon, strikes gold and creates a boom in a district long off the map of prosperity. Letton, a financier from New York, journeys to the Yukon with the idea of tricking Daylight of his vast holdings. But the northerner plays a better hand and finally Letton has to acknowledge himself defeated. He is forced to honestly pay five million dollars for Daylight's property.

Daylight, taking with him "Necessity," an old lawyer, his daughter Dora, who acts as secretary, and her crippled brother goes to New York. Here the Letton ring plan to fleece Daylight of his newly gained money. He is accepted in their society and Lucille, Letton's niece, playing the game too, easily wins a proposal of marriage from him. He is then asked to buy up a certain stock which will eventually net him a tremendous fortune, so they say.

And of course Daylight discovers that he has been tricked. But going to the Letton crowd just as they are gloating over their victory, he forces them, at the point of a gun to hand over the equivalent of his losses in bonds and then pockets their written agreement to break him so as to protect himself lest they should ask help from the police. This sequence is handled very well and no small degree of suspense results from it. In the end Daylight goes back to the Yukon with Dora.

Mitchell Lewis brings the proper degrees of force and simplicity to the title role. Helen Ferguson as Dora and William Mong as Necessity give capable assisting performances, as does Alfred Allen as Letton. Letton's partners in trickery are small roles which are overplayed in an effort for comedy, but the rest of the principals, including Gertrude Astor, Arthur Edmund Carew and Louis Morrison, give satisfactory performances.

Has All the Elements of Popular Appeal and Should Go Big

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

What with Jack London's name you have very strong advertising possibilities in this picture. London's works did and still do enjoy a vast popularity and "Burning Daylight" is by no means the least of his many novels. So whether you play up Mitchell Lewis or not, don't forget Jack London's name. It will bring the crowds.

You can play the story up in a big way, too. Of course London's name is more or less of a guarantee of a good story, but in the present case they have picturized one of his most popular themes and one which has been extensively "borrowed." And this is proof of its varied elements of appeal.

A catchline such as "The virile story of a Yukon miner who played against the Wall Street wolves even as he did the wolves of the north," would be descriptive and attractive.

JACK THOUGHT-When we are married I wonder if I shall ever be able to make an Honest-to-God woman of her
AND ENID THOUGHT-If he had been a real two fisted man he would have kissed me anyway.
Then the Mountain Girl and the Mountain Man came into their lives and

MOUNTAIN MADNESS

(from the book by Anna Alice Chapin, author of "The Eagle's Mate") swept all four of them into its blinding swirl

Produced by

REPUBLIC DISTRIBUTING CORPORATION
Lewis J. Selznick
Advisory Director
Briton N. Busch
President

Lloyd Carleton Productions
Hollywood California

Personal Direction of Lloyd B. Carleton

CLERMONT PHOTOPLAYS CORPORATION

Hannibal N. Clermont
President

First Lyons-Moran Feature Comedy Registers as Most Satisfactory

Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran in
"EVERYTHING BUT THE TRUTH"
Universal

DIRECTORS .....Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran
AUTHOR .....Edgar Franklin
SCENARIO BY.....Philip Hurn
CAMERAMAN .....Alfred Gosden
AS A WHOLE.....Very satisfactory farce comedy
STORY.....Has series of good complications which have been handled with appreciative comedy sense.
DIRECTION.....Realizes possibilities in good style
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Good
LIGHTINGS ..... Average
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STARS.....Both play straight roles; register their comedy very skilfully.
SUPPORT .....Very good
EXTERIORS .....Suburban stuff
INTERIORS.....Appropriate; nothing big
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Complications arising after young wife and young man, about to wed exceedingly jealous girl, have been forced to spend night together in guarded room.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,775 feet

Edgar Franklin is a writer of splendid material for picture farces. He showed his skill in contriving unearthly but uproariously funny situations in Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry" and now in "Everything But the Truth," the first of the Eddie Lyons-Lee Moran feature comedies, he triumphs again in concocting the comically ridiculous.

Here he has taken the young wife of a jealous husband and the fiance of a jealous young woman and piloted them through a series of circumstances at the end of which they find themselves obliged to spend the night in the same room. Rest assured that they make all possible efforts to escape the situation, but it eventually gets the best of them.

The rest of the picture, the better part of it in fact, is consumed by the efforts at explanation made by these unfortunate two to the other two very interested parties. This part of the picture is splendidly constructed from the angle of farce comedy and due to the skilful treatment accorded the situation by the joint directors and their capable playing of the principal roles it resolves itself into a series of very humorous scenes.

The comedy is accumulative just as suspense is in a well-written melodrama. Of course the young wife and the fiance attempt in various ways to lie out of their unfortunate night's adventure. But at each turn as they see themselves clear some unexpected question is put to them or some unexpected person intrudes himself with a remark that completely lays bare their lies.

All things considered, the Lyons and Moran combination has been entirely successful in its first effort at feature comedy. It is true that the producion lacks any lavish touch, but the story is by no means dependent on settings or scenery to put it over. It has the goods in is own situations and these have been handled in top-notch style.

Lyons and Moran both realize on their long training in handling the stellar roles of the picture. They seldom permit a chance to score a comedy point to pass without taking advantage of it. Their characters are contrasting but each plays with enthusiasm and the proper degree of seriousness demanded by farce. In their support appear Anne Cornwall and Katherine Lewis as the girls in the case. Both register very satisfactorily. Others are Nelson McDowell, Willis Marks and Elizabeth Witt.

A word is due the humorous animated cartoon conceits that appear on the borders of the subtitles. They are cleverly done, appropriate to the action and often bring laughs on their own account.

Is Better Than Average and Should Please All Audiences

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Exhibitors who have been playing the Lyons-Moran comedies for the past six or seven years hardly need another introduction. It is enough to say that if their audiences liked the one and two-reel stuff that this comedy team has been serving up there will be no doubt as regards their accepting this feature, for it is superior to the short length subjects in every respect.

In fact, "Everything But the Truth" is a worthy comedy feature for every exhibitor who doesn't demand a production suggesting a lavish use of the production purse. The situations register with more certainty than those of the average five-reeler and the comedy is accumulative, rising steadily from the outset to the hilarious point close to the finish.

The awkward situation which the two young people find themselves in might be related as a catchline in advertising the production. Treat it in a light way and the interest of the reader will be aroused.

Good Production And Efforts Of Players Get This Over In Good Style

Bryant Washburn in
"MRS. TEMPLE'S TELEGRAM"
Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR .....James Cruze
AUTHORS.....Frank Wyatt and William Morris
SCENARIO BY.....Elmer Harris
CAMERAMAN .....Henry Kotani
AS A WHOLE.....Light comedy offering with enough amusing complications to please most audiences.
STORY....Somewhat obvious and nothing decidedly new, but suits star and has pleasant surprise finish.
DIRECTION....Very good; works up to very satisfactory conclusion.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Good
LIGHTINGS .....Clear
CAMERA WORK .....All right
STAR....Pleasing personality and decidedly at home in the part.
SUPPORT....Wanda Hawley a pretty and clever, young wife; Walter Hiers and Carmen Phillips both good.
EXTERIORS .....Real
INTERIORS .....Quite appropriate
DETAIL.....Some attractive titles
CHARACTER OF STORY....Jealous young wife plans a test to see if her husband is vamp-proof.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....4,318 feet

As far as the story itself is concerned, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" is not really new to photoplay audiences, for the jealous wife and the complications which her suspicions arouse, have been presented before. But Director Cruze has given the picture a lively and thoroughly realistic production in that it continually "hits home."

The surprise finish is about the best thing in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," and it's a wager that it will be a scant few who will suspect that the whole affair which came so dangerously near ruining the happy married life of the Temples was all a plan of the suspicious young wife to test her husband's loyalty and to see if he really were vamp-proof.

For those who like to discuss the theory of jealousy as an indication of true love and vice versa, "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" goes a long way toward proving the "pro" of the argument.

After two years of married life, Mr. and Mrs. Temple are still in love with each other, and the titles marvel at the fact. Hon and Dearie are demolishing nut frappes, when suddenly Mrs. Temple discovers a "painted pelican" making eyes at her hubby.

It proves too much for the jealous Mrs. T., so the couple part. The wife goes home, but Mr. T. is pursued by the vamp, who follows him into a department store. He goes up to the roof to escape her, but she follows and the two are locked up there for the night. Carmen Phillips, as the vamp, goes through all the motions of a siren, and pleads for a kiss, but the loyal husband is immune.

The complications start when hubby returns the next morning and tries to explain where he has spent the night. Mrs. T. refuses to believe the "tall" one about being locked on the top of the skyscraper, so he tells her another about spending the night with a friend, making up a name and giving the name of some suburban town. It happens that there is such a person and the mix-up that it causes is highly amusing, but comes very near being disastrous. When finally the vamp arrives, Mrs. T. explains that she planned the whole thing.

You Can Promise A Pleasing Comedy Offering In This

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

With the star's pleasing personality and his interesting performance in "Mrs. Temple's Telegram," together with the all-around good work of the supporting cast and way the production has been handled generally, you should have little trouble in putting over Bryant Washburn's latest picture. It has a distinct appeal even though the idea is not exactly original.

At the Rialto, the orchestra helped along the interest by well-chosen selections, among them "The Vamp" and "Kiss Me Again," which fitted in very appropriately. You might stir up some enthusiasm by such lines: "Is jealousy a sign of true love? What do you think? See Mrs. Temple's theory in Bryant Washburn's latest picture." Or, "If your name is Brown, Smith, or Jones, watch out. You never know what you may be dragged into. See what happened to John Brown in 'Mrs. Temple's Telegram,' at the ——— theater."

Crook Picture That Peters Out After Very Promising Start

Enid Bennett in
"THE FALSE ROAD"
Thos. H. Ince-Paramount-Artcraft

DIRECTOR ..... Fred Niblo
AUTHOR ..... C Gardner Sullivan
SCENARIO BY ..... C. Gardner Sullivan
CAMERAMAN ..... George Barnes
AS A WHOLE ..... Average production of a crook story that peters out after very promising start.
STORY ..... Not enough incident or situations to furnish material for five reels, but general development is praiseworthy.
DIRECTION ..... Satisfactory
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Commendable
LIGHTINGS ..... Good
CAMERA WORK ..... Satisfactory
STAR ..... Seen to average advantage in role of crook SUPPORT ..... Lloyd Hughes really has star part in role opposite Miss Bennett.
EXTERIORS ..... Realistic
INTERIORS ..... Good
DETAIL ..... All right
CHARACTER OF STORY ..... Reformed crook persuades sweetheart to join him through a trick.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION ..... About 5,849 feet

While "The False Road" again demonstrates C. Gardner Sullivan's unusual ability in the building of a scenario, it reveals various plot shortcomings that serve to bring it down to the merely average level. After a very promising beginning, the picture starts petering out owing to a lack of plot complications and incident. The battle of wits between hero and heroine might well have been highly sustaining had there been some sort of action to back it up. As it is the verbal volleys in which they indulge by means of subtitles are rather lacking in force.

The picture opens by introducing Betty Palmer, member of a gang of crooks. She goes to meet Roger Moran, her erstwhile sweetheart, just out of prison. When he tells her and the others that he is going straight, they give him the cold shoulder. On a New England farm Roger becomes the dutiful hired man of the Starbucks, the "kindest folks" in town. Incidentally Starbuck is president of the bank.

Later Betty and "Frisco" Minnie come to the village to rob the bank, which they ultimately succeed in doing. And then later again Roger goes back to the crooks, saying that he has given up trying to go sraight. At this move of his Betty is disappointed and realizing her feelings, Roger plays on them the more until she finally comes out and denounces him as a quitter. Then Roger reveals that he was only playing a game to win her over to the straight road. In the climax sequence she robs "Sapphire" Mike Wilson, the head of the crooks, of the bank money and together she and Roger take it back to the Starbucks.

They have run a little wild on depicting the activies of the crooks. They are introduced as living in a "Third Avenue" hotel, but it's a pretty decent looking place at that, and the way the crooks roam all around it would indicate that they own the place from roof to cellar.

The sequence in which Betty plies Wilson with drink and drug that she may be free to open his safe, is more or less minimized as to sustaining force because of the actionless character of the footage that has preceded it.

Enid Bennett plays quite convincingly as Betty Palmer. Lloyd Hughes really has the stellar role as Roger Moran and his handling of the part is capable. Others are Wade Boteler, Lucille Young, Charles Smily, Edithe Yorke and Gorden Mullen.

Not Much to Be Said Either For Or Against This One

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Here is one of those average productions. The fact that the action dwindles to almost nothing after a very promising introductory sequence, lessens the effect of all the fine continuity building for which the author deserves great credit.

The picture can be played with confidence that it will give just average satisfaction. As Lloyd Hughes has such a prominent role in the picture it might be well to incorporate the line "With Lloyd Hughes" in all your advertising. This might recall his performance in "Dangerous Hours" to those who saw it and will also establish this actor with your audiences. As he is to be starred later this will help.

Can the daughter of "common" parents marry the blue-blooded millionaire and both be happy?

Can the one step up without the other stepping down? Or is similarity of soul the only thing that counts?

Jesse D. Hampton
presents

BLANCHE SWEET
IN
SIMPLE SOULS

adapted from John Hastings Turner's famous novel
Directed by Robert Thornby

Judged from every standpoint of acting, direction, story, production and human appeal, "Simple Souls" stands among the real achievements of the screen.

Judge it for yourself,—see it at the nearest Pathé Exchange!

Pathé
Distributors

Pathé
Distributors

Very Episodic and Poorly Subtitled Production

Mary Miles Minter in
"JENNY BE GOOD"
Realart

DIRECTOR .....William Desmond Taylor
AUTHOR .....Wilbur Finley Fauley
SCENARIO BY.....Julia Crawford Ivers
CAMERAMAN.....James C. Van Trees
AS A WHOLE.....Terribly episodic production with poorly chosen subtitles; could have ended four or five times before it does.
STORY.....Made from very ancient material and lacks continuity.
DIRECTION.....Could have omitted many of the episodes to better effect.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Excellent
LIGHTINGS .....Some beautiful effects
CAMERA WORK .....Excellent
STAR.....Fares averagely with conventional ingenue role.
SUPPORT ..... Average
EXTERIORS.....Very pretty rural shots
INTERIORS ..... Lavish
DETAIL ..... Usual
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Little country girl betrayed by socially ambitious rich couple after their son has married her in secret.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,980 feet

In the first place very ancient story material has gone into "Jenny Be Good." In the second place this material hasn't been expertly developed. In fact, this picture is one of the most episodic that has appeared in considerable time. The fact that the story could have been ended at many places before it finally does reach its conclusion becomes more and more evident as each foot of the last two thousand clicks through the machine. But episode after episode is piled on and the resulting discomfort to the average spectator grows in proportion.

They open up with Grandma Nancy Beedle discovering her daughter, who had eloped a year before with a musician, dead on her door-step. In her arms is a baby. Thus is Jenny introduced. Grown to girlhood she develops into one of those ingenues that dreams of fairy princes with golden boots. Up in a little house in the trees she plays her violin and makes friends with all the birdies.

Then along comes Royal Renshaw, the son of rich social climbers. It's love at first sight. They are secretly married. Then Royal's parents send him away by force on a yachting trip. Later they annul the marriage. Royal returns and is unable to find Jenny, as her grandmother has died and she has gone to the great city. So he marries Jolanda Van Mater, the dope-fiend daughter of a family with a name and no money.

Jolanda hits the dope hard and Royal finally decides on placing her in a sanitarium. He puts her in his automobile, she discovers where they are going, there is a struggle, and the automobile goes over a precipice, eliminating Jolanda from the earth and the plot. Royal lies at the point of death, calling for Jenny. And Jenny comes even though she leaves the Metropolitan audience waiting her debut as a violinist. Jenny had previously tried sewing in a factory, but a strike had thrown her out of work, so she went into vaudeville and then was taken up by society. In the end of course Jenny and Royal marry and in the last scene the baby is brought in.

The subtitles in this are in many cases very poorly worded and more than once stand out like sore thumbs. There is some very pretty lighting and photographic work and a number of pretty landscapes are shown. Mary Miles Minter is a pretty Jenny and has an average cast supporting her, which includes Jay Belasco, Margaret Shelby, Frederick Stanton, Edwin Brown, Lillian Rambeau, Catherine Wallace, Maggie Halloway Fisher and Grace Pike.

They Could Improve This Even Now If They Used the Shears

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

While this story is very episodic and too sensational at times it could have been made a much better picture had they eliminated various of the superfluous episodes in the production and rewritten the subtitles. These improvements can still be made if the producers see fit, and they certainly should. The picture wouldn't be a world beater at that, but it would be more compact, more sustaining than it is now in its long drawn out episodic state.

This type of story has a large following and probably Mary Miles Minter's popularity will serve to draw good crowds to this, but even her most ardent admirers are likely to notice the faults in story construction. Then, too, it is a mystery why they dragged the dope-fiend, Jolanda, into a story of this type. It gives an opportunity to bring in the automobile wreck thrill, but otherwise her presence is rather disagreeable.

Unusual Picture In Many Respects But Could Be Improved

Marjorie Rambeau in
"THE FORTUNE TELLER"
Robertson-Cole Special

DIRECTOR .....Albert Capellani
AUTHOR .....Leighton Osmun
SCENARIO BY.....George D. Proctor
CAMERAMAN .....Jacques Monteran
AS A WHOLE.....Production contains big woman appeal but latter reels should be edited.
STORY.....Unusual and generally well constructed
DIRECTION.....Is a bit stagey at times and some players are allowed to overact.
PHOTOGRAPHY ..... Very good
LIGHTINGS ..... Satisfactory
CAMERA WORK .....Good
STAR.....Plays splendidly in role that permits varying opportunities and commands sympathy.
SUPPORT.....Fernandez overacts as villain; McKee too young looking for juvenile role.
ETERIORS ..... Satisfactory
INTERIORS.....Varying and appropriate
DETAIL ..... Convincing
CHARACTER OF STORY.....Mother, disgraced by jealous husband, proves that she is needed to inspire son to success.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 7,500 feet

Here is a picture which might have been made some few years since. This because many of the characters in the story suffer from rather obvious cases of overacting and because, on the more important hand, the latter part of it appears to have been slighted by the film editor. If certain portions of the too voluminous incident which appears in these latter scenes were eliminated the picture would gain a different classification. At present there is too much minor detail to result in a smooth running story.

Which is not to say that "The Fortune Teller" is a poor picture. Not by any manner of means. There is much about its rather unusual story that appeals and there is a splendid and varied characterization rendered by Marjorie Rambeau, who plays the title role which she created on the stage. In fact, the story contains a very strong woman appeal in its basic theme that mother love will prove the making of youth over and above cold and calculated guidance offered by a scientific father.

This idea is launched forth in a drama that begins twenty years ago and shows Renee Browning being turned from her home and deprived of her baby boy by an insanely jealous husband. An adaptability at fortune telling leads her to the circus where, however, she sinks to drunken degradation. A meeting with her son, unknown to him, proves her salvation, and then through her sympathy and encouragement the boy makes good in the world of business. And in addition to this there is plenty of melodrama supplied by the villain, one of the causes of Renee's fall from grace in the first place.

Miss Rambeau's performance, through all the different phases of Renee's life, is marked by a deep emotional ability that completely captivates the spectator. Women specially will be impressed by her performance because of the deep appeal that her suffering causes. Her big scenes have been very well contrived by George Proctor, who prepared the continuity, and well staged in the main save for the fact that Capellani hasn't shut the safety valve on the acting of the supporting cast. The picture is varied in setting and a note of realism always permeates the background.

In her support Miss Rambeau has Frederick Burton as her husband, E. Fernandez, who overplays the villain, Raymond McKee, a bit too young to be an alderman, Cyprian Giles, T. M. Koupal, Franklin Hanna and Virginia Lee.

Lends Itself Well To Distinctive Exploitation

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

A number of good exploitation opportunities suggest themselves in connection with this picture. The fact that it deals with a fortune teller who employs cards in her work brings to mind a simple and effective type of lobby display which the exhibitor can arrange to suit himself. A mystic act such as was used at the Broadway in New York might also be employed for atmosphere in the larger theaters, while where such talent is unavailable a local card entertainer might be pressed into service.

The picture as it stands now contains a strong appeal particularly to women. If the latter reels were carefully edited the strength of the story might be materially increased.

Miss Rambeau's name should be used extensively. She is one of the better known actresses of the day and has been constantly before the public for the last few years. The fact that she starred in "The Fortune Teller" on the stage is another advertising point.

Probably A Good Audience Picture But Story Is Long Drawn Out

Anita Stewart in
"THE YELLOW TYPHOON"
Louis B. Mayer-First National

DIRECTOR .....Edward Jose
AUTHOR .....Harold MacGrath
SCENARIO BY.....Monte M. Katterjohn
CAMERMAN .....Rene Guissart
AS A WHOLE...Fair entertainment; rather familiar situations and vaguely plausible bits a drawback.
STORY...Title misleading and complication of ideas often confuse, rather than convince.
DIRECTION....Provides lavish settings and has handled production in big way; there are slip-ups, nevertheless.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Good
LIGHTINGS .....Clear
CAMERA WORK .....Very good
STAR.....Plenty of opportunity in dual role
SUPPORT....Donald MacDonald as the first victim of the typhoon; suitable cast.
EXTERIORS .....Not many used
INTERIORS.....Adequate; some lavish sets
DETAIL....Some unsatisfactory gaps in continuity
CHARACTER OF STORY.....A contrast in the different natures of twin sisters.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....6,347 feet

When it came to making a picture based on Harold MacGrath's novel, the producers certainly didn't find themselves short on material for their adaptation. In fact, they have tried to use too much of it, thereby straining the imagination to absurd proportions, and in order to cover all the ground, there are gaps in the thread of the story that gradually fill up as the action proceeds, but for the time being, prove confusing.

Throughout, there are bits that could have been made clearer. For instance, there is one place where the Typhoon and an admirer settle their future plans by means of the roulette table. It is not clear enough to be convincing.

Miss Stewart, in the dual role of Hilda and Berta Nordstrom, has succeeded in portraying the two distinct characters in a splendid way, but she has entirely too much of the responsibility of putting over the picture. Director Jose has endeavored to put in the production everything that appeals to a lover of thrills, and as such, "The Yellow Typhoon" will undoubtedly merit the production that it has received. There are some lavish sets depicting the gambling house operated by the notorious woman in the Orient.

Berta Nordstrom elopes with a wealthy young naval engineer named Hallowell. Shortly after, her mother is killed by the shock of the news that Berta has committed suicide. Hilda, a twin sister, enters the Secret Service in Washington. It was really Berta's maid, wearing Berta's clothing, who had committed suicide, so Berta continues to be very much alive in Paris, whither she has gone the more quickly to dispose of her husband's wealth.

When she has spent all he has, she leaves him and the following scenes show her as proprietress of a notorious gambling house in the Orient. She tires of this and leaves for Manila, with Karl Lysgaard, an admirer whom she evidently marries. In Manila, she encounters Hallowell, who is working on important Government plans concerning a submarine invention. Lysgaard is after the plans and urges Berta to feign a reconciliation with her former husband in order to secure the papers.

Berta is later trapped by her sister, Hilda, in the interest of the Secret Service, but Berta kills Hallowell and she and Lysgaard escape to New York, where they make an effort to again secure the papers, now in the hands of Hallowell's pal, John Mathison. But Hilda is on the job again, but before they can be caught, Lysgaard kills Berta and shoots himself. Hilda and Mathison turn to each other.

If Your Folks Like This Sort of Stuff You'll Have Little Trouble

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

As an averagely entertaining picture, "The Yellow Typhoon" will most likely get by with the majority because of its various points of appeal. The type of woman as shown in Berta—a woman of the world—still interests a goodly number, and the plot to get the Government plans still serves to furnish excitement for those who like this sort of stuff. Again, there are those who will like the work of Miss Stewart as the blond Berta and the dark-haired Hilda.

So they won't be mislead, say that "The Yellow Typhoon" is the name given to a notorious woman. Use the name of the author and say it is a "Saturday Evening Post" story. If you want a catchline try: "They were twins, Berta and Hilda. One was an adventuress, the other a shrewd business woman in the Secret Service employ. See how their paths crossed in 'The Yellow Typhoon.'"

Unusually Delightful Picture; High Class And Distinctive

Blanche Sweet in

"SIMPLE SOULS"

Hampton-Pathe

DIRECTOR .....Robert Thornby
AUTHOR .....John Hastings Turner
SCENARIO BY.....Fred Myton
CAMERAMAN .....Charles Kauffman
AS A WHOLE....Very distinctive and high class production of unusual romantic novel.
STORY....Something out of the ordinary with strong heart interest and good comedy touches.
DIRECTION .....Delightful
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Commendable
CAMERA WORK.....Very good
STAR....Fine; makes a real, human character of Molly Shine.
SUPPORT....Charles Meredith gives very good performance in opposite role.
EXTERIORS .....Satisfactory
INTERIORS .....Varying and appropriate
DETAIL.....Enriches story interest considerably
CHARACTER OF STORY....Romance of a Duke and a shop-girl.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 5,264 feet

Jesse D. Hampton surely selected a fine book to picturize in John Hasting Turner's "Simple Souls." A more unusual and delightful romance was never bound between covers. With Blanche Sweet in the role of Molly Shine in this visualization of the novel, and with the most appropriate and sympathetic treatment accorded the story, a production of the utmost class and distinction is the result. In fact, "Simple Souls," the picture is worthy of being shown in houses of the highest class, while its big, simple appeal will bring to it the delighted approval of all audiences, high and low.

The picture has a wealth of love interest, and of heart interest and comedy. The opening scenes show the meeting of Molly Shine, a London shop girl, and the Duke of Wynninghame, too much of an idealist to be a success in society or his chosen pastime, science. He is an absent-minded fellow, always forgetting his top hat and walking out in the open, bare-headed.

The upshot of the meeting is that the Duke sends Molly two pounds a week to buy books and then promptly forgets about her. But Molly's family discovers the weekly remittance and immediately suspects the worst. The result is that the Duke finds himself forced into a marriage with a girl who merely attracted his passing fancy.

Here the real romance begins. Molly really loves her husband, but he is so absorbed in other things that he scarcely notices her. To make matters worse, there is the Duke's sister, Octavia, who is sure she is going to break the "terrible" marriage. How Molly stands on her rights and finally wins the love of the man who gave her his name, makes most delightful entertainment, as pictured here.

Blanche Sweet makes of Molly a very real and unusual girl. She is something different from the typical picture heroine, and Miss Sweet decorates the part with distinctive touches and a refreshing personality. Charles Meredith, as the Duke, adds another splendid performance to his short but prominent list of screen work. Kate Lester, Herbert Standing, Mayme Kelso and Herbert Grimwood are seen in other important roles which they carry very well.

Too much can not be said in praise of the sympathetic treatment accorded the story by Fred Myton, who adapted it, and by Robert Thornby, who directed.

Various Elements Unite To Make This A Real Winner

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

There is nothing of the spectacular or the deeply moving about this picture to earn it the stamp of "greatness." But there is an unusual quality, a pronounced individuality about it that raises it high above the average run of features now on the market. Its romance, its comedy and its contrast of character, and above all, the careful treatment evinced in all production departments, prove the determining factors in elevating it to the top notch it enjoys.

In advertising it, play up Blanche Sweet. Here is a star that is giving a practical demonstration that one can come back and be bigger than before. Also give the title a good play, and the author's name, as the book had a very good sale. And once you get the crowds in, "Simple Souls" is the sort of picture that will do its own advertising. After the first day of its run you won't have to worry about the box-office.

PRISCILLA DEAN

How's this for 3rd Run?

"THE VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL" broke all records at the Standard Theatre, Cleveland, Ohio, today. Although this picture played Loew's Stillman and Loew's Mall in this city for one week each I had to stop selling tickets three times and at nine-thirty there was a line of people over a city block long waiting to get in. Was compelled to run till mid-night. "THE VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL" is the greatest of great features."

THOMAS G. CARROLL, Manager
STANDARD THEATRE,
CLEVELAND, O.

Carl Laemmle presents

"The VIRGIN OF STAMBOUL"

UNIVERSAL-JEWEL
$500,000
Production de Luxe
Directed by Ted Browning
Story by H.H.Van Loan

A Benjamin B. Hampton Production

RIDERS of the DAWN

A Photoplay of the Novel

"The Desert of Wheat"

By ZANE GREY

Directed by HUGH RYAN CONWAY

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION

527 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Distributing through PATHE Exchange Incorporated

ETCHELLS

"RIDERS OF THE DAWN"

A PRONOUNCED BOX-OFFICE FAVORITE

All the money-making screen values are to be found in this picture in rare abundance.

A REAL STORY OF PUNCH AND PEP written by Zane Grey, America's greatest living novelist.

A CAST OF EVEN EXCELLENCE, not one star and the other actors of doubtful value, but a constellation of stars working together harmoniously to visualize the story and not to glorify themselves: Roy Stewart, Joseph J. Dowling, Claire Adams, Robert McKim, Frederick Starr.

THE THEME IS THE TALK OF THE HOUR AND THE TALK OF THE WORLD.

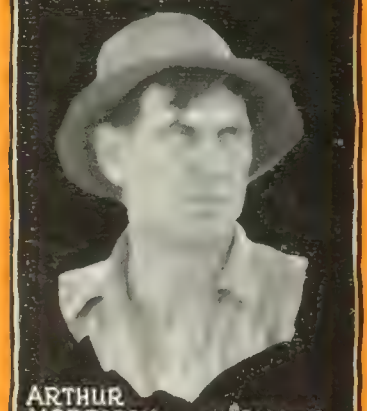
IT'S A BENJAMIN B. HAMPTON PRODUCTION, greater than his "Desert Gold," "The Sagebrusher," and "The Westerners."

CLEAN, WHOLESOME, THRILLING, SENSATIONAL, A COMPELLING COMBINATION. Nothing draws the crowds like a celebrated novel translated into the language of the screen. It is sure fire every time.

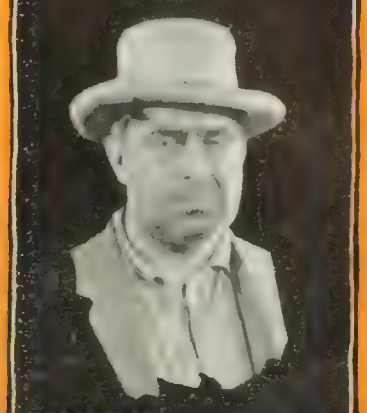
ROY STEWART as "Kurt Dorn"

JOSEPH J. DOWLING as "Mr. Anderson"

MARIE MESSENGER as "Kathleen"



ARTHUR MORRISON as "Olsen"



FREDERICK STARR as "Nash"

"RIDERS of the DAWN"

at the STRAND in NEW YORK

HAS had a wonderful "press," as they say on the other side. Comments of the New York papers were unanimously favorable. This is the first time in many months that the New York papers were a unit in their praise of a picture. Neither the "World" nor the "American" offered any comment whatever on either the "Riders of the Dawn" or the program at the Strand. The other papers commented as follows:

TELEGRAPH

"An exciting and vivid story."

TRIBUNE

"The picture is a good melo-drama well acted."

SUN-HERALD

"This photo play deals with the North West grain region, vividly and thrillingly, without overstating its case."

TIMES

"The story might be called 'Action, Unlimited.'"

These comments were given by experienced writers and in no way influenced by advertising. They were fully indorsed by the

PUBLIC VERDICT

Before eight o'clock the colored person in the Strand uniform started his cry, "Standing Room Only," and kept it up well along toward 10 o'clock.

Money-making pictures are few and far between.

DO NOT HESITATE WHEN THE BAND WAGON STOPS IN FRONT OF YOUR DOOR

W.W. HODKINSON CORPORATION

527 Fifth Avenue, New York City

Distributing through PATHÉ Exchange, Incorporated

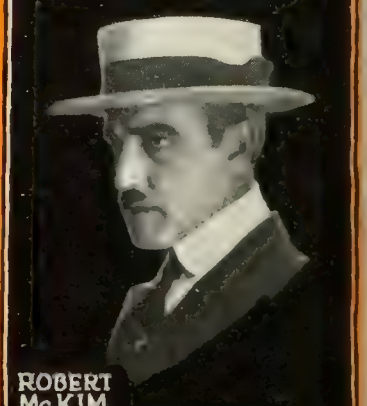
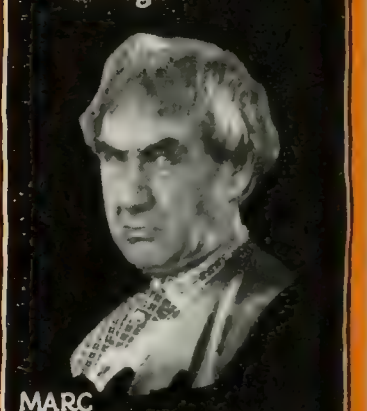
Foreign Distributor, J. Frank Brockliss, Inc. 729-7th Ave.

CLAIRE ADAMS as "Lenore Anderson"



ROBERT McKIM as "Henry Neuman"

VIOLET SCHRAM as "Olga"



MARC ROBBINS as "Chris Dorn"

FRANK BROWNLEE as "Glidden"

Atmosphere Of Story Overwhelms Work Of The Star

Sessue Hayakawa in
"THE DEVIL'S CLAIM"
Haworth Production-Robertson-Cole

DIRECTOR .....Charles Swickard
AUTHOR .....J. Grubb Alexander
SCENARIO BY.....J. Grubb Alexander
CAMERAMAN .....Frank D. Williams
AS A WHOLE....Maintains interest fairly well; theme isn't one with universal appeal.
STORY....Story within a story; confusing at times
DIRECTION....Overdoes the atmosphere stuff, but it serves to get the story over in good style.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Fair
LIGHTINGS.....Not up to Haworth standard
CAMERA WORK .....Satisfactory
STAR....In opening reels disappoints, but works up much better toward close.
SUPPORT....Coleen Moore and Rhea Mitchell well cast; others good.
EXTERIORS .....Mostly night scenes
INTERIORS .....Lavish sets
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY....Hindu author who uses experiences of others for his story material.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....5,100 feet

For those with atmospheric tendencies, admirers of Hindu relics and queer smelling incense, this picture will have unlimited appeal for it's just packed full of such atmosphere, running all the way from New York's Greenwich Village to India. As a whole, the production has been carefully made and the element of mystery maintained will hold the interest fairly well.

The material is comprised of a story within a story. J. Grubb Alexander has his hero an author in search of material for a novel, and as he is inspired the plot is revealed with author and his friends playing the various parts. Alexander has provided the star with a sort of Jekyll and Hyde character in the inner story, which Hayakawa handles very capably. The opening reels, which are supposed to represent New York's Latin Quarter, give a rather far-fetched idea of Greenwich Village.

Akbar Khan casts aside his little Hindu sweetheart and selects a young society girl as his next victim. But the girl is aware of the author's trickery in securing victims upon which he bases the material of his novels. So Virginia Crosby leads Akbar on, and from their talks, he is inspired to write "The Devil's Trade Mark." The various installments of the novel are unfolded with the author in the principal role, while the Hindu maid and Virginia play important parts.

The plot has to do with a superstitious lot of Hindus called Devil Worshippers. The adventurous hero, called Hassan in the Novel, comes upon their temple in his wanderings and when his guide, who is really one of the worshippers, attacks him, Hassan kills him. The story goes that forever after, Hassan will, at regular intervals, be imbibed with the spirit of the dead worshipper, and during these periods he is lead to kill. Various complications follow, but in the last installment, the author sees himself in the character as Hassan, and through the inspiration of Virginia, the character of Hassan marries the Hindu maid while as the author, he married her in reality.

Wid's Daily Binders - $3.00

Invaluable for reference purposes.

Appeal To Those Who Like This Sort Of Story

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

Sessue Hayakawa in
"THE DEVIL'S CLAIM"
Haworth Production-Robertson-Cole

"The Devil's Claim" will appeal to individuals rather than the public in general. There is some very good atmosphere stuff in it for those who like it. At times, it is just a bit confusing to keep track of the two stories, to know just which is "The Devil's Claim" and which "The Devil's Trade Mark," the latter being the title of the story within the story. For the most part, however, the director has succeeded fairly well in maintaining coherence in his rather complicated material.

Base your biggest appeal on the name of the star, for his admirers will most likely like this one even though the star's work is practically made secondary to the story. He has had much better vehicles than this. For those who "eat up" Oriental stuff, say: "See how the Hindu author of Greenwich Village picked the victims which furnished the inspiration for his work." Or, "Have you ever wondered how author's get the ideas for their stories. See how it's done in 'The Devil's Claim.'"

HERE WE ARE—

STATE RIGHT BUYERS GET BUSY

FRANK BORZAGE

Director of "HUMORESQUE"

"The Pictorial Triumph of the Year"

Has another one

MRS. SESSUE

HAYAKAWA

in

"ASHES OF DESIRE"

The Mighty Drama of World-Wide Heart Appeal

TERRITORY GOING FAST
WIRE FOR YOURS TO-DAY

WILK & WILK
825 LONGACRE BUILDING, NEW YORK

Some Short Reels

"An Eastern Westerner"—Pathe

Winding his current series for Pathe, Harold Lloyd appears in still another setting. This time he rides westward where he again gets into an uncomfortable mess, and once more draws many laughs with his nonchalant manner. Frank Terry has furnished a story which in construction is similar to many others that the bespectacled comedian has used. As usual, a big chase comes at the climax, but it is a funny chase—one that abounds in little tricks and bits of business that amuse. There are numerous laughs—touches that provoke mirth, and although this is not the best of the series, it is up to the average maintained. Opening with a cabaret scene, in which Lloyd insists upon shaking the shimmie, the action shifts to the west. Here a wicked saloon-keeper and leader of a masked band determines to remove Lloyd for interfering with his plans. The chase finds the star eluding his pursuers in various ways and eventually he manages to give them the slip and get the girl. His flirtation with an escorted woman, mistaking the touch of a trombone for a forward move upon her part, is a laughable bit. The scene at the poker game has some novel stuff in it and the chase keeps the grins coming. Generally, a safe bet.

"Treat 'Em Kind"—National-Goldwyn

Laughs are included in plentiful numbers in this two-reeler which stars Neal Burns. Humorous bits have been distributed judiciously over the comedy which, with careful cutting, would be certain of success almost anywhere. Its main fault is that they have dragged it out beyond its natural conclusion, with the result that the closing footage is rather tiresome. At the start, the church scene is quite funny, with the antics of a pair of youngsers provoking mirth. They have satirized several of the characters, but have avoided overdrawing them, with the result that that scene registers effectively. Burns, who has the role of the upright young man, upon observing that the girl he loves cares more for various sinners, whose evil habits she takes it upon herself to correct, than for him, effects a "souse" and the theme is woven about the manner in which he finally wins her hand. The added material could be dropped to advantage.

"Bray Pictograph," No. 435—Goldwyn

Phrases of an ambiguous nature, in most cases bordering upon the vernacular, are picturized in the opening portion of this Bray reel. After that comes a portion showing the electrical mechanism, worked by waves, invented by a Californian. Shown with unusual clearness, that part holds interest. Antigua, a town in the British West Indies, in which most of the work is done by children, is seen in the section which follows, and "Spring Fever," a Jerry on the Job cartoon, winds up. The latter ranks with the better cartoons of this series and concludes the offering nicely.

"The Third Eye"—Astra-Pathe

Practically all of the features essential to the success of a serial are to be found in Pathe's newest drawn-out drama. H. H. Van Loan has provided a story in which numerous complications appear, a tale that is replete with ingenious situations, has an element of mystery that serves its purpose and keeps the spectator in suspense. Technically, the production reaches the desired standard. The photography and lightings are satisfactory and the settings expertly staged. What makes it especially interesting at the start is the fact that a considerable part of the initial episode takes place in a picture studio. The average serial follower is a fan of the type who usually takes a great deal of interest in everything connected with films in any way. Placing the action in the place where the photoplay is manufactured adds a touch that will make a favorable impression.

Eileen Percy and Warner Oland are featured in the offering, the latter as usual assaying a heavy role. The former in the character of a screen star holds her end of it up excellently and Oland certainly knows how to turn the sympathy of the audience the other way. Jack Mower plays well opposite the heroine, while Olga Grey is one of Oland's band—the woman who would wed the villain if he would but agree. She delineates the type in the usual manner—smokes her cigarette with a sneaking glance to one side, tosses her head about in a manner that suggests cunning and concocts evil plots. James W. Horne, who directed, has turned the material into a serial that should score a success, and William Parker is credited with writing the scenario.

Just who or what "The Third Eye" is is not very apparent and will elicit many guesses. So will the ending of the first episode. The leap from the roof closing the second section is not a new idea, strictly speaking, but has been shot in fine fashion. Getting the hero before the onrushing locomotive is also an old stunt—one that they are all familiar with. It has been given a twist that is somewhat novel, however, so that it can get by although not with much to spare. In view of the quality of the rest of the film, they should not hold that against it. With judicious exploitation, this can be put over so as to prove a winner. It may not be a hit, but with the first three episodes used as a criterion, no reason why it should not go well is apparent. Certainly it looks like the goods.

"A Simp and Satan"—Reelcraft

Story material of quality, commendable direction and a generally satisfactory production make this two reel comedy, starring Milburn Moranti, worth while. Hades, the home of Satan, is the scene of what is in the nature of a prologue, effectively staged. After that the footage is devoted to the evil one's picturization of the future existence of a couple about to be married. The two about to undergo the matrimonial process are summoned to the regions below and after listening to Satan's tale, in which the wife is pictured as an atrocious vampire, the groom decides to "take a chance anyhow!" What comes directly before lags a trifle perhaps, but the gag coming at the climax is a sure-fire laugh—one that will get a guffaw from almost any audience. Grover Jones is responsible for the story and direction.

"The Instalment Plan"—Reelcraft

Using the instalment plan is a subject from which to draw laughs, Grover Jones, who wrote and directed this two-reeler, has furnished another mirth-provoker. Milburn Moranti occupies the stellar role, which he holds down in fair fashion. An advocate of the scheme of making purchases on the dollar down and dollar when you get me plan, Moranti upon being married proceeds to live right merrily until the army of collectors grows to abnormal proportions. For a time he is able to avert the inevitable, but eventually the crash comes. The result is that his apartment is left entirely bare and only the baby remains his. Some of he material used may not be strictly new, but most of it is excellent and handled so as to keep the grins coming at a rapid rate. Miles J. Burns manipulated the camera and his end was well taken care of.

Good Picture Made From Well Handled Dual Role Story

Elaine Hammerstein in
"THE SHADOW OF ROSALIE BYRNES"
Selznick-Select

DIRECTOR .....George Archainbaud
AUTHOR .....Grace Sartwell Mason
SCENARIO BY.....R. Cecil Smith
CAMERAMEN .....Lucien Tanguay and Jules Cronjager.
AS A WHOLE....Generally entertaining dual role picture with well sustained climax sequence.
STORY....Very simply contrived with small number of complications, but holds interest well.
DIRECTION....Climax sequence is suspenseful because of the writing, not the directing—direction shows small attention to light and shade.
PHOTOGRAPHY .....Very good
LIGHTINGS .....Excellent
CAMERA WORK.....Fine double exposure work
STAR.....Plays acceptably in dual role
SUPPORT .....Commendable
EXTERIORS .....Satisfactory
INTERIORS .....Appropriate
DETAIL .....All right
CHARACTER OF STORY....Mistaken identity theme handled in dramatic way.
LENGTH OF PRODUCTION.....About 4,429 feet

"The Shadow of Rosalie Byrnes," utilizing the dual role theme and the "mistaken identity" opportunities that it affords, offers generally satisfactory entertainment in its picturized form. The interest builds with a certain degree of accumulative power from the outset and rises to its height in a particularly well contrived climax sequence, in which the melodramatic effect of the situation is increased by some clever lighting and detail work.

The story is the picture's strongest point despite its simplicity and small number of complications. The direction accorded it is not of the best. While no flagrant faults are to be found in this department, it will be noted that the director showed little knowledge of light and shade, of highlights and low in his handling of the majority of the scenes. Action in monotone, the stamp of a degree of inefficiency in direction, is subconsciously felt. It is this handicap that the story manages to overcome with the result that the picture, on the whole, provides good entertainment.

Elaine Hammerstein appears as twin sisters, Rosalie Byrnes, a concert singer, and "The Flame," a notorious character in city night life. At a Y. M. C. A. hut Rosalie meets Gerald Cromwell, a lieutenant, about to sail for France. In the short time they are together, a great love grows and the day Gerald sails they are married. In France, he sends a picture of Rosalie to his sister and her fiance, Stone.

In the meantime, "The Flame" has become involved in an ugly scandal. In need of money, she goes to Rosalie's apartment, but finds her out. While there, she is approached by Stone, who offers her a large sum to give Gerald up. Sensing the cause of the proposition, she consents. Stone writes to Gerald, enclosing "The Flame's" confession that she does not love him. As Rosalie's name has been forged to it, he loses faith in her. Of course, when he returns, the happy ending is brought about. The strongest part of the picture is the sequence in which Rosalie goes to remove her sister's gloves from the room wherein she believes she has committed murder. Here the scenes are deftly handled and there is some very effective lighting that adds considerably to the suspense.

Miss Hammerstein fares very well in the dual role and receives commendable support from Edwin Langford as Gerald, and from Alfred Hickman, as Stone.

Should Go Well Specially If They Like This Star

Box Office Analysis for the Exhibitor

If your audiences have taken kindly to the previous Selznick pictures in which Elaine Hammerstein has starred, there's no doubt about their accepting this one for it appears to be quite the best she has done, under her present management. The story is told simply and directly and the mistaken identity situation is handled so that a good bit of interest and suspense results.

Catch lines could be used on the order of the following: "The story of twin sisters—good and bad—a great love—a happy marriage—then the blackest lie, a forged signature and their happiness tottered——," "Elaine Hammerstein in a dual role picture quite different from anything heretofore seen."

George Kleine, President John Larsen, Vice-President L. C. Wheeler, Treasurer B. C. Hardcastle, Secretary

KOSMIK FILMS INCORPORATED

NEW YORK
110 WEST 40th STREET

CHICAGO
63 EAST ADAMS STREET

Los Angeles, Calif.
May 10 - 1920

Dear Exhibitors and Everybody:

Eight weeks, a few thousand dollars, a heap of tin-horn stocks sets, redressed, a "Masked Mystery" a female lead — and the average "Serial" is wished on you!

I've already spent sixty thousand smacks and three months on the first six episodes of my serial, "The Hope Diamond Mystery."

Say! My sets alone will cost one hundred thousand dollars; my company is headed by Grace Darmond and George Chesebro and Stuart Paton is directing; May Gohe, formerly Lady Francis Hope, wrote the plot and acts in it ——— Believe me, I am tickled to death — I've got an honest-to-goodness serial-chock-full of power and pull — coming along the home stretch!

I will be East with the reel goods as soon as I get good and ready.

So long

Jack Wheeler

AUTHOR: Gertrude Atherton, whose "Tower of Ivory" has an international reputation as a novel of tremendous emotional power.

CAST: An all-star array, including Barbara Castleton, John Bowers, Sidney Ainsworth, Doris Pawn, Lawson Butt and others.

STORY: Margaret Hill, a singer in a Barbary Coast dive, rises through superhuman pluck to the star role in Europe's leading opera company.

The picture tells the story of her amazing career, and unfolds one of the most exquisite love quests ever screened.

Samuel Goldwyn
and Rex Beach
present

OUT OF THE STORM

Adapted from the Famous Novel
THE TOWER OF IVORY
by
GERTRUDE ATHERTON

Directed by William Parke

he BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

L. XII No. 47 Monday, May 17, 1920 Price 5 Cents

rban Merges Units

ms $10,500,000 Corporation—Has New Projector and New Color Process

harles Urban, president of the eto Company of America, and ous other corporations which he rates, is head of a new company wn as the Urban Motion Picture ustries, formed in Albany on Sat- ay with a capitalization of $10,- 000.

he new company will provide for merging of all existing compa- and will also merge the present eto Co. of America, which pro- es at present two one-reel re- es, the Urban Movie Chats and Kineto Review. Of the latter ase about 40 have been issued, le it is planned to issue 1,000, the l to form the nucleus of a perma- t film library. The Movie Chats issued twice a week and are dled in New York and New Jer- by the Empire State Film Co., hur G. Whyte's new independent hange.

r. Urban stated on Saturday that ign distribution for his educa- al releases is arranged for, but ide of the arrangement with Em- State nothing has been done in

(Continued on Page 2)

Winik Buys 45th St. Building

yman Winik, connected with stern Import and W. H. Prod., purchased the office building at W. 45th St. for speculation. The perty rents for $130,000 yearly and held at $1,250,000.

Deitrich With International

enry Hobart, general manager of rnational Film, verified the re- published in WID'S DAILY Saturday that Theodore C. Deit- would become director of pub- y and advertising for the Hearst nization.

Big 6" Chartered

n Corporation in Delaware Capitalized at $1,000,000

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

over, Del.—Incorporation papers e filed here on Saturday for the ociated Producers by representa- s of the Corporation Trust Co. he capitalization of the new com- is $1,000,000.

he above company is, of course, new directors' combination fa- rly known as the "Big 6"— mas H. Ince, Maurice Tourneur, k Sennett, Allan Dwan, Marshal an and George Loane Tucker.

"All H—l can't stop me!" said the man who took the greatest sporting chance.—Mayflower Photoplay Corp'n presents an Allan Dwan production, "A Splendid Hazard," directed by Allan Dwan and released by First National.—Advt.

First National Officials Back

J. D. Williams, H. O. Schwalbe, Moe Mark and Nate H. Gordon returned to New York late Saturday afternoon from Dallas, where they got under way the campaign against the Hulsey-Lynch combination.

Robert Lieber, president of the Circuit, who was in Dallas, returned to Indianapolis and Sol Lesser continued to the coast.

Lytell Leaves for East

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Bert Lytell, Metro star, left for New York yesterday. He will make four productions in New York.

New Distributor Organizes

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Albany—The Masterpiece Film Distributing Corp. has been formed here with an active capital of from $1,000 to $151,000. The papers provide for 15,000 shares of preferred stock at $10 a share and 100 shares of common stock, no par value.

Franklin Deal Not Closed

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Albert Kaufman says regarding the report that he had signed Sidney Franklin to make a series of productions that the deal has not been closed as yet, although its consummation seems very likely.

Franklin is now at Palm Springs shooting final scenes for "Athalie."

Cahane Arrives

Harry Cahane arrived in New York from California on Saturday.

To Produce in Sweden

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Winifred Westover will leave for New York about June 12 en route to Sweden, where she will make a series of productions at the head of her own company.

New Film Club Member

The local Victor Kremer exchange has been admitted to the Film Club for this territory.

"Roxy" Back

Expected to Assume at Least Part Management of Capitol in Which Goldwyn Has Interest

S. L. Rothapfel, "Roxy," is back on Broadway. Although nothing official was mentioned regarding it on Saturday, it is expected that "Roxy" will have an active share in the management of the Capitol in which it is officially announced Goldwyn now has an interest.

"Roxy," who it is understood has been in general charge of the Goldwyn theater operations, has of late been whipping into shape the presentations at the various theaters which Goldwyn has acquired. A short time ago he went to Milwaukee to arrange for the opening of the Merrill theater there under Goldwyn auspices.

The announcement of Goldwyn's interest in the Capitol is officially made by Messmore Kendall, president of the theater company. By virtue of the deal Edward Bowes, managing director of the Capitol, becomes a director and an active executive in the affairs of Goldwyn, while the board of directors of the Capitol is increased so as to include F. J. Godsol, Samuel Goldwyn, Eugene du Pont, Lee Shubert, Moritz Hilder, WilliamTopkis, Henry Ittleson and P. W. Haberman. The Goldwyn board now includes T. Coleman du Pont, Col. William Braden, Messmore Kendall, Robert W. Chambers and Edward Bowes.

It will be recalled that a few months ago both Goldwyn and the Capitol vigorously denied that the former had bought into the Capitol.

Goldwyn Returns

Samuel Goldwyn returned from abroad yesterday with a glowing picture of the possibilities offered by the European field.

Mr. Goldwyn was particularly impressed by the interest displayed by English financiers in things celluloid. He said that 1,000 theaters are scheduled for construction in England in the next 18 months and pointed out the scope of the field in France when he said that all of France had 1,200 theaters and of these about 95 per cent seated 300 as an average.

He had nothing to say about the new distributing company which it is reported he formed for English distribution of the Goldwyn product.

Gabriel L. Hess returned with Mr. Goldwyn.

YOUR Good Printing
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise.—Advt.

BRADSTREET FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

. XII No. 47 Mon. May 17, 1920 Price 5 Cents

pyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, c. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., ew York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and LM FOLKS, INC.
C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-er; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President d Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and siness Manager.
tered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, the post office at New York, N. Y., under e act of March 3, 1879.
rms (Postage free) United States, Outside Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 nths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, 5.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
ldress all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
litorial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-wood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
amous Players ..	70	71	70
*do pfd.	81	83	83
oldwyn	22½	22½	22½
oew's, Inc	29	31	30⅜
riangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
nit. Pict. Prod...	1⅞	2	2
'orld Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Thursday's quotations.

New Exchange in Philadelphia

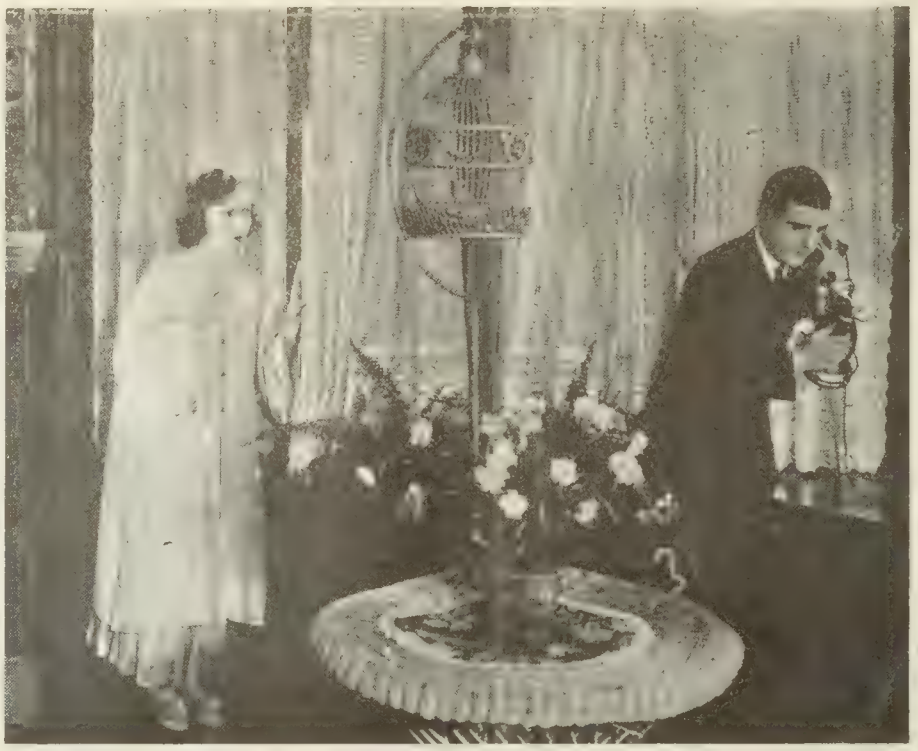
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—The De Luxe Film xchange has been established with ony Luchesse as manager. The ganization has five features on its ooks already, these being "Blind ove," "The Window Opposite," "In ie Days of Daring," "The Unhappy Vife" and "One Law for Both." he offices are at 1325 Vine St.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
TEN IS A GOLDWYN YEAR

Sir:
The Philadelphia Public Ledger says:
"'The Woman and the Puppet', Geraldine Farrar, repeats, emphasizes and amplifies her acting triumphs of 'Carmen' in its photoplay form and for sheer appeal to the eye, the production eclipses any in which she has appeared before."

Goldwyn



ANOTHER POPULAR CHRISTIE COMEDY

"Should a Husband Tell?" with Dorothy Devore and Jimmie Harrison, is one of the new popular Christie comedies which are registering in the best theatres everywhere.—Advt.

Houses Planned

Miles City, Mont.—W. G. Hyde to build.

Eunice, La.—New house to cost $100,000. 1,000.

Butler, Pa.—A. P. Gillespie. $150,000.

Mexico, Mo.—C. M. Clay, 1,500.

Freehold, N. J.—A. J. C. Stokes to build.

New York—Margaret Riley will erect a house in Greenwich Village. Barney Gallant will be manager.

Norwood, N. D.—Wm. Soebrands to build.

House Leased

Waco, Tex.—Jefferson Theater Co., connected with Pantages chain, leased Orpheum.

Baltimore, Md.—Jacob Comprecht, Jesse Benesch, and Reuben E. Ottenheimer bought Idle Hour from C. C. Waskey for $105,000.

Dover Houses Combine

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—Nixon's Opera House and the Temple have been combined and will be operated by the Dover Theater Co. George M. Schwartz, formerly associated with the Grand Opera House, will represent the Nixon-Nirdlinger interests and have charge of the bookings for the enterprise.

Still Talking About Posters

The Film Club has appointed a new committee to look into the unmounted poster situation. The committee consists of L. Rosenblueh, Harry H. Buxbaum, William Raynor, Connors and Lester Adler.

Selznick Purchases Screen Rights

Myron Selznick has purchased the scenarios or screen rights to stories of ten authors.

These are Frank L. Packard, Geo. Barr McCutcheon, Edith Ellis, Geo. V. Hobart, Pelham Grenville Wodehouse, Frances Marion, Lewis Allen Browne, William H. Hamby, Michael J. Phillips and Roy Horniman.

Selznick has also acquired 'Red Foam," the William H. Hamby story that appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, and "Love Among the Chickens," by Pelham Grenville Wodehouse.

Give Raynor Carriage

William E. Raynor, Pathe New York Exchange manager, has been presented with a carriage by the salesmen of the branch.

Buy "Ashes of Desire"

Circle Attractions has bought "Ashes of Desire" for Greater New York, Westchester County and Northern New Jersey.

Consolidating Offices

Denver—The local Republic branch is now sharing the Select quarters here at 1728 Welton Street.

Chicago—The Select office is sharing quarters with Republic at 207 So. Wabash Ave. in the city.

Fire Destroys Northwood House

Northwood, Ia.—G. W. Haight's film house was destroyed by a fire recently, and everything but the machines and film was destroyed. The blaze began in a neighboring confectionery store.

Urban Merges Uni

(Continued from Page 1)

the United States. If he canno secure adequate releasing arra ments, Urban will organize his exchanges.

The new corporation will lau new portable projector which U says weighs 11 pounds and a ne paratus which projects pictures a flat circular disc similar to a ing machine record. This is the spirograph.

Included in the merger of the ban interests are two comp known as the Duplex Proje Corp. and the Kinekrom Film

The first of these is manufact a new projector which is said t produce pictures in their natural ors by means of a change ma levers in the machine. This ratus incorporates two mechan in one machine head, while the in levers is said to control pr tion of both black and white pic and colored films as may be d through the one operation.

The Kinekrom Corp. is state have a library composed of 60 ft. of natural color pictures an cording to literature publishe recently, was ready to take ov distribution the machines man turedby the Duplex Corp.

These machines are to be a ble for general use by exhibo but are not to be sold outright, ly leased.

E. St. Elmo Lewis, formerly the National Cash Register C the Burroughs Adding Machine is general manager of the co dated corporation and also cha of the board of directors.

Singer Managing B. & B. Exch

Philadelphia—Joe Singer is the manager of the B. & B. Exc succeeding Ben Abrams. The pany releases Clara Kimball Y Alice Brady, Ethel Clayton and ert Warwick re-issues.

Comerford With Building Co

Philadelphia—M. E. Comerfo the Comerford Amusement one of the incorporators of th publican Realty Co.

The exhibitor does n have to study RITCHE posters. All he has to d is to study the crowd a ways in front of them.

RITCHEY
LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

On Broadway

on—Cecil De Mille's "Why ange Your Wife."
—Doris Keane—"Romance."
—Ethel Clayton—"A Lady in ve."
—Jack London's "The Sea olf."
—Alice Lake—"Shore Acres.'
vay—Rex Beach's "The Silver rde."
New York—Today—Alice ady—"Sinners."
day—George Walsh — "The ad Line."
nesday—Harry Morey—"The a Raider."
sday—Blanche Sweet—"Sim- Souls."
ay—Hope Hampton—"A Mod- Salome." Lyons and Moran "Everything But the Truth."
rday—Enid Bennett — "The lse Road."
lay—Bert Lytell—"Alias Jim- Valentine."
yn Strand—Anita Stewart— he Yellow Typhoon."

Next Week

on—Cecil De Mille's "Why ange Your Wife."
—Will Rogers—"Jes' Call Me n."
—Robert Warwick — "Thou t the Man."
—Mary Miles Minter—"Nurse arjorie."
—Emma Dunn—"Old Lady "
way—Not yet determined.

Again the Profiteer

Columbus, O.—Will D. Harris of the Grand, wanted to put over an exploitation stunt for "Down on the Farm" and tried to hire a wagon and team of horses when he discovered that the price asked did not conform to what he thought was the prevailing rate. He carried ads in several publications and received one answer.

An agriculturist offered the use of a pair of nags and vehicle for $25 per day and wanted to be paid for time lost in driving to and from his farm.

An eight hour day, he figured it to be—four hours to town and the same number back. For this service he only required the trifling sum of another $25.

Harris' thoughts cannot be put into print, but anyhow, he tried other means of exploitation.

Philadelphia—R. E. Goldsmith is now a member of the Republic sales force, specializing in short subjects.

Brooklyn Strand—Doris Keane—"Romance."

"Romance" at Two Theaters

The New York and Brooklyn Strand are showing Doris Keane in "Romance" day and date this week. In Brooklyn, Anita Stewart in "The Yellow Typhoon" has been forwarded one week to make way for "Romance." This, therefore, makes the playing date for "The Sea Wolf" May 30 in Brooklyn.

Sells Block of 40 Films

Inter-Ocean Film has sold a block of 40 World Film productions for Brazil. All to one buyer.

Selznick Signs Burton George

Myron Selznick has signed director Burton George to a long term contract.

New Loew Theater in Rochester
(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Rochester, N. Y.—Details of the Loew-Regorson Corp. theater deal are now available.

Loew's Inc. by the deal which is said to involve about $750,000,secures absolute ownership of the Piccadilly, part ownership but enough to give control of the Regent, no direct interest in the Gordon and a large interest in the operating company, the Regorson Corp., on whose board of directors are stockholders in the three theaters.

The Loew interests will get under way a new theater on Clinton Ave., South.

Rose Mullaney With Selznick

Rose Mullaney, formerly with Metro on the coast, is now casting director for Selznick. This is the position formerly held by Dick L'Estrange.

Trenton, N. J.—Ocean City Hotel Co. William E. Massey, agent.

WE OWN THEM!
Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

TOM BRET HAS MOVED
Tom Bret, the oldest established film editor and title writer, has moved to Room 611, Candler Bldg., 220 W. 42nd St.
Phone—Bryant 7691.

NEW STUDIOS
FOR RENT
187 ft. x 80 ft.
Very latest equipment. Rent as whole or in part. Close to new Famous Players' Studio in Long Island City. Apply
FACTORY EXCHANGE
17 W. 44th St.
Phone Vanderbilt 5610

Chance for 15,000 Exhibitors
to sign up for
A Trip To Mars

REMOVAL NOTICE
F. A. A. DAHME
ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATOR
Now at
220 W. 42nd St. Room 502
Temporary Phone, Bryant 984

FOR PROJECTION
CALL BRYANT 984 or 985
3 Rooms—Longest Throw in City
SIMPLEX STUDIO
5th Floor—Candler Bldg.—220 West 42nd St.

JOSEPH R. MILES
MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES
LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in their new home
126-132 West 46th Street — Phone Bryant 5600
AT YOUR SERVICE twenty-four hours a day except Sunday
THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES
Twelve vaults in Long Island City
Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults
FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does everything to a picture except produce it
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We buy and sell used film in good condition—
CONSULT US

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 48 Tues. May 18, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5 00; 3 months. $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels. 6th Floor. Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid	Asked	Last Sale
Famous Players ..	71	71¼	71¼
do pfd.	80½	82½	82½
*Goldwyn	22½	22½	22½
Loew's, Inc.	29	29⅜	29⅜
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod...	1¾	2¼	2¼
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Saturday's quotations.

More for Stanley

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Philadelphia—The Stanley Co. of America has leased the three theaters of Kensington Amusement Co., the Iris, Lafayette and Star, in the northeast section of the city.

The Iris seats 2,200, the Lafayette 1,800 and the Star 1,000. These three houses are all first run in their part of town.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

John H. Kunsky, Adams Theatre, Detroit, says:

"Rex Beach's 'The Silver Horde,' playing at our theatre this week, is undoubtedly the greatest achievement of this great author. Its appeal, suspense and climax rank it one of the best Goldwyn productions of this year. We congratulate you."

Goldwyn

London Film Letter

(Continued from Page 1)

has been engaged, but offices are not fixed as yet.

Following the successful run at the London Alhambra, "Broken Blossoms" is booking well all over the country. "Hearts of the World" opened Monday last at the same house. Business has been bad, largely due to poor exploitation.

It is reported that one of the reasons for the visit of Zukor and Goldwyn to these shores was to pave the way for percentage bookings of their productions. A tentative percentage proposal was laid before the Kinematograph Exhibitors Association, but was turned down by that body.

John D. Tippett, who for many years handled the Universal output on this side, is closing down his British offices for six months. He will produce in America.

The Stoll Film Co., Ltd., a private film renting company of which Sir Oswald Stoll is the chairman, is floating a public company to be called Stoll Picture Productions, Ltd. This new company, capitalized at £400,000, will take over the production side of the present concern. An ambitious program is announced, works by the following authors having been secured: Sir Arthur Conan Doyle, H. G. Wells, A. E. W. Mason, Stanley Weyman, Maurice Hewlett, Jeffery Farnol, Marie Corelli and Ethel M. Dell. Doyle's "Hound of the Baskervilles" is one of the big things this company has in prospect.

The Walturdaw Company announces that it will control the Selznick and Select output for the United Kingdom.

The Spanish production of "The Life of Christopher Columbus" will be trade shown this month. The picture, which cost £50,000, has been filmed on the exact locations indicated by history, and government help was rendered to the producers.

British productions are steadily improving. A. E. W. Mason's "At tme Villa Rose," which was trade shown this week, has received an enthusiastic reception. It marks a big advance in British technique. Of the American pictures shown this week "On With the Dance" was the most successful. The trade show figures analyzed show 9 American, 7 British, 2 French, 2 Scandinavian and 1 Italian in this week's lists.

Mary Pickford and "Doug" have booked rooms at the Ritz. They are expected on the 27th of May.

Sees Censor Danger

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Boston—Regarding the proposed censorship for Massachusetts, the "American," a Hearst paper, says editorially, in part:

"It will be a most unfortunate thing for American democracy if the principle of prepublicity censorship, contained in the pending bill, should receive sanction by a legislative enactment.

"Pre-publicity censorship of moving pictures is as much a violation of the constitutional and sacred right of free speech and free press as the censorship of the newspapers or censorship of our conversations could be, and it will do as much or more harm."

Accident at R. C. Building

The planking on the second floor of the structure now occupying the site upon which will be erected the Robertson-Cole building, Seventh Ave. and 48th St., collapsed yesterday afternoon about three o'clock, taking with it part of the wall which runs parallel to 48th St. About 12 workingmen were pinned under the debris, but nobody was seriously injured.

Colton to Write for Dean

John Colton, magazine writer, will leave for California to start work on his first story for Priscilla Dean, for whom he will write exclusively.

Production in Hawaii

Universal will send Beatriz Dominguez, who has appeared in several of the company's recent productions, to Hawaii to make three features there.

Yep; "Bill" Gueringer h[as] Please notify Jim Grainge[r]

Carpentier Film at A[sto]

Georges Carpentier's fir[st] a[p]ance on the screen will b[e] in Wonder Man," which will [ta]ke in the Grand Ball Room o[f] t[he] tor, beginning Saturday [ev]e May 29, and extending for [one] The showings will be unde[r] th pices of the American Legi[on] o York County.

The American Legion is [al]posing of tickets through [all] posts.

Governor Smith of New Yo[rk] Governor Edwards of N[ew] will occupy boxes on th[e] o[pe]night, as will representati[ves] Army and Navy.

Carewe Contract Termina[ted]

Edwin Carewe's contract with ry Cahane has terminated, acc to the latter. Carewe has [an]ad pictures for Cahane, the las[t] of was "Rio Grande," release[d] th Pathe.

Coming East

(Special to WID'S DAI[LY])

Los Angeles — Abraham [Lehr] vice-president of Goldwyn in [charge] of the Culver City studio [is] to leave for New York shortly H. B. Warner, under contr Jesse D. Hampton, will [also] east shortly and spend a [vaca] Maine.

Three separate opinion[s] are held as to the quali[ty] of the RITCHEY [lith]o Some think it great[er] oth ers think it greater [than] the rest think it the grea[test] est!

RITCHEY LITHO CORP
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chel[sea]

Ritchey

We Are Experts

We modestly admit it—but it's the truth. Twenty years of experience in the theatrical and motion picture industry have given our staff a thorough knowledge of YOUR problems. Our advice on insurance problems is yours for the asking and we are as close to you as your phone.

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance
80 Maiden Lane
5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

Reuben Samuels Insurance

Down Coming

(Continued from Page 1)

buy from the above. Have it?

don't win this battle when it soft snap, we ought to ap- guardian for ourselves. It a few months to get over, u will follow the rules and ns, you will find by the time Cleveland convention every will be signed in our camp n't be much of a producer. thing is, how are we going all the various state, city l organizations into a na- ganization and keep them There are more good local organizations today than any our history, but let us say ofore we have never sup- national organization and owed your national officers your battles without you put- enough to pay postage on rrespondence. Don't make ional officers go panhandling. are all so filled with state l pride that we do not see must act nationally in order ywhere nationally.

efore, come to Cleveland national vision and a plan you will have a national or- n in reality and not on pa- Ve are accomplishing won- on't let anyone put the skids way.

"Very cordially yours, Independent Motion Picture Exhibitors of America."

---

lan Exchange Buildings

ta, Ga.—A six story film ex- building is to be erected on a and Bartow St. A 12 story with one floor devoted to of film exchanges is planned Marietta St. frontage of the

---

livers Anti-Film Sermon

eport, La.—Rev. Claude L. astor of the Central Christian delivered a sermon recently h he vigorously opposed Sun- tures on the ground that they desecration of the Sabbath.

Changes to Pictures

stown, Pa.—The Cambria has iven over to films. Anita t in "In Old Kentucky" was ial screen attraction.

Coast Brevities

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—Paul Scardon, the new Jesse D. Hampton director, started work this week on "Port O' Caprice," the seventh Blanche Sweet production.

Director Henry King is on a four weeks' vacation following the completion of "Leona Goes a Hunting," his sixth production for Jesse D. Hampton, in which Blanche Sweet is the star.

"The Price of Redemption," a current Metro production, with Bert Lytell and Seena Owen in the leading roles, will be finished this week.

Pell Trenton, leading man in "The Pearl Hunter" and "The House of Toys," American Film productions, is planning a trip to Honolulu.

Anna Q. Nilsson, Hobart Bosworth and William Conklin are in San Francisco where street and ferryboat scenes will be shot for J. Parker Read's current production, "Beneath the Mast," including the blowing up of a completely equipped vessel just outside the Golden Gate.

"The Island of Love," an all-star Vitagraph production, is rapidly nearing completion. The cast includes Wallace McDonald, Hallam Cooley, Marguerite De la Motte and others.

Marc Robbins, formerly with Fox, is now a member of the Metro scenario staff.

George McManus is at the Christie studio, cooperating with Al. Christie in preparing a new scenario for the next two-reel "Bringing Up Father" comedy.

Sessue Hayakawa is arranging plans for a location trip to Hawaii for scenes of his first independent production, "The First Born."

Rosemary Theby is considering an offer whereby she will choose her own stories, pick her own technical and directorial staff and cast her own pictures, as well as co-direct.

At the American Lifeograph Studio in Portland, Ore., production has been started on the fourth of the series of Lifograph-Keefe productions.

E. A. Scram of Seattle has been retained to paint the art titles for the Bible pictures of the Historical Film Corp.

Pat Moore, the five-year-old star, is to be featured in five-reel dramas with a strong supporting cast.

GAUSMAN.

Realart Force Sees "Irene"

The Realart field force assembled in convention saw "Irene" last night after a day of sales talks.

The men are at the Astor where the convention opened and lunch was held.

Today there will be a morning and afternoon business session and tonight the men will scout around and amuse themselves.

Sam Gould in Town

Sam Gould, who heads the Gould Amusement Co., operating the Gould, Arcadia, Atlas and Pittsburgh theaters in Pittsburgh, is in New York.

Gould is building a State theater in Allegheny.

Unite to Fight Tax

Philadelphia—A committee of five has been appointed to combat the Society of Authors, Composers and Publishers, who are attempting to tax exhibitors for music. Charles Seigel, M. Steifel, J. Jeffries, W. Hunt and J. Brenner comprise the committee.

Federated Meeting Next Week

The meeting called by Joe Friedman of Celebrated Players, who is also president of the Federated Film Exchanges of America, will be held at the Astor beginning next Monday. It will be a four-day session.

At that meeting it is expected that the independent exchangemen will take measures to ally themselves with the exhibitors who will meet in Cleveland.

Next week will also see the opening of the Fox convention at the Commodore. This will last through the week.

New Story for Constance

Joseph M. Schenck has purchased "Curiosity" for Constance Talmadge.

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY

Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street

Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 621-2

TITLES
Printed, Hand-Lettered, Illustrated and New Process for Negatives
American Film Title Co.
145 W. 45th St. N. Y. City

SAENGER AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Be A High Flier
Sign Up For
A Trip To Mars

BARGAINS
Pathe News Model Camera
New Ball Bearing Precision
and
Bell Howell Tripods with universal tilts.
JOSEPH SEIDEN
1545 B'way, City Bryant 1291

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

FOR RENT
Modernized—Edison Studios
ishing Every Facility. Rent Includes use of Massive Sets—Large Assortment of Props. and well stocked Wardrobe. Last Word in Lighting Equipment.
IMMEDIATE POSSESSION
2826 DECATUR AVENUE PHONE, FORDHAM 8330-8331

Incorporations

Albany, N. Y.—Gold Star Producing Co., New York City. 100 shares common stock, no par value; active capital $10,000. Incorporators, L. W. Maverick, F. L. Lloyd and H. Blumenfeld, Strand Theater Bldg., New York.

Albany, N. Y.—Aratone Co., New York City. Capital, $100,000. Incorporators, A. E. Jacobson, K. Taussig and J. W. Newman, 404 Fourth Ave.

Albany, N. Y.—Sohmer Film Corp. New York. Capital, $50,000. Incorporators, I. Mark, B. Sidowsky and H. Goldfarb, Freeport.

Albany, N. Y.—Ultimate Prod. Inc., New York. Capital, $200,000. Incorporators, H. Rosenbaum, N. Esternian and A. C. Kellogg, Argyle Road, Brooklyn.

Dover, Del.—New York Literary Bureau Pictures. Capital, $600,000. Incorporators, M. M. Lucey, Ferris Giles and L. S. Dorsey, Wilmington.

Albany, N. Y.—E. and S. Amusement Co., Brooklyn. Capital, $12,000. Incorporators, S. and S. Esenberg, S. Smokler, 12 Vernon Ave., Brooklyn.

Albany, N. Y.—Gleerich Prod., Inc. Capital, $5,000. Incorporators, J. J. Gleason, P. Wenrich and F. Bloch, 110 W. 48th St.

Albany, N. Y.—Essanee Shows, New York. Capital, $10,000. Incorporators, M. E. Belstwin, S. Stern and M. Abrams, 60 W. 116th St.

Dover, Del.—Tri-Star Pictures Corp. Capital, $1,000,000. Incorporators, S. B. Howard, H. C. Hand and R. K. Thistle, New York.

Albany, N. Y.—Premier Amusement Corp., New York. Capital, $1,000,000. Incorporators, R. Mintz, S. Lesselbaum and S. Hellimger, 309 Broadway.

Albany, N. Y.—Literary Prod. Co., New York. Active capital, $50,000; 500 shares common stock, no par value. Incorporators, A. P. Lewin, D. Blum and M. Hammerstein, 242 East 71st Street.

Albany, N. Y.—Associated Screen News, New York. Capital, $500,000. Incorporators, L. Russell, E. Angell and L. O. Bergh, 177 Columbia Heights, Brooklyn.

Dover, Del.—Stereoscopic Moving Picture Co. Capital, $1,000,000. Incorporators, M. L. Rogers, L. A. Irwin and W. G. Singer, Wilmington.

Dover, Del.—Screen Plays Productions. Capital, $11,000,000. Incorporators, T. L. Croteau, M. A. Bruce and S. E. Dill, Wilmington.

Dover, Del.—Congressional Film Corp. Capital, $250,000. Incorporators, J. A. Fitzgerald, E. S. Mack and N. B. Corrigan, Washington.

New Theaters

Houses Planned

San Francisco—Baldwin and Howell will build in the Westwood Park section.

San Francisco—Nasser Bros. to build Castro. 2,000.

Martinez, Cal.—A. A. McKeon. 1,000.

Newark, N. J.—Jacob Holstein to build.

Carlisle, Pa.—D. S. Cooper, Orpheum, to build.

Morristown, N. J.—Star Amuse. Co. 600.

Yakima, Wash.—Jensen and Von Herberg to build.

Mineral Wells, Tex.—Fanning-Dunn Amusement Co. $100,000.

Vernon, Tex.—Widener and Belden to build airdrome.

Under Construction

Borough Park, Levy Brothers, under way in Brooklyn.

Tacony, Pa.—John Smith building Liberty for $75,000.

Buffalo, N. Y.—Liberty under way. To open early in June.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—The Capitol will be ready in August.

Valiant, Okla.—Carmichael and Stroud opened new house.

Harrison, Tex.—Lyric, on site of house destroyed by fire last fall.

Mena, Tex.—Best, C. N. Jenkins, opened.

Georgetown, Del.—E. G. Ryon building. $20,000.

Muscatine, Ia.—J. W. Luxs building.

Salem, O.—New house at Maine and Lindsay St. to cost $85,000 under way.

Oak Hill—Harry Thomas' new house nearing completion.

Enid, Okla.—Walt Billings building. $125,000.

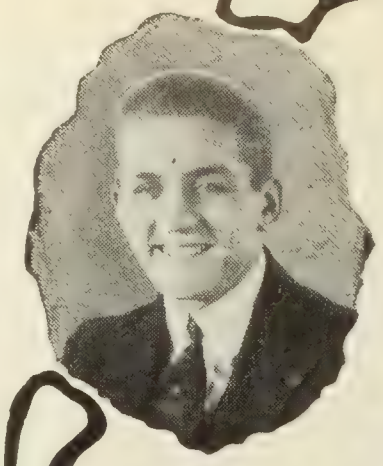
Rising Star, Tex.—R. C. Porter building airdrome.

Boise, Ida.—Gem is being built at a rapid rate.

Stevens Point, Wis.—Majestic, to be managed by Rush Gregory, being built.

Barrie, Can.—Mrs. E. Leo Beattie, Dreamland, building another to be ready in July.

Leonard, Tex.—McQuade building new house, to be ready soon.



EVERY RED BLOODED MAN wants to see GEORGES CARPENTIER in The Wonder Man Because!- HE IS A MAN'S IDEAL OF A MAN

ROBERTSON-COLE SUPER-SPECIAL

Fred Schaefer
(Vitagraph)
Continuity & Titles
Continuity: "The Sea Rider."
Titles: "Dollars and the Woman," "The Sea Rider," "The Silent Avenger" (Serial).

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK U.S.A.

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

e BRADSTREET f FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 49 Wednesday, May 19, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Goldwyn Plans

ssed by Samuel Goldwyn—inks Foreign Outlook Big Vith Wonderful Possibilities

nuel Goldwyn, head of Gold- yesterday discussed at length trade paper representatives of his ideas, the result of a two ns' trip abroad.

e Goldwyn executive said little was new; he spoke of the Gold- plans abroad; saying the organ- n would start producing in a way in France almost immedi- and refused to give any par- rs of the new French actress have signed except that she is working in pictures, is 19 and iful. He said that the company nticipated the departure of Ger- e Farrar and Pauline Frederick the organization, but would ion nothing as to who the new would be.

e of the important matters he ssed was that Goldwyn would 22 productions ready for the ng season by next month when would begin to be shown. Sales , however, for the coming year, mitted, had not been determined

He spoke of the Goldwyn con- on with the Capitol theater in ng terms, and took occasion to t rest the reports of his possi- signation from Goldwyn. "This been my baby," he said, "and ject to be with Goldwyn for to come."

(Continued on Page 2)

Big 4" Meeting Postponed

regular monthly meeting of oard of Directors of United Art- Corp. was not held yesterday se of the absence out of town e of the directors. It will be oday.

identally, Dennis F. O'Brien, at- for Mary Pickford and Doug- airbanks, expects those two in New York some time dur- xt week.

Reichenbach With Numa

ry Reichenbach has been en- by Numa Pictures Corp. to e a special exploitation cam- on "The Return of Tarzan" will be released by Goldwyn pecial.

of Reichenbach's notable cam- was for National Film on an of the Apes."

Hodes Leaves Universal

Hodes, editor of the Universal Magazine, has resigned, ef- June 1.

future plans and his successor niversal are unknown at this

"I will brook no interference with my plans, but if it is any satisfaction, I am through with that woman."—Mayflower Photoplay Corp'n presents an Allan Dwan production, "A Splen did Hazard," directed by Allan Dwan, based on the novel by Harold MacGrath—a 1st Nat'l attraction.—Advt.

"After Every Dollar"

So Spoke "the Big Offender," Says Rembusch—Nine Producers Lined Up

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Indianapolis—Frank Rembusch is circularizing the exhibitors of the country on his visit to New York.

The letter he is now sending broadcast speaks of "the Big Offender." After naming the independent pro-

(Continued on Page 3)

Vidor and Parker Here

Charles Vidor and William Parker of the King W. Vidor organization, producing for First National, arrived in town yesterday morning from California. They are here to purchase plays and stories for the director and will stop at the Astor.

Sennett Working on Five Reeler

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Mack Sennett is rushing work on a five-reeler called "Married Life." It will be his first production for First National.

Getting Set

Associated Producers Arrange for Offices in Coast Cities Managers Also Secured

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—The Associated Producers have closed leases for offices in Seattle, San Francisco, Los Angeles and have practically arranged leases for several other cities. Managers have been engaged for these points, and additional ones will be appointed shortly.

F. B. Warren, general manager of the Associated Producers, says that the Associated Producers will be no part of any booking office pool now being discussed here.

Safron Manager, Goldfarb Promoted

Jerome Safron has been appointed manager of the local Robertson-Cole Exchange, succeeding Felix Goldfarb, who will act as special representative for the New York territory. Safron was district manager. A manager for Detroit has not been named.

New Howells Uni

Prominent Exporter Named Presi dent of Brockliss Company— Garrett Turns Producer.

David P. Howells has been electe president of J. Frank Brockliss, Inc and under the terms of the deal jus consummated the business of th Brockliss corporation will hereafte be conducted by the Howells organ ization.

Sidney Garrett, president of th Brockliss company, has resigned t devote his entire time to productio in conjunction with Arthur F. Beck

J. Frank Brockliss, Inc., control foreign rights to the Great Author Pictures, Inc., Louis Joseph Vanc productions, Artco and Leah Bair productions, productions of C. E Shurtleff, Inc., Zane Grey produc tions, and several serials and miscel laneous features which include "Vir tuous Men" and Lillian Walker pro ductions.

Brockliss has maintained exchange in London, Manchester, Liverpool Leeds, Newcastle, Birmingham Glasgow, Cardiff and Dublin, an has had representatives in Paris, Tu rin, Barcelona, Brussells, Copenha gen, Sydney, Capetown, Bombay an Tokio.

The offices of J. Frank Brockliss Inc., will be merged with the office of David P. Howells, Inc., in th Godfrey Building, but for the pres ent the London office of Brockliss will be maintained at 167 Wardou St., while the Howells office will b continued at 29a Charing Cross Road

Howells maintains branch office with resident managers in London Paris and Stockholm, with represen tation in the principal cities of Eu rope, South America and the Orient Horace T. Clarke is now in Japa and Chester E. Sawyer is in Bueno

(Continued on Page 2)

Dillon Coming East

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Edward Dillon is coming east to direct Billie Burke for Famous Players.

Bonns Returns

Edward Bonns, sales manager for C. L. Chester Prod., arrived in New York from the coast yesterday.

Bonns will arrange distribution for a series of scenics and travel pictures now being made by Globe Trots, Inc., a new company. Release will be once a week, each release one reel in length.

YOUR Books
Let SC ...N do it he's wise.—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

ol. XII No. 49 Wed. May 19, 1920 Price 5 Cents

opyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, nc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., ew York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and ILM FOLKS, INC.
. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treas-rer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President nd Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and usiness Manager.
ntered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, t the post office at New York, N. Y., under ie act of March 3, 1879.
erms (Postage free) United States, Outside f Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 onths, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, 15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
ddress all communications to WID'S DAILY, 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
ditorial and Business Offices: 6411 Holly-wood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	72	72	72
do pfd.	83½	84	84
Goldwyn	22	23	22½
Loew's, Inc.	29⅞	30	29⅞
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod..	2	2¼	2¼
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

Reade Not Owner of Grand

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Long Branch, N. J.—Walter Reade has not purchased the Grand theater here, Nathan Vinegrad and Sol J. Sapphier state. They are sole lessees and managers of the theater.

Buys "Silver Threads"

Atlanta, Ga. — "Silver Threads Among the Gold" has been bought for Mississippi and Louisiana by Harry P. Cooper for Southern Features.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
THERE IS A GOLDWYN NEAR

Sir:

Exhibitor's Trade Review says:

"'The Silver Horde' ranks as a first-class program attraction. The action travels at top speed throughout, sweeps on from one very sensational scene to another and carries the spectators along in a veritable whirl of adventurous lure."

Goldwyn

At Broadway Theaters

This is ho wthe Broadway theaters are presenting their jrograms this week. This feature will appear regularly in the Wednesday issue of WID'S DAILY.

Rialto

Ethel Clayton is sounding a warning to all sweet young things against the "Marry in Haste" idea at the Rialto this week. The star offers a sincere portrayal of the convent girl who made a mistake.

Tschaikowsky's "Capriccio Italien" was indeed well received as the overture. A scenic consisted of some interesting shots of Italy. The magazine was of ordinary interest while "Should Dummies Wed," a Sunshine comedy, provided the fun of the bill.

Emanuel List's "The Big Bass Viol," a basso solo, seemed to please the audience, and Grace Hoffman's soprano solo, "Charmant Oiseau," a selection irom "The Pearl of Brazil," met with considerable applause. The organ solo is Mendelssohn's "Sixth Sonata."

Strand

"Romance," the long awaited picturization of the famous play, with Doris Keane in her original role, is at the Strand this week and is proving, at least, a fine Metropolitan attraction. Elderly people were present in large numbers at the Monday matinee, probably due to the fact that they had seen the original when it was first presented here. "Madame Butterfly" is the overture. This is followed by the review and a Burton Holmes scenic. The Russian Cathedral Quartette and Eldora Stanford, soprano, render "In the Woods" and "Mighty Lak' a Rose" previous to the showing of "Romance." The concluding scenes of the feature are accompanied by a vocal number rendered back stage which proves very effective.

Broadway

Rex Beach's "The Silver Horde," which pleased audiences at the Capitol last week, is being presented at the Broadway this week, preceded by an appropriate prologue.

A musical review entitled, "Girlies Club," with 20 people in the cast, is entertaining. The usual overture, Topics of the Day, Moss news weekly and comedy are on the program.

Capitol

For the benefit of those who still remember and those who never saw James A. Herne's long ago stage success, "Shore Acres," Metro has picturized the famous work which is being presented at the Capitol this week.

Karl Jorn is again pleasing audiences in the presentation of the third act from "Lohengrin," which is being sung in English. The detail and setting of the opera has been reproduced with splendid accuracy.

The usual short subjects, including a comedy with Mrs. Sidney Drew and the customary orchestral selections complete the bill.

Rivoli

For the second time Jack London's "The Sea Wolf" has been picturized. This time George Melford is responsible for the Paramount offering which holds the main place on the Rivoli program. An appropriate selection by the Rivoli-Rialto male chorus, "A Sailors' Chorus," precedes the picture.

The overture is Fifth Symphony in F Minor. Other numbers are the Rivoli Pictorial, "Snub" Pollard comedy, "All Dressed Up," and another orchestra selection, "The Forge in the Forest."

Actors' Equity Branches Out

At a meeting of the Actors' Equity Association on Monday both the Pacific coast motion picture branch of the organization and the Chorus Equity Association were admitted to the main body, whereas before they had been organizations of a distinctly separate character. This will automatically admit about 1,000 picture players into Equity, and prospect of 3,000 additional members is regarded as a certainty by Equity officials.

Goldwyn Plans

(Continued from Page)

This is how the Broadway theaters are presenting their programs this scale was manifest, he said, and he made it clear that English production was highly desired by English theaters rather than American productions. He expects a big increase in theaters in both countries this year. He also said that abroad they did not like the way in which Englishmen and Frenchmen were presented in American pictures, and that he had ordered drastic changes in the production department to meet this.

Goldwyn Offices in Canada

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Toronto, Can.—The report that Goldwyn would establish its own offices in Canada is again being circulated. This time film men believe that the report is authentic because of the presence in the various exchange centers of J. D. Chantler, formerly with the du Pont's Arlington company.

At Goldwyn it was readily admitted that Chantler was in Canada for the company and that he had been there for several months past. Nothing was said, however, about the report that Goldwyn would establish its own offices in the Dominion. The Allens at present are the distributors there.

New Howells Unit

(Continued from Page 1)

Aires, while William Fait, Jr., returned from Mexico City recently.

In taking over Brockliss the Howells organization now controls, in addition to the productions of the First National and Associated First National, world rights on a large part of the pictures distributed by the Hodkinson Exchanges. Howells controls as well the Selznick productions, Metro Screen Classics and the Nazimova productions for the Far East.

Closes Deal With Walturdaw

Another important Howells deal which has been in progress for several months, gives the productions of the First National for the United Kingdom to the Walturdaw Co., Ltd., for two years. It is said that the contract aggregates in excess of $2,500,000.

Cincinnati Approves Films

Cincinnati—The Board of Education has now given official approval to certain classes of pictures and is fostering special children's matinees on Saturdays.

A Community M. P. Council has been formed by the Federated Mothers' Clubs, sanctioned and sponsored by the Board of Education. This Council is giving a weekly Saturday morning matinee at the Orpheum, Walnut Hills. Famous Players is co-operating with the committee in providing pictures.

Smith Arrives

Albert E. Smith of Vitagraph returned from California yesterday.

The Lost Battalion will mee hex Monday, also.

Fowler to Do Five Reele Roger W. Fowler of Fowler film will make five reelers when his pres ent two reeler is completed.

The RITCHEY POSTER is the most powerful a vertising medium ev evolved!

RITCHEY LITHO. CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 8

Ritchey

Mats, Electros and Ster for the Motion Picture Trad
I. Rubin & Co.
23 E. 4th St., N. Y.
Phones Spring 8303-83
The fastest stereotypers n N. Y. C.

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film ductions. The leading pr ers are our clients. The the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Soc 701 7th Ave., N. Y. C
Phone Bryant 1511

SAENGE AMUSEMENT C
Permanent New York Offic at 1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Repres tative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circ 129

the News

No. 40

IT, MICH.—Nation's wirst tie-up! ent starts big drive to relieve freight on in order to prevent crippling of traffic and industry.

NCE, MASS.—Fire fighters test e! Water for 21 streams is supplied s of factories co-operating for fire n.

HE LEGION!—American Legion ou! If you served in Army, Navy ne Corps during war, get in touch ember today and get in the Legion.

ORK CITY—Pay tribute to St. Arc! Thousands witness pageant life of Joan of Arc during exercises g canonization of French heroine.

NGTON, D. C.—Seek release of ed Presidential candidate. Social- ent petition to the government to E. V. Debs and all other political

AND THERE—See the "Nineteenth Limited"—it had a speed of 18 hour and was first train to run in rk—in 1831.

ORK CITY—Hail "Defenders of " in peace-time! Over 8 000 of the bluecoats" take part in impressive parade.

NG FIELD, D. C.—Army "bird- y to maintain wartime prowess— y Air Meet, held near capital, ex- bility of aviators.

GTON, VA.—Dedicate great Na- Memorial to soldiers of all wars! of G. A. R. gather from all parts ountry for the dedication ceremonies.

oday

nal Offices for Asso. Exhib.

d expansion of business and in- g additions to office personnel ecessitated the taking over of nal office space by Associated tors, Inc. Space has been ob- on the ninth floor of the of- uilding at 25 West 45th St. ew offices are now being put in for early occupancy. executives will remain on the floor.

e Pay for Postal Employees various national associations stal employees are at present g a country-wide campaign for money for men in that branch Federal service.

"After Every Dollar"

(Continued from Page 1)

ducers who are pledged to support the Independent Motion Picture Exhibitors of America, Rembusch says:

"The 'Big Offender' said, 'You should be at home attending to your own business. We have a right to take every dollar we can away from the exhibitor.'

"Your Chairman replied, 'Under such business relations, every exhibitor is justified in taking every dollar away from you. Exhibitors demand fair play or no play. We are after you to force decent treatment.'"

The producers now lined up by Rembusch are American Film, Associated Producers, First National, Pathe, Robertson-Cole, Selznick Enterprises, United Artists, Universal and Vitagraph.

Start Davies Film Friday

George D. Baker will start work on Friday on "Buried Treasure" in which Marion Davies will be starred for International.

Realart Men Hear More Talks

The Realart field force took New York in last night after a second series of salesmanship talks held at the Astor.

Today the usual conferences will be held followed by a visit to "The Gold Diggers" tonight.

"Realart Gettogether"

A forty page booklet, printed on heavy stock, is being distributed to the members of the Realart force now in New York for the company's first annual convention.

Everything everybody ever knew about the past of the branch managers and home office officials is told.

Bert Adler won't even admit he had much to do with the publishing of the booklet, but Bert is modest.

Standard Theater Changes Hands

The Standard Theater, Broadway and 90th St., has passed into the control of B. K. Bimberg, who has purchased John Cort's interest.

Motion pictures with musical features will be put on for the summer season.

Proctor in Middle West

Ralph O. Proctor, assistant general manager of Associated Exhibitors, Inc., has left New York for a short trip in the Middle West. He will hold conferences with franchise holders and others.

GLOBE TROTS

A Brand New Series of SCENIC AND TRAVEL PICTURES.

Photographed in every nook and corner of the globe.

52 RELEASES 52

ONE A WEEK

Territory available

Globe Trots, Inc.

120 W. 41st St.
N. Y. City

THIS IS WORTH INVESTIGATION

You can secure a
MOTION PICTURE DIRECTOR,

WHO { Knows value, without waste,
Has experience covering all types of pictures,
Does not waste time or money,
Has a record for integrity,
Would be invaluable to new organization,
Prefers congenial position to big salary.

Address DIRECTOR, c/o Wid's Daily

JOSEPH R. MILES
MOTION PICTURE ENTERPRISES
LLOYDS FILM STORAGE CORPORATION
Now in their new home
126-132 West 46th Street — Phone Bryant 5600

AT YOUR SERVICE twenty-four hours a day except Sunday

THREE UP-TO-THE-MINUTE PROJECTION ROOMS
TEN FULLY EQUIPPED CUTTING ROOMS
THREE STORAGE VAULTS ON PREMISES

Twelve vaults in Long Island City
Free delivery service between customers' offices and vaults

FILM SERVICE BUREAU
Does everything to a picture except produce it
FILM LIBRARY
Scenes of every description for dramatic & industrial productions
USED FILM DEPARTMENT
We buy and sell used film in good condition—

CONSULT US

OR PROJECTION
CALL BRYANT 984 OR 985
3 ROOMS
GEST THROW
IN THE CITY
SIMPLEX STUDIO
Floor — CANDLER BLDG - 220 West 42nd St.

"WE NEVER DISAPPOINT"
TELEPHONE BRYANT 5576
CROMLOW FILM LABORATORIES
INCORPORATED
220 WEST 42ND STREET
NEW YORK
ALLAN A. LOWNES
GEN. MGR.

Drops Film Charges

Southern Baptist Convention Had Slam Against Board of Review Prepared

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Washington—The Southern Baptist convention upon motion of one of its members eliminated from the report of the committee on temperance and social service an attack on the National Board of Censors, or as it is called now the National Board of Review. The matter relating to motion pictures was eliminated because it was feared it might result in a libel suit.

The report is known to blame the films in part for the number of divorces in the United States. One portion of the report states that "nearly every film put on the screen contains somewhere evil suggestion." The report further states that "many of the films are based on the 'eternal triangle' and the suggestion or disregard, if not an open breach, of the marital relation."

William MacGuire, secretary of the National Board of Review, could not be reached for a statement nor could other officials of the board be reached.

Betty Bouton Here

Betty Bouton, leading lady in Marshall Neilan's "Don't Ever Marry," arrived in town from California yesterday.

Rose Shulman is now handling publicity and advertising for Fine Arts Pictures, Inc., Murray Garsson's new company.

Brandt Going West

Joe Brandt leaves today for California to get under way a new serial, "The Son of Tarzan."

Cochrane on Vacation

R. H. Cochrane of Universal leaves today on a vacation that will last until July 1. He won't say where he is going and even maintains that his office doesn't know where he will be.

Connery With Hayakawa

William J. Connery, vice-president of Haworth Pictures Corp. and also vice-president of the Hayakawa Feature Plays, the Japanese star's new producing unit, is in New York with Hayakawa. Just a pleasure trip.

Bessie Love to Europe

(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Bessie Love will sail for England some time in July, according to present plans.

Miss Love will make "The Old Curiosity Shop" in England.

REMOVAL NOTICE

F. A. A. DAHME

ART TITLES and ILLUSTRATOR

Now at

220 W. 42nd St. Room 502

Temporary Phone, Bryant 984

"WHERE PROMISES ARE SACRED"

LOUIS MEYER

FORMERLY BRODA & MEYER INC

TITLES

LETTERED - ILLUSTRATED PHOTOGRAPHED

ASK TO SEE OUR NEW PROCESS TITLES AND ILLUSTRATIONS

A PHONE CALL WILL BRING SAMPLES

BRYANT 7392

220 WEST 42nd ST. - ROOM 200

NEW STUDIOS

FOR RENT

187 ft. x 80 ft.

Very latest equipment. Rent as whole or in part. Close to new Famous Players' Studio in Long Island City. Apply

FACTORY EXCHANGE

17 W. 44th St.

Phone Vanderbilt 5610

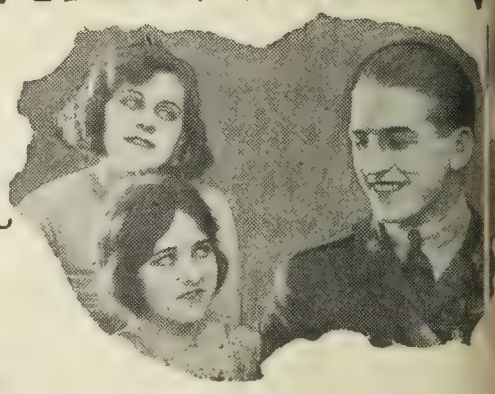
EVERY WOMAN WHO LOVES

wants to see

GEORGES CARPENTIER

in

The Wonder Man



Because:

HE IS the IDOL of EVERY WOMAN

ROBERTSON-COLE SUPER-SPECIAL

POWER'S CAMERAGRAPH

TOM BRET HAS MOVED

Tom Bret, the oldest established film editor and title writer, has moved to Room 611, Candler Bldg., 220 W. 42nd St.

Phone—Bryant 7691.

For the benef

of your

Bank Accoun

Take

A TRIP TO MA'S

WATCH YOUR NEGATIVE AND SAMPLE PRINT

We can develop a limited amount of outside negative and make sample prints in our laboratory under the immediate personal supervision of "Doc" Henley. We positively guarantee the highest quality and charge a special price according to the quantity and character of the work.

If your negative does not come up to expectations let us help you.

Whitman Bennett Studios

537 Riverdale Ave., Yonkers

Phone 270 Kingsbridge

Wm. O. Hurst, Mgr.

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N

H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

BRADSTREET FILMDOM

Wid's DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 50 Thursday, May 20, 1920 Price 5 Cents

ucker-Mayflower

Expected to Be Settled Out of urt—Will Make Four More suit of George Loane Tucker t Mayflower Photoplay Corp. e settled out of court, accord- an announcement made yes- by Benjamin A. Prager, pres- of Mayflower.

terms of the settlement were ade known but it is understood new arrangement as to profits d from the productions has perfected.

ker will resume work on the of his second picture, "Ladies Live," and start active produc- gain until he has finished four es for Mayflower, when his ct will have been completed. se, it is understood, will be gh Famous Players.

ague, Hunting's Successor is understood that Roswell e, who has been acting as as- to Gardner Hunting, will suc- the latter when he leaves Fa- Players shortly. Hunting is ising director of the Eastern s.

rk and De Grasse Retained

Angeles—Ida May Park and de Grasse, joint directors of Love in "The Midlanders," been retained for the second of the star for Andrew J. Cal- .

Wants Joint Convention

liam Brandt, president of the r Owners Chamber of Com- has sent a letter to Sam Bul- emporary secretary of the M eater Owners of America, and amuels of the Independent M. hibitors of America urging a onvention to be held in Cleve- June instead of two distinct gs.

accomplish this Brandt urges a g with the Committee of 17 will meet here in June, just us to the Cleveland conven-

All Ready to Go

Theater Owners Chamber of erce will send a delegation of ttend the Cleveland convention. arty will be headed by William and the entire board of di- . They will leave New York Albany night boat on June 4, the trip across New York stop off at Buffalo and Niag- d then take the boat from Buf- Cleveland.

s Blumenthal is in charge of agements.

A wave of pity swept over him for the girl whose heart he had crushed. Then he remembered his mission and steeled his heart.—Mayflower Photoplay Corp'n presents an Allan Dwan production, "A Splendid Hazard," directed by Allan Dwan, and taken from the novel by Harold MacGrath, a First National attraction.—Advt.

Booking Combine?

Various Local Interests May Get Together to Buck Loew in N. Y.

There seems to be an indication that various circuits in Greater New York may perfect a booking combine to become operative by the fall which will combat Marcus Loew.

The reported combine will include the United Booking Offices, the Fox circuit, the Moss circuit and possibly the Theater Owners Chamber of Commerce, the new exhibitor organization which has frequently and openly declared its hostility to the Loew Enterprises.

The Keith houses booked through

(Continued on Page 2)

Howells Interested in Serial

It became known yesterday that David P. Howells is interested in the production of "The Son of Tarzan," the serial which will be filmed at the National Film Studios in Hollywood.

Films Not Guilty

Of Juvenile Delinquency, Review Board Discovers

"Motion Pictures Not Guilty."—This is the verdict based on reports from chief probation officers of juvenile courts throughout the United States on the relation of pictures to juvenile delinquency. Last year the National Board of Review with the cooperation of the American Probation Association asked these officers for a statement of their opinion and experience in this connection.

Forty-two of the officers so addressed replied. Of these 27 held that the films are not directly responsible for cases of juvenile delinquency. Ten were non-committal and five pronounced the films guilty.

It is interesting to note that two of the five officers who indicted motion pictures as in their opinion an important direct cause of juvenile delinquency are in states having legal boards of censorship—Ohio and Pennsylvania.

"Griff" Buys Out

Third First National Production Turned Back to Him

David W. Griffith has purchased back from First National what was originally planned as the third and last of his series for the circuit. This is the picture which was shown at the recent midnight performance of the A. M. P. A. at the Rivoli.

Mr. Griffith called the picture "Black Beach" but First National retitled it "The Gamest Girl." It will be a United Artists release and will be issued in the fall, probably in October. The Griffith offices stated yesterday the director had bought back the picture because he thought it was big enough to go out as a special.

Griffith is at last free of any previous alliance and can now devote himself to production for United Artists exclusively. The three months clause which First National protects itself with so far as releases by a producer for another company is concerned expires on June 21 with Mr. Griffith since "The Idol Dancer" the last Griffith-First National subject was released March 21.

Another fall release for United Artists will be "Way Down East" which will not be completed by Griffith until August.

This move now gives United Artists three of its members producing entirely for its distribution. Charlie Chaplin is still under contract to supply First National with several pictures.

One a Month

United Artists will release one picture a month beginning in September. The Board of Directors decided so at yesterday's meeting.

Grainger Going West

James R. Grainger of the Marshall Neilan Prod. leaves today for California.

The Somborns Due

Herbert K. Somborn, president of Equity Pictures, and his wife, Gloria Swanson are due in New York from the coast today.

Holmes Sails for Near East

Burton Holmes sailed yesterday on the Royal George for Cherbourg from where he will go to the Near East. Mr. Holmes is seeking new material for a series of travelogues for Famous Players. He will be away for three months.

YOUR Engraved Stationery
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise—Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM Wid's DAILY The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 50 Thurs. May 20, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels. 6th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	68	72	69
*do pfd.	83½	84	84
*Goldwyn	22	23	22½
Loew's, Inc.	28	29½	28
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod...	2	2 1/16	2¼
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Tuesday's quotations.

Saengers Insure Employees

New Orleans—For employees who have been with the Saenger Amusement Co. for 6 months, $500 policies have been taken out and for those who have been with the organization for a year or more, $1,000 certificates have been taken, cost to be covered by the company. In each case, the holder names his own beneficiary and insurance against being disabled is also provided for.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
16 FIFTH AVENUE NEW YORK
"THERE IS A GOLDWYN TRAIN"

Sir:
The New York Telegraph says:
"Rex Beach's vivid drama of Alaska, 'The Silver Horde,' is replete with just such scenes and incidents that movie enthusiasts rejoice in."

Goldwyn

Booking Combine?

(Continued from Page 1)

the U. B. O. offer 50 days for pictures, Fox 35, and Moss for the fall season expects to have 20 days. The Chamber of Commerce will increase this number materially.

On the other hand, Loew at present offers 89 days, this including houses in Newark, Mt. Vernon and New Rochelle and other outlying points. It is understood that he expects to increase this to 100 by the time the fall season arrives.

The folowing line-up of theaters will serve to illustrate the "lay of the land":

In Manhattan and Bronx the Fox theaters are Audubon, Washington, Star, Nemo, Japanese Garden, City Academy of Music and Crotona. Moss theaters: New Dyckman (under construction), Regent, Broadway, Jefferson. U. B. O. theaters: Harlem Opera House, Proctor's 125th St., 81st St., 58th St., 23rd St., and 5th Ave.

Loew theaters: Rio, Victoria, 7th Ave., 11 th St., Lincoln Square, Circle, Orpheum, 8 th St., 42nd St., New York, American, Greeley Square, Ave. B, Delancey, National, Elsmere, Boulevard, Spooner, Burland and Victory.

In Brooklyn, Fox theaters: Comedy, Folly, Ridgewood, Jamaica, Bedford, Bay Ridge and a new theater to be built in Flatbush.

Moss theaters: Flatbush.

U. B. O. theaters: Halsey, Greenpoint, Prospect, Madison, Monroe.

Loew's theaters: De Kalb, Broadway, Fulton, Brevoort, Warwick, Metropolitan, Palace and Bijou.

Vicinity of New York, Fox theaters: American, Liberty and in Newark.

Moss, none.

U. B. O. theaters: Proctor's Elizabeth, Proctor's Plainfield, Proctor's Mt. Vernon, and one in Staten Island.

Loew has two new theaters building in Newark, one in Peekskill and one in New Rochelle.

One exchange man stated that bookings could be secured from both Loew and the other circuits without much interference in playing dates and that if a war should be waged by the combined circuits on Loew it would only tend to reap a rich harvest for the exchanges as a result of jacked-up prices by both factions.

Seymour Hodkinson Supervisor

W. F. Seymour, formerly with Hodkinson in Cleveland, and Joseph Bloom, who has managed the affairs of that organization in Pittsburg and Western Pennsylvania, have been appointed supervisors by W. W. Hodkinson. More promotions are expected.

"Determination" Sold to Stoll

Washington—The U. S. Photoplay Corp. has contracted for the entire European rights for "Determination" with the Stoll Film Co. of London.

To Erect Exchange Building

Cleveland—A building costing $750,000, to house the motion picture exchanges is to be erected at E. 21st St. and Payne Ave. It will be eight stories high and have vaults with a capacity of 8,000 reels.

Laboratory For Rent

Splendid Equipment

Capacity 350,000 Weekly

12 Mins. from 42nd St.

Reasonable Rental

Will sell on reasonable basis

Address Box-B-93

Care Wid's

WANTED
at Once for Cash
BELL & HOWELL CAMERA
with complete equipment
MR. PEON
Room 615 Hotel Pennsylvania

REUBEN SAMUELS INC.
REAL SERVICE
Insurance 80 Maiden Lane
Phone John 5425 - 5426 - 5427 - 5428

"The Safety Sign"

"Insurance Of All Kinds"

Reuben Samuels Insurance

James Bradford is writing the musical score for "The Devil's Key."

In the universality of its appeal the RITCHEY poster is pre-eminent among posters. It has a message for every man, woman and child,—the gist of which can be summed up in three words,—"Buy a ticket."

RITCHEY
LITHO CORP.
406 W. 31st St., N.Y. Phone Chelsea 83

Ritchey

AMERICA'S FINEST LABORATORY
Located
Atop The Palisades
Opposite 129th Street
Palisade Film Laboratories
Palisades, N. J. Morsmere 6[illegible]

GLOBE TRO'S
A Brand New Series of SCENIC AND TRAVEL PICTURES.
Photographed in every nook and corner of the globe.
52 RELEASES 52
ONE A WEEK
Territory available
Globe Trots, Inc.
120 W. 41st St.
N. Y. City

First National is now in the Insurance Business

It's just as important to insure your business as your life

Ask the nearest First National Exchange to explain how

A First National FRANCHISE

Will Protect Your Business Future

ASSOCIATED FIRST NATIONAL PICTURES INC.

There'll be a Franchise everywhere

Saturday Opening

For Week Stands to Become Popular, Predicts Marshall Neilan

Saturday openings for the exhibitors running pictures in week-stand localities will become popular among exhibitors, according to Marshall Neilan, who has discussed the matter with prominent exhibitors. Such exhibitors as the Saenger Amusement Co. and Jensen-Von Herberg have adopted the policy of opening their shows on Saturday with financial results.

In discussing the matter Neilan says, in part:

"I have wondered often why the policy of opening week-stand picture shows on Sunday has remained such a universal practice throughout the country. In discussing this matter with a number of prominent exhibitors I am convinced that the time is not far distant when the Sunday opening will cease to be such a fixed policy, especially in the larger cities.

"It seems to me that for a week-stand, a Saturday opening in many cases should bring greater financial returns than the practice of opening Sundays. Sunday is usually big day for every exhibitor. Sunday crowds will flock into the theaters without the inducement of showing a new picture. On Saturday, however, the picture patron looks about for a film he or she has not seen during the week. If the previous week an exhibitor had a good attraction, it is quite certain that the patron in question has already seen that film during the week.."

William A. Gueringer, assistant general manager of Saenger, says:

"We have found it a good stroke of business to open our week-stand houses on Saturday. There is no doubt that in many cases a Saturday opening, similar to ours, would be impossible. At the same time, there is likewise no doubt that many Sunday openings are the result of a practice which has become universal among American exhibitors. There is no question in my mind that sooner or later many exhibitors will experiment on the Saturday opening and find it results in bigger business for the week."

Michigan M. P. E. A. Moves

Detroit, Mich.—The new location of the Michigan Motion Picture Exhibitors' Association is at 20 Elizabeth St. James C. Ritter, John R. Odell, J. F. Wuerth, R. H. Lapham, Jno. Brennan, Fred De Lodder, Fred Rumler, E. J. Cole, Harlan Hall, Jno. Niebes, Arthur Baehr and Geo. Harrison are the members who have signed to go to the Cleveland convention.

Make Your

Reservations Early

for

A TRIP TO MARS

H. H. VAN LOAN

Recent Releases
Tom Mix in
"The Speed Maniac"
"The Virgin of Stamboul"
with
Priscilla Dean
121 West Eulalia Street
Glendale, California
"If it is a Van Loan story it must be good"

GEORGE ELWOOD JEKS

Continuity and Special
"A Woman of Pleasu"
Blanche Sweet Specia
"The Pagan God"
starring H. B. Warne
"Dangerous Waters"
Original for Wm. Desmd
JESSE D. HAMPTO
Productions

ROBERT A. SANBORN
Adapter of
Over 30 O. Henry Features
for Vitagraph
At present with
Universal West Coast Studios
Universal City, California

OFFICE AND VAULT SPACE TO LET

Only responsible people need apply

Write F46, Wid's Daily

WE OWN THEM!
Big Stories for Big Film Productions. The leading producers are our clients. The play's the thing, and we have it!
Celebrated Authors' Society,
701 7th Ave., N. Y. C.
Phone Bryant 1511

ROBERT ANDERSEN

who is doing a series of comedies for Universal, buys his records from us. We would like your business also.

Drop in and get acquainted.

Bill Richardson

RICHARDSON'S Inc.
Victrolas, Grafonolas and Pianos
727 West Seventh Street
Phone 64955 or call in person

SAENGER
AMUSEMENT CO.
Permanent New York Office at
1780 BROADWAY
W. H. GUERINGER, Representative
GOODRICH BLDG.
4th Floor Tel. Circle 1298

Each Comedyart is two thousand feet. But designed so you can use two hundred, four hundred, six hundred, fourteen hundred or eighteen hundred feet as needed to fit your bill.

SPECIAL PICTURES CORP'N
H.W. Hellman Bldg. Los Angeles

THE GIFT SUPREME
FOR FOREIGN TERRITORIES WRITE
INTER-OCEAN FILM CORPORATION
218 WEST 42nd STREET NEW YORK U.S.A.

BRADSTREET FILMDOM

WID'S DAILY

The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

XII No. 51 Friday, May 21, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Cleveland

Its Several Conventions and etings Looms Up for History Making difficulties that have heretoxisted in organizing nationally hibitors of this country again up for the forthcoming gathat Cleveland.

Motion Picture Theater Ownho called the convention expect entative exhibitors from every n the union to attend their open ntion. The Independent M. hibitors who organized in Chiare sounding a call for their g, and making efforts to have resentative gathering as well, fforts are also being made to he M. P. E. of A. meet there d of at Chicago, as planned. ntally the National Associavill meet in Cleveland at the time.

e exhibitors believe the Natl. will meet in Cleveland for the

(Continued on Page 3)

lk Over Booking Combine

re was considerable talk yesin film circles over the possiof a booking combine in Greatw York against Marcus Loew. Lichtman at Famous Players not be reached for confirmation report that a number of Parit specials including "The Sea " "Treasure Island" and "Why e Your Wife" had been booked U. B. O. and the Fox offices, at the Loew circuit would not the productions. The opposiunderstood to have paid conbly more than Loew usually liam Brandt of the Theater rs' Chamber of Commerce asked whether his organization combine to fight Loew, said: I don't know."

erman and Tuchman Leave

Lederman, assistant to Carl nle, announced his resignation day.

uel Tuchman, purchasing agent versal, has also resigned.

Sheehan Due Today

field Sheehan of the Fox ortion is due today from England the Adriatic.

ew Gets National Pictures cus Loew, it is understood, has d the New York City franfor National Picture Theaters, he Selznick exhibitor body.

w is out of town and could not ched yesterday for a statement.

Like a tigress she sprang to the defense of the man who had scorned her —Mayflower Photoplay Corp'n presents an Allan Dwan production, "A Splendid Hazard," directed by Allan Dwan and taken from the novel by Harold MacGrath—a First National attraction.—Advt.

Starting Something

Talk of Change in Nat'l Asso. for More Vigorous Body

With the annual meeting of the National Association in sight reports are developing that certain members of the organization are quietly laying plans to bring about certain

(Continued on Page 4)

Zeidman Coming

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Los Angeles—Bennie Zeidman will leave for New York on Tuesday to complete arrangements for his own producing company. He recently left the Louis B. Mayer organization, as noted.

Another Convention

The convention spirit has caught hold of Metro and so next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday will see the field force in New York.

This brings the number of conventions for next week up to three, the others being the Fox Film convention and that of the Federated Film Exchanges of America, Inc.

25 Per Cent Increase

Imposed on Industry in Ontario—Measure Effective June 1

(By Wire to WID'S DAILY)

Toronto—An increase of about 25 per cent in taxes on theaters, exchanges and other branches of the industry will be put into effect in Ontario by the Provincial Treasurer commencing June 1.

Theaters in cities of 10,000 or over will pay a yearly tax of 35 cents per seat instead of 25 cents, as it is at present. Municipalities between 5,000 and 10,000 will pay 25 cents per seat instead of 5 cents; 3,000 to 5,000 will pay 20 cents a seat; 1,500 to 3,000 will pay 15 cents, and houses under that will pay ten cents a seat.

Film exchanges will pay a provincial yearly tax of $400 instead of $200. Censorship will cost $4 a reel instead of $2. Appeal censorship will cost $25 a reel instead of $5. Theaters with motor driven machines will pay $5 for a yearly permit. Operators will pay $15 for examination and $5 for a renewal of their licenses.

Gish With Frohman

Frohman Amusement Corp. Signs Lillian to a Three-Year Contract as Star

William L. Sherrill, president of the Frohman Amusement Corp., announced yesterday that he had secured Lillian Gish as a star for his company for a period of three years.

Miss Gish until now has been appearing exclusively in productions made by David W. Griffith and has appeared in such notable productions as "Hearts of the World" and "Broken Blossoms." Her contract with Frohman Amusement Corp. will commence when she finishes work in her present Griffith production, "Way Down East." This will be some time in August.

The Griffith offices stated last night that the announcement made by Frohman Amusement Corp. was correct.

Del Ruth Coming East

Hampton del Ruth, supervisor of all Fox Sunshine comedies, will arrive in New York on Sunday with a print of his long-heralded five-reel comedy.

Del Ruth will show the picture at the Fox convention which opens on Monday. He will stay here for six days during the life of the convention and will then return to the coast. He will be at the Astor.

The comedy will be released in the fall as a special.

20 Million in One Company

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Dover, Del.—A company called the Consolidated Realty and Theater Corp. has been formed here with a capitalization of $20,000,000. The incorporators are R. L. Martin, F. H. Gruneberg of Indianapolis.

Canada Eliminates Reel Tax

(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Ottawa, Can.—The budget of the Canadian Government announced yesterday provides for the elimination of the 15 cent reel tax collected from all theaters by the Government.

This will help the small theaters who have been paying as much as largest houses.

Elimination of the war tax of 7½ per cent on imports will save Canadian distributors about $6 a reel duty.

YOUR Next Insert
Let SOLOMON do it, he's wise —Advt.

The BRADSTREET of FILMDOM — Wid's DAILY — The RECOGNIZED AUTHORITY

Vol. XII No. 51 Fri. May 21, 1920 Price 5 Cents

Copyright 1920, Wid's Film and Film Folks, Inc. Published Daily at 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y., by WID'S FILMS and FILM FOLKS, INC.
F. C. ("Wid") Gunning, President and Treasurer; Joseph Dannenberg, Vice-President and Editor; J. W. Alicoate, Secretary and Business Manager.
Entered as second-class matter May 21, 1918, at the post office at New York, N. Y., under the act of March 3, 1879.
Terms (Postage free) United States, Outside of Greater New York, $10.00 one year; 6 months, $5.00; 3 months, $3.00. Foreign, $15.00.
Subscribers should remit with order.
Address all communications to WID'S DAILY. 71-73 West 44th St., New York, N. Y.
Telephone: Vanderbilt, 4551-4552-5558
Hollywood, California
Editorial and Business Offices: 6411 Hollywood Blvd. Phone, Hollywood 1603.
Chicago Representatives—Willis & Eckels, 4th Floor, Consumers Bldg., Chicago, Ill.

Quotations

	Bid.	Asked.	Last Sale.
Famous Players ..	67	68¾	68½
do pfd.	80	82	82
Goldwyn	22	22¼	22
Loew's, Inc.	27⅛	28¼	28¼
Triangle	5/16	⅜	⅜
Unit. Pict. Prod...	2	2¼	2½
World Film	¼	¼	¼
do 2nd pfd.....	½	⅝	⅝

*Tuesday's quotations.

Showing Fight Films in Ohio
(By wire to WID'S DAILY)

Cleveland—A company known as the Toledo Bout Pictures, Inc., is arranging bookings for the Willard-Dempsey fight pictures which were barred in this state some time ago.

The above company was formed a short time ago with three members of the Frank Hall organization as incorporators. Hall, it will be remembered, sponsored the original fight pictures at the time of the bout.

Goldwyn Pictures Corporation
460 FIFTH AVENUE
NEW YORK
"THIS IS A GOLDWYN YEAR"

Sir:

The New York Tribune says:

"All the romance, all the color of Alaska, was shown us in 'The Silver Horde,' and the clashes between strong men and groups of men, is exciting to say the least."

Goldwyn

Coast Brevities
(Special to WID'S DAILY)

Hollywood—M. Cawood, for many years cameraman for Lyons and Moran, who turned the crank for G. J. Taylor during the filming of his first three "Taylor-Made" comedies, has been signed to direct future Taylor productions.

